EXHIBITS ARE GOOD AT COUNTY FAIR

MR. UNGER SAYS LOCAL PRODUCTS SHOWN ARE BETTER THAN LAST YEAR.

LADIES' AWARDS ANNOUNCED

Cutting Grain and Lack of Transportation Keeps Down Crowds.

A fair-sized crowd is in attendance at the Hale County Fair. The farmers are busy with sowing wheat and cutting grain. Many who would have undoubtedly gone out seemed to find means of conveyance difficult to obtain. It is hoped that another year these difficulties may be obviated.

Much interest was manifested by exhibitors, particularly considering that so little time elapsed between the announcement of the Fair and date set. O. M. Unger, president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, says that many of the exhibits of fruits and grains and vegetables are very noticeably of higher grade than last year. Out of last year's showing Plainview sent twenty-seven entries to the State Fair, which won nineteen first and six second premiums.

In the Ladies' Department, Mrs. Allen was awarded first prize for crocheting; for embroidery, Mrs. Northcutt; embroidery, Mrs. S. J. Underwood; centerpiece embroidery, Mrs. Northcutt; 31 glasses jelly (no two alike), Mrs. J. C. Woolverton; best layer cake and best angel food cake, Mrs. J. C. Woolverton; canned goods and Pickles, Mrs. P. W. Jackson; best fancy prepared fruits, Mrs. P. W. Jackson; best fancy prepared vegetables, Mrs. P. W. Jackson; largest display of canned goods, Mrs. P. W. Jackson.

Other awards had not been made when The Herald went to press.

Much credit is due Mrs. E. Dowden and Mrs. J. C. Woolverton, also E. Dowden and A. A. Hatchell, for the manner in which exhibits have been handled.

SOME PLAINVIEW PRODUCTS.

Hale County Citizens Are Showing Mammoth Specimens.

Three cabbage heads weighing 65 pounds were brought into Plainview this week. Mrs. G. W. Lewallen of Runningwater grew the cabbage. The largest head weighs 23 pounds, even, while the smallest of the three weighs twenty and one-half pounds.

Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson, pastor of the Methodist Church, is showing a plate of large peaches grown in his parsonage yard. Some of these measure ten inches in circumference. They are of the "Hill's Chilli" variety, and were sent to Mr. Ferguson by Stark Bros' Nursery to be tried out.

Brother Ferguson has made a tile by nailing four common plaster laths together. He then put them eight or ten inches under ground, about fifteen feet apart. Water is supplied by a windmill. He grows every variety of fruit and vegetable in the parsonage yard. Seven cuttings of alfalfa this year is his record.

J. Wade James is showing two pumpkins at Warren & Sanson's grocery, weighing thirty-five and forty-three pounds, respectively. Mr. James also has a number of sugar beets weighing more than nine pounds each.

R. N. Mitchell, wholives in the southeast part of Plainview, has a pumpkin on exhibition at the County Fair that weighs seventy-two pounds.

$200 FROM MELONS GROWN IN ORCHARD.

G. B. Simmons has sold $200 worth of watermelons from his orchard. Mr. Simmons has nine acre in orchard. He planted half of it in peas, half in peanuts, then planted about three acres of cantaloupes and the balance in watermelons. He has one or two more wagon load of melons to sell, and then will harvest peas and peanuts off of the same ground. He has used a windmill to water his young orchard.

MORE BUSINESS IN 3 MONTHS THAN IN FIRST HALF YEAR

Joe L. Pearce of the McAdams Lumber Company says his yard has sold nearly as much building material during the past three months as during the first six months of this year.

NOBODY IS HURT WHEN AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE.

Frank Norfleet Receives Bruises When Car Ahead Suddenly Stops.

An automobile collision between cars belonging to Frank Norfleet and Dr. L. L. Gladney occurred Saturday. No one was seriously injured.

Frank Norfleet and his son, Pete, were coming in from their ranch at Norfleet to enter five head of horses in the races at the Hale County Fair. About four miles out of Plainview they ran up close to a car driven by Dr. L. L. Gladney, in which E. H. Perry was riding. Dr. Gladney stopped his car to look at the wreck of Perry Rascoe's Overland, which burned alst week, and the following car ran into him.

Mr. Norfleet's car hooked a front wheel into the rear wheel of Dr. Gladney's car. The impact threw Mr. Norfleet about twenty feet, striking on his head and hands. Dr. Gladney's car was not seriously damaged. Mr. Norfleet's automobile doubled up the front axle and tore off one tire. Both cars came into Plainview on their own power. Pete Norfleet stayed over until Monday, while Knight Auto Company made repairs on the injured automobile.

BLACK ADVERTISES CENTRAL PLAINS.

Z. E. Black has again given the Central Plains wide publicity through an article published last week in Texas Farm and Ranch, entitled "The Magic of the Pump." The front cover page is made up of seven photographs of irrigated farms in Hale County. Mr. Black's articles on the Central Plains have received wide attention.

O'KEEFE BUYS 1/4 SECTION; WILL PUT DOWN BIG WELL.

R. W. O'Keefe purchased a quarter-section of land two miles west of Wayland College this week, through DeLay & Wilks. He is fencing the property and will put down a big well for irrigation purposes.

AT THE RACES

Much Interest Manifested and Good Time Made on Local Track.

A good showing of horses was made at the races in connection with the Hale County Fair. Following is the races, with winners, on Wednesday and Thursday:

NEW BUICKS ARE SHOWN.

Plainview Machine and Auto Shop Is Receiving 3 Carloads of 1913 Models.

The Plainview Auto and Machine Shop received a car load of 1913 Buick cars last week, and announce that two more cars are en route. One of the new cars has been sold to John Fairris of Floydada. Mr. Roos is also placing a large sign on the front of his garage and the "world-known" sign "Buick," in gold letters, on the windows. It is said that there is not a more completely equipped garage in Texas than that maintained by Mr. Roos.

TO VISIT MOTHER AFTER TWENTY-THREE YEARS.

Mrs. J. E. Penick went to Calen, Indiana, Tuesday, to visit her mother, Mrs. Margaret Paget. Mrs. Penick has not seen her mother for 23 years.

TEXAS STATE FAIR ISSUES PROGRAM

EACH DAY WILL FEATURE SOME BIG ATTRACTION; LABOR CHAMPION TO SPEAK.

ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR

Fruit and Truck Growers of Four States to Organize Joint Selling and Distributing Exchange.

The management of the State Fair of Texas has given out for publication the program for the twenty-seventh annual Fair, exposition and race meeting, which begins Saturday, October 12, and closes Sunday, October 27. Each day of the coming Fair will be featured by big events in every department. The greatest horses in America are entered in the racing events, including Cheney, winner of the American Derby; Henry H. Princess Patch, George W. Newton and scores of others.

The Pat Conway band, a large group of trained musicians, has been engaged for the Coliseum program. Mr. Conway takes pride in the fact that in no other band in America can be found such a number of eminent soloists, who are at least without superiors on their respective instruments. These include such great artists as Ulic Glogras, flute and piccolo; Eugene de Vaux, oboe and English horn; H. Benne Henton, saxophone; John Dolan, cornet; Louis Sperandei, French horn; Charles Randell, trombone, and August Helleberg, contra bass. At every concert one or more of these talented musicians will be heard, as well as vocalists of the highest rank. Miss Josephine Dunfee will assist as soprano soloist. Vaudeville acts of high merit will feature the Coliseum program, and arrangements have been made for a change of bill each week. There will be more than 100 good shows in amusement park, and the management guarantees clean and wholesome amusement.

In the live stock pavilion the judging of exhibit horses, cattle and jack stock will take place daily, and the judging of swine in the swine pavilion. The Fair will be formally opened on Saturday, October 12, by Governor Colquitt of Texas. The first day will be Children's Day and Old Fiddlers' Day. The old fiddlers of the State will assemble in Convention Hall for a program of old-time music popular a generation ago. The racing program will be featured by three high-class runs, the 2:30 trot, the 2:07 pace and the 2-year-old Futurity trot.

Union Labor Day.
Sunday, October 13, is Union Labor Day. John Mitchell, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, will deliver an address to union men and visitors. Every department of the Fair will be ready for visitors.

Press and Ad Men's Day.
Monday, October 14, is Press Day and Texas Ad Men's Day. Elbert Hubbard, famous lecturer, is to deliver an address on "The Romance of Business" to the visiting newspaper makers and advertising men. Feature programs have been arranged for in the Coliseum by the band, soloists and vaudeville artists. The racing program calls for three high-class runs. (Continued on Page Eight.)

HUBBARD BROS. AGENTS FOR IMPERIAL TIRE CO.

Hubbard Brothers have been appointed agents for the Imperial Tire Company of Texas in Hale County and vicinity. The Imperial Tire Company is an independent manufacturer located at Dallas. G. G. Lee, representing the Imperial Company, was in Plainview Tuesday discussing details with Hubbard Brothers.

MALONE GIN COMPANY INSTALLS NEW MACHINERY.

The Malone Gin Company has just completed a large cotton seed house of 100 tons capacity. The Malone gin is an electrical gin. Cotton carried to this gin can be ginned on a moment's notice; no waiting to get up steam.

The new cotton houses and an additional boll machine will soon be completed. This will enable the gin to handle bolly cotton more efficiently than heretofore.

DeLay & Wilks have sold two quarter-sections and three blocks of suburban property to local parties within the past week.

FRUIT AND TRUCK MEN TO ORGANIZE

ORCHARDISTS OF TEXAS, ARKANSAS, LOUISIANA AND OKLAHOMA PLAN SELLING EXCHANGE.

GROWERS LOSE MILLIONS

Proper System of Distribution and Sale Will Insure Growers Fair Profit.

On Saturday, October 19, 1912, a mass meeting of fruit and truck growers of the states of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma will be held at Dallas, Texas, during the Fair, for the purpose of organizing a Fruit and Truck Exchange to enable our growers to get a fair price for their products by a proper system of distribution and sale in the Northern and Eastern markets. During the past season, these four states shipped fruit and produce to the amount of 40,000 solid carloads, besides millions of packages by express. In many cases the growers did not get enough out of the shipments to pay the freight; in hundreds of cases, not enough to pay a fair profit on the work and expense of growing these products.

Growers lost millions of dollars and the consumers lost the opportunity to buy, because of the lack of facilities to properly distribute the great crop of the Southwest.

This meeting has been called by Col. F. P. Holland, president of Farm and Ranch, which is a guarantee that everything that can be done will be done to make the meeting a success. Every grower, whether he has one acre or a thousand acres in cultivation, is invited to be present, and it is hoped with a large attendance to organize an association such as the California and Florida growers have, which will give every grower a reasonable hope of a profit on the sale of his products before he spends his time and money in planting them.

On account of the Texas State Fair, low round trip rates will be in effect from all points in this territory. Let every grower and the official of every local association attend.

W. H. BOX MAKES MOTORCYCLE RUN OF 6 MILES IN 8 MINUTES.

Deputy Clerk Rides in Record Time When R. B. C. Howell Is Fired on.

A motorcycle record of six miles in eight minutes over country roads at night looks like a world beater. W. H. Box, Deputy County Clerk, says that it is as thrilling as it sounds, too.

R. B. C. Howell, who lives six miles east of Plainview, was going home Saturday night a week ago and was followed by some one on horseback. Last Saturday night Mr. Howell was followed again, and three shots fired at him, a 30-30 rifle ball passing through his coat.

