MR. FARMER, TAKE SOME TIMELY ADVICE

THERE WILL BE A SCARCITY OF LABOR FOR HARVEST PURPOSES—SO ACT NOW

For the benefit of the farmers of the Plainview country the Board of City Development of Plainview, thru its secretary, W. C. Long, Jr., has gotten in touch with a number of men, who desire to help the farmers harvest the wheat crop in the Plainview country, and the men desire to know: How much will the farmers pay for their labor? How long they can use them? When will they want them?

It is essential and strictly for the benefit of the farmers in this section that each and every farmer, who is in need of one or more men, let his wants be known to the secretary of the Board of City Development, as you can not expect to drive up to the city hall and load your jitney full of men, without first letting it be known how many men you can use, several days before you need them.

The labor problem is acute and the harvest will come on all the farmers at the same time, so if labor is not imported there will be some crops that will be in a bad shape before they can be harvested. Give the problem, Mr. Farmer, your immediate attention and act now. Write a letter or call on W. C. Long, Jr., Secretary of the Board of City Development and state: "How many men you need; when needed; what you can pay and how long you can use them."

In this way the City Board is trying to be of benefit to the farmers of this section, and all inquiries will be looked after promptly and the desired labor furnished just as fast as possible and it will not cost the farmer one cent of money for this service.

Don't delay, but write W. C. Long, Jr., Secretary of Board of City Development, to day your needs.

AEROPLANES STOPPED AT PLAINVIEW

Second Lieutenant E. M. Anderson and D. H. Caspary of Call Field driving Curtiss planes passed over Plainview yesterday about noon.

They landed a mile east of the city, and were on a recruiting expedition but evidently changed their plans returning to Matador after a few hours stay at this place. They had come from Matador yesterday morning.

Whitis is Valuing Railroads

The editor in Austin Monday was told by Judge W. M. Key, chief justice of the court of civil appeals, that his daughter, Mrs. Thos. P. Whitis, had been spending several months at the parental home in Austin, while Mr. Whitis is employed with the engineers of the Interstate Commerce Commission in making a valuation of the railroads of the country. He is in the Kansas City division; he began work in Texas, and has worked north through Oklahoma and Kansas and is now in Nebraska. He will be in Colorado soon, where his wife expects to join him.

MANY INTERESTING SCENES ABOUT SAN ANTONIO

Trips Taken to Camp Travis, Ft. Sam Houston and Ancient Spanish Missions

San Antonio.—Though I visited San Antonio many years ago, it is ever interesting, an were a person to stay here many days, each day he would find many interesting and historic things to see. I have just returned from a trip to four or five old Spanish missions, one of which was built in 1701, so a legend at the doorway states, and it is said to be more modern than a Spanish palace near the city which I have not so far visited. From there old piles of masonry on down through the ages are landmarks of the different regimes under which this old city, named in honor of its patron saint, Saint Antonio, has existed—Spanish, Mexican, Texan.

I am here attending the fortieth convention of the Texas Press Association. I left Plainview Wednesday, June 11, and coming down through Sweetwater, Coleman, Brownwood, where nightfall came, I saw good crops on on every hand, but none so good as in Hale county. The wheat in Hale county is better than any I have seen. There are some fields and with such long heads of grain. Surely all Texas is blessed with abundant rains and abundant crops this year, but the Lord is more generous in many ways with the people of Hale county. Below the caprock the people have begun to harvest their grain. While there is an abundant crop of weeds, yet there is little grass on the ranges below the laprock. I am told that the roots of the grass perished during the long drouth, and it will be some time before there is good grass in those sections.

At Temple I changed from the Santa Fe to the Katy railroad after midnight, and though my daughter, Sadye Earle, whom I had not seen for over three months before at a college in the North, was on the train, in one of the Pullmans, I did not see her until the next morning down at San Marcos.

I awoke soon after leaving Austin. The country from the state capital to San Antonio has undoubtedly had entirely too much rain, as the fields are badly overgrown with weeds, etc. The beautiful San Marcos, Guadalupe and Comal rivers were even muddy. San Marcos and New Braunfels are the principal towns, and though each nestles in beautiful surroundings, they seem very dead, and rather old and dilapidated, and neither shows up so well as the Plains towns.

At about nine o'clock we arrived in San Antonio where we are guests at the Gunter Hotel, which is headquarters for the press people, and where nearly all the newspaper people are stopping. The attendance is nearly three hundred, many of the editors being accompanied by their wives and other members of their families. I know most of them, having met them at other press meetings. It is a great re-union, and a great pleasure to be with the makers of the Texas newspapers, from the great dailies to the smaller weeklies. Dr. Brooks of Baylor University, Congressman Mansfield of the Ninth district, Dr. Bralley of C. I. A., Mr. Homer of Denver, former president of the National Editorial association, and many other notables who are not members of the press association, are here, to appear.

The meeting of the press association are being held in the ball room of the Gunter, with Harry Koch of the Quannah Tribune-Chief as president. Aside from the addresses by newspaper-people Thursday was an address by Major General De Rosy Cabell, commander of Fort SamHouston and who left at night for El Paso to chase Villa and his rebels away from Juarez. He plead for support of President Wilson and the regular army.

Thursday afternoon following the session the newspaper people were taken to the baseball park where the San Antonio and Shreveport teams played a game of base ball, in which the visitors won. At night there was a banquet in the Japanese Garden of the Gunter Hotel, followed by a dance. There was also a dance in the Garden Friday night.

Friday I had an interesting chat with Major General Beaumont B. Buck, who commanded the American forces at Catigny, where the American forces first turned back the German forces after they had forced the French into a rout and were about to break through the allied lines with a clear road to Paris, and but for the American marines they would have accomplished their desire, for the French had given up hope of withstanding the German forces as they came on and on, wave after wave. It was Gen. Beaumont B. I knew of him quite well twenty-five years ago, when he was a lieutenant just out of West Point. He has many decorations for bravery. He left at night for Del Rio to take command of the border forces.

Saturday morning the press association meeting begun early and extended until well in the afternoon, to finish up all business. Sam Fore, Jr., of Floresville, was elected president; J. E. WILL T. STOCKTON TO BE PLAINVIEW POSTMASTER

Message from Congressman Marvin Jones, of this District, States Commission has Recommended

A message received here yesterday afternoon from Congressman Marvin Jones, of this district, states that the civil service commission has recommended the appointment of Will T. Stockton for the postmastership of the Plainview post office. The recommendation will now go to the postoffice department, where it will be sent to President Wilson, and when passed on by him, will be sent to the senate for confirmation.

Mr. Stockton is at present the general assistant cashier of the Third National Bank, and his selection will meet with the approval of a large number of friends in this city. He is a capable business man and will no doubt make us a postmaster that the town will justly be proud of.

