SUMMARY OF WORLD NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Grundy Jobe and Miss Grace Losey were married in the jail at Fort Worth, Texas. The other prisoners, after giving the jail a special cleaning for the event, contributed nickels and dimes and sent out for a bouquet for the bride. Jobe is under a two-year sentence for burglary. The bride is to be released Sunday, after serving a jail term for swindling.

A sentence of 21 days at hard labor was pronounced at Southampton, England, against Harry Kemp, an American verse writer, who is charged with stowing himself away on the steamship Oceanic on her last voyage from New York. The magistrate recommended to the home office that Kemp be deported after serving his term.

Yuan Shi Kai has been elected President of the Chinese republic for five years. He took a prominent part in the reorganization of the Chinese army and in the closing years of the empire was its most influential and powerful statesman.

Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the New York State Commission on Prison Reform, has left Auburn Prison, where he had voluntarily spent a short term of "imprisonment" to better acquaint himself with the prison system. He spent 15 hours in a dungeon with five other inmates for an infraction of the rules. He termed the dungeon "the innermost circle of inferno." His experiences, he says, confirmed his previous opinion that the prison system is singularly unintelligent, ineffective and cruel.

Robert Crawford, a Western Union messenger boy, who was knocked from his bicycle and bruised by President Wilson's automobile, was visited by the President in his room at the Providence Hospital. As the President shook hands with him, the boy said: "I didn't know it was you when I ran into you yesterday. His injuries are slight. When he is able to leave the hospital he will receive from the President a new bicycle to replace the one damaged in the collision."

Francis Burton Harrison, newly-appointed Governor-General of the Philippines, has arrived at Manila and delivered his inaugural address. It embodied instructions from President Wilson, declaring that every step by the American Government would be taken with a view to granting the ultimate independence of the islands, and that the first step, to be taken at once, would be to give native citizens the majority in the appointive commission, and thus a majority in both houses of the Philippine Legislature. This would be done, the instructions stated, "in the confident hope and expectation that immediate proof will thereby be given in the action of the commission under the new arrangements of the political capacity of these native citizens who have already come forward to represent and lead their people in affairs."

Joplin is the first Missouri city to adopt the commission form of government. By a vote of 2,118 to 1,184, it has adopted a new charter, making it a city of the second class. The politicians and city employees made a hard fight against the new charter. Business interests and trade unions favored it. The new charter has recall, initiative and referendum clauses. The commission form was defeated at Springfield, Mo., by a vote of 2,043 to 1,542.

Three new battleships and a proportionate number of submarines and torpedo boats is in the naval policy of the Wilson administration. The greater part of an appropriation of $148,000,000 will probably be used for this purpose. President Wilson favors an adequate navy. Three new dreadnaughts are planned for this year, because only one was built last year. The new ones will be of the same type as the one built last year and will be of medium speed, a compromise between the battle cruisers of the British and Japanese navies and the heavy bulldog of low speed of German construction.

Superior Judge John E. Humphries, of Seattle, Wash., issued an order releasing the 31 men and six women Socialists confined in jail for talking back to him when arraigned for contempt of court. By so doing he forestalled Governor Lister, who was on his way to Seattle to take steps to have the persons liberated and probably to institute impeachment proceedings against Judge Humphries. The Governor decided to go to Seattle when he received a telegram signed by the editors of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Seattle Sun and Seattle Star, asking his intervention in a situation which had become unbearable and might easily become menacing. The telegram characterized the acts of Judge Humphries as "an astounding and unprecedented exercise of power on the part of a Superior Court Judge who is today mentally unfitted for Judicial service."

The annual report of the Cotton Belt Route has been made to the stockholders by President F. H. Britton. The total revenues of the year were $13,296,949, an increase over the previous year of $1,254,466, or 10.42 per cent. The net revenue was $4,081,152, an increase of $458,024. Regarding the 2-cent passenger fare and maximum freight rate laws of Missouri and Arkansas, which have been upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States, the report says it is difficult to estimate to what extent the revenues will be affected, but it is hoped good crops will offset losses.

The defense in the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer, of New York, rested abruptly, without putting either Sulzer or his wife on the stand. The reason of Sulzer's silence, according to Judge Herrick, his chief counsel, is unwillingness to depict Mrs. Sulzer as responsible for stock speculation with unreported campaign contributions, which is characterized in the impeachment articles as theft. The opening arguments in his behalf showed that he relies upon the fact that he had not become Governor when he did the things of which he is accused. The prevailing opinion is that the impeachment will be sustained. If it is, it will be because of the technicality, as all the evidence has been adverse.

More than 2,000 members of the American Bankers' Association, in convention at Boston, voted almost unanimously their disapproval of the Glass-Owen currency bill, as passed by the House, although they pledged their support to efforts to give the country "proper" currency legislation. The Nominating Committee named Arthur Reynolds, of Des Moines, the present first vice president, as the candidate for president. W. A. Law, of Philadelphia, was nominated for vice president. The report of the Currency Commission was approved. It ripped up many sections of the Glass-Owen measure, declaring that it imposed hardships on the banks and the public; it questioned the good faith of the Government in requiring National Banks to give up their National charters if they failed to subscribe to the stock of the proposed Federal reserve banks, and characterized as Socialistic that feature of the bill which provides for taking over a large percentage of the capital and reserves of the existing banks and giving the banks so small a voice in the management of the money. It also pointed out the danger of "political control."

son, 9 years old, in her apartments in the jail, and then killed herself. She had brooded over the necessity of living in a part of the jail and was strongly opposed to moving to the Brooklyn Jail, of which her husband had been made Warden.

