FIVE RAILROAD ORDERS MEET.

By United Press.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 25.—For the purpose of creating a closer relationship between various branches of their order, several thousand railroad men were expected to arrive here to-day for the first general meeting of the five orders of railroad trainmen. The orders are: Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Order of Railroad Conductors, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

K. C. MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, July 20.—Native cattle and good quarantines advanced 10 to 25 cents last week, but the market closed dull on common and medium grass steers, with buyers lined up for a fight on that class this week, account of unsatisfactory killing percentages. Stockers and feeders have responded only feebly to the recent advances on finished cattle, and closed last week 10 to 25 cents under the eping last Monday.

Receipts to-day are 11,000 cattle, market steady to strong. A new top was put on prime natives to-day, at $9.80, the highest on record here for July, and branded steers brought $9.65. These sales were in the heavy class, and yearlings, both steers and heifers, sold freely at $9.25 to $9.50. Kansas grass steers again sold at $9 to-day, equal to the best sale on them last week, and grass cows reached $7. Choice butcher cattle sell quickly at firm prices, but grassy cattle of poor quality are seasonably lower. Veal calves are firm, and bring up to $10. The supply of quarantine cattle is 130 cars to-day, largely middle-class Oklahoma grass cattle. Good caked steers, and good grassers, are selling steady to strong to-day in the quarantine division, but slippery stuff is lower.

Ample moisture is reported from nearly every section, but unless rain falls within a few days several hundred cars of cattle will be forced to go to market from Kiawa and Flora districts.

Stock steers are selling at $6.25 to $7.75, and feeders at $7.50 to $8. The market on these classes lacks spirit, and the situation is anomalous, inasmuch as the fat cattle market is most satisfactory, and rangemen are getting highest prices on record for cattle, namely, $40 to $50 for yearlings and $30 for calves. Apparently, stockers and feeders are now selling at bargain rates here.

Hogs advanced 5 cents to-day, following a net gain of 35 cents last week. Receipts are extremely light, 22,000 last week, 5,000 to-day. Top to-day is $9.10, within 5 cents of Chicago top, and bulk of sales $8.90 to $9.05. Pigs are scarce, and sell to packers at a premium above the general market. Serum makers also pay a premium for immune hogs, and for pigs.

Sheep are 10 cents lower to-day, lambs 25 cents lower, following moderate declines last week. Receipts are light, but markets East are much lower, hence the decline here. Medium native lambs brought $8.40 to-day, nothing prime here; yearlings worth $6 to $6.75, eyes $4.25 to $4.75. Idaho lambs, the first of the season here, topped last week's market by 25 cents, selling at $8.90 to $9, medium-class Arizonas at $8.50 to $8.65.

CRIME INCREASE PIZZLING.

By United Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 24.—California sociologists and criminologists are puzzled to-day over the increase in the State's prison population. Figures just made public by the State Prison Board show 3,937 convicts, including those on parole, or 450 more than at the corresponding time a year ago. This is the largest increase in the State's history.

Some are inclined to attribute the increase to the working or the parole law, but a majority of the Prison Board members disagree with this view. They point out that of 59 men paroled in April, only nine violated parole, and only two of these by committing new crimes. This is not considered a bad percentage. Of a total of 649 men on parole, 643 are employed at wages aggregating $23,365.70 monthly.

CO-OPERATIVE BUYING IS SUCCESSFUL.

By United Press.
STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 24.—The success of the co-operative system of buying and distribution in this country is shown by the annual report of the Swedish Co-operative Union, made public to-day. During the year 59 new distributive societies were formed. At present there are 525 distributive societies, 13 wholesale societies, nine co-operative restaurants and cafes, seven bakeries and one insurance co-operative society, with a total membership of 143,058, an increase of 13,523 over last year. The total "turnover" for the year was $2,143,140, as against $1,896,345 in the preceding year.

DALLAS, Texas, July 25.—Prohibition was the issue in to-day's State-wide Democratic primaries for the nomination of Governor, members of the Legislature and other State officers. Thomas H. Ball, of Houston, was the prohibition candidate for nomination for Governor, and James E. Ferguson, of Temple, was backed by the "wet" forces.

