FINDS A SMALL TRACTOR PROFITABLE INVESTMENT

USES ENGINE TO PULL PLOWS FOR BREAKING LAND AND TO OPERATE MILL FOR GRINDING FEED.

COWS PAY FARM'S EXPENSES

Eggs at All Seasons From Pens of 125 Hens—Keeps Them Warmly Housed in Winter.

Fifteen Jersey cows are meeting the living expenses of a family who live on a 250-acre farm in the Plainview country. Not only are the grocery and dry-goods bills of the family met, but there is a surplus of almost enough to pay the running expenses of the farm. Cream is sold to the creamery and the skimmed milk is fed to hogs.

From this farm the gross earnings this year will be about $5,000, or $20 per acre.

Here is the way H. V. Tull is making money in the Plainview country. He had this year 96 acres in wheat, with a total yield of 2,912 bushels. He sold about 1,600 bushels at $1.10 per bushel. From 50 acres he raised 88 tons of maize, some of which has been sold in the head at $8.50 per ton. The threshed grain is higher, and the market will be better later, so he has constructed large bins for holding the threshed grain. Thirty-eight tons of kaffir were raised on 25 acres and 38 tons of feterita from a plot of the same size.

Broadest Sudan Yielded Well.

A 15-acre patch of Sudan grass yielded 2½ tons to the acre. Two cuttings were secured from the crop, which was sowed broadcast. This hay is now worth $8.00 per ton, and will be worth more in the spring. Black runner on Mr. Tull's farm yielded 20 bushels to the acre. He finds this excellent pasturage for livestock of all kinds, and especially for hogs and chickens. Fifteen tons of baled millet hay from 10 acres is worth $120 today.

Indian Corn Yielded 40 Bushels.

A small field, 5 acres, of Indian corn yielded 200 bushels. It is worth 50 cents a bushel on the market today, and is easily worth 90 cents on hoof. A ton of cane heads to the acre on a ten-acre field will give a good profit to Mr. Tull, and he has a huge rick of cane stalks which he will cut up and feed to stock.

Four-Acre Orchard Profitable.

Plums, cherries, prunes, apples, and peaches were raised in abundance in a four-acre orchard on this farm. Every tree bore fruit.

Mr. Tull figures that he increases the value of his feed by feeding it to livestock, and keeps a good dairy herd and fifty head of hogs.

One hundred and twenty-five hens of the Plymouth Rock type keep the family in eggs the year around and leave a surplus for the market. And the eggs from the thoroughbred chickens are in demand in the hatching season, and the price in the winter is good. Mr. Tull keeps the chickens protected from the cold in the winter with a large, well built chicken house, which has a south opening. It has been his experience that warm quarters are necessary for winter-egg production.

Tractor is Economical.

Of much interest to the farmers in the South Plains country is the farm tractor. Mr. Tull has a tractor which will develop 12 horsepower as a tractor and 25 horsepower at the pulley. He uses the engine to grind his feed. The mills charge 10 cents a hundred pounds for grinding. He believes fifteen per cent is added to the feeding value of the small grains by grinding, and finds his engine and mill very economical.

In breaking land, he finds the tractor more economical than mules. The first cost of the machine was $1,200. His plow, four 14-inch bottoms, self-lift, cost him $425, making a total of $1,625. Depreciation, interest and repairs, at 12 per cent, which is liberal, considering the fact that the tractor is in use very little, makes the cost of the tractor on a 250-acre farm cost 66 cents per acre. Fuel costs 24 cents per acre and labor 30 cents per acre—the plow turns 10 acres per day—making a total cost per acre of $1.20. This is allowing $2.00 per day for the labor of the man who operates the tractor. Considering the number of mules necessary to handle a 250-acre farm, and the cost of feeding and housing them, Mr. Tull believes his tractor is effecting a worth-while saving on his farm.

DISTRICT COURT RESTRAINS FROM BURNING "PUMMIES."

Special Sessions of District, County and Justice Courts Held in Lockney Saturday.

Last Saturday District Judge R. C. Joiner sat in special session at Lockney to hear the injunction proceedings filed by Mrs. Johnson against Lockney Grain and Elevator Co. to restrain them from threshing grain and burning "pummies" so near her residence. The court ruled that defendant could thresh grain, but must not burn "pummies" on the ground.

County Judge E. P. Thompson and a jury commission tried Jess Cole for lunacy. Cole was adjudged to be sane. Justice Moon fined two young men for a fistfight.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PHENIS HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

The funeral services of Mrs. J. N. Phenis were conducted at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. J. W. Story and Rev. I. E. Gates.

Interment was made in the Plainview Cemetery under the direction of W. F. Garner.

MODERN IDEAS ADVANCED IN MEETING OF CHURCHMEN

Methodist Church Will Adopt Duplex-Envelope Plan for Offerings; Plan Announced at Banquet.

A get-together and good-fellowship meeting of the men of the First Methodist Church was held Friday evening, in the rooms of the Farmer's Business College, over Donohoo-Ware Hardware Company's. W. W. Underwood, district lay leader, acted as toastmaster.

A splendid program of entertainment was arranged. The Plainview Concert Band gave a number of selections. Miss Wolters, of Wayland Baptist College, gave the first solo number, a violin rendition, with Miss Jeter, of Wayland, accompanying on the piano. Fred Cousineau and Dr. N. B. Mayhugh each gave baritone solos.

"Co-operation" was the theme of a short address by Dr. C. C. Gidney. This splendid talk was followed by a duet by Messrs. Fowler and Cousineau. Dr. C. D. Wofford, newly elected president of the board of stewards of the church, gave a prospectus of the work planned for the year, explaining the Duplex-Envelope System for offerings, which has been adopted by the board. Miss Bernice Duggan, of Seth Ward College, gave an appreciated reading.

Evangelization of the community was the subject for an interesting talk.

