MARFA, TEXAS, SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1924.

NUMBER 5

TO THE FIRST CAVALRY.

(From The Black Hawk)

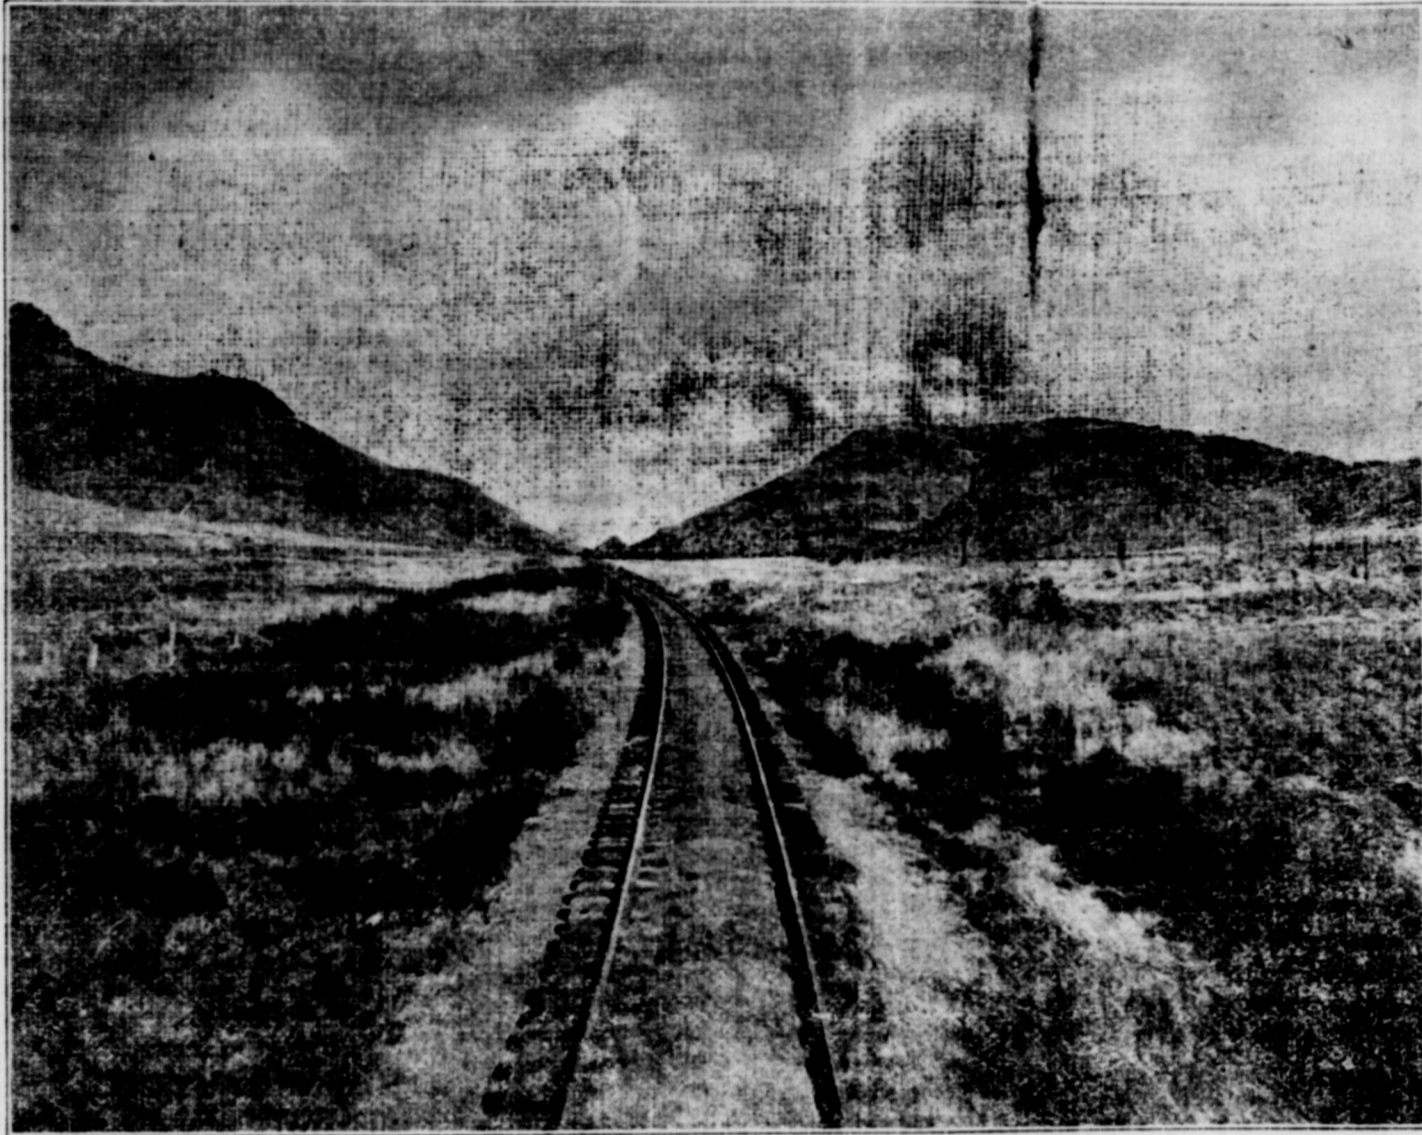

About a year ago, when I was told that I was to take command of the first cavalry, I was informed that it was the best regiment in the service. Being an old hand at the game, I smiled to myself, as I had heard that before. But when I arrived in Marfa and had an opportunity to look over the regiment, all my doubts vanished, for I found that it really was the best. Since then I have seen other regiments, and none of them can compare with the dragoons. In this brief farewell, I wish to express my belief that you will always continue to be FIRST in all ways, as you are in my heart. I cannot sufficiently express my regret at leaving you, and I wish to thank all members of the regiment for the hearty co-operation that has been given me.

Farewell.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT WILL ATTEND C. E. CONVENTION

Miss Julia Ellison, district Union president will attend the State Christian Endeavor Convention at Austin June 11-14. Miss Ellison was formerly a resident of Marfa and is well known here. She says that she fully expects to bring back from Austin an award for Western District having obtained the largest amount of newspaper publicity during the past year concerning the young people's activities. The award will be a shield which was won last year by one of the East Texas districts. Western district has already won the flag for having reached its quota of registrations. Both these awards will be brought to Marfa for the district C. T. convention scheduled to be held here next fall, and will remain with the Marfa Endeavorers until the following district convention, probably to be next spring.

TAX REDUCTION BILL SIGNED BY COOLIDGE

Payments Due This Year Are Cut Twenty-Five Per Cent.

Washington.—President Coolidge Monday signed the tax reduction bill, but, declaring it unsatisfactory, announced he would bend all his energies to obtain enactment of a better measure at the next session of congress.

The bill, which decreases tax rates in most instances to the lowest levels since 1917 and which was the basis of the hottest fight of the present session of congress, was declared by the president in a statement issued coincident with his approval of the measure, to represent merely "tax reduction, not tax reform."

The following changes are ordered in the income taxes:

- A 25 per cent reduction on taxes payable this year.

General revision of both the normal and surtax rates, amounting to a 50 per cent on taxes levied against incomes of $5000 and under.

An additional reduction of 25 per cent which may be made on earned incomes. For purposes of this reduction all incomes of $500 and under are defined as earned. The cut may be made only on incomes up to $10,000.

