THE CIVIC LEAGUE

HELD AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING THURSDAY.

A Number of Speakers Made Short Talks, and Several Visitors Were Present.

Last Thursday afternoon the Civic League of Plainview held an enthusiastic meeting at the Odd Fellows' hall in the Wayland building.

A number of the old members were present, and, in addition, the following names were added to the list: Mrs. J. Buckheimer, Mrs. Will Knight, Mrs. J. F. Garrison and Mrs. O. H. Judkins.

Several visitors were present, among them County Attorney Graham, Mayor De Lay, W. A. Parker, editor of the Plainview News, and W. B. Knight.

Mayor De Lay stated that the work of surveying the cemetery would be done immediately. As soon as that is completed the ladies will execute plans for the beautifying and improving of the now neglected city of the dead. The money collected last spring for putting up a windmill and purchasing trees will be used for those purposes this fall.

A cemetery association was organized in connection with the league, consisting of a president, secretary and five directors. The following ladies were elected to those offices: Mrs. J. H. Donohoo, president; Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, secretary. Directors are Mrs. Will Knight, first ward; Mrs. L. Lee Dye, second ward; Mrs. W. A. Todd, third ward; Mrs. E. B. Hughes, fourth ward, and Mrs. J. F. Garrison, fourth ward.

W. A. Parker made a short talk on civic league work. He spoke of back alleys in general and some in particular that at present are in a very unsanitary condition. His remarks brought to mind the thought that it is a wonder that people who pretend to be decent, and who live in this age of improvement, should have so little respect for themselves and their neighbors as to throw out old clothing, papers and other combustible articles to be blown to the four quarters of the town, instead of putting them in the stove where they would soon be out of everybody's way.

There is a great work to be done in Plainview in the line of cleaning and beautifying the town, and the Civic League and town authorities cannot do it alone. They need the help of every man, woman and child in Plainview, and if they do not know how, they must be educated up to the point, and The Herald intends to help educate them by boosting the Civic League work in both town and cemetery, and by so doing it will help boost the town, for whatever improves a town attracts the stranger and the homeseeker.

The next meeting of the Civic League will be on Thursday, the 14th inst. All the members are requested to be present.

THE HALE COUNTY FAIR

A Remarkably Fine Exhibit Was Made, Considering the Short Time for Preparation--A Large and Interested Crowd Attended.

Who says it's been dry in Hale county? No one would think so to look at the marvelous display of grain, vegetables and other farm products that were on exhibition at the county fair last Monday. The weather was good, the attendance large and the articles entered were numerous and fine, demonstrating what the Plains country can do with a moderate amount of precipitation.

Every variety of vegetable could be found in the exhibition, from crisp white celery to pumpkins large enough for Cinderella's coach.

The following list of awards will show who were the fortunate prize-winners in this, the first county fair ever held in Hale county:

P. B. Snyder—Best one-half bushel wheat—$2.50 cash, by L. A. Knight.

H. H. Sammann—Best one-half bushel oats—galvanized iron barrel, value $2.25, by A. H. Estes.

R. L. Hooper—Best watermelon—$1.00 cash, by Plainview Drug Co.

J. E. Burkett—Best pumpkin—$5.00 pair shoes, by Carter Mercantile Co.

J. B. Hancock—Best variety pumpkins—$2.00 cash, by Perry & Dowden.

B. B. Morton—Best display of onions—$1.00 in stamps, by G. C. Keck.

C. S. Ebeling—Best garden display by one person—$5.00 cash, by A. E. Harp.

J. O. Brown—Best peanuts—$1.00 bucket coffee, by L. D. Rucker.

B. B. Morton—Best okra—$2.00 riding bridle, by H. H. Stewart.

C. S. Ebeling—Best radishes—$3.00 pair glasses, by Wilbert Peterson.

T. L. Likely—Best quart dried beans—$2.00 cash, by Plainview Hardware Co.

J. B. Oswald—Best half bushel sweet potatoes—$1.00 cash, by T. J. Tilson.

J. O. Brown—Best quart dried peas—$2.50 in merchandise, by C. A. Bowron.

R. A. Barrow—Best squashes—half dozen photos, by C. S. Heffner.

C. S. Ebeling—Best half bushel Irish potatoes—$3.00 rocker, by E. R. Williams.

T. L. Likely—Best kershaw—Two years' subscription to The Hale County Herald.

Though all the exhibitors were not prize winners, much interest was manifested by the townspeople as well as by the farmers all over the county, and many articles were in the display that were not on the prize list, such as cotton, peppers and different varieties of rare vegetables, like cauliflower, Swiss chard, and other members of the cabbage family. Some of the finest exhibits were raised right in Plainview, or the immediate vicinity.

