HYER WINS PRIZE SOW

MRS. DEBS McLAUGHLIN, J. E. BURKETT, MRS. ALEX ANDERSON ALSO WINNERS

Quite a large crowd of people from all over Plainview territory took part in the first Monday drawing put on by the Plainview Merchants Association at the bandstand yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

L. W. Hyer, who lives on the old Hatcher farm two miles south of Plainview won the registered bred Poland China sow from the herd of Chas. Merrick.

Mrs. Debs McLaughlin, who lives seventeen miles south of Plainview, won the pen of single-comb Ancona chickens (rooster and four hens) from the yard of Mark Nichols.

J. E. Burkett, living just south of Plainview, captured the $20 bid, and Mrs. Alex Anderson of Plainview the $15 due bill.

On account of irregularities one or two of the numbers were ruled out as the Merchants association, so it was announced, does not purpose to let anybody have an advantage over others and where there is irregularity in the securing of tickets or where anyone gets more than one ticket for each purchase the association, if it discovers such will not permit such tickets to participate in the drawing.

Lawns Infested With Dandelions.

The blue grass and clover lawns in Plainview are coming out beautifully since the late rains and the warmer weather, and the trees are also leafing out and putting on their spring garments of green. Surely this is one of the prettiest towns almost anywhere.

The lawns are infested with dandelions, and it is keeping many homeowners busy for a while each day digging them out. But, little progress can be made, for so long as the court house yard and many other lawns are so badly infested with the pest and the seeds can blow over the town, it is almost impossible to keep them from spreading.

The people of Plainview would indeed be glad to get some kind of an acid that would kill the dandelions.

Hale Center Girl Wins Honors.

Belton, April 30.—Augusta Short, daughter of S. F. Short, of Hale Center, Texas, has recently been elected to the office of General Chairman of the Cottage-Home System of Dormitories of the Student Government Association of Baylor College. This association is a form of government whereby the student body make laws providing means of enforcement for themselves.

Miss Short is a member of the sophomore class and has held several offices. This year she was Ruth Stripling Hall representative to the Cottage Home dormitory council and president of the Eureka Young Women's Auxiliary, one of the six Y. W. A.'s of Baylor College.

Establish Dancing Park

Ernest Schulz and s'Red" Lockhart have opened a dancing park in the locust grove at the Schulz home, seven miles north of Plainview. A large dancing platform has been placed in the grove which is lighted by electricity, the current being furnished by the Deleo system at the Schulz home nearby. An orchestra has been engaged. There is a refreshment booth. A charge is made for dancing.

The only present love demands is love. It is the cause, not the death, that makes the martyr.

PLAINVIEW GIRL WINS TENNIS

MISS LUCILE GOODWIN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP IN TENNIS SINGLES

Miss Lucile Goodwin, of Plainview high school, won the state championship in tennis singles at the state interscholastic meet held in Austin Friday and Saturday, having defeated all contestants from other districts. She won the championship of Hale county and later the district championship at Lubbock. Last year she won high place in the state tennis doubles at Austin.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Goodwin.

YOUNGBLOOD WINS DECISION TO BE RELEASED

Highest State Tribunal Holds Legislature Cannot Commit Citizen to Jail for Criticism.

Austin, May 7.—Holding article 5517 of the Texas Laws of 1907 unconstitutional and declaring that a committee of the Legislature does not have power to commit an individual to jail for contempt, Court of Criminal Appeals today at a special sitting ordered Hull Youngblood, San Antonio released from the 20-day sentence ordered by a joint legislative committee.

Presiding Judge Morrow wrote the main opinion of the court in which he declared that neither house of the legislature has power to declare a person in contempt for certain acts. Under the constitution, persons can be ordered to jail for contempt for not more than 48 hours, the opinion holds. It further states the such power cannot be delegated to a committee of the legislature. The other two judges of the court wrote opinions also and these were concurred in by the entire court.

