Officials cautious of peace gamble

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are being consistently cautious about President Carter's peace gamble in the Middle East despite more optimistic assessments in Israel and Egypt.

American sources, even when talking privately, emphasize the pitfalls that could again derail the signing of an Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty — Carter's unspoken goal as he sets out tonight for Cairo on the first leg of a journey that will last at least a week.

A White House official who asked not to be identified cautioned late Tuesday that at best it will be impossible to conclude all formal action on a treaty during Carter's trip.

The closest thing to public optimism from a U.S. leader came Tuesday when House Speaker Thomas P.

O'Neill said, "I truly believe that he (Carter) not only hopes for success but he feels success is there."

Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, who was leaving New York today to prepare for Carter's Saturday night arrival in Jerusalem, told reporters:

"There is euphoria, not only in this country, but in Jerusalem and Cairo and throughout the world. Now we must be very careful. I am hopeful."

Egyptian officials, led by Prime Minister Mustafa Khalil, were equally positive about the treaty outlook.

In Cairo, President Anwar Sadat met Tuesday with U.S. National Security Adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski to hear the outline of Carter's proposals. Sadat's reaction was not immediately known, but Egyptian officials said Carter's trip may mean "the final sprint" to a peace treaty.

Because of Carter's absence from Washington, Vice President Walter F. Mondale is canceling a six-day Latin American trip next week. He was to have attended presidential inaugurations in Brazil and Venezuela.

Carter will devote most of his time to business during the trip, but does plan to see Egypt's pyramids.

And a White House official said Carter is seriously considering a train trip Friday from Cairo to Alexandria in anticipation of drawing a large crowd to demonstrate Egyptian support for a peace treaty.

There were also reports in Cairo that Carter might address a special session of the Egyptian Parliament

Saturday before leaving for Israel.

Plans have already been announced for him to address the Israeli parliament, the Knesset.

U.S. officials maintained a tight secrecy lid on the treaty suggestions broached by Carter to Begin last Sunday — proposals that broke a stalemate threatening collapse of peace efforts.

However, a White House official who asked not to be identified confirmed Tuesday that Carter discussed "in passing" the possibility of a U.S.-Israeli mutual defense treaty with Begin.

Today is deadline for city candidates

Today is the deadline for filing as a candidate for a position on the Big Spring City Council.

Two places will be contested in the election to be held a month from today.

Those wishing to file may do so until midnight. Candidates may file with the City Secretary in City Hall until 5 p.m., and then with Council member Polly Mays from 5 p.m. until midnight.

Citizens who have not registered to vote may still do so until 5 p.m. Thursday at the Howard County Tax Collector's office in the County Court House.

Texas town flees toxic smoke

CRYSTAL CITY, Texas (AP) — Most all residents fled this Southwest Texas town today after a chemical plant fire sent clouds of toxic smoke over the area, a justice of the peace said.

Justice of the Peace Ron Carr said a fire alarm ringing continuously alerted residents about 6 a.m. to evacuate the town because of the potential danger.

Townpeople were not going to be allowed back until 3 p.m., Carr said.

He said he manned the telephones at the Zavala County Sheriff's office where he fielded about 150 calls in an hour and a half. Residents asked why the fire alarm was ringing and were told to evacuate.

"It was more of a question of potential danger," Carr said, adding that the "fumes were definitely toxic."

Crystal City's population is about 10,000, he said.

The fire broke out about 5 a.m. at the Riverside chemical plant about a half mile south of the city. The plant makes pesticides and fertilizer.

The fire was out but still smoldering at 9 a.m.

Roads south of the city leading to Big Wells and Brundage were closed to incoming and outgoing traffic and residents fled along U.S. 83 north to La Pryor and Uvalde.

The smoke gathered over the southeast portion of town.

Uvalde, Eagle Pass and Carizo Springs, as well as surrounding counties sent both fire and law enforcement personnel to help.

"We are waiting (until 3 p.m.) as a precautionary measure," Carr said.