President Wilson sent the following note to the editor of the Washington Post: "Sir—I am quoted in your issue of this morning as saying that anyone who does not support me is no Democrat, but a rebel. Of course I never said any such thing. It is contrary both to my thought and to my character, and I must ask that you give a very prominent place in your issue of tomorrow to this denial." The statement complained of by the President had been made in connection with the currency situation, and hostile attitude of certain Democratic Senators.

The annual St. Louis Automobile Show opened at Forest Park Highlands with cars worth $1,000,000 on display. The attendance broke records.

G. C. Wiley, a bridge contractor, of Irving, Ill., died at Harrison Hospital, Collinsville, Ill., from injuries received when his automobile skidded and turned over on the road to St. Louis. With Wiley were Mr. and Mrs. Yates Ingram, of Mulberry Grove, Ill. They were to meet Mrs. Wiley at Union Station to view the Veiled Prophet parade. She was notified by telephone of the accident, but supposed it had occurred at Irving, and took a train for there. When she finally reached Collinsville her husband was dead.

The Blue Bird For Happiness

Maeterlinck's story of "The Bluebird" is briefly as follows: Two peasant children are sent by their good fairy to seek out the Bluebird, meaning Happiness. With them go their dog and cat, also the elements, Fire, Water, Light, Etc., all of whom are represented as having souls and some assisting, some hindering the search.

Their quest takes them to fairyland, to the Land of Memory, to the Palace of Night, to the Kingdom of the Past, to the Kingdom of the Future and through weird and beautiful scenes. The Bluebird seems almost within their reach many times, but they finally return to their home unsuccessful. Abandoning the search they do a kind and thoughtful act for a little cripple and lo! the Bluebird is found singing in their own humble cottage.

The Ladies Home Journal has been running a popular version of Maeterlinck's story. This has created a craze for Bluebird Pins. They are worn as a symbol of Happiness.

LIVE STOCK SANITARY COMMISSION OF TEXAS.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 9, 1913.

To the Cattlemen of Texas:

Federal and State officials, like individuals in private life, are always glad to herald an accomplishment, or an effort for the betterment of the enterprises or industries which they represent, especially when their personal efforts have contributed to that accomplishment. With that idea in view, this letter is addressed to the cattlemen of Texas, that they may have a slight insight into the work that has been done and is being done in their behalf by the Federal Government, under the able and efficient management of Dr. L. J. Allen, inspector in charge, stationed at Fort Worth, and the State of Texas, through your Live Stock Sanitary Commission.

In the first part of this year, Dr. Allen and myself conceived the idea that it was practical to entirely eliminate and eradicate the disease of scabies off of the ranges of Texas, and we began laying the foundation for a systematic effort to this end. To accomplish this, many seeming insurmountable obstacles had to be overcome. First in importance was to get the co-operation of the cattlemen of Texas in this work. Second was to get the Legislature to pass a law putting the State of Texas on record as favoring the eradication of all contagious, infectious or communicable diseases of live stock. Third was getting the Legislature to make an appropriation sufficient to provide the means to carry on the work.

In order to overcome the first-mentioned obstacle and get the co-operation of the cattlemen of Texas interested in the work of scab eradication, I called a meeting of the cattlemen of Texas at Amarillo, Texas, on July 16th. There the question of the possibility of eradicating the scab was thoroughly discussed—there the law passed by the last Legislature was read, discussed and unanimously approved. That meeting voted a unanimous endorsement of the work of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas, and by resolution instructed the Chairman of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas to proceed with the organization of a systematic effort looking to the eradication of the scab off of the ranges of Texas, according to his expressed ideas, and there pledged the Chairman of this Commission their moral, financial and physical support in the undertaking.

Meeting with this strong evidence of co-operation on the part of the cattlemen at this meeting, Dr. Allen and myself became enthusiastic. We have given this work the best thought at our command. We realized then, as we know now, that to carry on this work in a manner that would guarantee success necessitated a greater number of inspectors in the field than had ever been contemplated by either the State or Federal authorities.

Dr. Allen put the proposition up to the Bureau of Animal Industry, at Washington, and asked for help. The Bureau of Animal Industry very promptly replied, instructing Dr. Allen to secure the services of at least twenty additional inspectors, and more if necessary, to join the State in this undertaking.

I proceeded to the Legislature, which convened in extra session July 21, and there made known the wants of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission, and it is with no small degree of gratification that I can state that the Legislature made every provision asked for by your Chairman. Having confidence in my ability to satisfy the Legislature and the justness of the demand of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas, I proceeded to employ extra men to co-operate with the Federal men whom Dr. Allen was employing to conduct a systematic scab eradication movement. The result of the judgment of Dr. Allen and myself as to the number of men necessary to prosecute this work has been the placing of forty Federal inspectors and twenty-two State inspectors in the field. In other words, there are sixty-two men now working in the scab infested area of Texas, and our reports show that during the month of September, it having been agreed at the convention in Amarillo on the 16th of July that this systematic work would commence about the 1st of September, there have been dipped for eradication of scab 246,000 head of cattle; 145,000 have been dipped for exposure, and only dipped once, while 101 head, constituting the herds in which infection was found, have been dipped twice. Our inspectors have supervised the dipping, through the dipping vats, of 346,000 cattle during the month of September.

This is an effort of live stock sanitary work unequalled in the history of our country, and it is a pleasure to me to chronicle the fact that we are meeting with almost universal and hearty co-operation in this work. There are, however, a few self-constituted men of importance in the country who continue to offer their wise suggestions, as well as their criticisms, not knowing enough really, or not realizing that their criticisms are in direct opposition, not only to the law, but to the safest and best of all laws, which is public opinion.

