FARMERS TO ERECT LARGE A ELEVATOR IN PLAINVIEW

WILL FORM CORPORATION AND STOCK IS NOW BEING SUBSCRIBED

There was a well attended meeting of farmers, especially wheat growers, at the court house Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a company to erect and maintain a large and modern concrete grain elevator in Plainview.

After a thorough discussion of the matter, it was decided to form such a company with more than $100,000 capital, and to limit stockholders to not more than $5,000 worth of stock.

It is proposed to erect an elevator of 250,000 bushels capacity, at a cost of about $100,000, and O. M. Unger was appointed as chairman to circulate a list for stock subscriptions. Up to noon today we are informed $35,000 worth of stock has been signed for and farmers are quite enthusiastic in their support of the proposition and are subscribing liberally. The entire amount will be easily secured, so the committee reports.

In the talks Saturday it was said that the Tulsa farmers' elevator is declaring dividends of 100 per cent a year, besides causing higher prices for wheat.

Plainview already has one modern concrete elevator just erected of 220,000 bushels capacity, and the three other small elevators give the town a storage capacity of more than 300,000 bushels, hence the proposed elevator will mean that more than a half-million bushels of wheat can be stored here at one time, thus relieving car shortage that may come.

SETTING UP A CROWD TO PLAINVIEW FAIR

Twenty-Five Auto Loads Are Wanted For the Opening Day, September 27th

Efforts are being made to have Amarillo represented by a train of twenty-five automobiles at the opening day, September 27, of the Plainview Fair. The Board of City Development has asked that anyone willing to go, let it be known in order that plans may be made to have all of the Amarillo cars go in a party.

Original plans of the managers of the fair called for a special day to be known as Amarillo Day. This date has not been fixed, but even if a special train is run from here, as is contemplated, the secretary of the Board of City Development is interested in having the city well represented on the opening day of the big celebration. —Amarillo Tribune.

Business Boys Foot Ball Team

A meeting of the business young men of the town is to be held at Fred J. Hurlbut's office Friday night, for the purpose of organizing a "business boys" foot ball team, and athletic club.

It is proposed to organize a team to play after work hours and to play match games with the college teams of this and other towns. Quite a number of clerks and office young men were stars on college football teams at one time, and it is thought that a strong team can be gotten together.

Mrs. G. H. Louthan Dies

Mrs. Hannah Lloyd Louthan died at the sanitarium in Plainview yesterday of Bright's disease and other complications.

She was the wife of Gilbert H. Louthan and was forty-two years of age. She also leaves eight children. The family lives about half-way between Plainview and Hale Center, and she was a leading factor in the affairs of her community, and was highly esteemed.

The remains are being held pending arrival of relatives from the Northern states, where the family lived before moving to Hale county several years ago. Burial will take place in Plainview cemetery.

H. C. Randolph Member Demo. State Committee

The democratic state convention is in session in Dallas, and the Neff forces including many women are overwhelmingly in the majority.

Judge H. C. Randolph of Plainview has been elected as the member of the state executive committee from this senatorial district. This is an honor worthy conferred—for Judge Randolph is a staunch democrat, and stands for everything that is good. He has served on the committee once or twice in past years.

COUNCIL WILL ALLOW STREETS TO BE ROPED OFF

Tents and Other Temporary Structures For Northwest Texas Fair Will Be Permitted

At its meeting last night C. E. White, president of the Northwest Texas Fair, and W. E. Risser were before the city council, asking that the fair association be permitted to erect tents and other temporary structures connected with the fair in the fire limits, also to rope off certain streets so as to divert traffic and allow space for attractions in connection with the fair. The council is agreeable to the requests, and with some modifications will at its next meeting give the desired permission.

A motion prevailed to permit G. W. Graves to stucco and repair the Otis Phillips building, known as the Post-office Garage, so he can occupy it with his business.

It was decided to add another driver of the fire truck, so as to have different drivers for day and night, each to receive $100 a month salary.

The city attorney, C. S. Williams, was asked for an opinion as to the validity of the $70,000 in city warrants issued for the purpose of financing the extension and improvement of the sewerage system, but which have never been sold, as they were issued under the former city charter which was held by the courts to be invalid, the party who promised to buy the warrants having since refused to do so. The sewerage improvements are in progress, and it is necessary to finance same. This if favorable will be sent to prospective purchasers of the warrants.

The salary of Leo DeLay as city water and sewer superintendent was ordered raised from $125 to $150 a month.

Public School Boundaries and Examinations

All grade pupils south of West 6th street and east of Broadway will attend Lamar school. All other grade pupils will attend the Central school. A first and second grade will be provided at the High School building for pupils living in the extreme northwest part of town.

Examinations will be held Saturday morning, Sept 11th for all children who were conditioned in their work at the close of school, provided they shall have had some systematic training in such subjects during the summer. Examinations will also be given for pupils from unaffiliated schools who wish to make application to enter the Senior Class.

Respectfully,
W. E. PATTY.

HALE CENTER BANK DEPOSITS ARE LARGE

People are Experiencing Prosperity— Several New Buildings are Under Construction

Hale Center, Sept. 5.—Bank deposits in Hale Center now total over $250,000, although hardly half of the bumper wheat crop and none of the equally large row crop has been marketed. Prosperity, with all its attending elements, is in full force here. New brick buildings are under construction and several news residences are soon to be erected.

Plainview Loses to Childress

Plainview Elks base ball team played the final games of the season with Childress in Amarillo Sunday and Monday. Childress won both games—the score Sunday being 8 to 1, and that of Monday 7 to 2.

Sunday's game was played in drizzling rain. Plainview did not arrive in Amarillo till late and only seven innings were played.

Ottos Buy Harlan Residence

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Otto have bought and now reside in what is known as the Pack residence, near the Central school, having bought it a few days ago from Dennis Hefflinger, who had just bought it from F. Harlan, who with his family has been occupying the place.

Donohue Signed by Chicago

Mr. Donohue, who has been pitching for the Plainview Elks base ball team this summer, is reported to have been signed as a pitcher by the Chicago White Sox league team.

Vice-President Marshall Coming

Vice-President T. R. Marshall is to deliver a lecture in Plainview the last of November. He is to speak in Amarillo Nov. 29, and here possibly the next night.

MORE THAN 100,000 PEOPLE EXPECTED TO ATTEND NORTHWEST TEXAS FAIR

Extensive Agricultural and Other Exhibits and Varied Attractions Will Bring People For Many Miles

The dates for the Northwest Texas Fair, to be held in Plainview, Sept. 27, 28, 29, 30 and Oct. 1, are rapidly approaching.

The fair promises to be very successful, and bring together the greatest exhibits of agricultural products and livestock ever brought together in this half of Texas. There will also be magnificent exhibits of women's work, factory products, mercantile stocks, farm machinery, automobiles, etc.

The amusement features will be many, and only such as plays at state fairs.

There will be automobile races, horse races, wild west tournaments, a band of fifty genuine Comanche Indians, and other thrills.

It is thought by the officers of the fair that 25,000 people will attend each day, and the total for the five days will be above 100,000, for advertising matter is being distributed far and near and people are much interested. Special trains will be run to Plainview.

The premiums offered in the agricultural and live stock divisions amount to $5,500, and include every product and class of animal raised on the Plains.

The wheat show will be the second largest in the world, $800 in cash prizes being offered for the best wheat as follows:

Best bushel of winter wheat grown by exhibitor, $200. Second best bushel $100, and third best bushel, $50.

Best bushel of winter wheat combined with the best yield per acre, the basis of grading to be fifty-fifty between quality of wheat and quantity raised per acre, $100, second $50 and third $25.

Best bushel of spring wheat, including Durum, $100, second $50, third $25.

In every instance the wheat must be exhibited by the grower or owner of farm.

Competition in the wheat show is open to the world.

A special judge will be employed to judge the wheat exhibits.

The Plainview Gin Co. has offered more than $500 in cash prizes for the best cotton shown. The capital prize will be about $200.

The live stock premiums are the largest offered outside of the state fairs and stock shows, and many very fine animals will be shown, some coming from quite a distance.

Among the live stock exhibits will be the herd of registered Aberdeen-Angus or black poll cattle of E. H. Small of Shamrock, who showed a herd of these cattle here several years ago.

There will be a number of county exhibits, and competition will be lively among the counties of this section. There will be many individual farm exhibits also.

YOUNG LADY KILLED NEAR LOCKNEY IN CAR ACCIDENT

MISS ZELLA BENNETT, THROWN FROM CAR WHEN IT COLLIDED WITH BINDER

Miss Zella Bennett, age 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bennett, living two miles east of Lockney, was killed at 7:30 o'clock tonight, by being thrown from a car, striking on her head, causing concussion of the brain. Her breast-bone was also crushed. Death was instantaneous.

She and several other members of the family were en route to Lockney and met a binder machine coming along the road, and in some way there was a collision, turning the car over. Others in the car were painfully, but not seriously bruised. One of the horses pulling the binder was badly wounded.

The deceased was well known in Plainview, having gone to school here. Recently she was in Plainview sanitarium for treatment.

Undertaker Flake Garner was called to Lockney, and will embalm the remains, which will be held until the arrival of relatives from elsewhere before burial.

BATTLESNAKE BITES SMALL BOY AT OLTON

Dud Granbury, Age Eleven, Bitten Twice on Ankle—Will Not Prove Fatal

Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock, "Dud", the eleven-year-old son of Mr. Granbury who operates the telephone exchange at Olton, was bitten twice on the inside of his right ankle. He was at once brought to Plainview, arriving here about 6:30, and Dr. J. H. Wayland took him in charge.

