PRES. HARDING SERIOUSLY SICK

HAS ATTACK OF BRONCHO-PNEUMONIA BUT CONDITION IS IMPROVING

Presidential Headquarters, Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Tuesday, July 31 (3:30 Central Time).—President Harding, characteristically calm and determined, is fighting the greatest battle of his career—a struggle in which his life is at stake.

Arraigned against him was broncho-pneumonia, symptoms of which were discovered by the attending physicians last night and also the danger of other complications. Arrayed in his favor was his calm determination, a subsidence of the earlier abdominal trouble, and the hopes and prayer of a nation. His handicap was an admittedly weakened physical resistance.

No word came from the sick room during the early hours today, it having been agreed after a bulletin was issued at 9:15 o'clock last night that no additional formal statement would be made until about 8 o'clock this morning unless there occurred a decided change.

"We know when the fight commenced," said one of the attending physicians, "but none of us can tell when the objective will be reached."

Just before this statement was made, Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, the president's personal physician, told newspapermen that much depended on the defensive strength of the patient. If he could summon strength to resist the attack upon him, General Sawyer said, there would be a vigorous issue.

Presidential Headquarters, Palace Hotel, San Francisco, July 30.—President Harding's condition became grave tonight and announcement was made to that effect after a consultation at 9 o'clock by physicians in attendance upon the chief executive.

The physicians declared in a statement that "definite central patches of broncho-pneumonia had developed in the right lung as indicated clinically and by the X-ray."

The bulletin, issued at 9:10 p. m., read as follows:

"Definite central patches or broncho-pneumonia in the right lung, as indicated clinically and by the X-ray. Nourishment is being taken regularly and the abnormal symptoms are less noticeable."

"While his condition is grave, he is temperamentally well adapted to make a strong fight against the infection. Pulse, temperature and respiration are about the same as shown in the previous report."

(Signed) C. E. Sawyer, M. D.; C. M. Cooper, M. D.; J. T. Boone, M. D.; Hubert Work, M. D.

The development of pneumonia was the one thing which Brigadier General Sawyer, the president's personal physician, and said less than two hours earlier that almost above all else, was not not liable as a complication.

Secretary Work, one of the consulting physicians, left the president's room plainly disturbed by the charge

Chairman State Board of Control and Chairman of Locating Board.
Senator S. B. Cowell is a native of Missouri, born in 1866. He received his education in the public schools of his native state and later at the University of Missouri. When he completed his university course he began teaching. He was postmaster under President Cleveland at Downing, Mo. He entered the banking business in 1891, and which has been his life work since. He was state senator in the twenty-third and twenty-fourth legislatures. He was made chairman of the board of control three years ago which position he still holds. He is chairman of the locating committee, by the act creating the school. Mr. Cowell stands high in Texas political affairs, and is a man of splendid reputation, both as public official and as a private citizen.

in the president's condition. He was joined by Secretary Hoover and with one of the physicians, Dr. Ray Wilbur, went to another floor of the hotel to talk over the situation.

Members of the president's party as they scanned the last bulletin issued were prompt to note the measured words of the physicians when they read the president was "temperamentally" as contrasted with "physically," well adapted to make a strong fight against broncho-pneumonia infection.

In a measure of precaution, oxygen tanks were brought into the hotel late tonight but physicians said the need for that administration had not appeared at that time. The oxygen would be administered, it was explained, only in case the patient showed difficulty in breathing because of congestion in his lungs.

Bulletins Each Hour Received
Through the courtesy of Will Dowden, of the Dowden Hardware Co., the News has received each hour today radio bulletins relative to the condition of President Harding.

At 2 o'clock a bulletin came that his condition was improving hourly, and that he was considered out of danger.

TECH. COLLEGE LOCATING BOARD WILL VISIT PLAINVIEW THURSDAY

Will Be Met at Floydada, Brought Through in Cars, Shown Proposed 2,000-Acre Site, Entertained at Banquet and Conference Held at Night

Plainview is ready and waiting for the visit of the locating board of the proposed Texas Technological college which will spend Thursday afternoon and night here, to inspect the site offered and hear the claims Plainview will put forth for its location.

The board consists of five members, and its secretary, the pictures of whom appear on this page, also a short biography of each. With the board are a number of staff correspondents of the larger daily newspapers of the state.

Will Be Here Thursday
The locating board will be taken in charge by the Plainview delegation at Floydada at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and brought in cars to Plainview. A short stop will likely be made in Lockney, as those progressive people are desirous of showing the hospitality of that town.

The visitors will be brought thru the well developed farming section between Lockney and Plainview, and after arrival here will rest at the Wayland hotel for an hour and a half.

The locating board and attendants will then be taken for a drive about Plainview and the surrounding country, and for a thorough inspection of the proposed 2,000-acre site for the college. This site lies immediately east of Plainview, and includes the 640-acre syndicate demonstration farm with its excellent improvements including three irrigation plants, the Dye, Milwee, Wells, Woolverton and several other tracts of land, extending north and west from the demonstration farm. An elevated platform built about an irrigation well tower near the center of the demonstration farm is available for the board to view the entire 2000-acre tract, flags on poles will designate the boundary lines.

When the inspection is finished the visitors will be brought back to town, and later an early dinner will be served at the Ware hotel, after which a conference will be held at the Chamber of Commerce quarters in the municipal auditorium, between the board and possibly twenty-five representative local citizens, at which time four short addresses will be made in which Plainview's claims and proposition for the securing the Tech. college will be set forth. There will likely follow a general discussion of the matter.

The locating board will spend the night here and leave early Friday morning for Tulsa and Amarillo, and Saturday will be spent at Memphis and Vernon, which will be the last of the thirty-seven towns to be inspected during the three weeks the board will have been out.

The board has been and is being royally entertained at every town, in some places huge crowds having been brought together, but this is said to be wearing the board so much that its members are having a hard time to stand up under the physical strain, so it has been suggested that Plainview show its hospitality in another way, by having a more quiet entertainment, in which the business phase of the occasion will predominate. While everybody is invited to come to town that afternoon, no special bizarre effort is being made to get a large crowd.

Plainview Has Best Offer
Considering the primary considerations in making the location, Plainview makes a showing that cannot be approached by any other of the towns asking for the college.

The law creating the college requires to be considered are climatic conditions, water supply and accessibility.

Other matters which appropriately enter into the selection of a location are:

First and foremost is the question of health in the student body, and this is met satisfactorily by the climatic conditions and pure water supply here, and the health records as kept.

The town is located distant from other state schools giving similar training so that students heretofore denied the service of state schools may at last be served.

The high type of character of citizenship of the people of this town and section of the state, morally and educationally.

Considering the present population and state of development and the prospective growth in the coming years, which this great section is sure to have.

The agricultural and stock raising interests are especially appealing, and the new college is to give major attention to these matters. Here there is dry farming in its highest state and also irrigation for demonstration of its worth, which is sure to become a great industry in Texas.

The brief as submitted some time ago to the locating board, gives synopsis of the soil, dry farming, irrigation, rainfall for many years, also snowfall, temperature, altitude, chemical analysis of water, its abundance for wells are pumping from one to three thousand gallons per minute, accessibility to the north and south parts of Texas, showing only one town asking for the college is near:

He began his school work in Texas, first teaching at Hico. For 25 years he was superintendent of public schools at Terrell, and was instrumental in building up one of the finest systems of schools in the state. He ranks first among the educators of the state, and also in national affairs pertaining to higher education.

