FEDERALS LEAVE 2,000 DEAD; FLEE ZACATECAS

Four Thousand Defenders Wounded And Villa Takes Five Thousand Prisoners With Town

BUILDINGS DYNAMITED

Huertists Destroy Government And Banking Houses; Mediators Waiting; Sickness At Vera Cruz

By United Press.

JUAREZ, Mexico, June 25.—Remnant of the Federal garrison at Zacatecas is fleeing toward Agua Calientes, leaving 2,000 killed and 4,000 wounded in the streets. This statement is based on a dispatch from Villa to-day dated "Zacatecas."

Villa captured 5,000 prisoners and 6,000 rifles, together with quantities of munitions and provisions. The rebel chieftain puts his own loss at 500 killed and 800 wounded. The wounded include Generals Herrera, Ortega and Rodriguez.

The rebels gave an unequalled exhibition of courage when they stormed the supposedly impregnable heights of Sierra Lebuca. Zacatecas is said to have been the most strongly fortified post in Mexico. It was 8,000 above sea level, and was in a valley surrounded by precipitous mountains.

Zacatecas was defended by 15,000 men. Not even Villa's spectacular attack on Torreon, when the rebel chief went to the front with his red bandana around his neck, exceeds the determined bravery of his attack on Zacatecas. Villa had about 25,000 men.

Before leaving the Federals dynamited the principal government and bank buildings. They destroyed railroads as they withdrew, and it will be weeks before Villa can repair them and move his army within striking distance of Calientes.

Evacuation of San Luis Potosi is confirmed.

NIAGARA FALLS, Can., June 25.—Peace in Mexico by mediation is still distant. It is not believed here that Carranza's representatives are coming for conference with Huerta's envoys. Pending word from Carranza, mediation has halted.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Percentage of sickness both in army and navy at Vera Cruz is slowly and steadily increasing. President Wilson has vetoed the suggestion of the army staff that the lines be extended so that a majority of troops will be on high ground and get relief from intolerable heat.

The President fears such an extension might cause hostilities.

BAPTIST LADIES' AID STUDIES "THE PRINTED PAGE"

Sweet Peas Perfume Rooms in Which Mrs. R. J. Goode Receives Guests.

The Ladies' Aid of the Plainview Baptist Church held its regular monthly missionary meeting Monday afternoon, with Mrs. R. J. Goode.

Those who were fortunate enough to be present have but one report to make—"It was such a beautiful meeting."

The rooms open to the guests were fragrant with sweet peas in purple and white, the colors favored by the Aid.

Mrs. T. W. Sawyer was leader for the afternoon. The subject was "The Printed Page."

Among other good numbers on the program were a talk by Rev. H. H. Street, a solo by Miss Hattie Dillingham, a reading by Miss Jessie Goode, and papers by Mrs. Prudie Wright, Mrs. H. W. Knupp and Miss Geraldine Marrs.

From sixty to seventy-five ladies enjoyed the interesting program and the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Goode and her daughters, who served a delightful salad course.

A generous free-will offering was taken for the mission cause.

Mrs. A. M. Fine, Miss Kilgore and Mrs. A. M. Aldrich, who have been conducting a cooking school here, went to Lubbock Wednesday.

ANDERSON FROM ROSWELL WITH HOGS FOR SYNDICATE

Forty Yorkshires And Duroc Jerseys Are Purchased; Longstreth To Kansas For More

Austin Anderson came in last night with about forty hogs, which he purchased in Roswell, N. M., for the Texas Land and Development Company. These are Yorkshires and Duroc Jerseys. A big male weighs nearly 800 pounds.

Austin and J. W. Longstreth left today for Garden City, Kansas, where they hope to buy more hogs for the Syndicate.

With the Syndicate buying hogs, a thousand to be purchased for J. O. Crockett and 500 on Helen Temple Farm, Hale County hog production will be materially increased.

VISITORS BUY THOUSAND ACRES IRRIGATED FARMS.

Two Drills Are Working in Akin Field Putting Down Six New Wells.

The Texas Land and Development Company sold a little more than a thousand acres of land to prospectors which it brought in last week. This was to bona fide settlers, and was in tracts of 80 and 160 acres.

Most of the land has been irrigated. The Company agrees to put all of it under irrigation. Sale price was $190 an acre, or a little more for smaller tracts.

R. S. Charles said yesterday that the Company is gratified at its sales. Practically every place which has been developed is taken, and orders are ahead of the drills. A new well was started this week on Dr. Pearson's farm, near Akin. Two drills are busy putting down six new wells in the Akin field.

As a result of one year's work the Texas Land and Development Company has put down forty-seven big wells and brought nearly 7,000 acres under irrigation. It is hoped that the entire 60,000 acres which the company purchased will be cut into small irrigated farms within five years.

MRS. KNIGHT ENTERTAINS VISITING BANKER FRIENDS.

One of the many pleasant social events of the week was the dinner given Monday at 1 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Knight, in honor of some of the friends of Mr. Knight who were among the visitors at the Bankers' Convention.

Seven courses were served and toasts given at this elaborate function.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. Lester, of Canyon; Messrs. John Farris, of Floydada; J. E. Longmoor, W. E. Halsell, C. B. McClusky and W. Newman, all of Kansas City; Mr. E. M. Hill, of Checotah, Okla.; T. P. Martin, of Oklahoma City, and W. K. Patrick, of Clarendon.

AMUSEMENTS

Our Mutual Girl Continues to Delight.

The fact that folks always come back when the Mutual Girl is scheduled at The Ruby is the best indication of the popularity of the refreshing little country miss. This week she learned more of the wonders of New York and became more proficient in her knowledge of the modern dances by adding to her repertoire the steps of the Maxixe.

"Judith of Bethulia," a masterpiece of the silent drama, was shown at The Mae I last night.

The four reels were full of pathos and beauty. The lights on that dark period of Jewish history were cast admirably.

The tragic story of Judith, taken from the Apocrapha, has been beautifully adapted by Thomas Bailey Aldrich. It was his story shown to be large audience at The Mae I last night.

HERALD'S FIRST AUTO CONTEST COUNT FRIDAY

Result of Work For Eleven Hundred Dollar Automobile To Date Will Appear Saturday

First count in The Herald's big subscription contest will be made Friday night. Results will be announced in Saturday's paper. Votes that you turn in to-morrow will go in Friday night's count.

Contestants are busy. Why not? A $1,100 automobile is worth hard work, when the contest only continues 90 days, isn't it? Then there are the trips to New York by water and back by land, or the trip to San Francisco to the World's Fair in 1915.

Do you know of a friend who won't help you win? And this is particularly true when you tell him that they get The Herald three times a week—all of the local news—one year for only $1.50.

WILLIAM HAROLD HOLMES CELEBRATES FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

Twenty Little Boys and Girls Enjoy Afternoon Lawn Party and Refreshments.

Mrs. Y. W. Holmes, 508 Westmoreland Street, was hostess yesterday afternoon for twenty little girls and boys in honor of the fifth birthday of her son, William Harold Holmes.

Each little friend brought a remembrance for "Billie," as he is familiarly known.

The children spent a happy afternoon playing on the lawn and enjoying the lemonade, ice cream cones and little individual cakes served by the hostess. The cakes were not only dainty and edible, but furnished amusement for the little folks, as they were fashioned in the form of chickens industriously picking up grains of corn.

The refreshments were served informally by Mrs. Holmes, assisted by Mesdames Theresa Harrison, Sam Wilks and Albert Hinn.

The boys and girls present were Harold Hinn, Vera Hamilton, Robert Tull, Dorothy and Mary Jordan, of Clarkeville, Tenn.; Virginia Hatchell, Inez Witt, Katherine Malone, John Melton Vaughn, Ray and Evelyn Russell, Dorothy Penry, Wilbur Park, Wilton Wilks, Elizabeth Williams, Maurine and Mike Mathes, Frank Brown, Ennis Honnol and Robert and Lizzie Long.

