WILL PROMOTE TRUCK FARMING

COMPANY WITH $20,000 CAPITAL BEING ORGANIZED TO BUY LAND

At a massmeeting held at the Board of City Development quarters in the municipal auditorium last night it was decided to form a stock company of $20,000, which will buy a tract of more than a hundred acres, well improved and under irrigation, which will be cut up into small tracts and rented out to experienced truck growers, the company to furnish the water for irrigation purposes. The 122-acre tract of land on the hill south of town, known as the Ellerd place, was spoken of several times as being a likely tract for the purpose, and a price has been secured for its purchase. It is proposed to induce experts from the irrigated sections of Colorado to come here and rent land or buy small tracts for truck growing, the purpose being to teach the people by actual work how to truck farm.

About sixty representative citizens attended the meeting last night. President C. S. Williams of the Chamber of Commerce, presided.

Kinder Submits Plan

L. S. Kinder, a member of the committee on irrigation, recently appointed to draw up plans for promotion of truck growing, made a report. He stated that the committee has covered quite a field of investigation, and is of the opinion that the Plainview country is especially adapted to successful irrigated truck growing, for the several truck farms about Plainview are netting the owners from $300 and up per acre. And, if the few can make the success they are, there is no reason why on a large scale it would not be even more profitable, and the possibilities are almost beyond comprehension.

The committee is of the opinion that a stock company be organized and buy a tract of land, improved and under irrigation, to go into the truck growing districts and induce experienced men to come here and engage in the business and grow various products. A committee will leave Sunday for Rocky Ford and other towns in the Arkansas Valley district in Colorado, and it should be able to offer men leases on tracts of land here, so they could begin work at once and raise crops the coming year. The details of the organization of the proposed corporation were given by Judge Kinder.

Also this committee should encourage local farmers to engage in the irrigated farming on small tracts of from twenty to eighty acres.

M. J. Baird, also of the committee, and who is associated with Herman Bleuer of Albuquerque, N. M., states that Mr. Bleuer emphasized that two things are necessary to successful truck gardening and they are—growing the stuff and properly looking after the marketing, and that experienced men must be secured for this latter job.

Can Equip Plant Cheaply

E. Dowden, also of the committee, stated that for the coming year or two adequate markets can be found in Amarillo, Lubbock and other towns on the Plains where vegetables are not so successfully grown, and that these markets can be reached daily by truck lines. He stated that for $1,000 a man can put down two wells, equip them with pumps and seven-h.p. engine, concrete reservoir, etc., and be able to get 200 gallons of water per minute, which will irrigate three acres of land a day, and with such an equipment a farmer can handle twenty-five acres under irrigation.

Mr. Williams declared that in this section it seems thirty acres is about the ideal tract for a farmer to operate in miscellaneous crops.

A. E. Boyd urged that a corporation be formed for the purpose stated by Judge Kinder, and made a motion to adopt and put same into effect.

A. G. Hinn of the Harvest Queen Mills stated that he believes the proposition is a long step in the right direction and if put through would prove a big thing for the Plainview country.

H. E. Skaggs stated that it was a good thing and he was in favor of it. E. H. Perry, B. H. Towery and Dr. E. O. Nichols also made short talks favorable to organizing for the promotion of truck growing.

E. W. Thomas, county agent, declared the plan suggested seems feasible and could be put over, but he doubted if the corporation should go into the production end (it having been suggested that a manager be employed who would actually farm about thirty acres of the land), for the individual can do better than if hired.

E. H. Humphreys said this was one of the greatest things we have ever brought forward, and if the proper man can be secured to handle it he could see no reason why it should not prove a success.

Bowman Favors Individual Farmers
D. D. Bowman, farm manager for the T. L. & D. Co., declared it might be possible for the corporation to succeed in production, but he believed it would be better to cut the tract up into small tracts and rent or sell to individual truck growers, and furnish them with water at a certain amount. He stated that the syndicate has several patches which it is leasing at $25 an acre, or on the shares. The renter has up to Sept. 1st sold $267 worth of canteloupes from less than a quarter of an acre. Another had up to Sept. 1st sold more than $400 worth of stuff from two acres and will get a lot more.

E. Graham, attorney, who has had experience in irrigated growing of alfalfa, wheat and oats, thought a financial success should be made of it, for the T. L. & D. Co. has done so. He urged that one man be sent to Colorado to investigate the matter and see if a proper manager could be secured and if truck farmers could be induced to come here.

