WILL DEVELOP PARK PROPERTY

Texas Land & Development Company to Put in Trees, Shrubs, Driveway and Well on Park Property.

A MINIATURE ZOO

"Pioneer Park Farm" to Have Deer and Buffalo; Mile Race Track and Two Big Wells.

Plainview will not lack for places of amusement this summer, according to information given out by M. D. Henderson, Manager of the Texas Land and Development Company. Mr. Henderson has been authorized by H. I. Miller, American Manager for the Pearson interests, to proceed at once with the development of the lake property just north of the Santa Fe depot.

"This tract will be known as the 'Plainview Lake Park.' Mr. Henderson says. "We will plant trees, shrubs, flowers and put down a big well. The Lake will be surrounded by a driveway of the best oiled macadam."

Mr. Miller has also authorized Mr. Henderson to proceed with development of the "Pioneer Park Farm," one mile south of town. "Our plans provide for the installation of a small zoo, with deer, buffalo and other animals as a park project," Mr. Henderson says. The Company proposes to provide a mile race course and put in two big wells on this Pioneer Park Farm. They are planning a reservoir which will back water up the draw for 8,000 feet, and will build a driveway following the meanderings of the lake.

This driveway, the company's engineer figures, will be about three miles long.

MISS STOWELL TAKES CHARGE FOR PLAINVIEW MERC. CO.

New Milliner Comes from St. Louis; "Looks Brighter This Season," She Says.

Miss May Stowell, of St. Louis, has taken charge of the millinery department for the Plainview Mercantile Co. St. Louis wholesalers have said to Mr. Shofner that Plainview ladies are unusually fortunate in having Miss Stowell suit their hats this spring. She is a "hat artist," they say.

Miss Stowell likes Plainview. Every one does. She has plunged into her hats, because, she says, it isn't but three weeks until Easter.

Colors will be brighter this year. Miss Stowell says. Small hats will be popular and shades of blue will be used much for trimming. Neil Rose, Coque de Rouge, Orange and Green will also be popular colors. Fancy fathers and flowers woven into question-mark designs have won right of way. New shapes are given out as the "aeroplane," "elongate," "Irish sailor," "Dutch sailor," and "Tambour Shanty" crowns.

"But you can't tell women about all of the pretty things in headwear," Miss Stowell said. "Just ask them to come in and let me show them."

W. A. Shofner, Manager of the Plainview Mercantile Co., and Miss Willie May Hall are yet in Eastern markets.

EUCLID MALE QUARTETTE PLEASES.

The Fourth Number on Seth Ward's Lyceum Course Entertains Large House.

It was a large and delightful audience that heard the Euclid Male Quartette at the Methodist Church last night. Judging from the applause by the crowd, there was not a dull note in the entire program.

The performance on the organ chimes, with their sweet, tonal quality and magnificent volume, produced unbounded enthusiasm all over the house. Other selections shrouded in mystery. Other numbers were equally pleasing.

The time of the next number of Seth Ward's Lyceum Course is March 15th.

RICHARDS RETURNS FROM EASTERN MARKETS.

T. E. Richards returned Friday from New York and other Eastern markets, where he has been the past few weeks buying spring goods for the firm of Richards Bros. & Collier.

HEER ENGINE CO. OPENS HEADQUARTERS IN PLAINVIEW.

W. C. Beck Returns to Plainview; Largest Field He Has Found; Local Office Third in State.

W. C. Beck, formerly of Plainview, has returned to take charge of local headquarters for the Heer Engine Company, of Portsmouth, Ohio. Mr. Beck has been over a considerable portion of the United State for the Heer Company since leaving Plainview; he also went into Canada.

"This is one of the greatest fields for tractors and stationary engines in all America," Mr. Beck said yesterday. He will have all of West Texas, and whatever territory the company may enter in New Mexico, for the present.

Plainview is the third town in Texas to be made headquarters by the Heer Company. San Antonio and Dallas are the other places. P. C. Benedict, sales manager of the company, is in Plainview this week, looking over the territory.

CUMMONS SAYS CAN WORK MORE ON SOUTH PLAINS.

Self and Son Farm 560 Acres; Has Not Grown Fewer Than 40 Bushels Oats to an Acre.

J. C. Cummons is a South Plains farmer who says that hard work will produce results. Mr. Cummons thinks that irrigation as an insurance policy to use whenever the crops need water is too valuable to be without; but he thinks that a man can make a good living without irrigation.

Mr. Cummons moved to the South Plains from Southeast Missouri five years ago. "We have never grown fewer than 40 bushels of oats to the acre without irrigation," Mr. Cummons said Tuesday, "and we have often made 65 bushels. My farm has averaged 20 bushels of wheat to the acre for five years. I grow all the garden vegetables I want, and have some to sell every summer."

Mr. Cummons says that he can grow Irish potatoes just as well here as he did in Missouri. With the help of one son, Mr. Cummons farms 560 acres of land, "and we cultivate it, too," Mr. Cummons said. "I can explain why he has never made fewer than forty bushels of oats to the acre. Because of the large number of sunny days and pleasant temperature, Mr. Cummons says that a man can do more work here than any place he has ever lived. The altitude bothers him a little."

Mr. Box had to stop for a puncture on the trip to Lockney. He repaired the mishap and returned with his "freight" in just fifty-five minutes. Mr. Box says that he made the return trip of seventeen miles in exactly nineteen minutes. He was riding a "Twin Indian."

DRIVES "INDIAN" SEVENTEEN MILES IN NINETEEN MINUTES.

Box Makes Trip to Lockney and Returns in Fifty-Five Minutes; Puncture En Route.

W. H. Box has set a new record with his motorcycle. Monday a quick trip to Lockney for medicine became necessary. Garage men suggested that they could make the round trip in two hours, and Box was called on to beat their time. He did it.

Mr. Box had to stop for a puncture on the trip to Lockney. He repaired the mishap and returned with his "freight" in just fifty-five minutes. Mr. Box says that he made the return trip of seventeen miles in exactly nineteen minutes. He was riding a "Twin Indian."

SILO PROVING VALUABLE, SAYS GEO. M. JANES.

Resident from Southwest Part of County Thinks New Methods Will Increase Profits.

The silo is making friends for itself over Hale County after actual trial. The most encouraging feature is that most new silos are being built where the first ones were put up.

"The silo is a fixture with us," said Geo. M. Janes, from the southwest part of the county, yesterday. It enables the feeder to save more of his feed, and puts the feed in such shape that stock eating it gets far more food value than from other forms of feed." The silo is a sort of insurance policy for profitable crop yields.

Mr. Janes says that farmers are plowing, although it is too dry to do much with mould board ploughs. Most farmers at this time are using the disc.

Mrs. J. W. Willis was called Saturday to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. R. L. Jackson, at Franklin, Texas. Mrs. Willis writes back that her sister is some better, but still in a critical condition.

CIVIC LEAGUE AFTER CLEAN-TOWN PRIZE

Plainview Women Ask Co-operation of Citizens in Effort to Win Holland Award.

MEN MUST HELP, TOO

Mrs. Heard Thanks Texas Land and Development Co.; Points Out Advantages of Clean Town.

The March meeting of the Civic League will be held in the "Rest Room" in the Court House on Wednesday, the fifth, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The President is much gratified at the interest shown and the co-operation promised by city officials, teachers, business men and householders.

The generous offer of the Texas Land and Development Company is thoroughly appreciated, and the League is ready to do everything possible to capture the thousand-dollar prize offered by Holland's Magazine and the supplementary one of the Development Company, but it must be fully understood that this is quite as much the work for men as for women.

Plainview is a town of wide spaces, and much labor will be needed to put the town in the required condition and keep it so—but will not the result be well worth the effort?

Laborers seem to be scarce—and, if they were not, money to pay them is—so we need co-operation not in sentiment only, but in the planning and in the hard work necessary to the carrying out of the plans.

"The Cleanest Town in Texas" would be a name worth having, to say nothing of the greater good of living under ideal physical conditions.

Working together for an ideal town would promote acquaintance and understanding among citizens; the good fellowship already existing would be increased. The prizes would be a substantial sum toward carrying out any one of the several plans under consideration; and in case of failure it isn't defeat so long as an improved town is a visible result of the effort. However, if we try for them, we will not talk of failure, but work to win.

MRS. R. G. HEARD,
Secretary, Civic League.

DAWSON PRODUCE CO. TO OPEN LOCAL HOUSE.

Bought 12,000 Pounds of Poultry on Local Market; Will Make Car-load Shipment of Eggs.

Dawson Produce Company, of Amarillo, will open a local house in Plainview, according to statement of A. B. Evans. Mr. Evans was in Plainview Tuesday looking for a location.

The Dawson Produce Company shipped a carload of poultry from Floydada, Lockney and Plainview in February. More than 12,000 pounds was brought into Plainview. The company is so well pleased with the outlook here that they will open a house and ship eggs out in carload lots, Mr. Evans said.

The South Plains has demonstrated its superiority as a poultry country, and, with the stimulus of car-load shippers in Plainview, Hale County farmers should take up poultry growing more extensively.

MAYOR DORSETT AT CALVARY.

"The Christian Man and His Church" is the subject Mayor J. L. Dorsett will speak on at Calvary Baptist Church on Sunday morning. Brother Dorsett has just returned from the Laymen's Missionary Convention at Chattanooga, Tenn., and will have a live message for men.

Sunday will be "Man's Day" at Calvary, and we hope the men will come out. We shall ask the men to sit in a body and we expect to have them sing a special song.

Of course, the women are not debarred from this service; Brother Dorsett will have a message for them, too.

Let the whole family come out. It is for all.

