TWICE-A-WEEK

VOLUME 28, NUMBER 14

PLAINVIEW, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1917

HALE COUNTY'S CHANCE FOR A. & M. COLLEGE GOOD

COL. SMYTH CONSIDERS PLAINVIEW AND SWEETWATER THE MAIN CONTENDERS.

INTEREST IN NEW HIGHWAY

Additional Passenger Trains Are Expected as Result of Recent Hearing.

Col. R. P. Smyth, who has been in Austin for the past several weeks in the interest of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College bill, as a representative of Plainview and Hale County, returned this morning. Colonel Smyth is of the opinion that the two towns which will be strongest in the contest for the location of the new school are Plainview and Sweetwater.

The bill as finally amended by the Senate and concurred in by the House, constitutes an emergency, according to Colonel Smyth. It provides that the location committee are not to spend more than $50,000 for grounds, 2,000 acres, for the school; that bonuses, with the exception of a site, will not be considered by the committee; that the same board of regents will control the present A. & M. and the new school, but each shall have a resident president. It is further provided that in every respect the school is co-extensive with the present school, and that their maintenance funds shall be separate appropriations.

New Train Service Expected.
After having attended the hearing before the State Railway Commission on the passenger-train service on this line of the Santa Fe, Colonel Smyth is of the opinion that a new train will be ordered. As yet the commission has issued no order.

Finds Interest in Highway.

A conference with J. D. Fauntleroy, district engineer of the United States Office of Public Roads and member of the American Society of Engineers, resulted in an expression of interest in the proposed highway from Fort Worth to Plainview and to Las Vegas, New Mexico. Mr. Fauntleroy has an office in Fort Worth. He promises to give any possible assistance in furthering the highway, furnishing free information as to grades, materials, costs, machinery, etc. Colonel Smyth also states that E. J. Hernan, with the American Highway Association, and who is well known in Plainview, will be here about the first of March and will begin logging the highway.

BERNSTORFF DEPARTS FOR THE FATHERLAND ON DANISH SHIP.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Feb. 14.—The special train carrying Count Von Bernstorff, formerly German ambassador to the United States, and his suite from Washington arrived at the railroad terminal here at 6:56 a. m. today.

The train was immediately surrounded by a guard of police and Government secret service men, and no one was permitted to approach without credentials. Count Von Bernstorff and the members of his party remained in their staterooms for half an hour after the train stopped, about two blocks from the deck of the Scandinavian-American line steamship Frederik VIII, on which they sailed for Copenhagen this afternoon.

Taxes collected in Hale County during January, the heaviest tax-paying month of the year, amounted to $56,031.08. Of that amount, $9,887.26 is district school tax, to be expended on the schools of the county. The county ad valorem tax collected during the month amounted to $21,824.05. The 1916 tax rate was $90 on each hundred dollars' valuation, twenty cents lower than the 1915 rate. ## NEW BARN AND 31 NEW HOG HOUSES FOR HELEN-TEMPLE

E. C. Lamb Plans Erection of Modern Home for His Family on Big Irrigated Farm.

Helen-Temple farm is considered one of the best hog farms in the Southwest. It has modern hog houses, farrowing pens, barns, silos, irrigation plant and other modern equipment. Its owner, E. C. Lamb, plans to further improve the property, however. It will be remembered that about a year ago Mr. Lamb purchased the property from Dr. A. C. Scott, of Temple, and moved his family here from Houston recently.

In the fall Mr. Lamb contemplates the erection of a modern home on the farm, but at present his family lives in Plainview. He now has plans for the new home, but will not begin it until he has made improvements in the farm equipment.

There are now ready for placing in the alfalfa pasture of the farm six new hog houses of 360 square feet floor space each and twenty-five small, V-shaped houses, each 7 x 7 feet. The small houses are of the same type that has been used on the farm heretofore.

Mr. Lamb also has plans drawn for a new barn. Today two cars of hollow tile, to be used in its construction, were received. This barn will have 7,500 square feet of floor space and a storage capacity of 550 tons of hay. The top will be trussed, no columns being used in the barn. It will be one of the best in the Southwest. The Helen-Temple Farm produces annually hundreds of tons of hay.

The full crew and two extra hands are being kept busy by G. R. Quisenberry, manager of the farm, erecting the new buildings and putting in new fences. A number of Mexican laborers arrived today to work on the farm.

