Deputy premier flees Cambodia

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A Thai helicopter whisked former Cambodian Deputy Premier Ieng Sary from his homeland to safety today as Vietnamese tanks were reported closing in, and the ousted official then flew out of Bangkok for Hong Kong, Thai airlines officials said.

Another helicopter also made a brief landing inside Cambodia and then returned to Thailand, but there was no confirmation either of the choppers picked up ex-President Khieu Samphan or other ex-officials of the fallen Phnom Penh government.

Thai Prime Minister Kriangsak Chomanan told reporters earlier he had been told troops still loyal to the toppled Communist regime were spreading out to wage guerrilla war and that Ieng Sary would not flee his country "very soon."

But senior Thai military and Western sources said Khieu Samphan and Ieng Sary, along with about 500 of their associates and their families, were negotiating through intermediaries to enter Thailand so they could go on to China, their only important ally while they were in power.

Reporters at the border town of Aranyaprathet, 124 miles east of Bangkok, said the helicopters landed in Poipet, just across the frontier.

About 20 tanks and an unknown number of troops of the new Cambodian government were sighted to the south of Poipet. The tanks bore markings of the rebel Kampuchean (Cambodian) United Front which the Vietnamese army led into Phnom Penh last Sunday. But there was speculation that they were Vietnamese tanks in disguise, since Hanoi's story is that Cambodian insurgents and not Vietnamese are doing the fighting.

Vietnamese forces also were reported advancing in northwest Cambodia on the two major towns which the ousted regime was reported still holding: Siem Reap and the nearby ruins of Angkor, the ancient Cambodian capital, and Battambang. Thai and Western sources said a third city, Pursat, was among 20 percent of Cambodia that may still be controlled by the former government.

Sihanouk was in New York to represent the ousted government before the U.N. Security Council.

Local robbery attempt fizzles

A local service station operator refused to give in to strong-arm robbers Wednesday night.

Jerry Metcalf, 3218 Drexel, foiled an attempt by two male teenagers to rob the Fina Service Station at 1100 N. Lamesa.

Police said that two boys, one five feet tall, the other just over five feet tall, walked into the station's office around 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. They asked Metcalf for a pack of cigarettes, and, as he placed them on the counter, the taller of the young robbers leaned over and slapped him across the face with a brick.

Stunned, but still conscious, Metcalf grabbed the boy's sweatshirt and pulled it over the young criminal's head. The boy then threatened Metcalf, saying that the shorter robber would begin shooting if the operator didn't produce the money from the cash register.

Instead, the short robber threw a tire iron at Metcalf. Luckily, he missed.

Then, as the scuffle continued, a customer drove into the station, and the two empty-handed teens fled east on foot.

An investigator noted that before making their exit the thwarted robbers even forgot to pick up the pack of cigarettes they had ordered.

Nagel answers detective's charges

Police to sock city with time(ly) suit

By JAMES WERRELL

Big Spring Police will file a suit within two weeks against the city to recover overtime money they claim was withheld, according to John Burson, police association president. Burson said this morning that police are entitled to one-and-a-half times their regular salary for work that exceeds 40 hours during a week.

"The city has refused to live up to the law in this, and we will file suit to claim what is ours," he said.

Burson filed a petition in 118th District Court, Wednesday afternoon, to make certain that records kept by the city regarding overtime hours of

Big Spring lands new restaurant

Church's Fried Chicken, a national franchise, will open a restaurant soon at 1100 Gregg.

The permit for the $75,000 eatery was issued by the city this morning, according to Mark Campbell, building inspector. The restaurant will measure 30 feet by 45 feet, and will be constructed of masonry and brick.

It will feature both drive-through and sit-down accommodations.

officers are not destroyed.

"This doesn't mean to say that someone would rush out and destroy the documents to prevent them from being seen. But it is the end of the year, and they are routinely destroyed about this time, so we want to make sure that doesn't happen," said Burson.

Police Chief Stanley Bogard and his secretary, Doris Smith, have been ordered by the court to produce the documents, 10 a.m. Jan. 26.

Police hired Dewey Hicks, an Austin attorney, Tuesday, to represent them in the suit.

In answer to Burson's charges, City Manager Harry Nagel released a written statement, 11:50 a.m. today:

"On January 10, I was served with papers from some Austin Attorneys requesting the Police Chief to present payroll hourly records for all policemen in the Big Spring Department for failure to compensate Detective John Burlson for overtime.

"Upon being served, I contacted the Chief of Police concerning this and he advised me he knew of no complaints as to the methods employed by the department concerning overtime and was at a loss as to explain why a lawsuit was threatened instead of the individual contacting him personally expressing his complaint."

"If the department was violating the law in its handling of overtime it was certainly unintentional and will be rectified."

"I wonder why this individual thought it was necessary to retain legal counsel instead of using

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A mob hauled down and burned the American flag today in front of the U.S. consulate in Shiraz, toppled three statues of the shah and stormed the secret police headquarters, residents reported.

Between two and eight persons were killed and 10 to 15 were wounded when agents of the secret police, SAVAK, opened fire to defend themselves, the Shiraz residents said.

Inflation keeps momentum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising costs of gasoline, food and machinery pushed wholesale prices up 0.8 percent in December as inflation kept up its momentum, the Labor Department said today.

For all of 1978, wholesale prices rose 9.1 percent, the biggest such increase since an 18.3 percent jump in 1974, the department said. In 1977, prices went up 6.6 percent.

The wholesale price figures are important because they are an early sign of what consumers can expect in the way of price changes in the next few months.

The 0.8 percent increase for December was the same as in November and about average for the past four months. If averaged out over an entire year it would amount to 10 percent — slightly above the inflation rate of about 9 to 9.5 percent for this year.

Wholesale food prices, which had eased in November, resumed their climb last month, rising 0.9 percent.

Beef and veal prices turned up in December after declining in November, but pork prices slipped. Prices were higher for processed poultry, fruit and vegetables, dairy products and candy. Prices of eggs dropped 4 percent.

The price of gasoline, sold at the refinery, rose 4 percent in December, and kerosene rose in price by 2.8 percent.

The report measured finished goods, or the price of products just before they are sold to consumers. The Producer Price Index for Finished Goods stood at 202.4, meaning that wholesale products that cost $100 in the base period of 1967 cost $202.40 last month.

The report was released as urban officials and the Senate leader of President Carter's party were giving the administration little encouragement on its anti-inflation program.

Q. With computerized voting, how do you vote against a candidate when there's only one candidate on the ballot?

A. According to Margaret Ray, county clerk, you simply don't vote for that person. By not voting for or against a candidate, she explained, the voter has expressed a negative vote.

New address for Red Cross

The site of the local Red Cross office is being moved out of the county courthouse into city owned facilities. Facilities were located in the basement of the courthouse but are being moved into the city's Public Works Building, 911 E. 2nd St.

The vacant space in the courthouse has been filled by the mapping department of the County Tax Appraisal Office. That department is under the direction of Greg Smith. Smith is a mapper from Alabama who will be making ownership maps for the county. The maps will specify the owners of Howard County land.

The Howard County Commissioners Court voted to move the Red Cross out in a regular meeting last fall to make space for the mapping department. The county commissioners act as custodians for the court house building.

Snow traced in Big Spring

Only .02 of an inch of snow and rain fell Wednesday afternoon and hardly enough fell last night to even measure. Enough fell, though, to ice over car windows and cover the streets and grass with a white sheet.

Rochester, Rule, Clyde, De Leon, Dublin, and Gorman got an inch of precipitation, though. Total moisture for the Big Spring area in 1979 now totals .03.

Brief session

The Tax Appraisal Board met Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the County Courtroom. Minutes from last meeting were read. No new action was taken.

MR. & MRS. JOHN RIDEOUT REUNITED—John and Greta Rideout enjoy a night out Wednesday in Salem, Ore. after the two decided to reunite. John Rideout two weeks ago was acquitted of raping his wife Greta. In an abrupt and surprise move Sunday night, they decided to "try and work things out."

Space debris declines

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The North American Air Defense Command says more than 1,000 satellites are orbiting the Earth. However, the amount of space debris that accompanied them declined from 766 pieces in 1977 to 468 in 1978.

NORAD said Wednesday a decline in the number of satellites that have disintegrated was partly responsible for the decrease. NORAD officials said more heavily-instrumented satellites were shot into space during 1978 than in 1977, but fewer pieces of space debris went with them. Space debris is defined as rocket motors and other parts that go into orbit along with the payload.

Judge won't reconsider

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP)—A state appeals court has refused to reconsider its ruling that overturned a $3 million slander judgment won against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. by a former executive and the family of another former top Bell official.

Attorneys for James Ashley and Mrs. Oleta Gravitt Dixon, widow of T. O. Gravitt, said Wednesday they will appeal the decision to the Texas Supreme Court. Ashley and Mrs. Gravitt had filed a $29 million suit against Bell, claiming that a wrongful Bell internal investigation led to Ashley's firing and Gravitt's suicide.

Homosexual sworn in SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Harry Britt, a 40-year-old homosexual auditor, has been sworn in to complete the final year of Harvey Milk's term on the city's Board of Supervisors.

Britt's installation Wednesday completes the transition of city government that began with the Nov. 27 murders of Milk and Mayor George Moscone and Milk. Mayor Dianne Feinstein announced Monday that she would appoint Britt to the vacancy Milk also was a homosexual. Former supervisor Dan White has been charged with both killings.

Mattel stops sales

ATLANTA (AP)—The Mattel Corp. has stopped selling a toy spaceship after several children injured themselves—and a 3-year-old Atlanta boy died—by shooting missiles into their mouths.

Spencer Boise, vice president of corporate affairs for Mattel Corp., said the company is considering a "missile mail-in" campaign, urging children to send in the 1 1/4-inch soft plastic projectiles included with the "Battlestar Galactica" toy. "I want to emphasize that it is not the toy that is the problem," he said. "It is the little red missile that the children are shooting into their mouths."

