COX DECLARES REPUBLICANS ARE REACTIONARY

GOVERNOR DENOUNCES WHAT HE TERMS OPPONENT'S PLAN FOR SEPARATE PEACE

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 17.—In addressing the Ohio Democratic convention here today, Governor Cox, the party's presidential candidate, flayed Senator Harding, the republican nominee, as "reactionary," denounced what he termed Mr. Harding's plan for a separate peace with Germany, but said that the democratic position on the League of Nations reservations was not "unbending."

"Our position is not unbending. We claim that we can accept anything in reservations that interprets, that calls attention to the limitations of our constitution that calls attention of the other nations that we will go thus far and no further."

The league issue was featured by Governor Cox, and also in addresses of Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, and Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio.

"The republican candidate denounced particularly the republican argument that the league would increase probability of war."

Denying also that the league could order American soldiers overseas, Governor Cox continued:

"The republican leaders, in declaring that four or five potatoes overseas can 'starve' anyone anywhere, are speaking a deliberate and willful untruth." At this point the governor spoke with great deliberation adding: "Presidential proprieties require that I do not characterize it in stronger terms."

Governor Cox reiterated that congress only may declare war and asserted that "what the reactionary republican leaders contend would require a constitutional amendment."

After diligent study of Senator Harding's acceptance address, Gov. Cox said he found the statement "that has staggered the sensibility of the world—the unthinkable, the monstrous proposal for a separate peace with Germany."

"Now that our army is disbanded and the military strength of the allies scattered," he said, "he would destroy the pact (the league) and enter into a new covenant."

"I give you this assurance," he continued, "that this dishonorable deed will not be perpetrated; first, because Warren G. Harding will not have a chance to do it, and second, that I will not insult two million American soldiers by doing it myself."

Governor Cox said he was indebted to the opposition for furnishing the campaign issues.

During the address the governor weighed the records of himself and Senator Harding, in Ohio, especially in the fight for a new state constitution.

Praising the results of the constitution, Governor Cox said Senator Harding was aligned with the "reactionaries" opposing it, and published a free newspaper of opposition. The governor urged that judgment be passed on "performances, and not on words."

North Carolina Defeats Suffrage
Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17.—National enfranchisement of woman apparently was defeated in North Carolina today so far as the coming election is concerned. Opponents of equal suffrage long victorious here, were successful in one of the most bitterly fought cases ever staged in the state senate.

Their success was measured by two votes, the count being 25 to 23, but it was sufficient to lay on the table a resolution to ratify the federal suffrage amendment. It postponed action until the next regular session in 1921. Suffrage leaders, however, may make another try tomorrow. They may attempt to recall the resolution, but even the leaders were confident it could be done.

To make their victory complete, the anti-planned tonight to bring up the suffrage in the lower house under a special order of business.

SIDEWALKS ORDERED LAID TO WAYLAND COLLEGE

At its meeting last night the city council ordered the property owners along Wayland boulevard, or West Seventh street, to at once lay a cement sidewalk. Notices will be served and in cases where the property owner does not put down the walk, the city will do so and tax the cost against the property.

Two cement street crossings were ordered laid near the Central School building.

The salary of the man who gathers the trash in the business part of town was raised from $90 to $100 a month.

Continued Rains Damaging Wheat On the Plains

Several heavy rains have fallen the past week, and the weather has continued cloudy and misty.

These rains were not needed and are damaging wheat considerably, so farmers report. Some wheat is said to be sprouting in the shocks.

The row crops are as fine as could be wished for, and some are claiming as much as two tons to the acre. The cotton is in good shape so far, but continued rains would injure it. However, as a rule the rains do not extend later than September 1st.

AMARILLO WINS FROM PLAINVIEW, 15 TO 2

Was Bolstered by Childless Players—McDaniel Starred for Plainview By Home Run

Gene Moore pitched airtight ball in all but one inning yesterday and the Amarillo Elks pounded two pitchers hard winning easily from the Plainview Elks by a score of 15 to 2.

Four doubles and a single coupled with two errors were all Mitchell could stand in the third inning and he signaled for a relief pitcher. He was relieved by Wayland who stemmed the tide for the time being but was hard hit in the later innings.

McDaniel starred for the visitors by driving one over the right field fence with Bradley on first thus scoring the only two runs made by them in the game.

