CAMP MEETING

BEGINNING AUGUST 18TH
UNDER THE BIG TENT
PLAINVIEW, TEXAS

Campers are especially urged to be on the ground.

It may be your best time to come to Plainview.

Strangers coming may get first information by phoning 398 day, 526 at night.

Other Helpers

The time for the annual encampment of the Holiness Association Meeting will soon be here. And as we near its approach, we feel that new opportunities for doing good and greater responsibilities are being ushered in upon us. The year past has been one of conflicts and victories, discouragements and blessings in many ways. We feel that God has been exceedingly good to us in sparing our lives thus far; and we devoutly hope and trust that all the old standbys and some new ones will be permitted to come and help us push the battle for God and the salvation of souls.

This is the first time that it has been our privilege to attend the Annual Camp Meeting of Plainview, but the Lord willing we expect to be present at least a part of the time and do all in our power to make the meeting a grand success in the salvation of souls, the sanctification of believers, and the upbuilding of the blessed cause of Holiness.

We surely need an old time revival of Bible salvation in these awful days of sin and worldliness of every description. A great number seemingly have as it were "hung up their harps on the willow trees," and seem as though they thought we could not have old time revivals these days. But I believe our God is able to hear prayer today the same as He ever could if we will meet His conditions which the recorded in 2 Chron. 7-14. Read it. God is not dead, nor gone off on an excursion, but still wants to hear our earnest cries to Him and save the souls of men. And if we fail to do our part, we will be guilty of the blood of souls. Ezek. 33:7-9. May God help us do all in our power by our presence, prayers, means and hearty co-operation to see results in the salvation of many souls.

We are counting on you. Come!

Yours all for Jesus,

J. P. INGLE,

Pastor Church of the Nazarenes.

REV. O. H. CALLIS
of Kentucky
Special Evangelist

BRO. BLACKBURN
Song Leader

The date for the Holiness Camp Meeting at Plainview, Texas, August 18th, will soon be here. The Lord has been good to us in temporal blessings, and He has a right to expect us to do our duty where His cause is at stake. Grave issues confront us. Spirituality among his professed followers is at a low ebb. The masses are crazy in the scramble for money. Many among us live only for pleasure and fashion. The dance was never so popular or so well patronized. The devil's dives are crowded nightly. Modesty and reverence are forgotten virtues among us, and well may the sinner say with one of old, "No man careth for my soul." Unless those who know the Lord in His power to save rally to the rescue, the outlook for the future of His cause is dark indeed.

The hope of the church lies in promoting the doctrine and experience of holiness. The minister engaged to lead the meeting comes recommended highly for his ability to advance God's cause, but unless we fast and pray, shake off the lethargy and fall in line ready to be used of God to promote his cause, and lead souls to Christ, our meeting will fail, and not only sinners will go down to hell through our neglect, but the Holy Spirit will be grieved and our own soul's salvation will be jeopardized, for "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?"

We are counting on your presence, prayers and assistance. Do not disappoint us, for if you disappoint us, you will also disappoint Jesus, and greatly hazard your own salvation. Come and get good for yourself, and do good by aiding in leading sinners from darkness to light, and let us and God make the coming meeting the best one ever held on the Plains. We are asking you to join us in special prayer and fasting for the meeting.

Your fellow worker in Jesus,

B. F. GASSAWAY.

Come and camp at the meeting.

For more than seven years the people have gathered annually at the Central Plains Holiness Association for the promoting the Gospel of Jesus Christ, especially emphasizing the doctrine of holiness.

These have been times of refreshing, and numbers and numbers have been converted, reclaimed, or sanctified, and gone forth to be a blessing.

The 1920 meeting is again on us, the needs are great, the powers of darkness are great, but the Christ of Calvary still lives and wears going forward under a mighty captain to fight till we die for this great cause of Holiness.

Let us turn from our cares and labors for a few days. Come up to this great spiritual feast and feed our souls and help bless some one else. Your absence means defeat and your presence means success.

The object shall be the conversion of sinners, the reclamation of back-sliders, and the sanctification of believers and edification of all.

For further information write us and we will try and answer you promptly.

MISS NORA GEHRES, Sec. retary.
Plainview, Texas.

Entertainment for those unable to furnish camp equipment.