The leg at once swelled up very greatly, and he became very sick. He is now recovering, and unless some complication sets up he will soon be well.

WILL ORGANIZE GIRLS BAND IN PLAINVIEW

Meeting of Those Interested to be Held at Court House Thursday Night

G. A. Wright, director of the Chamber of Commerce band and the Boys Scouts band, is making arrangements to also organize a girls' band.

A meeting of girls between nine and fifteen years of age, who will join such a band, and their parents will be held at the court house Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. All those interested are urged to be present.

Mr. Wright says the Scouts band is getting along nicely, and that he has a good line-up. The instruments will be ordered at once.

C. of C. to Meet Monday

The Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday night. A large attendance is urged, as the semi-annual election of officers and other important business is to come before the body.

Continued Rains Are Damaging the Plains Crops

The Plains has become a very wet country. The rainy season is now on and has been for more than two months, rain falling somewhere in the county nearly every day or night. These rains are damaging wheat in the shock, stopping threshing, delaying the maturing of cotton, etc.

This week very heavy rains have fallen not only on the Plains, but all over the state, in some sections being almost floods.

Here in Plainview the official record shows—Friday .14-inch, Saturday night a heavy rain of 1.06 inches, Sunday night .08 inch and a shower last night. The total thus far for September is 1.56, against an average for the entire month of September of 2.39. Since January 1st the total rainfall in Plainview has been 17.75 inches.

The rain Saturday night was so heavy here and to the west that the draw was running rather boldly Sunday.

OBREGON CONCEDED VICTORY AT POLLS

Mexican Presidential Election Proceeds Peacefully Throughout Entire Country

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—The election of General Alvaro Obregon as the next constitutional president of Mexico is generally conceded, by "a substantial majority," as a result of today's balloting.

The election passed peacefully throughout the country, without, as far as can be ascertained, a single untoward incident. In Mexico City quiet prevailed all day, and there were no indications of revolutionary activity elsewhere.

Troops were held in readiness to check and disorders, but they weren't needed. One reform instituted during election time was the tight closing of every saloon. The lid was clamped down at noon Saturday, and the bars will not be reopened until some time Monday.

In many ways the election reminds one of the old-time elections held under Diaz. Certainly it has been the most peaceful day since that President's regime.

Six Hundred Teachers at Canyon

Fully one hundred school teachers took the train here yesterday for Canyon, to attend the teacher's institute at the Normal, in which the teachers of thirty counties in Northwest Texas are participating. More than 600 are said to be in attendance.

Prominent educators from the federal and state educational departments and prominent colleges are on the program for addresses and instruction.

Confederate Soldiers to Meet

A meeting of the local United Confederate Veterans will be held at the court house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

GOV. COX IS TOURING WEST ADVOCATING DEMOCRACY

MAKES SEVERAL SPEECHES AND "TAKES IN" MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—Governor James M. Cox worked a full holiday here today on what he termed his "pilgrimage to the Pacific Coast."

The democratic presidential candidate made several speeches, viewed exhibits at the Minnesota state fair, where he drove a race horse around the track, attended several receptions and went tonight to Minneapolis to close his Minnesota visit with another address.

Two extensive and several minor speeches were made here by Governor Cox. He addressed at the fair grounds what was said to be a record crowd for Minnesota and spoke to a large gathering later in the auditorium.

Agriculture and labor questions were the governor's Labor Day subjects at the fair grounds, and the league of nations that of the public meeting here tonight. A statement that he favored application of the principle of self-determination to Ireland was made at the latter meeting by the candidate in response to a question from a man in his audience.

"If elected president," the governor was asked, "will you recognize the Irish republic?"

"I am in favor of the application of the people of self-determination in Japan, in China, in Persia, in Turkey and in Ireland" was the governor's reply after several passages with his inquisitor and a preliminary statement. The reply drew loud applause and ended interruptions.

The governor preceded his reply with a statement that the armistice was based on "President Wilson's fourteen points," including that of self-determination and that article ten would protect weak nations from external aggression—barring attacks of stronger nations, he said.

He added that nations should be built from "racial groups rather than mountains and rivers."

SPECIAL RATES TO NORTHWEST TEXAS FAIR

Santa Fe Will Sell Round-Trip Tickets On Entire Line in Texas

The Santa Fe railroad is very much interested in the Northwest Texas Fair, to be held in Plainview, and will make reduced rates from all points on its line in Texas.

T. B. Gallaher, general freight and passenger agent of the Panhandle & Santa Fe, has written to Col. R. P. Smyth as follows: "The past and present practice in connection with reduced rates for district fairs has been to include territory within a radius of one hundred miles, but, recognizing the importance of your fair, we decided to increase the area to take in our entire line in Texas.

"You may definitely announce that round trip fares will be authorized from all points on the Panhandle and Santa Fe, Higgins to Sweetwater and Farwell, inclusive; likewise from all points on our branch lines. Tickets will be on sale Sept. 26 th to 30th, inclusive, final return limit, October 2nd."

FIVE YOUNG COUNTY FAMILIES TO MOVE TO PLAINS

Buy Sixteen Hundred Acres of Price Lands; Will Improve It and Build Homes

Last week five Young county men were here and bought two and a half sections of the Price Bros. lands, northeast of Plainview, in Swisher county. The Crawford-Frye Land Co. engineering the deal.

They expect to soon move to the lands, build homes and put the land under cultivation.

Wayland College Students Are Now Arriving

Wayland college will have its formal opening Wednesday morning. Students and members of the faculty are coming in on every train. The number of out-of-town students is much larger than ever before, and the best year's work in the history of the school is anticipated.

Rev. W. H. Virgin of Amarillo, who is conducting a revival at the Baptist church here, will deliver the main address at the opening. There will be a musical program.

LOYALTY TO RIO GRANDE.

Tune: Loyalty.

From over hill and plain, there comes the special train.
To Rio Grande—Rio Grande, yes Rio Grande for all;
Its wheels they roll along, the hills take up the song,
To Rio Grande—Rio Grande, yes Rio Grande for all;

Chorus.
"On to Rio Grande, on to Rio Grande,"
Cries our Great Commander; "On,"
We'll move at his command,
We'll soon possess the land,
In Rio Grande—Rio Grande, this valley for them all.

Oh, hear ye Brave, the sound that moves this train along,
To Rio Grande—Rio Grande, yes Rio Grande for all;
Arise to dare and do, ring out the valley true,
Oh, Rio Grande—Rio Grande, yes, Rio Grande for all.

Chorus.
Come join our mighty throng, we'll root you boys along
To Rio Grande—Rio Grande, yes Rio Grande for all;
Where prosperous banners float, we'll sound the bugle note,
Oh, Rio Grande—Rio Grande, yes, Rio Grande for all.

Mr. Farmer, you should make an effort to get that $200 wheat premium offered by the Northwest Texas Fair. The money's worth striving for.

The Plainview public schools will open next Monday morning. Every child should be in attendance the first day—and every following day. Perfect attendance is very important in school work.

It is predicted in the Dallas News that gasoline will go to 75c a gallon before the winter is over. Well, that won't stop the joyriders from joyriding. If gas goes to $5 they will continue to burn it. No matter what the price, most people will have what they want. That is the reason the greater per cent of people don't leave enough property to pay their funeral expenses.

Jim Ferguson's "American party" appeals to the farmers for support, yet its platform contains a plank endorsing the "closed" or union shop, and recommending that it be extended to labor on the farms. Now wouldn't a farmer have a helluva time with farm labor organized, working eight hours a day, and the certainty of a strike in the midst of the harvest season? The farmer who votes the American party ticket should be bored for the simples.

Lieut.-Gov. W. A. Johnson, declares he is so much gratified at the defeat of Bailey, "There is enough glory and this will outshine any minor disappointment as may come to us personally,"—such as being defeated for reelection. Johnson is a philosopher. He is a fine man, has made a capable official, and should have been re-elected. We hope he will get "on the job" and stay there, as publisher of his paper, where he can do more good than as a public official.

Christensen, the labor party presidential candidate, demands that Cox and Harding give him a column of space each day in their newspapers free of charge. They should send him their advertising rate cards. Print paper costs money, and lots of it. Everything that goes into a newspaper is sky-high in price. Besides, a newspaper is private property, and its editor and owner are supposed to dictate what goes into the columns. Christensen is not afflicted with a faint heart or weak nerves.

The Connecticut legislature has been called to meet in special session Sept. 10 to ratify the woman's suffrage amendment, so as to make it the thirty-seventh state, in order to clinch the matter in case ratification by Tennessee is declared invalid. Connecticut is a republican state, and thus the republicans will take credit for bringing about woman's suffrage. Several Southern states refused to ratify the amendment; Tennessee acted very ugly about the matter. These hide-bound tactics of some Southern democrats has hurt the party greatly. It was Gen. U. S. Grant who in a campaign years ago declared "The democrats can always be relied upon to set the fool at the right time."

Several weeks ago the Poles got cheery and invaded Russia with their armies. The Russians rallied and began chasing the Poles and soon almost had their capital city. The Poles yelled off the allies and the United States to come to their rescue, and save them. They were given moral support, supplies and military advice, and Russia was warned not to overrun the country, but make a liberal peace with the Poles. About this time the Poles rallied and begun to route the Russians. This country, England and other allied countries then informed the Poles they must not go beyond their boundary nor invade and foreign countries. Poland has sent a pert note to the country, saying that they do not recognize the boundaries as set by the Paris peace conference, and will do as they please; and proposes to add territory to their country by force of arms. The Poles have been fighting for independence since their country was dismembered by Russia, Germany and Austria many years ago; the allies gave them independence and a country of their own. But for the peace conference there would be no Poland. Instead of doing the straight thing, and rebuilding their national entity, they have been fighting among themselves, have invaded Russia for no good cause, and now have taken on imperialistic airs. As we have said many times, those Europeans are a bad set. They are selfish, ungrateful, mean and full of racial hatred. We wish there was some way that this country could wash its hands of the whole bunch, and then stay clear of them. Those peoples don't deserve any sympathy or help, and every time Uncle Sam in the least mixes in their affairs he gets his hands all messed up.

