GREAT FARMING SECTION OF SW.

FINANCIAL EDITOR OF HEARST PAPERS IS PLEASED WITH PLAINS.

Edwin J. Clapp, of New York City, financial editor of the New York American and the other great daily newspapers of William Randolph Hearst, was a visitor in Plainview Saturday morning. He was met in Amarillo by Col. R. P. Smyth, and was brought to Plainview in the private car of J. F. Anton, division superintendent of the Santa Fe railroad, attached to the southbound train. In the party was Homer D. Wade, manager of the Fort Worth office of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Hamilton Wright, staff correspondent of the Fort Worth Record, one of Hearst's newspapers.

They were met by a committee of local citizens and taken in cars for a drive about town, including the schools, college, auditorium, business and residence sections, after which they were escorted in autos to Lubbock. Mr. Clapp inquired of the resources of the county, including irrigation, wheat, cotton, live stock, truck growing, etc. He was much impressed with the schools, auditorium, and the attractiveness of the town.

At a luncheon given in his honor in Lubbock he declared Plainview was the prettiest town he had ever seen—and he has traveled throughout the United States and most of the countries of the world.

He also said he believed that the abundance of water of the Plainview shallow water belt, combined with the rich soil and fine climate would make the Plainview country the greatest agricultural section of the Southwest.

He is quite conversant with sugar beet culture, and is of the opinion that in time a large acreage will each year be grown here and that there will be an adequate factory to manufacture the beets into sugar.

Mr. Clapp said he was astonished at what he is seeing in Texas and especially in the Plains country, that "one can't appreciate it till he sees it." He marvels at the prosperity of the people, the beautiful level stretches of fertile land, the bracing equable climate, the pretty homes, the good schools, the number of automobiles and the progressive and optimistic spirit of the citizenship.

"I didn't know there were so many American-looking children in the United States," said Clapp referring to the undiluted Americans of Texas as compared with the polyglot population of New York.

Clapp said the evidences of culture and high standard living he saw and would tell about through the 22 Hearst newspapers for which he is writing would be even more impressive to his millions of readers than the startling statistics about Texas.

Mr. Clapp while with the Plainview citizens inquired as to possible investments in this section which might appeal to the financiers of the East, and was informed that as this is an essentially agricultural section and business of almost every kind depends upon agriculture, investments are naturally confined to agriculture. He was informed that what the Plainview country needs most is more farmers and small stockmen who will come here, buy lands, open new farms and operate them. If there could be a farmer on every quarter or eighth-section of land in this section it would become one of the most prosperous agricultural sections in the world. Truck farming by irrigation was also explained to Mr. Clapp, and the possibilities of its development in the Plainview shallow water belt was told to him.

Mr. Clapp is reckoned as one of the most prominent financial and industrial writers of the nation.

Boy Killed Near Floydada.

Raymond Damron, about 12 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Damron, was shot and killed, late Saturday afternoon just west of Floydada, by another small boy, when a rifle they were hunting with, was accidentally discharged.

The statement made is that the boys were out hunting and were trying to extract a shell from the gun, when the shell came out another cartridge went into place and exploded, striking the Damron boy in the stomach. Medical aid was called, but before the doctor could get to the boy to the sanitarium, he was dead.

Burial took place at Matarador Sunday afternoon.—Lockney Beacon.

The Board of City Development at its meeting last week decided to present Col. R. P. Smyth and Sam Scaling, who had charge of the Hale county exhibit at the Dallas fair, each with a suit of clothes, as an appreciation of their work and the winnings made.

Hale county took highest honors for its county exhibit and won more blue ribbons for individual agricultural exhibits than all other counties combined.

Abernathy May Get 1,600 Bales.

T. J. Vines, cotton buyer at Abernathy, spent the week-end here with his family. He says the Abernathy gins had turned out 560 bales to Saturday. It is thought that the town will get between fifteen and sixteen hundred bales this season, which is less than was thought some time ago.

Large Volume of Community News.

One reason why the News has such a strong hold upon the rural people of Hale county and Plainview territory is because it publishes such a volume of community news. In this issue will be found news letters from eleven Hale county communities and two from adjoining counties.

MANY BARGAINS FOR THURSDAY

DON'T FAIL TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THURSDAY'S DOLLAR DAY.

Thursday will be monthly Dollar Bargain Day in Plainview. Most of the merchants are offering special inducements for that day, and the people should take advantage of them and save money.

Four solid cars of dressed poultry were shipped out of Plainview for the Thanksgiving markets. There were also a number of express shipments made.

LAMB COUNTY TOWN BUILDS LIKE MAGIC

Six Months Ago a Switch, Amherst Now Is Thriving Community—On Halsell Ranch.

Amherst, Lamb County, Nov. 17.—Borrowing the slogan, "Cities Do Not Happen—They Are Built," Amherst is being built on a scale that almost entitles it to be known as "a ready-made town."

Six months ago the virgin prairie was unbroken except for one railroad switch, with a twelve-inch sign that read "Amherst." The town lies between Sudan and Littlefield, in Lamb county.

Today there are fifty residences, three brick buildings, two lumber yards, two more under construction, a $40,000 hotel, a brick school building and fifty farm houses under construction.

The Halsell ranch is being broken up and sold on long terms to homeseekers. The entire section has shallow water and is recognized as one of the most fertile sections of the South Plains.

This project is a part of more than 1,250,000 acres of land being offered to homeseekers in this section.

Negro Arrested for Forgery.

Sunny Johnson, negro, was arrested and taken from the northbound passenger train at Canyon Friday morning, and placed in jail on a charge of forgery, it being alleged that he was an accomplice of Carty McLean, another negro, who is now in jail. It is asserted that Johnson wrote a number of checks and McLean cashed several of them, and that they divided the money. McLean is illiterate and cannot write.

Johnson took the train at Lubbock for Amarillo, and Sheriff Faith found out after the train had passed Plainview that the negro was aboard. He at once phoned the sheriffs at Tulsa and Canyon to look out for him but the train had passed Tulsa before the sheriff there had time to act on the message.

MRS. SCALING WINS CONTEST

AWARDS MADE AGGREGATING $100 FOR LARGEST FLOCKS OF TURKEYS.

Mrs. Florence Scaling of Stoneback community won the first prize of $50 offered to members of the Turkey Growers Association for the largest flock of turkeys raised this year. She has raised 137 turkeys.