Bro. Callis Says

That we are living in a day of unrivaled proportions none can gainsay. This is a day of great things—both for good and for evil. For some time back the forces of evil have lost no time in furthering their interests. The redoubled diligence with which the institutions of wickedness have framed their programs causes us to ponder again that Scripture which commends "the children of this world" for their wisdom and ingenuity—that so noticeably surpasses "the children of light." "These things ought not to be."

Worldliness has waged to the front along almost all lines of the church's activities. Not only have the recognized groups of sinners and mischief-makers been at work but in thousands of instances the greater bulk of our church members have joined heart and hand with them. The dance is now a tolerable and necessary institution with hundreds, who a short time back looked upon it as evil and only evil continually. Not only have the gay, flippant and Godless youths flocked to the dance hall; but many older ones as well—yes, many of them fathers and mothers. The Sabbath is no longer a day to be kept with holy observance. Picture shows, base ball and a dozen other evils run wide open on that day under the license and sanction of our officials and people, the majority of whom profess to be Christians. One is reminded to say with the Master, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord and do not the things which I say?" Instead of combatting this evil and giving no quarter to this "Pleasure-Mad Devil," men, many of them ministers, are advocating that we adopt the pleasure program instead of the power, and hasten to join hands with the Godless throng. The moral standards of our people have been greatly impaired during and since the war; our young people are unruly and un-Christian, home life is waning, family altars broken down, class and prayer meetings have passed with the age, and withal a strong demand for a modernized gospel that will offend no one, produce no uncomfortable feelings in the sinner's breast and that will make it a broad and an easy way for men to claim salvation.

To meet all of this; and meet it we must, we cannot evade it, cannot pass it on with the signs of the times, it is our task, we must meet it with a revival of the gospel faithfully preached and with a firm insistence that all men obtain and hold that conscious relationship to God as "sons and daughters," and that "they keep themselves unspotted from the world."

The good old-fashioned camp-meeting is one of the very strong forces just now to meet the issues at hand. This is a time for flickering lights and wavering faiths. Steady is the watchword. Observing and obeying Peter's injunction, let us "be holy, be diligent and beware." To this end let us plan, work and pray for this season's encampment to be the best ever.

Faithfully yours,
O. H. CALLIS.

SALES FOR JULY

BY

PERRY & CRAM

Quarter Million Dollars

This is a pretty good record, and proves that we are well organized for business, and can "deliver the goods."

One of the very gratifying features in connection with this big business is the fact that so far as we know there is not a single dissatisfied customer, either buyer or seller.

We naturally want to beat this record during August, and with our large list of properties in general, both in Farms, Ranches and City Property, in connection with our recent contract to handle the magnificent body of land known as the "Price Brothers Holdings," northeast of Plainview, near Whitfield, we see no reason why we should not do so.

It is a well known fact that there is no finer land on the Plains, nor in Texas, than this body of land. The soil is peculiarly adapted to the raising of the two Great Staple crops—WHEAT and COTTON. Any farmer who will apply himself, using the scientific methods of farming now so well established in this wonderful Shallow Water Belt, can not only make this land pay for itself in a very short time, but will build up a good bank account in addition.

This is Really CHOICE LAND.
It is WELL LOCATED.
There is NONE BETTER.
The terms of sale ARE GOOD.
It is a GOOD INVESTMENT.
We can sell in 160, 320 and 640 acre tracts.
We can secure first class rental contracts for purchasers who want to lease it out.

Land values will be CONSIDERABLY HIGHER by January. Those who are in touch with conditions know that prices are advancing rapidly. The time to buy is NOW. Don't wait. Delay means additional cost to you. Let us show you this land. Your own judgment will tell you what to do after you have seen it.

In five years OUR LANDS WILL BE WORTH $250 per acre, or the present ones in Central Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, MUST come down at least 50 per cent. And you never knew of really cheap land EVER falling back in value. Present high prices in these states WILL BE MAINTAINED, which means BIG ADVANCE in our lands. This MUST RESULT. Are you going to profit by experience of others and make yourself solid while you have the opportunity?