'Censure with stipulations' given to Sherman minister

LUFKIN, Texas (AP) — Pentecostal minister Charles E. Glass of Sherman was handed a "censure with stipulations" early today by the Board of Presbyters of the Texas district of the United Pentecostal Church.

Glass will be allowed to remain as pastor of his Sherman church.

The board spent more than 20 hours behind locked doors at the district administration building in Lufkin hearing testimony on charges that Glass' conduct was unbecoming to a minister.

District Superintendent E. L. Holley would not specify the allegations against Glass nor the stipulations included in the censure of the Sherman minister. The superintendent released a statement approved by the board early today saying it was the same statement was read to Glass at the conclusion of the hearing.

"I was exonerated," Glass told reporters. "I feel very good. I'm a minister with full credentials from the United Pentecostal Church."

"I've got a great people there. They have not found me guilty. I think everything is going to be great in Sherman."

"I was happy these people have been allowed to air their problems," Holley said he was "personally content" with the board's decision

"because it's corrective in nature." Glass will remain pastor of the Sherman church "under the stipulation of this hearing," Holley said.

Asked whether the Texas district board would "keep an eye on Glass" Holley said, "Rev. Glass will keep an eye toward the Texas district."

Holley would not specify any changes expected in the Sherman church and said he was "in no position to provide a rebuttal" to Glass' statements that he had been exonerated.

"A trip of 1,000 miles begins with one step," Holley said. "We've taken several steps."

The superintendent said he was surprised at the length of the hearing but recognized "that some things are just worthy of the time it takes to make a worthy consideration."

Six to eight witnesses testified against Glass before the board, according to Holley. Glass called 10 to 12 witnesses, most of them members of his church.

BOMB ARSENAL — Lt. Colonel Brian Rox of the Royal Army Ordnance Corps, examines the cache of bombs found in the Short Strand area of Belfast Tuesday night. The Royal Ulster Constabulary (Police) believe that the bombs were intended for a blitz on the Belfast docks area.

Registered nurse is fourth candidate in school contest

Jane M. Williams, 707 Scott Drive, became the fourth candidate Tuesday to file for the April 7 Big Spring school trustees election. She is a registered nurse and housewife.

She said she now feels she has sufficient time to serve the community and can devote the time to participate actively in the functions of the school board. This election will be her first experience in seeking a public office.

Originally from Wheeling, W. Va., she graduated from the Ohio Valley Medical Center Nursing School. She married Dr. Buerck Williams while working at the Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas. Dr. Williams is Chief of Staff and Chief of Radiology at Malone-Hogan Hospital. He was instrumental in starting the Malone-Hogan School of X-Ray Technology and serves as director of that school.

Mrs. Williams is the mother of four children. A daughter, Darrin, attends Howard College. She is a nursing major. Her younger daughter, Christa, is a senior at Big Spring High School involved with Tri-Hi-Y. Her older son, Aron, attends Goliad Middle School and her younger son, Kevan, attends College Heights Elementary School.

"I have spent the majority of the last ten years working on a supervisory level in nursing, primarily in pediatrics and I have a very deep feeling that parents need to become more involved in the education of their children, at all levels, in order to realize their children's potentials as future citizens of our country," she said.

"I pledge to work diligently as a representative of all parents with an open mind and with the primary goal of upgrading our educational system."

Mrs. Williams is known locally for her expertise in pediatric newborn nursing and has accompanied many of our local "high-risk" infants on air and ambulance transports from Big Spring to neonatal medical centers in metropolitan areas.

The Williams family are members of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Today is the last day to file for the school trustee election. Two vacancies will open on the board when terms expire for Bob West and Dr. Jim Matthews. The incumbents are seeking re-election. Also on the board are Richard Lowstetter, manager of the local Sears and Roebuck outlet.

Gee has postmaster duties in Stamford

John Gee, Sr., postal superintendent for the Big Spring Post Office, is temporarily the officer in charge of the Stamford Post Office, taking over for retiring Postmaster Jerry Carter.

