Invaders vow to continue 'punitive' war

Viet troops hitting back at Chinese

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vietnamese troops hit back at the Chinese invaders in three provinces Saturday, "wiping out" hundreds of soldiers, Hanoi Radio said. China vowed to continue its "punitive" war and made it clear it will seize disputed border lands.

Two members of Congress just back from the battle area confirmed intense fighting and heavy casualties but said Vietnam appears confident of winning and of getting help if it needs it — apparently from Moscow.

A Hanoi Radio broadcast monitored here said Vietnamese troops were blocking Chinese advances along Highway 4 between Dong Khe and Cao Bang City in Vietnam's northernmost Cao Bang province, at the center of the embattled 450-mile border.

In Hoang Lien Son Province, farther west, Vietnamese units counter-attacked, killing "hundreds of enemy troops," and destroyed 73 vehicles and four tanks, the broadcast said. In the coastal Lang Son Province, "hundreds of enemy troops were wiped out," with one battalion "badly trounced" four miles from the Chinese border, it said.

There have been reports that Chinese forces have penetrated as far as 20 miles into Vietnam since launching the invasion eight days ago, purportedly to "punish" Vietnam for past border incidents.

In Washington, U.S. intelligence sources said Friday the Chinese drive appeared to have slowed, possibly in preparation for a major thrust.

In Peking, a government official said China's action had not ended because China needs "to give a bit more lessons" to Vietnam, Japan's Kyodo news service reported Saturday in a dispatch from the Chinese capital. It quoted the unidentified official as saying, "The overall pull-out won't come today or tomorrow."

He said Chinese troops eventually will withdraw to "what China claims is the border line and not the border line Vietnam insists upon," Kyodo reported. The report said the disputed territory totals about 38 square miles and is scattered all along the border.

The dispatch quoted the official as saying the disputed land issue could be negotiated if Vietnam agreed.

In Hanoi, Vietnam's official Nhan Dan newspaper rejected a "mutual withdrawal" formula that calls for Vietnam to withdraw its troops from Cambodia and China to withdraw from Vietnam.

Such a proposal was made Friday night by U.S. Ambassador Andrew Young at an emergency meeting of the U.N. Security Council to discuss the Indochina conflicts. The council took no action immediately and was continuing its meetings.

The Vietnamese invaded Cambodia two months ago and toppled the China-allied government there. The ousted regime's soldiers continue to wage a guerrilla war against the Vietnamese.

"China's allies are speaking out about China's aggression against Vietnam only to condemn Vietnam for 'aggression' against Kampuchea (Cambodia)," the editorial said.

U.S. Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman left Vietnam Saturday after a five-day visit that included a trip to the front lines. On arrival in Bangkok she said the Vietnamese have "supreme confidence" in themselves and feel they can "count on help if they need it."

The New York Democrat said, "I saw a large number of refugees, a hospital with wounded soldiers. I heard artillery."

"I saw thousands of refugees fleeing the city to the countryside, bringing with them pigs, oxen, buffaloes and other belongings," she said after arriving in Hong Kong from Bangkok en route home.

"I saw two trucks loaded with wounded soldiers," she said.

She said that with fighting in Vietnam and Cambodia at the same time, "there's a possibility of a World War III."

He said he saw two Soviet transport planes landing at Hanoi, "obviously bringing military aid to Vietnam."

Move designed to pump life into economy

Iran will start exporting oil

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The new government said Saturday it will begin exporting Iranian oil again within 15 days.

Resumption of exports would breathe new life into the country's devastated economy and ease scattered supply problems that are being blamed for recent price hikes.

In downtown Tehran Saturday, gunmen took over the Iranian headquarters of International Business Machines Corp. A spokesman for the gunmen said they were sent by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolutionary committee to question the 330 Iranian employees to determine whether any had connections with the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, the Shah's SAVAK secret police or Israel.

No one was arrested and, though the men carried weapons, no shots were fired, said an IBM spokesman who declined to be identified. He said all foreign nationals working for IBM had left the country.

In another development, the man widely regarded as the likely choice to be Iran's next president, Ali Shayergan, said in an interview with The Associated Press that Iran cannot go back to the "first century of Islam," but must become a modern nation with an internationally acceptable government.

Khomeini, the 78-year-old Moslem religious leader who headed the mass movement that toppled Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's government, intends to establish an "Islamic republic" but has given few details of how it would operate.

Shayergan, 76, returned to Iran on Thursday after 20 years in exile in France and the U.S.

Before Iran's oil workers went on strike last fall in support of the Khomeini movement, the nation's wells were producing 6 million barrels daily. About 5.4 million were exported.

Khomeini's provisional government has already made clear it does not intend to restore oil exports to the level allowed by the Shah. Under the Shah, Iran was the world's No. 2 exporter of crude oil, after Saudi Arabia. Deputy Prime Minister Amir Entezam said Saturday the state-owned National Iranian Oil Co. was preparing a report to determine the date for resumption of oil exports and the amount to be sent abroad.

Oil industry sources predicted Iran will probably pump 3 million barrels a day, with 2.4 million going to export. The difference is the oil used domestically. Workers currently are producing only enough for Iran's own needs.

Oil is the lifeblood of the nation's economy and the foreign exchange received for it is necessary to pay for essential imports that meet the country's food and development needs. Before the political upheaval, oil exports earned Iran $22 billion a year.

The provisional government claims that most of Iran's 65,000 oil industry employees have already returned to work, although there have been unconfirmed reports that a core of leftists are still striking, demanding control of the oilfields and removal of foreign workers.

Entezam said a referendum to determine Iran's future government will be held before Persian New Year, March 21.

Blumenthal arrives in Peking for talks

PEKING (AP) — Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal arrived here Saturday night on a nine-day visit to initiate trade talks, formally open the American Embassy and convey to Chinese leaders President Carter's concern about their invasion of Vietnam.

Blumenthal said on the flight to the Chinese capital that the Carter administration feels better relations between the United States and China should not be jeopardized by fighting between China and Vietnam.

There was little in this city of 10 million to indicate concern with the fighting along the border 1,500 miles to the south. Few soldiers were on the streets.

J. Stapleton Roy, deputy chief of the U.S. Liaison Mission here, said mission officials have been unable to learn anything from the Chinese about the fighting.

"We know less than you do," said a mission official. "We get what little information we have from other embassies, and we don't think they are getting it from the Chinese."

The mission will become the U.S. Embassy on Thursday in a ceremony led by Blumenthal.

The treasury secretary, wearing a maroon turtleneck sweater and a tweed sports jacket, was greeted at the airport by Finance Minister Chang Chingfu after the 17-member U.S. delegation arrived on a 24-hour flight from Washington on an Air Force C-130.

There was no ceremony at the airport, and Blumenthal said his first meeting with Chinese leaders probably would be an informal session Sunday afternoon.

He will make his first official remarks at a banquet in his honor at the Great Hall of the People Sunday evening.

Blumenthal told reporters during the flight that he met with Carter for 30 minutes at the White House Thursday to get instructions on what to say to the Chinese about the Vietnam fighting. He declined to say whether the instructions include anything beyond the government's previous expressions of concern.

He is to discuss settlement of $196 million in U.S. claims resulting from seizure of American property by the communists when they took over China in 1949. The U.S. considers settlement of the claims essential before a full trading agreement can be reached.

Conflict-of-interest

Former Rep. Eilberg changes plea to guilty

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former Rep. Joshua Eilberg changed his plea to guilty on Saturday at his conflict-of-interest trial after making a plea bargain arrangement with the government. The plea bargain was then accepted by the judge.

"I have given very careful consideration to the plea agreement and I have determined that it is in the best interests of justice to accept it," said U.S. District Court Judge Raymond Broderick, who could have rejected the plea change.

The judge considered the plea for an hour in his chambers. He pointed out plea bargaining is an accepted legal procedure in federal courts, but that he personally did not participate in it.

Under the agreement, Eilberg is to be sentenced to a term of probation to be determined by the court and fined not less than $5,000 and not more than $10,000.

The 58-year-old Eilberg was accused of accepting compensation from a law client for services he rendered before a federal agency in 1975-76.

The surprise change of plea came after a jury of seven men and five women were sworn in Friday and before a single word of testimony had been entered into the record by any witness.

The jury was to hear on Saturday the videotaped testimony of Stephen Elko, a convicted perjurer and the prosecution's chief witness, who was hospitalized here last week after suffering a heart attack.

Eilberg, a Philadelphia Democrat who blamed his defeat for a seventh term in the U.S. House on his indictment two weeks before last November's election, is accused of receiving at least $20,000 from a hospital client for services performed before a federal agency.

Elko, now serving two years in prison, is the former administrative assistant to U.S. Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., whose recent bribery and perjury trial in Washington ended in a mistrial.

It was Elko who allegedly influenced Philadelphia's Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital to hire Eilberg's firm to help get a $14.5 million federal grant.

Comptroller for Cosden files for local school board race

Bob West has announced he will be a candidate for a trustee's position on the Big Spring School Board, subject to the action of voters in the April 7 election.

West, comptroller for Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., was appointed to the board in 1977.

In announcing his plans to offer for his first elective term on the board, West made the following statement:

"As an appointed trustee, I am seeking a full term to the Big Spring Independent School Board.

"I have three children enrolled in the local school system, one in high school and two in Marcy Elementary. My interest is in making a positive contribution of my time to the students of Big Spring. In my opinion, the most important task for all the citizens of Big Spring is to provide a quality educational program. To do so, we must overcome any apathy we may have in this community and get involved in our public education system. My goal is to help get as much parent involvement and public interest in our programs as possible.

"If the voters select me as a trustee, I will seek to work as a cooperative member of the board and to keep fully informed of the facts involved in any issue that affects the operation of the schools.

"I will cooperate with the teachers, administration, and parents to provide the best program possible with our public resources. I hope we can work together in the community to close any communication gap among parents, teachers, and our school administrators."

West moved here in 1962 from

BOB WEST

Amarillo. He was raised in Borger and attended public schools there. He graduated from West Texas State University in Canyon in 1962, with a major in accounting.

The West family makes its home at 2605 Apache. He is married to the former Helen Taylor. Their children are Sam, a sophomore in high school; Todd, a fifth grader at Marcy Elementary and Kourtney, a second grader at Marcy.

The Wests are members of the College Baptist Church where in the past he has served as a Sunday School teacher. He is a member of the Masonic order and is past master of Lodge 598. He is also active in the Big Spring Shriners Club and the Greater Rotary Club of Big Spring.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Teens' traffic tickets

Q. Are parents notified when their children under 18 years old are given a traffic ticket? If not, how are insurance companies made aware of it?

A. "Through courtesy to the parents, we often let the kid go ahead and pay. So many parents are working that it would be an inconvenience for them to come down to the station," said Warrant Officer Melvin Daratt.

City Attorney Elliott Mitchell added that there is no law requiring parents to be present, and that insurance companies check with state records in Austin to learn of the offense.

Convinced of Millionaire's guilt

Murder-for-hire rerun

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The murder-conspiracy trial of millionaire Cullen Davis could begin as early as this summer, contends the prosecutor who will direct the state's case.

Furthermore, said Jack Strickland, 35, he is convinced of Davis' guilt and looks forward to matching wits again with Richard "Racehorse" Haynes and the crack defense team.

The brash, but stylish young prosecutor was chosen last week to retry the Fort Worth industrialist on charges he plotted the contract killing of divorcee Judge Joe Eidsen.

Eidsen, 60, was not harmed.

The first attempt to try Davis ended in a mistrial Jan. 22, when a Houston jury, deadlocked 8-4 for conviction, could not reach a verdict.

A new site, date and judge may be determined March 9.

"I said from the beginning I thought I had the facts of the case on my side and nothing happened in Houston that would change my mind in the slightest," Strickland said.

"Until the day I die, I will be stupefied and mystified that any intelligent person could come to any conclusion other than that Cullen Davis was guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

"I temper that with the fact that I'm hardly objective," he added with a grin.

Strickland, recognized as the best and brightest in District Attorney Tim Curry's prosecutorial stable, was the Number Two man in the Houston trial.

And he was often at odds with lead prosecutor Tolly Wilson during the 13-week ordeal. Wilson, 52, voluntarily stepped aside to devote time to his duties as chief of the criminal trial section.

"I think if everyone is conscientious, we could start the trial this summer," Strickland said, "and I would hope no later than the fall."

"The defense lawyers have indicated they believe strongly that Mr. Davis is innocent. They have indicated they believe he will be vindicated."

"The only thing to do is not talk about it, but bring it to trial. Let's have it."

Strickland said he is eager to clash head-to-head with Haynes, 50, the crafty Houston attorney who many consider the state's leading criminal trial lawyer and among the best in the nation.

Swinging swindler

CANNES, France (AP) — He had a classy suit and a credit card bearing the magic name of an Arab tycoon. That, plus a lot of nerve, was all Ashit Patel needed for his month-long jaunt through the playlands of the rich, police say.

But like all good things, this escapade came to an end and Patel spent Saturday night in a French Riviera jail, charged with fraud and illegal impersonation.

Patel, 21, occupation unknown, is alleged to have generally warmed up his winter by posing as the son of Adnan Kashoggi, a Saudi Arabian financier and reputed billionaire.

According to the police account:

Patel, a Londoner of Indian descent, first needed a paper identifying him as a Kashoggi. So he applied for a telephone to be installed in his non-existent limousine.

On Jan. 15 he got a certificate attesting that one Ashit Kashoggi had filed an application. He told the company to charge it to "Kashoggi Enterprises." There is no such firm.

Then he moved to Phase Two of his plan — getting a credit card.

He telephoned American Express headquarters in Phoenix, Ariz., and presented himself as Kashoggi's son. The company, eager to please so illustrious a client, asked him to contact its European headquarters in Brighton, England.

Twenty-four hours later he was able to collect his credit card at the American Express agency in Piccadilly, London.

Could Mr. Kashoggi show some identification? Certainly, he said, flashing his application for a car telephone.

John Eddington, 2510 W. 16th, reported a subject he knows smashed the window glass on the driver's side of his 1972 Pontiac with a 1 foot by six inch chunk of concrete. Damage was estimated at $60. The incident occurred Friday night or Saturday morning.

A break-in at the city maintenance building resulted in a broken wooden frame on a toilet seat between 3:30 p.m. Thursday and 8:15 a.m. Friday. No other property was damaged or taken. Burglars entered through a window on the south side of the building.

Steven Smith, 4208 Muir, was arrested on suspicion of resisting arrest Friday at 11:35 p.m. Officer Ray Meek issued two traffic citations to Smith. Smith then allegedly struck the officer on the left side of the face. Meek was treated at a local hospital and released.

Theft of an electrical breaker box valued at over $200 occurred sometime Thursday from a parking lot behind the Highland Animal Clinic. Akin M. Simpson, 538 Westover, apartment No. 208, was the victim of the theft.

