GALAWAY, BARRETT, NORFLEET V. PS.

Shepherd's Big Barn Offered for Live Stock Exhibit, Seay's Grocery and Wayland Buildings Will House General Exhibits and Women's Departments in September

C. E. White was chosen President of the Hale County Fair Association at a meeting of the Board of Directors this afternoon. E. B. Miller was made Secretary, and A. G. Hinn, Treasurer. E. Callaway is First Vice President; Wm. Barrett, Second Vice President; Frank Norfleet, Third Vice President. Preliminary arrangements for a County Fair were made yesterday. Dr. J. C. Anderson was temporary chairman of the meeting, and E. B. Miller was secretary. Report of the committee on organization as reported in Tuesday's Herald was accepted, subject to approval of the Board of Directors.

Dr. Anderson appointed five directors at large, as provided by the recommendations of the committee on organization. This committee consisted of C. E. White, Robert Alley and E. B. Miller. Mrs. L. Lee Dye and Mrs. Hickman Price were appointed in charge of the department for women.

Clint Shepard offered the use of his big barn for live stock exhibits. The building formerly occupied by Seay's Grocery, on the south side of the square, will be used for general exhibits, and Dr. J. H. Wayland's building will be devoted to exhibits for women. The fair will be held September 22, 23 and 24.

It was decided to appoint one director from each voting precinct to act with the committee of five named by Dr. Anderson. E. Callaway, of Ellen; Clint Shepard and Albert Hinn, representing the two Plainview districts, were selected. B. B. Morton was selected from Runningwater.

Other appointments will be made at a meeting this afternoon being held in C. E. White's Seed Store. Officers and superintendents of various divisions will also be named to-day, and a campaign of publicity outlined.

Farmers are very enthusiastic over prospects for a fair. Everybody believes it means better farming and more people for Hale County. It is hoped to increase the scope of the exhibits to include all of the irrigation district. This will not be attempted the first year.

A name for the fair will be chosen at some later time. "The Shallow Water District Fair"; "The Hale County Fair," and other names varying slightly from these have been suggested. Everybody believes that a fair ought to certainly boost the Shallow Water irrigation district of Northwest Texas.

EIGHT PIT SILOS GOING DOWN IN HALE COUNTY

Charles Saigling, Nick and Bob Alley are Putting Up Fireless Cookers of Glazed Tile

Pit silos seem most popular around Plainview. They are perhaps least expensive, and seem to give satisfactory service. Dr. R. R. White is putting in three pit silos on his place southeast of town. These will extend six feet above ground and be finished with cement blocks manufactured by the South Plains Tile Co.

Dr. C. C. Gidney is putting in a pit silo. J. P. Marlin is putting in another. Bradford and W. L. Cox, east of town, are putting in four pit silos. Charles Saigling is building a silo of glazed tile. Nick and Bob Alley are both putting up glazed-tile silos on their places near Hale Center. The big fireless cooker is proving its worth. In the older states men who have used the silo for years declare that it at least doubles the food value of an acre's growth.

FARMERS SHORT COURSE DELEGATES GET RY. FARE

L. N. Dalmont Calls Institute Meeting to Elect Officers and Name Representatives

L. N. Dalmont has called a meeting of Hale County Farmers' Institute for August 8. The purpose of this meeting is to elect new officers and appoint delegates to the Panhandle District Farmers' Institute and Short Course to be held in Amarillo August 26-28.

Mr. Dalmont is anxious to have a good representation. Col. Ed R. Kone, State Agricultural Commissioner, has promised to furnish free transportation for one delegate for every 20 or 25 members of each regularly organized institute, according to advice received here. Railroads are offering a special rate for the Short Course. It will undoubtedly be an occasion of interest to every farmer.

The complete program for the short course will be published Saturday.

FLOYD COUNTY MAN WOULD EXHIBIT AT LOCAL FAIR

Farmers Around Hale Center and Petersburg Enthusiastic; Zollcoffer a Booster for County Exhibition

"Floyd County would like to be in on that fair." It was a stock farmer from our neighbor on the east who said this to E. B. Miller, Business Manager of The Herald and Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Hale County Fair.

"Sure thing," Miller replied. "We are anxious to have you and your exhibits." The gentleman said that he would have a good string of horses and that he could get a number of his neighbors to exhibit.

Floyd County is proud of its agricultural products. The two counties have interests in common. Why not go in together? In fact, an idea expressed by many farmers and others most interested is that this should be made an exposition for the Shallow Water District.

N. M. Akesson says that farmers around Hale Center are all talking fair. E. Callaway, of Ellen, reports that around Petersburg and Ellen people are enthusiastic. E. A. Zollcoffer said this morning that he would get up the best exhibit he could, and that he certainly would "boost the fair."

The fair is a proposition on which everybody can get together.

RUMLEY ENGINE REPRESENTATIVES HERE.

E. E. Warren, sales manager in this part of Texas for the Rumley Engine Co., came in yesterday from Dallas. S. A. Jones, bank manager for the company, came with him. Mr. Jones lives in Dallas.

PECOS ARRANGES FAIR AND FIREMAN'S MEET

Fred Cousineau, C. B. Harder, Carl Wells and Wiley Brashear to Represent Plainview

Pecos is offering $175 in prizes for the Panhandle Firemen's Association. The meeting will be held September 1, 2 and 3. First prize is $100, second prize $50, third prize $25.

Pecos says that the star attractions of the three days will be found in the Fourth Annual Reeves County Fair, which meets during the first four days of September. There will be an automobile race track 5 miles long. Horse racing will be given considerable attention, too.

Then, Pecos is boosting a big excursion 41 miles long, through the Toyah Valley—"where you will see the highest irrigation development; the alfalfa meadows and orchards cuddled in the blue arm of the circling Davis Mountains. There will be a swim in clear water, and lunch spread on the grass."

We are counting on this event to establish the reputation of Pecos still more firmly as 'The Town of Teamwork,' the invitation says.

Fred Cousineau, C. B. Harder, Carl Wells and Wiley Brashears will represent the Plainview fire department. The local team won every prize offered at last year's Panhandle meet. We expect to do that again—everybody in Plainview does. The boys will begin training at once for the races.

EASTERN STAR TO MEET.

The Order of Eastern Star will meet at the Masonic Hall Friday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Important business is to be transacted.

GERMANY WILL DECLARE WAR UNLESS CZAR EXPLAINS ARMY MOBILIZATION

Russia Notifies Kaiser of Bringing Together Million Hundred Thousand Men; Nicholas Will Take Field Person if Hostilities are Declared

WHEAT PASSES DOLLAR AT CHICAGO

Vienna Dispatch Says Austria is Being Stripped of Men for War Serbia; England and Spain Getting Fleets Ready; France to Help Russia

By United Press. CHICAGO, Ill., July 30.—Wheat passed the dollar price to-day when war talk ran figures higher than they have been since the present crisis. Prices jumped 7c amidst riotous scenes. There was a rise of 9c a bushel yesterday. Flour is up 40c a barrel.

The Chicago News published the following from Berlin: "It is reported here Russians have blown up railroad bridge at Wirballen, on the German frontier."

VIENNA, Austria, July 30.—Thousands of men are reported killed in the first battle, at Foca. The conflict resulted in a complete victory for Austria. Two Servian divisions were routed and one captured. The Servians lost 800; Austrians, 200.

VIENNA, Austria, July 30.—Austria is being stripped of her male population for war with Serbia. Factories are closed and business is paralyzed. When rioting started because dealers raised the price of food, the government found it necessary to fix maximum prices.

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, July 30.—Russia officially notified Germany and Austria of the mobilization of 1,200,000 men. Czar Nicholas is reported to have expressed the intention of taking the field as commander-in-chief in event hostilities are declared. Hundreds of thousands of reservists have been called to the colors.

Germany Takes Decisive Steps.

BERLIN, Germany, July 30.—The German foreign office has authorized the following: "Germany has taken decisive steps at St. Petersburg, Paris and other European capitals within the hour, results of which will determine the issue of war or peace."

"Germany has faithfully kept peace, and reports of mobilization of German troops are premature. Now the Fatherland must decide on measures calculated to meet the dangerous situation resulting from Russia's activity on the frontier."

Germany is prepared to declare war upon Russia unless the Czar furnishes satisfactory explanation of mobilization along frontier. Demand for explanation is being withheld by the General Staff, which desired more time for partial mobilization of German troops.

LONDON, England, July 30.—News agency of the Vienna Dispatch says the Austrians occupied Belgrade last night. They crossed the Danube on pontoon bridges. Occupation was effected without serious opposition. The Servian garrison withdrew on Sunday, with all artillery. An insignificant infantry guard was left behind. This made only a show of resistance.

On basis of war talk, the Bank of England raised its rate one per cent. DeRenburg & Co., big brokers, failed.

Japan to Help England.