Youngblood was adjudged in contempt of the legislature committee when he refused to testify regarding remarks he is alleged to have made in an address at San Antonio two weeks ago on the legislature. The decision was an appeal from Travis county. Attorney General Keeling was in conference with the assistants late today to determine whether motion for re-hearing will be filed.

Washington, May 5.—Negotiations between representatives of the Washington and Oregon Governments to speed up restoration of friendly relations will be formally opened in Mexico City on May 14, it was learned Saturday after the two American commissioners had received final instructions from Secretary Hughes.

Was Known in Plainview

Elmer (Pet) Brown, who was until several years ago a prominent wrestler and was known in Plainview, was shot and killed by a constable near Cisco Saturday night. Brown was the head of one of the largest road construction firms in the State and was engaged in road work near Cisco. The constable had come to the camp to arrest a negro for crop shooting and he and Brown got into an argument over something and the constable shot him.

Rains Fell Sunday Night

Heavy rains fell in a number of sections of the Plainview territory Sunday night. Especially heavy were the rains from Runningwater to Hart in Castro county, Hale Center and south to Lubbock, about Spervinton in Brisco county, and from Floydada and beyond.

A good shower fell in Plainview.

Baptized With Jordan Water.

Water brought to Texas from the River Jordan by A. E. Brady of Cameron, was used recently when sixteen babies were baptized at the Methodist church in that city. Mr. Brady had been engaged abroad in Y. M. C. A. work and when he returned from Palestine included a bottle of Jordan River water among the souvenirs he brought home with him.

Lucky Yeggs.

Two yeggs held up and tried to rob a Scotchman. It was a hard fight but after the lanky Scotchman had licked them both, he gave one of them a shove with his foot and said "Weal—it's a good thing that I only had a nickel with me. If I had had a dime I would have killed you."

TIPIFIES TEXAS' FAMOUS REGION

PLAINVIEW ADVANCES BROAD CLAIM FOR TECH IN THEIR PHOTOGRAPHIC BRIEF

(By Sillman Evans, Staff Correspondent in Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)

Plainview, April 30.—Carrying in its name the name of the Plains of Texas, and forsooth being a city of plain view, and surrounded on every side by land that typifies Texas' most famous agricultural region, are arguments Plainview's people are advancing in their claim for the location of the Texas Technological College the advantages of the Plains. That the Plains offers the most diversified agricultural region in all of the South—says Sillman Evans, Staff Correspondent in Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Plainview, April 30.—Carrying in its name the name of the Plains of Texas, and forsooth being a city of plain view, and surrounded on every side by land that typifies Texas' most famous agricultural region, are arguments Plainview's people are advancing in their claim for the location of the Texas Technological College the advantages of the Plains. That the Plains offers the most diversified agricultural region in all of the South—says Sillman Evans, Staff Correspondent in Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The first thing that Chairman Martin of the general committee making the fight for the Texas Tech for Plainview mentions when the subject is broached is the desirability of the Plains of Texas for the location of the institution.

Last Agricultural Lands

"The Staked Plains of Texas comprises the largest solid body of agricultural land in the South," he said. "The main line of the Santa Fe railway traverses this immense area of land through its entire length in an irregular semi-circle connecting Amarillo with the Fort Worth and Denver and at Sweetwater with the Texas & Pacific railway. Plainview is situated midway of the North and South borders of the Plains on the main line of the Santa Fe in such position that a school will be fed from all directions from the future populous counties of this great territory."

"A careful study of the time tables demonstrates conclusively that the average traveling time of a student coming to Plainview from all over the territory defined by the legislature within which this school should be located, is as low as that of another applicant and much lower than most of them. This arises from the fact that she is centrally located between the main lines of two roads—the Fort Worth & Denver and the Texas & Pacific, connected by the Santa Fe's mail line. The future dense population will be upon the Plains. No other part of Texas is as capable of sustaining such a population. Plainview is almost in the exact center of this area. She has a supply of water as pure as can be had, unequalled in either quality or quantity. An applicant for the school recently boasted that it had two wells capable of producing 15,000 gallons per hour. We have one well capable of producing 180,000 gallons of water per hour, continuously. We have never found the limit of our wells. They can be had on any acre of land in the Plainview country."