THREE NEGROES HAVE BLOODY CUTTING SCRAPE

Corine Cobb Slashes A. D. Jones and In Turn Cuts Bill Thomas' Throat

There was a very bloody negro cutting affair in Plainview Saturday night, in which a negro wench and two negro bucks figured, and it is a wonder that the wounds did not result fatally.

It seems that Corine Cobb slashed A. D. Jones across the breast just above the heart with a knife, and later Jones cut Bill Thomas' throat with a knife.

Had the knife entered Jones' breast a little lower it would have struck his heart. The knife entered Thomas' neck striking a bone just behind the ear and was drawn across his throat to the other ear, the cut not being deep enough to sever the jugular vein.

The examining trail was held before Justice Young this morning. The woman was fined and after payment was turned loose. Jones was remanded to jail for action by the grand jury on a charge of attempted murder. Thomas, who works at the Wayland hotel, and has a good reputation, was turned loose.

The negroes are coming into Plainview very fast just now, and as usual where there are negroes they are getting into fights among themselves. So far in the several cutting and shooting scrapes that have been pulled off nobody has gotten killed, but it will not likely be long until a first-class nigger funeral will be pulled off here, and you know a negro had rather go to a funeral than any social event.

Should Irrigate Land Here

Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Whitacre have returned from a trip in their car to Rogen, in Northeastern Colorado, where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Cloud. They also went up into Wyoming.

Mr. Whitaker says he was very much interested in the irrigated sections of those states, and sees no reason why the Shallowwater belt of the Plainview country should not become as great and prosperous a section as those he saw, as the land here is just as fertile and there is plenty of water to irrigate with.

BUSINESS MEN BELIEVE PROSPERITY WILL CONTINUE

Farmers in All Sections Except in Western Grain Belt Are Prospering and Optimistic

Chas. Reinken returned Sunday from his semi-annual buying trip to Chicago.

While away Mr. Reinken talked with many prominent business men in Chicago and other large cities, and found that they are not all apprehensive of dull business throughout the country as a whole, in fact they are optimistic that very prosperous times will continue for some time. Except in the Western wheat belt, including Minnesota and the Dakotas in the North and coming straight South to the Gulf, the farmers are prospering and are very optimistic, and when the cotton crop comes to the market at the price it now seems will obtain the Southern farmers will have their share in the prosperity of the nation.

The better plan would be to repeal the free-text book law. It should never have been adopted.

Really, if the European nations want help from the United States they should first get together and peaceably settle their quarrels. So long as they continue to wrangle Uncle Sam is not justified in doing anything for them.

The Filipinos are now very mad at Gen. Leonard Wood, the American governor-general, and are asking his recall. The Philippine cabinet has resigned as a body. We have never looked with any confidence upon Gen. Wood, and it is safe to say his appointment to the Philippines was a sad mistake. One of the great mistakes of Roosevelt was through personal friendship exalting Wood to high positions.

One by one are our long-cherished notions, as exploded by scientists. Professor Stratton of the University of California comes forward and boldly declares hat red does not make a bull particularly peevish and that white and green are all the same to him as carmine. The professor has tried all sorts of colors on bulls and says he knows whereof he speaks. However, regardless of scientific opinion the editor of this Great Moral Guide of the Plains is not going into a pasture where there is a bull and wave a red tablecloth in his face. We are going to stick to the old admonition—"Don't trust the bull."

A dog that was brought before a California court for having bitten a child seemed doomed to death in spite of an excellent reputation for good conduct. But the defense pointed out that the dog had bitten the child to save a bone, and on that evidence the judge ordered the case dismissed. "What more valuable property could a dog have than a large juicy bone," declared the judge. "Anyone trying to deprive a dog of such property has violated the latter's most sacred property rights, and it is an invasion which the dog has a right to prevent with force." From now on, it seems, a dog may gnaw his bone in security.

Quoting statistics as accurate as available, B. F. Yoakum, in a letter to William G. M. Adco, says that the 1922 crops of America sold for $7,500,000,000. That is the sum the producers received for their investment and labor. The railroads and other transportation companies added $500,000,000 to the original cost, while commission men, brokers, wholesalers, retailers and others engaged in the distribution of these products added $14,500,000,000 making the total cost to consumers $22,500,000,000. Stated in a different way, the total amount paid by consumers was divided as follows: Producers received 33 1-3 per cent; transportation companies 2.7 per cent; distributors 64 1-2 per cent.

WHY WE HAVE SO MANY LAWS

The chief reason why we have so many laws that even the lawyers and the judges can not keep track of them, is that most of us are constantly finding something that we ought to have a law for. No one ever spends any time in looking up the laws that ought to be repealed, but most of us, some time in life, suggest some new law and straight way start out a little propaganda campaign all our own. Perhaps the most fruitful source for hatching up new laws is our various organizations, civic, charitable, commercial or professional. Most of them, when closely examined, disclose a selfish purpose. The doctor on his way to his office notices an undernourished child on its way to school. He remarks, "We ought to have a law requiring medical examination of school children." It is a good suggestion, so the Medical Association says, and ere long we have the law. A man with a bilious attack is on his way to town and sees something that does not please him and immediately he suggests "that we ought to have a law against it." Other associations, organizations and individuals are constantly suggesting new laws, and when congress or the legislature is in session, members are systematically bombarded with telegrams and letters to such an extent that they are led to believe that their political life depends upon the passage of the laws suggested.

The laws of Texas are to be recodified. Many laws that are now obsolete or made null and void by the passage of other laws, will probably be eliminated. Even so, no doubt there are hundreds of other laws, unobserved and forgotten, or of a positive menace to the orderly development of business and industry of the state, that should be repealed. Let us hope that the next legislature will appoint a committee to list the obsolete, useless and unfair laws in our statute books with recommendations that they be repealed. In the meantime, let the citizens refrain from suggesting new laws. Let us declare a moratorium in law making.—Farm & Ranch.

WHO WANTS EUROPEAN IDEAS?

The Topeka State Journal says: "Since taking its first step in paternalism with the establishment of the interstate commerce commission, this country has gone far in attempting to direct or restrict the activities of the American people. We now have the federal trade commission, without whose bureaucratic sanction business is almost afraid to move. We have organized coal commissions and word comes from Washington that plans are being laid to create not only a general commodity commission but to organize a new bureau under the title of a food commission. It is also stated that several prominent members of congress will go abroad this summer to study the methods employed by European countries in administering the bureaus controlling commodities and directing marketing organizations. Our wonderful growth and prosperity have been achieved not on account of paternalistic direction, but in spite of it. Moreover, it should be kept in mind that bureaucratic domination, which might be successful under types of government peculiar to Europe, will not be successful in a republic where leadership belongs to the individual instead of being a function of the state."

It is a question open to discussion whether paternalism, socialism and the "divine right of socialisms" ever work successfully in Europe. The casual observer would come to the conclusion that they had made quite a mess of things over there and that it might be wise for this country to stick to its own constitution and not try to adopt a program based on worn-out European ideas.

TOO MUCH GOVERNMENT

When is somebody going to put a stop to the growth of government? Let your mind dwell a moment on the public offices you know, Federal State and Municipal. In how many of them do you recall a reduction in personnel?

Jobs have multiplied in all governments. In the United States, the growing tendency toward paternalism has resulted in the creation of commission after commission, of board after board. Many of these institutions are finely inspired. A woman of influence sees a baby under unhealthy conditions; she immediately concludes the state should take over the rearing of the child. A welfare worker discovers a tenement, poorly constructed; the regulation or construction must be done by the governmental agencies or under government control. There is a dark street; there must be an extra policeman on the beat. The ice on Wrangel Island is dangerous; there must be another ice-cutter at once. The dogs on Chestnut street are bothered by fleas, the city must employ a flea-catcher. Most of the ventures of government into channels of activity previously reserved to the individual are undertaken because a few enthusiasts see an impelling public need, while the majority of the taxpayers do not take the trouble to object to increase of public work.

