Hereford Breeders Discuss Conditions

Declaring that the time had arrived for a rehabilitation program for agriculture in Tennessee, President H. A. Morgan of the University of Tennessee last night urged the members of the Davidson County Hereford Breeders' Association to carry on the movement which the organization has fostered for the improvement of the breed of cattle for this section. Dr. Morgan was one of the speakers at a meeting of the association, following a dinner given in honor of A. C. Easterling, secretary of the Highland Hereford Breeders' Association; H. T. Fletcher, manager of the O-2 ranch at Marfa, Texas, and John G. Imboden of Decatur, Ill., at the Chamber of Commerce last night.

Concerning the auction sale today of Hereford calves brought here from Marfa, Texas by Messrs. and Easterling, Dr. Morgan declared that this was a very worthy enterprise and that it had created keen interest in all parts of the state.

"I do not know of a better time to imitate such a movement than now," Dr. Morgan said. "In all of my experience I have never seen a time when there was greater need for a big program for the whole state of Tennessee. I am convinced that associations like this one will assist in creating interest in a program of development of the agricultural life of the state. I want to bid you God-speed in the work you have undertaken."

The association went on record endorsing the work of boys and girls club in the state through the passage of the following resolution:

"Whereas boys and girls club work as conducted by the extension forces of the agricultural colleges and the United States department of agriculture is exceedingly important in training our future agriculturists and has been very effective in demonstrating the better practices of agriculture and home economics to the entire community, and this program promotes industry, thrift and efficiency and good citizenship and adds to the wealth of the nation, the Davidson County Hereford Association does hereby endorse boys and girls club work and urges an expansion of the scope of this phase of agricultural extension development.

A. C. Easterling, secretary of the Texas association, told of the beginning of the movement in Texas, which has resulted in Hereford calves and yearlings from fat section being offered for sale in all sections of the country, and of how those who were interested in the improvement of quality of herds sought to have these sales held in their communities. He said that if a cropload of the calves being sold here today win first honors at the international live stock show at Chicago in 1923 his association would give a premium of $1,000.

Harry T. Fletcher, manager of the O-2 ranch at Marfa, where the calves offered today were produced, said that after three days spent in this section he was convinced that the opportunity existed in Tennessee for getting far to the front in livestock production. He said that with the class of pastures to be found here, there could be economical production and urged strongly that the farmers improve their breeds. He offered a silver cup for which members of the boys and girls club who buy Highland calves may compete in 1923.

Problems in feeding cattle for market were discussed by John G. Imboden of Decatur, Ill., one of the prominent live stock men of the United States. He told of his experience in feeding with great success, cattle which he had purchased from the Texas association. He said that when he went to Texas he found it the country "where you could look farther and see less; which has more rivers and less water and more cows and less milk" than any other country on earth. But he asserted they knew how to breed and develop good Hereford cattle, and had contributed profitably to the profit of the live-men of the corn belt through the sales held in that section. Particular emphasis was made of Mr. Imboden's idea that the feeder can make more profit through buying calves and feeding them out than by buying the heavier animals and carrying them to market.

M. O. Cooper, secretary of the Tennessee Beef Cattle Breeders' Association, commended the enterprise of the Hereford association in bringing these several car loads of white face cattle to Nashville and said that they were the class of animals which could be bought and fed out at a profit. L. A. Richardson, livestock specialist of the division of extension, made a plea for encouragement of a system of agriculture which would give the farmer more than one cash period every year. He said that the man who made beef production his major operation should likewise raise hogs and sheep and thus have money coming in at various periods.

"Tennessee should take more interest in the bringing of pure breed bulls to the farmers of the state," Mr. Richardson said. "The loss to the state which comes through inferior sires amounts to $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 annually."

Encouragement of the boys and girls and their club work was urged by William A. Burnett, traffic manager of the Nashville Union Stock Yards, who said that a dollar spent in encouraging these youngsters was equal to five spent on the matured farmers.

