CHAUTAUQUA ASSOCIATION ORGANIZES FOR BIG EVENT

J. F. Garrison Elected President, A. F. Anderson, Secretary-Treasurer; Tickets on Sale Thursday.

H. H. Kennedy, booking representative for the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua, was here Wednesday and perfected the local Chautauqua organization.

Those who are promoting the big spring event met in the office of Austin F. Anderson Wednesday morning, and, after hearing of the plans to bring William Jennings Bryan here as a special advance number of the program, selected J. F. Garrison as president of the association. A. F. Anderson was elected secretary-treasurer. J. M. Adams and H. S. Hilburn were made members of the publicity and arrangements committee, and A. G. Hinn, E. L. Doland, O. E. Brashears, M. D. Henderson, J. M. Waller, D. H. Collier, J. M. Malone, H. C. Howard and E. B. Miller were named as a ticket campaign committee.

The ticket committee has decided to put on a two-hour campaign on Thursday of next week. Tickets will be sold for $2.50, and are good for the entire nineteen numbers, including the advance Bryan lecture. This makes the price of a single attraction but a little over ten cents. It is thought by the committee that the capacity of the tent will not be sufficient to accommodate those who will attend the chautauqua, despite the fact that it will seat 2,500.

As there is no auditorium in Plainview sufficiently large to seat those who will hear Mr. Bryan, the chautauqua management has decided to send the big tent ahead of the regular company of entertainers for the Bryan lecture.

MOSER TAKES PLACE OF POU ON SHORT-COURSE PROGRAM.

C. O. Moser, dairying expert, will be here during the time of the farmers' short course. R. L. Pou, who was to have been here, cannot come. Mr. Moser will take his place in the discussion of dairying.

The dates and places for the short courses have been set as follows:

Hale County—Hale Center, Monday, April 17th; Plainview, Tuesday, April 18th; Petersburg, Wednesday, April 19th.

Floyd County—Lakeview, Thursday, April 20th; Lockney, Friday, April 21st; Floydada, Saturday, April 22nd.

CANYON NORMAL BUILDING READY FOR DEDICATION.

The new building of the West Texas State Normal College is practically completed. The big work about the magnificent building is completed, and now only the finishing touches remain to make the building perfect.

This week only a few men are engaged on the building. They are doing the little odds and ends which are always connected with a great building. However, all of this work will be completed by the time the dedication exercises begin, on Friday afternoon, April 21st.

President Cousins states that the Board of Regents will arrive in Canyon on the morning of the 21st. The exercises will start at 3 o'clock.

The chuck-wagon feed for the Panhandle Press Association, the members of the Board of Regents, and the railway officials will be held at six o'clock.

The faculty has decided to move into the new building as soon as possible after the day of dedication.

PLAINVIEW TO ASK FOR STATE Y. M. B. L. MEET.

The Associated Young Men's Business Organizations of Texas are to meet in Temple April 26 to 27. The program of the sessions has just come to The Herald office. It includes an address on "How to Build a Successful Y. M. B. L.," by the Plainview representative.

The local organization has not yet elected its delegate, but is planning to have as many as can go with a view to bringing the State convention to Plainview in 1918. There are at present more than three hundred and fifty young men's organizations in Texas, with an average membership close to one hundred. Such a meeting here would mean much publicity for the Central Plains country.

WAYLAND BOARD ORDERS IMPROVEMENTS FOR COLLEGE

Several New Appointments to the Wayland Faculty Made Necessary by Resignations of Present Teachers.

At an adjourned annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Wayland College yesterday Dr. O. L. Hailey formally accepted the presidency of the college for the next school year.

In addition to the faculty appointments mentioned in the Tuesday Herald were the re-elections of Professor Thomas and Prof. J. E. Watson and wife. Misses Ford Jeter, Mary Williams, Burr Goode and Stella Wolters and Dean J. C. Stephens were proffered their positions for next year. Misses Goode, Williams and Wolters have decided not to teach next year, Miss Jeter will study in Boston, and Professor Stephens will be employed elsewhere. These resignations will necessitate later appointments by the board. Miss Gertrude Overall was selected to fill the place of Miss Walker, who will teach art next year in a Dallas studio. A new appointment will be made in the history department to fill the place of Professor Girault, who will teach languages next year.

The board determined to make Bible study a required subject in the school's curriculum and to enforce a more rigid discipline in connection with the honor roll.

The present condition of the finances of the school is such as to permit the board to pay off a number of small debts of the college. To further clear past indebtedness, the finance committee was instructed to borrow $50,000 with which to pay the Amarillo Life Insurance Company debt and other local accounts.

In the recent State campaign for Baptist education twenty-three churches designated $5,000 cash for Wayland College, the Matador church raised $4,000 to complete the girls' dormitory, $3,000 has been specifically raised to apply on debts and about $3,000 of outstanding notes in favor of the college have been collected. Of these matters the board was officially informed.

Various committees were appointed to look after needed improvements of the college buildings and grounds and other matters pertaining to bettering the condition and equipment of the school.

"The board was informed that Wayland is now accepted as a full-fledged junior college by the State educational board, with two minor points to be made up," said Dr. J. H. Wayland to a Herald representative today. "One is a shortage in the number of volumes in our library, the other a lack of laboratory equipment. Both of these deficiencies we expect to remedy before the opening of the college in the fall."

Before adjournment the trustees appointed Rev. J. T. Burnett as general field secretary for the college. Rev. Burnett also has the appointment to this position by the State board. He comes to the college from Canyon, and is well known over the Panhandle and Plains where he has held pastorates.

SANTA FE SUPERINTENDENT INSPECTS CONDITIONS HERE.

D. S. Farley, superintendent of the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co., was in Plainview Monday in his private car inspecting the conditions of the company's properties.

Mr. Farley stated to a Herald reporter that the Santa Fe has as much interest in its service for Plainview as it has for Chicago, and it is the desire of the company to give the utmost in service to its patrons of the South Plains. He stated that he would welcome any criticisms from those served by the road. He does not know of any contemplated extensions or improvements of their South Plains holdings.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH CONTESTS HERE AND AT LUBBOCK.

The District Interscholastic Meet, set for today and tomorrow at Lubbock has been postponed because of the rain until Friday and Saturday of next week, April 20 and 21.

The two baseball games between Wayland College and Canyon Normal teams scheduled here for today and tomorrow have been postponed for a similar reason. The make-up dates have not been determined.

IT'S UP TO PLAINVIEW.

Is Plainview to retain Seth Ward College? The question is being asked on every hand, yet there is so little response to the call for assistance in the rebuilding that the committee has decided to put the question squarely up to the community as to whether Seth Ward is to be rebuilt in Plainview or elsewhere. The question must be decided within the next six or eight days, as there are other towns anxiously awaiting the opportunity of bidding for the institution. The towns which have asked to be considered have done so in a spirit of perfect fairness to Plainview. They have asked for it provided Plainview failed to rebuild it, and will bid for it only after Plainview has failed.

It has probably not occurred to the average citizen what the college has meant to the city in a financial return. With approximately two hundred students spending one hundred dollars each annually for clothing and other supplies, and the same number paying two hundred and fifteen dollars each for tuition and board, with a faculty receiving five thousand dollars annually, and with the unestimated returns to the town from the number of families attracted here because of the school, there is an annual income to the business interests of the city of no mean proportions. College authorities estimate that there is no less than $83,000 spent annually in Plainview because of the school. If there is an average profit of twenty per cent comes to the town, the profit would amount to nearly $17,000.

There is much more than the financial side of the problem to consider. There is the general advertising resulting to any town in which a college is located; there is the value of learning such an institution brings to a community, and there is the moral influence a sectarian school exerts. These are all things to enter into a decision of the worth of such a college.

The full board of trustees will meet here Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. It is probable at that time that the future plans for Seth Ward College will be made.

In the meantime it's up to Plainview.

T. L. & D. CO. SELL OVER 4,000 ACRES DURING MONTH SCHOOL BONDS BRING NEARLY $1,800. PREMIUM

Rushing Supplies to Furnish Contractors Who Will Complete Twenty Sets of Improvements This Month.