Five prizes of $10 each were won as follows: Mrs. Ben Floetz, 130 turkeys; Mrs. Walter Noel, 123; Mrs. J. D. Buchanan, 121; Mrs. Alice Perry, 101; and Mrs. B. E. Young, 94.

The Third National Bank last spring appropriated $100 for these prizes.

A meeting of the board of directors of the association was held yesterday afternoon, to make the awards.

The association is composed of forty-eight members and is for the purpose of encouraging the breeding and better marketing of turkeys on a co-operative basis. It hopes to have all turkey growers join and a membership drive will be put on the first of the year.

A meeting of the members of the association will be held in Plainview the first Monday in December for the purpose of laying plans for the Christmas marketing of turkeys and for next year's work.

Mrs. Scaling, secretary, and enthusiastic member, says the future looks bright for the association.

Several Hotel Rooms Burglarized.

Thursday night several guests' rooms in the Ware hotel were burglarized. The room of D. A. Sands was entered and his watch and some money taken, and that of John Testman, who lost some clothing. The burglar accidentally awakened Carl Palmer, who asked him what he wanted, thinking it was somebody who was passing through the room, and the burglar at once departed through the door.

Will Occupy Eastside Building.

Messrs. L. T. Holt and E. W. O'Rear have leased the Woldert building on the eastside of the square, and a partition is being built in it and shelving and furniture installed.

Mr. Holt will move his shoe shop to the building and also add a stock of toys and other holiday goods.

Mr. O'Rear, who recently moved here from Chillicothe, will conduct a restaurant.

Won Sugar and Flour.

John Burt won the 100 pound sack of sugar in the contest at the Cash Grocery Saturday night by guessing closest to the number of pieces of candy in a glass jar. E. E. Degge won the sack of flour. There were 695 pieces of candy in the jar. The judges were O. E. Burgess, Drew Housley and E. Q. Perry.

5,000 TURKEYS TROTTED TODAY

Quite a novel sight in Plainview this morning was a genuine "turkey trot" in which nearly 5,000 turkeys took part.

On account of failure to secure necessary pickers before the Thanksgiving turkey market closed Friday the Panhandle Produce Co. had more than four thousand turkeys left on its hands, which it had been unable to ship. The price made a sharp drop so it was decided to hold them for the Christmas market which will begin December 1st, at which higher prices will again prevail. The firm this morning took them from its produce house and drove them through the streets and out to the John Szanto farm, two miles southwest of town, where it will feed them for a couple or three weeks.

Down-Town Retail Store.

Bonner-Price is opening a downtown retail feed store in the corner Campbell building, where a complete stock of Purina products and other feedstuffs will be carried. They will continue the coal yard and elevator at the same old place near the depot.

Fish for Country Club Lake.

Friday afternoon a shipment of fish from the state fish hatchery was received by the Country Club for stocking the lake on its grounds east of town. The lake is already stocked with fish.

COTTON COMING IN RAPIDLY

THREE THOUSAND BALES GINNED IN COUNTY—ONE-THIRD CROP OUT.

Up to this afternoon the two gins in Plainview had ginned 1,200 bales. The Plainview Gin Co. had turned out 640 and the Belew gin 560 bales. The cotton yard at 8:30 this morning had received 1133 bales, sixty-nine of which were received yesterday. Yesterday the Plainview Gin Co. ginned forty-eight bales and weighed in seventy-seven; the Belew gin ginned thirty-five bales.

The ginning for the entire county is fully three thousand bales. The gins at Abernathy have turned out about 700 bales, the gin at Hale Center about 650 bales and that at Petersburg 430. Besides there is a long string of wagons at each gin awaiting their turn.

It is now thought that about one-third of the cotton is ginned.

The gin at Olton will begin operations in a week, so parties from that community inform us.

The price is 33c today, and the tendency upward.

The pretty weather which is now prevailing is being taken advantage of by the farmers to get out their cotton and cut their row stuff. Within another week if the weather continues fair and warm the bulk of the cotton will be gathered.

Arrested for Stealing Shoes.

Clem Stroupe was arrested at Idalou Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Sturdevant on a charge of having stolen a pair of shoes from Lee Smith's store in Plainview. He was brought here and put in jail. It is said he bought the shoes from Mr. Smith, put them on and said he would go out and get the money and come back in a few minutes and pay for them, but did not do so, but left town.

He has a young wife and baby and they went to Tulsa Sunday, where she has relatives.

Bought Stock Leather Goods.

T. R. Butler and M. F. Brashear have bought the G. W. Graves & Co. stock of harness and other leather goods. They will move the Butler stock of hardware from the Brashear building to the building occupied by the leather goods and continue the business.

Red Cross Will Elect Officers.

The annual meeting of the community chairmen of the Hale County Chapter American Red Cross will be held in the offices of Dr. E. O. Nichols Thursday afternoon, Nov. 22, at 3 o'clock, at which time the annual election of officers will take place.

Plans will also be made to make a campaign for renewal of memberships during the present annual roll call which will close Thanksgiving day.

EIKS SMOKER AND LUNCHEON

DISTRICT ELKS CONVENTION ENJOYS MANY COURTESIES WHILE IN PLAINVIEW.

The Northwest Texas Elks conference of exalted rulers and secretaries was held in Plainview Friday.

The delegates to the convention were given a luncheon at the Ware hotel at noon. Entertainment was furnished by the Plainview high school orchestra and by local artists. R. A. Underwood gave the welcome address on behalf of the Plainview lodge and Chas. Y. Welch, district deputy, responded. J. J. Bromley and T. C. Shepard, both of the Plainview lodge, also gave short impromptu speeches.

Following the luncheon at the Ware hotel C. Y. Welch, district deputy, opened the executive session in the local club rooms, and the afternoon was spent in attending to lodge business.

A buffet luncheon was served in the evening at the Elks home, and following it there was a smoker and the initiation of eight new members into the mysteries of the second degree, and each candidate is said to have received most everything that was coming to him.

Visiting Elk officials who took an active part in the affair were J. D. Starnes and C. S. Baker of Dalhart; Chas. Y. Welch and J. S. Huffshiner of Quanah; H. D. Cordell and Jas. A. Allen of Childress, Sam S. Hall and George Vance of Amarillo, John Dalrymple of Lubbock.