Many Contests Are Won

"Plainview can show you actually growing here nearly every plant indigenous to the north temperate zone. This county has uniformly won in every contest with its agricultural products. Celery as fine as ever grew in Michigan can be found alongside of cotton as splendid as ever graced the black land of Ellis county. On one farm you can see Kentucky Blue glass, clover, alfalfa, sugar beets growing along with common varieties of farm products that you see in other parts of the state.

"Nowhere in Texas has diversified farming and variety of field products reached the state of development that it has in Hale county. A farmer can make a living in this county on 10 acres of land. Coupled with a fertile soil and an inexhaustible supply of water is a climate invigorating and healthful.

"The people are prosperous, progressive and practically 100 per cent Anglo-Saxon. Every school in Hale county is supported by a special tax and run not less than eight months. No constitutional amendment looking to the betterment of the public school system of Texas ever failed to carry in this county. It is her boast that no measure, which had for its purpose the betterment of the citizenship of Texas, was ever beaten at the polls in a single precinct of the county

PLAINVIEW ASKS FOR CONVENTION

LEAGUE OF TEXAS MUNICIPALITIES INVITED TO COME HERE

Plainview will ask for the honor of entertaining the Texas League of Municipalities convention in 1924. The League is now in convention at Bryan, and Mayor J. M. Waller left Sunday for that place to attend the convention and to extend Plainview's invitation. Telegrams have been sent from the commercial bodies, the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and various citizens urging that Plainview be selected.

The League of Texas Municipalities is composed of the mayors and aldermen of the cities and towns of Texas and its eleventh annual convention is being held. It is a very important body and its deliberations have much value to the municipal governments of the state.

since it was organized. Give Something to School "Plainview people feel that the town can give something to the Texas Technological College and with it located here it will not be the case of the school giving everything to the town and the town giving nothing. A student of this school at this place will elbow with forward looking, progressive men and women in a refined and moral atmosphere. Big things can not prosper among little men. In this town the little man, the professional croaker and the mossback has been submerged or stung to death. The school will not have to spend years building up the right atmosphere. We have it from the first day he school starts.

"The faculty of this school upon arrival here will find a Rotary Club, a Kiwanis Club, a golf club, a country club and the liveliest commercial organization in Texas waiting to welcome them if they desire it. All the leading lodges and churches likewise have organizations here with commodious buildings. Plainview proper is not more than 16 years old, yet she has a modern sewer system, well lighted and paved streets and a municipal auditorium with a seating capacity of more than 3,000. She sits in summertime in a forest of shade trees, all planted in the last 15 years. Her blue grass lawns and well kept yards are the delight of the visitor, and the pride of her citizenship."

Water Supply Unlimited Plainview's supremacy in water production is beyond controversy. Texas has heard about the oceans of pure water underlying the Plainview country, and Texans from far and near have come to Plainview to see and wonder at the flow of water from wells in the great irrigated belt to the east of the town. No lakes are needed, nor are tanks or surface impounding reservoirs needed, for the supply of water. Plainview's water gushes forth from the ground and under engine compression pours like a mountain stream over terrain and field. The city water rate for household use and lawn or garden irrigation is $1 per month for 3,000 gallons or less, and 15 cents per thousand gallons above that; or $24 per year for 240,000 gallons or less, and 10c per 1,000 gallons for more. On the site offered here for the location there are three irrigation wells in which water is found at 50 feet beneath the surface. The pumps on each of these wells produce 1,000 gallons per minute at a cost of $10.20 per 1,000 gallons and at a cost for irrigation of $3.31 per acre-foot. This includes repairs of the plant. There are other wells in this vicinity from which water is produced at less cost.