"The prospectors of the last two excursions purchased from the Texas Land & Development Co. more than four thousand acres," said C. F. Myers, general manager of the company, to a Herald representative this morning. Most of the new owners are from Nebraska, Minnesota and Pennsylvania, who are planning to move on their farms as soon as improvements can be rushed to completion.

"We have orders in now for many carloads of engines, lumber, hardware and other supplies, and under our new plan of construction we are contracting for all sorts of construction as rapidly as labor shows itself," Mr. Myers continued. "The company is making twenty full sets of developments this month and must complete thirty more within the next two months on sales already made. Our plans for the spring include the planting of one thousand acres of alfalfa, the seed for which is arriving now, and other extensive general crop planting.

"Fifteen wells have already been installed since the first of the year, bringing the number of wells on Syndicate property up to more than eighty."

In speaking of the plans of the Alfalfa Cattle Co., Mr. Myers said: "They are planning extensive improvements this spring, including a $7,000 barn for the storage of alfalfa, which will probably be the largest on the Plains. Pens, sheds and granaries are included in the plans."

PLAINVIEW REPRESENTED AT MATADOR Y. M. B. L. BANQUET.

On invitation of the Young Men's Business League of Matador, Messrs. J. M. Waller, C. L. Largent, A. F. Anderson, H. C. Howard and L. P. Barker drove to Matador yesterday afternoon to attend the annual banquet of the Y. M. B. L. of that place. They report about two hundred and fifty in attendance, with representatives from practically all the surrounding towns.

The Young Men's Business League of Matador is only about two months old, but has more than sixty members at the present date, and more were added last evening.

A number of Matador people are planning to come to Plainview on the 28th to hear Mr. Bryan.

NEW RESIDENT PURCHASES LOTS; EXPECTS TO BUILD.

V. L. Scott, a traveling salesman who makes Plainview his headquarters, has recently purchased from Dr. L. L. Dye lots 5 and 6 of block 10, located two and one-half blocks east of the Court House square. Mr. Scott expects to erect a seven-room residence and other improvements on the lots sometime soon.

DR. O. L. HAILEY SAYS BIBLE CONFERENCE SUCCESS

Many Prominent Ministers and Laymen From All Sections of the State Attend Baptist Bible Study.

Tomorrow night the Bible Conference which has been in session all week at the Baptist Church will close, with the address of Dr. R. T. Hanks, of Abilene.

Beginning Monday night, with services three times daily, there has been a series of addresses on important subjects by strong speakers from many sections of the State.

Dr. O. L. Hailey summarizes the events of the week by saying: "The opening address was by Rev. J. R. Cole, of Lubbock, on the subject 'The Baptist Opportunity.' He set a good, high standard. Following him, but not exactly in the order here mentioned, came Rev. B. F. Fronbarger, of Canyon, in a thoughtful and sympathetic discussion of 'The Christian College and the State School.' Rev. W. C. Carver, of Floydada, spoke on 'The State School and the Bible.' It was a most thought-provoking discussion, and showed that the family, the state and the church are all of divine origin and each interested in the proper training of the children. Rev. Walter Bassett, of Amarillo, went a little wider and deeper on the question 'The Bible a Book of Fundamentals.' He spoke at Wayland College, also.

"Rev. R. B. Morgan, president of Goodnight College, stirred the people by his fine discussion of 'Some Phases and Present-Day Tendencies in Christianity, Good and Bad.' And Rev. G. B. Airhart, of Tulla, followed closely, discussing 'Points Where Worldliness Weakens Christianity.' Rev. R. A. Cooper, of Amarillo, discussed 'Reverence in Religion,' and Rev. John Carney, of Handley, spoke in his own unique way, using his pictorial illustrations.

"Dr. W. A. Hamlett, of Austin, spoke more frequently than any other, discussing many subjects of Biblical interpretation. His addresses were of a very high order, and showed profound research and sharp discrimination in study. He held the most important place on the program. Rev. W. T. Rouse, of Memphis, gave an exposition of Colossians, so far as the limited time would allow.

"The rain of Thursday night and Friday interfered with the assembling of the congregations, so that President B. G. Lowery, of Amarillo, and Rev. R. E. L. Farmer, of Hereford, who were present, did not get to speak. President Lowery addressed the students at Wayland College, as did President Morgan, C. B. Airhart, John Carney and R. B. Morgan.

"The following speakers were hindered from coming: Rev. J. S. Henderson, of Stratford; Rev. R. F. Jenkins, of Roswell, N. M.; Rev. J. W. Bruner, of Quanah; Rev. J. R. Hicks, of Claude; Rev. J. E. McClurkin, of Childress; Rev. C. B. Williams, and Hon. O. S. Lattimore, of Fort Worth.

"One of the greatest sessions of the Conference was conducted by the ladies, Thursday afternoon, Mother Jones, of Plainview; Mrs. B. T. Johnson, of Canyon, and Mrs. S. H. Morrison, of Big Springs, leading the discussions. A social hour followed. It was voted a splendid success. Taken altogether, it has been a most splendid meeting.

"Dr. R. T. Hanks, of Abilene, remains to conduct services tomorrow, which closes the meeting. Pastor Gates has gone to Lubbock to join Pastor Cole in a meeting."

PLAINVIEW COUNTRY GETS INCH AND HALF OF RAIN.

The Plainview country is having another soaking rain. At three o'clock this afternoon the rainfall registered 1.41 inches. Good rains are reported from Abilene, Sweetwater, Crosbyton, Lubbock, Amarillo, Floydada, Canyon, Tulla, Lockney, Hale Center, and Petersburg.

TWO NEW ROADS ORDERED BY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Before adjournment Wednesday afternoon the County Commissioners ordered the establishment of two new roads in the county, one, number seventy-four, five miles south of Hale Center, the other, number seventy-five, to be established three or four miles east of Plainview.

CARRANZISTAS ATTACK AMERICANS AT PARRAL

DE FACTO CHIEF SAYS HE MAY BE UNABLE TO CONTROL TROOPS OR CITIZENS LONGER.

FUNSTON WANTS MILITIA

Washington Expected to Take Immediate Steps to Protect U. S. Troops Now in Mexico in Any Eventuality.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—With the firing upon American troops by Mexican citizens and Carranzista soldiers at Parral today, the situation is more grave than at any time since the punitive expedition has entered Mexico. Carranza has requested the United States to withdraw its forces now in Mexico, stating that the feeling is becoming so tense that it is hardly probable that he will be able to handle his forces much longer. With this request comes the statement of Funston that he has not been receiving the hearty support of the Carranza forces which was promised.

A note is being sent Secretary Lansing from the de facto chief to the effect that General Pershing never was given permission to cross American troops into Mexican territory, and that Mexico thinks it wise to suspend negotiations in the matter at this time.

The attack which brought on the crisis occurred at Parral. When Major Thompkins and his command entered the city they were fired upon by citizens of the town, aided by Carranza soldiers. A brisk battle followed, in which the American troops are said to have used machine guns. Reports from some quarters are to the effect that many were killed and wounded on both sides.

Secretary Baker informed the President that a brief dispatch stated one American was killed. Baker ordered Funston to take the necessary steps to prevent further trouble. Carranza is directing the Mexican embassy here to point out that the clash proves that the situation arising from the presence of the Americans is leading to a situation which threatens to go beyond his control. He telegraphed that many deaths occurred on both sides. Consul Garcia, at El Paso, wired "several killed on both sides" and added when the Americans entered Parral the "people protested and it appears that the garrison did also."

Wilson to Decide.

Upon President Wilson rests the decision as to what the effect of the attack on the administration's policy will be, whether it will have bearing on the consideration of Carranza's proposal for the withdrawal of troops, and, finally, whether the Carranza proposal will be accepted, rejected or negotiated. Members of the official family indicated it was practically certain no immediate order of withdrawal would be issued.

To Increase Forces?

Further increase of the United States forces in Mexico is again prominent in official consideration.

In this connection it was officially stated that General Pershing's future movements in the hunt for Villa would include adequate preparation for any eventuality. Strengthening of the line of communication for which troops are needed principally have proceeded with that end in view.