FIVE HUNDRED CLUB IN LAST MEETING OF SUMMER.

The last meeting of the Five Hundred Club for the summer was with Mrs. P. J. Woodriddle Tuesday afternoon.

Mesdames F. W. Clinkscales and Chas. McCormack and Miss Mary McKinnon, of Floydada, were remembered by the hostess in her invitations.

Salads and ices were served during the afternoon. The club adjourned to meet again the last Tuesday in September.

Seth Ward President Will Preach Sunday

Rev. C. L. McDonald will preach at the Methodist Church Sunday morning and night. President McDonald was pastor at Bovina before becoming President of Seth Ward. He was at Meridian, Texas, last year, and was at Southwestern University before that.

Mr. McDonald is an interesting talker and clear thinker. His sermons are powerful.

ASTURTUMS FOLLOW ROSES IN PLAINVIEW FLOWER BEDS.

And All Varieties Were in Evidence at Blue Lodge Installation Last Night.

The profusion of roses which have glorified the month of June in Plainview is almost over. The monthly roses are still blooming, and will continue to do so until the snows of winter descend and unfold them until spring comes again.

But the climbing roses and other annual varieties have almost disappeared.

In their place are nasturtiums, in all their glorious shades of brown and gold. And sweet peas, too, in their varied and delicate colors grace lawn and garden.

These two flowers have been used profusely for the mid-summer functions of the week.

At the Masonic Hall last night the handsomely-furnished rooms were gay with their bright and beautiful colors, the occasion being the installation of the Blue Lodge and Chapter officers for the ensuing Masonic year.

With J. C. Goodwin as presiding officer, an entertaining program was given. A vocal solo by Mrs. H. G. Lindsay, a reading by Miss Waddill and a violin solo by Mrs. Grady Pipkin were all enjoyed by the one hundred and twenty-five who were present.

Magic lantern slides illustrating the history of Masonry, even back to the days of the Old Testament, were shown by Hon. L. C. Penry and explained by J. C. Goodwin. The pictures were a beautiful revelation of the history of the order.

Punch, cold and delightful, was served throughout the evening by Mesdames A. H. Lindsay, L. C. Penry, W. I. Scudder and J. C. Goodwin.

DINNER WITH DR. AND MRS. C. C. GIDNEY.

Nasturtiums graced the dinner given at seven-thirty last night by Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Gidney 208 White Street.

At this pretty and well-appointed dinner were Messrs. and Mesdames Louis T. Bell, Grady Pipkin, Mrs. F. L. O'Dell, of Hillsboro, who is visiting Mrs. Pipkin; Miss Hazel Ashby, Dr. J. C. Anderson and Jennings Anderson.

After dinner Five Hundred was enjoyed by hosts and guests.

Mrs. S. A. Barnes returned yesterday from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Spivey Barnes, at Abernathy.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING AT COURT HOUSE

Question of Fairs To Come Up; Financial Statement For Year To Be Presented

A financial statement of the Chamber of Commerce will be presented at to-night's meeting. This is of interest to every man in Plainview—particularly to those who are making monthly payments to the organization. The Chamber of Commerce is the town's organized effort for promoting industrial and commercial progress.

At the last two meetings it has been necessary to "go out and compel men to come in" so that a quorum might transact business. Dr. J. C. Anderson, President, said to-day: "I sincerely hope that will not be the case to-night. We have been doing many things. Every man has helped, and every man ought to come out."

Plainview's business men have been liberal enough in their contributions, and they work. Few of them attend the meetings of the Chamber of Commerce. Visitors have commented upon that apparent lack of interest.

The question of fairs and fair exhibits will be taken up to-night. Shall Hale County send an exhibit to Dallas, to Oklahoma City, or shall we have a County Fair at home? It is time now to begin.

The meeting will be in the County Court room at 8:30 o'clock.

"WHITE SLAVER" USES A NEW MODEL "POISON GUN."

Mary Turner Age Fifteen, Tells Remarkable Story Experiences in Topeka, Kansas.

DALLAS, Texas, June 24.—The "White Slaver" has a new weapon. The "poison gun" has followed the "poison pen." Mary Turner, age fifteen years, told a remarkable story of flirtation in a public park in Topeka Wednesday.

The girl said a handsome young man was demonstrating a gun when it suddenly popped. She inhaled deadly fumes and did not know anything until she found herself riding on a Fort Worth train. Fear of the gun, the girl said kept her silent on the train and for several days in a Fort Worth hot el.

Her captor became frightened here and abandoned her, the girl says. The police are skeptical.

SICILIAN BLACK HAND INVESTIGATOR KILLED.

Frank D. Maria's Assassination is Twentieth on "Bloody Corner" in a Year

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 25.—Frank De Maria, a Sicilian investigator, who has been aiding the police trail black hand murderers, was himself shot to death by an unknown assassin to-day. The tragedy occurred at bloody "Death Corner" in "Little Italy."

Three bullets were fired into Maria's head by a man who crouched in the shadows of St. Felipe's Roman Catholic Church. Hundreds of Italians witnessed the deed but none ventured a description of the assassin.

Maria is the twentieth victim who has fallen on this corner during the last year.

INDIAN CRANES COME TO MAKE HOME IN LAKE PLAINVIEW.

Saturday the Texas Land and Development Company received two Indian cranes for Plainview park. Two black swans, two peacocks and two shell drakes were received Sunday.

With the white swans, the Canadian geese and ducks, the Lake is assuming a lively appearance. Of course, the big bull frogs which Mr. Miller shipped from Louisiana are adding their chorus to the life of the lake community.

Mrs. H. C. Randolph and son Leslie came in to-day from a trip of several weeks' duration. They accompanied Mr. Randolph to New York, Washington and Chicago, returning by way of Amarillo, where Mrs. Randolph and son visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Blackburn.

MRS. SALLIE A. BURKE VICTIM OF APOPLEXY

Deceased Was Mother-in-Law of Judge W. C. Mathes; Born in Tennessee 74 Years Ago

COUNTY NAMED FOR FATHER

Mrs. Burke Was Sick During The Night And Ate Breakfast; Body Waits Coming of Daughters

The whole of Plainview was shocked this morning by the news that Mrs. Sallie A. Burke, mother of Mrs. W. C. Mathes, had fallen dead.

Mrs. Burke spent the night with her sister, Mrs. E. W. Dyer. She was sick during the night, but got up and ate breakfast as usual.

Later she became worse. A doctor was phoned for about nine o'clock. Just as he reached the Dyer home Mrs. Burke fell. Apoplexy was the cause assigned.

Mrs. Burke was born in Rutherford County, Tenn., more than seventy-four years ago. The county was named after her father, a noted pioneer of that State.

Mrs. Burke was a faithful, consistent member of the Methodist Church, and has gone to a glorious reward.

At the funeral, four years ago, of a favorite little granddaughter, the child of Judge and Mrs. Mathes, Mrs. Burke exclaimed, "She cannot come back to us, but we can go to her. How happy the meeting must have been this morning!"

Mrs. Burke survived by one sister, Mrs. E. W. Dyer, of this place, and four daughters, Mrs. S. P. Hamilton, of Santa Anna, Calif.; Mrs. H. V. Nicholson, of Gorman; Mrs. W. L. Cooper, of Cisco, and Mrs. W. C. Mathes, of Plainview.

The remains were embalmed by W. F. Piper and are held awaiting the arrival of her daughters.

Two granddaughters, Mrs. W. E. Beasley and Miss Hattie Nicholson, of Gorman, are visiting here at present.

MONTANA GOVERNOR MAY ASK FOR TROOPS.

Fleeing, Tuesday Night Results in One Death and Five Injured; Union Hall Wrecked

BUTTE, Mont., June 24.—Governor Stewart will ask the President to send regular troops to take charge of a situation resulting from rioting last night. One man was shot dead and five injured. Union Hall was wrecked by dynamite, as a result of a miner's feud.

