KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, Oct. 5.—Cattle received this week 199,000, last week 95,500, same week last year 83,000. Killing steers are steady to 25 cents lower, butcher cattle steady to strong, stockers and feeders steady to 25 cents lower, top beef steers $16.25. Hogs this week 23,000, last week 25,000, same week last year 55,000, market uneven, strong to order buyers, weak to packers, highest price $19.65. Sheep and lambs this week 52,000, last week 51,000, same week last year 62,000, market 50 to 75 cents higher at best time, closing with half the advance lost.

Beef Cattle.

Extra strong demand for feeders first half of the week kept prices on beef steers steady, and finally forced killer buyers into active competition

Wednesday and Thursday, at firm prices. Some plain killers are lower for the week. A train of 32 cars of canner cows, stock cows and calves from New Mexico sold Thursday at $5.75 for the canners, $6.15 for the stock cows and $10.00 for the calves, strong prices, and the canners are firm today. Cow prices are holding up wonderfully well, but are due for a break, the experts say.

Stockers and Feeders.

Everything with decent quality or that showed good breeding found quick sale this week, this class of stock steers at $7.50 to $9.25, feeders $9.00 to $11.50, fleshy feeders bought away from killers as high as $14.75. Oklahoma buyers took large numbers of common stock steers, at $6.50 to $7.25.

Hogs.

Packers have tried all week to start a decline, but have had strong opposition till today, when they succeeded in getting reductions of 10 to 20 cents. Top price was $19.50, but a choice drove of hogs would have reached $19.60, greatest decline being on medium and low class hogs, that is, packer's droves. Shippers may expect a fight from packers this month, as long as there is any chance of securing a lower level of prices, for the word has gone out that winter hog prices will be around 15 to 16 cents a pound. Pig prices are higher this week, at $17.50 to $18.00.

Sheep and Lambs.

Choice Western lambs sold to killer, yesterday at $18.40, the top for the CHILDREN TO TAKE PART IN CIRCUS PARADE.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock there will be a circus parade in Plainview. In connection with the picture "Polly of the Circus," which will be shown at the Olympic this week, the children of Plainview are asked to participate in a circus parade. All who take part will be admitted to the show free of charge, and to each of the five best dressed circus characters will go $1 apiece. Just so they wear a circus costume—that is the only requirement.

FATTEN EARLY PIGS.

First Fall Markets Are the Highest; Pastures and Grain Forages Give Economical Results.

Pigs which were farrowed early and are about six months old at this time may profitably be finished now and rushed off to market, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The early fall market has been the highest market for a number of years, because the number of well finished hogs arriving at this season is limited.

Pigs may be fattened quickly and cheaply on nutritious pasture when supplemented by a full grain ration. After deducting the pork which would have been produced by the same amount of grain fed in dry lot, every acre of these pastures produces from three to six hundred pounds of pork. The full fattening power of the grain is realized as well as a profit on the pasture consumed.

In the corn belt and Eastern States, alfalfa, clover, and rape give best results. Pigs should be continued on these feeds until fat, usually for a period of six weeks at least. Alfalfa and clover may be pastured as long as forage is required, and they will produce the largest gains due to pasture. An acre of alfalfa furnishes pasture for fourteen to sixteen 150-pound hogs during this short fattening season, while clover will carry from three to four hogs less per acre. Rape is an excellent forage, and although it does not produce as much pork per acre as the two legumes previously mentioned, it returns very good profits for the trouble and expense of planting the crop. It affords pasture for a period of four to six weeks for ten to twelve 150-pound hogs per acre.

Methods of Feeding.

If the pigs are hand fed it will pay to go slow the first week and gradually get them on full feed. After they are accustomed to the method of feeding, they may be pushed along as rapidly as possible without much danger from loss of appetite. Even on leguminous pasture some protein supplement, such as tankage, should be fed with the grain in the proportion of one part of tankage to ten or fifteen parts of grain. A daily ration equal to 4 per cent or 4.5 per cent of the live weight is the maximum amount of grain that a pig will consume.

The self-feeding method is a very efficient system of feeding during this period, and produces results equal to, or better than, those obtained by hand feeding. Grain is consumed more rapidly and economically, causing the pig to attain a marketable weight in a shorter time and with a smaller amount of grain.

Fattening Pigs in the South.

By the use of several of the summer forage crops of the South pigs can be grown cheaply and come to the fattening period growthy, healthy shotes, ready to make rapid and economical gains upon rich foods.

For fattening at this early season, use should be made of the grain-pasture crops, soy beans, cowpeas, and of early-grown sweet potatoes. These crops will fatten hogs quickly and require only a small amount of grain to give good results.

On fairly rich soil, soy beans will produce more feed than the other forages. Each acre will afford pasture for ten 150-pound shotes for six to seven weeks. In order to insure against the production of an inferior soft pork, a one-third corn ration should be fed in connection with the soy-bean pasture, especially during the latter part of the fattening period, and when such a system is followed each acre of soy beans will produce from four to seven hundred pounds of pork.

Cowpeas succeed better on poor soils than do soy beans, but their value as a pork-producing crop is much less. Fully twice as much grain must be fed with the cowpea pasture as was recommended in the case of soy beans in order to obtain equally rapid and heavy gains. When a one-third grain ration is fed in connection with cowpea forage one acre will carry eight 150-pound shotes from four to five weeks, and the pork-producing power will be correspondingly reduced under that estimated for soy beans.