He came here from Altus, Okla. He was about forty-four years of age, and leaves a wife and six children. Relatives from Altus arrived last night to make arrangements for the funeral, which was under the direction of A. A. Hatchell.

LAW ON DEPOSIT OF COUNTY FUNDS IS NOW EFFECTIVE.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 12.—Senate Bill No. 278, signed by the Governor today, carried the emergency clause and became a law at once, and it makes some important changes in the county depository law.

It changes the amount of county depository bonds by fixing the amount thereof from two years' revenue to one year's revenue of the county.

It defines county funds to include all money belonging to the county, as well as all taxing municipal subdivisions of the county, and requires the deposit of all such funds in the county depository.

It requires the tax collectors to deposit all money collected as taxes for the State, counties and various taxing municipalities in the depository as collected. Heretofore, the collections have remained to the credit of the tax collectors, without interest until the report was made, resulting in all tax money avoiding interest for an average of forty-five days.

It requires the approval of the Comptroller to all depository bonds, and relieves the collector's sureties from liability when the money is placed in the depository, and makes the collector liable to the depository for 10 per cent to the State, county, etc., for all interest lost to them if he fails to deposit the money.

HOW TO PLANT SWEET CLOVER

By C. E. WHITE

In answer to many inquiries as to when, where and how to sow sweet clover, or Melilotus, the following will prove successful in this region:

When to Sow.—The best results are obtained by sowing in early spring, as soon as the ground is dry enough to prepare a good, shallow seed bed.

Where to Sow.—Any place on the farm.

How to Sow.—Preferably in a fine, shallow seed-bed on a firm sub-soil. Always cover very lightly, as deep seeding is unsuccessful. Any ground that was cropped the preceding year, by discing and harrowing, putting the top two inches of soil in fine condition, is suitable for sowing. Always cover seed shallow. Without nurse crop preferred. Previous inoculation unnecessary. It inoculates itself, being better each succeeding year.

General Remarks.—With a favorable season and good stand it can be pastured without injury to plant in about 10 weeks. It can be pastured or cut for hay the first season; second season pasture, hay or seed. It is valuable as continuous pasture, when it will exceed itself without thought or care of the grower. It will never bloat stock. Horses, cattle, sheep or hogs turned out at any time, even in rain or dew. A good stand will pasture 30 to 40 head of hogs to the acre. Ring the hogs. Sweet clover will thoroughly inoculate the land for alfalfa, as the bacteria of both plants are the same.

Sow 12 pounds of hulled seed per acre, preferably the white biennial sweet clover. Sweet clover is rich in feeding value. It contains more protein than red clover and equally as much as alfalfa. It will grow on land too dry for alfalfa. It grows more rapidly than alfalfa when young, produces a good crop the first year, and provides early green pasture. It will stand more alkali or more acid in the soil than alfalfa. It thrives where rainfall is too small for alfalfa. Sweet clover should not be allowed to stand too long, as it becomes woody and loses its leaves. It should be cut when about 20 inches high and before it blossoms, if it is to be used for hay. Sweet clover has proven to be as good feed for all kinds of stock as alfalfa. It makes a better early pasture, and is easier grown. It seems to stand all kinds of pasturing, both in the spring and fall. Sweet clover has come to stay. There is no doubt about it. The writer firmly believes that inside of 5 years it will be grown by the thousands of acres in West Texas.

SWEET CLOVER IS EQUAL TO ALFALFA AS A HOG PASTURE

Dr. L. C. Wayland Has Twenty-Acre Field and Is Pleased With Drouth-Resisting Crop.

That sweet clover is one of the most promising pasture crops, even better than alfalfa, is the belief of many who have seen this wonderful, drouth-resisting crop in other sections. Among the few men who are trying sweet clover is Dr. L. C. Wayland.

In the summer of 1915 Dr. Wayland allowed a small patch of three acres he had planted from imported seed to grow up, and from it he threshed six hundred pounds of seed. This was sufficient to plant twenty acres, and in the fall of 1916 he planted this amount. The first seed were planted with volunteer wheat, and had there not been this crop on the land Dr. Wayland believes his yield of two hundred pounds of seed to the acre would have been even greater.

Just now the clover on Dr. Wayland's upland farm is beginning to get green, and by the middle of March it will be ready to pasture. He believes it is equal to alfalfa as a hog pasture, and its drouth-withstanding qualities commend it to the stockmen of this section who are not prepared to irrigate their farms.