A 1974 Oldsmobile operated by Kenny Barkley, Odessa, collided with a 1975 Datsun operated by Gladis Johnson, 811 N. Scurry, Friday at 8:23 p.m. at the 700 block of the Lamesa highway.

A 1973 Dodge left the scene of an accident after colliding with a parked 1964 Ford operated by Rocky Grissim, 4001 Dixon. The hit and run occurred at the 2600 block of Wasson Road at 11:06 p.m. Friday.

Cancer program wins award

Word came last week that Malone-Hogan Hospital of Big Spring has been cited by the prestigious American College of Surgeons for its work in asking "if not, why not" in its monthly conferences on treating the cancer patient. The hospital was awarded the College's highest approval for a full three years for its cancer program.

Dr. James C. Terrell, Jr., spokesman for the college, said in issuing the certificate of approval to Malone-Hogan that the public should be aware that these certificates are not given lightly. The cancer patient, Dr. Terrell said, "should search out physicians who practice in hospitals where this kind of concern for cancer treatment is evidenced." Patients will get better care there, he added.

It's a lot of hard work, a member of the Cancer Committee at the hospital said. Dr. J.H. Burnett affirmed that in order to qualify for the accreditation three disciplines are imposed on the participating hospital. A Tumor Registry, which registers all cancer patients treated in the doctor's office as well as those hospitalized, a Tumor Conference composed of an oncologist, a surgeon, pathologist, radiologist, physical therapist, nurse, and registrar, and a Cancer Committee which oversees the entire program of treating the cancer patient.

"We must meet monthly and document our findings and decisions or forfeit the accreditation," the oncologist said. Dr. Burnett explained that the conference uses the opinions of all members of the committee to decide upon a course of treatment for the patient. "Each member has a distinct function based upon his or her professional involvement in the treatment of the patient," he said.

The surgeon's opinion, for instance, is needed for possible surgical procedures, the radiologist for advice on radiation therapy, the pathologist for laboratory analysis, the nurse for day to day bedside observation, the physical therapist for rehabilitative therapy, and the medical record registrar for documentation of all committee and registry matters, Dr. Burnett said. As the one who administers the chemotherapy, the doctor says that he both initiates chemotherapy if he considers consultation is not feasible, as well as administers chemotherapy after consultation with physicians at M.D. Anderson in Houston.

The certificate received by the hospital is evidence that the disciplinary conferences, continuing education for physicians and hospital staff, and the tumor registry itself is functioning in a manner that will give optimum treatment for each patient treated in the clinic and hospital, Dr. Terrell noted in a telephone interview.

Medical Record Director Belva Harrington says that her department spends approximately fifteen hours weekly, tracing and documenting the progress of cancer patients who have been dismissed from the hospital after treatment. Some 1,000 patient records go back as far as 1962, when Malone-Hogan began its cancer program. To qualify for the accreditation, Ms. Harrington and her tumor registrar must maintain a minimum of ninety-percent follow-up of the cancer patients treated at Malone-Hogan each year. "We actually had ninety-three percent at the time of the survey in August of last year," Harrington said, "but we're running about ninety-five percent this month."

Ms. Harrington mentioned that Malone-Hogan was one of three hospitals in the Permian Basin who are accredited in the treatment of cancer patients by the college. The Veteran Administration Hospital and Midland Memorial Hospital are the other two.

"This is a service that we offer the patient who comes to Malone-Hogan for treatment of cancer," Dr. M.E. Porter, gynecologist, added. Basically, the doctor said, the committee considers every patient individually and prescribes treatment. Then it follows the patient after treatment to determine whether or not the treatment has been successful. If it hasn't, then its members ask themselves if not, why not.

Reason for the discipline of cancer treatment is spelled out in the handbook put out by the college, which states that "following initial treatment, many patients with cancer will require rehabilitative measures after initial treatment, and the risk of primary cancer of other sites is increased in those having presumably been cured of cancer of one site." Follow-up is vital.

Malone-Hogan has taken pains to make sure that the patient is in good hands in their hospital, according to Dr. Terrell. The certificate of accreditation is approval of that fact.

Other members of the Cancer Committee are Drs. B.A. Compamanes, P.W. Malone, M.D. Perrett, J.E. Mathews, Buick Williams, and J.R. Key. Also Nursing Director Jean Connelly, Physical Therapist Steve Laughner, Medical Records Registrar Joyce Evans, and Norman Knox, Administrator.

Snow fall fools meteorologists

By The Associated Press

Springlike storms spawning funnel clouds, hail and heavy rains pounded parts of East Texas Saturday, while a surprise snowstorm dusted north central sections of the state.

High winds uprooted trees and unroofed a greenhouse at Flint, in Smith County, and hail was reported across a wide area of East Texas. Funnel clouds were spotted near Marshall, near Bullard and in Tyler County, but none touched the ground.

Much of East Texas was under a tornado watch and a flash flood watch during the day, and a flood warning was issued for the Sabine River, Anacolo Bayou, Neches River, Village Creek, Pine Island Bayou and Trinity and San Jacinto rivers in southeastern sections of the state.

To the west of the thunderstorms, snow occasionally mixed with rain and sleet fell from the Red River southward as far as the Dallas-Fort Worth area, and depths of about an inch were reported on the ground along the Texas-Oklahoma border.

The snow took even weather forecasters by surprise.

"We ended up with precipitation we weren't banking on," said meteorologist Don Wernly of the National Weather Service office in Fort Worth. He said a storm in the upper atmosphere that rolled over Texas from the west was much stronger than anticipated.

"It was strong enough to squeeze out of the atmosphere the available moisture. We knew the thing was coming, but it wasn't readily apparent there was enough moisture available. It almost created something out of nothing," he said.

Fog moved into the Dallas-Fort Worth area late in the day.

Despite the miserable conditions in the northeast corner of the state, skies were clear to partly cloudy in the Panhandle.

WEST TEXAS — Mostly fair and warmer through Monday. Highs today 50s north to 70s south. Lows tonight 30s. Highs Monday 40s and 70s.

PENDANT PENDANT — The beautiful pearl of the Orient, Myoshy Amotto, astounds and amazes the audience as she hovers while hanging by only her hair. Like a dazzling pendant, this aerial ballerina spins, turns and gyrates while depending on the strength of her heavenly head of hair. Miss Amotto will be performing in this year's edition of the American Continental Circus coming to the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum of Howard College, Thursday, March 15, under the sponsorship of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse. Showtimes are set for 4:30 p.m. and 8:00 p.m., with tickets on sale at the door one hour before each performance.

Clowns galore to show at coliseum March 15

Here comes the clowns! The zanies, jocolators, buffoons, mimes, merry-andrews, harlequins, punchinello!

There are nearly a hundred words like these in the English language to describe clowns. Some of the terms indicate the antiquity and universality of the clowning profession. "Zany" is the Greek word for clowns, as used by Aristophanes.

"Jocolators" were Nero's buffoons who entertained in the arena while the guards went backstage for more humans to be sacrificed to the lions.

The present day circus clown is called a "joey" in the business — a modern slang term. But, the ruff he wears was worn by Shakespeare's merry-andrews, mimicking the fashion of the Elizabethan gallants. His whitened face and his tight skullcap reveal his debt to a character called "Harlequin", created in the year 1200. His slapstick came down from earliest antiquity.

Rickett's, the first circus to play in North America, over 200 years ago, featured four types of clowns: the talking clown, the silent clown, the pantomimic clown and the trick clown. Nowadays, clowns have to be a mixture of all of these.

Makeup is the deciding factor in each Joey's costume and actions. When a clown adopts a special makeup, it is his and his alone. There is an unwritten rule in the profession that no one will ever copy another's makeup. These individualized makeups are passed down from father to son.

A few of the early buffoons rose to fame and fortune. Tony Pastor, father of vaudeville, was a clown who became a millionaire. Dan Rice, the most famous of all American clowns, made as much as $1,000 back in Lincoln's administration. His costume of chin whiskers, starred vest and striped pantaloons was what Thomas Nast used as his inspiration for the symbolic figure of Uncle Sam. Nast also gave us our North American version of Santa Claus. Grimaldi, the great English clown, had his memoirs edited by Charles Dickens. An embittered soul, he did much to establish the "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" tradition of the painted smile and breaking heart. There is a classic story, told in a dozen variations, of the man who went to see the doctor about his melancholia. "What you need is to be amused," said the doctor. "Why don't you go to see the clown Grimaldi?" said the patient.

The modern circus recognizes the clown's worth and takes him seriously for the laughter of children is as much a part of the circus experience as popcorn, peanuts and cotton candy. Take any child to the circus and ask him later what impressed him most. He will have forgotten the death defying feats and the marvelously trained animals. Nine out of ten youngsters will remember the funnyman whose nose lit up like a lightbulb.

The American Continental Circus will be coming to the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at Howard College in Big Spring on Thursday, March 15, under the sponsorship of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse.

Showtimes will be at 4:30 p.m. & 8:00 p.m., with tickets on sale at the door one hour before each performance.

Football dangerous Million injuries traced to sports

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new government survey estimates more than 1 million injuries — 111,000 of them "major" — occurred in high school and college athletic programs during the 1975-76 school year.

Many of these injuries could have been prevented if schools used safer equipment, gave coaches and trainers better training and taught youths safety rules as well as the rules of the game, HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. said Saturday.

"This report suggests that the casualties may have reached unacceptably high levels," Califano said in a statement.

The estimates in the long-delayed, $240,000 report, which was ordered by Congress in 1974, were based on a survey of 2,500 high schools and 1,300 colleges.

There were 14 athletics-related deaths in those schools in 1975-76. Four were from tackle football, four from other contact sports, three from non-contact sports and three from physical education programs. The only female victim was a girl killed in her high school physical education class.

The survey did not estimate the total number of athletics deaths in 1975-76, which was higher. A survey run by researchers at Penn State recorded 13 high school and college football deaths that year.

Football remains America's most dangerous major sport.

With 1.1 million men playing tackle football, the sport accounted for 326,000 of the estimated 1.06 million injuries. The injury rate was 280 per 1,000 participants. At four-year colleges, the rate was 929 per 1,000.

The injury rates in other contact sports were 74 per 1,000 for men and 54 per 1,000 for women, and in non-contact sports 38 for men and 32 for women.

But Robert Calvert Jr., a National Center for Education Statistics researcher who wrote the HEW report, says better equipment and rules changes have made football safer. In 1968 there were 31 deaths on high school and college grids; in 1977 there were nine.

The HEW survey defined major and minor injuries somewhat loosely. Any injury that kept a student from either athletic practice or from classes for one to 20 days was considered minor; an absence of three weeks or more was major.

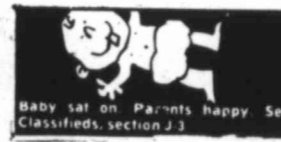

By the survey's terms, player could sprain his back and be perfectly able to carry his girlfriend's books to class, and he'd still be injured.

The report said 96 percent of high schools and colleges have someone responsible for immediate health care of athletic injuries. Only about 20 percent of the injuries happened when no health care person was available.

But in most cases the person responsible was a coach, and the survey said many of them "are not adequately trained for health care responsibilities."

ON DISPLAY — Visitors to the Heritage Museum March 3-4 are in for a special treat. In conjunction with Fine Arts Week, Andrews artists Delbert Brewster and Roland Rose will display their works in a two-man art show. The scrimshawed necklace, above, is an example of the fine handmade jewelry that Brewster produces. Each piece is an original and his Western items are particularly sought after. He'll also display scrimshawed powder horns and knives. Rose, an Andrews public school teacher, will show clay sculptures during the 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday and 1-5 p.m. Sunday art show.

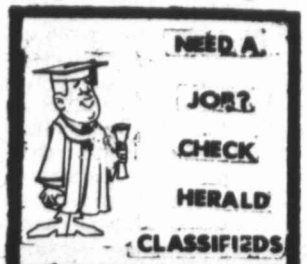

CC directors meet Monday

Should school boards have student members?

How do you feel about a proposal to make it possible for a student to serve on a school board?

A bill to that effect has been introduced in the 66th session of the Texas Legislature by Rep. Irma Rangel. The bill requires school trustees receiving petitions from five per cent of the registered voters in their district to call for a special election among high school students to elect a student to represent them in a non-voting capacity on the board.

The student member would not serve to determine a quorum. Instead, the student would serve to open communications between a school board and the part of the public they govern.

Further, the students of the district would be kept informed by a peer of the reasons for the actions of the board.

AN AMERICAN Government class at H.M. King High School in Kingsville conceived the idea for the bill. While involved in a class simulation of Congress, senior Shannon Glidden introduced a bill on this subject as her class room assignment. The mock congress quickly pigeon-holed the bill, feeling that this was a topic for the State Legislature.

However, the class applauded the suggestion and decided to search for sponsors of the legislation in the subsequent session of the legislature.

The burden of shepherding the bill through the legislature was accepted by Rep. Rangel. After only a few minor changes made by her office staff, Ms. Rangel introduced it into the House.

The class is now trying to rally support throughout the state for the legislation. It has mailed letters to members of the news media and individuals throughout Texas, hoping to gain public support.

In addition, the Kingsville class of 20 students has undertaken money raising projects to sustain the letter-writing campaign and to pay for a trip to Austin where members could lobby for the proposal.

Class members are contacting Student Councils in most major Texas cities, requesting endorsements from organizations concerned with education and the legislative process.

UNDER TERMS of the bill, in order to serve as a student member of the board of trustees, a person must (1) have been enrolled in a school of the district for the two school years immediately preceding the school year in which the student is to serve; (2) be enrolled as a 12th grade student during the school year in which the student serves and (3) have been elected to that position by a majority vote of the students enrolled in grades 10-12 in that district.

The board of trustees would have to adopt a procedure for election of the student. The term of the student member would be limited to one year.

The student member would be entitled to attend each meeting of the board of trustees and would be entitled to participate in each proceeding before the board.

The student member would not be entitled to attend or participate in any meeting of the board not lawfully open to the public and would not vote on any issue before the board.

My priceless cousin, Price Everett, Bridgeport dandy, recalls the Depression days at Blue, Okla. "I was so poor I couldn't even afford to go to a used car lot and kick a few tires."

"Any woman can tell you — keeping house is like stringing beads on a string with no knot at the end."

LOVELY LAURIE REESE, who resigned last week as Herald ad-visor to become store manager, quotes Calvin Coolidge:

Ex-Alpine cowboy, Jay Sanders, keeping busy nowadays rounding up Herald words, said one of the TV season's new shows was canceled — it had too many giggles and not enough giggles.

I can remember when hamburger stands in Oklahoma City had 10-cent hamburgers. But that was a long time ago.