Moore helped win his own game with two singles and a double. Cornelius hit two over the left field fence for the ladies. Tumaster was a star batter getting three clean singles with runners on the paths besides catching one of the best games seen on the Amarillo field this year.—Amarillo Tribune, Monday.

O'KEEFE-MAY OIL CO. CASE ON TRIAL IN DISTRICT COURT

SUEING FOR DAMAGES AND ACCOUNTING OF OIL COMPANY'S AFFAIRS

The O'Keefe-May Oil Co. case is on trial in district court, and is creating considerable interest locally as many people are involved on either side of the case.

The style of the case is J. H. Wayland et al vs. Roy J. Frye et al. The defendants are the officers and directors of the company and the plaintiffs are possibly forty stockholders.

The petition asks an accounting of the affairs of the company and damages, alleging many items in the complaints.

The company was organized a couple of years ago and drilled a well at Burk Burnett, which proved to be a failure.

The attorneys in the case are C. S. Williams and L. D. Griffin for the plaintiffs and W. W. Kirk, C. D. Russell, Peyton Randolph and Meade Griffin for the defendants, and the trial is before a jury.

Mrs. Dollie Fletcher et al vs. Iona May Fletcher, et al, suit on insurance policy; judgment for plaintiff.

40-CENT GASOLINE BELIEVED IN SIGHT

Higher Price by September 15th Predicted Unless Consumption is Reduced at Once

Washington, Aug. 14.—Gasoline will cost more than 40c a gallon throughout the United States by Sept. 15, officials here believe, unless refiners succeed in persuading joy riders to curtail consumption.

Officials now are studying a tentative proposal of big refiners to cut down consumption through an informal system of rationing to apply in all forty-eight states. The system would be applied entirely by refiners and be without government authority, though it probably will have the moral backing of government officials.

Under the system as now outlined big refiners would agree to limit to a certain amount their sales to each state. Dealers inside the state then would be compelled to adopt some informal plan of rationing gas among their customers.

Approximately 10,000,000 owners of automobiles, power boats and airplanes would be affected by the rationing system.

The gasoline situation now is more serious than it has been for months. Consumption is reported as between 13,000,000 and 14,000,000 gallons daily. Production, however, is running approximately 2,000,000 gallons below consumption. The difference represents the amount by which the reserve supplies are being drawn off. Reserves now are reported as lower than at this time last year despite the fact that at the beginning of spring the stores were the biggest in years.

Ferguson's Party Nominates Ticket
The so-called Ferguson or American party, met in Fort Worth, last Tuesday, and nominated a full state ticket, with T. H. McGregor of Austin for governor, and J. W. Green of Montgomery for lieutenant governor.

Ferguson was endorsed for president.

Much Wheat Wasted
It is astonishing the amount of wheat that is being wasted these days. The streets of Plainview and the roads leading in are almost covered with wheat that wastes from the wagons as they haul wheat to market.

We saw at wagon yesterday going down the street with a little stream of wheat flowing out from a crack—it must have lost several bushels on the way to town.

About the railroad where wheat is being loaded, the waste is also great, and along the railroad much wheat is lost from cars in transit. The other days we walked along the main track of the railroad for several hundred yards and noticed that about every ten steps it seemed a pint of wheat had spurted out of a car; the loss from this car much have been great if this continued while it was en route to its destination.

Doubtless, in the whole country the loss of wheat by waste amounts to millions of bushels per year, enough to feed an entire nation of the starving peoples of Europe or Asia.

Crops Spotted in the North

Mr. Boston has informed us that crops are spotted in those states, especially in Central Kansas, where a drought prevails. In Western and Eastern Kansas the crops are especially good. He says he is better pleased with the Plains than before they took their trip, which was also for the purpose of prospecting with a view of moving elsewhere.

POLES ARE FIGHTING BACK RUSSIANS FROM WARSAW

HEAVY LOSSES INFLICTED BY POLES AS BOLSHEVIKI DRIVE FOR CAPITAL

Warsaw, Aug. 16.—Uninterrupted fighting is going on in the valley of the Bug, from its source to its confluence with the Narew river. The great battle which just begun along the eriver has been marked by appreciable advantages for the Poles. They have inflicted heavy losses on the enemy and won back important positions. In Galicia, the Poles, without pressure from the Bolsheviki, have withdrawn to the line of the Bug.