PLAINVIEW WOMAN IS ELECTED STATE OFFICIAL

Mrs. Carl Goodman Made Recording Secretary of State Federation of Womans Clubs.

Wichita Falls, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Henry Redmond of Corpus Christi will head the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for the coming two years as a result of the election of state officers which featured the closing session of the federation's convention Saturday morning.

Mrs. Walter S. Robertson of this city will fill the office of treasurer for the state federation; Mrs. A. P. Averill of El Paso was elected first vice president; Mrs. Carl Goodman of Plainview, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary L. Wright of Fort Worth, state auditor, and Miss Mildred Seaton of Corpus Christi was appointed corresponding secretary.

No definite action was taken on the meeting place for the convention next year because of the absence of representatives from the cities bidding for the honor.

SMALL GIRL BADLY SCALDED

INEZ HILL POSSIBLY FATALY INJURED BY FALLING INTO BOILING WATER.

Inez, the five-year-old daughter of Chas. J. Hill, employee at Radford's wholesale grocery, was possibly fatally scalded by falling into a tub of boiling water at the home yesterday morning about 10:30 o'clock. Its condition this afternoon is not at all good, and there is little hope held out for its recovery.

It is said that its grandmother was at work in the kitchen and had poured a tub full of scalding water. The child came in and was romping about the room and fell into the tub. Its body from the breast to the knees was terribly scalded.

The child's mother died some months ago.

Will Cut Up Big Ranch.

The Howard lands in Floyd, Hall, Motley and Briscoe counties, consisting of 208 sections of farm land, will be broken up into small tracts and sold immediately, according to W. M. Massie of Floydada. The owners of the land, Alvin P. Howard of New Orleans and Edward B. Howard of Philadelphia, came to this decision following an inspection of their holdings recently.

The land comprises some of the most fertile soil in West Texas and is especially adapted to cotton raising. Most of it is plains land, while there is a great part that is brakes land. Some of the land is especially adapted to cattle and stock raising. The land is not in the boll weevil section.

The breaking up of this large holding is expected to bring a great deal of immigration to this section. The owners have been leasing the land for grazing, but have found that it is entirely too valuable for such purposes.

Slaton Wins Football Game.

The Plainview high school Bulldogs were defeated by the Slaton high school aggregation here Friday, 26 to 0.

The Bulldogs were outweighed at least twenty pounds to the man but they fought the heavier and more experienced Slaton team in true bulldog fashion.

The Plainview eleven is made up entirely this year of men who have never played football before. The high school students are backing the team as it never has been backed before, however, and indications are that Plainview will put a real eleven on the field in 1924.

Teague and the two Magills starred for Plainview on both the offensive and defensive.

Rural School Conference.

All the rural trustees, teachers, and patrons are urged to attend the Rural School Rally to be held at the court house at 10:30, Saturday, Dec. 1st.

The following program will be given:

The Relation of the Rural School Teacher to Society—Mr. Warren, Wayland College.

Rural School Affiliation—Mrs. Nine McComas.

Athletics—Mr. Floyd, County Director of Athletics.

General Discussion: To what extent is it the duty of the State to educate her people?

(Should any other than the English language be taught in the public schools—Mrs. Ligg.

WILL ERECT BRICK BUILDING

HARRY CHATHAM STARTS WORK ON 50x100 FT. STORE ON SOUTHSIDE.

Harry Chatham has begun the construction of a one-story brick building, fifty feet frontage and 100 feet deep, on the lots he owns on the southside of the square adjoining the building occupied by Hooper Motor Co. and Richards auto paint shop.

The building when completed will be occupied by Jarvis & Tull, agents for the International Harvester Co., farm machinery and implements, they having outgrown the room in the building which they now occupy.

This building will be modern and will be quite an addition to that side of the square.

WAYLAND WILL PLAY CLARENDON

OLD RIVALRY WILL PLAY BIGGEST GAME OF SEASON FRIDAY.

The biggest football game on a Plainview gridiron during the present season will be played at the Lamar field Friday when the Wayland College Jackrabbits meet their ancient rivals, the Clarendon College Bulldogs. Both teams are going through the hardest training of the season in preparation for the game. Coach Caudell is working his husky warriors well after dark each day this week and reports from Clarendon are that the Bulldogs are likewise practicing overtime.

Are Strong Rivals.

Wayland and Clarendon have been well-matched rivals on the gridiron for many years and they have won about an equal number of games in the past. However, past defeats and victories are forgotten each year and both teams go into the annual clash as if their entire future depended on the result. It is also possible that the fact that one is a Baptist school and the other a Methodist institution causes at least a little denominational rivalry. This being the case, the Wayland boys hope to "immerse" the Methodist visitors under a heavy score.

The Wayland team has made a good record against the best teams in West Texas this fall. In fact, comparative scores would indicate that the Jackrabbits would stand up well with some of the best down-state eleven. Abilene Christian College was lucky to win over Wayland by one touchdown at Abilene last week. A. C. C. has won by much heavier scores over Texas Military College, Dallas University, and other strong central Texas teams. A. C. C. defeated Clarendon by the same score as Wayland was defeated, so the "dope" would predict two evenly matched teams here Friday.

Business Men to Help.

Plainview business men will probably close their places of business for two hours Friday afternoon in order to permit their employees to attend the game and to show the Jackrabbits that the business men are behind them. The Chamber of Commerce Committee, to co-operate with Wayland in all matters of interest to the school, composed of Dr. J. C. Guest, B. F. Jarvis and George Clements, is circulating a petition among the business men to this effect.

Dr. Guest declares that Plainview should turn out strong to root for the Jackrabbits. He points out the fact that all the stores close in Clarendon when Wayland meets the Bulldogs on the Clarendon field. The fact that Wayland College is a big asset to Plainview and that the student body is a source of much business in Plainview should cause merchants to show their appreciation by closing a short time for the game, according to Dr. Guest.

The game will start promptly at 3 p. m. Friday afternoon at Lamar field.

Will Open Library Daily.

The women of the public library board, assisted by a number of girls, sold tags Saturday for the benefit of the library.

About $102 was realized.

The board has determined that the library will be opened each afternoon, as the funds now on hand are adequate to finance such for six months. By that time they hope to get funds to continue to open it daily.

W. W. Major of Midlothian was here last week prospecting with a view of investing in Plains land.

There is a surplus of keen minded people who can point out the defects in their home towns, but a big shortage of the folks who will take hold to remedy these faults.