Exemption for heads of families with incomes of $5000 and over is increased from $2000 to $2500, the same as now allowed heads of families with incomes of $5000 and under.

The miscellaneous and excise taxes repealed and the amount of revenue involved are:

Telegraph and telephone messages, $34,000,000; beverages, $10,000,000; candy, $13,000,000; knives, dirks, daggers, etc., $30,000; liveries, etc., $140,000; hunting, shooting and riding garments, $180,000; yachts and motor boats for sale, $319,000; carpets, rugs, runks, purses, etc., $1,800,000; drafts and promissory notes, $2,150,000; heaters, shows, circuses (floor space) $1,600,000.

In addition numerous other excise taxes are reduced. Theater tickets of 50 cents and under are exempted; automobile trucks, the chassis of which sell for $1000 or less and the bodies for $200 or less are exempted.

The new normal tax rates on individual incomes are 2 per cent on incomes of $4000 and under; 4 per cent on incomes between $4000 and $8000 and 6 per cent on incomes above that amount. The surtax rates range from 1 per cent on incomes between $10,000 and $14,000 to 40 per cent on incomes of over $50,000.

THE ASHOKAN RESERVOIR

The Ashokan reservoir is an artificial lake created as a water-storage reservoir for the city of New York, situated in the Catskill mountains more than 100 miles away.

The Esopus watershed, carrying the waters of the streams which flow from the high forest lands in the Catskills, emerged from the mountains through a deep gorge and drained into the Hudson river. The construction of a dam 4,650 feet long, across this gorge, stopped the flow of water and created a reservoir 12 miles long, from one to three miles wide, with a maximum depth of 190 feet and a capacity of 130,000,000,000 gallons of water.

In the construction of this gigantic project, 15,222 acres of land, on which dwell a population of 2,000 persons who had to find new homes, were acquired; 2,800 bodies from seven cemeteries were re-interred; 11 miles of railroad were re-located 64 miles of highways were discontinued and 40 miles of new highways were constructed; 2,500,000 wagon loads of earth and rock were moved; embankments containing 7,300,000 wagon loads of material were built and 900,000 cubic yards (or wagon loads) of masonry work in which 1,200,000 barrels of cement were used, were constructed. Three thousand men, 30 miles of railroad, 23 locomotives, 580 cars, derricks, steam rollers, steam shovels, concrete mixing outfits, and miscellaneous equipment without end were employed.

As the lower division of the reservoir is 587 feet above the tide in New York harbor, the water flows to and is delivered within the city by gravity.

Although the water of the Esopus drainage is of unusual softness and the sparse settlement of the country makes for purity, the water is drawn from the reservoir through 1,500 nozzles which break it into a spray and permit the escape of any odors or gases which it may contain.

The water flows, for the most part, through an aqueduct 17 1/2 feet wide and 17 feet high, with an average drop of 1 1/10 feet per mile. Cement-lined tunnels carry it through unavoidable hills and under valleys. It passes under the Hudson river through a tunnel driven in granite rock 1,114 feet below sea level, and reaches the city mains in a tunnel bored through solid rock, lying from 200 to 750 feet below the street level. The maximum capacity of this aqueduct is 20,833,333 gallons per hour.

LASSEN VOLCANIC NATIONAL PARK

Mount Lassen, which geologists are pleased to term "a dying volcano," is located in the southeastern part of Shasta county in northern California. Lassen, standing between the ends of two mountain ranges noted far and wide for the beauty of their scenery—the Sierra Nevada and the Cascades—rises to a height of 10,460 feet, and has the distinction of being the only volcano located within the confines of our United States that may be regarded as being at all active.

Although there were outward indications of the fact that tremendous internal heat continued to prevail, with the exception of the escape of some smoke or steam at somewhat irregular as well as infrequent periods, no serious eruption had occurred for so long (about two centuries) that the present generation of the world at large has practically forgotten that there was such a peak as Lassen, let alone the fact that it had volcanic tendencies. Consequently, in 1915, when Mount Lassen, with surprising suddenness, broke out in a series of violent explosions and eruptions which attracted the attention of the nations of the world to its doing, there was a rush for histories and geographies to post up on this mountain.

Although students of volcanic action contend that recent eruptions were feeble in violence as compared with those of long ago, nearby residents declare that these latest ones were terrifying to the nth degree. Tremendous, broad-spreading columns of dense smoke were forcibly expelled from the crater; small stones were thrown a mile or more, many boulders not so far, sand and lava dust rained down on the surrounding country over a radius of two miles. A blast of heated gas escaped, swept down a creek valley, melted the snow and created a torrent.

The only possible sight of the kind in the United States, following out its policy of preserving the most distinguished of our scenic possibilities "For the Benefit and Enjoyment of the People," congress, in 1916, created the peak and the volcanic and lava fields, lakes, springs, and canyons which surround it, in all 124 square miles, as a national park.

Lack of sufficient funds curtailed the 1923-1924 term by several weeks, and the increase is necessary to maintain a full term and get affiliation with the state university as a first-class school.

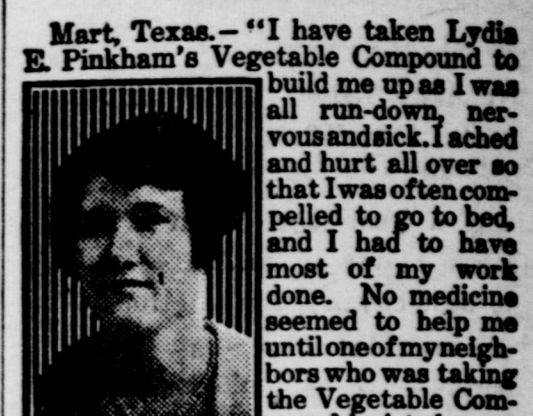

Houston was awarded the 1925 convention of the United States Good Roads association and the Bankhead Highway association, a dispatch from Albuquerque, N. M., where this year's meeting was held, stated. The convention will last six days. According to W. G. Jones, secretary-manager of the Motor League of South Texas, it will attract possibly 500 delegates and 1500 visitors.

SICK WOMAN MADE HAPPY

Entirely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mart, Texas.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build me up as I was all run-down, nervous, and sick. I ached and hurt all over so that I was often compelled to go to bed, and I had to have most of my work done. No medicine seemed to help me until I got a bottle of the Vegetable Compound. It insisted on me trying a bottle of it. The medicine helped me from the first, and the best of all is that I can even sweep again without that awful, nervous feeling I was used to having. And I used to take crying spells, with such a blue feeling that I cannot explain. Now all that has left me, I feel so cheerful, and I have gained in weight, sleep well and eat hearty. Oh! I wish I had words to express what this medicine has done for me! I am a housekeeper and do everything from the sewing to the washing now and it doesn't hurt me. You may use my letter in any way you wish. I will be glad to help any suffering woman to the road of health and happiness."—Mrs. B. F. BRANNON, 404 Travis Ave., Mart, Texas.

TEXAS IS GROWING IN EXPORT TRADE

Is Running New York a Close Second in Race for Supremacy.

Houston, Tex.—Twenty-five years ago Texas was far down on the list of states in the value of its export trade. Now, according to figures compiled by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the federal government, it is running New York a good race for first place.

During the first three months of the year Texas exported goods to the value of $147,225,548, the department figures revealed. In the same period New York state's exports were valued at $183,846,364. Pennsylvania was third with $4,747,660.

