STAY WITH THEM

As was anticipated, the German papers bitterly resent President Wilson's "attempt to dictate Germany's internal policy." The ground for the President's demand is solid however. Nations, in dealing with each other, must act on the same principles as firms or corporations. If the head of a business concern deliberately breaks contracts, other concerns are absolutely justified in refusing to deal with the offending company until that head or the entire management, is removed. It has no other recourse. Any other action would be sheer imbecility. The German managers have, of their own accord, put themselves outside the pale. They flaunt before the world the fact that they can be trusted. "We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the people of the world would be justified in accepting," says the President. "Conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the people themselves," is just a mighty diplomatic way of saying "German republic."—Wichita Beacon.

It is important to you to be early in buying the clothes and shoes you will need this fall.

Here's The Reason

Reinken's Store, anticipating the abnormal conditions existing this fall, contracted early in the year for fall merchandise to be made up to our specifications, thus securing the advantage of prices away below what the same goods are worth today.

Since the United States entered the war, many clothes manufacturing shops and shoe factories have had a large part of their output commandeered by the Federal Government, which has had a tendency to make civilian merchandise scarce and higher by far than the prices obtaining in early months of this year.

The net result is that as long as our fall stocks are complete, we can sell our customers at prices based on a lower cost to us, than if we had to go into the markets for our goods today, however when stocks become depleted and merchandise has to be re-ordered, prices will go to a higher plane.

Therefore we say to our friends

TRIPLETT-HANSEN.

On Thursday, September 6, Miss Harriet Hansen and Frank Triplett were quietly married, at the home of the bride's parents, west of Hale Center.

The beautiful ring ceremony was performed by Rev. T. B. Haynie, of Plainview.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a navy blue taffeta and georgette crepe dress and carried an arm bouquet of white asters.

Miss Mabel Hansen, sister of the bride, made a very charming bridesmaid. Her dress was of silver gray taffeta and she wore a corsage bouquet of sweet peas.

Nick Alley, of Hale Center, served as best man.

The groom is a well known young stock farmer, and has a host of friends in the Panhandle country, having been raised in Hale County.

The bride has lived here only a few months, but has already won many friends by her quiet dignity and sweet, unassuming manner.

Many handsome presents were received by the young couple, showing the love and esteem of their friends.

Immediately after the ceremony, an ice course was served.

The bride and groom left by automobile for the White Mountains and other points in New Mexico for a short honeymoon, after which they will be at home to their friends at the Triplett home, west of Hale Center.

The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the reception and dining rooms.

Many beautiful presents were received. While the packages were being opened the rice bag was punched and a shower of rice fell upon the bride-elect.

A four-course dinner was served.

Miss Akers and Edward P. Blair will be married Sunday.

DR. SHURTER FEATURED ON INSTITUTE PROGRAM.

(Continued from Page One.) scientific training. But we in this country have by no means entirely eliminated the traditional idea of the college as a thing set apart from the people as a whole. The idea still prevails, in large measure, that the sole function of the university is to train leaders, and that university graduates are the only sure props of the state. It is only within the past decade that these institutions of higher learning are, as far as possible, for the people of the commonwealth as a whole. I refer now to that branch of university work in which I am intensely interested and with which I am chiefly engaged, that is, the University Extension idea. We have come to see that a state university supported by public taxation owes a duty to the people who support it; that it is the function of such an institution to carry, so far as is practicable, the university to the people and to give the citizens of the state who for one reason or another cannot attend the university as students the benefit of the university's store of knowledge. The aim of our University Department of Extension is to make the University of Texas a university with the whole state for its campus and all the people of the state its student body.

There are various other ways in which we attempt to give the people of the state the benefit of university instruction and assistance. We offer courses in correspondence instruction. Our Extension Loan Library service will send you information and material on almost every subject of present-day interest. The University Interscholastic league, conducted under the auspices of the University Extension Department, aims to reach the schools in the matter of organizing and promoting healthy school activities outside of the regular curriculum, by holding local, county, district, and state contests in debate, declamation, essay writing, spelling, and athletics. If you wish assistance and expert advice in any individual or community project, the University Extension Department stands ready to help you. In short, the extension work of the modern state university is one of the most powerful forces developed within the past ten years for democratizing education—for making the state university in fact as well as in name the People's University.