Give Publicity—Give It Promptly

Let the chips fall where they may, but hew to the line.

The Herald is firm in its stand that the report of the auditor as originally made should be published. It's a matter of only a few days' time to get mail from Dallas to Plainview. Just a few more days would be required to get mail from Plainview to Boston, Boston to Dallas and Dallas to Plainview. It's just a question of how urgently the matter is pursued.

We believe that the report should be published as soon as possible. We believe that the report as originally made by the auditor should be published, and see no reason under the sun why he should come to Plainview again, or why another audit is necessary. Surely he was careful enough to keep a copy of his report. If he did not he is grossly careless—too careless for the responsible position a public accountant assumes.

That report is available, we believe, and should be published as soon as possible.

That the report was not published, or, to say the least, available for inspection soon after its adoption, is strange. That it was kept in a place so insecure that the janitor destroyed it with trash, shows negligence on someone's part.

Why make the janitor the goat?

The Herald's position is that prompt publication of the report should be made; that every citizen of the county has a right to know what this report and all other public reports contain, and that information as to how the county's money is being spent should be given concisely and promptly. One hundred and fifty dollars of county funds was spent to get the report, and certainly the people whose money was spent have a right to see the report.

If the facts in the case show that one official or any official or all officials have misconducted the affairs of their office or offices, that is to be lamented. But the fact remains that the citizens have a right to know and should be informed. It's the newspaper's mission to assist in giving publicity.

Publicity's the thing! It's a safeguard and a corrective.

In another column of this issue is a signed communication from Judge Lewis. We fail to see consistency in two statements—one that this report evidently got in the waste paper and was burned by the janitor; the other, that the main auditor's report, signed by John S. Ogleby, in which he stated that he had examined the officers' accounts, was given to the editor of The Herald, read by him in the presence of the judge, and that was the last the judge has seen of this report. Our position is this, there is no main part to the report; there was an auditor's report, and one part of it is just as vital as another. One part was not made for the public and the other for the officials. The county's money was spent to secure a report, and the full report belongs to the people, and they have a right to examine it.

Our friend refers to a signed communication, quoting one paragraph from which does the Clerk and the Sheriff an injustice. In the next sentence the Judge intimates that The Herald had a communication from the three when he uses the plural pronoun "us." As a matter of fact, The Herald has a communication signed only by Judge Lewis. It was in answer to an editorial in The Herald, "Publicity a Safeguard and a Corrective," and another, "Who's Got the Button?" For the reason that the letter had references to statements extraneous to ours, we would not publish it, and Judge Lewis was informed of the reasons why we did not wish to publish it, and at the same time told that we did not wish to take an excerpt from the letter, and would be glad to have him write another in which he dealt only with the issue between The Herald, and that we would gladly publish it. This he declined to do until today. We are pleased to publish his statement in toto.

Regardless of who is to blame for the destruction or misplacement of the auditor's report, regardless of whether the report shows official error, the issue in the case is clear. The Herald abides by what it prints, ready to alter nothing but error in fact.

THANKSGIVING IS TOPIC FOR FEDERATED SOCIETIES

Buying Red Cross Seals to Assist Fight Against Tuberculosis Is Urged.

The fifth Monday in a month is always welcomed by the church-going ladies of Plainview, for on that day the missionary societies of the various churches meet together to discuss matters of interest. The meetings are supposed to be formal, but before they close the formality disappears and the members of the different churches come in closer touch with each other.

The program for the meeting yesterday afternoon, at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, was unusually interesting. Thanksgiving being the subject. Mrs. S. W. Meharg, the recently elected president, presided. After the reading of the minutes, by Mrs. J. J. Lash, the secretary, a business session was held.

Mrs. T. P. Whittis, who has been appointed distributor for the Red Cross seals, asked the co-operation of the societies in the sale of these seals, which are gotten out by the Public

SAYS McLENNAN COUNTY MAY FOLLOW EXAMPLE SET BY BELL.

Petition Is Now Being Circulated in Waco, According to Visitor From Temple.

That McLennan County may follow the example set by Bell County in the recent local option election, when Bell was voted dry, is the opinion of John Wilkinson, of Temple. According to Mr. Wilkinson's statement to a representative of The Herald this afternoon, a petition is now being circulated in Waco in an effort to have an election called.

Mr. Wilkinson is in Plainview as a guest of his sister, Mrs. J. L. Dorsett.

MAYOR OF DALLAS WANTS OUR TOWN REPRESENTED AT CAPITAL.

Will Be Reduced Fare and Special Through Train From Dallas to Washington.

In a letter to Mayor J. L. Dorsett, Mayor Henry D. Lindsley, of Dallas, urges that Plainview be represented in the Texas delegation which will go to Washington to engage in active work to secure the National Democratic Convention for Texas. The railroad fare will be reduced to $45 for the round trip, and the Dallas mayor states that the total expense of the trip will not exceed $75.

GENEVA, Nov. 28.—Reports from Chiasso, on the Swiss-Italian border, say that Gorizia has fallen, the Italians having entered the town from the north. There is no official confirmation.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The greater portion of what remains of the Serbian northern army is believed to have crossed into the mountains of Albania and Montenegro, where the Serbs are continuing, with the aid of King Nicholas' troops and supplies, which are reaching them from the Adriatic, to offer stern resistance to the Austro-German and Bulgarian invaders. Like the Belgians, however, the Serbians hold only a fringe of their country, which widens as it reaches the southwestern corner, of which Monastir is the center.

"With the flight of the scanty remains of the Serbian army into the Albanian mountains," says the latest official German communication, "our operations against this army are brought to a close, our object of effecting communications with Bulgaria and the Turkish Empire having been accomplished."