But sometime, someone must halt this increase in governmental activity, this multiplication of employes whom the taxpayers must pay. It can't go on forever, else the logical conclusion, all government and no people, must be reached. We are not able to say offhand just what governmental experiments are unjustified. But all appreciate the fact that we have too much government. Government is getting so fat that it soon must eat its own fat. Nearly every human activity is affected in some degree by governmental agency. Someone must halt the expansion. Who will do it?—Dearborn Independent.

IN A MINOR STRAIN

To learn much, you must listen much, and then forget most of what you hear.

You can tell whether a man has quit his job or been fired by what he says about his late boss.

When a glutton's stomach begins foreclosure proceedings, the doctor shakes his head and the undertaker scents a job.

Plains Pete says: "A woman who tells fortunes hardly ever succeeds in makin' one."

State Tax Rate 75c

The State Tax Board has fixed the state total tax rate at seventy-five cents on each hundred dollars. That is the limit allowed by the constitution. It has been found that the taxable values in the state have decreased eleven million dollars and the comptroller estimates that it will take 40 or 50 cents to meet the appropriations made by the 38th legislature. This total is for schools, pensions and other things added to the 35 cents limit for general revenue. At that rate it will take the state a long time to get on a cash basis even with the highest possible tax rate allowed.

ABERNATHY

July 26.—Sunday several of the people of this community and Science Hill community had a big picnic dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Howard, five miles north of town.

Abernathy is to have a new doctor soon, as Dr. R. P. Price will be ready next Saturday to begin practice. Dr. Price comes from Canyon.

Friday, July 20th the Community Club met with Mrs. W. A. Goeth. Only a few members were present. The lesson was interesting and instructive. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Monday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rantz gave an "Afternoon Tea" in honor of Mrs. Carl Goo-man who is moving to Plainview soon. This afternoon was spent in doing fancy work and of course we did not talk a bit. The delicious refreshments consisting of salad, sandwiches and ice tea were enjoyed by all.

Miss Matilda Akeson, postmistress at Hale Center, spent the day in Abernathy Tuesday with postmaster A. G. Gilbert and family.—Review.

PLAINVIEW FOR THE TECH

O, these Plains, what a wonderful sight
To see folk doing things up right
Our land all ploughed, the seeds we plant
A bountiful harvest if the Lord doth grant.

Our soil is fertile, our climate fine
All we like is rain in time
Then we have the big irrigation well
That makes the purse of the farmer swell.

Our people big hearted, kind and true
And with the pep to get up and do,
Will land the Tech when the time comes round
When the committee the site has found.

Plainview's the place of course 'twil be
When the locating committee comes here to see
We have good roads, good land, good water
As for the town, they will find no better.

Our homes are beautiful, our yards well kept,
Our alleys are clean, our streets are swept,
Our camping park the tourists have found
Is quite an asset to our town.

We've planted roses, vines and trees,
That may enjoy the cooling breeze
That makes our climate so pleasant here
Right thru the hottest time of year.

We have good men and women, too
Bright growing children not a few
We work together hand in hand
The Tech. college we're sure to land.

Th' farmers too have lots of pride,
And with their town walk side by side
They love their farms and town so dear
They will help to bring the Tech college here.

Plainview is the place, without a doubt
The very best place on their route,
We've all the coons up one tree.

The Tech college here is sure to be.—Sent to the news by Ouida Ethel Hamilton, Plainview, Texas.

GOOD ROADS AND SPEED BRING DISASTER

Post Man Is Killed, and Woman Near Death When Car Goes Into Ditch

Lubbock, July 28.—One dead, one in the hospital and two seriously injured is the toll taken by good roads, and speed, near here last night.

While traveling at a high rate of speed in a practically new, sport model six cylinder automobile on the highway between Lubbock and Tahoka driven by Miss Eugene Jackson, an unexpected turn excited the driver, who lost control of the car. It plunged down a slight embankment, through a four wire fence and according to the evidences turned over two and a half times coming to rest bottom up with three of the party pinned underneath.

J. M. Weatherford, manager of the Algerita Hotel at Post City is dead, his head being practically severed from his body by a barbed wire that caught on his neck; Mrs. Grace Stahl is injured internally, being likewise severely cut by wire and is in a local hospital not expected to live.

Miss Jackson and M. T. Mitchell are badly bruised and cut, but not seriously injured.

Has Supply of German Marks Perkins & Stubbs have received a large supply of real paper German marks, and are giving them to customers.

The German mark is about the most worthless thing in the world now, as they dropped last week from 750,000 to 1,000,000 for an American dollar. A German mark before the war was worth about 24 3-4c each.

Not Many Are Notified

AGED MAN SLAIN IN BED IN AMARILLO

Head Beaten Into Pulp With Feet Tied, Robbery Held As Cause of Crime

Amarillo, July 29.—With his feet tied together and his head beaten into a pulp by some kind of a blunt instrument, the body of Diego Pareia, 63 years old, reputed wealthy Spaniard, and formerly a Catholic priest, but for the past four years an employe of a local railroad, was last night found in his home at 1305 East Fifth street. Robbery is held as the motive for the brutal murder as Pareia was known to have had possibly several thousand dollars in money in his possession. Recently he willed a sum reported at $30,000 to a sister in Spain.

Pareia lived alone in a home which he had recently purchased. His body was discovered by a neighbor who furnished the elderly man with milk and had gone to make the daily delivery. A bloody hammer was on the floor beside the bed, and all rooms of the house had been ransacked. No arrests have been made but officers are in search of a Mexican who had been employed by Pareia to do some carpenter work around his home.

He had been employed at the Fort Worth & Denver shops.

Officials making the investigation after the body had been found Saturday night believe that instigators of the crime first overpowered the old man, took what they could find and then became frightened and deemed it best to kill him. His head was beaten almost beyond recognition.

The young Mexican suspect was seen near the place Thursday afternoon and according to Mexicans who know of him, spends part of his time here and part away. They claim that he had not been seen by them for a week.

Two Mexicans are being held by the sheriff's department in connection with the death of Diego Perez Salazar, aged Spaniard, who was found dead at his home in the East Side Saturday night. Officers had finger prints taken of the two men and are having an expert to examine them to see if they are identified with prints found on a lamp chimney in Salazar's home.

Casual examination showed that the finger prints are similar, and a thorough investigation is being made, said Sheriff Less Whitaker Monday night. The two Mexicans were arrested Sunday morning.

REVOLUTION IS THREATENED

UNREST CAUSED BY SPIRITUAL LIFE OF DAY SAYS W. WILSON

Boston, July 27.—Former President Woodrow Wilson, writing under the caption "The Road Away from Revolution," for the August number of the Atlantic Monthly, sounds a note of warning that our civilization cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually.

This is the first time since his illness that Mr. Wilson has made public his views upon present day problems in the United States and through out the world. They will be preserved in permanent form between covers.

"In these dreadful and anxious days when all the world is at unrest, and look which way you will the road ahead seems darkened by shadows which portend dangers of many kinds, it is," says the one who commanded the ship of state during the World War, "only common prudence that we should look about us and attempt to assess the causes of distress and the most likely means of removing them."

"Real ground for the universal unrest," he asserts, "lies deep at the sources of the spiritual life of our time, and leads to revolution."