I have just been speaking of the qualifications for a citizen as applicable to him alone. But man, as Aristotle long ago remarked, "is a social being," and if the high-school graduate, to quote Mr. Roosevelt's phrase, is to be worth his salt, he must associate with and make his influence felt upon the people and community with whom his lot is cast. In other words, the high-school graduate should be in his own sphere a leader in his community. He should be equipped for social service. Now, equipment for social service involves a great many things, but let me speak of two or three ways in which social service must work itself out in practical life. In the first place, a man must of course communicate with his fellow-beings, and if he is to have a real social or community spirit, he must realize the value in modern life of team-work. In other words, he must realize the message or communicating his influence to them, he must be capable of valuable lesson that our boys and girls using, in a practical way, his mother in school learn in connection with athletic contests, and that is the necessity of his own language. Wise was the poet who said, "Who lacks the power to shape his thought, I hold were little poorer if he lacked the thought." In the boy playing football learns that he cannot indulge in grandstand plays and undertake to play the game by himself, but that he must become part and parcel in the team-work. And this lesson is invaluable to him in future equipped for social service; he must life."

MISSOURI CORN CROP HEAVY. State Will Raise 280,000 Bushels This Year, Official Report Says.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 3.—Two hundred and eight million bushels of corn, 42,000,000 bushels of oats and 22,000,000 bushels of wheat will be Missouri's contribution to the allied war crop bins, according to the September crop report issued by the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

Corn, except in Northeast Missouri, made remarkable improvement during the month of August. The weather conditions have been too cool for rapid growth, but most corn will be safe from killing frosts, which on the average come from October 5 to 15 north of the river and from October 5 to 25 south.

BEHIND THE LINES.

Miss Ethel Dickens writes her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dickens, that German spies and German agents are busy in Los Angeles. Last week a fine-looking, elderly woman, nicely dressed, visited the Red Cross headquarters and said she wanted to do her bit for the soldiers and left twelve pairs of finely knitted socks. She was thanked heartily for her kindness. On preparing the socks for shipment, one of the ladies ran her hand in one to better see the work of the knitting, but quickly withdrew it to find it cut in many places and bleeding. On examining the socks they were found to be lined with ground glass.

Uncle Lark needs no introduction in this county, but as the Times has some few readers abroad, we'll tell them who he is. Away back in the '70's, we think it was, a poor country boy, who was too delicate to work on his father's farm, opened up a little country store, which he operated successfully for thirty-five years, losing only $35 in bad accounts during his entire business career. Finally his health became so bad that he had to give up his business. Then he came to Thomaston and soon afterwards organized the Bank of Thomaston, of which he has been the financial backer ever since.

Two months ago, Uncle Lark and his wife commenced taking Tanlac, and now he says that his stomach is in carrying on the war.

Labor Upholds Wilson.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 6.—The American Alliance of Labor and Democracy late today unanimously adopted a resolution denouncing as unwarranted the declarations of the People's Council of America for Democracy and Terms of Peace, and other similar organizations that America has not clearly stated her war aims.

"No government has ever stated its war aims so clearly, war aims entirely consistent with ideals of democracy and internationalism," the resolution said.

The resolution, viewed by some delegates as the government's unofficial reply to the criticisms of pacifists and pro-German propagandists, was read by John Spargo, former member of the executive committee of the Socialist Party, and was adopted almost immediately amid applause.

forty head of cattle and horses on this tract from December 1st to March 10th. He states that it is his intention to plant 300 acres of wheat this fall.

A. E. Tunberg won second in irrigated yield per acre, with a record of 34 bushels, and second in weight test of 62 1/2 pounds. Mr. Tunberg planted fifty-three acres of land, which had been prepared for row crops in the spring of 1916. There was no crop on the land the year before. It was listed, go-deviled and harrowed last fall and planted late with seed which had been given the formaldehyde treatment for smut. This field was grazed only slightly. Mr. Tunberg will plant 170 acres to wheat this season.

Cyrus Erb, of Olton, won fourth in weight test, with a score of 62 pounds. Mr. Erb's field was dry farmed. It was listed for row stuff in the spring and relisted the last of September, go-deviled and harrowed the 15th of October and sowed immediately, a little more than one-half bushel of non-treated seed to the acre being used. Mr. Erb expects to more than double his acreage this fall.

These winning exhibits give in skeletonized form the methods employed by those who were most successful at the recent Wheat Show. Information furnished by other entrants will be given in next Tuesday's Herald.