To the average newspaper reader the story of the soil of Plainview, and of the variety of crops in the Plainview regions, is a twice-told tale that thrills and pleases the patriotic Texan. There is no grain growing area in the United States where wheat reaches any higher perfection in quality than it does upon the Plains of Texas. The best milling varieties, Turkey Red, Kanred, Red Russian, Alberta, Karkov and Fulcaster are grown in Hale county. Millions of bushels of milo maize, kaffir corn, and other grain sorghums are shipped annually from Plainview. The thirteen elevators in Hale county have a combined storage capacity of more than 500,000 bushels.

Producers of Cotton In its early history Plainview was considered a potential possibility as a marketing center for grain, truck farm, and hogs and cattle. It proved so to be. As the boll weevil sent the cotton producer on the trail of the Western star all of the Plains counties, and Plainview is a notable ex-

TEN SCHOOLS GET STATE AID

HALE COUNTY RURAL SCHOOLS RECEIVE $2,640 FROM SPECIAL FUND

Ten rural schools in Hale County have been granted state aid in the sum of $2,640, so notification comes from Austin to Mrs. Ola Legg, county school superintendent. The participating schools are:

Ellen, No. 24	$270
Clements No. 34	240
Happy Union No. 3	250
Center Plains No. 4	130
Runningwater No. 5	150
Iowa Avenue No. 18	290
Stoneback No. 19	200
Abernathy Ind.	410
Petersburg Ind.	413
Hale Center Ind.	350
Total	$2640

This is not nearly as much as usual, for the reason, we understand, the the rural schools in East and Northwest Texas are in such hard shape that the state has had to come to their rescue for the people in the rural districts in those sections of the state do not vote very high special taxes for the support of their schools, depending upon the state to come to their help. This is a very narrow and stingy view to take of educational matters and just the opposite from the way the people of the Plains and Panhandle do, for out here in the West practically every rural district has a special tax of from 50c to $1 for the support of its schools and does not depend upon the state.

Hooper Gets County Banner The county board of education met Monday and awarded the county banner for this year to Hooper school, southwest of Plainview. The other contestants were Snyder, L. W. Stoner, principal; Liberty, Prof. Lowry, principal; Prairieview, Mrs. Ballard, principal.

The Hooper school is taught by Miss Ollie B. Muse, and this is her second term with the school. She has been re-elected for next year. The school has a new and modern brick building which is well equipped. The Prairieview school has held the county banner for the past two years. It was very interesting to hear the reports of the work being done by the competing schools.

The board authorized the consolidation of Valleyview and Stansell schools, and they will be combined. The county superintendent has received another $1 per capita from the state available school fund. This makes $11.50 for the present scholastic year.

Wm. Younger has been elected superintendent of the Tulia public schools. He has been at the head of the Farwell school for three years.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK

Worry changes work into a task, while cheerfulness translates duty into privilege.

If you really want to know a man, play a game with him.

If you give your tongue too much freedom it will make you a prisoner.

The man who doesn't do any more than he is compelled to do is seldom paid any more than his boss is compelled to pay.

Anything that pays for itself is worth all it costs.

One reason some people do not feel good is because they do not do good.

Building in Littlefield. Littlefield BWork is progressing rapidly on the modern drive-in station, being erected at the corner of Main street and the Roger Q. Mills highway.

Contract has been let by the Littlefield Auto company for the erection of a modern brick building 50x116 feet at a cost of approximately $12,000.

The foundation of the new Lutheran church has been laid and work will be pushed until this church is completed.

Cheerful company shortens the miles.

Mrs. Kier's voice is an exquisite contralto, and she will assist in the solo work for the coming year. Library Report. Bring Books Back on Time. That the Public Library is doing a good work is shown by the fact that one subscriber lives forty miles from Plainview, yet she enjoys the privilege of reading good books and returning them promptly and "that reminds me." Some of the library books stray so far away that a search warrant has to be sent after them.

New books especially, should be brought back within the time limit. They are for the use of all the subscribers and not for a chosen few. Bring back the books on time.

Two other subscribers, boys—bright boys, live distances of fourteen and sixteen miles in the country. They read books worth while and get the books from the Plainview library. They return the books promptly.