The forces defending Warsaw are now grouped as follows:
The left wing, resting on the forest of Modlin (Nov Gorgivak) holds the line of the lower Narew and Bug; the center, protected behind by the outer forest of Warsaw, occupies positions situated at distances varying from 18 to 30 miles from the capital; the right wing commands the valley of the upper Bug, both on the right and left wing it is the Poles who have taken the initiative in the opens.

The Bolsheviki forces which had crossed the Bug between Prubieszow and Wlodawa have been thrown back on the right bank. On the left wing the Poles, starting from Madin, have made a successful attack in the direction of Miawa. Thanks to this operation the positions the Poles occupy in the fork of the Narew and Bug rivers, which constitute the key defenses of Warsaw, are now better protected from a flank attack threatened by the Bolsheviki forces on the northwest.

In the center, on the lower Bug, all attacks delivered by the enemy to enable him to approach nearer the Warsaw forts, were repelled with heavy losses. Red cavalry continues to demonstrate along the old Polish-Prussian frontier without opposition from the Poles. This operation is not connected with the battle along the Bug, and cannot in any way influence the issue there, even should the Bolsheviki throw in stronger forces.

It is considered that the Polish troops occupying Thorn and Graudenz and distributed along the Vistula are ample to protect the Danzig communications from any danger.

On account of the high price the greatest sugar crop in the history of the world is being raised this year, and is being dumped into the United States. THE LAND OF CORN AND CANE
Tune: Beulah Land

We have a land of corn and cane,
Alfalfa, fruit and every grain,
In fact most everything we sow,
This Valley here will fully grow.

Chorus:
O! Rio Grande, Great Rio Grande!
As in the Valley we do stand
We look across the waving grain,
And in our hearts we do proclaim
On a better land the sun ne'er shown,
We'll set our stakes and build our home

This Valley cares not for the rain,
No drouth can ever mar its name.
By telephone the water comes,
To grow our crops and build our home.

Chorus:
The soil in depth is twenty feet,
For richness it cannot be beat;
Its fertility will always stand
By spreading silt of Rio Grande.

This country's climate is ideal,
For healthfulness the peoples' weal.
No summers hot, no winters cold;
Come see yourself and you'll be sold.

—Join the excursion to the Rio Grande Valley every Monday night.

J. M. COFFEY, General Agent. W. E. Stewart Land Co.

labor and the respective rights of the employer and employe, as well as the rights of the general public, in the following language: 'I believe that both capital and labor have the right to organize, each has the right to bargain collectively, each has the right to deal with the other through duly elected representatives. Every man who toils with either brain or brawn has the right to quit work whenever he wants to, but let it be understood that when he quits his job any other American citizen has the right to dot he work, his neighbor didn't want to do. Every man should be left free to make whatever contract he desires as to his employment, both as to compensation and hours of service. The employer should be left free to join the open or closed shop or stay out of both, just as he sees fit. The employer should be permitted to employ whomsoever he pleases and on whatsoever terms are satisfactory to the two contracting parties. In the peaceful conduct of capital's business and in the peaceful pursuit of labor's trade the government should grant to each equal protection. Please state whether or not the above views expressed by me meet with your approval. If not, will you be kind enough to point out in what respect you differ from the above statement?'

"10. You complain that an eight-hour, law-made day will be injurious when forced upon the farmers of Texas. Please state if you have heard of even one human being in all this state advocating the passage of any such provision.

"11. The only law we have in Texas in regard to working eight hours a day applies only to the employes of the government doing public work. State whether or not you approve of this law. Or will you, if elected governor, recommend its repeal?

"12. You now say that labor organizations (and you state that only 8 per cent of labor is organized) are about to destroy the American Republic. Please state why it was that you did not, either in your Covington address, your Fort Worth principles or your opening speech at Gainesville say one word about this threatening menace to your country.

"13. If elected Governor, will you attempt to repeal the law giving Texas women the right of primary suffrage?

"14. You have heretofore declared your opposition to the national-aid road law. In view of this statement, will you, if elected Governor, co-operate with the counties of Texas in securing from our national government all the aid possible for the purpose of building good roads in Texas?

"15. In your Covington speech you announced that you had been employed as an attorney to represent the association opposed to national prohibition. Please state when your employment began, when it will end and whether or not you would, if you could, as said attorney, wipe out entirely the national prohibition law.