Washington's Vision

The story of Washington's vision herein related will be wonderfully appropriate at the present war crisis, when the time is near at hand for the fulfillment of the last part of the vision. The story of this vision was published in 1860, when a part of the prophecy was fulfilled. Since that time it has been preserved by Geo. Duckwall, of this city. We copy it from the National Economist, in which it was published September 17, 1892:

"The last time I saw Anthony Sherman was on July 4, A. D. 1859, in Independence Square. He was then ninety-nine and becoming very feeble, but though so old, his dimming eye rekindled as he looked at Independence Hall, which he said he had come to gaze upon once more before he was gathered home.

"What time is it?" said he, raising his trembling eye to the clock in the steeple, and endeavoring to shade the former with a trembling hand. "What time is it? I can't see as well as I used to."

"Half-past three."

"Come, then," he continued, "let us go into the hall. I want to tell you an incident in Washington's life, one which no one alive knows except myself, and if you live you will see it verified."

"Reaching the visitors' room, in which the sacred relics of our early days are preserved, we sat down upon one of the old-fashioned wooden benches, and my venerable companion then related to me the following singular narrative, which, from the peculiarity of our national affairs at the present time, I have been induced to give to the world. I will give it as nearly as possible in his own words:

"When the bold action of our Congress in asserting the independence of the colonies became known in the Old World, we were laughed and scoffed at as silly, presumptuous rebels, whom the British grenadiers would soon take into submission. Undauntedly we prepared to make good what we had said. The keen encounter came, and the world knows the result. It is easy and pleasant for those of the present generation to write of the boys of '76, but they little know, neither can they imagine, the trials and sufferings of those fearful days. And there is one thing which I most fear, and that is that the American people do not properly appreciate the boon of freedom. Party spirit is yearly becoming stronger and stronger, and, without it is checked, will at no distant day undermine and tumble into ruin the noble Republic. But let me hasten to my narrative.

"From the opening of the revolution we experienced all phases of fortune, now good and now ill, one time victorious and another conquered. The darkest period, however, was, I think, when Washington, after several reverses, retreated to Valley Forge, where he resolved to pass the winter of '77. Ah, I have often seen the tears coursing down the dear old commander's care-worn cheeks as he would be conversing with some officer about the condition of his poor soldiers. You have doubtless heard the story of Washington going to the thicket to pray. Well, it is not only true, but he used often to pray in secret for aid and comfort from that God, the interposition of whose Divine Providence alone brought us safely through those dark days of tribulation.

"One day—I remember it well—the chilly wind whistled through the leafless trees, though the sky was cloudless and the sun shining brightly—he remained in his quarters nearly the whole afternoon alone. When he came out I noticed that his face was a shade paler than usual and that there seemed to be something on his mind of more than ordinary importance. Returning, just after dusk, he despatched an orderly for the officer I mentioned, who was presently in attendance. After a preliminary conversation, which lasted some half an hour, Washington, gazing upon his companion with that strange look of dignity—which he alone could command—said to the latter:

"I do not know whether it was owing to the anxiety of my mind, or what, but this afternoon as I was sitting at this very table, engaged in preparing a dispatch, something seemed to disturb me. Looking up, I beheld standing opposite me a singularly beautiful female. So astonished was I, for I had given strict orders not to be disturbed, that it was some moments before I found language to inquire the cause of her presence. A second, a third, and even fourth time did I repeat the question, but received no other answer from my mysterious visitor than a slight raising of the eyes. By this time I felt a strange sensation spreading through me. I would have risen, but the riveted gaze of the being before me rendered volition impossible. I essayed once more to address her, but my tongue had become powerless. Even thought itself presently became paralyzed. A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible, took possession of me. All

I could do was to gaze steadily, vacantly at my unknown visitor. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as though becoming full of sensations and grew luminous. Everything about me appeared to rarify the mysterious visitor, herself more airy and yet more distinct to my eyes than before. I now began to feel as one dying, or rather to experience the sensations which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution. I did not think, I did not reason, I did not move, all were alike impossible. I was only conscious of gazing, fixedly, vacantly, at my companion.

"Presently I heard a voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' While at the same time my visitor extended her arm and forefinger eastwardly. I now beheld a heavy white vapor at some distance, rising fold upon fold. This gradually disappeared, and I looked upon a strange scene. Before me lay spread out one vast plain, all the countries of the world—Europe, Asia, Africa and America. I saw rolling and tossing between Europe and America the billows of the Atlantic, and between Asia and America lay the Pacific.