Gee, who officially took charge at the Stamford facility Wednesday, says the length of his stay there is indefinite, but just until a new Postmaster is selected by the Postal Service.

"I see this as a challenge, an opportunity to prove myself and to serve the people of Stamford during the transition," said Gee, who did add that he would miss Big Spring.

Gee, 58, has lived in Big Spring six years, moving here from Odessa, where he resided for 26 years. He joined the Postal Service as a carrier some 23 years ago, advancing to his current position as superintendent of postal operations in Big Spring.

Born in Emory, Okla., Gee grew up in that state. He and his wife, Frances, have three children, Ellen Brown, Hamlin, Nancy Reynolds, of Midland, and John Gee, Jr., of Franklin, Pa.; and four grandchildren.

Publisher to address credit unions chapter

Tom Watson, publisher of the Big Spring Herald, will be the guest speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Big Spring Chapter of Credit Unions Thursday. Topic for the chapter meeting, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Brass Nail, will center around how and when to prepare press releases.

It is hoped that the presentation by the local publisher will encourage the credit unions in the Big Spring Chapter to become more visible in their communities. The local chapter is made up of ten credit unions, nine of which are located in Big Spring and Howard County, and one in Colorado City.

Jim Weaver, president of the chapter and assistant manager and general counsel at Citizens Federal Credit Union, said "many of the credit unions in the chapter could be using the local media more effectively in letting their members know what's going on at their credit unions.

"In addition, due to the voluntary nature of the entire credit union movement, many of the officials of these credit unions also work with other civic and charitable organizations in their communities. I feel they could use this valuable information in making their clubs and groups more visible to the local public."

Credit unions making up the local organizations include the Big Spring Educational Employees FCU, Big Spring VA FCU, Big Spring District T&P FCU, State Hospital T&P FCU, State Hospital T&P FCU, Big Spring Electric CU, Citizens FCU, Col-Tex FCU (Colorado City), Cosden Employees FCU, Howard County Employees FCU, and IUOE Local 826 FCU.

terests in the university. The Dallas Creighton Club, including 121 persons, is one of 60 such alumni chapters throughout the nation.

Creighton is a private, Catholic university located in Omaha, Neb. Operated by the Jesuit Fathers, it has an enrollment of more than 5,000. The university enrolls students in the colleges of arts and sciences and business administration, the graduate school and schools of nursing, medicine, law, pharmacy and dentistry.

Officers for 1979 include Timothy A. Duffy, 6724 Blessing Drive, Dallas, 75214; Garry F. Rust, M.D., 7808 Kilbride Lane, Dallas 75248; William J. Nosek, Jr., 3740 Townsend Drive, Dallas, 75229.

Coloring contest will be featured

Children in the 6-8 and 9-11 age brackets should take a real interest in Thursday's Herald.

Appearing in the paper that day will be a full page ad concerning the March 20-21 Moscow Circus performances here, complete with a coloring contest.

The stakes will be quite large for the winners in that contest and even the runnersup will find the contest well worth their efforts.

First place winner in each of the two categories will earn five free $6 tickets to the circus, which will offer evening performances only in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum on the Howard College campus.

The tickets, let it be understood, are good for entry only on the opening night of the unique show.

The ten runnersup in each age bracket will each receive two $6 tickets. That means that, in all, a total of 50 tickets for the circus will be given away.

The completed entries should be brought by or mailed to The Herald no later than March 15. Any entry mailed or sent in after that time will not be considered.

The winners will be notified by mail and can pick up their tickets at the coliseum box office prior to show time March 20. The show each night gets under way at 8 o'clock.

A neutral panel of judges will determine the winners.

If the head of the household gets home late and discovers part of his evening paper missing, he can look to the siblings. Thursday's edition of the Herald likely will become a very 'hot' item with certain members of the family.

Donna Van Ness enters Coahoma school race

COAHOMA — Donna Van Ness has announced her candidacy for election to the Coahoma School Board of Trustees April 7.