Confidential advices have been received from General Funston understood to refer to the question of the line of communication. Despite increased use of Mexican railways in shipping supplies, there was no suggestion in any official quarter that the strength of the motor-truck service would be in the least decreased.

Concern of army officials on the border regarding the movement of Carranza troops toward Casas Grandes was reported. It was officially stated that General Funston had complete authority for any movement of troops on the border to safeguard the United States' advance columns and their lines. General Scott, chief of staff, while denying that any orders to send more troops into Mexico had yet been issued, declared General Funston did not need such authority from Washington and had carte blanche to move any forces in the Southern districts.

Persistent reports that use of the National Guard was contemplated drew a statement from high authority

The Herald's Review of the Movies

"In the Web of the Grafters" will be given at The Mae I. Theatre Monday.

Exposing the organized graft and vice of a great city, this thrilling story is a reflection of the loves, hates, and struggles of real people, which is not only intensely interesting, but teaches a powerful lesson for good.

The charming actress, Edythe Sterling, makes the most of an excellent opportunity for dramatic interpretation in the role of the beautiful daughter of the city's mayor, who is brought in contact, accidentally, with young Bruce Kerrigan—played by Norbert Myles—a policeman who has been selected to be a graft-collecting tool for unscrupulous politicians. The story includes a series of unusual plots which involve the mayor's integrity, and finally result in his death, while the same chain of events join the young policeman and the mayor's daughter in matrimony.

"In the Web of the Grafters" is a drama of tense, thrilling situations, which are met and made the most of by an exceptionally strong cast of players.

The Mae I. also presents "The Conductor's Classy Champion," a Falstaff Comedy. In wooing the lady of his choice, conductor No. 786 wins her affections, out-manuevering his rival, Fred. Later he overhears Fred and two accomplices discussing a plot to wreck him. The railroad company has been greatly annoyed by rowdies creating rumpuses on cars. The conductor is not a fighter, so his jealous rival secures two ugly fellows to get him into trouble. The conductor had saved the life of a small dog and won the gratitude of its owner, "the great Cordelia," champion hammer thrower of the United States. She promises her support. She is on the car when the scrap begins. All the other passengers flee in terror, but Cordelia seizes the pair of disputants, carries them out of the car, and proceeds to make a new long-distance throwing record. She gives Conductor 786 all the credit.

Wednesday The Mae I. offers "The Secret Agent." The story, written by Arthur Stringer, one of America's foremost fiction writers, takes place principally on shipboard. Wilbur Clark, an American secret service agent, is bent upon preventing a valuable set of diamonds being smuggled into the United States. He has been given to understand that Cathleen Butler is carrying the gem for her aunt. Clark has hard work to make himself believe that Cathleen has loaned herself to any such game, for he is in love with the girl.

On Wednesday they also present the Army-Navy football game—Novelty.

Cleo Madison a Success as a Baseball Umpire.

Miss Cleo Madison, Universal favorite, has played many roles during her long association with the big film concern. The fans recognize this charming star as one of the most versatile women appearing on the screen, and she is as much at home in the role of a girl of the slums as she is as a leader of society or in the regal robes of a make-believe queen.

The other day Miss Madison had occasion to enact a part that was entirely new to her, this time, however, the part not being for the screen, but in real life.

After completing "Her Bitter Cup," one of the most artistic of the photoplays she has directed, and in which she enacted the leading role, Miss Madison took a few days' rest and spent the most of the time at Balboa, taking a daily dip in the waters of the Pacific and usually passing the rest of the day with a good book in the comfortable sands of the sheltered beach.

Last Sunday several members of the Yale Alumni of Los Angeles discovered Miss Madison at the beach and induced her to act as umpire of their baseball game. Miss Madison is an enthusiastic baseball fan, and as she is thoroughly familiar with the game, umpired the contest between the alumni members to their entire satisfaction. They gave her a rousing vote of thanks when the game was over and informed her that she was their unanimous selection for the next game they would play.

Burton Holmes to Make New Pictures.

Burton Holmes, one of the world's greatest travel lecturers, the first to realize the educational advantages of having motion pictures of travel shown in motion-picture houses, has closed his lecture season for 1915-1916 and will devote the next few months to the work of "conducting his weekly easy-chair journeys" for the Paramount Picture Corporation. Mr. Holmes has left New York for Chicago, where the producing work of his travel pictures is conducted.

For many years Mr. Holmes has been obliged to confine his lecture season to twenty weeks, in order that he devote the eight months of spring and summer to the acquiring of new material for the following fall and winter months, during which latter seasons he delivers the Travelogues in a very limited number of our larger cities, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago, taking annually from ten to twenty-five Travelogues in each city.

Now that he has finished his lecturing for the season, he will devote his entire attention this spring to the prepared" and that the truth of the mount-Burton Holmes Travel Pictures, which have sprung into instant popularity throughout the entire country.

Sensational Revelation of Inadequate Gunnery.

Adequate is the singular adjective of militarists and pacifists alike in describing the ideal of the American army and navy at the present time, and when the argument from the other side is presented saying "We are not prepared" an dthat the truth of the matter is nothing less than that we could be dragged behind the wheels of the war chariots like dangling streamers, the natural question arises, "What is our condition?"

Startling in its every particular are the revelations regarding the condition and the numerical strength of our guns, which are presented to the motion-picture public in the Paramount Pictographs in their visualized campaign of the screen for "Preparedness, edited by Frederick Palmer, the world's greatest war correspondent, and Henry Reutherdahl, the naval expert.

In their pictures called "Watchful Waiting" they show conclusively that the regular army of the United States contains at this time but 96 field guns and 48 mountain guns, an utterly inadequate condition, in view of the comparative fact that one belligerent army in the present war of nations captured 10,000 guns. Then, too, there is shown that France fired 2,000,000 three-inch shells in a period of 78 hours, some months ago, and that during the few days of battle near Verdun the Germans fired 1,000,000 of these shells; while in our whole country we have less than 600,000 of these shells, which would not be sufficient to last in a two-day pitched battle.

The pictures of this section of the inadequacy of the gunnery of the army were taken near Fort Bliss, Texas, with the permission of Major General Funston, and also at Fort Meyer, Virginia.

Frederick Palmer, in the Pictographs, says that "we have not enough guns for the defense of 20 miles of trench front," and that it is the artillery that protects, more than any other phase of munitions, the troops when making a drive upon any situation.

R. A. LONG DRUG STORE OFFERS AUTO IN CONTEST.

The R. A. Long Drug Store is offering choice of a Partin-Palmer, Monroe, Grant, Dort, Metz, Ford or Saxon roadster as a capital prize in a trade contest which they have instituted. The last two named are handled locally, and can be inspected at the garages of the dealers.

Other prizes are also offered. The contest closes September 31, and the contestant who has voted the most trade coupons wins the car. Eight or ten entrants are already working.

ADVERTISING BROUGHT BIG PROFITS TO OVERLAND CO.

The Willys-Overland Company, Toledo, Ohio, and subsidiaries report for the year ended December 31, 1915, a net income of $10,870,678 before deducting a reserve of $1,000,000 for contingencies. This is equivalent to 46.76 per cent earned on the common stock after deduction of $322,165 for preferred dividends.

The surplus left after payment of all dividends and the deduction of the contingency reserve amounted to $7,318,618. The profit and loss surplus was reported as $14,720,550. During the year $250,000 was laid aside for the redemption of preferred stock.

The report for the year ended June 30, 1914, which is the latest available for comparison, shows a net income of $5,864,858, an amount after deduction of preferred dividends equivalent to 27.57 per cent earned on the common stock of $20,000,000. The profit and loss surplus in June, 1914, was given as $5,502,234.

Much of the success of the Willys-Overland sales is attributable to their extensive advertising.

AUTOMOBILE SHIPMENTS CAUSING FACTORIES WORRY.