According to Captain B. C. Allin, director of Port Houston, two major causes have operated to thrust Texas into the front rank of exporting states. The first has been the development of its agricultural and mineral resources and the second the development of its deep water ports.

The two greatest exports from the state at this time are cotton and oil. But lumber, foodstuffs, rice, sulphur and many other commodities help swell the total.

A factor in the state's continued supremacy in cotton has been the conversion of ranch lands in the central west and northwest portions of Texas. These lands are out of the boll weevil belt and have proved to be ideally adapted to cotton raising.

Hand in hand with the growth of the cotton raising industry has been the development of Texas oil fields and refineries, and the exploitation of rich sulphur deposits in the vicinity of Houston.

Texas has made vast strides in the development of deep water harbors in the last quarter of a century. Where it had only one port worthy of the name, it now has several ports handling ocean carrier trade. With the development of the Houston ship channel and port, improvements at Galveston harbor and at Port Arthur and Orange, the Texas seaboard is handling not only its own huge export trade but the export trade of a large portion of the southwest.

According to Captain Allin, the demands on the port of Houston are so great that the new facilities being provided at the north side of the Turning Basin will be taxed to capacity as soon as they are put in operation. While Houston's growth as a port has been the most phenomenal in the history of the gulf coast, if not in America, other Texas ports have been making steady progress. Galveston's cotton exports for the 1923-24 season have exceeded those of the previous season. Port Arthur and Orange are handling heavy traffic. Deep water at Corpus Christi soon will be a reality and the development of Point Isabel, the port of Brownsville, is under way.

As the Southwest continues to grow agriculturally and hits its stride in industrial development, the Texas gulf ports will handle a constantly increasing volume of business, in Captain Allin's belief.

The opening of the Panama Canal and the development of Latin American trade has had an important bearing on the history of the marine business in Texas.

Completion of the intracoastal canal project will bulwark the already strong strategic position of Texas ports.

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED BY TORNADO IN OKLAHOMA TOWN

Wetunka, Okla.—What appeared to be a complete check of the death toll exacted to date by a tornado that tore a path through a portion of Wetunka showed earlier reports that seven persons had perished were correct.

All missing persons have been accounted for.

It is feared, however, that some of the injured in hospitals in Henryetta may die.

About a hundred persons are homeless and are being cared for at relief stations.

Gibbons Outboxes Carpenter.

Michigan City, Ind.—Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, Minn., the only boxer ever to stay the limit with Jack Dempsey, restored himself to a standing as a contender for the world's heavyweight championship Saturday when he decisively defeated Georges Carpentier, ring idol of France, in their ten-round international contest. Gibbons, winning from start to finish, perfect master of the situation at every stage of the battle, had his French foe staggering and groggy half a dozen times, and only Carpentier's refusal to battle possibly saved him from a knockout.

Blueberry Pudding. The canned berries may be used for this dish if the fresh are not obtainable. Spread slices of bread with butter and arrange in a baking dish, cover each layer of bread with berries well sweetened; repeat until the dish is full. Bake one-half hour in a moderate oven. Serve hot with sugar and cream.

Potato Doughnuts. Take four and one-half cups of pastry flour, four teaspoons of baking powder, one-third of a teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of soda, three eggs beaten light, one cupful of granulated sugar, one cupful of mashed potatoes, three tablespoons of melted butter and three-fourths of a cupful of sour milk. Sift the dry ingredients, add sugar to the eggs, the butter to the potatoes and combine the two mixtures, add the sour milk and stir in the dry ingredients. Take a little of the dough at a time, roll and cut in rounds. Fry in deep fat. If the mixture is well chilled on ice before rolling there will be less flour needed and the cakes will be more tender.

Banana Pie. Press through a ricer enough ripe bananas to make a cupful, add one-half cupful of sugar, two tablespoons of molasses, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one beaten egg, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half cupful of milk, one-third cupful of cream. Mix and bake in a pastry-lined pie plate.

Don't think you have a corner on the trouble market. I could mention several varieties you've never even heard of. What you need is the philosophy of cheerful endurance. Then you will begin to accomplish.—Lloyd.

SUMMER DRINKS

There is nothing that is more satisfying on a warm day than a cold, tasty drink. The fore-handed housewife provided for the hot days with a good supply of fruit juices of various kinds when they appeared in season. Grape Juice, raspberry shrub and combinations of juices are all good. Of course, the lemon is the good old stand-by; we couldn't get along without it, as it adds zest to all drinks. Add a beaten egg to a pitcher of lemonade (two if it is a large pitcher) it adds food value to the drink and makes it different.

Orange and Raspberry Nectar.—Squeeze the juice from six oranges, mix with the pressed-out juice from a pint of fresh or canned raspberries. Add one cupful of sugar, dissolve over heat, but do not let the mixture become hot. Grate the yellow rind of three oranges and cook in a pint of boiling water for a few minutes. Strain, cool, and add the fruit juice. When cold set into the ice chest. Dilute with an equal volume of ice water. Fill tall glasses and add ginger ale to each. Garnish with a few fresh berries if at hand.

Fruit Shrub.—This is a recipe to save for the fruit season, so that next year there will be shrub on the shelves for warm days. Cover raspberries with half as much vinegar as berries, let stand for three days, then strain and add four quarts of fresh fruit to the juice and vinegar; again let stand three days, drain and put into a preserving kettle with a pound of sugar to each three cups of fruit juice. Boil and seal in bottles. Any kind of berries—black, blue, or lozanberries are both stimulating and refreshing.

Iced Tea.—Take two teaspoonfuls each of green and black tea, pour over a pint of boiling water and cover tightly; let stand five minutes to draw. Take a large piece of ice, place in a granite pan and pour over it the boiling tea. When well-chilled add water to taste, more ice, and fill glasses. Garnish each glass with a section of lemon and serve with loaf sugar.

Grape and Ginger Ale Jelly.—Heat a pint of grape juice with two tablespoons of sugar; when hot pour over two tablespoonfuls of gelatin which has been softened in a tablespoonful of water. Add a pint of ginger ale. Mold and cool on ice until ready to serve.

JAPAN PROTESTS IMMIGRATION ACT

Declares Bill Is Aimed Solely at Japs—Sees No Just Reason.

Washington.—Japan's "solemn protest" against the exclusion section of the new immigration law was presented formally to Secretary Hughes Saturday by Ambassador Hanhara and was made public at the state department without comment.

Coupled with the protest is the request of the Japanese government that the American government "take all possible and suitable measures" for removal of "discrimination."

The communication declares international discriminations are particularly unwelcome "when based on race" and adds that discrimination of that character is expressed in the exclusion statute.

The history of commercial agreement between the two countries, it is declared, shows that the Japanese government has sought to protect its nationals from "discriminatory immigration legislation in the United States," which position was "fully understood and appreciated by the American government."

"The Japanese government desires now to point out," says the note, "that the new legislation is in entire disregard of the spirit and circumstances that underlie the conclusion of the treaty (of 1911)."

It is added that the provisions of the new law "have made it impossible for Japan to continue the undertaking assumed under the gentlemen's agreement."

"The patient, loyal and scrupulous observance by Japan for more than 16 years of these self-denying regulations, in the interest of good relations between the two countries, now seems to have been wasted," the protest continued.

At the end, Ambassador Hanhara appended the following paragraph:

"I am instructed further to express the confidence that this communication will be received by the American government in the same spirit of friendliness and candor in which it is made."