Marketing is Most Important

V. L. Formway, who at one time raised truck in East Texas, stated that the proper marketing of products is the most important item in making a success of the business. That it should be arranged so that daily car load shipments go out.

Chas. Reinken declared that he is strong for the encouraging of truck growers to farm small irrigated tracts and there is no reason why we should not capitalize our unlimited water and soil resources. W. E. Risser spoke along the same line.

A. B. Spencer Talks

A. B. Spencer of Crosbyton, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said he had come here to learn of truck farming. Co-operative marketing and the securing of good markets are the great points in success of failure. He told of the truck patches at the Caprock Dairy Farm at Crosbyton, where water has to be pumped from a depth of 180 feet, and of the abundant yield of products he had seen the past week, and of the large shipment of vegetables that are shipped to the larger cities each day. He urged a form of compulsory co-operative marketing which should be worked out at the beginning, for perishable products cannot be successfully handled any other way.

S. S. Sloneker, who has had experience in truck gardening, said that some sort of a cold storage plant should be provided in order to properly prepare the stuff for shipment. He told of the wonderful crops of strawberries and asparagus raised on a small tract of land in Seth Ward addition by J. O. Duensing.

It was stated that the Panhandle Produce Co. had said it could if necessary enlarge its cold storage facilities for handling truck.

John Boswell said the local truck growers are anxious for more farmers to engage in the business, so that carload shipments can be made and thus better markets secured. The possibilities of truck growing and grapes would in time necessitate the building of canning and grape juice factories here.

E. B. Miller declared the success of truck farming lies in having a marketing manager who knows how to handle the business.

The matter of organizing a corporation was discussed in detail and it was at last decided the better plan would be to organize with a paid-up capital of $20,000. A subscription list was presented and several placed their names on it for various amounts. A committee will circulate the list for additional amounts. It was announced that no commission is to be paid anybody for getting up the charter or negotiating for the land.

H. E. Skaggs and Solon Clements were appointed a purchasing committee to secure prices on proper tracts of land.

The jury in the case of L. J. Starkey, who murdered Pet Brown near Eastland, again failed to agree, and there was a mistrial—three for acquittal and nine for conviction. In a former trial one juror fias for acquittal and the other eleven, so we are told, were for death penalty. Plainview citizens who have been in Eastland county, say that the Ku Klux is the issue in the case, and the klansmen on the jury were for acquittal in each trial.

BAPTISTS WILL BUILD CHURCH

ARCHITECT PREPARING PLANS—HOPE TO BEGIN WORK NEXT SPRING

The Plainview Baptists expect to begin building a modern brick house of worship by next spring, so stated Pastor Harlan J. Matthews to the editor of the News today.

Lawrence Kerr of Amarillo was here this week conferring with the building committee and has been appointed architect for the proposed church. He will prepare a number of sketches to be submitted, and after he has secured a survey of what the committee desires will prepare plans to be submitted. The building will cost possibly $50,000 to $100,000.

Pastor Matthews stated that a little later a campaign will be put on to secure funds with which to erect the new church.

Rev. John R. Rice of Fort Worth arrived yesterday, and will become assistant pastor of the church under Pastor Matthews.

Railroad Committee Reports

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting last night the railroad committee which went to Memphis a couple of weeks ago reported what had been done.

H. E. Skaggs, chairman, made the report and said that the people of Memphis expressed their interest in the proposed line and that another meeting of committees from the two towns will be held soon. He urged that "we keep working on the proposition, and in time we can get a charter, certificate of convenience and necessity and secure the right-of-way."

The committee had with it the maps and data and field notes made several years ago by the surveyors of Dr. Pearson of the Texas Land & Development Co., who ran a survey from Plainview to Memphis.

Rural Schools Will Open

Mrs. Ola Legg, county school superintendent, informs us that all the rural schools of Hale county except Mt. Vernon and Reed will open Monday. Reed will not begin until the new school building is completed.

Miss Mabel Hill of Canyon has been employed as principal of the Happy Union school, and Miss Vera Hamilton of Lockney will be her assistant.

Miss Piott of Plainview has been employed to teach the Stoneback school.

Cotton is Opening

Cotton in the Plainview country is beginning to open, and the first bale is looked for at any time. The prospects for a very heavy yield is growing more encouraging, and some folks predict that the crop in Hale county will range as high as ten to twelve thousand bales. The price is going up rapidly on account of the short yield throughout most sections of the Southern States.