C. R. HAIRFIELD, Pastor.

J. E. Massey, manager for W. C. Reagan & Co., Petersburg, is in Plainview today.

AUTO KILLS FIFTY A WEEK

Figures Compiled by Police Chief in Nation's Crusade for Stricter Laws.

NEW YORK STATE FIRST

More Than Forty Persons Injured by Reckless Driving Every Twenty-Four Hours.

Fifty to seventy-five persons are being killed in the United States every week, and forty to fifty are being injured every twenty-four hours, by automobile mishaps, largely due to reckless driving, according to reports compiled by Chief of Police Dunn of Omaha, Nebraska, says an Omaha dispatch in the Dallas News. Chief Dunn is compiling these figures for use of the National Association of Police Chiefs in the fight of that organization to prevent motor car accidents.

Chief Dunn has just made public the report of automobile accidents for the five weeks ending January 23, and the statistics show that in that period 203 persons met death in these mishaps, while 1,230 were injured. The number of accidents was 1,275.

In this report are included only automobile accidents which occurred in those cities and towns which maintain police organizations. According to Chief Dunn, there are almost as many accidents in the country and in villages as there are in the cities and larger towns.

Nation-Wide Crusade Started.

The National Association of Police Chiefs is preparing a Nation-wide crusade against reckless automobilism, and to Chief Dunn has been delegated the gathering of statistics. At the coming annual convention of the chiefs a set of laws will be prepared from the combined experience of all members of the association, and every city and town in the United States and Canada will be asked to place these in effect.

In the five weeks covered by the report deaths from automobile accidents occurred in thirty-five States of the Union and in three provinces of Canada. New Hampshire was the

EVERETT KEMP, TUESDAY NIGHT.

Interpretative Reader Is Fourth Number of Wayland Lyceum.

Everett Kemp, the interpretative reader, will appear at the Opera House on Tuesday night, March 4th, as the fourth number of the Wayland Lyceum Course.

Many have said, "It is worth the price just to hear Kemp laugh." He is a born comedian, and brings to his audience that rare treat—clean, pure fun. Everybody likes his funny people, but, best of all, they like him. His fine sympathetic nature, wide versatility and keen perception enables him to interpret the more serious side of life in a way pleasing to all.

It will be well for you not to miss hearing Mr. Kemp, says Dean Reynolds.

DR. ROBINSON, OF AMARILLO, WILL SPEAK MONDAY NIGHT.

Dr. E. E. Robinson, pastor of the Polk Street Methodist Church at Amarillo, will give a lecture at the Methodist Church Monday night, March 3rd.

This lecture is made possible by the Young Preachers' Association of Seth Ward College. There will be no charge, and the young preachers are solicitous that all hear Dr. Robinson.

Those who heard Dr. Robinson in his address at the opening of Seth Ward College in September will be glad to hear him again.

SNEED "NOT GUILTY."

Jury at Vernon Returns Verdict After Fifty-Five Minutes.

John Beall Sneed is a free man. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the charge of killing Al Boyce, Jr. The case was concluded at Vernon, Texas, February 25.

MERCHANTS FORM CREDIT ASSOCIATION.

Local Dealers Will Prevent Losses by Acquainting Themselves with Individuals; Coleman Is Secretary.

Plainview merchants have determined to prevent loss, in so far as possible, by the formation of a credit rating association. E. T. Coleman has been chosen secretary.

"The loss from unpaid accounts is one of the largest items a merchant has to figure against in extending credit," Mr. Coleman says. "The Association will not only try to determine those who are not entitled to credit, but also extend to those who are reliable the credit which in fairness they should have."

The Association will affiliate with the State Association, which is represented in nearly every town in Texas. Ratings can be had on parties moving to Plainview from such towns on request to the secretary. It looks as though every business man should "get in" on this.

LET US BE MEN.

The situation in Plainview calls for men. The building of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railroad into Plainview gives Plainview first place among cities on the Plains—the present pre-eminence of Amarillo notwithstanding.

We must pay a price for the Q. A. & P. It will be necessary to bear part of the expense for one or two more railroads into Plainview. Then railroads will ask for the privilege of coming.

Any man who contributes to the fund of $100.00 for the Quanah, Acme & Pacific is making an investment which will yield a sure return of 100 per cent, as against the loss of the new road. It is possible to sit idly by and let this railroad build eighteen miles to the south; or let it go to Lubbock—such inaction means the passing of the opportunity for primacy on the Plains. It means immense loss to every merchant, land owner, banker and working man in Plainview.

There is not a citizen in Plainview who intends that the Quanah, Acme & Pacific shall go anywhere other than through Plainview. But it is time for action; the moment calls for a united and mighty effort. Surely no man in Plainview will prove traitor to the town, to friends, and to his own best interests, at this crisis.

Let us devote ourselves to the great object of empire building and to the immediate crisis so fit for our action; let us raise our conceptions to the magnitude of the duties that are upon us; let our comprehension be as broad as the country for which we act, our aspirations as high as its certain destiny.

Let us not be pigmies in a case that calls for men.

FLORAL COMPANY ENLARGES.

Jeffries & Keys Propose to Supply Cut Flowers, Pot Plants and Garden Cuttings.

The Plainview Floral Company has completed an addition 10 x 100 feet to its green house, and will still further enlarge, Mr. Jeffries says, if it is necessary to do so in order to take care of the wants of the people. Mr. Jeffries will build a board fence on the south side of the green house, forming an inclosure in which he expects to grow all kinds of garden vegetables which are bedded.

Mr. Jeffries has arranged with Hermann Bluehr for twenty-eight lots west and north of the green house. These lots will be inclosed and put in shrubbery. Four of the lots Mr. Jeffries will put in Tamarac, which will be sold for wind rows. Tamarac makes a growth of eight to ten feet in a year, and in three years becomes a tree twenty feet high, or more. It furnishes a splendid wind break.

With large facilities, Mr. Jeffries proposes to keep everything that Plainview people may want in his line. He will grow roses, geraniums and chrysanthemums for the rose garden; also all sorts of bedded plants for the garden; and cut flowers and pot plants.

E. S. Keys is connected with Mr. Jeffries in the business and will aid in its development.

DALMONT SHIPS TREES.

L. N. Dalmont, of the Plainview Nursery, shipped twenty-eight bundles of trees today; twelve bundles went to Slaton, one to Canyon and fifteen to Tahoka.

DECKER SAYS, "IT IS UP TO YOU"

General Attorney for the Q. A. & P., Tells Plainview Citizens Opportunity Is Theirs.

LIKES HALE COUNTY

Partial to South Plains Since Eating Peaches, Tomatoes and Potatoes Grown Here Long Ago.

"It is up to the people of Plainview," Judge D. E. Decker said to a Herald representative this morning. "I am sure that if you make good on the proposition of $100,000 and right-of-way you can get the Q. A. & P." Judge Decker said that Mr. Lazarus, President of the road, will be on the South Plains in ten days or two weeks, and that Plainview should have something definite to say to him.

Judge Decker said that Mr. Lazarus had not favored coming to Plainview until the shallow water development began. But the possibilities for tonnage here are such that the officials of the Q. A. & P. are willing to build out of the direct line in order to increase traffic.

Judge Decker called attention to the fact that the railroad would have to build some eighteen miles out of line in order to reach Plainview. This would not only be an increased cost in construction, but would entail increased cost of operation for all time. And the $100,000, plus right-of-way, he thought was only a small part of the expense the Q. A. & P. would go in order to operate through Plainview.

"We are willing to build our depot on North Pacific Street, on South Pacific Street or we will put in $20,000 with $20,000 from the Santa Fe and build a union depot at the foot of East Main Street," Judge Decker said. "We expect to expand, and should be 3,000 feet by 300 feet wide for yards."

Judge Decker believes that Hale County has a great future. It is up to the people, he says. Judge Decker used to try cases in Plainview. "I have always liked your country since Judge Kinder used to bring me peaches, tomatoes, potatoes and other samples of the splendid fruits and vegetables you grow out here. I should like very much to live in Plainview."

TO PREVENT FRAUDULENT SALES OF REAL ESTATE.

Texas Immigration Bureau Will Protect Prospective Settlers from "Sharks."

J. J. Stein, of the Texas Immigration Bureau, with headquarters at Dallas, has been soliciting membership in the Bureau among local real estate men this week. This is a State-wide bureau of information, which proposes to protect investors from unscrupulous real estate men. It is enlisting the support of the best real estate men everywhere. "And this class of men are doing more to develop Texas than anybody else," Mr. Stein said.

"There were 1,000,000 acres of land sold in Texas last year by men who had no title to it," Mr. Stein said. "It is our purpose to prevent such practices. We issue a monthly magazine for distribution all over the country. The Texas Immigration Bureau is a stock company, and all members are stock holders. Whenever anybody becomes interested in any part of Texas and asks for information we refer him to a person whom we know is reliable in that section."

The organization already covers one-third of Texas, and is backed by Governor Colquitt, according to Mr. Stein. Otus Reeves Realty Company, H. E. Skaggs and Walter Jeffus have made application for membership, and Mr. Stein says other Plainview men are looking into the matter with a view of taking membership.

Mr. Stein went to Hereford today.

EL PASO GETTING READY FOR CATTLEMEN.

"El Paso will be lit up like a horse and buggy for the Big Roundup of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, March 18, 19 and 20," says the El Paso Chamber of Commerce.

It is said that the decoration committee will attempt to surpass the efforts of the Taft-Diaz decorations, by having more flags and bunting hung on the business houses and residences than was in evidence at the time when El Paso was the best decorated city in the State. The committee is arranging to string the street intersections and plazas with lights in the red, white and red colors of the convention.