Premier Asquith announced to-day postponement of the question of amending the home rule bill in order that Great Britain may present a united front if a general war ensues. He referred to the possibility of "an immeasurable international catastrophe."

Clash between Germany and France would make the first great aerial war in history. France has an aeroplane fleet of more than 5,000. Germany has a big aeroplane fleet, in addition to an incomparable dirigible equipment.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Reports to the Austrian and Servian consuls indicate that nearly 15,000 men in the United States have signified that they are waiting a call to arms. It is possible that the Pittsburg mining and steel district would be seriously affected by withdrawal of reservists.

TOKIO, Japan, July 30.—A semi-official paper of Japan declares that if England is attacked Japan will assist her.

All of England's immense fleet has been ordered to take on supplies, and officers are ordered to their posts at once. Spain has issued similar orders.

No News on Meeting for Wayland; Outlook Bright

A meeting of twenty-four men who are deeply interested financially in Wayland College was held yesterday afternoon at the Court House.

Important business connected with the welfare of the college was attended to, and much enthusiasm was shown. In fact, it was a rousing meeting. Dr. Gates says 1914-15 will be the best year yet for the west side school. He expects to pass last year's 300 enrollment.

COMPLETE $12,000 LIBRARY; BEGIN ON $25,000 CHURCH.

Special to The Herald. GAINESVILLE, Texas, July 30.—The new $12,000 Carnegie Library for Gainesville has been completed, and will be opened for the public this week.

Ground was broken Monday for the $25,000 Whaley Memorial Methodist Church.

WANTS CONFEDERATE VETERANS TO MEET.

Col. J. M. Shropshire wants all Confederate veterans to meet Monday. The Colonel says he does not know what will be done. He is anxious for them to get together. He will select place of meeting.

$100,000 FOR GOOD ROADS.

Special to The Herald. TRINITY, Texas, July 30.—Good roads bonds to the amount of $100,000 have been signed, and the first payment of $20,000 on them has been made. The money will be so expended as to give this county some of the best roads in East Texas.

Mrs. John Shultz returned yesterday from Lampasas. Mrs. Shultz has been visiting her parents, in Lampasas.

Lucien Bone, of Amarillo, came down Tuesday to visit his brother, Frank Bone.

Ellis Harrison Fractures Skull; Successful Operation

Ellis Harrison is resting quietly after a successful operation by Dr. Guyton by which the pressure on his brain was relieved. Mr. Harrison was suffering a fracture of the skull.

The injury was received Tuesday while Mr. Harrison was working on the home that J. F. Garrison is building, on Archer Street. A heavy board fell, striking Ellis on the head.

H. L. KING PUTTING IN HARDIN POROUS TILING.

H. L. King is putting in 2,300 feet of porous tile around his place on West-Third Street. This tile is manufactured by Z. T. Northcutt, Plainview, and is said to be the best of its kind for irrigation.

W. L. Crawford recently put in 2,000 feet of porous tile, and W. L. Harrington installed 700 feet. Judge W. B. Lewis also put porous tile around his place.

Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Pennington came in to-day from Wallace, Texas. They were met by their daughter, Mrs. B. F. Smith, of Lockney, and went to Lockney with her this afternoon.

FLOYD COUNTY MEN BUY FORDS.

J. L. McLain and H. E. Witte Customers of Barker & Winn.

J. L. McLain, of Floydada, and H. E. Witte, of Lockney, bought Fords yesterday. Paul Barker says this makes 11 cars his company has sold during July.

Barker & Winn are doing a large part toward keeping Mr. Ford's factory up to its capacity—an automobile every minute and about 15 seconds. Well, some folks say a Ford isn't really an automobile. But the car gets over the ground. It is making good no less than its Plainview representatives are established in the confidence of their customers.

U. S. CASH TO MOVE CROPS.

McAdoo to Deposit 34 Million in West and South.

Five Thousand National Banks Replied to Inquiry of Secretary of Treasury as to Unusual Demand for Money; Follow Program of Last Year.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Secretary McAdoo, in an optimistic statement to-day, announced that he would deposit in certain cities throughout the country, particularly in the South, approximately 34 million dollars of Government funds for crop moving and other legitimate business purposes. Should it become necessary to meet the demands of the country, this sum will be increased. The money will be deposited with the banks as soon as the formal requirements governing the application for funds are complied with.

McAdoo says in his statement distribution of the crop-moving has been decided upon as a result of replies received from about five thousand National banks in answer to his recent circular in which he asked if any unusual demand for money was expected this fall, and for what purposes and if deposits of Government funds in different sections of the country would facilitate the movement of crops and promote the general business interest.

"These replies," the statement continues, "have been carefully analyzed and fully confirm the optimistic bulletins of the Agricultural Department as to the prospects for unusually large crops. They also indicate a decided promise of greatly improved business conditions and enlarged business activities throughout the country. The consensus of opinion of the bankers is that it will be of great benefit to the crop movement and to business generally if the Secretary will deposit Government funds in the leading cities of the country as was done last year.

The replies indicate that Government funds will not be needed in the New England and Eastern States and in certain states in the West and Northwest and California."

Several Kansas City banks were among those asking Secretary McAdoo for funds.

MIDDLE WEST SWIMMING RACES ARE ON FOR TO-DAY.

By United Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 30.—With the Illinois Athletic Association touted as a likely winner, the Central Amateur Athletic Association and State Championship Swimming Tournament was resumed here to-day. Such men as McGillivray, Hebner, Rathel and McDermott, of the I. A. A., were expected to lower the present record. New marks set at the present tournament will be official, as the Broad Ripple bathing beach has been measured and the distances sanctioned by the A. A. U. The meet began yesterday, and will come to a close to-morrow afternoon. McDermott was touted to win the breast stroke and at least two of the long-distance events. He holds the world's record for the 100-yard swim.

TO SPEND HONEYMOON IN DESOLATE YUKON LAND.

By United Press. SKAGWAY, Alaska, July 29.—Returning to the land of gold and ice, where her father laid the foundation of his fortune as an Alaskan pioneer, Mrs. Crystal McQueston Mann, Berkeley high school graduate and society belle, and bride of a few months, to-day is on her way to the desolate Yukon territory back of Dawson, to live the primitive life while her husband searches for the yellow metal in the virgin soils of Alaska.

Few outside the circle of her closest friends knew that Miss McQueston, now Mrs. Mann, is the daughter of a member of the Kokrine tribe of Alaskan Indians who accompanied the late Leroy Napoleon McQueston back to civilization after he had spent years in the north and where he took a girl member of the tribe as his wife. Mrs. Mann will spend several months with her mother's tribe.

DAY OF CHEAP MEAT GONE.

But Prices Are Not Likely to Go Higher, Armour Man Says.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 28.—The day of cheap meat has gone and will never return, Arthur Meeker, of Armour & Co., said to-day.

"Meat prices may fall slightly next summer, because they are abnormally high just now and will continue high throughout the winter," said Mr. Meeker, "but they will never reach the level of ten or twenty years ago."

"I do not believe, however, that the price of meat, in this generation at least, will ever advance to a point where it will be only a delicacy for the rich."

"Meat is high this year because of last summer's drought. Farmers rushed their cattle to market, knowing they would have to pay fancy prices for winter feed. The result is a great scarcity this year that has forced cattle and meat prices up."

OPEN STATE RIFLE RANGE.

By United Press. PEEKSVILLE, N. Y., July 27.—Practice by the State militiamen in the presence of many prominent military authorities marked the opening of the new rifle range here to-day. Adjoining the Peekskill camp, where the guardsmen of the State militia have for years held their maneuvers, the range is ideally located. Owing to complaints of the residents of South Nyack and Grand View, the old range at Blauvelt was abandoned. It cost the State $475,000, while the new one, authorized by the Legislature during its recent session, was finished at an outlay of about $18,000.

FARMS WITH STEAM PLOWS.

Special to The Herald. VICTORIA, Texas, July 30.—Martin O'Conner, who has an extensive land interest in this part of the State, is now arranging for the breaking of 10,000 acres of land on his Refugio County ranch. A steam traction plow will be used in the work.

LEAGUE BUILDS PRESERVING PLANT.

Special to The Herald. The peanut acreage is also very large. More than 40,000 bushels will be harvested this fall.

To-day was also the anniversary of the organization of the territory of Alaska in 1894, the fall of Robespierre in 1794, the declaration of war between China and Japan in 1912 and the American siege of Tripoli in 1804.

STILL GROWING.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.—The "biggest man in public life"—physically—received congratulations to-day upon his forty-third birthday anniversary—Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky. He stands about 6 feet 6 inches, weighs over 300 pounds and is one of the Democratic leaders and most popular men in Congress.

SENATOR DU PONT 76 TO-DAY.

This was also the birthday anniversary of Julius Kruttschnitt, chief lieutenant of "Wizard" Harriman; Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee University, and W. E. Huntington, former president of Boston University.

WHAT JOHN D., JR., IS LIKE.