The Bible declares that the wicked flee when no man pursueth. One day last week a California man, while making a batch of mash for liquor in his back yard spied a mysterious eye watching him through a knot hole in the fence. Hastily he dumped the mash, wrecked his still and shattered his bottles. Then he went out to discover just how many dry agents had surrounded his place. He found a curious dog standing by the fence still watching through the knot hole.

The thing that is helping the enforcement of the Volstead law is the accumulating evidence that there is a nation-wide conspiracy to overthrow the law and defy the government. A great many persons who have no decided leaning toward prohibition are loyal to our government and will stand by the officials in any effort to see that the law is enforced. It has become not a question of prohibition or anti-prohibition but a question of loyalty to law.

The Dallas News points out there is not a word in the Versailles treaty which prohibits the German people from setting up another monarchy, with the ex-crown prince, the ex-kaiser or any other person on the throne. The treaty has not a word in it suggesting that the German people establish or maintain a republic or any other particular form of government. Of course, it would be a great affront to the allies if the crown prince or the kaiser was again made ruler, but such action would be within the rights of the German people.

FORTUNATE AMERICA.

The American people often get sick and tired at the way things go. They raise ructions over taxes, high prices, and so on. Yet if they keep an eye on old Europe and other quarrelsome neighborhoods, they can well be thankful that they live in the good old U. S. A.

The conflicts and antagonisms that have made Europe almost a bedlam are the natural result when a complicated mixture of diverse races, speaking different languages, are jammed together in small space, lacking sufficient territory to give them comfortable support.

Fortunately we live in a country where we can feed our own home folks. We could live fairly well just by supplying each other's needs if we had to.

Our greatest blessing is that we all, or most of us, speak the same language. You can comprehend the other fellow's point of view to some extent if you can understand what he is talking about.

The American people all believe in a democratic form of government, and they are willing to submit when the majority goes against them. A country where these conditions exist is a haven of peace at this moment. The people of America should remember these blessings when they get to fretting about their troubles.

Crosbyton Votes Paving Bonds.

Saturday was one of the greatest days in the history of our progressive, thriving, wide-awake city. In spite of the rain and mud one hundred and thirty-five people came out and voted for or against the bonds. For paving 129, against the paving 6; for the purchase of the water works 116 and 9 against it; 18 against the amendment and 116 for it.—Crosbyton Review.

Lamesa to Pave Streets.

The city council of Lamesa has ordered an election for December 6th, for the purpose of voting a paving bond of $60,000. The square is to be paved and one block each way off the square. If the finances will permit from the depot to the school building will be paved.

The pie supper at Center Plains which was postponed on account of bad roads, will be held Nov. 24.

COTTON PLANTERS' BLOC NOW PLANNED

Representative Lowrey of Mississippi Seeks New Alignment in House to Promote Cotton Interests.

Washington, Nov. 15.—A new bloc—the cotton planters' bloc—is forming for the coming session of Congress. Representative Lowrey of Mississippi is organizing it.

Declaring that after circulating among his constituents last summer he is a wiser and more sympathetic representative of their interests, he has asked Congressmen from cotton-producing States to get together and demand more fertilizer, more poison for the boll weevil and fewer and lighter taxes. To carry out his plan for united effort, he has called a conference for Nov. 30 at the House official building.

In a letter to colleagues he asserts: "Of course, we have all been thinking along those lines and we all realize the difficulties we have to contend with in getting measures through. If we accomplish anything, we must have unified counsel and concerted action."

An especially stylish model in a utility coat is shown here. Note its length, the clever adaptation of the Raglan sleeve, the narrow close-fitting cuffs and cozy muffler collar, all contributing comfort and warmth as well as fine style. The design is adapted to the season's heavy coating, as camel's hair, tweed and mixtures.

RESOURCES ARE UNBOUNDED

TRUCK GROWING WILL BRING PERMANENT PROSPERITY TO PLAINVIEW.

(By John Boswell, in Radford Wholesale Grocery Co. House Organ.)

Plainview is the center of a big section of the Plains known as the Shallow Water Belt. The belt is so named because an inexhaustible supply of pure water is found anywhere within its boundaries by drilling a well from twenty to fifty feet deep. The short lift makes this water available at a very small cost for irrigation as well as for stock and household use. The sources of supply of this water is the melting snow of the Rocky Mountains and as long as the Rocky Mountains stand, the water supply of the Plainview section will remain inexhaustible. Within a radius of fifty miles of Plainview, there are 150 irrigation wells each capable of producing 2,000 gallons of pure water per minute. This water tests 99.96 per cent pure—purer than rain water. Although the normal annual rainfall of this section is sufficient to produce good crops without irrigation, the future growth and prosperity of the Plainview section is assured if never another drop of rain fell!

With this abundance of water, a rich chocolate loam soil and good climatic conditions, the Plainview section is rapidly becoming the leading truck growing and intensive farming section of the Southwest. Car lot shipments of vegetables and truck crops make a part of the many trains which go out of Plainview loaded with agricultural products. Five and ten acre truck farms are proving big money makers and a man with small capital can soon become well-to-do by this kind of farming. A company with ample capital stock is being formed in Plainview to promote the growing and marketing of truck.

Although the progress of truck farming around Plainview is rapid and the prosperity of the section is increasing in proportion, the standard methods of farming are likewise proving profitable and the number of medium-sized diversified farms is rapidly increasing. The cow-sow-and-hen idea has long been practiced in the Plainview section with pleasing results. Cotton, wheat, sorghums, alfalfa, and the widest possible variety of other farm products are successfully grown.

With unbounded natural resources at their command and every modern convenience for farming available, perpetual prosperity for the farmers of the Plainview section is the inevitable result. Being the center of this area, Plainview is assured of continued growth and prosperity.

Twenty years ago, Plainview was the trading center of several big ranches. Two or three general merchandise stores, a livery stable with a hotel on the second floor, and a few "dug-outs" made up the town. Some of the pioneers with a vision of what could be made from the unbounded resources about them were successful, after several years of effort, in interesting representatives of the Santa Fe Railroad to investigate the Plainview country. The pioneers found this a hard job, for geographies had taught the railroad men and everybody else that the Plains were a vast and unpromising desert. The Santa Fe men were at once struck with the possibilities of this new country and it was not long until they had crews at work building a line from Amarillo to Plainview.