The fight was even carried to the contests for nomination to the Legislature, because it will be up to the Legislature in 1915 to decide whether the people shall have another chance to vote for or against State-wide prohibition. At the very top of the ballots in the primaries to-day the voter was given an opportunity to vote for or against "the submission of a constitutional amendment prohibiting within this State the manufacture, sale, exchange and intrastate shipment of intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal and sacramental purposes." Even if the "drys" nominate Ball, the "wets" have hopes of defeating submission by controlling the next Legislature. The referendum on the submission question taken to-day was intended only as a guide to the Democratic leaders who will draft a State platform on August 11.

The nomination of a Democratic candidate for Governor is equivalent to election in Texas. The bitterest personalities marked the campaign between Ball and Ferguson. Besides the prohibition issue, the promises of the candidates have dealt with land rents, educational appropriations, prison reforms and agricultural problems. A Congressman-at-Large was to be nominated to-day from among eleven candidates.

NOT BAD POLITICS, THIS.

By United Press.

LONDON, England, July 25.—The example set by Mrs. Margaret Stockman, of Hampstead Garden Suburb, in so framing her will as to disinherit her only son if women don't get the vote before her death, is likely to be followed by other prominent and wealthy woman suffragists, according to a statement made by her to-day.

Under the terms of the will, as recently altered, all her property will go to her only daughter and to her other female relatives unless Parliament passes a woman suffrage bill before the instrument becomes operative.

"I feel that my daughter is politically handicapped," she says, "and I want her to have a corresponding advantage economically. I am beginning to realize that the economic question is at the bottom of all the difficulties of English women, and therefore if there is anything that the woman of the present generation can do to put the women of the next generation on a proper economic basis they ought to do it. Although I cannot mention names, I know a number of other women who are thinking of taking the same step."

Time to Re-tire?

(Buy Fisk)

Why do the same motorists buy Fisk Tires again and again?

THE Fisk Heavy Car Type Tire has never been made a tire for the millions. Its pride lay in quality of production; and when quality of output has been suggested it has only been in confirmation of the growing appreciation of Fisk quality among motorists.

The New Fisk Tire

combines in itself all the stable uniformity of mileage, satisfaction and quality that made the former Fisks the delight of automobilists, together with certain new features heretofore never found in one tire.

The new Fisk tread, practically impervious, is inseparably united to the famous Fisk fabric-body, forming a tire that throughout its life will remain a unit.

The cushion stock is of Paragum of such purity that it will float in water; no other tire maker has ever gone to such an expense to build a perfect tire. In place of the usual breaker strip, this

NEW Fisk Tire has two. Side walls are extra thick and tough, obviating blow-outs. The tire is well balanced and of tremendous mileage. That's why motorists buy Fisks repeatedly.

Being supplied in all sizes to fit any rim, the NEW Fisk Tires, Heavy Car Type, offer every motorist the ultimate goal of tire-makers—indivisibly united tread and fabric-body of longer mileage and freer from trouble than any tire yet devised.

"UPS" AND "DOWNS" IN SUNSHINE PICNIC.

By United Press.

DENVER, Colo., July 25.—The "ups" and "downs" are meeting to-day at Berkeley Park at one of the most unique picnics ever attempted in this country. Jim Goodheart, charity worker and head of the Sunshine Mission here, is promoter of the plan. It differs from ordinary picnics because behind it there is a big, vital idea—that of bringing together the two main classes which constitute a metropolitan population.

"You see," said Goodheart to-day, "I want to get the Ups and Downs together in my picnic. Most of the people who live in the part of the city where the Sunshine Mission is are Downs. They have nothing to uplift them and they do not try to get it. I canvassed the district in what you might call the 'slums'—if there are any 'slums' here—and found that there are 8,000 children in the district. There are 30,000 people in it, and practically all of them have no religious preference or interest.

"I wanted these people to meet the Ups, who have ideals and who get more out of life, and I am getting my friends among the Ups to come out and meet the others. I wanted to see what effect more fortunate folks have on the Downs."

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS TO CLOSE TO-MORROW.

By United Press.

LOURDES, France, July 25.—Interest in delegates to the Eucharistic Congress of the Catholic Church here to-day centered on the elaborate program and ceremonies which have been prepared for the closing session to-morrow.

Early to-morrow morning a pontifical high mass will be celebrated by Cardinal Granito Del Belmonte, the papal legate to the Congress, at the miraculous grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes. Following the celebration of the mass there will also be dozens of simultaneous sessions of the delegates, divided according to the language they speak. After this will come a final session of all those who have taken the priestly orders, and finally a special session for the young of the church. Throughout the day the Blessed Sacrament will be exposed for the adoration of the faithful in the Basilica, and open-air sermons will be held in half a dozen different languages.