"Son of the Republic," said the same mysterious voice as before, "look and learn." At the same moment I beheld a dark, shadowy being, like an angel in mid-air, between Europe and America, dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of each hand. He sprinkled some upon America with the right, while he cast upon Europe some with the left. Immediately a dark cloud arose from each of these countries, and joined in mid-ocean. For a while it remained stationary, and then moved slowly westward until it enveloped America in its murky fold. Sharp flashes of lightning now gleamed through it at intervals, and I heard the smothered groans and cries of the American people. A second time the angel dipped water out of the ocean and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was again drawn back to the ocean, into whose waves it sank from view. A third time I heard this mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' I cast my eyes upon America, and beheld villages, towns and cities springing up, one after another, until the whole land, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was dotted with them. Again I heard the mysterious voice say, 'Son of the Republic, look up and learn.' As the voice ceased, the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. Instantly the dark clouds rolled back, together with the armies it had brought, leaving the inhabitants of the land victorious. Then once more I saw villages, towns and cities springing up where they had been before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried with a loud voice to the inhabitants: 'While the stars remain and the heavens send down dew upon the earth, so long shall the Republic last.' And taking from his brow which still blazed the word 'Union,' he placed it upon the standard, while the people kneeling down said: 'Amen.'

"The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve, and at last I saw nothing but the rising, curling white vapor."

"Then my eyes looked upon a fearful scene; from each of these countries arose thick, black clouds and they were joined into one. And throughout this mass gleamed a dark, red light, by which I saw herds of armed men who, moving with the clouds, marched by land, sailed by sea to America, which country was enveloped in the volume of the cloud; and I dimly saw the vast armies devastate the whole country, and pillage and burn the towns, villages and cities which I had beheld springing up. As my ears listened to the thundering of the cannons, clashing of the swords, shouts and cries of the millions of mortals, again I heard with the left. Immediately a dark cloud arose from each of these countries, and joined in mid-ocean. For a while it remained stationary, and then moved slowly westward until it enveloped America in its murky fold. Sharp flashes of lightning now gleamed through it at intervals, and I heard the smothered groans and cries of the American people. A second time the angel dipped water out of the ocean and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was again drawn back to the ocean, into whose waves it sank from view. A third time I heard this mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' I cast my eyes upon America, and beheld villages, towns and cities springing up, one after another, until the whole land, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was dotted with them. Again I heard saying, 'Son of the Republic, look up and learn.' As the voice ceased, the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. "The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve, and at last I saw nothing but the rising, curling white vapor."

No matter how well you know fine cars, scores of features will surprise you in the Mitchells, we believe.

These are examples of the extra values which efficiency methods can give. And they are fine examples. All are produced complete—chassis and body—under John W. Bate, the efficiency expert. And in a model plant, where up-to-date methods have cut labor cost in two.

Wanted Extras.

We have taken pains to learn what men and women want. And they are all in the latest Mitchells.

There are 31 features rarely found in cars. These include a power tire pump, dashboard engine primer, reversible headlights, etc.

There are shock-absorbing springs, found on no other car. They make the Mitchell the easiest-riding car. In two years—since we adopted this feature—not a single spring has broken.

Double Strength.

But the greatest Mitchell feature is the 100 per cent over-strength. In the past three years we have doubled our margins of safety.

Safety parts are vastly over-size. Castings are almost eliminated. Over 440 parts are built of toughened steel. We spend $100,000 yearly on radical tests and inspections.

The result is a lifetime car. Two Mitchells that we know of have already been run over 200,000 miles each.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S MESSAGE TO TEXAS FARMERS.

Assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Clarence Ousley delivered the following address before the Texas Farmers' Congress at College Station, Texas, August 1, 1917.