The real progress of Plainview dates from 1907, when the Santa Fe Railroad was completed into Plainview. Plainview never had a boom, but from that date her growth has been rapid and steady. When the railroad came, Plainview's population was not over 500—counting jack rabbits and coyotes. The present population is over 6,000 white, progressive building American citizens.

Plainview has three banks with total deposits of $3,000,000.00; seven lumber yards carrying large stocks of building supplies to care for Plainview's rapid growth; seven grain elevators with total storage capacity of 500,000 bushels; nine wholesale oil firms; large flour mill; two gins; two ice plants; two wholesale poultry firms; poultry feed factory; creamery; two wholesale grocery houses; light and power plant supplying four counties; eight modern hotels; two newspapers; laundry; Class A junior college; business college, broom factory; candy factory; municipal auditorium seating 2,500 persons; well equipped tourist camp ground; excellent class of retail firms drawing trade from a very wide and prosperous territory; twenty-seven blocks of paved streets; forty miles of cement sidewalks; free city mail delivery; the most beautiful residence section in West Texas; public library; beautiful city parks; eight churches and four public school buildings.

There is nothing shallow about the way Plainview does things. She provides her commercial organization $12,500 to promote the interests of the whole community. Her citizens work as a unit for prosperity and happiness. The desire to become a Plainview citizen is almost irresistible when a visitor discovers the truth that "There is Nothing Shallow but the Water" in Plainview.

WALTON WITHDRAWS FROM IMPEACHMENT CASE

Dramatically Declares He Cannot Get a Fair Trial—Appeals to Federal Court.

(Saturday Gov. Walton of Oklahoma dropped a bomb into the midst of the state senate when that body refused to hear evidence relative to the necessity of his appointing deputies in his effort to suppress mobbery by the Ku Klux, by arising and saying quietly with no show of emotion:

"Mr. Chief Justice and Members of This Court: I have been sitting here fighting for my honor, for my rights and for my home for ten days. I don't wish here to criticize any of these honorable members. Some of them, no doubt, want to have a fair trial, but I have reached the conclusion that I can not have a fair trial in this court. Knowing that, I am withdrawing from this room. I don't care to stand this humiliation any longer for myself, my family or my honorable attorneys. You may proceed as you see best."

Then with his wife with her hand in one of his arms, they walked out of the senate chamber, his lawyers following.

One of his lawyers lingered a moment in the chamber and had a fight with one of the senators and two other senators also had a personal clash.

Walton declares he will take the case through the federal courts to the supreme court if necessary.

Will Stop Run-Running.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The Treasury has completed plans for halting run running under which it will request campaigns for appropriations aggregating about $28,500,000 with which to double the strength of the coast guard and establish a chain of boats along the eastern shore line to check the smuggling.

With the backing of President Coolidge the officials will declare to congress that they can effectively stop the operations of run running if granted the money requested. The President, it was said today, probably would urge favorable action on the proposals in his first message to congress. The program proposes the purchase of twenty cruisers at a cost of $8,000,000, and the addition of 144 commissioned officers, 320 warrant officers and 3,971 enlisted men to the force. If the plans are granted congressional sanction, the guard will number 351 commissioned officers, 716 warrant officers and 7,122 enlisted men.

Olton and Kress' second football teams met on the Kress gridiron Friday, the ninth, for a game. The players were called on the field immediately after four p. m. Olton got first kick-off and after several minutes of scrimmaging Olton succeeded in crossing the goal line. The ball was again kicked and after several minutes of scrimmaging Kress kicked their goal line. Olton was to receive next and Kress kicked the ball over the goal line. Woods and Hamilton went down and covered the ball behind the goal line. Immediately a dispute arose as to whether it was a touchdown or not for Kress. It was finally decided that the ball should be re-kicked. This time Olton received the ball and advanced several yards. The quarter was up with Olton on the forty-five yard line and headed for the goal line. In the second quarter there was considerable scrimmage for a while then Olton succeeded twice in crossing the goal line. The game ended with a score of 18 to 6 in Olton's favor. The star players on Kress' team were Woods and Hamilton. Pimlot played a good defensive game.

The Senior Epworth League, which was recently organized, met for the third time last Sunday evening. During the bad weather there were only a few present and the program was short. Cemetery Association.
The Cemetery Association held its regular monthly meeting Nov. 13th with an average attendance.

It was brought to the attention of the Association that heavily loaded vehicles had been driven over private lots in the cemetery during the recent damp weather much to the detriment of the grounds and the Association wishes to request those who drive in the grounds to keep as much as possible to the driveways and streets.

Since our last meeting several persons have manifested an interest in the Association by paying dues and joining.

The Association is very much gratified that the public appreciates the improvements made in the grounds since the employment of the sexton—much of this changed condition is due largely to the untiring efforts and splendid management of the superintendent.

The regular meetings of the association are held on the second Wednesday in each month at the office of the Hale County Abstract Company, and would be pleased to have all who fell interested to come and help in this work.—Cemetery Association.

much in an article in Collier's. The note to "John" from his wife, informing him he would find some cold meat and fixings in the icebox, may or may not be taken as further corroboration.

Seriously though, the woman's club movement is a good thing. It tends to better homes and home-making, and improve the quality of citizenship.

If you doubt there are 20,000,000 women "jiners" in our population of 103,000,000 people read these figures.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a membership of 2,800,000. Study or civic clubs have 500,000. National parent-teachers' associations, 500,000.

Daughters of Rebekah, the Odd Fellows' sisterhood, 1,500,000.

Grange and farm women's clubs, 1,000,000.

American Red Cross, 2,000,000.

Some of these women are "repeaters" to be sure, they belong to two or more organizations, but if we replace them with women holding memberships in teachers' organizations, business and professional women's clubs, trade unions, auxiliaries to fraternal orders like the Maccabees and the Woodmen of the World, you get a total that goes above the 20,000,000 mark. They are doing a lot of good to these United States.

The board of stewards and the Woman's Missionary Society will unite in a public reception and get-acquainted meeting at the Methodist church Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the new pastor, Rev. Rotarians Urged to Boost for School and College Athletics.

Warrent Clement of Wayland college faculty and R. B. Sparks, principal of the high school, told the Rotarians at their luncheon today of the athletic work being done in the schools this year and urged that they and the business men generally get behind the teams and encourage them to their best efforts. They said that while this year's games had not been winners, yet it was not the fault of the coaches nor of the players. The teams this year are made up of raw material as the star players of last year graduated and left school, besides the teams have played against much stronger teams than ever before.