Mr. Howell's father telephoned to Plainview, and Sheriff Martine started on the more direct road, while Mr. Box got out his motorcycle and took the more devious route, to the Howell home. It was just ten minutes from the time Mr. Howell in L. shrdlu cm the time Mr. Box received "phone call at DeLay's barber shop until he was at Mr. Howell's home, six miles from Plainview. He had to go to the Court House and get out his motorcycle.

No trace of Mr. Howell's assailant has been found.

Mr. Box says that he has frequently ridden a mile over roads around Plainview in 58 seconds on his four-cylinder Pierce Motorcycle.

RALLY DAY AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

We are to observe Sunday School Rally Day next Sunday morning, at the eleven o'clock hour, at the First Presbyterian Church. An excellent program has been arranged relative to the different phases of Sunday School work.

The children are to have an important place in the service. In fact, we are to have a whole mantle full of good things.

The second Sunday, October 13, will be Missionary Day. The third Sunday, October 20, is designated as Harvest Home Day, and the fourth Sunday, October 27, as Laymen's Day.

We extend a cordial invitation to everybody to attend these services.

S. PARK, Pastor.

A. J. Hartley of Merkel, Texas, is in Plainview this week, visiting.

HUTCHINSON COUNTY HAS BUMPER CROPS.

Wheat Yields Twenty Bushels an Acre and Threshing Is Not Nearly Finished.

Hutchinson County wheat fields are averaging twenty bushels to the acre, according to Tom M. Shafer, former owner of The Herald. Mr. Shafer says that twelve threshers have been working in the county since early in August, and owners estimate that it will take them until Christmas to finish threshing. Hutchinson County has made bumper crops of all kinds.

Last week Mr. Shafer, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. J. M. Shafer, Mrs. G. W. Brewster of Lockney and J. A. Dupuy, brother of Mrs. Shafer and Mrs. Brewster, drove his new five-passenger Hupmobile over the North Plains. The ladies visited a sister whom Mrs. Brewster had not seen for sixteen years.

One week earlier Mr. Shafer, B. A. Hubbard, Adra and Frank Hubbard, all of Hubbard Brothers Auto Company, made the trip through from Dallas in Mr. Shafer's car. The party left Dallas in two Hupmobiles. Mr. Hubbard's car was an old one, and at Seymour the crank shaft was broken. So the entire party came on to Plainview in Mr. Shafer's new car.

They drove into the heavy rains over the Plains country, and were water bound on the South Wichita River for one night.

KANSAS CITY SYNDICATE TO DEVELOP CENTRAL PLAINS.

I. W. Hall Says Missourians Will Put 40,000 Acres Under Irrigation.

Ira W. Hall, with headquarters at Plainview and Brownwood, went to Amarillo Thursday to figure with the engineer of a Kansas City syndicate which has requested bids on 12 pumping plants, each of 1,000 gallons per minute capacity, to be installed northwest of Plainview.

Mr. Hall says the syndicate expects to develop 40,000 acres.

TO OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON

Wayland and Seth Ward to Play on Local Gridiron Monday.

The mole-skin heroes at Wayland and Seth Ward Colleges are pointing themselves for their first game, next Monday. After that the coaches may endeavor to bring the teams to the pink of condition for some game far down the schedule. Just now each is intent of gaining the local standing of winning their opening game.

Wayland has but three old men out. The team is light, too. Captain Harder says that his men average only about 145 pounds, while the Seth Ward eleven will average around 165, according to Captain Elliott. Seth Ward also has six of last year's stars in the game again.

But Wayland is fast. New rules do away with the neutral zone and remove all limits to the forward pass. So nobody is venturing a risk on which team will come out victorious next Monday.

Last year both Seth Ward and Wayland lost one game each, and Seth Ward claims the championship of the Panhandle for last season. The game last fall was the first that Wayland College has lost during three years of football, according to Captain Harder.

Wayland College is coached by Otis Shropshire of A. and M. College, and Professor Hendry, a Southwestern University man, is in charge of the squad at Seth Ward. Both coaches say they expect to win. Further than that, they look wise and keep on working.

The game is called Monday, at 3:30 o'clock, at the Wayland College Athletic Field.

PACKERS SHIP DAILY 4,000 HOGS FROM OUTSIDE OF TEXAS.

Swift and Armour are buying 4,000 head of hogs a day from outside of Texas, according to advices from Fort Worth. This means that approximately $350,000 is being sent outside of Texas each month for porkers. Why not Hale County farmers claim a large part of this $350,000?

WORK ON STREETS PROGRESS RAPIDLY

CALIFORNIA, EUREKA AND MAIN STREETS ARE BEING GRADED; OTHERS WILL FOLLOW.

A VISITOR TALKS

E. Callaway Says Money Contributed by Citizens in Building Trade Center Pays Large Returns.

E. Callaway, from near Petersburg, came in Wednesday with a string of horses to show at the Hale County Fair. Mr. Callaway has three road horses and four thoroughbred Percherons.

He hopes to arrange to move nearer Plainview within a short time.

Mr. Callaway has lived in Hale County three years, coming here from Sedgwick County, Kansas. He is much pleased with the promise of the Central Plains, and thinks that Plainview has a great future if every citizen of the town puts his shoulder to the wheel for the building of a Greater Plainview.

"Your sidewalks are all right now," Mr. Callaway said, "but I was in Plainview about three weeks ago. It almost disgusted me with the town to have to wade through mud and water from three to six inches deep in order to get from the depot to the square. Surely a town with the ambition and spirit that Plainview has won't wait to build more sidewalks.

"Even if your sidewalks don't mean free mail delivery, they certainly give the visitor a much better impression of the progressiveness of the town."

Mr. Callaway said that if he lived in Plainview he would favor a bond issue large enough to make extensive and permanent street improvements. "Why," he exclaimed, "in Sedgwick County, twenty-five years ago, we voted $250,000 for a court house and jail and $230,000, in Wichita alone, for three railroads at one time. We got the railroads, and land that was worth $10 an acre increased to $125 an acre. We voted $300,000 in bonds for a bridge across the river. Another $100,000 was raised in Wichita for Jacob Dold's Packing Plant, and $100,000 for the Whitaker Packing Company. Wichita didn't have as much wealth then as Plainview has, and was about the same size as Plainview is. These industries have made Wichita a great trade center, and have repaid the amount spent to secure them a dozen times over."

Mr. Callaway admitted that Plainview has done a large part for her colleges and that Plainview churches would do credit to a much larger and older place.

Of course, no one would gainsay Mr. Callaway's statement that Plainview needs more sidewalks. And so one seems to doubt that sidewalks will be put down just as soon as the bond issue for $10,000 can be voted on. The work of grading streets has gone on steadily. West California, Main Street and Eureka Street have been graded for a considerable distance. Mayor Dorsett says the work will go right on. The spirit of real progress seems larger now than it did even during the boom days of 1909.

Mayor Dorsett hopes to have the east side of the square filled in before another rain storm.

STODDARD CLUB WILL MEET.
The Stoddard Travel Study Club will meet at 4:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, with Miss Edna Mayhugh.

FOR SCHOOL, DRESS THE GIRL SIMPLY.

The attire of the school girl has come to where public interference seems necessary. In many of our Texas towns and cities many young girls are to be seen wearing "frumpy" and costly finery, including silk stockings and willow plumes, at all seasons of the year.

You have but to stand near the school buildings in any of our cities and see scores of young girls with high heels, low-necked waist, sleeves above the elbows, paint and other cosmetics, veiling and gauze hose, as they pass on their way home.

The Mothers' Congress has instituted a systematic campaign of degrading into these vanities of the school girl.—Motherhood Magazine.

Rev. Cagle of Buffalo Gap will preach at the Church of the Nazarenes' Sunday, and will continue services throughout the week.

INTRODUCING THE 1913 BUICK

Buick has established an enviable reputation for building high-grade serviceable automobiles, and the 1913 Line represents the best efforts of this mammoth organization.

The success of the past season--when the entire output was sold early in June--is evidence of the quality of the Buick product and an indication of what may be expected for 1913.

No car at any price can give more real motor car value.

Every Model in the line is so built that it will not only protect, but enhance the reputation so emphatically won and so firmly established.

KRESS NEWS.

Mr. Gus Weidenhoft has sold his farm and stock near Kress and will soon leave for Indiana, on a visit. On last Saturday evening they were stormed by several of their neighbors, and after refreshments of ice cream and cake, and a jolly good time, the visitors returned to their homes, wishing them a happy and successful journey. The guests were Mr. Householder and wife, J. V. Boston and wife, J. Gilbert and wife, Elza Cates and wife and Glenn Gartside and wife.

J. V. Boston auctioneered a sale for J. J. Cale, one mile north of Hale Center, on last Thursday. Everything brought a good price.

Mr. Saldon Groff is putting in an irrigating plant one mile east of Kress.

Mr. McDozier has purchased some more Panhandle dirt lately.

Theo. Kapond shipped a car of hogs to Fort Worth last week.

"We have good crops around Kress and business is picking up," says Mrs. Sunshine.

Mrs. J. V. Boston visited her daughter, Mrs. Breneman, of Topeka, Kans., and they brought her home in their new Chalmers car, covering a distance of eleven hundred miles, coming via Enid, Oklahoma, and returned via the Santa Fe Trail route, making a distance of twenty-four hundred miles. They fell in love with this climate and beautiful roads, and expect to return again in the near future.

Thomas Webb is improving his farm east of Kress.

LONE STAR.

HALFWAY.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Farmer attended the Lamb County Sunday School Convention, at Olton, last Sunday. They report a very enjoyable, as well as profitable, day. All branches of Sunday School work were included in the program.

Dr. and Mrs. I. E. Gates called at the R. L. Hooper home Tuesday.

The Dye family are recovering nicely from their recent serious illness.

Miss Nadine Watkins and Miss Mollie Dye spent last Saturday in Plainview.

Mrs. E. Puckett left Wednesday for Taylor County, where she will spend the winter with a daughter.

Miss Millie Dye attended a wedding supper at Runningwater last Sunday. School progresses nicely at Halfway. Thirty pupils are now enrolled.

Very light showers visited this community Tuesday, and Tuesday night.

All farmers in this neighborhood are very busy harvesting. Two frosts last week caused all green stuff to ripen, and every one is afraid of more frost in the near future.

Mrs. Abbie Willis and daughter, Ernestine, are expected home from Lorena, Texas, this week.

Rev. B. W. Wilkins will hold his regular meeting here next Sunday, October 6.

WEST SIDE.

Sept. 30.—On the 23rd of this month the school board of this place went to Plainview and bought a windmill and material to build a good fence around the yard, and some other school supplies, and on last Saturday the men of the district gathered at the school house, put up the windmill and fence and made other improvements. We are going to plant shade trees and prepare to irrigate them. We want the school house to be the most attractive place in the community.

Mr. J. C. Homan and Geo. O. Colony went to Lockney, on business, Monday.

Mrs. Sawistusk, after being delayed a week, left Monday for her home, in Davenport, Iowa.

Mr. John Chilton was in Plainview Monday.

Mr. Geo. Douthit sold a bunch of cattle and delivered them in Plainview Tuesday.

Mr. Cornelius is on the sick list this week.

WHITFIELD.

Oct. 1.—Misses Edwards and Holland, of Plainview, were in our midst Saturday night and Sunday. They were given a party at the home of J. A. Pullen on Saturday night.

