Capt. Tilson Withdraws

To the voters and citizens of the 123rd Representative District.

Immediately on my return from the regular session of the 36th Legislature in 1919 I stated that I would not be a candidate for re-election and solicited a number of other responsible gentlemen to make the race. Many of my good friends insisted that I retract my decision. In course of time Mr. Adams and Mr. Mathes announced for represen-My friends became even more solicitous, I finally agreed that if these two gentlemen would come out of the race I would again stand for election. My friends informed me that they understood that Mr. Mathes would withdraw and run for county attorney. I then agreed with Mr. Adams, who seemed to be anxious to get out of the race, to become a candidate and he so announced in

The News. I have never made any formal ancouncement of my candidacy, through the press, because these conditions were not complied with and frequently stated that under no circumstances would I enter into a contest for the office. Circumstances and conditions with me are such as to render it impracticable if not not impossible for me to again serve in this capacity, I have served the people of this district and the state with all the energy, honesty, and ability with which I was possessed for six years. I have fought with all the energy of my nature for economy in government for the development of our edueational, agricultural and industrial enterprises, and feel that, while I not accomplished what I think ought to have been accomplished, yet I feel that my services have not been entirely fruitless in these respects. After extending to the voters of this district my deepest and most profound gratitude for the honors they have confere upon me, I beg that you will no longer consider me in the race for representative.

GOV. HOBBY OUSTS MAYOR PEACE OFFICERS, GALVESTON

MARTIAL LAW TIGHTENED AS MILITARY TAKES CHARGE OF AFFAIRS

Austin, July 15 .- Charging that they have "failed' refused and neglected to maintain order and preserve the peace," the entire city commission, city attorney and police department of the city of Galveston were suspended during the period of martial law in that city, in a proclamation issued by the Governor W. P. Hobby and filed late today in the state department. This action on the part of the governor was based on an elaborate opinon by Attorney General C. M. Cureton to Brigadier General Wolters, commander of the state troops at Galveston, in which the attorney general held that such authority was granted the governor under the Texas constitution. The suspension of the mayor, four city commissioners and the city attorney is only partial. They are only "suspended and restrained from pertaining to their respectiive offices, with respect to enforcing the penal laws of the State of Texas and the city of Galveston during the pendency of martial law."

It is stated by the governor in the proclemation, that these officials have made no "attempt to prevent and suppress the riots that occured in Galveston, or to arrest and apprehend the persons who engaged and participated therein; neither did they put down the insurrection that existed, nor would they attempt to

The governor also asserted that the city officials at Galveston "neglected to protect the citizens of this state in their constitutional right to engage in lawful occupation, that is, the loading and unloading of vessels at the docks," thus making it impossible for vessels to be loaded. Although, the governor said, plenty of men were ready and willing to work, provided they were protected from

The annual consumption is four hundred million barrels, hence within fourteen to sixteen years it will all be used up. Unless a substitute for oil is found the wheels of industry will have to slow down, and joy-riding will soon be a thing of the past.

Mr. Cox is either a real statesman or a gigantic hypocrite. He declares he will if elected appoint a real "dirt" farmer as secretary of agriculture. Who ever heard of such a thing? Most of those connected with agricultural departments are "scientific" farmers, and seldom are they actual "dirt" farmers. > Soo Kuo is dead. And with its usual irony fate decreed that Soo Kuo, the only maker of scented soap in China; should meet death by the very means he had adopted to provide a tivelihood

Three years ago Soo Kuo worked in a small hand laundry in East Liberty, relates the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Soo Kuo had just come to the land of the white man and he was ambitious to learn the ways of the West. So one day when he heard from other of his countrymen that a class in English at which those of the Orient were welcomed was conducted at the Second Presbyterian church, he timidly applied for admittance. In this way it was that he met Edwin S. Gray, who for years had been guide, philosopher and friend to the Chinese of the city.

Soo Kuo liked the religion of the white man and it was not long before he expressed the desire to join the church. After a year he heard the call of the East and he began to plan for his return. Then he went to see Mr. Gray. "I want to learn to make soap," he do what he could to as a appropriate ticeship in soap making for Soo Kuo. No factory in Pittsburgh, however, would entertain the idea of permitting Soo Kuo to use it as a school. and finally Mr. Gray turned to Carnegie Tech.

Yes, they would teach Soo Kuo to make soap, and so it was that each night after his labors of the day were finished Soo Kuo would go down to Oakland and receive instructions, But practical experience was not to be had, for the reason that the school possessed no soap-making machinery. When Soo Kuo had completed his soap-manufacturing education he again went to Mr. Gray and announced:

"I want to learn to make perfume. Chinaboy likes his soap to smell good. Much more money will be made by putting perfume in it."