'Speed trap' at Kendleton

The American Automobile Association has designated the town of Kendleton, Texas, as a Strict Enforcement Area and is alerting AAA members traveling through the town that police there make frequent arrests for traffic violations.

Wayne King, director of Public Relations and Safety for AAA's Texas Division, emphasized that the Strict designation does not suggest unfair enforcement. "We used the term to indicate frequent issuance of traffic tickets for legitimate reasons such as a high accident rate or dangerous traffic conditions."

King pointed out that Kendleton, a town of about 800 population, lies along a heavily traveled two-lane section of U.S. 59 that carries most traffic between Houston and the cities of Corpus Christi, Victoria, Brownsville and Laredo. The speed limit through the town is 55 mph.

LeBlanc case

is dismissed

The case against Edward LaBlanc, Nacadoches, was dismissed in 118th District Court today. He had been charged with aggravated robbery an offense that occurred April 4, 1977.

District Attorney Rick Hamby's only witness, Ruben Sinks, said under oath that he could not positively identify LaBlanc as the man who had held him up two years ago. Sinks had been robbed of $50 when he picked up a hitchhiker who, he said, pulled a gun and robbed him.

AAA's designation of Kendleton as a Strict Enforcement Area means that maps which the nationwide motoring organization furnishes to members traveling through Kendleton will show the highway through the town marked with a dashed red line indicating traffic hazards and strict enforcement.

The dashed red line is in contrast to AAA's designation for a Traffic Trap, which would be a solid red line. AAA defines a Traffic Trap as an area in which there is strict traffic enforcement for revenue rather than for safety. AAA currently designates no area as a Traffic Trap.

Demoted officers refuse to comment

ODESSA, Texas (AP)—Shortly after a 41-year-old Odessa man disappeared in June 1977, an Ector County sheriff's deputy questioned one suspect three times but couldn't get the suspect to talk to him.

Two other investigators, working under District Attorney John Green, grilled the same suspect again last week and got a statement that led to the discovery of skeletal remains in a shallow grave south of Odessa and to filing of murder charges. As a result, deputy James Brown, 53, and a captain overseeing the 1977 investigation have been demoted from the criminal investigation division to the sheriff's patrol division, Sheriff Elton Faught has announced.

"I don't believe the district attorney's office would be able to rely any more on any criminal case that Brown might work in the future," Sheriff Faught said in a statement announcing the demotions Tuesday. Green called a news conference last Friday to criticize the 1977 investigation. He mentioned Brown by name and Faught noted: "I believe his credibility now as an investigator has been demoted." Faught said Capt. Don Register, 41, was demoted and stripped of his rank for not properly overseeing the missing person's case "and for his handling of other cases that I don't intend to discuss right now."

Steven P. Perrin, 21, of Odessa was charged with murder last Friday after the remains of Raymond Carl White, 41, were found in the secluded grave. Perrin was placed in Ector County Jail on $50,000 bond. An autopsy said White had been shot once in the back of the head.

Neither Register nor Brown would comment about their demotion Tuesday by Faught. They referred all inquiries to the sheriff.

Ezell says Briscoe plan faces uncertain future

AUSTIN — Rep. Mike Ezzell, D-Snyder, said Gov. Dolph Briscoe's proposals in the final State of the State address to the Legislature Wednesday face an uncertain future.

"My general feeling is that he can make recommendations but unless they are amiable with the fellow coming in they won't carry much weight," Ezzell said. Briscoe retires next week after six years in office and will be succeeded by Republican William Clements.

Rep. Walter Grubbs, D-Abilene, said he was skeptical about Briscoe's proposed aid to local school districts to lessen tax burdens. "An additional one million in tax relief is not realistic in my opinion,"

Grubbs said. Grubbs said he is leaning toward supporting the Legislative Budget Board's approval which leaves almost nothing for tax relief. "Are you going to deny teachers a pay raise, state employees a pay raise? Where are you going to cut to get an additional one million?"

Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, said he hasn't seen Briscoe's budget yet, but he is "hopeful it will be helpful" in preparing the next budget.

The tax limitation proposals requiring two-thirds majorities to pass tax questions is "nothing new," Farabee said. He noted they had been considered and rejected in special session last year.

Police beat Burglar, vandals keep police busy

A burglar broke into the home of William L. Bartlett 617 Bucknell, through the bedroom window, sometime between 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Wednesday. Stolen were a pen knife, a pair of nail clippers and some loose change. Loss was estimated at $22.

Vehicles driven by Cliff Proffitt, P.O. Box 688, and Marvin Winton, Sterling City Route, collided at 18th and Scurry, 10:04 a.m.

The Big Spring Cable TV Company, 2006 S. Birdwell, reported that while a company van was parked on North Aylford, someone shot it with a pellet gun. Damage was estimated at $75.

Vandals also threw a rock through the door at the Pizza Inn, 1702 Gregg, Wednesday morning. Damage was estimated at $10.

Three mishaps were reported Wednesday. A parked vehicle belonging to Lewis Heflin, 3912 Hamilton, was struck by a vehicle that left the scene in the lot of Cowper Clinic, 4:48 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Barbara Stanley, 1601 Phillips, and Janice Hopper, 1303 College, collided at 13th and Main, 5:37 p.m.

By SCOTT CARPENTER, Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Looking far more rested and relaxed than he did at the end of his unsuccessful U.S. Senate campaign, U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger, D-New Braunfels, says his first priority for the new year is paying off his campaign debt.

Krueger, in Austin for the opening of the 1979 Legislature and a Democratic victory party, thinks it will take three to six months to raise $350,000 to pay off the debt he accumulated in his race against U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Texas.

Krueger's top target: Paying campaign debt

As for other future political plans, Krueger says, "I haven't run my last race." He added that he's far more interested in federal than state elective office. If U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, retires in four years, Krueger would be an almost certain candidate.

He has met with key White House staff members in the past few weeks but discounts rumors of a possible federal appointment.

"I haven't sold my house in Washington (D.C.) and don't intend to," Krueger said. But he doubts that he would accept an appointment to any position below cabinet level. "And I don't see any cabinet jobs open," he said. He would consider lesser positions, but only if convinced, after analyzing the job, that it was a leadership position.

While Krueger plans to keep his Washington Home, most of his time will be spent in Texas. He plans to buy into a savings and loan company — but wouldn't say where. He also will devote more time to his ranch in Crockett County and be more involved in business.

Krueger's House term ends next week.

Ex-Big Spring teacher honored as SWT's professor emeritus

A former Big Spring High School teacher, Dr. Ralph Houston, long time professor of English at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, has been honored as the school's first professor emeritus.

Dr. Houston taught here from 1931 through the spring of 1937, when W. C. Blankenship was superintendent of schools.

A resolution adopted by the School of Regents, State University System, formally designated Dr. Houston as 'Distinguished Professor of English Emeritus.'

Although former Dean Alfred Nolle was named dean emeritus and former President James Garland Flowers was named president emeritus, Dr. Houston is the first SWT faculty member to be named professor emeritus.

The resolution, which was effective Sept. 1, cited Dr. Houston's 40 years of teaching at Southwest Texas during which he passed through all university faculty ranks.

"The Department of English is very pleased to have this honor bestowed upon Dr. Houston," SWT English Chairman Dr. Martha L. Brunson said. "He is a valued teacher and colleague and continues to contribute wisely to the excellence of the department and the university."

Dr. Houston joined the SWT faculty in 1937 after teaching English for six years at Big Spring High School.

A veteran of WW II, Dr. Houston served in the U.S. Army from 1942 until 1946. He served as chairman of SWT's Department of English from 1958 until 1965 and was dean of Liberal and Fine Arts from 1965 until 1970.

Houston is married to the former Frances McNew of Big Spring.

In a letter to Nell Brown of Big Spring, who taught in the Big Spring system with Houston, Ralph said he was experiencing the best of two worlds in that, although officially retired, he has to some extent kept his hand in teaching. He also wrote that "for the first time I had seen more football than I have cared to see."

Houston also revealed that another one-time Big Spring teacher, Seth Parsons, had visited him recently. Parsons, who taught Chemistry here in the early 30s, is retired and living in Las Cruces, N.M.

Parson was married to the former Ona Reagan of Big Spring. A long-time Women's Editor of the Herald, Mrs. Parsons died several years ago.

HC awards $117,661 in grants

Last year Howard College awarded Basic Educational Opportunity Grants (BEOG) totaling $117,661. Each semester Howard College awards thousands of dollars in financial aid, according to Terry Newman, Dean of Students.

Every year the federal government disburses more than $80 billion in grants to thousands of local governments, universities, hospitals, research organizations and social agencies.

Howard College students who meet eligibility requirements can see Dean Newman in order that a total financial package may be developed. Forms must be filled out before announced deadlines for the grant to be awarded. Grants range between $50 and $1,600 under the BEOG program alone.

Howard College registration begins Thursday and students who need financial or scholarship assistance can contact department or division heads or Newman for more information.

Curtis Vaughn, a retired United States Air Force technician, has been an auto mechanic for over 20 years. That's why he decided to do something he wanted to do all his life. Go to college.

Curtis Vaughn is 46 and is a sophomore at Howard College. He retired from a successful career in the U.S. Air Force and began his service station business nine years ago.

Since then he has owned or managed Vaughn's Premier Station, the Gulf station on Fourth Street and Gregg, and Premier Interstate 20. He currently works in the maintenance division of Berkley Homes.

According to Curtis, "Auto mechanics is something that everyone who drives a car should know something about. It can help very much on service costs for the family car. You'd be surprised at the number of women who enroll."

Other opportunities in vocational areas include drafting, welding, auto body shop, machine tool technology, jewelry manufacturing, related courses.

Curtis is enrolled at Howard College because he's getting ready for the next part of his future.

Along the way Curtis has found out some nice things. He feels smarter everyday. He's got friends of all ages. He's confident about a future he's working on now. And he has a high grade point average.

If you're interested in your future look into Howard College. We're interested in the future, too.

McMahon heads YMCA drive

The Big Spring YMCA announced today that Clyde McMahon Jr. will be the chairman for the 1979 sustaining membership drive.