Those of you who live within the city limits please do likewise. The efficient menning committee with Mrs. T. Hammond as chairman, have recently mended three dozen of the old books which have been placed back on the shelves. Two orders for new books have been lately given. They will prove attractive summer reading.

Please return books promptly. Reporter.

Former Plainview Pastor Celebrates Seventy-First Birthday. The home of Rev. and Mrs. R. F. Enkins, 1713 Tyler Street, was the scene of great festivity Tuesday, May 1, when the former was the honor guest at a beautifully appointed birthday dinner, in celebration of his seventy-first birthday.

Although the occasion was a very informal one, only attended by members of the immediate family, nothing was left undone that would have in any way added to the pleasure and enjoyment. The celebrant received a number of lovely birthday remembrances.—Amarillo News, May 1.

Attended State Congress of Mothers in Amarillo. The following women of Plainview attended the state convention of the Texas Mothers' Congress, held in Amarillo last week: Mesdames J. B. Scott, J. D. Service for Knights Templars. An interesting and beautiful service was held Sunday afternoon at St. Mark's Episcopal church for and by the Knight Templars Plainview Commandery No. 53. Special music was rendered by the choir.

An inspiring message was rendered by Rev. Andrews. He carried his hearers back to the twentieth century when a Begundian knight, Tugh de Pagains bound himself and eight comrades to vow to "fight for the King of Heaven" and to live of obedience and self-denial. The knights were in full uniform and occupied seats on the right hand side of the aisle.

Miss Vellie Stark and Mr. O. M. Starkk Marry. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stark, three miles beyond Whitfield, Miss Vellie Stark was married to O. M. Starkk, Rev. W. right of the First Christian church performing the ceremony. Mr. Stark is the son of the Stark family which lives several miles this side of Whitfield. They are prominent young people.

Dorothy Dix Says Keep True to Your Type After Marriage. The Bible asks: "What man, by taking thought, can add one cubit to his stature?"

This applies only to men. As a man is made, so he remains, but we have daily visible proof that women can make themselves over at will. Witness the fact that the feminine waistline is a movable feast, and that sometimes it is up under a woman's armpits, and anon it is in the vicinity of her knees. Also a woman's countenance is sometimes of a deathly pallor, with thin scarlet lips while the next day it may bloom with the roses of health.

Sometimes a woman is tall and stately, and again she is little and cute, while as for her hair, no man would back his remembrance of the color of his lady love's locks with good money. For she who went forth in the morning with long raven tresses is as likely as not to return at eve with bobbed henna curls; or she who went into a beauty shop with mouse-colored hair will come forth a golden blond.

This ability that women have for improving on the rough job that nature turned out when they were created, and for making themselves over into something that is easier on the eyes of their fellow creatures has mostly taken the form of reducing themselves. For nobody loves a fat woman, and it is generally held that the best way for a wife to retain her husband's affections is for her to keep a slim and girlish figure.

Wherefore, there are thousands upon thousands of half-famished middle-aged wives counting their calories, and starving in the midst of plenty; and thousands upon thousands of other feminine martyrs hopping around like hens on a hot griddle to the grinding of phonograph records and dragging about golf courses pursuing a ball they hate and loathe, and going through other forms of torture worthy of the inquisition, in a frantic attempt to reduce in order to make themselves attractive in some man's eyes.

And, at the price of untold suffering, they do change themselves from fair, fat, and forty into what looks like haggard, and fifty, for every time a woman subtracts from her waistline, she adds to the lines in her face. Still, men are supposed to be enamored of the living skeleton, and it is up to every woman to be as bony as she can.

Often a woman's deadliest rival is not the siren she suspects, but the girl she used to be. Often a woman only endures living with the man who sits across the table from her every day of the year by shutting her eyes to what he has become and remembering him as he was when she married him.

How often a man falls in love with a girl because she is sweet, and merry, and sympathetic, and affectionate. She lets herself grow into a querulous, complaining, whining woman with no thought but for herself. Her home is a place of gloom. There is not one of the qualities in her that attracted him, not one trait that he admires. Wild horses could not drag him to the altar with this strange and unlovely woman to whom he is tied.