Everybody is busy nowadays gathering crops.

R. C. Muen, of Lockney, was in this locality Sunday evening.

Mesdames Barrett and Pullen were the guests of Mrs. R. V. Neal on last Thursday, from Providence.

Mrs. Lemaster, from Plainview, was in this locality delivering beef last week.

Mrs. W. C. Ooley was a caller at the Bass home Thursday last; also Mrs. Bates, of Providence.

Edith Edwards and Vera Holland were the guests of Mrs. Ooley Sunday.

KRESS.

Mr. Edgar Hostetler drove to Plainview Monday.

There was a surprise party Saturday night at Mr. Weidenhoft's, east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Boston's daughter and husband returned last week to their home, at Topeka, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg's daughter has come from Dakota, for a few weeks' visit.

Rev. J. H. Bone, Presbyterian minister of Hale Center, preached in Kress Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

WAYLAND COLLEGE NOTES.

Improvements, in the way of plastering the rooms and hallways of the College, are being continued.

We were glad to have with us on last Monday morning President Pearce, of Seth Ward College, also Rev. Saffal, of Hamlin, Texas, who tells us he is soon to move to Plainview with his family, for the purpose of putting his children in the College, and because he has found no place which appeals to him so much as Plainview.

Interest in the school work, as well as in the literary societies, continues to be manifested, and an atmosphere of progress and good fellowship seems to pervade the school.

SETH WARD COLLEGE NOTES.

One month of the school year has closed, and for several days the faculty has been busy making up grades and getting out reports. The slogan in each department is "Thorough," and to this end there has been a month spent in foundation laying. The students already realize that there is work to be done, and they are heartily giving themselves to it.

The various organizations have outlined their work and are pushing their programs with enthusiasm. In a note to the reporter, the president of the Philosophian Society said: "The Philosophian Society is doing some good foundation work for establishing an organization that will serve, not only to stimulate the minds, elevate the thoughts, and inspire the souls of her members, but will also help all those with whom they come in contact in the future. The first month of the second year for our Society has been spent very profitably. We have had four regular programs, new members have been received, and a spirit of enthusiasm has taken possession of us, so that we are looking forward to the accomplishment of great things this year. We certainly have a band of thorough-going, energetic young men."

The boys have been doing some good practice work this week. Almost the entire student body was out Tuesday afternoon to see the "scrubs" and "team" have a scrimmage. The team did some splendid work and the scrubs played well enough to make the game interesting. Mr. Herrmann has been coaching the "rooters," while Mr. Hendry and President Pearce coach the team.

The reception at the girls' dormitory Monday evening was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed. The next events to which the College looks forward are the game with Wayland College, Monday of next week, and the coming of Ross Crane, the following Saturday evening.

BEST CAVALRY HORSES COME FROM PLAINVIEW.

United States Quartermaster Tells
Mayor Dorsett He Will Buy
Mounts in Hale County
This Fall.

The best cavalry horses in the United States army come from around Plainview, according to Captain R. M. Pratt, Quartermaster of the Army located at Fort Reno, Okla.

Captain Pratt has written to Mayor Dorsett saying that he hopes to visit Plainview this fall for the purpose of buying horses suitable for cavalry. He states that the number purchased will depend largely upon the grade of horses he finds. Captain Pratt is unable to set an exact date at this time, but says he will give ample notice of his intended visit.

SANTA FE TO IMPROVE LOCAL STOCK YARDS.

General Manager Says Proper Facilities Have Been Ordered without Delay.

The Santa Fe Railroad will furnish better water facilities at the local stock yards, according to a letter received this week by Mayor Dorsett from F. C. Fox, General Manager of the Pecos System.

Citizens of Plainview filed a petition with the railroad some two months ago, asking for certain improvements at the stock yards. Mr. Fox explains the delay by stating that the papers were misplaced. He states that instructions have been issued to place proper water facilities in Plainview stock yards as quickly as material can be gotten on the ground.

Mr. Fox also asks Mayor Dorsett if there are any other improvements wanted, and the mayor has requested the privilege for local stockmen of putting in a dipping vat at the stock yards.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Faribault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble.

A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work.

For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

TWO IMPORTANT ITEMS.

J. H. Gambrell Speaks of Matters Concerning Legislation and Saloons.

Doubtless your readers will be pleased to know how the Thirty-third Legislature will stand on reform measures. Soon after the July primary, I sent inquiries into every county in the State, to ascertain how nominees for the Legislature stood. Of course, I knew how many of the nominees stood, but I made the inquiries uniform and general. Except as to 11 members of the House of Representatives, all of the nominees have been certified to, by letters on file in the Anti-Saloon League office.

In the Senate there will be 19 reform members and 12 antis. In the House there will be 82 reform members and 49 antis. As stated, there are 11 members of the House whose positions are not certified to. This shows that we are in much better shape than many prohibitionists believed we were, and that all reform people have great reason to be gratified over the results of the primary election.

There is unmistakable evidence that the liquor machine is working a scheme to barricade itself in the cities of this State. The same movement is on in every State in the Union, as shown by papers received in the Anti-Saloon League office. The "Model License League," Louisville, Ky., has on its pay rolls an attorney in every Texas county where one can be had. The duty of these attorneys is to look after the schemes of the liquor machine, and where they go out to make speeches they receive from $25.00 to $50.00 per day.

Liquor machine politicians are shrewd enough to see that if they can establish the liquor interest firmly in the cities, the liquor machine, operating from the cities, will control and dominate the politics of the State. A more dangerous scheme to the peace and welfare of the State has never confronted the citizenship of Texas. Anti-saloon people everywhere need to be on the alert and active in resisting this movement, before it is fastened on the State. It is to be expected that those promoting it will deny the existence of such a scheme. Anti-Saloon people who are deceived by such denials will show great unwisdom.

WICKERSHAM URGES COMPULSORY VOTING.

Says If Referendum and Recall Are Adopted Plan is Necessary to Protect Individual Against Minority.

In an address before the Chester County Historical Society, at West Chester, Pa., Saturday night, Attorney General Wickersham urged that voting be made compulsory with every citizen if the initiative, referendum and recall are to become part of our laws, which he seemed to regard as probable. This, he argued, was necessary to protect the individual against the decision of a minority. He advocated penalties for failure to vote, with loss of the franchise for persistent neglect.

IRRIGATION SYSTEM TO UTILIZE LAKES.

Considered Possible to Store Enough Water Along Pecos to Cover 100,000 Acres One Foot Deep.

With the announcement of preliminary work which is to commence in a few weeks on the giant dam, to cost about $400,000, the Consolidated Mutual Irrigation Company of Grand Falls, in the Pecos Valley, has announced some of its plans, according to the Dallas News.

It seems that many thousands of years ago the Pecos flowed along on a higher level than it now occupies. This is evidenced by the erosion of the sandstone which may be seen along the brink of its "mesas," which give every evidence of being water-worn. At this time, or some former period, the river was but the connecting link between a chain of lakes, some of which still show evidence of their existence. One of these, which is very marked, is locally known as Soda Lake, and lies some five miles to the northwest of Barstow.

Soda Lake above mentioned has recently been appropriated by the irrigation company as a reservoir site, which it proposes to develop and enlarge for the purpose of storing the flood flow of the Pecos River, to be used in the irrigation and reclamation of the vast, broad valleys of fertile land lying along the banks of the above-named stream.

Lepp Lake to Supply 20,000 Acres.

The location and situation of Soda Lake makes it an almost ideal reservoir site. There are contained within the area of its flow line about 8,000 acres of land, from which twelve feet of water may be drawn through the canal which at present is used to drain this lake. This canal can be readily deepened so that seventeen feet of water may be withdrawn through it, which will give to this lake a storage capacity of approximately 85,000 feet of water; in other words, enough water to cover 85,000 acres one foot deep. This is only the beginning of what it may be made to contain. The intake or feeder canal enters at a high level, and by the construction of levees or earthen dams of suitable height water may be stored in Soda Lake to an elevation which will allow practically all the land within the Barstow district to be irrigated by gravity flow from its waters.

Plans, which are not yet complete, include the construction of at least three large reservoirs, the combined storage capacity of which will be more than 100,000 acre-feet, and may be materially increased.

To Irrigate 85,000 Acres.

The second, known as Lepp Lake, will be fed through the Big Valley Canal, and its waters will be available for use on a part of the Big Valley lands and those in the Grand Falls Valley. This reservoir may be made to hold 37,000 acre-feet of water, which will be available to at least 20,000 acres of land.

The third, or Shook Lake reservoir, is located about four miles east of the town of Grand Falls. It may be made to hold 17,000 acre-feet of water, which will be used on the lands further down the river.

This chain of reservoirs, connected as they will be by canals of suitable dimensions, should provide ample storage for all the lands tributary.

It has been asked if some such plan is not possible in the canyons of the Central Plains.

LACE CRAZE IS NOW RAGING.

Fashionable Women Wear Gowns, Hats, Stockings and Shoes of It.

Paul Ullman, a lace importer of St. Louis, arrived yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse from a three months' tour of Europe, where he has been observing the direction in which the fancies of the fashionably attired are pointing, says the New York American.

He visited Paris, London, St. Petersburg, Berlin, Trouville and other continental resorts popular among society people, and what he saw at those places caused him to invest $10,000 in the purchase of Bohemian lace.

"Lace will be the dominant material for the attire of fashionable women next season," he said. "The French resorts are filled with women wearing gowns of that material, and in some cases the fad has become so popular that it is by no means an uncommon sight to see women attired in lace stockings, shoes made of lace uppers, lace hats and lace gowns.

"Pannier skirts, still the mode, as well as the new plaited skirts, are being manufactured entirely of lace, and the sheath skirt, which the modistes said would not live another season, is still in demand. The effect when it is made of lace is striking. Lace stockings in countless colors are also fashionable, and I think will be liked in America, although I would not like to predict the reception lace shoes will receive here.

"Bohemian-made lace is in great demand, so much so that I brought with me all I could get, as I was afraid many orders given would never be filled. English laces have taken a back seat in the fashionable world at present, and the Nottingham makers are forced to imitate continental lace. Irish lace is not in demand."

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—The scene at the opening of the story is laid in the library of an old worn-out southern plantation, known as the Barony. The place is to be sold, and its history and that of the owners, the Quintards, is the subject of discussion by Jonathan Crenshaw, a business man, a stranger known as Bladen, and Bob Yancy, a farmer, when Hannibal Wayne Hazard, a mysterious child of the old southern family, makes his appearance. Yancy tells how he adopted the boy.

CHAPTER II.—Nathaniel Ferris buys the Barony, but the Quintards deny any knowledge of the boy. Yancy to keep Hannibal, Captain Murrell, a friend of the Quintards, appears and asks questions about the Barony.

CHAPTER III.—Trouble at Scratch Hill, Yancy's home, when Hannibal is kidnapped by Dave Blount, Captain Murrell's agent. Yancy overtakes Blount, gives him a thrashing and secures the boy.

CHAPTER IV.—Yancy is served with a warrant for assaulting Blount. Yancy appears before Squire Balsam, and is discharged with costs for the plaintiff.

CHAPTER V.—Betty Malroy, a friend of the Ferrises, has an encounter with Captain Murrell, who forces his attention on her, and is rescued by Bruce Carrington, who threatens to whip the captain.