COURTEOUS CORA CONN, part-time classified employee, provided me with capsule sermons:

There's just one best dog in the world, and every farm boy has it... being a gentleman's fine, but a bad handicap in an argument... tall men are just as short at the end of the month as anybody else... many mistakes come from thinking without feeling, or feeling without thinking... hero, genius, or both, is the person who guesses right most of the time — and then does it!

MY BRIGHT COUSIN, Dr. George Ladd, an Okie in Muskogee, clipped an intriguing story from a Pittsburgh, Pa., paper. He doesn't know, and neither do I, if it's true but it makes for interesting reading:

"Publisher, writer and critic H.L. Mencken obviously knew something in 1928 that nobody else did when he wrote:

"In those dark moments when I fear that the Republic has trotted before these weary eyes every carnival act in its repertoire, I cheer myself with the thought someday we will have a president from the Deep South... the president's brother will gather his loutish companions on the porch of the White House to swill beer from the bottle... The president's cousin, LaVerne, will travel the Hallelujah circuit, as one of Mrs. McPherson's soldiers in Christ, praying for the conversion of some Northern Sodom's most Satanic pornographer as she saves his work, well thumbed, for all the yokels to gasp at."

"The president's daughter will record these events with her box camera... The incumbent himself, cleansed of his bumpkin ways by some of Grady's New South Hucksters, will have a charm comparable to that of the leading undertaker of Dothan, Alabama."

LANDRA TUCKER, produced her last words for the Herald Friday. She and her husband are moving to Arlington. Landra offered a comforting joke before departing.

How Washington coped

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Last Monday, as you probably saw on television, Washington had its biggest snowstorm in 50-odd years. For people who live in Chicago or Dubuque or Helena, Mont., it may not have seemed like much snow. Would you believe 24 inches? All right, so you're laughing, but two feet of snow in Washington is equal to six feet in Nebraska, particularly if you include the snowdrifts.

IT SO HAPPENS that since we're the capital of the United States we consider ourselves immune from snow and therefore are not prepared for it. We don't have snowmobiles, hardly any four-wheel-drive vehicles, and we always borrow our snow shovels from the guy next door.

The other thing few people have in Washington is a garage, and most of us park our cars on the street. Therefore, when we get clobbered by two feet of snow all the automobiles are stuck and the removal equipment can't get through the streets.

So you're probably wondering how your capital coped during the great blizzard of 1979. I am happy to report to all Americans that we came through with flying colors.

The nation's lawmakers, administrators, regulation writers, paper shufflers, lobbyists, generals, admirals and secretaries, undersecretaries, acting secretaries, as well as division heads, department supervisors, standing committees, economic analysts, computer programmers, IRS inspectors, lawyers from both the public and private sector, as well as federal coordinators, state coordinators and city coordinators, all dealt with the snow on a unilateral basis without someone else telling them what to do.

WASHINGTON PROVED once and for all that, when put to the test, every man and woman in this town could handle a foot of snow as well as anyone in Minneapolis.

How do I know this? I'll tell you how. At about noon of the big day I received a telephone call from a reporter of The Washington Post who said he was doing a story on how people were coping with the snow in my neighborhood. I told him I would go out and see and report back to him.

I fought my way to the street and I discovered grown men walking up and down laughing and throwing snowballs at each other while their wives were shoveling the snow off the sidewalks. This seemed odd to me so I asked one general. "Why is your wife shoveling snow?"

"Because," the general explained, "the new army regulations say I can't get an enlisted man to come out and do it." When I asked one lady shoveling snow why she was doing it instead of her husband she replied somewhat bitterly, "How else would you celebrate the 'Year of the Woman'?"

I walked further on and ran into a friend from the State Department who was building a snowman.

"What's going to happen with China and Vietnam?" I inquired.

"That's a stupid question to ask now," he said angrily. "If I had to think about things like that I'd never get this snowman built." I walked a few more blocks and saw Mrs. Pettibone with her shovel in her hand. "How's Mr. Pettibone?" I asked.

"He slipped on the ice."

"Did he get hurt?"

"No, but he's in the house right now writing up new regulations for the Office of Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) which will require that forthwith every public sidewalk must have a four-foot railing built alongside for people to grasp in case they slip on the ice."

Simple test for water retention

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I read with interest the column on the woman who suffers from water retention. My question is how can one be sure this is what they have? Is there a test one can take? — M.K.B.

Water retention is detected in a number of ways. One way is for the doctor to exert mild pressure with a finger over the bony part of the feet or shin. If a ridge remains after releasing the pressure, he can conclude the person has some edema (eh-DEEM-uh) — retention of excess body fluids.

There are other telltale signs. A ridge or swelling may appear just because they can indicate present or weight changes are important and daily weighing is required. If a person gains two to three pounds in a 24-hour period that would indicate fluid retention rather than true weight gain. A puffy face or puffy fingers can be signs, too.

They are symptoms to watch for because they can indicate present or budding circulation problems that can be easily treated. Some women may have such symptoms only at certain times of their menstrual cycle.

Dear Dr. Ruble: A lot is written about shingles, and I know there is no cure. But can you please tell me how I can help my dear grandmother who has had the pain from shingles for many months now? She is old, and I hate to see her suffering this way. Surely there must be a way to make this easier for her. She apparently gets no help from her doctor, but then I'm not even sure she sees one for it. I just want her to be comfortable. — N.E.

Like the weather, there's a lot of talk about shingles, but little is done about relieving the discomfort. For the elderly, who seem most prone, the pain can be excruciating.

There are the usual pain relieving medicines that may take the edge off. The pain is stubborn because nerve problems are always stubborn. In extreme cases the doctor can inject the nerve itself. This injection may provide hours or days of relief. A more permanent type of injection deadens the nerve but leaves an area of numbness. This can be annoying. See the booklet, "Facts about Shingles." For a copy send 20 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I am 17 years old, a female, and very slender. I am developing some white lines on my trunk. It began two years ago when I took part in a physical fitness class. What are they? What caused them? And what is the recommended treatment for removal or control? — L.B.

The white lines you mention are probably "striae" (STRY-ee). They usually occur in chubby people or with a sudden weight gain such as in pregnancy.

They are most prominent on the sides of the abdomen or in the breast area. Another term for them is "stretchmarks." I can't say why you developed them, since you tell me you are slender. However, even slender people may have fat layers in the abdominal area or breasts. Some people have skin that forms striae easily. Certain exercises can aggravate the situation, as it may have with you. No creams, lotions or pills help prevent them or make them disappear. I suspect that at your age they will tend to fade with time if you keep your weight down.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I have sinus trouble for which my doctor gives me nose-drip decongestants. That dries things up — too much — and I have a closed off nose to the point where I trouble for which my doctor gives me nose-drip decongestant, which is why it should be used more sparingly, if at all. A pill-form decongestant may not have this effect. You need a thorough examination of your entire nasal structure. There may be a bent septum (the tissue separating the nostrils). That can be straightened and might alleviate matters for you without any decongestants.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Can ovarian cysts be treated without removing the ovaries? — Mrs. P.R.

Yes. For example, in one procedure tiny slivers from each ovary can be taken out and that sometimes eliminates the cysts, especially in younger women. The procedure used is called "laparoscopy."

Legislation info is available

Toll free numbers are a temptation to use, even though one may have no purpose in calling.

One which many Texans can and should be using is 1-800-252-9693.

That's the WATS line set up for citizens who desire information about the status of legislation in the state houses.

If you can't recall the number, it is called the Legislative Information System of Texas (LIST).

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am getting old and have a lot of burdens. I find myself longing to go to Heaven instead of staying longer on this earth. Do you think this is wrong? — Mrs. F.T.

DEAR MRS. F. T.: Even the Apostle Paul longed to go to heaven and be with Christ; he knew that all the problems and sorrows and sicknesses of this life would be left behind. Yet he knew that the really important thing was not what he wanted, but what Christ wanted. He also knew that God had not called him home, but instead still had a purpose for him on the earth. "I am torn between the two: I desire to depart and be with Christ, which is better by far; but it is necessary for you that I remain in the body. Convinced of this, I know that I will remain" (Philippians 1:23-25, New International Version).

It is good that you long to go to Heaven. It would be wrong, however if it means that you are therefore neglecting some responsibility God may have for you now. I know you may feel that you cannot do as much as you once did, due to your age. But God knows your limitations. And He also has something for you that only you can do. I know many older Christians who cannot be as active as they once were, yet they have discovered new ways of serving God, such as praying diligently for others. Be open to whatever God has for you.

It is wonderful to know that we have hope for the future, because Jesus Christ rose from the dead. Some day the burdens we face will be lifted, and we will be with Christ throughout all eternity. But that truth should also remind us that our time on this earth is brief, and if we are ever to serve Christ it must be now.

WASHINGTON — Once again we've caught the Pentagon trying to sabotage the Renegotiation Board, the watchdog agency charged with reviewing defense contracts and cracking down on profiteers.

It is largely because of the military-industrial complex's uncomplicated lobbying that the Renegotiation Board is scheduled for extinction on March 31. President Carter wants Congress to continue funding the board, which over the years has extracted millions of dollars in excess profits from greedy defense contractors.

BUT WHITE HOUSE policy doesn't keep the Pentagon brass from continuing to badmouth the Renegotiation Board at every opportunity. Last month, David Koonce, chairman of the Defense Department's contract finance committee, popped off in derisive fashion at the speech to the National Contract Management Association in Los Angeles.

Unbeknownst to Koonce, an official of the board's Western office was in the audience. She took detailed notes and prepared an internal memorandum for her bosses.

According to the memo, Koonce said the Renegotiation Board "had harassed everyone...did not pay for itself...was a good example of costs costing more money than the robbers were stealing."

The memo reports that "Mr. Koonce said he had fond hopes that the Renegotiation Board would be killed in committee," though he also said he wouldn't believe the board was going out of existence "until I see it." Referring to proposed charges in the Pentagon's profit-level calculations, Koonce told the meeting, according to the memo, "if he could defeat Renegotiation by publishing charges to the profit policy, he intended to 'crank them out on toilet paper.'"

When called by our associate Tony Capaccio, Koonce did not deny his hostility to the Renegotiation Board. But he did claim that some of the comments were misquoted or taken out of context, and were supposed to have been off the record anyway.

White House insiders told us they are checking into the matter, because Koonce's comments, "if accurately reported, were 'totally against administration policy.'"

AND WHEN THE defense industry's Capitol Hill gadfly, Rep. Joseph Minish, D-N.J., learned of Koonce's remarks, he dispatched a stinging rebuke to Defense Secretary Harold Brown.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor: Most people interested in the proposal of a water increase will remember (and I hope most people are), that at the last regular meeting the Council approved an increase of $1.50. This was broken down as $1.35 to cover the increase by CRMWD and $1.15 to cover the deficit in the Water & Sewer Fund. This was to cover the same 3,000 gallon base, as the current base fee of $4.25 covers the first 3,000 gallons.

I read the article in the Herald Friday, and went to City Hall to check on the actual ordinance, and found that it contained a $1.50 increase, but reduced the amount of gallons from 3,000 to 2,000 — and contained an increase of $.85 for each additional 1,000 gallons. This would mean that we would actually be paying an increase of $2.35 for the minimum. This would also mean they were increasing the minimum 15 cents more than the $2.20 they had asked in the beginning before we talked them down to $1.50.

I attended the meeting where the first reading of the ordinance was passed, and nothing was mentioned by anybody about decreasing the minimum from 3,000 to 2,000 gallons. It was a $1.50 increase for the first 3,000 gallons.

Being disturbed over this, and thinking it perhaps an error, I called the Mayor and several of the council members. They too were under the impression that the increase was to be a flat $1.50 for the same minimum.

Therefore, the only conclusion that can be drawn is that the City Manager, or Assistant City Manager Bill Brown, knowingly and willingly drew up the ordinance the way they wanted to interpret it — with an increase of $2.35 instead of $1.50 — knowing such would produce around $310,000 additional revenue a year on the minimum alone — some $112,000 more than the Council actually approved.

I've followed these matters consistently and carefully, but I don't know what's going on. From my conversations with the members of the Council this is not what they approved. So it appears somewhere in the upper echelons of the City Administration they devised a plan to not only fool the citizens, but the Council as well.

We hear about economy in government, and honesty in government, and some of us try to keep informed on the matters going on and give the people our views. However, there is no way we can watch the administrators, over whom we have no control anyway, as they are appointed and not elected. To make a bad situation worse, while our elected number of representatives remains the same, administration grows and grows.

This item comes up again on next Tuesday's agenda. I sincerely urge everyone interested to make an effort to attend the meeting at City Hall at 9 o'clock and make your feelings known to our elected Council, so they in turn can see that the administration not only understands, but carries out to the letter, what they want done. It is only by a larger number of interested citizens expressing their views that administration can be controlled.

Lamesa Campus of HC sets record; Lee lauded

LAMESA — The Lamesa Campus of Howard College reached a new record with the fall, 1978 enrollment. The 156 students who signed up for classes made it the highest enrollment period yet recorded.

The Board of Directors of the Lamesa Industrial Foundation, in a Jan. 18 meeting, cited Theron Lee, director of the Lamesa campus since Aug., 1978, as being largely responsible for the growth.

In recognition of Lee's contributions to the success experienced by the Lamesa campus and the increased service to Dawson County residents, the board issued a resolution expressing its appreciation.

Lee, who also serves as the head of the Technical Division of Howard College and as a management instructor specializing in real estate, attributes the increased enrollment at Lamesa campus to wider community support.

"Last Spring Lamesa campus had an enrollment of 50 students," Lee said. "Since then, we've gained wide support from the public schools, we have an advisory committee that meets twice a month, and we've added a full-time staff making services available to students from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m."

He said that the additions to the staff, full-time secretary Denise Bentley and night-class office assistant Glenda Beckmeyer, have made information more readily available to prospective students. "Our goal is to fill the community needs," stated Lee, former director of Continuing Education at Howard College and former Director of Extension.

Facilities of the Lamesa campus, described by Lee, include four classrooms, two offices and lots of open space in a former bowling alley converted by the Lamesa Industrial Foundation into learning facilities in 1975.

Classes offered include degree classes such as Freshman English, U.S. History and a large number of business classes. Continuing education classes, including photography and a 22-student nurse's aid program, are also offered. Planned additions include cake decorating, and country and disco dancing.

"We're also taking a look at more industrial-type courses instead of degree programs. Health care training is also in demand." Lee's credentials include a B.A. from Texas Tech, an M.Ed. from Sul Ross State University, and graduate work at U.T. Austin, Texas Tech and U.T.P.B. Before beginning his eight-year career at Howard College, he was a faculty member of the University of Texas.

He is married to Lettie Lee, director of the Associate Degree Nursing program at Howard College. They have two children David, 13, and Jennifer, 7.