It will reseed itself if the crop is allowed to mature every other year.

Many others are becoming interested in the sweet clover, and next fall there will probably be a large acreage planted in this section.

Fifty acres of sweet clover have been and are now being planted by E. Graham on his place just north of Plainview. Herman Weise, of Petersburg has a small field of ten or twelve acres, and J. C. Goodwin has a few acres for his dairy herd. On Tule Canyon, on the ranches of Judge L. E. Kinder and Otus Reeves there is volunteer sweet clover in the pastures. The stock do not eat it readily, however, as there is abundant native grass. As one man expresses it, "Cattle eat sweet clover like people eat olives—they have to acquire the taste." Another man compares sweet clover with tobacco. Cows eat it much like men chew tobacco. They acquire the habit and then they are passionately found of it.

This Lister is known to farmers wherever sold as P.O. No. 111, but the improved type is called No. 1111 on account of important improvements. There are more of them in the hands of farmers than all other makes combined, over 2,000 sold by one dealer in one county in West Texas. The adjusting tie of front end of beam is an important exclusive feature of the No. 1111, absolutely preventing the point from running below the desired depth. The wheel is a large one with deep-grooved treads, an immense help in the sandy lands of the West. The riding device absolutely deposits the seed at a time beyond the row, so the seeds can be sown for both corn and cotton. You will have to see this exclusive improvement to appreciate it. The listing hyper-allow change is placed without emptying them. It is a Lister with other Lister's exclusive features. This Lister embodied many other important features that will convince you that it is the best on the market.

Feeding Young Dairy Calves

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—Feeding the calf should begin before it is born, says Farmers' Bulletin 777, "Feeding and Management of Dairy Calves and Young Dairy Stock," recently issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Poorly nourished cows give birth to weak, puny calves, which are hard to raise. Cows which have an abundance of palatable and succulent feed and are in good body flesh and healthy, thrifty condition at calving time are more likely to produce well developed, strong, and sturdy calves, which will respond normally to proper feed and care.

The calf should always receive its mother's milk at first, as the colostrum, or first milk, stimulates the calf's stomach and other digestive organs to action. Most dairymen prefer to keep the calf with the cow for about 48 hours immediately after birth. It may be best to allow a weak calf or one that does not gain strength readily to remain a little longer time, but it is sometimes difficult to teach the calf to drink after sucking the cow for a time, and serious trouble may result from its failure to obtain food.

Successful raising of calves requires absolute cleanliness. Calf pens should always be kept clean and be supplied with plenty of dry bedding. Discarded feed should be removed from the feed boxes, which should be thoroughly brushed and cleaned each day. All milk should be fresh and clean, which is true also of other feeds. Milk pails should be scalded thoroughly with boiling water, or sterilized with steam if possible.

Milk from cows having a communicable disease, as tuberculosis, should be pasteurized (heated to 145 degrees F. and held at that temperature for 30 minutes, before it is fed to calves. Separated milk from a creamery also should be pasteurized, because it is practically impossible to know that such milk is free from infection.

Better results are obtained by feeding young calves three times a day, with the periods between feeding as nearly equal as possible. When fed in this way the calf does not overload its stomach, and the digestion of the feed is more evenly distributed throughout the 24 hours. Regularity in feeding is important. When calves are fed but twice a day the feeding should be as nearly as possible 12 hours apart.

At birth a 50-pound calf should have about 8 pounds of whole milk a day, while a 100-pound one should have about 12 pounds. For the first four days milk from the dam should be fed, then that from any of the other cows in the herd, preferably from any that are nearly dry. Milk containing not more than 4 per cent butter fat is considered best.

At the beginning of the third week either skimmed or separated milk may be substituted for whole milk at the rate of 1 pound a day. The daily ration may be increased from 2 to 4 pounds, depending upon the vigor of the calf. When the calf does not drink eagerly what is offered, the quantity should be cut down. The ration at the end of the third week usually should be approximately one-half whole and one-half separated milk. During the fourth week the change should be continued, until by the end of the week only separated milk is fed, unless the calf is very delicate. With especially vigorous calves the change to separated milk can be made about a week earlier. The quantity fed can be increased gradually to 18 to 20 pounds a day.