We have some choice modern homes in Plainview, and some fine suburban homes. Tell us what you want and we will do the rest.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Hale County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Hale County, a copy of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To all persons interested in the Estate of Lilliburn Lee Dye, deceased, E. Lee Dye has filed in the County Court of Hale County, an application for the Probate of the last Will and Testament of said Lilliburn Lee Dye, deceased, filed with said application, and for Letters Testamentary of the Estate of Lilliburn Lee Dye, deceased, which will be heard at the next term of said Court commencing on the first Monday in Sept. A. D. 1920, the same being the 6th day of Sept. A. D. 1920 at the Court House thereof, in Plainview, Texas, at which time all persons interested in said Estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the said first day of the next term thereof this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Plainview, Texas, this 29th day of July, A. D. 1920. Jo. W. WAYLAND, Clerk, County Court Hale County, Texas.

Many Jobs Offered Wilson

President Wilson can have almost any kind of job he wants on leaving the White House, according to Washington reports, from posing in the movies to editing newspapers and heading big universities. The presi-

"COATS OFF AND AT IT AGAIN"

Harris county gave Robert Ewing Thomason a splendid plurality and a majority of all the votes cast in Harris county represented the votes of those democrats who are for the national administration and the leadership of Wilson, Cox and Roosevelt. There has been an almost complete lineup of Looney and Thomason democrats in Harris county for Neff and a delegation of stalwart democrats was selected by the county convention to attend the state convention in the city of Fort Worth in September. The Chronicle backed Robert Ewing Thomason in the July primary. Now under the caption, "Coats Off and at It Again," the Chronicle gives this advice to the democrats of Texas:

As seemed most probable, the first primary proved no more than an elimination bout.

Ex-Senator Bailey still remains to be beaten.

His friends and supporters are thrilled with encouragement, or pretend to be.

Taking as a cue, and recalling what happened to them in the precinct conventions, it is a good guess that they fared better than they expected.

This means, of course, that they will enter the run-off campaign with renewed enthusiasm.

The progressive democrats can win, but they must organize and work.

Pat Neff must be given the support of those who believe in true Democracy.

The Bailey managers are preparing to wage a most vigorous campaign.

They seem to have plenty of funds, and they certainly have the assistance of many professional politicians.

Pat Neff must look to the people, and if the people don't want to be bogged by a reactionary administration in this state, they must look to Pat Neff.

It is not only the man, but what he stands for, that threatened Texas, and it is not what he stands for, but what those back of him want, that amounts to the most serious menace.

The Bailey element has nothing constructive in mind. Its viewpoint is skeptical and iconoclastic. It would, if given the chance, prevent the honest operation of much of the present legislation that has been enacted.

It is fundamentally opposed to prohibition, woman suffrage and state enterprise designed to assist farmers, laborers, children, etc.

Whether it could repeal any of the laws now on the statute books, it would certainly every means at its command to make some of them inoperative, being in a position of strength.

It is singing the old song of economy, but that is only to lay a predicate for dropping certain state bureaus and institutions which it has already marked for destruction.

The Bailey faction is compounded of kick, conservatism and unification.

It isn't saying much about it just now, but as a matter of record by its own admissions, it is composed largely of those who have been against Wilson and his progressive leadership of the democratic party.

It is against the Wilson ideas of state government just as doggedly as it is against their expression in the federal affairs.

It is making an attempt to get aboard the Cox bandwagon that is the effect.

It doesn't stand high Cox on the league of nations, on labor policies or anything else.

If it were in Ohio it would be fighting him tooth and nail.

Pat Neff, on the contrary, is leading that portion of the democratic party which is in line with its national policies, which can accept the San Francisco platform without winking and which can support Cox without having to eat any previous declaration.

Pat Neff is leading that portion of the democratic party which has given this state about everything of constructive value it has enjoyed during the last ten years.

There is no middle ground for voters to stand on. It is either Bailey and a reactionary administration, or Neff and a continuance of progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, G. W. Spencer and E. R. Phillips of DeLeon were here yesterday.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT

Plainview, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Plainview evidence of their value. Says: "About two years ago I found it necessary to use a kidney medicine, so I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Long's Drug Store, Inc. I had been troubled for some time with my back being weak and lame. The kidney secretions had been too frequent in passage and highly colored. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills helped me and continued use made a cure."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Shackelford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Seventh Annual Holiness Camp Meeting Begins Here August 18

Announcement is made in a page adv. on page 6 of the seventh annual Holiness camp meeting to begin in Plainview, under a large tent, Aug. 18th.