The intimation by Luther Nickles and several other Bailey leaders that Bailey's friends will stay away from the election in November, with a hope of thereby possibly causing the defeat of Mr. Neff for governor, is being reprinted by the newspapers and many men who supported Bailey. They say they are true democrats, that Neff was fairly nominated, and should receive the undivided support of all true democrats. There was a pledge on every vote polled—the voter who voted is honor bound to stand by that pledge. Nickles and his bunch are not good sports and are very sorry democrats. Most of the Bailey men will vote the democratic ticket.

Having split into two factions and nominated two tickets the republicans of Texas are almost sure to carry the state in November.

IN A MINOR STRAIN

The editor of the News was in a Plainview store and heard a young woman, who was looking at some dresses, declare "I don't care what the price is, if I find anything I want I get it." Her husband draws a salary of not more than $125. If the fool killer had heard her say it there would have been a funeral next day.

A scientist tells us that the world has been rotating for at least 500,000,000 years. Yet there are men in Plainview who imagine that it would stop going around if they were not here.

W. H. Berryman, who has been manager of the local Western Union telegraph office, left Saturday for Sweetwater, where he will become manager of the commercial department of the relay office there.

W. H. Darrow, who has been serving as agricultural agent of Floyd county for a year or two, has resigned, and has gone to San Antonio, to become a district agent with headquarters in that city.

Stop Buying So Much Gas!

The Overland Sedan

*Costs by the Month, Saves by the Mile!
Eats Up Distance, Saves Dollars!*

On a railroad, it is the trip and not the ticket that completes the transaction; and it is so with an automobile. No institution can build up goodwill on good-byes.

The Willys-Overland Organization is just as interested in Overland owners after they have bought as before they are sold.

Saving you money on up-keep is just as important as saving you money on the price of the car. And when gasoline began to go up four years ago, word went out to our designers that Overland owners must be protected, and the price of gasoline must be brought down—but not at the price of comfort!—get that, for that was the crux of the problem.

Hypothetically, it was impossible, and yet—

Under stimulus of a great public need, and spurred on by the pride of a great reputation, the designers of the Overland have Done the Thing that Couldn't be Done!

they have unraveled still another insoluble secret of mechanics, by creating that marvel of mechanism, the new Suspension Triplex Spring, permitting the use of light alloy steels for economy, and acting as a pneumatic buffer between the Road and You!

What the new Overland car and its remarkable improvements cost to create we shall never know. But we do know that it cost $6,000,000 to get ready to incorporate them into the new Overland car, and that the Overland car was a great car before these improvements were initiated and adopted.

So it seems a fair conclusion: That an institution that will voluntarily upset the ramifications of one of the greatest automobile manufacturing plants in the world, in order to reduce the gasoline bills of Overland owners, justifies the past, the future, and the immediate confidence of the American people.

Ninety-seven cities recently reported ninety-seven Overland Sedans as averaging 25.2 miles per gallon of gas

MEXICO WILL PAY FOR DAMAGE TO FOREIGNERS

Mexico City, Sept. 3.—A joint Mexican-American commission to consider and adjust all claims for damages suffered by foreigners during the revolutionary period in Mexico will be appointed shortly after the inauguration of the next Mexican President.

President De la Huerta is his speech to the Mexican Congress announced that the government will pay all just claims for losses suffered by foreigners through revolutionary disturbances.

It was confirmed in dispatches received here tonight that the American, Gardner, and the Englishman, Johnson, captured by Zamora, the bandit, last week, are still captives.

Sixty thousand coal miners in the Wilkesbarre (Penn.) region were idle, last Wednesday, following a strike vote taken the previous afternoon by 300 delegates representing 65 locals of the United Mine Workers of America. The delegates voted to take a "vacation" until the operators accede to their demands. No less than 56 collieries are tied up and many others are only 50 per cent efficient, according to representatives of insurgent leaders.

F. F. Evans has purchased the J. C. Wagley herd of Hereford cattle, paying about $9,000 for them, we understand, and has leased the two-section ranch place for five years at $1,500 a year. This is a splendid little ranch, and the cattle are among the finest Herefords in this part of the state, though not registered.—Silverton Star.

The Texas Industrial Congress, headquarters at Dallas, has set aside $700,000 as a revolving fund to help deserving tenant farmers buy stock and implements. The theory, on which the Industrial Congress acts, is that a little financial encouragement will go a long way toward keeping poor farmers from going to the city as wage earners.

Give Me the Village of My Boyhood

I don't like city life and it is as hard for me to get used to it as it is for a finicky wife to understand the necessity of her husband having a spittoon in the parlor. A fellow raised out in a little crossroads village where the elite assemble at the livery stable to discuss everything from the League of Nations to whether it is proper to eat peas out of a spoon or off of a knife, never can adjust his suspenders and habits to cramped, civilized doings.

You can have your modern contraptions, your Ouida boards, your transparent skirts and all your razzle-dazzle stuff, but give me the little old town where I was born, with a horse rack in front of the postoffice and a public well under the shade of a live-oak tree off to one side. It is true there wasn't much to see there, but once a year a stranger came along and put a new coat of paint on the Bull Durham sign that decorated the south side of Lige Jenkins' blacksmith shop and we'd all turn out to watch him and have a barrel or fun making ridiculous remarks while the fellow was doing the job.

Some of these days I want to go back there and see if that old burr-oak log is still across the little branch between our home and the school house. I guess the brown bare feet of other lads and lasses are skipping across it yet. Once I stopped and pulled a wild flower that grew on the banks by the crossing. Many years afterwards I saw that same blossom between the leaves of a book with a little ringlet of golden hair and I was gently led back by the hand of memory to where the first dark shadow fell across the sunny trail of youth.

I don't know just how the New Jerusalem is going to look, I don't know whether I would like streets of gold or not. But just now I feel that if the Beautiful Land of Somewhere is as pretty a place as that old town, where the red buds bloomed in the spring-time and the mockingbirds sang through the star lit nights from their swinging Sycamore cradles it would satisfy me through all Eternity.—Austin Callan.

THE time to buy coal is NOW. Don't wait until winter.

WHEN winter comes, conditions may be such as to make it impossible to supply you in the way you desire, and beside—strikes and an increase in price are a possibility.

STORE AT FLOYDADA ENTERED BY BURGLARS

Use Same Methods as Those Who Burglarized Jacobs Bros. Store in Plainview

Floydada, Sept. 3.—The store of Glad Snodgrass was entered last night by burglars, and over $500 worth of merchandise, including several silk shirts, was taken. It is thought that the burglars entered through a skylight and made their escape in an automobile. Officers have no clue as yet to the guilty parties.

The same methods were employed in the burglary here as in the Jacobs Bros. burglary at Plainview, some time ago. Several towns near here have suffered losses to burglars recently, and officers think it is possible that the same thieves are operating in the different towns.

LOCKNEY

Sept. 3.—The post office has been moved to the rear of the First National Bank building.

T. M. Johnson who lives near town says he has a sow that has brought him 37 pigs within the past 10 months and 25 days. The sow is a cross between a Duroc and the Y. C. stock.

The West Side Church of Christ is now in the midst of a protracted meeting, under the preaching of Elder N. L. Clark of Fort Worth.

Work on the new Methodist church is now underway after a delay of many weeks on account of shortage of material. The brick work is going on and will be rushed to completion. Sufficient material is on the grounds to carry the work forward. The Methodist people hope to be in their new building by January first at least.

Walter Denny has traded his tract of land south of town for land in the Lone Star community. He is improving his new place.

In the county run-off primary W. B. Clark was elected county judge over Judge J. W. Howard by between seventy-five and a hundred votes. In the assessor's race D. L. Bolding defeated Floyd Ewing something over 200 votes.—Beacon.

Hereford has a population of 1,696, a loss of 54 in the past ten years. Paducah has 1,357, a gain of 7 since 1910.

E. H. Humphreys and daughter, Mrs. C. D. Powell, returned Saturday from Los Angeles, where she had been at the bedside of Mrs. Humphreys, who has been very sick with pneumonia. She has improved greatly, and hopes to be able to come home within several weeks. She was there visiting her mother, Mrs. Ricks.

Dr. C. L. Barnes, the Hale Center dentist, was in town yesterday and reported heavy rains in his section of the county. The farmers want fair and warmer weather on their crops.

Rev. G. W. Shearer, Methodist presiding elder of the Lubbock district, was here this morning, en route home from a trip to Motley county.

Tax Assessor E. M. Burrus of Olton was in town yesterday on business.

Roy Pearson, who has been practicing law in Ranger for several years, came in last week to visit his father, and at

PETERSBURG PREPARING TO GATHER LARGE CROP

Cotton Promises Large Yield—Expect to Win Premiums on Wheat and Cotton

Petersburg, Sept. 3.—Petersburg, a thriving little town in the southeast part of Hale county, is getting ready to pick and gin the big cotton crop raised here this year. Petersburg now has two gins and the prospects are that they will both be kept ginning night and day when the picking begins.

The Petersburg wheat and cotton farmers expect to take the lion's share of the $1200 offered in these two classes at the Northwest Texas Fair, at Plainview, late this month.