The following is the telegram received from Congressman Marvin Jones:

Washington, D. C., June 19, 1919
Judge H. C. Randolph, Plainview, Tex.
Will Stockton has been certified by the Civil Service Commission for appointment as postmaster at Plainview, Marvin Jones.

Craig Gilliland On Way Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gilliland have been made happy by the news that their son, Craig Gilliland, was to sail immediately for the United States.

He is with the Signal Corps of the 81st and is doubtless in the United States by this date.

Boy Drowned Near Lockney

Tuesday evening about eight o'clock while a crowd of boys were swimming in the C. L. Zimmerman lake near Lockney, Ewell Shelton was seized with cramps and drowned before help could be procured.

He was the best swimmer in the crowd and the only one to swim across the lake.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shelton of Floyd county and was buried Wednesday afternoon in the Lockney cemetery.

Heard Rev. I. E. Gates Preach

While in San Antonio the editor of the News met Rev. I. E. Gates on the streets, also attended services at the First Baptist church Sunday morning, heard him preach, and went to dinner with the family.

The Gates family is well and pleasantly located. The church has a membership of about 1,800, if we remember correctly, and they are good workers. Bro. Gates informed us. Though rain was falling Sunday morning, about seven hundred were at the service. Bro. Gates said as a rule the big church was filled, and extra chairs were used to accommodate the audience. The audience was very appreciative.

In the afternoon we were taken in a car by the Gates family for a drive over the town and far out into the country to see the old Spanish missions.

Bro. Gates is well pleased with his work, but Mrs. Gates and children long to get back onto the Plains. Bro. Gates says since going to San Antonio he has contracted asthma, on account of the low climate and may in time be forced to move back to the high altitude of the Plains.

They asked about most everybody in Plainview. The two daughters, who are in school at Waco are expected home this week.

Truman Meyers of the 90th Division returned this week to his home at Lockney. His sister, Miss Essie Meyers joined him at this place.

PREPARATIONS FOR 4TH ALMOST COMPLETED

BIG FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION PLANS BEING COMPLETED BY COMMITTEES

Despite the glorious harvest, which will then be in progress on the Plains the preparations for the "glorious Fourth" are almost completed and the home coming of the boys will be celebrated with all the fervor and hospitality of which Plainview is capable and that goes for much.

The barbecue committee reports that everything is in readiness. Incidentally, however, they wish that the farmers who are willing to contribute beef will notify J. C. Hooper, chairman of the committee.

The other committees are hard at work getting the speakers, music and concessions for the soldiers and their friends.

Investigating Carnegie Medal Case

C. L. Snell of Pittsburg, Pa., special agent of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, was here this week investigating an incident which happened in 1917.

During the summer of that year, while a party of boys were in bathing in a lake just west of town, Harold V. Knupp was rescued from drowning by Geo. Norman Hailey, son of Rev. O. L. Hailey, pastor of the Plainview Baptist church at that time.

Harold Knupp is now living in Amarillo. Norman Hailey has just returned from France with the 90th division. Much has happened since 1915, but if certain dates and facts can be verified Normal Hailey will receive a Carnegie medal for his heroic act.

Of course, these June brides will promise to love, honor and obey—but how long does anybody expect them to obey?

When all the war correspondents come home from Europe, then the Mexican war will get sure enough exciting and the Japanese menace will start to menacing in earnest, for these correspondents must needs keep things going.

A Tennessee mountaineer is hailed as "the greatest hero of the war" because single-handed he killed twenty-one Germans and captured 130 in one day. Of course, doubtless if some of the Hale county doughboys had wanted to they could have done more, but they wanted to leave some of the Huns for the other doughboys to capture.

We hear a great deal these days denunciatory of the so-called "profiteers." But, pray, what does it profit the profiteer to make huge profits when the government takes over three-fourths of the profits as taxes? These are days of unrest. These are days when most people seem to want to kick about something. The true philosophy of life is to be happy and contented.

The Villista forces, in trying to capture Juarez, Sunday, killed two persons and wounded several others in El Paso with stray bullets, whereupon American troops were sent across the river and drove the rebels away, doubtless killing many of them. That is the way to do in all cases where Mexican rebels start to pull off fights dangerously near the border, only they should be driven away before they have a chance to hurt anybody on this side of the line.

Old Santone "ain't what it used to be." On the train Monday morning, when the editor was coming out of the city, was a crowd of manly looking boys and young men and winsome girls, who had been attending the state convention of the Christian Endeavor societies. They were singing songs of the Endeavor. Some years ago coming out of the same city on a train there was a bunch of bleary-eyed besotted young men, howling, and using rough language and telling vile jokes. The prohibition of liquors has made San Antonio a much better city to live in, and a more enjoyable city to visit.

In times past the plutocratic rich undoubtedly contributed toward bringing on war, and doubtless had a considerable part in getting Uncle Sam into the big war. But, it is safe to say, the rich have been completely cured of their disease for war, for the rich are paying the large share of the expense of the war. Out of every million dollars of profit, Uncle Sam takes over seven-tenths as an income tax, and gathers possibly a hundred thousand dollars more in miscellaneous taxes. No wonder the big business interests are favorable toward the League of Nations.

Women have been trying for decades to get the vote and occupy an equal place with the men of the nation and it looks like now as if they will get the much envied honor in every state in the Union. So, far, so good; but why not go still further? Why not follow literally in the footsteps of their husbands and brothers by wearing low heels and broad soles, and not go mincing to the poles in high heels and narrow toed shoes. We believe in the eternal fitness of things. If women change their sphere they should clothe themselves in accordance with the new era. A life time ago, Dr. Mary Walker, one of the pioneer and foremost advocates of woman's suffrage adopted a masculine style of dress, even to a man's hat, and—let us say bi-furcated skirts. Not that far should you venture into Man's estate, but at least adopt the sensible and suitable portions of his attire. Go to the poles, the jury rooms and other coveted places with unpainted faces and a firm masculine tread. Do the thing right or do it not at all.

"State Press" of the Dallas News is a punk historian. It is strange how such an ignorant fellow as he is, pulls down such a large salary. Doubtless his nerve pulls him through. Recently he stated that Alexander the Great was not a married man. It is safe to say that most every high school student in Hale county knows that Alex was the husband of Roxanna, and that they had a son named Alex, Jr., and that a few years after Pater Alex kicked off from malarial fever contracted in the marshy country around Babylonia, one of his four generals who divided his world-wide domain into four kingdoms, had Roxanna and little Alex assassinated in order to remove any cloud to his title to the throne. Gossip told it that Alexander the Great had a number of wives in addition to Roxanna, who was his favorite and queen, but as Alex was a young man and lived long ago, there is no need to hold this against him now. No unmarried man could be as great a fighter as was Alexander of Macedonia.