Messrs. Clement, Sparks and John Boswell were appointed to plan an entertainment for Mr. Albert, past Rotary international president, who is to be here Dec. 10th to lecture in the lyceum course.

Frank Day sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Day.

None Is Too High to Escape Dark Periods of Discouragement.

In one of the many stories relative to our late President, telling of his life, his character and his ways, there was a reference to the discouragement that overtook him after he had been in the White House some months and how it was only through the encouraging words of his wife and intimate friends that he came finally to want another term of office and did not look forward to the day when he could relinquish the great honor which carried with it more of grief and work than he considered it worth.

So discouragement comes to all, even those in the very highest places. I knew it came to the plodder, the lowly ambitious, the man trying to turn over a new leaf. There comes a day when, tired, brain-fagged, muscle-sore, repulsed, unappreciated, criticised, hurt, we decide to give up. We have done our best, we have made sacrifices, we have taken on work that was more than just that which earned our bread and meat, we had hoped to accomplish something, to be something worth while. And nobody cared.

It is then we ask, "What's the use?" We're getting nowhere, or, if by slow progress we are, the game is not worth the candle, the price is too high.

Discouragement takes such deadly hold at times that it wipes out all desire to live. If not, why the suicides? Misfortunes come, loved ones are lost, domestic tribulations intrude, jobs are taken away, wages are too low to keep hunger from the door and discouragement asks "Is life worth the struggle?"

Discouragement brings a crisis in man's life more serious than the mere relinquishing of the ground that has been gained. The bowing before it may, yes, will affect the whole future.

It was hard enough to make the start in the first place, it took nerve and it took a little bit of conceit, not a bad thing in itself if not overindulged. Now the conceit has been eliminated, the nerve weakened, and the enthusiasm that was born of youthful, hopeful inexperience and ambition is completely gone. It is practically certain that the foothold thus far gained, if relinquished, will never be acquired again. The handicap will a second time be too great.

This is the sobering thought. It lingers on the sanest reasoning. It asks the question, "Will there be any regrets?" That question is what restores balance, that is what sometimes saves the day.

And regrets are quite apt to come. Discouragement is an emotion that can not last. If it abides long and overcomes us we give up that factor in life over which we felt discouraged. At a future day, when life's other little discouraging appendages have been leveled off and we see our way clear to have carried on, we wish we had made a greater effort at the time, held on in spite of conditions and at present have as a part of our lives that which we gave up. It is then we are sorry we quit the job, sorry we threw away the ambition, sorry we relinquished the tiny or great place we had made for ourselves in the club, the city, the State, the Nation; sorry, even, that we took the deadly stuff that brings on death, so sorry that we plead with the doctor to do all in his power to save our lives.

If we overcome discouragement instead of discouragement overcoming us, hope and ambition again take its place. The will that has resisted the temptation of the moment brings strength, strength of character that grows and makes all powers strong. It comes to us all, the high and the low, the fight is equally hard. But to weather a period of discouragement is a victory, and it will ultimately bring success.—Nora Cole Skinner.

News from High School.

Pastor L. N. Lipscomb of the Methodist church spoke in chapel Friday morning. He is a good speaker and we think that he will be a great asset to our city.

The high school football team was defeated by the Slaton team Friday afternoon by a very large score.

The Englos of the local high school defeated the Philos of Wayland in basketball at the college gym Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The high school team proved better than in the last game, due to continuous practice. Leach showed up well for Wayland, while Cook and Wright Kerr starred for the high school. The Wayland team lacked practice and were defeated 12 to 8.

The line-up for high school was: Cook and Wright Kerr, forwards; Clifford and Hemphill, guards; Minor, center.

Subs, L. Kerr for Clifford, Formby for Hemphill. Referee, Shook.

The line-up for Wayland was: Parrach and Reeves, guards; Leach and Herring, forwards; C. Starns, center. Subs., Hardy for Parrach.

The Current Event clubs of high school are going strong and every one likes to be at the meetings.

Mr. Beery is finishing pictures for the annual now and all students seem to be well pleased.—High School Reporter.

Time to Plant Roses.

E. S. Keys, of Plainview Floral, says this is the best season to plant roses, and urges that every property owner should beautify his premises by planting these beautiful flowers.

He says there is good moisture in the ground, which will give the shrubs a good winter setting, and in the spring they will grow off rapidly and soon be blooming. He warns people to get the very best stock and from reliable dealers.

Hold Your Chickens.

A word to the wise: Keep your chickens off the market, if you can, until the February market comes in. The produce men do not want them at the low prices they are having to pay for them, and the February markets are always high.—Lockney Beaton.

CHURCHES

Union Thanksgiving Service.
Three years ago the "Pastors' Association" adopted a plan whereby the "Union Thanksgiving Service" would be held in the different churches in Plainview consecutively; and the sermon would be preached by the various pastors co-operating in the association consecutively. The music is provided by the choir director of the entertaining church.

According to that plan the First Christian church will entertain this service this year and Rev. L. S. Wood, pastor of the Nazarine church, will preach the sermon. The other pastors will assist in the service. A complete program will appear later.—H. E. Bullock, president association, Harlan J. Matthews, secretary.

Methodist Stewards Elect Officers.

The stewards of the Methodist church met Tuesday night of last week and organized for the new conference year. Dr. C. D. Wofford was re-elected chairman of the board, and so was Elmer Sansom as treasurer. J. D. Steakley was elected vice president and C. S. Cunningham secretary.

Salvation Army Drive.

A drive for funds for the Salvation Army will take place in the early part of December. Envoy Gregory and other Salvation Army workers from Lubbock were here Friday looking to organizing for the drive.

Influence of Sunday School Follows Child All Through His Life.

Fifty-four tiny boys and girls, all under the age of 4 years, had their picture in their home paper the other day. And every one was dressed alike, in a cap and gown, just like grown men and women wear when they graduate from college in June. In their hands was a formidable looking roll, their diploma, almost as long as they were tall, and if one was able to see around the imposing and official looking ribbon and seal, one could read that it was theirs because they had "satisfactorily completed the course in the cradle roll department of the Sunday school," and had duly graduated (with all the fixings) into the beginners' department, higher up.