Rumors are current that President Moyer of the Western Association, and other national officers are in danger of lynching. It is believed they have been spirited away by authorities.

GERMANY TO RULE THE AIR

With Rapid Strides, the French Are Being Outstripped.

BERLIN, Germany, June 24.—The completion by Zeppelin of his twenty-fifth Zeppelin cruiser, the celebration of the one hundredth successful aerial voyage of the military Zeppelin "LZ5" by officers and crew, the two hundred and fiftieth trip into the clouds a few days ago by the passenger Zeppelin "Victoria Louise," of the Hamber-American aerial line, together with the capture of record after record by German aeroplane pilots and manufacturers, is once more attracting the world's attention to Germany's rapid strides in conquering the air.

"Rule Germania in the Clouds!" promises to become as traditional in the history of the air as "Rule Britannia" on the seas. From the very start, well in the lead in number, size and development of its cruisers of the air—both military and passenger—the gigantic Zeppelin and smaller Parsevals—Germany is now outdistancing France in the number of aeroplanes and trained pilots and is taking away from the French their long-held supremacy in flying.

That the United States, through the Wright brothers, gave to the world the first "flying machine" that could fly, takes such little interest in the development of aviation in comparison with Europe, is incomprehensible to aviation experts on this side of the Atlantic. Three things have been largely responsible for the strides Germany is making in the clouds. They are: Government support and encouragement for military purposes; the offer of substantial prizes for the manufacture of the best aeroplane motors and for records in flying, and the keen desire to outdo the French in everything.

Take Records from France.

An appropriation last year by the Reichstag, at the government's request, of about 30 million dollars for a large aerial fleet of Zeppelins and aeroplanes for the army and navy, together with the necessary flying fields, sheds and aerial harbors, gave a tremendous impetus to the manufacturing of motors and aeroplanes. Until very recently German aeroplanes were driven by French motors. It was believed that only the French could make these high-class motors, upon the dependability of which the safety of the flyer hangs. To-day the German aeroplane is "made in Germany" throughout. The records that Germany has torn from France were won with German motors. It was the kaiser himself who personally offered a prize of $12,500 for the best German-made aeroplane motor. The new six-cylinder 100 and 150-horsepower Mercedes motor, through the new world's records established by machines equipped with it, has proven itself second to none.

A national flying fund of 1 million dollars, raised by popular subscription, which offered large prizes for records by German pilots in German machines, was the impulse that drove Germany past France in one short year. To-day the Germans hold the altitude record, won by Guide Linnekegel, who also established a new record for eaching a great height with one passenger. Bruno Langer, a German, captured the endurance record from the French by remaining in the air 14 hours and 20 minutes and then established a still greater record of 16 hours. For the first he was given an honor prize of $2,000 and for the second feat $5,000. Karl Ingold, also a German, notched it up to 16 hours and 20 minutes. Stoeffler, a German, covered 1,200 miles in long distance flights. Robert Thelen, German, ascended to 8,000,000 feet with four passengers in his machine, and thereby captured from the French another record. Lieutenant Hese flew from Hannover to Berlin—185 miles—in one hour.

Air Safe for Human Freight.

Germany has now about 750 trained "fliers." There are forty-nine factories which are building aeroplanes and accessories. There are forty-one flying fields scattered all over Germany. Of these, Johannistal, near Berlin, is the most important. At this, Germany's greatest flying center, there are between 300 and 400 aeroplanes. In 1913, 36,017 flights were made from this one aviation field by 363 different pilots, who together covered an aggregate distance of approximately 210,000 miles.

The aerial line of passenger Zeppelins, under the management of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, carried 14,010 persons into the clouds in 1913; more than 26,000 since the service was inaugurated, and that without injury to one.

PRINCE OF WALES IS TWENTY TODAY.

By United Press.

LONDON, June 23.—The Prince of Wales the King's son and heir to the throne is celebrating his 20th birthday today, and in honor of the event artillery salutes were fired in St. James Park, London, and at Windsor and all the big naval and military centers. Flags were flown on all government buildings, and the diplomatic representatives of the various nations tendered official congratulations on behalf of the rulers. The prince is taking a couple of days holiday from his studies at Oxford University, to celebrate the event. Born in 1894, he was created Prince of Wales after his father ascended the throne. As the next heir, he automatically became Duke of Cornwall on his father's accession, and next years when he becomes of age he will take complete control of the revenues of the duchy as his own private pocket money. These together with his other resources, including his salary of $250,000 (from the British taxpayer) will make his annual income more than a million dollars. The Prince's full names, style and title are Duke of Cornwall, Earl of Chester, Duke of Rothesay, Prince of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles and Great Stewart of Scotland.

INSANITY INCREASES IN CHICAGO.

Moving Pictures and Baseball Among Reasons, County Judge Says.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 26.—Insanity in Cook County is increasing more rapidly than the population, according to figures announced yesterday by John E. Owens, Judge of the County Court, showing the number of insanity cases tried since 1907. Immorality and the increasing complexity of city life were said by Judge Owens to be the chief causes of insanity. The moving picture craze and baseball have played their part in increasing the number of cases, according to Judge Owens. Both amusements, he said, too severely stimulate the emotions of those interested in them. The cases during the year 1913 numbered 2,470, and for the five months of 1914 ending May 31, 1,284.

THE TELEPHONE.

Whenever mother telephones She talks about a lot of things. So father only sits and groans Whenever anybody rings. "The season's earlier this year." "I haven't got my new straw hat." "I can't, because my child is here." "What did her husband say to that?" And father only says, "Hello!" And takes the 'phone up in his hand. "Is that you, Hawkins? This is Snow. I wired Chicago. Understand? I think our man intends to fight. But we can best him if we try. You'd better do so, then, to-night. See you to-morrow. Well, good-bye."

And sister says, "Oh, is that you?" And then she fixes up her hair, S if anybody could see through. "Oh, I don't know. Oh, I don't care." "I think I can, if you insist." "And wasn't yesterday a dream?" "There's seven on the waiting list." "I do love strawberry ice cream." —St. Nicholas.

A MEMORY OF PAPER COLLARS.

Linen Neckwear Once a Luxury Only Wealthy Could Afford.

From the Boston Globe.

I wonder how many men in this city still make a practice of wearing paper collars. I don't imagine the number is very large, but when I was a youngster the paper kind was the collar that was most in vogue, and a large number of persons considered a linen collar in the light of a luxury that only the wealthy could afford. That was in the days before laundries were as numerous as they are now, and the greater part of the family washing was done at home. There must have been a lot of money in the manufacture of paper collars in those days. The demand was big, and, as the collars were of no use after they had been soiled they had to be thrown away and new ones purchased.

Collars came packed ten in a box, and the ordinary kind sold for about fifteen cents, or two boxes for a quarter. There were brands that could be sold for ten cents a box and still leave a margin of profit, and some enterprising dealers made a bid for patronage by offering three boxes for a quarter, which was considered a wonderful bargain.

In spite of their cheapness, paper collars never really suited people of fastidious tastes, and after a while one manufacturer made a kind that looked very much like the real linen article and was put out in a variety of attractive styles. The only trouble was that they cost a quarter a box and as a linen collar could be laundered for two cents in those days there was no saving, unless the wearer of the paper one took advantage of its reversible form and obtained double wear from each one.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE LONE STAR STATE.

By United Press.

Women of Mexico appear in a romantic if not passionate, light in the memoirs of Colonel Ellis P. Bean, the young Tennessean, who blazed a path a military glory in the history of Texas and Mexico of about 1810.

In Irons, an American prisoner in Mexico for engaging in Nolan's contraband trading party, Bean said in the course of his wanderings under guard he came to Helmanqou where a young Senorita, married off by her parents to an old "millionaire," fell passionately in love with Bean and attempted to free him. He would not take advantage of her offer and desert his companions in Irons, Bean declared, even though she guaranteed to leave the country with him and with part of her husband's wealth.