The oil craze bids fair to disrupt the democratic party. It is causing democrats to do things democrats seldom have done since the grand, magnificent party was organized by Thos. Jefferson. Especially is oil playing havoc with the party on the Plains. Several months ago, Ben Sanford resigned as postmaster in Plainview to go into the oil drilling business, and now comes the news that Dr. Cunningham has resigned as postmaster at Amarillo to engage in the oil game. When democrats resign perfectly good positions, for which they sweat, fight and almost die to get—well, it is enough to make one wonder if the world is not soon coming to an end; it makes one listen to hear the sound of Gabriel's horn. However, we are glad to know that the Plainview postoffice will not have to close up and quit business for lack of a good democrat to hand out mail to the faithful, for there are six or eight good and tried democrats who are anxious to sacrifice themselves on the altar of their party, and draw down the twenty-six hundred simoleons a year—and thus redeem the party from the cloud Ben Sanford put it under by resigning.

The editor of the Lockney Beacon is a "bum" bible scholar. He says the Lord fed the Israelites on quails and manna while they were subduing the Land of Canaan. If he will read his bible carefully he will find that the supply of quails ceased somewhere in the wilderness (in fact, it is likely they were fed but a few days on quails) and the supply of manna ceased when Joshua and the host crossed the River Jordan near Jericho. We still contend that, while the bible does not positively so declare, the Israelites ate rabbit meat and were thus strengthened to wallop the Canaanites, for rabbit meat is the most nutritious of all meats. If the Beacon man does not believe the bible says the Israelites ate rabbits, we challenge him to point to the chapter and verse that says they did not.

Last week we printed a lengthy article by Editor J. H. Lowrey of the Honey Grove Signal, telling of the triumph of buttermilk over booze as a beverage. Lowrey has long been fighting for buttermilk in East Texas. Early in the fight the Editor of the News became his apostle, and for eight years has been promoting the general use of buttermilk among the people of the Plains. For a time Lee Satterwhite of the Panhandle Herald fought the spread of the buttermilk idea, but now even he has come over to its side. Lee is a politician; he was a member of the legislature from Limestone county, and when he struck the Plains he hit it a-runnin' for office. So long as he thought buttermilk had few friends, like all politicians, he fought; but now that it has crowded out booze and promises to crowd out coco-cola and other such sickly concoctions, and has become popular with the majority of the people, he mounds the highest rostrum and boldly announces he is for buttermilk and ever has been for it. He is simply a political hypocrite, and if he thought it would benefit his political aims and fortunes, he would stab it in the back tomorrow. To editor of the News is for buttermilk, "sink or swim, survive or perish, live or die"—and shall ever be. When we are for a thing, we are for it.

Hon. James L. Slayden of Texas was re-elected president of the American peace society. Hon. James L. Slayden of Texas was bowled out of congress without excuse of provocation. His peace society is committed to a league of nations. He was retired from congressional life because he did not always lend support to the policies of the president. One of the black spots on Mr. Wilson's record is the autocratic and un-American manner in which he persecuted congressmen who did not bow to his every whim and caprice in supporting legislation proposed by the administration.

True as the gospel, Jess. For many years we have ranted about the "autocratic and domineering Republicans," but those in position to know don't mind admitting that since the second inauguration of Pres. Wilson, he has "out-Heroded" the Republicans four ways from Sunday when it comes to the "iron hand" game. The president of the United States has no say coming about the representatives sent by the people to congress, and The News predicts right now that the precedent set by Wilson will bear bitter fruit for many years to come. There is no question but what much authority was essential during the days of war but when the war was over there was no disposition to relinquish not a whit of it; witness the malodorous case of one Burleson and there is no disposition in that direction yet. Very few men are big enough to give up any power that has been delegated to them. That trait is as old as humanity.—Clarendon News.

President Wilson is to make speeches in a tour of many states after his return within the next few days. He will explain the League of Nations plan and appeal to the people for its support. The senators who are opposed to the League are planning to follow him and make speeches in opposition. Mr. Wilson's plan of going to the people is a good one. Likely the people will bring enough pressure to bear on the senators who are holding out against the League to cause them to vote for its ratification.

The American Federation of Labor at its convention this week voted down a proposition calling a big strike on account of the conviction of Mooney, who bombed a parade in San Francisco several years ago and killed several people. The Federation said that it would hurt the cause and bring organized labor into disrepute to take such action against court procedure. Also the Federation voted down a resolution endorsing the soviet government in Russia. It is encouraging that the sane, patriotic element is in the majority over the radical element of organized labor in this country. So many things have occurred during and since the war that have led people to believe that most of the members of organized labor are anarchists and not patriots. Labor has more to win from good, orderly, democratic government than any other class of people. Labor has more benefit to receive from continuous and prosperous industry than anybody else. The strike and general unrest is the ban of labor, and injuries it more than anybody else.

JONES WANTS HORSE AND MULE STRICKEN FROM BILL
Washington, June 13.—Congressman Jones of Amarillo today announced that he would seek to have eliminated in the senate the $1,000,000 for the purpose of horses and mules carried in the military bill.

The Texas congressman could not get the floor when he attempted to kill the item in the house this afternoon.

Jones pointed out that the government had paid $190 a head and sold them at Camp Bowie and elsewhere at $90; that it paid $250 for mules and sold them at $113; that it has sold 162,000 and still has 83,000.

1920 ARMY BILL IS ADOPTED BY HOUSE
Washington, June 13.—Without a record vote the house today passed and sent to the senate the 1920 army appropriation bill, carrying a total of $718,000,000 and providing for a temporary army of 300,000 men. The original measure recommended by the war department carried $125,000,000.

Spreading Over the World
Brimming full of that confidence which brings success, and that active energy which creates success, the Ford Motor Company are establishing assembling plants in Copenhagen, Denmark, and in Cadiz, Spain.

The Ford Motor Company believes the war is over, that a new dispensation has been established, and that the sooner American manufactures can align themselves to the new conditions and reach out to meet the demands of the world, why, the quicker the havoc wrought by the war will have been effaced. The quicker we can get international business at work, the sooner will the horrors of the war disappear and the earlier we can reach out our hand of trade to help, the earlier will be the disappearance of hate and enmity between people.

The Ford Motor Company believes if you want the foreign market, go to it. Don't wait for it to come to you. Take what you have to sell to the market, and there show its advantage to the people who visit that market and to the people who buy in that market. If you wish foreign trade, become an active, living part in the red blood of that trade. The whole world is a market today for American enterprise, and who realize this truth and make honest efforts to get that trade, will have it.

SUED ARTAXERXES FOR LIBEL

Record of Babylonian Court Shows That Xenophon Was Peevish Over Published Article.