Milo maize, kafir corn and other row crops around Petersburg will make big yields, due to the heavy rains at the right time. Combined harvesters and threshers and other modern farm machinery enabled the Petersburg farmers to get most of the wheat in storage before the rains could damage it.

TULIA
Sept. 3.—The vote in Swisher county was—Neff 395, Bailey 196.

The Farmers' Grain Co. is erecting a 50,000-bushel elevator. Their old one has a capacity of 35,000 bushels.

The Tulia public school will open Sept. 13. Prof. F. E. Savage is superintendent. The faculty is composed of eleven teachers.

Miss Violet McCombs and W. Bryan George were married August 31 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCombs, northeast of Tulia. They have gone to St. Paul, Minn., to spend their honeymoon, after which they will be at home in Tulia. Mrs. L. M. Woodward entertained the Needlecraft club Thursday afternoon.

During August 10.27 inches of rain fell in Tulia—the greatest since the record has been kept, which is twenty years. During the past four months 29 inches has fallen.—Herald.

Judge Stallbird of Lockney was here Saturday en route to Fort Worth to attend the democratic convention, as a delegate from Floyd county.

OLTON WORKING HARD FOR RAIL CONNECTIONS

Would Give Large Bonus for Line From Plainview—Would Develop A Large Territory

Olton, Sept. 3.—Olton is seeking railroad connections with some point and the report that the Santa Fe intended to build west from Plainview, although false, created a new desire for such a road. Lamb county, of which Olton is the county seat, more than doubled in population in the past ten years. There is yet a vast amount of undeveloped rich land in the county, and a railroad to Olton would not only make a large town, but would rapidly settle up the large ranches with small farms.

There has been some talk that there is to be a line built west from Fort Worth to Plainview and through Olton further east. The Olton people would welcome such a road with a handsome bonus.

TEACH THE BOY TO DO THINGS WELL

I know a farmer father who makes an especial effort to see that everything his son does is done well. When plowing a straight furrow is insisted on; if a job is difficult, all the more reason why a thorough finish of it is expected. It is expected of this boy, and he knows full well it is expected of him, that every horse's harness be properly adjusted, that the ends of rows be plowed so closely to the fence, and that every stump be carefully hoed around.

Not only is the youngster taught thoroughness, but dogged persistence as well, and as an illustration of how he is acquiring this trait, a recent experience will serve. Some hogs had got in the field by accident one morning and he with his dogs was given the job of getting them out. The hogs proved pigheaded as they often do, and it took the boy from early morning until three o'clock in the afternoon to get them out; but he stayed with them, doing without his dinner until the job was done.

Anything worth doing is worth doing right and I hope every Progressive Farmer dad is teaching his boys thor-

Why Heels Run Over And Shoes Lose Shape

Many people are compelled to discard expensive shoes after wearing them a short time, because they over-run and lose their shape.

This condition is caused by ankles that turn in or out easily, and a misaligned heel bone, as shown in the above illustration.

ANCHOR

Sept. 6.—The farmers are beginning to wear long faces on account of so much rain that they can't get their wheat threshed, but from reports received yesterday from the state of Michigan we had better be glad we could have the rain and the crops we have here. They have a drouth up there and had to mow their wheat and oats and would not make more than their seed, if that. Their corn and maize won't make anything. This

Dependable, Economical Performance

In power farming you want dependability. There is the element of time in farming that makes the tractor peculiarly suitable to the Plains country. If, at the time your crop is ready to harvest, or at the time you are ready to plow and conditions are right for you to do your seed bed preparation, you are laid up for repairs, the damage done extends over the whole year's operation.

Our Fordson tractor service and large stock of parts assures one hundred and fifty farmers in Hale, Lamb and Bailey counties, who have purchased Fordson tractors of the nearest possible approach to three-hundred-sixty-five-days-in-the-year operation.

Our Mr. W. H. Gassaway is at the disposal of every Fordson operator who has trouble and the service is furnished right in the field. WE COME TO YOU WHEN YOU NEED US.

Our stock of parts is complete. In addition to the small parts which are subject to the greatest wear, we have the large, heavy parts. You don't have to wait for repairs in case of accident or worn parts. We have more than enough parts to erect five complete Fordsons.

Our whole business organization is only one of the units making up the Ford selling and service organization. If you buy a Fordson for use in Hale county and move with it to Portland, Oregon, you will find the same dependable service. It is a product of universal use.

THE "FORDSON" TRACTOR is the result of extensive trials and experiments conducted by Mr. Henry Ford, covering a period of many years. Before placing the tractor on the market, every detail has been thoroughly tried out under actual farming conditions in various parts of this country and abroad.

Experience has pointed to the small, light tractor as being the one machine which will fill all varying conditions satisfactorily.

In developing the "FORDSON" Tractor, the aim has been to produce a small tractor which will be low in first cost, reliable, and above all—efficient.

Being small, light and economical, the "FORDSON" Tractor is adapted for use on small farms, as well as on the largest. It will pull all farm implements and do the work generally done by horses on the farm. In addition, by its belt pulley the tractor will drive farm machinery such as threshers, ensilage cutter, sawmill, etc., making the "FORDSON" a truly universal tractor.

In design and construction the "FORDSON" takes a long step in approaching the ideal tractor. The simplicity of its operation and construction will at once appeal to the farmer.

Special devices were perfected to keep out the dust and dirt. All moving parts are enclosed and thoroughly lubricated. The number of lubricating points requiring attention are very few and easily gotten at.

Frank Simonton of the southwestern part of the county is in town today. He says there has been much rain in his section of the county the past several weeks, end that crops are being damaged.
Mrs. Madge May Harrington, who has been here for several weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Peyton B. Randolph, left yesterday for Wichita Falls to visit her father, Geo. D. May, after which she will return to her home in Plano.
Mr. and Mrs. John Ryden, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ryden and baby returned Friday from a three months' trip in their car through the North, having toured Northern Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin. They visited their old home in Minneapolis.
L. J. Halbert of Corsicana, who is here buying wheat, left this afternoon for Dallas, to be with his father, H. A. Halbert of Coleman, who will undergo a surgical operation in a hospital Saturday. He will return to Plainview the fore part of next week.
Mr. and Mrs. Dameron of near Rails and Mrs. Tucker from Tennessee are here visiting their brother, P. G. Fletcher. They had not seen Mrs. Tucker in thirty years, and are having a small family reunion, hoping to have a brother from El Paso to come on a visit.
Miss Lena Maude Smith has returned after a three weeks' stay down in the state. She attended a house-party at Alvord, and then went to Fort Worth, where she visited. On her return home she stopped at Clarendon and visited her aunt, Mrs. Connally, and the family of R. A. Long.
Mr. Jones, manager of the Dallas headquarters of the Advance-Rumley farm machinery company, is here. E. E. Warren, the district representative is showing him over the Plains, and he is greatly surprised at the prosperity, resources, development and the big crops. The Rumley people have sold many tractors and other machinery through the Plainview agents.
A Visit to Plainview Nursery
The editor visited the Plainview Nursery Sunday afternoon, and was shown over it by Mr. D. C. Aylesworth, the owner.
The nursery, orchard and truck gardens cover 160 acres of land, and all kinds of fruits and vegetables are grown, also hundreds of thousands of trees, shrubs, vines and plants for the nursery trade. The whole place is under irrigation.
Fifteen hundred pounds of tomatoes are being gathered and sold each day;

40,000 celery plants are maturing; acres of turnips will soon be large enough for the market; there are patches of watermelons, cantaloupes, sugar beets, etc.
The orchards have hundreds of fruit trees, but on account of the late spring frosts cherries and plums were the only fruits that were abundant this summer.
The delivery of nursery stock will begin soon, and continue all fall and winter.
The greatest handicap Mr. Aylesworth is having is the scarcity of labor, hence is unable to keep up the place as well as it should be.

Rev. W. L. Tubbs of Amarillo was here yesterday, in connection with Baptist church work.

Baptist Revival
The Baptist revival was begun Sunday, and is growing in interest. Dr. W. H. Virgin of the First Baptist church of Amarillo is assisting Pastor Harlan J. Matthews. Dr. Virgin is a ver yable preacher. The church is getting down to active work and a great revival is anticipated. Services are held at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. each day.

Rev. Wm. Garner Will Hold Farewell Services Here Sunday
Rev. Wm. Garner, who has been pastor of the Episcopal church in Plainview, will hold his farewell services here Sunday. He writes to us from Canyon as follows:
"I have lately accepted a very pressing call to become Rector of St Paul's Church, Navasota, in South Texas and shall leave the Plains for my southern parish at the end of the month.
"This will mean that my services next Sunday morning will be my last at Plainview, and will close a very happy relationship with Plainview, covering more than the past two and a half years.
"My reason for resigning my important work on the Plains is largely influenced by my need to be with my growing family and to have the opportunity to concentrate upon settled work.
"The parish of St. Paul's Navasota is an old established and important one, with a beautiful church and a devoted congregation."

Ten Conversions at Abernathy
Pastor S. J. Upton of Plainview and Rev. L. H. Davis of Kress closed a Methodist revival of a week at Abernathy Sunday night. There were ten conversions.

LEARN FEW FACTS

Writer Criticizes Modern Teaching of History.

Important Happenings Recorded Without the Events Leading Up to Them Being Set Forth—Makes Heads Spin.

Take English history as it is taught in an English school. We begin with Celtic Britain. Enter Caesar and a Roman host. From where? We never learn. G. Wells writes in the Saturday Evening Post. Who is this Caesar and why did he come? Why did he go? Why did the Romans not come again for the better part of a century? Evidently something much more important was going on elsewhere.