"16. Did you at any time during the entire period of the war make even a four-minute speech for any of the various phases of war activities, and is it a fact that you refused to recommend the purchase of Liberty bonds? Please give your reasons.

"Now, Mr. Bailey, you say that you are the only candidate running for office who has the courage to declare himself on public questions and that no one should be trusted with public office who will not declare himself on public issues. The above questions are questions of public concern. The people whose votes you seek have the right to know your views concerning same. Your answer to the above questions would be of more interest to the people of Texas in this race than the things discussed by you that happened in this world a hundred years ago.

"I am still hoping that you will accept my invitation, but if not I ask that you give public answer to the above questions without evasion or equivocation on your first speaking date.

"PAT M. NEFF."

If the government would institute will be next month when school starts 1 cent per thousand words the war debt would soon be paid.

This would be a nicer world if we were as busy trying to conceal our ignorance as was he trying to display our knowledge.

Patience may be a virtue in a husband. But in a wife it is a necessity.

Is Breadbox of Texas

This place is rolling in wealth, with wonderful crops. The streets were crowded with people like Saturday in Waxahachie during the cotton season. Hale county raised one-fifteenth of the wheat crop of Texas and is the breadbox of the State. Land buyers are here in numbers and much trading is in progress.—Staff cor. Dallas News, who was in Plainview to report Bailey's speech.

LUBBOCK PAVING BONDS ARE SOLD AT DISCOUNT

Lubbock, Aug. 14.—The city of Lubbock paving bonds were sold Wednesday at 90. This is the lowest price ever accepted for city or county bonds in this section of the state. The project includes twenty blocks of brick on a five-inch concrete base tied with asphalt filler and separated by a sand filler. With the white way already in operation, this will give the city of Lubbock a strictly modern business section.

All we have to say is, were Thos. Jefferson alive today we do not believe he would associate with a man who has the smell of the Standard Oil trust on him.

Houses are very scare, and many are already crowded, but what it will be next month when school starts is hard to surmise. Many people will be unable to find a place to stay.

Herman G. Hoffman, leader of the Chicago radical and Bolshevist, has returned from Germany, where he had been to circulate radical literature and promote revolutionary documents.

"I'm through with all this red stuff," Hoffman said Thursday. "When a man has looked over the conditions in Germany and those foreign countries at first hand and compared them with the good old United States, he's certainly a fool to claim any other creed than 'America first, last and all the time.'"

This is the verdict of James M. Cox as to the place in history the malignant critics of Woodrow Wilson occupy: "History will tell it all and the name of the man who sensed the ills of the afflicted people of the earth will be chanted by the children of men yet unborn while the names of those who made from their malignant spite a cabal against Woodrow Wilson will have been consigned to a place too unimportant for voice to recall or memory to retain." Did God. Cox have Joe Bailey in mind when he said the above?

Mr. Bailey is joined to the mummies of Egypt. From what he says the world should have stopped moving many years ago. He has no confidence in the people to settle questions as they come up in the course of events. He does not believe in progress. He said in his Plainview speech that the progressive democrat of today would be a socialist tomorrow, an anarchist the next day and a Bolshevist the next day. Mr. Bailey should know that it is the standpat, never-change, re-actionary element that contributes more to radical and revolutionary activity and thought than the progressive element which seeks to meet each day's problems as they arise. If Russia had been progressive and not re-actionary, does he think Bolshevism would ever have attained the ascendancy in that unhappy and benighted land? Education and progress are safety valves. Steam cannot be confined in a boiler except at the risk of an explosion.

NEFF RENEWS CHALLENGE FOR JOINT DEBATE WITH BAILEY

If He Declines, He Asks Answers to Sixteen Questions Which He Propounds

Mr. Neff has renewed his challenge to Mr. Bailey as follows: "You assign as your only reason that you fear a joint discussion would culminate in disorder growing out of the 'discussion of personalities.' I assure you, as man to man, that if you will accept the invitation I shall not even indirectly discuss personal matters, but shall confine my remarks strictly to the issues involved in the campaign and to your official record and public utterances. As to your remarks, you may feel absolutely free to say just what you want to about me, personally, politically or in any other way that pleases your fancy. If you wish to further discuss the charges heretofore made that I do not cuss, drink whiskey, fish on Sunday or any other like conduct which, from your point of view, reflects on my manhood or disqualifies me from being governor, you may feel perfectly free to do so, and I assure you that I will neither hurt you in any way or create and disorder in any respect. With this statement, I not only renew, but press an acceptance of my invitation to a joint discussion.