It is also preparing to carry on a militant campaign to have each business house, store and building in El Paso dressed up like a June bride. All down South El Paso and Oregon Streets the little marchants will be asked to line up with the bunting stuff and help to paint the town red and white.

The public buildings are to be decorated by experts, the big skyscrapers will be masses of flags and the Mills building will have more than 500 flags. The new hotel will also be decorated both inside and out, and the union station, Federal Building and downtown stores will have original displays of colors and cattlemen's effects.

FOREIGN MARKET

FOR KAFFIR CORN.

Weatherford, Okla., Shipped 78,000 Bushels to Europe; Expert Asks Co-operation of Farmers.

Oklahoma has found a new market for Kaffir that can be developed to assimilate 75,000,000 bushels, says the Wichita, Kans., Beacon. It has been shown that Oklahoma farmers can make twice as much by feeding Kaffir as by selling it, but that those not wishing to feed can sell all they can raise for the European market next year, is the opinion of those who have investigated the markets.

W. A. Brooks, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Oklahoma City, has received a letter from H. M. Cottrell, of the Rock Island, giving data secured in Galveston, relating to foreign shipments of Kaffir, and suggesting that the matter of exploiting the market be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce through the department of State at Washington.

A Big Shipment Recorded.

During December, 78,000 bushels of Kaffir from the Weatherford district were shipped from Galveston to Liverpool and Antwerp. There are now 100,000 bushels of Kaffir in storage at Galveston or en route to Galveston for shipment to Europe. Prices have been asked on 150,000 bushels to be shipped to Harve, France, and on 350,000 bushels for shipment to German points. Shippers of Galveston are confident that the total shipment of Kaffir to Europe by July 1 will amount to 500,000 bushels. Tests are being made by the government to see if Kaffir can be used to make the bread needed by the German army. It is said that the value of Kaffir is not well known in Europe now, but that because of the shortage of corn during the past few years consumers are beginning to investigate Kaffir as a substitute.

There Is Big Demand.

V. H. Shoffelmayer, editor of the "Southwest Trail," ascertained that 1,000,000 bushels of Kaffir have been shipped from Galveston to New York during the past year, and there is a strong demand for it along the Eastern coast.

It is proposed that the Chamber of Commerce of Oklahoma City take up the matter, through the department of State at Washington, with American consuls in Europe, calling the attention of the European markets to the value of Kaffir and the large supply available in this country. This new market, it is believed, will eliminate the objections that some have raised to the increase of Kaffir acreage in Oklahoma, as the surplus not used for feeding can be exported.

CATTLE CONTINUE TO ADVANCE.

Kansas City Market Is Strong, In Face of Heavier Run; Hog Receipts Light.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Feb. 24.—Cattle trade conditions improved on all kinds last week, 25 to 40 cents advance being secured on middle-class steers, including quarantines, a similar gain on stock cattle and feeders, about 25 cents on the upper grades of native steers, and the same on butcher cattle. It was accomplished notwithstanding the fact that the run was a little heavier last week than it had been previously.

Killers have been running close to shore all winter, and when the beef trade expanded a little last week and the week before they were forced to show their empty-handedness. Moderate runs are at all points today, receipts here today 11,000 head, same as last Monday, and prices are strong to 10 cents higher.

Commission men regard the situation as strong, but say the edge could be quickly removed by over-supply, or a reverse in the beef trade. Neither of these conditions is apt to occur, as most of the fed cattle are now in strong hands, though some cattle were here today contrary to advice of commission men, and cold weather is good for the beef trade. Most shippers do not realize the amount of the recent advance on medium steers, and many were pleasantly surprised here today.

Ed Harrison, Greenwood County, Kansas, topped the native steer market with one load of 1,463-pound steers at $8.85. Bulk of the native steers sold at $8.00 and upwards, sugar-mills steers from Northern Colorado, $8.00 to $8.40; Colorado feeders, $7.90; quarantine steers, $7.35 to $7.90; native heifers, $7.20; cows, $7.00; Colorado cows, $6.45.

Hog receipts continue to run far behind a year ago, and the tendency is upward, with slight interruptions. Receipts today 5,000, market 10 to 15

SEVENTY-FIVE OF HUNDRED SCHOOL CHILDREN DEFECTIVE.

Physical Education Expert Says Majority of Troubles May Be Remedied; Best Work Impossible.

Of the 20,000,000 school children in this country, not less than 75 per cent "need attention today for physical defects which are prejudicial to health and which are partially or completely remediable." This is the finding of Dr. Thos. D. Wood, professor of physical education in the Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, and published for free distribution by the United States Bureau of Education.

"Careful study of statistics and estimation of all conditions leads to the following personal conclusions," writes Dr. Woods:

"From 1 1/2 to 2 per cent, or 400,000, of these have organic heart disease.

"Probably 5 per cent, or 1,000,000, at least, have now or have had tuberculosis of the lungs.

"About 5 per cent, or 1,000,000, have spinal curvature, flat foot or some other moderate deformity serious enough to interfere to some degree with health.

"Over 5 per cent, or 1,000,000, have defective hearing.

"About 25 per cent, or 5,000,000, have defective vision.

"About 25 per cent, or 5,000,000, are suffering from malnutrition, in many cases due in part, at least, to one or more of the other defects enumerated.

"Over 50 per cent, or 10,000,000 (in some schools as high as 89 per cent), have defective teeth which are interfering with health.

"Several millions of the children possess, each, two or more of the handicapping defects.

"About 100 cities in the United States have as many different kinds of organizations for the care of health in the schools.

"The most important of all our National resources is the health of the people. The most valuable asset in our capital of National vitality is the health of the children.

"Public education is the logical, strategic and the responsible agency of the Nation, of each State, and of each community for the conservation and enhancement of child health."

"To become an effective instrument for the protection and promotion of child health, it is essential that the schools should not only be a sanitary, healthful place for children, but that the various agencies in public education should be so organized that each pupil may be given the best possible opportunity to escape weakness and disease, and far more to realize the attainable best in growth, in development of biologic, intellectual, moral, social and economic power."—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

LAYING TRANS-ATLANTIC CABLES

At Present There Are Sixteen Between the Two Continents.

The history of the submarine cable is a striking instance of success achieved in the face of enormous odds. How important is the industry of today is evidenced when it is stated that the various cable companies maintain a fleet of more than forty telegraph ships, whose duty it is to lay new lines or repair the 257,000 miles of cable already at the bottom of the sea.

All the cables now in existence have, with a few insignificant exceptions, come from three large cable factories on the banks of the Thames, England.

A submarine cable consists of three parts—the conductor, or central copper wire, through which the electric current passes; the insulator, or gutta percha covering, designed to prevent the escape of electricity, and the sheathing, or outer steel wires, added to give the cable sufficient strength to be proof against the strain of laying and taking up.

The conductor, which usually consists of six fine copper wires stranded around a central one, has three coverings of gutta percha, alternated with a sticky compound to make them adhere perfectly together. The smallest airhole or pin prick causes a fault in the cable, which the current rapidly develops until signaling becomes impossible.

Today there are no fewer than sixteen cables between Europe and North America.

It was on August 16, 1858, after repeated heroic attempts and disheartening failures, that the first message passed through the cable, namely: "Europe and America are united by telegraph! Glory to God in the highest; on earth peace, good will toward men."

In the following October, however, the line gave out, after transmitting 732 messages during a period of three months. Appropriately enough, the last word was "forward." The cable collapsed because too powerful induc-

If you are using lard for shortening and frying, we would simply suggest that Cottolene is recognized and recommended by leading physicians, domestic science authorities, and culinary experts generally, as being more wholesome, digestible and producing better food.

Cottolene is a vegetable product—pure in source and making—and is bound to be better and safer than lard.

tion coils had been used, or, in other words, high pressure steam had been got up in a low pressure boiler.

It was not until eight years later that the second cable was laid by that remarkable vessel, the Great Eastern.

Special ships are now requisitioned for the work of laying and repairing cables, the largest vessel in the fleet today being the Silvertown. Its three tanks wherein the cables are stored are thirty feet in depth and average thirty feet in diameter. Their cubical contents are one-third greater than those of the Great Eastern. Owing to the size of the tanks, the vessel has a large beam, the bridge being fifty-five feet broad. It could lay a cable across the Atlantic in twelve days.

The cost of cable making and laying varies from $1,000 to $1,500 a mile. The last long submarine wire laid was that from Vancouver across the Pacific Ocean to Australia. Some parts of this wire lie nearly five miles below the surface of the ocean. To repair such a cable, should it get damaged, is a troublesome business. Nowadays the engineer can tell exactly where the fault lies, and then a grapnel is lowered to fish for the damaged part. It may be found at once, or it may mean a weary search of weeks, or even months. Once well and truly laid, a cable may be expected to last for forty years, provided the conditions are favorable. Before now they have been damaged by sharks and swordfish, while in tropical waters it has been found necessary to protect the lines from the attack of the teredo or boring worm.

When the first cable was laid it would only transmit two words a minute. Now 160 words can be transmitted in the same space of time. A little while ago, when wireless telegraphy came to the front, many people thought that submarine cables were doomed. Seeing that more than 100,000 miles of cable have been laid since the Marconi Company was first established, there would appear to be no sign of cables being replaced by wireless telegraphy.—Chicago Examiner.

MAKE IT AT HOME

A pint made from pure materials costs less than a small bottle of ordinary patent tonics.

If scalp diseases were painful, hair would receive more prompt attention and fewer people be bald or have unhealthy scalps. Dandruff and itching scalp are dangerous diseases, because mild in action.

Do not neglect scalp diseases. This Quinoina tonic makes the head feel good; cures, stimulates, cleanses and invigorates the scalp so that thick, fluffy, natural hair grows.