Russian Revolution
The cause of the Russian revolution which he calls the outstanding event of its kind in our age, was, in his view, a "systematic denial to the great body of Russians of the rights and privileges, which all normal men deserve and must have if they are to be contented and within reach of happiness."

"What has this to do with America? It was against capitalism," he declares, "that the Russian leaders directed their attack, and it is against capitalism under one name or another that the discontented classes everywhere draw their indictment."

Everywhere, he says, there are thoughtful men who believe that capitalism is indispensable to civilization, but he goes on to ask:

"Is the capitalistic system unimpeachable?"

"Is it not true," the inquiry continues, "that capitalists have often seemed to regard the men whom they used as mere instruments of profit, whose physical and mental powers it was legitimate to exploit? Ought we not to seek a way to remove such offenses and make life itself clean for those who will share honorably and cleanly in it?"

Face Supreme Task
"The world has been made safe for democracy. There need now be no fear that any such mad design as that entertained by the insolent and ignorant Hohenzollerns and their counsellors may prevail against it. But democracy has not yet made the world safe against irrational revolution. That supreme task, which is nothing less than the salvation of civilization, now faces democracy, insistent and imperative."

"The sum of the whole matter is that, that our civilization cannot survive materially unless it be redeemed spiritually. Here is the final challenge to our churches, to our political organizations, and to our capitalists—to everyone who fears God or loves his country."

TECH. BOARD HERE THURSDAY

by train schedule from all parts than Plainview, the good roads of the Plains, the high type of citizenship, religious, social and educational life of the people, freeness from immorality, comparative population to be served within certain radiuses, progressiveness of the people, statistics relative to soil and major crops, such as wheat, cotton, milo maize, kafir corn, truck gardening, alfalfa, fruits, cattle, hogs, sheep, hoeses and noles, poultry raising, dairying, toraage of crops shipped from Plainview and Hale county points, and a general and convincing plea of why this town affords the most advantageous location for the college in serving the greatest number of people in West Texas and the state at large.

At Cisco and Clyde
Cisco—July 26.—Following a strenuous day of site observation and sightseeing at Abilene, the Texas Technological college locating board was putting in another delightful but taskful job today when it made a tour of the Eastland county oil elds, inspected two sites offered by this city, saw the final work on the seventeen billion gallon Cisco lake dam, and heard the masterly presentation of Cisco's claims.

It was the eighteenth town visited by the board. A reception was tendered as the first number of the eventful program of the day.

A long 45-mile auto trip was then made over a brick paved highway through the oil fields, visiting Ranger and Eastland. At a point two miles south of Eastland a gasoline absorption plant was inspected by members of the board. Upon return to Cisco shortly after noon a luncheon was served at Harrel Hill.

The party left during the early afternoon for Clyde where inspection was made of the sites offered by that place. The party left over the Wichita Valley at 7 o'clock for Seymour which will be the next place visited by the board.

Seymour Gives Its Reasons

Seymour, July 27.—Modern railroad facilities with the prospect of even better connections to come when the new Texas Panhandle and Gulf line shall be opened up from Fort Worth to Tucumcari, N. M., via Seymour; an inexhaustible water supply from an immense underground lake; a great farming country suitable to the growing of any kind of crops, and a population of more than a half million souls within a radius of 100 miles were offered by Seymour today to the Texas Technological College locating board, as some of the substantial reasons why the new institution should be placed in this Baylor county city.

The principal address in behalf of Seymour was delivered by Isaac Newton, local attorney. He spoke in the court house following the inspection of the site offered by this city to the college. Later the board members were entertained at a luncheon down town. At 1 o'clock the board departed for Munday by automobile in charge of the Munday delegation which motored over to Seymour to meet the travelers. Munday will be inspected this afternoon, while Haskell and Stamford are scheduled for examination Saturday. The board will rest up in Stamford Sunday.

Strenuous Journey
The hop, skip and jump journey of the locating board for the last week has been a very strenuous one due to the hot weather and the fact that each day has seen two towns visited.

The members of the committee are holding up well under the grueling task. Most of the trip from now on until Aug. 7, when the last town, Vernon is to be inspected, will be made in automobiles.

The Plains country will be reached during the early part of next week and this the board members are looking forward to because of the cooler days and nights that are anticipated.

Munday Is Visited
Munday, July 27.—This little city which has risen from a mass of ashes in less than two years with thirty-five new business structures, new school building, water system, today sought the location of the Texas Technological college here.

Its connection with the railroad centers of Abilene and Wichita Falls by its own railroad, the Wichita Valley and connection by highway and bus line with the Orient just eleven miles away, were pointed out to the location board members.

Pointing out that the water supply is two million gallons a day water-bearing strata only forty feet beneath the surface and its climate is claimed to be equal to that of any town in western Texas, speakers urged the locators to consider this place thoroughly.

The board spent the night here and will go to Haskell and Stamford tomorrow.

At Stamford
Stamford, July 28.—The locating board of the Texas Technological college concluded its second week of work with the inspection of this city as a possible site for the new college this afternoon.

The locators were called for at Munday and brought here in the automobiles this afternoon. After an inspection of the land site and city water or system they rode in motor boats up the huge lake to Colonel Penick's summer home and took dinner, after which Stamford's claims were outlined. Buffalo steak from an animal killed on the Colbert ranch was the chief course of the menu this evening. The board will remain here in this morning for religious services. After service they will be taken to the Swensen ranch and given a chance to witness an old fashioned roundup and other ranch methods.

They will then ride to Hamlin and take the train for Snyder, the next scheduled inspection place.

Visit Haskell
Haskell, July 28.—The locating board of the Texas Tech arrived in Munday from Seymour at 2:30 p. m. and was met with the entire citizenship of the thriving little city. After a rest of one hour at the Terry Hotel the committee was escorted to the city hall and there went into a business session with the local committee when the proposed site was presented.

The history of Munday dates back about thirty years and among the first business enterprises established was a cotton gin built by Milt Myers in 1890. The first store was built in 1894. The first postmaster was K. P. Munday and the salary then paid was eight dollars per month.

The present population is 2500. The Chamber of Commerce is a live bunch of boosters. Water works system cost $65,000. The town has five churches, three schools, retail merchants association, parent-teachers' association, luncheon club, band and orchestra. The orchestra serenaded the locating board at midnight as the train pulled in going to Seymour last night. There was a basket supper served on the lawn of the city hall and more than fifteen hundred were seated and the crowd was estimated at 5,000. Five bands from the following towns furnished music: Knox City, Benjamin, Rhineland, Goree and Munday.

Standards bearing the names of the following towns in Knox county were placed on the lawn showing their loyalty to Munday for the location of the college: Munday, Knox City, Goree, Benjamin, Truscott, Vera, Heffner, Rhineland, Gilliland, Hood and Gillespie and Pleasant View in Haskell county.

Leaney's harmony set furnished snappy music during the program, under the tabernacle. W. R. McInnis was toastmaster, the welcome address was delivered by Mayor Judd E. Hammond. Dr. William P. Farrington was chairman of the local committee and there was not a hitch in the program. The board left at 8 a. m. for Haskell in autos.

Reception at Snyder

Snyder, July 30.—The Texas Tech. locating board have invaded Snyder and Snyder was prepared to receive the members for every body in the county is here and enthusiasm is the greatest shown on the entire trip. Mayor Fitz Smith headed a delegation of about 50 from Snyder and met the members at Sweetwater and brought them by auto, arriving about 7:30 p. m.