"If, however, the invitation is again declined, I desire in that event to have you answer at once the following questions for the information of those whose votes you seek:

"1. Do you endorse the national Democratic platform adopted at San Francisco?"

"2. If you do not indorse all of the San Francisco platform, please state which planks you endorse and which planks you repudiate.

"3. In your Dallas speech you stated that after our August primary you were going to buckle on your armor and go forth to battle for the nominee of the Democratic party. Nominee Cox stands for the Wilson administration, the League of Nations, woman suffrage, organized labor, and backs his country and the National administration in everything they did in peace and in the world war. Please state which, if any, of these things you are going to advocate when you buckle on your armor and go forth to battle for the Democratic nominee?

"4. In your Covington speech you use this language: 'I will never, so long as I live, vote for any person to fill a public office who has the political convictions of Woodrow Wilson, who is a Socialist.' In view of this language, please explain your statement that you were going to vote for Cox, who is in hearty accord with the political views and convictions of President Wilson and has so declared.

"5. The present law, under which the open shop, union shop and all similar organizations, are permitted to organize, approves as follows: 'It is lawful for any and all persons engaged in any kind of work to associate themselves together and form unions and other associations for the purpose of protecting themselves in their personal service.' Please state whether or not you are in favor of this law or will you recommend the repeal of it, should you be elected governor.

"6. What legislation will you recommend, as governor, looking either to the support or the destruction of the open shop organizations or the union labor organizations?

"7. Some employers prefer union labor, some open shop and some labor that does not belong to any kind of an organization. Please state whether or not you will deny to the employer the right to decide the kind of labor he desires to employ.

"8. Please state just what kind of legislation you will have passed to cure the supposed evils you complain of in regard to the open shop and closed shops.

"9. I have on all occasions explained my views in regard to capital and

ONLY FOUR PRESIDENTS HAVE USED AUTOMOBILES

"Only four presidents out of twenty-eight have enjoyed the use of motor cars," says Mr. Hart, of Hart & Blair, local dealers in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"William McKinley was the first president of the United States to use a motor car.

"Roosevelt and Taft established the automobile as the principal mode of presidential transportation.

"Everyone is familiar with the extent to which President Wilson uses his official motor car.

"This indicates the wonderful progress motor transportation has made in the past twenty years.

"When President McKinley adopted the automobile, there were only 3,700 motor cars in the United States. People did not believe the automobile would ever be other than a plaything.

"President Wilson's car is only one of more than seven and a half millions. And the automobile today is a recognized transportation utility.

"The motor car has not only supplanted the coach of state. It has won a place in the oldest customs of our national life. It is the established conveyance for all occasions.

"Another curious illustration of this is the erection by a church in New Hampshire of a church garage to take the place of the picturesque old wagon shed.

"The production of dependable cars in great quantities at low cost has enabled practically every one to own an automobile and to profit from its use, all day, seven days a week, the year 'round."

You are hereby commanded, that by publication of this writ for at least twenty days in a newspaper printed in the County of Hale you give due notice to all persons interested in said estate to appear and contest said account for final settlement and application, if they see proper, at the September Term A. ## "THE MILKY WAY" TO Prosperity

CORONIS COLANTHA CORNUCOPIA

purchased from the famous McPherson dairy herd at Howell, Mich., and now owned by B. F. Kiles, Dallas, Texas.

Coronis, although but five years old, has developed into one of America's greatest producers. Her last record gave her an average of 100 pounds of milk a day for seven consecutive days, placing her in line with the 800 pound class. She earns for her owner the nice little income of $360.00 a month or more.

In a recent test Coronis produced five pounds a day more than an entire herd average dairy cows on another Texas farm.

If you are interested in procuring a few of these "Sixteen-to-one" cows on your farm, it will pay you well to investigate this Holstein's record.

This bank believes in dairying as a money-making proposition, and is willing to back up that belief by extending loans to the farmers of this community for the purchase of a few real producers like Coronis.