Thousand Teachers Attend Institute

More than a thousand teachers are attending the Consolidated Teachers Institute at the Canyon Normal which started Monday and runs until Friday afternoon. The attendance this year is by far the largest in the history of the organization and the program is said to be superior to other years.

Twenty-five counties are in attendance.

$1,500 Cash in Poker Game

Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Faith raided a poker game in progress in the slaughter pen south of town, and arrested four players. He says there was $1,500 in money up as stakes when the raid was made. The players plead guilty to gaming and paid their fines.

Five Million for Relief

Five million dollars is being raised by the Red Cross in the United States for relief of the Japanese earthquake sufferers. Texas' quota is set at $105,000.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beery have returned from an auto trip through Northwest New Mexico and Eastern Colorado, visiting the Durango and Gunnison country west of the continental divide. They pulled mud, so Mr. Beery tells us, two of the three weeks. They went to take more than a hundred Rocky Mountain pictures for National Geographic Magazine, and got some very fine views.

Henry F. MacGregor of Houston, three times Texas member of the republican national committee, died on Monday in New Hampshire.

CITY TAX RATE INCREASED 35c

RAISED FROM $1.45 TO $1.80—PROPERTY VALUATIONS DECREASED $310,000

The city council at its meeting on Monday night increased the city tax rate 35c on the $100 valuation, the raise being from $1.45 to $1.80.

The increase in tax rate is caused by the decrease of $310,000 in valuations, as shown by the report of the board of equalization, and the additional improvements made in the water and sewer systems the past year.

The valuations for this year are $4,530,000, and most of the decrease of $310,000 is personal property which was not returned to the tax assessor. The $4,530,000 assessments should at the $1.80 rate bring into the treasury the coming year $81,540. In addition there will be considerable derived from occupation taxes and other fees.

During the year the city spent a lot of money erecting the additional 200,000-gallon water reservoir, which is four times as large and much higher than the one near the pump station, and in taking up the smaller water mains in the business part of town and laying a new system of eight-inch mains, thus giving increased pressure and better fire protection to the city, which reduces the fire insurance key rate on all property, thus being a saving to the property owners. An additional and smaller fire truck was also purchased, being an auxiliary to the large La France truck.

The city park of forty-four acres was bought during the year and some improvements put on it. Additional expense was also incurred in grading the streets and keeping them in best repair, in preparing the parking on Ash street, and in cleaning up on account of the campaign for the Tech college.

About one hundred street lights were installed during the year, and lines of lights extended to Wayland college and out several other streets, with lights at each street corner.

The payment on bonds for the municipal auditorium also added to the city's budget, and there were many additional expenses in the various departments.

An inspector of dairies, meats and other food was employed at a salary of $125 per month.

Interest-bearing time certificates or warrants were issued for the water system, improvements, parks, etc.

The city has but one way to get money to pay its expenses, and that is by collecting it in the shape of taxes, and it must come out of the property owners of the city. Loans and interest bearing time warrants are first-lien mortgages against every bit of the property in the city and debts that must be paid. And, any public improvement that is made must be paid for just the same by the property owners as if it were a personal debt. There is no escape from this fact, and in voting for bonds or incurring expenses such as will necessitate interest-bearing warrants, or in employing additional city employees, it should be kept in mind that the people must pay for it all. Of course, those who own real estate in the shape of homes or business really have to pay the most, for under our system of taxation the homeowner especially is penalized for owning a home, and if he makes it attractive so as to add to the beauty of the town he is penalized the more for being a public benefactor.

Carl Rosser was given the contract for filling in several places across the draw in the opening of West Fifth street from El Paso to near Dr. J. H. Wayland's residence.

The council also passed some sort of an order restricting the hitching of teams from the west entrance of the court yard north and east to the north entrance, it being the purpose to prohibit hitching in the bandstand section for the horses make such a nuisance it is very offensive to people who attend the band concerts, speaking, sales, etc. at the bandstand and thereabout. The band boys have given notice they will quit giving concerts unless this nuisance is made impossible.

Resumes Practice of Medicine
Dr. E. L. Dye will resume the practice of medicine and is opening an office in the Grant building. A number of years ago he practiced medicine here and later at Tulsa. Then he embarked in the drug store and later the moving picture business.