In making this announcement, Berlin reports the capture of Rudnik, southwest of Mitrovitza, and the taking of 2,700 prisoners and much war material. The statement asserts, moreover, that more than 100,000 Serbians—almost half the entire fighting force—have been made prisoners, while the German losses were "extremely moderate."

Bulgarian Advance Halts.
For some reason, variously explained, the Bulgarians have halted their march on Monastir. It is said in some dispatches that, having reoccupied part of Macedonia, largely inhabited by their fellow-nationals, the Bulgarian people and Government are disinclined to push any further west, and on this point are in disagreement with their Austro-German allies, who are determined to drive not only the Serbians and Montenegrins, but the French and British troops out of the Balkans.

While at the present time they have largely superior forces, the task may prove a difficult one. Winter has set in at an unusually early date, and the

The Gary System

Indiana School Is Open the Year Around—Has Workshop, Garden, Social Center—Its Management Is Efficient.

From "The Survey."
At Gary, Indiana, there is in effect a system of schooling that is unique, and that seemingly is destined to become the prevailing school system of the United States. To be sure, the extension of the system will be slow and gradual, but the success with which it meets in every test that is being put to it is a very good indication that its spread is assured. New York City is at present in the process of installing the Gary plan in its schools.

Under the Gary plan, the schools are open the whole year round. The year, however, is divided into four quarters, during three of which the children are required to attend, attendance during the fourth quarter being optional. Within certain limits the students are left free to choose which of the three quarters they will attend. The advantages of this plan are obvious. Many children can more profitably attend school during the summer months rather than the winter, because it is conceivable that constitutional weakness or susceptibility to colds and winter ailments may make winter attendance undesirable. On the other hand, other students find it more to their convenience to come in the summer, and to take their quarter off in the winter months. The result of this is that instead of all the children being thrown on the market for jobs at one time, a fourth of them are on the market all the year round. Thus four pupils working alternately can take the place of one regular apprentice in the shop, and at the same time four will be getting laboratory practice. The plan, therefore, in one stroke makes greater the capacity of the schools and lowers the per capita cost of education.

The Gary Idea.

The Gary idea of a school is a playground, workshop, garden, social center and traditional school combined under the same management. The elementary and high schools are in the same building. This keeps the pupils from looking upon the completion of the traditional eight grades as a convenient place to stop their education; it gives a certain sense of the essential continuity of education which psychologically has its effect on those who would otherwise seek jobs at the completion of their elementary schooling. Moreover, the elementary and high schools are merged somewhat and placed in juxtaposition to each other, as, for instance, a science room may be placed next to the fifth-grade room, so that the younger students may come to look upon the room full of retorts and test tubes and various mechanical devices as a mysterious and enchanting nature as an inviting future opportunity.

Departmental Teaching.

The traditional schooling is given by one set of teachers, and the "special activities," that is, the gymnasium work, manual training, library work, domestic science, etc., are conducted by another set of teachers especially fitted for the work. In other words, departmental teaching is carried out throughout the system.

The Froebel School.

The traditional practice of having a reserved seat for each separate child is abandoned. Two schools occupy the building simultaneously. While one school occupies the twenty-four classrooms in regular school work, the other school is engaged in various manual and recreational activities in the remaining part of the building.

Part of this latter school will be found in the sixteen laboratories, part in the studios, part in the manual training and domestic science rooms, in the auditorium, library, gymnasium, playground and swimming pools. At the expiration of the set time this second school takes its place in the classrooms, and the first school has its turn at the recreational side. This plan secures a continuous use of all the facilities of the school all the time. It therefore not only saves expense of equipment, but achieves a much richer work and study and play environment for the child. The Froebel School has a capacity of 2,000 day-school pupils, and is well adapted for adult use at night and on Saturdays and Sundays.

In addition to housing twice the ordinary number of pupils, the Gary system acts as a co-ordinating agent for all the child welfare activities of the neighborhood. It frees the student during night hours to attend the library, settlement, church and other places of an educational character. The tract upon which the Froebel School stands comprises ten acres, one-half of which is used for playgrounds, two acres for school gardens and three acres for a park. There are also conservatories as necessary adjuncts of the garden and nature study work, the botany work in the upper grades and the high school, and for supplying plants for the schoolrooms.

The School Day.

The school day may seem to be excessively long to some. For the lower grades it is from 8:45 to 11:45 in the forenoon, and from 1 to 5 in the afternoon, making a total of seven hours. For the upper grades and the high school it is from 8:30 to 12 in the forenoon, and from 1:15 to 5 in the afternoon, making a total of seven hours and a quarter. Nor is this all. Teachers are required to be on duty at 8 o'clock in the morning to assist pupils in work or play. The regular classroom teachers may depart at 4 o'clock in the afternoon; all others must remain till 5. There is a purpose in these long hours. It is to keep the children off the streets and away from bad habits, and to utilize their leisure time for wholesome recreation or supplementary work. The school is open from 9 to 5 o'clock on Saturdays, also, but attendance is optional.

Vocational Training.

To solve the problem of vocational training, the plan is to have a number of regular workmen, selected on account of their skill, upright character, intelligence and teaching ability, employed the year round in equipping and repairing the school plants of the city, pupils working with them in much the same way as old-time apprentices. There are carpenters, cabinet makers, painters, plumbers, sheet metal workers, engineers, printers, electricians, machinists, etc., sufficient to meet the needs of the schools; and instead of employing a large number of these to put things in shape during vacation, in the manner common to other cities, this city has no long vacations, employs a much smaller number and keeps them continually employed throughout the year. Thus the boys are doing real work under the direction of real workmen, and the variety of opportunity aids them to find places in the industrial or business world outside. Nearly all of these lines of work are self-supporting. Some of them, indeed, are a source of income to the schools, to say nothing of them as an educational opportunity.

The School in Operation.

One can get an idea of the system from the above paragraphs, but to see the school in actual operation is to discover various other special arrangements.