Get 1 ounce Quinoina from druggist, dissolve in half pint alcohol (not whiskey) and add half pint of cold water. Rub into scalp and hair roots twice a week, massaging gently.

HOW TO GET GREATEST MILEAGE OUT OF TIRES.

Tire Expert Givas Reasons Why Rules for Care and Treatment Should Be Observed.

At a meeting of the Dallas Automobile Club held Wednesday of last week, W. F. Gordon, manager of the United States Tire Company, gave an interesting address on "A Tale of a Tire-Troubled Motorist; How He Found a Way Out of It." The Dallas Automobile Club gave Mr. Gordon an unanimous vote of thanks, says the Dallas News. Mr. Gordon said, in part:

"About a year and a half ago I contracted a severe case of 'automobilitis,' which failed to respond to even the most drastic cures several of my non-motoring friends attempted to apply in the shape of tales of towering tire bills, endless repair expense and so on.

"I spent my days listening attentively to the persuasive eloquence of salesmen on Automobile Row, and my nights in dreaming of red cars, green cars, white cars and blue cars.

"When I finally bought a car my stock of information regarding the tires consisted of the general impression that they were made of rubber, filled with air and were a necessary evil which a fellow must endure in order to own a motor car.

"Then my troubles began—not with the car. I spent hours carefully 'grooming' it—adjusting the carburetor and oiling the transmission. It ran as smoothly as a top.

Let Tires Take Care of Themselves.
"The tires, however, I left to take care of themselves, and they made an utter failure of the job.

"The only attention they got was when they rose up in indignation and demanded it, by blowing out, usually picking some little-frequented spot, miles away from the garage, to make their demands more impressive.

"On such occasions I rigidly adhered to the time-honored custom of motorists the world over in such cases, and proceeded as follows:

"First, delivered myself of a few carefully-chosen comments on the tire-maker's character, ability and product.

"Second, returned the injured tire with the demand that I be given a new one, and, upon being told that the injury was the result of misuse, concluded that the tire adjuster was a liar, and decided that in the future I would use some other brand.

"Third, put on a new tire and repeated the whole performance all over again.

"Not once did I inquire into the cause of the trouble or try to find out what I could do to prevent it.

"Up went my tire bills, and louder grew my complaints against the whole tribe of tire-makers.

"One day, however, I woke up. In talking with a motoring friend of mine I learned that he drove the same make and weight of car I did, used the same brand of tires I happened to be using at the time, and was getting from 30 to 50 per cent more mileage out of them than I did.

How to Get Most Mileage.
"That put me up against a real live problem. The question was, How did he do it? And, if he got such mileage, why couldn't I?

"It was beyond all reason to believe that he drew all the good tires and I had all the defective ones.

"I took care of them properly," was his explanation of it. "You want to find out how to treat your tires in order to get the full amount of mileage out of them," he began. "I am going to make you a proposition. A man is nothing but an overgrown boy in one respect: he hates a rule unless he knows the 'why' for it. Instead of giving you the mass of abstract information and rules we have collected on tire care, I will first show you the 'why' of them by letting you see how a tire is made. All that is necessary for your purpose is to know that crude rubber is obtained in the form of a thick white liquid from the rubber trees of South America. It is made ready for market by dipping a paddle into the liquid and holding it in the smoke of a palm-nut fire. Layer after layer is added in this way, until the whole mass grows as large as a good-sized ham. This rubber biscuit is then split in half and shipped to the rubber factories in the North."

"Here this rubber is put through a course of washing and ironings, immense machinery being used for this purpose, and after a period of several months it is converted into clear, pure rubber, but this pure rubber is no more suitable for making tires than pure gold is for making jewelry. It must be toughened by adding certain ingredients in the compounding room. The adding of these ingredients represents the secrets of the various tire-building companies, and the matter of producing the best tire really depends upon the chemistry department of the various tire companies, and their knowledge of results obtained in the past with certain mixtures.

"Automobile tires are built up in two parts. The carcass, or inner fabric frame work, is built up of piles of heavy cotton fabric impregnated with rubber. The tread, or outer rubber cover, takes the wear of the road, and is composed of the toughest rubber it is possible to produce."

Mr. Gordon followed with a technical discussion of the manufacture and use of tires.

Wooden ventilators extend down among the potatoes. A thermometer in the cellar is made to register a constant temperature of about 60 degrees.

The potatoes are dug in such a way as not to bruise them. First the vines are clipped close to the ground. A lister is run as deep as possible between the rows, and the potatoes turned up. The vines are left on the ground to replenish the soil.

J. W. Balthorp, neighbor of Rollins, is making a good income from sweet potatoes. He cultivated 17 acres last season, and already has sold $1,700 worth of potatoes. This year he will plant 40 acres to sweet potatoes.

FIFTY-FIVE THOUSAND MOTOR TRUCKS NOW IN GENERAL USE.

Vast Increase Over Entire Country; Expected Will Displace Horses for Commercial Purposes in Century.

There are at present 55,000 motor trucks, valued at $120,000,000, in use in the United States, according to Walter Wardrop, of Chicago. Mr. Wardrop is regarded as an undisputed authority on the motor truck. He predicts a great change in the motor trucks of the future and a vast increase in their use all over the country. As streets and roads improve the trucks will be made lighter, more powerful and much speedier. Greater efficiency will be developed.

Motor wagon fleets of prominence cited by Mr. Wardrop include 178 trucks of a value of $350,000 in use by John Wanamaker and 109 by Marshall Field, which have cost $400,000. The Gimbel stores in New York use 127 motor delivery wagons, Carson-Pirie-Scott & Co., Chicago, sixty-four machines, and the Fair, Chicago, fifty-four power-driven wagons. The American Express Company uses 377 machines, of a value of $800,000, and is the leading user of commercial wagons in the United States. The United States Express Company has but fifty-three machines, valued at $175,000. The Wells-Fargo Express Company operates a total of forty-two machines.

Physical Development of Draft Horse at End.

According to Mr. Wardrop, the physical development of the draft horse is at an end, and the commercial wagon is coming so rapidly that a century hence there will be mighty few horses used in commercial business circles. He does not believe strongly in the talk of a horseless city. Progress will be made slowly in the up-growth of the commercial car, as the horse has been omnipresent, and it will be many years before universal sentiment will change to the delivery wagon for the grocer, butcher and small dealers generally.

The great firms that have ridged themselves of their horse equipment almost altogether and have taken to the motor truck for all work have reported a vast saving and increasing satisfaction every year, and the results obtained by the big users are being used generally by motor truck manufacturers to push the sale of commercial cars to smaller merchants, and with rapidly increasing success.

Among dealers all over the country there is a feeling that the manufacturers of pleasure cars will shortly turn generally to the manufacture of motor trucks, and when these leading makers, with their enormous facilities, turn to the commercial car with their name and reputation and place their force at work and their enormous advertising into the new field for them, then the motor truck industry generally will profit and those makers who are today manufacturing only commercial trucks, and in so many instances but in a small way, will develop and become great manufacturers.

SMALL SWEET POTATO FIELD PAYS FOR FARM.

Oklahoma Farmer Makes More Than $250 an Acre on Ground Devoted to Yams.

R. L. Rollins, of Beebe, Oklahoma, has paid for a farm of 200 acres during the last ten years wholly by raising sweet potatoes on a small part of the farm, says an Ada, Oklahoma, dispatch. Mr. Rollins' favorite varieties are the Dooley, the Bradley and the pumpkin yam. Last year Rollins planted four and one-half acres to sweet potatoes, and gathered 1,075 bushels. He lost 20 bushels, supplied his table during the winter and received $1,100 for the remainder. Last season Rollins harvested 1,800 bushels from nine acres, and says he expects to get $200 for his crop.

Rollins has built a special cellar for keeping his potatoes through the winter. The walls and floors are of concrete, and from 4 to 6 inches thick.

TEXAS FIRST IN BEE INDUSTRY.

Nine Farms in Every Hundred Have Bees; Output Valued at $322,278.

Washington, D. C.—Texas ranks first among the States of the Union in the bee-keeping industry, according to the report of the Thirteenth Federal Census, recently issued. The actual production in 1910 was 3,093,097 pounds of honey, valued at $308,488, and 58,402 pounds of wax, valued at $14,310, or a total valuation of $322,798 for the product.

The average yield per colony for the State of Texas was 25 to 30 pounds of comb honey and 40 to 50 pounds of extracted honey, the former bringing the producer from 15 to 25 cents per pound when sold directly to the consumer. The quality and flavor of the Texas honey produced in 1909 was unexcelled, and the last decade shows a great expansion and marked improvement in all phases of the industry in the Lone Star State. About nine farms in every hundred reported bees in 1910, but during the last two years this average has been increased, as the tendency of all apiarists has been to keep more bees and for others to engage in the industry.

The following races of bees are found in Texas: Italian, Black, Cyprian, Palestine, Carniolan, Banat and Caucasian.

Beekeeping is a valuable by-product of the apary, bringing 20 to 30 cents per pound to the producer.

FIFTY-THREE MILLION DOLLARS FOR 1912 TIMBER PRODUCTION.

Fort Worth, Texas.—Market conditions caused a stimulus in the output of lumber in Texas for 1912, and it is estimated that last year's production of the Lone Star State was approximately 2,000,000,000 feet, which brought the highest price of any previous year.

The value of the year's production, after passing through the process of manufacture, was $53,398,577, according to data compiled by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association. For the year preceding September 1, 1911, the highest price obtained for yellow pine stack was $13.20, and the lowest $11.30. Quotations have gradually advanced this year, until the present selling price of the product averages $18.50 per thousand feet.