President Coolidge Renews Plea for World Court

Washington.—Further limitation of armaments and American adherence with reservations to the world court created under the league of nations, were set up by President Coolidge Friday as his goals in the field of foreign affairs.

Speaking at the Memorial Day exercises at Arlington, the president renewed his advocacy of the Harding-Hughes plan for American membership in the permanent court of international justice, and declared the idea of mutual covenants by the nations limiting their military establishments "should be made practical as fast as possible."

The president gave notice that he would not oppose other reservations to the court protocol than those proposed by President Harding and Secretary Hughes, but would not support "any material changes which would not probably receive the consent of the many other signatory nations."

His declaration was interpreted generally as opposition to the plan of the republican majority of the senate foreign relations committee for American adherence provided the nations now members of the court agree to separate the tribunal from the league.

"We may as well face this question candidly," he said, referring to the issue of American world court membership, "and if we are willing to assume the new duties in exchange for the benefits which accrue to us, let us say so. If we are not willing, let us say that. We can accomplish nothing by taking a doubtful or ambiguous position."

"We are not going to be able to avoid meeting the world and bearing our part of the burdens of the world. We must meet those burdens and overcome them, or they will meet us and overcome us. For my part, I desire my country to meet them without evasion and without fear in an upright, downright square American way."

Youths Confess to Killing.

Chicago, Ill.—Youthful sons of two Chicago millionaires Saturday confessed the kidnaping and slaying ten days ago of Robert Franks, 14 years old, son of Jacob Franks, another millionaire, according to Robert E. Crowe, state attorney. The boys who confessed are Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, university students, residing within a few blocks of the Franks home, in a fashionable south side district. They kidnaped the boy as he walked home from school, strangled him in their automobile, concealed his body and demanded a $10,000 ransom from the parents, according to Mr. Crowe.

THOUSANDS OF TEXAS CITIZENS ENDORSE TANLAC AS TONIC WITH REAL MERIT

Well-Known People From All Walks of Life Tell How TANLAC Has Restored Them to Health, in Many Cases After Years of Suffering

TEXAS STOCK DEALER ARDENT TANLAC BOOSTER

Patrick Dougherty Says It Overcame Stomach Trouble That Had Lasted 10 Years—Has Recommended Tanlac to Hundreds.

"Tanlac certainly made life worth living for me and I believe it is the best stomach medicine on earth," recently declared Patrick Dougherty, widely known stock dealer, of 203 W. Central Ave., Ft. Worth, Texas.

"For ten years I suffered from a bad case of stomach trouble and all the symptoms that go with it. I couldn't eat anything greasy or even drink coffee, and had about lost all hope of ever being well or able to enjoy another meal. My kidneys bothered me, I couldn't get a good night's rest and just existed rather than lived.

"Tanlac fixed me up so I could eat everything without suffering a particle afterwards; in fact, it just the same as gave me a new stomach and built me up 27 pounds in weight besides. That was about seven years ago and a little Tanlac now and then has kept me feeling fine and fit ever since. I have recommended Tanlac to hundreds of people, and have never known it to fall short of giving the best results."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Literally thousands of Texas people are praising TANLAC for the wonderful benefits they have derived from its use.

Discoverer of Tut's Tomb Searched for Many Years

Back of all the news about that prominent Egyptian ruler, Tut-Ankh-Amen, has been the unceasing effort of Howard Carter, who spent 30 years searching for the tomb of the monarch now known to the civilized world far better than any other king that ever held the scepter in the Nile valley. Americans played a large part in the eventual discovery of the great archeological treasure unearthed by the English Egyptologist, which lends a peculiar interest to his visit here. The thoughtless who look merely at the results of such long,

Doubtful Compliment

Children often understand the purpose of remarks which they chance to overhear, especially if made concerning them, though the literal meaning of the words may not be grasped. This, evidently, had been the case with Martha, the four-year-old daughter of C. A. Jewett, for after he had offered thanks at dinner one evening recently, Martha unfolded her small hands, and, looking up to mother with about as much of admiration and affection as a child's face could express, and plainly

The list of those who have publicly expressed their gratitude to this remarkable medicine grows daily and there are on file in the home office of TANLAC numerous such statements, all telling how TANLAC helped them recover lost health and strength, by correcting stomach trouble, rheumatism, dyspepsia, indigestion, malnutrition, torpid liver, constipation, a general run-down condition and many other symptoms and diseases not generally recognized as having their origin in the stomach and digestive tract.

These statements from TEXAS citizens form part of the file of over 100,000 similar statements from every state in the Union. TANLAC has met with popular demand for the simple reason that it has demonstrated its ability to go right to the seat of stomach trouble and clean it up in short order.

All the advertising in the world could not have gained the success for TANLAC that this medicine has met with. It would not cause hundreds of thousands of people to believe in TANLAC as they do and could not be the means of selling 40 million bottles in a little over eight years.

TANLAC has withstood the test of time and today people who took TANLAC eight years ago will tell you that the good health and strength they got THEN has lasted them ALL THAT TIME.

The real secret of TANLAC'S success has been in the merit of the preparation. For TANLAC is composed of ingredients that are known to science to be beneficial to the human system. These ingredients are purely vegetable and TANLAC does not contain the slightest trace of any mineral or drug that might upset the system or form any drug habits.

HALL CITES TWO INSTANCES WHERE TANLAC HELPED

"Twice Tanlac has put me back on my feet and I don't believe it has an equal in the world," is the appreciative statement of John E. Hall, 2012 Third Ave., Dallas, Texas.

"Two years ago liver trouble, back-ache and loss of appetite pulled me down to only one hundred and twenty-five pounds and I got so weak I had to give up and take to my bed. When I did get up it looked as if I would never get my strength back.

"A friend put me onto Tanlac and when I had finished my second bottle I had fully regained my health and was back on the job, feeling fine, and I also gained twelve pounds in weight.

"Then in the fall of 1922 Dengue fever got me down in bed again. Nothing tasted right to me and every bone and muscle in my body ached. Knowing what Tanlac would do, I sent for a bottle and began to improve at once. Then I got the second bottle and finished it, feeling as fine and fit as ever. Tanlac sure is great."

JUDGE HARPER FOR RE-ELEC- TION.

Chief Justice Harper has announced his candidacy for re-election to the position which he now holds, Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals for the Eighth Supreme Judicial District of Texas.

Judge Harper is particularly intitled for this, the highest honor in the district, by reason of the fact that he has had several years experience in this position and has had a number of years experience in minor judicial positions.

As an evidence of his ability and the satisfaction that he has given in the discharge of his duties, the bar associations of the various counties comprising the district have endorsed him for re-election. Where there has been no action by the bar association, the majority of the lawyers having business before the court are advocating his re-election.

The position of Judge of the Appellate Court is one of vital importance to the property owners and the business man, by reason of the fact that at any time an individual may be involved in litigation which involves everything that he owns, consequently it is a matter of public duty and individual interest to all such voters to take a particular news and we want to publish it.

Last week's issue no doubt was a criticism of the kind of newspaper that reflects some credit—we say this without any intention of bragging—on Marfa, and that's the kind of paper we are endeavoring to put out—until we can put out even a better one.

We thank you.

need of new hymnals and the dispensary clerk at the hospital offered to buy the hymnals, provided he could put in some advertisements.
Chaplain Harkins said he could not have the hymnals desecrated by advertisements. However, it was decided that the dispensary clerk could buy the hymnals.