A little way on in the story certain Angles, Jutes and Saxons rush in—as inexplicably. Whence? Why? Later come the Danes. The history of England has the effect of something going on upon a doormat in a passage outside a room full of events, with several other doors. The door opens, the Norman kings rush out of the room, conquer the country hastily, say something about some novelty of which we have learned nothing hitherto, the Crusades, and exit to room again.

From which presently King Richard returns dejected. He has been fighting the Saracens. Who are the Saracens? We never learn. What becomes of them? We are never told. So it goes on. The broad back of history is turned to England throughout. Its face and hands are hidden, and we make what we can of the wriggling of its heels.

The American story is still more incomprehensible. An innocent continent is suddenly inundated by Spanish, Portuguese, French, Dutch and British, who proceed at once to pick up the thread of various conflicts—initiated elsewhere. Someone called the pope is seen to be dividing the new continent among the European powers. Colonies are formed. What are colonies? These colonies, in what is apparently a strenuous attempt to simplify history, break off from their unknown countries of origin. A stream of immigration begins from west and east. The American mind establishes a sort of intellectual Monroe doctrine and declares that America has no past, only a future. From which sublime dream it is presently roused to find something of unknown origin called European imperialism wrecking the world. What is this imperialism? How did it begin?

The teaching of history in most other countries is after the same fashion. Everywhere the teachers present more or less similar histories of passages and doormats. Great events—the Crusades, the Reformation, the industrial revolution—come in with a bang and go out with a slam, leaving no clue, leaving our poor heads spinning. Is it any wonder if history falls back for a little human touch upon childish anecdotes about Alfred and the cakes, the peerless beauty of Mary Queen of Scots, and King Charles and his spunkels?

6,000 John Smiths.

The claims and record office of the ministry of labor at Kew, England, which is now dealing with millions of forms in connection with unemployment pay, has electrically driven accounting and tabulating machinery. Figures are transferred to special cards by holes punched in certain positions and the cards are sorted by machine into groups. These groups then pass through a machine which prints the details from each card on rolls of paper, at the same time accumulating the figures and producing a total at any given point.

An alphabetical index, consisting of looseleaf registers of all insured workers, contains 10,000,000 names, of which thousands are identical. There are 6,000 John Smiths, 2,000 John Browns, 2,000 William Browns, 1,300 William Jones, 1,000 John Macdonalds and 1,000 William Davies.

Eye Drill for Flyers.

The royal air force of England has instituted an eye drill that has made many splendid pilots out of men who would otherwise have been useless. It was discovered that a large percentage of men only use one eye at a time, and in the early days pilots were not tested for eye balance. Many men were then passed into the air service who could never land correctly. When these deficiencies were discovered a school was formed and under an eye specialist twice a day airmen undergoing the cure were paraded for eye drill and taught how to use both their eyes at the same time. The result was that 95 per cent of the men who would have been bad pilots became good ones in a little while.

Immigration Statistics.

Between 1790 and 1830 the estimated number of immigrants was 386,985, while the increase in population from other sources was 5,222,254; 1830-40, immigrants 604,125, others 3,692,308; 1840-50, immigrants, 1,814,257, others 4,308,166; 1850-60, immigrants, 2,508,214, others 5,653,231; 1860-70, immigrants, 2,318,824, others 4,796,226; 1870-80, immigrants, 2,812,191, others 8,285,221; 1880-90, immigrants, 5,246,616, others 7,230,851; 1890-1900, immigrants, 3,844,420, others, 9,527,995; 1900-10, immigrants, 3,806,308, others 1,171,408. Until 1850 all alien passengers entering the United States were classified as immigrants, hence the figures until this date do not take into account travelers and are in consequence inaccurate.

WOMAN EARNED HER LIBERTY

Unlooked-For Suffering Endured by Stowaway Who Was Making Her Way to Freedom.

Gone was the Bosphorus and in its place we saw the leaden waters of the Black sea. From the porthole of Josef's cabin we could distinguish many miles west of us the coast line of the country in which White had spent three years, according to Capt. Alan Bott's "Stowaways, Inc." in Asia. Feodor soon left us, for he had to bring other stowaways to the light of day. From every concealed cranny of the vessel men and women, almost as light-hearted as ourselves at deliverance from the Turks, were coming into the open.

One of the stowaways, a passportless woman whom the aged captain was taking with him to Odessa, did not rejoice for some time. As hiding place for her the old man had chosen a deep locker in his chartroom on the bridge. There she had remained for the last two days. Now, Rosa, the kitchen wench, knew nothing of the captain's lady. That morning, not wishing to send her own particular stowaway—a Turkish deserter with coal-blackened face, untrimmed beard and decidedly odorous clothes—back to the bunkers, where he had spent the previous day, she thought of the locker as a temporary home. Dumping him inside the locker, she fastened the lid and ran back to the kitchen. The Turkish deserter landed with some violence on the captain's lady and both received a bad fright as they clutched at each other in the darkness. Yet the lid could not be removed from the inside and the woman's screams were unheard outside the locker. The air in the overcrowded locker grew more and more stuffy. Finally the woman fainted. The Turk, tired after a long spell of cramped wakefulness in the bunkers and the kitchen, composed himself philosophically and went to sleep.

AGED MAN CLAIMS RECORD

New Hampshire Nonagenarian Still Able to Swing Ax Both Lustrily and Expertly.

Friends of Frank Mozrall, ninety, of Franklin, N. H., claim that he is the champion woodchopper of his age in the New England states. Despite his near approach to the century mark he is able to swing an ax with the best of the choppers of the New Hampshire woods, those who know him best say.

Mr. Mozrall was formerly a hotel man. Since his retirement a favorite pastime of his has been to walk a distance of five miles from the home of his niece to a wood lot and there chop wood. It is claimed that he cut almost five cords of wood in a week, which is considered a record for a man anywhere near Mr. Mozrall's age.

Mr. Mozrall helped to build the first bridge path from the Profile to the summit of Mount Lafayette, and was one of the best-known guides in the mountains years ago. He has guided some of the best-known people of the country in their explorations of the White mountains. It is only recently that he has come into fame as a wood-chopper.

Mr. Mozrall's memory is most excellent and his general health is exceptionally good for a man of his advanced years.—Boston Post.

Synthetic Vinegar and Acetic Acid.

Acetic acid is now used in great quantities in making acetate of cellulose for airships. Before the war this was obtained by distilling wood, but it no longer suffices. A synthetic way of making acetic acid was discovered and now the price is much lower than it used to be.

The process is simple; it calls for the production of acetic aldehyde by a reaction of water with acetylene, and the oxidation of the aldehyde gives acetic acid.

Three French companies are now using this process and La Nature says they bid fair to drive the distillers of wood out of the field, even planning to produce a synthetic vinegar that shall be much cheaper than the natural article.

Strong Preca.

The local scout executive had visited the school for the purpose of organizing a troop. He talked to the boys for a time and then taught them several yells, some for their school and some for the principal, all of which made a decided hit with them. A few days later they asked their teacher to invite him back, but she refused, pleading that their time was needed for their regular school work. Another few days and their request was repeated, only to meet with the same refusal and the same excuse.

It was almost a week before the subject was again mentioned, and then the genius of the class did it. "Say, Miss W—," he began, "don't you feel like you would like to be yelled for again?"

Remarkable!

An amorous young man met a mathematical maid at the Christmas dance. He was as keen on flirtations as she was on problems, and he asked her, in the conservatory, to tell him her age. "How old am I?" replied the girl. "Well, when I am as old as my sister was when she was as old as I will be when she is twice as old as I then was I will be twice as old as I now am." The young man, eager to please, looked at her in polite astonishment and exclaimed: "Never!"

HAD LOTS OF FUN

Mr. Goslington's Experience That of Many Others.

Who Wouldn't Feel Pleasure at Having to Secure Larger Safe-Deposit Box for Liberty Bonds and Other Valuables?

"I never would have thought it," said Mr. Goslington, "but I've had to get a bigger safe-deposit box.

"Before the great war I had a modest check account, and a little fund stowed away in a savings bank for emergencies, but no safe-deposit box, large or small. I had no use for one, I had no stocks or bonds to keep in one; but when the war came and we all began buying Liberty bonds it was different. I didn't want to keep even the little bonds that represented my initial investment lying around in a bureau drawer or stored away in a trunk, so I rented a safe-deposit box. I had often read the advertisements of the safe-deposit companies telling of how little you could get a box for, and from that on up, pleasant reading always, suggestive of wealth and coupon cutting, and that sort of thing, and now the time had come when I needed a box myself; and it was a very pleasant reflection. I guess you know the size box I took.

"Still, I thought that box would be plenty big enough for me. I hadn't many bonds to put in, you understand; but, do you know, as soon as I got the box I found that I had some other things that really belonged in it; insurance policies and some other papers and documents that were of value to me for financial or other reasons; and so while the bonds didn't begin to take all the room I soon found that my little box was packed so that I had to crowd the cover down to get it to close.

"And I will admit that the safe-deposit experience was a lot of fun to me. It was a real pleasure to me to have my box politely hauled out for me from its deep pigeon hole in the safe-deposit vault; and it was a pleasure to be shown to a cubby hole with a door that I could close, and where I found a desk and pens and ink and paper and shears and coupon envelopes and so on; it was a pleasure to be a safe-deposit customer, and I certainly did smile when I used those shears for the first time, cutting off coupons.

"Then the time came when, as I bought more bonds, and what with the other stuff in it, the box was so full that they had hard work to crowd it into its pigeon hole and hard work to pull it out, and then I simply had to buy a bigger box, and that was fun, too.