It is estimated that there are 466 mills operating in Texas at present, of which 376 operate exclusively upon pine, 70 upon both pine and hardwood, and 20 mills upon hardwood timber exclusively. The consumption of lumber in Texas is about equal to the product of the Texas mills, but all of the product of the Texas mills does not find a market in the State. The mills of Arkansas and Louisiana reach Texas upon substantially the same freight rate as the mills located in Texas pay to the consuming territory, and, in consequence, about 70 per cent of the timber consumed in Texas is manufactured in Louisiana and Arkansas. Only about 30 per cent of the product of Texas mills finds a market in the home State.

JANSEN PLEASURES.

Swedish Entertainer Delights Audience with Versatile Program.

Karl Jansen, the Swedish entertainer, delighted a large audience at the Methodist Church Friday night, for the benefit of the drinking fountain for the public schools.

Mr. Jansen is a skillful impersonator, and the variety of his selections, ranging from the strictly humorous to the highly dramatic, showed him to be a master in the art of entertaining. His impersonation of how different nationalities make love was highly entertaining to the lads and lassies. Mr. Jansen's demonstration of physical culture was graceful. Altogether, the entertainment was high class and instructive.

While in Plainview Mr. Jansen spoke to the students at both Wayland and Seth Ward Colleges and to the different divisions of the public school. From all of these came words of the highest commendation for his ability to entertain.

RAILROAD BUILDING ACTIVITY IN JANUARY.

Fort Worth, Texas.—According to a record kept by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association on railroad construction in Texas, there were 48 miles of steel rails laid and 75 miles of grading done on new road and extensions during January.

Actual construction work was in progress on ten railroads during January, one of which reported completion. This was Scholten Brothers' train line from Lometa to their cedar forests in San Saba County.

The San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf Railway completed their extension towards the Gulf as far as Campbellton during the month, and placed the line in operation to this point.

WINNERS THANK FRIENDS.

Mary Russell Wins Piano; Alma Hamilton, Second; Minnie Finch, Third.

Mary Russell won the piano offered by Long Drug Company. Alma Hamilton was second, and was awarded a dinner set of thirteen pieces. Minnie Finch was given a thirteen-piece chocolate set as third prize. The contest closed Wednesday night of last week, but the winners were not announced until Friday.

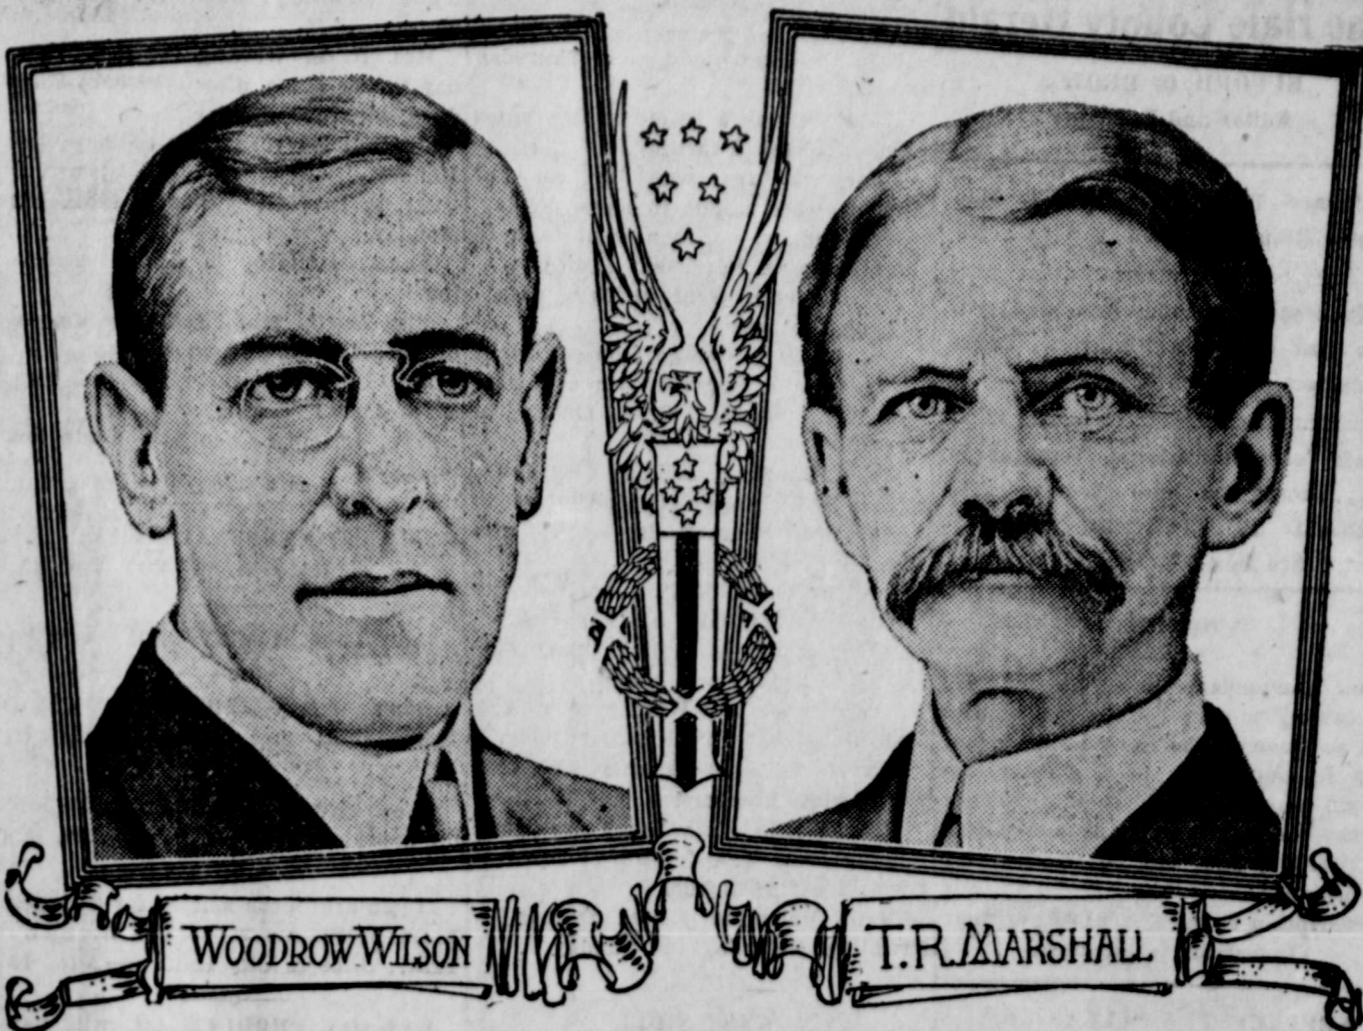

Miss Russell says: "I wish to thank my friends who helped me to win the piano given away by Long Drug Co. I wish that I might thank each one in person. I also want to thank Mr. Long for his fairness. I hope that his business may grow to be one of the largest on the South Plains. I wish to thank B. O. Brown, of The Herald, for the manner in which he conducted his part in the contest, and I hope that the time may rapidly come when every family in Hale and adjoining counties may be reading The Hale County Herald." Signed, "MARY E. RUSSELL, No. 98."

Misses Hamilton and Finch have asked The Herald to express their thanks as worded above by Miss Russell.

"HOME ECONOMICS WEEK" GREAT SUCCESS.

Austin, Texas.—"Home Economics Week," which has just closed at the University of Texas, is said to be the first event of its kind ever held in the South, and was most successful from every standpoint. During the week lectures and studies relating to the operation of the home to the best financial advantage were delivered by experts in modern home making. Dr. A. Caswell Ellis, of the University faculty, supervised the exercises. The progress of the meeting was watched with interest by educators throughout the State.

Mrs. S. S. S. Van Buren St. Kingston, N. Y. (full name furnished on application), had such decided benefit from using Foley's Honey & Tar Compound that she shares her good fortune with others. She writes: "Foley's Honey & Tar Compound brought my voice back to me during a severe case of bronchitis and laryngitis. Oh, how many people I have recommended it to!" Remember the name, Foley's Honey & Tar Compound, and refuse substitutes. Contains no opiates. R. A. Long's Drug Store. Adv. 9

KEEP UP THE "CLEAN-UP."

So far so good for "Clean Up" in Plainview. Still there are some street papers blowing at every one's door on windy days; just a few vacant lots yet to be disturbed; those old pieces of wagons, automobiles and portions of other dilapidated, non-usable things cast aside, are yet slumbering on some of the vacant lots.

No statute ever becomes a law except the people demand its enforcement, and cleanliness, in so far as a municipality is concerned, is best achieved by education. Once there is a demand for clean streets, clean alleys and an all-round clean town, the statute will be provided.

To make our town more desirable to look upon, no citizen can shirk his duty, and it will be necessary to secure the united co-operation of the people. It can be done by systematic, concerted effort, and is well worth the price in more ways than one.

A LESSON IN CITY BUILDING.

Don't you know there's lots of people settin' 'round in every town, Growlin' like a broody chicken, Knockin' every good thing down? Don't you be that kind of cattle, 'Cause they ain't no good on earth; You just be a booster rooster—Crow and boost for all you're worth!

If your town needs boostin', boost 'er; Don't hold back and wait to see if some other feller's willin'—Sail right in!—this country's free! No one's got a mortgage on it—It's just yours as much as his; If your town is shy on boosters, You get in the boostin' biz.

If things don't just seem to suit you, 'An' the world seems kinder wrong, What's the matter with a boostin' Just to help the thing along? 'Cause if things should stop a-goin' We'd be in a sorry plight; You just keep that horn a-blowin'—Boost 'er up with all your might!