PLAINS SCHOOL OFFICIALS FORM DISTRICT GROUP

Wall of Dumas Elected President at Canyon Meeting—Mrs. Ola Legg of Plainview, Secretary

Canyon, Sept. 5.—Organization of county superintendents and trustees into a school body was perfected here this week at the Panhandle Consolidated Teachers Institute with the election of L. W. Wall of Dumas, as president. Mrs. Ola Legg was named secretary.

The Panhandle County Superintendents and Trustees Association decided to back the all-Panhandle school fair and to take charge of it next spring. Publication of a Panhandle school bulletin at Amarillo was considered.

For several years the county judges and trustees have been invited to the teachers' institute, but this one was the largest from the standpoint of attendance. Twelve county superintendents were present, which number is about three times the number attending in former years.

At the Canyon session Judge Wall and others spoke, and Miss Laura V. Hamner, Amarillo president. The superintendents were entertained at a dinner at the Canyon Inn by Prof. R. P. Jarrett, conductor of the institute.

Superintendents present were: E. C. Cayton, Armstrong county; Ray E. Sheffield, Castro; W. M. Megert, Deaf Smith; E. C. Nelson, Jr., Floyd; Mrs. Ola Legg, Hale; J. E. Stephens, Hemphill; D. L. Blankenship, Lipscomb; J. E. May, Oldham; J. D. Hamlin, Farmer; W. A. Graham, Swisher; Judge L. W. Wall, Moore; Miss Laura A. Hamner, Potter.

"Set Back a Generation"

Osaka, Japan.—Premier Yamamoto who took office only last week and had not completed his cabinet when the first earth shocks began Saturday, speeded up formation of his ministry, which was completed and installed while flames raged in every part of the capital.

Aside from the terrible toll of lives, Japan has been set back a generation by the disaster, the Osaka Mainichi says.

The financial loss from the earthquakes, which threw down many of the finest modern structures of the capital, destroyed bridges, tunnels, towers, manufacturing plants, banks and residences, and from the fires which followed, has been inestimable. Japan will lose her position as fourth power in the world, according to the Mainichi, because the country has no financial reserve. The largest companies are bankrupt; insurance concerns and many of the strongest banks probably are ruined. The country's manufacturing interests are blasted.

Sun Eclipse Next Monday

At about two o'clock on the afternoon of September 10, there will be an eclipse of the sun which will be plainly visible in the Plains country and which astronomers say will enable those with keen eyesight to see the planet Venus. A smoked glass will be the best through which to observe the eclipse.

The sun will appear as a new moon, crescent shape, and the earth in this immediate territory, will darken enough so that lights will be necessary for carrying on business, is said. A total eclipse will be visible in Central Old Mexico.

Wild Ducks Coming In

The cool weather of the past few days have brought thousands of wild ducks to the numerous lakes on the Plains. The recent rains filled the lakes with water, and the ducks will spend the winter here. The duck hunting season is open Oct. 1.

Lining Up Fine Team

Coach Caudell of Wayland college begun work Monday morning with a bunch of recruits for Wayland Jack Rabbit football team, and is trying them out. He thinks he has the best prospect for a winning team than at any time in the past.

W. T. C. C. President Here

A. B. Spencer of Crosbyton, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is here on business. He says the organization is prospering and is doing much constructive work for West Texas.

Winfield Holbrook and family have gone in their cars for a trip through the mountains of New Mexico. Capt. Holbrook will investigate irrigation and farming matters in several sections of that state.

District court is not doing much this week. The jury was discharged Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alexander brought some very fine peaches and plums to the News office Monday.

Should any other than the English language be taught in our schools?

MRS. OLA LEGG, County Superintendent.

Bishop McMurtry Whips Pastor

Bishop W. F. McMurtry, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, who was for several years presiding bishop of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference, and in honor of whom McMurtry college in Abilene is named, and who was in Plainview a year or two ago and is well known here, was summoned to appear in court in St. Louis this week on a charge preferred by Rev. Chas. McGhee, a pastor of one of the churches in McMurtry's district, that the Bishop struck him in the mouth and ejected him from the church office because he was taking an active part in boosting for the Ku Klux. The Bishop declared "You have disgraced yourself and everyone in the church." McGhee has been making speeches in behalf of the Ku Klux.

Special Car to Carry Exhibits

Efforts are being made to secure a special car for the exhibits from the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition and the South Plains Agricultural Fair at Lubbock to the state fair at Dallas on October 13, according to S. J. Cole, district manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Considerable expense in transportation charges will be saved by this method in the getting the exhibits to Dallas in addition to the exhibits getting there in much better shape.