The Southern farmer is familiar with the culture of sweet potatoes. They may be used to very good advantage in the production of pork. The pigs do their own harvesting, and when a high-protein supplement, such as soy-bean meal, or tankage, is fed in addition in order to balance the ration, one acre will produce from four to eight hundred pounds of pork in a four weeks' grazing period, depending upon the yield of potatoes.

FEED COST OF EGGS.

What Records at Government Poultry Farm Show for Leghorn and General-Purpose Breeds.

Leghorn Pullets.

The cost of feed for producing eggs with pullets and yearling hens both from Leghorns and from general-purpose breeds, in the experiments on the United States Department of Agriculture farm, Beltsville, Md., during the past year, even with the high price of grains, has been considerably lower than the price received for near-by fresh eggs.

Leghorn pullets ate an average of 4.8 pounds of feed in producing a dozen eggs. The feed costs on an average 12.9 cents per dozen eggs produced by the flock. The cost of feed per dozen eggs varied from 9.2 cents in July to 41.4 cents in November, when, during the molting season, the flock continued to eat but, of course, produced fewest eggs. The number of pounds and the cost of feed consumed per dozen eggs for each four-week period during the year were as follows, beginning December 1: Pounds of feed: 5.3, 6.6, 5.4, 4.7, 3.3, 3, 3.2, 4.9, 4.8, 8.6, 10.9, and 18.4; cost of feed: 12, 16.4, 13.7, 13.5, 10.3, 10, 10, 9.2, 9.2, 16.8, 22.4, and 41.4 cents.

Leghorn yearling hens ate on an average 5.5 pounds of feed per dozen eggs produced. The average cost of feed per dozen eggs produced by the flock was 14 cents. The cost of feed per dozen eggs varied from 7.3 cents in July to 26.3 cents in November (molting period). The number of pounds and the cost of the feed consumed per dozen eggs produced by the flock for each four-week period beginning December 1 were as follows: Pounds of feed: 20.3, 10, 5.8, 5.1, 3.6, 3.3, 3.3, 3.4, 3.9, 5.3, 7.1, 30.8, and 118.7; cost of feed: 45.9, 24.8, 14.7, 14.7, 11.1, 11, 11, 10.6, 7.3, 10.1, 13.9, 64.3, and 266.3 cents.

The general-purpose breeds ate considerably more feed than the Leghorns, the pullets consuming an average of 6.7 pounds of feed and the yearling hens 9.6 pounds in the production of a dozen eggs. The feed cost averaged 16.75 cents per dozen eggs for the pullets, varying from 11.7 to 28.9 cents; and for the yearlings averaged 24.5 cents, ranging from 13.9 to 81.3 cents. The number of pounds and the cost of the feed consumed by the pullets in producing a dozen eggs for each four-week period beginning November 1 were as follows: Pounds of feed: 10.9, 7.4, 10.9, 5.5, 5.8, 4.6, 4.4, 4.7, 4.7, 6.3, 6.9, 9.2, and 14.1; cost of feed: 24.4, 16.8, 27.1, 14, 16.6, 14.3, 14.7, 15.6, 14.7, 11.7, 13.2, 17.9, and 28.9.

For the general-purpose yearling hens the amounts per dozen eggs were as follows: - Pounds of feed: 34.6, 32.9, 32.7, 12.6, 8.5, 5.7, 5.3, 6.1, 6.4, 7.5, 7.6, 10, and 21; cost of feed: 77.7, 74.5, 81.3, 32, 24.5, 17.7, 17.7, 20.3, 20, 13.9, 14.5, 19.5, and 43.1 cents.

The average cost of the mash and of the scratch mixture per 100 pounds for each month, beginning in July, 1916, was as follows: Mash: $1.82, $1.85, $1.88, $2.02, $2.19, $2.24, $2.33, $2.42, $2.70, $2.96, $2.98, and $2.84; scratch mixture: $1.90, $1.98, $2.03, $2.09, $2.30, $2.29, $2.64, $2.66, $3.05, $3.25, $3.68, and $3.41. The cost of the feed used in producing eggs can be figured from the amount of feed required to make a dozen eggs at different periods throughout the year, or feed prices may be compared with those used in this work.

SELECT HEALTHY BEAN SEED.

Bean Growers Should at Once Take Steps to Secure Good Disease-Free Seed.

Every bean grower without delay should take steps to secure good seed for next year's planting, either from his own crop or from fields which he knows to be free from anthracnose and blight, the bean specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture advise. Seed from plants killed by frost before the pods are dry and mature should not be used.

The use of seeds—properly ripened, plump, intact, and free from disease—is essential for securing large yields. It is crop insurance for growers to lay in their seed while there is still opportunity to inspect the fields, or they can pick from the cream of commercial stocks instead of having to take whatever may be available later.

Seed from carefully selected, clean pods grown in one's own seed plat, of course, are safest. Once the beans have been threshed it is difficult to detect all which have come from diseased pods. It is possible moreover, in the seed plat by planting the seed in hills and by spraying with Bordeaux mixture to protect the plants from anthracnose, even at an expense not warranted in larger plantings. The grower should see that no one moves among the seed plants while they are wet with rain or dew, when spores of the fungus causing anthracnose most readily are spread.

After the seed is threshed—and this is particularly important in the case of commercial seed—the grower should pick over his seed by hand two or three times and throw out all damaged or diseased beans and those not uniform in size and color. Even commercially hand-picked seed often contain many affected beans. While a few discolored beans are not objectionable for household use, every such seed when planted may spread disease to many neighboring plants. In purchasing beans for planting a germination test should be made and only seed of high quality accepted.