Mesdames Underwood and Wofford Entertained This Afternoon

This afternoon Mesdames Clarence D. Wofford and Robt. A. Underwood delightfully entertained with an informal tea at the Underwood home in honor of Mrs. Flavius A. Green, a recent bride; Mrs. C. W. Forrest of Dallas and Mrs. W. A. Parish of Houston, guests of Mrs. Underwood. The home was artistically decorated for the occasion. In the reception room, where rich dahlias of many hues were used, were Mrs. E. Lee Dye, Mrs. Tom Carter, the honorees, Mesdames Guy Fowler, Geo. Saigling, L. C. Wayland, Albert Hinn and the hostesses.

In the living room where Golden-glow was used in profusion in decoration, were Mesdames Paul Barber, C. A. Pierce, A. M. McMillan, Hal Wofford and Mesdames Geo. Wyckoff, Peyton Randolph and Miss Luella Lamb presided over the punch bowl, serving a golden ice to the guests before they were ushered into the dining room, where the brightness of color and light was made more gala by a bevy of young ladies, consisting of Misses Sadye Earle Adams, Louise Lamb, Lena Donohoo, Alma Armstrong, Mesdames A. E. Boyd and L. E. Morris, who served dainty refreshments in the golden color.

On the table was a crystal basket filled with golden glow and tied with white and gold maline. Unshaded golden tapers in crystal holders made an effective light over the mints, salted nuts and other dainty confections. Others assisting in the dining room were Mesdames E. C. Lamb, Marvin Garner, Meade Griffin and C. L. Largent and Miss Lula Blair Neal.

The afternoon was made more enjoyable by the musical numbers so ably rendered by Mesdames Geo. Wilson, Guy Jacob, Tom Carter and Miss Flora Meadow.

About one hundred and seventy-five ladies called during the afternoon.

Impressions of Plainview Country

Col. Frank P. Hollad, publisher of the Farm & Ranch of Dallas, in July made a 2,000-mile auto tour of West and Northwest Texas, and New Mexico. In an article in his periodical he tells of the visit to Plainview as follows:

"From Lubbock we drove through as fine country as anyone ever viewed. Conditions were excellent, and the farm homes neat, attractive and home-like, well painted, surrounded by shrubbery and trees.

"Six miles south of Plainview we saw a sign, 'Don't kill my birds. E. Dowden.' We wish every farmer would put a similar sign. At Plainview we met Mr. Ware and Mr. Robt. Underwood. They drove us to wheat farms making 25, and some as high they said, as 40 bushels per acre. There were maize, corn and many acres of alfalfa, all of which looked fine.

"Mr. Underwood, active vice president of the First National Bank, was, at one time, connected with Farm & Ranch, and he says his training there was the foundation of his business success. He realizes that banks and every other business must depend on the farmers and stockmen for their most substantial support and his bank is ready to and is co-operating with them in every way possible. When there is cooperation between bankers, merchants, stockmen and farmers, the country must develop and the town will prosper. From the present outlook the Plains country will continue to forge to the front, and its people enjoy wealth and contentment.

"We visited the Plainview Nursery, and learned that they had shipped large quantities of tomatoes and snap beans. They have in the nursery a large stock of roses, shrubbery, etc., and a variety of fruit and shade trees.

"Mr. Underwood and Mr. and Mrs. Ware made it so pleasant for us that we were loath to leave this beautiful section, where the first word is hospitality, every home a real home, and the farmers in splendid financial condition."

Lost Art

A. H. Powell tells a good story in that interesting little volume called "Handicrafts and Reconstruction," recently published, about the disappearance of the fine wheelwrighting of a generation ago. "The difference between the old and new atmosphere of work came out vividly between two wheelwrights, one old good, the other bad modern. The last was filling in a mistake with putty, and must fall to praising it—'A fine thing is this putty'—to hide his shame. Says old good, 'Why don't ye meek the ball thing of putty there?' and walked away." It is only the genuine craftsman who can find the real contentment in his work, and it is equally only the monkey and compass of mechanical work that makes a man weary of it.

New Harbor on the Baltic

It is reported from Copenhagen that a new harbor is to be constructed at Korsor, which is a Danish seaport 69 miles west-southwest of Copenhagen. The cost of this work is estimated at 30,000,000 kroner and it is stated that American capital has been interested. The harbor will have a depth of ten meters as against nine meters in Copenhagen and large quays will be built with ample facilities for handling merchandise.

EDITORIAL

It is the empty barrel that makes the most noise; it's the worst wheel on the cart that makes the loudest squeak. There is no blare of trumpets or beating of drums about this announcement but there is business in it.