In spite of the fruit failure, E. Dowden showed a limb from an apple tree in his orchard with several fine apples on it, just to show what the Plains could do, even if Jack Frost held high carnival last spring.

Rev. J. H. Abney had on display some very fine tomatoes, carrots and salsify, grown at his home on Restriction street. Ernest Spencer showed good celery. The blue ribbon potatoes, grown by J. B. Oswald, were raised at his home on South Pacific street. Sugar beets were to be seen, and Irish potatoes as fine as ever grew in any state or country.

Three of the best exhibits were the table covered with fine Indian corn, displayed by the White Bros., the twenty-four large heads of maize grown from four seeds by J. O. Brown, and a fine exhibit of canned goods, real canned goods, just as if they had come from a canning establishment, put up by C. S. Ebeling on his beautiful farm five miles west of Plainview. The cans contained melon peaches, beans, ground cherries, tomatoes, and okra and tomatoes.

A fine bunch of flax was also shown, grown by P. B. Snyder in the Minnionite Colony, 12 miles south of the city.

Peanuts, melons and pumpkins were displayed in profusion. In fact, the whole exhibit was one of which Hale county can be justly proud, and will attract deserved attention at the Dallas fair, as it did last year.

Let the Hale county fair become an annual institution, and have culinary and flower departments next fall, in which the ladies can exhibit their handiwork in that line, and demonstrate the fact that such articles are as natural to Hale county as potatoes and pumpkins.

Long live the Fair!

MARVIA FAULKNER DEAD.

Paul Faulkner and wife, of this city, were called to Plainview Tuesday to attend the sad funeral of Paul's cousin, Miss Marvia Faulkner, whose death occurred last Tuesday at Kidd-Key College, in Sherman, Texas. The Faulkner family lived in Swisher county a number of years, and have many friends here who are greatly grieved to learn of the sad death of the only child of Marve Faulkner and wife, whose home is now in Plainview. Marvia was about fifteen years of age and just blossoming into womanhood, but now the stem that binds such precious flowers to earth is broken, and the perfume thereof has floated to heaven.

We extend to the heart-broken parents and sorrowing relatives and friends our deepest sympathy.—Tulia Standard.

MOVING TO ALPINE.

J. W. Anderson, of Running Water, one of the pioneer citizens of Hale county, was seen on the streets of Plainview on Thursday. He stated the fact that he had disposed of all of his property on the Plains, and that he and his family would leave next week for Alpine, Texas. He goes in search of a warmer climate, but not of a better country.

Proves By The Pikes Peak Test

No where else in all the world is there such a test of the time keeping quality of a watch as on the famous Pikes Peak Cog Railway in Colorado, where the steep grades of the mountain necessitate the use of cog wheels to control the train, and vibration often so injures ordinary watches that an expert repairman must readjust them.

A conductor on the Pike's Peak road made a ninety-day test of the South Bend Watch last Summer.

No adjustment of the watch was made for the whole period, but at the end of the test, examination showed a variation of less than one-half second per day. Do you think the watch you carry could stand a test like this?

We will be pleased to show you our line of these guaranteed accurate watches and explain to you how a South Bend Watch adjusts itself to every temperature automatically.

WILL ENTER BUSINESS HERE.

W. A. Shofner, of Killeen, Texas, has bought the Plainview Mercantile Co. stock and will be open for business in a few days.

Mr. Shofner is an old merchant, being in business since 1890.

He comes highly recommended as a successful merchant, and no doubt there will be something doing in his line.

The style of the firm will not be changed, only the management, and he hopes to keep up the high standard to which the old management has attained.

We bespeak for the new management great success, and commend them to the people for straight forward, business methods.

Of course, the stock has been bought at a sacrifice, and we are listening to hear something drop in the way of prices. "Take a Tip" and look for something good.

The Plainview Mercantile Co. was established fifteen years ago by R. C. Ware and J. H. Donohoo. It was one of the first establishments of its kind on the Plains, and has been a success from the start. It is one of the landmarks of the city, and we hope its future will be as successful as its past.

For many years people came from a vast extent of country to deal at the Mercantile. Since then, other stores, and even other towns, have sprung into existence, but the Mercantile still holds its own in the hearts of the old inhabitants.

CHANGES IN SCHOOL.

Benton Graham, who returned last spring from the Southwestern University, at Georgetown, has accepted a position as teacher of the ninth grade in the high school.

Miss Myrtis Parr has charge of the tenth grade, thus giving Supt. Nelson more time to devote to the senior class and the supervision of the three schools under his care.

ANOTHER BRICK BUILDING.

J. F. Garrison and J. J. Lash have purchased the lot from Ben Sebastian, on which the Rucker Grocery stands, and will soon begin the erection of a large two-story brick building. It is rumored that a large stock of up-to-date groceries will be put in it when completed.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Catholic services will be held next Sunday morning at 10 a. m. in the K. P. Hall by Rev. Father Bier.