Where a seed plat is used the grower would do well to set aside and store separately with especial care the seed selected for next season's planting.

POULTRY HOUSES.

While our winters in the Southwest are mild, some precaution must be taken to keep the fowls comfortable during very sudden changes. Sometimes a brisk "norther" may come, and if the poultry house is at all open the hens may be chilled. Especially is it desirable to prevent draughts. If there are draughts the fowls are likely to have colds, roup, rheumatism, etc.

Poultry houses need ventilation, plenty of it, but arrangements should be made to prevent draughts. When the temperature drops suddenly the house should be so it may be closed and the fowls protected.

If the poultry house is not what it should be for cold weather, such repairs and improvements as are needed should be made soon. A little neglect might be a very serious matter, and one cannot afford to take a chance.

It was a great Italian that first discovered America. And by and by the rest of them discovered it.

MANY HEAVY PENALTIES IN 1917 FOOTBALL RULES.

What causes consternation among the football rooters and frequently demoralizes the team is a succession of 15-yard penalties. A minor penalty is not noticed so much, even though it hurts at times, but when the official starts to step off one of the major assessments it seems like the ball is being carried back nearly the length of the field. Holding or illegal use of the hands are the commonest forms of unfair playing which draws the heavy fine.

The 15-yard penalty is inflicted for any of the following reasons:

An incoming substitute must not communicate with other players of his team until after the first play is completed. In case he goes in to replace the man who has been giving the signals regularly, he may convey instructions from the coach in that manner without penalty, according to the official rules of 1917.

When a player has opportunity to make a fair catch, opponents who are off-side shall not interfere in any way with him or the ball.

Opponents who are on-side may attempt to catch the ball, but they shall not interfere with an opportunity to make a fair catch, except in an actual attempt to catch the ball themselves.

No player shall be thrown to the ground after he has made a fair catch.

No offensive player may use his hands, arm or body to push, pull or hold upon his feet any player carrying the ball.

Interlocking interference is illegal. A fallen runner with the ball may not be lifted to his feet in order that he may continue the run.

Only the man carrying the ball may use his arms in warding off his opponents.

If the kicker is roughed, the offending player may be disqualified and his side penalized 15 yards.

There shall be no piling up after the ball has been declared dead.

Hurdling is illegal.

There shall be no unnecessary roughness. Throwing a player to the ground after the referee's whistle is blown comes under this rule.

There shall be no tripping or striking an opponent above the knee with the feet or lower part of the leg.

The man running with the ball shall not be tackled when he is clearly out of bounds.

Unsportsmanlike conduct is tabooed. This includes abusive language, concealing the ball under the clothing, substituting any article for the ball, or "hiding" on the side lines. For flagrant conduct a player may be disqualified and his team penalized 15 yards.

There shall be no coaching either by substitutes or by any other persons not participating in the game. The offender may be excluded from the vicinity of the game.

No person shall be allowed to walk up and down the field on either side.

BIG INCREASE URGED FOR RYE.

Food Authorities Are Recommending This Grain to Supplement Wheat; Some of Its Advantages.

Rye is recommended for a larger acreage increase than that suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture for any other grain crop. Compared with the ten-year average, the more than five million acres urged for rye represent a 124 per cent increase, the next largest increase advised for 1918 being 43 per cent for winter wheat. The rye figures represent a 51 per cent increase of the area sown last year, when the largest acreage in the history of the country was put in.

The main reasons why the department recommends rye are that it is harder than wheat, that it will grow on some lands not adapted to wheat, and may be sown later than wheat. In addition, it is less subject to injury by insects and disease than wheat is, and it usually matures before rust, the great enemy of the small grains, becomes severe. Rye will endure a more acid soil, as compared with wheat, and is generally a better crop for fall, winter, and spring pasture, because it makes larger, earlier, and more upright growth.

It has advantages on the economic side as well as on the cultural, says the department, and in some sections produces a more profitable crop than wheat. It uses less nitrogen, pound for pound, and the straw has a higher value than wheat straw.

Our Place in Rye Production.

The United States, noted for its pre-eminent place among the nations in grain production, grows less than 3 per cent of the world's rye crop. Winter rye is the best for this country, and may be grown from the cotton belt to the northern boundary by using the varieties adapted to the different regions, the Italian varieties in the South and Swedish and Russian strains in the North. At the northern boundary of Florida, rye ripens about the middle of May, and the average date of ripening is approximately one day later for each 15 miles northward until, in the northernmost states, it ripens between July 10 and July 25.

Full details as to the culture of rye in the eastern half of the United States, where 80 per cent of the crop is grown, are given in 'Farmers' Bulletin, 756,

United States Department of Agriculture. This bulletin discusses the production and harvesting of the crop, and gives a description of soils and varieties that may be expected to yield good results in various regions. Since rye is strongly recommended by the department, and by the Food Administration forces, farmers who may contemplate it are urged to write to the department of Agriculture, at Washington, for copies of the bulletin. Most of the colleges and experiment stations in the northeastern quarter of the United States have also issued publications about this crop in their respective states.

FEED FOR MOLTING HENS.

Hens must finish molting before cold weather starts or they will not lay in the winter months. Because of this fact a special combination of feed should be given to hasten the growth of the new feathers, according to Ross M. Sherwood, acting head of the department of poultry husbandry in the Kansas Agricultural College.