Six months is probably a good average age at which to wean calves from milk. The age depends upon the cost of the milk in relation to the value of the calf, its breed, size, vigor, etc. The season of the year and the other feeds available also must be considered. When the best of hay, silage, and a good variety of grains are available, or when good, succulent pasturage can be provided, the calf can be weaned earlier; also the stronger and more vigorous the calf the earlier it can be weaned. On the other hand, the more valuable the calf the more expense the owner is warranted in developing it, and the later it will probably be weaned. If skimmed or separated milk is plentiful, calves may be fed profitably until 8 or 10 months old.

When the calf is in its second week it should begin to receive grain, and when one month old it should eat about half a pound a day. After this time the quantity of grain may be gradually increased, feeding all that the calf will eat until 3 pounds a day is reached, probably during the third month. Grain fed to supplement separated milk should never be mixed with the milk. It is questionable whether the preparation of grain in any way, such as soaking or boiling, is advisable under most circumstances.

Wheat bran is eaten readily by young calves. Corn has an excellent physiological effect and to a great extent may take the place of fat removed from skimmed milk or separated milk. Experiments tend to show that corn fed to calves should be cracked rather than finely ground. Ground oats are good in grain mixtures when available, but in many cases cost much more per unit of feed than corn and bran. The following grain mixtures are recommended in the bulletin:

- (1) Three parts cracked corn and one part wheat bran.
- (2) Three parts cracked corn, one part wheat bran, and one part ground oats.
- (3) Three parts cracked corn, one part wheat bran, one part ground oats, and one part linseed meal.
- (4) Five parts cracked corn, one part wheat bran, one part ground oats, and one part blood meal.
- (5) Oats, ground.

Clover hay, alfalfa hay, or the most palatable roughage available should be given the calf after the second week. Alfalfa is liable to cause scours, and should be fed sparingly at first and increased only after the calf gets accustomed to it. At first, hay should be furnished only a handful at a time and be placed so that it can not be soiled. For the first six months, at least, the calf should receive all the

WILL DEMAND FOR HORSES CONTINUE?

According to statistics from the Department of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the United States, for the twenty-seven months ending December 1, 1916, there had been shipped to the European war zone 1,029,961 horses and mules, valued at $216,941,912.

A firm handling 70,000 horses for export within the past two years estimates that the farmers of the country realized for the horses sold: Cavalry horses, $115; French artillery horses, $140; British artillery horses, $165.

Draft horses over 1,650 pounds are sold at $215 to $240. Horses weighing from 1,000 to 1,100 pounds bring $115. From the same mare one cross of draft-horse blood would have produced a horse weighing from 1,200 to 1,500 pounds, raising the value from $115 to $140 to the far better price of $165 per head. Thus one cross with a draft horse increases the value of the progeny of a mare $35 to $50, and the second cross from $35 to $50 more. Seventy-five per cent of the horses sold abroad are grade Percherons, we are told in The Breeders' Gazette.

Critics are disagreed as to the demand for horses and mules after the war shall have closed. All are of the opinion, however, that, regardless of the close or continuation of the war, the horse to raise is the grade draft horse. He costs little more to produce and there is a ready market and the buyers pay a good price.

THE CORPORATION IS AN ENTITY.

Speaking of Senate Bill No. 219, Frank Kell, a real, constructive thinker and a practical town builder, whose name is associated with the growth of Wichita Falls, Texas, says:

"Regardless of how bad the present rate situation in Texas is, due to the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Shreveport case, that situation will not be aided by the retaliatory nature of such legislation as Senate Bill No. 219, this bill being so drastic in its nature and the results which will arise from it being so serious to Texas. I believe it easily becomes the most violently drastic measure that was ever introduced in any legislative body in the history of Texas or any other commonwealth.

"By this law it is intended to deprive the railroads of Texas of the substantial right enjoyed by ordinary litigants to contend for their good faith position, except upon the hazard of the forfeiture of its charter and calling down upon itself a receivership if it should develop in final litigation that the railroads' contentions were not sustained. Railroads, like every citizen and taxpayer of the government should have the right to assert and defend what they believe to be their legal rights without the hazard of such dreadful consequences.

"This measure, if enacted into law, would not only entitle the Attorney General of Texas to forfeit the charter of railroads on ground that might, as it seems to me, be almost quibbles, but invites and bids for a spoliation of the railroads of Texas.

"As I recall the figures, there were less than twenty miles of new railroad built in Texas last year. We need more railroads in this State, particularly in the north-western part of the State, where we have an empire of yet undeveloped country, instead of destroying those we already have.