The public cordially invited to be present. Catholics urged to come.

Mrs. L. C. Wayland and her sister, Miss Vera Newton, left on Tuesday for a visit to their mother at Seymour, Texas.

AUTO BUYERS, TAKE NOTICE!

TEXAS' NATIONAL FARMERS' FAIR AND HARVEST HOME IN 1911.

The farmer is the real pioneer of progress—his the most important of all industries.

This was acknowledged when the secretary of agriculture was made a cabinet official by the United States government at Washington.

It is time for the farmers of America to take the lead of the world's column in prosperity's new march, instead of second or third as heretofore.

And especially appropriate is it that Texas, with her multiplied millions of annually tripple-cropped acres, lead the head of that column.

Fortunately a most fitting opportunity is at hand—her diamond jubilee.

Twenty short months hence—1911—will be the seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Texas among the nations of the world, as a nation, a republic, the co-equal of the United States, of which she afterward became what she still is—the greatest, grandest state of them all.

What shape shall the proposed celebration take to be worthy commensurate with her dignity and glory?

Instant, natural is the reply:

A National Farmers' Fair and Harvest Home, to which Texas, as hostess, shall invite the people of her sister states as welcome participants and guests.

The marriage of her favorite daughter, Queen Cotton, of the Southland, to his majesty, King Corn, of the Northland, will be one of its happiest events.

The projector of this proposition—a skilled expert in great celebrations—says of it:

"Such a gigantic function can, neither physically, nor justly, be crammed into any one city of the commonwealth.

The logical center of each of the 20 or more vast farming sections of Texas, is the great, live, pushing city, or town, of that section.

"And of the proposed celebration, each must have its equitable share of the patriotic labor, distinction and practical profit.

"The entirely unique and novel feature of wedding Queen Cotton to King Corn—susceptible as it is of limitless possibilities of attractions, will insure prompt and universal interest, approval and popularity.

"Launched by the organized farmers' unions, and congress, the project must be promptly indorsed and discussed by all the commercial, press, bankers, international and social clubs and railway managers.

"To fit the Diamond Jubilee and the tourist travel of 1911 successfully together, like perfectly assembled cog wheels, will require the ablest study and judgment of a convention of the active, practical representatives of all the bodies referred to.

"The plow is in the furrow of such a harvest of glory and practical benefit as Texas has never yet known."—C. W. Alexander, in Farm and Ranch.

MARRIED.

On Wednesday, October 6th, 1909, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rushing, near Hale Center, Clarence C. Cowden and Miss Cordie Rushing.

The ceremony took place at eleven o'clock a. m., in the presence of the near relatives and close friends of the bride. Rev. R. L. Gillon, pastor of the Baptist church at this place, officiated. An elegant two-course luncheon was served at noon, after which Mr. and Mrs. Cowden took an auto for Plainview and boarded the 1:30 train for their future home, followed by a shower of rice and the good wishes of their friends.

The bride is the daughter of the senior member of the Rushing Land company, one of the largest real estate firms in Plainview.

The guests from this city who attended the marriage were: Rev. E. I. Gates, Rev. R. L. Gillon, Miss Cynthia Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rushing and Ben Gardner.

Many handsome presents testified the high esteem in which the contracting parties are held by their numerous friends.

THE STATE OF TEXAS:
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Hale County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Hale if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 64th judicial district; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 64th judicial district, for eight weeks previous to the return day hereof, Wilbur F. Crawford, Heirs of Wilbur F. Crawford, Mrs. M. F. Leland and the heirs of Mrs. M. F. Leland, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Hale at the Court House thereof, in Plainview, Texas, on the 6th day of December, A. D. 1909, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 11th day of August A. D. 1909, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 468, wherein George B. Wheeler is plaintiff and The Leader Publishing Co., The heirs of Wilbur F. Crawford, Mrs. M. F. Leland, Mrs. James W. Bass and her husband James W. Bass are defendants.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit:
Now comes George B. Wheeler, a resident of Eau Claire County, Wisconsin, hereinafter styled Plaintiff and complaining of The Leader Publishing Company, the heirs of Wilbur F. Crawford, whose names and places of residence are to plaintiff unknown the heirs of Mrs. M. F. Leland, whose names and residences are to Plaintiff unknown, Mrs. James W. Bass, and her husband James W. Bass, who reside in McLennan County, Texas, Wilbur F. Crawford, who resides in McLennan County, Texas, and Mrs. M. F. Leland, a widow, whose residence is to plaintiff unknown, hereinafter styled defendants, and represents:

1st, That on the 23rd day of February, 1882, The Leader Publishing Company was a co-partnership, composed of Mrs. M. F. Leland, then a widow, Wilbur F. Crawford and Plaintiff, George B. Wheeler, engaged in the Publishing and printing business, and that said named persons were all the members of said co-partnership at all times until it was dissolved, and that on said day Robert A. Cowen, joined by his wife, by their deed of that date, conveyed to the said Leader Publishing Company, a co-partnership as aforesaid, Survey No. 95 Block D-2, Certificate No. 620 T. T. Ry. Co., and Survey No. 111 Block D-2, Certificate No. 622, T. T. Ry. Co., both located in Hale County, Texas.