With a goal of $14,000, the official kick off for this year's campaign is Monday. Any contributions to the drive, which helps keep youth memberships at a minimum, are tax deductible.

The YMCA and its boards of directors has adopted the policy that no youth will be denied a membership because they cannot afford it or because of religious preference. Because of the sustaining and United Way funds, the YMCA was able to keep youth programs in progress with a $73 deficit per youth member during 1978.

Hise's contract to draw look

Big Spring School trustees will discuss School Superintendent Lynn Hise's contract this afternoon in their regular meeting at 5:15 in the Board Room near Big Spring High School. Trustees meet in executive session to discuss the issue.

Board members will also discuss employment and resignation of personnel, the senior citizen's meals program, analysis of school tax collection and collection of delinquent taxes.

Wichita Falls has four inches of snow

By The Associated Press

Light rain and freezing drizzle fell across Northeast Texas early today morning hours in the wake of a winter storm that left about four inches of snow on the ground at Wichita Falls.

The storm also dumped snow, sleet and freezing rain across a wide area of the northern half of the state and caused heavy rainfall across the southern half of the state.

Don't give telephone creeps second chance

Don't give anonymous harassers a second chance. When you get an obscene or harassing telephone call, don't wait for a second one—take action at once. This was the advice coming from Bob Hurt, Southwestern Bell Telephone manager, to the Noon Lions Club Wednesday.

If you wait to take action, said Hurt, the matter will only get worse. Here's what you do: "First, call the police (or sheriff if you are outside city limits), then contact the telephone company."

What happens — if the nature of the calls is obscene, threatening, etc — is that a polarity trap is put on your line, and when that harassing call comes in, the trap locks on the calling number so long as you don't hang up.

When that happens, law enforcement officials can go into action, and what happens after that is up to you, said Hurt. Officers generally can advise if calls are prosecutable, and Hurt felt that many should be pursued.

If harassing calls continue to come from a certain number, the telephone company can — and probably will — discontinue service to that number, he

Unwanted calls generally fall into the categories of harassment, obscenity, threats and collections (by agencies). Most of these calls are by children with a mistaken idea of fun, hence you can expect these nuisance calls to step up after school or during holidays. But there are also many made by creeps.

Wildlife always seems to be in news

Someone was moved to remark once that if animals could talk they would fight with the same intensity that man does, and over the same trivial matters.

THE SO-CALLED sub-human species may be lucky in that it can't carry on an intelligent conversation between each other (for that matter who among humans can do the same?), but — as the National Wildlife Federation pointed out recently — wildlife always seems to be in the news.

For instance, 1978 was a year when:

- A tiny fish, called the small darter, halted construction of a $120 million dam in Tennessee.
- A diamondback rattlesnake, concealed in a mailbox as a murder weapon, sank its fangs into and nearly killed a Los Angeles attorney. People are forever being reminded of the memory of the elephant, the gentleness of the lamb, the iron constitution of the goat, the stubbornness of the mule, the silliness of the goose and the curiosity of the cat. The animals saddled with those proclivities might dispute such claims, if they could vocally defend themselves. Fact is, they might resent being compared to humans in the first place.

Certainly, they can take comfort in the fact that, in man's eyes, this world would be a lot poorer place without animals and man's desire to be associated with them.

Reporters and photographers sent forth to write about man and his environment are instructed to be forever on the lookout for animal stories.

There are stories which don't gain wide currency but are invariably interesting and usually appealing as well.

For example, how about the item about the large octopus that was found abandoned on the floor of a ladies' room in San Francisco? Or the story concerning the theft of a batch of snakes, valued at $5,000, from a reptile house in Glen Burnie, Md? Then there was the one about the disappearance of a pig in Washington County, Mo. Well, originally, it concerned one pig but by the time she arrived in St. Louis, she had produced eight piglets.

MAN'S CRUELTY to animals sometimes surpasses the inhumanity he shows for his fellow man. Perhaps his savagery toward four-footed creatures makes him feel superior. Perhaps he feels frustrated and takes out his rage on a helpless creature which can't or doesn't know how to fight back.

The papers are always full of items about such individuals — wretched souls like the alleged devil worshippers who mutilate animals just to satisfy the blood lust of their gods.

For unusual stories, we offer the one about the biologists in Western Canada who reportedly are trying to convince coyotes that sheep don't taste good. They're doing it by injecting dead sheep with lithium chloride and then leaving them for the coyotes. The lithium chloride doesn't kill the coyotes. It just gives them an upset stomach.

Anyone heard a good shaggy dog story lately?

'Elementary'

Around the rim

Eileen McGuire

The tread on my tires is gone now

And my transmission sounds kind of sick,

No matter how dry the roads get They'll never stop feeling slick.

My front gate lays on the ground

From the last time I slid into it, The blood in my veins still runs cold

No heat broke the last of my spirit.

No school did away with the peace and quiet

That once filled my humble home,

The kids thought it was summer vacation

I thought it was the end of my rope.

But now all is back to normal

Except for the tires and dents,

And the gate and the kids and the doctor bills

And a security I no longer sense.

That famed Texas cry "Remember the Alamo"

Will soon be replaced, I'm sure,

As thawed out West Texans greet one another

With "Good Lord, remember last winter!"

And now on to more pleasant subjects.

Did you ever hear that theory that a super cold winter means a super hot summer?

On the six o'clock news the other night, I heard that only the very rich are going to be able to afford to eat this year.

Well, the new year started with a big skid and now we're really sliding into 1979. How many times have you caught yourself dating checks?

There was a bright side to all this slippery mess that has made slush out of my creativity. I no longer miss Michigan after this rather expensive reminder of what winter can do to a fairly well-organized, calm household.

And I was also reminded of how warm-hearted you Texans are, even in freezing temperatures. Five times you pushed me out of icy situations and once your kids did. Twice, you boosted my battery and another time, you revived my car from a mysterious death.

But I still say you pronounce siren and oil wrong.

I noticed that as the ice lingered on, the charitable spirit displayed during the first few days thinned. Knights in shining armor, who for a brief moment made me glad that women's lib hadn't effected Texan chivalry, stopped galloping and started trotting.

Drivers stopped looking out for the other guy and started making sure number one would get there first.

In some cases, like at the crosswalks in front of College Heights on the first day back to school, people got downright rude. Every child who crossed the street that day deserves a medal for bravery.

The biggest noticeable effect of winter on Texas friendliness was at the grocery store. When I arrived here nearly four years ago, I was impressed. Back home, no one smiled or allowed the other person to enter the aisle first.

Each time you entered a grocery store, you knew that you were taking a risk of becoming just another grocery cart statistic somewhere between the Oreos and the Parkay. And the smaller the aisles, the bigger your chance of ending up backed up into the potato bin.

During the icy nights just past, I saw a temporary resemblance between Michigan and Texas shoppers. And the darker it became outside, the more maddening the crowd became inside.

But, I'm confident that it was just the weather that temporarily lowered that famous West Texan friendliness a degree. And as the temperatures warm, so will the atmosphere in the grocery store and so will my interest in writing rims.

Jimmy rides again

William F. Buckley, Jr.

If you want to know what is Jimmy Carter's human rights policy, go to Delphos, and the oracle will set an all-time record for inscrutability.

A few days before President Carter promulgated his new China policy I was in conversation with Mr. Theodore White, author of "In Search of History." (That it is the bestseller, incidentally, is a tribute to the free market system.) Mr. White opined that he would like to see the United States establish "cordial" relations with mainland China. I asked him what exactly he meant by the word "cordial" relations, but after two attempts, I gracefully changed the subject, because in fact Mr. White had not thought the question quite through, and had found himself impaled on a cliché.

BUT EVENTS were to move very fast. A few days later, as noted, Carter announced that on January 1 we would recognize the government of Peking. And on January 2, over television, we viewed Americans in Peking, and Chinese in Washington, embracing each other. In Peking we saw, what may turn out to be a prototype Studio 54, where Americans and Chinese dressed in the prim garb of Chairman Mao, were dancing together, a little creakily, but then the China card is only freshly dealt, and is stiff from decades of desuetude. In toasting to each other's health, no mention was made of Cambodia. We are pledged to help China economically, and to stimulate trade.

A significant economic effort, by our new friends in China, has been levoted during the past few years, and continues, to propping up the government of Pol Pot in Cambodia which government is engaged in as systematic a destruction and torture of human beings as Hitler or Stalin ever dreamed of. We have certainly concluded what would go by the name of "cordial" relations with the Chinese Communists under any definition, and the choreographer Carter is the same fellow who expressed his basic concern for human rights.

A few days later, President Boumediene of Algeria died. There were a number of attendant ironies in the final days. Boumediene imported the greatest shiploads of capitalists medical technology ever amassed in behalf of any struggle to keep any human being alive in all of history. To get all that stuff he had to send out to the United States for it, which country he has consistently denied.

MORE THAN THAT, as a matter of fact Boumediene has been the principal critic of the United States outside the Communist world. Algeria, under Boumediene, was a sanctuary for every terrorist, hijacker, or revolutionist who could show that he had killed, or was dedicated to killing, at least on Israeli, or to the destruction of at least one democracy. They all streamed into Algeria, which became the unofficial capital of the anti-democratic, anti-capitalist, anti-liberal Third World.

Boumediene came to power much in the way that Stalin came to power — by shifty allegiances, quick tactical moves, and then a coup of sorts, which removed President Ben Bella.

Ben Bella? What happened to him? Nobody knows for sure. I mean, not even the CIA knows. Not even Algerian historian Alistair Horne knows. However, there is a persistent rumor that Boumediene, while not wishing — for extra-humanitarian reasons — to execute Ben Bella, considered the father of Algerian independence, put him away in isolation but took the precaution of guarding against his escape and ascendancy through the use of his golden instrument: Ben Bella was the supreme Algerian orator.

Pill may cause 'spider' veins

By Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: What causes tiny broken blood vessels and is there any way of preventing or getting rid of them? I have some that look like a spider web on my thighs, and lately I've noticed some on my nose and cheeks. I am 26 and would like to prevent more if possible. Do men get this? — Mrs. L.C.