Will Attend Artillery School

Lieut. Milton Forbes of the local battery of artillery, T. N. G., will take a three months' course in the artillery officers' artillery school at Ft. Sill, Okla., under the instruction of the regular army officers. One man for each national guard regiment will attend the school, and he has been designated from this regiment.

People Pay Cash at Sale

H. Felmgale had a big auction sale at his farm six miles south of town Wednesday, and it was strictly a cash proposition. There was lively bidding and the stuff brought high prices. The prices and amount of ready cash available was surprising to many people.

Which is the Better?

A short time since Turkey precinct, Hall county, voted bonds in the sum of $100,000 for purpose of making permanent road improvements in that precinct, the money to be spent upon a road leading from Turkey to Memphis. A few days ago the state highway commission appropriated $200,000 to aid this project and the money will be used in the building of a hard surfaced road through that precinct.

Speaking of cheap money and plenty of it—you can now buy a German million mark note for an American dime.

It is argued that President Coolidge certainly rules his household—for he has a wife and two children and has never bought an automobile.

Cotton is now opening in this country and soon will be coming in at a rapid rate. The Plains is destined to become a great cotton country.

About the busiest fellow down below the caprock and through most all the Southern states is the boll weevil. He is reducing the cotton crop and causing the price to go up.

In Europe it seems that the more nearly bankrupt a nation is, the greater its desire to get into a war. Italy is a shining case in point, for its national debt is larger in proportion to its wealth than possibly any country in the world.

Vinson A. Collins, a Dallas attorney has announced as a candidate for governor. He confesses that he served some years ago as state senator from the Beaumont district. He is the sixth candidate for governor who has so far announced.

Monarchicalism is far from dead in Germany. In Baravia Sunday 400,000 persons took part in a parade and demonstration in which the republican flag was hauled down and that of the kaiser hoisted, speeches were made for the return of royal rule.

Homer D. Wade, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, urges that the word "boost," be done away with, and "constructive publicity" be substituted for it. We endorse the suggestion, for we never did like "boost" or "booster"—they sound too hot-airish.

The pay-as-you-go policy should be adopted and the state placed upon a cash basis and kept that way. I know that about $5,000,000 of the present appropriations could be saved, that would put the state on a cash basis and hurt nobody, except the fellows cut loose from the payroll.—Geo. B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture.

A citizen of Lamesa has written a letter to the Dallas News extolling "State Press" Joe Taylor and suggested him as suitable timber out of which to make a governor of Texas. Joe always runs well in "off years." However, joking aside, Joe would really make a worthy state executive, and we would cheerfully support him if he runs.

A reduction in the running expenses of the government and a corresponding reduction in taxes. This can be secured by abolishing all useless boards and commissions, and transferring any useful work they are doing to existing elective departments of government, and by vetoing all laws establishing new institutions, departments, or offices.—Geo. B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture.

Lon A. Smith, state comptroller, announces he has money this year to look after law violators in the liquor traffic, especially an investigation among the physicians who have been granted permits to issue prescriptions for liquors in the case of sickness. Reports from various parts of the state are to the effect many physicians are writing prescriptions just for the fees and not on account of sickness. It is the intention of the Comptroller to get rid of such physicians as fast as he can locate them.

Ned and Vaile Henry of Fort Worth are here visiting.

The anthracite coal mines in Pennsylvania and other states in the East have struck because the mine owners will not grant them an increase of 20 per cent in wages, recognize the union in every way, and grant several other demands. They say, that so far as they are concerned, the wheels of industry can stop and the people freeze, if their demands are not complied with, for they have refused any compromise. It is safe to predict that they will lose the strike and the mines will continue to be operated, just as the trains were in the shopmen's strike of last year, for the American people are tired of the exercise of arbitrary power and will not longer tolerate it.

SEPARATE THE SOURCES

Geo. B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, in a signed article intimates that he will possibly become a candidate for governor. He submits a platform upon which he will run if he gets into the race, one of the planks being as follows:

"2. By separating the sources of taxation for state and county purposes, and collecting the state tax from incomes, inheritance, production taxes on natural resources, and taxes on public service corporations, as many other states are doing. This would leave the counties free to fix their own rates and values for local purposes and relieve the homes, business houses, and live stock interests of about $10,000,000 state taxes they are now paying. This would solve the tax question."