The mother and foster mother of children who attend school in the Coahoma School District, Mrs. Van Ness stated that her reason for running is due to her interest in children.

"I want to become part of the school system," she said. She feels that her personal experiences as a mother and the wide range of problems she's been exposed to as a foster parent will be of value in serving on the board. If elected, she will become the first woman to serve on the Coahoma board.

Mrs. Van Ness is the wife of James Van Ness, a detective with the Big Spring Police Department. They have aided Howard County by providing foster care for its children for the past six years.

They have three children, Tracy, 15, Rehdeen, 14, and LeAnn, adopted by the Van Nesses, 5. They currently have a foster child in the third-grade remedial program in Coahoma.

In addition to being active in her children's school and sports activities and the Howard County foster parents program, Mrs. Van Ness works as a school bus driver and substitute teacher for St. Mary's Episcopal School in Big Spring.

She is president of the Howard County Foster Parents Association and a board member of the state association.

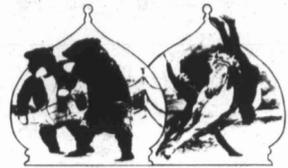

So far, seven individuals have filed for the three positions on the Coahoma School Board. In addition to Mrs. Van Ness, candidates are Stanley Phillips, Bobby Roveer, Wayne Davis, and incumbents Johnny Justiss, Dennis Greenfield and Harold Aberegg.

Today is the last day to file.

Will automobile have to be 'reinvented?'

Will the gasoline-burning automobile take its place alongside the dodo bird and the dinosaur as quaint but extinct in the earth's history?

Judging from some of the predictions being made about fossil fuels, that prospect could become a reality sometime early in the 21st Century.

TRANSPORTATION SECRETARY Brock Adams says mankind's challenge is obvious: "Reinvent" the automobile. In other words, development of an alternate to today's energy-demanding vehicle is absolutely necessary if the people of this world, and particularly those in the United States, are not to forfeit their rights to drive where and when they please.

When Adams first issued his call late last year, he drew a cool response from automakers who saw in it an unrealistic demand upon their industry.

The reception was considerably more cordial, however, during the recent follow-up symposium of engineers and scientists to which Adams proposed a joint industry-government-developmental effort with Washington bankrolling research in the necessary new technology on the scale of some $100 million annually.

The new conference bringing together industry leaders and government specialists will take place in Washington next month. From it hopefully will come the next step in Adams' grand design for an eventual national automobile policy.

Such a cooperative push might well produce the 'energy-stretching, life-saving, people-pleasing' vehicle of the future Adams sees as necessary if Americans are to continue to make full use of their highways after 1985.

THE ODDS, however, are against anything resembling the more imaginative proposals tossed off by the symposium participants. There is, of course, the example of the WW II Manhattan project which produced the atomic bomb. One scientist has, in fact, suggested a similar massive undertaking in auto development.

Committee efforts, however, no matter how well funded, rarely produce such unique and dramatic new departures in technology. These are more often solitary achievements, the result of a gifted individual's faith in an idea and determination to realize it.

What is more likely is a vast improvement in the existing internal-combustion engine and in the fuel it uses. As one symposium participant put it, after all the blue-sky thinking had been done, the discussion nonetheless kept returning to "that spark ignition engine."

If all the conferences and the exchange of ideas leads to an energy efficient vehicle, at that, and keeps Americans mobile in the decades to come, a goal will have been achieved, a way of life will have been preserved.

"Good afternoon ma'am, I represent the Dipsy Doodle Dandruff Department of Sell It Anyway You Can, Inc. I would..."

"But we don't have dandruff..."

"If you'll just give me two minutes of your time, I'll make you a once in a lifetime offer that'll make you wish you did have dandruff."

Another salesman enters your home. His two minutes end up lasting 2 1/2 hours and you end up purchasing $50 worth of dandruff shampoo just to get rid of the guy.

SALESMEN, I've always been a sucker for them.