There are several names for these — spider veins, spider burst, varicules, etc. They are essentially harmless cosmetic nuisances, mini-versions of varicose veins. They seem to be related to any increased pressure on the normal flow of blood (venous blood).

Otherwise, it is not entirely clear why they appear or why some get them and others not. It's thought that, since they tend to occur more in women, hormones are involved. This idea is strengthened by the fact that they tend to occur during pregnancy, when hormonal activity rises. Vein pressure from pregnancy contributes. More recently, hormones in birth control pills have been implicated. In any event, they tend to disappear following pregnancy or after going off the Pill. It may take months.

If they persist and become an intolerable cosmetic nuisance, they can be removed by a new method in which a sclerosing (drying) solution is injected into one of the central superficial (near the surface) veins.

As you can imagine, your letter speaks for thousands of women who write on this subject. I hope they are reading. The problem can occur in men also. Except for cosmetic removal no treatment is required.

Dear Dr. Ruble: How soon after cataract removal can eyeglasses be prescribed? — N.N.

Temporary lenses can be used within a few weeks of surgery and permanent ones in from three to six months. L.K. asks about contacts after cataract removal. It usually doesn't work out too well in aphakia (absence of the lens). There are practical problems. Cataract removal is usually done on elderly persons who may lack the dexterity to place the tiny elusive lenses on the eyeballs. I have read recently about efforts to develop contacts that can be left in place for six months at a time. They are still in the developmental stage and it may be some time before they are available. For a more thorough treatment of living with post-cataract surgery see the booklet, "Cataracts and Glaucoma." For a copy, send 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I recently read about the effects of too much vitamin A. I am taking two 10,000-international-unit capsules daily. Is this enough to cause serious side effects? I am a female, 41 years old. — G.W.

It's way over what you need, but I doubt it will poison your system.

An adult requires about 5,000 IUs a day. The need rises in women during pregnancy or when they are nursing (6,000 and 8,000 respectively).

Your 20,000 units a day is getting within range of dosages given for people who have a vitamin A deficiency. If you have not been told you are deficient you have no need for that much. Fortified milk and green vegetables are a handier and less expensive source of the vitamin. It's felt that upwards of 100,000 IUs daily over an extended period may cause poisoning since the vitamin is one that is stored in the liver and fatty tissue.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Is thyroid trouble inherited? — Mrs. D.A.C.

It was thought previously that inheritance did not play a role, but recently there have been suggestions that certain forms of thyroid disease may be inherited.

Dear Dr. Ruble: My daughter had her ears pierced and on one ear a bump developed. The doctor said it was a keloid and it would have to be removed by a plastic surgeon. He said it was scar tissue. Is this true? If so, what can I do about it? — B.K.

It is a keloid — and a plastic surgeon would be the specialist to see. He is skilled in evaluating and treating scar tissue. The problem is most common in darker-skinned individuals.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Can water pills alone control high blood pressure, or are other drugs needed along with them? — J.B.

Water pills are one of the main treatments for high blood pressure. A report recently indicated that about 30 percent of high blood pressure cases may be controlled with diuretics (water pills) alone.

Your thyroid plays a critical health role — in everything from eyesight to fertility. The booklet "Your Thyroid: How It Works for You" explains this important, and misunderstood, gland. To get a copy, enclose 50 cents and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope to Dr. Ruble in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dr. Ruble welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

We should be more grateful

No wonder there is an exodus of people to the "sun belt."

The City of Big Spring experienced some wintry weather recently and, wouldn't you know it, some people began talking about moving to a place where it is perpetually warm.

Cities in the north learn to cope with distasteful weather. In our case, we often feel betrayed by the weatherman.

The string of bad days Big Spring has experienced should make everyone appreciate the good weather the community usually experiences.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Marijuana has become so common where I live that nobody thinks anything about it anymore. Since everyone accepts it, why isn't it all right to use it? — P.W.

DEAR P.W.: Yes, I know in some areas of our society marijuana has become socially accepted. Although I oppose making it legal in our nation, I would not be surprised to see a strong movement in the next few years to get marijuana legalized.

A true Christian should be concerned about one thing: God's will. He should never approach any question of behavior — including this one — by asking what everyone else is doing. Instead, he should ask only one question: What is God's will? There are several reasons why I do not believe Christians should use marijuana. For one thing, it is still illegal, and Christians are called on to obey the laws of their government. For another thing, marijuana has many of the same problems as alcohol, and the Bible specifically forbids drunkenness. Marijuana temporarily distorts a person's ability to make rational judgments. Business and government leaders have become concerned about employees who may make serious adjustments when using marijuana. Marijuana (like alcohol) can easily be a means of escape from problems and responsibilities. There are also many researchers who believe the use of marijuana has serious medical effects. The use of any drug may be just another way of selfish gratification and pleasure seeking. But true happiness is not found in this way.

Dear Abby

This Kangaroo Is a Bounder!

DEAR ABBY: There are organizations to protect women from sexual harassment on the job, but who protects us from our husbands' employers?

My husband quit his job and moved us from one side of the continent to the other. And, accepting a work load that nearly put him in the cardiac ward, he went to work for an Australian businessman who promised us a share in the profits.

This Australian was unable to drive in the U.S., so my husband invited him to stay in our home on his frequent business trips. On these occasions, he made overtures to me, which I declined as diplomatically as possible without insulting him outright. Not easily discouraged, he persisted until I opened avoided him. At that point, he fired my husband.

My husband thinks that with the business firmly established and profits booming, the Australian figured he could hire a new manager with whom he did not have to share profits.

I suspect the man felt rejected and sought retaliation. Who do you think is right?

LADY IN DISTRESS

DEAR LADY: You could both be right. Only the cad from Down Under knows. (P.S. The next time your husband makes a deal, remind him to get it in writing.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old Catholic. Years ago, when I was in high school, I had an abortion. I felt that it was the only sensible choice and I still feel that I did the right thing.

My problem is that I have not been to confession since my abortion because I am afraid I will be excommunicated.

Regardless of what it sounds like, I have high moral standards and I want to be forgiven.

I don't need a lecture on morals or birth control. I've had both, and I know I will never again become pregnant accidentally. Please answer in your column. I don't want a letter from you with this information delivered at my home. I can't ask a priest, and I do not want to give up my religion.

FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING: Go to confession and talk honestly with your priest. It is possible that he can give you absolution.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CRAZY FOR FLORENCE": Patience, man. Rome wasn't made in a day. And neither was Florence.

Do you wish you had more friends? For the secret of popularity, get Abby's new booklet, "How To Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (25 cent) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Rebekahs to donate cookies

The John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday night at the Odd Fellows Hall, West Highway 80. Mrs. Elizabeth Beck, Noble Grand, presided at the meeting.

Hazel Lamar, recording secretary, read the minutes of the preceding meeting and sick members as well as visits to the sick were reported.

The new business brought before members included the donation of cookies to the Big Spring State Hospital each year. The members elected to send 12 dozen cookies in March. This activity is always participated by lodge members. They will also send a birthday cake to the hospital Monday, Mrs. Odell LaLonde will make the cake.

Mrs. LaLonde gave the auditor's report for the last six months. The semi-annual report was given by Juanita Hamlin, financial secretary.

The charter was undraped for Margaret Cummins and Lucille Brown. Those assisting included Mrs. LaLonde, LaVerne Rogers, Mrs. Hamlin, and W.C. Cole.

Pauline S. Petty, Lodge Deputy, suggested that the birthday fund be placed in the general fund. Members voted and approved the suggestion.

In coordination with the ending term, Elizabeth Beck, out-going Noble Grand, gave her farewell address and presented her officers with gifts.

Margaret Beechly gave Mrs. Beck a gift from the officers and she and Mrs. Rogers presented Mrs. Beck with personal gifts. Hazel Lamar presented Mrs. Beechly with a veteran's jewel.

A social hour followed the meeting with Mrs. Beck and Francis Loftis serving as hostesses.

Mary Leek, in-coming Noble Grand, announced that the installation of officers will be held Jan. 23 at 7 p.m. She informed members to come dressed in their formals.

Ask next boy for date

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I have a real problem with my love life. I'm almost 18 and I have never had a boy ask me out on a date.

All my girlfriends are dating while I sit at home alone enduring the pain of being lonely.

Last year I met a guy and asked him to invite me to the high school prom. He went but after he came by to pick up his prom pictures a few days later, I never saw him again.

I really liked this guy and would like to invite him to the prom again this year. Do you think this would be all right? I'm shy. — Debra, Florence, Ala.

Debra: Don't ask this boy but if another one fancies your eye, ask him.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and my boyfriend is 13. Last week we made love. He told me if I got pregnant, he would marry me.

Well, I thought I could trust my best friend Carla so I told her what happened. She shot off her big mouth and told everyone.

Now my boyfriend is saying he hates me. Do you think he means it or is he just upset because everyone knows we made love? — Carolyn, Shelbyville, Ky.

Carolyn: You have learned three important things:
1. Don't ever trust Carla
2. Your boyfriend is too immature to marry anyone. 3. After a "love-making session," it's the young lady who could have serious physical problems.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 13 and I've got a huge problem. My father started to have sex with me when I was 10. Last year he got me pregnant and I had to have an abortion. My mom found out and my dad promised he wouldn't do it anymore but he hasn't kept his promise.

He keeps making me do it. He makes me help him in the garage even if I have a lot of homework to do. Then he complains about my grades. My dad said if he gets me pregnant again that I should say a boy at school did it so my mom won't get mad at me.

Please put this in your column. You must tell me what to do. Please don't put my name on this letter. You can understand why. — Nameless, Wilton, N.H.

Nameless: Please tell your mother what is happening. Your father needs help immediately. If for some reason you cannot tell your mom, share this problem with your school nurse — now.

Write to me again and tell me what action you have taken.

Squares Anniversary Dance held recently

The Big Spring Squares held their 19th Anniversary Dance Saturday night. Due to a downed power line, the dance was delayed until 8:25.