"Ladies and Gentlemen and Members of the Farmers' Congress: I have obtruded myself on this program, not because I desired to do so for a personal reason, but because, before I left Washington, it occurred to me that it would be becoming to receive as a message some words from the Commander in Chief of the common army of this great commonwealth. I, therefore, requested of Secretary Houston a word from President Wilson that I might bring to this body for tonight. The request was proffered at a very late part of the week and at a very hurried session of the Cabinet. The President, therefore, was not able to write, but he expressed to Secretary Houston, who expressed to me and made note of the President's remarks, certain short, concise statements which I communicate to you in the name of Secretary Houston and President Wilson:

The Letter.
"Washington, D. C., 1917.
"Dear Mr. Ousley:
"The Secretary spoke to the President about sending a message through you to the Farmers' Congress, a message in substance as follows:
"He deeply appreciates the generous response of the farmers of Texas to the Nation's appeal for increased production. The farmers of the Nation have given very concrete evidence of their patriotism and of their recognition of the fact that an abundance of foodstuffs is essential to the successful prosecution of this struggle, for the defense of our rights and for the safeguarding of democracy. We must see to it that we have enough food for our own needs, including those of the troops who will fight our battles. We must also make sure that we shall have enough supplies sufficiently abundant to make it possible for us to meet in part the needs of the nations with which we are co-operating in this conflict. He expresses the hope that the State of Texas, with its large and fertile agricultural areas, will more and more realize how much the Nation depends upon it, both for food and clothing.

"Sincerely yours,
"For a proper understanding of the significance of that hope that you will the more and more realize how much the Nation depends upon you, let me remind you that the South produces 46 per cent of the farm products of the United States and that Texas produces one-third to one-fourth of that 45 per cent. Since there is no margin of abundance between what the world needs and what may possibly be produced by the man who is left upon the farms of the earth today, it is not too much to say that if Texas fails in its duty to produce sufficiently this contest will be lost to democracy and it will perish from the earth. May I take back this evening from this body the assurance to Mr. Houston and President Wilson that Texas will not fail?"
The last request of Colonel Ousley was answered by a rising vote of thanks and appreciation on the part of the audience, granting him permission to carry back to President Wilson an assurance that the farmers of Texas will not fail in their duty.

WAR SERVICE EMBLEMS FOR THE BOY SCOUTS.

About 10,000 Medals Were Won in the Liberty Loan Bond Campaign.

All Boy Scouts of America who secured ten or more individual subscriptions from different homes for Liberty Loan Bonds are entitled to War Service Emblems, says Scouting. The same is true of Scouts who have secured the cultivation of ten gardens or the increased acreage of ten gardens.

Reports received up to date by the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America show that over 10,000 troops of Scouts participated in the bond campaign and that approximately 10,000 medals have been won.
Sales of Liberty Loan Bonds were made to about 150,000 individuals, and the aggregate value of the bonds disposed of was approximately $24,000,000.
It is expected that the United States Treasury Department seal will be on the War Service Emblem and that the emblems will be sent to a Federal Judge, a United States District Attorney or to a postmaster in each district and presented to the Scouts by these officials in the name of the Secretary of the Treasury with appropriate ceremony. A most stimulating effect toward this young citizenship will be the net and permanent result.

Who would have dreamed six months ago that the world would be so absorbed just now in the doings of a man named Kerensky?—Kansas City Star.

The Kaiser declared he would stand no nonsense from America after the war. The position is likely to be reversed.—Baltimore American.

Wayland Baptist College—This institution offers excellent advantages in the Departments of Music, Art, Expression, Business, Education etc. Students who finish in our Academy will be admitted to schools or colleges of university rank. Students who complete our two years of regular College work will be admitted to the Junior year in the best Colleges or Universities.
Best Educators are now agreed that it is better to take Academy or Junior College work in a regular Junior College. Young and immature students can not have the personal attention and individual attention in larger Colleges or Universities which they would have in a school like Wayland or other Junior Colleges.
The Department of Education which has been recently added will be in charge of Dr. W. A. Wilson, an educator of long and successful experience, who has made special study of educational problems in America and Europe. Special attention will be given to those who wish to prepare themselves for the work of teaching. Write for catalogue or confer with us personally.

They both come together on Wednesday, the most of the old-timers and the tune-fullest of the old fiddlers. Hon. Thos. F. Turner, president of the Old Settlers' Association, is ready with the official register for the greatest gathering yet of the Quarter Century Club. Every old fiddler in the Panhandle, Western Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico is invited to compete for prizes, and the Panhandle Fair Association will see that you get to the Fair if you can fiddle.

$2.00 a Year; $1.00 6 Months. Advertising Rates on Application

APPRECIATE THE TRAVELLER.

Each improvement shows us where others are necessary. With the appropriation by the Government of $10,000, for use on the nationally designated Puget Sound to Gulf Highway comes the common sense, business getting suggestion that if Plainview is to get the most out of this or any other highway used for cross-country travel it must make the travelling public feel that we are interested in their welfare along the route.