CHAPTER VI.—Betty sets out for her Tennessee home. Carrington takes the same stage. Yancy and Hannibal disappear, with Murrell on their trail. He overtakes them in the mountains of Tennessee. Murrell gets Yancy drunk and sends him in a fight that followed. Hannibal escapes in a canoe.

CHAPTER VII.—Hannibal arrives at the home of Judge Slocum Price.

CHAPTER VIII.—The Judge recognizes the boy, the grandson of an old time friend. Murrell arrives at Judge's home. Hannibal hears of the finding of Yancy's body. Price arrested as counterfeiter.

CHAPTER IX.—Cavendish family on raft rescue Yancy, who is apparently dead. Price breaks jail.

CHAPTER X.—Betty and Carrington arrive at Belle Plain.

CHAPTER XI.—Hannibal's rifle discovers some startling things to the Judge. Hannibal and Betty meet again.

CHAPTER XII.—Murrell arrives in Belle Plain. Is playing for big stakes.

CHAPTER XIII.—Yancy awakes from long dreamless sleep on board the raft.

CHAPTER XIV.—Judge Price makes startling discoveries in looking up land titles. Charley Norton, a young planter, who assists the judge, is mysteriously assaulted.

CHAPTER XV.—Norton informs Carrington that Betty has promised to marry him. Carrington bids Betty good-bye. Norton is mysteriously shot.

CHAPTER XVI.—More light on Murrell's plots. He plans uprising of negroes.

CHAPTER XVII.—Betty and Hannibal are made prisoners in a lonely cabin.

CHAPTER XVIII.—Murrell appears at the cabin and shows his hand.

CHAPTER XIX.—The Judge hears of the mysterious disappearance of Betty and Hannibal.

CHAPTER XX.—The Judge takes charge of the situation, and search for the missing ones is instituted.

CHAPTER XXI.—Carrington visits the Judge and allies are discovered.

CHAPTER XXII.—Judge Price visits Colonel Pentress, where he meets Yancy and Cavendish. Learns things of importance about the boy, dashes a glass of whisky into the colonel's face and a duel is arranged.

CHAPTER XXIII.—Murrell is arrested for negro stealing and his bubble bursts.

He was so completely but his bitter reflections that he had been unaware of a mounted man who was coming toward him at a swift gallop, but now he heard the steady pounding of hoofs and, startled by the sound, looked up. A moment later the horseman drew rein at his side.

"Ware!" he cried.

"How are you, Carrington?" said the planter.

"You are wanted at Belle Plain," began Carrington, and seemed to hesitate.

"Yes—yes, I am going there at once—now—" stammered Ware, and gathered up his reins with a shaking hand.

"You've heard, I take it?" said Carrington slowly.

"Yes," answered Ware, in a hoarse whisper. "My God, Carrington, I'm heart sick; she has been like a daughter to me—I—" he fell silent, mopping his face.

"I think I understand your feeling," said Carrington, giving him a level glance.

"Then you'll excuse me," and the planter clapped spurs to his horse. Once he looked back over his shoulder; he saw that Carrington had not moved from the spot where they had met.

At Belle Plain, Ware found his neighbors in possession of the place. They greeted him quietly and spoke in subdued tones of their sympathy. The planter listened with an air of such abject misery that those who had neither liked nor respected him, were roused to a sudden generous feeling where he was concerned; they could not question but that he was deeply affected. After all the man might have a side to his nature with which they had never come in contact.

When he could he shut himself in his room. He had experienced a day of maddening anxiety; he had not slept at all the previous night; in mind and body he was worn out; and now he was plunged into the thick of this sensation. He must keep control of himself, for every word he said would be remembered. In the present there was sympathy for him, but sooner or later people would return to their sordid unemotional judgments.

He sought to forecast the happenings of the next few hours. Murrell's friends would break jail for him, that was a foregone conclusion; but the insurrection he had planned was at an end. Hues had dealt its death blow. Moreover, though the law might be impotent to deal with Murrell, he could not hope to escape the vengeance of the powerful class he had plotted to destroy; he would have to quit the country. Ware gloated in this idea of craven flight. Thank God, he had seen the last of him!

But, as always, his thoughts came back to Betty. Slosson would wait at Hicks' place for the man Murrell had promised him, and, falling the messenger, for the signal fire, but there would be neither; and Slosson would be left to determine his own course of action. Ware felt certain that he would wait through the night, but as sure as the morning broke, if no word had reached him, he would send one of his men across the bayou, who must learn of Murrell's arrest, escape, flight—for in Ware's mind these three events were indissolubly associated. The planter's teeth knocked together. He was having a terrible acquaintance with fear, its very depths had swallowed him up; it was a black pit in which he sank from horror to horror. He had lost all faith in the Clan which had terrorized half a dozen states, which had robbed and murdered with apparent impunity, which had marked its hundreds of stolen slaves. He had utterly collapsed at the first blow dealt the organization, but he was still seeing Murrell, pallid and shaken.

A step sounded in the hall and an instant later Hicks entered the room without the formality of knocking. Ware recognized his presence with a glance of indifference, but did not speak. Hicks slouched to his employer's side and handed him a note which proved to be from Pentress. Ware read and tossed it aside.

"If he wants to see me why don't he come here?" he growled.

"I reckon that old fellow they call Judge Price has sprung something sudden on the colonel," said Hicks.

"He was out here the first thing this morning; you'd have thought he owned Belle Plain. There was a couple of strangers with him, and he had me in and fired questions at me for half an hour; then he liked off up to The Oaks."

"Murrell's been arrested," said Ware in a dull level voice. Hicks gave him a glance of unmixed astonishment.

"No!"

"Yes, by God!"

"Who'd risk it?"

"Risk it? Man, he almost fainted dead away—a damned coward, Hell!"

"How do you know this?" asked Hicks, appalled.

"I was with him when he was taken—it was Hues—the man he trusted more than any other!" Ware gave the overseer a ghastly grin and was silent, but in that silence he heard the drumming of his own heart. He went on. "I tell you, to save himself, John Murrell will implicate the rest of us; we've got to get him free, and then, by hell—we ought to knock him in the head; he isn't fit to live!"

"The jail ain't built that'll hold him!" muttered Hicks.

"Of course, he can't be held," agreed Ware. "And he'll never be brought to trial; no lawyer will dare appear against him, no jury will dare find him guilty; but there's Hues, what about him?" He paused. The two men looked at each other for a long moment.

"Where did they carry the captain?"

"I don't know."

"It looks like the Clan was in a hell-fired hole—but shucks! What will be easier than to fix Hues?—and while they're fixing folks they'd better not overlook that old fellow Price. He's got some notion about Pentress and the boy." Mr. Hicks did not consider it necessary to explain that he was himself largely responsible for this.

"How do you know that?" demanded Ware.

"He as good as said so." Hicks looked uneasily at the planter. He knew himself to be compromised. The stranger named Cavendish had forced an admission from him that Murrell would not condone if it came to his knowledge. He had also acquired a very proper and wholesome fear of Judge Slocum Price. He stepped close to Ware's side. "What'll come of the girl, Tom? Can you figure that out?" he questioned, sinking his voice almost to a whisper. But Ware was incapable of speech, again his terrors completely overwhelmed him. "I reckon you'll have to find another overseer. I'm going to strike out for Texas," said Hicks.

Ware's eyes met his for an instant. He had thought of flight, too; was still thinking of it, but greed was as much a part of his nature as fear; Belle Plain was a prize not to be lightly cast aside, and it was almost his. He lurched across the room to the window. If he were going to act, the sooner he did so the better, and gain a respite from his fears. The road down the coast slid away before his heavy eyes; he marked each turn, then a palsy of fear shook him, his heart beat against his ribs, and he stood gnawing his lips while he gazed up at the sun.

"Do you get what I say, Tom? I am going to quit these parts," said Hicks. Ware turned slowly from the window.

"All right, Hicks. You mean you want me to settle with you, is that it?" he asked.

"Yes, I'm going to leave while I can; maybe I can't later on," said Hicks stolidly. He added: "I am going to start down the coast as soon as it turns dark, and before it's day again I'll have put the good miles between me and these parts."

"You're going down the coast?" and Ware was again conscious of the quickened beating of his heart. Hicks nodded. "See you don't meet up with John Murrell," said Ware.

"I'll take that chance. It seems a heap better to me than staying here." Ware looked from the window. The shadows were lengthening across the lawn.

"Better start now, Hicks," he advised.

"I'll wait until it turns dark."

"You'll need a horse."

"I was going to help myself to one. This ain't no time to stand on ceremony," said Hicks shortly.

"Slosson shouldn't be left in the lurch like this—or your brother's folks—"

"They'll have to figure it out for themselves, same as me," rejoined Hicks.

"You can stop there as you go by."

"No," said Hicks. "I never did believe in this damn foolishness about the girl, and I won't go near George's—"

"I don't ask you to go there; you can give them the signal from the head of the bayou. All I want is for you to stop and light a fire on the shore. They'll know what that means. I'll give you a horse and fifty dollars for the job."

Hicks' eyes sparkled, but he only said:

"Make it twice that and maybe we can deal."

Racked and tortured, Ware hesitated; but the sun was slipping into the west; his windows blazed with the hot light.

"You swear you'll do your part?" he said thickly. He took his purse from his pocket and counted out the amount due Hicks. He named the total, and paused irresolutely.

"Don't you want the fire lighted?" asked Hicks. He was familiar with his employer's vacillating moods.

"Yes," answered Ware, his lips quivering; and slowly, with shaking fingers, he added to the pile of bills in Hicks' hand.

"Well, take care of yourself," said Hicks, when the count was complete. He thrust the roll of bills into his pocket and moved to the door.

Alone again, the planter collapsed into his chair, breathing heavily, but his terrors swept over him and left him with a savage sense of triumph. This passed; he sprang up, intending to recall Hicks and unmake his bargain. What had he been thinking of—safety lay only in flight! Before he reached the door his greed was in the ascendant. He dropped down on the edge of his bed, his eyes fixed on the window. The sun sank lower. From where he sat he saw it through the upper half of the sash, blood-red and livid in a mist of fleecy clouds.

It was in the tops of the old oaks now, which sent their shadows into his room. Again maddened by his terrors, he started and backed toward the door; but again his greed, the one dominating influence of his life, vanquished him.

He watched the sun sink. He watched the red splendor fade over the river; he saw the first stars appear. He told himself that Hicks would soon be gone—if the fire was not to be lighted he must act at once! He stole to the window. It was dusk now, yet he could distinguish the distant wooded boundaries of the great fields framed by the darkening sky. Then in the silence he heard the thud of hoofs.

CHAPTER XXVI.

The Judge Names His Second.

"Price—" began Mahaffy. They were back in Raleigh in the room the judge called his office, and this was Mahaffy's first opportunity to ease his mind on the subject of the duel, as they had only just parted from Yancy and Cavendish, who had stopped at one of the stores to make certain purchases for the raft.

"Not a word, Solomon—it had to come. I am going to kill him. I shall feel better then."

"What if he kills you?" demanded

"It Will Be Quite Informal, the Code Is Scarcely Applicable."

Mahaffy harshly. The judge shrugged his shoulders.

"That is as it may be."

"Have you forgotten your grandson?" Mahaffy's voice was still harsh and rasping.

"I regard my meeting with Pentress as nothing less than a sacred duty to him."

"We know no more than we did this morning," said Mahaffy. "You are mixing up all sorts of side issues with what should be your real purpose."