On excellent authority, we are advised that the traffic situation, so far as the shipment of automobiles is concerned, is in worse condition than at any time in the history of the automobile industry. This is entirely due to the shortage of freight equipment. Records show that approximately 140,000 loaded freight cars are tied up in or near Eastern terminals, with no immediate prospect of being unloaded. There is absolutely nothing doing so far as freight shipments to most Eastern points are concerned on account of the embargo placed by the transportation companies, and no freight shipments of any kind except perishables, live stock or food necessities are being accepted.

Western conditions, while not being handicapped by an embargo, are in very bad shape indeed, and it is impossible to secure anywhere near enough freight equipment to handle shipments into Western territories. The situation shows no sign of improvement, and indications are that shipping conditions during the next 90 days will get worse instead of better.

NOVEL CAR CONTEST AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Oldsmobile and Buick Autos Figure in Assembling Race.

SAN FRANCISCO.—A new form of automobile contest that promises to spread from coast to coast has been invented by members of the Oldsmobile and Buick sales agencies here. It is an assembly contest, in which 12 trained men from rival sales agencies vie against each other in piecing together two machines which have been previously disjoined into as many component parts as possible.

The initial contest was staged at the Empress Theatre here, and pulled off mid scenes of wildest enthusiasm. The curtain went up on a clutter of automobile parts defying description. Fenders were off, lamps on the floor, radiator leaning against a post, the axles out, the transmission torn asunder—in short, instead of there being cars there was simply a chaotic mass of parts.

At the shot of a revolver 12 men sprang to their work, and then began a chapter out of Grimm's fairy tales—a mechanical fairy tale, in which a dozen nimble young men in overalls apparently waved wands and caused objects about them to be transformed. Hermann the Great himself would have looked on with wonder.

Presto, change!—two minutes flat—and the Oldsmobile, a four, stood complete upon the floor. Twenty-one seconds later and the Buick followed suit, defeated, but a very close second, nevertheless.

Because of the terrific interest in the contest, it is predicted it will spread all over the country, a more sensational form of competition having seldom been witnessed by theater patrons.

COW, PEOPLE AND COTTON PROVE DURABILITY OF SAXON.

During a big automobile parade at the Cotton Palace, at Waco, this year Fred A. Martin and R. A. Lively, of the Saxon Sales Co., of Waco, devised the original and convincing plan of loading a Saxon "Six" in a manner that would be the real attraction of the parade, and at the same time would demonstrate to those congregated to witness the parade the fact that the Saxon "Six" was a durable car.

First they placed a bale of cotton on either runningboard, afterward loading seven people into the machine, and later, as the parade progressed, capped the climax by loading a young Jersey cow into the tonneau.

WHY GASOLINE IS HIGH.

1. Increase in consumption of gasoline in the United States during 1915, 25 per cent greater than in 1914 and a similar increase in 1916.

2. Increase in exports, the figures showing the exports of naphtha and lighter products of 1914 to have exceeded those of 1913 by 500,000 barrels and the exports for 1915 to have exceeded those of 1914 by 1,500,000 barrels. No government figures are available since these, but the exportation to Europe continues to increase.

3. The depletion of gasoline stocks, due to increased domestic and export demands. On January 1, 1915, the refiners' storage stock of gasoline amounted to approximately 2,000,000 barrels. Inquiry at this time indicates that there is little or no gasoline in storage.

4. Decreased production of crude oil containing a large percentage of gasoline as partially caused by the Cushing pool.

5. Increase in the price of crude oil, from which the gasoline is made.

6. The recent rapid increases in the price of crude oil and gasoline have been accompanied by rapid increases in the market quotations of oil company shares. The market values of the capital stocks of thirty-eight corporations, of which thirty-five are in the Standard Oil group and three are typical large independent companies, have increased remarkably in the last six months. The stocks of other oil companies probably show a similar rise, but the quotations are not at hand. The thirty-eight companies selected are believed to represent all phases of the oil industry. These rapid increases might be ascribed to the general condition of prosperity and the general upward trend of the stock market but for the fact that during the last quarter of 1915 the oil company stocks did not rise and fall with the market.

For the last 3½ years, considered by six months' periods, the price of crude and the price of gasoline have risen and fallen at the same time, but not always in the same amount. Until the first of last July the percentage of fluctuation of the price of crude was considerably greater than that of gasoline, but since that date the percentage rise in gasoline price has been slightly more rapid than that of crude. Since August 1 gasoline has gone up relatively faster than crude, its rapid rise being uninterrupted by the stationary price of crude during November.

TROY TRAILERS AFTER VILLA.

The United States Government bought eleven 2½-ton and one 1½-ton Troy trailers for use in the punitive expedition against Villa in Mexico, on March 21. The army department was in urgent need of them for the quartermaster's use in getting supplies to the troops in the field.

These trailers were shipped by a special train which left Troy on Friday evening, about 5 o'clock, and was reported as arriving at El Paso on March 28, having made passenger-train time on the trip. This train had the right of way over all others, and, as a result, delivery was made on pretty near record time.

There was not time enough to give the finishing touches in the factory, and a squad of painters was sent along to give them the second coat on the run and also to stripe them.

These trailers were equipped with escort bodies and are to be used in connection with Jeffery quads. A train load of quads was scheduled to meet the trailers in El Paso.

The Franklin 100-mile, Low-Gear Run, September 24th, 1914, demonstrated the ability of the Franklin Car to cool perfectly under the hardest conditions in any locality.

The Worcester Polytechnic Institute Test demonstrated how the Franklin applies the most power in actual driving.

The Franklin National Efficiency Demonstration, May 1st, 1915, demonstrated how high efficiency, represented by miles per gallon of gasoline, shows the all-round quality of the Franklin Car.

The Franklin 860-mile, Low-Gear Run, August 1, 1915, demonstrated how the entire Franklin Car stands the hardest usage, and the great efficiency of Franklin Direct-Air-Cooling.

The Franklin New York-to-Chicago Oil Test, November 20th, 1915, demonstrated the economy and efficiency of Franklin lubrication.

The Six Years' Tire Averages of the Franklin Car demonstrate how Franklin owners are securing 8,000 to 10,000 miles from a set of tires, and how Franklin Car design increases the service life of your tires.

The consistent infrequency of Franklin Cars in the Used Car Dealers' and Sale and Exchange Columns of the newspapers demonstrates the long life of the Franklin Car and how little it depreciates in service.

EARTH ROADS IN SPRING.

Drains and Side Ditches Should Be Kept Open—Road Drag Most Useful at This Season.

The cardinal essential in spring maintenance of earth roads, especially those on heavy soils, is good drainage. So long as the water can be kept from penetrating deeply into these roads they will remain at least fairly passable. To accomplish this on average earth roads, however, is far from easy.

The chief attention of the road man must therefore be directed toward getting and keeping the water away from the road.

Spring Work Pays.

It is true that the only sensible and really economical thing to do with earth roads on which the traffic has reached a certain volume is to hard surface them. But the larger part of our earth roads must remain such for a long time to come. These roads, however, need not become impassable mud lanes every winter or spring. A certain amount of timely and intelligent attention during the late winter and early spring will yield results commensurate with the cost. We must also learn that it requires as great, if not greater, skill and experience to maintain an earth road properly as to maintain any of the high-class pavements. The fundamental principles of earth road maintenance are few and not difficult, but to carry out these principles under the almost infinite variations of conditions with which the road man finds himself confronted requires a high degree of intelligence, skill, and experience. Not until we realize these facts and put them into practical application will we have the earth roads which is possible for us to have.

During the early part of the season, as long as the weather is every rainy, it will pay to have the road man go over the road daily to see that the drains and side ditches do not become clogged and to note the need of any necessary repairs. A few minutes work with a shovel may prevent a serious washout or damage which, if not promptly checked, might make the road practically impassable.

The road drag or some other similar device finds its greatest usefulness during this season. It may be used to good advantage to clear the roadway of slush, and so prevent this water from soaking into and softening the subgrade. To fill ruts, smooth the surface, and maintain the crown of the road, the drag is unexcelled when in the hands of a skilled operator. An unskilled man may do more harm than good. Furthermore, the actual condition of the road during this period will depend very largely on the knowledge of the road man as to just when to drag, as well as his skill in the operation of the implement.

Grade Early.