We hasten to announce that Xenophon sued Artaxerxes for libel 5,000 years ago, alleging his good name had been damaged to the tune of 50 talents of silver by the publication of a defamatory article. The Minneapolis Tribune's reporter fell down woefully on this story, that newspaper admits, and says: For the "scoop" we are indebted to an Oxford professor, who got it from the records on an ancient tablet in the possession of the University of Pennsylvania.

How the records came to be abstracted from the Babylonian court files we have no opinion. We only surmise that the clerk may have been a boon companion of Artaxerxes or that the managing editor of the Babylonian, being the presiding genius over a yellow sheet, instructed his courthouse man to fish the tablet in order to beat the Tidings to the story.

Whether the defendant was a forebear of Longimanus Artaxerxes, or Mnenon Artaxerxes or Ochus Artaxerxes, the Persian kings who reigned from the fifth to the third century before the Christian era, the tablet does not indicate, as it appears only to bear the praecipe. Nor is the identity of the complainant clear. He couldn't have been the Greek chap who wrote the "Anabasis" because that Xenophon, if the histories are correct, was born about 2,500 years after this suit was filed.

Yes, it must have been in the stone age that this bit of litigation was started. If Artaxerxes settled out of court, or Xenophon had the suit dismissed on his own account, the case was quite simple, but if it went to trial before a jury, the licensed draymen of Babylon must have had a busy week hauling evidence around. Hence counsel for the prosecution having his henchmen move ten tons of stone to prove up on a dinky little point in the evidence!

POETS AND THEIR MESSAGE

Writer Thinks Women Would Benefit by Learning a Few Lines of Poetry Every Day.

Mothers cannot live on bread alone; it takes more than furniture to complete a home. A house may be well appointed in its every detail, but it does not truly become a home until love and beauty have entered into its makeup. Amid our daily distractions and concerns poetry goes far toward lightening the burdens and alleviating the discords. It is a daily refuge from the petty worries and an inspiration for spiritual growth.

Learn a few lines of poetry each day while you work. You will be surprised how it will brighten the day. By the light of the poet's message nothing will appear common or insignificant, but all things will be touched with finer and deeper meanings. Every heartache and regret, every hope and aspiration, you will find expressed by some one of our magic singers. All mothers are poets at heart, and in true reality belong to the best fellowship of singers who are keeping messages of beauty and love alive.—Royal Dixon in The Mother's Magazine.

Too Soon to Tell.

A certain motion picture star, who has a warm spot in his heart for children and makes a great pet of a golden-haired youngster who plays in one of his pictures, quizzes the little fellow every day about his life at home, trying to learn how closely the child, who is not yet five years old, observes what is happening. One morning recently the youngster arrived at the studios with his mother and dashed for the star's dressing room. He was fairly trembling with excitement. "Say," he exclaimed breathlessly, "the family next door to us has a new baby!" The star displayed the keenest interest. "That's fine," he enthused. "What is it, Joey, a boy or a girl?" "Aw, gee," Joey returned with a contemptuous sneaker, "they don't know yet. It only came last night."

Little Russia, or Ukraine.

Little Russia, or Ukraine, is the region of the middle Dnieper valley, from the marshes of Pinsk to the cataracts below Ekaterinoslav. It was conquered in the fourteenth century by Lithuania, and was long disputed between this power, Russia and Turkey. Between 1654 and 1686 all the Ukraine east of the Dnieper, and in 1793 the portion west of the river, passed under the rule of the czars. The population is chiefly Little Russian, with a considerable number of Moldavians. The Little Russians are of the Slavonic stock, but many years ago underwent a mixture with Turkish tribes.

Lumber in the Philippines.

Approximately 80,000,000 to 100,000,000 board feet of lumber are used each year in the Philippine islands. Of this, strange to say, a considerable amount is imported, although the amount of such imported lumber is steadily being lessened as the capacity of the Philippine mills increase. China, Japan, and Australia use yearly more than 200,000,000 board feet of American lumber, a large part of which, it is said, could be furnished by lumber companies in the Philippines if there were a sufficient number properly capitalized and equipped.

Richard Ellis viewed from the hill the miles he would have to walk in order to dine at his boarding place in the village below. When his work of road construction should be in progress he would have to consider some means of transition; the present state of the land made this difficult.

Like a white square on the hillside stood a cottage; he remembered having passed it on his upward way. What a strange, detached home it must be, far from neighboring habitation. Perhaps it might be possible to procure a light luncheon there. The door, when he reached the house, stood open, disclosing to the farthest corner one wide room. It was a remarkable room for a humble country cottage. While the floor was scrubbed guileless of varnish, the walls were lined with shelves of books.

A pictorial calendar, with a verse for each day, drew his attention; curiously, the verses were printed in German. Upon the window seat, among its artistic cushions, were scattered various maps and drawings.

Then between two bookcases opened what he had fancied to be an outer door, and a girl appeared from the interior. A glorious creature she was, small, yet with an unmistakable air of dignity.

"I am a civil engineer—Richard Ellis," he explained; "we are going to put through a road. My boarding place in the village seemed too far away at dinner time, and I hoped to get a glass of milk and some bread at a farmhouse, but," he smiled engagingly, "I find this is decidedly not a farmhouse."

"The girl promptly considered," she said, "we may be able to provide you with a cup of coffee." She moved indifferently toward the prepared table. "Make yourself at home," she invited.

In strange diffidence, the usually confident engineer obeyed. When, with her regal air, the girl had prepared his coffee, she went out into the porch. It was all pleasantly mysterious. Ellis enjoyed the perfect salad, and wondered who the duce his queenly hostess might be. The matter of remuneration troubled him; he could imagine her scorn at the suggestion of payment. Yet he felt like an interloper calmly partaking of her food.

The girl promptly relieved him on this score. "I asked you to stay," she said, as he appeared upon the porch. "In order to gain information about the new road. Please explain to me concisely, just how and where it is going."

The engineer started in astonishment. Her question had the sound of a command. "It is not customary—" he began hesitatingly, and for the first time the girl laughed.

"No?" she questioned, as steadily she faced him. "Then, Mr. Ellis, engineer," she challenged, "stop in again, say tomorrow, and you shall see your wonderful plans, as they are not now, but as they will be when completed."

"I do not understand you," Ellis repeated slowly. With strange reluctance he turned to depart.

The girl pointed to the village below. "Down there," she said, mockingly, "they will tell you all about me."

It was impossible to concentrate upon the duty of the afternoon because of her haunting personality.

"Who lives there?" he asked of Sammie, associate engineer.

"The lady of mystery," Sammie answered. "Why, haven't you heard? She comes galloping into town on a black horse, with a great dog in tow. They have it figured out here that she's in the employ of the German government, mapping out the country and all that. Look out for the black eyes, Dickie, or she'll have you hypnotized."