"Not at all, Solomon—not at all! I look upon my grandson's speedy recovery as an assured fact. Pentress dare not hold him. He knows he is run to earth at last."

"Price—"

"No, Solomon—no, my friend, we will not speak of it again. You will go back to Belle Plain with Yancy and Cavendish; you must represent me there. We have as good as found Hannibal, but we must be active in Miss Malroy's behalf. For us that has an important bearing on the future, and since I cannot, you must be at Belle Plain when Carrington arrives with his pack of dogs. Give him the advantage of your sound and mature judgment, Solomon; don't let any false modesty keep you in the background."

"Who's going to second you?" snapped Mahaffy.

The judge was a picture of indifference.

"It will be quite informal, the code is scarcely applicable; I merely intend to remove him because he is not fit to live."

"At sun-up!" muttered Mahaffy.

"I intend to start one day right even if I never live to begin another," said the judge, a sudden fierce light flashing from his eyes. "I feel that this is the turning point in my career, Solomon!" he went on. "The beginning of great things! But I shall take no chances with the future; I shall prepare for every possible contingency. I am going to make you and Yancy my grandson's guardians. There's a hundred thousand acres of land hereabout that must come to him. I shall outline in writing the legal steps to be taken to substantiate his claims. Also he will inherit largely from me at my death."

Something very like laughter escaped from Mahaffy's lips.

"There you go, Solomon, with your inopportune mirth! What in God's name have I if I haven't hope? Take that from me and what would I be? Why, the very fate I have been fighting off with tooth and nail would overwhelm me. I'd sink into unimportance—my unparalleled misfortunes would degrade me to a level with the commonest! No, sir, I've never been without hope, and though I've fallen I've always got up. What Pentress has is based on money he stole from me. By God, the days of his profit-taking are at an end! I am going to strip him. And even if I don't live to enjoy what's mine, my grandson shall! He shall wear velvet and a lace collar and ride his pony yet, by God, as a gentleman's grandson should!"

"It sounds well, Price, but where's the money coming from to push a lawsuit?"

Warm Floors and Healthy Children Make Happy Homes

There is no better way for you to avoid worry and expense than by insuring your children's health. Warm floors in the home, which is the children's play house in winter, are assured when using Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater. The steel base and body construction allows the heat to be radiated to the floor keeping it warm during the coldest weather.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

The Cleanest—Easiest to Care For Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal, Crushed Coke, Wood and Cobs. Users of coal must remember that the ordinary heater is a big care to operate. That its smoke and ashes entail dusting, curtain washing and carpet sweeping. Think then of the ease of operation and the cleanliness of Cole's Hot Blast. Cole's Hot Blast has a guaranteed smoke-proof feed door—open the feed door and the current of air draws the smoke directly across the top of stove to the stove pipe—away from the opening. Contrast this simple, cleanly feed with the side door in an ordinary heater. The side door used on other stoves permits escape of dirty smoke, unpleasant gas and accumulated soot drops from it. If you overfill a side door stove, coal falls to the floor. And note this, you cannot make a side door heater air-tight—an everlasting advantage in favor of Cole's Hot Blast which is air-tight and guaranteed to remain so always. No fires to build—the fire is never out in this remarkable heater from fall until taken down in the spring. Better select one today—surely it is the heater you need—

PEACE CENTENARY WILL BE CELEBRATED.

City of Ghent Will Probably Join Celebration Observing 100 Years of Peace Among English-Speaking Peoples.

It seems likely, says the Paris correspondent of the Dallas News, that the city of Ghent, as well as the important British and American committee established for the purpose, will join actively in the celebration of the centenary of the signing of the Treaty of Ghent (signed December 24, 1814), and of the hundred years' peace among English-speaking peoples.

The Belgian contribution is likely to take the form of a restoration of the room in the old Carthusian convent where the treaty was signed, and of the fine old banquet hall in the Hotel de Ville, where the municipality of Ghent entertained the British and American plenipotentiaries after the conclusion of the treaty nearly a hundred years ago which concluded the war between America and England.

William B. Howland, chairman of the American Committee on international organization, and Mrs. Howland; Harry E. Brittain, chairman of the corresponding committee in Great Britain, together with the secretary of the British committee, H. S. Perris, and Mrs. Brattain, have been most hospitably received by the Burgomaster, Emile Braun, and assured of the hearty co-operation of the authorities of the city of Ghent. Elihu Root has suggested that every industry in America be suspended for five minutes of prayer for God's goodness to the United States.

LARGE NUMBER OF HORSES IN TEXAS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—A report recently issued by the Secretary of the Federal Department of Agriculture shows that Texas has 1,158,000 horses. This is an increase over the previous year of 11,000, making Texas one of the leading horse states in the Union.

AEROPLANE ARMADA PASSES IN REVIEW.

Seventy-two French Army Flying Machines Parade After Maneuvers.

The first review ever held of a complete aeroplane armada took place Friday morning at Villa Coublay, near Paris, France, according to a dispatch in the Dallas News. Seventy-two French army flying machines, with their full complements of pilots and observers and the attached park of motor trucks bearing supplies therefor, passed in review before the French Minister of War, Alexander Millerand. The airmen and their craft had just returned from the army maneuvers, at which they had achieved many triumphs. They made an imposing display when they lined up on the parade ground.

CORN CROP IS 75 PER CENT OF NORMAL.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—The latest report issued by the Federal Department of Agriculture shows the Texas corn crop to be in fine condition, it being 75 per cent of normal, an increase of 35 per cent over last year.

DALLAS LEADS IN SADDLERY AND HARNESS MANUFACTURING.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—The large increase in volume of the saddlery, harness and collar business in Texas is viewed with alarm by local manufacturers, as the trade of the Southwest has for many years been monopolized by this market. Late reports from Dallas, Texas, show that approximately $2,400,000 in products are manufactured annually, and the output of the factories in that city is steadily increasing. The value of leather products used for harness, alone, in the United States is $24,802,734 annually, of which Dallas, Texas, is now supplying over 10 per cent.

RIO GRANDE SECRETARIES FAVOR IRRIGATION LAWS.

Raymondville, Texas, Oct. 1.—N. J. Lear, secretary of the Rio Grande Valley Commercial Secretaries' Association has issued a call for a meeting of that organization, at Brownsville. This meeting is called to perfect plans toward holding a large mass meeting some time in January. The secretaries are creating sentiment in favor of drainage, irrigation and reclamation laws, which will be presented to the next legislature.

having on board cargo valued at $11,074,506, of which value $10,515,817 was represented by 170,062 bales of cotton, the balance wheat, staves, meal, etc., Galveston today broke all port records in the matter of clearances of cotton.

Galveston broke her own record, having on November 20, 1911, set a mark of 108,284 bales cleared, overcoming the record of 95,000 bales set by Havana the same year, and has held first place until today, when she went ahead of it by a matter of 61,778 bales.

Following cotton, the second leading item of today's big clearances was wheat, the manifests filed at the United States customhouse showing that 393,800 bushels, with a value of $378,048, had been cleared. Next in volume and value came meal and cake, there being cleared for the various ports 48,090 sacks, weighing 9,184,000 pounds and valued at $136,312.

IS BROUGHT TO PLAINVIEW.

Miss Ora Stewart of Lubbock Is Sick at the Home of Mrs. G. F. Fair.

Miss Ora Stewart was brought in on a stretcher Wednesday, from Lubbock, where she was engaged in the millinery business. Miss Stewart has slow fever. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. A. H. Stewart of Hico, Texas, and her aunt, Mrs. G. F. Fair of Plainview.

She was taken to the home of Rev. G. F. Fair, 315 West Third Street.

EL PASO PACKING PLANT IS FINISHED.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 28.—The new $100,000 building of the Sulzberger & Son Co., packing house, located at the corner of Virginia and Mills Streets, is open. The El Paso branch of the company will be under the management of R. H. Oliver.

The new plant is complete in every respect. The company will have its own smoke house and boiling rooms, and the meats for the local trade will be prepared at the plant.

MANY GERMANS COMING TO TEXAS.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—According to the latest report of the Commissioner General of Immigration, the United States admitted, in 1911, 878,587 immigrant aliens. Out of this number 19,902 made their home in the Lone Star State, most of whom were Germans, who settled in the southern part of the State.

CENTRAL PLAINS MINISTERS ATTEND LEAGUE CONFERENCE.

Rev. M. S. Leverage, pastor of the Methodist Church at Tulla; Rev. G. W. Shearer, pastor at Floydada; Rev. Dick Tooley, pastor at Lockney, and Rev. J. A. Sweeney, pastor at Hale Center, were in Plainview Tuesday and Wednesday in attendance at the Plainview District Epworth League Conference.

This district conference is preparatory to the Annual Conference, which will be held in Abilene, October 6.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION BUSY IN SOUTH TEXAS.

Blanco, Texas, Oct. 2.—At a meeting of the San Antonio, Blanco and Granite Belt Good Roads Association here orders were given to start at once on the road from Blanco to the Kendall County line, where it will be met with the highway from Boerne.

PEARSALL TO VOTE ON GOOD ROADS BONDS.

A special election has been called for December 7th to decide whether or not Frio County will issue $80,000 in bonds for building good roads.

CONCRETE ROADS ARE BEST.

A Minnesota Highway Engineer Thinks They Will Last Longest.

"Concrete is the last word in permanent road construction," Charles A. Forbes, assistant engineer for the state highway commission of Minnesota, is quoted as saying, by the Des Moines (Iowa) Register and Leader. "Concrete is not only the best, but it is the cheapest. In one county in Minnesota, twenty-four miles of concrete road is being built, at a cost of $7,000 a mile."

Mr. Forbes says that concrete will never wear out, he thinks, but that remains to be proved. It was thought at one time that macadam would not wear out, but the material has not proven everlasting by any means.

"Engineers now recognize concrete as the best road-building material, and the results will be known in a few years. I think, however," Mr. Forbes says, "that the material will prove better than anything yet tried, considering the comparatively low cost."

HALE COUNTY FARMER TALKS IN KANSAS CITY.

"With the finest climate in the world, and not a sign of hog sickness, and cheap feed, we are assured that hog raising on the Central Plains will be a big money maker," says the Kansas City Daily Drovers' Telegram. The Drovers' Telegram quotes J. P. Crawford of Hale County. The interview goes on to say that Panhandle farmers are straining every effort to breed up on hogs; that the number will increase rapidly—but it takes time to build fences and found a herd.

SLATONITE INVESTIGATES PLAINVIEW'S BIG WELLS.

Prof. W. P. Florence of Slaton spent Monday and Tuesday in the Plainview country, investigating the big wells with a view to having one put down on his farm. Prof. Florence's farm adjoins the townsite of Slaton.

FORMER PLAINVIEW RESIDENTS LOSE CHILD.

The little nineteen-months-old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. RRalph Holmes of Osborne, Ariz., was drowned on Monday, September 23, in an irrigating ditch that runs through the yard of the Holmes home.

The little one was out playing with the other children of the family, and when the children were called to supper the baby was missing. A search was made and the child's body was found lodged in one of the dividing boxes.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were formerly residents of Plainview, where they have many friends who sympathize with them in this bereavement.

Citizenship is a great stock company; he gets most out of it who puts most in.

Honestly, do you blame a wife for getting sour when her husband comes home all pickled?