Other speakers were L. W. Denny, prominent Hereford breeder of this section; T. Leigh Thompson, and Col. Luke Lea, who welcomed the Texas men on behalf of the breeders of this section. P. T. Tinsley, president of the Davidson county association, presided at the meeting.

PURE FOOD

Housewives often make the mistake of thinking that food does not depreciate in flavor and in nourishment until it is unfit for use. As a matter of fact, it begins to spoil long before that. To have it fresh and appetizing you must keep it ice cold. That is just as true in Fall and Winter as it is in summer.

The cost of keeping milk, meat, butter and eggs in prime condition at this season of the year is so little that no family can afford to be without ice. It melts very slowly during cool weather

RED CROSS PUTS UP $9,739,872

Year's Budget Stresses Relief and Services at Home and Overseas.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID

Over $3,000,000 Allotted to the Disabled—Foreign Work Lessens.

Washington—Expenditures totaling $9,739,872 for carrying through its program of services and relief during the fiscal year in the United States and overseas are authorized in the budget of the American Red Cross, effective July 1, 1922. This total is $2,735,975 less than the expenditures for the last fiscal year, when disbursements reached $12,475,847.60, it is announced at National Headquarters in a statement emphasizing the necessity of continued support of the organization by enrollment during the annual Roll Call, November 11-November 30 inclusive. This total for the budget is exclusive of the large financial operations of the 3,300 active Red Cross Chapters, which, it is estimated, will more than double the total.

War Veterans Have First Call
First call on Red Cross funds is for the disabled ex-service men, of whom 27,497 were receiving treatment from the government on June 1 last. This work for veterans and their families in a wide variety of service that the government is not authorized to render and for which it has neither funds nor facilities has the call on $3,000,000 during the current year, or about $266,000 more than was expended last year for soldier service. Adding the funds disbursed in this humanitarian work of physical reconstruction following the World War by the Chapters throughout the country will approximate a total for the current year approaching $10,000,000. This work, in the opinion of the Surgeon General's office, will not reach its peak before 1926.

Through its Chapters the American Red Cross is equipped to find the individual ex-service man, help him in his problems and difficulties, provide immediately for his necessities, and open the way for him to the Government compensation and aid to which he is entitled. The extension of this work to the families of such men proves to them that the Red Cross has lost none of its sympathy nor will to service manifested in wartime. Similarly, the service goes out to the men still in the Army and Navy, 11,061 of whom were under treatment in Government hospitals on June 1, 1922.

Greater Domestic Program
This year after five years of constructive effort during the war and after the armistice brings with it a greater responsibility for domestic service to the American Red Cross. The budget for foreign operations, however, totals $3,044,000, but of this amount $1,834,000 is for medical relief and hospital supplies for Russia, which is a part of the gift made by the American Red Cross in 1921 to the Russian famine relief work of the American Relief Administration program. The child health service in Europe continues, moreover, and $654,000 is appropriated for this work undertaken in 1920. Other items in the stringently diminished foreign program include $200,000 to support the League of Red Cross Societies, $22,000 for nurses training schools instituted by the Red Cross abroad, and $600,000 for liquidation of the general Red Cross foreign relief program.

Prepared for Emergencies
For disaster relief the Red Cross has set aside $750,000, and for emergencies in Chapter work $500,000 to be available for domestic, insular and foreign demands. This is more than $385,000 above last year's expenditures. For service and assistance to the 3,300 Chapters and their branches $1,283,000 is provided by the National organization.

Other budget items of importance in the domestic program include $200,000 for assistance to other organizations and education institutions for training Red Cross nurses and workers; $150,000 for Roll Call assistance furnished to Chapters; $100,000 for unforeseen contingencies. Of the total budget less than $500,000 is allotted for management in the National organization. No cash estimate, of course, is possible to weigh the value of the service by volunteers in the Chapters.