We have not found it necessary to be sensationally "loud" in our advertising or to use big letters and high-sounding words for the simple reason that our values will always speak loudly enough for themselves. Truth needs no brass band to demonstrate its power for good. Figures do not lie, but, big words often cover little values.

The Lenihan Land and Loan Co.

Incorporated
$25,000.00 CAPITAL

Plainview, Texas, August 13th, 1920.

Having been engaged in the mercantile and creamery business at Lokeville, Minnesota, since August 31, 1880, I thought that forty years of continuous business was long enough and decided to retire on August 31st, 1920, and chose Plainview as an ideal spot to rest in. Arriving here on July 23rd and seeing so many opportunities for a young man in the agricultural line, I could not resist the temptation and harnessed up again and am now in the Real Estate business with temporary offices at the Ware Hotel, where I shall be pleased to meet any former Minnesota friends as well as those of Plainview with whom I have become acquainted. My business now shall be to

BUY, IMPROVE AND SELL FARM LANDS

Bring from Minnesota the young farmer with the dairy herd and milking machine, with up-to-date methods of scientific dairying. The Panhandle Valley has the fertile fields to grow the feeds—Minnesota has farmer boys who know how to feed the feed.

I am now prepared to buy lands improved or unimproved.

M. J. LENIHAN.

End Your Gate Troubles with "Can't-Sag" Gates

Cost Less
Last Longer
Look Better

No more heavy, tumble-down, sagging wooden gates. No more bent and twisted gas-pipe gates. Put up "Can't-Sags"—made of an ideal combination of iron and steel bolted securely together—no screws or nails to pull out. When closed and latched, the "Can't Sag" gate is securely locked at both ends—stock can't break through to destroy growing crops.

Can't-Sag a Fraction of an Inch

In order to sag even a quarter of an inch, 45 bolts and 8 pieces of angle steel would have to bend. You know that is impossible. Yet, this ideal gate costs less than the old-fashioned kind. Thousands are in use on large and small farms everywhere. Drop in and see these gates when you are in town.

HIGH ABOVE THEM BOTH I SHALL PLACE THE LAW OF THE LAND

(Extract from speech made by Mr. Neff at San Antonio Aug. 9, 1920.)

Many suggestions have been made, theories advanced and objections raised during this campaign in regard to labor and capital, and the respective rights of the employer and employe. I am glad to state that my views in regard to capital and labor are in hearty accord with the declaration of principles set forth in our national Democratic platform. I believe that labor and capital each has the right to organize, each has the right to bargain collectively, each has the right to deal with the other at all times through duly designated representatives. Every man who toils with either brain or brawn has the right to quit work whenever he wants to, but let it be understood that when he quits his job that any other American citizen has the right to do the work his neighbor did not want to do. Every man should be left free to make whatever contract he desires as to his employment, both as to compensation and hours of service. The employe should be left free to join either the open shop or the closed shop or stay out of both, just as he sees fit. The employer should be permitted to employ whomsoever he pleases and on whatever terms are satisfactory to the two contracting parties. In the peaceful conduct of one's business and in the peaceful pursuit of one's trade the government should grant to each equal protection. If I am elected governor neither labor nor capital will rule in Texas. High above them both, I shall place the law of the land. Corporate power should never ascend so high that the strong arm of the law could not reach it, and labor should never descend so low that its voice could not be heard in the temple of justice. I am a friend to both capital and labor, to the employer and the employe. When I become your governor I shall have an open mind and clean hands as to each. Whenever back, made a fine figure as he stood with erect shoulders and quivering voice, addressing his fellow townsmen. "I represent the American people," he said, "when they asked me to speak tonight, I did not want to do it, but a voice told me not to decline when duty calls. Thoughts went over the ocean. I saw the wounded and the dead there. I saw my boy and I knew it was my duty to speak tonight. Not in a personal partisan way but for a great cause.

"When I came out of Appamatow I said I did not ever want any more war. But in all these years I have always been for my country, right or wrong and I have not criticised our presidents, either Democratic or Republican. Much less did I criticize our great President, Woodrow Wilson, who led my boy to war. My wife and I bought a $50 Liberty bond and the bank carried it, and we paid it out on the installment plan. It never occurred to me whether I would get a dollar out of it or not, and I never cared. The man who was too scrupulous about that ought to have told his fellow-countrymen that they might go down, but to buy them so we could win the war. My boy put as much as he could of his poor little $30 salary into Liberty bonds, too, and he never asked how much they would be worth, and whether they would carry a premium. And he did not shut his mouth, but went on, willing to give his life for his country. I am not willing to trust a man who was silent when death and danger swept over his country.