While it affords me pleasure to know that I have the endorsement, the confidence and the co-operation of the men whose interest I am in my feeble way trying to serve, yet every sweet has its bitter, and I am forced to the necessity of advising you of the fact that, though the Legislature made a sufficient appropriation to defray all the expenses of this work, the Governor in his wisdom saw fit to veto a part of our appropriation, which leaves the Live Stock Sanitary Commission with twelve or thirteen inspectors at work at $83.33 per month each and $25.00 a month expense account each, and no money in the treasury to pay them.

In order to meet this contingency, I am glad to report that the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, at the meeting of their Executive Committee, voted to appropriate $500.00 towards defraying the expenses of the Sanitary Board, not provided for by the appropriation, and I have written about fifty cowmen in Texas, asking them for a donation to this fund, assuring them that whether they paid these inspectors' salaries or not the work would go on, if I had to pay their salaries myself. This, however, I don't think I will be called on to do, as the honor roll of progressive cowmen grows daily. I mean by that, I am receiving letters daily with checks enclosed, and I believe, when all the cowmen understand the situation, enough money will be subscribed to defray all the extra expenses which we are incurring.

BURNING SEAWEED FOR IODINE.

Norwegian Farmers Export the Ashes for Manufacture of the Element.

During the spring months, whenever the weather is dry enough to permit of it, there appear all along the narrow coastal plain of the Jaederen, Stavanger, Norway, what seem to be continuous lines of bonfires. The peasant farmers who are fortunate enough to own riparian rights are burning large piles of seaweed.

The American Consul for the district says that farther north, along the fjords, boatmen cut the seaweed much as grain would be cut by a scythe, and on the shores of the Jaederen it grows luxuriantly, and in spring the root tentacles are loosened and the weed is washed ashore by the waters. It is spread out like hay to dry, raked together, and permitted to burn until there remain only the ashes.

Transportation facilities are taxed to the limit of their capacity during the height of the season. The ashes are exported for the manufacture of iodine.—London Globe.

MORE PAY TO KANSAS TEACHERS.

Salaries in Cities of First Class Show Good Increase.

The teachers in the Kansas schools are getting larger salaries each year, according to the figures compiled by W. D. Ross, state superintendent of public instruction. The small town and the country school teachers have been getting better salaries each year for about five years. But the teachers in the larger cities are getting larger increases than those of the smaller towns and the country. Topeka pays the highest salary to its superintendent, and Kansas City is second.

The average salary of first-class city superintendents last year was $2,390. This year it is $2,630. High school principals receive an average wage of $1,837 annually, as against $1,730 a year ago. Grade school teachers draw $1,180, while in 1912 they averaged $1,121. The salary of the assistants in the high schools was increased from $877.50 to $896.30.—Kansas City Star.

WHAT ARE THE YOUNG MEN DOING?

They Could Reduce the H. C. of L. by Cattle Raising, a Breeder Says.

The big need of the country today isn't currency reform and a dozen other things supposed to be of the greatest importance. The real need is capable young men on the farms. Doesn't make much difference whether he has capital or not. If he has capability he will succeed. If he hasn't, capital won't take him very far. The capable young man is the only thing that will save the Nation its fast-vanishing food supply. He is the solution of the high cost of living.

The foregoing is Robert H. Hazlett's opinion of the big present-day problem, as given to the Kansas City Star. Mr. Hazlett is treasurer of the American Royal Stock Show. He lives at Eldorado, Kans., and raises pure-bred Hereford cattle.

"The raising of pure-bred beef cattle is simply applying intensive farming principles to stock raising," said Mr. Hazlett. "The population is increasing so fast the old way of producing food will not suffice. That is why stock raising offers such great advantages to the young man. He can't find anything that will beat it, if he has the ability."

"The stock business today needs capable young men. It hasn't any use for any other kind. Doesn't make much difference whether he has capital or not, he can succeed if he's a real cattle man. Doesn't make much difference where he goes in business. One state is about as good as another. If he'll save a little money, buy a farm on the installment plan and start with only a few cattle he'll get on all right. Let him get cheap land, as much as 150 acres to begin with, if he can."

PARCELS FLOOD THE MAILS.

New Law Allowing Packages to Be 20 Pounds Responsible.

The raising of the maximum weight of a parcel post package from eleven to twenty pounds has brought a large increase in the volume of mail matter handled in Kansas City, says the Kansas City Star. The post office at the Union Depot already has increased its room capacity and has asked the department at Washington for authority to acquire an additional eight hundred square feet of floor space.

J. H. Harris, postmaster, said he would have to get more space at the general office. He is to ask the department for authority to rent a store-room near the Federal Building to take care of the overflow.

"The parcel post is overrunning the place, he said. "It has used all its own space and acquired that of other departments until it is impossible to take care of it in the post office building. We shall have to get room outside."

The stamp sales for the first four days of this month were $10,000 in excess of the same four days a year ago. This is a good indication of what the parcel post is doing.

EXCHANGING HEMP FOR WIRE.

Nebraska and Tennessee have abolished the gallows, substituting therefor execution by electricity. Fourteen states now execute the death sentence by the charged wire rather than the hemp noose.

The change is now a concession satisfactory to those who oppose capital punishment. It does mark an advance from the barbarity of public executions by means of the slow-strangling noose.

The area in which death as a punishment for crime has been abolished has not increased much during recent years. It is made use of much less frequently than a decade ago. New laws have tended to lessen the number of crimes for which capital punishment is the inevitable penalty.

The argument against capital punishment has never been more ably stated than by the Marquis de Beccania, that Italian whose writings so profoundly influenced criminal jurisprudence. A century and a half ago he said: "To me it seems an absurdity that laws which are an expression of the public will, which abhor and punish homicide, should themselves commit one; that to deter citizens from private assassination they should themselves order public manslaughter. Beccania's bi-centennial occurs in 1935. Let us hope that when that year rolls around we may have abolished legalized murder as a punishment for private crime.