Arriving at the building soon after 8 o'clock in the morning, the visitor finds that the children are already in every part of it. It is a warm June morning, and as one passes the playgrounds and the garden many children are busy there. Entering the long, spacious corridors, other children are seen hurrying to and fro, as at the time of passing from regular studies to the special activities of the day. Since the same rooms are used by different groups in the evenings and on Saturdays as well as during the regular school-day period, each pupil must have a locker where he may keep his hat, books, gymnasium clothes, etc. Much of the passing, therefore, is occasioned by pupils returning things to lockers, or in taking from them something necessary for the occupation which comes next.

In some of the rooms used by the pupils of the lower grades there is a peculiar kind of desk. They are constructed by the workmen in the industrial department, with the aid of pupils. They are desks with vises attached, so that they can be readily turned into work benches. They have also loose tops, which can be replaced when mutilated or worn out. Instead of the usual type of seat attached to the floor, each desk is provided with a substantial four-legged stool, and this is pushed under the desk out of the way when the student wants to do bench work of any kind.

If a visitor glances into the shops he will see there boys eagerly working to complete some piece of work in which they have become deeply interested. Or a glance into the auditorium at intervals during the day discloses children engaged in dramatics, singing, listening to the Victrola, looking at the stereopticon or moving pictures, or hearing illustrated talks. One meets them in the corridors, studying and making notes on maps, specimens and other material exhibited there. They are in the laboratories, some working, some observing, older pupils showing the younger, or instructors conducting regular class exercises.

Co-operation in Teaching.

It is not necessary to linger long where the regular studies are conducted. It is readily discovered, however, that, in spite of the departmental teaching, the special teachers are doing team work. For example, the teachers of the girls who have botany, physics and sewing in grades seven and nine, and those who teach them zoology, physiology, chemistry and cooking in grades six, eight and ten, do not act independently of one another. They meet and plan their work together. Even the playground teachers connect their work with other departments. The physiology teachers develop the theory of hygiene; the physical training teachers form those habits of right living which are its

ONE CENT SALE!

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY, December 2--3--4

YOU ASK US, "WHAT IS A ONE CENT SALE?"

IT IS A SALE where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustration: The standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You buy a tube at this price and by paying 1c more or 26c you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices, and have sold you for years.

You Ask Us, "Can You Afford to Sell Merchandise at These Prices?"

OUR ANSWER is "We Cannot." This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1c. It costs money to get new customers and the loss taken on this sale will be well spent if the goods please you.

BIG SOULS AND EPOCHAL TRIFLES.

A certain fraternal order has a home for orphan children of former members of its order. Each Thanksgiving and Christmas these fatherless and motherless children are remembered by the good members of the order with gifts in keeping with the occasion.

Most of the evangelical churches have orphan homes. Members of these institutions are gracious in their gifts to the unfortunate children who are without the helping hand and the kindly advice of parents.

The city of Clarendon—in our own section—is planning a municipal Christmas tree, and most of us suppose that the city is the only place wherein there is want and where there is necessity of extending the blessings of brotherly kindness; which is wrong.

The writer recalls an instance in a small town, then in the section considered "West Texas," of a municipal Christmas tree which was held in the Court House. As we descended the stairs of the building, the exercises having been closed, a wee bit of a girl was standing on the landing. Deep sobs were shaking her tiny frame. A middle-aged gentleman in the company, himself a father, stooped and, picking her up, asked what the trouble was. "Santa didn't bring me a dolly," she sobbed.

Investigation proved that she was the child of a worthy poor woman and that she had slipped from the home that Christmas Eve to go to the municipal tree. When Santa forgot her she was heart broken. A whole-souled little girl, who had been favored with a half dozen dolls, was easily persuaded to give the other child one of them. The bright light of joy which flashed in that little girl's eyes is not to be soon forgotten. The kindly gentleman, now approaching the last score of his three score and ten years, cherishes the memory of that little tot. The little girl, who so generously gave of her presents that the other might be happy, still remembers the incident, and the joy of the single gift is yet fresh. A mere incident—a trifle, you may say—but it was an epoch in the life of a fatherless child.

The Christmas season is fast approaching. Man of prosperity, man of middle circumstances, watch now for that opportunity of making a glad Christmas for some deserving person.

Find the opportunity—your soul will prompt the act.

PROGRESS INVITES PROSPERITY.

Material progress invites prosperity. The town which shows the greatest building activity, the most municipal improvements, has the most cordial and at the same time the most impressive invitation outstanding to prosperity.

The town which builds, the town which achieves, attracts. This is a time of prosperity. Why not install a "white way" of ornamental lights, and invite further prosperity?

Shop early! And include your poll tax in the purchases.

THE MOVING FREIGHT CAR.

Every week is "prosperity week" on the South Plains so long as we can keep moving the stock car to the packing plants and the box car to the elevators in the big centers. But more prosperity will be ours when we load the finished products on the box car. More immigrant cars with people seeking homes in a prosperous section, fewer immigrant cars bringing supplies for our people, and more emigrant cars moving South Plains' products to the markets, mean continued and continuous prosperity for the South Plains.

PELLAGRA ON THE RUN.

Medical science has pellagra, one of the most destructive diseases of the South, on the run. Judging from expressions of physicians who attended the Southern Medical Convention in Dallas recently, many reputable physicians disagree with Dr. Goldberger in his findings and on his theory of the cause and cure of the disease. But, with the intense interest and rigid experimentation the medical fraternity is making, something definite must result. Science has pellagra on the run.

WRITES DALLAS AUDITOR TO SECURE THE REPORT.

Editor of The Herald:

Have just read your piece of November 16th, and am somewhat surprised at the contents of the same since our conversation with you last week.