Bean gave the contents of a letter he afterward received from this woman. She reviews the story of her love.

"About three days since the news reached this town that the Americans were coming as prisoners. I was desirous to see them; but it has been an unhappy time for me since I first saw you. I hope you will obtain freedom in a short time, and not forget one who is not ashamed to own that the love she has for you is more than she can bear. Sir, perhaps you ask how his can be, when you are bound in Irons; you may think a woman crazy who would love a man in that situation. Perhaps so; but when I first saw you, I was so touched with compassion that I found my heart distressed and, when I came to examine myself, I found it was love.

"I can write no more. If you leave Mexico, you will let me know where you go, as it will give me some satisfaction.

"In this letter is a ring from my finger. I hope you will keep it to remember my love. "Maria Baldonada."

Many years afterward when Bean was free and fighting for Mexican independence, a royalist's daughter fell in love with him. He father consented to their marriage if Bean would go

LOSE BY CRUELTY TO HOGS.

Bad Handling and Overcrowding Cost Northwest Shippers Large Sums.

From the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Cruelty in handling and loading hogs and the overcrowding of cars by shippers in sending such stock to market are evils which are costing pork producers of the Northwest large sums every month, and the effects of which are accentuated by ho weather.

Commission dealers, packers and the stock yards authorities at South St. Paul have joined in the campaign being made at all the principal packing points of the country to bring about a humane reform.

At the stock yards the use of prodding poles, clubs or other appliances for beating animals in driving them has been forbidden, and all employees have been cautioned against abusive treatment of all kinds of stock.

The owners of abused animals are the heaviest losers when bruises are inflicted. The buyer at market points generally penalizes subsequent shipments of such persons when he discovers that an animal or two in a load has been injured by beating.

Co-operation of the railroad employees, farmers, country shippers and the stock yards drivers is being sought, and all who have anything to do with the handling of cattle, hogs and sheep are being urged to exercise patience and consideration.

The danger in driving cattle and hogs too rapidly in hot weather is being especially emphasized. Warning is being sent broadcast against throwing water on overheated hogs, but sprinkling of cars or the placing of several cakes of ice in cars is suggested as means of minimizing losses and shrink in transit.

Figures readily prove that at current prices for hogs one or two dead animals in a car means a loss that would offset a large part of the freight charges.

over to the King's cause. Beated scorned the offer although he told the young lady, after she had offered to fly with him as her "companion" he told her that she should go into a convent and await his return.

"I then gavet his young angel a kiss, and left the room" aid Col. Bean in his memoirs.

Neither of these two women had their wish. Col. Bean married Senorita Anna Gorthas, yer wealthy, who owned a fine hycienda three miles from Jalapa where Colonel Bean died on the 3rd of October, 1846, at the age of 63.

EDITOR DIED FOR ETHICS.

From the London Telegraph.

The editor of a Chinese vernacular journal, Ta Kung Pao, has succumbed to torture, inflicted by order of a general.

According to the special correspondent at Pekin, this outrage is a direct result of the shocking operation of the new press laws. The editor was arrested by the general commanding the troops on the grounds that he had unlawfully published the verdict and depositions with regard to certain decapitated rebels. He was menaced with the most severe penalties unless he disclosed the name of the reporter who supplied the details.

On the editor refusing stubbornly, stating that professional etiquette demanded that he should protect his subordinates, the general ordered him to be beaten with bamboos. After frightful suffering, and still refusing to speak, he died under this torture.

Many other newspaper editors, it is added, who are now lying under arrest, will probably be treated in a similarly cruel fashion. The case quoted shows that the intellectual Chinese will die for their opinions, and are worthy of a better government than exists to-day.

ALMOST ANOTHER SEA HORROR

The ugly wound in the port bow of the steamship New York, which was rammed in the fog off Nantucket by the steamship Pretoria, being dressed by a staff of competent surgeons of sick and disabled vessels on her arrival at New York. Protruding from the rent of twisted steel was the shank of the Pretoria's anchor, which caused the big opening, and several links of the cable suspended from it.

SALVATIONISTS HOLD SPECULA SERVICE.

By United Press.

LONDON, June 23.—An all-day "festival of praise" at the famous Crystal Palace marked the climax today of the international congress of the salvation Army which has been in session in London since June 11. Participating in this spectacular demonstration in the Army's history were 2,100 foreign delegates, many of them attired in their new garb, and some 18,000 delegates and visiting Salvationists from all parts of the British Isles. From 8 o'clock in the morning there was a continuous succession of meetings within the huge gass and steel structure and in the big park surrounding—46 events in all, and conducted in 34 different languages.

The two principle events of the day were the reception to General and Mrs. Booth in the palace at 10 a. m., and the review of the army by the General and his staff at 5 p. m. in the football grounds. One of the most picturesque features was the early morning unfurling flags of the various nations represented in the congress for the occasion in the Palace grounds. As each standard was broken out by chosen delegates the national anthem of each standard the country represented was played, and the conclusion of the ceremony the fire-starred banner of the Army itself floated out above the others, to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers." A special escort of six delegates from each country, carrying flags, conducted General and Mrs. Booth into the transport for the reception service. When they reached the platform the General was presented with addresses by the 25 territorial commanders in attendance upon the congress.

During the meeting which was concluded by a stirring address by the General, the music was led by a massed orchestra composed of the International Staff band, and the Salvation bands from New York, Chicago, and Toronto, and a chorus of 4,000 voices.

Fully 20,000 salvationists, eight abreast, marched past the General in the grand review, to the music of 3,000 bandsmen, and before an audience of more than 15,000 which packed the football stands and overflowed into the meeting grounds. The day's events will end at 9 o'clock tonight with another general meeting in the transport, to be addressed by leading foreign delegates and a "farewell charge" by General Booth.

The congress is to close next Friday evening with a public service in the Royal Albert Hall, after which 300 specially chosen foreign delegates will make a ten day's tour of the provinces demonstrating various phases of Salvation Army work.

HERE'S A NEW WRINKLE IN WAY OF CONVENTION.

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 25.—A new thing in the way of conventions opened her today when the twelfth annual meeting of the Wholesale Saddlery Association of the United States convened in the Auditorium hotel. The saddlery wholesalers will be in convention for two days but with the exception of an address of welcome and response there are no speeches on the program. The saddlery manufacturers, who will open their meeting tomorrow to continue through next Thursday will be the wholesalers one better by dispensing with all guest speeches and listening to committee reports and informal talks. Theatre parties, boat rides and other entertainments occupy choice places on the program for the two conventions.

PREVENTION VS. EXTERMINATION.

Two hundred and forty-two pints of flies were burned Tuesday—726,000; that is nearly four bushels. Nearly a half million were burned a week ago.

It is gratifying that the boys and girls are waging such relentless war upon flies. They are making a battle against disease. Flies are responsible for a hundred thousand little mounds each summer—a hundred thousand children sacrificed!

Why sacrificed? Because the fly is a product of our filth. It doesn't sound rhythmical. It is true. When you clean up you get rid of flies. Of course, if your neighbor goes dirty his flies bother you.

Concerted effort will rid any community of flies and of the disease which flies carry.

Cleveland, Ohio, found this out by practical experiment. Cleveland, with its produce markets, its foreign quarter, its squalid idleness, rid itself of flies last year.

How?

The campaign was begun in March. All through April flies were brought in at the rate of 10,000 a day. Swamp spots were cleaned up. Decaying vegetable and animal matter was burned. Common lime destroyed fly germs and disease germs.

Plainview can do what Cleveland did. All you have to do is to clean up and help your neighbor clean. It is late to begin. The work might have been done much easier three months ago.

Co-operative effort and determination can eliminate the fly in Plainview NOW.