That thereafter on the 21st day of August, 1886, and on the 13th day of September, 1887, said Mrs. M. F. Leland, by instruments in writing duly signed and delivered by her to plaintiff and said Wilbur F. Crawford, conveyed to plaintiff and said Wilbur F. Crawford, all her right, title and interest in said lands; and that on the 20th day of January, 1896 said Wilbur F. Crawford conveyed his interest in said lands to this plaintiff.

2nd. That said Wilbur F. Crawford is dead and that the defendants, Mrs. James W. Bass, his widow, and Wilbur F. Crawford, his son, are the only heirs of said Wilbur F. Crawford, deceased.

3rd. That said Mrs. M. F. Leland, Wilbur F. Crawford and plaintiff were all and the only members and partners in said Leader Publishing Company, and that they and they alone constitute the Leader Publishing Company, and that by the instruments in writing and conveyances above mentioned plaintiff became the owner of all the title to said two tracts of land; and that other than above stated the defendants nor either of them, nor any other persons has or ever had any right, title, claim or interest in or to said lands or any part thereof, but the fact that the conveyances and instruments in writing so made by Mrs. M. F. Leland are not of record, and the fact that the conveyance of said land was made to the Leader Publishing Company creates a cloud upon plaintiff's title.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendants be cited to answer herein, and that upon a trial plaintiff have judgment for the title, restitution and possession of said lands, that his title be quieted, and that the cloud on his title be removed, and for all relief to which he may be entitled.

A WELL-LIMED SOIL ESSENTIAL FOR ALFALFA.

No other forage crop requires so much lime in the soil as does alfalfa. It is apparently necessary that the soil acidity be neutralized by the lime, and that there also be an excess for the actual use of the plant. In one test an analysis was made of the mineral constituents of certain crops. The percentage of lime in the alfalfa ash was 34.9, while red clover had but 20.6 per cent, and timothy had only 4.7 per cent. Throughout the East and South alfalfa is most easily produced on the limestone soils. Even these soils often require liming for the best success of the alfalfa, as the rains tend to leach the lime out of the surface layers of the soil.

The Herald for Job Printing.

ALFALFA FOR SWINE.

J. E. Woodford, of Coffey county, Kansas, April 1, 1905, placed ten choice pure-bred Poland-China brood sows from 12 to 18 months old, that were due to farrow in the latter days of June, on a five-acre field of alfalfa. They were given no other feed than the alfalfa pasturage until they had farrowed and their pigs were a week old. After that the sows had in addition to the alfalfa some bran slop until about August 20, when new corn was fit for feeding. He wrote: "The sows from the time they were turned on the alfalfa until the last week in June made a remarkable growth, besides gaining somewhat in flesh. They did well with their pigs, reared an average of seven to each sow, and as sucklers they were a sight to see. The pigs were the most attractive bunch ever raised in Coffey county, as admitted by our breeding competitors. We weighed a gilt from this lot when six months and five days old, and her weight of 225 pounds was not above the average of the whole lot. In our life-long experience in rearing swine we have found nothing as a grazing crop for swine that in value approaches alfalfa."—From Coburn's "Swine in America."

DREAMS OF THE BLIND.

In my dreams I have sensations, odors, tastes and ideas, which I do not remember to have had in reality. Perhaps they are glimpses which my mind catches through the veil of sleep of my earliest babyhood. I have heard the "trampling of many waters." Sometimes a wonderful light visits me in sleep. Such a flash and glory as it is. I gaze and gaze until it vanishes. I smell and taste much in my waking hours, but the sense of touch plays a less important part. In sleep I almost never grope. No one guides me. Even in a crowded street I am self-sufficient, and I enjoy an independence quite foreign to my physical life. Now I seldom spell on my fingers, and it is still rarer for others to spell into my hand. My mind acts independent of my physical organs. I am delighted to be thus endowed, if only in sleep, for then my soul dons its winged sandals and joyfully joins the throng of happy beings who dwell beyond the reaches of bodily sense.—Helen Keller, in Century.

THE COW KNOWS THE CLOTHES.

Columbus, Ind.—Wm. Baker, a farmer who lives in Clay township, Bartholomew county, has superceded his wife in the affections of the family cow, but the cow does not know it. Baker is playing a joke on the cow.

