One sweetly solemn thought Comes to us o'er and o'er Our taxes are higher this spring Than they've ever been before.

You couldn't sell a man the same gold brick twice. But the darn fool will go and get married a second time.

Pat Neff says "Bailey is a knocker by nature, an alien by choice, and a champion of the liquor traffic by employment."

It is a safe bet that the people of Texas will in the May and July primaries overwhelmingly defeat booze, buncombe and Bailey.

Stripped of all its camouflage the purpose of Bailey's campaign is to destroy the prohibition amendment and bring liquor back.

The half of the world that is dissatisfied with what it has can't understand why the other half is dissatisfied with what it hasn't.

The News is an optimist. It knows and believes that humanity is advancing and that as sure as God lives the future will be greater and better than the present or the past.

Tom Ball says the Bailey movement against Wilson is "a combination of everybody that is opposed to everything, purposing to assimilate anybody who is opposed to anything."

Three of the greatest pronouncements ever given to the world are the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule. They form a creed that all men of every sect, race and nation can adopt if they believe and love the truth.

Thos. M. Campbell of Palestine has announced as a candidate for one of the four places as delegate-at-large from Texas to the democratic national convention. Campbell made one of the ablest governors Texas ever had. He should be elected.

Gov. Hobby says "Prohibition and plenty have taken the place of whiskey and want in Texas," and the people will never turn back to the old ways, hence the movement of a bunch of broken-down politicians to blow holes in the prohibition law will be unsuccessful.

If Wilson's administration had nothing else to its credit than the establishment of the federal reserve banking system, the rural credits system and the federal land bank system, it would justify every Texas democrat to endorse it.

With Joe Bailey and his bunch fighting within and Jim Ferguson and his "American party" fighting without to destroy the democratic party, it behooves all true democrats to rally to the party as never before. It is inconceivable to think that the democracy of Texas will vote to repudiate the Wilson administration.

The great menace to industry these days is the loafer and the shirker. There is no excuse for loafing, shirking is a crime, for the world needs greater production. Instead of shorter hours people should work longer hours until the world catches up with production. Of course, labor should be paid extra for longer hours of work.

Last week a special election for state senator was held in the Houston district. Also to elect two members of the lower house. The candidates who stand for endorsement of Woodrow Wilson, for prohibition and woman's suffrage were elected. The Houston district was one of the last strongholds of the liquor interests. If the people of the Houston district are against Bailey and his bunch, it is safe to say the state at large will overwhelmingly go against him.

French heel shoes are going out of style, and will soon give way to a more sensible heel. Of course, being a mere man we have no right to criticize woman's fashions, but speaking ex cathedra, we are of the opinion that French heels are one of the most foolish and health-undermining styles the women have ever adopted. Now, if they will wear winter clothing in the winter they will go another long step in conserving their health.

Senator Robert Owen of Oklahoma is one of the leading democrats in the United States senate. He is the choice of Oklahoma democrats for the presidential nomination. He is a true democrat; he is a man of the people. He was asked a few days ago what he thinks of Joe Bailey's blanket attack on the democratic administration, and he replied "I think he is trotting true to form. For some years I have thought of him as a stalking horse for the republicans." He also told of how Bailey voted to admit New Mexico as a state when it was a cinch that it would send two republicans as senators, and then voted against admission when it seemed that two democrats would be sent to the senate. He said Bailey had made no record of constructive accomplishments during his long career in congress. There have been forty notable accomplishments under the Wilson administration, yet Bailey has no praise for any of them, but is a carping critic. It seems that Senator Owen has a sure line up on Bailey. Bailey is a traitor in the democratic camp. He is trying to give the country over to the republicans. He cannot hope to accomplish any good for the democratic party or the common people by his tactics. The only plausible reason, it seems to us, is that he is working for the liquor interests. Don't it seem that way to you?

Editor Warwick of the Canyon News saw service across seas. He is opposed to the proposed bonus to soldiers. He says: "We believe that a majority of the four million men who served America during the war will oppose the plan now on foot to bond America to pay a bonus of $50 per month to the men for each month that they were in service. It smacks too much of charity. Most of the men are now back on their old jobs with no personal injuries and to pay them this bonus would be an insult to the pride and patriotism of the men who fought for their country. When the war started it was deemed that the government was establishing a system that would forstall pensions which has grown to absurd proportions in the United States. If this bonus goes through, ere long some of the men who served in the world war will demand a permanent monthly pension and the system will grow into unbelievable proportions. The men who are demanding this pension or bonus should realize that in a few years the 4,000,000 men will be paying a principal part of the taxes of this country, and it will simply be the process of taking out of one pocket to put into another."

Bob Henry has balked on Bailey. He says Bailey must slow up in his wholesale denunciation of the Wilson administration or he will be defeated, for the people of Texas can be depended upon not to repudiate the democratic administration. Bob says the federal reserve, and the land banks are "great constructive measures and thoroughly democratic," also that the conduct and winning of the war should be endorsed. Bob says all he opposes is prohibition, woman's suffrage and the league of nations. Bob says Bailey must change his attitude. Bob and Joe are mainly against prohibition—all the other issues are minor affairs. The democrats of Texas are for prohibition, woman's suffrage, league of nations, and endorse the Wilson administration for its many good acts and for winning the war. When Texas democrats repudiate a democratic administration pigs will be flying through the air like eagles and Lubbock will have lost its prouch against Plainview.