ALFALFA PAYS.

Kansas was drouth-stricken this year. A. M. Rinehardt, on an 80-acre farm in North Kansas, made $4,870 clear profit from 80 acres of alfalfa, in spite of the drouth. Besides the sale of 190 tons of alfalfa hay and 478 bushels of seed, he fattened a number of hogs from this remarkable plant.

Mr. Rinehardt's profit was a little more than $61 an acre! The St. Louis Post-Dispatch recently published the figures showing the profits on the "bonanza Rankin farms" in Missouri. In the "show me" State, 23,000 acres produced, in round numbers, $100,000, an average of $4.35 an acre, in 1912, when there was no drouth.

Had the Missouri farm yielded as did the "Sunflower" land, the Rankin estate would have enjoyed a profit of $1,403,000—more than a million dollars over what it actually realized for the year's operations.

Alfalfa farms in Hale County are yielding as profitably as Mr. Rinehardt's did this year. Other farmers can reap similar profits by growing alfalfa.

Forty acres seeded to alfalfa, with a well, a silo, a herd of milch cows and a large pen of porkers mean large profits—a life of independence. There is mental satisfaction in such a proposition, because there is no uncertainty about it.

Such a proposition means "insured" farming.

CHINA'S START AS REAL REPUBLIC.

The orderly conduct of the first election of a President under China's republican constitution and the fact that for two ballots more than a third of the Assembly dared to oppose Yuan Shi Kai will not seem insignificant in American eyes. It indicates greater latitude in politics than we have been led heretofore to believe was permitted under Yuan's strong-arm regency. It also gives a promise that a resolute contingent prepared to perform for the new republic the valuable service of a party of the opposition in resisting aggression will not be wanting in the Assembly in the future.

China will not always need in its presidency a man of Yuan's ambitious, crafty, willful type. But pending the time when the loss, if any, incurred by the republican idea in the utter collapse of Dr. Sun Yat Sen's uprising in the south is more fully explained to us, it must be conceded that Yuan seems to be the sort of man it needs now. The unprogressive, unintelligent, inert millions of the country have many lessons to learn. It may be shown in coming days that many of them have not even learned that primary lesson of absolute acquiescence in the decision of majorities, the vital principle of republics. Only a strong man could succeed against the enormous difficulties of the transition period between autocracy and democracy.

The test of Yuan's devotion to popular sovereignty will be watched interestedly by the sisterhood of republics into which, after tedious preliminaries, the oldest nation and newest republic is at last adopted.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THE TEACHER'S PARTIALITY.

Dear little children, listen to me; I have a secret; I'll give it to thee: Your teacher may not admit it, But all teachers show partiality.

And if I were you I'll tell you what I'd do— I would see If I could get a big part of her partiality.

I would bring her big red apples, And if that didn't reach her app(1)etite,

I would bring many other good things, And every time I'd give her a bite.

Perfect lessons I'd bring her every day;

If this didn't do, I'd bring her a smile or two; And then I would wait and see If I didn't get my part of her partiality.

I would try for a while Mixing love with my smile; I would put my arms about her And tenderly would I say, "Always have I loved you, But never have I loved you like I love you today."

If this don't reach her, Be assured you have no teacher— Just leave her alone; She has no heart of love, But simply one of stone.

Now, children, again listen to me: If you have such an excuse for a teacher,

By act and deed would I say, "Give it to some one else; I do not want your old partiality." —L. B. Hendrick.

PANHANDLE YEARLINGS BRING $8.15 AT KANSAS CITY.

Quarantine Cattle Are Poor Grade and Slow Sale; Tariff Does Not Affect Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 10.—Cattle values softened slightly the last two days, though the big bulk of the week's business has been done at a level somewhat above that of last week. Country buyers have been slow in taking hold this week, as they were visiting the Royal Show, and did not desire to make purchase till ready to start home.

Trading in stock grades is lively to-day, and prices are 10 to 25 cents under the high time the first of the week.

Panhandle yearlings at $8.00 to

"Bringing Home the Bacon"

That's a homely phrase some one originated to signify success.

Manufacturers of nationally advertised products are discovering that the way to "Bring home the bacon" is to reach consumers directly.

Consumers' demand is quickly felt by dealers and they are only too glad to help it along.

Nothing succeeds like success—and nothing is easier sold than something the public want to buy.

Dealers put their energy and their advertising behind goods they believe will bring people to their stores.

Business grows and manufacturer, merchant and consumer profit.

Mr. Manufacturer and Mr. Merchant, the short cut to the consumer lies through advertising in The Herald.

$8.15 were features, but most of the Panhandle and Colorado stock cattle and feeders sold at $6.50 to $7.35. On the open market good to choice heavy cattle sold at $9.00 to $9.35, but the best cattle were on exhibition in the Royal Show. The exhibition fat steers sold this morning, tops bringing $12.85, and some very heavy steers $9.50 to $9.75.

Quarantine cattle this week had the same absence of quality that has characterized them for a month, steers at $5.50 to $6.75, cows at $4.35 to $5.75, including canners. Commission men believe that receipts will diminish from now on, and stronger prices should rule the balance of October. On the other hand, owners of long-fed cattle have been repeatedly disappointed this fall, the ten-dollar steer having delayed its coming beyond all reason.

Removal of the tariff has so far only produced the effect of advancing the Canadian markets about 75 cents per hundred, the effect on prices in this country being unnoticeable.

Hog markets are apparently in for the usual October decline, though it will not be a regular march toward a lower level. Prices were strong yesterday, and 10 cents higher to-day, on small supplies. Top to-day is $8.40, bulk $8.00 to $8.35.