It is a fine thing to trap the flies. It is confession of filth that the number we trap increases every week. Common lime and "elbow grease" will rid us of flies.

HOMES VS. REAL ESTATE.

"Nine cents for breakfast, 20c for lunch, 15c for dinner." This was one of the rules which enabled Frank A. Ogden to become a multi-millionaire.

"My brothers and sisters invested in families and children. I invested in farms and real estate," Ogden said. He died the other day and left $10,000,000. His body was found in the laboratory of the hotel in which he lived.

"I've got more money than I want. Still I'm working harder than I want to for the pay I get—just board and clothes.

"I thought when I got a competence I could enjoy it. I found that wouldn't work. That was the disappointment of my life."

Did Frank A. Ogden or his brothers and sisters invest more wisely?

All that he got out of life was just his "board and clothes."

Ask his sisters, with home and laughing children, if their brother invested more wisely than they. Put the question to his brothers, when they return after a day of toil to a bright hearthstone, or just as they kiss a cherubic face when starting for work in the morning.

Ask any father or mother in Plainview which investment was the wiser.

The man who gives his life—his time, his intellect, his energy—for money or pleasure or fame makes a poor investment. The men and women who invest in home and children are the citizens who have given American a glorious history. They are writing a still more glorious page for to-morrow.

The whole world is calling out for home-makers. It doesn't care much for a man, even though he may amass a million, if all he gets out of life is his board and clothes. You can't get more than that when you make money your sole aim.

A LETTER ON BALL.

Houston Preachers' Association Sends Out Communication Concerning Fellow Citizen.

Because of inquiries which have been coming to me from various sources, and rumors which have been reported to me as having been circulated affecting the personal character of Hon. Thomas H. Ball, candidate for Governor of Texas, and because of my knowledge of the facts, I make this statement:

I have known Mr. Ball and his family intimately for a number of years. He has been during my entire pastorate (now in the fourth year) an active member in good standing and a Steward of St. Paul Methodist Church. His conduct has at all times been that of an earnest, consistent Christian man, a faithful and devoted husband and father, and he, as well as his wife and daughters, have been important factors in the religious and charitable work of the city.

As a citizen he has been and can always be counted upon as being on the side of morality and Christianity, and any statements or rumors to the contrary are not only untrue, but must arise from anxiety on the part of interested persons to undermine his character for political purposes, in order that their own political and financial interests may not be injured by his election as Governor of Texas.

RICH CONNECTICUT CLUBMAN DEAD NEAR FINE APARTMENTS.

Bloody Barefoot Lead from Lifeless Body to Mrs. Helen Angel's Room; Widow Rich and Attractive

By United Press STAMFORD, Conn. June 24.—Waldo R. Ballou, rich and prominent as city countilman, was found, beaten to death with the back of his skull crushed, at the door of Mrs. Helen Angel's apartments. The woman is wealthy and attractive. She is a widow 40 years old.

When arrested Mrs. Angel admitted Ballou was in her home last night. Prints of bloody barefoot lead straight from the body to the door. Ballou's bloody hat was found in the apartment, also a bloody waist and skirt.

After these things were found Mrs. Ballou called for a lawyer and was silent.

KEEP ONE VARIETY OF CHICKENS AND PROSPER.

Several Breeds Usually Wreck the Finances of the Man Who Dreams of Wealth.

Perhaps the most fascinating dream to the would-be poultryman, without experience, is that of keeping a half-dozen or more varieties of chickens from which to sell eggs for hatching and breeding stock at fancy prices, to say nothing of having fresh eggs and chickens for the table whenever one has an appetite for them.

But, as it works out in actual experience, it is one of the finest means of wrecking one's finances and of souring the experimenter on the whole chicken business, to be conceived of. The best advice we could give to dreamers of this kind is to keep the money. To keep more than one breed of chickens, unless it is to be one's main occupation, is like engaging in more than one business at one time. And ordinarily it ends up about the same way.

It is best under any circumstances for the small poultryman to raise but one breed of chickens. Choose the one that best suits your fancy, and devote your time and attention to that one exclusively. If one wishes to keep more kinds, it is better to add geese, ducks, pigeons or turkeys than other breeds of chickens.

LUCIAN MOREHEAD CELEBRATES THIRD BIRTHDAY WITH FRIENDS.

Master Lucian Morehead celebrated his third birthday Wednesday with twenty little tots, who came with tokens for his birthday. These made the host very happy.

After spending an hour at home, where refreshments were served, Lucian bade his friends follow him over to Mr. H. I. Miller's lawn, where he surprised them by having "Alick," the colored "chef," to come out. "Alick" came, holding in his hand a birthday cake, set with three candles.

In a few minutes all the tots were in love with "Alick," and each was enjoying himself immensely. While sitting on the lawn, waiting to receive their pieces of cake, R. E. Cochrane took a snapshot of them.

"Alick," or W. N. Alexander, is a noted "chef" of America, Canada and Mexico. He is former chef of an individual reputed to be the third richest man in the world—Andrew Carnegie—where he was cook in Florida during the winter season. He is private chef for H. I. Miller, President of the Texas Land and Development Co., and usually goes on Mr. Miller's private car, No. 100. He is preparing Mr. Miller's home in Plainview, and has made a host of friends, particularly among the young folks, because of his kindness to them; and among older people because of his courtesy and strict attention to business.

He was cook for the Bankers' barbecue Tuesday. A hundred and fifty spring chickens were cooked at the grove in Pioneer Park, and they were delicious.

Auditor's Yearly Report, A Few Pertinent Remarks

I respectfully call your attention to a few salient features relative to the Auditors report:

FIRST: The report shows the sale of Liquor Over the Bar, to be $10,483.

This interesting document also discloses the fact that this club, of which Mr. Ball is admitted member, only spent $112.69 for subscriptions and periodicals (reading matter), while they paid out for playing cards and poker chips $361.45.

The report of the auditor also discloses the fact that they now have a surplus of $20,824.70.

I merely mention these matters for your information.

Do you find it necessary to post a placard in a conspicuous place in your home or church, stating "No Gambling allowed among members?" Such a placard (quoting from Home and State) is posted in this club.

TOBACCO SPRAY WILL DESTROY GRAPE INSECT.

Department of Agriculture Advises Its Use in Ohio and Michigan During Early Summer

Special to The Herald.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The insect known as the leafhopper that has seriously menaced the vineyards of Ohio and Michigan may be controlled by the use of tobacco spray, according to the scientists of the Department of Agriculture. The time for the application of this spray is during June or even early in July.

Successful control of the insect depends on thoroughly wetting all parts of the under side of the infested leaves with the spray liquid. The following two formulas have been used with excellent results.

1. Tobacco extract containing 2.70 per cent nicotine sulphate, diluted at the ratio of 150 gallons of water.

2. Tobacco extract containing 40 per cent nicotine sulphate at the ratio of 1 part to 1,500 parts of water.

The killing quality of the tobacco extract is apparently just as effective when added to the same dilution to the Bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead spray liquids, which are used to control fungous diseases and chewing insect enemies of the grapevine, as when used with clear water. No injury results from combining these spray mixtures, namely, tobacco extract, Bordeaux mixture, and arsenate of lead. However, the tobacco extract should not be mixed with spray mixtures containing arsenicals in the form of Paris green or arsenate of lime, for serious injury to the foliage is likely to occur as a result of the combination.

The spray application if made at the time indicated will destroy the immature insects when they are present on the vines in large numbers. After this period (toward the end of July) a large percentage will have grown their wings and can no longer be successfully treated with the diluted tobacco spray.

In vineyards where black-rot, mildew, the grape rootworm, and the grape-berry moth occur, it is suggested that arsenate of lead and Bordeaux mixture be used with the tobacco extract to take the place of the second spray application in the schedule of treatment recommended against these diseases and insect pests.