It is gratifying to the editor of this paper to see Mr. Terrell and other leading men of the state supporting the above change in our tax system, for we have been urging such a plan for many years. Such a change would save West and Northwest Texas millions of dollars in taxes, for under the present system East, North, South and Central Texas have evolved a scientific system of dodging their proportionate part of state taxes.

Under the present tax laws each county fixes its own property values, and there is no uniformity. Several years ago the state comptroller found that the same kind of sheep were assessed for taxes at $1 per head in some counties and in other counties various amounts up to $7 a head—hence in the counties where the assessment was placed at $7 the owners paid seven times as much state taxes on their sheep as the sheepmen in the counties where only $1 was assessed paid.

Representative Lee Satterwhite of Panhandle favors a state tax equalization board which would equalize the assessments as made by the counties; such a board would but add several new officials to the burden upon the taxpayers, and would not prove successful.

The plan as set forth by Mr. Terrell would be the better remedy, and should be adopted.

When a youth the editor of this paper formed the acquaintance of Gov. Dick Hubbard, U. S. minister to Japan, and came near permitting him to induce us to try our fortune in "the Land of the Morning Sun." We remember hearing Gov. Hubbard tell of the first earthquake he experienced in Japan; he was attending a garden party given by the Mikado and empress at their summer home in the mountains, when all of a sudden the monkeys and parrots in the trees became very excited and were making strange noises. Gov. Hubbard asked a native what was the reason, and the reply was "we are about to have an earthquake," and in a moment there was a slight tremor of the earth, but no serious consequences. Earthquakes are frequent in Japan and especially so on some of the small outlying islands, where the natives build their houses of bamboo poles tied together with ropes so they can be put up again when they fall over from an earthquake tremor. It was in the skyscraper district of the largest cities that the greatest damage was done in the earthquake of Saturday night. It seems that Japan is not adapted to modern tall buildings.

An exchange, commenting upon the statement of hair dressing experts that bobbed hair has come to stay, declares that bobbed hair has caused more trouble than all the other fashions combined, and has resulted in a number of divorce cases. Another exchange remarks that for a wife to bob her hair should be grounds for her husband to divorce her. The editor of this Great Moral Guide of the Plains has meandered up and down the earth for many years, his form is stooped, and the few hairs he has left on his pate are grey, but during all these years no matter what fashions the women were in dress, millinery, hosiery, footwear, coiffure or what not—they always looked good to us; far prettier and more interesting than any painting or other so-called work of art. And, if the women wish to bob their hair or wear it in long tresses, we will applaud and say "go to it, sister." However, we really believe that bobbed hair is the only really sanitary, comfortable and sensible way to wear it. We are also partial to short skirts, and any man who says he isn't a liar.

Yokohama Girls Entertained

Monday evening the Yokohama Girls met at the home of Misses Bowen and Webb. A short business session was held in which plans were discussed and decided upon concerning a play to be given by the girls the night of Sept. 13th.

The three plays selected by the girls to be presented are: "Will 'O The Wisp," "Martha's Morning," "Where But In America."

A "bacon fry" was planned for next Monday evening at the "Old Headquarters."

Miss Minnie Webb will succeed Miss Annie Wood Howell as secretary, as Miss Howell will leave Saturday for T. W. C. in Fort Worth. Miss Howell was the recipient of many lovely gifts from the girls.

Following the business meeting a social hour was spent, during which ice cream and cake were served to thirty girls. The members are requested to meet at the Methodist church at 6 o'clock Monday evening.

Former Plainview School Teacher Marries Dallas Man

Miss Lillie May Boren of Ennis and Mr. Olin G. Curry of Dallas were married in that city Tuesday. ## Robs Calomel of Nausea and Danger

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity,—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take.

One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for a large, family package; ten cents for the small trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—Adv.

Are recommended by thousands.

Here is a statement from a resident of this vicinity.

Mrs. W. B. Anthony, Hereford, Tex., says: "My back ached all the time and I could hardly stoop and when I did, such sharp, stinging pains caught me in the small of my back I could hardly straighten. Every muscle in my body was sore and it hurt me to move. I was tired and worn out all the time. I also had dizzy spells, and felt weak. My kidneys were weak and irregular in action and there were other symptoms of kidney trouble which were annoying. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and began using them. Three boxes of Doan's cured me entirely."

NOW BEING ASSEMBLED

Agricultural products of every kind in Floyd county are being sought by the secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce who is busy preparing an exhibit to take to the Oklahoma State Fair at Oklahoma City in September and then to the Dallas Fair at Dallas in October. He has already found some excellent wheat, oats, barley, and other small grains and has it ready to go to the fairs.