I've never figured out how to tell the poor person standing at the front door, hands and arms bulging with briefcases, purchase forms and no-telling what else, that I'm not interested.

Every door-to-door salesman must have that same 2,000 words per minute sales pitch. Most of them have their foot in the door and their paraphernalia scattered out all through your house before you get the chance to tell them you don't need a pet orangutan and your not interested in recycled toothpaste.

There's also the ones who get that pitiful basset-hound look (no offense Orville) the moment you break the news to him that your going to stick by your guards and not get suckered into buying something you don't need.

"Well, my boss told me if my sales aren't up by the end of the week, I'll lose my job."

High school kids selling junk to raise money for school organizations usually use this one:

"But I just need to sell one more and I'll win the grand prize." (If you're smart, you'll realize the miniature salesman with the friendly face just jessed the same line on your neighbor five houses down.)

Due to my inability to say 'no,' we've become owners of an exorbitantly overpriced set of encyclopedias. By the time my kids are old enough to utilize them, they'll be out dated. True, George Washington will always have been our first president and Richard Nixon our worst, but anything after Jimmy Carter will have to be obtained from some other source.

THE SALESMAN who persuasively talked us out of our common sense had a great sales pitch. In no time we were on a first name basis. Before we knew it, we had signed away many dollars.

The deal was, if you paid the balance out in three years or less, you would receive various other reference books (medical dictionary, 'How to build your own home' guide, etc.) at no extra cost.

"But that's not all. You also get this genuine maple bookcase free, made of the finest quality to enhance the beauty of your home."

Finest quality? It turned out to be made of corkwood with the thinnest (not finest) strip of poor quality maple wood across the top.

You live and learn.

Tomorrow is here

William F. Buckley, Jr.

A discussion of Salt II — and that subject will be the analytical ordeal of the season — requires us to pause to consider questions, answers to which we have tended to think of as axiomatic, but which take on new meaning under stress. An analogy would be the local bridge we have routinely traversed since we were children. But just the other day it was observed to have creaked when a truck went over it. Prudently we call in an engineer who begins to examine its foundations.

Looking now at the foundations of our defense situation we find, in the judgment of this engineer, that the Soviet Union effectively dominates international foreign policy directly as a result of its overwhelming military power and its disposition to use it.