Plainview will grow into the Queen City of the Plains if you, as a farsighted citizen, grasp the opportunities for building a Greater Plainview that offer today.

There are ninety-two million reasons why America's banking and monetary system should be reformed—with one additional reason for each individual more than that number.

Turkey is said to be preparing for war in the Balkans; which leads us to observe that Italy may get Tripoli—but in the final carving of Turkey we have a notion there will be quarreling for the white meat.

Big cities from little towns will continue to grow; providing, of course, the town citizenship possess the proper conception of what makes a larger and better municipality. A commercial organization is a school of development; membership in your Chamber of Commerce will equip you for greater undertakings.

VALUE OF OUR CROPS.

It is expertly calculated that the bumper crops show an excess over the average yield of 21 per cent. At going cereal prices, this represents $440,000,000 as the excess wealth created by bountiful farms during 1912.

Announcement of this bounty is marred by the doubt of the capacity of railroads to transport the crops, and greater doubt of the capacity of our banks to finance the crop movement.

Our prosperity is marred by a defective banking system. It too often collapses under the strain of prosperity.

THE WEAKNESS OF OUR BANKS.

The banks of America are not weak. They are strong. But the banking system is weak because it provides no means whereby the banks may cooperate.

The strength of all banks should be behind each one of them. When trouble comes the banks cannot join together for the common defense. Each one must look out for itself.

When a bank looks out for itself, it does so by gathering in all the cash it can and keeping it. Then it is we have a money stringency and a panic.

A HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE.

February 17, 1915, will conclude one hundred years of peace between English-speaking peoples. It is announced that the City of Ghent will likely unite in fitting celebration of this centenary. Our second war with Great Britain was terminated by the Treaty of Ghent.

Mayor Gaynor of New York City has appointed a committee of one hundred to arrange a celebration betitting this hundred years of good fellowship between our English cousins and us.

It has been suggested by Senator Edith Root that all business be suspended for five minutes of silent prayer. How fit a ceremony for this occasion!

There are wars and rumors of wars. The spirit of unrest is in the land. To too many it seems that "Right is forever on the scaffold;

Wrong forever on the throne."

Five minutes of fervent prayer to our God would mightily impress the Nation that

"The scaffold sways the future;
And behind the dim unknown,
Standeth God within the shadow,
Keeping watch above His own."

SNEED IS DENIED RELEASE ON BOND

CASE TRANSFERRED TO VERNON, WILBERGER COUNTY, FOR TRIAL IN FEBRUARY.

REASON FOR DECISION

Judge Browning Reviews Law Forbidding Release of Prisoners Under Certain Conditions.

Judge J. N. Browning refused bail to Beal Sneed, charged with the murder of Al Boyce in Amarillo on September 14, last Saturday, and remanded him to jail. Attorneys for the defense immediately filed notice of appeal to the court of criminal appeals at Austin.

Late Saturday afternoon Judge Browning transferred the case to Vernon, Wilberger County, where it will be tried some time in February. At the same time the case against Beach Epting, who was arrested as Sneed's accomplice in Amarillo, was transferred to Memphis, in Hall County.

Judge Browning said, in part:

"I have given every word of the testimony offered by both sides as close attention and thorough consideration as my intellectual capacity permitted. I have listened to the arguments for information, knowing that counsel in the case would be better prepared to discuss the testimony than I could. There were twenty-four witnesses introduced by the State, besides some documents, and there were twelve witnesses introduced by the applicant, making thirty-six witnesses, some of which testified on both sides. Then there are letters and documents introduced and much of the testimony at the trial at Fort Worth.

Judge Reviews Hearing.

"I shall not discuss the testimony much for the reason that there must be what we call a main trial yet to come.

"In this kind of a case the burden of proof is on the State. The defendant is charged with the offense of murder in the first degree, and indictment was followed by the testimony of twenty-four witnesses.

"If the defendant had stopped when the State rested and offered no evidence, what would have been required of the court? All of the indicia of express malice was proved.

"The law says that express malice is not to be inferred, but must be proven by the facts and records of the case.

"The statute says that every person that, with a sedate mind and formed design, shall take the life of another with malice aforethought is guilty of murder. Now, malice aforethought must be proven, and what do they say takes to prove it? Such indicia as lying in wait, in disguise, former grudges, antecedent menaces, preconcerted schemes to take the life of the party or do him some serious bodily injury.

"Then the defendant took up as a defense to show that, notwithstanding these things existed, that there was an excuse for it. Now, the statute says that adultery with the defendant's wife is adequate cause for passion, such passion as sudden anger, rage, resentment or terror or anything that so excites the mind as to render it incapable of cool reflection. The statute says that when a killing occurs under circumstances of that kind it is manslaughter, and not murder, but the decisions say that the degree of anger, rage, resentment or sudden resentment or terror must be proven like express malice. It must be proven.

"We can not look into the heart and mind of the man to see what his mind was, but we infer it from acts of the person or words spoken before, at the time and immediately after the killing. When a person commits a crime of that kind and seeks to reduce it to manslaughter, he is required under circumstances of this kind to prove that there was that condition of the mind that rendered it incapable of cool reflection at the time of the killing. I can not tell whether it was or not.

"Now, the State has offered the testimony that requires me to infer that express malice existed by the acts of the party. If the other passion was proven, then, going back to the adequate cause for it, I would be compelled to give bail.

"As to whether or not the defendant will be present at the trial, that is not for me to consider. If a jury were to pass on this case with the evidence before me, and were to return a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, I could not, whatever might be my sympathies, as a just judge set that verdict aside, if that was all the grounds that I had to revise and correct the finding of the jury.

Bail Denied.

"I try to be the same with those that I know when called upon to pass judgment on their matters before me. I try to be the same by them as I would be by a stranger. If I would be called upon to pass on a stranger's case with this kind of evidence I know that my judgment would be the same as it is in this case, and, without further explanation, I will say that this is the decision of the court:

"The case is not, as presented to me, one that entitles the defendant to bail, and the order of the court shall be that the defendant be remanded to the custody of the Sheriff without bail until such time as the trial may be held. That is the order of the court, gentlemen."

Mr. Sneed gave very close attention to the comments of the court, and when the words were pronounced which denied him liberty there was scarcely a perceptible change in his demeanor. After a few words with his attorneys, he was immediately surrounded by deputies and taken back to jail.

AN ERROR CORRECTED.

Last week The Herald printed an interview with Mr. J. N. Morrison of the Plainview Bottling and Ice Cream Co., stating that a complete creamery outfit would be put in their plant at once. Through error, Mr. Morrison's initials were printed "W. H." instead of "J. N." This correction is printed in order that Mr. J. N. Morrison may not in any way be hampered in his efforts to build up an industry in Plainview.

Mr. Morrison says that all machinery for his creamery has been shipped. It is only up to the farmers of Hale County now, says Mr. Morrison, to produce the cream. He will pay highest market prices for all they can furnish.

CENTRAL STATION POWER FOR IRRIGATION.

L. O. Shropshire Writes of Farming by Irrigation and Best Methods to Follow.

Irrigation has at last become recognized throughout this Western country as the only solution of the problem of "How to Become a Successful Farmer."

Dry farming has been given a test and has failed to withstand the drouth. Although we do not doubt that dry farming is all right in some countries, it is not certain.

All Years Good with Irrigation. With irrigated farms, all years are good ones. Irrigation is the key which unlocks the fertility of the soil.

Irrigation Crop Insurance. The Department of Agriculture is encouraging supplemental irrigation as the vital factor of crop insurance in this district just mentioned.

Next comes the cost of operating an irrigated farm. This one thing has held irrigation in our country in check more than any other; in fact, it is the only thing that has checked the progress of this insured method of farming.

I find that various owners of wells set various values on the cost of irrigating an acre of land, which ranges from about $1.00 to $3.00 per acre each time the land is watered.

Electrical Power Cheapest. Mr. Ensign says there is an immense amount of land in irrigation by electric power, and we find in the Government report for 1910 that 75,000,000 acres of land are irrigated with motor-driven pumps.

There are several reasons why this displacement takes place. With a motor-driven pump one man can handle more machines, for the reason that the motor takes care of itself.

Some one will say, "Well, there is your power factor that you must pay for." True enough; but 25 per cent of the rated horse power has been deducted from the motor when the owner pays for his power.

The efficiency of a motor runs from about 84 per cent to 94 per cent, which includes the power factor, etc. After all, the motor on this rate is cheaper than the engine. I will discuss the rate more in detail.

The owner is to keep up his apparatus and is supplied with electrical energy at the rate of $50.00 per horsepower of his motor (in nearly all districts the company charges for only 75 per cent of rated horsepower of motor) per year.

Mr. Wishon, manager of the San Joaquin plant at Fresno, California, gives about the same data as I have given in the above figures, except his figures show cost of irrigating per acre. He gives an illustration: A 20-horsepower motor drives a pump which delivers 1,500 gallons of water per minute.

Mr. Ensign names a number of plants, in which he includes the one at Portales, New Mexico. Some are unsatisfactory for various reasons, one of which is inefficiency of machinery; another, inefficient management, etc., etc. There are, in fact, a number of ways that some plants can be improved upon, and when an unsatisfactory plant is found it can almost invariably be said to be lacking somewhere, and the cause is easily remedied—far are there not numbers of plants that are satisfactory to each one that is unsatisfactory?

50 Per Cent on Investment. Mr. Moses says that with 24-hour service and a 6c rate a plant pays 50 per cent on the investment, after depreciation, taxes and interest have been figured.

If any one wishes more information on the subject, in which I have tried to give a fair and impartial comparison of individual power vs. central station power, the writer would be glad to furnish such, provided it is in his power to do so.

LONG MOTORCYCLE RELAY RACE.

"Ocean to Ocean" Contest Is Being Organized—War Department Will Prepare Message for Delivery.

The proposed ocean-to-ocean motorcycle relay race of the Federation of American Motorcyclists passed from the "talking" to the "acting" stage during the past week.

The additional impetus given the plans came in the form of a letter from the Acting Secretary of War to President B. J. Patterson of the F. A. M., in which the Government officially notified President Patterson that the War Department would give the desired co-operation.

Dr. Patterson had written the War Department asking that a message be prepared by the department to be forwarded from New York City to the Pacific Coast by motorcycle relay.

Robert Shaw Hawkins, the Acting Secretary of War, wrote President Patterson that the "Commanding General, Eastern Division of the U. S. Army, has been instructed to furnish the first relay rider with a suitable message to be delivered to some officer at Los Angeles."

Officers of the F. A. M. are elated over the attitude of the War Department, and with several relay riders riding day and night every effort will be made by the federation to have the message delivered in Los Angeles in record time.

In some communities the riders are already organizing for the relay race, while in others they are awaiting the announcement of the complete itinerary.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glyceric extract made from bloodroot, mandrake, stone, queen's root and golden seal root, and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption by the blood of the food it requires. Eradicate the poisons from the blood with this alterative extract which does not shrink the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other injurious ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden that builds up those weakened by disease. Sold by druggists everywhere. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHAR. FAEBER, JR.

Mr. CHAS. FAEBER, JR., of 822 Woodlawn Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I was troubled with my stomach for almost three years. Tried several doctors and most everything anybody recommended to me, but kept getting worse and honestly did not care to live as I was never well even though, at times, I had no pain. My symptoms were as follows: Always tired, my whole body in a throbbing, itching of pain, pain and soreness in the stomach, vomiting, constipation, could not tell what to eat or what would agree with me, and was melancholy. But after taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with the 'Pleasant Pellets' it has made me a well man which is something to live for."