Lee expressed optimism for continued growth of the Lamesa campus.

"We've already planned an ambitious schedule of courses for the fall, 1979 semester," he said. "This year we experienced the largest enrollment ever. Next fall, we anticipate an even larger enrollment of 200 students."

Couple shot near Post

POST, Texas (AP) — Authorities believe the deaths of an Iranian Air Force sergeant and a New Mexico woman were a murder-suicide, but an official ruling has yet to be issued in the case.

Mahmud Ali Shokouhi, a 23-year-old Iranian Imperial Air Force chief master sergeant stationed at Cannon Air Force Base in Clovis, N.M. and Linda Casaus, 20, also of Clovis, were found Thursday shot in a Little League baseball park near U.S. 84 in this town southeast of Lubbock.

The woman was pronounced dead at the scene and the man was dead on arrival at a Lubbock hospital.

Post is about 140 miles southeast of Clovis. Justice of the Peace Pat Kitchens ordered autopsies, but said it appeared to be a murder-suicide.

Shokouhi completed his shift as an air traffic controller at Cannon Wednesday afternoon and wasn't due back until Thursday afternoon.

Clovis police said the pair left the Clovis campus of Eastern New Mexico University after Miss Casaus completed a sociology class about 8:45 p.m.

However, the couple reportedly was arguing before they got into the car, and the Iranian slipped into the back seat. Police said that at 9:40 p.m. the girl called her sister and told her they were on their way to watch TV. It was not known where they were going.

TRIO FROM 'SANDYLAND SWING BAND' REHEARSES FOR OPRY — Joe Alger (left) on fiddle, Terry Priebe on guitar and Ed Marsh (right), also on fiddle, prepare for the upcoming Sandyland Opry at Big Spring. The three are members of the Sandyland Swing Band, one of two ensembles scheduled to perform. Opry time is 8 p.m. Friday in the Big Spring City Auditorium. The group is sponsored by South Plains College, home of a college level program in country and bluegrass music, and is part of the week-long activities planned for the Big Spring Fine Arts Festival.

Week-long festival of activities under way

Big Spring Fine Arts week will be celebrated with a week-long festival of activities in the area beginning today with art shows at area churches that elect to participate in the affair.

Other activities highlighting the week will be performances by the Howard College Hawk Players, the Community Theater group, the Big Spring High School Meistersingers, stage bands from area high schools, traveling performers, and a special showing of the artwork of Rolland Rose and Delbert Brewster.

Sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Council of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce, the activities were planned and organized by council chairman Bill Bradley and a special committee headed by Kelly Draper. Members of the committee were Susan Lewis, Gene McKiska, Cindy Turner, Ken Sprinkle and Gaye Cowan.

On Monday, at 8 p.m. in the Howard College auditorium, the newly organized Community Theater will stage "Pot Luck," followed by the Hawk Players' presentation of "The Birthday Present."

"Pot Luck" is a variety of short skits and performances with the participants ranging in age from 16 to 76, and from high school students to housewives and professional people.

Dancers Lynn Dickinson, Lynn Smith, Linda Hurt, Nancy Koger and Carolyn Ford will open the show with two numbers, followed by the eldest of the performers, Mrs. Velma Lloyd, who will recite a poem.

Kelly Draper will present a puppetry show, followed by high school drama students Robin von Rosenberg and Jan Whittington performing a duet acting scene dubbed "Lemonade."

Greg Smith will act a solo scene, "Hello In There," followed by a lighting show to the music of "Close Encounters." Mark Sheedy, technical and stage director will do the lighting for the entire production, assisted by Rusty Mitchell, who is in charge of sound during the production.

Lynn Smith will close the first part of the program with the song, "Send In The Clowns." One purpose of the Community Theater's participation is to introduce a small portion of the local talent to the area, and begin to develop a program to enhance cultural en-

Special show of art works

The Heritage Museum is having a special showing of the works of Delbert Brewster and Roland Rose, both of Andrews, Saturday and Sunday, March 3 and 4.

The museum will be open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., Saturday and from 1 until 5 p.m., Sunday.

The two artists work in clay, silver, bronze and horn, creating objects that reflect their western heritage.

Midland oil man gives Texas

Aggies gift of $2.37 million

MIDLAND — Clayton W. Williams Jr., a Midland independent oil man, has given Texas A&M an overriding royalty interest in about 86,000 acres of land — a gift with a current market value of $2.37 million.

Williams is known for flying an outsized Texas A&M flag over his downtown office building. The acreage in the gift is located in Brazos, Burleson and Robertson counties. Royalties could amount to as much as ten times the market value, university officials say.

A native of Fort Stockton, Williams graduated from A&M in 1964.

Sponsor named for seminar

SAN ANTONIO — For the fifth year, Trinity University has been selected as one of 37 sponsors for the 1979 Robert A. Taft Institute of Government Seminars, aimed at examining our national political institutions during a time of change and public political apathy. The seminar, scheduled for July 9-21, is named for the late Senator Robert A. Taft.

Fellowships are awarded to elementary and secondary social studies teachers and educational administrators, to offer them a unique opportunity to deepen their knowledge of the American two-party political system and to improve the teaching of government and politics to young people.

For two weeks, 30 teachers from Central and South Texas will "live" politics, interacting informally with local, state and national political officials, political analysts and campaign specialists. The teacher will study the principles and processes of the American system, and will get a realistic idea of how politics and government operate in the United States.

Dr. Tucker Gibson and Dr. Hal Barger, associate professors of political science at Trinity, will direct the seminar. Dr. Barger's upcoming publication, "The American Presidency: Myths Versus Reality," will be used throughout the nation at Taft Seminars.

Trinity's seminar will offer three hours graduate credit or in-service recommendation to school districts. Each day will consist of presentations by institute speakers, question and answer sessions, guest speakers and consultation time.

Interested participants may contact Dr. Hal Barger, political science department, Trinity University, 715 Stadium Dr., San Antonio, Texas, 78284, 512-736-8533. Deadline for applications is May 1, 1979.

Journalism scholarship is offered

SAN ANGELO — Students interested in majoring in journalism at Angelo State University to prepare for professional newspaper careers may begin applying for the $300 Millard Cope Memorial Scholarship, according to Dr. Harrison Youngren, head of the ASU journalism department.

The scholarship is awarded each year to a freshman journalism student entering Angelo State University. A student who receives an award as a freshman is eligible to apply for renewal each year providing the student maintains good academic standing and makes significant contributions to the ASU journalism program.

Students who are selected for the scholarships must enroll in ASU on a full-time basis as journalism majors. Priority will be given to students who indicate a desire and intent to work as a staff member on one of the two campus student publications.

Approximately seven Millard Cope Scholarship awards are made each year by the selection committee. Last spring, two scholarships were awarded to entering freshmen and five scholarships were awarded to sophomore, junior and senior students who were renewing their awards.

In addition, to the Millard Cope awards, the university may provide other ASU journalism scholarships to outstanding entering freshmen who are not selected for Millard Cope awards. The Millard Cope scholarships are financed from the proceeds of a trust fund established by the late Mr. and Mrs. Houston Harte as a memorial to the late Millard Cope, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times at the time of his death Jan. 4, 1964.

A former publisher of the Marshall News-Messenger, Cope was also president of the Southern Newspaper Association and a director of the Associated Press.

The winner or winners of the 1979 freshman award as well as the renewal of the upperclassmen awards will be determined by a selection committee made up of Dr. Lloyd D. Vincent, ASU president; Tucker Sutherland, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times; and Terry Neill, publisher of the Stanton Reporter and the current president of the West Texas Press Association.

Softhearted man collects rejected stuffed animals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Victor Davis is a wealthy bachelor with a soft heart, a big house and more than 500 second-hand stuffed animals and dolls.

Once a year his $500,000 home becomes a curiosity when he fills its windows with the shabby toys and waits for passersby to claim long-lost teddy bears, Raggedy Anns and Andys. He carries the toys from the two bedrooms they fill, and sets them in his front windows.

Tour guides driving through the city's elegant Pacific Heights district point out the house. One little girl left a note for him that said, in red crayon, "I love your house!"

A tourist from New York insisted on knocking to show Davis her own teddy bear that she had been carrying, but so far no passersby have rung his bell to claim from his window the toys they cuddled as children. "I like toys. I guess I'm a kid who never grew up," sighs Davis, who is 42 and made a fortune from San Francisco real estate.

He bought his first second-hand stuffed animal three years ago. He was in an antique store to buy a table when he spotted, slumped on an old rocking chair in a back room, a battered brown-and-white teddy bear. It was $1.75 and carried a tag that read, "A much-loved teddy bear."

The child in him shed a tear. "I felt so sorry for it. I decided to give it a home," he says.

He became obsessed with taking in the rejected teddies of the world, their limbs wrenched off, their eyes plucked out, their tummies balding. Then he began buying old stuffed rabbits and chickens and little piggies, and aging Raggedy Anns and Andys.

"They're all beautiful. The whole collection isn't worth more than a few hundred dollars, but the love it represents is priceless," he says.

UCLA'S JAMES WILKES goes high for the basketball in the second half of the Bruins 110-102 triple overtime victory over Washington State in a basketball game Saturday afternoon. Steer golfers impressive in Del Rio

DEL RIO — The Big Spring Steer golf team indicated that they have almost achieved their capabilities by tying for third place in the prestigious 16th annual Del Rio Invitational high school golf tournament.

Ablene Cooper, behind co-medalists Slaughter and Rock, who carded two-day totals of 148, won the team competition. Cooper had a 62 total, six strokes better than San Angelo. Big Spring tied with powerful San Antonio MacArthur with a total score of 632.

Steer Jimmy Newsom had his best effort to date with a two-day total of 153, fourth best in overall competition. Bruce Carroll had a 156 total, and also carded the day's best score with a 72. John Hernandez 161, Larry Bloskos 164, and Brad Small's 166 rounded out the BSHS team. Small's score today was the deciding round to tie for third place.

Big Spring will play in the Austin Invitational next Thursday and Friday for their last preparation before district starts in San Angelo on March ninth.

BSHS golf coach John Stiles was ecstatic over the play of his team. Stiles said, "We are on the threshold of achieving that delicate balance between outstanding individual effort and dedicated team cooperation that is required in any sport. In golf, an individual sport scored on a team basis, this is critical."

Cougars tame SMU Mustangs

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Ken Williams continued his mastery over Southern Methodist with 25 points Saturday to lead the Cougars to a 75-67 victory and into the second round of the Southwest Conference basketball tournament.

Williams, who scored 38 and 41 points in regular season games against the Ponies, was held to nine points in the first half. But the 6'11" junior hit a hot

Trio deadlocked in Glen Campbell Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Traffic jammed at the top of the standings for the $250,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open golf tournament Saturday, with Lon Hinkle, Lanny Wadkins and Kermit Zarley in a tie.

The three deadlocked at 6-under-par 207 for 54 holes with the final 18 scheduled Sunday in quest of the $45,000 first prize.

Blalock leads

Blossom Classic

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Defending champion Jane Blalock opened a 3-stroke lead in second-round play of the $75,000 LPGA Orange Blossom Classic, highlighted Saturday by Silvia Bertolaccini's tour record-tying 29 on the front nine of the wind-blown course.

Bertolaccini shot a 5-under-par 67 for the second round of the Ladies Professional Golf Association event to move into second place with a 138. Blalock, who shot a first-round 66, added a 69 for a 9-under 135.

Bertolaccini, a 28-year-old Argentinian, sank a 147-yard second shot to eagle the first hole, then added five birdies on the front nine. She missed a 2 1/4-foot putt on the ninth hole to muffle a chance to break the record she now shares with Pat Bradley, Carol Mann and Marlene Hagge.

Thursday, carded the best third-round score with a 68. Wadkins, the first-round leader, shot a 69 and Hinkle, the second-round pacesetter, had an even-par 71 over the 7,029-yard Riviera Country Club course.

Zarley said he had been staying with a friend, Stan Anderson, whom he met here about eight years ago and with whom he had been staying while in Los Angeles.

"He came out Wednesday to watch the pro-am and apparently walked too much and died of a heart attack on Thursday morning," Zarley said. "The funeral will be Monday. I really want to win this tournament for him."

Wadkins lost a chance to go into the lead alone when his second shot hit a tree and he had to settle for a 5 on the par 4 finishing hole.

Meanwhile, Zarley birdied both the 17th and 18th to gain his share of the lead, while a double bogey at the ninth hole cost Hinkle his opportunity for sole possession of the top spot.

The 225-pound Hinkle wasn't putting well and missed a 3 1/4-foot putt on the ninth. He carded four birdies, but also two bogeys and a double bogey to wind up at even par.

Zarley shot an outstanding No. 8 iron shot on the 17th hole that stopped four inches behind the cup for a tap-in birdie. On the 18th, he was under a tree and "I think I probably hit the best No. 3 iron of my career to get out of there." The ball wound up four feet from the hole and he sank for another birdie.

Tech routs Rice

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Geoff Huston, Ralph Brewster and David Little shared highscoring honors with 11 points each as Texas Tech used a balanced attack to overwhelm Rice 82-49 in a first round game of the Southwest Conference post-season basketball tournament.

Texas Tech Coach Gerald Myers played all 12 men on his squad, and Kent Williams and Ben Hill added 10 points apiece.

Rice held the lead ever so briefly, 2-0, at the beginning of the game, but Tech dominated the contest after taking a 3-2 lead and enjoyed a halftime advantage of 34-20. Tech hit 43 percent of its shots from the field, compared to 34 percent for Rice.

The Owls' meager scoring effort was paced by 16 points from Elbert Darden.

Tech out-rebounded Rice 52-37. "I thought it was a good last game for us," said Myers. "We could have some fun, and it was good to get some playing time for the reserves. Everybody got in. We had good intensity to start the game and we built up a pretty good lead to break the game wide open."

Tech now plays Texas A&M in a second round contest Thursday.

streak in the second half that put Houston in command for good.

The victory advanced Houston into Thursday's second round of the tournament in the Summit.

Williams, the SWC's Number 4 scorer, hit three consecutive long-range jump shots over a two-minute span of the second half beginning with 8:50 to play.

Houston used Williams' spurt to roll up a 64-54 lead — biggest of the game — with 6:59 to play and the Cougars never were troubled again by the Mustangs.

SMU was led by All-SWC Center Brad Branson, the Number Seven scorer in the league, who finished with 27 points.

SMU, which ended its season at 11-16, played much of the second half with play-making guard Billy Allen carrying four fouls. The Ponies' Reggie Franklin picked up his fourth foul with 11:27 left in the game.

The victory improved Houston's record to 15-14 and kept the Cougars from registering their first losing season since a 12-14 finish in 1958-59.