You asked why the report was not published, why it isn't published now, and you did not attempt to give the reasons I gave you. I stated that we had had a teachers' examination in the Commissioners' Court Room and evidently this report got in the waste paper and was burned up by the janitor, and that we had written for a report and would have it. It seems to me you should have stated this in your article. You also quote from my article I gave you for publication, which you refused to publish, just part of one paragraph, and in so doing you do an injustice to J. C. Hooper and B. H. Towery. Now if you are in favor of publicity, why did you refuse to publish a statement signed by us, giving the exact facts? You also state in your piece that "the Commissioners' Court paid out approximately $375.00 which they had no authority to pay. If the presiding Judge is correct in a signed communication and if the Auditor was not wrong." Now, I do not think my signed communication is susceptible of any such construction. The facts are that I believed then and believe now that we had authority to pay Mr. Hooper and Mr. Towery for this work, taking into consideration the kind of work required of them by the court, and since you have mentioned my communication, I would like to see it all published, so the people will know just how it stands, and not just part of one paragraph.

The main Auditor's report, signed by John S. Oglesby, in which he stated that he had examined all the officers' accounts, was given to the Editor of your paper, H. S. Hilburn, and was read by Mr. Hilburn in my presence, and that is the last I have ever seen of this report. This, in my mind, shows conclusively that your paper does not desire to give as much publicity as it should give.

I am just writing the Auditor a letter, which I herewith give below:

"Mr. John S. Oglesby,
 "Dallas, Texas.

"Dear Sir:
 "I received your letter in regard to the Auditor's Report, and note that you haven't it with you at Boston; I suppose by that that you have it at Dallas. I also note that you say you can come to Hale County within thirty days and audit the books up to now, etc.

"You can use your pleasure about this, but it appears to me that it will not be necessary for you to come at this time, if you can send the original report. If you can left one report with the Commissioners, and I have been informed by the janitor that in cleaning up the Commissioners' Court Room, where we recently held the Teachers' examination, that he cleaned up a large amount of waste paper and burned the same, and probably this report was burned up with the waste paper. So please send us a copy of the original report, and do so at your earliest convenience.

"Yours truly," etc.

As I stated to you in person that the Auditor found every single account of the officers to balance to a cent, and that we were doing all we could to get the auditor's report, and I stated how it had been lost, and since you are so much for publicity, I think it is nothing but just and fair to all the officers of Hale County that you publish this statement and the signed statement which you refused to publish which I gave you some time ago.

W. B. LEWIS.

HOLDER OF MILEAGE BOOKS MAY CARRY ANOTHER PARTY.

The Supreme Court at Washington has handed down a decision that will be welcomed by the people of this country generally, who will be unquestionably surprised to find that such a case should have ever been brought before a court. Briefly, it is that a man holding two mileage books issued to himself can use one of them to transport another party accompanying him. The particular case was where a gentleman having two such mileage books issued to himself sought to use one of them to pay the fare of his wife, who accompanied him. The conductor refused to accept this mileage in payment for the lady's transportation, and under the rules of the company took up the mileage book. The railroad sustained the conductor, and the case was carried to the highest court. Just by what system of logic the railroad company arrived at the conclusion that it is to its interest and not to its loss to interdict the use of transportation that has been paid for in this manner it is difficult to conceive. It would appear to be the most foolish kind of folly. The railroad would not sell the mileage books unless it made a profit on it, and consequently the sooner that the mileage was used, so that other books would have to be purchased, the better for the railroad. The Supreme Court held that the purchaser of two mileage books could use one of them for a member of his family or for any individual whom he might desire to take along with him. This will enable a man to take his wife with him, or his friend, or some other man's wife, or some other man's friend, whenever he desires to do so.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

LET IT BE KNOWN.

Strange as it may seem to the average citizen with businesslike instincts, the government of the United States does not know what is the cost of the parcel post for a year. There is no separate accounting to find out the revenue from the service or the expense of it.

As pointed out some time ago by the Congressional committee that was headed by former Senator Bristow, of Kansas, the failure to segregate the parcel post business "has thrown the whole accounting system (of the postal department) into complete confusion."

For several reasons it is essential to be informed as to what the parcel post system costs. One is that the people ought to know just how ably and economically it is run, and whether rates are too high or too low. If the Government is not a capable agent in handling this form of government express business it should be ascertained and made known.—Boston Post.

SUNSHINE IS A GERMICIDE.

Tests Show That Disease Germs Can Not Survive When Exposed to the Cleansing Rays of the Sun.

Sunshine is an amazingly potent germicide for the farm housekeeper and in the dairy and stables. The practice of exposing cooking and other utensils used in connection with food to direct sunlight makes use of this fact, although comparatively few appreciate exactly the work done by the sun in this regard. Probably only those who are acquainted with tests which have actually been made realize how quickly sunshine kills disease germs exposed to it. Hence the following tests may be generally instructive and interesting.

A pasty, creamy mass of tuberculous material, which was proved to contain uncountable numbers of virulent tubercle bacilli, was obtained from a tuberculous cow and spread in thin, smooth, translucent layers on sheets of glass, pieces of wood, and strips of muslin. Some of the sheets of glass, pieces of wood, and sheets of muslin were then placed outdoors on a moderately warm, clear, calm day where the sun could shine on them, and an equal number were placed in a dark room. After 15 minutes' exposure to the sun, the tuberculous material on the glass, wood, and muslin still contained large numbers of living, virulent tubercle bacilli, which were proved to be fully capable of causing tuberculosis, but after 30 minutes exposure to the sun no living tubercle bacilli could be found; every test that could be made proved that they were all dead.

Similar tests with quite large opaque masses of tuberculous material, larger and denser than any tuberculous person is apt to expectorate, proved that the bacilli in such masses on glass are still alive after 4, but entirely dead in less than 8 hours, and still alive in the material on wood and muslin after 8, but dead in less than 16 hours.

