Mrs. Fred Crawford Hostess
 Wednesday afternoon the Wednesday Bridge club was entertained very delightfully by Mrs. Fred Crawford. Yellow chrysanthemums were used in decoration. At the close of the games the hostess served delicious refreshments to the club members and Mesdames W. L. Harrington, L. S. Kinder, Elmer Sansom, T. C. Shepard, A. C. McClelland, Hugh Burch, J. O. Wyckoff, J. P. Woodriddle, Geo. Droke and Sadye Earle Adams.

The groom has been here for some time, and has made friends. They have gone to a town near San Antonio, to make their home.

Circle No. 4, Methodist Women
 Circle No. 4 will hold the last meeting for the conference year with Mrs. John Vaughn Thursday, Oct. 28th, at her home on Galveston street. Practically all final reports were determined by actions taken and in the following of instructions given in the last business meeting of the auxiliary.

It was found that though this is the smallest circle numerically, it has the best average per capita, both financially and in matters of individual effort. Two hundred and thirty one dollars has been raised for local work and even before a canvass was made, five members had made an offering of $26 in the name of the Circle for the pledge. The most notable feature of the work has been the flowers and other forms of social service work lead by Mrs. J. C. Hooper, whose flowers have been in large collections instead of the ordinary bouquets. She with her committee have decorated the church and sent prize winning specimens to the sick. Secondly, this committee has been reinforced in their kind acts by the unselfish uses of autos owned by the members and the preparations of food and drinks by the various members for the sick. Throughout the year Mrs. Jas. Pickett has ably led the Bible study. The next lesson at Mrs. Vaughn's will be the Book of Joshua.

J. M. Coffey has returned from a Stewart Land Co. excursion to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

No German Strong Man.
 Lamenting the lack of strong personalities among his countrymen, Admiral Hollweg writes in the Deutsche Tageszeitung: "This want of character among our leading men lost us the war. To begin with, the kaiser was plainly unequal to the tasks laid upon him. In his restless activity before the war he had used up whatever nerve strength he ever had. I well remember the painful impression made upon me by the meeting of the cabinet at which I was present on March 28, 1916. We had to discuss the prospects of the U-boats. "The chancellor," Hollweg says, "sat in a general's uniform in the president's chair puffing quickly at a cigar, the picture of nervous prostration. The chief of the admiralty made a long speech, giving a most gloomy outline and blaming Von Tirpitz for all that was happening. Not a man at the table there, it was plain, was strong enough either to end or mend the war. No wonder we lost."

Deadly "Earth Torpedo."
 Added to the list of interesting but tardy war inventions is a so-called "earth torpedo" of Canadian origin, described by Popular Mechanics magazine. It bores its subterranean way toward the enemy lines, and then explodes with great force. The burrowing operation is hydraulic. The nose of the torpedo is equipped with an ingenious boring nozzle, and takes with it a length of hose, which a pump in the trench supplies with water at 300-pound pressure. This part of the performance is silent. In a test, the device burrowed 200 feet and then blasted out an excavation 20 feet across.

Where Janet Excelled.
 Rupert and Frank were much smitten with the two little girls who were camping in the cabin next to them. Helen was Rupert's favorite and Janet was Frank's. Unobserved I heard them discussing the merits of each. "Elen's the prettiest, don't you think?" asked Rupert. "Maybe she is," conceded Frank; "but Janet's the swimmings."—Chicago Tribune.

Britons Build Biggest Plane.
 The Tarrant Aircraft Construction company of Farnborough, England, has just finished building the biggest airplane in the world. It is a triplane, the middle plane of which is 131 feet wide. Above and below this are two planes, each 98 feet long. All these planes are 15 feet 2 inches deep. The body is 76 feet long (20 feet longer than the biggest biplane), and the height is 37 feet. The pilot's seat juts out 12 feet beyond the line of the planes. The body of the machine resembles a whale in length and girth, with a great blunt-ended nose. Between the planes are six Napier-Lion engines, each developing 500-horsepower. Four of them operate two-bladed tractor propellers; two of them four-bladed "pusher" propellers.

Jap Industry Hard Hit.
 During the war the Japanese zinc industry was very prosperous and large profits were made on ore which was imported from Australia and the French Indies. The signing of the armistice, however, has dealt a hard blow to this industry, and it is reported that it costs $200 a ton to produce Japanese zinc, while the market price is only $187 a ton. It is expected that this will result in a request for subsidies and import protection, since the deposits of Japanese ore are of such inferior quality that competition with imported ore cannot be met successfully.

MARKED EPOCH IN INDUSTRY

Experience of Years of Warfare Should Have Effect on Coal Mining in This Country.

The inventory of the nation's resources that the war made necessary brought to light many new facts about coal mining which will be of lasting value to the industry and to the public. As long as the war lasted these incidental lessons were lost sight of under the pressure of meeting the emergency created by the shortage of fuels, but with the return of peace the experience gained during the war is being gathered together in a series of reports on the industry, the first of which, "Coal in 1917," by C. E. Leshner, has been published by the United States geological survey, department of the interior.

The period from 1914 through 1917 and 1918 and into 1919 may be regarded as a distinct epoch in the coal industry, of which the year 1917 represented only one section, but a section which, if not the most remarkable for its achievements, was at once the most chaotic and the most momentous in the history of the industry.