How often a girl falls in love with a man because he is passionately in love with her, because he surrounds her with little chivalrous attentions, because he has high hopes and noble ideals. He develops into a grouch of a husband. He never speaks to her except to criticize her, he insults her with every penny he gives her. He becomes sordid, and mean, and stingy. He is a changing which the wicked witch of matrimony has left in place of the man who swore to love and cherish her.

And the pity of it all is that there is no way to tell before-hand whether a man or woman is going to stay put after marriage, and remain your ideal, or whether he or she is going to be converted into your pet aversion.—Dorothy Dix.

Big Spring proposes a long distance weed cutting contest. Thus is evidenced the rise of common sense to the occasion of turning a mania to utilitarian purpose. It is doubtful, however, whether we shall see any of the marathon dancers swinging a hoe for these new honors. It is one of the essential qualities of the mania that it is of no human use whatever.—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

THE HONEY BEE AS A MASTER BUILDER

The honey bee, working with only the tools that nature provides her, can and does build a hexagon honey cell with such accuracy that the eye can detect no variation in the dimensions of a thousand cells.

Accuracy—Exactness is the most indispensable quality of all good building—as every carpenter and other craftsman is well aware but—how can accuracy in building be obtained when the lumber used is uneven in width, thickness, length and seasoning?

Answer: Only by the carpenter sorting and re-manufacturing the lumber by hand as he uses it—which is a costly way to build. In this way we explain the economy that attends the use of Long-Bell trade-marked lumber which is so carefully made that costly reworking on the job is unnecessary.

The Long-Bell brand on a board is assurance of quality, service and satisfaction.

IF SICK TODAY! TAKE NO CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Straightens You Up Better Than Salivating, Dangerous Calomel and Doesn't Upset You—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Read Guarantee

I discovered a vegetable compound that does the work of dangerous, sickening calomel and I want every reader of this paper to buy a bottle for a few cents and if it doesn't straighten you up better and quicker than salivating calomel just go back to the store and get your money back. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your thirty feet of bowels of the sour bile and constipation poison which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that one spoonful of this harmless liquid liver medicine will relieve the headache, biliousness, sickness—while my Dodson's Liver Tone is safe, pleasant and harmless. Eat anything afterwards, because it coats tongue, ague, malaria, sour stomach or any other distress caused by a torpid liver as quickly as a dose of vile, nauseating calomel, besides it will not make you sick or keep you from a day's work. Calomel is poison—it's mercury—it attacks the bones often causing rheumatism. Calomel is dangerous. It can not salivate. Give it to the children because it doesn't upset the stomach or shock the liver. Take a spoonful tonight and wake up feeling fine and ready for a full day's work. I

The Plainview News

According to investigations being made by the federal government approximately $100,000 is being spent in or sent to Texas for oil stock daily, most all of which is a total loss to the "investors." Don't be a sucker.

Plainview is making a fair, open fight for the Tech college, and is not resorting to any dirty work. It is reported this cannot be said of one or two towns in the race. We believe that honesty will win over unfair tactics.

The United States, it seems, is far from being the worst place in the world for taxes. Fifty Dutch farmers arriving with their families aboard the steamship Nieuw Amsterdam said they left Holland to settle in America in order to escape the excessive taxes of their native country.

When we consider that the house fly may carry thirty distinct diseases and parasitic organisms, and that its occurrence in great numbers is due entirely to man and his actions, can we fail to marvel at man's utter and even criminal stupidity? The house fly is a menace to health, and every effort should be made to kill him, especially early in the warmer season in order to stop his increase.

British justice still prevails in Canada. Last week a woman and a man, convicted of murder, were legally hanged. Tremendous efforts were put forth to save the woman from the gallows, but the ministry of justice decided that no clemency would be extended to her. British and Canadian authorities are justly proud of all people who believe in strict enforcement of law and order and the punishment of crime. No matter how high socially or in wealth a person may be if he commits crime he is swiftly and severely punished. It would be well if the same could be said of American courts, and especially those in Texas.