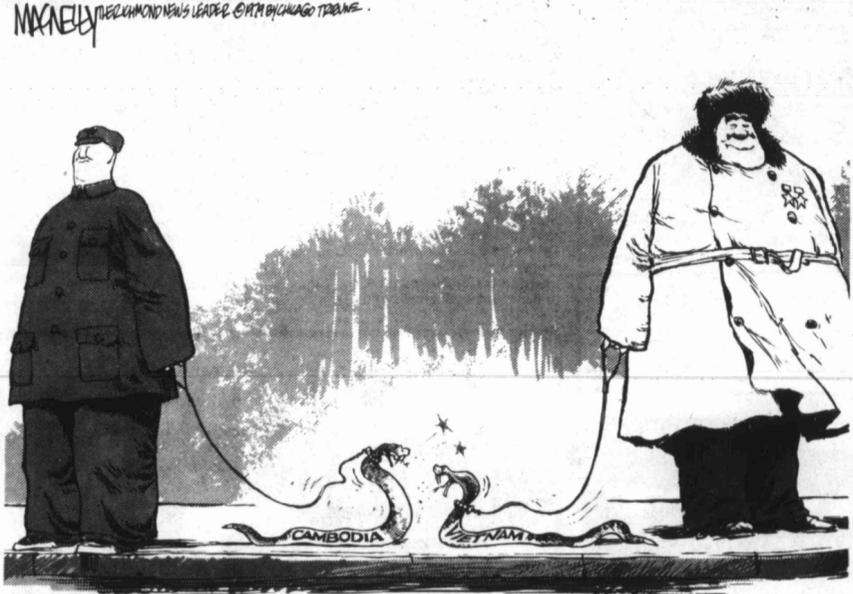

IN A RECENT ISSUE of Fortune Magazine, Mr. Fred Charles Ikle, who was our SALT negotiator until the election of Mr. Carter, made an observation similar to what one might make in suddenly asking whether the local bridge was in fact safe. He recalled that on three occasions in the past we have caused instant sobriety in the Kremlin merely by swinging into a nuclear alert. The first time was during the Berlin Blockade in 1948, the second during the Cuban missile crisis in 1962, the third during the Yom Kippur War in 1973. It has simply never occurred to the average American that the next nuclear alert could very well be the Soviet Union's. What would we do? What would our European allies do? The highly probable answer is that we would stop using that bridge.

Now we have traveled very gradually the journey toward this new state of being. Mr. Ikle cites, for instance, the casualness with which Soviet aircraft over-fly the skies of other nations without even bothering to secure their permission. Turkey, for instance: which once upon a time proudly insisted on its aerial sovereignty. By contrast the United States was specifically denied equivalent privileges, during the 1973 war, by Spain — a friendly country.

Let us suppose that the left contrived, in the weeks or months to come, a coup in Iran. Let us suppose that anti-leftist forces, resisting Soviet satelization, ask the United States for massive intervention. That it would be in the geopolitical interest of the West to provide such assistance is quite simply indisputable. But suppose that the Soviet Union declared, say in the United Nations, that no country should interfere in Iran, and suppose that that statement were followed by calling a Soviet nuclear alert. How would we respond? How would our allies in Europe urge us to respond? Precisely what would we do?

LAST WEEK THERE was talk in Washington about a possible U.S. "military presence" in the Persian Gulf, most likely in Saudi Arabia. There are good arguments for such a presence, but those arguments do not tranquilize the nagging question, which is: Aren't we at the point where we dare not cross our comfortable old bridge?

The Soviet Union has increased spending on its military four to five percent per year during the past 15 years. An average of 20 to 40 percent more than the United States, in equivalent dollars, this year. But the real difference, as Mr. Ikle stresses, goes far beyond what such figures suggest.

Hirschsprung's: Childhood bowel problem

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: My son, now six, was born with Hirschsprung's disease. He had bowel problems, and at eight months they performed a colostomy on him to give his bowel a rest. It was four times normal size. At 16 months they removed the colostomy and reconnected the colon.

At first he had no control and had accidents. At four he began to have trouble having movements. Barium enemas and X-rays showed nothing wrong. I have tried fresh fruit and vegetables, bran, and mineral oil. After two or three days of this he starts having accidents again.

The doctor suggested giving him an enema daily for six weeks and to allow him plenty of time in the bathroom. He told me not to worry, that he would outgrow this. Do you think I am doing right, and do you have any other suggestions? — Mrs. M.K.

It sounds as though your son has had excellent and standard care for this congenital (at birth) defect. You were fortunate to discover it soon enough for the surgery to be done effectively. The results are excellent in about 80 percent of cases. The X-ray reports are encouraging.

This problem begins with a defect in the nerves and muscles serving a section of the colon (large bowel). As a result peristalsis (waves of bowel motion) decrease and constipation results as well as enlargement of the bowel. An early sign is a distended abdomen. In some youngsters this can be controlled by diet alone (high residue), stool softeners and lubricants until the bowel adjusts.

When all else fails the colostomy (a bowel opening through the body to allow collection of contents) is tried.

Don't overdo the laxatives. Often the biggest hurdle at this point is to find the ideal amount of bowel stimulation — not too much, not too little. Until this is achieved accidents can be expected.

They should end in time. Be patient and follow the doctor's suggestions. The enema stimulation idea sounds like a good one. While Hirschsprung's disease is not very common, it should be investigated in any case of stubborn constipation.

Dear Dr. Ruble: What do you know about the aloe plant? I understand it has medicinal value used externally on sores or internally for stomach pain, as with diverticulosis, also with some types of arthritis. I heard where it cured a person of arthritis of the hands. Is there any truth in this? — C.C.C.