It is perhaps most too late in the season to agitate the provision of a municipally managed camping site for tourists, but it is not too early to make preparations for such a site for next season.

Many towns in Colorado are today providing wood, water, toilet facilities and other outdoor comforts to motorists, and advertising that fact for miles on every road leading from those communities. Such advertising is good but the best advertising is from the pleased camping party which has availed itself of the accommodations. The traveler will do more to divert traffic your way if we show him that his visit is appreciated.

THE KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, Sept. 7th.—Cattle received this week amounted to 77,400, last week 63,000, same week last year 40,000. The market closes 25 to 50 cents below Monday, except for choice to prime cattle, top this week $16.75. Hogs this week 19,000, last week 19,000, same week last year 29,000. Declines of 15 to 25 cents have been enforced from day to day, except today, when prices held steady, top $18.25. Sheep this week 23,000, last week 16,000, same week last year 27,000, market stronger, lambs to killers today $17.40, feeding lambs $17.50.

Beef Cattle.

Several droves of cattle sold at $16.00 to $16.75 during the week, and that kind are steady to higher. Feeder buyers helped out on suitable fleshy grass steers, paying $11.50 to $13.20 for them, which made a steady market on cattle that got the double competition. Other grass cattle closed lower. Strikes at packing houses weakened the situation at the end of the week. Omaha plants are all closed, and some trouble is anticipated at Chicago. Cudahy's plant is the only one closed here. Packers have large orders to fill, and doubtless they will soon arrange to keep the plants running full time.

Stocks and Feeders.

Prices are 50 cents lower this week except on fleshy steers that can be turned at an early date. Uncertainty about Government action in regulating prices, together with fears of early-frost damage to corn, cause country buyers to hesitate, although cattle are selling at bargain prices, stock steers $6.50 to $9.00, feeder-weight steers $8.75 to $10.25, fleshy feeders up to $12.30, stock cows and heifers $5.75 to $9.00.

Salesmen have resisted the decline this week, but could not stop it till today, though receipts continue on a semi-famine basis. Young hogs are being held back, and very few pigs are coming. While there are not as many light hogs in the receipts as formerly, there is still quite a spread in quality, and only a few choice corn-fed hogs are included. These, of course, sell up to the top, any weight above 220 pounds, best here today $18.25, bulk of sales $17.25 to $18.00, pigs $15.00 to $16.50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Twenty-one doubles of good to choice Utah lambs made up a good share of the supply this week, and brought top prices, killers paying $15.40 for most of the fat end, 74 to 78 pounds, and feeder buyers $17.50 for lambs weighing 62 to 69 pounds. About 3,600 Arizona feeding lambs sold at $16.85, 62 to 64 pounds average. Colorado lambs have been scarce, and few good natives have been received, some of the latter to killers at $16.75. Breeding ewes sell at $13.00 to $16.75.

THREE TRUCKS CARRY SCHOOL CHILDREN AT LITTLEFIELD, LITTLEFIELD.

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, Sept. 10.—School opened here today with an increased attendance. This community has taken very forward steps in school matters. The modern brick building and equipment are second to none in the country. Three large trucks, especially equipped for the purpose, have been engaged to transport the children from the rural sections to and from school. Probably no community in Texas, regardless of size and age, has made such progressive steps for the handling of its school children. In addition to the regular grades up to the eleventh, domestic science, manual training, and agriculture are taught. The play-ground equipment is also modern and up to date.

WHISKY MANUFACTURE STOPPED LAST NIGHT.

Stocks of Distilled Liquors in United States Placed at 230,000,000 Gallons.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Tonight at 11 o'clock whisky manufacture ceased in the United States under the provisions of the food control law, and the millions of bushels of grain heretofore used in making that form of drink will be diverted to food. Importation of whisky also stopped tonight.

Just how much grain will be added to the food supplies as a result is not determinable, but experts say that about 160,000,000 bushels are used by the distilleries each year, of which about 40,000,000 bushels are used in whisky manufacture.

Distilleries may continue manufacturing alcohol for commercial purposes, and many of them have arranged for this work, others turning their distilleries into manufacturing plants for yeast, vinegar and by-products.