A good many pigs are coming, though practically no sick ones are included, and they sell at $6.00 to $7.50. Perfect Government and State regulation with regard to the use of serum at public stock yards, now in process of development, which would allow traffic in stock hogs, would elevate pig prices immeasurably.

Lambs are 25 to 40 cents lower this week, sheep 10 to 25 cents lower, feeding lambs steady. No choice lambs have been here for two days, but that kind would bring around $7.00, fair to good lambs $6.50 to $6.75, feeding lambs $6.40 to $6.50, ewes $4.00 to $4.35. The strong demand for feeders is the feature of the market this week. J. A. RICKART, Market Correspondent.

HOGS HIGHER AT FORT WORTH.

Stock Cattle Are in Strong Demand; Sheep Steady.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 13.—Today we have 1,200 hogs on our market. General market is 10 cents higher; top $8.50, bulk $8.20 to $8.40, lights from $8.00 to $8.25, mixed $8.20 to $8.40, good heavies $8.35 to $8.50, good pigs $6.75 to $7.00.

Cattle 3,500, including 500 calves. Steers steady, but very few here. Stockers are strong to active, top $6.75, bulk $5.80 to $6.75, stocker cows $4.25 to $5.15, stocker calves $4.00 to $7.75; butcher cows 10 to 15 cents higher, top $6.00, bulk $5.00 to $6.50, heifers $5.50 to $6.30, bulls steady, $4.75 to $5.00, calves steady. Top on best calves $8.00.

Seven hundred sheep; market steady; best wethers from $4.75 to $5.00, best lambs $6.00 to $6.50, medium kind $5.75 to $6.00.

Yours very truly, DAGGETT-KEEN COMMISSION CO., Per A. M. KEEN, Market Correspondent.

GREATEST FAIR TO OPEN SATURDAY

Improvement in Quality and Magnitude of Displays Will Make State Exposition Event in Industrial History.

$75,000 FOR NEW BUILDING

Model Hillside Farm to Demonstrate Methods of Preventing Erosion Through Medium of Terraces.

Next Saturday, October 18, the gates will swing inward on the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas. This will undoubtedly be a year of broken records in the history of the fair. The importance of the fair as a medium for advertising the unexampled possibilities of this section of the continent has been taken advantage of by thoughtful and progressive men in a way never before equalled. Every department will be filled to overflowing with an array of exhibits that will fittingly demonstrate the marvelous development of the Southwest in every field of effort. A rare educational as well as vacation opportunity will be afforded the men, women and children of this State. Extremely low railroad rates applying to Dallas from every point in the Southwest will make a visit to the fair within the reach of all.

In quality and in magnitude a marked improvement will be found in the exhibits as compared with last year. Miles of new sidewalks and paved roadways have been built, new permanent buildings costing a total of $75,000 have been constructed, superb illuminating facilities have been installed, and the fair park has been beautified with a magnificent floral display.

The extension department of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College has arranged for the most complete display of agricultural exhibits and demonstrations in the history of the Southwest. Every item in the exhibit will carry with it an educational message. For instance, a model of a hillside farm will be built showing the methods and means of preventing erosion through the medium of land terraces.

The division of demonstration and club work in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture will be represented, first, by an extensive display of corn and other products grown by the boys' corn club members; extensive displays and demonstrations by the members of the girls' canning clubs and samples of crops and charts showing how large crops may be produced by the use of proper seed selection and correct tillage methods.

 Dinner on the ground. Come early

"HOME, SWEET HOME."

Song of a thousand joys and tears,
 Your notes come echoing down the years
 Like the sweet sigh
 Left on the sober autumn breeze,
 When from her court of woods and trees,
 Her lonely blossoms and her bees,
 Summer goes by.

At your first note, a thousand cares
 Slip from my forehead unawares;
 I feel the balm
 Of childhood days, I know the grace
 Of many a dear forgotten face,
 And many a restful woodland place
 Distant and calm.

The voices of the friends I knew
 Sound in your measures pure and true,
 As if a hand
 Were gently on my spirit laid,
 While flowers about a heaven made,
 And I might enter unafraid
 The Promised Land.

O song, what rapture did you know
 As, bent above her cradle low,
 A mother hushed
 Her child to sleep with your sweet strain,
 Or when, their life before them plain,
 Some lovers sang the sweet refrain,
 And smiled and blushed?

Of from some angle by the fire
 Old voices made the tender choir
 That raised the song,
 Or clinging sailors on a mast,
 Seeing their hope of life slip past,
 Have chosen to sing these notes—their last—
 Bravely and long.

Ring on, dear song, through all our days,
 And brighten still our distant ways,
 Where'er we roam,
 And let our last swift seconds be,
 By distant shores, by land or sea,
 Made happy by the thought of thee,
 Of "Home, Sweet Home."

NEBRASKA EXPLAINS LAND LOTTERY LAWS.

Persons Who Own 160 Acres Already Cannot Register; Some Tracts Are Appraised High.

Valentine, Nebr., Oct. 7.—It has been announced in several press dispatches that any person who is a citizen of the United States or has declared his intention to become a citizen, can register for the opening of the Fort Niobrara and excluded forest lands regardless of the fact that he had heretofore made entry.

Judge Witten said today that this statement was slightly inaccurate, for the reason that persons who have heretofore made entry for 160 acres and have not offered final proof cannot make entry of these lands. Persons who are proprietors of more than 160 acres of land, which they did not acquire under the homestead law, are not qualified to register.

Some Land Very Valuable.

Any person who is a citizen or has declared his intention to become a citizen can register for 480 acres of the forest reserve land under the Kincaid Act, regardless of the fact that he has already obtained patent under the homestead law, if he is otherwise qualified.