Mrs. Baker always milks the cow, but this week she decided to go to Newman, Ill., on a visit. When the cow returned from the pasture Baker took the milking pail and the little stool and started to milk.

The gentle bovine turned her head and stared in mild surprise to see a man at her side. Then she became genuinely aroused and started trouble. She kicked the bucket and the bucket holder, and tore up things generally. Baker was in a quandary. The cow had to be milked and his wife was on her way to Illinois. Then he had an idea and he put it to work.

He went to the house, donned a dress belonging to his wife and pulled a sunbonnet over his face. Returning to the barnyard he approached the cow, and she seemed glad to see him. He milked without any trouble, and now he has to wear his wife's clothes whenever milking time comes.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Coleman entertained last Friday afternoon from three to six for their little daughter, Charlotte, the occasion being the fifth birthday of that little maiden.

In addition to ice cold lemonade, a trio of sweets, consisting of fruit, cake and candy, was served the following fifteen little guests who did honor to the event:

Golda and Sylvia McGeehee, Nell and A. E. Harp, Jr., London and Madge Miller, Maurine Wright, Roy Oswald, Mildred Richards, Lela B. and Dyer Slaton, Warren Jeffus, Mary, Ada Clare and George Bain, all of whom brought presents for the sweet little hostess.

Mrs. Coleman was assisted in entertaining and serving by Mesdames R. W. Otto, W. W. Jones and Walter Jeffus.

FUNERAL OF MARVIA FAULKNER.

Last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m., in the presence of a vast concourse of sympathizing friends and relatives, the funeral of Marvia Faulkner was held at the home of her parents, on Alexander street.

The snowy casket, typical of her youth and innocence, and covered with rare and beautiful flowers, was placed at one end of the long porch, while at the other was her own piano, whose keys had so often been pressed by her girlish fingers. Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. M. D. Henderson sang, Mrs. Tom Carter playing the accompaniment. Rev. S. T. Barcus, her pastor, conducted the services. After prayer by Rev. R. L. Gillon, and the singing of "Give Me Thine Heart," which was the favorite hymn of the dead girl, the remains were taken to the Plainview cemetery, followed by one of the largest funeral processions ever seen in Plainview. There, surrounded by a host of sorrowing friends, she was laid to rest.

The floral offering were beautiful and costly, many of them being sent from Fort Worth, Dallas and Amarillo, in addition to those given by friends in Plainview.

MARRIED.

On Sunday evening at 7:30, Mr. S. S. Sloneker and Miss Ola Smith. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Gladney at Central Plains College, where Miss Smith has been a popular and successful teacher for the past two years.

Mr. Sloneker has been a prominent citizen of Plainview for a number of years and has a host of friends in the city and at College Heights who wish him and his bride a lifetime of happiness and prosperity.

RAILROAD WRECK.

A loaded box car, standing on the switch, was completely demolished Tuesday morning in an accident resulting from the carelessness of the switchman.

After the upheaval it looked as if a small earthquake had occurred. The trucks were damaged, a good-sized hole dug in the ground and the contents of the car scattered to the winds. Some adjacent cars were damaged but fortunately no one was injured.

FOOLED.

No, I haven't time to—
Haven't time to play!
Haven't time to tumble
On the floor today;
Don't you think I ever
Want to read at all?
Go out in the swing now—
Where's your rubber ball?

Climb up if you want to,
It's just as you say,
I've no time for stories,
I've no time for play!
Sit there if you care to!
Snuggle down! That's right!
But you shall not coax me,
No, sir! Not tonight!

That's right, keep on talking!
Make me lose my place!
Isn't there a chicken
You can go and chase?
Half a dozen times now
I have read this line!
Wish you had a brother!
Wouldn't that be fine?

Wish you had a brother,
'Nother one like you?
Just a wee, tow-headed
Chap with eyes 'o blue!
This knee would be his'n—
Wouldn't that be fun?
How we'd romp and tussle,
Race and chase and run!

How I'd tell you stories!
How I'd hold you tight!
How I'd snuggle you up
This way every night—
What was that that tumbled?
Did you hear it fall?
My book? Well, you are having
Your way after all!

—J. M. LEWIS.

THE FINAL TEST.