The tuberculous material in thin layers on glass, wood, and muslin, kept in a dark room, was proved to contain fully virulent, living tubercle bacilli after 30 days. The contrast is remarkable, tubercle bacilli of the same kind, on the same kind of material, dying in a smaller number of minutes in the sunshine than the number of days they remained alive in a dark room.

As most varieties of disease germs are more easily destroyed by germicides than tubercle bacilli, and as tubercle bacilli, in the thin layers in which they are likely to adhere to clothing, blankets, rugs, draperies, furniture, walls, floors, etc., are killed by the rays of the sun in less than half an hour, though they remain alive in dark places a month and longer, it is reasonable to draw the following conclusions:

(a) As a general sanitary principle, it is desirable that all dwellings, stables, etc., should be so constructed that an abundance of sunshine can reach their interiors.

(b) As a general protective measure against disease germs, it is an excellent practice to expose utensils for handling milk, and milk cans after they have been cleaned, to direct sunlight, and to hang or spread wearing apparel, blankets, bedding, rugs, horse blankets, etc., periodically where the sun can shine on all parts of them.

UNSIGNED CURRENCY IS GOOD MONEY, SAYS CORRESPONDENT.

Interesting Narration of Loss of $40,000 by a Baltimore Banker Many Years Ago.

The Washington correspondent to one of the leading Texas daily newspapers has contributed the following article to his publication, The Dallas Morning News:

"A number of years ago a Baltimore banker wrapped $40,000 in currency, unsigned by the officers of his bank for which it had been issued, in a brown paper and started across town, proposing to affix his signature to the bills at his leisure. The brown paper package dropped from his pocket on the street car, where it lay after he left the car, and was kicked under the seat. The money made several round trips on the car, until a passenger happened to dig it out with his foot and kick it into the aisle. The car conductor threw it into the hopper at the company's station, where all finds were placed. A clerk found the package to contain the sum before mentioned. In the meantime the banker had begun a close inquiry over his loss. The package was returned, but the incident developed for the first time that an unsigned bill issued to a bank is good money, without regard to whether the bank's officials had affixed their signatures.

"Paper money is a circulating medium the moment it receives the attention required by the Federal laws and receives the formalities necessary. Thereafter, if the money is lost before it reaches the bank for which it is issued, the loss is the Government's; otherwise it is the bank's. For this reason the Government always takes out insurance to cover a shipment, whether it be currency or coin. Until the present administration it was the order to ship money only by express, but the rule was changed to include registered mail, which is reckoned to be just as safe and gives the Government the fee heretofore going to the carriers. A big shipment to a locality always is split between several routes, so if there happens to be a holdup only a portion of the general consignment would be involved. The utmost secrecy is observed. Information regarding date or route of the shipments is entrusted to only a few employees, which is a precaution necessary for more reasons than one. An amount in excess of $50,000 of unsigned currency shipped to Southwestern banks was recently taken by bandits from a Baltimore & Ohio train near Central, W. Va. A few days ago one of the bills—a $20 note, issued in favor of a Dallas bank—found in the cash of a Parkersburg hardware store, was another reminder that such money is "good." The person tendering such a bill might be asked to explain how he came into possession of it, yet when change is being made the signatures are about the last thing a person behind a counter will look for."

KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS.
Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving holiday broke into the live-stock trade, cutting down meat consumption actually, and curtailing the working length of the week. The cattle supply dropped to 3,000 head Wednesday, and only 1,700 arrived today, market steady, and without special feature. Best prime steers here this week were 1,500-pound Missouri steers, which brought $9.75. Other steers sold at $9.50, and prime yearlings brought $9.25.

From prime cattle there is a quick drop to around $8.50, with warmed-up steers selling at $7.00 to $7.50, and cattle that have begun to shrink since grass selling at $6.40 to $7.00. These prices are slightly lower than last week, and butcher grades are also a shade under last week, good heavy cows $5.75 to $6.50, bulls $4.50 to $5.75, veals $3.00 to $3.75.

In the stocker and feeder trade there is the same sort of a gulf between the top grades of stockers and feeders, at $7.25 to $7.75, and which are scarce, to the rank and file of medium steers, at $6.00 to $6.50, with a great many good-going steers selling at $5.25 to $6.00. Stock she stuff sells fairly well, stock cows $5.00 to $5.50, stock heifers $5.75 to $7.00, stock calves $6.25 to $7.75.

During the next week or two there will be a place for some fancy finished steers for the Christmas trade, and, in fact, steers that are not on the counter-fert order will bring good prices right along.

Hogs sold 5 cents lower today, following mild fluctuations earlier in the week, but with a tendency toward strength. Receipts were 8,500 today, slightly above expectations, top price $6.62½, bulk of sales $6.25 to $6.60. Order buyers have been very active last few days, and packers show the need of a good many hogs, and follow close behind the order buyers, packers' top today $6.60. Chicago continues to get heavy runs, and is the weak spot in the general hog market.

Sheep and lambs are selling stronger this week, receipts light, at 4,500 today. Good fed lambs sold at $8.65 to $8.80 today, highest range recently, but some poorly finished fed Westerns from Missouri sold at $8.25. Fat ewes are worth up to $5.65, wethers $6.15, yearlings $7.25, medium and common ones 50 to 75 cents below those figures in each case. Feeding and breeding stock is lower, especially breeding and feeding ewes.

A Wayward Tongue.

The chairman of the committee was addressing a meeting at a teachers' institute.

"My friends, the schoolwork is the bulhouse of civilization. I mean—ah—"

He began to feel frightened.

"The bulhouse is the schoolwork of civ—"

A smile could be felt.

"The workhouse is the bulschool of—"

He was evidently twisted.

"The schoolbul is the workhouse—"

An audible snigger spread over the audience.

"The bulschool—"

He was getting wild. So were his hearers. He mopped his perspiration, gritted his teeth, and made a fresh start.