Rossmann-Galindez fight cancelled

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Saturday's scheduled World Boxing Association light heavyweight title bout between Mike Rossmann and Victor Galindez was canceled shortly before fight time because of a dispute over the judges.

The bout had been scheduled to be nationally televised by ABC.

Bob Arum, head of Top Rank, Inc., which promoted the fight at Caesars Palace, said the fight was canceled because of the Nevada Athletic Commission's insistence that local officials be used.

Galindez, an Argentinian who lost the title to Rossmann last Sept. 15 in New Orleans, had asked that the WBA appoint two judges and one local judge, who under Nevada rules, would score the fight. But the Nevada commission, maintaining it had the right to name all three judges, appointed officials from Nevada.

Arum, at an impromptu news conference beneath the bleachers at the hotel sports pavilion, said that the dispute began when the WBA demanded to use its own officials. He charged that the Nevada Commission was a group of amateurs that are ruining boxing in the U.S.

Arum negotiated with both sides in an attempt to put the fight on as scheduled. However, he was unsuccessful.

The WBA had raised the issue of judges Friday, but the state athletic commission named its own judges and would not back down.

A grim-faced Galindez stalked from his dressing room and walked back to his room at the hotel a few hundred yards away. He was hounded by a group of newsmen.

Moments later Rossmann, looking confused, was escorted to the ring where he took off his robe and began shadow boxing and doing other warm-up exercises.

Region V Tournament nearing

Teams in the March 8-9-10 Region V Basketball Tournament, which will be played in the Howard College Gymnasium here, have some lofty records at which to shoot.

Howard College has won more tournament games than any school in the far flung region — 35. Only Amarillo College is close to the Hawks in games won. The Badgers have prevailed in 30 of 57 contests.

In all, 35 schools have fielded teams in the tournament, which down through the years has been held in a variety of places. The winner of the tournament, which invariably offers some of the most exciting basketball anywhere, advances to the National tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas. Of all the teams qualifying for Regionals, only Clifton, Southwestern Christian, Blinn of Brenham, Oklahoma Military Academy and Weatherford have failed to win at least one outing. Murray State of Oklahoma has the best record percentage wise, among tournament entries in the past but has played only three games. Murray won the crown the only year it competed.

Among active junior colleges, Western Texas College of Snyder has the gaudiest won-lost record, having won ten of 13 assignments. WTC may be seeded No. One in this year's tournament.

The American Business Club of Big Spring is co-sponsoring this year's tournament, along with Howard College.

Pairings for this year's tournament will not be known until the day prior to the tournament but the top three teams in Western Conference (likely Texas Western, NMMI and Midland) and the top three clubs in the eastern half of the zone automatically qualify for the tournament.

Bargain tickets offered for tourney

A bargain is being offered to basketball buffs here. A season ticket for the March 8-9-10 Region V Junior College Coliseum, which will be held in the Howard College Coliseum, will be sold for $7.50 adult and $5 student.

The ducat actually will be good for ten games, including two preliminary contests scheduled March 7 which qualifies the last two quintets for the tournament.

They can be purchased from any member of the local ABClub or at Cleveland Athletics, the Chamber of Commerce office or the Business Office of Howard College.

Winner of the Region V meet becomes eligible to take part in the National Junior College Tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas, later in March.

The American Business Club and Howard College are co-sponsors of the tournament. The Ambucs have been widely recognized for their thoroughness in planning for a tournament such as this and the club is expending a lot of energy and investing about $4,000 to insure the success of this year's tournament.

The fourth and fifth place teams in the Western Conference will be playing for the right to enter the Region V meet here March 7. That game will share the spotlight with a game pitting two quintets from the Northern Half of the Region V.

Four tournament games will be unreeled Thursday, March 8, the first two at 2 and 4 p.m., the last two at 7 and 9 p.m.

Two contests are on tap Friday while the third place and championship contests will be unreeled Saturday evening.

Western Texas College of Snyder, NMMI of Roswell, N.M., and Midland College of the Western Conference appear to have won tournament spots. Weatherford, McLennan of Waco, Cook, Ranger and Hill College are considered the top teams in the Northern part of Region V.

ALL-DISTRICT SWIMMER — Big Spring High School's Morgan Wise recently earned All-District honors in the District 5-AAAA swim meet by winning the 100-Backstroke. Wise had a time of 1:00.1 in the race and will try to earn further honors in next week's regional meet.

Klammer's skiing in a slump

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — Three years ago, television immortalized the downhill race at Innsbruck, Austria, in which Franz Klammer won an Olympic gold medal.

Some called it the most exciting two minutes of sports footage in history.

That run was in 1976, probably at the peak of Klammer's career. Now, at 24, Klammer's prowess has been questioned.

"I work harder now than in 1976," Klammer said Friday, "but now I know that is not the right thing to do."

"I'm stiff right here," he said, pointing to his legs. "I'm not relaxed. I hope I can find the right thing."

Klammer found himself in an odd position Friday for a number of reasons. He was a frontrunner for the men's downhill at the U.S. National Alpine Championships — won by West German Sepp Ferstl.

Klammer arrived here Tuesday, too late to participate in training for the downhill, and so he couldn't race officially. In addition, the Austrian Ski Federation told him he was in trouble for traveling without the rest of the team, and warned him not to race.

"They (the Austrian federation) said I was not allowed to race — that I have to travel with the whole team," Klammer said.

"But I say I need this. I'm not in good shape, and I need this more than the other competitors."

Klammer won only two World Cup downhill last season, and he has yet to win this season. Klammer — along with many other Europeans — came here this week to take a look at the 1980 Olympic downhill course and to prepare for World Cup downhill here next weekend.

Klammer and Ferstl agreed the Olympic course was technical and "turny" at the top, and very fast at the bottom.

Y offering scuba course

The Y.M.C.A. offers a Certified course in basic Scuba Diving, beginning Thursday evening, March 29, at 7:00 p.m. Classes will meet every Monday and Thursday from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. at the "Y" through May 21, including a trip scheduled May 26 and 27 for required open water diving.

All equipment, except individual wet suits for the trips to Balmorhea and either Possum Kingdom, or Amistad, will be furnished by the Y.M.C.A.

Fees are $110.00 for non-members and $70.00 for "Y" members. It is necessary that students be advanced swimmers, in good physical condition, and at least 16 years old. Application to enroll requires the completion before March 29 of a number of forms available for $1.00, in a packet at the Y.M.C.A. desk. The forms include a complete physical examination and approval from your personal physician that you are qualified to take this training.

The course is sanctioned and approved by the Southwest Area and National Y.M.C.A. Scuba Commissions, and provides internationally recognized Diver Certification. The primary purpose is to teach safety in diving.

There are requirements for the course. People wishing to take the course should be advanced swimmers, 16 years of age or older, and should have had a physical examination recently.

The instructors for the course are Dr. Floyd Mays, Mrs. Glenna Mouton, Mrs. Virginia Ross, Andrew Mouton, Paschal Odom, Harlan Smith and Bill Towery.

Dunbar rips Midland

ABILENE — The talented Fort Worth Dunbar basketball team jumped out to an early lead and held off a late rally by District 5-AAAA champion Midland to advance to the regional finals. Final score was Dunbar 81, Midland 74.

Dunbar scored the first 11 points of the game before Midland could get untracked. The Bulldogs rallied, however, to tie the score at 30 midway through the second period. Midland was never able to take the lead in the contest, despite tying the game on four occasions.

The Dunbar team, which ended the regular season as the state's second ranked team, had an obvious height advantage but couldn't control the boards.

Dunbar was paced by 6'7" junior postman Gilbert Collier, who had 23 points. Roy Lee Jefferson had 17 for Midland, followed by Charles Johnson with 15, and Walter Bryson and Milton Sanders with 14 each.

Astros hope for health in 79

HOUSTON (AP) — Cesar Ceno is scared, the pitching staff is determined and Bob Watson is still an Astro as the Houston Astros converge on Cocoa, Fla. this week to begin another quest for the National League playoffs.

Giant future appears optimistic

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Ray Perkins and George Young have known only success in their football careers. Unless they can quickly turn things around with the New York Giants, they will be in for a rude shock.

"I know how to win," said Perkins, the Giants new head coach. "I've gone through one losing season in my life and I don't like to lose."

Perkins, 37, is the youngest coach in the National Football League. He will team with Young, the team's new 48-year-old general manager, and try to turn the Giants around.

"I have the authority on all trades and draft choices," Young said, "but everything will be discussed with the head coach. Tim and Well will be made aware of everything, too."

"We're going to work together on this thing. This is not a medieval papacy. We can't departmentalize, this has to be a cooperative," he added.

Young has never been a general manager before. Ditto Perkins as a head coach. But Young has been associated with Don Shula most of the last decade while Perkins has learned under respected coaches like Don McCafferty, Chuck Fairbanks, Don Coryell as well as Shula.

Young and Perkins are old friends from their days in Baltimore together and despite Young's denial, that in the NL Western Division last year despite batting third in the league and J.R. Richard's record 303 strikeouts.

Hundley named manager for Midland Cubs

It took some shuffling, but this week the Midland Cubs got the response they were looking for — a field manager. The Cubs will open their season with Randy Hundley in command.

Last year the 6' resident of Palatine, Illinois, managed his first season with the Bradenton Cubs, Chicago's rookie team. He led his team to a successful season, clinching third place in the league.

The talent that Hundley has to offer will be a strong asset to the Midland Cubs. At the age of 36, he has much to look back on. During his high school years at Bassett (VA) High, he played baseball, basketball and football. He was signed to his first contract by the late Tim Lincecum, San Francisco Giants. In 1963, he led Texas League catchers in fielding (.987) and was named to league and National Association Class AA-West All-Star teams. 1966 marked the year in which he set a major league record for most home runs by a catcher in his rookie year (19), led National League catchers in assists (85), and was named to Topps Major League Rookie All-Star Team. In 1967, Hundley led National League catchers in putouts (865) and total chances (928), set major league records for highest fielding average by a catcher in 150 or more games (.996) and fewest errors by a catcher in 150 or more games (4). He received the Rawlings

Golden Glove Award as National League's best fielding catcher. He also received the honor of being named as catcher on THE SPORTING NEWS National League All-Star fielding team. A major league record was set by Hundley in 1968 for most games caught in one season (160). He led National League catchers in double plays with 17 in 1969 and tied for lead in assists (79). Two knee operations limited his playing time during the '70 and '71 seasons, but proved to be no obstacle that would slow Hundley down. In '72 he led National League catchers in fielding (.995). He finished his playing career at Minnesota (74), San Diego (75) and returned to the Cubs to serve as coach in '77.

From his past record, Randy Hundley should prove to be a positive addition to the Midland Cubs.

He favors a wide open offense, likes to throw on first down and doesn't mind a little razzle dazzle.

"I wouldn't call myself a gambler, I'd rather call it calculated risks based on data," he said.

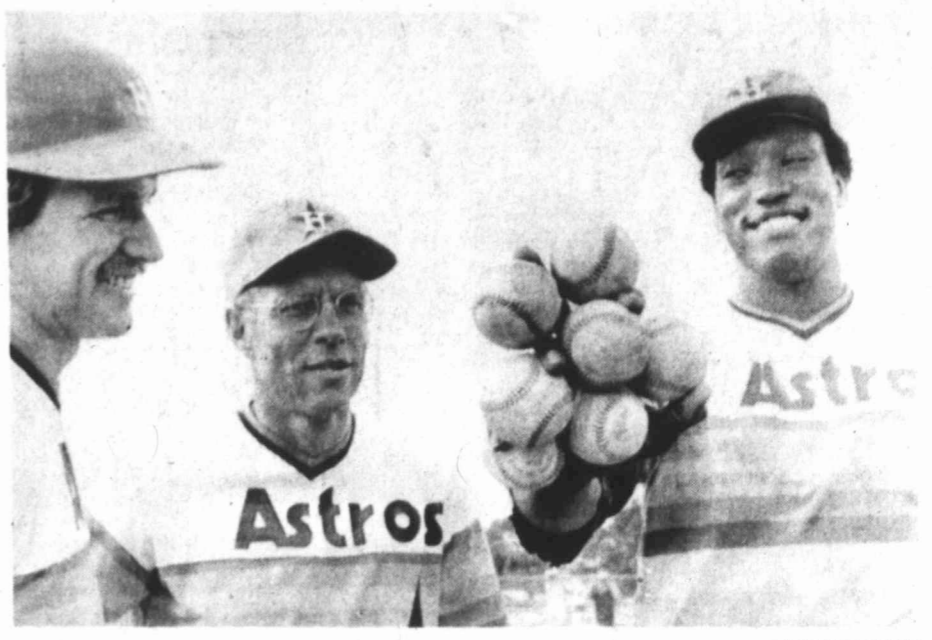

sees brighter days ahead.

"We didn't always have a major league lineup on the field last year," Smith said. "But with the return of C (Ceno) and our improvement up the middle, it could be a different story this year."

The 1979 Astros story starts unfolding Tuesday when the full team will join pitchers and catchers in workouts. Players aren't required in camp until Thursday but most of the team already is present.

Houston obtained catcher Alan Ashby from Toronto and All-Star shortstop Craig Reynolds from Seattle during the off-season and Smith feels the return of centerfielder Ceno should complete the Astros' fence-mending up the middle.

Ceno, who returned for two of the Astros' final three games of the season, said he feels stronger than ever before but he's anxious to find out how his knee responds to the rigors of sliding.

STRIKEOUT KING, SEVEN BALL PITCHER — Houston Astros pitcher James R. Richard, right, has a big hand full for catcher Alan Ashby, left, and manager Bill Virdon at spring training. Richard set a record last year with 303 strikeouts, the first National League pitcher to strike out more than 300 batters in a season.

Phillies, Cubs make huge swap

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs have completed an eight-player deal featuring Chicago second baseman Manny Trillo and Philadelphia outfielder Jerry Martin and reserve catcher Barry Foote.

The Phillies sent Martin, Foote, second baseman Ted Sizemore and young right-handers Henry Mack and Derek Botelho to the Cubs Friday for Trillo, outfielder Greg Gross and reserve catcher Dave Rader.

Mack, 20, had a 15-4 record and a 2.79 ERA at Peninsula last year and led the Carolina League in strikeouts. He was the holdup in consummating the trade, which actually was initiated last December at the winter baseball meetings in Orlando, Fla.

The Phillies recalled that they once sent a young rookie pitcher named Ferguson Jenkins to the Cubs, and he turned out to be one of the best pitchers in baseball. Thus, they hesitated at throwing Mack into the trade.

Botelho, 22, was the Phillies' No. 2 selection in the January 1976 draft. Last season with Reading in Class AA, he posted a 15-7 record with a 3.54 ERA, with 103 strikeouts.

The Phillies, however, wanted Trillo because they lost confidence in Sizemore, who suffered a triple fracture of the glove hand last summer and had problems swinging the bat.