"Sour milk and beef scraps are useful at all seasons," says Mr. Sherwood, "but linseed oil meal is especially good at this time. There are certain food materials in oil meal which are needed in feather building and which are not found in the other feeds mentioned. Practical feeders often point out that oil meal loosens the old feathers. This may be the result of the rapid growth of new feathers caused by food materials."

The following ration is recommended for the molting season: 60 pounds of corn chops, 60 pounds of wheat bran, 20 pounds of meat scraps and 15 pounds of old process oil meal. This is fed in combination with a scratching feed made up of two or more of the cheapest grains grown locally. Cottonseed meal may be substituted for meal.

After the fowls have completed the molt and are well feathered, this mash may be given: 60 pounds of corn chops, 60 pounds of wheat bran, 30 pounds of meat scraps. Sour milk is useful with both of these rations.

Every good ewe lamb should be saved.

Demonstration Week Oct. 8 to 13

All are invited to attend these instructive demonstrations every morning and afternoon during the week.

Hot coffee and biscuits will be served and you will be told of the merits of the Majestic Range by an expert demonstrator.

You are under no obligations to buy a Majestic if you attend these demonstrations, but we are very sure that you will want one. If you do get one you will swear by the Majestic and wonder why you went so long without one.

YOUR PLACE IN THE BIG PUSH

Ships—hundreds ready and thousands building.

Men—an army now in training and the pick of America's fighting legions already on battle line.

Munitions—a forest of blazing chimneys; a thousand mines pouring out the raw materials with which to forge our thunderbolts of retribution.

America—slow to anger, is glorious in her wrath, and you and I, what of us?

Some have given our sons, and will gladly give more. But that is not enough!

Money—is now the nation's greatest need—to keep our boys supplied with food and clothes, for cannon, shell and cartridges, for blankets, horses, aeroplanes and all tools of war with which to crush a monstrous foe who points to ravished Belgium, her women and her children and promises we too shall taste his hate.

The second Liberty Loan is your opportunity again to answer him. Don't scoff at the possibility of defeat. If we do not stand together now we shall all pay the same penalty later on.

Of Great Big Interest to Motorists

We promised you a few weeks ago that prospective Buick owners had our assurance that they would be well provided with cars. We promised that there would be no long waits necessary for those who had decided upon this great car but that we would be in position to make prompt deliveries.

We are pleased to announce that our promises are about to be fulfilled for yesterday we received a wire from the Buick factory that there are on their way to us. This means that there will be plenty of cars to go around. We aren't going to promise that we will be so fortunate in getting cars for you after this but we are sure going to keep our promise to give you what you want now.

All of this doesn't mean that you can take your own sweet time about placing your order for there are many of those coming spoken for and if you are to have the pleasure of Fall motoring in a car that will please you in every respect now is the time to talk with us.

Everybody Knows
Value-in-Head
Means Buick

The Car All Desire for Its Beauty

The name Buick not only guarantees the mechanical correctness of the car, it assures that distinction only to be had by those whose possessions bear the mark of commodities long recognized as the very best.

Years of adherence to a correct principle of motor construction, conceded to be the most efficient has placed the Buick valve-in-head in a most enviable position.

The outward appearance of the car immediately gives the impression of being just a little different in its beauty. High grade upholstery and completeness of detail in finish help make it the car desired by all.

Always on The Job!

A commonplace expression with a wealth of meaning. It expresses in four words one of the Buick's greatest attributes—its ability to cope with varying conditions. Of course the ideal time to drive is in fair weather. But weather is no respecter of persons and often becomes disagreeable just at a time when it is necessary to meet a train, to keep an engagement to go to the theatre. Likewise, the Buick owner cares little about weather. He is just as comfortable behind his barrier of storm curtains when the traffic officer is dripping wet as when the skies are smiling; just as sure of his appointments in inclement weather as in fair. For the Buick is an all 'round motor car, ready for emergencies, prepared for the unexpected, glorying in the unusual. No matter what the time, place or conditions, you'll find the Buick always ready, always alert, always on the job.

Air Scouting and Motoring

The air scouts go about their work in planes shot through space by valve-in-head engines. They can trust their lives and their missions to nothing less than what they believe is the surest, most powerful form of motor.

The enemy planes in the air and the special airship guns from the earth are vigilant. A journey through the air, hazardous enough because of storms or contrary air currents, is rendered far more perilous by the exacting conditions and extraordinary dangers of war.

In war planes, in racing motor boats, on the speedway, valve-in-head motors are demonstrating the claims made by Buick owners.

Valve-in-head is not all of Buick sturdiness. But it fitly symbolizes the character of the car. What valve-in-head is among motors Buick is among cars.

Regardless of the car you buy or the price you pay, nowhere can you get better value.

HUGHES-CLAITOR.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hughes, of Petersburg, Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, when their daughter, Anne Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Lilburn Stephen Claitor.

The interior of the residence was decorated with evergreens and dahlias, the color scheme of yellow and white being carried out. Rev. J. E. Black, of the Christian Church of Lockney, performed the ceremony before an arch made of ferns and dahlias.

The bride was attractively attired in a modish suit of taupe chiffon broadcloth; she wore a becoming hat of taupe velvet, shoes and gloves of pearl grey kid, and carried a lovely bouquet of white roses and gladiolas. The groom wore the conventional black.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests adjourned to the dining room, where a three-course supper was served.

The bride, who has lived in Petersburg for several years, has by her winsome and charming ways won the friendship of all who know her.