The last feature of the closing day will be the Eucharistic procession, in the afternoon. In this, Cardinal Granito Del Belmonte will carry the Blessed Eucharist under a rich canopy, supported and surrounded by the highest dignitaries of the Catholic Church. The ten other cardinals present, together with the 200 archbishops and bishops who have been in attendance at the Congress, will participate in full robes and regalia of their rank. The Congress will then come to a close with the papal benediction given by Cardinal Belmonte from the entrance to the miraculous grotto and shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes.

At to-day's session all business of the Congress was finished. The final reports and discourse were read before each national group in Latin, and the final discussions were also held in that tongue.

THOUSAND OF PILGRIMS

SEE CURE AT LOURDES.

By United Press.

LOURDES, France, July 24.—The attendance at the Eucharistic Congress of the Catholic Church, which has been in session here since July 22, was increased to-day by the arrival of thousands of individual pilgrims from all parts of the world.

Their advent is threatening complications with the hotel keepers. When the project of a Eucharist Congress in connection with the twenty-fifth anniversary of the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes was first broached last year, it was nearly wrecked by the refusal of the hotel keepers here to grant prices necessary for such an assemblage. They were finally brought into line, however, and as long as the Congress was only attended by the 6,000 delegates they abided by their promises. The arrival to-day of so many pilgrims, however, is calling forth declarations on the part of the bonifaces that they cannot maintain the low prices, as the pilgrims coming now should have come a month later, at which time the annual pilgrimages to Lourdes always take place. The pilgrims are being obliged to-day to seek lodging at Tarbes, Pau and other nearby towns. The hotel keepers say they are losing business. The pilgrims are largely invalids from all parts of the world, here in the hope of miraculous cure.

The congress to-day followed the general program as established yesterday. Simultaneous meetings were held this morning in a dozen different languages, the proceedings of each being identical. In addition, sermons were delivered in the open air in a number of different languages.

WORLD PEACE THROUGH COMMERCIAL ENTENTE.

By United Press.

PARIS, France, July 24.—Through years of effort and travel on the part of two Americans, Edward Albert Filene, of Boston, and John H. Fahay, of Boston and Washington, D. C., an international commercial entente has just been reached which, in the opinion of diplomatists here, may prove in the future to be one of the greatest powers for world peace ever devised.

On the theory that the commerce of nations has led to more wars than probably any other one thing, Filene and Fahay, representing the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, with offices in Washington, set to work to bring about the formation of a sort of a Hague Peace Tribunal of the commercial world. They have just succeeded, and, with headquarters in Brussels, Belgium, the international body of business men is now on the lookout for a man broad enough to act as "Administrator." His salary will be large, but, Filene and Fahay say, "so must the man."

Fahay is President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, with headquarters in Washington, but he is a Bostonian, and a former newspaper man. Filene, also a Bostonian, is vice president of the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce, a National Councillor of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and a permanent committee for the Sixth International Congress. The two Americans have been in Europe for months working for the world's business headquarters idea, and they will be here six weeks longer. They visited England, Germany, France, Italy and most other nations, talking with statesmen, diplomats, business men and speaking before business organizations.

"Our mission has succeeded," Filene told the United Press correspondent here. "The various nations have agreed to come in and we are now looking for the right man to act as administrator. Headquarters will be at Brussels, where offices, on a small scale, have already been opened. The idea, in a nutshell, is to prevent friction in the world of business; to furnish a medium through which the nations of the world can get better acquainted in a business way. There will be an international organ, in which will be published documents of interest to all, from a commercial viewpoint, and by means of this, and other machinery at the disposal of the central bureau, at Brussels, differences may be aired and adjusted and understandings between nations arrived at. Once running smoothly, we expect the Brussels bureau to do much in the way of smoothing over many of the difficulties between the nations of the world."

Considerable friction has existed between France and the United States for months past, it is pointed out, because of a different way each nation has of looking at the tariffs and the manner of levying duties. The new "Commercial entente" between the nations of the world, it is said, will go a long way in the future toward dispelling such misunderstandings.

LEGISLATION ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Forty-eight States Have Laws of Different Kinds.

NEW YORK CITY, July 23.—Legislation dealing with tuberculosis has been enacted in 48 states and territories of the United States, according to a comprehensive bulletin on this subject soon to be published by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Only in the states of Arizona, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming and Alaska has the subject been given no legislative consideration.