At Hemleigh the delegation was stopped and the pastor of the First Baptist church stated that their little city was squarely behind Snyder for this college. There about 200 autos met the party and accompanied them on to this place. Snyder citizens boast of the cleanliness of their city and they can well afford to for it is the cleanest of any other place thus far visited.

Judge M. E. Rosser former member of the legislature made this statement: "Snyder is a happy compromise between the great Panhandle-Plains country with its fields of grain and general farming and that vast expanse of territory below the caprock so well adapted to stock raising and cotton growing. To place this school farther south or east removes it from the Plains and to take it above the caprock that divides the Plains and the lower Plains country removes it from the rest of the territory."

"Being thus located we feel that there is no place better suited to meet all contesting sections. The board is being shown the site which adjoins the city limits and part of it within the corporate limits. At noon they will be given a dinner at the park."

All the towns in the county are represented here today, also 12 other counties. A delegation from Camp Springs has just arrived headed by Smith's band composed of father, mother, four sons and two daughters.

The board will leave at noon tomorrow for Post City. The locating committee was not appointed by the governor as some seem to think. They were designated by the provision of the bill creating this college and all are men of the highest type and their honor and integrity cannot be questioned. They are giving each site careful consideration and when they leave a place they have just that much more to think about for their minds are open and this school will be located where they think best for the interest of every body.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP AS REACTIONARY AS HELL ITSELF

At the recent annual convention of the Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania held in Reading, Pa., Henry Swift Ives, Secretary of the Casualty Clearing House of Chicago, made the following pertinent remark in regard to present-day tendencies: "Every addition to power of state

NEW STATE SCHOOL LAWS

LAW WILL PROVE OF REAL BENEFIT TO THE RURAL DISTRICTS IS BELIEF

We have had many inquiries concerning the school law which permitted State aid to country schools. We have not been able to get a synopsis of the law until this week when the county superintendent of Wilbarger county had it printed in the Vernon Record. We are taking the liberty of reprinting the article in full, at it will be of information to all:

"In order that trustees and those interested in the schools of our county may have a clear understanding of the Aid law as recently passed, I call attention of said law.

"1st. The size of the school that may apply for aid is limited to 400 as a maximum and 15 as a minimum number of pupils.

"2nd. Section 7 makes the first real provision for aiding in bringing about consolidation of small districts to the end that rural high schools may be provided. A flat donation of one thousand dollars may be made when a consolidation of districts has been effected that will provide a school of not less than four teachers. This one thousand dollars is available only for consolidations made between Sept. 1, 1923, and August 31, 1925, and can be used in paying for the new school building or its equipment, after its erection, or when nearing completion. Separate application blanks furnished by the State Department of Education must be used after the consolidation has been legally made.

"3rd. Section 6 provides an amount not exceeding $250.00 to purchase the necessary equipment for teaching and demonstrating Domestic Arts, Farm Mechanics and Agriculture to the girls and boys above 14 years of age, who attend the rural schools. This special aid will be of much benefit to those communities that desire to take advantage of the stimulating power of industrial training when presented through actual practice, and in connection with the usual school work. Approved plans, including out line of a two year equipment, and necessary qualifications will be furnished this office in a short time.

"4th. No aid will be granted to any school attempting to maintain a longer term than eight months. While we regret this provision of the law, there is nothing left for us to do but abide by it.

"5th. No one-teacher school, with an enrollment of more than twenty, shall receive aid, if said school offers work above the seventh grade. However, a grant of ten dollars per month may be obtained to pay transportation and tuition to a high school in another district.

"6th. No school shall receive aid for the year 1924-25 unless it shall have voted and provided for the collection of a tax of at least seventy-five cents on the hundred dollars of taxable property in said district.

"7th. Consolidated rural schools, formed in accordance with Section 7 of this act, which makes provision for transportation of its pupils, may be granted aid, in addition to the regular aid, equal to half of the amount spent in transportation. However, this amount to any one school may not exceed $50 for this purpose.

Qualifications of Teachers
"1st. Teachers holding only county certificates may not teach in State-aid schools.

"2nd. Not more than one second grade certificate may be used in any school, unless holder of said certificate has begun to build to a higher certificate, and has made a grade of 79 or above, on at least three subjects for the higher certificate.

"3rd. A teacher holding a second grade certificate may not be principal of a state-aid school, if it has two or more teachers.

"4th. Elementary certificates of the first class valid for two years shall be equivalent to second grade certificates and elementary certificates of the first class valid for more than two years shall be equivalent to first grade certificates."

affecting private property rights and privileges is a step backward. Every subtraction from such power is a step forward. The besetting sin of this generation is that there is too much addition and no subtraction. Democratic ideals are being scrapped and autocratic principles submitted. There is a sharp turning back to political principles of three centuries ago which held the state to be a paramount and the individual only a pawn in the game of Kings.

"The drift toward socialism of industries probably known as Public Utilities, is the most alarming manifestation of this reactionary and anti-democratic movement. If the state succeeds in absorbing insurance, transportation, light, power and food distribution, the socialist millennium will be just around the corner.

"There is no possible excuse for calling the government ownership movement a liberal tendency. It is as reactionary as hell itself. It harks back to the dark ages. It is the forerunner of a revival of autocracy. It feeds on misdirected altruism, thrives on good sentiment, and leads away from both."

A promise is the offspring of the intention, and should be measured by resolution.

THE FARM FEATURE

By Phebe K. Warner

Why do the home folks take the home paper? If the home editor only knew the whole answer to that question of his business would be an assured success. The editor is not caring so much what goes into his paper so long as it is decent and clean and a credit to him. He doesn't care whether the columns are filled with parties, missionary meetings, revivals, weddings, births, oil news, real estate transfers or what not. What he wants to do is to please the people if such thing be possible. That is why he is in the business primarily. And the better he pleases the people the more profit there is in the business for him. And that is his secondary motive in running a paper. Now, you may not believe that. You may think we have those motives reversed. But we haven't. No, the average newspaperman is not in the business for his health or for his personal amusement. But the successful newspaperman is in the business for the sake of being some real service to his community and his country and the joy that comes through achievement. That man is the happiest who puts something over whether he makes a pile of money or not. But if he can make good money by putting a good business over then he is a happier man.

This is why we say the first purpose of the newspaper man is to please and serve the people. And if he fails to do this watch his subscription list dwindle. But if he can only find out what it is that the people really want that what he is going to try to give them. For, after all, publishing a newspaper is just like any other mercantile business, you have to sell the news to the people and in order to do that you have to have what they want for sale. And the whole business finally resolves itself into the study of your patrons and readers. We say patrons and readers because so often folks do take time to read the home paper who do not go to the trouble and expense of paying for it.

Now we are wondering where most of the people live and what they do who read this paper. Do you live in town and have things for sale, or do you live in the country and go to town for most of your buying? And if you live in the country do you have any thing for sale that the town folks might need or want? If the latter do you ever let the town folk know what you have for sale? And along with all the town talk that finds its way to the country via the home paper route is there a spot anywhere in your paper that is devoted especially to the country readers and their interests? For instance, who pays for the paper? Dad, of course, as a rule. Well, is there a page or a column in the paper anywhere of special interest to the farm dad and his business? Is there in definite section set apart for the exchange of ideas and hogs, chickens and seed corn and farm machinery, and anything else he may want to get rid of or get?