To Richard's memory came quickly the girl's boasted knowledge of his work, her own avowal that she had entertained him in order to gain information.

"I came," he greeted, "to have you fulfill your promise concerning my outline of work."

In her own pretty, serious way, the girl bowed, and placed in his hands the completed blueprint map of the road.

"But, how?" he asked perplexedly.

Again the girl laughed, and dropping her manner of reserve, seated herself on the step at his side.

"What am I now," she asked naively, "a defaulter in hiding, a German spy, or just disappointed in love? They have had me all three at the village."

Ellis gazed tensely into the black eyes. "What are you?" he asked. "That is what I wanted to know myself."

"I shall only disappoint you," the girl replied. "It is so simple. My father is Lewis Kain, chief engineer. When I learned that he must be away from home long, I begged to come with him and keep house. He sent on our man to fix up this shack, and then was called away the very night of our arrival. There was no reason why I should not wait in this peaceful spot, his return. My dog is a fine body-guard. I helped father with these maps and prints—we two are great chums. That's all," she ended, and arose abruptly.

"Then I shall see you again!" cried Richard Ellis, his voice ringing with a hidden joy.

It takes a two-thirds vote to carry this bond proposition, and the people through the country will have an opportunity to say whether they want to spend this sum in building roads in this county. will be held in all the voting boxes in the county.—Beacon.

The Common Average

No stronger evidence of the important fact that the Ford Motor car has become a veritable part of the life of the people, could be asked for than is given in the registration records of the various states which comprise our country.

For instance, in the month of January there were 11,450 cars of all makes registered in the State of Montana, of which 5,790 were Ford cars. This means one Ford car for every other car, of every make and 130 voter. This proposition is very evenly maintained in the other forty-seven states, more than one-half of which are Fords.

Truly, Henry Ford has been a great factor of benefit to humanity as he has brought the most economical solution to the great problems of transportation, and by the fruits, of his genius has linked town and country, community to community, and made the whole country a common meeting place for all the people.

It pays to advertise in The News.

The News wishes to make the Amende honorable by stating that inadvertently R. B. C. Howell's name was left out in the account of the entertainment given last Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McGlasson.

Mr. Howell made one of the best talks of the evening—upon "Is this kind of a meeting worth while?"

Old Mother Hubbard Visits the Bride

One of the most beautiful of the many pre-nuptial functions given this month, was the miscellaneous shower for Miss Pattie Dalton, given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Judge and Mrs. L. S. Kinder.

The hostesses were Misses Lucile Kinder and Irene Lamb, and deftly and lovingly did they plan for their friend.

Wild flowers in yellow and white were used in decorating the suite of rooms thrown open to the guests.

In an eight table game of Forty-two Miss Jo Keck and Miss Hampton of DeLeon tied high score.

The bride-to-be, gowned in bridal robes of white, was led to the seat of honor. Immediately little Dorothy Rushing dressed in white and yellow entered and presented Miss Dalton with a bouquet of Shasta daisies tied with yellow maline. Just previous to this however, Mrs. Guy Jacobs played the accompaniment to a solo by Mrs. Mildred Doland, "A Good Man Is Hard to Find." This was followed by an encore, "Till We Meet Again."

Then in came Miss Georgia Bra-shars, dressed as Old Mother Hubbard. She handed the guest of honor a cupboard small, but true to life, filled with useful kitchen articles.

While this part of the program was in evidence, little Dorothy recited the following:

"Old Mother Hubbard to the cupboard went,
To see if enough money on Miss Dalton was spent
And when she got there she found plenty to spare,
For the cupboard was filled with kitchen ware.

After this little Virginia and Flournoy Sansom dressed as Jack and Jill approached the bride and told her in pleasing rhythm that as they came down the hill they tumbled, and sure enough they did tumble, emptying at her feet a hamper filled with the daintiest and prettiest gifts.

After that the three small envoys were kept busy bringing gifts to the fortunate and happy bride.

The dining room, beautiful with white flowers and streamers of yellow maline and lighter with yellow shaded lights was opened, and a salad course served by Misses Louise and Luella Lamb to fifty guests including Mrs. Z. E. Jenkins of Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Carroll McGlasson of Kress and Miss Hampton of De Leon.

Congregation of Baptist Church Welcome Soldiers Home

Hale county is proud of her soldiers. Proud of those who fought and equally proud of those who would have fought, if they could have had the opportunity. That Plainview is proud of her returned heroes was evidenced last night by the crowd that filled the Baptist church and by the excellent program gotten up for the occasion by the members of the church.

The church was in gala array for the event, and everywhere was the flag for which the boys had fought; which waved alike over camps at home and the battlefields of France.

Rev. A. E. Boyd, who was master of ceremonies, began the program with an address of welcome which warmed the hearts of all those within the sound of his voice. The musical program as given below was exceptionally fine.

Chorus.
Piano duet—Misses Ruth Lipscomb and Marguerite Willis.
Violin solo—Rupert Crabb.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Geo. Wilson.
Piano Solo—Miss Florine Long.
Vocal duet—Miss Flora Meadows and Mrs. J. E. Watson.

Male quartette—Messrs. Will Stockton, J. E. Meadows and Burkett.
Piano solo—Harriet Vanderpool.
Vocal trio—Mrs. Knobbsen, Mrs. Smith and Miss Meadows.
Piano solo—Miss Lula Malone.
Vocal solo—Mrs. S. W. Smith.
Violin and trombone—Rupert Crabb, Misses Zackary and Frank Meadows.

Mixed quartette—Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Watson, Messrs. Stockton and Burkett.
Orchestra.

Mrs. E. R. Williams played the piano accompaniments.

All of the numbers deserve recognition, but "Soldier Boy" by the male quartette, the piano solo of little Harriet Vanderpool and the violin playing of Melvina Zackary drew forth marked attention from the audience. The skill and technique of the little girls in handling their instruments is remarkable.

The seats immediately in front of the rostrum were filled with soldiers, their wives and sweethearts.

In response to a call for talks from some of the returned men, Capt. E. E. Roos came forward and paid a glorious tribute to the casual soldiers of the great war.

Frank Meadows spoke of the great happiness of being at home again. Menefee Flake said all he could do was to get up and smile to show that he was glad. Alvin Blakemore said "I enlisted at sixteen, that speaks for itself," and it does.

All were called upon but modestly, or perhaps the serious recollection of their experiences forbade the telling.

Just before adjournment Mrs. Knobbsen sang a beautiful solo, "Soldier Boy, Goodnight."