Farmers can render the Chamber of Commerce a great deal of assistance by letting the secretary know what products they have that would do to show. Several varieties of sweet sorghums are wanted, some sudan grass, speltz, buckwheat, velvet beans, cowpeas, peanuts, watermelons, kershaws will be needed to fill out the complete score card. In fact anything that is grown on the farm is wanted to make the exhibit as comprehensive as possible.—Floydada Hesperian.

Archie Speed is back from Dallas, where he has been for some time.

Severe Indigestion

"I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer, of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time. ## SAYS CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick. You just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—6.

SCORES RULING OF FASHION

English Judge Denounces Extravagance of Styles, Applying Words Used by Victor Hugo.

A woman's extravagance has been much discussed in England over a suit brought by his wife's dressmaker against a Captain Nash for many thousand dollars in unpaid bills. Captain Nash was his wife's third matrimonial adventure, her previous husband being a Canadian officer named Sifton. Sir Henry McCordie, the judge, described him "merely one in a rapid succession of husbands, transitory, as only an accidental male appendage to Mrs. Nash." The judge considered he had been guilty of ridiculous folly in allowing himself to be reduced to begging by his wife. Sir Henry also spoke in the most scathing language of Mrs. Nash's "slavery to fashion," adding, "I might well apply the words of Victor Hugo in his 'Notre Dame de Paris,' 'fashions have wrought more mischief than revolutions.'" Commenting on her "unpardonable selfishness," he insisted that she "computed her enjoyment of life by the extent of the reckless indulgence of her extravagance," and further she endeavored "to shine in the less intellectual section of society, where a woman's worth is measured by the frequency with which she changes her dresses." She "sought felicity in the ceaseless changes of trivial fashions; self-decoration was her vision, her aim and her creed."

GREAT HYMN AN INSPIRATION

"Onward, Christian Soldiers" Originally Written as a Marching Song for English Children.

While his manuscript works on history are preserved in the cathedrals of York and Exeter, and many other well-known hymns have been composed by him, yet in the memories of millions throughout the world the greatest fame of the Rev. S. Baring-Gould rests in the fact that he is the author of "Onward, Christian Soldiers." And this is how that hymn came to be written:

About the year 1865, he organized a number of school feasts for the children attending his mission at Horbury Bridge, an English mill and mining town. Owing to the distance from the church to the scene of festivities, however, an early start had to be made, and the children sometimes seemed to get rather fatigued with the long uphill march. They used to walk in procession, with banners waving, colors flying, etc., and Mr. Baring-Gould, seeing how much some song with a swing to it would help to make the trip less tiring, on one occasion in the space of about ten minutes composed the words which have since become so famous. Mr. Baring-Gould has accomplished much in his life, but that hastily composed hymn has assured him a fame which will live for many years.

Time the Only Test.

A youngster visiting his indulgent aunt partook heartily of cake and preserves. When asked if he hadn't had all that was good for him, he replied that he didn't know.

"But what do you think?"
"Ain't any use thinkin'."

"Well, you're a funny boy," said his aunt. "When will you know?"

"In half an hour."

"And how will you know?"

"Well, that's easy. If I ain't sick in half an hour, I'll be sorry I didn't take more, and if I'm sick I'll be sorry I took so much. That's the only way to tell that I know of."

His aunt admitted that it left no room for doubt, but she tried to point out that it was rather unsatisfactory; to which the boy merely replied that he wished there was a better way, but he didn't know of any.—Boston Transcript.

Darwin and His Coffin.

Charles Darwin had a coffin made for himself some years before his death. He was not, however, buried in it, for two days before his burial it was decided to provide a new shell. Darwin's body rested for days in the first-made one. It was then discarded and passed again into the hands of the carpenter who had made it.

The history of the coffin is not without interest. The village carpenter, who frequently made boxes and cases for Darwin's collections, once complained to Darwin of the slackness of trade and asked if he could be found a job. He was told that he could make a coffin, and the order was carried out. On the death of the maker it was purchased by a publican, who thought it would form an attraction to his house.

Indian's Remarkable Feat.

The story is told of a young Chickasaw who ran a distance of 300 miles in 42 hours. This Indian carried no provisions, depending upon such herbs as he could snatch up on the way for sustenance, not allowing him a moment in which to eat or sleep. For the whole 42 consecutive hours he traveled at an average rate of seven miles an hour without cessation.