SETS WORLD INDOOR RECORD IN HURDLES — Candy Young, foreground, a high school student from Beaver Falls, Pa., and Deby LaPlante, from San Diego State University, are neck-and-neck in the women's 60-yard hurdles at the National AAU Track and Field Championships at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night. Candy Young won the event with a time of 7:50 seconds to set the world indoor record in the event.

Youth highlights AAU Championship

NEW YORK (AP) — Candy Young is the new world record holder in the women's 60-yard hurdles, but she had another mission as she blazed through her semifinal and final heats at the National AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships.

"I wanted the nationals," said the articulate teenager, named the outstanding woman athlete Friday night in the championships at Madison Square Garden.

"My coach is a heavy smoker and he said he would quit smoking if I won."

After setting the indoor mark of 7:50 seconds in her semifinal heat, she repeated the feat in the finals. But she ran slower than she thought she would.

"I was going for a 7:48," said the 16-year-old high schooler from Beaver Falls, Pa. "But then I always shoot high."

In both the semis and the finals, Candy beat defending champion Deby LaPlante of Englewood, N.J., who set the old record of 7:53 last year.

The first two American finishers in each event are eligible to compete for the United States against the Soviet Union in a dual meet at Fort Worth, Texas, on March 3. The team was to be announced today.

Olympians Evelyn Ashford and Chandra Cheeseborough also set world indoor marks and four other records fell Friday.

Ashford, a former UCLA standout now competing for the Maccabi Union Track Club, nipped Brenda Morehead of Tennessee State in the 60-yard dash in 6:71 seconds. Morehead was timed in 6:72, matching the old record.

Cheeseborough, a sophomore at Tennessee State, smashed the old 220-yard indoor record of 24.23 by sprinting to victory in 23.93.

Ashford finished fifth in the 100-meters in the 1976 Olympic Games at Montreal while Cheeseborough was sixth in the 100 and ran in the 200 and on the U.S. 400-meter relay team.

Also breaking records were walkers Todd Scully of the Shore Athletic Club and Georgetown University freshman Chris Shea, Prairie View A&M's women's one-mile relay team and the Philadelphia Pioneer Club's sprint medley relay team.

Scully of Big Springs, Va., crushed the men's two-mile walk by more than 11 seconds with a clocking of 12:40.0. Shea, from Port Washington, N.Y., became the first woman to go under seven minutes in the one-mile walk, winning in 6:58.9.

The Philadelphia Pioneer medley relay team — Tony Darden, Steve Riddick, Herman Frazier and Bill Collins — broke the indoor mark with a 2:02.3 clocking in a heat, and won the finals in an identical time.

Prairie View's team of Debbie Melrose, Pat Jackson, Angela Dudley and Essie Kelly eclipsed the women's mile relay mark of 3:45.1 with a time of 3:43.3.

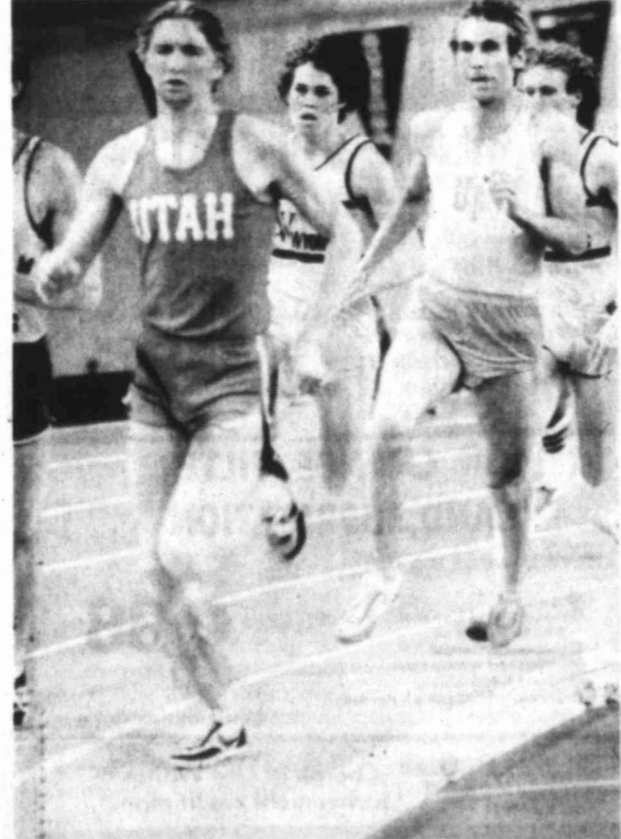

Riddick also won the men's 60-yard dash in 6.14, edging indoor record holder Houston McTeer.

Steve Scott, the national collegiate mile champion from California-Irvine, held off Steve Lacey of the University of Wisconsin to win the mile in a slow 4:01.4.

Greenwood, Sands lose in regionals

LEVELLAND — Greenwood of Midland County, previously undefeated, lost to Channing, 41-40, here Friday night in the first round of the Region 1-B basketball Tournament.

A 20-foot jump shot by Dale Burson with 20 seconds left on the clock proved the difference in the contest. In another first round game, Nazareth turned back the Sands Mustangs, 46-38.

SZWED TAKES 880 — Colin Szwed, University of Utah, moves ahead in the first turn in the 880-yard trials of the Western Athletic Conference Indoor Track and Field Championships at Idaho State University. Szwed withstood a strong finish by University of Texas El Paso runner Jan Boogman. Both runners moved on to the finals.

Fishing could improve with insect study

AUSTIN — A Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fisheries biologist believes Texas fishermen could improve their catch by taking a tip from trout fishermen.

Many trout fishermen become expert at "matching the hatch," which amounts to observing the types of aquatic insects which are available to the fish at a particular time and attempting to use a fly or nymph that closely resembles them.

Biologist John K. Means of Tyler said Texas fishermen can do the same by using lures which closely resemble the type of forage being utilized by bass or whatever gamefish is being sought. "Of course, in this state, the principal forage usually is not aquatic insects, but rather shad, minnows and sunfish," Means pointed out. "Knowledge of the size of these species at a given time of the year when they are most abundant would greatly aid fishermen in lure or bait selection."

Means said it may or may not be true that smaller lures catch smaller fish, but he points out that lure manufacturers nowadays are marketing more and more of the smaller sizes and "natural" color patterns.

Two species of shad make up a large portion of the forage base for bass, Means said, and fishermen might profit from knowing how important they are in their favorite fishing lake. Both gizzard and threadfin shad spawn twice each year, usually in May and August, and they can be as populous as 10,000 per acre in some lakes.

When there is an abundance of small shad, a lure of approximately the same size and appearance as shad should be effective, Means reasoned. Minnows also are an important food for bass as well as other predator fish, and Means said fishermen using minnows for bait should try the smallest available sizes in the spring, larger ones in the summer and the largest in the fall.

19 hunting fatalities reported in Texas in 79

AUSTIN — There were 19 fatal hunting accidents during 1978, two more than the previous year, according to the Hunter Safety Section of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Department game wardens across the state reported 83 hunting accidents during the year, compared to 80 in 1977. Of the 125 persons involved in accidents in 1978, 30 were 16 years of age or younger.

December was the most dangerous month, with 20 accidents reported, followed by November, September and January.

Only three persons involved in hunting accidents were reported to be graduates of hunter safety courses, according to Theron D. Carroll, hunter safety coordinator. One Texas graduate was the shooter in a non-fatal accident; and the other was not on the certified student or instructor roll of the Texas program.

The reports indicated that the most accidents — 18 — affected deer hunters. However, shotguns were involved in more accidents than were rifles or pistols. No archery accidents were reported.

PETE ROSE GOES COMMERCIAL — Beth Lambert puts the finishing touch on Pete Rose's makeup at Ft. Lauderdale Stadium last night before filming of a TV commercial.

Good fishing reported at Spence

All of a sudden Spring-like weather brought fishermen and fish together at Lake E.V. Spence during the past week.

The volume of fishermen was exceeded only by the size of their catches of several varieties including striped bass almost 20 pounds and a few king-sized black bass. There were reports of good strings of white bass and crappie, along with some channel catfish. Here were some of the reports: Paint Creek Marina — Valeril Kellar, Coahoma, 5-lb. 10-oz. black bass; Jim Marshall, Odessa, 4-lb., 2-oz. black bass; Rickie Gibson, Big Spring, 4-lb. striped bass; Harold Carey, Sweetwater, 10-lb. strip; Fred Merion, Brownfield, 30 white bass and three striper to 8 1/2 lbs.; Jerry McWilliams and party from Andrews, five striper;

Donny Phillips, Denver City, four striper to 8 lbs.; Tom Allred, Midland, five white bass and a 10 1/2-lb. strip; Charles Heffington, Midland, three striper to 14 lbs., 7 oz.; Benny Hawn and Larry Frymire, Abilene, six striper to 12 lbs.; Jim Jones, Odessa, 9 1/2-lb. strip; Roy Rowe, Lubbock, 35 white bass and one strip to 19 1/4 lbs.; Hillside Grocery — Lois and Bill Schwager, Odessa, and Dair Sherill, Robert Lee, 43 crappie to 1 1/4 lbs. and then 43 crappie of similar size. Triangle Grocery — R.C. Rainwater, Robert Lee, three blue catfish to 12 1/2 lbs. and three channel cat to 2 lbs. Wildcat Fish A Rama — Marvin Duff, Midland, 11-lb. strip; John and Patrick Slater, Odessa, four striper to 7 1/4 lbs.

Spring turkey season nears

AUSTIN — Prospects are good for the largest spring turkey hunting season ever in Texas, with 57 counties offering an open season on gobblers April 21-29.

Last spring, an estimated 6,500-plus hunters participated in spring turkey hunting in the Edwards Plateau and Possum Kingdom Regulatory Districts, two areas which comprise the bulk of turkey

X-mas trees attract fish

AUSTIN — If you haven't yet gotten around to throwing your Christmas tree away, consider using it to improve your favorite fishing hole.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fisheries crews in Tyler recently completed such a project on a grand scale by using about 700 trees donated by a local civic club and sporting goods store to enhance fish attractor reefs in nearby Lake Tyler.

Biologist Charles Inman said so me of the trees were added to existing "fish attractor reefs" made of tires, and additional bundles of trees were placed at other locations to form tree reefs.

Maps will be available for local anglers showing locations of all the reefs, Inman said.

"Brush is one of the best attractor materials for reefs," Inman noted, "especially for crappie, and Christmas trees are a very good brush material."

Youthful gymnasts exhibit skills

OLGA KORBUT?...No, it's actually YMCA gymnast Carrie Myrick performing last Monday night during halftime of the Howard College-Clarendon basketball game.

The YMCA gave a gymnastic program during halftime of the Howard College-Clarendon basketball game Monday night.

Manuel Hinojos, advanced gymnastic instructor, started the program by allowing each child to perform a stunt on the mats. As each child finished their mat routine, they continued to either the beam, uneven bars or mini-trampoline. At the beam, Jana Parker, Carrie Myrick and Karrie Aamodt performed their routine, consisting of forward rolls, scales and arabesques. Brenda Stevens assisted at the beam.

Jacinda Beasley, Laura Ainsworth, Julie Miller and Kelly Preston performed routines such as purllovers, chair drops and casting on the uneven bars. The spotter was beginning gymnastic instructor Nadine Teague.

Forward summersaults, backward summersaults and spread eagle jumps were performed by advanced gymnasts Jeff Reid, Jason Farthing, Angela Lee, along with beginners Charley Dean Myers, Bonnie Lopez, Danna Hise, Beth Shuler and Eric Helton. Hinojos spotted the advanced specialists on the mats in backward handsprings and back flips. The specialists were Lois Hardison, Kenda Warneke, Jana Whitehead, Priscilla Sepuya, John Busbee, Ray Marquez, Jennifer Ross and Lee Ann Smith. Lee also did an excellent routine on the beam.

The newest addition to the Y staff is Mary Jane Ward. She will be teaching a half-hour class in gymnastic movements.

Gymnastics classes are held each Monday and Wednesday. Beginners classes are from four to five p.m., with the advanced classes from five to six p.m. Fees are three dollars Y members and ten dollars for non-members. Sessions last four weeks.

PRODUCER, STAR — Marjoe Gortner, one-time child evangelist, is shown here made up for his role in "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder." Gortner stars in the film as a psychotic Vietnam veteran who terrorizes a group of people in a southwestern diner.

'When You Coming' Home, Red Ryder' Film becomes crusade

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marjoe Gortner, the one-time child evangelist, brings a messianic drive to his film career, both before and behind the camera. Latest evidence: "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder."
 It's a new movie out of the Melvin Simon operation, released this month by Columbia Pictures. To Gortner it has been a crusade.
 "I saw the play in 1973, when it was playing in New York," he recalled. "I was flipped out, both by the message and the role. It seemed to me that the play presented an entertaining statement as well as an acting role that offered a terrific challenge."
 Gortner, whose acting career was budding at the time, sought movie rights to the play, written by New Mexico State University professor Mark Medoff.

Alas, the rights had already been sold to industrialist William Fisher, who also had been overwhelmed by the play.
 It is a highly theatrical piece about a psychotic dropout, a Vietnam veteran, who terrorizes a handful of people in a southwestern diner.
 The Oscar-winning 1972 documentary, "Marjoe," helped launch Gortner's acting career. He remained busy, often cast as a wild-eyed criminal, as in TV's "The Marcus-Nelson Murders" (forerunner of "Kojak") and the movie "Earthquake." Meanwhile, he was learning.
 "I went from the religion business to the movie business, about which I knew nothing," said Gortner. "I have spent the last six years studying. I watched on Steven Spielberg's sets. "I worked only a week on "Earthquake" but I remained with it through most of production, learning from Mark Robson, the director. He was a great teacher. Having once been a cutter, he knew exactly how much film he needed. When Universal wanted to lengthen the picture for television, there were only 12 extra minutes. That's how economical Mark had been."

 Meanwhile Gortner kept tabs on "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder." Fisher's option was coming to an end, and Gortner flew to New York and tried his evangelism on Fisher. It worked.
 "I had ideas of starting the story a day earlier," said Gortner. "I thought it was important to look at the lives of those coming to the diner and also — to use the cliché — to 'open up' the play. That is, to get it outdoors."
 "Usually, the original authors are overlooked when an adaptation is written. I thought it would be a good idea to give the playwright a chance to adapt his own play, and I flew to New Mexico to see Mark Medoff. We hit it off right away, and he wrote the movie script in five days."