Calling the dance was Sleepy Browning of Jayton. Favorite tunes such as "Do You Know," "You Are My Sunshine," "Brown Eyes Blue," and "King of the Road" were called at the dance.

Refreshments were served after the dance and the ladies of the club provided salads. Frenchie and Erma Steward made and donated 'Ojos de Dios' as the door prizes, which were won by J.L. Stevens and Kim Henry.

The group gives a special thanks to Texas Electric workmen who made it possible to have electrical power, and to the McCann Corporation for providing enough butane to heat the building.

The Squares next dance will be Jan. 20 with Johnny Rogers of Crane calling. The public is invited to attend.

Lessons will be on Tuesday and Thursday for the following two weeks. Graduation will occur Jan. 16.

4-H Clothing Leader Workshop is planned

The Texas 4-H Center located on Lake Brownwood provides training programs throughout the year for 4-H adult and youth leaders of every Texas County.

The training activities are interesting, enjoyable and very informative. Leaders who attend weekend workshops at the center are able to bring back the new skills and knowledge which they have learned and share them with other 4-H youth and adults.

On the weekend of Feb. 3 and 4, a Clothing Leader Workshop will be held at the Texas 4-H Center entitled "A Carousel of Ideas." The training will include a pot-pourri of ideas designed to update you with current information related to various areas of grooming, clothing and textiles.

Sessions in the workshop include a fashion show revealing the latest looks for the coming season, a demonstration and workshop session for sewing on today's fabric, hints on makeup application, exercise session, ideas for developing more effective clothing record books, brief reviews of 4-H clothing project materials and clothing contests youth may participate in.

If you are interested in attending this workshop please contact Linda Fuchs, assistant county extension agent as soon as possible. Registration forms must be in the State 4-H and Youth office before Jan. 24.

Training meeting to be held

Linda Fuchs, assistant county extension agent, will hold a leaders training meeting at the Extension Office on child development. The meeting will be Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Any leader who is interested in attending this meeting or any parent who wishes to become involved in 4-H work by being a leader for a special interest group is invited to attend.

Learning experiences that 4-H'ers have in a child development project will be discussed.

be held Feb. 10. This chapter will be in charge of the Valentine sweethearts presentation. Ideas and suggestions for the presentations were discussed.

Members planned a visit with their honorary member, Jo Ann Potter, who is a resident at Mountain View Lodge. Plans to take two to three dozen homemade cookies to the Big Spring State Hospital were also made.

Charla Meyers, chapter member, returned Tuesday evening from a leave of absence.

The next meeting of the chapter will be Jan. 16 at the Brass Nail with Debra Wilson presenting the program. At that time, members will celebrate the chapter's birthday with a dinner at the Brass Nail Restaurant.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, JAN. 12, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A strange day and evening and one when you would be wise not to become involved in anything which could make you feel like a martyr. Do whatever work you have calmly.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be patient with a close tie who could be out of sorts today. Do whatever will rectify tensions in your career work. Don't lose your temper with anyone or there is trouble.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Good day to go after information you need to make your life work more efficiently and satisfyingly. Use care in motion, even on short trips. Take no risks with credit.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be careful in handling of money. Wait a while before setting up a new budget you have in mind. Study it further.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A personal problem you have had for some time now can be cleared up easily. Postpone a group affair to a more favorable time. Make sure business affairs are in good order.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Postpone the handling of a private matter that has been puzzling to you. Be more understanding with your mate and have more harmony between you. Take no risks with money or possessions.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't have any confrontations with friends who are in a bad mood today and avoid trouble. Impartiality with all is best. Use your smile more and all works out better for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take care you do not annoy higher-ups in any way now. Take care of that credit matter and you avoid loss. Relax where mate is concerned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Find better ways to advance and get better results. Make new contacts of worth who can be of help to you. Take no risks in driving.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Change your ideas concerning mate and come to a far better understanding now. Find a better way of handling responsibilities, also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study partners and know how best to work with them more successfully. Be more cooperative in a project or it goes in the wastebasket. Think along happier lines.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your work load may seem confusing, but if you consult with an expert, it soon clears up. Come to a better understanding with fellow workers, also.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't be disappointed if some entertainment you had planned does not work out, since it is for the best. Get busy with a particular talent you want to express better.

Dr. Ralph Eisaman's perfected wild game recipes

Texas trophy hunter nabs bear

By ROBBICROW
Family News Editor

Dr. Ralph Eisaman isn't your ordinary fisherman, bird hunter, or deer hunter. When he goes after wild game, he's thoroughly disgusted and disappointed if it doesn't make the trophy record book.

Maybe that was a slight exaggeration, but Dr. Eisaman has three top game-shooting records to his name. In addition to a record-breaking caribou, axis deer and sika deer, he has an Alaskan Brown (Kodiac) Bear mounted in his living room which missed the record book by an eighth of an inch.

"At the time I killed the bear, in order for it to be placed in the record book, the skull (length plus width) had to be 28 inches. My bear was 27 1/8," explained Dr. Eisaman.

Dr. Eisaman has been hunting most of his life. He was raised around Brownsville and killed his first deer when he was 10.

"Hunting is a good way to get away" stated the professional psychiatrist.

Some of the places he has hunted include Alaska, Hawaii, Tennessee, Mexico, and Wyoming.

The game included in the list of this trophy man are elk, moose, mule deer, record book axis deer, record book caribou, record book sika deer, white-tailed deer, javelina, mountain goat and sheep, antelope wild boar and others.

The bear was added to his collection while on a hunting trip in Alaska. He and some other men were hunting and the bear came into their camp and stole their moose they had shot.

In an attempt to get their moose back, Dr. Eisaman and the other hunters tracked the bear down.

"With the first shot," remembers Dr. Eisaman, "I broke his neck." Two following shots were fired in order to kill the bear.

This Kodiac bear weighed between 1300 and 1600 pounds. He was 10 feet and four inches long from nose to feet. The ears were 18 inches apart.

Dr. Eisaman stated that the only useable part of the bear is the hide.

A trophy deer is considered a deer with 8 points and a 16-inch spread. Dr. Eisaman has killed nine deer with 10 points or better.

While in Alaska, Dr. Eisaman did most of his hunting on a glacier.

"The glacier was anywhere from a minimum of 50 feet high, one mile long and one-half mile wide, however, the coldest it ever got was around 10 degrees," explained Dr. Eisaman.

He can only recall one unusual experience in his hunting adventures. He was chased by a deer.

"I shot through some cedar and the bullet went clean through him. So we thought we'd track him down to make sure we got him. Before I realized it," remembers Dr. Eisaman, "I looked up, and there he came after me. I was more worried about ruining his cape with the shot than being run down by the deer."

Until recently he used a 358 Norma Magnum. He burned out the barrel and is in the process of getting a new one with equivalent potency.

"I like to use as much rifle as possible for both humane and practical reasons," stated the game hunter.

Dr. Eisaman is a member of the National Skeet Shooting Association, the Amateur Trap Association, Tiro Al Pichon (Pigeon Shooting) Association and was once captain of the Texas Military Institute Rifle Team for two years. There he was made a distinguished rifleman. He was also selected as a life member of Texas Trophy Hunters Association whose membership is limited to only 100 outstanding hunters.

Hobbies enjoyed by this avid hunter include competitive pistol shooting in which he has won 24 tournaments. He's carried a master's card since 1958.

Another hobby of Dr. Eisaman is shotgun shooting. He has also acquired some awards in this field.

Dr. Eisaman also enjoys another shooting sport. He has participated in the TAPA live pigeon shoot held in various cities in the United States and Mexico.

Dr. Eisaman was raised in Brownsville where he attended grade school. He attended high school at Texas Military Institute in San Antonio. Colleges he has attended include Vanderbilt University, University of Texas at Austin and University of Texas Medical School in Galveston. He also attended Universidad de Nuevo Leon in Monterrey, Mexico.

He spent his internship at Pottsville Hospital in Pottsville, Penn. His residency was spent at Duke University Medical Center in North Carolina. Dr. Eisaman completed his residency at John Umstead Hospital in Butner, N.C. He went into private practice in North Carolina until 1974 and moved to San Angelo and was employed as medical director of TDMHMR Center for Greater West Texas. Following that Dr. Eisaman came to Big Spring. He was associated with Big Spring State Hospital until Nov. of 78.

"Wild game is good eating," emphasized Dr. Eisaman. "The problem is, most people don't know how to cook it."

Below are some of Dr. Eisaman's perfected recipes for wild game as well as some other interesting dishes.

MEAT SMOKING TECHNIQUES (Dry)

Soak meat in solution of five pounds of salt, one pound of sugar and one ounce of potassium nitrate. There should be enough solution to float a fresh egg. Leave in solution for one week.

Mesquite wood should be used for smoking and meat can be left up to 24 hours. This technique is for preserving food and food should be cooked in a slow oven before serving.

(Wet)
In this method of smoking, food is cooked during the smoking process and can be served immediately due to higher temperature. (Do not soak in brine solution.)

CREAMED DOVE

20 dove breasts
1 medium onion, chopped
1 large bell pepper, chopped
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup heavy cream
Salt and pepper to taste
Saute onion, bell pepper and thyme in butter until onion is transparent. Add the cream and simmer just until the cream is warm, stirring occasionally.

Wash dove breasts and pat dry. Layer breasts in a casserole dish and pour sauce over them. Bake, covered, in a 350 degree oven approximately 30 minutes, turning once.

STUFFING

1/4 pound hot sausage, cooked until no longer red and crumbled
1 dozen chopped chestnuts
1/2 pound fresh oysters
1/2 stalk of celery, chopped
2 white onions, chopped
2 bell pepper, chopped
2 apples, chopped
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup chunk pineapple
1/2 cup slivered almonds
4 cups cooked cornbread, crumbled
1 cup instant rice
1/2 stick butter or margarine
1 tablespoon salt
2 1/2 tablespoons coarsely ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 cup honey
Sage and garlic if desired
2 raw eggs
2 cups chicken broth
Combine and mix above ingredients and stuff wild turkey. Bake in a moderate oven until done.