State tuberculosis sanatoria to the number of 42 have been established in 33 different states. Special laws providing for the establishment of local hospitals by municipalities or counties have been passed in 14 states. In 34 states, laws are in force providing for the reporting and registration of living cases of tuberculosis. In four states, New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Michigan, special laws have been enacted giving state and local health authorities power to remove and detain tuberculous persons who menace the health of their families or associates. Six states, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, New York and Texas, have laws which give the people the privilege of voting at general or special elections on the establishment of county or municipal tuberculosis hospitals. Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Washington grant subsidies ranging from $3.00 to $5.00 per week to such local hospitals. Laws prohibiting spitting in public places have been enacted in more than 20 states.

Commenting on the problem of state legislation as it affects the prevention of tuberculosis, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis says: "A law providing for the reporting and registration of every living case of tuberculosis is fundamental to any thoroughgoing campaign against this disease. Without a knowledge of the location of every case of tuberculosis, the disease cannot be controlled. Of equal importance also is legislation which will give cities, towns and counties the authority to establish and maintain local hospitals for tuberculous cases. The control of tuberculosis is a local problem. Everything possible should be done to provide institutions easy of access, especially for advanced cases."

WHY AND HOW THE HOUSE FLY POISONS YOU.

Some Startling Facts That Science Has Discovered Concerning the Fly.

By Garrett P. Serviss, in New York Evening Journal, June 24, 1914.

A French court has recently rendered a judgment that is of the highest interest to everybody who wants to be rid of flies as carriers of disease. This enlightened court has decided that an unclean garden is a legal nuisance and may be suppressed on the complaint of neighbors, because it promotes the breeding and assembling of flies.

It was not for unsightliness, nor even for bad odors, that the court condemned the garden which was the subject of the decision referred to, in what has already become celebrated as "the plague of flies case," but the condemnation was expressly based upon proof that the state of the garden was such that it increased the number of flies in the neighborhood.

So, in France, at least, the war on flies has received judicial sanction.

It is probably that the court had before its eyes some such evidence of the disease-carrying properties of flies as scientists have pictured. It took a long time to find out what a really disgusting and dangerous creature the house-fly is. It is the most innocent-looking of deceivers. It is the most companionable-seeming of poisoners. It amuses us by its antics while trailing the spoils of its unclean foraging over our persons and our food. Its insidious toilette operations are a snare. They are preparations for a fresh debauch. The fly's god is Beelzebub, and the favored offering on Beelzebub's altar is filth!

These statements are based on scientific facts. The common reputation of the fly as a scavenger is sufficient in itself to pronounce its condemnation. For what does it do with the product of its scavenging? It scatters them through the house, in the kitchen, in the pantry, in the bedrooms. If there is sickness in the family the fly carries its germs from the sick room to all parts of the house. If there is sickness at your neighbor's the fly brings it to you and your children. These facts have been so thoroughly established by scientific study that it is folly to refuse to recognize and to act upon them.

If you are lukewarm in this warfare against flies, look at the pictures you see of the enlarged, disease-carrying parts of flies, and you will be lukewarm no longer. Probably you have never noticed flies' eggs. They are so small that you must use a microscope in order to see their real peculiarities. Each female fly lays on the average 150 eggs. For her cradle she selects a heap of garbage or refuse. The eggs hatch into minute maggots. In five days the maggots turn into little chrysalids, or pupae, shaped like miniature beans. Within another five days these give birth to flies, which develop with amazing rapidity into adult insects, and then the mischief begins.

The sticky foot pads become charged with germs from every foul substance over which they walk. The bristling tongue, with its padded ends, which you have so often seen applied to all kinds of dirt and refuse, becomes a poison stick, infecting everything that it touches.

You may ask: "Why do not flies themselves catch the disease whose germs they carry and perish from them?" They do catch many fatal diseases, and do perish in consequence, but the very fact increases the danger from them. They are like small-pox patients let loose in the community.

The greatest weapons in the war upon flies are the scrubbing brush, the dustless sweeper, the garbage burner, and every other device that produces or promotes cleanliness. The best fortifications against them are made of wire gauze screens and covers, protecting windows, doors and all articles of food.

Hopeless as it looks to those who have not earnestly tried it, the extermination of the housefly is a relatively easy achievement, but it requires patience and attention. The increase of comfort alone in a flyless neighborhood, to say nothing of the security, is a sufficient reward.