When it is deemed expedient to use strictly shields to capture the winged adults, the best substance for this purpose is this mixture.

Melted Resin 1 quart.
Castor Oil 1 Pint.
Smear liberally over the face of the shield.

In experiments undertaken by the Department of Agriculture, a single thorough spray application at the right time as reduced the number of insects that injury to the crop and the vines for the remainder of the season by those escaping the spray was very slight.

The leaf hopper's record for destruction has been great, and it has occupied an increasingly prominent place in the rogue's gallery of grape pests since it was first noticed in 1825. Since that time it has caused damage in New York, Illinois, Michigan, California, Ohio, New Mexico, Colorado, North Carolina and Minnesota. Destructive local outbreaks have also occurred in other states.

The grape leaf-hopper injures the vine by attacking the foliage. It is a sucking insect and injures the plant by extracting its juices from the underside of the leaf. The result of its punctures and of the removal of the juices is first made evident by yellow and white patches on the upper surface of the leaf which falls from the low and white patches on the upper surface of the leaf which later turns brown. Finally the leaf falls from the vine prematurely. As an ultimate result the size of the grape crop is generally reduced and the quality rendered inferior by a reduction of its contents of sugar. During very dry seasons the fruit on heavily infested vines is badly spotted by the insects.

The adult insect is about 1-8 of an inch long. It is pale yellowish color. The eggs are sometimes deposited singly over the surfaces of the leaf near the ribs and veins, but usually in the spaces between them. Investigators of the department have noticed that the adults during the spring feed on the following plants:

Bech, Maple, Wild Cherry, Wild Apple, Hawthorn, Dodwood, Wild plum, Hornbeam, Hackberry, Honey-suckle, Wild Grape Virginia Creeper, Raspberry, Thimbleberry, Blackberry, Strawberry, Goldenrod, Nettles, Wild Columbine and a great variety of weeds and grasses.

Observations, however, have not shown that the insect reproduces on the foliage of any other growing thing besides the grape. The summer of 1911 was unusually hot and the result was that the insect were more numerous and more widespread than ever before. In 1912, although the summer was cool, the injury wrought fully as great as that of the previous year. The injury sustained by the vineyard industry in the East and the West amounted to an enormous sum.

"The grape leaf-hopper in the Lake Erie Valley" is the title of a bulletin which the U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued describing this insect and the methods for its control.

REXALL STORES AGAINST HABIT-FORMING DRUGS.

The 7,000 Leading Druggists of America Resolve Not to Sell Them Except on Prescription.

"The greatest movement for public health and moral welfare ever made by any business organization," is the way Mr. J. W. Willis, the well-known Rexall druggist of this city, characterizes the action of the national Rexall convention at Kansas City this last week.

Mr. Willis attended the convention, which he says was attended by nearly 1,500 druggists and their wives, and was most successful and interesting. The resolution Mr. Willis refers to is as follows:

"Recognizing the pernicious and baneful effect of the sale of narcotic and habit-forming drugs, we, the Rexall druggists, in convention assembled in the city of Kansas City, do hereby express our appreciation of the efforts now being made by our National Government in endeavoring to abate and destroy this very serious menace to our Nation, and by these presents now,

"Resolved, That no narcotic, habit-forming or other pernicious drugs shall be sold by any Rexall store, except upon the written prescription of a regular, recognized practitioner of medicine."

However, this law has been in effect in Texas for eight or ten years, and Mr. Willis has adhered to it to the letter.

"There are more than 7,000 Rexall stores in this country," said Mr. Willis, "and this resolution, which was adopted amid the greatest enthusiasm and without a single objection from any Rexallites present, means a lot. It means that the best druggists of America condemn this devilish traffic in dope, and that their influence and work will be of tremendous value in the enactment of rigorous state and national laws forbidding its sale except upon prescription, and severely punishing infringement.

"I am prouder than ever of my Rexall connection," said Mr. Willis, "and especially in view of the fact that this throwing out of the business on habit-forming drugs will mean the loss of a great deal of trade and money for some of the Rexall stores. But we've made up our minds to do it, and no user of cocaine, morphine, or like drugs, can get them at any Rexall store hereafter unless a reputable doctor prescribes it. We don't want that kind of business." —A.V. 1 time.

WORLD'S SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN TRIENNIAL CONVENTION.

Special to The Herald
CHICAGO, June 25.—Nearly 5,000 delegates and alternates and several thousand visitors from all parts of the world were in Chicago today for the opening tonight of the fourteenth International Triennial Sunday School Convention, to be in session here for one week. "Jesus Shall Reign" is the convention keynote, printed on cards and flashed in electric signs. It will be the object of the convention sermon to be preached at the opening session in Modinah Temple tonight by club woman is not a good wife and house manager. I believe the club woman to be better able to fill the position of wife and manager than the woman who is not a member of such an organization" Mrs. Pennybacker continued. "In the first place the club woman of today makes a special study of food values and she sees to it that her husband is given meals consisting of the most nourishing dishes served in the most palatable form. "The club woman studies the modern methods by which a home may be made and kept sanitary and healthful. In this way she looks after the physical and well being of her husband one of the first duties of a wife. The club-woman keeps herself well posted on current literature and events and therefore is a more interesting companion for a man than a woman who does not come in contact with the broadening influences of club life."

"Youth" is the special point which Mrs. Pennybacker will attempt to accent during the convention. She will try to make the dominant note of the sessions of the meeting.

"Youth needs us," said the national leader of the convention.

"And we need youth, the young woman has often been ignored or kept in the background in some of the clubs. She has come to think there is no place for her in the activities of the women's clubs. This is far from the truth. She brings youthful enthusiasm, a new viewpoint and outlook to the woman's club is of inestimable value.

The deeper, broader interests of the older women tend to widen her interests in turn; her life is the fuller and more complete for the experience. A beautiful companionship often grows from the mutual interests of mother and daughter in their club.

No woman was ever too old to get some benefit and joy from the club and the girl of 18 is none too young to take an active interest in at least one department of her mother's club.

The ideal women's club is made up of women of all ages. At least one third of the members should be under 20 years of age."

Mrs. Pennybacker predicts that increase of suffrage states and the growth of the suffrage throughout the United States, the service side of the club activities will broaden and develop.

"We should not deary the cultural side of the women's clubs," she said. "Neither should the civil or service side be unduly accentuated. The ideal club maintains a balance between the two."

SOUR SKIM MILK FOR CALVES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—That in the summer time calves do as well on sour skim milk as they do on sweet will be interesting news to many farmers who have hitherto been kept from raising calves by the expense of keeping the milk in hot weather. This expense, experiments carried out by the Department indicate to be quite unnecessary. The calves will make as rapid gains on sour skim. In winter, it is true, this is not quite so satisfactory. It chills the calves and some of them drink it with great reluctance. Very young calves should have ven been known to refuse it altogether. On the other hand, of course, it is much easier to keep the milk sweet in winter.

In calling the attention of farmers to these facts however, the Department at the same time emphasizes an important precaution. Unless the milk is produced and kept under cleanly conditions, it may become contaminated with disease-producing bacteria. Farmers should therefore allow the milk to sour quickly and then feed it without delay.

In the course of these experiments sour milk was fed to 22 calves, Holsteins, Jerseys and Guernseys, at different seasons of the year. In no case did it cause digestive disturbances even when the change from sweet to sour milk was made abruptly when the calves were only a few days old. Moreover no evil results followed the alternate use of sweet milk leads to scours is quite unfounded.

The calves, it was found, did not like the sour milk as well as the sweet but in the majority of cases soon became accustomed to it. The aversion, however, increased when the milk was fed them at a low temperature.

STATE FAIR PROMISES TO BE GREAT SURPRISE.

Special Attention Given to All Departments and Handsome Premiums Are Offered.