Mr. McAdoo declares the federal tax burden is too great upon the people, and "is having an injurious effect upon business." He says taxes should be reduced a billion dollars a year. He is conservative, for it is likely that it should be reduced two billion a year. There are scores of war bureaus, with clerks, being continued in Washington though their activity should have ceased with the end of the war. They are continued simply to furnish jobs for people. It is likely that 350,000 of the 700,000 federal officers and clerks could be eliminated and not affect efficiency. These people should be turned out of office, so they could go to work at something worth while. The taxpayers should have their burdens reduced—federal, state, county and municipal.

Honors are coming to Editor Lee Satterwhite of the Panhandle Herald. He is legislator from that district and a leader in the house. Last week he was made president of the newly organized chamber of commerce of his town. Lee is a prince of a fellow.

During the month of February the per capita of money in the United States was reduced $1.04, and March 1st was $53.73. It is thought that as the per capita of circulation decreases the prices of commodities will also decrease.

CAN WE RISE ABOVE IT?

Too bad! Editor Jess Adams of the Plainview News is trying to ruin a perfectly good newspaper man by projecting himself into the state legislature. Jess can make a living running his good paper—in fact, he has made some money that way. Then why on earth does he seek to break into the legislature, the certain realm of bankruptcy? The Post man has watched, with regret and dismay, a number of friends enter the state legislature after honestly making an honest living in other callings, but we have never seen this experience improve a man, financially, morally nor socially. Truly, if we wished harm to an enemy we could wish him little worse than a term in the legislature. The best thing that can happen to Jess is to have the other fellow snow him under and leave him at home to run the News.—Childress Post.

WOULD YOU LIKE IT?

If you were a West Texas farmer who had gone through two years of crop failures, but stuck because you believed the country would "come back," and if the third year you made a good crop, about good enough to wipe out your two years' losses, would you like it if the government stepped in and made you pay income tax on what it took three years to make but insisted that only one year's expenses could be deducted in figuring your net income. You bet you wouldn't like it. But that's the law, according to federal authorities, and it ought to be modified.—Star-Ex-Telegram.

Mary Pickford Wins Divorce

Mary Pickford, motion picture star, was granted a divorce from Owen Moore Monday of last week at Minden, Nev., on grounds of desertion. She was accompanied to the court room by her mother, Mrs. Smith, and she wept freely while testifying. Moore was not in court, though he was at Minden at lunch that day. He was represented by an attorney in the proceedings.

MUST FUMIGATE TEXT BOOKS

School Authorities Will Have Problem of Disinfecting Volumes Before Reissuing

"Local boards of trustees shall make provision for the fumigation of books before the reissue of the books. Covers of all books shall be removed before reissue and the pupil to whom the book is issued shall replace cover, under the direction of the teacher," says the Texas state free textbook law.

To determine the most effective method of fumigation, a series of tests was ordered by Dr. C. W. Goddard, state health officer, at the request of Miss Annie Webb Blanton, state superintendent of education. And these tests were begun recently in the health department, Dr. Goddard assigning Dr. G. M. Graham, bacteriologist, and L. O. Bernhagen, assistant sanitary engineer, to the task.

There will be from six to ten tests made, different concentrations of gas being employed to kill tubercular, diphtheria and other pathogenic germs, placed between the pages of school books, and records of the experiment will automatically show which is the desired 100 per cent efficient.

The result of the information thus obtained will be sent to the school boards of the state by the department of education as a guide to carry out the requirement of the free textbook law.

Miss Nannie Mae Dunaway Becomes Bride of Elliott Terry
 Wednesday at high noon Miss Nannie Mae Dunaway became the bride of Mr. Elliott E. Terry, the wedding ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents in the western part of Plainview, a number of relatives and friends being present.

The house was decorated in cut flowers and ferns, and in the living room there was an archway embanked with cut flowers ferns and tulle. With Mrs. Guy Jacob at the piano as accompanist, Mr. Matt Cram sang "Beacuse," and Mrs. Ursula Dunaway "At Dawning," prior to the ceremony.

As Mrs. Jacob began the strains of Mendelsson's "The Wedding March," Constance Wayland and Margery Ann Mathes, as flower girls, dressed in white and carrying baskets of rose petals, entered, scattering flowers in the path of the bridal party.

Miss Maurine Dunaway of Waxahachie, maid of honor and cousin of the bride, came first, then followed Mrs. Liston Dunaway of Odessa, matron of honor; Little Francis Stockton as ring bearer came next carrying a basket of pink roses, the ring resting in the heart of one of them. The bride followed on the arm of her brother, Liston Dunaway, and the groom accompanied by the best man, his brother, Claude Terry of Hereford, entered from another door, and meeting the bride advanced to the archway and stood under, where the nuptial knot was tied, Rev. W. H. Terry of Hereford, father of the groom, and Rev. Ernest E. Robinson pastor of the Plainview Methodist church, performing the ceremony, using the ring service.

After the ceremony there were congratulations, and at 4 o'clock the newly married couple, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Terry, in a car left for the ranch near Seminole.

The bride is a well known young lady of Plainview, having been raised here. She attended Kild-Key college, and has taught music for several years. The groom lives on a ranch near Seminole, and is well known in Hereford, Plainview and other Plains towns.

The bride wore a blue tricotine suit heavily embroidered, and with accessories to match, and at her corsage was a bunch of rosebuds and freesias, and she carried a handkerchief of Georgette embroidered with Old Irish lace.

The maid of honor was dressed in Pekin blue taffeta and carried pink Russell roses. The matron of honor wore an Alice blue taffeta dress and also carried pink Russell roses.

The wedding ring and its diamond mounting was brought from Brussels, Belgium, and the engagement ring from Aberdeen, Scotland, the groom having secured them while he was a soldier in Europe during the war.