Fine Manager for Bull Team and Knows Value of Money.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

"What sort of a chap is John D. Rockefeller, Jr.?" I inquired of a Baptist clergyman, a classmate of the young oil king at Brown University.

"Best baseball manager our baseball team ever had," he replied. "He never allowed the team to spend a dollar more than it earned—if it played to a small crowd it had to live in a second or third rate hotel."

John Junior's dad told him to get the best rooms at the university, which he did, but beyond that he was a quiet spender of money. On one occasion he gave a classmate, who was working his way through college and whose father died, a $10 bill. The other students, said my clerical friend, were surprised at the smallness of the gift, but Rockefeller seemed to think he was quite generous.

PARKER'S MELON CROP LARGE.

Special to The Herald. WEATHERFORD, Texas, July 30.—With the Parker County season just opening, more than 200 watermelons and 1,000 cantaloupes are being shipped from here daily. This is the largest melon crop in the history of the county.

The lowest thirty-two score in this event will qualify for the first match, which will be played the same afternoon. The second and third matches, the semi-finals and finals, will be played at 36 holes on succeeding days. The winner will receive a gold medal and his club will be awarded possession of the George B. Thorne trophy for one year.

A MAKER OF AMERICANS.

Fellow Workers of the Late Jacob A. Riis Declared That He Was the Finest Immigrant They Ever Knew.

Jane E. Robbins, in the Survey.

"I would not have missed being in it for anything," said Mr. Riis. "I have been very happy. No one ever had so good a time."

Years ago at the college settlement he spoke of the meadows and fields near the old town of Rihe with tears in his eyes, and explained afterward that his audience had suddenly disappeared from view, and in its place he saw only the north seacoast. It was this wonderful imaginative genius of Mr. Riis that caused a roomful of students to law down their pencils and notebooks as they realized that they were listening not to a lecture, but to a living, breathing prose-poem.

"Over against the tenements that we fight in our cities," he said, "ever rises in my mind the fields, the woods, God's open sky, as accuser and witness that His temple is being so defiled, man so dwarfed in body and soul."

His Days of Struggle.

In spite of the tramping and starving of the first three years in America, he knew that he was out to twist the wheel of fortune his way if he could only get his hands upon it.

The principal of a telegraph school to which he went in New York City sent him, just as his hopes were almost gone, to the New York News Association, where he began his life as a newspaper man. For more than twenty years he spent most of his waking hours with murders, fires, suicides and robberies.

"We talk a great deal about city toughs," he wrote in "The Making of an American." "In nine cases out of ten they were lads of normal impulses whose resources have all been smothered by the slum, of whom the street and its lawlessness and the tenement that is without a home have made ruffians. With better opportunities they might have been heroes."

The Powers of Facts.

Once when there was some fears of a cholera epidemic, Mr. Riis took his camera, went up to the Croton watershed, spent a week photographing the sources of pollution and forced the city to buy a strip of land along the streams that discharged into the Croton River.

"It takes a lot of telling to make a city know when it is doing wrong," said he. "It is just a question of endurance. The right has got to be moved along like everything else in this world by men. That is how we take title to the name."

For years Mr. Riis worked at night. "At 3 o'clock in the morning," he said, "the veneering is off, and you see the true grain of a thing." He was delighted to find that Roosevelt, as police commissioner, was willing to get up when other people slept and see what the town looked like in the night. "The power of fact" he called "the mightiest lever of his or any day."

In 1888 he had written a letter to the newspapers asking that flowers be sent to Mulberry Street, and they came in such abundance that five stout patrolmen were necessary to give them out to the howling mobs of children. From the distribution of these boxes of flowers and their revelation of the hunger for beauty on mean streets, there developed the Settlement at 48 Henry Street, which bears the name of Mr. Riis. It stands within a stone's throw of many a door in which he sat friendless and forlorn trying to hide from the policeman who would not let him sleep, and of the Bowery lodging house where, almost starved to death, he lay senseless on the stairs after his first day's work in the newspaper office.

"How the Other Half Lives."

The comfortably housed who had not red blood enough in their veins to feel for those to whom everything was denied and not sense enough to make out the facts when they saw them about school houses, playgrounds and better tenements always aroused his special scorn.

How Mr. Riis came to be a speaker he never knew, and he greatly enjoyed reading in a country newspaper that "a voluble German with a voice like a squeaky cellar door" had been in town. At first the churches were most unwilling to give a hearing to the wrongs of Mulberry Street, but at last he obtained permission to show the pictures he had taken by flashlight in the homes into which he had gone as a police reporter. After one of his illustrated lectures the editors of a leading magazine asked him for an article. "How the Other Half Lives" was the result.

With tongue or pen, his argument shaped itself into the fundamental one of the rescue of the home and the making of tenements which shelter 2 million human souls as nearly fit as might be. He summoned the American people to look the matter squarely in the face.

James Russell Lowell wrote to him after reading "How the Other Half Lives":

"I felt as Dante must when he looked over the edge of the abyss, at the bottom of which Gergon lay in ambush. I found it hard to get to sleep the night after I had been reading your book."

Government and the People's Life.

His ideas of good government began and ended with the people's life. After thirty years of work he knew that the conditions of New York's crowded tenement quarter still made for unrighteousness and that the great mass of respectable workingmen of the city must dwell there with their families.

"Yet the work," he said, "was not wasted, for at last we see the truth, and, seeing, it is impossible that the monstrous wrong should go unrighted. We have only begun to find out what government can do for mankind in the day when we shall all think enough about the common good, the res publica, to forget about ourselves."

"He was no saint," his reporter friends will tell you, "but a man with a mind and an honest will." He refused a cabinet position at one time because he could do better work elsewhere.

"I value the good opinion of my fellow men," he said, in "The Making of an American," "for with it comes increased power to do things."

To most of us Jacob Riis was the finest immigrant that we had ever known.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 30.—In an effort to place a home within the grasp of the tenant farmer, George W. West, of this place, yesterday completed arrangements to divide 22,000 acres of land into 80-acre tracts, which will be sold to homeseekers on easy terms. The sub-divided ranch is eighty miles southeast of San Antonio, on the Corpus branch of the San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf Railway.

The buyer, who must become a settler, pays one-fifth of the purchase price, paying the remainder in a time limit of twenty years. Interest is placed at 6 per cent. If the year is bad, the farmer may hold his land by the mere payment of interest

To the Voters of Hale County:

I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the kindnesses shown me in the campaign, I am making for County and District Clerk, and wish to thank you for the good support given me in the Primary held July 25th. I received 413 votes which was over ONE-THIRD of the entire vote cast in that election. If I had received ONE more vote than my Four Opponents, it would have given me the nomination and prevented the Second Primary.

Mr. Sloneker received 254 votes and I 413, and we will have to run until August the eighth in order to get a Majority Vote, and I ask Each and Every Voter to go to the polls on August 8th and cast their vote and if I am defeated I will be satisfied and if Mr. Sloneker is defeated he will be the same. All that I Ask is that the voters give me Consideration and cast their Vote as they think Best. I have Run a Clean Race and have not Thrown any Mud and do not intend to throw any but expect to come out of the Race Friend to Everyone.

WET STATES CAN'T COMPETE.

Now that Texas has gone wet, we had better get our bearings. Every loyal citizen must pledge his support to Mr. Ferguson—not as an "anti," but as Governor of our State. A cardinal principle of democracy is "majority rule."

There is large work to be done in Texas. We wait, with interest, the inauguration of his "business administration." Let us hope that petty jealousies which Mr. Colquitt has manifested will not slip in. Surely men at Austin ought to be able to do constructively for the best interests of the State, even though they disagree on prohibition.

A majority of our people have declared against submission. For the honor of Texas we must take care of the pauper, the criminal, the insane. Surely we will not again permit, nor will Mr. Ferguson be inclined to let, our State University suffer humiliation for funds.

We had just as well face the fact that a "wet" state can't compete with a commonwealth that has gotten rid of saloons.

Three fourths of the criminals, whose keep costs us more than a million dollars a year, were made directly by the saloon. The percentage of paupers, insane and sick credited to grog shops is no smaller than the number of criminals.

The thing works both ways. These men and women would, for the most part, be independent producers if the saloon had not existed. The Commonwealth loses what they would add to its wealth; it pays out nearly one-third of the entire expenditure of State revenues for their keep.

Any way you figure it, a "wet" state can't compete with its saloonless neighbor.

OUR COUNTY FAIR.

The man who lives alone seldom prospers. A mountain of gold is worth little to him if he has no one with whom to barter.

Counties, even commonwealths, are just individuals "grown up." It is gratifying that our people showed so much interest in the Fair. Few of the farmers could leave their fields to attend Tuesday's meeting. You can count on us, they said. Of course, other business men are no less interested.

The Fair is a business proposition. Better farming is the surest foundation for prosperity of any county. There are men in Hale County who have never failed to reap a profitable crop. Other men can find out at the County Fair how much better these farmers are doing. There will be a mutual exchange of ideas—to the profit of all.