In response to the unprecedented demand the bituminous mines produced 551,790,563 tons, or nearly 10 per cent more than the output of the year before. The anthracite output was 99,611,811 net tons, an increase over 1916 of 13.7 per cent. The total output of both hard and soft coal was thus over 650,000,000 tons.

This record output was accomplished by a labor force of 693,143 men in the bituminous and 154,174 in the anthracite mines. In spite of the draft the number of workers in the bituminous industry was greater in 1917 than in 1916.

UNCLE SAM'S GAME RESERVE

Island of Afognak, on South Coast of Alaska, Peculiarly Adapted for the Purpose.

One of the most picturesquely interesting parts of our national domain is a large island off the south coast of Alaska. It is called Afognak and is about 65 miles long by 40 in width, with a very irregular shore line and deeply indented by bays.

It is the property of the government, and in 1892 was set aside by President Harrison as a game and fish reserve. The important purpose that it serves is that of a preserve for salmon, all the finest varieties of which run up its stream in great numbers at the breeding season to spawn.

Afognak is a mountainous island, of volcanic origin, its loftiest peak rising to an elevation of 1,300 feet. In the interior are a number of large lakes, which are the breeding grounds of the salmon. One of these, Letnik lake, is seven miles long, and on its shore is located a big government fish hatchery.

In the days of long ago, before the United States bought Alaska, the salmon fishery of Afognak was operated by the Russian-American company, which established on the island a colony of its superannuated and pensioned employees. These were Aleuts, whose descendants today compose the native population, somewhat more than 400, though their blood is much mixed.

Soldiers and Banana Growing.

The New South Wales government has not been long in providing its returning soldiers with work. One of the enterprises undertaken with this object is the cultivation of bananas on a large scale. There is no fruit crop that yields such a quick return as the banana and in the present flourishing state of the market no better undertaking could have been selected given the right men. It is not work for the lazy. But among the demobilized troops are plenty of men who are young, tough and teachable. Four hundred acres have been taken as a beginning and each settler has 12 months' probation before a block is entrusted to him. The sum of £625 is advanced to each for implements, stock, and house-building material. The soldiers have already started and enjoy their rough life in the hills. The experienced planter, Mr. C. Rose, who is in charge, sees nothing but success ahead in reward for their efforts.

Prickly Pear Proving Pest.

Australia is suffering from a prickly pear pest, which takes advantage of the rivers as a means of spreading. Shoots break off from the parent plant growing along a stream and the part is carried downstream to found a new colony. Thousands of acres are being ruined yearly owing to the ravages of this plant, and no means have been discovered of stopping its march. Rolling, spraying and poisons have proved ineffectual, and it is hoped that some scientist may find some commercial use for the plant.

Indian Women Progressing.

Oklahoma Indian girls are as much interested in the canning campaign as their pateface sisters. In Beckham county, Okla., they attend all the meetings held by the home demonstration agent, and this year made an excellent booth exhibit of the fruit and vegetables they had canned and dried. One Indian woman also exhibited 100 chickens of her own raising.

ONE OUT OF EVERY 100 PERSONS HAVE CONSUMPTION

One Per Cent Also Have Disease in Negative State—93,220 Cases in Texas

Austin, Oct. 21.—Nearly 20,000 children in Texas are exposed to tuberculosis every year. These figures are the result of research work by the National Tuberculosis Association. This statement was issued by the Texas Public Health Association today.

Research by the National organization shows that at least one per cent of the normal population of an American community has active tuberculosis, and that an additional one per cent has this disease in a relatively negative form. This would mean that Texas, with a population of 4,661,027, would have 46,610 people with the active disease, and the same number with it in a negative form. This is a total of 93,220 cases of the "white plague" in the state, according to the figures of the National Tuberculosis Association.

"In order to control the disease," said D. E. Breed, executive secretary of the Texas Public Health Association, "the anti-tuberculosis agencies of this country are advocating three definite policies: First, the prevention of infection, especially from adults to children; second, the building of bodily resistance; and third, the cure and restoration of the curable to working efficiency.

"To carry out these policies we must discover the cases by means of tuberculosis nurses, dispensaries, clinics, private physicians and general education. Then we must work for hospitals and sanatoria to care for the cases. These things our association and local societies are advocating to stamp out tuberculosis in Texas."

1st. That plaintiff is now and has been for a period of more than twelve months prior to the filing of this petition, an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in Lamb county for more than six months next preceding the filing of this suit; and that the defendant's, J. 3rd. 4th. That two children, namely: Mary A. McCleskey, a girl, age 6, and Loving McCleskey, a girl, age 5, were born of said marriage and are now with plaintiff and have been at all times since defendant abandoned plaintiff, and that plaintiff is the proper person to have the care, custody and control of said children.

5th. That since plaintiff has been living apart and as a single woman, on, to-wit, the 21st day of January, 1920, she purchased Lots Three to Twenty-Four (3 to 24) inclusive of Block Fifty-Four (54) of the McCrummen Second Addition to the town of Lubbock, in Lubbock County, Texas, and paid for same out of her separate funds, and said property is her separate property.

We want you to come in and examine our goods, for you will be astonished at the low prices we are making. The goods are this season's stuff and the very latest styles. We know you cannot duplicate our prices on the class of goods offered in the above list. These prices will go a long ways in making up for the drop in farm products.