If you know some feller's failin', Just forget 'em, 'cause you know That same feller's got some good points—Them's the ones you want to show. "Cast your loaves out on the waters, They'll come back" 's a sayin' true; Maybe they'll come back all buttered, When some feller boosts for you!

Accidents at railroad crossings were responsible for thirty-three smashups and sixty-five injuries and fatalities. As an indication of the alarming increase in the number of automobile accidents, and the menace of the reckless driver, Chief Dunn has called attention to the report issued some days ago by Mr. Hill, president of the Iowa State Traveling Men's Association, in which the members of that body were called upon to take some action covering the havoc which automobiles are working with the fund as well as with the members of the organization. Mr. Hill's statement was that 45 per cent of all death claims last year were caused by automobiles, while 15 per cent of the indemnity claims were from the same source. In 1912 the Traveling Men's Association in Iowa paid benefits to 679 members injured while operating machines, 492 while passengers, and 157 members who were simply innocent bystanders when injured by others. TREATMENT OF SEED
TO PREVENT SMUT.

Bainier Says Use Formalin on Oats and Wheat; Also Crop Rotation Necessary.

There are two kinds of smut—loose smut and stinking, or ball, smut. Both can be prevented by treating the seed and rotating the crops. The spores of both kinds of smut are carried by the seed, but the spores of loose smut may also be carried in the soil from one prevents stinking smut, but loose smut requires that the seed be treated and that the ground on which it grew be planted to another crop the following year. The stinking or ball smut is the kind most commonly found; it destroys the kernels only, while the loose smut destroys the grain and chaff entirely, and the sooty mass of spores remain. The stinking smut gives off an offensive odor when broken. The following "Formalin Treatment" will prevent stinking smut in wheat, also the smuts which commonly year to another. Treating the seed affect barley and oats:

Formalin Treatment.—There are several methods of treatment: Hot water treatment, blue stone treatment, and Formalin Treatment, the last of which is safest, most reliable and cheapest.

Secure a 40 per cent solution of formalin at a reliable drug store. One pound of formalin is sufficient to treat from 2,000 to 2,500 pounds of seed. Before mixing the solution, get the seed ready. The treating solution is made by carefully mixing a one-pound bottle of the formalin with 40 gallons of water.

The seed may be treated by dipping or sprinkling. To dip, the seed may be placed in a gunny sack and the solution in a barrel or tank. The seed should be immersed in this for at least ten minutes, and then taken out and allowed to drain back into the barrel for a short time. The seed should then be emptied into a pile in a clean place and covered with sacks or blankets for two hours, after which it should be thoroughly dried before sowing.

To sprinkle, prepare a clean place on a canvas or smooth floor. Thoroughly sprinkle the place with the solution before spreading the seed on it. Now thoroughly sprinkle the spread-out seed, and at the same time shovel it over. Continue to sprinkle and shovel over the seed until it is thoroughly moistened. Next, shovel the seed into a pile and cover with sacks or blankets for two hours, after which it should be thoroughly dried before sowing. Do not allow the seed to remain wet too long after treating, as the germinating qualities may be injured.

Place the dried seed in sacks which have been dipped in the solution. It is also advisable to sprinkle the grain drill with the solution before using it. Exercise every precaution not to bring the treated seed in contact with any that has not been treated or in bins which have contained smut seed. The seed should be treated but a short time before sowing.

Miss Minerva and William Green Hill

By FRANCES BOYD CALHOUN

(Copyright, by Reilly & Britton Co.)

"Mother will make me study the catechism all day tomorrow," said Lina dismally.

"Mama'll lock me up in the little closet under the stairway," said Frances.

"My mama'll gimme 'bout a million licks and try to take all the hide off o' me," said Jimmy; "but we done had a heap of fun."

It was some hours later. Billy's aunt had ruthlessly clipped the turkey feathers from his head, taking the hair off in great patches. She had then boiled his scalp, so the little boy thought, in her efforts to remove the muckage. Now, shorn of his locks and of some of his courage, the child was sitting quietly by her side, listening to a superior moral lecture and indulging in a compulsory heart-to-heart talk with his relative.

"I don't see that it does you any good, William, to put you to bed"

"I don't see as it do neither," agreed Billy.

"I can not whip you; I am constitutionally opposed to corporal punishment for children."

"It's 'posed to it too," he assented. "I believe I will hire a servant, so that I may devote my entire time to your training."

This prospect for the future did not appeal to her nephew. On the contrary it filled him with alarm.

"A husband 'd be another sight handler," he declared with energy; "he'd be a heap mo' 'count to you'n a cook, Aunt Minerva. There's that Major—"

"You will never make a preacher of yourself, William, unless you improve."

The child looked up at her with astonishment; this was the first he knew of his being destined for the ministry.

"A-preacher what 'zorts an' calls up mourners?" he said,—"not on yo' tin-type. Me an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln—"

"How many times have I expressed the wish not to have you bring that negro's name into the conversation?" she impatiently interrupted.

"I don't perzactly know, 'm," he answered good humoredly, "bout fifty hundred, I reckon. Anyways, Aunt Minerva, I ain't goin' to be no preacher. When I puts on long pants I's goin' to be a Confedrit Vet'ran an' kill 'bout fifty hundred Yankee an' Injuns, like my Major man."

CHAPTER XI.

Now Riddle Me This.

The children were sitting in the swing. Florence Hammer, a little girl whose mother was spending the day at Miss Minerva's, was with them.

"Don't you-all wish Santa Claus had his birthday right now 'stead o' waiting till Christmas to hang up our stockings?" asked Frances.

"Christmas isn't Santa Claus' birthday," corrected Lina. "God was born on Christmas and that's the reason we hang up our stockings."

"Yes; it's old Santa's birthday, too," argued Jimmy. "'cause it's in the Bible and Miss Cecilia 'splained it to me and she 'bout the dandiest 'splainer they is."

"Which you'all like the best: God or Doctor Sanford or Santa Claus?" asked Florence.

"I like God 'nother sight better'n I do anybody," declared Jimmy, "'cause He so forgivingsome. He's 'bout the forgivingsest person they is. Santa Claus can't let you go to Heaven nor Doctor Sanford neither, nor our papas and mamas nor Miss Minerva. Now wouldn't we be in a pretty fix if we had to 'pend on Doctor Sanford or Santa Claus to forgive you every time you run off or fall down and bust your breeches. Naw; gimme God ev'y time."

"I like Santa Claus the best," declared Frances, "'cause he isn't 'r ever getting in your way, and hasn't any castor oil like Doctor Sanford, and you don't 'r ever have to be telling him you're sorry you did what you did, and he hasn't all time got one eye on you either, like God, and got to follow you 'round. And Santa Claus don't all time say, 'Shet your eyes and open your mouth,' like Doctor Sanford, 'and poke out your tongue.'"

"I like Doctor Sanford the best," said Florence, "'cause he's my uncle, and God and Santa Claus ain't kin to me."

"And the Bible says, 'Love your kin-folks,' Miss Cecilia 'splained—"

"I use to like my Uncle Doc' heap better'n what I do now," went on the little girl, heedless of Jimmy's interruption, "till I went with daddy to his office one day. And what you reckon that man's got in his office? He 's got a dead man 'thout no meat nor clo'es on, nothing a tall but just his bones."

"Was he a hant?" asked Billy. "I like the Major best—he's got meat on."

"Naw; he didn't have no sheet on—just bones," was the reply.

"No sheet on; no meat on!" chirruped Billy, glad of the rhyme.

"Was he a angel, Florence?" questioned Frances.

"Naw; he didn't have no harp and no wings neither."

"It must have been a skeleton," explained Lina.

"And Uncle Doc' just keep that poor man there and won't let him go to Heaven where dead folks b'longs."

"I spec' he wasn't a good man 'fore he died and got to go to the Bad place," suggested Frances.

"I'll betcher he never asked God to forgive him when he 'celved his papa and sassed his mama,"—this from Jimmy,—"and Doctor Sanford's just a-keeping old Satan from getting him to toast on a pitchfork."

(To be continued.)

CHILDREN NEED MORE SLEEP.

School Work and Health Suffer from Social Gayety, an Ohioan Says.

Early to bed and early to rise makes school children healthy, happy, wise, fat, bright, strong, cheerful, clear skinned, clean limbed and all else in the category of good qualifications possible for youngsters, thinks J. A. Shawhan, superintendent of the Columbus public schools, who is against late hours for children.

"Children don't get thin and nervous over too much work," the superintendent says. "Worry is what makes the trouble. When they go to entertainments which last until late they get too little sleep, come to school without their lessons and worry and fidget because they fear they will be found out. It's the worry and not the work that makes them thin."

This isn't just a pedagogical campaign which the superintendent is managing. It isn't only because he is superintendent of the schools, but because he knows children, their troubles and their successes. He declares more school children become anaemic and nervous from late hours than from any other cause. The fault is with the parents who keep late hours themselves and are not particular about the bedtime of their children.

This is the schedule of sleep which Shawhan thinks is right:

Children in the grammar grades, ten hours.