The groom is a prosperous young business man of Petersburg, and wherever he has been he has left a friend.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to the happy couple, who have the best wishes of the community.

FAREWELL RECEPTION WELL ATTENDED.

A large crowd of the members of the Presbyterian Church gave a farewell reception, in the basement of the church, Friday night for their pastor, the Rev. T. B. Haynie, and his wife, who leave this week for Wayahachie, where Reverend Haynie will become chancellor of Trinity University.

Colonel R. P. Smyth was in charge of the program of appreciative talks given by several of those present. E. H. Perry spoke upon "The Stranger Within Our Gates." Mr. Cobb, Dr. I. E. Gates, Mrs. Geo. Saigling and D. F. Morgan also made talks, expressing appreciation of the Reverend Haynie, Mrs. Haynie and their work and the work of Mrs. Tom Carter, who has served as pianist for some time. The Reverend Haynie responded, telling of how he had enjoyed his work among the people here and how he appreciated the fellow spirit shown by his brother ministers.

Music was furnished by an Edison.

Refreshments of sandwiches and hot chocolate were served.

Mrs. P. C. Crawford, of Canyon, who has been visiting Mrs. S. S. Lomax, left this morning for Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Little motored to Amarillo yesterday to meet Mr. Little's father and mother, who came from Moscow, Ky., to visit their son. The party returned late yesterday afternoon.

J. M. Harder, Mrs. G. H. Hutchings and Robert Harder motored to Amarillo today to spend several days at the fair.

Ross Rogers came down from Amarillo on business yesterday morning and returned at the afternoon train.

T. B. Carter is out on an auto trip covering his Dodge territory.

ORDINANCE NO. 123.

AN ORDINANCE LEVYING A TAX ON ITINERANT MERCHANTS WHO MAY HEREAFTER SELL, OR OFFER FOR SALE, GOODS, WARES OR MERCHANDISE WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF PLAINVIEW, TEXAS, PRESCRIBING THE AMOUNT OF SAID TAX, FIXING A PENALTY FOR FAILING TO PAY SAID TAX, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

Be It Ordained by the City Council of the City of Plainview, Texas:

Section 1. That there is hereby levied the following license tax on all itinerant merchants who may hereafter sell, or offer for sale, any goods, wares or merchandise within the corporate limits of the City of Plainview, Texas: (1) Fifty ($50.00) Dollars for the first month, or fractional part thereof, for each and every place where such business is located.

(2) Ten ($10.00) Dollars per month for the next five months, or fractional part of a month, in addition to the Fifty ($50.00) Dollar tax hereinbefore provided for.

(3) Five ($5.00) Dollars per month for the next six months, or fractional part of a month, in addition to the Fifty ($50.00) Dollar tax hereinbefore provided for.

Section 2. The term "Itinerant Merchant," as used in this ordinance, shall be construed to mean all persons or merchants who may remove from place to place and offer for sale "bankrupt stocks" of goods, or advertising "fire sales," or "water and fire damaged stocks for sale," or other goods, wares and merchandise of whatever nature.

Section 3. Before engaging in the sale of goods, wares or merchandise within the corporate limits of the City of Plainview, Texas, said itinerant merchant or merchants shall make application to the City Tax Collector for a license or tax receipt, and shall specify the time and place where said sale or sales are to be made, and it is hereby made the duty of the City Tax Collector upon receipt of said application to receive the license tax paid by said itinerant merchant, and said City Tax Collector shall issue a receipt therefor, which receipt shall specify the name of the applicant or applicants, the period for which it is to run and the amount paid thereon in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, and a record of said receipt shall be kept by the City Tax Collector, in his office.

Section 4. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be fined not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00, and each sale made by an itinerant merchant without paying the tax herein provided for shall be construed to constitute a separate offense.

Section 5. The fact that there is no adequate ordinance regulating the selling of goods, wares or merchandise by itinerant merchants in the City of Plainview, Texas, creates an emergency and public necessity, requiring that a second and third reading of this ordinance be suspended and that it be effective from and after its passage and publication, and it is so ordered.

Passed and ordered published this 1st day of October, 1917.

W. E. RISSER, Mayor. B. L. SPENCER, Secretary.

ROOSEVELT APPEALS FOR SCOUT-MASTERS.

Tells Boy Scouts Their Membership in the Boy Scouts of America Means Service for Our Country.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Honorary Scout Commissioner, of Nassau County, New York, and members of the Troop Committee of the Scout Troop connected with Christ Episcopal Church, in Oyster Bay, pitched his tent at Mineola, Nassau County, with the 1,200 Boy Scouts of America encamped there. The Boy Scouts cooked their own meals for four days, and on the last day had a rally with wall-scaling, "stalking," "cow-boy race" contest, and other Scouting activities.

Colonel Roosevelt addressed the Boy Scouts after their dress parade and lauded them for having "made the team" that is fighting Uncle Sam's battles. He urged everyone to do his duty as he found it before him. Colonel Roosevelt said:

"Fellow Boy Scouts: Of course I have a right to say 'Fellow Boy Scouts,' for I see here as one of your Scoutmasters the dominie under whom I sit every Sunday. I am not only proud of Nassau County for what you boys have done in organizing this body here in this county, but I congratulate with all my heart the American people on the Boy Scout Movement; and I want you boys to feel this. Boys of your age ordinarily cannot feel as yet that they have done much for the country as citizens, but you boys—the Boy Scouts—are different. Because of the leadership given by your organization you are already doing your part.