All the state is looking to the Plains country to see if it has made good this year. It is a kind of final test of supremacy, as it were. Texas, as a rule, has been hard hit this season, and they are wanting to locate a place where there is a reasonable certainty of crops. The Plains have responded again and it will continue to do so as long as time lasts. There is nothing lacking here, but farmers, and they are coming. Within the next five years we will have one of the most desirable sections to be found on the continent. The Plains will be greater than the dreams of the most sanguine. It will be an empire within itself. The final test has been made, and those who know are satisfied with the results. There is nothing more to do but to get busy. The soil is fertile and there is an abundance of it. The territory is wide and the fields will soon be white to harvest. The song of the reaper mingled with the song of contentment will mean one never ending anthem, and its notes will penetrate the farthest corners of the great state. Sing the songs of the Plains. It is a living, breathing, moving reality. There is life in the land and all will respond to the call of the hour. Plant small grain. Plant battleship hogs. Plant everything that you can imagine. It will all grow and do well, and it means your ultimate success.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The coming of this company is always heralded with delight by that portion of amusement-going people who enjoy a first-class minstrel show. For thirty years this sterling band of dusky fun makers has been appearing in all the principal cities and towns from coast to coast, and elephantine adjectives would be a waste of time and space. Sufficient to pack the house is the announcement of their date at the opera house, which is date at the new Schick Opera House, October 21st.

A LIE PERSONIFIED.

Liar's are made, not born; for they are the offspring of habit. A fellow commences telling fibs, then exaggerates, then prevaricates—after which he develops into a full fledged liar of the first water. As the habit grows he can transform a most trivial incident into a tragic story with as much grace as a historian telling about the pomp and circumstances of war. All of this is exemplified in the case of Joseph Baylie, who was reared in this town and was always regarded as a truthful person until he began to mix; then it became evident that he was a little unusual in his conversations; would prevaricate; until now he holds the championship for being the most abominable liar in this whole section. The following yarn was told by him with such impressive seriousness that his hearers were deeply interested. He said:

"I arose yesterday morning, very early, for a stroll through the scene early, for a stroll through the inviting scenery surrounding Valley Mills, and to commune with nature, and had perhaps covered about a mile when, emanating from a clump of woods across a deep ravine, I heard the sound of piercing screams, as of a female in distress. I instantly ran towards the place from which the sound came, at the same time reaching for my revolver, which, to my horror, I discovered I had left at home, and proceeded up the ravine, trying to reach a place where I could ascend the precipitous walls. Again hearing the scream I looked up, and became paralyzed with fear, for I saw an immense panther making ready to spring on me. Glancing around for some way of escape I saw rolling towards me with great speed a huge hoop snake, whose periphery was apparently eight feet in diameter. Again looking up I saw the panther make his spring for me, and I jumped backward just in time to escape both enemies. Coincident with the panther reaching the place I had recently occupied the snake arrived and loosened up, piercing the panther through the body and killing him, him instantly. The snake could not extricate himself, and, therefore, it was an easy matter for me to dispatch him with a rock. Now if you don't believe me I will —"

Just then the Valley Mills Concert Band began playing "The Dream of Ananias," and his audience dispersed and the band played on.—Valley Mills Tribune.

Dear Sirs: North Dakota has a pure paint law and is branding the paint-manufacturers. Here's how one of 'em got the hot irons.

Almost half of his "oil" is benzine and water; more than half of his "pigment" is whitening barytes and such.

Benzine and water dry-out in a few minutes and hours; they don't do any harm. Those "pigments" don't dry-out; and perhaps they don't do much harm.

Is that what paint is for: not to do much harm? Do you pay $5 a gallon for paint and putting it on, not to do much harm?

The lead zinc and oil in that "paint" is a little less than half and the trash is a little more than half.

How many gallons, half trash and half paint, will it take to paint a 10-gallon job two coats? how many coats, half trash and half paint, will it take to cover? and what'll become of those pigments not paint?

And reckon the cost; you can roughly. Half trash, 20 gallons, $5 a gallon, $100; 10 gallons Devoe, $50. A gallon of trash or paint put-on is $5.

There's one Devoe; there are 8 pure paints; and over 200 adulterated and 100 short-measure. Yours truly

FAMOUS MINSTRELS COMING.

Honest endeavor will always be crowned with success. No doubt this is the reason why Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels have been so long before the public. To make this season better than last, to give the public a better show this year than last, has always been the watchword of the management. Worn-out ideas, shabby wardrobes and questionable acts have never found a place in their program. These methods may succeed for a time, but the American people are too intelligent to tolerate it for long. Not a questionable word, act or song can find place in the performance given by this company. Heads of families often hesitate to take their mothers, sisters, wives or children to a minstrel show for this reason, but they need have no fear to take them to a performance given by this company. The program is absolutely clean and refined. This company, which numbers nearly forty people, will be seen at the new Schick Opera House on October 21st. Bring the children out to see the big free street parade at noon. 40.

The Way to Reach the Trusts.

Now, listen. Let us suppose that the trusts do own all the iron ore in the country. You could not hurt the trusts by either putting a tax on it or by taking it off of it, in that case, because the trusts, having the iron ore, would not care what it is worth for the reason that it does not sell the iron ore and the whole concern of the trusts would be the price of the article that it makes out of the iron ore. That is what would concern of the trusts would be the price punish the trusts ake the tax off of what it sells—that is the way to do it.