What does not the Sunday school resort to in order to hold the interest of the child today, and what tireless effort does not "somebody" give to guiding and developing the boy and girl in the way they should go? I wonder if it is half realized, much less half appreciated, by the public, the parent, or the child?

All parents are not indifferent and all children are not lukewarm and disinterested at the efforts put forth. Many parents co-operate in every way, come with their children and perhaps attend some adult class themselves, and when it comes to the Christmas and Easter entertainment see that their little ones are punctual at "rehearsal." They enter in with enthusiasm to the creating of costumes for the pageants and little plays which are, because of their significance and the poise and general happiness it gives the children, so much a part of the work; and when time for parties comes, those parties which are so necessary to "holding a class together," they throw open their homes and with spirit help to make the affair a success.

But even so, although it is essential that some parents help, the Sunday school does not demand it. The Sunday school asks but for the child. It is glad just to have the father drive up to the church door in his car, drop his little tots out, and drive on to his office or shop, while the mother, for all they require, encoaches herself at home in an easy chair and devours the Sunday "ads."

The Sunday schools want the child. They would like to have the father and mother, the grown son and the grown daughter, too, and thousands of these they have, but they want the child first of all.

Some children, born with a deeper sense of appreciation and understanding than others, help the teacher carry on. But not all. Many of them think teacher likes to spend her spare time through the week preparing the Sunday school lesson for them, that teacher likes throwing her household machinery out of plumb on Sunday mornings in order to get to the classroom on time, and that teacher gets a lot of fun out of the candy pull and Hallowe'en parties she gives for their enjoyment and over which she telephones back and forth a hundred times during the week. And she, the pupil, often thinks she has been quite a model child if she has brought her nickel and attended fairly well throughout the year, even if she hasn't gotten there in time to do more than recite the Golden Text and see what the other girls have on.

It is rather discouraging work to labor over somebody else's boy and girl and not receive the co-operation of the parent or the child. Verily, the temptation must come at times to let the young one go, to quit trying to help and entertain some one who doesn't want to be helped and entertained, and whose parents do not care whether they are helped and entertained or not.

But they get their reward in results. For there are results, never doubt it. When the pupils are grown they appreciate it, too, as a child all but too late appreciates a mother and the great sacrifice made by the teacher is seen to bear fruit. The influence has lived, even though it showed such discouraging progress while being nurtured.

The Sunday school performs a magnificent service, and surely it is only fathers and mothers who are indifferent to the best interests of their children who do not make a special effort, even some sacrifice, to get them to class on Sunday morning. The lessons that are taught, of love, charity, faith and truth, sink deep, and they reveal themselves in the character all through life. The influence of the Sunday school remains, even though in after years the child himself, grown, does not know from whence the right impulse came, nor from whence the strength and principle were acquired. And as thioications and friendships made are of a sort to be relied on. They are a social background that places the child with the "salt of the earth" in childhood and in maturity.

It is truly wonderful the tremendous amount of thought and effort that men and women of the church are putting forth. Their compensation lies in having helped make a splendid citizenship for tomorrow. And no doubt it will be ample reward.—Nora Cole Skinner.

FRANCE WILL STAY TILL GERMANS PAY

Poincare Defiantly States Position More Bluntly Than Heretofore—Wants New Penalties.

Neully, France, Nov. 18.—Raymond Poincare, Premier of France, Sunday served notice on the world that France is determined to remain in the Ruhr and the Rhineand until all clauses of the Versailles treaty are completed and the security of France is guaranteed.

The Premier, who apparently was in a combative mood, added that new penalties against Germany would be imposed unless full satisfaction from Germany was obtained.

The Premier expressed no disappointment over the failure in the negotiations for the creation of a commission of experts to determine Germany's capacity to pay. He said France was firmly resolved that she was quite capable of bringing Germany to terms.

"France is determined," said M. Poincare, "not to evacuate the occupied territories until all the clauses of the treaty signed at Versailles have been completely executed and we are firmly protected against fresh policies of aggression."

German defiance of the treaty as regards military control and the return to Germany, of former Crown Prince Frederick William called for penalties against Germany, the Premier declared, "and we shall take them unless we obtain satisfaction."

Raise Fruit by Electricity.

Electricity certainly puts Old Sol to shame in the Westinghouse electric plant at Baldwin, L. I. Experiments conducted there prove that plants subjected to the heat of 500-watt electric lamps, grow with double the speed of those subjected only to sunlight.

Save Post Replacement

The fact that American farmers spend $100,000,000 each year replacing fence posts, makes us realize the economy of using good posts. You're practically through fencing when you use them—because they last a lifetime with a minimum of replacement.

Baby Has the Least Chance.

The first two years of life are hardest. When a child is born it is immediately allotted 51 1-2 years by statisticians. If he gets over the two years successfully six more years are added to his prospective stay on earth. At the age of 10, kiddies have a better paper-chance of reaching old age than the day they are born. After that chances begin to diminish proportionately with each succeeding year. Upon reaching the age of forty, 28 1/2 more years are added, and at 51 a one-way ticket to the 71-year station is handed out by the chart-makers.

Harem an Issue in Turkey.

Not long ago Turkey abolished the harem, and the Turkish men said hereafter and for all time they would be content with one wife. The women of the harem were enthusiastic because they were free at last. Then it was discovered there were 1 million more women in Turkey than there were men, that the birthrate of the country was falling off at an alarming rate and not enough babies were being born. "That's what comes of a man being allowed only one wife," said one of Turkey's eminent statesmen. Already those for and against the harem are making ready for a showdown on the issue when the Turkish parliament meets. To be sure a million surplus women is a problem.

LOVE THE IMPULSIVE POWER OF ALL GOOD.

"Love rules the court, the camp, the grove,
And man below, the saints above;
And love is heaven, and heaven is love."

It is Love that paints the rainbow of Hope athwart the clouds of darkness and despair.

Take Love out of the nature of bird and beast, reptile and insect, and the species would soon become extinct.

Take Love out of the hearts of men, and they would soon become fools.

Take Love out of religion, and we could not have even a decent palliative.

Take Love out of the world, and we would have no sympathy, no mercy,
no loving-kindness.

Take Love out of the thought of God, and we would have no God.

Love bathes in beauty and glory
the domes of capitols and the spires of churches, the asylums of the friendless and the refuges of the aged and helpless.