Stocks of whisky in the country undoubtedly are larger than they ever have been. Distillers have been working at utmost capacity and imports have been larger than ever. Officials estimate the quantity of whisky in bonded warehouses to be about 190,000,000 gallons. Stocks not in bond will bring the quantity on hand in the country up to about 230,000,000 gallons. The annual production of whisky has been about 116,000,000 gallons.

W. A. Parish, of Houston, was the guest last week of his sister, Mrs. R. A. Underwood.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE TEACHERS' DISTRICT INSTITUTE.

We, your committee on resolutions, beg leave to submit the following report:

First—We desire to render our thanks to all those who have in any way contributed to our comfort and entertainment during this institute. Among these may be mentioned the county superintendents of Hale, Floyd, Swisher, Briscoe and Lamb counties for their generosity and liberality; the pastors of the different churches for their generous response to the numbers on the program; the school board of Plainview, who furnished us this magnificent building in which to meet; the officers of the general assembly and of the sectional meetings for their patient and efficient supervision; and the musicians for the numerous selections rendered.

Second—Be it further resolved that we heartily endorse the plan of joint county institutes as held this year, and recommend to the county superintendents that they co-operate with each other that this may become a permanent organization.

Respectfully submitted,
MISS MARY GRUNDY,
MRS. SALLIE POLLEY,
H. P. WEBB,
G. W. McDANIELS,
GEO. TIMMINS.

SWEDISH OFFICER SENT ORDERS FOR GERMANS.

announcement were delivered at the same time they were made public to the Argentine embassy and the Swedish legations here. Besides revealing the means in which Germany used Sweden in her machinations in Argentina, the dispatches show how the German charge, at the time Argentina was having a critical diplomatic controversy with Germany over submarine destruction of her ships, was sending through the Swedish legation information that they were sunk "without leaving any trace" and in other dispatches informing his government how to regard Argentina's pretenses.

In the absence of any official comment it appeared that the manifest purposes of the United States in publishing the communications were two. First, to show the relations between Germany and Sweden at least so far as the legations in Argentina were concerned; and, second, to disclose to Argentina, where German influences seem to have been strongest in all South America, the manner in which the German diplomatic agent at her capital was giving secret instructions to the destruction of her shipping and the manner in which he was guiding his government in dealing with Argentina diplomatically. Germany recently gave Argentina a promise that no more of her shipping would be sunk in violation of international law. It was announced Argentina accepted Germany's promise as a satisfactory solution to the situation that threatened a break in diplomatic relations, if not war.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—While the American government awaited developments today resulting from Secretary Lansing's disclosures regarding the transmissions of official German dispatches by the Swedish charge at Buenos Aires, Washington officials and foreign diplomatists turned their attention to a study of their possible significance.

Two facts stood out clearly in the minds of most observers. Sweden will be compelled to make definite her position as a neutral and the exposure may be taken as indicating more exactly the intention of the allies to see that Germany shall cease receiving aid from all the northern European neutral countries.

Publication of the facts, although disclosing nothing the government's exports administrative board has not known for some time, reveals to the public that this government is fully cognizant of aid Sweden has been rendering the central powers and tends to cement opinion in support of the absolute embargo put into effect against Sweden along with the other neutrals, six weeks ago.

CANADA PROHIBITS USE OF CANNED VEGETABLES.

The Canada Gazette of August 21, 1917, issued at Ottawa, by authority of the Dominion Government, publishes an order in council which prohibits the use of canned vegetables except under special circumstances, beginning on that date. The order states that the Food Controller for Canada has submitted that he is advised that the canners of the Dominion are unable to supply the demand for canned vegetables for the coming season; that there will be a great supply of fresh vegetables on the market, and that an embargo upon the use of canned vegetables would work no hardship on the consumer while green and fresh vegetables are available and would stimulate the consumption of fresh vegetables, making a market for them, and also conserving the supply of canned goods for later use. Therefore, the Governor General in council, under and in virtue of the provisions of the war measure act of 1914, makes, the following regulations:

"I. On and after the twenty-fourth day of August, 1917, and until further notice, except as hereinafter provided, the sale and purchase of peas, beans, tomatoes, beets, celery, corn, spinach, rhubarb, and pumpkins, preserved in cans, glass jars, or any other container commonly known as 'canned vegetables,' is prohibited.