A general handshaking was then in order, and punch was offered soldiers and civilians by girls dressed in the insignia of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Cora Pritchett Becomes
Bride of R. W. O'Keefe

A quiet, but interesting marriage, because of the prominence of the contracting parties, was solemnized last night, when Mrs. Cora Pritchett became the bride of R. W. O'Keefe.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride, 209 West Ninth street. Dr. E. E. Robinson said the marriage service in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Marshal Phelps and since her coming to Plainview several years ago, she has been prominent in musical and social circles, having been teacher of voice in Seth Ward and Wayland colleges, and also director of the Methodist choir.

Mr. O'Keefe is one of the town's most influential citizens and was one of the first men to assist in the making of Plainview.

Honoring Sixth Birthday

Entertains for Daughter

Wednesday afternoon at her home 905 Broadway, Mrs. D. L. Miller entertained for her daughter, Deanna and her daughter's friend, Virginia Keys.

Pink and white roses throughout the rooms made a pretty setting for the youthful guests.

Frede King
Sunday, June 15th, a quiet wedding was celebrated at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. King, southeast of Hale Center. Their daughter, Majorie, was united in marriage to Mr. Elmer F. Frede of Amarillo.

The ceremony took place at nine o'clock in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, Rev. Bone of Hale Center officiating.

Shortly after the ceremony the bridal party and guests sat down to a bountiful wedding dinner, served in three courses.

Those witnessing the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. King, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff King and family, Erskine King, Misses Beth and Ernestine King, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harrington and family, and Miss Ines Boulter.

The bride and groom have a large circle of friends, who wish them all happiness in their future life.

and their future home.

Announcement Party
The marriage of Miss Evelyn Clairtor of Petersburg to G. C. Phillips of Ranger was formally announced last Friday afternoon by Mrs. L. C. Clairtor, mother of the bride.

Pink and white, the popular colors of the brides of June were used in decorating the rooms.

After the thirty odd friends invited for the event had assembled, little Ava Lee Barnes knocked on the door and entered carrying a basket filled with scrolls. On these scrolls Dan cupid officially announced that the marriage would take place next Tuesday afternoon.

Ices was offered the guests at a later hour.

Each year as June draws near, the Baptist Women Missionary Workers in the Northwest district, which comprises forty-two counties, begin to make their plans to attend their annual meeting.

This year on June 10th the meeting was with the Amarillo ladies at the First Baptist church. They had done so much to make this day a joyful remembrance to the visitors. Beautiful flowers greeted us as we entered the auditorium; and the lovely music that interspersed the program, and the dainty luncheon eaten while listening to the sweet strains of the orchestra, were a joy to those present.

The program for the day was beautifully carried out, but the climax was reached when we listened to the two talks given by Miss Bagby of Bazil who is a student of the B. W. M. W. Training school at Fort Worth. Her talk on the school showed us what a power it is in training our young women. She told us about Brazil as a country and as a mission

SICKNESS CAUSES BIG
LOSS OF TIME IN TEXAS

Austin, Texas, June 9, 1919.—The Indexical Health Survey being conducted by the State Board of Health is revealing data of great interest. Statistics from representative sections of the State show that the people have lost annually, on account of sickness, an average of 10.17 days per capita within the past three years, representing an annual financial loss of $10.74 per capita, or three and two tenths per cent of the income of the entire population. This is only the reduction in earning capacity and does not include the added cost of caring for the sick. Of the deaths occurring in the State within the past three years, 24.3 per 1000, 45 per cent were from preventable diseases. Applying these figures to a city of approximately 20,000 population, out of 486 deaths, 200 were from preventable diseases. The people of such a city are losing annually from work, school, etc., an aggregate of 200,000 days, or 550 years in time, and $214,800 in earnings. About 5000 school children are losing 25,500 days from school, the equivalent of keeping 141 of these children out of school altogether.

"The employment of an all-time Health Officer," said Dr. Goddard, State Health Officer, "working in co-operation with a local Health Board and the State Health Department would reduce these figures at least 25 per cent. For a city of 20,000 population this would mean an annual saving of $53,700, and the prevention of 40 deaths. In view of these facts, the State Board of Health is strongly advocating the employment of all-time City and County Health Officers by every city and county in Texas."

Chronic Constipation
Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able to eventually overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics, take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.

TEXAS CAVALRY NOT NEEDED, CABEL SAYS

Border Peaceful Except for Small Raids, General Wires War Department

Washington, June 9.—General Cabell, commander of the Southern Department, has wired the War Department from San Antonio that there is no unusual disturbance along the border making it necessary to call in to federal service for border patrol duty the Texas cavalry.

General Cabell telegraphed the War Department in part as follows:

"No trouble anticipated on border except very small raids for purpose of stealing, and personal feuds. Situation can be controlled by troops there. In general there is peace on the border and has been for the last eight months. At present see nothing alarming in the situation and no reason for calling out Texas troops."

The report was in answer to a specific query from the War Department regarding the recommendation of Governor Hobby of Texas that the First and Second Brigades of Texas National Guard Cavalry be called in to service to reinforce the border guard.

Transfer of the 340th Artillery from Camp Upton, N. Y. to Fort Bliss, Texas, and of the 111th Mobile Ordnance Repair Shop from Camp Lee, Va., to Camp Bowie, Texas, has been ordered, but it was said officially that the movement has no connection with the border situation, but is in line with the normal demobilization program.

The State Health Department
(By Dr. C. W. Goddard, State Health Officer).

In the Bureau of Public Health Education we need an editorial staff composed of some of our best doctors and educators.

In the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering we need several field engineers to visit each town in Texas and also to assist in the handling of stream pollution and other sanitary problems.

In the Bureau of Vital Statistics we are now re-arranging the method of compiling same so we can get daily, weekly and monthly reports of births, deaths and communicable diseases from every town and county. This is supplying the data which was so much needed in each of the Bureaus.

We are strongly advocating the employment of full time County Health Officers in every county with a population of 30,000 or more and by several of the smaller counties co-operating and employing a full time Health Officer to represent them. Also the employment of a full time Health Officer by all towns and cities of a population of 30,000 or more.

We need the complete co-operation of all county and municipal health officers and desire to say that we are from the rank and file of the county doctors and in a position to fully reciprocate. It is our purpose to render you all the assistance possible in the administration of public health, and the door of the State Health Department stands ajar for you. We trust you will not hesitate to call on us.

We are also in favor of public health nurses being employed by the more populous counties and cities that can afford same. We think that the nurse should be under the direction of the full-time health officer. This will insure complete co-operation of their work and will again be economy in service and avoid duplication of effort.

In order that we may have specially trained forces we need established in the medical department of the University of Texas a chair for the training of doctors and nurses in public health work.