The next Sunday at services, the congregation was asked to turn to page 85 and sing. They sang as follows:
Hark, the angel voices sing,
Our headache pills are just the thing
Hear the singing ever mild,
Two for adults and one for child.

ful guardian of the County's interest.

which county candidates will be allowed to file their application with the county chairman in order to get their names on the primary ticket.

HEADQUARTERS TROOP NOTES.

Headquarters troop reports that they have had no deaths, births, or murders within the last few days.

This troop has an excellent collection of musical talent. Pvt. Vogel plays a mean fiddle, Foster uses a wicked saw, and Carver plays the banjo.

The other day, our assistant editor, Arrillaga, rang up the sporting editor to find out how the Ford came out during the race and the answer he got was, "call up the morgue."

Our beloved brother, Somes, is leaving us in a few days and we understand he is trying to give up his girl, and it seems as though he cannot part with her.

If anyone finds any spare parts for a Ford car in camp or in town, please return same to Sergeant Smith, Hq. Troop, and receive reward.

Brother Polk has decided to cease his gold-bricking. He was released from the hospital a few days ago. We wonder why he is so anxious to come back to duty.

Pvt. Jesse E. Best and Pvt. 1st Class Roy E. Gravelly have their applications for discharge in. It is expected that they will be discharged any day now.

A new member is expected to arrive into the military colony in the very near future. Mrs. W. A. Davenport.

port of Monterey, Cal., is making a trip overland in their machine and is expected here about the 1th of June. We Headquarters troop sincerely hope that your residence here will be made as pleasant here as it was at Monterey. We are at your service at all times, Mrs. Davenport.

On last Tuesday afternoon, on the camp diamond, Headquarters troop team defeated the troop "C" team by the long score of 18 to 2. The game was won by the hard hitting of Headquarters troop and by numerous errors on "C" troop's side. There never was any doubt of the winner from the first ball until the last, as Headquarters showed their superiority at all times. In the last inning Headquarters changed the line-up so as to give all of her men a chance. Pvt. Kaminsky was sent to left field to replace Sgt. Hayes and played a creditable game, Pvt. Allen went from first to center field and Rankin went to first base; Henry relieved Banasau at the receiving end of the battery, who in turn relieved Vogel on the mound, Vogel going to second base. Banasau showed that he could pitch as well as catch by retiring troop "C" in one, two, three order. Sgt. Atkins played the best game for "C" troop.

THE SHEIK.

"Sheik Rupp" of gay troop "A" Called on his Sheba yesterday. And showing her a discolored eye: "This pain is hard to bear," he cried. "O, Sheik," his Sheba faintly cried. As she cuddled closer to his side. "With patience day after day, Even that shiner will pass away."

Scotty's New Year's Present
By Eleanor E. King

DOWN in a snow-covered valley, surrounded on all sides by huge mountains towering to the skies, nestled a little log house. The snow had drifted in the valley, until only a piece of the roof was visible here, a part of the chimney there, and a corner of the porch in another place.

A pathway had been shoveled from the door about twenty-five feet from the house through from eight to ten feet of snow, varying in places. The inside of this log house consisted of two rooms, a huge fireplace, a man and his collie dog, plus a few pieces of furniture. The dog looked to be a cross between a St. Bernard and a collie. Just at present his big brown eyes were pinned upon his master, who was fixing his supper. His master, a tall, broad-shouldered man, a typical woodsman, smiled down at the dog and said:

"Scotty, I'll bet that if you are as hungry as I was, after shoveling all that snow, this plate will be cleaned up and you will beg for more."

The necessary duties disposed of after the meal, the big woodsman made himself comfortable in front of the fireplace and filled his pipe. Scotty, right beside him, was as close to the fire as he dared get without being singed. Frank Manchette, for that was the Canadian woodsman's name, puffed on his pipe with vigor, sending little curls into the air until he and Scotty were enveloped in a cloud of smoke.

"That was quite some blizzard we had for Christmas, Scotty! Here it is New Year's eve, and today was the first chance we had to dig our way out of this house. I would hate to start the New Year by being snowed in."

Scotty looked up with a wise expression and wagged his tail.

"A Merry Christmas we had, too," said Frank Manchette, between puffs of his pipe. "What strikes me so funny, Scotty, is the fact that we are so happy here; had a jolly time, a fine Christmas dinner, and there weren't any women folks to bother us. They aren't so necessary as they're cracked up to be—huh, Scotty?"

Scotty showed his approval by rubbing his head against his master's hand.

"There was a gal I saw in town last time, though, and she smiled at me, too, Scotty—can you imagine a pretty girl like her, an' she smiling at me? Well, I could have pictured her a sit-in' here beside us, she a-saying, 'Now, Frank, you and Scotty go and sit down afore the fireplace while I do the work. It won't take a minute.' But, Scotty, I tell you what, we would fool her an' say, 'No, sir, little gal, we're just going to help.'

Scotty Looked Up With a Wise Expression.

Here Frank was interrupted in his wanderings by Scotty, who started to bark, quietly moving toward the door. Frank Manchette shut the door after Scotty, fixing the latch so that he could open it himself when he returned.

"Funny dog," he mused. "Funny; guess he thought this was no place for him with me going on about that gal, like I was." He settled back to his thoughts and puffed at his pipe.

Some little while later Manchette was awakened from his reverie by a slight noise outside. He pulled out his watch.

"Huh! Just twelve o'clock."

The shack door opened. There stood Scotty with something white clutched firmly between his teeth.

"Happy New Year, Scotty!"

Scotty put the white bundle at his master's feet. He licked the hand his master put forth to pick up the parcel, as though to ask that it be received with favor in his sight.

"Where did you find this, Scotty?"

By this time the package was no longer a mystery. Frank Manchette held in his arms a baby, apparently sleeping peacefully, snug and warm.

"Why, Scotty, what do you think two lone bachelors know about taking care of a baby? That surely is a queer present to be bringing to me." Then to himself: "Some poor soul lost in the snow and cold. Scotty, you're a wonder. I'll tell you what! As soon as we can get through to town we will go for that little gal and start the New Year right. You can't object, either, for your present is bringing her here. Happy New Year, Scotty," Frank said, gayly. Then, suddenly remembering his new care:

"Oh! the baby."

Uncommon Sense BY JOHN BLAKE

BLAMING YOURSELF

IT IS always easy to find somebody to blame for your mistakes. You are probably misunderstood. Every body is. You are probably a square peg in a round hole. So is every other unsuccessful person. Doubtless the world is blind to your talent. It was blind to Shakespeare's talent for many years. But Shakespeare died a rich and successful man.

The temptation to "pass the buck" is often almost irresistible. But yield to it till it becomes a habit and you might as well quit now. You will never get anywhere.

While most bicycle repairers in one large city were blaming the collapse of the bicycle boom for their hard luck, Wilbur and Orville Wright were at work on a vehicle that would as far surpass the bicycle as the eagle surpasses the tortoise.

They didn't blame anybody but themselves, and they blamed themselves severely when they made costly mistakes.

By and by they found a way to escape their own blame. Then they began to succeed.

In every office there are clerks that blame the boss for their lack of opportunity. They find an excuse for all their bad work, for the results of their idleness. And they are so busy finding excuses that they never have time to find the opportunities that are around them.

If you don't want other people to criticize you, be your own critic. Don't be an easy one either. Make your own standard higher than his boss'. Give him a little more than he expects, or a great deal more than he expects, and you will attract his attention. If you don't attract his attention except unfavorably, he'll begin to hunt for somebody who will.