Live men always avail themselves of useful information. Better farming means more money for every man, every business in the county. The Fair will undoubtedly result in just that. It will also bring about better acquaintance of the people. Some of us do not know our neighbors.

Handled wisely, the Fair ought to bring the Shallow Water Belt Nation-wide attention. Visionary? No, unusual.

Rocky Ford is known to the Nation because of its cantaloupes. People go half across the continent to take part in "cantaloupe day." California's "raisin day" is heralded in every town.

Both of these communities find a stream of gold pouring into them because all the world knows of something different which they have.

Let's make the Hale County Fair DIFFERENT. We want BETTER farmers. We are going after more farmers. Team-work will enable us to make the County fair a most effective agency for both.

HIGHER PAY FOR THE TEACHERS.

Nations are made by their schoolmasters. The school is the mold of National character. The teacher wanes, however, and education loses in effectiveness, when pupils, instead of respecting their preceptors, grow cynical towards them. Such a situation now exists in the United States, and is periling our educational system, according to speakers at the convention in the National Education Association. What respect can a student have for a college instructor who gets a salary that is often no bigger than the allowance this student gets from his parents for "incidental" expenses? How can the student take the professor seriously or be inspired by his ideals when he knows the salary of his mentor to be no larger than the salary of a clerk in his father's office? The professor, too, has less confidence in himself when he comes before his class in a coat that shines from too prolonged wear. The salaries of professors and teachers, in view of the high cost of living, are in effectiveness just about one-half what they were 20 years ago, according to President Dabney of the University of Cincinnati, who addressed the association. * * * We have been finding fault a good deal of late with our educational system. We have charged it with lack of efficiency. Individual employers are learning that high efficiency goes only with contentment on the part of employees, with a sense of security in their jobs and their future. What is true of the factory workman is true of the school teacher. Cease to make teachers intellectual proletarians—men without possessions, without hopes, without promise in the future—and their efficiency will go up.—Chicago Tribune.

THE SECOND PSALM.

Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing; the kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take council together against the Lord and against His Anointed, saying "Let us break their bands asunder and cast away their cords from us?"

He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh; the Lord shall have them in derision.

Then shall He speak to them in His wrath and vex them in His sore displeasure.

Yet have I set my kingdom upon my holy hill of Zion. I will declare the decree the Lord hath said unto me: Thou art my son. This day have I begotten thee. Ask of me and I will give the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron. Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Be wise now, therefore, O ye kings; be instructed, ye judges of the earth.

Serve the Lord with fear and rejoice with trembling. Kiss the Son lest He be angry and ye perish from the way when His wrath is kindled, but a little.

Blessed are they that put their trust in Him.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE LONE STAR STATE.

By United Press.

Every year on June 27 in some Texas town there is held a reunion of Hood's Texas Brigade. Soon there will be no more survivors of this brave Confederate band, but never will Hood's Brigade be forgotten, because its deeds are among the most precious chapters of Texas history. It was on June 27, 1862, that Hood's Texas Brigade made the reputation "which nearly exhausted them to achieve and nearly finished then to maintain." General Lee had forced General McClelland back to Gaines' Farm, where the Federals were strongly entrenched. The battle waged hot, but no break was made in the Union lines.

About four o'clock General Lee came up to General Hood and told him the works must be carried. "Can you break his line?"

"I will try," replied Hood. The Texas Brigade consisted of the First, Fourth and Fifth Texas regiments and the Eighteenth Georgia regiment. The Fourth was held in reserve, but got into action before the Union lines were pierced and McClelland was forced to flee in disorder.

Those Texans did it. At an awful cost, too. Ordered to wait for the command to "fire!" they attained the crest of the bold ridge, within one hundred and fifty yards of the Union breastworks. Concentrated upon them was a deadly fire of shell and canister and musketry. At a quickened pace they advanced, still without firing a shot, until the order to fix bayonets and charge was given.

"With a ringing shout," said General Hood, "we dashed up the steep hill and over the breastworks upon the very heads of the enemy. The Federals, panic-stricken, fled precipitately."

TIMELY ADVICE REGARDING SILOS IN SOUTHWEST.

Results of Special Demonstration in Cattle Feeding at Amarillo, Texas.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—A special demonstration in cattle feeding in Amarillo, Texas, has led to the compilation of certain data, on how to fill a silo, which should be of interest to farmers in the Southwest. In Western Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, California, Colorado, Utah, and Western Kansas, there are undoubtedly many farmers who are about to fill silos for the first time this year, and for such the following should be timely:

The proper time to cut this feed for silage is when the seed are in the stiff-dough stage and the bottom leaves begin to turn brown, for at this stage the plant will have its maximum nutritive value and yet be green enough to keep well in the silo. This advice applies particularly to the silage in the Panhandle of Texas, the greater part of which is made from kafir, mijo, feretita and sweet sorghum.

When there is a large amount of feed to be cut, the work should be done with a row binder, this being the most economical method. In hauling the feed from the field to the silo, a wagon with a low-down bed is much better than one with a regular hay frame, as the green bundles are rather heavy to lift. Use sufficient wagons to haul feed as fast as it is cut. It should not be allowed to wilt or become partly cured before putting into the silo. It will not keep as well if allowed to become dry. Wagons should be well loaded each trip, otherwise the expense of filling the silo will be greatly increased. If one has strong wagons, four-horse teams may be used to advantage.

Cut in Short Lengths.

Silage should be cut into one-half inch lengths, as it packs in much closer than when left longer, thus crowding out the air, and the silage keeps better. The capacity of the silo is also increased and there is less waste in feeding, as all will be eaten.

The power required to run the silage cutter, with blower attached, is ordinarily figured at one horse-power for each inch of cutter—that is, a 15-inch cutter will require a 15-horsepower gasoline engine, but in filling a pit silo, where no blower is required, only about half this power is needed.

One of the most, if not the most, important parts in filling a silo is the packing of the silage. The silage must be packed well if it is to keep, for this packing forces out the air, and the essential thing in making silage is the exclusion of air. If air spaces are left in the silo, large amounts of silage will be lost. In a silo 12 feet in diameter and with a small cutter, use two or more men. In large silos and filling with large cutters, keep three or more men in the silo, and see that they tramp all the time. Pack the edges next to the wall; the middle will take care of itself.

Add Water if Silage is Dry.

When the plants are green no water need be added in making silage, but if the silage has begun to dry or cure in the field, some water should be run into the silo while being filled. This is done to bring the moisture content of the silage nearer to its natural state, to make it pack down better, and help exclude the air. One safe rule in this matter would be: If in doubt, run in some water. Water will not hurt the silage if there is no excess, and every silo should have either a dirt floor or a drain, which will let any excess water escape. The best place to add the water is to run it into the blower while cutting.

As six or more inches of silage at the top will spoil, it is sometimes advisable to cover the top with some cheap or worthless material. A layer of straw or cut out straw is sometimes run in for a covering for the silage and wet down and well tramped. This forms a seal and preserves all the feed. When feeding is begun, all of this top layer of spoiled stuff should be thrown aside.

It is advisable to tramp the top of the silage every day for ten days or two weeks after the silo is filled, as this helps to force out the air and tends to prevent the silage from settling away from the wall.

Summary.

Cut crops for silage when seed are in the stiff dough stage.

Keep up with binder in the field; do not let feed lay in the field for several days.

Haul as large loads as possible, and keep all men busy all the time.

Cut in one-half-inch lengths.

Pack silage well around the edge. No man ever lost anything by packing, and many have lost much silage from lack of it.

Tramp the top of the silage every day for ten days or two weeks.

If in doubt as to moisture, run in water.

After breakfast the party enjoyed a row on the lake.

KARL FRANZ JOSEPH
"CRAMS" FOR KINGSHIP.

By United Press Staff Correspondent.
VIENNA, Austria, July 27.—Archduke Karl Franz Joseph, merely a Major of Infantry in the Austrian army at present, who may be called to the throne any day, has been set at work to "cram" in order to fit himself in the shortest possible time to guide the destinies of 26 nationalities in the dual monarchy of Austria-Hungary.

Announcement of the promotion of Archduke Karl from Major to Colonel is expected daily. The young man who suddenly and unexpectedly moved to within perhaps a few months of the throne, through the murder of Archduke Ferdinand, has been given a staff of military instructors and officials to initiate him into the mysteries of statesmanship and government policies. He is burning the midnight oil and is devoting himself to these studies in a way that is earning him much praise and admiration.

Archduke Karl Franz Joseph, who will be 27 years of age on August 17, is the big question mark not only to Austria-Hungary, but also to Germany. It is considered certain that Emperor Franz Joseph, who will be 84 years old on August 18, will not reign much longer, and the young Archduke will soon be Emperor.

Practically an Unknown Quantity.