This year Rev. O. H. Callis of Kentucky will be the special evangelist, and Mr. Blackburn will be the song leader.

Mr. Callis is reputed to be a very strong preacher, and successful in evangelism.

A large number of people from all over this section of the state will attend the meeting.

Methodist-Presbyterian Revival Growing in Interest

Pastor E. E. Robinson informs us that the Methodist-Presbyterian revival being held at the Presbyterian church is growing in interest. Evangelist Evans of Oklahoma is a very able man, and his sermons are soul-reaching. The choir singing under the leadership of Mr. Spindler is a feature of each service. There have been a number of conversions, several being last night.

There is preaching at 10 and 7:45 o'clock each day.

Sunday afternoon a special service for men only will be held at 2:30 and for women only at 4:15. People are especially urged to attend these two services.

The Methodist bible school Sunday morning will be held in the main auditorium of the Methodist church.

First Christian Church

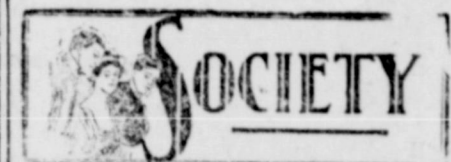

Sermons at 11 and 7:30 Sunday by Pastor G. W. Davis

Sunday school at 9:45. All are invited to attend all services.

St. Mark's Episcopal Church

Service next Sunday. Holy communion and sermon by the Rev. Wm. Garner at 11 a. m.

Everyone is cordially invited.

Pastor Harlan J. Matthews

Will Hold Services Sunday

Pastor Harlan J. Matthews writes to us from Crosbyton that he is closing a highly successful revival meeting, and will return to Plainview in time to occupy his pulpit at both services on Sunday.

Miss Edith Leckliter and

W. E. Benson, Jr., Marry

W. E. Benson, Jr., and Miss Edith Leckliter were granted a marriage license Wednesday.

She is the daughter of Mrs. S. E. Leckliter, of the Anchor community, and he is the son of W. E. Benson, the well-known ranchman of the southwest part of the county.

Funeral of Miss Rachel Elder

The funeral of Miss Rachel Elder was held Saturday afternoon, July 31st, at the Nazarene church. Rev. Nicholson having charge of the service.

Miss Elder succumbed to her illness in the sanitarium at Lubbock, July 29, where she had been under treatment for more than two months. The remains were brought to Plainview, where the funeral services were held, and were taken to Floydada for interment.

Miss Elder is well known and deeply loved by a host of friends in and around Plainview. She was reared in Floyd county, and spent several years in college preparing herself for foreign missionary work, and also several years in pastoral and evangelical work, having spent one year as pastor of the Nazarene church in Amarillo, one year as pastor of the Nazarene church in Abilene and one year in pastoral work in Lubbock, and but for her ill health would have taken up work in foreign fields, some time ago. Some of characteristics which have endeared her to her many friends wherever she had worked was the deep sympathy and kindly disposition that she portrayed in all her work, her undaunted courage and beauty of character.

She leaves to mourn their loss a mother, three sisters and five brothers.

Auto As a Moral Influence

Ohio State Journal: Most everything and everybody finds a defender in time. Now, for instance, here is the motor car. After being vilified for two decades as a menace to life and a dangerously immortal factor in society, it has found a valiant defender who declares it to be the greatest moral influence in America next to the church. This unexpected line of defense is undertaken by E. C. Stokes, a banker and an ex-governor of New Jersey. His reason for declaring the motor car to be a great moral force, apart from its industrial importance, which no one wants to deny, is that it unites the interests of a family. Where formerly the father would have one sort of recreation, the mother another, and the children yet others, with a motor car they all take their pleasure together, and the shady, flower-bedecked roadsides are crowded with charming family picnic parties. Mr. Stokes says if every family in the land possessed a motor car family ties would be closer and many of the problems of social unrest would be happily solved.

The rains on the Plains this week sure gave Messrs. Kaffir Corn and Milo Maize the big head.

We can say without any qualification that when a man has finished his race in this world he is out of breath.