There are of course people who are abused as much as they think they are, but you can write on a postage stamp the names of all such persons you know. You and nobody else are to blame for your failures or responsible for your success. Be unsparing of the blame. Check up every day's work and see if it would satisfy you if you were the boss. If it wouldn't, do better work the next day.

Nobody will be interested in your excuses or your "alibis." Everybody will be interested in what you really accomplish. You can get somewhere in the world if you try. But you'll have to try extremely hard, for there will be abundant competition.

Under the Holly Bough

YE WHO have scorned each other, Or injured friend or brother, In this fast-fading year; Ye who by word or deed, Have made a kind heart bleed— Come gather here. Let sinners against and sinning Forget their strife's beginning. And join in friendship now; Be links no longer broken. Be sweet forgiveness spoken. Under the holly bough.

Ye who have loved each other, Sister and friend and brother, In this fast-fading year; Mother and sire and child, Young man and maiden mild, Come, gather here, And let your hearts grow fonder, As memory shall ponder. Each past unbroken vow; Old loves and younger wooing Are sweet in the renewing. Under the holly bough.

Ye who have nourished sadness, Strained from hope and gladness, In this fast-fading year; Ye with o'er-burdened mind Made aliens from your kind— Come, gather here. Let not the useless sorrow Pursue your night and morrow, If e'er you hoped, hope now— Take heart, uncloud your brow, And join in our embraces. Under the holly bough.

ROACH-FREEMAN DUO RETURNS

Captivating Fun Makers to Be Heard Again.

There will be laughs aplenty when Ada Roach and Ruth Freeman come to Western Chautauquas the second time. Their program offerings implant the smile that won't rub off and kindle the good will of every man, woman and child in the audience.

Inimitable impersonations, dialect stories and dialogue, songs, violin, piano, concertina and piano selections, combine to make an afternoon and evening of satisfying enjoyment and hearty laughter.

An infectious smile is said to be a gift of the gods, and if that is trine Ada Roach was present when the first gift was handed out. Audiences smile and laugh and sing with her. As her program proceeds, her quaint gestures and expressions become equally laugh-provoking. Miss Freeman is a violinist of unusual merit and plays many of her own obligatos.

There is just enough of the serious in the program to give it good balance. A purpose higher than mere entertainment runs through it, but the smile and the happiness are always present.

My Wants for the New Year

WHAT I WANT for the year are not varied or many, I ask not for blessings full rich of their kind, I only want pleasure with health of good measure, And diversified changes to fill up my mind, I want life to be sunny, with plenty of money, With one round of pleasure from morning till night; I want naught but gladness, with no touch of sadness, I do not like darkness, so please give me light.

I do not like weather that's dark and that's gloomy, I like the bright sunshine that glows and that shines, I care not for sorrow, so never shall borrow But pass it by quickly and leave it behind, I do not like burdens, those heavy and leaden, So please keep them off me and don't weigh me down, I want to look smiling, while time beguiling, So don't send me worries, which make scowls and frowns.

Give me true homage with respect from all people, No matter how far I shall fall from true grace, And make every paper, though caught in same caper, To be taken unquestioned, per value of face, So give me these few things, these few things I've mentioned, I do not want much, as you know and can see, So old Father Time, sir, be gentle and kind, sir, And give these few gifts, if you please, sir to me.

Sgt. Woolsey wandered away from camp one fine sunny day, and while wandering about town he entered strage restaurant without noticing the warning sign: "For Officers Only," on the door. The waitress sought to enlighten him. "Officers only," she said, somewhat harshly. "Well," replied Woolsey, "if that is all you got, bring me one well done."

In the Long Ago

(From old New Era, June 8, 1895)

Tom Love of Gail, Texas, came in last night. He is looking for fat cattle.

John Humphris Jr. and family of Shafter, Texas, went to San Antonio, and are taking in the City of Mexico.

Mr. Chas. Seibert, book keeper for the San Carlos Coal Co. and the Rio Grande Northern Ry., was here a few days this week.

C. A. Ellison of San Marcos, a cousin of Bob Ellison's, is here a few days on a visit. He is on his way to Phoenix, Arizona.

The bicycle club is increasing in numbers, Frank Gillett and Dick Lightner being the latest additions. They are looking for their machines every day.

Owen Shields has not returned from San Antonio and it is greatly feared that some of the girls down there have taken him for a big lump of candy—and eat him up.

Mrs. A. F. Dennis of Decatur, Ill., who accompanied her brother, Mr. Jordan, home from his recent visit to Illinois, is so well pleased with this climate that she may make this her permanent home.

John J. Crosson was married Thursday evening at Alpine, to Miss Timie Musgrave. The many friends of the contracting parties, both here and at Alpine, will join us in wishing them long life and much happiness.

Bill Jones was in town today, laying in supplies. He says he met a couple of cow thieves going out his way this morning and he had to hurry back. He would not say who the parties were, but a strong suspicion falls on Wiley Moore and Tom Love.

The civil case of W. E. and Asa Porter vs. Francis Duke, came up Monday morning before Justice Moreland, but owing to the fact that proper service had not been had, the case had to be postponed until the 24th. Prof. Taft, looking after the interest of the bondsmen, Jim Deck, Sam Neill, U. R. Baker, witnesses, Bill Porter, plaintiff, and Frank Duke, defendant, were all here.

At Aregon yesterday afternoon, two masked men rode up to the temporary camp the section men have there and nearly scared the life out of three women there. However, a freight train pulled in about the same time and the would-be robbers retired. The train pulled out and when they got to where section foreman Martin and his men were working they stopped and informed them. The section men went in and met two of the women coming after them. The other woman had barred herself in one of the cars used as a house. She said the men had returned and knocked about the house, but had taken nothing, and another train coming in from the west had scared them off. Sheriff Knight and Deputy Putman went up last night to investigate, but could learn nothing further than he above. The men are believed to be from Marfa, a two men answering that description came in from that direction about dark last night. One was riding a bay and one a gray horse. They were probably attracted by the idea that the pay car had just passed long and there would be some money in the camp.

Uncle Billy Lempert recently lost 12 bottles of beer by a "spit." It appears that he made a bet with Dick Lightner that he could put into a six-inch bulls-eye five rifle balls in succession, with his 35-inch Sharp's hammerless, 40-82 rifle, Long Tom, off-hand at 450 feet. Dick knew that it used to be an easy thing for Uncle B. to do this, but thinking that because he had now passed the half century mark he had lost his grip, he made the bet. However, he was mistaken, for when Uncle Billy deliberately put the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th correctly and firmly within the mark he saw he was gone up for a dozen bottles of beer. So, while Billy had his head turned, Dick made a flying spit, and struck Long Tom full in the muzzle at six feet. Of course Uncle Billy didn't know it and when he turned Long Tom to moose again at the mark, with a dead center head, he missed the whole thing. Uncle Billy says Dick

HIGHLANDS CARRY ON.

Jones Champion Feeder Steers and Group of Heifers From Big Bend Country in Texas Excite Admiration.

MANHATTAN, Kas., May 26.—If the Highland country in Texas, from whence comes the Highland Herefords, wants to see its primary production in the final state of fitted perfection it should journey to Manhattan, Kansas, the state agricultural college here and some of the farms on which Highland Herefords are being fitted.

Never have Highlands shown up better than at the annual Feeders' day which was staged here last Saturday, and with nearly a thousand Kansans viewing the livestock of the state with herds in their quarters—the paddock and the pasture.