"The schoolhouse, my friends—"

A sigh of relief went up. Hamlet was himself again!

He gazed serenely around. The light of triumphant self-confidence was enthroned upon his brow.

"Is the woolbark—"

And that is when he lost consciousness.—Answers.

things and in working with relations of magnitude in connection with real objects; the playground teachers supplement such work with games involving mathematical calculations. In a similar manner the playgrounds are the dramatization work of the literature teacher. In a word, the principle of correlation of studies is clearly apparent, and while this principle may not be as closely applied as it might be where one teacher has charge of all the subjects in a grade, its value is fully recognized in all grades from the kindergarten up.

The girls in the advanced grades are also receiving vocational and industrial training, for in addition to learning how to be intelligent home-makers, many of them are in the commercial and printing departments; some at work in the arts and crafts, others in the school store and the school bank, these two adjuncts being an actual business department, conducted according to strict business principles, to give reality to commercial studies.

Summary of the System.

The bulletin of the United States Department of Education (1914, No. 18), which describes the Gary system and from which most of the above was condensed, gives as a summary a list of clearly obvious advantages of the Gary plan as contrasted with the ordinary school plan. The advantages that the Gary plan provides, says the bulletin, are:

1. The better use of school buildings day and evening, including Saturdays, the year round, making it possible to save large sums which would otherwise be necessary.

2. The possibility of a better division of time between the old and the new studies, spoken of throughout as the "regular studies" and the "special activities."

3. Greater flexibility in adapting the studies to exceptional children of all kinds, thereby diminishing the necessity of special schools.

4. The possibility of more expert teaching through the extension of the departmental plan of organization.

5. The better use of playtime, thereby preventing influences which undo the work of the schools.

6. More realism in vocational and industrial work by placing it under the direction of expert workmen from the ranks of laboring men selected for their personal qualities and teaching ability, as well as their skill in the trade industries.

7. Better facilities for the promotion of the health of the children.

8. The possibility of having children do work in more than one grade, and of promoting them by subjects instead of grades.

9. The possibility of having pupils help each other.

10. An organization which prevents a chasm between the elementary and the high school, and prevents dropping out of school at critical periods in the lives of pupils by the introduction at such times of subjects which appeal to awakening interests not satisfied by a continuous and exclusive devotion to the common branches.

11. A saving in the cost of instruction by reducing overhead charges for supervisors, making it possible to pay better salaries, or reduce the number of pupils per teacher, or both.

12. A plan which brings together in a unified way the recreational and educational advantages of a city, together with economy and efficiency in management.

554 CASES OF DIPHTHERIA ARE REPORTED IN TEXAS.

The sanitary reports made by city and county health officers to the State Board of Health for the month of October show 554 cases of diphtheria.

Fifty-nine out of 252 counties in the State made reports of contagious diseases. Fifty-three counties reported diphtheria. The largest number of cases in any one county was 41.

If 15,000 units of antitoxin on an average was given to each patient, 8,310,000 units were used during this month. At $12.50 for 10,000 units (the usual price), this quantity of serum would cost the people of Texas $10,387.50, but if bought under the new contract made by the State Board of Health in September, 1915, at $4.00 per 10,000 units, costs only $3,324, showing a saving of $7,063.50.

The State Board of Health, including the Maritime and Border Quarantine Service, costs the State $4,220 per month, leaving a difference in favor of the taxpayers' pockets of $2,843.50.

Many people did not get the advantage of this saving, as the plan of distribution has not become generally known.

By the State Board contract, distributing stations were established in every county seat and all those central points where a druggist would accept the contract. This serum is inspected and passed by the U. S. inspectors, with the same care and precision used as in the case of other laboratories which sell their products at three times the price. If the people care to save this loss, the State Board of Health has made it possible for them to do so.

An old woman with a peaked black bonnet got aboard a Pennsylvania train. She turned to a boy, and, pointing to the brake cord, asked: "What's that?"

"That's the bell cord; it runs into the dining-car."
The old woman hooked the end of her parasol over the cord and gave it a vigorous jerk. Instantly the brakes were set and the train came to a stop. The conductor rushed in and yelled: "Who pulled that cord?" "I did," calmly replied the old lady. "Well, what do you want?" shouted the conductor. "A cup of coffee and a ham sandwich."—Bindery Talk.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU DEATHLY SICK

Stop Using Dangerous Drug Before It Saliates You! It's Horrible!

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today, and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards. -Adv.

Cures Old Sores, Other Remedies Won't Cure.

The worst cases, no matter of how long standing are cured by the wonderful, old reliable Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil. It relieves Pain and Heals at the same time. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

DOMESTICATED DEER NOT PROTECTED BY GAME LAW.

Domesticated deer raised in captivity, are not protected by the game laws of the State, but may be killed and transported in either the open or closed season. This is the ruling of the Attorney General's Department, rendered the Game, Fish and Oyster Department in reply to the question laid before the legal force of the State by Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner Will W. Wood.

The effect of the ruling is far-reaching. It means that deer, where it can be clearly proven that such have been raised in captivity, can be killed at any season of the year. These carcasses can be shipped in or out of the State where no other laws are violated, and that this meat can be offered for sale.

For many years it has been the consensus of opinion that deer meat of any kind, whether the animal was domesticated or ferae naturae, could not be sold, nor could it be shipped out of the seasons as stipulated in enactments of the Legislature for preservation of the game. The Attorney General's Department, however, in the opinion written by Assistant Attorney General C. W. Taylor, holds that under the decisions of the courts of various States of the Union where the question has been presented, the weight of the authority is to the effect that animals wild by nature may be domesticated and a property right acquired therein.

According to the opinion of the department, however, each individual case presents a question of fact and it must be determined on that basis. As a general rule the department upholds the right of parties to kill domesticated deer and ship same or sell them disregarding any laws of the State as written relative to "wild" game.