Now, we are not saying this to boost the Groom Booster, but we believe the Groom Booster carries one of the best farm features of any county weekly in the whole country. But the Groom Booster is unique in other ways as well. It's mak-up is on the magazine style which gives it more pages of less size than the regular county weekly paper. The chief advantage of this style is it has more separate spaces for different kinds of news, making it possible to dignify more special interests with a whole page space. In its "Better Livestock Means a Better County" section and "Scrub Days are Over" every member of the farm home has a place. Read this example:

"PIG CLUP PIGS"

"I'm offering choice pigs at weaning age out of my Poland China Pig Club Gilt—a full sister to the Lieutenant, and sired by a good son of the Jayhawker, at $25.00 each.—Miss Joinate Elikins."

How is that for a farm ad? Don't you suppose a girl that is doing such a business as that will be interested in what every other girl in the county is doing in the better live stock business? And don't you suppose her father is prouder of that ad than if it were his own? And don't you imagine that ad inspires them to send that paper to their friends and relatives all over the country? Just now it seems that hogs and hogs and hogs is the farm feature of that paper. "Getting hogs ready for the Fall Fair," "Pigs Keep Boys on the Farm," "Club Work has developed a business relationship that I never dreamed could exist between father and son," says one father. Oh, it's fine when father and son are interested in the same business and the same newspaper and read and study the same things and get acquainted with each other by working together for better things—even hogs. If hogs will bring the fathers and sons together in friendly business relations let's have more hogs. Let's advertise the truth about hogs.

Now, we are wondering how many of the readers of the home paper ever march up to the editor and tell him what they like in his paper and what they would like to read in its columns. And if there are anything in it you do not like (of course there are, do you ever offer something better to fill that space? Or do you keep your good ideas to yourself and then criticize what you do not like in the paper and keep quiet about the things that do please you? If the farm folk want more farm news in the paper and Jess city and town society news then it is up to them to help put it there by supporting and filling a section with their own interests. The average editor would rather report a fine crop of Poland China pigs once in a while than one more pink tea. We believe the home paper can help turn the tide of humanity back toward the farm by using more farm features for farm folks. The country folks know what is going on in town all right. But how about the town folks? Do they hear half the good that is going on in the country? The home paper is the only medium of exchange. It is the only publication that is universally read in the town and in the country. Why don't more farm folks take their home paper?

What do you know about "motor oil vitality"?

Do you know why some oils get thin and "go dead" quicker than others? It's all a matter of proper refining or, better yet, distillation.

Sunoco Motor Oil has tremendous vitality because every type is wholly distilled. Most oils are not pure, because they are compounds of light oil and gummy "cylinder stock" which is not a good motor lubricant and causes carbon. Sunoco is the only wholly distilled oil in all types.

You wouldn't put dirty water in your battery. You use distilled water. Use

SUNOCO

You'll get more power, more mileage, smoother motor performance and more fun out of driving. It lasts longer and is the most economical oil for any car.

FRANCE WILL NOT YIELD TO BRITISH

Is Firm in Opposition to British Policy of Modification—Germany Nearing Collapse

London, July 30.—The French and Belgian ambassadors this evening handed to Lord Curzon, secretary of the state of foreign affairs, the reply of their governments to the British note proposing negotiations with Germany to solve the problems of the Ruhr and the greater problem of German reparations. Thus, commonplace enough, ended one chapter in the trying negotiations.

It is a question in the mind of the British public whether these notes do more than open another chapter in the wearisome process. If Premier Baldwin has brought about any change resembling finality or an alibi agreement he will be acclaimed as a miracle worker. But there are no signs that a miracle has been worked.

Premier Baldwin and Lord Curzon plainly cherish no such optimism. Both spoke briefly in parliament—the commons and Lords, respectively—today on the position of the negotiations at that moment. Both were terse, neither voiced any hope that Great Britain and France had drawn closer together.

There will be an attempt to discuss the topic before parliament adjourns Thursday as the members are eager to learn the exact aspect of affairs.

No promise was given today that they would likely see the curtain raised. The premier, speaking only an hour or so before the foreign secretary received the ambassadors, told the commons it was very doubtful whether anything would be received which could be published in Thursday's debate. The premier gave one gloomy hint. "I am afraid," he said, "it will only be a continuation of the negotiations."

Lord Curzon told the lords with an air of weary resignation he certainly would give them a statement Thursday if it were within his power to do so, but his manner clearly indicated he did not think it would.

No hint came across the channel that Premier Poincare has abandoned or even modified the views which his government has previously held tenaciously and on every opportunity he has reiterated the planks in his platform that there will be no beginning of conversations with Germany until and unless Germany formally renounces passive resistance in the Ruhr and that there will be no withdrawal from the Ruhr until Germany has paid France all she demands.

T. E. Richards of the Richards store has gone to eastern markets to make purchases of fall and winter merchandise.—Amarillo News.

The Rev. Oscar A. Brown of New Orleans will assist the pastor of the Presbyterian church in a revival to begin in Tulla August 12.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

STATE OF TEXAS,
To the sheriff or any constable of Hale county—GREETING:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this citation in some newspaper in the County of Hale, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Glen M. Denby, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the honorable district court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Hale, at the court house hereof, in Plainview on the 6th day of August, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court, on the 9th day of July, A. D. 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 2222, wherein Erma Denby is plaintiff and Glen M. Denby is defendant.

The nature of the plaintiffs demand being as follows, to-wit:
STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Hale

In the district court of Hale county, Texas, August term, A. D., 1923.
To the Hon. R. C. Joiner, judge of said court.

Now comes Erma Denby, who will hereinafter be styled plaintiff, and complaining of Glen M. Denby, who will hereinafter be styled defendant, with respect to the court shows.

First—That plaintiff is and has been for a period of twelve months prior to exhibiting of petition herein an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in said county of Hale for at least six months next preceding the filing of this suit.

II

The plaintiff and defendant were lawfully intermarried in Hollywood, Calif., on the nineteenth day of June 1922, and lived together as husband and wife until on about the twenty-sixth day of December, 1922, when they separated and have not since lived together. Plaintiff further shows that during the time of their married life she was a dutiful wife, kind and affectionate to her husband, but that the defendant on the other hand soon after they were married began a course of unkind, harsh, cruel and tyrannical treatment toward plaintiff, which continued until plaintiff was forced and compelled to abandon defendant on December 26th, 1922; that defendant often cursed and abused plaintiff and applied to her the vilest and most opprobrious epithets without any cause or provocation whatever on the part of plaintiff. Plaintiff further shows that defendant was a soldier in the army, received wounds and was seriously shell-shocked, which greatly affected his mind and caused him to be peevish, irritable and at times beside himself so that he was incapable of cool reflection and at times became violent and dangerous toward this plaintiff. Plaintiff further shows that defendant had antipathy for one of his sisters by the name of Avice Hannah and would not speak to her and that on or about July 15th, 1922, when plaintiff and defendant were visiting in the home of plaintiff's mother the defendant became enraged at plaintiff and cursed and abused plaintiff in the home of his mother and in the presence and hearing of the family because plaintiff spoke kindly to defendant's said sister, Mrs. Avice Hannah. Plaintiff further shows that Mrs. Hannah lived only one block from defendant's mother and on or about the 15th day of August, 1922, was sick in bed and that defendant's mother, Mrs. Denby, was keeping the infant child of Mrs. Hannah in her home during said day and that late in the evening the plaintiff being in the home of the defendant's mother delivered said infant child across the block to the home of its mother, Mrs. Hannah, and that defendant on discovering said act of plaintiff, became enraged at her and cursed and abused her for this act of kindness. Plaintiff further shows that on December 24th, 1922, and while she was seriously sick in bed and all alone, defendant went off, got drunk and stayed away all day and most of the night in a drunken revelry with others, leaving and abandoning plaintiff in her sick and suffering condition; that two days thereafter she was forced to go to the hospital for treatment and an operation and the defendant, although amply able financially to do so, refused to pay her hospital fees and she was forced to go to the county hospital where she could receive and did receive free treatment and a free operation. Plaintiff further shows that such treatment and misconduct upon the part of defendant was cruel, inhuman and unkind and such as to render their further living together incompatible.