"But it can be purchased much cheaper than you can make it," Mr. Gray objected. "No," declared Soo Kuo, "There are many flowers in China; I can make it very cheap." And again Tech was appealed to

And then recently came the short note from Soo Kuo's brother to Mr. Gray, briefly announcing that while been killed. That was all.

Italians Get Names Back.

Italians returning to their native land after years of sojourn in Austria are happy to again be called by their real names. As soon as war was declared all Italian's residing in Austria, who were not placed in detention camps or deported, were compelled to Austrianize their names, Thus all proper names ending in "I," "e" or "o" were changed to the endings 'ich," "tich" 'or "tz." Corelli became Corlich, Coretti had to be Kuretich, Rosa was Roza, while simple F rna grew into Fornasharich. Many inn named Torrone (Strand in Engfish) was compelled to change his name to Mandelkuchen (almond cake).

Tires in Sections Suggested.

A solid rubber tire in sections is an attempt to lessen the high cost of motor trucking, but is suggested also for touring cars. The 12 sections are designed for easy application with ordipary tools. Each section is independent of the others, and the Important advantage claimed is that without disturbing any other or removing the wheel, a worn or injured section may be taken off and replaced.

How Two British Officers Foofed Their Turkish Captors by Period of Feigned Madness.

Are they really lunatics or brilliant actors? Sceptical Turks and British asked the question as they looked at the weird, ghastly figures of Lieutenant Jones and Lieutenant Hill in the prisoners' ward of a Turkish hospital the early days of the war.

Here is a picture of Lieutenant 110 as described by another British off-

"A tousled scarecrow of a man. His long, untrimmed hair hung over his unwashed neck, his cheeks were sunken, his hands were clasped over the bed-clothes that covered his shins. He never looked at us, but with an expresopen on his knees. As I passed I saw, from the ruling and paragraphing of the pages, that it must be a copy of the Bible."

"Jones was in a bed opposite. His face was unusually white. The young forehead was divided and subdivided by deep wrinkles; a golden beard tufted from the chin; the head was revered by a too large fez, made of white linen.

"He grinned and waved an arm toward the Turkish orderly. I am not English, be protested, in Turkish. 'I am a good Turk. The English are my enemies, I wrote to his excellency Enver Pasha, telling him I wished to become a Turkish officer." The reputation of these two officers as lunatics had spread through every prison-camp in Turkey, says the writer who tells the story in "Blackwood's Magazine." But they were not mad. They were feigning mr iness the whole time in order to recover their free-The benefactor declared he would dom! And they won through,

A soon as the British vessel on which they were shipped inch with Turkish waters they miraculously recovered!

It was one of the most amazing cases of malingering on record. The marvel is that Hill's mind did not give way under the ordeal. For twelve hours a day he sat up in bed reading and re-reading the Bible. He showed no signs of interest in anything; prayed aloud for nearly half an hour morning and evening in the presence of a dozen people, and never smileda task which required almost inhuman concentration. The sepulcher is located near the flint quarries from which shortgines obtained material for arrowheads and other implements. It is made of small stones and is buried in a circular mound in earth about thirteen feet high. The and again Soo Kuo began going to chief's skeleton indicated that he was a man nearly six feet tall and over average weight. Underneath the bones was found what is considered the most important article taken from the excavation, a copper gorget, bety or rank. Other objects of interest were copper earrings, an armlet of the same material and beads made from sea shells, which evidently had been ed in Popular Mechanics.

Airman's Record Glide.

What is believed to be a world's record for gliding with a dead motor was accomplished at Ithaca, N. Y., in a Thomas-Morse two-seater biplane, says the Scientific American. This machine flew to the head of Cayuga lake, a distance of thirty-five miles, and having attained a height of 17,500 feet, the pilot switched off his meter and glided to Ithaca, at which point he still had 5,000 feet altitude. If his glide bad been continued it is estimated that an additional fifteen miles could have been covered, making a toof fifty miles without the use of his or. The longest glide previously ecorded was that of Capt. Raynham, according to Aeronautics, when he glided from Brooklands to Hendon, in England, a distance of twenty-two Anti-Noise Telephones.