People of Dallas and of Texas in general who are not in touch with the situation will have a great surprise when they attend the Texas State Fair in Dallas next fall, as the Fair this year will not only be better than any other Fair, which is a strong assertion, but one made by the Fair Association officials, but it will also be entirely different from other Fairs, it is claimed.

"A different Fair," has been the slogan of the directors of the Fair Association, and it has been to this end that they have been quietly at work for some time. And the Texas State Fair of 1914 will be different. This applies to all down the line, from the amusements on Amusement Row and in the Coliseum to the speed departments, where the best race horses in the United States will contest for big purses, on down to the agricultural departments, where special prizes have been offered the farmers of the State. It will be different, also, in appearance, says the new catalogue of the Fair.

Officials of the Fair Association want every one in Texas to feel interested and to attend the 1914 Fair, as they have worked hard and offer many new prizes to attract the people of the State. The Texas State Fair is known now all over this country and Canada as the very best, and the officials are striving to make the Fair this year the best ever. It is a hard task they have set for themselves, but they say they will succeed.

$75,000 in Prizes.

The State Fair Association this year offers $75,000 in prizes, and of this sum $50,000 alone is offered in purses in the speed department. Entries in this department close July 1, but they are coming in rapidly, and the presence of some of the best horses and most famous drivers in this country, and that means the best in the business, are already assured, as a glance at the entry list will show.

There are several stake races on the program for the Fair, and the purses for these events amount to $24,500.

Another feature that is generally overlooked but that tends to bring the best horses and horsemen in the United States to Dallas for the State Fair is that this city is the last stop-over place on the road to California and the Panama Exposition at San Francisco next year. At the Panama Exposition $250,000 have been provided for, and the very best stables in the country will ship there immediately after the close of the race meeting in the North and East. Dallas is the logical stopping place for these stables, as the State Fair here is held just after the close of the big Northern and Eastern tracks and the Southern route to the coast is preferred by the horsemen.

Agricultural Department.

The management of the 1914 Fair, especially Royal A. Ferris, of the agricultural department this year, is striving to make the display of 1914 the best in the history of the State. Last year Texas soil products exceeded $550,000,000 in value, of $200,000,000 in excess of the value of the soil products of Illinois, the State approaching nearest to Texas. These figures are compiled from United States Government reports.

One of the features of this department will be the display of cotton, particularly the long staple cotton, for which special premiums of $300 have been offered this year. There will also be a special display of cotton seed products, oil, meal, cakes, etc., in which the cotton growers of the State are urged to exhibit and contest for the prizes.

The other departments of the Fair have not been neglected or slighted by the officials and improvements are promised in all of them.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM WILL HAVE PRINTERY.

Instruction Will Be Given in Mechanics of Printing at the University of Texas.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 26.—(Special)—When the school of journalism opens at the University of Texas next fall it will be equipped with a modern printing plant for publishing a weekly paper and a course of instruction will be given in the mechanics of printing.

Acting upon the recommendation of Will H. Mayes, chairman of the school of journalism, which was reinforced by the indorsement of President Mezes and Dean Battle, the board of regents in its annual budget made provision for the purchase of such a plant as is generally found in a country printing office that publishes a weekly paper, the plant to be used for the laboratory work of the school, and also created the position of instructor in the mechanics of printing. This was done to meet the demand from those preparing themselves especially for country journalism, for the study of the "back office" of a newspaper.

"It is not the purpose," said Chairman Mayes, "to interfere in any way with the editing or printing of the Daily Texan. In fact, the purpose of the school of journalism will best be met, I am inclined to think, by a permanent continuation of the Texan as an independent publication of the Students' Association. Of course, the students in journalism will contribute much of the copy to the Texan, but the editorial direction will continue independent, as it has heretofore been. The school also hopes to be able to give its students frequent assignments on the daily papers of Austin as they prepare themselves for such work.

"The printing plant will be merely to acquaint students with the mechanics of printing and to give them practice work in operating typesetting machines and presses and in making up forms and doing other mechanical work. It is probable that a weekly newspaper will be published by the school, to utilize to the best advantage some of the practice work of the students in editorial writing, reporting, interviewing, etc., as well as to furnish a kind of extension course in journalism to the newspapers of the State. The school of journalism will endeavor to be of practical benefit to those engaged in newspaper work who can not come to the University, and such a paper could be of great help in that way."

Not for General Printing.

When asked if the printing plant would be equipped for doing general printing, like the plants in some of the universities of the country, Mr. Mayes stated that it would not, as the sole purpose would be to tech the students what they should know about a printing office in order to make successful newspaper men, and the equipment will be only such as could be used for publishing a weekly newspaper.

Securing a capable instructor is the next difficult task before Mr. Mayes, as he will need a man who knows how to operate typesetting machines and presses, how to make up a paper, how to estimate on printing and on job work and how to instruct the students in doing these things.

The board of regents also authorized an addition of 40x50 feet to the structure on the campus known as "J Hall," which will be occupied by the school of journalism.

A bulletin outlining the "aims, methods and facilities" of the school is now ready for publication to answer the many inquiries being received in regard to the scope of work to be undertaken. As soon as the bulletin is off the press it will be mailed to all inquirers.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE LONE STAR STATE.

By United Press.

How was the news of the fall of the Alamo first given to the volunteer army and the people of Texas following that historic blood sacrifice that Sunday dawn, March 6, 1836?

Today there are several hundred war correspondents in Vera Cruz and Mexico City. They have the use of the wireless, cable telegraph and telephone. In the days of the Alamo the people of Texas had none of these not even a war correspondent in San Antonio.

Five days after the Alamo fell two Mexicans brought the first intelligence of it to Gonzales. General Houston commander-in-chief of the army, just that day arrived at Gonzales, placed the two Mexicans under arrest and upon the pretense that they were spies, but in reality to avoid a panic. Later Houston dispatched three men to go near enough to San Antonio to ascertain the facts and return in three days.

About twenty miles beyond Gonzales they met Mrs. Dickinson and her infant daughter and Sam, the negro servant of the brave Travis ho commanded in the Alamo. Mrs. Dickinson was the wife of Lieut. Dickinson who did terrible execution among Santa Anna's men with a gun stationed in the upper window of the Alamo church. She and her companions were about the only surviving witnesses of the fight from the inside. They confirmed statements of the Mexicans. The messengers hurried back to Gonzales and gave the people of Texas the first authentic news of the fall of the Alamo.

HOME ECONOMICS PROMINENT

By United Press.

MADISON, Wis., June 23.—A notable increase in courses offered in home economics, agriculture, manual training and physical education marked the opening today of the summer sessions of the University of Wisconsin. The home economics courses are considerably expended, and an interesting line of work will be offered in courses of public speaking, argumentation, and speech composition.

The entire staff of the department of education will be kept busy during the summer sessions and teachers will find courses in this department specially adapted to meet the practical problems that confront them in their every day work. Provisions are being made by the University to take care of the recreation side of summer session life, and a playground will be established for the benefit of summer students.

MAYOR OF HARLINGEN NOTES IMPROVEMENTS

H. A. Gibbs Says Farm Buildings
Give Gratifying Evidences of Permanency To Country

BELIEVES IN THE SILO

Man From Rio Grande Valley Likes
Idea of Having Your Own Irrigation System

H. A. Gibbs, mayor of Harlingen, Texas, and publisher of the Star at that place and also of a farm journal devoted to the agricultural interests of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, is in Plainview this week making a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gibbs. This is his first visit to Plainview in over four years. In talking to a Herald representative, Mr. Gibbs said:

"I am surprised to see the growth and development that has been made since my last visit to the Plains. The progress has been wonderful, and especially so do I see it in and around Plainview.

Wonderful Soil and Climate.

"One should not marvel, though, at anything here, when you have always had such soil and climate, and one who has never made a trip over the section around Plainview is due to receive a surprise.

"While your rainfall here may be sufficient in many seasons to raise good crops, we believe that, with the advent of irrigation in this section, it will make one of the best agricultural districts in the United States.