The lands are to be entered under two laws. For the 15,040 acres of the Fort Niobrara lands, each person may enter 160 acres under the general provisions of the homestead laws, for which he must pay the appraised value at the time the Government appraises the land next spring. Judge Witten is unable even to conjecture what these lands will be appraised at. Some of it will be appraised very high. For 29,440 acres of the Fort Niobrara lands and all of the excluded forest lands in Grant and McPherson Counties entries may be in 640-acre tracts, under the law known as the Kincaid Act, and does not cost the entryman anything, except the filing fees of $14. Each entryman will be required to live upon and cultivate lands under both laws for three years. Persons who enter any of the 15,040 acres mentioned above will be required to cultivate one-eighth of the land entered on and construct a habitable house on the

After the harvest the wise man buys a Ford. He provides himself both pleasure and an efficient and economical servant for the seasons to come. Viewed from any angle, he knows the Ford is his best "buy" for the year.

Five hundred dollars is the new price of the Ford runabout; the touring car is five fifty; the town car seven fifty—all f. o. b. Detroit, complete with equipment. Get catalog and particulars from BARKER & WINN, Plainview, Texas.

Three Years' Residence Required.

Persons who enter under the Kincaid Act must reside upon, cultivate and improve the land to the extent of $125 per acre. Under both classes of entry, fees and commissions amounting to $14 must be paid. Soldiers and sailors who served during the Civil War, Spanish-American War or the Philippine insurrection are required to live continuously on the land for one year, after which they may take credit for the other two years for the period of their military service. Entries made under each of these laws cannot be commuted after fourteen months' residence, as in previous land openings, but a three-year residence is necessary.

VERIFY IT.

The Proof Is in Plainview, Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Plainview citizen is in itself strong proof for Plainview people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Plainview citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved weak kidneys, and now states the result was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

P. C. Russell, Moreland St., Plainview, Texas, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Long Drug Co., for acute lameness in my back and sluggish kidneys. They have certainly helped me, and are the only remedy that ever gave me lasting relief. I still use Doan's Kidney Pills when I need a kidney remedy, and always get benefit. You are at liberty to continue using my testimonial, as heretofore."

IF YOU HAVE $5,000.

Advice from the Cattle-Raising Experts to the Beginner.

A man with $5,000 to invest, who desires to go into the cattle business, asked advice of experts yesterday at the American Royal. A compilation of the advice is as follows:

"By all means go in; there never was a better time in the cattle business than at present.

"Buy land here in the Middle West up to $100 an acre, according to the grade of stock invested in, the nearer to a large market the better.

"A man with a small capital should not go to the range. The big fellows have the advantage there.

"Invest, by all means, in graded stock for beef purposes.

"Grade up by investment in a full-blooded bull.

"Sell the stuff and retain one-half the she stuff."

F. W. Harding, of Waukesha, Wis., president of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association, was one of the men who gave his advice, as follows:

"If a man desires to go into the cattle range country on $5,000, go to Montana, Colorado and Wyoming also are good countries. Get land along a river or stream. It costs in Montana $100 an acre along the water, but shades down to $1 an acre back of this.

"But my advice would be for a man going into the cattle business on this small scale to start in any of the Middle Western States. Land up to $100 an acre is all right, according to the grade of cattle he buys. I recently prepared statistics on an investment of $4,000 on buying blooded cattle, granted the man has his land. In this proposition $1,000 could be paid down on the land.

"Supposing he has nine cows and one bull. He should sell all his bulls and retain one-half the heifers in his herd. After three years, speaking conservatively, his investment will pay $1,000 annually. Five years after this, or eight years from the beginning, he will have net from his cattle $5,000 in cash and twenty-five producing cows, worth $4,000. I have charged out, before I make these deductions, interest on land, cost of labor, feed and other necessary expenses.

"The little fellows, if they go out to the range country, have great danger of being squeezed out by the big cattle owners."

"There never was a better time than now to go into the cattle business in this country," Abram Renick, manager of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association said. "There is a shortage of beef here and, gain as we may, the full demand cannot be met for the next ten years.

"A man with $5,000 and the inclination should go into the cattle business. He should buy land at $60 to $80 an acre in any of this Mid-Western country and pay $1,000 down on it. Then let him put $4,000 into cattle; buy ten head—cows at $150 to $300 each and one bull, at $500. These will be choice.

"Any country out this way now is good cattle country. Let a man take a worn-out farm, grow what he can on it and feed it all to his cattle. He never will have a better chance than at the present time. He will make money and fine profits in the next ten years."

The advice of R. J. Kinzer, another cattle expert, practically was the same.

"A man living near here should buy near here, because he is better acquainted with the land," Mr. Kinzer said. "Land about here is reasonably cheap. If a man has not the money to buy blooded cattle, let him get females at $50 to $75 and purchase a fine bull. Then let him grade up. He can make a fine living."—Kansas City Star.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Hale. BY VIRTUE of a certain Order of Sale, issued out of the Honorable District Court of Hale County, on the 4th day of October, 1913, by B. H. Towery, District Clerk of said County, against J. M. Murphy and W. W. Jones, for the sum of One Thousand Two Hundred and Seventy Dollars and Sixty Cents ($1,270.60) and costs of suit, in cause No. 959 in said Court, styled J. L. Dorsett versus J. M. Murphy and W. W. Jones, and placed in my hands for service, I, J. C. Hooper, as Sheriff of Hale County, Texas, did, on the 4th day of October, 1913, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Hale County, described as follows, to-wit:

Lot No. 20, Block No. 118, in the town of Abernathy, Hale County, Texas, as against Ferguson-Falonia Lumber Company, J. M. Murphy, W. W. Jones, W. C. Mathes and C. E. Hewett. And whereas the said Judgment is a foreclosure of a Deed of Trust Lien against all of the defendants, J. M. Murphy, W. W. Jones, C. E. Hewett and W. C. Mathes and Ferguson-Falonia Lumber Co., with J. D. Ferguson as its President, as existed on the 17th day of August, 1910, on the following described property, to-wit: Lots Numbers Four, Twelve, Fourteen and Fifteen, in Jones-Murphy Subdivision of Block No. Nine of Lake Side Addition to the town of Plainview, Hale County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of said parties aforesaid. And on Tuesday, the 4th day of November, 1913, at the Court House door of Hale County, in the City of Plainview, Texas, between the hours of ten a. m. and four p. m., I will sell said property at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said parties aforesaid, by virtue of said levy and said Order of sale.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in The Hale County Herald, a newspaper published in Hale County.