"You are on the team now—Uncle Sam's Team. You are doing your bit! And I tell you, it is worth while. I do not know a man or boy worth his salt who has not got the desire to be a part of the team that counts, and to do his share in making it count. That is what every red-blooded American has got to feel, or he isn't worth being called an American! It is what you boys are doing.

"We have got 258,000 Boy Scouts of America and about 75,000 people like Scoutmaster Talmadge, Council President Earle and myself (Scout Commissioner) who are in the movement as leaders, and I won't be content until instead of 258,000 we have 2,580,000. Never Be Neutral Between Right and Wrong.

"And now, boys, nothing could have pleased me more than what President Earle said in introducing me, when he spoke of a sentence I had used and said it ought to be the motto on which the Boy Scouts act. It ought to be the motto on which all of us here act, and also on which every grown-up American acts: 'Never be neutral between right and wrong.' One of the lessons that it is most important to teach the average American—the men you boys are to be—is that when he is neutral between right and wrong he is helping the wrong. If when you are grown up you see cruelty, iniquity and evil triumphing over decency and justice, and you go by on the other side like the Levite, you will earn just the cordal memory the Levite earned for himself under those circumstances. If you are not with the right, then you are against the right! And you boys have got to cultivate not only the habit of being decent yourselves, but of helping to make other people decent. Therefore you have got to be good, decent and efficient.

Has No Use for "Harmless" Boys.

"I have got mighty little use for the type of good man or good boy of whom all you can say is that he is harmless. Boy Scouts, I want you to count in the game of life. I want you to count now when you are boys, and I want you to count when you have grown up and become men.

"I have just come over from the troops, the Sixty-Ninth Regiment. They are going abroad to do their duty. You are being trained in this organization so that if you are ever needed in the future you can do your duty, and now you can do your duty in civic life rather than in war.

"I believe in this movement with all my heart, and also in that constantly growing belief in this country that all of our young men between the ages of 18 and 22 shall have to have obligatory universal military training, to supplement what you boys are doing now. The democracy of our government must be based fundamentally on the kind of spirit you show—the service that you so willingly give. No man is entitled to a privilege if he does not perform a duty. You can't, any of you, enjoy the privileges of a Boy Scout if you stay out and don't do any of the work.

Benefits for Those Who Don't Earn Them.

"Sooner or later I hope to see in this country manhood suffrage and womanhood suffrage based on manhood and womanhood service. No one who does not give service is entitled to suffrage.

"Any one who does not give service in times of peace does not stand ready to give it in war. I would not interfere with those who are too conscientious to go to war, but when I hear a man say he is too conscientious to fight for his country, I would like to have him take his conscience out and examine it and see if it is healthy. If he is too conscientious to fight, then I am too conscientious to let him vote and help to rule a country for which I have to fight.

"There were some elderly sissies of both sexes who objected to the Boy Scout Movement when the organization was being started, for fear it would make us too military. These same types of people are now opposing universal military training for fear it will make us into a nation of militarists. It is no more true of one than of the other. Military training will tend to produce a better type of men in civic life, just as it will fit men to fight for their country. Our Boy Scout organization, though not military, has already borne fruit in this respect.

Scouts Have Proved Their Patriotism by Deeds.

"The percentage of Scout officials and graduate Scouts who have already gone into the army is markedly above the general percentage, and for this fact and for this training of these men we are debtors to this organization.

War Service Prime Duty.

"I want to make this appeal, and I want to make it as strongly as I can: Every man of fighting age who is fit to go and allowed to go ought to go to war. I say 'allowed,' because this is an exclusive war. I was blackballed by the committee on admission. Every man of fighting age who is all right ought to go to the front, and it will be a mighty sight pleasanter to explain to his children later on why he went than why he did not. There are men who can't go and who ought not to go. Their duty will be to take the places of the men who do go.

Scout Service Next.

Now, any man who is too old or who for any other good reason cannot go to the front can do his part by volunteering to serve as a Scoutmaster and take the place of some man who has got to go. On the whole, the Scoutmasters and similar officers represent a very high type—an unusually high type—or leadership in the community. We have a right to expect the very best men in the community to come forward to do that work. I wish to emphasize with all my power that it is an unpatriotic thing to let the Boy Scout Movement be hampered in any way by the fact that the Scoutmasters and leaders of the boys have shown their patriotism by going into the army, and I urge you who stay at home to show that you know what patriotism is by coming in and taking their places.

The Duty of Those Who Stay.

"If a man says that he regrets he cannot go to war, but that he would like to serve his country, ask him what he is doing otherwise. You can serve your country in some way at home. You can be a Scoutmaster, thereby taking the place of someone else who has gone to war.

"Nobody is doing what he ought to do in this country now unless he is helping in some way to win this war—by fighting, by supporting those who have gone to fight, by taking their places, by doing the work they have left behind to do. Sometimes it is one member of a firm who does the whole work of the firm because his partners have gone to war. Sometimes it is the older man or the infirm who does the work of the strong man who has gone to the front; or he is doing his work in other lines.

Roosevelt Appeals for Scoutmasters.

"And now I appeal to all good Americans who wish to help the America of the future to help in some tangible way by taking the places of the Boy Scouts of America who have gone to the front, and who have made all of us debtors by going to fight the battle for American manhood and civilization on the other side of the water.

Boy Scouts of America Must Be Supported.

"The Scoutmasters and leaders of this organization have shown their patriotism by going to war, and now let every good American show his patriotism by encouraging and supporting the work of the Boy Scouts of America in every way in his power."