The peck-a-boo spirit is to be brought to this country from Paris. This will put the finishing touch on Ben Smith's falling eyesight.

The new railroad rates mean that the News will have to pay about 6c more per hundred sheets of paper. Will this increase in prices stop?

If any Plains farmer remains who does not have a motor car the crops this year will enable him to get one this fall. Then next year he can buy his own freight cars.

Belgium is said to be recovering rapidly from the effects of the war. In the general rush of reconstruction it is expected to have forgotten to tip the Belgians off to the secrets of living without work.

Mr. Bailey says he is opposed to labor or capital or the Baptist church ruling Texas. So are we, and we will go further and say that we are also opposed to the Association Opposed to the Enforcement of the Standard Oil Trust ruling Texas.

We hoped that the bunch on the corner would pass out of existence as the present members die, but no hope is to be held out, for we notice that a number of young men have joined the loafers, as they see that the older ones get by without work.

Mr. Bailey early in the campaign said he wouldn't hold the office if his home county went against him. Well, Cooke county went for Thomson by a big plurality. However, there is no need for Bailey to withdraw from the race, for he won't be nominated any way.

G. B. Snow, a farm hand and formerly an inmate of a lunatic asylum, received a very heavy vote in the Kansas primaries Tuesday. He ran against Gov. Allen for the republican nomination for governor, and the union laborers and other enemies of Allen voted for him. Politics causes people to do lots of foolish things.

Press dispatches indicate that Senator Gore of Oklahoma has been defeated for renomination by Scott Ferris. The editor of the News regrets the defeat of Gore. He is a very able and remarkable man, and the man who will succeed him doubtless does not measure to his waist in intellectuality. Gore opposed the draft, wheat control and one or two other administration measures during the war and was marked for slaughter by the powers that be.

Wm. Bross Lloyd, a multimillionaire and who boasts that one of his ancestors came over in the Mayflower, was among the twenty communists convicted in federal court in Chicago this week on charges of trying to form a conspiracy to overthrow this government and establish a Bolshevik government. He drew the heaviest sentence, five years in the pen and a fine of $3,000. He inherited his fortune and should have used it and his whole energies to uphold and not overthrow the government of the land that gave him birth, and protects him in what he possesses. He is "buggy" for no sane man can think and do as he and the other reds are. This is the greatest, the freest and best government that ever existed under the blue skies of heaven. Why should any person want to wreck it and usher in chaos?

NEFF'S POSITION SOUND

Mr. Bailey's trump card seems to be opposition to union labor. He knows the union men are against him, and so he is going his limit in opposition to unionism. He is trying to take advantage of the reaction that has set up in the minds of the people of the state caused by some absurd and outlandish acts and contentions of union labor.

However, Bailey could not, if elected governor, have but little if any effect in the issue of the open or closed shop, for that is purely an individual matter between the employers and the employees.

Our position is that if a man wants to belong to the union that is his right, and that nobody has any right to threaten or intimidate him if he wishes to work, if he does not belong to the union.

If I have one public hobby that is more outstanding than any other, it has been the preaching of "more homes." You can preach patriotism to a man and appeal to his sense of duty, but you can't make the sort of appeal to him that he gains from his own reflections after he owns a home.

Mr. Neff challenges Mr. Bailey to show one thing he has ever done for the farmers of Texas or one law for their benefit he has ever written or supported.

The national debt was decreased over seventy-six million dollars during the month of July.

IN A MINOR STRAIN

If a man got fever blisters from shooting off his mouth there would be 10,000 tons of powdered alum used in this country every day.

Call a girl a vision if you want to. But for heaven's sake don't call her a sight.

Don't waste your time envying other men. Keep hustling and you'll soon have other men envying you.

Follow your own advice and you'll find out why other people do not take it.

The Clarendon News says it is supporting Bailey because Neff has not announced he favored redistricting the state. The Clarendon paper is in error. Mr. Neff stated positively in his Plainview speech July 1st that he would, if elected governor, insist on redistricting in order that Northwest Texas be given fair representation. Mr. Neff also made this statement in speeches in other towns. The trouble with our Clarendon editorial friend is that he was infected with the Bailey virus back sixteen years ago and the poison is still in his system. From practically every standpoint he should be opposing Bailey, for ordinarily he does not gang with the gang that Bailey gangs with.