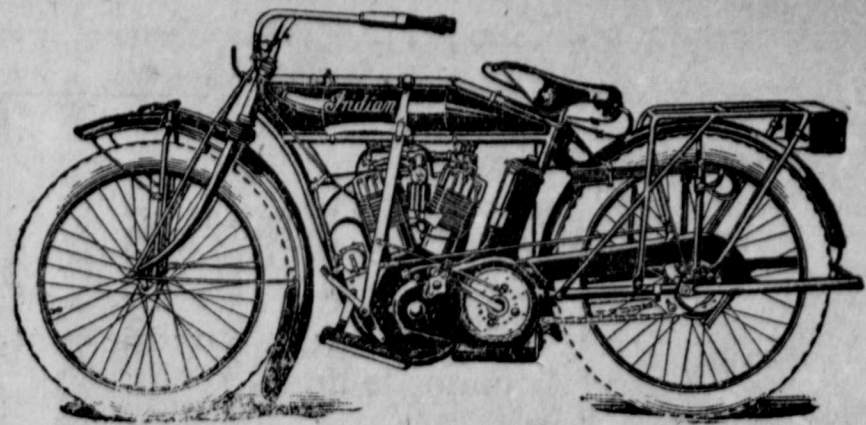

High school youths, eight and one-half to nine hours.

In high school the worst hours are kept, he declares. There are too many social events which keep the students out until 11 o'clock, in his opinion. The next day they are hurried to their wits' end to keep the teacher from discovering that they have not studied their lessons.

Whenever Superintendent Shawhan has opportunity to address a number of parents or teachers, he urges them to arrange all evening entertainments to begin at 7:30, so that children may be in bed not later than 10 o'clock.

High school students should do at least half of their studying during the daytime, he believes, and not be up later than 10 o'clock on an average.—Ohio State Journal.

GEORGE WASHINGTON IN SIMPLE SENTENCES.

He'd have been 181 years old this month, having been born February 22, 1732. How many persons, if asked offhand the place of his birth, could answer correctly. "Near Bridges, Westmoreland County, Virginia"?

Augustine Washington was his father, and his mother was Augustine's second wife, Mary Ball, known as "the belle of Epping Forest."

He was the oldest of five children. His father had a farm of 1,000 acres, so that chopped cherry tree wasn't such a heavy loss after all.

At the age of 13 he was the strength marvel of the neighborhood, being abundantly able to outwrestle, outrun, outleap, outpitch quoits and outtoss iron bars any boy of his age in Virginia, to say nothing of his hatched accomplishments.

His residence on the Potomac was named in honor of Admiral Vernon, who commanded the expedition against Carthage, and who offered him a place as midshipman.

His desire was to go to sea, but his mother persuaded him to stick to dry land and win honors, which he started to do when, at 19, he was appointed District Attorney General in the matter of the rival claims of the French and the English to the Ohio Valley.

He was just 21 years old when Governor Dinwiddie sent him on a perilous journey to Ohio to find out the strength of the French, which he accomplished handsily.

The Indians said he bore a charmed life, after he got four bullets through his coat and had two horses shot from under him in a movement led by General Braddock against Fort Duquesne.

He had his periods of discontent like the rest of us, as is shown in a letter he wrote his brother soon after the Braddock campaign: "I was employed to go on a journey in the winter which I believe few or none would have undertaken—and what did I get by it? My expenses borne. I was then appointed, with trifling pay, to conduct a handful of men to the Ohio. What did I get for that? Why, after paying myself the considerable expense in equipping and providing necessities for the company, I went out, was soundly beaten and had my commission taken from me, or, in other words, my command reduced under the pretense of an order from home. I then went out and volunteered under General Braddock, and lost all my horses and many other things. I have been on the losing side ever since I entered the service, two years since."

He met the Widow Martha Curtis at the home of a Mr. Chamberlayne, and fell in love with her at first sight.

His wife has been described as "rather below the middle-size, but extremely well shaped, with an agreeable countenance, dark hazel eyes and those frank, engaging manners so captivating in American women."

He was married to Mrs. Curtis January 6, 1759, and for seventeen years they lived the simple life on their Mount Vernon estate.

He was very successful as a raiser of wheat and tobacco, and, in addition, carried on brick yards and fisheries interests.

There weren't any children. He called his wife "Patsy," as shown in a letter written her when he was given command of the Continental Army, thus: "You may believe me, my dear Patsy, when I assure you in the most solemn manner that, so far from seeking this appointment, I have used every endeavor to avoid it, not only from any unwillingness to part from you and the family, but from a consciousness of its being a trust too great for my capacity, and that I should enjoy more real happiness in one month with you at home than I have the most distant prospects of finding abroad if my stay were to be seven times seven years."

As commander in chief of the army, he drew $500 a month.

His army, when he first took charge, was 14,000 men, 9,000 of them from Massachusetts.

Once every year during the war Mrs. Washington visited him at his headquarters, and after each such trip he wrote punctually, thanking every person who had contributed to his lady's comfort on the tedious journey from Mount Vernon.

After one of his disastrous campaigns the ladies of Philadelphia declined to notice his wife, and administered instead the snub direct, which was in interesting contrast to their reception of her when she entered Philadelphia as the wife of the President.

He wrote Governor Clinton at the close of the war: "The scene is at last closed, and I feel myself eased of a load of public care. I hope to spend the remainder of my days in cultivating the affections of good men and in the practice of the domestic virtues."

Of sixty-nine electoral votes cast for the first President he got sixty-nine.

He was 57 years old when he entered upon the office of President.

At his inauguration he wore a full suit of fine cloth made by his own servants, and the dresses of his wife were also woven on the plantation.

His wife, on one occasion, gave a

He believed in a President getting acquainted with his country, and in March, 1791, he set out on a tour of the Southern States, riding on one set of horses 1,887 miles, and returning to Philadelphia, then the capital, on July 6.

The Pennsylvania Legislature voted a sum of money for a residence, but when Washington saw it he said indeed he wasn't going to spend the money necessary to properly fit up such a big place, and it didn't occur to Congress that the President's home should be furnished out of the public treasury, so he rented a house from Robert Morris.

He always had his hair powdered at public receptions, and never shook hands with any one at such times.

AMERICA LEADS WORLD IN IRRIGATED FARMING.

Latest to Irrigate Its Arid Lands, the United States Now Teaches Best Methods.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—Although virtually the last country to adopt the policy of irrigation on its arid lands, the United States today is said to be teaching the world the methods of reclaiming unproductive soil. In a statement today by the Interior Department, Secretary Fisher comments on this feature of the irrigation work undertaken by the Government.

"It is curious to note," said the secretary, "that from the very countries in which irrigation has been practiced successfully for a hundred and even a thousand years, experts are coming to the United States, the last of all countries to take up irrigation, in order to study the system which has been developed by American ingenuity, and to learn the fundamentals of the economics in such work, the standards for which have been adopted by our own Government."

The investigators, the secretary added, have come not only from the Mediterranean countries, but from South Africa, Australia, India and South America.

TO ASK STATE FOR AID.

Farm Life Commission Will Appeal to Legislature for Agricultural Demonstration Work.

The Texas Legislature will be asked to assist more materially in the agricultural demonstration work which has been begun by the Federal Government, according to decision of the Texas Farm Life Commission at a meeting in Fort Worth Saturday. The Commission spoke favorably of the demonstration work in agriculture by the Federal Government, and the resolution to ask the State Legislature to assist more materially in the work was one of the significant steps of the meeting.

The Texas Farm Life Commission was organized recently to forward the interests of the farmer looking toward better tilling of the soil. The members present were: S. A. Lindsey, of Tyler; A. Caswell Ellis, of Austin; Edwin Chamberlain, of San Antonio; J. T. S. Gant, of Wichita Falls; H. Lass, of Brookshire; S. D. Seedman, of Hagerman; Mrs. E. P. Turner, of Dallas; W. P. ### SUMMARY OF WORLD NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Ambassador and Mrs. Leishman are reported from Berlin to be intensely unpopular with the German Empress. This, added to a demand in this country for the recall of the Ambassador on account of his speculation in stocks, is creating a scandal in diplomatic circles. Leishman is said to have used secret information he obtained in his official capacity to guide his buying and selling of stocks. The German Empress is reported to have said that wherever the Leishmans have lived tradesmen have had trouble in collecting bills from them, though Leishman is many times a millionaire.

President-elect Wilson's new book, "The New Freedom," has been placed on sale. The book is made up of portions of campaign speeches made last summer and fall by the author, and he has compiled them so that they express his plans for fighting monopolies.

Frank Roack pleaded guilty to robbing a Green Bay (Wis.) grocery store, and said he deposited $65 of the money in a postal savings bank, knowing that no one but himself could draw the money. He was sentenced to serve two years, and when he walks out of prison he will claim the money, with interest.

Manuel Llano, arrested in St. Louis, Mo., while trying to exchange two $10,000 bills, admits they are a part of $200,000, all in $10,000 bills, stolen from the Bank of Havana, Cuba. Those who are hiding the other bills say if Llano and his friends are prosecuted they will not give up the remainder of the money. However, the incident has been so well exploited that they might as well give up these bills, as no bank would be likely to accept them. The numbers are on file at all banks.

Incomplete returns from the general election in China indicate that President Yuan Shi Kai has been re-elected by a substantial majority.

A wireless message received in Sydney, N. S. W., reports Dr. Douglas Mawson and party, of Australia, to be returning from an Antarctic exploring tour on the relief ship Aurora. Dr. Mawson and party started late in 1911, and the trip was financed by popular subscription.

John H. Patterson and twenty-eight other officials of the National Cash Register Company have been sentenced to fines and imprisonment under the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust law. Patterson was fined $5,000 and sentenced to one year in jail. The others were fined less and sentenced to from nine months to one year.

On the day of his inauguration all of President Wilson's near relatives will be his guests at a family reunion. The party will number about thirty-five, and will meet at the hotel where the President-elect will stay until after the inauguration. The family party will then adjourn to the White House.

Joaquin Miller, "Poet of the Sierras," died in his cabin on Piedmont Hills, overlooking San Francisco, aged 72 years. His real name was Cincinnati Heine Miller, and he was born in a covered wagon near the Wabash River in Indiana while his parents were moving from Ohio to Indiana. When he was nine years old his parents moved from Indiana to Oregon, traveling by wagon.