Edwin S. Pridham and Peter L. Jensen, engineers of San Francisco, solved the problem of telephoning in the widst of noise by simply "opening the diaphragm and button of the transpitter and letting all the noise n-impartially to both sides of the diaphragm. The result was entire exclusion from the circuit of every sound save the voices of the users. As one test of the new method an "anti-noise" telephone was placed inside the steel shell of a boiler. With several men outside the boiler pounding on the shell with hammers, a person inside was able to telephone to those on the outside without interference from the din of the hammering.

The total area of Italy, including the islands of Sicily and Sardinia, consists of about 71,500,000 acres, which is equivalent to the combined area of the states of New York and Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey, says the Forestry Magazine of Washington. Within this comparatively small area, a population of 36,000,000, more than equivalent to one-third of this country is congested. Of the total area of Italy, only 17.64 per cent is now covered with forests.

Do you realize that your neighbors who are using the Deering and McCormick combination harvesters and threshers are cutting, threshing and putting their wheat in the bin at a cost not to exceed eight cents per bushel.

Now is the time to watch them at work and see if they are not delivering the goods; because in case they are you will want one next year. Also we would appreciate your asking the elevators and mills what kind of wheat is being delivered to them from these combines. Ask them if it heats or if it is filled with trash.

We would like for you to get an honest, dependable report on them from persons who are disinterested, and we believe you will get such a report from the men who are buying the grain.

We would like for you to satisfy yourself also that in addition to delivering a high quality of grain, that it is done economically and with satisfaction to the men who own and operate these outfits. For your convenience we give below a list of some purchasers, and would be glad to have you call at our office for a complete list, which space does not permit us to give here.

His machine made solid heads to the pins by a process e'm'lar to "e making of nails. by driving a portion of the pin itself into a countersunk hole. This was lone automatically and consisted of a device by which the wire was seized in two small grooved cheeks. When both cheeks are placed face to face. the wire is held tightly in the groove with a small portion projecting, a small hammer connected with the machine strikes on the projecting portion, thus forming the head.

Seven years later, in 1831, John Ireland Howe, a doctor in Bellevue hospital. New York, invented a machine for making perfect solid-headed pins. A company was organized and a factory started at Derby, Conn.

STIRRED COURT TO PROTEST

Judge Had Stood for a Good Deal From "Rattled" Attorney, but There Was a Limit.

A surgeon once confessed to Sir I'dward Carson that on the night before he was to be cross-examined by him he dreamed he was on the operating table and Sir Edward was ruth lessly dissecting him. It is one of the most trying ordeals in life to be crossexamined by a skillful counsel. Some times, however, the counsel suffers from pervousness or indecision, and an amusing case is cited by Mr. J. A Strahan in his book, "The Bench and the Bar of England."

It is not necessar; to relate the beginning of the tale. The counsel's condition is concisely summed up in this despniring cry from the judge:

"Mr. Attorney, so long as you consistently called the plaintiff, whose name is Jones, by the name of Smith, and the defendant, whose name is Smith, by the name of Jones, the jury and I could follow you; but now that con have introduced the name of Robluson, without indicating in any way whether you mean it to refer to the plaster or to the defendant, or to both incaderently, we are beginning to get bothered a bit!"

An Unusual Opportunity

We are placing before our customers an opportunity of securing farms in what is known as "The PRICE BROTHERS Land," located northwest of Plainview, in the Whitfield neighborhood.

For FORTY-FIVE YEARS, no one has been oble to buy any portion of this land, though it has been eagerly sought by many homeseekers. It has been held intact with the hope that the owners might have the pleasure and profit of developing the whole tract as a magnificant wheat farm, but business connections will not permit of carrying out that plan, and with the wish to in no way retard the general development of the country that is now so well in evidence, the owners have concluded to place a portion of their holding on the market so that they may be developed with the balaice of the country. We have entered into a contract by which we are now ready for business.

We will sell the sections mentioned below in tracts of 160, 320 and 640 acre tracts, according to the needs of the homesecker. A good portion of the land is already under cultivation, and splendid wheat yields have been secured, and row crops are coming on nicely.

The soil is equal to any in the state of Toxas for the raising of wheat, alfalfa, cotton and all row crops, together with every variety of fruit and vegetable that can be grown in the temperate zone.

We can offer good terms, and with the present system of wheat farming, any one who knows the business and is willing to apply the up-to-date scientific methods of farming is very likely to pay for the land out of one crop of wheat. We are prepared to show the land and make contracts in accordance with your needs. Do not let the opportunity pass you by.

Take any county map and check up on the sections, or come to us and let us show you the details. The lands are SECTIONS 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, 83, 85, 87, 89, 91, 93, 95, 97, and 99.