The aloe vera plant is used in making a number of lotions. It is an ingredient in some cosmetics — lipsticks, creams and skin ointments. In combination with Benzoin, it is used as a tincture for the skin. It should be limited to external uses, such as applications for skin.

The active ingredient (aloin) is extremely potent as a laxative and may cause stomach or kidney disturbance taken internally. And it does absolutely nothing for arthritis.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Should a woman with diabetes be leery of the birth control pill? — Mrs. T.M.

She should. Hormones in the birth control pills may elevate blood sugar and may necessitate adjustments in diabetes medicine. A recent article in Diabetes Forecast, published by the American Diabetes Association, suggests women diabetics opt for the mini-dose birth control pill. However, since the chances of becoming pregnant while on the low-dose pills are increased, she might better switch to another form of birth control entirely, especially if she is having difficulties with the pills.

The Pill may also cause a vaginal yeast infection, to which some diabetics are more prone than others.

Dear Dr. Ruble: A few weeks ago my doctor removed a cancer from the back of my neck. He recently notified me that he had gotten a report back that he had removed all of it. He said I am OK now. How is this determined? — Mrs. R.S.

When cancerous tissue is removed many sections of it are studied under a microscope by the pathologist, an expert at this. In your case the examination showed that the cancerous tissue was surrounded on the edges by healthy tissue. That indicates that all the malignancy was gone. Cancer had not spread past the tissue removed. Fortunately, more than 95 percent of such skin cancer can be cured by surgery.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For a better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Ruble in care of the Big Spring Herald, for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Ruble welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have always believed in Jesus Christ, but I am in almost constant pain because of arthritis now, and because of this I am beginning to wonder if God really loves me. What can I do to be closer to God? — E.C.

Dear E.C.: Pain can distract us and keep our minds and hearts concentrating on our problems instead of on God. That is one reason, incidentally, why we should seek a closer relationship with God before a crisis comes (such as an illness), rather than afterward. We may think it will be easy to turn to God when we are in difficulty, but sometimes the difficulty (whatever it might be) overshadows God.

But God loves you. I know you wonder how He can love you and still permit you to suffer so much. We may not know the full answer, although one reason is because we live in a world which has been affected by sin. But the important thing you need to know is that God is with you.

Some of God's finest servants have had to endure extended suffering, and yet God used that time to purify them and teach them to rely upon Him. Take your stand on God's Word. Remember, He cannot lie. "For I am convinced that neither death nor life... nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:38-39).

Accidents mount

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — The loading docks at the Postal Service's New York bulk mail center are referred to by the employees as "the six doors of death."

Allowing for a certain poetic license by the postal workers — no one has actually been killed at the loading docks — the grim phrase reflects the most serious flaw in the Postal Service's multimillion-dollar, super-automated regional facilities for handling parcels and other non-first-class mail. The places simply are not safe to work in.

WE HAVE ALREADY reported the havoc wreaked on mail by the futuristic assembly-line machines that were supposed to be cheaper and more efficient than human mail handlers. Damage and destruction caused by the remorseless electronic marvels have led many bulk mailers to use private delivery services. The resulting shrinkage in traffic is killing the whole point of the bulk mail centers, which must handle enormous volume to achieve the cost savings projected for them.

But workers' safety is far more important than damage to inanimate objects. The Rube Goldberg machines are ripping human flesh as well as parcel wrappings, crushing human limbs as well as Christmas packages and spilling workers' blood as well as junk mail.

Employees at the regional bulk mail centers are scared and angry. It's dehumanizing enough to work while surrounded by machines instead of men and women; when the machines have the upper hand, it is shattering to employee morale.

We sent our associate Vicki Warren to work undercover at the Washington regional bulk mail center, and when she saw the appalling conditions the facility's employees must work in, she asked them why they didn't quit. The universal response was that the pay is too good to pass up. The postal workers are, in effect, being paid to risk life and limb.