The Nevada Legislature has passed a bill requiring applicants for divorce to reside in that State one year. Six months was the previous requisite. This bill makes Reno no better than other towns for those who wish divorces in a hurry. However, it will not go into force until January 1, 1914.

Raymond Poincaré was inaugurated for a seven-year term as President of France with simple ceremonies. An immense number of people lined the route over which the procession moved to and from the Palace of Elysee, although the temperature was at zero. Poincaré and retiring President Fallières kissed each other twice.

The new country home of Chancellor Lloyd-George, at Walton Heath, near London, was blown up by dynamite by the militant suffragettes of England, who admit it was their work. The house was not quite completed, and was unoccupied. Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst, suffragette leader, said in a speech that the Government need not look for the actual dynamiters; that she would take all blame and responsibility upon herself. Closely following the dynamiting, a pavilion in Kew Gardens was burned by suffragettes. Lillian Lenton and Joyce Locke have been arrested in connection with the crime. When arraigned Miss Locke threw a law book at the judge and fought with the court officers. The suffragettes say they will continue their policy of violence until they win the franchise.

Women friends of Mr. and Mrs. Taft in Washington have ordered a diamond necklace costing more than $10,000, which will be presented to Mrs. Taft when she leaves the White House.

Edward F. Mylius, once convicted of libeling the King of England, and detained in New York when he tried to enter this country, has been liberated on a habeas corpus granted by Judge Cox, of the Federal Court. Secretary of the Interior Nagel is expected to take an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, as he has in the case of Castro, who was admitted in a similar way.

Miss Eugenia E. Schmitz, daughter of former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, of San Francisco, has taken the veil and entered a convent at San Rafael, Calif. She is twenty years old, and has exceptional musical ability.

President Taft is getting ready to move, closing up his personal affairs in Washington and shipping his furniture to his new home, in New Haven. He is not taking up any new business, but is trying to clear up a large amount that is unfinished, including a plan for reorganization of the customs service. His last official trip out of Washington was taken today, when he went to New York to address the American Peace Arbitration League, and also broke ground for the Indian memorial to be erected at Fort Wadsworth.

The National Press Club will give a "lame duck" dinner on February 28, as a farewell to defeated Congressmen. On the bill of fare will be a picture of a duck on crutches. "Uncle Joe" Cannon and many others who have been leaders in Congress for years, but will retire March 4 at the wish of their constituents, will attend.

Women opposed to suffrage have opened headquarters in Washington, and will give a big demonstration on February 28, as an offset to the suffragette gathering and parade on the day preceding the inauguration. Many pretty girls have been recruited, and the antis will spend several thousand dollars on their mass meeting, to be held in a Washington theater.

The lowest bid for building the new dreadnaught, Pennsylvania, was $7,235,000, and was made by the Newport News Shipbuilding Co. The specifications call for a tonnage of 30,000, about three times that of the Oregon, and so far as known this will be the largest battleship in the world. Guns, armor and equipment will bring the total cost to $14,173,000. She will have a beam of 97 feet, almost the limit for the Panama Canal locks. A battery of 14-inch guns, the most powerful made, will be carried.

The United States of Columbia is to sue the United States for $20,000,000 damages caused by loss of the Panama Railroad. The suit has been authorized by the Columbian Congress and will be brought in some American court. This railroad paid Colombia an annual tax of $250,000.

The Burnett-Dillingham bill, vetoed by President Taft because it imposed a literacy test on immigrants, was passed over his veto in the Senate by 72 to 18. The House, however, declined to take the same action.

Residents of Sugar Creek, Mo., a village of 500 population, near Kansas City, have asked the Missouri Supreme Court to give the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana a rehearing. The petitioners say if the court's ouster order is enforced against the company it will take away their employment and make their homes, which are built up around the plant, of little value.

Dr. Friedrich Friedmann, of Berlin, is on his way to New York, on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, to demonstrate his serum for the cure of tuberculosis with a $1,000,000 fee offered by a New York banker as the prize to be won if he can prove his assertions.

Evelyn Arthur See, of Chicago, leader of the "Absolute Life" cult, must serve his sentence of from one to five years in the penitentiary, the Illinois Supreme Court having upheld his conviction on a charge of misconduct with young girl disciples. See is the author of the "Book of Truth," which he asserts is divinely inspired.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS.

FIREBOYS WITH MRS. HUTCHINGS.

Mrs. George Hutchings, assisted by other members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist Church, entertained the fireboys Friday night, at the residence of Rev. J. M. Harder, with a George Washington party. More than seventy-five were present. The decorations were red, white and blue.

A program of musical numbers, consisting of songs, piano solos and readings, was rendered. Another entertaining feature was a contest—making words out of the letters contained in the name "George Washington." Miss Lottie Bradshers made the greatest number of words and won the prize.

Mayor J. L. Dorsett and the Fire Chief gave toasts, which were responded to by Mrs. Ivey and T. W. Sawyer.

Refreshments of cream and cake were served. The guest favors were little flags.

MMES. WHITIS AND ARMSTRONG GIVE COLONIAL RECEPTION.

Belles of Revolutionary War Period Delight Visitors with Old-Fashioned Gowns and Hospitality.

The Colonial reception given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. W. E. Armstrong and Mrs. T. P. Whitis, at the Whitis home, was a delightful tribute to the memory of George and Martha Washington and other celebrities of colonial days.

The Whitis home was beautiful in its appointments of colonial decorations. The shades were drawn and yellow-toned lights from little candles gave a charming tint to the rooms, already beautiful with red carnations, bunches of cherries and other emblems of the day.

The house party, composed entirely of colonial day Washington society, consisted of Mrs. R. W. Brahan, as Mrs. Thomas Jefferson; Mrs. L. C. Penry, as Mrs. Alexander Hamilton; Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, as Bette Washington; Mrs. T. P. Whitis, as Martha Washington; Mrs. H. W.

Harrel, as Mrs. John Quincy Adams; Mrs. C. W. Tandy, as Dolle Madison; Mrs. Charles White, as Mrs. King Carter; Mrs. Chas. McClendon, as Mrs. John Marshall; Mrs. T. E. Richards, as Mrs. James Monroe; Miss Alice Harrel, as Nellie Curtis; Miss Rosa Fowle, as Evelyn Byrd; Mrs. Robert Meyers, as Mrs. Henry Clay; Mrs. Glenn McKee, of Crosbyton, as Mrs. John Tyler, and Mrs. Arthur Mortor, as Mrs. Patrick Henry. Little Charlie White, in his costume of a colonial gentleman, received the cards. At the door the guests were greeted by Mrs. Thomas Jefferson and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, in beautiful crepe paper dresses. On entering the living room an array of colonial matrons in charming costumes of soft-tinted crepe paper gave a kindly handshake as the guests passed down the receiving line.

The ever-charming Dolle Madison was everywhere with her White House hospitality and colonial welcome. It was she who so graciously ushered each guest into the dining room "to sip London tea with us this afternoon," so daintily poured by Mrs. James Monroe and Mrs. John Marshall, and served to the guests, together with waffles and English plum cake and mints by Miss Nellie Curtis and Miss Evelyn Byrd. The music room was presided over by Mrs. Henry Clay and Mrs. John Tyler. The guest favors, a tiny red hatchet with lettering "I cannot tell a lie," were pinned on by Mrs. King Carter.

The guest favors were small bouquets of mattheolas and fern sprays tied with white satin ribbon. Grape juice was served, and then Mrs. Marshall Phelps gave a toast—a recipe for genuine happiness. Next came the turkey course and the accompanying good things. Mrs. Hal Wofford gave a toast to the absent husbands, after which it was agreed by each one present that her husband was a true knight to stay at home and mind the children, feed the chickens, etc.

Several little impromptu speeches were sandwiched in with the salad, ice and cake courses that followed. After the sumptuous dinner was over, games, contests and music were participated in by the group of happy matrons.

The guests were: Mesdames Lee Shropshire, M. L. Gardner, T. P. Whitis, S. A. Barnes, R. E. Cochrane, Hal Wofford, E. F. McClendon, Marshall Phelps, W. E. Armstrong, J. W. Pipkin, O. B. Jackson and R. P. Mayhugh.

OFFICERS OF W. M. S. WITH MRS. RICHARDS.

Mrs. T. E. Richards served a five-course six o'clock dinner Friday evening to the officers of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, and each lady considered herself fortunate, for once, at least, in being an officer. The rooms were prettily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

With a few appropriate and pleasing remarks, Mrs. Barnes announced a toast by the hostess. After the hearty welcome and request to forget their troubles and be happy, for the time, at least, each guest entered into the spirit of festivity and merriment.

After Miss Hattie Dillingham had sung two selections, with Mrs. A. C. Hatchell at the piano, the guests were invited into the dining room to find their places at the table. The place cards were hand-painted likenesses (?) of each officer playing her role. Mrs. S. A. Barnes took the place of the hostess as president, and served as toastmistress. The table was beautiful in green and white decorations. The centerpiece was a large lace circle over green, on which stood a vase of mattheolas and ferns. Just outside the center attraction four cut glass candle holders were placed. These, with their fluffy green shades and the electric globes tied about with green crepe, gave a note of charm to the dining room scene.

The guest favors were small bouquets of mattheolas and fern sprays tied with white satin ribbon.

Grape juice was served, and then Mrs. Marshall Phelps gave a toast—a recipe for genuine happiness.

Next came the turkey course and the accompanying good things. Mrs. Hal Wofford gave a toast to the absent husbands, after which it was agreed by each one present that her husband was a true knight to stay at home and mind the children, feed the chickens, etc.