WITNESS my hand, this 4th day of October, 1913.

J. C. HOOPER, Sheriff, Hale County, Texas. By W. H. BOX, Deputy. Ad. 66

There is something in the air at this time of the year that has a very drying, irritating effect on the nostrils and air passages of the head and throat. A cough and cold frequently follow these symptoms, and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a strong demulcent remedy that gives prompt relief. Use it for coughs, colds, tickling throat, hoarseness and bronchial coughs; best for children and grown persons. Keep it at home, and quick relief will follow its use. Contains no opiates. R. A. CUTTING SANDWICHES.

Then there are your sandwiches for the afternoon tea. You are tired of monotonous little slices of bread and butter placed together. Well, then, take your shears and cut the bread, which must not be too new, you know, into hearts, diamonds, rounds, trefoils and stars, or make draught board squares of white and brown bread. You'll be rather surprised at your artistic achievements.

At the children's birthday tea you won't need the services of a caterer. Your own efforts with the sandwiches will please the little ones beyond words; and, moreover, you can give your talent full sway and cut out cit-

SIXTH GRADE ORGANIZES LAMAR SCHOOL CLUB.

MISS BRANDON, Teacher.

On Friday afternoon the Sixth Grade of the Lamar School organized a club, which will hold its meetings semi-monthly. Felix Zollicoffer was elected president, Ennis Crow, vice president, and Elsie Brock, secretary. The name decided on was "L. S. G." Club (Lamar Sixth Grade Club.) The club has for its aim the fitting up of their room and self improvement. It will give an open meeting Friday, October 31.

Sallie Buchanan, who has been absent from school for more than a week, on account of the death of her grandmother, is back in school again.

Alvin Sheffy has had to stop school for awhile, on account of farm work. There is an enrollment of forty-five in our grade, and only thirty-eight seats, so boxes and chairs are being made to do duty. This makes our room look very untidy, and we are impatiently awaiting the coming of the new seats.

Last month there were thirteen girls and twelve boys neither absent nor tardy. We are working for a better record this month.

George Burt has been absent from Seventh Grade several days, gathering crops.

Miss Edna Harrison is reported as improving.

A few desks have improved conditions wonderfully in the Third, Fifth and Sixth Grade rooms.

TAKING TOLL OF BABIES.

Each season of the year takes its toll of the babies, and to watch and safeguard them from common colds and coughs is a matter of importance to their parents. To keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house and use it promptly is to save the little ones from the serious effects of these colds, to ward off croup, bronchial coughs, hoarseness, stuffy, wheezy breathing and violent coughing spells. It is absolutely free of opiates and may be given to the little ones with no fear of harmful results. Refuse substitutes. R. A. Long's Drug Store. —Adv. 66

EUROPE'S LARGEST STATION.

Leipzig Is Building One That Will Cost 35 Million Dollars.

The largest railway station in Europe, estimated to cost 35 million dollars, is now under construction at Leipzig, in the Kingdom of Saxony, Germany. This station is designed to serve as a terminal for all the railways entering Leipzig, which, in addition to being a famous university city, is one of the most important railway and industrial centers in the German Empire.

The location of this city is near the boundary between Saxony and Prussia, and the cost of the structure is to be borne in varying proportions by the Saxon State Railways, the Prussian State Railways and the city of Leipzig. The station is divided into two equal portions, one half being the property of the Saxon administration and the other half the property of the Prussian administration. There are

SLEW INNKEEPER TO STOP RAIN.

Russian Peasants Believed Ruin of Crops Due to His Habits.

Warsaw, Russia, Oct. 6.—The peasants of the village of Walizo, near Lodz, held a meeting to discuss the cause of the heavy rain, which rendered the harvest prospects most unfavorable. They decided it was an infliction from heaven on account of the intemperate habits of the local innkeeper named Halchon.

A deputation remonstrated with the innkeeper, but he refused to mend his ways, and, as the rain did not stop, the peasants held a court in a field, before which Halchon was brought and sentenced to death. The peasants carried out the sentence on the spot by beating the innkeeper to death.

$227,000 WILL BE GIVEN HORSEMEN AT PANAMA MEET.

Frisco Harness Races, Feature of Exposition to Be Greatest Ever; Four Purses of $20,000 Each.

San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11.—The Panama-Pacific race meeting which will be given under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association in June and October, 1915, have been planned on a scale commensurate with the International Exposition of which they are to be a part, and as the attractive feature to all who are interested in harness racing.

The record-breaking sum of $227,000 has been hung up for purses and stakes to be given at these two meetings. As a starter, and largely to advertise these meetings and keep the interest agitated among the horsemen, four $20,000 purses for trotters and pacers and $12,000 in colt stakes (the latter only for the June meeting), permitted nomination to be made on September 1 by the payment of 1 per cent, which entitled nominators to start their horses in the $20,000 purses without further payment.