He is practically an unknown quantity. Press and public have paid little attention to him. It was known that he was in line for the throne, but none thought his turn would come under 15 to 25 years, and in that time they would learn to know their future ruler. Archduke Karl is a likeable chap. He is human, with many of the human weaknesses that go with a sympathetic nature. He is not over-serious, and of him, as of the German Crown Prince, it has often been said that he was too lighthearted. He lacks the "stiffness" so characteristic of the Hapsburgs. Were Archduke Karl merely an ordinary citizen instead of an Emperor-to-be of a powerful nation, moralists would perhaps say of him that he was not of "good family." His father, Archduke Otto, younger brother of the murdered Ferdinand, had the reputation of being a "gay blade." He was raised so very religiously that when he was turned loose he started out to explore the "world of flesh," and did not cease until he died, in 1906, from a lingering disease said to have been due to the life he led. Archduchess Maria, Archduke Karl's mother, is a sister of King Frederick August III of Saxony, whose wife while still Crown Princess ran away with a music teacher. When Archduke Otto died, the Archduchess withdrew from the world of society and has devoted herself to religious work.

Inclined to Merry Life.

Archduke Karl first came to public notice when he broke his leg, at the age of 17, while skating. Next he got eight days' rest for shooting near a big powder magazine, a thing sternly forbidden by military orders. Soon after becoming a lieutenant in the army, he was assigned to the garrison in Prague and attached to a regiment of dragoons. Karl was inclined to lead a merry life, and this resulted in some of the officers who were boon companions of his being transferred elsewhere. In Prague also he received the "greater part of his education. In spite of his boyhood pranks and fondness for fun and frolic, his teachers spoke highly of his studiousness and ability to learn.

His fondness for operettes with pretty girls and music of the "Merry Widow" order was very pronounced while at Prague. It is said that he attended no less than 60 performances of the operette "A Waltz Dream." Karl also was quite a "movie fiend." He had the keenest interest and delight in moving picture shows. Upon one occasion the "movie" theatre in Payerbach-Reichenau flew his colors from the building in honor of his one hundredth visit within a comparatively short time.

Up to the present time Archduke Karl has been the most democratic of the Hapsburgs. Soon after his marriage to Princess Zita, of Parma, he invited several Vienna newspaper men to his home in order to present his young wife to them. Karl is as popular with the people as his uncle Ferdinand was unpopular. Ferdinand, who was very religious, austere, cold and reserved, had little sympathy with the gay, light-hearted youngster who was to come after him. And Karl couldn't stand Ferdinand and his moralistic admonitions. Karl never visited Ferdinand's villa.

Princess Zita, the future Empress, is the thirteenth of twenty children. Although she has an attractive face and pleasant manners, it is only by courtesy that she could be described as beautiful or of queenly bearing. The couple have two children.

LOCAL BAPTIST AUXILIARY HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

Mrs. H. C. McIntyre Is Leader of Study of "The Woman's Missionary Training School."

One of the largest auxiliary meetings in the history of the Plainview Baptist Church took place Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. C. W. Tandy, 305 Archer Street.

The Missionary Society was entertained by Circle B of the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. H. C. McIntyre was the efficient leader for a well-arranged program.

"The Treasureship of Training" was the subject assigned, or, rather, "The Woman's Missionary Union Training School," at Louisville, Ky. This school is the reward of a small beginning.

In 1904 four young ladies who wished to be missionaries went to Louisville and banded themselves together for training and study. From that the school has grown to its present large proportions. The Baptist women of Louisville lent a helping hand, rented a building and thus the good work progressed.

The program yesterday was opened with singing and repeating the Lord's prayer in concert. The Bible study was Christ's prayer for life and His recorded prayers in the Bible. These were read and commented on by Mrs. H. J. Dillingham and Mrs. Aria Van Howeling.

A paper on "The Relation of Education to Life" was read by Mrs. J. M. Waller.

"A Guest's Memory of the Training School" was read by Mrs. George Hutchings. This was followed by a beautiful vocal solo by Miss Hattie Dillingham.

Mrs. Green Wilson gave a well-selected reading, "The Smile of the Magnolia."

Mrs. R. T. Jones closed with prayer for the Training School.

Mrs. Tandy offered delightful marshmallow lemonade and cake to the sixty-odd ladies present.

During the short business session, held after the meeting, arrangements were perfected for the chicken-pie dinner to be given next Monday by Circles C and D of the Ladies' Aid.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION, AMENDING ARTICLE XI, SECTION 7a, OF THE CONSTITUTION—PROVIDING FOR AUTHORIZING COUNTIES BORDERING ON THE GULF OF MEXICO TO BUILD SEA-WALLS.

(S. J. R. No. 22.)

Senate Joint Resolution.
To amend Section 7 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico to build sea-walls by adding Section 7a, so as to authorize such counties to build sea-walls and designate sea-wall reclamation districts for the protection of life and property from storm overflow, and to build or condemn land for sea-wall and reclamation districts, the county to have State's title to the roads and bay shore line to low tide within the district, and the right to issue district bonds for acquiring and developing the district and building the sea-walls, and when district is developed as townsite to sell such portions of the land as not reserved for public use by the county.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas be proposed to the voters of the State of Texas for their adoption in accordance with law, and that the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to add Section 7a of Article XI, and that Section 7a of Article XI shall read as follows, to-wit:

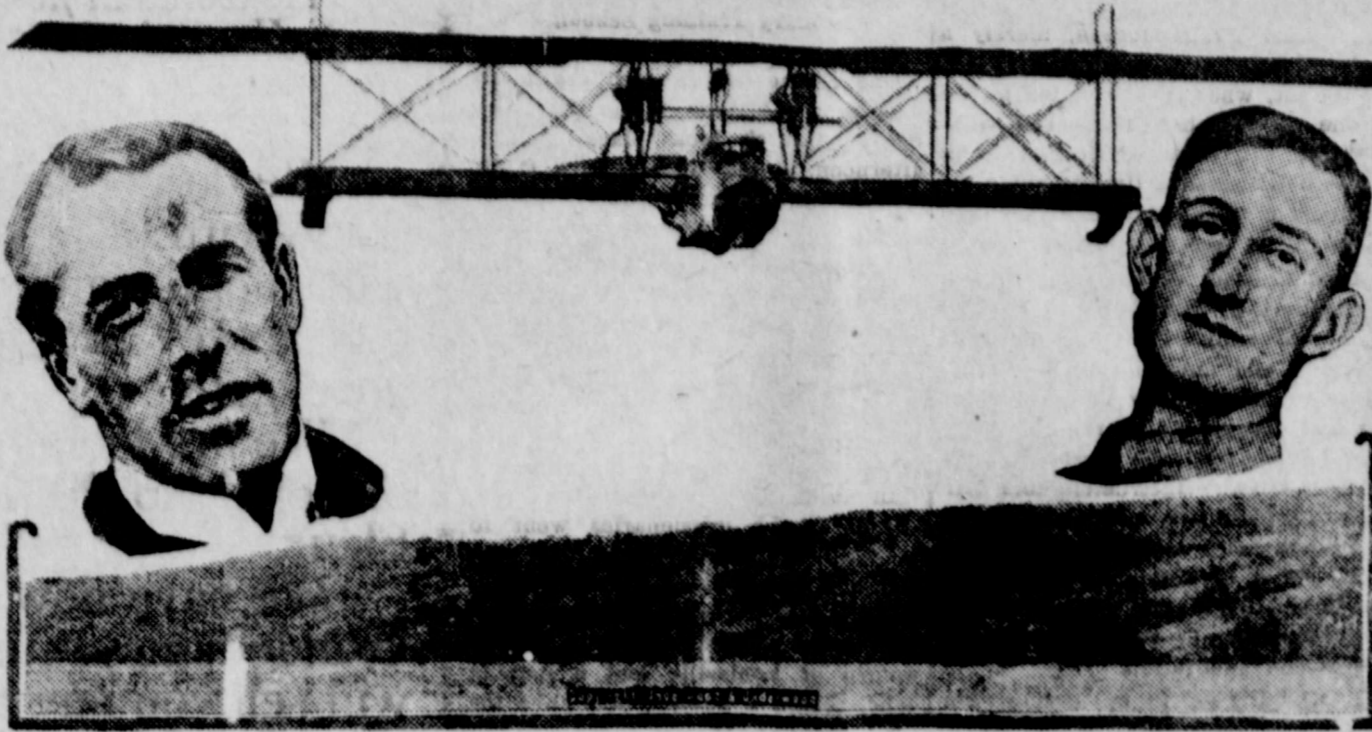

Section 7a. Where protection against the waters of the Gulf of Mexico is needed for protection of life, health, property or the sea-wall, any county bordering on the Gulf of Mexico may acquire title to the land for said sea-wall or sea-wall reclamation district as designated by the County Commissioners' court by purchase or condemnation of all the land desired for sea-wall and land for the sea-wall reclamation district from the sea-wall to bay shore tide line boundary of the property abutting on the bay, and the State hereby cedes to the county, for such district, for reclamation and general uses of the district, the title to bay shore lands in the district between the property tide line boundary and the low tide line of the bay shore, and any land in the reclamation district that may have been retained by the Republic of Texas of (or) the State for roads when the lands adjacent were platted and sold, and the county is given the right to dredge in the bay or in the gulf for fill for the district, and right to sell the land when reclaimed and laid off as townsite or otherwise, and where condemnation is used to acquire the land the proceedings to be as under the Statutes for condemnation for railroads, provided that the condemnation shall vest title in fee in the county, and county may issue bonds or other evidence of district indebtedness for acquiring the property, building the sea-wall, reclamation developments and all incidents thereto as expenses of sea-wall and reclamation district, with lien on land and such terms and conditions as county, through its commissioners' court may deem best, and the county commissioners' court shall appoint two persons who are owners of land within the district, and who desire to sell for reclamation and buy back from the county when reclaimed, who, with the county judge as chairman, shall continue a sea-wall reclamation district commission, whose compensation shall be fixed by the court, and this commission has power to make all rules and regulations for acquiring the land of district sea-wall building, reclaiming and platting land of district, issuing bonds or other evidence of indebtedness for same, subject, however, to all such rules, regulations and acts of the commission being authorized and approved and ratified by county commissioners' court. The district must bear all expenses of sea-wall and purchase of the land and expenses of filling (filling) same and other expenses, and the same shall not in any way involve the credit of the county or be a basis for a tax by the county on general lands of the county unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of the property taxpayers of the county voting at a special election therefor. It is further provided that any owner of land in a proposed district may subscribe and pay for the district commission, when organized, as a pro rata of his land of the expense of the wall, reclamation, platting as town lots on a basis as such area of land is to be the whole land of the reclamation district and sea-wall, and at any time before the completion of the district may surrender the bonds and receive from the county a bond for title for his land in town lots, less streets and alleys deducted therefrom, for which on surrender deed may be demanded from the county after the district is walled, filled and platted into streets, alleys and lots, and bonds so bought shall so provide. It is further provided that no district shall be formally designated by the county commissioners' court until owners of at least one-half of the proposed area of district petition therefor, and subscribe out for bonds for repurchase from the county as herein provided. This amendment may be acted on without delay of legislation in aid thereof or legislative action may be had in furtherance thereof if desired by the county, acting through its commissioners' court.

Be it further resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Texas for their ratification and adoption at an election to be held throughout the State on the second Tuesday in November, A. D. 1914, and at such election those favoring the ratification and adoption of said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots: "For the amendment to Article XI, Section 7a, of the Constitution,"

OCEANS OF WHEAT!

Wall Street may be steeped in gloom if it likes. Kansas doesn't care. For Kansas has 184 million bushels of wheat!

One hundred and eighty-four million bushels! The figures are incredible. They are too big to have meaning. The mind doesn't get them. About all that the average man can grasp is that the yield is almost exactly double the biggest previous yield in the history of the State—and that was a yield that made Kansas throw up its hat.

One hundred and eighty-four million bushels! At an average price of sixty-five cents a bushel that will net the farmers of Kansas 120 million dollars. One hundred and twenty million dollars, not made by swapping things, or by hauling them from place to place, or by any other of the necessary but only indirectly productive activities of this modern civilization. It is 120 million dollars produced, created, made to appear where a few months ago there was only bare ground. It is 120 million dollars directly added to the world's wealth!

To get the meaning of this 120 million dollars, fall back once more on comparisons. The Kansas farmers will get twice as much money from their wheat this year as they have averaged for the last five years. A goodly portion of their regular income is doubled in a year! Think what the doubling of salaries and wages would mean to the population of the cities and you get an idea of what doubling the wheat income means to Kansas.

With all the other crops in prime condition, promising more than their average yield, the prosperity of Kansas is going to set a new mark.

Mortgages are going to be reduced, money put away in the bank for insurance against unforeseen events, and improvements made about the farms that will add to their productiveness and make life richer and more varied in a hundred ways. Plumbing will be installed in thousands of homes, new lighting systems will be introduced, better clothing and furniture will be in demand and automobiles and pianos and talking machines will be called for.

The prosperity of the farmer will filter through to the merchant and manufacturer and to their employees. Industry and trade in every department will be stimulated. The money that the sun and the rains have pulled out of the ground will eventually find its way into the pockets of the workers and their families all over this great southwestern country.

The New Haven may have its troubles, and the East may shake its head in gloom. But Missouri is coming in with splendid crops, and Iowa, Nebraska and Oklahoma. And Kansas—Kansas has raised 184 million bushels of wheat!—Kansas City Star.

(S. J. R. No. 12.)

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That Section 1, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read:

Section 1. Be it further resolved, by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the above and foregoing is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, and shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State of Texas for members of the Legislature, for their adoption or rejection as a part of the Constitution of this State, and shall be voted on by such electors at the regular election for the election of officers to be held throughout the State, on the second Tuesday in November, A. And the foregoing proposed amendment shall be duly published once a week for four consecutive weeks, commencing at least three months before the election at which it is to be voted upon, in one weekly newspaper in each county in this State, in which such a newspaper may be published. WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS WILL BE TRUE PROGRESSIVE.

By United Press.
GOODLAND, Kans., July 30.—Irrigation, better transportation, better schools and better laws for women are the four cardinal principles in the platform of the only woman candidate for Congress in Kansas since the equal suffrage amendment to the state constitution was adopted. Mrs. Eva Morley Murphy, Goodland, is the Progressive candidate for Congress in her district, and politicians say she has a chance to win, because of the things she stands for and because the present Congressman has been afraid to take any definite stand on many propositions which have had popular approval.

"I have lived for 28 years in this Congressional district, among the gritty, cheerful, hopeful, industrious and progressive people who have been turning it from a barren plain into a delightful community of homes," Mrs. Murphy said to-day. "I have done my own small part in this work. I know the needs of the people in my district.

"More extensive irrigation work is needed and should be carried on by Government supervision. The West needs better wagon roads and more railroads, more trains and lower freight rates—at low enough figures to be an inducement for people to move into that territory and not have to pay exorbitant prices for what they need, and low enough for them to be able to ship their products out at a profitable figure.

"Good roads will mean better schools for us, and better attendance. Good roads will mean more graded schools, the most efficient teachers and the best equipment. In the West the settlers are so few that to have really efficient schools they must be so far away from many homes that the children must be hauled miles over poor roads, if, indeed, at some seasons of the year the poor roads will permit of travel at all. Good roads enhance the value of the land. They make for more and better neighbors, better community life and other similar things that make life as a whole better and happier.

"National suffrage and National prohibition are coming propositions before the country. There are some states where women are regarded as a sort of necessary evil. In these benighted states women have no right to hold property in their own name. They are not permitted to have anything to do with business affairs. They have nothing to say about how property that belongs to them shall be taxed. They are as bad off legally as the slaves were before the Civil War. Even Kansas laws do not give women the same equality as is accorded the men, but in other respects Kansas is far ahead of many other states.

"If I am elected to Congress, I shall work for every progressive measure. I care not who nor what party is behind it, I shall work for the things that will make life happier and better and safer, especially to the toilers of the plains—my own people. I believe the fact that I am a wife, a mother and a grandmother will aid me in representing the people of the Sixth Congressional District and to obtain, as a member of Congress, more equitable laws for all people of our country."

Mrs. Murphy has been an active worker in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union for many years, and she has participated in many political campaigns in Kansas and other states where temperance and prohibition has been an issue. She has helped in the defeat and victory of several candidates in her own county and district and is an eloquent and brainy campaign speaker.

She has frequently been urged to run for office in the past, but she has steadily refused. She always said she wanted to wait until her children were all grown. Finally, when the Progressives urged her to run for the nomination on their ticket, she decided to try it. Her husband will aid her in her campaign. There are several men who wanted the Progressive nomination, but when they heard that Mr. Murphy had proposed to try for the nomination they dropped out. Several Democrats and Republicans are actively supporting Mrs. Murphy from the Sixth District, but supporting candidates on their respective tickets in other sections of the State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION, AMENDING SECTION 24, ARTICLE 3, OF THE CONSTITUTION INCREASING THE COMPENSATION OF THE LEGISLATURE AND EXTENDING THE LENGTH OF REGULAR SESSION.

(S. J. R. No. 26.)