We still have a few choice homes in Plainview, but will mention only the following: A dandy new five room bungalow, with all conveniences. Close in. Come quick if you want it. Immediate posses sion-lights, etc. Good garage. Fine shade trees, lawn and shrubbery. Fine home of 5 100ms, 100 ft. front, fine lawn, lots of trees and shrubbery, $3.300. Fine suburban home, 20 acres of land. Dandy,

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Head-ache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.— Mrs. Chas. Gaston of this place, writes: "I am a user of Thedford's Black-Draught; in fact, was one of our family medicines it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treat-ment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit. If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagree-able symptoms as headache, billous-ness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Thed-tord's the original and genuine. E 79

Football is considered a strenuous game, but the style of play in this generation is a mild and tame exercise as compared to the original forms of the sport, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

The history of the autumn classic is described by J. R. Hildebrand in a communication to the society, which Farming by Machinery in Australia.

As yet agriculture in Australia has not reached American standards in many districts. The advance in wages, however, is showing the necessity of resorting more freely to machinery. It is stated that more then 150 motor tractors have been sold to farmers in the eastern part of the Riverina, a ferthe district on the southern be der of New South Wales. Apart from the aspect of labor, buyers declare that there is a real economy in the use of the tractors. A single machine will do the work of ten horses, and, moreover, will do it well when the ground is so hard thatherse teams would be able to de little more than seratch it. and this is another reason for favoring muchine plowing. The tractors are also used for cutting chaff and wood, and for dragging grain to mar-

The joint council of the executive professions in Ireland recently adopted the following resolution: "That the bogs of Ireland are estimated to have an area of 3,000,000 acres, and to contain the equivalent of over 3,000,000,-000 tons of coal; that the land is the busis of agricultural output, and fuel Commerce, and will take a-like posithe basis of industrial output, and that tion in Lubbock. therefore a determined effort should e made, as part of the policy of Irish econstruction, to determine whether r not : (a) this 3,000,000 acres is availble for agriculture, and (b) this 3,-0,000,000 tons of coal equivalent is libble as fuel in competition with, salution for coal."

When the train came in back in 1910

TEN years ago you might have seen one or two automobiles waiting outside the station, when the weather was pleasant.

Today the square is crowded with them. And most of the cars you generally see there are moderate-price cars.

Anybody who tells you that owners of moderate-price cars are not interested in the quality of their tires has never met very many of them.

We come in contact with the small car owner every day and we have found that he is just as much interested as the big car owner.

There is one tire, at least, that makes no distinction between small cars and large cars so far as quality is concerned—the U.S. Tire.

Every U. S. Tire is just like every other in quality -the best its builders know how to build.

Whatever the size of your car, the service you get out of U. S. Tires is the same. It isn't the car, but the man who owns the car, that sets the standard to which U.S. tires are made.

We feel the same way about it. That's why we represent U.S. Tires in this community.

Really Wonderful Machine.

Samuel Stocum of Connecticut invented the first pin-sticking machine. Doctor Howe utilized it in his factory This machine is almost haman in its workings. One workman feeds it with pins and another feeds it with papers. The first part of this machine is a box about 12 inches long by 6 inches broad and 4 inches deep; the bottom is made of small square steel bars, sufficiently wide apart to let the shank of the pin fall through, but not the heads, and they are just as thick as the space between the papered pins. The lower part of the bottom of the box is made to detach itself as soon as the row of pins is complete, and row after row at regular intervals is received and passed down a corresponding set of grooves, until they reach the paper, -which is punched into regular folds and pierced to receive the pins, which come exactly at their places and are pressed into them.

Man's Ever-Faithful Friend. No final estimate of a man in his community can be made till we are told what children and the dogs thought about him. The only trouble is that dogs are likely to be too fondly indulgent. They will follow the tramp as soon as the millionaire, the commoner as readily as royalty. They look into a man's eyes, not into his pockets. If they find kindness in his aspect they do not care about his purse. They will starve and suffer with him and adventure anywhere. When he fails they have no condemnation. Their love once placed is unchanging.-Exchange.

Some Suggestions Made by African Paper Would Seem to Rorder Stightly on the Ridiculous.