I have no doubt that these other men are perfectly sincere in wanting to punish the trusts, but it is not enough for men to want to do what is right. He must know how to do what is right. (Cheers.)

And the man who believes that you can punish the trusts by taking the tariff off of what it does not intend to sell may be a very good man, but he is not a very wise man. Let me put it to you this way: I see one of the great cattlemen of the state on the stand. Suppose he had 1,000 steers in his pen and he bought the cotton seed meal with which to fatten them and he bought the oats and hay to help it. After he had bought the oats and hay and cotton seed meal it would not make any difference to him what hay was worth by the ton, or what oats were worth by the ton. He had already bought them and paid for them. The only thing in which he would feel an interest would be the price of the cattle after he had bought those articles for them and that would determine his profit or his loss. And it is exactly the way with the steel trust.

The steel trust does not sell iron ore and therefore it has no interest in the price of iron ore. The steel trust sells the products of iron ore and its whole interest is in their price. And yet these good men, these kindly men, whose hearts are as soft as some men's heads, want to punish the trusts by taking the tax off of what they do not sell and leave it on what they do sell to the people.

Now, you could not punish a trust that way in 1,000 years, and the trust would be richer at the end than in the beginning. Is that not plain to you?

Everybody understands that. Suppose you bought a barrel of apples and took them home, bought them and paid for them. Would it make any difference to you whether the price of apples doubled or divided in half? That barrel of apples would make precisely as many pies and feed as many children whether it was worth one price or another. But if you are making those apples into pies it would be a matter of deep concern what you got for the pies, if you made them out of the apples. (Cheers.)

My, countrymen, the statesman who believes that he can punish a trust by taking the taxes off its raw materials is a fit subject for witches. (Laughter.)

Manufacturers Want Tax Off.

Don't you know every manufacturer in the United States wants the tax taken off of his raw materials, and doesn't every consumer in the United States want the tax taken off of the finished product? He does if he is wise. I say all of them want to do it, but a good many of them vote against doing it—our Republican friends. Of course, the Republicans have been with us a long time, and they will probably be with us until the end of time. I have no prejudice against them, but I have a dividing sympathy for them. The Republicans can be just as honest as the Democrats, but never as wise as the Democrats.

A man who believes that he renders a patriotic service to the state of Texas by voting for the policies that enable Massachusetts to rob us every year may be honest, but he cannot be very wise.

The Republicans are divided into two classes. There are wise ones and there are honest ones; but the trouble is the wise ones are not honest and the honest ones are not wise. (Laughter.) Now, my countrymen, whenever the manufacturer of the steel in this country gets ready to take a tariff off of what the people buy from him, I am ready to take the tariff off of what they buy from the people—but not until then. What do you say to that? (Voices—That's right.) Here is a great audience, great in intelligence, if I may judge of its appearance as well as its numbers; and I want to ask if there is a man in this audience who believes that it is right to levy a tax on the mechanic's saw and still take the tax off what the manufacturer used to make that saw of? Is there one? Not one! And yet they abuse me because I would not vote that way. How would you have voted if you had been there? (A voice—Like you did.)

They next complain of me because I refused to take the tax off of hides and leave the tax on boots and shoes. I voted to take the tax off hides, but I coupled with it a provision that the tax should also be taken off of boots, shoes and harness. They voted down the motion to take it off hides and boots, shoes and harness, and asked me to vote to give them free hides in order that they might convert that into a tax on boots, shoes and harness, and I refused to do it. (Cheers.)

Do you believe that it is just and fair for the manufacturer to buy a hide from a Texas farmer or cattleman without a tax and then make that hide up into harness and shoes and send them back here and sell them to that man with a tax on them? Do you believe that is right? No man believes it. Some men say it is, but they say it because they have not studied the question. I affirm that I do not believe that there is a sound-minded man in the state of Texas who believes in free hides and taxed shoes. Do you? (Voices—No, they come too high.)

Let me tell you that the government collected in 1907 over $3,000,000 in taxes and returned about $900,000 to the importers.