MISTAKEN IN THE SIGNS.

Mrs. Speeder—Oh, John, dear, it's commencing to rain. I can see the drops splash.

Mr. Speeder—"Rain nothing! Those are bullets. That pesky town constable that's been following us for miles is just commencing to get the range."

THRIFT THOUGHT.

Don't throw away stale bread and left-over skim milk. Madam Housewife. From them you can make that simple and well-known but nourishing dish, milk toast, the United States Department of Agriculture points out. This makes a good dish for breakfast, luncheon, or supper, especially for children.

Heat the milk. Add a small quantity of butter and season to taste with salt. Pour while hot over well toasted stale bread and serve.

Oldsmobile
SETS THE PACE
20th YEAR

OLDSMOBILE ALL-SEASON CARS

THE new Oldsmobile All-season Cars—Sedan and Coupe—combine many points of superiority in style and equipment. The bodies are designed and built especially for Oldsmobiles and will not be found in any other car. Tops are built in and made part of the bodies—complete and permanent. They are instantly converted into open summer cars or closed winter cars by lowering or raising the plate windows.

New convenience is offered in the staggered position of the wide doors. The right or curb door opens to rear compartment. The left door is well forward opening directly to driver's seat. The upholstery is of high quality material of pleasing appearance. The seats are broad and restful—supported by Marshall Cushion Comfort springs. Front seats are of the individual chair type.

In the sedan the driver's seat is adjustable forward and back for either long or short reach. The deep lounge-back rear seat has ample room for three. Each model is equipped with automatic car heater and foot warmer, electric dome and dash lights and other accessories for comfort and beauty.

Both sedan and coupe are built on the famous Oldsmobile Model 37 Six chassis, which excels in tire and fuel economy. 54-inch under-slung rear springs give exceptionally easy riding quality.

The Heating Stove Season Will Be Here Before You Are Expecting It.

Be among the wise ones who will get their heaters early and be prepared when the first north hits. You know it will come soon for it always does, year after year.

Year after year many of you have waited until the blizzard came and while the little folks and the housewife sat about wrapped up and shivering you rushed down to buy a stove. Everybody rushes the orders about the same time and it taxes us to get them all up promptly so some have to wait and keep on shivering until the stove gets there. Don't be one of those who will shiver this year.. Be wise, buy now and defy the coming cold.

Cole's Hot Blast Heaters, and Garland Base Burners and Heaters will fill the bill in every particular.

The oil stove has served it's summer purpose but now comes the time when you want a warm stove in the kitchen. One about which you can pop corn and make candy on cool nights. That's it and the

are just the thing that will serve the purpose.

SUGAR PRODUCTION, IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

The receipts of sugar into the United States amounted to 7,472,728,906 pounds valued at $347,874,625 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917, against 7,620,085,058 pounds valued at $308,986,793 in 1916, the high record year, and 6,822,825,102 pounds valued at $155,077,126 in 1914. While the quantity received in 1917 shows an increase of 9 1/2 per cent over 1914, the value increased 124 per cent, the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, announces.

Of the total arrivals of sugar in 1917, 5,332,745,854 pounds valued at $230,945,694 came from foreign countries, 1,162,605,056 pounds valued at $62,741,164 from Hawaii and 977,377,996 pounds valued at $53,987,767 from Porto Rico. Of the 5 1-3 billion pounds imported in 1917 from foreign countries, 4,669,097,398 pounds came from Cuba, 114,367,301 pounds came from South American countries, 267,891,954 pounds from the Philippine Islands, 26,406,776 pounds from our recently purchased territory of the Virgin Islands, formerly Danish West Indies; 21,885,000 pounds from Japan, and lesser amounts from other countries.

The imports from the Virgin Islands and Japan show remarkable increases when compared with previous years. There were no imports of sugar from the Virgin Islands in 1916, and the total imports from these islands in the five fiscal years 1912-1916 amounted to 25,912,546 pounds, one-half million pounds less than the quantity for 1917. In 1916 the imports of sugar from Japan were 6,410 pounds, and only 26,410 pounds for the five years 1912-1916, against 21,885,000 pounds in 1917. The imports of sugar from the Dutch East Indies, which amounted to 340 1-3 million pounds in 1912, fell to 21,813 pounds in 1917. The imports of beet sugar for 1917 were only 28,847 pounds.

The production of sugar in the United States for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917, is estimated at 2,267,251,888 pounds, of which 621,799,260 pounds were cane and 1,645,452,489 pounds beet sugar. This production, with the imports from foreign countries and receipts from non-contiguous territories would make the sugar available in the markets of the United States amount to 3,739,850,746 pounds. Of this amount, 1,248,846,336 pounds valued at $77,696,696 were exported as domestic refined sugar, 5,711,244 valued at $284,875 were re-exports of sugar in the condition in which imported, and the shipments to non-contiguous territories amounted to 19,329,532 pounds, valued at $1,439,741. Deducting these shipments from the receipts and production would show 5,466,099,534 pounds as retained in the United States, an average of 81 pounds per capita, against 7,960,362,762 pounds, an average of 78 pounds per capita in 1916, and 8,793,794,928 pounds, an average of 89 pounds per capita, in 1914.