In addition to the maintenance, provision should be made for doing all necessary grading or earth work as early in the spring as possible, in order that it may become thoroughly consolidated before the dry weather of summer. If the work is done too late, the road will not only probably become very dusty in dry weather, but will need additional attention later in the fall.

Only rarely do our earth roads, even when neglected, become equally bad over their entire length. Most frequently the really bad places are confined to comparatively short sections, while the remainder of the road is fairly passable. An examination of the worst will usually show that the drainage, either surface or underground, is seriously at fault. The trouble can be remedied by providing the necessary drainage, and in nearly every case could have been prevented by a comparatively small amount of timely and properly directed attention. The lesson is obvious. Systematically organized and properly directed maintenance throughout all seasons is our only guaranty of fairly passable earth roads during the spring of the year.

FEDERAL AID FOR ROADS IN FORTY-THREE STATES.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Forty-eight States will qualify for Federal aid in roads under the Bankhead bill, recently reported favorably to the Senate by its committee on post offices and post roads.

Indiana, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas are the five states which have yet to equip themselves with a centralized direction of roads improvement. Indiana has an active campaign in progress which ought to prove successful, energized in great degree by the Hoosier State Automobile Association, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

South Carolina is giving the question of a State highway department serious consideration. Georgia is in an equally hopeful condition, while Mississippi in its house of representatives recently voted against the creation of a State commission. The legislators opposed the legislation because it called for an engineer with a salary of $2,500 a year. Maine pays $5,000, and possesses an unusually competent official.

Texas, under the Bankhead measure, would obtain more Federal co-operation than any other State in the Union, its area taking it into first place, though it falls behind many other states in population and road mileage. It is a certainty that Texas will provide a highway department within three years, for section 3 of the Senate measure contains this proviso: "except that amounts apportioned for any fiscal year to any State which has not a State highway department shall be available for expenditure in that State until the close of the third fiscal year succeeding the close of the fiscal year for which such apportionment was made."

WILLYS-OVERLAND COMPANY TREBLES ITS OUTPUT.

A quarterly report of the Willys-Overland Co. shows that all previous production records had been broken at the close of business March 31. This three months' statement shows a total of 47,465 cars manufactured and shipped. The month of March leads with a total of 19,780 cars. Compared with the March, 1915, production of 7,905 cars, this is a gain of 12,775 cars in that month.

The number of cars shipped in the three months' period, January 1st to March 31st, comes within a thousand cars of equaling the entire yearly production of 1914.

In twelve months' time, with increased manufacturing facilities, production figures are nearly trebled, a manufacturing and marketing achievement that has yet to be equaled in any industry.

Jas. Williamson went to Post City Wednesday on business.

THE COMING OF BRYAN.

The 1916 Chautauqua promises to be the biggest entertainment event the South Plains has ever enjoyed. As the moving pictures have brought the small towns in touch with the noted artists of the stage and the big events of the world, so have the big plans of the modern chautauqua brought entertainers and instructors to the small towns which have never had the opportunity of hearing or seeing these artists.

William Jennings Bryan comes to Plainview April 28 as an advance number of the 1916 chautauqua. Possibly some have heard the great orator, but many have not and probably never would have the opportunity except under the present circumstances.

You may not believe in Mr. Bryan or his policies; that is not the question here. If you have heard him you must admit that he is an orator; if you have not, there is a treat in store for you.

CARELESSNESS IN MAN.

One individual was careless and the whole of Seth Ward College was wiped out by fire in an hour. One man may be careless and a whole community become infected with hog cholera. Hale, the greatest hog-raising county in the United States, may lose its prowess through the carelessness of its hog raisers and shippers. Unless the utmost care is exercised in importing hogs, unless the most stringent rules of sanitation, quarantine and disinfection are observed, Hale County may become a hog-cholera county.

Hale County has a scientific farm demonstrator, a county veterinarian, and other officers who are here partly for the purpose of safeguarding the livestock and agricultural interests of the county.

The man who has a sick animal on his place and fails to report it to the proper authorities is not only careless but delinquent. If he is not willing to protect his community, that community must take steps to protect itself against him.

Are you the man who will help keep Hale County free from hog cholera, or are you one of the careless ones who will overlook or hide the seriousness to you and the community which must result from the introduction of any livestock disease?

THE FARMER IN TOWN.

Never in the history of this or any country has the farmer been placed in a position of such intimacy with the citizen of the small town as is the present-day American farmer.

Never has there been such opportunity for effective co-operation of the town forces and the country forces. The life of the small town grows or diminishes as the farmers crops grow or diminish, or as his live stock thrives or fails to thrive. The farmer grows and broadens as the small town affords him facilities of every sort to which he has not been accustomed.

An effective Chamber of Commerce attracts markets for the products of the farm. It brings industries which consume the farm's surplus. It brings land buyers from other communities, who enhance the value of the farms already improved by making further improvements.

The farmer needs the commercial organization; the commercial organization needs the farmer.

The Plainview Chamber of Commerce has issued an invitation to the farmers of Hale County to identify themselves with its activities. It can co-operate only so far as it is made conversant with the problems of the farmer. Who among you will profess the faith?

A HERALD READER INTERESTED IN BEAUTIFYING PLAINVIEW.

Editor Herald—Dear Sir: I am told that through the agency of the Plainview Civic League the florists and seedmen of Plainview have all signified their intention of offering some kind of prize for the best flower beds and window gardens grown during the coming summer, the League members to assume the responsibility of judging the entries in such contest once a month during the growing season and of making the prize awards at the close of the summer. It is my understanding that at least one entry in this contest will apply to vacant lots that are improved (with the owner's permission) by some boy or girl under sixteen years of age.

No doubt many of The Herald readers noticed the picture, published recently in the Dallas News, of a park in Mineral Wells, Texas, that had been evolved in this way from an unsightly vacant lot; and the distinguishing point about the Mineral Wells flower garden was that it had not cost anything—that is, not in money. Of course somebody had given of their services; but the plants, seeds, shrubs and bulbs had all been contributed from the home flower beds of their donors.

When I read this story about the Mineral Wells park it put me to thinking of certain plants of easy growth that can be effectively used for this kind of planting. For instance, there is a plant—a member of the iris family—the "flags" of our grandmother's gardens—that thrives well in Plainview with very little attention. It is a thing of beauty during the blooming season and the foliage is pretty the year around. Then there is the canna, that is also particularly effective for planting in masses. This is tuberous-rooted, like the iris, and, as both plants do better to be "divided" frequently, I don't doubt that many Plainview housewives will offer to donate such roots as will be used for this purpose. Violets also may be had for the asking, are especially good for bordering flower beds and are to be prized for their fine foliage even after the blooming season is over. Among the annuals, the petunias, nasturtiums and Zinnias are especially easy to grow. The latter is a good dry-weather flower, and the hotter the sun shines the brighter it blooms.

These occur to me off-hand. Probably there are others that are just as well adapted to this kind of planting that somebody else can name.

Another point: If, as we are told, there are to be more summer visitors and homeseekers in Plainview this summer than ever before in the history of the town, it would be particularly fine to see that they are shown (many of them will be "from Missouri") that we can grow flowers just as pretty as the ones they left "back home."

DENTON PRIEST LIKES HERALD EDITORIAL IN DALLAS PAPER.

The following letter has been received from Raymond Vernimont, Catholic priest at Denton, commenting upon an editorial copied from The Herald in The Dallas Evening Journal:

"Denton, Texas, April 5, 1916.
"To the Editor of The Herald—Dear Friend: The enclosed clipping is from 'Evening Journal,' copied from your paper. The eulogy you make of the farmer is seldom met with in public print. The farmer goes his way patiently with few to recognize him. Dudes so far forget themselves as to sneer at him—call him 'hayseed'—shame! Were it not for the industrious farmer all of us would rest in the graveyards.

"The public press can do a great good by giving credit to the farmer; it will cheer him in his difficult task of forcing nature to give up her treasures.

"Yours for the glory of the farmer,
"RAYMOND VERNIMONT,
"Priest.