"The only criticism they can make of Mr. Neff is that he is too good to be governor of Texas."

Orlin Stark, cashier of the First National Bank of Quitaque, was here yesterday on business. He says his section is in a prosperous condition, and crops are a fine as could be wished for.

HIS QUEER 'CATCH'

And Garbage Master Was Not Fishing, at That.

Old Copy Reader Ransacks His Mind for Most Unique Story He Can Recall, and Here Is the Result He Achieved.

The oldest copy reader on the paper grew reminiscent.

"In all the thousands of 'stories' for the paper I have read, how many unique ones have I found? Well, I can give you one that stands out in my memory, sharply defined, without a flaw.

"It is about the strangest fish that was ever caught in Sheephead bay. It was about the time that motor-boats were first being built, and risky things they were, too, in those days. Well, there was a certain young man about Broadway whose boast was that he would try anything once.

"He had tried automobiles and had had considerable success in finding out what happened to them when they ran into brick walls, telegraph poles and other things like that. So he decided to try motorboats, too.

"He did, and never tried anything after that. He gathered a jolly little party, packed a jolly little luncheon and off from shore they set in a cocky little motorboat, out into the middle of Sheephead bay. There came a heavy squall, the boat upset and several of the happy throng were drowned, the gay young man included. Now, here's the meat of the yarn:

"The prettiest girl in the party was also the gayest. Her French heels were the highest and her big, floppy hat was the biggest and the flappiest. Well, she went down, down into Sheephead bay and drank more water in five minutes than she had in as many years.

"When she came up for the third time she grabbed an empty floating box and clung to it until she grew too weak. Down she went. Night fell.

"Now a tug came puffing and snorting on her way back from the garbage dumping grounds—or waters—dragging half a dozen empty scows, all of which were, like all such craft, equipped with hinged bottoms which open outward. All the scows were open, and aboard one, the captain or skipper or master, or whatever he ranked, was watching to see that nothing broke loose in the squall.

"Suddenly he heard a squeak, shrill and uncanny. He investigated. And inside his opened-up garbage scow, clinging desperately to the chains that swing open and shut the container of garbage was a creature in picture hat, French heels and other furbelows. The garbage master was a brave man, but this appalled him. His nerve won, however, and he hauled the miracle to what deck there was, and she survived and revived.

"What had happened was that the beautiful lady had been drawn down into the water again, but had once more come to the surface just as the scow passed over her and she had come up inside. She had life enough and sense enough to grasp anything tangible, that being in this case a slippery chain. Then she knew enough to try to shriek. The squeak she emitted saved her life."

With Malice Aforethought.

Round the campfire—to put it poetically—a lot of soldiers were discussing hairbreadth escapes and adventures they had had. One after another they related tales, true and otherwise, till it came to the turn of a man who'd traveled all over the world. Every one waited breathlessly for his yarn, but he said he'd nothing to tell.

"Have you never had an accident?" chorused his pals.

"Accident? No!"

"Never had an accident in your life?"

"No. Rattler bit me once."

"Don't you call that an accident?"

"Thunder, no! The thing bit me on purpose!" said the traveler.

Grenfell's Splendid Work.

Wulfred Thomason Grenfell, M. D., superintendent of the Labrador medical mission of Royal National Mission of Deep Sea Fishermen, was born February 28, 1863. He fitted out the first hospital ship for the North sea fisheries, and cruised with the fishermen from the Bay of Biscay to Iceland. He established homes for them on the land and arranged mission vessels for them in the sea. He went to Labrador in 1892, when he built four hospitals, a series of co-operative stores and an orphanage, and established numerous small industrial schemes.

How Could He Know?

It may be a mistake for Hoover to go to Europe after all.

A day or two ago Miriam, of Jeffersonville, who is not yet eight, was not cleaning up her plate as well as she should, and usually does. Moreover, she was supposed to be wasteful and seemed to think the bars were up.

"Mr. Hoover will be after you if you waste food," said her mother.

"Mr. Hoover won't know anything about it; he has gone to Europe," was the reply.—Indianapolis News.