Those who did not make entries on that date have the privilege of making nominations on April 1, 1914, by the payment of 2 per cent, or if they wait until January 2, 1915, 3 per cent; or if they decide at the last minute that they want to start a horse, and wait until June 1, 1915, they pay the usual 5 per cent to start, which will be $1,000 to start on June 1, against $200 to start if the entry was made September 1, this year.

In the four $20,000 purses, the 2:10 trot for the summer meeting received 16 entries, among the nominators being an entry made by Prince Ypsilanti, of Austria; the 2:06 pace for the same meeting received 16 entries; the 2:10 trot for the fall meeting received 13 entries, and the 2:06 pace for the fall meeting received 11 entries. There were 58 entries made in the colt stakes. Nominators cannot determine yet whether their colts will trot or pace, and have the privilege of transferring their nominations from one class to another at a later date.

In addition to the money prizes, handsome trophies of gold and silver plate are to be presented, and owners of winning horses will have souvenirs of the occasion that will be well worth treasuring.

The Executive Committee, in charge of the racing, assures the horsemen that with their co-operation the Panama-Pacific race meetings will be the grandest affairs in the history of the harness horse, and visitors will find that nothing has been left undone by the management to make these meetings second to none ever held in the United States.

Our Millinery Business Is Very Gratifying

The Sales have surpassed anything in our history. This is not hot air or idle talk--but a fact. We have the figures to prove it. But we are still not satisfied and are preparing for more business by adding new shipments each week to our already big stock of millinery novelties. Our moderate priced line is bigger and better than ever before.

Our tailored and dress hats in Fisk, Elzee and Regina patterns range from $4.50 to $25.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS.

PRETTY RECEPTION HONORING CHARLESTON, MO., GUEST.

Mesdames Keck, Meyers, Roos and Kerley Receive More Than Hundred Guests Saturday.

Little Miss Cleo Kerley opened the door to more than a hundred guests at the reception given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. G. C. Keck, Mrs. R. E. Meyers, Mrs. E. E. Roos and Mrs. Joseph R. Kerley, at the home of Mrs. G. C. Keck, 209 Archer Street.

The many expressions from the guests declaring that the decorations were the most beautiful they had seen in some time classes this reception and its appointments at the top of a long list of entertainings given recently in Plainview. The big front parlor and the library were thrown into one large room. The parlor was decorated with red roses and the library portion of the big receiving room with variously-tinted autumn leaves and nasturtiums.

Mrs. J. W. Grant stood in the large doorway and directed the guests to the charming servers of cherry phosphate, Mrs. F. W. Clinkscales and Mrs. L. M. Faulkner.

In the dining room, where white and green were the colors of decoration, Mrs. J. O. Wyckoff, Mrs. Joe McKee, Miss Alice Harrel and Miss Allie Ware graciously served sandwiches, salted nuts, mint and tea with pineapple.

The musical feature of the afternoon was enjoyed. Miss Myrtle Wade sang, with Miss Scudder at the piano. This pretty and popular reception was given for Mrs. E. Jere Deal, a sister of Mrs. E. E. Roos. Mrs. Deal came in Thursday from her home, at Charleston, Mo., and is a guest of Mrs. Roos.

consist of various items in a demonstration way along animal husbandry lines, such as glass tubes showing balanced rations, of Texas feed stuffs, charts showing results of experiments, models of stock farm equipment such as hog houses, hurdle fences, poultry houses, dipping vats, etc.

The horticultural exhibits will consist of various specimens of the different varieties of horticultural products such as fruits, vegetables and nuts. Along with these exhibits will go instructions as to how they can best be produced and marketed. Besides this will be demonstrations in the budding and grafting of the various kinds of fruits, as well as complete demonstrations in the spraying and other treatment for diseases and insect pests.

From the correspondence course division will be various charts and maps showing what is being done along that line; also instructions as to how the advantages of the courses may be secured.

Phenomena Display.

The department of physics will have on display various interesting phenomena shown by means of mirrors, lenses and other apparatus.

The department of engineering will show samples of the wonderful work which is being done by the students in this department.

In the field crops portion of the display special attention will be given to the laying out of systems of farming and showing of resulting products that may be expected in the dry farming sections.

Music a Feature.

President J. J. Eckford of the State Fair Association is in receipt of a list of the instrumental and vocal soloists who will take part in the Coliseum entertainment at the fair. The musical program has been prepared by Bandmaster A. F. Thaviu, whose band will appear in concert each morning, afternoon and evening. Mr. Thaviu announces that the following will compose his corps of instrumental soloists:

A. F. Thaviu, cornet; J. Rotflow, flute; Frank Pallaria, baritone; John Bartunick, xylophone. Instrumental solo numbers have been arranged for in each concert and promise to be among the most popular features.

The well-known singers have been engaged for the operatic numbers on the daily program, namely: Misses Lillian Cummings and Ella O'Neal Corrigan, sopranos; Miss Rose A. Felton, contralto; Signora Geoconne and Ferratti, tenors; Jack Bean, tenor and yodler; Signor Gistino Zara and Messrs. George Teats and Joseph Moor, baritones.

According to press notices received, these singers are all of splendid ability and training. Popular and up-to-date songs by Messrs. Jack Bean, George Teats and Joseph Moor will be an exceedingly popular and enjoyable feature of the program.

"Cardus," the beautiful Hungarian dance, in which Mme. Marie Jung and Misses Dorothie Dixon and Lucille Evelyn will take part, will be elaborately staged. The corps de ballet under the direction of Madame Marie Jung, is being rehearsed daily in Chicago. The entire aggregation of musicians, singers and dancers will arrive in Dallas the middle of this week.

Three great vaudeville acts will feature the Coliseum program, completing a list of attractions for each bill that has never before been equalled.