"Having had some experience in trying to interest outside investors in Texas railroads, I believe I am in position to now say that if Senate Bill No. 219 were enacted into law it would sound the death knell of railroad building in Texas unless and until this drastic measure will have been repealed."

The corporation is a legal entity, and must be recognized as such to give capital a just opportunity. The corporation is nothing more than a group of individuals pooling their money, energy and brains to accomplish the big things which the private individual cannot do. It is one of the great factors in economic co-operation. When the and opposition to the peoples' innate enemies, the corporations, has constructive, large-scale development is retarded.

That corporations have abused the power which is inherent in them by nature, no one will be so foolish as to deny. That limitation of their power is in itself evil is a foolhardy tenet. Society's protection demands that they be restrained in power, that approximate justice may be maintained. We say approximate, for our system of law and our judiciary cannot mete out absolute justice.

Texas has a reputation for passing laws restraining the activity of capital. Conservative corporations are slow to invest in this territory, we are told by men who are in a position to know. The time has come for Texas to go slow in its legislation against corporation activity. The time was when restraint was needed. The necessity of it has been heralded from every stump in Texas by gum-shoe politicians and demagogues. Anything which smacked of fire-eating hatred time comes that it cannot receive justice in law and equity, real been greedily seized upon by scheming tricksters, who sought public preferment through the channels of notoriety.

It is time for Texas to reflect and see whether she has been swayed too much and influenced in enactment of laws too drastic or unjust. It is time for her to weigh carefully legislation pending and proposed. There is such a thing as the pendulum of public opinion's swinging too far in the direction of corporation restraint. Texas will find it to her interest to protect herself from the monopolistic tendency of corporations, but at the same time she should recognize their potency in development and their economic necessity.

A Sacrifice to Men and Boys

Understand this to begin with—every known article of wearing apparel is soaring in price on the wholesale markets. If we were not so very crowded for room, if our spring and summer stocks were not crowding in on us, we could make money by carrying over until next fall our conservative styles in men's and boy's clothing and furnishings.

Now then get this point—we have to move some goods to make room for others. If you have a corner of the closet which is not being used you can't make money easier or surer than to store in it some of the winter clothes we are offering men and boys at sacrifice prices. Of this you may be sure—the same quality goods we offer now at regular prices will be higher next fall, at the special prices we quote they will be very much higher. It won't take very much of a mathematician or an economist to understand this message of saving.

WAYLAND COLLEGE NEWS.

The Philomethesian and Mu Sigma Rho Societies gave their annual reception Wednesday evening, in the lobby of the girls' dormitory. We always look forward to this affair with pleasure. The room was beautifully decorated in their society colors. Ice cream and cakes were served.

Prof. R. M. Crabb was unable to meet his classes Tuesday, on account of sickness. Several of the students have been kept out of school this week on account of sickness.

Miss Ophelia Donnell, teacher of voice, rendered a beautiful solo in chapel Tuesday morning.

Arthur Landers, of Abernathy, Texas, went home to spend a few days.

Wayland has adopted the demerit system, and will send reports to students' parents every month. Most parents will appreciate these monthly reports.

The campaign to raise $30,000 in Hale County for Wayland College is moving on. About $23,000.00 has been subscribed. From a student's view of it, every man, woman and child in Hale County ought to get into this campaign with a sacrificial offering.

"HIS TREATMENT IS REMARKABLE," HE SAYS.
Capt. F. S. Patty, Ex-Passenger Agent, Northern Pacific, Discusses Former Troubles.

Nearly everybody in Knoxville, especially railroad people, know Captain F. S. Patty, for twelve years district passenger agent for the Northern Pacific Railroad, with local offices in Chattanooga and general offices in St. Paul, Minn.

On account of generally failing health Captain Patty was forced to discontinue active work, and for the past few years has been making his home in Knoxville, where he numbers his friends by his acquaintances. He is a kind, genial gentleman of the old school, and is beloved by all who know him. The following interesting statement was made by him in person to the Tanlac representative:

"I am 69 years old, and always enjoyed good health up until about six years ago, when I suffered a nervous breakdown and my general health gradually failed me. My principal trouble was indigestion and catarrh, but my whole system seemed to be out of shape. My condition finally got so bad I couldn't sleep at night, and always after eating I would suffer so from indigestion and heart-burn that I felt just like there was a coal of fire in my stomach. My hearing and vision were also affected. I consulted several doctors here in Knoxville and other cities, and they helped me considerably, and I finally got so I could go around, but some how I just couldn't feel right and could not sleep at night, which made me awfully nervous, and nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me.