Texas State Fair

Announces Program

the 2:25 pace, the 2:08 trot and the 2-year-old Futurity pace. Tamworth hogs and thoroughbred and standard bred horses will be judged in the live stock arena.

Confederate Day.

Tuesday, October 15, is Confederate Day and Texas Cotton Growers' Day. Prof. Junius Jordan of Pine Bluff will deliver the feature address. His subject will be "Wives, Mothers and Daughters of the Confederacy." Gen. Felix R. Robertson, commander of the Texas division, United Confederate Veterans, is to officiate. The regular program will be carried out in Convention Hall. In the Coliseum a program of music popular in the South will be given. The racing program will be featured by the 2:24 trot for a stake of $2,500, for which there are thirty-six entries of the best horses in America. In addition will be the free-for-all pace, the 2:13 pace and three high-class runs. Berkshire hogs, saddle horses and ponies will be judged in the live stock arena.

Fine Arts Day.

Wednesday, October 16, is Fine Arts Day. Artists of the State will assemble in the art gallery and the most popular painting in the loan art collection will be decided by vote. The racing program calls for the 2:17 trot for $500, the 2:20 pace for $2,500 and the 2-year-old trot for $300, and three running races. In the live stock pavilion all-purpose, carriage and coach horses and Poland-China hogs will be judged.

Dallas Day.

Thursday, October 17, is Dallas Day, Mothers' Congress Day, Good Roads Day and Victoria Day. This will be a holiday in the business district of Dallas. The Mothers' Congress of Texas will meet in Convention Hall No. 1, and seekers after good roads will assemble in Convention Hall No. 2 for a good roads program. A special train will arrive in Dallas from Victoria with a delegation of 300 farmers, merchants and business men of Victoria. Programs will be varied in every department. The program in the Coliseum will be continuous from early morning until late in the evening, with band concerts, vaudeville acts and instrumental and vocal solos. In the racing department the great Chamber of Commerce purse race for a stake of $5,000 for trotters in the 2:14 class will be the feature event. This will be followed by the 2:15 pace and three high-class runs, in which there are nineteen entries. In the live stock department Essex hogs, saddle horses and roadsters will be judged. Several open-air features in Amusement park have been provided for.

Kidd-Key Day.

Friday, October 18, is Kidd-Key Day, Georgia Day and Sacred Harp Day. Students and members of the alumni of Kidd-Key College, at Sherman, will assemble at the grounds for a general entertainment. Ex-Georgians will assemble in Convention Hall for a program that will include addresses by prominent Georgians. Members of the Sacred Harp Associations of the State will assemble in Convention Hall for a program of sacred harp anthems. The racing program calls for the 2-year-old pace for $300, 3-year-old pace for $400 and the 2:09 trot for a stake of $2,500, in addition to three running races. Band concerts and vaudeville acts will feature the Coliseum program. In the live stock building Duroc-Jersey hogs and jacks, mules and jennets will be judged.

Traveling Men's Day.

Saturday, October 19, will be Traveling Men's Day, Sacred Harp Day and University of Texas Day. Every traveling man in the Southwest will be invited to the Fair on this day, and committees from the various Traveling Men's Associations are arranging a most interesting program. Fruit and truck growers of Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas will assemble in Convention Hall for the purpose of organizing a joint selling and distributing exchange. A Sacred Harp program will be given in Convention Hall No. 1. Students of the University of Texas and members of the alumni will assemble on the grounds for a general entertainment. The Coliseum program calls for instrumental and vocal solo selections, band numbers and vaudeville acts. In the racing department will be held the 2:20 trot, $500; 2:11 pace, $5,000, and 2:20 pace, $500, and three high-class runs. Hampshire hogs and draft horses will be judged in the live stock pavilion.

Spanish War Veterans.

Sunday, October 20, will be observed as Spanish War Veterans and Sacred Harp Days. Veterans of the Spanish War will assemble in Convention Hall for a program now being prepared by the local camp of veterans. Sacred Harp singers will close their exercises on this day. A splendid program has been arranged in the Coliseum. Sacred music will predominate, with vaudeville acts interspersed between

G. A. R. and W. R. C. Day.

Monday, October 21, will be G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps Day, Dairymen's Day and Denton County Day. Veterans of the Union side of the Civil War and members of the Women's Relief Corps will assemble in Convention Hall. Dairymen of the State will meet in the dairy demonstration building, where an elaborate program has been arranged. Two new features will be found in the dairy building this year, cows milked by machinery and feeding silage to dairy cattle. Band concerts and vaudeville acts will be given in the Coliseum, morning, afternoon and evening. In the racing department will be held the 2:25 pace, the 2:06 trot and the 2:15 pace, the latter being for a purse of $2,500. In addition there will be three high-class running races. Hereford and Aberdeen Angus cattle and Southdown sheep will be judged in the live stock arena.

Boys' Corn Club Day.

Tuesday, October 22, is Boys' Corn Club Day, Boys' Hog Club Day, East Texas Day, Texas-Ohio Day and Hunt County Day. There are 14,000 members of the boys' corn clubs of the State, and it is expected that at least 80 per cent of these will visit the Fair on this day to attend lectures and demonstrations given by the bureau of extension of the A. and M. College of Texas. A special meeting of the East Texas Development Association will be held in Convention Hall, and special trains will be run from all sections of East Texas to Dallas. A meeting of the Texas-Ohio Club will be held in Convention Hall No. 2, and will be addressed by Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio. Coliseum program calls for band concerts, instrumental and vocal solo selections and vaudeville acts. In the racing department will be held the 2:30 trot, the 2:18 trot and the 2:04 pace. In the live stock department, Jersey cattle and Cotswold sheep will be judged.

Hardware Men's Day.

Wednesday, October 23, is Hardware and Implement Dealers' and National Association of Stationary Engineers' Day. A meeting of the National Association of Stationary Engineers will be held in Convention Hall. Band concerts and vocal solo selections and vaudeville acts in the Coliseum. The program for the last day of racing calls for the 2:18 pace for $500, 3-year-old trot for $60, and 2:12 trot for $500, and three high-class runs. Short-horn cattle and Shropshire sheep will be judged in the live stock department.

W. O. W. Day—Football Game.

Thursday, October 24, will be Austin College and Texas Christian University Day and Woodmen of the World Day. A game between the football teams of the two colleges will be played in front of the grandstand. The program for Woodmen of the World Day calls for a parade of the uniform ranks of the Woodmen, and competitive drills between the crack teams of the order. A splendid program has been arranged for the Coliseum, including band concerts, instrumental and vocal solo selections and vaudeville acts. Red Polled cattle and Rambouillet sheep will be judged in the live stock department.

Football Game.

Friday, October 25, will be Southwestern University and Trinity College Day, and a game of football between the football teams of the colleges will be played in front of the grandstand, in the afternoon. The Coliseum program calls for every musical and vaudeville feature engaged for the Fair. Merino and Hampshire sheep and Angora goats will be judged in the live stock department.

A. and M. College vs. Arkansas.

Saturday, October 26, will be Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas Day and University of Arkansas Day. Football games will be played in front of the grandstand between teams from the two colleges. The Coliseum program will begin early in the morning of this day and last until late in the evening, with a continuous program. In the live stock department a grand parade of all prize winners—horses, jacks, mules, jennets and cattle—will be held in the arena. Special features in amusement park.

Get-Away Day.

Sunday, October 27, is the closing day of the Fair, and a program of unusual merit is being arranged. Special features in every department.

TEXAS LEAGUERS FIGURE LARGE IN WORLD SERIES.

Speaker, Hall, Resreau, Bader and Fletcher Are Expected to Be Factors in Results.

Former Texas Leaguers are going to figure largely in the results of the series of games for the world's championship in baseball. On the Boston team, winner of the pennant of the American League, there is Tris Speaker, the sensational center fielder and Pitcher Hall, both of whom were developed in Texas. On the roster of the New York Giants, title holder in the National, are Jeff Tesreau, Arthur Fletcher and Pitcher Bader.

It's quite probable that even detailed reports of the world's series games won't mention either frequently or prominently the name of Bader, but the other Texans are rated by all of the knowing ones as important factors.

McGraw is grooming big Tesreau as the best bet of his pitching staff. Tesreau is going better than any of the other flingers the Giants have on hand and if he can keep his head and luck about him Tesreau ought to win against the Boston in handy fashion. Tesreau depends principally upon his spitter and his wonderful control of his deceptive bend is going to give Jack Stahl's crew much worry. Some of those who back their judgment with money—real money, too—are offering odds that Tesreau wins his first game against Boston. The offer of such odds might be classed as pride because Tesreau played in Texas but even in places remote from this climate they figure Jeff as the logical winner, especially if he is sent against O'Brein, as the advance dope says he will be.

Speaker is the other former Texas Leaguer about whom the most is heard. Speaker is hitting the ball hard and running bases in a way to befuddle the American Leaguers. In the field he covers an immense amount of territory and dally pulls off plays that get his name in black type at the top of the baseball stories. He was credited with a hitting average of .388 a few days ago and is getting at least that good yet. He has nine circuit clouts to his credit and nearly seventy other hits that were good for extra bases. Speaker's batting is one of the points in Boston's favor when the two contenders for the world's title are compared.

Arthur Fletcher may or may not distinguish himself in the world's series. Lately he has not been hitting the ball very hard, but he may come out and be able to produce the safeties at critical times.

No matter which way the final results go, Texas ought to come in for her share of the glory.

20TH CENTURY SUPERSTITION.

September 13, 1912.

"AN OLD PRAYER.
"Lord! I call on Thee. Bless all men. Let us abide by thee."

"This prayer was sent to me with the purpose of aiding in its being published in all the world. Copy it and take notice what will come to pass. At the time of Christ it was said that all who copied it were saved from misfortune, and all who let it pass unnotified visited with calamity. Those who copy it within nine days and forward it to nine friends will be blessed with great rejoicing on the ninth day.

"The chain should not be broken, nor any name mentioned, but only the date."

The above manuscript was sent to me as one of an endless chain. The purpose of its publication on my part is not to comply with the wish of the original sender, but rather to express condolence for the pitiable person who could fall victim to such superstition. And, as no name is mentioned, nor should be, it may be difficult in any other way than this to give expression to my feelings to the respective one

Not to mention at all that this is not a Christian prayer, because it is not spoken in Christ's name nor in His spirit who told us to add our "Amen!" as a confession of bold confidence and sure faith that our prayer is heard, nevertheless there might be benefited by this information some weak brother or sister whose weak heart in its natural state leans toward superstition, and would by fear for the threatenings mentioned be induced to copy and in his heart repeat such vain babblings. Unto the latter be it said that they need not fear to refrain from such praying, as it is an abomination to the Lord.

The prayer was sent to me in the German language, and mailed from Olton. I pray, have me excused from such impositions henceforth. Besides, it is timely to say that the U. S. mail department takes action against such anonymous letters.

METHODIST BISHOPS WILL MAKE ADDRESSES.

Drs. Atkins and Mouzon to Speak at Cornerstone Laying of Southern Methodist University.

Bishop James Atkins and Dr. E. D. Mouzon of San Antonio will be the leading speakers at the cornerstone laying of the new Southern Methodist University, on October 16. The laying of the corner stone will be a joint ceremony by the citizens of Dallas who donated a fund for the erection of Dallas Hall, and the education committee of the university.