GOOD EXAMPLE

'Tis worthy of mention—the fact that some people in a city in Ohio have formed a Cheer-Em-Up-Club, which has for its purpose the making of life more worthwhile and happy.

The venture is bound to succeed—just as any venture that has to do with playing the optimistic game, is bound to succeed.

For every grouch, or pessimist there should be a couple of dozen cheerful, smiling people. Bring on enough optimists and they will soon run all the pessimists to the tall and uncut.

Smiles are catching! So are the frowns!

Which'd you rather catch? Well, then, remember that somebody is going to be influenced by the expression that you carry on your face.

Let there be more smiles—and more such clubs as the Cheer-Em-Up club is forming.

TAKING UP THE SLACK

The real problem of cutting down the high cost of living is in eliminating so many unnecessary middlemen, who handle the products from the farm and factory on their way to the consumer.

Each of these middlemen makes a profit, and too often it is much more than it should be. This system of so many middlemen taking toll causes the producer to get less and the consumer to pay more.

It is said that it takes three brokers, two to three railroads and six or eight different profit-takers to get a single car of wheat from the farmers to the miller.

When this problem is solved, and the farmer and the consumer are brought into closer relation, it will be better for them both and for the public at large.

A leading local Bailey supporter and a man who keeps up with current affairs, says the editor of the News yesterday that Bailey cannot expect to win. While here and there former Thomson and Loney voters are supporting Bailey, the bulk of the voters will cast their ballots for Neff, and as Neff and Bailey failed almost the same number of votes in the first primary the one who gets the largest percentage of the Thomson and Loney vote will be nominated. There is no hope for Joe.

When the time comes that the farm homes can be filled with modern conveniences, refinement, pianos and libraries and the farmer himself can be educated and have a thorough business and commercial education, then the farm home and the farm life will be sought after, and agriculture will be esteemed and the future welfare of the country assured.—W. N. Giles.

If you are in need of an elephant, now is the time to buy him. A dispatch from Africa announces the price has been reduced from $2,000 to $1,250.

Congressman Marvin Jones of this district spent only $26 as campaign expenses, and this was for his name on tickets in each county.

Certain alleged economic experts declare that the raise in railroad rates will result in lower living prices, as the railroads can with the additional money give prompter and better transportation service. The editor of the News is not an expert, but he will bet a dime to a doughnut that it will result in higher prices, in fact it is safe to say that for every dollar extra the railroads receive, the consumers will pay two to three dollars to pay the extra rates. "Jones, he pays the freight"—not occasionally, but every time.

MOTHER LOVE'S TRAGEDY

From the Chicago Herald-Examiner. It was a little home, but it housed a big family. Walter Wasniewski the father, worked hard as a factory laborer. His wife pinched every penny. But try as they would, there was never enough to go around.

The little mother didn't mind, for herself. It was the children's condition that pained her. Alice, Wanda, Alice and Walter Jr., always were hungry and ill-clothed. Their health and future were endangered.

She begged her husband to let her work in the factory. "I could never face my friends," he told her, "if they knew I could not support my family. I would rather we all starved."

One night, before her husband returned home, the little mother went out alone. And she did not return until past midnight.

She refused to say where she had been, or what she had been doing.

We Have Just Received a Carload of SPECIAL 6 STUDBAKER CARS

The 1920 series of Studebaker cars perpetuate the Studebaker reputation, which for sixty-eight years, has stood for high quality, honest dealings and fair prices. In design, performance and quality they rank with the heavier and higher priced cars. The Studebaker car is beautiful in design, built for the hardest usage, and can be relied upon to give the best service. Its motors are rugged in construction and develops a power that is astonishing.

We would be glad to demonstrate the Studebaker to you, and also explain to you the many good points that place the Studebaker in a class by itself.

J. W. Boyle & Son

Jealously seized him. He beat her and sent her to bed weeping. But next day, when he had gone to work, she produced a mysterious supply of money and gave the children a bounteous meal.

The next night she crept forth again. Another beating followed for the little mother, and more secret bounty for her children—some warm underwear this time. And thus it continued, night after night, beating after beating and bounty after bounty for the children. Gradually their little cheeks filled out and they began to laugh.