"Of course, you know I did not now buy a large safe, or a room with shelves around to store my bonds on; nor did I have to hire a scissors sharpener to keep my coupon shears sharp so that my clerks would not be delayed in cutting the coupons. I may come to that, why not? Stranger things than that have happened to other people, and I don't know why they might not happen to me. But meanwhile it was a satisfaction to me to reflect that I had at least outgrown the little box, even though for the time being I might be able to get along nicely with one just the next size bigger."—New York Sun.

Jazz.

Those of us who have fancied that our "jazz" originated in Uganda or among the Igorrotes are, according to the latest news, quite wrong. Le Matin of Paris maintains that the jazz band idea originated in Paris 120 years ago. "In those days as well as now," it says, "people did not know what to do to amuse themselves; so they made a noise. Those who had a great taste for noise went to the concerts of the cat orchestra. There were 20 cats with their heads in a row on the keyboard of a harpsichord. The performers by striking the keys worked a device which pulled the cats' tails, causing a caterwauling which—" Le Matin feels would leave us Americans little musically to desire. Is this an attempt to discredit us at the peace conference?—The Review.

Tribute to the Lilac.

The lilac has no place in mortuary annals of man. It is not a flower for the graveyard. It is a flower for the freshening of thought, the lightening of life and the creation of the ideals of living. It is the flower of all others that belongs to the home and to the heart and to the years that are gone and the years that are to be. Happy the wall where the lilac blooms! Happy the window through which is wafted the lilacs' fragrance! Brief the period of the flowering of this bloom of all others in the liking of all who love that which is old-fashioned and that is ever new.—Baltimore American.

Aerial Motorcycle.

A machine which may be used as a motorcycle on the road, or as an airplane in the air is the invention of a Swiss engineer. Fitted with a 30-horsepower engine, a flying speed of 56 miles per hour is attained, while immediately the machine touches the ground an automatic arrangement stops the propeller, enabling the machine to run as a motorcycle at a speed of 40 miles an hour. The outstretched wings collapse when not in use in the air, so that the machine may be used upon an ordinary road.

FRANKLIN AT HEAD OF LIST

His Book, "Way of Wealth," Has Had More Reprints Than the Work of Any Other Author.

Greeley's advice, "Young man, go West," is changed by A. Edward Newton to this:

"Young man, get a hobby, preferably get two, one for indoors and one for out."

Riding a hobby differs from riding a horse, said the wise lunatic, in that you can get off the horse.

Anyhow, Mr. Newton takes his own medicine, and for some 30 years he has ridden a hobby all over the continents in search of rare books. Girard writes in Philadelphia Press.

He's a collector, he is, and his home contains an immense and highly valuable library.

"What is the prize book in the whole world?" I asked him.

"The Gutenberg Bible," said he, "for which Henry E. Huntington paid $50,000."

This son of the old Southern Pacific railroad builder has what Mr. Newton declares easily the greatest private library on earth.

You would hardly think it possible to write a book about book collecting which would interest the rank outsider who doesn't know a first folio from a side of sole leather, but Mr. Newton, whose style is delightfully whimsical, has succeeded in doing it.

A copy of Ben Franklin's "Cato Major" was found in a Chester county garret not long ago and was afterward sold for $300, so Mr. Newton reports. Of all the books and pamphlets Franklin turned off his Philadelphia press, that one, said the famous printer, was his best job typographically.

Franklin did so many things first that folks rarely remember that he also translated the first translation of a Greek or Latin classic that was issued in America.

No one has yet matched the old sage in another respect—400 reprints of a single work. Franklin's "Way of Wealth" has passed that number. There have been 75 editions of it printed in England, 55 in France, 11 in Germany and 8 in Italy.

It has even been translated in Russian and Chinese.

All other best sellers have been backed off the map by that unique output of the Boston lad who some one wittily said "was born in Philadelphia at the age of seventeen."

The Airplane as a Decoy.

Ever since wars have been waged man has made use of decoys to outwit the foe. Even in the recent war a decoy proved to be useful once in a while. An instance occurred at a point on the western front where the British trenches faced a salient of the German trench system. At the time when the British staff determined to reduce the salient, the Daily Chronicle tells us, the Germans were expecting an ordinary attack with its primary bombardment. They promptly fell into the trap set for them.

Early in the morning a British airplane flew very low over the front-line trenches and passed parallel to the German line, but 500 or 600 yards behind it. The Germans thought the plane a target that could not be missed, and turned their backs on the British trenches to fire on the machine. While they were engaging the airplane, the British infantry suddenly went over the top and in a few minutes captured the position and took a number of prisoners.

The machine returned to its air-drome riddled with bullet holes, but both the pilot and the observer were uninjured.

Industry Overdone.

The development of the coconut oil industry in the Philippines has been very rapid, due to war conditions. The exports of oil in 1918 amounted to 115,000 tons, as compared with 45,000 tons in 1917 and 16,000 tons in 1916. There is a scarcity of shipping to take copra to Hull, England, and Marseilles, France, which are the great centers for oil crushing, hence it is found more profitable to ship the less bulky oil to the United States. A number of new oil mills have been constructed in the Philippines in order to fill the demand for oil, but it is a serious question whether the present crushing capacity of the Philippine mills is not in excess of the normal supply of copra.

Philippine Tobacco.

The Philippine islands' tobacco exports increased greatly in 1918. In that year 25,700 tons of tobacco were exported, as compared with 6,890 tons in 1917. The bulk of this tobacco was shipped during the early months of 1918, and the later months showed a marked decrease. The exports of cigars, however, showed a steady increase during the entire year, the number shipped being 350,000,000, valued at $7,000,000, as against 284,000,000 valued at $4,500,000, in 1917. Most of this production was absorbed by the American market. The increase is largely due to government supervision in order to guarantee the quality of all shipments to the United States.

Real War Scrap Book.

To keep a scrapbook on the recent war sounds like a herculean task, but it was really done by a regular, everyday human being, a man from Seattle, Wash. He began in August, 1914, never realizing the enormity of the undertaking, but he stuck to the job and now owns a book containing thousands of columns of war reports and pictures clipped from his favorite papers. It weighs more than 100 pounds, is carefully indexed and promises to be a valuable addition to reference libraries.

NEW DAY AT HAND

World Sees the Dawn of Universal Democracy.

With the Downfall of the Turk and the Hun Santa Sophia Will Be Restored as a Christian Temple.

Among the happy rejoicings of these victory days we are inexpressibly glad that the war did not end until the unspeakable Turk was well started down the toboggan of defeat toward the bottomless pit, writes Dr. Charles Edward Locke. It is a mighty triumph for democracy. With Jerusalem and Damascus in the hands of the Christians, and with Constantinople no longer desecrated as the capital of a filthy Mohammedanism, the foul Turk is now getting his long-delayed deserts. Constantinople was named for a zealous Christian prince. It was made the imposing headquarters of the Greek church, and a beautiful temple was built in the year 537 by Justinian which is so stately and gorgeous that this proud builder on the dedication day exclaimed: "O Solomon, I have surpassed thee!"

But in 1453 the city was captured by the sacrilegious and infidel Saracens, and for 465 years it has been the center of Moslem worship and propaganda. It is beautifully situated on the western slopes of the Bosphorus, and looks out upon the picturesque Marmora. Justinian's minaret grand was transformed into a Moslem mosque. All the altars and crosses and frescoes and insignia of Christianity were ruthlessly removed, and for nearly five centuries, instead of the worship of the most high God resounding beneath a wonderful dome which Michael Angelo said was like a part of the heavens brought down to earth, it has been the scene of Mohammedan mummeries and semi-pagan idolatry.

With the victories of this war, no doubt magnificent Santa Sophia will be restored, and once again the praises of Christ will resound through sanctuary and cloister; and the marvelous fresco of Jesus and his disciples in the high dome, which for centuries has been concealed behind the incrustations of a detestable Mohammedanism, will once again utter its inspiring and artistic messages to reverent Christian worshippers. The overthrow of the Turk is not only a triumph of democracy, but it is likewise a mighty victory for the truth and justice which are interpreted to the world by the gospel of the Son of God and the Son of Man, Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

Until the savage Prussian Hun appeared the Turk had conferred upon him the ignominy of being the most brutal degenerate of all human history. A religion of lust, re-enforced by the bloody scimitar, the Turk cut his way through human bodies to an ignoble place of power in Europe and Asia and his murderous hate venting itself on the defenseless Christians, and especially upon the innocent Armenians.

With the collapse of the Turkish government, "the Dardanelles will become a highway for the commerce of the free nations of the world, in place of a waterway held by pirates;" the Balkan terror comes to an end, and the ignoble crescent fades out of sight before the increasing effulgence of the blazing cross of the Christ of truth and freedom.

Old Bells Will Ring for Peace.

The six old bells of Westminster abbey are being restored and augmented to take part in the celebrations that will follow the signing of peace. The old bells are of great historic interest. All except the treble were cast at the old Whitechapel bell foundry—the tenor, weighing 1½ tons, in 1738, the fifth in 1593, the fourth and second in 1743, and the third in 1533. The treble was cast probably at the end of the thirteenth or the beginning of the fourteenth century, and must therefore have rung out to celebrate the great victory over the Spanish armada in 1588. Whitechapel foundry, which has been working continuously since 1570, has been intrusted with the restoration work and the casting of the new bells. The connection of the old firm with the abbey, after nearly 350 years, is thus being continued.

Important Army Officer.

The adjutant general of the United States army is an officer who keeps the records, orders and correspondence of the army. He serves under the direction of the secretary of war and of the chief of staff. Through him and over his name instructions and regulations of the war department are sent forward to military officers and troops. He is secretary and archivist to the secretary of war.