"II. The above regulations shall not apply: (a) When such vegetables are sold by the manufacturer to the wholesaler, jobber, or retailer; or by the wholesaler or jobber to the retailer; or (b) when such vegetables are to be consumed in lumber camps, mining camps, construction camps, and dining cars, provided that they will be consumed within said lumber camps, mining camps, construction camps, and dining cars, and not resold; (c) when such vegetables form a part of the contents of a can, glass jar, bottle, or other container, and are sold as soups, catsup, or pickles.

"III. It is provided, however, that the Food Controller for Canada may issue licenses permitting the sale and consumption of said 'canned vegetables' in such cases as he deems necessary or expedient."

THE BEET CROP IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA DISTRICT.

The crop this year in Southern California will be about 400,000 acres of first-class sugar beets—190,000 more acres than last year. That means that it cannot be harvested before November 15. It also means the sugar refineries will have an unusually long season and that many scores of persons will be given unexpected employment. This tremendous showing represents an area not over one hundred miles in extent. It is estimated that the beets will run more than eighteen tons to the acre.

A GREAT FAIR.

That the Panhandle State Fair, to be held at Amarillo, October 8th to 13th, will be much better and bigger than ever before is now an established fact. There will be upwards of $18,000 in premiums and purses to be contended for. There is $10,000 in the cattle division alone, $6,500 of which is offered in the Herford classes. Already enough entries have been announced to make the coming exhibition in the class with the Chicago Fat Stock Show and the Royal, at Kansas City, and it will be better than the Denver and Fort Worth shows. If the people of the Southwest can be brought to realize this fact as many as 75,000 people should pass through the gates at the fair to see this feature alone. But this is only one of the main attractions. One of the best agricultural displays ever shown is already promised all over the Panhandle section. Never in the history of the fair has the amusement end received so much attention as is being given it this year. Secretary J. L. Van Natta informs us that there are more than fifty horses already entered in the harness races, and he expects to see the number increased to eighty before the entries close. There is $4,000 in purses hung up for the races. Then, Mr. Van Natta has secured several clean amusement features, which will practically make "something doing" every minute. Among these latter, Mlle. La Bella and Dare Devil Hurley appear twice daily in their great automobile cloud swing, which has to be seen to be appreciated; Bell and Eva do acrobatic and clown stunts that are right up-to-now; Grace Ayer, said to be the premier roller skater of the world, puts on two exhibitions every day. These are all free entertainments for those who attend the fair. Other free attractions are being sought.

If the people of the Southwest will take hold of this great fair as they should, we will soon have as great an exhibition right here at home as the State Fair, at Dallas. Get busy, tell your friends about it, and make arrangements to be there with the whole family!

THE SECOND LIBERTY LOAN.

Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury has issued a statement that the camaign to sell the second issue of Liberty Loan Bonds will close on the first of November, 1917, and the active campaign will begin not later than a month before that date.

The Secretary explains that details of the second loan cannot be given out until final action has been taken by Congress upon the war-bond bill now pending, but announces that as soon as a new law has been passed the details will be given out. The Secretary expresses a hope that all existing Liberty Loan committees will perfect their organizations and new organizations be effected in readiness for the next campaign. As in the first campaign, the campaign in each Federal Reserve District will be under the supervision of the Federal Reserve Bank, which will act as the fiscal agent of the Government.

PAIGE

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

The New Home of the Paige

Paige cars have become a familiar sight wherever automobiles are encountered.

These cars have "backed up" every last claim that has been made for them. Through sheer merit of the product, they now occupy an unchallenged position of leadership in the moderate price field.

Never have we witnessed such a tidal wave of demand as that which has developed for the two Paige six-cylinder models.

So, there was only one thing to do—secure the sales rights for Paige cars in this territory.

And that is precisely what we have done.

The New Home of the Paige, we frankly believe, is one of the most completely equipped retail automobile establishments in this territory.

Beyond the slightest shadow of doubt—the Paige Sixes have become leaders in the "light Six field."

These cars have been instantly recognized as the greatest six-cylinder values now available.

No other construction can be placed upon such overwhelming preference on the part of men who know motor cars.

And—in conclusion—please remember—

When you buy a car from us we insist upon sharing the responsibility.

That car is our reputation running around on four wheels, and it is the first duty of every man in this organization to see that your Paige continues to run—every day in the week—every week in the year.

This is what we mean by service.

But come in. We shall do our best to make your visit interesting.

Let us show you exactly what we have to offer. Let us discuss this automobile problem from your standpoint quite as well as our own.