Ah me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,
Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;
Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of lard!"
I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first
One glistening mass of roses pure and white,
With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage
nursed;
And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.
 No Need to Take Any Further Risks.
 Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a sure cure is offered them?
 Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.
 If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease set in. Can Plainview residents demand more convincing proof than the following:
 Mrs. D. P. Smith, 1507 Traves Ave., Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "I suffered severely from lumbago, and often my back was so lame and sore that I could hardly move. I had been troubled off and on in this way ever since coming to Texas. I only used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and while it did not cure me entirely, I am glad to acknowledge the great relief I received. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills, and I believe that ultimately they will bring about a complete cure."
 For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
 Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PAY OR DON'T MAKE 'EM.
 A bill collector came into this office a few days since and, after getting what the bill called for, remarked: "Well, I've got to go and see so and so. I sure hate to present a bill to him. You know why? Well, I'll tell you. He's all right, but he always says something to make a fellow feel bad. He will take the bill, look over it carefully, and then whistle a long, low whistle, like he was trying to signal a ghost. About that time he says: 'You fellows get all the money I make. It keeps me busy paying you. I've a notion to make my wife pay cash after this. Say, bring that bill around next month—I'm so busy that I can't take time to fool with it now.' Then I'll go around the next month and get stood off till the 10th, and then go back again. After he whistles that long, low whistle, and scrooches up his face like he'd been eating green persimmons, he will pay it. We collectors have enough to make the saints mad, I tell you." Now, there is a lesson in that man's talk. Men, especially men in business, should pay a bill cheerfully and willingly—just like it was their greatest pleasure to do so. Either stand it off pleasantly for a few days, or pay it promptly with a smile. Nothing makes a man more unpopular than to pay a bill begrudgingly, and like he was parting with his wife on her death bed.—Memphis Herald.

 Of all the crops upon the Plains,
 The hog crop is the best.
 It matters not if wet or dry,
 It out balances all the rest.
 Plant hogs, and hogs will grow,
 In spite of wind or sun;
 You may not think the fact is true,
 But it can surely be done.
 The windmills will the water give,
 The feed stuffs grow galore;
 Alfalfa fills the bottom lands,
 You could not ask for more.
 Fat porkers grow in pastures green—
 Big, little, old and young—
 Your mouth begins to water fast
 At the eatin' yet to come.
 Think of money hogs bring in,
 For bacon is soaring high;
 Now, while it's up, raise hogs, more hogs,
 And catch it on the fly.
 Two hundred Kansas City girls
 Did ne'er a porker see;
 Out here they're just as plentiful
 As leaves on a locust tree.
 If the farmer wishes to get the "mon,"
 Let him cultivate hogs by the acre;
 He is sure to win at the harvest time
 When he slays the good fat porker.
 So plant more hogs and hogs will grow,
 And your bank account grow in proportion.
 For hogs are the finest of all fine crops.
 If you'll set the ball in motion.

BOND ELECTION.
 Tomorrow an election will be held in this city for the purpose of voting on the issuing of $20,000 of bonds for a system of waterworks and the extension of the sewerage system.
 Plainview expects every man inside the corporate limits to vote on the side of improvement and cleanliness. We have a town that is far ahead of some of the larger cities in the state. Why not continue to progress in all sanitary and other progressive lines, which we can only do by putting in an extensive sewerage system, and thus avoid the possibility of disease and contagion, which always arise from improper sanitary conditions.
 There is no doubt but that the election will carry. Plainview has never retrograded. She keeps up the steady march of improvement. Neither is she a mushroom town, up one year and down the next, because her citizens know a good thing when they see it, and they know that Plainview has a great future, and in order to hasten that future all the modern necessities and conveniences are being put in for the comfort and health of the home builders and property holders of the city.
 Vote for the sewerage extension tomorrow.

DOESN'T NEED MUCH BOOSTING.
 Plainview does not need much boosting. She boosts herself.
 The delightful climate, the number of handsome public buildings now being built, the three large public schools, with their crowds of happy-faced children, and all other things in proportion, tend to give our citizens an acute attack of enlargement of the upper story whenever they "think on" their benefits.
 Still, if the Commercial Club were to wake up, they might catch some of the good things floating around ready to alight on some of the Plains towns and make their home within.
 Come alive, Commercial Club, come alive!

DIED.
 Annie, aged four, one of the little twin girls of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Horn, died at the home of her parents in East Plainview last Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. She had been sick for some time, but the family were unprepared for the sudden end.
 The remains were taken to their old home at McGregor, on Thursday, by the sorrowing parents, who have the sympathy of their friends in their great bereavement.
 This unfortunate occurrence was caused by the administration of the chloroform. The little patient died when she was about two thirds under the influence of the deadly drug.

CARD OF THANKS.
 To our friends and loved ones who so kindly administered unto us in the greatest sorrow that ever fell upon our hearts and home, we assure you, one and all, that we deeply appreciate the kindness shown, and will ever remember you with appreciation and love. May God bless you all is our prayer.

NEW LIGHT.
 Plainview has long been the bright and shining light of the Plains, and now, in demonstration of the fact, the Malone Electric Company has placed an arc light on top of the stand pipe that can be seen as far as Tutia, Silvertown, Floydada, and other neighboring towns. This brilliant and far-reaching light is but a forerunner of the splendid system which this company expects to install in the near future, and will be another drawing card for Plainview's successful future.