WHILE "GEORGE" LOOKED ON

Party of Tourists Helped Pretty American Woman to Kiss the Real Blarney Stone.

Three or four of us made up a little party to go to Blarney castle to improve our ability in the art of talking by kissing the Blarney stone, says Capt. Albert R. Wouham in "Spun Yarns of a Naval Officer." The saying that all roads lead to Rome applies somewhat to Blarney, too, but the Irish miles—I cannot think how they reconcile them with the miles recorded by the taxicab indicators!

However, we got there, and bounding up the stone stairs, reached the top of the tower. Two persons were already there, an old man and one of the loveliest women I ever saw. We were rather pressed for time, and so proceeded to kiss the stone.

The Blarney stone faces the outside of the tower, about three feet down. If you wish really to kiss it you must be let down headfirst, do the trick, and be hauled up. All round the top of the tower is a hanging parapet projecting about a foot from the line of the tower wall, built to enable the defenders, when the castle was attacked, to pour boiling water or melted lead on top of the enemy operating on the front door.

Having let one another down, we finished under the wondering gaze of the lovely woman. "Excuse me, gentlemen," she said, "but what have you been doing?"

We told her. With a disdainful look she turned to the old fellow and said, "There, George, I told you that," pointing to a meek-looking stone inside, "was not the Blarney stone, and I have not kissed the Blarney stone! I have not come all the way from America to go away without doing it!" As she said that she looked appealingly at me. George did not seem inclined to rise to the occasion.

The end of it was that we lashed her dress round her ankles, lowered her, and pulled her up triumphant.

"There, George, now I can go back to America and say that I have kissed the Blarney stone!" she cried.

I am bound to say that George, who proved to be her husband, did not look happy or pleased. His reputation for telling the truth had suffered, and I am pretty sure that he wished we never had come.

"Boys" Got Good American Food.

If the American mother could come face to face with some of the women cooking meals for her soldier boy at the Y. M. C. A. but, over here it would gladden her heart, says a London (Eng.) correspondent.

They would prove to the American mother that her boy while here is getting real good old "Yankee Doodle" meals, cooked by real American mothers just like herself.

These women—most of them American volunteer workers—supply about 2,500 meals a day, besides hundreds of "teas" (yes, mothers, he's got the English tea habit now; you'll have to give him tea every afternoon when he gets back), luncheons and night meals.

The "chief cook" is Hon. Mrs. Arthur Coke, and her specialty is griddle cakes "fit for a king." One month recently she turned out 20,000 of them, six of which were eaten by no less a personage than King George himself.

The king and queen recently visited Engle hut. They gave the king three of the cakes. He cleaned his plate and came back for a "refill."

Real "Sky Pilot."

A preacher literally comes down out of the heavens to preach the Gospel to American aviators in England.

He is Rev. Reginald Crew, American Y. M. C. A. pastor-aviator, who flies from one aviation camp to another, holding religious services for the "boys." He has no long-distance record, but he has flown as far as thirty miles between camps for a prayer meeting.

Arriving at a camp, he frequently gives his Yank birdmen congregation, thousands of feet below, a preliminary exhibition in the "corkscrew," "loop-the-loop," "apple-turnover" and other fancy stunts. That insures their attention.

Then he volplanes to earth, climbs out of his chariot, removes his football headgear and starts "church." The boys call him the "sky pilot." He is a great favorite and they eagerly flock to services.—Exchange.

An Allied Uniform.

In a vaudeville theater at one of the French ports there was a comedian who had an act which he called "Le Nouvel Uniforme." He wore a French steel helmet topped with the cock feathers of the Italians. His coat and breeches were of khaki. About his waist was slung a Scotch sporran. He wore golf stockings. The top of one was the pattern of the French flag and the other of the American flag. And he sang a song about the beach at Walkiki—a Frenchman's interpretation of an American idea of Hawaiian harmony! Certainly nothing could have been more allied.—Roy S. Durstine, in Scribner's Magazine.

No Co-Operation.

"I always try to make the best of a bad situation," remarked Mr. Giltchery.

"What do you do when your water pipes freeze and then burst?"

"Oh, I sing a little song just to show that I'm not worrying."

"That's highly commendable."

"But when the water begins to leak on the people who occupy the flat beneath mine to save my life I can't persuade them to join me in singing."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FOR HEADACHE, LIVER TROUBLE

Black-Draught Is The Best Medicine This Lady Ever Used. Says It Is Only Medicine She Gives Her Children.

Cherry Village, Ark.—In telling of her experience with Theodor's Black-Draught, Mrs. Lottie Ellis, R. F. D. No. 1, this place, said: "I used Black-Draught as a laxative, also for headache, torpid liver and indigestion. It is the best liver medicine I have ever used and is the only medicine I give my children.

"I feel like it has saved me a lot in doctors' bills, for when the children complain of feeling bad or have a cold, I just give them a good dose of Black-Draught and they soon get all right. It certainly cleans the liver and clears up the skin and they are soon out, well again. I wouldn't be without it for anything."

Seventy years of successful use has made Theodor's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of every family, needs, at times, the benefit that Black-Draught gives in helping to cleanse the system and to prevent or relieve the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, and a lazy liver.

To keep well, your stomach, liver and bowels must be in good working order. To help keep them that way, take occasional doses of Theodor's Black-Draught. Thousands of homes are never without it.

For sale by all druggists. The genuine has the name, Theodor's, on the label. Insist on getting what you ask for.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and freezine costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezine" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting; they shortly lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly, no humbug.

VERMIN OLD PEST OF ARMIES

Reference to Them Found in Writings of the Romans, and in English Literature.

The newspapers have had much to say about the "delousing" of the returning troops, Philip Hale writes in the Boston Herald. The word is not a pretty one and it is not to be found in the dictionaries, but the war has brought with it many new words, some of which will disappear, some of which will soon be regarded as orthodox and of good and regular standing.

No soldier need be ashamed of necessary submission to the process. It may console him to recall the case of Thomas Otway, an Oxford man, the author of "Venice Preserved" and "The Orphan." As a cornet in a regiment of horse, he joined in 1678 the army under Monmouth in Flanders. It was reported that he came back from Flanders "mangy and covered with vermin." Rochester taunted him with this in his "Session of the Poets." It should also be remembered that when the troops were disbanded and recalled, the money voted by the commons for their payment was misappropriated. The soldiers were paid only by debentures, and the credit of these was so low that they were hardly salable.

It was observed in the sixteenth century that "lice cometh also of that cloth that is trained in the wool with the fat or grease of a horse or of a swine, and therefore the northern cloths worn of a sweating body do breed lice in 12 hours." The "humor" of an individual had much to do with the character of the pest. Lice generated of sanguine humor were red and great; of phlegmatic, white; of choleric, yellow, long, swift and sharp; of melancholic, ashen colored, lean and slow in moving. Anyone of these pests "grieveth more in the skin with the feet and with creeping, than he doth with biting. . . . And the lender that a louse is, the sharper she biteth and grieveth." There were many approved remedies even in the elder Pliny's time, thus: "The old skin or slough that snakes do cast off in the spring, whosever drinketh in his ordinary drink, it will kill all the vermin of the body within three days."

Story of a Dog.

"Marathon races in the woods will never become universal for the reason that speed and stamina like that of Buell Crannell's dog are not universal in the four-footed hunters," says Warwick S. Carpenter, secretary of the conservation commission. "Mr. Crannell lives at West Glens Falls, and while hunting near there recently his dog picked up a fox track. The dog was picked up next day near Cranberry lake, more than seventy miles away.

"Accounts do not state whether the dog was still going strong or whether he might have taken the fox back to Mr. Crannell, but simply that identification of the dog was made by the conservation commission license tag and that Mr. Crannell went after the dog.

"The moral of all this is that if one owns a dog good enough to run a fox through two counties she should surely be protected by an identification disk."—New York Times.

Salutes.

Some clever Englishman, commenting on French politeness, once remarked that when a Frenchman bows, two-thirds of the bow is to himself. That may be true, and we have to admit that even the other third is quite a fraction more than most Anglo-Saxons offer.

Saluting is the same proposition. A snappy salute pulled by a buck to the most second of second lieutenants draws heavy interest; and the colonel who jerks his hand a few centimeters from his still affixed cigar is only insulting himself and the army.

If some privates were a little more polite to themselves, the saluting trap never would be sprung and the joke would all be on the other side of the military fence.—Stars and Stripes.

"But what did you expect in an aquatic exhibition?"

"Girls in bathing suits, at least."—Youngstown Telegram.

Saved Venus de Milo From Muna.

M. Heron de Villefosse, the eminent French archeologist, whose death has just taken place, was for many years head of the Greek and Roman sculpture department of the Louvre. Twice in his career he had to superintend the removal of that priceless art treasure the Venus de Milo to a place of safety—in 1870, and again in 1914. In each case the same enemy was concerned. Heron de Villefosse was seventy-four years old.

Going to Look Him Up.

"That fellow Gipping called me 'Old Silenus,'" remarked Mr. Jagoby. "He seemed to think it a great joke."

"What are you going to do about it?"

"I haven't decided yet. I have forgotten about all I ever knew about Silenus, but I have an idea that he was neither a pillar in the church nor an ornament to society."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

JAP GAMES HAVE PURPOSE

Children's Pastimes in That Country Are Played With the Idea of Strengthening Character.

For centuries before America was discovered, Japanese children were playing games upon which our boys and girls considered they have a monopoly, and which are regarded as strictly modern. As a matter of fact, most of our pastimes and games have come to us from foreign lands, though they have been modified to suit our needs, and perhaps renamed.