Mother Love was conquering both Pride and Poverty—but now? The question infuriated the husband. His wife's silence fanned the fires of jealousy within him. Yesterday he accused her again. When she persisted in her silence, he ordered Alice to take the other children out for a walk.

What happened can only be conjectured. But when the children returned, they found their mother dead, with a bullet thru her head. And

12,500,000 Bale Crop Predicted
An increase of 1,000,000 bales in the prospective production of cotton over the indicated yield a month ago was forecast Monday by the department of agriculture. A total of 12,519,000 bales was estimated from the condition of the crop July 25, while 11,450,000 bales was forecast from the condition June 25. A 12,000,000 bale crop at 40 cents should place plenty of money in the pockets of the southern cotton growers.

COURTESY

Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet; but she hath washed my feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.—Luk 7:44.

Courtesy is a manifestation of kindness; kindness comes of consideration, consideration comes of love for humanity, and loves comes of God.

The Divine impulse which causes one to do little kindnesses, which we call courtesy, is the same as that which urges to those greater deeds of love, which we call self-sacrifice. It is a matter of degree, as we see it, whether it be courtesy or sacrifice.

The character of an individual is indicated largely by his deeds of courtesy, and this is just as true when applied to communities—even nations—as it is to persons. Indeed, civilization itself is a condition of society, in which courtesy, or regard for others rights and happiness, constitutes its contrast with barbarism. Courtesy is an unflinching index to refinement, generosity and sweet consideration, and there is no condition or time when it is not possible to manifest it in some degree. Emerson had a right view of it when he said, "Life is not so short but that there is always time enough for courtesy." "Like all other characteristics of the well-civilized man, courtesy is a necessity—we may even say, an economic principle, since it is an essential to the well-being and happiness of mankind. Certainly it is a necessity to a well-rounded life and character. Some one has put the matter tersely when he said, "There are just two kinds of people in the world—those who say 'Thank you' and those who do not." Those who do not say it lack appreciation, and without appreciation there is no gratitude, and it has been well said that "ingratitude is the basest of sins." So that we find courtesy a fundamental characteristic of civilized society. There can be no such thing as good manners without courtesy, and it has been well said that good manners are based on the Declaration of Independence—that all men are created equal.

We have said that courtesy is an economic principle. This is to be a greater degree and in a more general sense than one would suppose until he goes into the matter. It is proven in one way by the fact that all great business institutions insist upon courtesy on the part of their employees, particularly to their customers; and it should be insisted upon in the matter of their actions one toward another. When one enters a business house where courtesy is everywhere found, he soon discovers that the atmosphere of the institution is agreeable and pleasant, and since courtesy indicates consideration, it means that straightforward dealing must characterize the concern. Hence business everywhere has found that courtesy on the part of both employer and employe is a splendid asset. It is to be often found that the executive head of a great business institution is much more courteous to those who are its patrons than are many of his employes. It will be found that one who is naturally courteous and kind is efficient and thoughtful and therefore a valuable adjunct to any institution. This is true for the reason that goodness besets happiness, and one who is happy is in better mental condition to do things right than one who is morose, pessimistic and dissatisfied. These words by an unknown poet seem to express well our thought here: "Wouldest thou be happy? Take an easy way—Think of those around thee; live for them each day; Think of their pain, their loss, their grief, their cares; All that they have to do, or feel, or bear. Think of their pleasure, their good, their gain; Think of those around thee; 'twill not be in vain. Courtesy consists of deeds, while politeness may consist largely of words. The effect of each lies mostly in the manner in which they are used. To do a kindness with apparent reluctance transforms it into an affront, just as the salutation, "Good morning," when said in a perfunctory and indifferent way, had much better be left unsaid. And because one is a member of our own family, or because he is a fellowworker in our business, is no reason why we should not be courteous and polite to him as any one else; indeed, we are under greater obligations to be kind to our friends than to others; therefore, we should be as courteous and polite to them—and even more so—to others? As courtesy is an index to one's character, just so courtesy on the part of employers and owners is an index to the character of an institution. And, as in all things else relating to the happiness of mankind, courtesy is based on that crystallization of moral obligation, that epitome of Divine law—"As ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."—Dallas News.