"Box 75, Denton, Texas."
The following is The Herald editorial to which Rev. Vernimont refers:

"Where agriculture thrives, civilization increases, is a tenet of Ralph Waldo Emerson, along with other social students. One of the most potent factors of civilization, stating it another way, is the farmer. In the strictest sense of the word he is a producer. Upon his prosperity and his progress rests, to a wonderful extent, that of the other classes. The manufacturing class is dependent upon him. If in our complex social arrangement any one class is less dependent upon the other, it is the farming class. If in our society of interdependencies one class is more essential than another, it is the farming class. Just how important the farming class has been held by the Scandinavians is best shown by an old Scandinavian legend, which tells of a race of giants who inhabited land adjacent to a certain fjord. One day a child of the giants playing found a farmer and his team and plow. Carrying them in her apron into the house she asked her mother what kind of beetle she had found. The reply was, 'We must be moving, my dear. Such as he will occupy this land, and we will be forced out.' There is a joy in achieving, which every conscientious man, merchant, professional man, or farmer, experiences in his daily work. There is sectional pride, known to all of us, in the achievements of the South Plains farmer, and now is his busiest time. Hale County's prosperity during 1916-17 depends on what our farmers do this spring. We're all interested."

CATCHING EGGS "ON THE FLY."

Delivering eggs from a station-platform and transferring them with ease and safety to the mail-car of a fast speeding express train, by means of an automatic mail-exchange system recently adopted by a Western railroad, forms the subject matter of an interesting description in The Popular Science Monthly:

"This device works with great speed. When the train nears a station a lever on the truck of the mail-car is operated by a track-trip, thus setting in motion the system of cams which perform the functions of discharging and receiving the mail from the station. A set of arms moves out from the side of the car, and, as the train passes, the suspended pouches of mail are caught by the arms and drawn into the car. Another cam, deriving its power from the car-axle, picks up the mail pouches which are to be delivered at the station, and deposits them in a chute, where they slide into a trough on the station platform. This chute extends down until it nearly touches the platform, and the pouches fall but a few inches. They slide on a smooth surface of the trough until their fall is broken. As soon as the train has passed the station, the apparatus is automatically drawn inside the car and the doors are locked."

REV. A. B. ROBERTS OBSERVED MUCH WHILE ON AUTO TOUR.

Rev. A. B. Roberts, who has recently returned from an extended automobile tour through New Mexico and Arizona, makes some interesting observations of his trip by telling of it in this way:

"To those who may wish to motor to California this year, you will save more than 100 miles by leaving the National Highway at Lordsburg, N. M. Instead of going southwest via Douglas, Busby and Tucson, go northwest to Duncan, and from there to the Gila Valley. This is a sight worth seeing. You will leave this river at an Indian reservation for Globe, Arizona, a city of 12,000 inhabitants, the major part of which is in a deep canyon.

"Here you enter the wonderful motor highway which has been built, at a cost of $350,000, through Arizona's National Reserve. This highway opens up the former impenetrable fastness of the Apaches, and is known as the Apache Trail. This trail begins at Globe and ends at Phoenix, a distance of 120 miles.

"Forty miles from Globe, through deep canyons and over high mountains, you arrive at the great Government-built Roosevelt Dam, which forms the largest artificial lake in the world. For nearly five years 2,000 men were engaged in building this wonderful structure, and as a result 219,000 acres of land are to be irrigated. This water has transformed the arid basin lying westward from Salt River and Tonto Creek into one of the most productive regions in the great Southwest.

"This dam is 284 feet high from lowest foundation. Thickness at base is 168 feet; thickness at crest, 20 feet. The roadway on top of the dam is 16 feet wide. Depth of available storage, 225 feet. Length of dam on top, 700 feet; length of dam at base, 210 feet. Depth of foundation in bedrock is 36 feet. Cement used in building dam was 338,342 barrels. Masonry used in building dam was 342,325 square yards.

"The area of the Roosevelt Reservoir is 25 1/2 square miles, or 16,320 acres. Volume of water in the reservoir when full is 1,367,305 acre-feet; in other words, enough water to cover 1,367,305 acres of land a foot deep. There is enough water to supply the lands under the system for three years without the addition of another drop.

"Electric power developed by the irrigation system at the dam is 10,000 horsepower, and at other points in the system is 15,000 horsepower, making a total of 25,000 horsepower.

"The first stone was laid September 20, 1906, and the last stone was laid February 5, 1911. The date of dedication was March 18, 1911. The Reservoir filled April 14, 1915.

"Leaving the dam the traveler motors through gulch and canyon and over high mountains for 35 miles. This trip will test your nerves, and if you are not very nifty will make your head swim. At the foot of Fish Creek Canyon is a large cave full of bones, the remains of a large band of Apaches who refused to surrender to United States soldiers. Also at the foot of this canyon lies the wreck of an automobile and hack which had tumbled from the heights above. Whether the passengers were killed or not I did not learn.

"Then comes Hell's Canyon, a bottomless abyss; then dizzy Whirlpool Rock and Superstition Mountain. Thence you go through gulch and canyon and over high plateaus until you reach the cactus-covered plain, which finally gives way to green fields waving with wheat, barley alfalfa and beautiful orchards of apples, pears, peaches and oranges. The waterways are lined with large cottonwood and palm trees until you arrive in Phoenix, the end of the trail. This is the capital city, and claims 30,000 inhabitants. "Through the kindness of Sister Williams, my good neighbor, who is a cousin to Governor Hunt's wife, I was invited to take dinner with the Governor and family, and also with Brother Ellison and family, the father-in-law of the Governor, whose wife is a sister to Captain Smith, deceased, and reminded me very much of Brother Smith. With those good families we certainly had a pleasant and joyful time."

FLOYD COUNTY SHERIFF SUED FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT.

Wichita, Kans., Man Wants $15,000 Damages—Was Arrested on Writ From Alabama.

Sheriff A. C. Goen, of Floyd County, has been sued by C. A. Saunders, of Wichita, Kansas, for $15,000 damages alleged to have been done him by false imprisonment in November, 1915. This suit, which has been filed in the Federal Court at Amarillo and is to come up for trial on April 17th, arises out of the arrest of the Wichita man, together with his traveling companion, H. Billingsley, in Floydada on the 12th of November. The arrest was made on the authority of the Governor of Alabama and Chief Special Agent Irwin, of that State, who want an H. Billingsley on a charge of defaulting with funds of that State. Mr. Goen also had notice from the Governor of Texas that requisition request from the Governor of Alabama had been granted.

Saunders and Billingsley were held four days, until their release on a writ of habeas corpus from District Judge Joiner.

Sheriff Goen returned Monday from Montgomery, Alabama, and Austin, Texas, where he spent several days conferring with the officials of the two states relative to the case.

The Alabama officials got the clue from which the arrest of the two traveling men was made in a Middle Western State. They were traced through two states to Floydada, when Mr. Goen was notified to make the arrest. This notification was followed by a series of telegrams urging that the men not be released until an agent from Alabama could arrive. Saunders and Billingsley were able to prove their identity and innocence, however, and were released the day before the Alabama agent arrived.—Floyd County Hesperian.

1916 TEXAS ONION CROP ESTIMATED AT 10,057 ACRES.

The Texas onion crop of 1916 is estimated to cover 10,057 acres, as compared with 8,943 acres in 1915, an increase of about 12 per cent. The condition of the crop on April 1 is estimated as 55 per cent of normal, which forecasts a yield of about 192.5 bushels per acre, or a total production of 1,935,972 bushels, the equivalent of 4,200 cars of 460 bushels each. In 1915 the shipments amounted to about 4,607 cars.

THE VAN SICKLE CARNIVAL.

Fire Company Thoroughly Satisfied With Results of Their Work.

The Van Sickle Carnival Company, like all human agencies, "have come and went." Although not attended with the proverbial noise, blare and ballyhoo that are the natural concomitants of such street aggregations of dazzling splendor, the engagement here of this company was a persistently quiet success. Both Capt. Van Sickle himself as well as the manager of the local fire company assured the Record of entire satisfaction, both as to financial returns and personal association.