Half the inventors in England seem to have set to work on the problem of capturing or destroying the Addo Bush elephants. One man wants to drive them on to lighters moored in the Sunday river, and another suggests hunting them in whippet tanks, which, of course, will go through jungle like a hot knife through a pat of butter. We don't think much of these ideas, however. They do not appeal to us as being sufficiently simple and practical, But as mere destructive criticism is never satisfying, we put forward the following schemes, which could be car-

First. Erect searchlights round the Bush and concentrate them upon the elephants at night. Dazzled by the glare the brutes will dash head first into the trunks of the trees and stun tied together, and they can be dragged away by donkeys or oxen to cages and subsequently sold to circus proprietors

> Third. Allow several submarines to sink to the bottom of the Sunday river. A gang of natives blowing trumpets and beating tin trays would then drive the elephants into the water. As they were swimming across, the submarines would come to the surface underneath them, lifting them out of the water. The submarines would steam away to any destination fixed upon, carrying the elephants on their decks.

Fourth. Scatter several tons of extra strong flypaper throughout the Bush. This will adhere to the trunks and feet of the elephants and the more they attempt to get rid of it the more it will collect until in the end they are suffocated .- Johannesburg (Trans-

Peculiar Currency System Would Seem to Have Some Disadvantages -Religious Rites Observed by Parties of Fishermen.

The island of Yap Isnit such a yap place, after all.

Returned travelers from the South seas give illuminating details of life on the queer little island which even President Wilson hadn't heard of until the Paris conference decided that America ought to get something out of the war-and generously gave us

If America's would-be czars should adopt the well-known Russian plan of using Yap as a "Siberia"-as suggested the other day by a senator, who got a big laugh for his idea-here are some strongly American customs with L'alayan twist that deported persons would find in operation there:

> The two great products of Yap are coconuts and typhoons. The typhoons save the natites the trouble of picking the coconuts. It is precisely in that quarter of the Pacific that the worst storms on earth are born, and from July to December the weather would delight Professor Porta.

Gold or silver money has no more value in Yap than bolshevik rubles have here. The Yaps have such faith in human nature that they have devised a coin nobody can lift. A small coin is a disk of grantte two feet across and six inches thick, with a hole in the middle.

A large coin is two fathoms across and two feet thick. Rich people in Yap simply pile their money in the front yard or lean it against the side of the house, which saves them the trouble of showing off by elaborate dress or other indirect methods. It also gives full publicity to all cash transactions.

For "chicken feed" they use large pairs of oyster shells and hundredpound sacks of copra. To "pass the plate" in a Yap church you have to use a moving van.

Americans who oppose foreign entanglements may take comfort from the fact that the word "Yap" originally meant "foreigner." were great traders and voyager around the South seas. In other words, foreigners are Yaps-the same old story.

Today the Yaps fish religiously. Be fore every fishing party the men are obliged to leave their wives and spend four days in the club houses, which are large stone mánsions,

After the first successful catch, the men come ashore and everybody takes a pull at the fermented juice of the green coconut. This is dubbed a religious rite, and the women have to keep quiet about it or get cussed by the gods-an idea which should interest Americans who are still fond of little fishing parties.

When a Yap gentleman wishes to steal he prays to Luk. Luk keeps other people from looking. If the thief gets caught anyhow, he simply decides that Luk must have been too busy to hear his prayer, and hopes for better Luk next time.

For the rest of it, Yap is 35 miles long and five broad, surrounded by a coral reef, has hills 1,000 feet high, runs out of water whenever it fails to rain for a week, has five smaller islands near it, grows yams and tropical fruits, but not rice, and contains some 10,000 natives of the Malay race, whose language, curiously enough, shows a basic relation to Sanskrit. And it's ours, every bit of it.

Photography From the Air. In Tasmania photographic enterprise has taken on a new form. A Tasmanian photographer, determined to outdo his rivals in getting pictures of the most picturesque state in the commonweath, chartered a recently imported airplane, went aloft, and obtained magnificent views. These were exhibited in his shop window, sold like hot cakes, and amply rewarded him for his enterprise. The cinematograph man will now be put upon his mettle and the picture shows, no doubt, will soon be showing their audiences moving scenic pictures of surprising range and beauty. In time pictures taken from the airplane will probably be used to instruct children n geography.

Release the Bonds of Summer Drudgery

The inevitable three meals hold too many women prisoners within four walls and rob them of beauty and health. In these summer months, kitchen work imposes an extra tax that every housewife can avoid. Because of Hoosier's scientific arrangement of many labor-saving conveniences, you can prepare and clear up after meals in nearly halfthe the usual time. And you can save the strength to enjoy the hours you gain.

Don't Delay Your Rightful Leisure Another Day

To delay means pleasures missed—a tired mind and body at the day's end. And there is no excuse. Your Hoosier awaits you. Come and see it at once. Then have it delivered and start a new era in your home—an era that means freedom. But do it now.