A special train will leave Dallas at 10 o'clock and carry visitors direct to the grounds of the university. The station at the university grounds has been named Soumethun. The word is derived from the first three letters of the name, Southern Methodist University. Speakers for the Chamber of Commerce, the citizens' committee, the advisory board and the municipal government have not yet been announced by the committee in charge.

Dr. Boaz left Dallas last night for Southern Texas, where he will make speeches for the purpose of raising more money for the fund to build the dormitories of the university. He will stop at Elgin, Bastrop, Bay City, Edna, Cuero, Yoakum and Gonzale. The territory which Dr. Boaz is going to cover is that of the West Texas conference, which was the first to systematize the work of raising the fund. It made the first donation, and one of its cities donated the fortune of one of its leading citizens to the cause.

MAKING SYRUP FROM SUGAR BEETS.

Since the result of Mr. Mitchell's test has become known, a number of Hereford people will try their hand at making syrup for home use out of the sugar beets. He says that the beets should be well matured and that any one can make fine, clear syrup of excellent flavor with as little trouble as making preserves of any kind. A little attention and care is all that is needed.—Hereford Brand.

M. S. HOOVER, Manager.

Well! What of that? Why, don't you know that Plainview has the biggest and only real, up-to-date Business College in West Texas and that is another thing to brag on.

Seth Ward Business College is not only an institution that turns out complete Bookkeepers and Stenographers but our aim is to mold and develop from the raw material "Successful Business Men and Women."

MAIN BUILDING, SETH WARD COLLEGE.

This is our second year at Plainview and there are some people who know a good thing when they see it. We have three times the enrollment we had last year, and others coming. This unusual increase has kept us busy to accommodate so many. We have enlarged our facilities and can now care for as many more.

RICE INSTITUTE IS OPENED TO WORLD.

President Lovett Delivers Address at Houston Academic Festival October 10, 11 and 12.

"Wisdom is the breath of God, the reflection of everlasting life, the unspotted mirror of the power of God and the image of His goodness."

With this quotation forming a portion of his address, President Edgar Odell Lovett formally opened the William M. Rice Institute Thursday of last week. There was present the first student body, corps of teachers, the trustees of the Institute fund and leading citizens of Houston.

The Wm. M. Rice Institute was founded in Houston by the man whose name it bears. The foundation amounts to something like $10,000,000. In point of material equipment and endowment Rice Institute stands well toward the top.

Ceremony of Dedication.

Ceremonies of dedication and the inauguration of the educational programme of the "New Foundation for Research and Instruction" will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. The leading educators of America will speak on this occasion, and several foreign scholars have accepted an invitation to participate in the occasion.

The editor of The Herald acknowledges, with thanks, an invitation from President Lovett to attend the dedication ceremonies.

Dr. Lovett's Address.

President Lovett on Thursday morning said, in part:

"In the joy of high adventure, in the hope of high achievement, in the faith of high endeavor, for this fair day we have worked and prayed and waited. Under the golden lure of great opportunity, under the gripping lash of increasing obligation, under a grievous load of unrelenting responsibility, we have asked for strength, and with the strength a vision, and with the vision courage.

"To those who hold in trust the manifold possibilities of this foundation there has been given in constant degree the courage born of straight and clear thinking, the vision of enduring forms of human service, the strength in resolute devotion to definite purpose.

"And today, by virtue of the founder's splendid gift to the people, by virtue of the public spirit of his early advisers, by virtue of the public service of those who defended his will and protected the people's rights, by virtue of the cheer and criticism and counsel of friends in the community and throughout the Commonwealth, the Rice Institute, which was to be, in this modest beginning now has come to be.

"As an educational force, let us hope, of growing power, the new institution has come to life, and from this day forth takes its place as a historic reality in space and time among the living and the dead.

Of Material Service.

"However, in the exultation of the moment in which we witness the launching of the new university, we must not forget that the organization which William Marsh Rice incorporated has already rendered the city and State of his adoption very considerable service.

"The epoch whose beginning we observe today with these simple exercises marks the period in which even more powerfully that same organization is to support the intellectual and spiritual welfare of the community; and, finally, to touch again upon the material side of progress, the very machinery is about to be transformed into its spiritual age, will distribute the income of the foundation through the several channels of Houston's business, philanthropic, social and religious life; and thus we contemplate with some degree of satisfaction a threefold contribution to the material, the intellectual and the spiritual aspects of the life of Houston.

A Man in Millions.

"There are men and men. There are men of millions and men of millions. William Marsh Rice was a man in a million, an inspired millionaire. A seer with a vision of monumental service to Houston, to Texas, the South and the Nation. An idealist who resolutely lived a simple life, denying himself even the durable satisfaction of his philanthropy's realization, in order that he might give life to his fellows and more abundantly. Shrewd in foresight, strong in purpose, of stout courage and independent spirit, generation after generation will rise to 'call him blessed.'

The Precursor of Education.

"Great merchants and captains of industry, whose interests extend far beyond their own immediate surroundings, are rendered by the character of their work alert, open-minded, hospitable to large ideas, accustomed to and tolerant of the widest divergences of views. For this reason it is that great trading centers have so often been, like Athens, Florence, Venice and Amsterdam, also centers of vigorous intellectual life. These were cities great in commerce, but, inspired by the love of truth and beauty, they stimulated and sustained the finest aspirations of poets. It requires no prophet's eye to reach a similar vision for our own city. I have felt the spirit of greatness brooding over the city. I have heard her step at midnight. I have seen her face at dawn. Under the spell of the city's own life, I have come to believe in the larger life of the greater Houston that is to be. And this belief you, too, will promptly share.

A Finale of High Ideals.

"Ladies and gentlemen of Houston, at your gates there have finally and for all time risen the walls and towers and men of the new institution long told in your dreams; an institution whose life, whose service is to be local in the best sense, whose significance, let us hope, may be State-wide and even National in its scope, on a foundation builded for Houston, for Texas, the South and the Nation.

"A long avenue doubly lined with trees, at one end the captains of industry and commerce in the counting house, at the other a college community in academic groves dedicated to liberal and technical learnings, the happy homes of Houston lying in between; an institute devoted to the advancement of literature, science and art, to the promotion of letters as the record of the achievements of the human spirit, to the promotion of science as the revealer of nature; to the promotion of art as the sunshine and gilding of life.

"A place within whose campus and cloisters the busy man of affairs may find a retreat from the wear and worry of our strenuously many-sided life, a refuge within which he may find occasional opportunity to think more quietly and more deeply; perhaps to worship more devoutly and more reverently; certainly to contemplate the deeper things of patriotism and politics, of religion and reverence; to discover, if never before, the truth that lies below all controversy; to realize that he belongs to the great community through which the eternal has worked for ages, and that he has a share in the high privileges and solemn duties that belong to every member of that great community. A temple of wisdom whose ideals are inspired by the spirit of knowledge and power, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of wisdom and of the fear of the Lord.

A Vision of the Future.

"Not long ago I stood on a great rock within eyeshot of the birthplace of modern civilization. Upon it rose those incomparable ruins, mighty as the mind that conceived them, majestic as the mountains and sea that called to them. In their midst the gods of the Greeks still live. And of all these gods it was to her who typifies science that the Parthenon was dedicated; to the great goddess who sprang full-armed from the head of Zeus at the touch of fire and oil, to conquer the deep himself.

"It is no long flight of fancy from the Parthenon above the Attic plain to yonder bower on the Texas prairie. Under her ancient promise may Pallas Athena preside over these academic groves and guide men by the spirit of science and the spirit of service in their research for solutions of the universe in terms of the good, the beautiful and the true."

VIRGINIA SPINSTER WOULD CHEER PLAINVIEW BACHELORS.

The man in Plainview who doesn't

WOMAN'S PART IN PROGRESS

Do you know that woman has played an important part in the world as a pioneer, and has been courageous enough to enter fields previously consecrated by man? Here are a few interesting examples and facts of woman's courage and forethought:

The first printing press established by women was within the walls of a Dominican convent, in 1476, with nuns as compositors.

The first magazine in America entirely sustained by working women was the Lowell Offering.

The first juvenile paper in America was established by Mrs. Caroline A. Gilman, in 1832, and its name was The Rosebud.

The first newspaper in America was conducted by Margaret Draper.

The Declaration of Independence of America was printed by Mary Katharine Goddard in Maryland.

The first newspaper owned and conducted in all its departments by women, and working in the interests of women, was The Lily, by Amelia Bloomer.

The Balance was started in 1871, and was the first news journal conducted by women in Chicago, the proprietors and publishers being Maria Hadley and Mary Tomlin.

marry is "just simply sorry," according to Mayor Dorsett. With all of the beautiful girls in Plainview, and what with being sought after by women all over the continent, there certainly can be no excuse.

The latest maiden who is looking into the West for her Lockinvar is in Old Virginia. Mayor Dorsett has a request from a lady in Roanoke, asking the name of some kind, attractive bachelor or widower of good parts.

Doesn't Like Young Men.

The lady says: "I understand there are in your town some lonely men, as there are so few ladies there. Now, I would like to have the pleasure of corresponding with one of them, about the age of thirty-five or forty, as I have never cared for real young men.

"If I receive an answer to this, will the party please give a description of his personal appearance, and in return I will do the same. I have heard of this through a gentleman friend having recently passed through your town.

"Hoping to have the pleasure of hearing from one of your old bache-

The first newspaper published in Rhode Island was at Newport, 1732, by Anne Franklin, a widow of the publisher. She was a printer to the colony, printing pamphlets, laws, almanacs, as well as calicoes and linens.

The first American newspaper was published in 1704, and to 1788 there were seventy-eight published, sixteen of which were conducted by women, and fourteen of which were the firm champions of liberty and equal rights.

The first person to publish a protest against slavery in England was a woman, Elizabeth Heyrich.

Abby Kelley Foster was one of the earliest lecturers on slavery in America.

The first woman to claim the right to vote in a legislative body in America was Margaret Brent, in 1647, in Maryland. She was a relative of Cecil Calvert, Lord Baltimore, and the representative of Leonard Calvert, the Governor who told her to "take all and pay all." She claimed the right and was granted the right of acting as the lord proprietor's attorney.

The first woman in America admitted to a law school was Phoebe Cousins of Washington University, St. Louis, in 1869.—Chicago Tribune.

Mayor Dorsett advises The Herald that any man who is genuinely interested may have the lady's name.

A $90,000 BUILDING FOR CHRISTIAN WORK.

University of Texas Opens First College Y. M. C. A. Building in State.

At the University of Texas stands the first fully equipped college Young Men's Christian Association building erected in the State. It has been built by subscriptions from the citizens of Texas, amounting to more than $90,000.

The building is equipped with reading rooms, game rooms, lecture rooms, a large auditorium, and a splendid swimming pool. The secretary of the association, T. W. Currie, is a young minister who first graduated from the University of Texas and afterward took his degree at the Austin Theological Seminary.

This building, in connection with many churches and Bible schools that fringe the campus, will exercise a beneficent influence on the 2,000 student population. Religious exercises will be held in the auditorium each Sunday, while daily classes in the Bible will continue throughout the session.

Remember that we have a new supply of Staley's Rose Cream, for chapped hands, face and lips. Try an application of same before you try these raw winds. Money cheerfully refunded if it does not please. R. A. LONG DRUG CO.