Senate Joint Resolution.
Joint resolution proposing an amendment to Section 24, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, relating to compensation for members of the Legislature.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That at the next general election of the State of Texas for the election of State officers, or at a previous general election, in case a general election for the State shall be sooner ordered by the Governor for other purposes, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Texas, for their adoption or rejection, the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, as provided for in Section 1, Article 17, of said Constitution, relating to proposed amendments thereto, it being intended to amend Section 24, Article 3, of said Constitution, relating to the pay of members of the Legislature, and extension of term of regular sessions, so that the said Section shall read as follows:

Section 24. The members of the Legislature shall each receive from the public treasury as compensation for their services twelve hundred ($1200.00) dollars for the year in which each regular session of the Legislature is held, payable in equal installments on the twentieth days of January, April, July and October of the year in which the regular session is held, and five dollars per day for each day of every special session held in the year next succeeding that in which any regular session is held. In addition to said compensation the members of each house shall be entitled to mileage going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed five cents per mile, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel by land, regardless of railways or water routes; and the Comptroller of the State shall prepare and preserve a table of distances to each county seat, now or hereafter to be established, and by said table the mileage of each member shall be paid. Each regular session shall continue until the business of such session is disposed of.

Sec. 2. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation submitting this amendment to be voted upon by the qualified electors for members of the Legislature, at the first general election to be held in this State. Those favoring the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "For amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution increasing compensation of the Legislature, and extending the length of the regular session of the Legislature." Those opposing said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballot the words: "Against amendment to Section 24, of Article 3, of the Constitution increasing compensation of the members of the Legislature, and extending the term of regular sessions of the Legislature."

Sec. 3. The sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to defray the expenses of such proclamation, publication and election.
(Note.—S. J. R. No. 26 passed the Senate by a two-thirds vote, yeas 26, nays 0, and Senate concurred in House amendments by a two-thirds vote, yeas 23, nays 1; and was passed by the House of Representatives with amendments by a two-thirds vote, yeas 101, nays 22.)

TEXAS NURSERYMAN SAYS COUNTRY IS DOING WELL.

By United Press.
COLLEGE STATION, Texas, July 27.—"The country generally is doing well and is enjoying reasonable prosperity now. The banks are showing healthy and ample deposits, and largely by agricultural depositors."

President Jno. S. Kerr, of the Texas Nurserymen's Association, at its annual convention here to-day, thus summed up business conditions, after detailing a trying year for nurserymen, with floods, droughts, frosts and heat in a discouraging variety. Nevertheless, he thought the past fiscal year for nurserymen of the Southwest had been a good one.

"The past season's stocks were pretty well cleaned up with cash collections greatly better than for two or three years previous," he said. "Growing stocks, too, are making up well, good grades being assured at this time. While orchard planting has quieted down from the high pitch of a few years ago to a more normal and saner basis, curtailing somewhat the demand for fruit trees, yet the growing interest in ornamental plantings is producing an increased demand for shades, ornamental evergreens, roses, shrubs, etc."

CATTLE DEALS AGGREGATE $750,000.

Special to The Herald.
LUBBOCK, Texas, July 30.—Within the past week cattle deals have been made here involving approximately three-quarters of a million dollars. The purchasers for the most part are Kansas City men. Yesterday a total of 5,000 cattle was sold to a single buyer.

BOOKKEEPING FOR FARMS IS URGED

Simple Bookkeeping Will Enable Farmer to Check Cost.

Farming is the only business which has not developed standard bookkeeping methods. The majority of farmers keep no books at all, and still they are engaged in a business which demands constant attention and accurate knowledge of the day to day progress. The division of Public Welfare of the University of Texas Extension Department recently undertook a study of marketing farm products, and naturally desired to know the cost of production of farm products. Owing to the fact that few farmers keep an intelligible set of books, this important data is very difficult to obtain.

This bookkeeping can be made very simple and the record kept without difficulty. Such record will consist of all the items, which show what has been paid in the way of rent for land, wages for labor, and interest on capital used. If such record is checked up from day to day, recording the amount of land used and such items as the use of machinery and the number of days labor given to the crop, it will be found that it is easy to determine about what it costs the farmer to produce his product.

If any considerable percentage of farmers kept accurate books, the study of marketing problems, as well as problems in efficiency of farm management would be greatly facilitated. The Division of Public Welfare of the State University undertakes to suggest a simple method of keeping a farm record to any farmer who cares to apply for such information.

Movement Started For Better Babies

Texas Takes Steps in the New Program of Race Development.

Better corn, better cotton, better hogs, and better this and better that have been preached enthusiastically in Texas during the past few years, but there is no "better movement" so enthusiastic as the "better babies" movement.

So far it has taken the form of contests, scientifically judged by competent people. The contest furnishes not only an inspiration to those exhibiting their products, but it is educational in that it enforces upon the minds of the fond parents just what are the points of excellence in a baby, and just what characteristics are counted as defects.

The Better Babies Contest is really a popular, yet scientific, movement to insure better babies and a better race. It consists of entering, examining and awarding prizes to children of three years or less on exactly the same basis or principles that are applied to live-stock shows. Mere beauty does not count. Physical and mental development only are considered. The Better Babies Contest insures a better race of Americans, because it teaches parents how to improve the physical condition of children. It arouses interest in the conservation of child life and health in all forms of child welfare. It forges a connecting link between parents and teachers, it promotes civic interest in children of the community, their schools and their recreations.

The Child Welfare Department of the University of Texas, believes that, by the interest aroused in these contests, the attention of parents may be called to many needs of young children, both as to the care of their bodies and of their minds. Miss Jessie P. Rich, of this department, therefore, is offering to cooperate heartily with any persons interested in the Better Babies Movement, and will cheerfully supply information as to how to hold these contests, how to secure score cards, etc. Also, whenever possible, a special child welfare lecturer will be sent from the University at Austin to assist in the county contests.

Nine hundred and eighty young men and women attended the University of Texas Summer School in 1913.

One hundred and seventy-two young women received lessons in domestic economy in the University of Texas during the session of 1914.

THE STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL. Combination of Circumstances Reduces Prices on Cattle.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, July 27.—A combination of circumstances is working against the cattle market that is a little more effective in depressing prices than the short supply is in advancing prices. Killers have advanced the price of beef to retailers, who in turn advanced the price to consumers, and many of these have backed away.

Newspapers attach blame to both packers and cattle producers, and this controversy also cuts meat consumption. The result is a slight decline in prices of all but a few specialties.

Receipts to-day are 13,000 head. Prime heavy steers continue to creep upward, recording a new top to-day, at $9.95. Other sales of near-prime steers were numerous at $9.50 to $9.85, some branded Westerns fed in Kansas selling at $9.60. Bulk of native steers sell at a slightly lower range than a week ago, at $7.90 to $9.25.

Half-fat yearlings are mean sellers, and choice yearlings are not as high as a week ago, best at $9.50. Kansas grass steers are selling at $7.50 to $9.00, the latter price being secured to-day for a shipment of Davis Greenwood County steers, 1,348-pound average. Fat native cows sell at $5.50 to $7.25, top grass cows $6.75.

Quarantine cattle are moving freely, the supply of 150 car loads to-day consisting of a few shipments of North Texas cake-fed steers, which class is about all marketed for this season, and a large supply of mixed Oklahoma cattle.

The best cake-fed steers brought $8.40, wintered steers from the Osage country and other sections of Oklahoma at $6.80 to $7.25, medium and common light steers $5.50 to $6.75.

Stock cattle have lacked life for some time, the best selling at $7.00 to $7.75, which are considered bargain prices by a good many dealers. Heavy feeders are having somewhat of a boom, Illinois and Iowa men taking them at $7.75 to $8.55, for short feeds.

Hog receipts are very light, but packers enforced a big break last week after the middle of the week. The market is slowly recovering, sales 5 to 10 cents higher to-day, receipts 5,000 head. Packers are stubborn in their fight against advancing prices, and bought few hogs early to-day, order buyers getting most of the early sales.

Quality of hogs is pretty good, and the impression exists that there are a good many hogs being fed for weight, which will begin coming within the next few weeks.

Sheep and lambs sold lower last week, particularly lambs, which declined more than a dollar per hundred. Receipts are 5,000 to-day, market strong to 10 cents higher, best lambs at $7.90, and ewes worth $4.25 to $4.75. Breeding ewes to-day at $5.00. Receipts are largely Arizonas and natives, although choice North-western lambs would sell to advantage here. J. A. RICKART, Market Correspondent.

AMERICAN SURGEONS MEET IN LONDON.

By United Press. LONDON, England, July 27.—Although America is admittedly far in advance of the rest of the world in the general science of carving the human body, 1,500 eminent surgeons of the United States and Canada have come to London to learn some new things in which British members of the profession are said to excel. For the first time in history the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America is meeting in a foreign country, having accepted the invitation of a delegation of British surgeons at the Chicago convention last year to hold its fifth annual session in this city.

At the open meeting to-night the delegates will be formally welcomed by Sir Rickman J. Godlee, chairman of the London committee, and by United States Ambassador Page, and will listen to an address by the retiring president, Dr. George E. Brewer, of New York. During the next five days the visitors will be given opportunity of an intimate study of the latest British clinical methods at demonstrations to be conducted in the various London hospitals, of which there will be an average of twenty a day. General sessions will be held each evening at the Savoy and Cecil Hotels, at which papers will be read and discussed by the foremost surgeons of both England and America.