WILD DUCK WITH CUMBERLAND SAUCE

(Note: Remember wild duck is a sacred bird and should not be served to anyone who has ever expressed qualms about how good it is.)
Pat duck dry with paper towel. Rub skinned ducks with lemon juice and rub inside and outside of ducks with mixture of thyme, garlic, salt and coarse ground black pepper. Stuff ducks with pieces of apple and onion and if desired, pineapple. Lay breast side up in baking dish. Add sufficient water to insure that ducks remain moist. Bake covered at 300 pounds and was 10 feet, four inches high. Although Dr. Eisaman doesn't have a special recipe for cooked bear, he does have many interesting recipes for various other types of wild game, including javelina.

degrees until nearly done. Add Cumberland Sauce to duck — remove lid and bring temperature to 400 degrees for no more than 10 minutes. Turn oven off — replace lid and let stand in warm oven until ready to serve.

CUMBERLAND SAUCE

1/2 cup white Karo
1/2 cup currant jelly
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 small can frozen orange juice
1 whole orange including peel, finely diced
1/2 stick butter
Simmer for about 10 minutes before pouring over roasting duck. Reserve some sauce for the table.

MUSTARD SAUCE

(Good for most types of meat)
1/4 pound butter (do not use margarine)
3 or 4 tablespoons good hot mustard or its equivalent in powdered form
2 tablespoons coarse grain, black pepper
1 teaspoon garlic powder
2 tablespoons vinegar

4 tablespoons honey
Simmer until well blended and baste over deer, beef or elk.

JAVELINA

(Note: Contrary to popular belief, javelina have excellent meat which most people cannot distinguish from venison. Frankly I hate to let the secret out since many hunters have given me javelina and one of my physician friends gave me 10 before he wisped up.)

Eviscerate animal immediately after killing and remove scent sac from over region of dorsum of spine, approximately at kidney level. This gland is approximately three inches in diameter and is responsible for the animal's pungent aroma.

Once the pinkish subcutaneous glandular tissue is removed with the overlying skin, the only remaining smell will be that left on the hide, and will leave soon after the animal is skinned.

Let skinned animal cool in ice house or refrigerator for about one week to age before barbecuing.

Slowly cook for eight hours in one of the modern slow wet smokers over mesquite wood with a barbecue taste.

BARBECUE SAUCE

1 pound can jellied cranberry sauce
1 12-ounce can tomato paste
12 ounces cooking oil
6 ounces worchestershire sauce
6 ounces vinegar
2 cups salt (yes two cups)
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup black pepper
1/4 cup garlic powder
Simmer briefly until well mixed. Makes about two quarts.

FRIJOLES DE LA OLLA

1 pound dried pinto beans
1 pound bacon, diced
3 onions, diced
3 tomatoes, diced
1 bell pepper, diced

1/2 cup to 3/4 cup finely chopped cilantro (Chinese parsley) or fresh coriander
1 tablespoon comino ground
2 tablespoons chili powder
1/4 pound hot pork sausage
Boil the dried beans in salted water until almost done.

In a large skillet, fry bacon until done, add to beans. In the bacon grease, saute the onions, tomatoes, bell pepper, cilantro and spices. Add to the beans along with the cooked sausage and continue cooking until done.

Hawks host Midland in ABC Classic

The Howard College Hawks host the Midland College Chaparrals in the opening game of the ABC Olympic Basketball Classic at 7:00. In the second game of the evening, the nation's third ranked team, Western Texas, will meet the McMurry JV's.

The field this year is one of the strongest, if not the strongest, in the history of the tourney. Besides Western Texas, Midland is also a powerhouse in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference.

Western Texas and Midland College are tied in the conference standings with identical records of 4-0. These games, however, will not count in the standings. Both teams are still interested in seeing how they will fare against each other in head to head competition. WTC has a season record of 13-1, while Midland sports a record of 12-3.

In an Olympic style tournament, each team plays every other member of the tournament. At the end of the three games, the winner is determined by the team with the best won-loss record. In the event that two teams have the same record, the winner will be determined by the team that scores the most points in the three game period.

Howard College had won the tournament on four occasions, more than any other team. Western Texas, however, is the defending champion, as they have won the last two years. They are also the favorite this year, with Midland expected to give them stiff competition.

Fairbanks files suit

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — New England Patriots Coach Chuck Fairbanks has sued the National Football League club in an effort to break his contract so he can become head coach at the University of Colorado.

Fairbanks and the university filed the suit Wednesday in District Court here.

Judge Richard W. Dana set Jan. 18 for hearing on a temporary restraining order and temporary and permanent injunctions filed by the university along with the suit against the Patriots.

"We've never been sued by a coach before," was the only comment Patriots Vice President Chuck Sullivan would make regarding Fairbanks' suit.

NBA Roundup

By The Associated Press

"It was," said Hubie Brown, "incredible." There wasn't much else the Atlanta coach could say after his youthful Hawks came from eight points down with just over three minutes left in regulation time, blew a four-point lead in the final eight seconds of the first overtime and finally subdued the Milwaukee Bucks in double overtime for a 117-113 National Basketball Association triumph.

And why was it so incredible, Hubie? "We went 7½-8 minutes in the fourth quarter with three points. We had nine fast breaks in that period and no baskets. Then in the last 2½ minutes we got 12 or 14 points, all off our full-court trapping defense."

Elsewhere, the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Boston Celtics 99-89, the Philadelphia 76ers downed the New Orleans Jazz 123-112, the Chicago Bulls shaded the New Jersey Nets 120-116 and the Seattle SuperSonics crushed the Indiana Pacers 118-98.

Two free throws by Steve Hawes with two seconds left in the second overtime sealed Atlanta's victory over Milwaukee. John Drew scored 35 points and Eddie Johnson 30 for the Hawks.

Lakers 99, Celtics 89
Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, held to 12 points for three periods, came alive in the final quarter. He scored eight points in the last period, pulled the Lakers into an 89-89 tie with 3:11 remaining and then took command on defense. Don Ford put the Lakers in front to stay by scoring from inside and Lou Hudson drove in for a basket to make it 93-89. Boston managed just four points in the last 4½ minutes in suffering its fifth consecutive loss.

76ers 23, Jazz 112
Julius Erving scored 28 points, 17 in the third quarter, as Philadelphia snapped a two-game losing streak. New Orleans' Leonard "Truck" Robinson led all scorers with 29 points as the Jazz lost their fifth straight game and 16th of their 17 road games this season. Newly acquired Spencer Haywood scored 27 for the Jazz. Erving's 17 points in the third quarter helped boost the 76ers to a 92-75 lead after three quarters.

Bulls 129, Nets 116
Artis Gilmore scored 29 points and John Mengelt and rookie Reggie Theus combined for 50 more to lead Chicago. The Bulls took a 95-87 lead into the fourth quarter but Eddie Jordan and Bernard King keyed a Nets comeback that gave them a 110-108 lead with less than two minutes to play. Theus hit two free throws to bring the Bulls even before Mengelt connected on a 15-foot jump shot with 37 seconds left to give the Bulls the lead for good at 116-114. Mengelt finished with 24 points and Theus 26.

SuperSonics 118, Pacers 98
Jack Sikma scored 19 points, Gus Williams added 16 and Seattle got untracked late in the first period and pulled away from Indiana with an 11-2 burst at the start of the second quarter. Sikma scored 11 points in the third period as the Sonics shot 68 per cent to take control at 87-71.

AP Offensive Player of the Year

Earl earns another honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Running back Earl Campbell, who led the National Football League in rushing and set a yardage record for rookies, was named AP Offensive Player of the Year earlier this week.

AP OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR — Running back Earl Campbell of the Houston Oilers, who led the National Football League in rushing and set a yardage record for rookies, was named AP Offensive Player of the Year Thursday by the Associated Press. It was the second award for Campbell who had been named AP Offensive Rookie of the Year earlier in the week.

He also finished second in the AP voting for Most Valuable Player behind quarterback Terry Bradshaw of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Campbell became the first rookie ever to win the Offensive Player of the Year award, receiving 47 of the 84 votes cast by a nationwide panel of football writers and broadcasters. Bradshaw finished second with 24 votes and quarterback Jim Zorn of the Seattle Seahawks had six. No other player received more than two votes from the panel, composed of three writers or broadcasters who cover each of the NFL's 28 member clubs.

Houston gave up three draft choices and tight end Jimmy Giles to Tampa Bay for the right to choose first in the NFL's 1978 college draft and then chose Campbell, the Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Texas. The Oilers never regretted the move as Campbell churned out 1,450 yards to lead the NFL in rushing, becoming the first rookie rushing champion since Cleveland's Jim Brown did it in 1957.

Campbell scored 13 touchdowns rushing and had seven 100-yard games. His best game of the season came in a Monday night contest against Miami when he rushed for 199 yards and scored four touchdowns as the Oilers defeated the Dolphins 35-30.

He scored his first NFL touchdown in his first game, dashing 73 yards for the score against the Atlanta Falcons.

LAM JONES DROPS OUT OF SCHOOL — Olympic gold medalist Johnny Lam Jones apparently has decided not to enroll for classes at the University of Texas this semester and will not compete in Longhorn track this spring, the Austin American-Statesman said Wednesday. Joe Eivens, Texas academic counselor, told the American Statesman that Jones plans to return next fall for his final football season.

complete in Longhorn track this spring, the Austin American-Statesman said today.

Joe Eivens, Texas academic counselor, told the American Statesman that Jones had an incomplete grade in an American Studies course, which counts as three hours credit, for last fall.

However, Eivens said, Jones made his decision because he "wants to stand back, look at himself and see where he's going."

Eivens said Jones told him he plans to drop out of school and work in Austin before returning next fall for his final football season.

Jones could not be reached for comment.

To be eligible for football next year, Jones must complete the course, but he does not have to be enrolled in school to do that, Eivens said. Should Jones change his mind and register this week for the spring semester which begins next Monday, he would be eligible for track as soon as he completes the course.