Reggae singer making an unusual comeback

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It probably comes as no surprise to hard-core reggae fans that Peter Tosh is finally taking off in this country. But there may be a bit of consternation at the way he's doing it.
 Tosh's first hit single is not one of his hard-hitting, political and religious-oriented compositions that have won critical acclaim. It's a reggae version of an old and totally non-ideological "Smokey Robinson tune, "You Got to Walk and Don't Look Back."
 In view of the numerous Robinson remakes getting radio play these days, the choice certainly was an obvious one for Tosh's record company. The recording's appeal was further enhanced by the fact Mick Jagger, who signed Tosh to the Rolling Stones' label, sings backup.

 But it's the only cut on Tosh's new album, "Bush Doctor," that he didn't write himself, and it isn't as though Tosh hasn't proved himself as a writer.
 Tunes like "Get Up, Stand Up" and "400 Years" were great successes for the original Wailers, which Tosh, Bob Marley and Bunny Livingston formed in the 1960s.

 But since the Wailers split in 1974 and Tosh began recording on his own, he has been less lucky with his rebellious musical pleas for legalization of marijuana and against society's injustices. Two earlier LPs put out by Columbia, "Legalize It" and "Equal Rights," never took off.
 In a recent interview, Tosh pulled a deep drag on one of the "spliffies" he seems to chain smoke and talked in rhythmic Jamaican accents about his music and the facts of commercial life.
 "According to this society, I am a political singer, so they say. So they prefer to put out something soft and mild, see."
 "I'm not political, first of comments," he adds. "To be political is to be a member of the house of politics, see. I am no member of the house of politics. I have nothing to do with politics. And if the truth is politics, well, call it political. But I always have to express the truth, see."
 In concert, a set of manacles dangles from Tosh's left wrist. Even without them, he is a dramatic figure who paces the stage with his guitar in a machine-gun like pose and waves his Rastafarian dreadlocks about.

(AP WIREPHOTO)
CAREER IS TAKING OFF — Peter Tosh, once a member of the "Wailers" who split up in 1974, is making it on his own he says as he is shown in Hollywood, Calif., being interviewed recently in the office of the record company he is forming.

Audiovisual aids help in organizing party

By JOHN W. DEATS, COUNTY LIBRARIAN
 Whether you are in charge of organizing a birthday party, class discussion, or club meeting, the library may be able to help make it an easier task.
 It is a good source for 16mm films, filmstrips, and other audiovisual material for organizational and home use. Residents of Howard County had access to over 500 films during 1978. Of these, roughly one-half were actually viewed in more than 1,000 showings during the year, with total attendance exceeding 30,000. That may seem to be a high figure, but we believe that many more people should take advantage of this service. The library can loan a 16mm projector to those who cannot supply their own. In addition, we have a filmstrip projector and accompanying cassette player which are ideal for home use, with a variety of children's filmstrips.
 Our library is a member of two regional networks which rotate packets of films on a regular basis. There are central collections in Lubbock and Abilene from which special interest films may be booked in advance. New films are added every year, so that the majority of these films were produced in the '70s. The producers include Disney, National Geographic, Time-Life, Paramount, and Britannica, to name a few. Subjects range from aeronautics to zoos, sports to the aged. Biographies, child psychology, arts and crafts, comedy, religion, and the Old West are well represented.

 Alistair Cooke's excellent 13-part series, "America: A Personal History of the United States," is available on a booked-in-advance basis. So is "The Hobbit," Tolkien's popular fantasy which was televised last year. Please let us serve you better by booking the films you need at least two weeks in advance.

Wants to set speed record Stunt woman loves danger

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kitty O'Neil holds the women's world land speed mark, and she's out to break every record on "land, snow, sea, and air." Her goal is to hit 748 miles an hour and break the sound barrier in a rocket-powered car.
 "I love danger," says Miss O'Neil, one of Hollywood's leading stunt women who is, not incidentally, deaf.
 "I grew up with danger. I rolled my mother's car the day I got my driver's license," she says. "I was kicked out of school three times for beating up boys. I don't worry about myself. I can take care of myself."
 The story of her daring, and of her fight to overcome handicap and the prejudice against deaf people, is told in the CBS movie "Silent Victory: The Kitty O'Neil Story." The two-hour film airs Saturday.
 Stockard Channing gives a remarkably stirring performance as the tiny daredevil, made deaf by illness as an infant in Texas. Yet, Colleen Dewhurst nearly steals the spotlight with her gritty portrayal of you are. I only object to not having a say so in the matter."

 Edward Albert plays an early boyfriend who introduces her to motorcycles, then ends up taking her for a financial ride.
 Duffy Hambleton, who quit his job as a bank vice president to become a movie stuntman. He and Kitty O'Neil lived together for seven years, during which he trained her as a stuntwoman and encouraged her quest for speed.
 Brian Dennehy plays Miss O'Neil's father, who never agreed with his wife's method of training. He was tormented by the fact that keeping her in a regular school subjected her to ridicule by her classmates. Later, he tells his daughter, "I never objected to what

Pooh Bridge falling apart

HARTFIELD, England (AP) — Pooh Bridge, the wooden bridge made famous by A.A. Milne in histories about Pooh Bear, is in danger of collapse.
 Two neighboring councils disagree about the future of the bridge at Cotchford Farm, where Milne wrote the books.
 One says it should be replaced, the other says it should be repaired so tourists can continue to see it.

Farm Spring planting off to slow start

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — With the "on again, off again" winter weather, the general agricultural picture in Texas remains in a quandary.

Most livestock continue to need supplemental feed, completion of the cotton harvest is still some time off, and the spring planting season is getting off to a slow start in South Texas, said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The past week brought both unseasonably warm weather followed by extremely cold, icy conditions that kept the pressure on livestock feeding and caused additional shrinkage on cattle already in poor shape because of a long winter. Small grains have not had an opportunity to resume growth, so grazing for livestock is virtually nonexistent, Pfannstiel said.

Cotton farmers in the Rolling Plains and in a few scattered counties of the Panhandle, South Plains, Trans-Pecos and West Central Texas areas are wondering when they will get the last of their crop in. Delays due to rain, snow and cold weather continue, with the remaining crop deteriorating considerably.

Cleaning out your garage easier than you think.
Let someone else carry them off for you, and put money in your pocket!

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our many, many friends and relatives who have ministered to us so faithfully, even in the midst of their own grief. Thank you for the flowers and other tributes, the food, your words of comfort and love, and especially your prayers. Because of this, our own faith in God, and our certain knowledge that Mark was a Christian and is now with our Heavenly Father, we are able to have a "peace that passeth understanding". One of our greatest comforts has been the host of young people who have come to tell us of their love and high regard for Mark and share precious memories. Our door is always open to you. Please do not feel that you would intrude upon our grief. Mark had such a special love for people, it can only comfort us to know that he was loved in return.

Jerrold, Mary Sue and Melanie Walker

Gem and Mineral Show scheduled

By ROBBIE CROW
Family News Editor

It's not easy to look at an ordinary rock and proclaim it a thing of beauty. But with a little imagination and lapidary skill, one can make that not-so-exciting stone into a work of art.

That's what members of the Big Spring Prospectors Club do the year round. The highlight of their efforts and creations will peak when the grand opening of the Big Spring 10th Annual Gem and Mineral show is conducted by Show Chairman Jerald Wilson, Saturday, March 3, 9 a.m.-9 p.m. and Sunday, March 4, 9 a.m.-6 p.m. at the Dora Roberts Exhibition Building on the Howard County Fairgrounds.

Open to the public at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, the event will feature rough and finished stones from beginners trade to the finest gem quality for viewing and for sale.

Sixty individual displays will be set up for the public's viewing pleasure and interest from Big Spring, Midland, Lubbock, Amarillo, Michigan, Ft. Worth, Abilene, and Rowena.

Other demonstrations will be on display from San Antonio, Colorado, Wichita Falls, California, Arizona and Arkansas. All equipment used by the lapidarist for cutting and polishing rocks will be in view for the gem and mineral show visitors.

Nine working demonstrations to be included in the show are channel jewelry by Stanley and Bob Tims of Arizona; sand painting by the Housers of Arkansas; casting rings and other jewelry by the Disons of Odessa; Texas Arrowheads by Joe Mitchell, Big Spring; wire wrap jewelry, using Texas rocks by the Cooke's of San Antonio; L.D. Shortes Texas metal sculpture, Ackerly; marble making by Red Wilson of New Mexico; semi-precious, precious and synthetic stones faceted by a group from Midland with Harry Bish as chairperson; and Nora Nixon, chairperson of a group of women of the Big Spring Prospectors Club making cabochons, an oval worked stone for fitting jewelry.

Under the direction of Johnnie Kemper, junior members will present a display for the show.

A member of the Big Spring Prospectors Club, Joe Mitchell is the owner of a coveted arrowhead collection. He has been invited to such areas as San Angelo, Odessa and various other shows to display his collection.

He recently received a special invitation to attend the South Central Federation Show in Abilene May 18, 19, and 20. Three states, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas will be represented.

Delwin Shortes will display his metal and sculpture in the local show. He is the only metal sculptor of the Big Spring club.

Works of art such as silver smithing, and faceting will also be included in many displays. The Prospectors Club has approximately eight faceting members.

"Faceting is the fastest growing area of this field," explained Bill Northcut, whose son, William began faceting when he was 15.

Hourly door prizes will be given to ticket purchasers attending the show. In addition, two grand prizes will be presented at the end of the event Sunday. Stanley and Bob Tims, world famous channel jewelry makers, are the creators of these grand prizes. Stanley Tims also gives lessons to many local members one week before the gem and mineral show. They are from Tucson, Ariz.

Present officers of the Big Spring Prospectors Club include Bill Northcut, president; Desmond Powell, first vice president; Richard Reagan, second vice president; and Myrtle Morris, secretary-treasurer.

The local club was originated in 1968. Bobby West served as the first president with metals detecting the main activity.

"Our club now has developed into all phases of jewelry making," stated Mary Leek, club historian.

Bud and Letha Lewis as well as Joe and Willie Carter are the four remaining charter members.

President Northcut explained the purpose of the club is to promote popular interest and education in the various earth sciences, in particular, those hobbies dealing with the art of lapidary and the science of minerals, fossils, as well as their associated fields.

As members of the South Central Federation of Mineral Societies and the American Federation of Mineral Societies, the club also seeks to cooperate with educational and scientific institutions or other groups engaged in expanding knowledge of the earth sciences.

Big Spring Prospectors meet the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in a rented clubhouse located at 606 E Third.

Club member Calla Mae Perkins explained, "Members' dues are $10 per family per year regardless of the number of family members. Single members are $7 per year."

Honorary membership is bestowed upon those 75 or older and have established membership in the club. Sent to the South Central Federation is $1 per adult member and 50 cents per junior member. The club contributes to a scholarship fund that is sponsored by the two federations. They are presently working to establish a local scholarship.

Lapidary courses are offered to club members for a nominal fee utilized toward the payment of shop equipment. Available to members include a slab saw, and trim saw as well as sanders and finishers.

Field trips are participated in by local rockhounds to such places as Llano in search of topaz; Big Bend where flower agate and plume can be found; and Balmorhea hunting blue agate.

While on individual vacations, club enthusiasts conduct their own rock hunts and bring back their findings for other club members to view.

Myrtle Morris is the proud owner of CHILDREN'S DISPLAY — In addition to the many children's display Robert Schenck, Mary Leek and Calla Mae Perkins inspect some of the artifacts during the Gem and Mineral Show, there will be a special three rubies inset in a piece of jewelry. The unique thing about the rubies is the fact that she found them herself in 1976 while vacationing in the Cowee Valley near Franklin, N.C.

"Your creations are just what you make them," revealed Lola Mitchell. "They can be made as cheaply as you choose, or as expensive and elaborate as you choose." Beauty and stone expense have no limit.

Members all agreed that equipment was one of the major lapidary costs. A monthly newsletter is published by the rockhounds entitled "Roadrunner". Vergil Perkins and Mary Leek serve as the co-editors.

"We are in the process of establishing a junior program," one club member stated. "There is no age limit. The junior program will be open to the very young as well as the very old."

Present membership of this group, whose motto is "See the USA the Rockhound Way" is 82 adults and 17 juniors. They extend a welcome to anyone interested in lapidary skill to visit during any club meeting.

In addition to the annual gem and mineral show, the club enjoys several other activities. There is a special Fourth of July celebration, and a Christmas party including a pot luck supper and gift exchange. Members also give to the Christmas Cheer Fund.

Few prerequisites precede membership into the Prospectors Club. "Just an interest in earth sciences and member sponsorship are all that is required other than club dues," stated President Northcut.

As local members await anxiously for the upcoming gem and mineral show, it is anticipated that this year's event will be bigger and better than those preceding.

"We have more dealers and more displays to offer the public this year.

Although last year's show was a success, this year's is expected to be an even greater success," expressed Mary Leek.

The nine dealers for this year's show will be Salt Mines, Ft. Worth; San Juan Gems, Cortez, Colo.; Diamond Pacific, Barstow, Calif.; and Michigan Lapidary, Detroit, Mich.

Others include Texas Mineral Supply, Ft. Worth; Jim Gems, Wichita Falls; Red's Rock Shop, Clovis, N.M.; Mor Roc Shop, Midland; and Pat and Jerry Davis, Modesta, Calif.

The Big Spring Gem and Mineral Show, celebrating 10 years of gems and minerals, will be presented to the public for their viewing pleasure.

"We hope Big Spring and surrounding areas will take time to come out and see all of the exhibits, trade with the dealers and enjoy our hobby with us," concluded Show Chairman Jerald Wilson.

Vows are solemnized in February ceremony

Debbie Burks became the bride of Gary Burton in a candlelight ceremony Saturday afternoon in the St. Paul Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Carroll Kohl performed the 2 p.m. rite before an arched candlelabrum. Pews were accented with white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Tony Burks, 1502 State Park Dr., and Jerry Burks, Austin. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Burton, Colorado City.

Kathy Tedesco provided the wedding music for the ceremony at the organ.

The bride chose to wear a white gown of sheer organza accented with Chantilly lace. The moulded bodice featured a Princess Anne neckline defined in rose-patterned Chantilly lace, adorned with seed pearls.

The long sheer lace Bishop sleeves flowed to a wide fitted lace cuff. Her empire waistline was trimmed in matching lace and designed with seed pearls in the center front. A self fabric bow marked the waistline in the back with the empire waistline sweeping to the back forming a full three-layer chapel-length train.

Three-tiers defined the body of the gown with each layer edged in four-inch Chantilly lace. The entire train was encircled with the matching lace design.

Silk veil of illusion fell from her Camelot capulet styled with Chantilly lace and encircled with seed pearls. Chantilly lace motifs were sprinkled on the blusher veil which fell to a graceful walking length.

Accenting her bridal attire was a bouquet she carried of silk roses in colors of peach and white, silk stephanotis and white carnations. The cascade was decorated with white picot ribbon.

Lyn Garner served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kris Boubek and Nikki Matthis.