The Van Sickle Carnival Company was a very noticeable deviation from the usual run of such street attractions, which latter go where they can, while the Van Sickle Company goes only where they are wanted; and if they went everywhere they are wanted they would have to possess the power of being in several different places at the same time. Their engagements are in demand.

The physical aspects of this company bespeak its merit. The tents were new, clean and of uniform color and scheme. The attractions were novel and entertaining, free from the snake-eating and ultra-morbid features that make up the alleged attractions of imitators. The high-dive, motordome features were novelties much enjoyed, as well as many other features of the show.

From here the company went to Big Springs, going thence to Snyder for a week's engagement at each place. The per cent of the Fire Company amounted to more than $200. Capt. Van Sickle, the manager of the company, is an affable, obliging gentleman, and shows himself to be a shrewd business manager. The Record does not hesitate to recommend the Van Sickle Carnival Company as clean, entertaining and worthy the patronage of any community.—Colorado Record.—Adv.

SCHOOL HISTORIES.

New York Commercial: Boards of Education in all countries have for a century past selected histories for use in the schools which did not tell the truth. The author or compiler of the school history that is authorized is careful to suppress unpleasant facts about past wars and to exaggerate the patriotism and prowess of the people who are taxed to pay for the books. It is only necessary to compare the stories of the War of 1812 in histories used in the schools of Canada and of the State of New York or in the New England States to realize how ridiculous this prevarication about historic facts has always been. It may not be quite as bad today as it was half a century ago, but school histories are as full of misinformation and concealment of the truth about the country in which they are used as it is possible to conceive.

Oliver Goldsmith wrote a set of school histories as a pot-boiler. These histories were filled with traditional romances instead of facts. He could not afford the time to investigate facts, but he wrote readable little histories which the children liked. Since his day compilers of school histories have been a little more careful about facts in histories of foreign countries, but what has been gained in accuracy has been counterbalanced by loss of style and readability. Home country histories are almost as inaccurate as Goldsmith's productions, and do not possess the redeeming merit of literary style which he put into everything he wrote, including his poor pot-boiling histories. If a literary genius with Goldsmith's gift of clear expression of thought could be got to write a true history of the United States for use in the schools, the country could afford to make him rich.

Ill-feeling, class hatreds, racial prejudices and invincible ignorance are kept alive by school histories. Every American citizen is a sovereign, and those taught in our public schools read in their histories that these American "kings" can do no wrong and never did any wrong since they fought the French in Canada before they thought of rebelling about paying the cost of that war. President Wilson knows how true this is. He has been a schoolmaster, and he has found out how the youth of this country are prejudiced by their early schooling. During the recent preparedness campaign he found that the Middle West is full of men who have read no histories of the United States except the piffling little volumes used in the public schools. These men read at school and still believe that this country never lost a battle and never made a mistake in war. They feel sure that millions of Americans could step into the ranks of the army today and become a formidable fighting force over night. They have read that it was so in the past, and they think it should be so now.

Our school histories actually threaten the safety of the country today. Tell a loyal American-born citizen that George Washington is famous in military history as a successful general who never won a pitched battle, and our loyal citizen would call it a lie and want to fight on the spot—and yet it is the truth. The Senate Military Committee has heard something of this explanation of what lies behind the delusions of our pacifists. Our country has a history in which all can take pride, but teaching children that we are a race of invincible warriors who need no preparedness does not help.

It is human to love praise. The man who can make a strong appeal to the passions and prejudices of any people, without their ascertaining that he is doing this, can enlist their sympathy. That historians have kept real truth concealed, partly because they themselves were prejudiced, partly because they knew that to be salable their books must appeal to prejudices, class and racial feeling of the people, is true. In this way they have abetted these very evils. It hurts no one to know the truth. Historical facts in their true relative importance and significance should be given on our school histories. We gain nothing by cramming into the minds of pupils false and insincere praise—flattery.

NOTICE OF SALE OF HALE COUNTY SCHOOL LAND.

The Commissioners of Hale County will offer for sale all or any part of Hale County School Land, located about the center of Bailey County.

The water on this land runs from four feet to sixty-eight feet. There are three wells on the land and two windmills. There are two other wells within 100 yards of the land. This land will be sold at auction on the 13th day of June, 1916, at Plainview, Texas, beginning promptly at 10 o'clock A. M., and continue till the sale closes.

The land will be sold on or before 40 years' time at 5 per cent interest. Interest will be payable in advance, annually.

The land will be sold in tracts from 177 acres up to 1,500 acres, and map of said tract can now be seen at the office of W. B. Lewis, County Judge of Hale County.

In addition to the interest payable in advance, the Commissioners' Court of Hale County will require the following payment upon the following tracts:

In League 168, $100.00 per tract, except Tracts 1, 10, 11, and 20; the cash payment on these four tracts to be $50.00 each.

On League 169, Tracts Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 11, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, and 25 shall be $100.00 per tract, and lots Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, and 15 are to be $50.00 per tract.

In League No. 171, Tracts Nos. 1, 2, 11, and 12 are to be $50.00 per tract. Tracts Nos. 3, 4, and 5, $100.00 per tract. Tract 13, $350.00. Tracts 9 and 10 and 19, $75.00. Tracts Nos. 20, 21, and 22, $100.00 per tract.

In addition to these payments, the man who buys each tract will be required to pay the first year's annual interest in advance.

Cut this part of the ad out and take it with you with your map to see the land, and save same for your information upon the day of the sale.

Each party buying the land will be required to execute vendor's lien notes payable to Hale County and in addition thereto to execute a deed of trust to secure said notes. Hale County reserves the right to reject all bids or discontinue the sale at any time if the bids are not sufficiently high to justify the sale.

This is the opportunity for the man of limited means to secure a good home and at prices and terms which are so fair and equitable that no one needing a home can afford to miss the opportunity.

The land has already been staked out and numbers put at each corner, and with a map which you can secure from W. B. Lewis, you can readily locate the land.

The most convenient route from Plainview would be to go by Littlefield, and thence due west till you get even with the land, and then turn north. No limit on the number of tracts one person may purchase.

Don't forget the date of the sale, June 13, 1916. W. B. LEWIS, County Judge of Hale County, Texas. —Adv.

BAINER GIVES SUGGESTIONS ON PREPARATION OF LAND.

Says Fall Plowing Is Best, but Handing 1915 Crops Delayed the Work.

By H. M. BAINER, Agricultural Demonstrator, Santa Fe System.

Fall or early spring plowing and listing has always been successful in the Southwest, the deeper the better, also the earlier the better. On account of much time being consumed in harvesting the enormous crops of last year, very little fall plowing was done, and by the time winter came on much land was too dry to plow at all.

Breaking Sod.—For common crops, best results come from breaking the sod from 2 1/2 to 3 inches in depth, whether this be done in the fall or spring. The rod breaker is usually considered preferable to the solid moldboard breaker for Southwestern conditions. Freshly broken sod should be packed by rolling, floating or discing with discs set straight, immediately behind the breaker. This compacts the furrow-slice against the subsoil, thereby saving lots of moisture and insuring quicker rotting. Sod that is covered with green grass will rot quicker than that covered with dry grass. For garden, orchard or special crops, which are to be cultivated the first year, the sod should be broken early and shallow. This in turn should be thoroughly disced and afterwards replowed about two inches deeper, thus insuring a fine seed bed which will work like old land.

Spring Plowing.—Demonstrations have proven beyond doubt that it does not pay to plow old land deep in the spring. Three- to five-inch plowing, at this time, is deep enough, especially when the time for planting is near. Observing farmers know that deep and loose seed beds dry out more quickly and fall to produce as good crops as the more firm preparation. Deep plowing must have considerable time to settle or become firm, also to accumulate moisture before planting time. Whether the ground has been plowed or not, all row crops should be planted in furrows and not on the surface. These furrows can be made with lister or with sweeps.

Spring Listing.—Double listing insures best results, especially if the first time over the field was done in the fall or early winter. To double list in the spring is not so certain unless there is an abundance of moisture. When moisture is limited and every effort must be made to save it, then double discing for the first operation will give best results, followed later by single listing and immediate planting. It is important to plant at once following the last listing or "busting." Do not wait for the field to dry out or for weeds to get a start.