The next Legislature may be asked to pass such legislation as will more clearly define the issues advanced and will make it possible to protect the wild game that might be killed under the contention and subterfuge of "domesticated" deer. In the meantime the wardens of the State Game Department will be ordered to enforce the laws of the State, and a fight will be made in every instance, where beyond a shadow of a doubt the domesticity of the animals is not a recognized fact. SAN ANGELO REFUSES STREET CAR LINE AS GRACIOUS GIFT.

Will Tear Rails from Streets of Metropolis of Tom Green County.

At a meeting of the City Commissioners in San Angelo Friday the proposition of J. D. Sugg, San Angelo's wealthiest citizen, to give the entire street-car system to the city of San Angelo was rejected, according to a dispatch in The Dallas Morning News.

Mr. Sugg asked that the city own and operate it during the life of the franchise, pay the 1915 taxes and make the extensions agreed upon. This was refused. Tonight, he stated, cars would cease operations and tracks be taken up.

Patrons of the system will be embarrassed by lack of service. There is a probability that the matter will be taken into the courts to retain the present service.

SNOW AT LITTLEFIELD.

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, Nov. 26.—The first snow of the season fell rapidly here yesterday for about four hours, beginning at 11 a. m. It melted almost as fast as it fell. A stiff norther blew up last night. The farmers have about all of their crops harvested, and prospects are ideal for the cattle raising and farming. Large yields of grains of all kinds were harvested in this community this year.

SLAUGHTER CATTLE TO MARKET.

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, Nov. 28.—The C. C. Slaughter Cattle Company, with headquarters thirty miles southwest of here, shipped three hundred cows from this station to the Kansas City market yesterday.

Miss Equalla Summerour, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. L. Bagwell, returned to Canyon today, where she is attending the West Texas State Normal.

CAMPAIGN IN SERBIA IS CONCLUDED BY GERMANS

The Austro-Germans also have had to divert part of their armies down the Danube to the Roumanian border, Roumania having refused the German request for the opening of the Danube throughout its entire length to enable the Germans to send supplies to Bulgaria and Turkey. Roumania insisted that armed ships must not pass Baba, which is on the Danube at the Roumania-Bulgarian frontier.

With the concentration of the Russians, too, the attitude of Roumania is becoming daily more pro-ally, and the Austro-Germans, having aided Bulgaria in her campaign against Serbia, which is now cleared, is called upon to protect her against aggression from the east.

Aside from Serbia, the Austro-Italian theater is furnishing the most violent fighting of any of the war zones. Here along the littoral front the Italians are on the offensive against the Austrians, shells are raining on the Gorizia section, while the Italian infantry have fiercely attacked Oslevia, on the Podgora height and the Doberdo Plateau. They penetrated the Austrian positions, but, according to Vienna, later were driven out.

French aeroplanes have bombarded German aircraft hangars at Habsheim, east of Muelhausen, and French and German aviators have had thrilling fights in the air, in which four German machines were brought down.

On the Russian Front.

On the Russian front, except for a small engagement in the Riga district, there has been no fighting, while on the Gallipoli Peninsula only artillery actions and mining operations have been in progress of late.

THANKSGIVING IS TOPIC FOR FEDERATED SOCIETIES

The organization of a Bible Club was discussed pro and con, resulting in the appointment of Mrs. Whitis as organizer and Mesdames H. C. Randolph, from the Christian Church; E. E. Warren, from the Baptist Church; T. B. Carter, from the Methodist Church, and Miss Edna Mayhugh, from the Episcopal Church, as a committee to consult with the various societies.

Mrs. A. L. Moore, wife of the newly appointed presiding elder for this district, led the devotional exercises by the reading, in an impressive manner, of the 103rd Psalm. This was followed by prayer by Mrs. R. T. Jones.

Mrs. Meharg read selections appropriate to the day. "Freedom to Worship God—An Open Bible," by Mrs. Joseph Fowler, was the inspiration for the adoption of "The Bible in the Public School" as a slogan for the Federated Societies.

"Peace and Prosperity" was the topic of a well prepared paper by Mrs. J. C. Anderson. "Current Events Relative to Thanksgiving," the round-table discussion, developed many interesting events connected with the late festival.

Though not on the program, one of the best features of the afternoon was a reading by Miss Brown, of Wayland College.

The next meeting will be Monday, January 31, 1916.

by R. A. Long. Mr. Long stressed the importance of lay work in the rural communities and places where there was not sufficient population to keep regular ministers. He was followed by Miss Brown, of Wayland Baptist College, whose reading was enthusiastically received.

Jo W. Wayland, superintendent of the Sunday School, gave a short review of the progress and history of the Sunday School in the Methodist Church. He stated that he has seen the enrollment of the school increase from 75 to 1,000, and urged the co-operation and assistance of every church member in this important field of work. Of the work of the Epworth League

Professor Ralph Porter spoke for a few minutes, using effectively several illustrations and humorous anecdotes.

The work of Seth Ward College was reviewed by President M. B. Johnson. One of the pressing needs of the institution, according to Professor Johnson, is a new dormitory for boys, all present accommodations being filled to overflowing.

Rev. J. W. Story, pastor of the church, stated that he was assured by this meeting that the church would heartily co-operate in carrying out plans for the year, and pledged his most earnest endeavor to help carry out the program planned.

That the Plainview District looks largely to the First Methodist Church of Plainview for its inspiration in material progress and for ideas in administration, Rev. A. L. Moore, presiding elder of the Plainview District, stated. Not that Plainview boasts of a better quality of membership or more steadfast workers, but that the large membership and financial strength of the church places it in a position to carry out and originate ideas which should be exemplary for other churches.

On behalf of the local preachers who are members of the congregation, Rev. W. M. P. Rippey spoke at length.