Kansas and its state agricultural college extended itself several leaps and bounds when Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the animal husbandry department stepped a pand bought the grand champion carload of feeders at the American Royal last fall, the George T. Jones Highland Herefords, paying $12 per cwt for them, real feeder calves and now growing out into real beef cattle. They have done so well over winter that the college could sell them for $9 per cwt at this time and better than break even on Jones' champions from off the flats at the foot of Mount Livermore near Valentine, Texas, will not come to market until they come back to the American Royal next fall to compete for grand champion full-fed honors that are to be dispersed at that time. The Jones calves went out on December 26, 1923, weighing 514 lbs. Last Saturday they weighed 870, a gain of 359 lbs on a maintenance ration.

The handling of the Jones grand champion feeders has been carried on with a view to keeping them ready at all times for the final drive to make them as near perfect as possible for the carlot championship battle at the 1924 American Royal. Dr. McCampbell's desire to have the animal husbandry students and visitors to the farm see the best cattle obtainable has been given the approval of everyone that has seen the cattle. They are going to make some money for the state and they have served a great object lesson. They have been carried along on the five pounds of corn and one pound of cotton seed meal per day per steer. They have had eat and they have consumed relatively small amount and they have five fall amount and they have had all the ripe cane silage that they would eat. This cane silage is one of the features of the Jones steers' ration. The ensilage was cut as fine as the cutter could be set and it was made of extremely ripe cane. The college has demonstrated that all above one pound per day of cotton seed meal fed to steers on a maintenance ration is wasted and that good alfalfa hay and good silage are as important as a maintenance ration as any feed that can be served to cattle.

The T O's from the Meloche ranch at Baton, N. M., while not as high in quality as the Jones Highlands, are doing well for the college and they, too will come to the American Royal as well fitted cattle. The T O's weighed 857 lbs last Saturday and made a gain from December 26, 1923, of 363 lbs per steer on virtually the same ration as has been fed to the Jones Highlands.

The Jones yearlings are now the show pen of cattle at the college. But there are other Highlands that have done very well indeed at the college over winter and these are the heifers that were carried on experimental feeding and which were the subject of the statements made by Dr. McCampbell here Saturday when he told of what was done in handling these cattle over winter.—From Kansas City Drovers Telegram of May 26th.

It appears that Rayas and his woman were having a regular free fight between themselves when Mendosa told the woman to come to him and he would protect her, whereupon Rayas shot him in the back, the ball passing clear through him and coming out near the naval. The shooting was done with a six shooter.

CAMP NEWS.

(From The Black Hawk)

Master Sgt. Harry Brown, who has been a member of the regiment for many years, is soon to retire. We who know him are sorry to see Brown leave us. Sgt. Brown took many parts in the activities and welfare of this regiment. He is going to make his home in the golden state of California. All of us sincerely hope that after you are settled in Frisco, you will give a thought to your friends in Camp Marfa.

The railroad station in Marfa was the scene of sadness on Thursday afternoon, when Col. and Mrs. Elyngie departed for their new station, Washington, D. C. Col. Elyngie was escorted to the train by a composite troop commanded by Cap. Mendell, and by the mounted officers of the regiment. The dragoon band played appropriate airs, and the Colonel was rendered a farewell salute by the troop as the train pulled out. The ladies of the regiment were all there to say goodbye to the Elyngies, who leave as their friends every member of the regiment. Our best wishes go with them.

ALONG THE MARRIED OFFICER'S LINE.

The married line has been brightened by the addition of two new members. We refer to Mr. Harrison and Mr. Kendall. No, they haven't been married. They are acting as custodians and janitors of the big house on the hill, pending the arrival of the new Colonel. Seven Liberty trucks and the regimental wagon train were kept busy two days and nights moving in their furniture and household effects. The Rolla-Royce is now seen in front of the house, patiently waiting for the load of passengers. Best jitney service, cheap.

Capt. and Mrs. Mason entertained at a mah jongg dinner Tuesday.

Mrs. Gaw entertained with bridge and a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Luci Belle Snyder on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Snyder is to be married in June to Lieut. Brezy Hudson of the dragoons. She was the recipient of many articles of kitchenware, including two rolling pins. Gee, Brezy, we had to buy all our stuff.

Captain and Mrs. Dunkle were hosts at dinner and mah jongg on Thursday evening, to several members of the garrison and friends from Marfa.

Mrs. Gaw is leaving Sunday for a few weeks' visit with friends in Greensboro, N. C. She will be accompanied by Miss Margaret Elyngie, who is on her way to Washington to join her parents, Col. and Mrs. LeRoy Elyngie.

Mrs. G. Douglas Thompson entertained at bridge on Friday afternoon, in honor of Miss Margaret Elyngie.

Capt. and Mrs. Manfell entertained at lunch on Friday, in honor of Lieut. and Mrs. Gaw.

Monday night at George Wilson's tent saloon, about 20 miles from Chispa, after the saloon had been closed, and George had gone to bed, some unknown party slipped in and beat him over the head with a 15-pound rock, knocking him senseless, in which condition he remained until the next morning. His place was then robbed of about $15 and a check or two. George came down here Tuesday night for treatment. His head was terribly bruised.

A carnival outfit blew into town and pitched tents on the vacant section of the railroad right-of-way, Thursday. Sheriff Vaughan's friends have exercised a close watch to keep him off the horses of the merry-go-round, lest he fall off. They say he has lately acquired the habit of falling off every horse he straddles. The carnival moved out to the army post on Saturday.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS SELECT DELEGATES

Instructed to Vote for McAdoo as Long as His Name Is Before Convention.

Waco, Tex.—Sounding a warning against the "reactionary elements in our own party," and declaring that "we must work hard to win the victory for a progressive democracy," Marshall Hicks of San Antonio in his keynote speech before the state democratic convention Tuesday, following his election as chairman of the convention, told the group of Texas democrats that William G. McAdoo "is the outstanding leader of progressive democrats and the only man with whom we can win in November."

Mr. Hicks' reference to Mr. McAdoo was greeted with cheering approval by the convention.

In closing his speech Mr. Hicks read a telegram from Mr. McAdoo addressed to the democrats of Texas assembled in convention. This telegram said: "I wish to convey the warmest greetings to the democrats of Texas in convention at Waco; also to say to them that what they have already done and what they will do at New York will clinch the victory for progressive democracy just as they clinched it at Baltimore in 1912 for progressive democracy and Woodrow Wilson."

Platform Resolutions Adopted. In behalf of your committee on resolutions, and as its chairman, the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, are presented:

The democrats of Texas, in convention assembled at Waco, believe that the democratic party should remain true to progressive democratic principles and secure to the people the restoration of the clean, efficient and economic government, the high conception of public duty, and the notable ideals of service to humanity that characterized the eight years in office of the immortal statesman and benefactor of mankind—Woodrow Wilson.

Recognizing in William Gibbs McAdoo the outstanding exponent of the progressive and liberal thought of America and of the above principles, we therefore instruct our delegates to the national convention to be held at New York to vote as a unit for the nomination of William Gibbs McAdoo as the democratic candidate for president of the United States so long as his name is before the convention; and that they also vote as a unit on all questions arising at that convention, and that the delegates in attendance at the convention be authorized to cast the entire vote of the delegation.

We unhesitatingly declare our confidence in his incorruptible honesty, his exalted patriotism and his unprecedented executive ability.