The greatest war the world has ever known, from which we are just now emerging, has brought to the attention of not only the medical profession, but to the entire citizenship of this country the necessity for the betterment of health conditions. Our gallant and noble soldiers to whom the world owes a debt of gratitude are now returning and they, having learned more about health measures will tell you that this country and especially Texas must wake up to a realization that a strong nation is largely dependent upon a physically and mentally strong citizenship. Therefore, we trust that the good people of Texas will respond to the emergency and ask that the State Health Department be furnished with sufficient funds to carry on the work. The War Department was confronted ed with such emergencies as to necessitate the enforcement of military regulations in matters of public health, and we must admit that such regulations were a great improvement over the civil system of health regulations which existed prior to the war. Now, inasmuch as the war department is withdrawing its forces governing health matters in Texas it devolves upon the civil authorities to take over the splendid system established by the war department and maintain same. The State Board of Health being by statute the administrator of all matters pertaining to public health necessarily will be expected to keep before our citizenship the lesson learned during this war. Through the police power the State Health Department is not only given authority, but it is made a mandatory duty that it should protect the entire state when the public health is in danger.

Local public health matters as a rule are usually administered in Texas by local authorities, but these local authorities have not the opportunity of obtaining the scope of co-ordinated effort necessary to carry out a state wide public health organized co-ordinated effort.

GERMANY MAY BE ADMITTED INTO NATIONS LEAGUE

Such Action Might Prevent Coalition With Russia Bolshevik By Germans

Germany, if she signs the peace treaty and gives satisfactory guarantees that she will establish a stable government and loyally carry out the provisions of the treaty, doubtless will be permitted to become a member of the league of nations.

The council of four at present has this momentous subject under consideration and from unofficial reports there seemingly is no strong objection to Germany being admitted if this contriteness she proves her worthiness to membership.

Permitting membership to Germany the feeling prevails there will be no likelihood of a coalition between that country and Russia, which in the future might be the source of trouble, and that with her inside the league she could be kept more tractable than outside it.

The council also is going over the reports of the commissions which have been examining into the German counter proposals. While all the commissions have not yet reported, it is felt that late in the week the entire situation will have been so whipped into shape that it will be possible to hand the Germans the final word of the allied and associated powers constituting an irreducible minimum of concessions.

It is said that five days after the presentation of the reply the Germans must give notice as to whether they propose to sign the treaty.

Considerable fighting continues between the factions in Russia. Hostilities also are in progress between the Hungarians and Czecho-Slovaks, but these are likely soon to end un-

Women Meet in Chicago

For the first time in the history of the Democratic party women have been summoned to its national councils. On May 28 and 29 in Chicago, by formal invitation from Hon. Homer Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee, an associate national committee made up of one woman from each state met in conference. The invitation was cordial and the response was equally cordial and enthusiastic in spite of heat, expense and distance the women came.—Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker in Dallas News.

COULD HARDLY STAND ALONE

Terrible Suffering From Headache, Sideache, Backache, and Weakness, Relieved by Cardui, Says This Texas Lady.

Gonzales, Tex.—Mrs. Minnie Philpot, of this place, writes: "Five years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side. It was right under my left rib. It would commence with an aching and extend up into my left shoulder and on down into my back. By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed, and suffered usually about three days... I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone. Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go... I suffered awful with a pain in my back and had the headache all the time. I was unable to do a thing. My life was a misery, my stomach got in an awful condition, caused from taking so much medicine. I suffered so much pain. I had just about given up all hopes of our getting anything to help me.

One day a Birthday Almanac was thrown in my yard. After reading its testimonials I decided to try Cardui, and am so thankful that I did, for I began to improve when on the second bottle... I am now a well woman and feeling fine and the cure has been permanent for it has been two years since my awful bad health. I will always praise and recommend Cardui." Try Cardui today. E 78

GERMAN INTERNAL SITUATION TENSE

The peace conference barometer, which for some time has been vacillating between pessimism and optimism as to the probability of an early agreement by the council of four on the answer to the German counter proposals to the peace treaty, again registers optimism.

From Paris comes the almost definite statement that the reply of the allied and associated governments to the Germans is complete, and that all that now is required to end the tense situation is to draft the answer, present it to the Germans and await five days for their final reply whether they accept or reject it.

According to a statement made in a "responsible quarter," in Paris, agreements in principle on all the disputed points have been reached by the council, even on the question whether Germany is to become a member of the league of nations and as regards the holding of a plebiscite in upper Silesia.

In Austria-Hungary the political situation is considered serious. Reports are that a communist government is to be set up in Austria-Hungary, and that the Austrian communists faction in Hungary.

In Germany Gustave Noske, minister of defense, has thrown down the gauntlet to the radical majority Socialists who have resignation, and that of Scheidemann from the executive committee of the majority party. The supreme council has informed Admiralty Kolchak, anti-Bolshevik leader in Russia, that his reply to its offer of allied support in the campaign against the Bolsheviks is satisfactory. This is regarded as meaning de facto recognition by the allied and associated powers of the Omsk government headed by Kalchak and the furnishing of munitions and supplies for Kolchak's campaign.

The British government has denied a report that British troops are operating against Petrograd. Serious anti-Japanese agitation in China which may develop into a general anti-foreign movement is reported from Tokio.

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to make a creamy beauty lotion for a few cents

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweet fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

The Republic of Texas had many capitals. In 1835 at San Felipe; in 1836 at Washington, Harrisburg and Galveston; at Velasco the treaties with Santa Anna were signed; in October, 1837, the seal of government was removed to Houston, where it remained until October, 1839, when it was removed to Austin; thence back to Houston in 1842, where it remained until November, when the congress met at Washington; which remained the seat until the congress and President Houston decided it was safe to return to Austin, where it has remained since without interruption.—Houston Post.

Wins Gold Medal

Just because the wide awake little village of Flomot is up in the corner of the county, and was crowded off the county line, it is no sign that it has been put off the map.

At the recent meeting of the Panhandle Association of the I. O. O. F., held at Amarillo, Mr. C. R. Burk, of that place, won the gold medal offered by the association to the member who made the best showing in the rendition of the unwritten work of the order.

This is not only a distinction for Bro. Burk, but is a compliment to Flomot and Motley county, and the prize was won by one who is not only an exceptionally well versed and enthusiastic Odd Fellow, but a desirable citizen. We congratulate him, his lodge and his town.—Roaring Springs Report.

ARMISTICE TO EXPIRE ON MONDAY UNLESS ACCEPTED

Paris, June 16.—The final reply of the allied and associated powers to the conditions of peace handed to the Germans at Versailles May 7, was delivered to the German delegation today and made public shortly afterward. The Germans are allowed five days to accept or to refuse the treaty as it stands. If they accept, peace will be signed at once; if they do not accept, the armistice will terminate Monday, June 23, and the powers will take such steps as may be necessary to enforce their terms.