They wore floor-length gowns in peach chiffon of blouson style, brought together at the waist with a cloth belt. Each carried nosegays of peach silk roses.

Serving as best man was Jerry Stout, Ozona. Grooms-men for the ceremony included Trip Gibbs and Henry Burton, Colorado City, father of the groom.

Ushers were Val Torres, Lubbock, Lynn Matthis and Paul Spence. Kim and Le'Ann Burks, both of Brownfield, cousins of the bride, served as altar candlelighters.

The bride's cousin, Ameer Burks of Brownfield, was the flower girl. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white chiffon accented with a large ruffle at the hem. The white lace basket she carried held white daisies and peach silk roses. Quinton Burton, son of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Ego needs attention

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm an 18-year-old guy who has good looks, a great build and a fantastic girlfriend.

My problem is that girls keep coming over to my house and are calling me on the phone all the time.

I'm true to my girl and tell them I'm going steady, but that doesn't seem to stop them. It seems that I have a problem that I can't handle. What should I do? — Steve, Goshee, Ind.

A. It appears to me that these girls continue to "bother" you because your ego needs this attention.

What you should do, if you do not want this attention, is to politely but firmly inform the girls that their attention is not appreciated. Believe me, when the young ladies get this message, they will leave you alone.

Dr. Wallace: I have a very upsetting problem and I hope you can possibly help me. I have been married for six months now. I got married when I was 19 and I'm now 26. Shortly after my 20th birthday, my husband left me. He has been gone for a month.

We fought just like all newly married couples. The difference is, he was married once before.

He is now living with his folks and says he is not coming back. He has filed for divorce.

I love him very much but nothing I say will change his mind. Is there a way to get this marriage annulled? Or can you suggest possible ways of getting him back? — Dana, South Lake Tahoe, Calif.

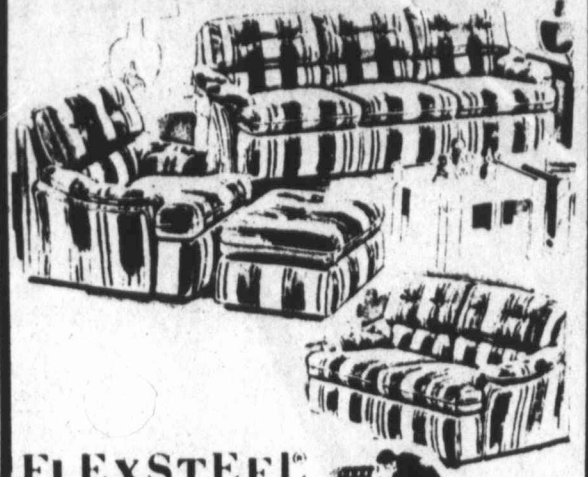

Call.

Dana: First contact a competent attorney who will be able to determine if the marriage can be annulled. You will also need this lawyer to protect your interests in case of a divorce.

Now, getting your husband to return sounds like an improbable task. But nothing ventured, nothing gained. Go to his parents and ask their advice. No one knows him better.

Send questions to Dr. Robert Wallace, TWEEN 12 and 20, in care of this newspaper. For Dr. Wallace's teen booklet, "Happiness or Despair," please send $1 and a 28 cent stamped, large, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Wallace, in care of this newspaper.

The wedding vows between Cheryl June Mangum and Thomas Charles Walker were spoken Saturday evening in the Anderson Street Church of Christ.

Dan Proffitt, minister of the church, officiated the 6 p.m. ceremony before an altar decorated with red and white gladiolus, and red and white carnations enhanced with greenery. White satin bows marked the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat N. Savell, 1204 Blackmon, and Carl B. Mangum, Houma, La. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ordis H. Walker, 1100 Wood.

The wedding music was presented by Hazel Allred, Nina Vee Riddle, Lou Rhodes, Larry Billingsley, Ken Maxwell, Noel Bethea, Valinda Bethea, Jean Reed and Jewel Burcham, all members of the Knott Church of Christ Singers.

The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe-backed satin featuring a lace bodice and sheer-lace long sleeves closed by pearl buttons. The gown was designed with a stand-up collar. Featuring an empire waist, the yoke was enhanced by a deep wide ruffle of matching bridal lace. Her chapel-length train fell from the back of the empire bodice. The shoulder-length veil fell from the headpiece adorned with bridal sheaf pearls.

She carried a cascading bouquet of small white carnations, pink violets,

The reception was held following the ceremony in 14th and Main Church of Christ. The bride's table was draped with white cloth featuring a red skirt. An arrangement of red and white carnations sprinkled with baby's breath enhanced the table. The three-tiered cake of white was decorated with red roses and separated by columns. The traditional bride and groom figurines topped the cake. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Following their wedding trip to an undisclosed location, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Charles Walker will reside at 2302 Runnels.

Shut Up, She Explained

DEAR ABBY: I have written an open letter to my husband's boss. Because I'm sure many other wives could have written it, I hope you will print it in your column.

Dear Mr. Boss:

I want to protest a very irritating habit you have: calling my husband at home at all hours and on weekends to discuss business with him.

If it were urgent, I wouldn't mind, but it is obvious that you only want to hear yourself think out loud and need my husband as a sounding board. (This was very flattering to him—at first. Then he found out that you do the same thing with your other employees.)

I work, too, and when we get home, we look forward to having a quiet dinner and a relaxing evening together or with friends. But we hardly get settled in before you phone from the office or your car, and proceed to tie my husband up for half an hour to an hour.

You have interrupted bridge games, important discussions, and intruded on too many other things to mention here. You have called just as we were leaving for a social engagement, causing us to be embarrassingly late many times.

You are known to be a workaholic. Evenings and holidays are all the same to you. Just because your work is your whole life, don't assume that your employees have nothing else in their lives but their jobs.

My husband is conscientious and no clock watcher, but his time at home is his own, and you have no right to expect him to be on call for business conversations 24 hours a day.

I have asked my husband to talk to you—man to man—but he's afraid you might fire him, and that would be a hardship for our family at this time.

I'm not signing my name, but if this applies to you, please change your ways. You are fair and generous and kind, and if it weren't for this one fault, you would be a terrific boss.

THE WIFE OF YOUR EMPLOYEE

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago I wrote to you about the man I had been living with for five years. He had been separated from his wife eight years, but they were never divorced. I kept hoping he would get a divorce so we could be married, but he found one excuse after another.

You told me you doubted if he would ever divorce his wife. Well, Abby, you were right. He never did. But as it turned out, a divorce wasn't necessary because she died two years ago.

Abby, I have been living with this man nine years, and there is no reason why he can't marry me now.

My problem is that he is still finding excuses. I have been a wife to him in every way all these years and I want the security that goes with being a legal wife.

I am 43 and he is 52. Please tell me what to do.

LIVING A LIE

DEAR LIVING: The laws in some states provide material security for women in your position. See a lawyer. I have no crystal ball, but if it's marriage you want, don't count on him.

DEAR ABBY: I think the people who write to you are either weirdos or just plain stupid.

MIKE IN MISSOULA

DEAR MIKE: Which are you?

Do you hate to write letters of condolences, congratulations, and thanks. It's not difficult when you let Abby guide you in her booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Women are outnumbered

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Excluding members of religious orders, only 35 women headed American colleges and universities in 1976-77, according to a University of Michigan doctoral study.

"Men in those positions number close to 4,000; throughout the past century, the proportion of women heading secular colleges has rarely risen above 3 percent," reports Mary Patricia Donisi, a recent Ph.D. graduate of the U-M Center for the Study of Higher Education, whose dissertation has been nominated for a national award.

Anyone connected with the 1969 graduates is urged to give their addresses to Medena Thurman, 263-4192 or Shelane Roberts, 267-2796 so that information regarding this affair can be sent to as many as possible.

HECE banquet honors employers and employees

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" was the theme chosen by the Big Spring High School Home Economics Cooperative Education Class for their Seventh Annual Employer-Employee Banquet.

A large crowd of employers and employees attended the event which took place Feb. 22, 7:30 p.m., in the Nail Room of the Brass Nail Restaurant, in addition to special guests and Mrs. Nancy Annen, teacher-coordinator.

The theme chosen expressed sincere gratitude to the Home Economics Cooperative Education Class as well as to the employees.

Paula Kenner voiced the invocation. Miss Kenner is fourth period historian. Dinner followed around tables draped with white cloth, striped with blue down the center. Centerpieces were puffs of cotton decorated with glitter to form clouds. The front of the banquet hall was enhanced by a rainbow and a pot of gold. An arrangement of spring flowers decorated the podium front.

Serving as mistress of ceremony was Tracy Meeks, president, third period. All attending were welcomed by Charlie Leyva, president, fourth period.

Special introductions were announced including the advisory board, Big Spring High school faculty guests, president of the board of education and Area II Consultant of Homemaking Education and all employers and employees.

The group was entertained with special music by Julie Miller, pianist and Jennifer Smith, vocalist. Their selection was "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" in coordination with the theme.

Guest speaker for the night was Jim Baum, Radio Station KBYG manager. He brought an interesting and applicable speech on reaching for goals beyond the rainbow.

"It's always good to have goals that are over the rainbow," stated Baum,

"but you must remember, sometimes you may fall short. But if you do your best, you may realize that your pot of gold isn't beyond the rainbow, but right where you are."

Certificates were then awarded to the new employers and to HECE senior students.

Special highlight of the evening was the presentation of a silver tray with the inscription "H.E.R.O." Classes of 1978-1979, and one dozen roses and spring flowers to Mrs. Annen by her students. Dale Pittman led in thanking her for all her contributions as a teacher to HERO and HECE students. Mrs. Annen received a standing ovation.

Serving on the decorations committee were Brenda Farnell and Dale Pittman as chairman. Other members included Carol Morehead, Arna Nanny, Brenda Gilbert, Teresa Stroud, Paula Kenner, Charlie Levy, Elfi Perez, Tracy Meeks, Luis Rivera and Mark Madigin.

Divorce causes confusion

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Divorce in this country is increasingly common, with an estimated seven million children — one out of every five — currently living with a single parent. Most teenagers eventually adjust to the situation, but for some, the breakup of a family because of divorce can leave lasting scars.

According to the March issue of Seventeen Magazine, one unsettling problem facing children of divorced couples is the shuttling back and forth between parents. Says one teen girl of the situation, "I'm very confused about things. I spend a weekend away with my father and get used to that, and then I come back to my mother's apartment and have to get used to that all over again."

Some teens are confronted with conflicting messages from parents who may have entirely different views on matters as varied as dating and schoolwork. "My biggest ongoing problem is trying to please both sides," one girl laments.

Broccoli high in vitamins

By JANET ROGERS
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT
Broccoli is a favorite not only for its flavor and bright green color, but it is chock-full of vitamins A and C.

One-half cup contains one-third of the daily need for vitamin A — and more than enough vitamin C needed daily.

Vitamin A promotes growth and seeing in the dark. It also helps prevent infection by keeping the linings of the mouth and digestive system in good condition.

Vitamin C helps hold body cells together and keeps blood vessel walls strong. It also helps heal wounds. Also, without enough vitamin C, gums may bleed.

Select broccoli with a firm, compact cluster of small flower buds. Make sure none are open enough to show the bright yellow flower. Bud clusters should be dark green or sage green — or even green with a decidedly purplish cast.

Avoid broccoli with stems that are thick or tough.

Also, avoid broccoli with spread bud clusters, enlarged or open buds, yellowish green color, or wilted condition — signs of overmaturity and overlong display.

In addition, don't buy broccoli with soft, slippery, water-soaked spots on the bud cluster. These are signs of decay.

Broccoli thrives in cool weather, so it is in greatest supply during the cooler months of the year.

Store fresh broccoli in the refrigerator only a short time before use for best quality.

To freeze fresh broccoli, select tight, compact, dark green heads with tender stalks free from woodiness.

Wash, peel stalks and trim.

If necessary to remove insects, soak for one-half hour in a solution made of four teaspoons salt to one gallon cold water.

Split lengthwise into pieces so that flowerets are not more than one and a half inch across.

Heat in boiling water for three minutes. Cool in ice water, drain, package in moisture-vapor-proof package and freeze immediately.

HOW TO BOIL

To prepare fresh broccoli for cooking, trim to serving size before cooking.

Then boil quickly in small amount of water until tender crisp.

Since the fleshy stems take longer to cook than the buds, stand stems down in a covered pan. Cook in boiling salted water letting the buds steam cook.

Or cut in pieces and cook the stems a short time before adding the buds.

Or place broccoli one-layer deep in a saucepan.

Pour boiling water over it and cover with a damp towel. Boil broccoli gently for about 10-15 minutes until tender. The towel helps steam the stalks evenly.

HOW TO

PRESSURE COOK
Broccoli cooks well in a pressure saucepan.

Wash broccoli and slit stems to one-half-inch thickness.

Place on rack in saucepan with one cup water to six-quart saucepan.

Fill no more than two-thirds full with broccoli. Season with salt if desired.

Put cover on pan and place on heat.

Allow steam to flow from vent pipe to release air from pressure saucepan.

Place weighted gauge on vent pipe and cook 1 1/2-3 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Cool saucepan at once under a faucet of running water or in a pan of cold water until steam is down.

Then remove lid and season.

BROCCOLI SEASONINGS

Season broccoli with allspice, basil, caraway, mint, poppy seed, sage, tarragon, cheese, sausage, honey, mustard or onion.

Try these recipes for tasty broccoli treats:

HOT BROCCOLI AND CHEESE DIP

1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 stalks celery, thinly sliced

1 medium onion, chopped
1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained

1 10-ounce package frozen

chopped broccoli, thawed or 2 cups fresh broccoli, chopped

3 tablespoons flour
1 10 3/4-ounce can condensed cream of celery soup
1 garlic cheese roll, cut up (5- or 6-ounce roll)

In small skillet, melt butter and saute celery, onion and mushrooms. Stir in flour. Turn into lightly greased slow cooker. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cover and cook on high setting, stirring about every 15 minutes until cheese melts. Turn to low setting for about 2 hours or until ready to serve. Serve hot with corn chips, crackers or raw vegetables. Makes about 1 quart.

SCALLOPED BROCCOLI

2 cups fresh broccoli, chopped or 1 10-ounce package frozen broccoli, thawed and chopped

1 cup cheese, grated
1/2 cup onion, chopped
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup (1 slice) soft bread crumbs

1 2-ounce jar pimientos, chopped

1 10 1/2-ounce can cream of celery soup

Beat eggs slightly and add broccoli, cheese and onion.

Mix in salt, pepper, bread crumbs and pimientos.

Then add the cream of celery soup and stir all ingredients together.

Turn into a well-buttered one-quart casserole. Set in a baking pan partially filled with hot water.

Bake at 375 degree F. for 50 minutes. Serves four