Because of his experience and the knowledge acquired during more than five years as ex officio president of the Pan-American Congress, William Gibbs McAdoo is especially equipped for service to Texas and the Southwest in bringing about a commercial and social relationship to the great advantage of our entire citizenship.

Drive Grafters to Prison. We demand that the grafters and corruptionists be driven out of Washington and out of the government service, and into the penitentiaries of the country.

We urge that immediately after March 4, 1925, the democratic president then in office call a special session of congress to consider the farm problem and put into effect the best possible measures for the relief of agriculture.

This special session of congress should pass a measure of railroad reform which will produce more effective railroad service, and reduce freight and passenger rates to the people, while at the same time protecting the rights of labor and legitimate investment in railroad properties.

Repeal of Tariff Bill.

The same congress should forthwith repeal the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill and enact a just and fair tariff measure, giving to the farmers a restored world market for their products and the opportunity to buy the things they consume at reasonable prices; while such a tariff bill should do justice to industry and business and the public. It should preclude the possibility of continuing the iniquitous and inexcusable system of robbing the people under the guise of tariff laws for the enrichment of the few and the campaign contributors at the expense of the people. The grip of Wall Street should be taken off the treasury department and the Federal Reserve system and those great instrumentalities should again be operated, as they were under the Wilson administration, for the benefit of all the people and not made, as now, the servants of special privilege.

We unqualifiedly condemn the policy of isolation forced upon the American people for partisan political purposes by the republican party. It has hazarded the business of the nation, promoted actual wars, prevented the stabilization of demoralized world conditions, rendered impossible the restoration of the indispensable foreign markets for the American farmer and producer and created the existing unprecedented agricultural depression which is paralyzing prosperity in all lines of activity.

America the World Leader.

We demand that with the least possible delay America shall again resume the role of helpful co-operation and leadership in world affairs which she attained with so much pride and profit to the American people under the administration of Woodrow Wilson, and believe that this great nation should occupy the vacant chair reserved for her in the councils of the civilized nations of the earth. We favor the adherence of the United States to the now established world court.

We heartily congratulate the taxpayers of Texas upon the passage of the Garner-Simmons democratic reduction bill, which received the support of every democratic senator and representative in congress. Under this beneficent law over 6,640,000 federal taxpayers are benefited more than they would have been under the proposed republican Mellon plan, while fewer than 10,000 receive less reduction. We heartily endorse the course of our democratic senators and representatives who supported this legislation, and we accord especial praise and congratulations to its distinguished proponent, Representative John M. Garner of Texas.

Against Child Labor.

We favor the adoption of a constitutional amendment prohibiting child labor, and the establishment of a national labor court.

We favor just and liberal treatment by the government of the United States of the soldiers and sailors who risked their lives in defense of civilization in the world war, and of the dependents of those who lost their lives in that conflict.

We believe the veterans' bureau should be cleaned out, and honestly, efficiently and humanely administered.

The ballot in the hands of women has proven a powerful weapon for good government. Their use of the franchise has elevated the standards of citizenship and materially improved conditions, morally, politically and economically.

We heartily indorse the law recently enacted by congress restricting immigration from foreign countries as sound American policy and a safeguard to our institutions and economic welfare.

Against Modifying Volstead Act. We are opposed to legalizing the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer, or to any modification of the Volstead act which would increase the alcoholic content of beverages permitted to be sold or which would in any wise lessen the stringency of its provisions.

It is an insult to the American nation to say that the real and effective enforcement of our prohibition laws is impossible, or that it is not a prime duty of the nation; and we demand that the whole moral and physical force of the government shall be put behind it. We believe that it is indispensable to the real enforcement of the law that there should be an undoubted and determined will to enforce the law on the part of those entrusted with its government, and to this end we favor the divorcement of all prohibition enforcement officials from politics and the placing of them under the civil service.

Principles for Nation.

Believing firmly in the virtue, fidelity and vitalizing power of our state and national prohibition laws, including the Volstead act, we instruct our delegates to vote for writing these principles into the national platform of our party, and to vote for the nomination of William Gibbs McAdoo for president and for a candidate for vice president who adheres to them and stands for their enforcement.

It is the sense of this convention that all delegates elected to the national democratic convention should be instructed to support all measures looking toward a platform declaration in favor of complete political equality between men and women and a declaration in favor of a strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act, and to this end we demand that no man or woman be sent as a delegate to said convention who is not 100 per cent in favor of woman suffrage, prohibition and its enforcement.

We believe in the Jeffersonian principle of government by the will of the majority, and we declare that the time has come when the democratic party in national convention assembled should be progressive enough to nominate its candidates for president and vice president by majority vote. We therefore instruct our delegates to the national convention to vote for the adoption of both temporary and permanent rules under which it will be in order for the national convention at any time to make nominations by majority vote.

Cato Sells, Chairman.

Governor Pat M. Neff Tuesday was recommended to the state democratic convention as a delegate at large to the party's national meeting in New York, but he declined in a personal privilege speech to the delegates from all over Texas to be considered for the place. His request that his name be withdrawn was granted by the special committee and the convention voted in accordance with his wishes. Mike T. Lively of Dallas was substituted by the committee in the place of Mr. Neff and the convention accepted of him.

Twelve men and twelve women delegates were elected by the convention as follows, after being recommended by a committee of seven appointed to report names. The delegates at large are: Marshall Hicks, San Antonio; United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield; W. W. Fitzwater, Bonham; Thomas H. Ball, Houston; George Slater, Galveston; Frank Wozencraft, Dallas; Cato Sells, Fort Worth; John M. Mathis, Houston; M. A. Childers, San Antonio; R. E. Thomason, El Paso; Mike T. Lively, Dallas; O. L. Kinsley, San Antonio; Mrs. M. G. Olsen, Waco; Mrs. J. O. Ross, Houston; Mrs. Roy Parton, Liberty; Mrs. Jessie Daniel Ames, Georgetown; Mrs. John Davis, Dallas; Mrs. McNeil Turner, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Myrtle Seago, Port Arthur; Mrs. Murrell Buckner, Dallas; Mrs. Claude Carter, San Antonio; Mrs. Jinks Magee, Abilene; Mrs. Bettie Magruder, San Angelo; Mrs. Ethel Abbott, El Paso.

The delegates Tuesday selected their district representatives to the national convention, delegates and alternates, and also the electors whose name goes on the official ballot in the November general election. The delegates and alternates are in addition to the twenty-four selected from the state at large. The district list follows:

TAX REDUCTION.

On June 2nd, President Coolidge approved the new Revenue Bill and certain features of the bill materially affect the payments on 1923 income. The amount of tax as shown on the 1923 individual returns has been reduced by 25%.

Numerous requests are being received at this office concerning this reduction. The substance of this reduction is as follows: A flat 25% reduction of the amount due for 1923. Tax payers can take advantage of this reduction in paying the June installment. You may arrive at the amount you are due for June as follows:

If you paid one-fourth of your tax on March 15th, you may now pay one-eighth of the total amount of tax shown due on your return which is the same as one-half the amount you paid in March, that if you are paying on the installment basis—for example: A tax payer's tax was $12.00 for 1923. $3.00 of this amount was paid on or before March 15th, to bring the payment up to one-half this taxpayer should now pay $1.50 for his June installment and $2.25 for his September installment and $2.25 for his December installment. This would make his total tax for the year $9.00. This basis may be used in computing the amount you should pay on your June installment.

This reduction affects individual taxpayers only and has no bearing on corporation income tax.