Truly Ironical.

"Pa," said Clarence, "what is the irony of fate?" "Well, there's the case of old man Fogey, he said he would rather walk than ride in automobiles because they were so dangerous, and while he was seeking safety by walking an automobile knocked him into kingdom come," replied his dad.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

An Inherited Celestial

By JOHN PALMER

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

"BOB, darling, you will get rid of that horrid old Chinaman of yours when we're married, won't you?" pleaded Nancy.

"Why, I—I can't, Nan," answered Bob. "He's an inheritance from my father."

"How do you mean?" asked Nan, wrinkling her pretty brows.

"Why, my father was in the Chinese customs service when he was a young man, and he didn't understand the ways of the country. This Chink fell into the river, and he jumped in and saved him."

"Well, but—?"

"According to Chinese rules, that made him responsible for him for the remainder of his life. He lived fifty years after that, but he always had Ah Fen with him as a sort of body servant. When he died Ah Fen passed to me. He's quite harmless."

"But he's a useless old thing, isn't he?"

"Oh, he putters about and thinks he's working for me."

"Can he cook?"

"No, he's no use in the kitchen."

"Can he do housework?"

"Why, he's not much good at it, Nan. But he's a fine gardener. He can weed our garden for us."

Nan shook her head. It was obviously going to be difficult with Ah Fen about. It would be harder to keep a girl. And it meant an extra room.

It certainly did spoil things in their pretty country cottage. An extension had to be built to house Ah Fen. Then they had to buy special rice for him—polished rice was dangerous as a staple diet. Added to which, Ah Fen demanded privileges—all sorts of privileges. He had to have two clean sheets a week, and raised Cain if he didn't get them. He insisted on being provided with clothes and clean linen, and that added to the laundry bills. And the old man showed no signs of dying.

The limit was when Nan discovered that Bob paid Ah Fen a dollar a week.

"Why—my father always paid him a dollar a week," Bob explained sheepishly. "The old man would raise the devil if I stopped it now."

"It's a wicked imposition," said Nancy. "And here you are, with no certainty that the company won't go out of business any time."

That was their first quarrel. And when, a few weeks later, Bob's company did go out of business, Nancy renewed it.

"You simply must get rid of that old man," she said indignantly. "We can't afford to keep him at all, much less pay him a salary. And I had to let Lucy go yesterday!"

Times were hard, and as the days went by Bob discovered that it was going to be no easy task to obtain employment. Their reserve in the bank was running low. And there was Ah Fen, receiving, Nancy knew very well, that dollar a week.

To cap the climax, Ah Fen fell sick and had to be attended by the doctor every day—at three dollars a visit. And Nancy had to wait on the old man.

She did it with a smiling face, but there was black indignation in her heart, and the breach between her and Bob was growing. They had only three hundred left in the bank, and things looked desperate. Bob must get a position. He had had a half promise of a good one, when times improved, but that might mean six months. How were they going to spin out their three hundred dollars till then?

One morning, without a word of warning or explanation, Ah Fen closed his eyes and died.

And that seemed to Nancy the most outrageous thing of all. It meant two hundred dollars for the undertaker's fees—Bob had absurd scruples against a cheap funeral. Of course, he could go in debt for that amount, and did.

"It feels queer, not having old Ah Fen about," said Bob a few evenings later.

"Well, folks," he said cheerily, "good news for you. I've had a letter from San Francisco. It appears that Chink of yours drew up a will when your father died, appointing you his sole heir."

"Huh!" snorted Bob. "A dollar a week's all he got for years."

"Yes, for fifty years," said Sam. "Compounded at five per cent. There's a little over ten thousand dollars coming to you."

Antiquity of Angling.

Then first, for the antiquity of angling, of which I shall not say much, but only this: some say it is as ancient as Deucalion's flood; others, the Belus, who was the first inventor of godly and virtuous recreations, was the first inventor of angling; and some others say, for former times have had their disquisitions about the antiquity of it, that Seth, one of the sons of Adam, taught it to his sons, and that by them it was bequeathed to posterity; others say, that he left it engraven on those pillars which he erected, and trusted to preserve the knowledge of the mathematics, music, and the rest of that precious knowledge and those useful arts which by God's appointment or allowance and his noble industry, were thereby preserved from perishing in Noah's flood.—Isaac Walton in 1653.