The average price of imported sugar in 1914 was 2.01 cents per pound; in 1915, 3.2 cents per pound; in 1916, 3.5 cents per pound; and in 1917, 4.5 cents per pound, an increase of 112 per cent in three years. The average price of sugar from Hawaii was 3 cents in 1914 and 5.4 cents in 1917; from Porto Rico the average price was 3.1 cents in 1914 and 5.5 cents in 1917. Refined sugar exported averaged 3.6 cents per pound in 1914 against 6.2 cents in 1917.

PAIGE
The Most Beautiful Car in America

YEAR after year the Paige has progressed in its efforts to build into its cars the greatest possible quality and value.

The Linwood "Six-39," a five-passenger touring car, is a supreme example of this policy—representing a great stride toward the goal of ultimate values.

When you buy a Linwood "Six-39" each of your dollars purchases more touring than it could ever have commanded before.

Embodying the mechanical excellence that has made Paige popularity enduring, it combines with that virtue a distinctive design well worthy of the phrase—"The Most Beautiful Car in America."

Hupmobile

SERVICE

In assuming control of the Connell Motor Co. we determined the first thing we would do would be to give a Hupmobile service second to none. This we are doing now.

We employ only mechanics who are skilled in the repair of Hupps. These men work on no other cars. Their whole time and attention, as well as their study, is devoted to Hupmobile construction. Their every effort is to keep every Hupmobile in this territory in tip top working order at all times.

You don't have to wait for parts either. We will carry a complete line of Hupp and National parts. That means when you want a repair you don't have to have your car out of commission for a month awaiting the repair.

Our mechanics know what to do with Hupp parts when they put them in too. They don't have to guess about fitting them and give you a hit or miss job.

Isn't it a satisfaction to own a car with such service behind it. If you are a Hupp owner allow us to invite you to use this service to the fullest extent. If you are not a Hupp owner you can readily see what this service means for you if you are in the market for a motor car.

The Keynote of the New Fall and Winter Fashions for Women and Young Women.

The new season has opened up, fully completely, imposingly, revealing more loveliness in fashion, more elegance in fabrics, and the new coloring is beyond comparison, it is a season of great beauty, yet of a certain "practical" quality in clothes telling more adequately than words of that true womanliness which has adapted its requirements to all conditions and changed its spirits with the times, through all the centuries. Every woman in Plainview and vicinity is invited to see.

Suits Have All the Elegance That Can Be Given Them.

They are magnificent—and many are copied or adapted from French models. Many are trimmed with luxurious furs, or wonderfully braided or embroidered, and they have all the simplicity in cut and beauty in lines, prices $22.50 to $65.00.

Gowns Constitute an Elegant and Imposing Array.

Many copies and adaptations of French models showing Laven's new flowing sleeves and many various new features, exquisite satins and velvets, elegant combinations of serge and satins and serge alone, prices $12.50 to $35.00.

Coats Have Attained a New Loveliness.

Coats of velours, rich and lustrous, many braided with fur, many are copies of improved models, handsome cloth and afternoon coats, prices, $15.00 to $85.00.

A Display of Fashions in All Dress Accessories

Showing the military tendencies in Dress Shoes, the newest conceits in shoes for formal occasions. Latest novelties in fine gloves, choice hand bags, latest fashions in neckwear and veilings, the most approved fashions in everything.

Boys' Trench Models Norfolk Suits at $8.50.

And they are fine, the new dark grays and browns, cut on the new military lines, Knickerbockers lined throughout, just the suits to stand hard wear.

Juvenile Suits for the "Little Fellow."

Some in blue serge with white collar and cuffs, others of dark colors of fancy chevrons, size 2 to 6. Price $6.50

Interesting Facts About Wool Which Have a Bearing on Men's Clothing.

For eleven months ending last May, our importation of wool was 173 million pounds less than for the same period preceding that. The world's supply of sheep, has decreased by 64 million. Uncle Sam has placed contracts for 6 million yards of woolen goods, and more than 4 million blankets.

Considering these facts isn't it fortunate that we anticipated our requirements and placed contracts for men's clothing many months ago, for this autumn season.

There's Little Advance in Clothing Prices Here as Yet.

Our $15.00 suits are practically as good as last year and this is true all along the line up to $35.00.

Kuppenheimer and Stadium Autumn Suits at $15.00 to $35.00. Flannell Suits in blue, green, gray and brown, both youthful and conservative styles

Men's and young men's suits at $15.00 in military styles.

Kuppenheimer famous overcoats $20.00 to $27.50

Light weight overcoats in dark oxford fabrics special at $15.00.

THE SILENT SENTINELS.

"Silent sentinels of the woman's party resumed picketing the White House this afternoon and eleven were arrested, Alice Paut, one of the leaders among them. Such a news item has almost ceased to have news in it, so frequently is its like seen. And if possible such items have been more frequent since the declaration of war than before. From this it is known that the "silent sentinels of the woman's party" have been more active than usual. They seem to work with the idea that the busier a person is the easier it is for them to gain their wants. For if there is a busy person in the United States it is our President. And now when all loyal citizens should be doing their part to help him and make his burden light as possible these women stand outside his gate and harrass him that they may gain their aims. True, they are arrested, but that only gives them a place in the public eye, for their arrests are never passed by without notice. There is much that they might be doing in these turbulent days to aid the cause of the United States and there they stand outside the gate of the White House, in rain, snow, and sunshine, carrying a banner which in many cases bears the inscription "Votes for Women." When they are arrested why not keep them in jail for such a length of time that they will at least knit a muffler for a soldier in France? Such treatment would relieve President Wilson of their presence and would help the work being done by the Red Cross.