Texas begins its indoor track season Jan. 20 at the Sooner Indoor Relays in Oklahoma City.

Baker named Defensive Rookie of the Year

DETROIT (AP) — "As much as I like to believe it, I'm really not (the) Hulk," said Al "Bubba" Baker.

"A lot of people won't believe it, but I don't even turn green."

The 6-foot-6, 250-pound defensive end for the Detroit Lions is a lovable sort of guy — unless he happens to be on the football field in search of a quarterback to demolish.

Baker, a second-round draft choice who blossomed into an All-Pro choice, was named Defensive Rookie of the Year by The Associated Press Wednesday. Baker was a landslide choice in balloting by a nationwide panel of football writers and broadcasters, receiving 61 of 84 votes cast. Ross Browner of the Cincinnati Bengals had 16. No other rookie received more than two in the poll of three voters from each of the 28 National Football League cities.

This season Baker nailed opposing quarterbacks behind the line of scrimmage 23 times, more sacks than any other player in the NFL.

Houston running back Earl Campbell was chosen offensive rookie of the year.

"He reminds me a lot of myself," Baker, in an interview at his Troy apartment, said of Campbell. "Because the greatest influence on me was my mother. I feel like I already know him. Hey, I'm honored to be in a class with a guy like Earl Campbell."

Baker, drafted by the Lions on the second round from Colorado State, was shunned by some teams because their scouts said he lacked aggressiveness. He clearly proved them wrong.

Detroit had only a 7-9 record this year, but the Lions defense was superb all season. Baker joined end Dave Pureifory and tackles Doug English and John Woodcock on a tough front four nicknamed "The Silver Rush."

Baker was born in Jacksonville, Fla., and grew up in Newark, N.J., where he learned his football in the sandlots, using improvised equipment.

Baker backed opposing quarterbacks behind the line of scrimmage 23 times, more sacks than any other player in the National Football League.

Murphy, Coody lead Desert Golf Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Exuberant Bob Murphy had some very positive predictions.

"This is gonna be a good year. Maybe a great year. Maybe one of my best."

But Charles Coody, a 41-year-old veteran who shared the first-round lead with Murphy in the Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic Wednesday, declined any prediction at all.

"Nobody," said Coody, "is any more surprised than I am to see me shoot a 65. It was just one of those days when everything went right. I have no false illusions, what with the lack of practice I've had, about keeping this going."

won't be a shattering experience if I do." They matched 7-under-par efforts — Coody at La Quinta and Murphy at Indian Wells — in the opening round of the opening tournament of the PGA Tour schedule, a 10-month grind that offers some $13 million in total prizes.

John Mahaffey, the comeback kid who last year won the PGA and World Cup titles, was 1 shot off the pace with a 66. And he, too, was surprised.

"I didn't expect to come out of the box with that kind of a number," Mahaffey said after his round at Tamarisk in bright, sunny 70-degree desert weather.

New NTSU boss makes no forecast

DALLAS (AP) — You will get no rash predictions from Jerry Moore.

He says he will let the politicians lobby for North Texas State University and just try to do his bit on the football field where he is the major independent's new head football coach.

"My biggest goal is to not hit a player the first year," laughs Moore, the former offensive coordinator at Nebraska.

Asked if he shared former NTSU Coach Hayden Fry's goal of getting the Mean Green into the Southwest Conference, Moore says "Whether North Texas gets in is something I have no control over. We have to play well and draw well. My job is to see that we play as well as we can."

Fry became frustrated with North Texas' abortive attempts to get into the SWC and lack of postseason bowl invitations. He signed a five-year contract at Iowa.

Moore says he is not concerned about losing some Mean Green players to Fry.

"I'm more concerned about the players we may have lost because of our late recruiting start," says Moore, who was on Fry's staff at Southern Methodist for six years.

Moore will meet with his players for the first time this weekend.

Moore came to North Texas after figuring the doors would never open for him at a big football school like Oklahoma or Texas.

"You've got to make the doors open," says Moore. "I was recruiting all those great high school players in Texas and wondering why not recruit for myself. I would have gone to Maine if the opportunity had been right. And it's right at North Texas."

Moore says North Texas will run an offense similar to the one he helped coordinate at Nebraska.

Surgeon General issues report

Smoking more dangerous than supposed in 1964

WASHINGTON (AP) — The surgeon general says he has "overwhelming" evidence that smoking causes death and disease. What he doesn't have is a way to help people stop.

Those were among the conclusions in a 1,200-page report issued today by Surgeon General Julius Richmond in a "review and reappraisal" of research accumulated over the past 15 years.

"This document reveals, with dramatic clarity, that smoking is even more dangerous — indeed, far more dangerous — than was supposed in 1964," said HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr.

"It is hoped that in another 15 years we will not have to say, 'We still don't know what works!'" in helping people stop smoking, said Richmond.

Califano contended the report "demolishes" claims by cigarette manufacturers that there is no proven link between smoking and cancer and chronic diseases.

Commenting before the report was released, the Tobacco Institute predicted it would be "more rehash than research" and issued its own 168-page report saying the "preoccupation with smoking may be both unfounded and dangerous...because evidence on many critical points is conflicting...and it diverts attention from other suspected hazards."

The new surgeon general's report is based on no specific new research and contained no startling new conclusions. Its thrust is that the volume of research carried out since the initial surgeon general's report 15 years ago makes all the more certain the conclusion that smoking contributes to cancer, heart disease, bronchitis, emphysema and other ills.

That first report created a furor and led to the now-famous warning printed on each pack of cigarettes sold in the United States: "Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health."

Unlike the initial report, the main findings in the new study generally have been reported separately as the research which led to them was completed. Much of the material incorporated in the new report was contained in 10 earlier reports to Congress, the most recent one last fall on the sharp increase in lung cancer among women.

Among the findings re-emphasized in the latest report: —That smokers, male and female, die from a variety of ailments at a rate two-thirds higher than nonsmokers.

—The risk goes up as the amount smoked goes up. For example, two-pack-a-day smokers have a death rate twice as high as nonsmokers. And a 30 to 35-year-old smoker can expect to die eight or nine years earlier than a nonsmoker.

—Women are dying from lung cancer at a rate three times as high as in 1964. The disease may overtake breast cancer as the leading cause of cancer deaths in women "if present trends are not reversed during the next decade."

—Coronary heart disease from smoking causes more premature deaths than lung cancer and other lung diseases.

—Pipe and cigar smokers "experience overall mortality rates that are slightly higher than those of non-smokers, but at rates substantially lower than those of cigarette smokers."

—Smokers of low tar and nicotine cigarettes run lower risks of lung cancer and coronary heart disease, but "may in fact increase their hazard if they begin smoking more cigarettes or inhaling more deeply."

—Youngsters who smoke may suffer immediate harm in the form of lung damage and respiratory problems.

—90 percent of the people who smoke "have either tried to quit smoking or would probably quit, if only they could find an effective way to do so."

Citing soaring lung cancer rates among women and risks posed to fetuses and newborn babies by smoking mothers, Richmond said the "report's findings have grave public health implications for women of all ages."

The report suggested it may be harder for women to quit smoking, perhaps because they worry more than men about gaining weight.

HEW estimates that although 54 million Americans still smoke, 30 million have quit since 1964, and the percentage of adult smokers has dropped from 42 percent then to an estimated 33 percent in 1978 — "its lowest recorded point in 30 years."

Total U.S. cigarette consumption fell last year for the first time in 10 years.

The smoking rate among men plummeted from 53 percent in 1964 to 39 percent in 1978, but among women it has remained "virtually unchanged at about 30 percent," said Richmond. It has shot up among teenage girls, 15 percent of whom now smoke, about the same percentage as teenage boys.

The huge report contains 13 chapters on biomedical research, five on behavioral research and four on smoking education. It lists 50 authors and nearly 100 scientists and experts in and out of government who wrote or reviewed the $250,000 report.

Richmond expressed concern about statistics showing that minorities smoke more than whites and suffer high lung cancer death rates. Blue-collar workers also smoke more and "are especially susceptible to the combined effects of cigarette smoking and exposure to toxic industrial agents," he warned.

Spending increase included

State budget presented

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — School districts that give reductions in property taxes should be repaid from state sales tax collections, Gov. Dolph Briscoe told the new Legislature.

Briscoe presented the legislators Wednesday with his recommended state budget for 1980-81 that calls for total spending of $19.7 billion, an increase of $1.7 billion over the previous two-year budget.

It would leave enough out of expected state income the next two years for a $1 billion tax reduction, Briscoe said.

Earlier the Legislative Budget Board, made up of House and Senate financial leaders, recommended a budget of $20.8 billion for the next two years, which would leave about $100 million to be spent on new programs or tax relief.

"If it were possible to cut $1 billion and still maintain the current level of services, you can be sure the Legislative Budget Board would have done it," Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, chairman of the LBB, said after Briscoe's speech.

Gov.-elect Bill Clements, who will be inaugurated Jan. 16 as Texas' first Republican governor in 105 years, is expected to recommend about Feb. 1 a budget that also will leave about $1 billion for tax reduction.

Briscoe told the legislators he was proud that "you and I could pass to him (Clements) an unprecedented surplus and anticipated income in excess of the current rate of expenditures of over $2.8 billion."

Troops seal off capital of Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Troops sealed off all highway entrances to Managua and patrolled the capital in force following anti-government protests in which seven demonstrators were shot and wounded.

National guard jeeps carrying soldiers armed with submachine guns drove in clusters of three throughout Managua and in front of the opposition La Prensa newspaper printing plant during the night.

La Prensa publisher Pedro Joaquin Chamorro was assassinated a year ago, touching off months of turmoil and a two-week rebellion in September that left an estimated 1,500 dead. Some 50,000 Nicaraguans turned out for a memorial service for Chamorro at the municipal cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

Crowds of youths chanted anti-government slogans outside the cemetery during the hour-long ceremony, then formed gangs and roamed nearby streets.

Some chased buses and others approached a Bank of America branch office but were driven away by soldiers shooting over their heads.

One gang taunted troops on patrol near the cemetery and two demonstrators were injured in a shootout.