"I began reading about this Tanlac when you first came here, but did not decide to try the medicine until I talked with a friend of mine who had actually used it. He said it was the best thing he had ever taken, and that was sufficient proof for me.

"I have just finished the first bottle, and came here this morning, not only to buy the second bottle, but to tell you just what it has done for me. I began enjoying my meals from the first few drops. My nervousness is gone and I can sleep like a child, and always wake up in the morning ready for breakfast and feeling refreshed. I am very fond of onions, but was almost afraid to eat them, because they always disagreed with me so; I could taste them for hours afterwards. I ate one for dinner the other day and it agreed with me perfectly, and I felt no bad after-effects whatsoever. I tell you, I am beginning to feel like a different man, and am always going to keep this Tanlac on hand. It has done me more good than anything else in the medicine line I have ever taken. I certainly do recommend it to my friends. It is really remarkable."

Tanlac is sold in Plainview by Long-Harp Drug Co.—Advertisement.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, it has pleased our Heavenly Father, in accordance with His divine purpose, to call from our midst our beloved sister Sarah M. Frye, who became a member of Plainview Chapter No. 37, Order of Eastern Star, on April 2nd, 1898, exemplifying in her life the virtues taught by the Order—"Fidelity, Constancy, Light, Purity, Joy, Hope and Immortality"—and receiving at the end of life's journey the blessed commendation, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord"; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by Plainview Chapter No. 37, Order of Eastern Star, that we deplore her passing; and be it

RESOLVED, further, that a copy of these resolutions be sent the bereaved families, a copy be furnished the newspapers, and a copy spread upon the minutes of the Chapter.

IT MAKES COWS WORTH MORE.

Employment of an efficiency expert by dairymen of Sedgwick County, Harvey and Reno Counties has increased the price of their milk cows. Dr. T. J. Axtell, of Newton, pointed out to members of the test association at a meeting here.

"I had priced one of my cows at $75 before we went to testing our cows, but the test showed her so much more valuable than I had estimated that I immediately raised the price to $125, and she sold the next day," said the doctor, who is one of the owners of a large herd near Newton.

By employment of the expert, P. C. McGillard, of the State Agricultural College, it is proposed to reduce the cost of herd maintenance and increase the production of milk. Representatives of the following eleven herd owners were at the conference here: Axtell & Porter, Newton; T. M. Kanavel, Sedgwick; L. C. Phillips, Valley Center; C. G. Lloyd, Volley Center; G. P. Tuttle, Newton; the Wichita Holstein Herd Company, E. M. Leach, F. H. Boch, P. W. Emms, Beals Becker and A. F. Babb.—Wichita Beacon.

Mrs. J. C. Woolverton and son, Everett, went to Floydada Tuesday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rushing.

Ed and Jim Dougherty, of Lockney, were here Tuesday on business.

"Abernathy, Texas, February 9th, 1917. Plainview Evening Herald: I had such good results from the ad I put in your paper about my chickens am sending another. Cold Days Require Coal
Why is it that some folks always delay their coal buying and the installing of their stoves until the last minute when every member of the family has run the risk of serious cold or pneumonia and until all of the coal and stove dealers are so busy they cannot give the best service? Surely the wise man will not be caught in a blizzard with his coal supply not yet laid in.
We have the supply of coal, we have the prompt service, and the prices are lower now than they will be when winter gets here. Isn't it good health insurance, isn't it good business, isn't it the sensible thing to do to place your order now?
Just phone us at 162 and we will do the rest.

The members of the class have previously subscribed liberal amounts as individuals. This money will apply on the $30,000 the college board is now endeavoring to raise.

On Washington's natal day (February 22nd) there will be, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Quisenberry, a birthday "Tea Party" for all. This party is for the entire community—an opportunity for everyone to contribute to the Wayland College fund as many pennies as they are years old. Children from 1 year up, come and meet Mr. and Mrs. George Washington and the Colonial dames. Adults and centenarians especially invited. If an invitation fail to reach you, make a bag, place within your pennies, and come. Your small gifts will be greatly appreciated by those interested in saving Wayland College. May you nobly respond to this modest appeal under the present crisis. Adv. 2t. A BAYLORITE.