"Pussy wants a corner" and "blind-man's buff" are as old as Japan itself. As played across seas, however, these games are far superior to ours. Puss, for instance, is represented as an "Oni," or devil, the corners of the room—the four safe harbors of truth with certain shelter from all harm.

In "blind-man's buff," the children wear queer little costumes made of blue and white cotton crepe, with painted eyes and queer stuffed beaks resembling birds, for noses. They look like weird little gnomes rather than children, as they dash about in a frantic endeavor to catch their victims.

A ghostly game particularly enjoyed by heroic boys requires the same costumes. Some of them plant flags in different parts of the cemetery during the day, under a lonely tree or by a hill, alleged to be haunted. At night they meet for their game of "soul examination," telling stories about ghosts, goblins and oni. At the conclusion of each tale when their imaginations are so wrought up that they are in terror, they go up the hill one at a time and bring back the flags planted there, until all are brought in. Thus do they discourage fear and foster courage, the trait of character that they most covet.

TO ALLAY PAIN OF STINGS

Use of Ammonia to Be Avoided in the Case of an Attack by an Insect Wasp.

Ammonia promptly applied when a bee stings you prevents serious consequences and allays pain. It has generally been supposed that this is true also of wasp stings; but Edward R. Speyer, an Oxford university specialist, points out in a letter to the London Times that the application of ammonia or any other alkali to a wasp sting makes it worse.

The reason is that the poison of a bee's sting is acid; that of a wasp's sting is alkaline. Hence alkalies, like ammonia, neutralize the acid of the bee's sting, but aggravate the toxic effects of the wasp's alkaline sting.

The best thing to apply to a wasp's sting is vinegar, being the nearest acid in domestic service. Onion juice, lemon juice, or any other handy acid will do as well.

The Lancet says these facts ought to be widely known, "for not uncommonly the sting proves to be not a simple puncture but the beginning of a toxic process sometimes fatal. A wasp sting on the moist mucosa, as in the mouth, invariably leads to serious inflammation, with most distressing results. If the simple gargling or washing of the attacked spot with an acid fluid in such a case keeps down the swelling lives may well be saved."

Whale's Breathing Apparatus.

An eminent naturalist says concerning the breathing apparatus of the whale: "The windpipe does not communicate with the mouth; a hole is, as it were, bored right through the back of the head. Engineers would do well to copy the action of the valve of the whale's blow-hole; a more perfect piece of structure it is impossible to imagine. Day and night, asleep or awake, the whale works its breathing apparatus in such a manner that not a drop of water ever gets down into the lungs. Again, the whale must of necessity stay a much longer period under water than seals; this alone might possibly drown it, inasmuch as the lungs can not have access to fresh air. We find that this difficulty has been anticipated and obviated by a peculiar reservoir in the venous system, which reservoir is situated at the back of the lungs."

The Eternal Feminine.

The waltz may be ascribed to the reaction following a long and harassing war, and offers a spectacle of very scanty feminine attire. A story in a newspaper dated June 8, 1812, relates: "A young lady of rank and high condition, in the warmth of her dancing heart, thus addressed her partner at the late lord mayor's ball: 'God bless you! take care you don't tread upon my muslin gown, for you see that I have nothing under it.'"

Lady Brownlow describing feminine dress a few years earlier, says: "It consisted of a gown tres-decollete, and short waisted, with apparently only one garment under it . . . a shawl hung over the shoulders." By substituting fur stole or tulle scarf for "shawl" the description would do for the modes of 1919. La femme eternelle.—London Times.

INDIAN THIEF HAD INGENUITY

Remarkably Clever Stratagem by Which Piegan Escaped With His Booty of Stolen Ponies.

Among the many interesting stories told by members of the Canadian mounted police is one that has to do with the cleverness of an Indian.

One snowy morning a band of Crees awoke to find that about a dozen of their ponies had been stolen during the night. A band to in pursuit was immediately organized, and in the course of an hour the trail was struck. The band followed it for thirty miles or more, till it entered a thicket and headed for a little wooded island.

Smoke was rising from the trees, and an opening, apparently the mouth of a cave, was in plain view. Presently a Piegan Indian showed himself in front of the opening. At his heels was a dog.

Pretty soon the dog scented the Crees, who were lying low, and began growling and barking. The Piegan looked up, glanced about him for a moment and then instantly entered the cave. In about ten seconds, another Piegan came round the rocks and also went in; then another, and another and another. The Crees lay silently in the bushes, counting, till upward of fifty Piegans had come round the rocks and gone into the cave, and still they kept coming. Each carried a rifle.

When at last seventy men had disappeared in the cave, the superstitious and cautious Crees concluded that the evil spirit had something to do with this idea that even when reinforcements came, which was in a few hours, they were reluctant to attack the island.

That night, however, one Cree, less credulous than the others, crossed over the ice to investigate. On approaching the supposed cave, he found that it was no cave at all, but simply an opening leading some ten feet into the rock, where it made a turn and came out on the other side.

There was the remnant of a single camp fire, the ponies were gone and not an Indian was in sight. The ingenious Piegan thief, by making the circuit of the passage, and the end of the island seventy times, had so deceived his pursuers as to gain the time necessary for his escape.

Want to Rent Old Castle?
If anybody wants to buy a ruined castle, described as "of great historical and romantic history," now is their chance, according to advertisements inserted in the British papers.

It is not exactly modern, dating, as it does, from 1066, and the advertiser states that "considerable outlay will be required to reconstruct it." The purchaser is assured, however, that if reconstructed, "a unique and charming home would result."

Nothing is said about ghosts, but it stands to reason that a castle of this age must have a large and lively flock of such insects. So here's a chance for some of America's millionaires to acquire at small cost a castle—and all that goes with it.

An added inducement is that there is good trout fishing near by, so that when tired of gazing at his unique and charming home the purchaser can rest his mind by going fishing.

British Land Changing Hands.
Land in the British Isles is changing hands at the rate of 100,000 acres a week, well-informed real estate dealers estimate. By the end of this year some $100,000,000 in land deals will have been completed.

Large estates are being sold, mostly in small lots. One of 10,100 acres in Durham fetched $430,000 when cut up into 93 farms. Syndicates are getting in their work. One estate, valued at $500,000 was sold to a syndicate for $750,000 and the latter disposed of the land to another syndicate for $1,000,000. Only 3,000 acres were involved.

Tenant farmers are pressing for opportunity to own the land and large landowners are availing themselves of the chance to "get out" at high prices.

Big Demand for Diamonds.
The demand for diamonds all over the world so far exceeds the supply that the stocks of importers and cutters are practically exhausted and they are unable to fill the orders of their retail customers. This condition was attributed by New York jewelers chiefly to the prosperity of the country. The war-time period of bonanza wages has made the working people the nation's greatest diamond buyers. This class, it was said, had absorbed a large portion of the small stones on the market, but the rich man is as badly off as the man of moderate circumstances, because the larger and more valuable diamonds are scarce and higher in price.

To Make Mother-of-Pearl.
The secret of another German key industry has been discovered, the manufacture of artificial mother-of-pearl. J. W. H. Dew, a fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, found the process after much patient experimenting.

Doctor Dew was engaged during the whole period of the war in reconstructing, step by step, the method of manufacture.

Artificial mother-of-pearl is used for making fancy buttons, dress trimmings and many other articles. Before the war most of it came from Germany.

Farmers' Loan in Jamaica.
The agricultural loan bank movement was initiated in Jamaica in 1912 to provide relief for the small planters of sugar, bananas and coconuts whose holdings were injured in the destructive hurricane and drought of that year.

Turkish Promises.
The first of more than a hundred treaties wrung from Turkey by which she promised protection to the Christians within the boundaries of the Ottoman empire, was signed 145 years ago, at the instance of Russia. Not one of these hundred promises has ever been kept—which is sufficiently indicated by the fact that all the treaties cover practically the same points. Every time the European powers saved Turkey from dismemberment, the reigning sultan in his gratitude, solemnly promised that he would grant his Christian subjects in European Turkey liberty and equality before the law with Muslims. After France and England, at the tremendous cost of the Crimean war, had saved the Turks from the Russians, the sultan issued the famous Hattihumattoun of February 18, 1856, in which he swore by the beard of the prophet to give Christians full equality. The promise, like so many others, was but a "scrap of paper." Abdul Hamid on his ascension to the throne, declared that he would make "no distinction of creed" and posed as the protector of the Christians and Jews, of whom probably more than a million were slain during his reign of 33 years.

THIS IS YOUR FAIR

What Sort of a Fair Will You Make It?

Surely there is something in that big list of cash and special premiums which will appeal to you—over $8000 for the producers of Northwest Texas and a big opportunity to show thousands of visitors what you can produce and better still what Northwest Texas can produce.

Don't say to yourself "These are good potatoes, but someone will have better ones—this is good wheat or alfalfa or oats or pumpkins or cotton but the other fellow will have better." If those articles which were sure of winning first prize and nothing else were brought to a fair it would indeed be a very unsuccessful exhibit. It's the big displays in every department which makes a fair a big success. Will you be among those who will hold back or are you one of those now preparing every available product of farm and garden to make folk realize what a wonderful place this Northwest Texas is.

The Fair Management Has Set the Stage for the Second Largest List of Wheat Premiums In the United States And the Largest List of Cotton Premiums In America This Year

But unless you exhibit your wheat and your cotton these shows will be failures. Every other class has worthy premium offers and deserves the same hearty support and the biggest possible list of entries.

It has fallen to the lot of the folk of Plainview to do most of the work of preparation—it is the privilege of the rest of Northwest Texas to make the fair a success thru their displays and their co-operation. Are you with us? Are you getting ready? Will you make your entries early to lighten the work of the secretary and the superintendent.