WHEREFORE: Plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition in terms of the law and that upon final hearing thereof bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between plaintiff and defendant, for all costs of suit and all reliefs, both general and special in law and in equity to which she may be entitled.

OXFORD & BAIRD,
Attorneys for Plaintiff.

Herein fail not, and have you before said court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Plainview, Texas, this the 9th day of July, A.

LICE ON MELONS

By R. O. Dunkle
The melon aphid or plant lice appear nearly every season on melons and cucumbers, and often do great damage. They can be controlled with a contact spray; poisons are useless.

The best contact spray is 40 per cent nicotine sulphate, diluted at the rate of 1 part to 700 parts water, to which is added 1 pound of soap to every 50 gallons of solution to act as a spreader. This can be secured at almost any drug store. It is concentrated and must be diluted.

In spraying, high pressure should be used. This preparation kills only by contact, consequently care must be used to hit all the insects, using an angle nozzle to apply to the lower surface of the leaf, and doing the work before infestation has progressed to such a state that the leaves are curled.

Curly Clipped from Lubbock Girl
Lubbock, July 28.—Lubbock was visited by a curl robber last night when the residence of E. G. Warlick was entered by an intruder between ten thirty and eleven who succeeded in clipping half of the curly hair from the head of Reba, the beautiful fourteen year old daughter of the house before her screams awoke her father. The young girl was awakened by the intruder endeavoring to turn her head over so he could clip the other side of her head. Her father followed the trail of the intruder but was unable to catch sight of him. Further investigation is being made.

Mrs. Sykes Honored With Party
Mrs. Meade Griffin and Mrs. D. P. Jones entertained Saturday morning honoring Mrs. Griffin's mother, Mrs. John W. Sykes of Corpus Christi.

The party was at the new home of the Griffins on Fresno street, and lovely summer flowers added more freshness to the home. Bridge was the game of the morning, there being ten tables in play. The high score honor was held by Miss Helen Ware. After the games a salad course was served.

Miss Vencil Entertains With Bridge
Miss Myrtle Vencil entertained Thursday evening, complimentary to Mrs. Howard Parsley and Miss Bertie Ruth Durrett of Fort Worth and Miss Whitehead, who are summer visitors in Plainview.

Interesting games of bridge were played, after which an ice course was served.

The out-of-town guests were Judge E. C. Nelson of Floydada, Miss Katherine Adkins of Lubbock and Mrs. Lawrence Nobles of Memphis.

Rotary Club
The Rotary Club at its luncheon today had an educational program, and Jim Anderson and Meade Griffin talked on the code of ethics of the club.

The visitors were Rotarian Herbert Dysart of Amarillo and R. L. Eddleman of Joshua.

Spent the Weekend At Crystal Falls

A number of Plainview people spent the weekend at Crystal Falls, in Blanco canyon, five miles east of Crosbyton. Included in the party were Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson and cake were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Laura.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. W. Thomas, Wednesday, August 29th. Subject of lesson will be Galatians and Ephesians, with Mrs. Ranpy as leader.

Shower for Bride-to-Be
Misses Crystelle Owens and Marie McDonald entertained Thursday afternoon at the Owens home with a "shower" honoring Miss Thelma Murphy, who has since become the bride of Mr. J. D. Johnson of California.

Shasta daisies were used in the decorations of the house, and at the honoree entered Miss Virginia Keys played on the piano a few strains of the wedding march.

A wedding bell of flowers hung from the ceiling in the center of the room and each flower gave up a secret of the future of the guests. The bride-to-be was then asked to ring the bell, and from it fell a maize of dainty gifts from her friends.

Then followed a musical program in which Mrs. J. Rouse Morris of Dallas, guest of Miss Owens, sang, and Little Miss Ruth Looper gave several fancy costume dances.

An ice course was served, and the favros for the guests were candy corsages.

Intimate letters from the guests to be read in the California home were given the bride-to-be.

Yokahama Girls Go to Canyon

A number of the local Yokahama Girls club, chaperoned by Mrs. O. P. Clark and Mrs. L. M. Faulkner, have gone to the Northwest Texas Methodist encampment grounds near Canyon, where they will spend a few days in camps. About two hundred girls from over the district will be there.

Children Should Be Taught Self-Control and Responsibility

I sometimes visit in a home in a home which there are several children. Although my friends are cultur-rugs, I know beyond doubt that they were raised up to eat on oil-cloth tables, and to live on bare floors.

At this woman's table food is served suitable to the infantile tummy and other food adapted to the sophisticated palates of adults, but there is no whining of the children for the good things of which their elders partake.

"Isn't it rather hard for the kiddies to see us eating things they can't have?" I once asked.

"Perhaps," replied the mother, "but they've got to go through life seeing other people have things that they can't have, and they can't learn too early how to take this philosophically and to make themselves unhappy over it.

Which of those two mothers, do you think, is best fitting her children for the battle of life? The one who is pampering her children and making them wear, or the one who is teaching her children self-control and hardening them.

What children do you think have the best chance in the world?

With one voice everybody will say that it is the disciplined children, the children who have been taught obedience and consideration for others and their proper place in the scheme of things, who will make happy and prosperous men and women. It is the spoiled, overindulged children, who have been brought up to be autocrats in their own homes and who believe that they can run roughshod over the world, who are ground to powder when they come to real grips with life.

This is a matter of common knowledge, and yet so many parents love their children with such obsessing tenderness that they do all that they can to unfit them for life, in which the battle is to the strong and the victory to the fighter.

These unwise parents never deny their children anything. They walk that their children may ride in automobiles. They go shabby that their children may be idle. They never throw any responsibility on their them at every turn.

The temptation to spoil and indulge children is very great, but the parents who do so work their children a greater wrong than hate itself could devise. The first duty of fathers and mothers is to fit their children for the battle of life, and you do not do that by making them soft.—Dorothy Dix.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR

By Phebe K. Warner

Do you know what you missed last year by not going to the writers' conference held at the Texas A. & M. College during the Farmers' Short Course in July 1922?

Of course if you did not go you do not know what you missed. That's natural. It is also past—the opportunity is again knocking. The county editors are again invited to attend the conference of agricultural writers which will be held this year, the last week in July at the A. & M. College at the same time of the Farmers' Short Course.

Yes, it will be hot; but it is hot most everywhere in the summer time and you can't find a much cooler hot place in July than the big city, shady A. & M. campus. So if you are looking for a good comfortable place to spend a week's vacation, here is your chance to be the guest of your own State Agricultural and Mechanical College. And of all the folks in the state, editors of home and county papers ought to see and know and understand the work of their own A. & M. College. Because of all our institutions the county weekly publication is the link between, and the tie that binds the people of the open country to their particular special college. How is the new knowledge that is constantly being evolved through the work of the A. & M. College ever to reach the people except through the medium of the home paper? What other institution reaches all the people every week but the home paper? And just here we are asking ourselves to what extent that statement is true. How many people in your county read the home paper? And why does not every home have the home paper in it?