The principles of the original conditions have been vigorously upheld, as establishing a peace of justice, but certain modifications in detail and many explanations of the effect of execution are made. The reply is in two parts—a general covering letter and a series of discussions of the general counter proposals.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU DEATHLY SICK

Stop using dangerous drug before it salivates you! It's horrible

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.

To Prevent Belching

Make a regular habit of eating slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, and you may have no further trouble. If you should, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

Federal Judge Is Injured

Amarillo, June 11.—While riding horse back Monday evening, Judge James C. Wilson, United States District Judge, presiding at the present term of federal court, was painfully injured in an accident about Eighth and Polk streets. Judge Wilson was returning and going north; an automobile driven by a Mr. Swain came up behind him and ran into the horse, throwing the horse on its side and catching Judge Wilson's left foot under the horse, also bruising left arm and hand. Judge Wilson was immediately taken to his room at Amarillo hotel and received medical aid. It was found that his ankle was bruised and lower part of foot injured but no bones broken. Judge Wilson adjourned court for Tuesday and it is thought he will be able to attend court Wednesday. It will be several days before he will be able to walk on the injured foot.

Only ONE out of 147 does it!

There are actually, over 147 brands of cigarettes sold in this country. But, not one of them does what Chesterfields do, for Chesterfields do more than please the taste—they touch the smoke-spot—they let you know you are smoking and—they satisfy!

It's all in the blend—a blend of fine selected TURKISH and DOMESTIC tobaccos—just the right kind and the right quantity of each.

There never was a cigarette that grew faster in popular favor because no cigarette ever gave such value.

Prove it! Smoke a Chesterfield fresh from the moisture-proof package.

AMARILLO SELECTED FOR NEXT HIGHWAY MEETING

Amarillo, June 12.—Amarillo was chosen for the 1920 convention of the Colorado to Gulf Highway Association at its meeting in Clayton yesterday. The meeting will probably be held in June of next year, it was said, and it is expected many delegates from all parts of the country through which the highway runs, will attend. Grove B. Hill, director of highways in the Board of City Development, was elected first vice-president of the association.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Disease like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.

Farm Butter

(By J. L. Thomas, Dairy Husbandman, Extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas.)

In the making of farm butter for the market, ice should be used. This is necessary to give butter a good texture and to make it possible to get rid of all the buttermilk, thus making a grade of butter that will remain in good condition for a number of days.

If butter is made for home use, ice is not absolutely necessary. Condition for churning by placing it in a pail eight inches in diameter and 16 to 20 inches deep, wrapping the pail with a heavy cloth, and placing it in a shady place, where the wind will strike it. The cloth around the pail should be kept damp by a drip of water from a container placed above. By this method a good grade of butter can be made for immediate use, but it will carry so much buttermilk, that its keeping quality will not be good, hence it is not a good butter for the market.

This same system can be used to good advantage in cooling cream that is sold to the creameries. It gives a much lower temperature than ordinary well water for cooling.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WANTS CITY AND COUNTY HEALTH OFFICERS

State Health Officer Goddard in advocating the employment of County and City Health Officers, stresses the point that in order that their work be effective they should be All-Time. "A health officer should not be permitted to do private practice," said Dr. Goddard. "If he can devote all his time he can see that streets, alleys, backyards, closets, barns, branches, creeks all public places—such as slaughterhouses, dairies, factories of all kinds, grocery houses, meat markets, cafes, hotels, school houses and all other places are kept in proper sanitary condition. He can destroy all disease germ breeding places; look after water supply, sewage, drainage, etc. In fact he can be required to remove as far as possible all those conditions which cause sickness among the people. He can examine all school children, report all diseases and defects

The River of Life

Say what you will of whatever part of the human anatomy you please, the river of life is the BLOOD. It is either the swift running stream of health or the germ-laden channel of disease, one or the other.

The new remedy for the blood is the kind that freshens and quickens the circulation, energizes the good corpuscles that fight the battles of life for the sick.

The Famous TONIC, RICH-TONE, is unlike any other known remedy. It works differently, it reaches in and through and down till it penetrates to the seat of the disease and springs at the very throat of the cause of it.

It's the only remedy that does this. And doing this it gets results and effects cures that no other can.

Mr. Wimsatt says: "I bought two bottles of Rich-Tone for my mother. She thinks it is the finest tonic. She has used many other kinds, but nothing has helped her like Rich-Tone."

This famous tonic is for sale at our drug store at only $1.00 per bottle.

found, to the teacher, the parents and the family physician. He should not be required to treat any patients except those who are considered charity wards of the city. He can investigate and remove as far as possible the cause of any epidemic disease which might develop. He can vaccinate against smallpox and typhoid fever, and he can be helpful to all the people in many other ways.

Just so long as the Health Officer is compelled to practice medicine to support himself and family, and is paid only a small salary, it may be expected that health conditions will be neglected. A city needs a first class doctor to devote all his time to public health work."

try, where a very large number of soldiers are kept all the time, and where all the barracks, officers' home, etc., are of stone and brick. We passed by the hospital, where a hundred or two of wounded soldiers from France are being kept. Those who went through this hospital said it was very pathetic to see the manner in which many of the soldiers are wounded.

Camp Stanley is twenty miles or further away from San Antonio, with a paved road the whole distance, but I did not visit it. Neither did I visit Kelley aviation field, as a rain came up. At another time I did visit Brooks aviation field.

However, coming back we drove through Laurel Heights, the best residence part of San Antonio, where there are fine and beautiful homes and yards. The finest is that of a Mexican physician, and it is very unique and beautiful, with a Spanish court in the center.

We also drove through Brackenridge park, and saw the famous and beautiful sunken Japanese garden, which at night is said to be a veritable fairyland. We also saw the many animals in the zoological gardens in Koeler park.

In the next paper I will tell of other interesting scenes about the Alamo city. J. M. A.

The Board of City Development of Plainview, wants to be of service to you in harvesting your wheat and oats, and in order to do so they must know your wants and have time to fill them.

How About Your Labor?

There is no charges for our services. Are you going to need any extra labor to save your harvest? If so, you had better get in touch with the Secretary of the Board of City Development and tell him your needs. Write a letter to or call on W. C. Long, Jr., at the City Hall, Plainview; and answer the following questions:

How many hands do you need?

How long can you use these hands?

When do you want these hands?

What can you pay these hands?

You must stare these facts in the face: That you cannot afford to wait until the last minute for your help, then jump in your car, run into town, and expect to grab up what labor you need and take it home with you that same day. There are other farmers who will want help, and they will stand just as good a chance as you to get the labor, and no farmer will get very many hands without speaking in time.

The secretary of the Board of City Development has many inquires from men seeking work in the harvest fields here, and they want to know: How much you will pay? How long you can use them, etc?

Don't wait until the last minute to let us know your wants. Be sure to let us know at once.