Another group clashed with troops near the municipal stadium and five youths were shot, the Red Cross and military spokesmen said.

Troops also lobbed tear gas at anti-government rioters in Leon and Jinotepé, but no casualties were reported in either city.

On Tuesday, union leader Luis Alberto Medrano was shot and killed on a Managua street corner.

The outgoing governor recalled the special session he called last fall that passed the $1 billion Tax Relief Amendment, later approved by voters.

Farm Cattle, sheep grazing costlier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of farmers and ranchers will be paying sharply higher fees to graze their cattle and sheep on public lands this year, but the increases will be softened by a provision put into law last year.
 The fees are charged for the use of 150 million acres administered by the Bureau of Land Management in the Interior Department and about 100 million by the Forest Service, an agency of the Agriculture Department. Most of the public land used for grazing by about 25,000 permit holders is in Western states.
 The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) announced its 1979 grazing fee rate Tuesday. It reflects a formula provided in the Public Rangelands Improvement Act signed by President Carter Oct. 25.

But the Forest Service, which in the past announced its rates along with BLM for the coming year, may be at least a month from making a final decision.
 A spokeswoman, Diane O'Connor, said Wednesday the agency asked Dec. 14 for public comments on 1979 grazing fees and the comment period will not end until Feb. 12.
 Meanwhile, the new law provides a formula for setting the annual fees based on a number of factors, including a "forage value index" related to beef cattle prices and the prices producers pay for expenses.
 Cattle prices have risen dramatically the last year, and that factor by itself would necessitate a big hike in grazing fees under the formula.
 The USDA's December report on farm prices, for example, showed the average price of beef cows was $41.60 per 100 pounds, up 73 percent from $24 a year earlier.
 But the law also says a raise in the grazing fees cannot be equal to more than 25 percent of the previous year's fees.
 Grazing fees are set on the basis of an "animal unit month," also called an AUM. It is equal to the grazing of one cow for one month, or five sheep for one month.

According to the formula, the bureau's 1979 fee could have been set at $2.03 per AUM. But the 1978 fee was $1.51, meaning that the most it could be increased under law was 38 cents.

Turkey producers to boost output to record 1979 levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — Encouraged by higher prices in the past year, turkey producers plan to boost output by more than 11 percent to record levels in 1979.
 Growers in 20 states which produce about 96 percent of the nation's turkeys plan to raise 150 million birds in 1979, compared to 134.6 million last year, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday.
 The average national farm price of live turkeys last month was 49.6 cents a pound, up more than 23 percent from 40.2 cents a pound a year earlier, according to the department.
 Allowing for production in the remaining states, total U.S. turkey production this year could easily soar to more than 155 million birds.
 Total production in all states in 1978 was 139.8 million turkeys. That was up about 3 percent from the 1977 output of about 136.4 million birds but fell short of the 1976 record of almost 149 million.
 The new figures also showed 1978 turkey production of 139.8 million birds was 1.2 percent less than the 141.5 million USDA predicted last September.
 Prices of turkeys and other poultry rose sharply last year along with beef, pork and other red meat. With high meat prices expected to continue in 1979, turkey and broiler producers are rapidly expanding to take advantage of the market.

Federal market quotas okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — As they have done in each of the last 26 years, producers of extra-long staple cotton have approved federal marketing quotas for their 1979 crop.

The Agriculture Department said Wednesday 879 growers voted in favor of continuing the controls and 95 voted against, an approval rate of 90.2 percent of those voting.

A two-thirds majority was required for the quota program to remain in effect this year.

Extra-long staple cotton — referred to as ELS — is grown mainly in the Southwest and is a relatively minor crop compared with upland cotton. Last year, according to Dec. 1 estimates, ELS cotton output was 83,100 bales against more than 10.6 million bales of upland cotton.

'Air bags' verdict not conclusive

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The verdict may not be in yet on the effectiveness of "air bags," an insurance industry spokesman says, but he is willing to give motorists who have them a break on their insurance rates.

David Irons, spokesman for the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office, said the rate reduction should apply to those having factory-installed "air bags" or similar safety devices.

There is a substantial difference of opinion within manufacturing circles about air bags," Irons said Wednesday at a State Insurance Board public hearing.

There have been graphic examples of air bags that functioned just right."

Federal regulations will require passive restraint systems on all new cars by Sept. 1, 1983.

The TAISO proposal covers "air bags," safety devices that inflate on impact, as well as new types of seat belts that automatically "envelop" the motorist.

Irons, a Dallas attorney, suggested a 30 percent savings on medical payments and personal injury protection coverage, which represent a small part of the total insurance bill.

"You must realize this 30 percent thing is purely judgemental," he said. "It is to be hoped that this kind of rule will encourage people to put these devices on their cars prior to the time of this federal mandate."

The board advised its staff to investigate the proposed change.

Woman colonel pursues two careers

Clara Bresnahan of Big Spring pursues two careers, both involving administration and supervision of nurses, but each with differing opportunities and fulfillments.

Bresnahan is employed at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Medical Center, but she also spends several weekends a year as a Colonel in the Army reserves.

The two careers have complemented each other, and Col. Bresnahan has almost had two enriching lives rather than one.

At times, however, the enrichment must be sought out. At a drill this past summer, Col. Bresnahan was enroute from Big Spring to her reserve assignment at Bossier City, La.

At the Midland-Odessa airport, a baggage truck hit the exit ramp of the 737 she was to ride, ramming it just hard enough to keep it from closing.

As a result, Col. Bresnahan was diverted to another flight that flew to San Antonio and then continued on to Houston. After a night in the Houston terminal, she was re-routed to Shreveport and arrived at 7:40 a.m. A cab to the Bossier City reserve center arrived just in time for her to throw her field gear onto a 2½-ton truck and go to the Louisiana boondocks for a helicopter ambulance evacuation exercise under conditions.

Her enthusiasm wasn't dimmed, however, as Col. Bresnahan guided her unit through a training exercise that involved training lectures, hands-on demonstrations, and helicopter indoctrination flights.

In training the nurses under her administration, Bresnahan has her own philosophy. "In the first place," she said, "I try to be as professional as possible. I have come to appreciate people who are dedicated to this idea because it has to come from within a person."

"I have, in addition, come to appreciate seeing young people enter the field and then go and make real progress," Col. Bresnahan said. "As a result of this process, I've had to learn a good deal more about patience than I previously knew. Patience and perseverance are two real keys."

"This development has helped me to understand young people better than I had. I am far more tolerant — both personally and in a military sense — than I was. Naturally, the attitude has translated into my civilian job and I feel that I am now far more understanding about human behavior and human failings," she said.

Commissioned in the Army as a 2nd Lieutenant on March 15, 1945, Col. Bresnahan was on active duty until her separation in the summer of 1946 as a 1st Lieutenant. Bresnahan then attended Catholic University of America and in 1948 received a bachelor of science degree in public health nursing.

She worked for two years at University Hospital in Augusta, Ga. before she moved into VA hospital work as a career choice in July of 1950. She has since served in hospitals at Gulfport, Miss., Lexington, Ky., San Francisco, Calif., Salisbury, N.C., North Little Rock, Ark., and Big Spring. She has been an administrator since 1953 including a three-year tour in the Atlanta Area Office when she traveled seven states.

Just before the move to Atlanta, Col. Bresnahan was awarded a commission as a captain in the Army Reserve. She received her M.A. degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1956. She was promoted to major in 1960, to lieutenant colonel in 1967, and in January, 1976, she became colonel.

In the 807th Medical Brigade, Col. Bresnahan has served in the 810th Station Hospital before her assignment to the 114th.

She views her parallel careers as a plus experience. "I like to keep my mind active," she said. "I like to be involved in activities."

"I work at keeping current in the practice of nursing. I believe that peer review is an exciting part of our current evaluation procedures. I correspond with several professors in nursing schools. We frequently exchange information, drafts of papers to be published, procedures and protocol."

"It comes back to this initial idea of being professional and yet it is much more than that. I have made some life-long friends in nursing. We have shared not just information but our daily lives. I've met some fine people."

Col. Bresnahan's interests and her desire to remain involved have led to activities outside the hospital. She has been a golfer since age 12, and still remembers a hole-in-one that she collected on a 165-yard hole on the Ft. Bragg Officer's Course.

She likes camping and recalls being a merit badge counselor in North Carolina for the water skiing and boating merit badges earned by Boy Scouts.

She has also studied at community colleges, taking such unusual courses as bricklaying, and working on driveway, patio and curb retention projects. Her current interest is in real estate and she is enrolled in two courses.

As for her involvement in the military, Col. Bresnahan said, "I plan to stay in the reserves as long as my health and the army will let me."

Son succeeds as publisher of newspaper

WASHINGTON (AP) — Katharine Graham, publisher of the Washington Post announced that her son, Donald E. Graham, will succeed her as publisher of the newspaper effective Wednesday.

Mrs. Graham will remain chairman and chief executive officer of the Washington Post Co., which has several other holdings, including Newsweek magazine.

Graham, 33, one of Mrs. Graham's four children and eldest of three sons, is now general manager of the newspaper. He joined the Post in 1970 working at jobs ranging from truck driver to assistant managing editor in charge of sports.

Prior to that, the Harvard graduate and Vietnam veteran was a writer for Newsweek for a short time and spent a period on the District of Columbia police force.

"It struck me that joining the department was one very good way to learn about Washington and to do something constructive," he said at the time. "I don't expect that I'm going to be a career policeman. I do expect eventually to be on the newspaper."

The announcement was made in the Wednesday editions of the newspaper.

Mrs. Graham has been publisher of the Post since 1969.

Coffee and Grain Beverage

Great coffee taste without bitterness.

"Mellow Roast discovered what my Hannah's known for years. Add grain to coffee for great coffee taste without bitterness. They start with three kinds of rich, robust coffees; then blend in roasted grain to take away the bitter edge for that good-old, down-home coffee taste. Mellow Roast® Coffee and Grain Beverage is so good, so delicious we drink it all day long."