This is one of the first problems the writers conference at the A. & M. last year tried to solve. And every county editor was invited to that meeting to help solve it but only a few of them came. Most of the guests last year were representatives tion to your farm patron as you do to your town patron? Do you try to boost his business the same as the merchants? Does he advertise what he has for sale in your columns? There are away more folks in the country who have things for sale than there are in the town. They may not have as many different things as the 10c store. But there are men in your territory who have a half dozen animals that may mean a bigger investment than the whole 10c store in your town. Do you get that man's advertising? Are you running any special features for the farmer so that he feels that he has a real part in the make-up of your paper? The Groom Booster, out in Carson county has its "Live Stock Page" and the people are not only looking forward from week to week to see what is on that page they need but are using it as a marketing center to let their neighbors know what they have for sale. Is your paper simply a means by which you make a living, or is your paper your medium of service to your community? Is your greatest joy the dollars and cents you get out of it or the good you are doing and the things you help put over through it? Are you studying your people to be better able to give them what they need and what they want in a home paper or are you putting out what pleases YOU, and trying to sell yourself to somebody else all the time instead of investing your life in their life?

These are a few examples of the problems the writers' conference will help you solve if you attend it. But there is still another phase to this conference. The most inspiring of all. It is the week's association with your kind of folk. It is the week's mixing and mingling with those who are interested in doing the things you are trying to do. It is the finding of friends you did not know you had and meeting folk that understand you without a life-long acquaintance with all your family tree. Last year the A. & M. College entertained the writers' conference in the

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist Women

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist Missionary Society met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. R. E. Ranpy. Subject of the lesson was II Corinthians with Mrs. L. A. Jones as leader. Eleven ladies were present. Mrs. D. D. Bowman and Mrs. E. W. Thomas were received as new members. Mrs. W. H. Woodall was a visitor.

Following the lesson a short business session was held. Collection of dues and free will offerings amounted to $1.84. Delicious home made ice cream and ed and wealthy their house is bleak and bare as a barn. Heavy servicable druggets cover the floor. The plain, substantial furniture is battle-scarred, and looks as if it had been through the wars.

"Our home is for our children," says the parents. "We don't want to put any restrictions on their use of it or their pleasure in it, so we have nothing that they can possibly hurt, and they can kick everything around as much as they like."

The meals in this home are sterilized, repasts, and you sit down to a dinner of petrified milk, and bread and butter, and boiled mutton and tapioca pudding.

"We never have anything on the table that isn't good for the children to eat," apologize the infatuated parents.

I visited at another home filled with beautiful and artistic furniture, priceless old mahogany and fragile ornaments and what not. Here are also children, but nothing is defaced, nothing broken.

"I am trying to rear my children up to be ladies and gentlemen," says the mistress of the house. "I want to give them the taste and refinement that come from having lived in beautiful surroundings, and from having had an artistic background in their childhood. I've never put anything out of the reach of little hands. I have taught little hands not to reach. I've taught my children not to be destructive, and that it was an actual sin to deface a beautiful object. To my mind nothing is such an infallible test of people's breeding as the way they handle furniture. When a woman rings my mahogany by putting a wet glass on it and a man drops cigar ashes on my Oriental children. They never teach their children that they have any duty to any human being.

They try to make the world a bed of down for their children and to protect them from every wind that blows, and they forget how brief is childhood and youth, and how short a parent's arms. For in a little while the children are out of the home nest, and where their mother's and father's love is powerless to save them from the common fate, and the trials and tribulations that every human being must meet.

It doesn't help them to have had parents who have never developed a single muscle in their body or sinew in their soul. It doesn't help the boy who must begin at the bottom of the ladder to have been brought up to believe that he is the king-pin of the universe. It doesn't help the boy who must take orders from a boss never to have learned how to obey. It doesn't make it easier for the boy who must dig in and work never to have had any tasks to perform. It doesn't make it easier to eat poor food and sleep on a hard bed to come from a home in which your mother always opened your eggs and seeded your grapefruit, and turned down your bed for you so that everything might be just as you liked it.

No wonder so many boys and girls who have health and strength and intelligence and who ought to succeed never from job to job, always failures drift making good. They are the results of the parents' handiwork. They have been made soft when they should have been made hard. They have been made weak where they should have been made strong. They have not been given the grit or the courage to fight, and so life beats almonds, 1-4 cup whipped cream, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Mix ingredients and spread on thin slices of brown bread and butter.

Fig and Nut—One-half cup chopped figs, 1-2 cup chopped nuts, lemon juice.

Mix figs and nuts and add lemon juice to make moist. Use with brown bread.

Prune and Peanut Butter—Wash prunes well. Pour boiling water over prunes and let stand 10 minutes. Dip in cold water dry on a clean, soft cloth. Cut from stones and put thru food chopper. To 1-2 cup chopped prunes add 4 tablespoons peanut butter. Work smooth and put between thin slices of bread and butter.

Ginger and Cheese—One-half cup chopped preserved ginger, 1-2 cup cream cheese, 4 tablespoons cream.

Chop ginger very fine and add cream to make smooth. Work in cheese and use with brown bread.

Carl McDaniel of Idalou was here the past week having his eyes treated. Recently he got some battery acid in his eyes, which damaged them greatly. He says the crops around Idalou are good and the people very hopeful of good times when cotton begins to move to market.

A. G. Hemphill and family and Prof. Horace Duncan have returned from an auto trip of thirty days. They visited Colorado points, Yellowstone Park and came back through New Mexico, where they spent two weeks fishing. They had a delightful time.

A promise is the offspring of the intention, and should be nurtured by recollection.

from the big state dailies. But you are all invited again this year. The meeting will be held at the same time as the Farmers' Short Course, the last week in July. The date is fixed at this time to give the editors of the home papers the opportunity to see the A. & M. College in action. They have the privilege of spending the week at the college with hundreds and hundreds of farmers, their wives and their sons and daughters who meet there from the four corners of the State for one week of intensive work, study and recreation. They have the opportunity to see what the boys and girls on the farms of Texas are doing and can do with scientific direction. They have the opportunity to hear the expert agriculturists from all over the United States who are gathered there at that time to give instruction and lectures on their special lines of work. All this and more beside two conferences every day with the newspaper and magazine folks who are directly interested in helping us all to be better workmen in our line.

These conferences were held every morning and afternoon in the Extension building, under direction of Mr. Jackson of the publicity staff of the college. The purpose of the writers' conference was an intensive study of the mission of the county weekly publications and how to make them function to perform the greatest service to the people and the territory they reach. Is your paper all you want it to be? Is your list of patrons as long as you want it to be? Does every farmer in your territory take your paper? Does every farmer advertise in your paper. Where do most of your patrons live, in town or on the farm? Do you pay as much atten-college sanitarium for the entire week. And every morning, noon and evening meal was a social and spiritual repast as well as physical.

We do not know the details of this year's arrangements but if you are a country editor it will pay you to be there and see for yourself what the conference will mean to you and your publication.

An Unusual Record

Announcement is being made in this issue of the Plainview News that Green Bros. Co., the large furniture store of Amarillo, will begin a removal sale of their entire stock of furniture, stoves, etc., on Monday, August 6th.

Although these people have been in the furniture business in Amarillo for more than sixteen years, they have never had a sale. This is rather an unusual record for a big concern like Green Bros. Co., for most furniture stores have sales very often. These people say they do not believe in sales, and would not put on this Removal Sale, except for the fact that they are building, at the corner of Sixth and Taylor streets, a new four-story building, and expect to occupy it about Sept. 25th, and they do not want to move their stock.

The people of Plainview and surrounding territory can depend on Green Bros. Co. offering real values during the sale. Read their adv. in this issue of the News.

Will Place Agency Here
O. W. Peterson of Fort Worth, state agent for Lee auto tires, was here Thursday and made arrangements to open a sales agency for the tires in Plainview.