Dense Farming Section.

"When everyone installs an irrigation system it will mean that you will have a thickly populated farming section, for from the observation we have made in our own section we find that the man who does not try to handle too much is the most successful.

"In our ride the other day over this section we saw good crops everywhere, and we can see no reason why you should not have bumper crops in everything.

"Another thing that impressed me favorably was the class and permanency of the improvements that are being made on many of the farms. We also noted that some were adding that great food preserver—the silo—to their farms. We are strong believers in the silo, and think that there should be one on every farm."

Irrigation System.

When asked how the system of irrigation here compared with that of his country, he said:

"We think we have a great system. Our land is watered from the Rio Grande River, and is pumped into a main canal by mammoth pumps and is put on our 40,000 acres by gravity.

"Somehow the idea of locating your own irrigation system where you want it rather appeals to us, and we believe ought to prove economical, and a well-irrigated farm here ought to make the land worth from $150 and up per acre."

"What do you think of our city?" Mr. Gibbs was asked.

Plainview Best Town.

"Well, Plainview has more than kept pace with its surroundings, and has evidently outstripped every town on the Plains. Why, we wouldn't have known the town when we arrived if the brakeman on the train hadn't called 'Plainview!'

"With all your natural advantages, we feel sure that this alone has not made Plainview what it is to-day. It's your progressive citizens that has put your town on the map in big, black type.

"It takes live wires to build a town, and you have got them here in great numbers, and if they continue along the same line your growth is unlimited.

Cordiality to Visitors.

"Another thing that impresses us is the treatment that is accorded visitors and strangers within your gates. It will make you friends and help build your country.

"With the present progress that is being made in the 'Shallow Water Land,' you are bound to attract capital, and some of that capital will eventually bring you another railroad or two. We hope you do; you deserve it."

MRS. C. W. TANDY ENTERTAINS BAPTIST PHILATHEA GIRLS.

Mrs. C. W. Tandy was hostess Tuesday afternoon for twenty-five young ladies, members of the Philathea Class of the Baptist Sunday School.

Mrs. Tandy, who is the teacher of this class, led the devotional exercises.

During the business session the following officers were elected: Miss Laura Knapp, president; Miss Hattie Dillingham, vice president; Miss Ruby Hatcher, secretary and treasurer.

During the social hour a musical program was given. In serving delightful ices and cakes, Mrs. Tandy was assisted by Mrs. Carrie McCarrall Stewart, Mrs. Charlie Brown and Misses Ema Pool and Lessie Thompson.

METHODIST LADIES AUXILIARY MEETS BUSINESS SESSION.

Just eighteen members of the Methodist Missionary Auxiliary met in business session Monday June 21st. Mrs. Jones conducted the Bible study ably. The next subject is Naaman's Maid—Mrs. Shakleford, leader.

It was decided to take up the book "God's Melting Pot", in our reading course. Give your name to Mrs. Alexander, Third Vice President, who will order the books, and come help to make this an interesting and instructive hour during the summer. Our Society meets every Monday at the church from 4 to 5:15. Surely you can come and devote a little of your time to this good work.

The faithful leader of the circles are discouraged over the attendance. Circle No. 3 will be entertained by Mrs. Houston on Thursday June 25 at 4 p. m. Circle No. 1 at Mrs. D. D. Shipley. Tuesday June 30 at 4 p. m.

MRS. SCUDDER ENTERTAINS BOYS AND GIRLS OF SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Mrs. W. I. Scudder's class of girls and Miss Marie Cox's class of boys, both of the Presbyterian Sunday School were entertained last night at the home of the former, 210 Prairie Street.

Music and readings were the pleasant amusements afforded the guests. Fruit, home made candy and popcorn were the refreshments served.

SETH WARD BOYS GIVES PROGRAM AT METHODIST CHURCH

The Seth Ward quartette assisted by Misses Howell and Leach rendered a program at the Methodist church Monday evening June 22, 1914. The program was splendid and enjoyed and appreciated by all present.

Even though it was a home talent play it was one of the best ever given in Plainview. It was fully as good or even better than any lyceum number given here. All who were absent missed a great treat for it was truly that.

The boys have been kind and have never refused to sing and have charged nothing for it. Then so many of the people of our church who pretended to be loyal to our college show their appreciation of the work done in the college nor of the number of them they have heard the boys sing for nothing by coming out to hear when it will tax their pockets a little. This is certainly patriotism to the college. From a friend of the College.

BAPTIST TABERNACLE READ YFOR MEETING.

The Tabernacle for the Baptist meeting is complete and ready for services Sunday. The Sunday School will be held there next Sunday. The meeting will run through the week.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 Dr. Bowers will preach specially to "Trades Unions," "Fraternal Orders," etc. Lodges, unions, etc., are requested to attend. Come in uniform, if you desire. Come as bodies, if you will. We want you to be present. The laboring men are particularly invited.

The choir is getting in excellent condition, and fine singing will be had. A truly genuine revival is expected.

MRS. STERLING PARK HOSTESS AT MONDAY AFTERNOON TEA.

The first of a succession of teas for the benefit of the Presbyterian church was given yesterday afternoon at the Manse by Mrs. Sterling Park.

A delightful salad course was served to the thirty-odd guests who were present.

A free will offering was taken as a help to the church fund.

These teas are scheduled for every two weeks during the summer.

This will prove a pleasant way of bringing the church friends together, as well as a financial help to the Ladies Aid.

LOCAL COOKING SCHOOL DEMONSTRATIONS CONCLUDE.

The demonstrations of the free cooking school conducted for the last three afternoons at the Wayland building have been of great interest to day and Monday afternoons.

Ice cold grape punch was served with cake Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. J. M. Fine demonstrated the making of the cake according to the following rule:

WHITE LAYER OF LOAF CAKE.

One-half cup Kingford's corn Starch three and one-half cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two cups of sugar; one cup fat; one and one-fourth cups milk; one teaspoonful flavoring; eight eggs (whites only).

Taking the yolks of the eggs Mrs. Fine made the following infalling salad dressing.

BOILED SALAD DRESSING

Four eggs (yolks only); one-half teaspoon dry mustard; one teaspoon Kingford's corn starch; One half teaspoon salt; Two tablespoons Karo, (Crystal white); one cup sweet milk; one-half cup vinegar; pinch of paprika; one-half teaspoon celery salt; one cup whipped cream (added when cold).

The uses of Karo and Kingford's corn starch were scientifically shown by Mrs. Fine in her diversions and by practical use.

LAYNE & BOWLER SECURE HIBBING WATER CONTRACT.

Local People Will Furnish Complete Supply System to Minnesota Town.

Layne & Bowler Co. of Houston and Plainview have closed contract with Hibbing, Minn., to install a complete municipa wated supply plant, having capacity of 3,000,00 gallons per day. There will be a million gallon reservoir a stel tower 200 feet high, two triplex pumps, each having a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons daily.

Hibbing had an engineer survey their prosposed water supply which was a pipe line from a lake. This installation was estimated to cost $1,250,000. After this was done the expense of purifying, filtering and the tank the water seemd prohibitive.

Every street is paved in Hibbing M. E. Layne says. It has 8,000 population. There is an electric White Way. The town has fortytwo policemen and thirty-nine saloons. A man is employed on each two blocks to keep the streets clean.

The weather in Hibbing is so cold during winter that water mains are put eight feet under ground. The town is surrounded on three sides by iron mines and taxabel values of $82,000.

In the Praetorian Contest

The race is practically narrowed down to the Plainview Band and Mrs. B. D. Crow at Plainview. Nothing has been heard directly from Lubbock since last count, but a hint comes that they are holding back to spring a surprise. In the meantime our band and Mrs. Crow are doing business.

To say that I am pleased with the campaign is expressing it mildly. I still wonder what Plainview Praetorian will get the Panama Exposition trip.