THE RED CROSS SUPPLEMENTS GOVERNMENT SERVICE BY MEETING THE PARTICULAR NEEDS OF THE INDIVIDUAL EX-SERVICE MAN. THIS WORK CANNOT GO ON UNLESS YOU SUPPORT IT WITH YOUR MEMBERSHIP DOLLAR PAY UP TODAY

RED CROSS WINNING IN FIGHT FOR HEALTH

Better, Stronger Citizenry Now Emerging Out of Work in United States.

The American Red Cross as an evangelist of better health has looked its problem square in the face. How it accepted the task revealed to it in the nation's physical condition as brought out during the World War, and conscientiously applied its activities to correction forms a vivid chapter in the forthcoming annual report. Historically and practically, nursing is a basic work for the Red Cross. In its public health nursing service, in instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition classes, first aid and life saving courses and health centers, the American Red Cross is applying effectively the lessons learned during the war and making for a healthier, stronger and better nourished citizenry.

The task of the Red Cross Public Health nurse in the 1,240 nursing services now operating throughout the country instructing their communities in health essentials and disease prevention is demonstrating the possibilities of human betterment and the great benefits of enlightenment.

During the last year 313 new public health nursing services were established by Red Cross Chapters, and several hundred services so convincingly proved their effectiveness that they were taken over by public authorities. In order to promote this work $50,000 was allotted to provide women to prepare themselves for public nursing. The home visits made by the 1,240 nurses aggregated nearly 1,500,000, visits to schools numbered 140,000, and in six months 1,250,000 school children were inspected by these nurses and where defects were found advised explanation by physicians. In rural communities this service has made a very marked advance and has won thousands of converts to approved methods of disease prevention.

In home hygiene and care of the sick instruction, which fits the student in methods of proper care where illness is not so serious as to require professional service, the Red Cross conducted 3,884 classes during the last year, enrolled 2,256 instructors, 95,448 students and issued 42,656 certificates.

On June 30, 1922, nutrition service embraced 1,199 classes, with a total of 27,523 children and 2,589 enrolled dietitians. Seventy-eight food selection classes graduated 263 who received Red Cross certificates. In general health activities Red Cross Chapters maintained 377 health centers, serving as many communities, provided 38,751 health lectures for large audiences everywhere, while clinics numbered over 10,000.

Red Cross Gains Strength in All Foreign Fields

In insular possessions of the United States and in foreign lands the American Red Cross scored heavy gains during the last year, passing the previous membership high mark of 1918 by 4,261 and advancing the figure to 150,408. The Philippines take the lead, gaining nearly 100 per cent, now having 115,917 members. In Europe the 1921 Roll Call enrolled 11,125, with the Constantinople Chapter reporting 665, a gain of 33 members. China was 1,782 members, a gain of 296; the Little Virgin Islands have 1,000, while the Dominican Republic with 2,927 advanced from its previous high mark by 1,423 new members. Haiti, organized in 1920, now has nearly 1,000 enrolled. Mexico reports 854, a gain of 327 in one year. The American Red Cross has spread its membership over some 70 foreign lands and its Junior membership outside of the United States is close to 700,000.

Red Cross Water First Aid Makes Life-Saving Gain

More than 825 Chapters engaged in life saving or water first aid last year with the result that the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps has set a new high mark for enrollment and the number of qualified life savers developed. The influence of "learn to swim week" in many localities is reducing the water fatalities through instruction and the wider dissemination of resuscitation methods demonstrated by the Red Cross representatives. Excellent work has been done in teaching a large part of the American population how to take care of itself in the water. Growing appreciation for this Red Cross Life-Saving Service is shown by the compulsory instruction adopted in many cities for members of the police and fire departments in the prone pressure method of resuscitation.

Help to Help Others
You can't "give until it hurts"—for giving an American dollar to join the American Red Cross helps you to help others who are hurt and who need relief.