FARM LIFE COMMISSION.

By United Press. COLLEGE STATION, Texas, July 27.—The Texas Farm Life Commission held its annual meeting here to-day. The agricultural products of Texas farms are yearly the largest of any State, but home-life conditions of the farms are admittedly discouraging and are the cause of the drift of farmers' sons and daughters to the cities. The Texas Farm Life Commission was appointed by Governor Colquitt under an act of the legislature several years ago. The commission's studies of conditions and recommendations for improvement have been a factor in the current agitation for better marketing, cotton warehouses and State aid.

PLAN STATUE TO NORDICA.

Memorial Considered by Musicians in Central Park.

NEW YORK CITY, July 28.—Friends of the late Mme. Nordica have enlisted the aid of widely-known musicians and music lovers in a plan to erect a heroic statue of the diva in Central Park, according to announcement to-day.

Should a statue to Mme. Nordica be erected it will be the only one of a woman in a park in New York, and, according to a recent investigator, one of three of women in the United States.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, it is understood, will be asked to design the statue.

MAY PUNISH DOCTORS WHO TOO FREELY PRESCRIBE LIQUOR

By United Press. SALEM, Oregon, July 30.—Governor West to-day took under advisement a recommendation by the State Board of Health that he deprive of their licenses physicians who are too free in prescribing spirituous liquors for their practitioners who happen to live in dry districts of the State. The recommendation is strongly backed by all the temperance and prohibition organizations of the State, as well as by numerous medical associations.

Texas Marketing Problems Studied

Hundreds of Texas Farmers Give Statement of Their Actual Experience.

Descending from the general discussion of farm marketing problems, Prof. C. B. Austin, through the University of Texas Department of Extension, is making a special study of the marketing problem in Texas. He wants to get specific and detailed accounts of the exact situation which the average Texas farmer faces. During the past year, Prof. Austin has obtained many hundreds of letters from the general farmers of Texas, and in those letters they not only give their views of the marketing situation but state in a detailed way exactly what they grow how they have attempted to sell it, what prices they have obtained, and what difficulties they have had to surmount, or have failed to meet. A wealth of information of this nature, contains a minimum of theory and a maximum amount of information on the actual conditions in the marketing of farm produce.

It is hoped that this mass of information directly from the farmer will form the background for a proper legislative solution of marketing problems in Texas. In this way the farmer is given a chance to state his own case and his statements are put in a place where they will do him the most good.

Diversification of Crops is Needed

By Producing Something Besides One Specialized Crop Farmers Feed Themselves.

In the course of an address before the Southern States Association of Marketing, Chas. B. Austin, head of the Division of Public Welfare of the University of Texas, made the following plea for diversion of crops:

"Several years ago, manufacturers erected buildings, put in boilers, and lathes and other machinery and turned out bicycles until the bicycle craze was over; then they used the same boilers, the same machines to give us sewing machines and automobiles. The average farmer must be shown that he has fixed capital that will produce something besides one specialized crop. When you produce something besides the one specialized crop you begin to feed yourselves, and then you break up this balance of trade against the farmer caused by specializing in cotton. The average farmer in Texas at the present time is not in a position to help you on this market question, because demand is made up of two factors, i. e., desire plus ability to obtain, and he has been caught in the squeeze. He has the desire for the good things to put on his dinner table, but he has not the wherewithal to transform that desire into demand."

SEEKS UNIFORMITY IN BLUE LAWS OF STATES.

By United Press.

SALEM, Ore., July 30.—Believing that the blue sky laws of every state should be uniform, State Corporation Commissioner R. A. Watson to-day sent out appeals to officials of all states advocating a National convention to be held in the near future to take steps to standardize the statutes regulating the corporations of all states. Up to the present time twenty-two states have adopted blue sky legislation, and many others are contemplating similar action.

To the Voters of Hale County:

I feel that I have had the vote of the people most interested in surveying in the recent primary, as I was in the lead in all the voting precincts in the County except West Side and Plainview; and I made a tie with my opponent at West Side.

I also think at Plainview I had the support of a majority of the voters most interested in surveying. I therefore appeal to the voters of the County to attend the primaries on August 8th and cast your vote for the candidate you think best fitted for the office of Surveyor, without being persuaded or influenced by the friends or relatives of either candidate.

Respectfully,

O. HOLLAND.

FROM NEW MEXICO TO WISCONSIN IN METZ.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Har. Basel Flue Roads Are Bad for Miniature Auto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Har. Basel were in town this morning en route from Lake Arthur, New Mexico. They are bound for their home, in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and were driving a two-passenger Metz.

Mr. and Mrs. Basel own three hundred and sixty acres of the Pecos Valley land near Lake Arthur, and have been looking after their interests there for sixteen months.

They report bad roads between here and Lake Arthur. They said that the sand dunes are hard for small cars to get over.

They carry a complete camping outfit, and camped back of Wayland College last night. From here they will go to Amarillo. The best time made by the Metz was 70 miles in one day.

Mrs. Basel says she knows C. B. Harder well and that she thinks much of him.

R. C. Joiner, J. N. Donohoo, Carl Donohoo and J. O. Rountree left this morning for a three week's trip to the Devils River country. They went in two automobiles.

Contrary to its name, Devils River seems to be a sort of paradise for hunters and fishermen in Texas. Just how the stream got its name, we do not know. These men may be able to tell when they return.

GOLDING RESIGNS CAPTAINCY CO. L, FOURTH REGIMENT.

Otis Shropshire Will Command Local Militia Until Governor Appoints a Commander.

Ben Golding, Captain of Company L, 4th Regiment, Texas National Guard, has resigned his command. Business is assigned as the reason. Company L will be in command of Lieutenant Lee Otis Shropshire until a commander of the company is appointed by the Governor.

Company L will entrain not later than August 15th for Texas City. The Texas National Guard Encampment will be held in conjunction with the United States army stationed there.

There will be approximately 15,000 men at Texas City. These will represent practically every branch of service from the aerial fleet to the signal and engineer corps.

SETH WARD ISSUING A SECOND BULLETIN.

First of Series Issued by Local College Is Entirely Exhausted; More Calls.

Seth Ward College is issuing its September Bulletin. This is a second publication of the announcement issued in the spring.

An unusual demand for information concerning the north side college has taken all of the bulletins published in May. Letters continue to come asking for literature. President McDonald says that requests are unprecedented. He expects a great year for the Methodist school.

The new dormitory for boys will be pushed as rapidly as possible. There is room in the college building for perhaps forty boys, private homes can be secured for others, and tents might be pitched on the campus—just as was done at A. & M. two years ago.

"We have the best faculty of any junior college in the church," Mr. McDonald said. "That is why we expect to make a great school. Our location is unsurpassed, too."

Hale Center, Texas, July 28, 1914.

Mr. Editor—At this place there were 29 votes for Governor that did not count, for the reason that there were two names left on the ticket, instead of one. The Ball men claim 24 of the lost votes, and seem to think that Ball would have been elected if enough of that class had had intellect sufficient to know how to fix their ticket so that it could be counted.

There are no negroes here, but there are Mexicans on the section. I don't believe the integrity of Hale Center and vicinity is below the average of other communities in the State.

WACO PARTY TO COLORADO.

Ford and Abbott-Detroit Carrying Five on Summer Outing.

J. R. Downs, W. A. Brown, Guy Taylor, Miss Minnie Taylor and Mrs. Donna Brown passed through Plainview Tuesday. They came from Waco, via Snyder. Roads are good in Hale County, Mr. Downs says. He found mud through the Snyder country.

The party was making a baggage car of a Ford. The "trusty" seemed to carry as much as a mountain freight train. It was packed high and wide and log—that didn't seem to bother its driver.

An Abbott-Detroit carried the tourists. Denver and other Colorado points is their destination.

BARKER & WINN PLANNING BRICK ON NORTH PACIFIC.

Building of Two-Story Business House to Begin as Soon as Bowron Is Ready.

Traveling men say Plainview never stops building. They always tell the truth—even if we don't like them when they tell too much on some of us. Other towns have not kept on going; Plainview always has. Six residences and two business houses are going up now.

Barker & Winn are having plans drawn for a two-story brick building on North Pacific Street. A representative of this firm to-day said, "We hope to be ready next week." C. A. Bowron is planning to go in with these gentlemen. "We will go ahead just as soon as Mr. Bowron can arrange a few details," was the advice this afternoon.

Roy Bailey Says "You Can Count on Us for Anything."

Petersburg votes "Yes" for the County Fair. One man was so loyal that his "yes" was prefaced with the words—"if you have it at Petersburg."

With the memory of a picnic dinner at Petersburg, the editor of The Herald would gladly vote for that place as home for the Fair, except that he has no way of reaching that thriving community.

"We are too busy in crops to come to the mass meeting," Roy Bailey told The Herald man. "We are going to have crops to take the prizes. But you can count on us for anything you need. We are in."