Love tints the petals of the flowers, puts the sheen on the dewdrop, the twinkle in the star. It puts joy into the hearts of the discouraged and sorrowful—and nothing else can do it.
Love alone can redeem sinners and save materially as well as spiritually
the world from "chaos and old night."

Love is the creator and preserver, promoter and defender, of all that is good. It is the dynamic force operating in ethics and equity, in religion and philosophy. It is the mother of Mercy and the partner of Truth. It is the righteous impulsive power omnipresent throughout the universe.
It builds every hospital and every orphan home, promotes every philanthropic enterprise, and impels every altruistic effort.

Love Back of All Good.
Love includes every attribute of good.

It is back of every pure thought,
every cheery word, every good deed.
It puts sparkle in the eyes of the aged and music in the laughter of little children.

Love nurtures, protects and defends, thus preserving the weak and the helpless.

Love is manifested by every living thing, from insects to animals, from fowls to fishes, from reptiles to men.

Love begets the devotion of fran-ternity and animates with joy and tenderness ineffable the heart of motherhood.

Love is the authority which sends angels on their errands of mercy, and the power that enables them to accomplish the things whereto they are sent.

Love makes heroes of cowards, martyrs of the weak, and philanthropists of the miserly and selfish.

Of Love alone can it be said that the more we give it the more we have.

"Men wax rich from thrifty living;
Love is opulent from giving—
Keeps its store from growing less
By unceasing lavishness."

Love Back of Every Charity.

It is Love which puts into the minds of men and women the desire to help each other—to organize Welfare Associations and establish sheltering arms for the smitten and helpless.

Love is the commander-in-chief of the Army of the Red Cross and director of relief expeditions.

All power and all credit to the welfare worker and those who provide through their contributions for the good they do.

But the greatest work can and should be done where the child launches its little craft upon the sea of life—in the home, the church and the school.

Where the parents, the teacher and the minister leave off the policeman begins.

Love's Strength and Sufficiency.

Love's infinite supply and infinite strength should not seem strange to us, since we are told by one who knew that "God is love." Love's power is seen in the continuity of the life of everything that "moveth or creepeth upon the earth."

In Love is all wisdom, as shown by its effects—the promotion of happiness, the preservation of life, all constructive effort.

Without Love there would be no sympathy, no mercy, no forgiveness;
no impulsion to the performance of courageous and loving deeds; no tender compassion, no enduring patience.
Without Love the light of life would go out.

There can be no life without Love.

Life could not exist were there nothing but the blackness of hate.
Hate is itself sin, folly—insanity, as shown by its effects.

No one with hate blackening his life, with jealousy consuming his mentality, with envy cankering his heart, can ever be in condition to invite inspection and trial.

Every conclusion of logic, every demonstration of philosophy, every manifestation of spirit, every experience of life, every suggestion of wisdom, makes plain not only the righteousness of man's love for his brother,
but its NECESSITY.

Everything good is a necessity;

nothing evil is.

How to Do Away With Burdens.

If men were willing to bear each other's burdens, there would soon be no burden to bear.

Mens and Boys Suits, Overcoats and Odd Trousers at Reduced Prices

One Glance at Our Special Values Will Convince You That It Pays To Trade Here.

So powerful is the influence of Love on the hearts and characters of men that in large measure, as Goethe says, "We are shaped and fashioned by the things we love."

Don't put the poison of death—hate—into the water of life—Love.

When we look about us and see the woe and misery, the sorrow and unhappiness, which surround us, surely we conclude as some one has said,
"The world is a comedy to those who think, and a tragedy to those who feel."

Where there is no mercy there is no Love.

Sweet, beautiful, glorious Mercy is the child of Love.

Mercy is Love manifested in good deeds, gentle and wise words, deep and Divine thoughts. Only one who is without Love is without Mercy.
Therefore he who is without mercy is farthest from Him who is Love.

Hate is the enemy of Love, and cruelty is hate's favorite child—it is madness. Every deed of kindness, every word of consolation and sympathy, every smile of encouragement, is an act of Mercy prompted by Love.
Love is the miracle-worker.
Only Love can work the magic transformation of turning drudgery into loving service, and making unremitting toil a continuous delight.

Love converts cold indifference into warm and sympathetic tenderness.

It makes of suffering a pleasure, of sacrifice a gain, of self-denial a joy, even to the sharing of our last possession.

Love converts fear into courage, shrinking timidity into daring, and apprehension into defiance.

Love's All-Preserving Nature.

Love underlies, overlies and permeates every phase of existence, here and hereafter.

Whether he believes in it or not,
man's happiness, peace and serenity depend upon the extent to which he exercises love for all mankind, regardless of creed, race, sect or nation.

Violation of the Law of Love brings its penalty as surely as obedience to it brings reward. Thus we see that "Love is the fulfilling of the law."
Certainly, as the Apostle said, without love man is "a sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal." If Love were universal the greater part of the work done by welfare organizations and charity associations would be unnecessary.

Love and Economics.

It seems that Love is rarely thought of from the standpoint of economics. Nevertheless its power is as effective from that view as from any other, for Love is a builder and not a vandal. It impels to gentleness and sweet consideration, never to violence or passion, which are the results of hate. This is true physiologically and otherwise. Hate and anger generate a poison in the system that is destructive of nerve tissue and life cells.

Love caused the "hated Samaritan" to pour oil into the wounds of the victim of the robbers.

Love inspires and blesses, gives hope and encouragement, imparts courage and faith, promotes self-denial and self-sacrifice, impels patience and fortitude.

Love in its wisdom and constructive activity never builds anything ugly or unattractive, repugnant or repel-ling, ephemeral or temporal. Its works are beautiful and permanent, good and eternal, encouraging and continuous.

Love does not construct hovels full of misery, squalor and suffering, but mansions filled with harmony, peace and sweet serenity, whose chambers are brimming-full of charity, long-suffering, patience and loving-kindness for all mankind.

Love builds righteousness on the ruins of sin, sets right where wrong has stood, puts beauty in place of ugliness, peace and joy where once were sorrow and discontent, and where selfishness and greed held forth in all their nakedness and shame, it raises the stately towers of palaces wherein are kindness, tenderness and purity.

Love supplants discord with music,
turbulence with system and chaos
with order.

"All Thoughts, all passions and delights,
Whatever stirs this mortal flame,
All are but ministers of Love,
And feed his sacred flame."

—Dallas News.