Harrowing.—Fall-listed land should be harrowed in the spring, especially if there is a chance to save some moisture. Land that has been plowed in the fall should be left rough. Spring-plowed land requires some harrowing, but should not be worked too smooth or fine, especially if there is danger of the soil blowing.

FIRST BALL GAME GOES 13 INNINGS WITH EVEN 5-5 SCORE.

The first baseball game of the season was played Monday between the Normal and Seth Ward College, of Plainview. The game went 13 innings, and resulted in a tied score of 5 to 5. It was agreed to call the game until Tuesday, but Tuesday morning rain started in and prohibited the game scheduled for the day.

The Normal team could easily have won the game had their fielding been better. The visitors made one earned run in the game. The remainder was made on Normal errors.

In the first inning the visitors made two scores, one on errors. The Normal made one that inning. In the fourth inning two men were down and one man on the bases. A fielding error allowed both to score, making the score 4 to 1 in favor of the visitors.

In the eighth the locals scored one run. In the ninth they made two more, which tied the score. Vallance drove deep into right and almost reached home for a four bagger, but the crowd got excited and ran onto the field, causing Vallance to run over a boy near the third sack, thus stopping him long enough to permit the home run and the winning score.

The game went on into the thirteenth inning, where both teams secured an additional run and the game was called by agreement, as it was almost too dark to play.—Canyon News.

LOCKNEY HAD TWELVE CANDIDATES FOR ALDERMEN.

At the city election Tuesday Lockney voted the following officers: J. R. Meriwether, mayor; E. M. Walling, marshal, and E. E. Dyer, J. D. Griffith, J. M. Hamilton, Roy Griffith and E. L. Woodburn, aldermen. Twelve men offered their names as candidates for places on the aldermanic board.

THE KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS. April 10.—Scant supplies of cattle at all points last week forced buyers into the market, and all recent losses were regained. Today there are a few thousand too many cattle offered, and buyers were quick to seize their opportunity, steers 10 to 15 cents lower, some sales off 25 cents, cows and heifers steady to 15 cents lower, stockers and feeders steady to 15 cents lower. Yearling steers, and heifers sold at $9.40 today, heavy steers $9.35 and $9.40, a string of six cars of steers from Frankfort, Kansas, 1,446 pounds average, selling at the latter price. A fair number of steers sold at $9.00 and upwards, and medium steers brought $8.35 to $8.75. There was a light supply of pulp-fed cattle, about 20 carloads in all, the best selling at $8.90, 8 cars of Sugar Company steers from Garden City, Kansas, 1,160 pounds average, at $8.50, as compared with $8.75 for some of the same steers last Monday.

There were no quarantine cattle today, but a number of shipments of North Texas steers sold here last week at $8.15 to $8.35.

Best cows sell up to $8.00, and most of the medium cows bring $6.25 to $7.50.

Stockers and feeders are in strong demand, Illinois buying more heavily in the last week than heretofore. Good feeders sell around $8.00, and stock steers mostly at $7.00 to $7.75, a few yearlings up to $8.20, and calves $9.00.

Hogs at seven Western markets dropped off $6,000 head last week from the previous week, local receipts showing a loss of 10,000 head. This was a complete reversal of the recent trend, as total hogs marketed so far this year at eleven leading markets is slightly above ten million head, as compared with 9,400,000 head at the same markets same period in 1908, biggest previous year. Prices were uneven, packers insisting on lower prices, but order buyers made strong competition, the week closing 15 cents below high point. Receipts here today are 11,000, market 10 to 15 cents lower, packers paying the top, $9.45, at the close. Order buying is heavy, this trade taking a liberal number today, and half the hogs one or two days last week.

Sheep and lambs are 50 cents higher than the middle of last week, receipts 6,000 today. Prices are up 15 to 25 cents today, following a big rise Friday, which puts values back up to the high time. All classes of live stock seem to be selling at prices that are justified by conditions, and reverses are short lived. Most of the lambs sold at $11.40 to $11.65 today, and clipped lambs brought $9.40. No good ewes were included, but they would go to $8.60. Texas brusher goats of poor grade sold at $5.10, Texas clipped wethers worth around $7.50, fat goats up to $6.00, good brushers $5.50.

J. A. RICKART, Market Correspondent.

WEST TEXAS PRESS.

About West Texas Hogs.

Ablene is boosting about Taylor County shipping nineteen carloads of hogs this year, while a year ago there was not a carload of hogs in Taylor County. Well, that's some improvement, but we can go you one better. Runnels County has shipped more hogs than Taylor County this year, and a year ago there were more dogs than hogs rendered for taxes in Runnels County. We believe that the farmers have found that the hog industry pays better than the dog industry.—Ballinger Ledger.

Why shouldn't Abilene boast of her nineteen cars? Taylor does not claim to eclipse all others in the matter of hogs, but the warning is hereby handed to all Central West Texas counties to look out, for Taylor County will try to ship the most. This part of Texas can raise feedstuffs, rain or shine, and feedstuffs mean more hogs. The farmers are just coming to realize the value of the hog out here.—Abilene Reporter.

that the President was not considering such a step and that only in the view of more widespread military operations than the mere chase of Villa and his outlaws would the regulars need support.

Funston Wants Militia.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 12.—

Unless the work of the punitive expedition in Mexico is accomplished within a very few days means will be sought to strengthen General Pershing's forces at the front, it is expected that General Funston will ask the War Department to move into the Southern department the 4,000 troops that are stationed at other points in the United States. If this is done these will be placed on duty along the border, relieving for service in Mexico a part of the 2,000 now doing garrison and patrol duty along the front. If the War Department regards the transfer of troops not now in the department inexpedient, it is believed that General Funston will recommend using the militia to relieve the troops along the border.

It was pointed out that while General Funston has been given carte blanche to reinforce General Pershing's column, this authority extends only to those troops in this department. He does not regard it advisable to withdraw more of the troops now in his department, since with the exception of a negligible number all are rendering service along the border, a service he considers essential.

In the tentative arrangement to ship supplies over the Mexican Central Railroad from Juarez to Chihuahua some officers professed to see little hope of lasting improvement in the military situation. "But it is a step forward," said one of them today. "It is good so far as it goes, but it is not enough."

In addition to sending more troops to General Pershing it was regarded probable that another base and a second line of communication would be established.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 12.—Several Americans have been killed or wounded in bandit raids in the vicinity of Guaymas, Sonora, according to a naval radio message received here today. The message was forwarded to the Navy Department, at Washington, and resulted in an order to the cruiser Denver, now at San Blas, State of Tepec, to steam for the Sonora seaport and investigate.

The message gave no details of the reported raids and made no mention of the time they were committed.

The Denver was en route from Corinto, Nicaragua, to San Diego. The supply steamer Glacier, now at Mazatlan, Mexico, is expected to arrive here early next week with a number of refugees who are reported to have fled from the interior of Sinaloa because of unsettled conditions.

CHARLES H. BROWN, OF FLOYD COUNTY, DEAD.

Charles H. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Brown, of Plainview, died in his home, 5 miles northeast of Lockney, Texas, on the 12th day of April, 1916, after an illness of nine days of pneumonia. Interment was made in the Lockney Cemetery.

He was born in Smith County, near Tyler, Texas, January 29, 1878, thus making his age 38 years.

He was married December 20th, 1906, to Miss Alice Wedmore. He leaves a wife and four children (one daughter and three sons). He had one brother to go before him to the goodly land. All the rest of the family were present—the father, mother, two brothers and four sisters.

Mr. Brown was not a member of the church, but was converted when a boy while living on a ranch. He was a devoted husband, a loving father, a devoted son and a good neighbor.

The many friends and neighbors who attended the funeral service and mingled their tears with the bereaved family spoke out in praise to Charley H. Brown more than volumes could express.

The memory of this good man will live in the hearts of his friends and loved ones during the coming days.

May the blessings of our good Lord rest upon the bereaved family. Let us pray that some loving hand may point the four children to the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world, and place their feet in the way of truth and virtue. J. M. HARDER