Management's response to the astronomical cost of patching up its injured workers — currently more than $600 million a year — has been to treat it as a mere bureaucratic problem. Instead of trying to figure out ways to make the environment safer, the Postal Service has chosen to cut its compensation claims by culling them with a fine-tooth comb. The machines aren't to blame for accidents in management's view; the employees are.

The manager of the San Francisco center expressed this attitude in a memo that warned bluntly: "We cannot continue to permit people to harm themselves at this installation. It is in their best interest to remove them from the Postal Service rather than allow them to maim or kill themselves."

THE WASHINGTON bulk mail center, where our reporter worked, had the highest accident record in the East last year: There were 345 accidents in 1978 — almost one a day. There were 41.4 accidents for every 100 employees, compared to 9.5 per 100 employees at the city post office in downtown Washington.

Yet management and the workers can't even agree on the best way to avoid one of the more common machine-caused accidents at the Washington center: a malfunctioning signal system causes the truck driver to drive off while the loader and the boom-like end of the conveyor belt are still inside the truck.

What will the neighbors say?

McHENRY, Ill. (AP) — It seemed the perfect neighborhood for them: Towering elms along quiet streets. Transportation, shopping, banking, medical care, churches and recreation nearby.

So the McHenry County Association for the Retarded bought a vacant lot in the neighborhood. The federal Department of Housing and Urban Development agreed to loan money to build a one-story brick home with 11 bedrooms, one for each of the 11 moderately retarded people to live there. The association said the group home wouldn't detract from the neighborhood. There would be full-time supervision.

All seemed perfect — until the neighbors found out. The association requested a zoning variance so non-retarded persons could live on the residential property. Neighbors hired an attorney and protested to the city zoning board, which will vote on the request Friday.

"We have no lack of compassion for the cause," says Bea Newkirk, one of the 67 neighbors who signed a petition opposing the home. "It's just that we just want to keep the neighborhood the way it is. We object to changing the character of the neighborhood."

Mrs. Newkirk refused to be more specific about her fears, but David Mack of the HUD office in Chicago said the typical objections to group homes are fears that the retarded persons are "perverted people. They have these false impressions about retarded people. The neighbors are afraid their children will be molested."

Max Addison of the National Association for Retarded Citizens noted that the problems in McHenry are not untypical. He says there are 165,000 retarded persons living in institutions and with relatives nationwide who could live in community homes, if space could be found. But efforts to build homes have met resistance nationwide.

Mack said that in Illinois, HUD funding for such homes has been available since 1974, but no projects have gotten beyond the planning stage, mostly because of problems similar to those in McHenry.

"The biggest problems," said Addison, "are zoning requirements and the misguided belief that a retarded person is a sick, dangerous person."

But, he added, moving retarded persons out of institutions "is a trend that won't be stopped. In the past, these people were just stashed into a corner. They never had a future. They weren't expected to contribute to society. That's all changing now."

Opposition to the McHenry project was organized at a meeting of neighbors, but one neighbor who wasn't invited was Kathy Alvary. She lives about a block from the proposed home and she and her husband have a daughter with learning disabilities who lives in New York.

"My neighbors know I've represented this community on the special education board and would speak out in favor of a group home. But they didn't want to hear the positive side," she said.

Mrs. Alvary testified before the zoning board in February, urging approval of the variance.

"I've been neighbors with the people for many years and I'm very disappointed. I'll never feel the same again about my immediate community," she added.

"I'm pretty sure we'll lose, both at the zoning board and the city council," said Robert Lambourn, executive director of the association for the retarded.

Lambourn described the neighborhood, which includes the country club, as one of the best in this city of 10,100. "Sure, we'd have an easier time in a less desirable neighborhood," he said, "but who says retarded persons can't live in the best environment?"

Joseph Condon, attorney for the neighbors, said his clients feel "the area is the most stable and long-standing single-family neighborhood in the city, and are only interested in maintaining that status." He added that his clients would oppose "any commercial facility in the neighborhood, whether it be a Lions Club Hall, hardware store or doctor's office."

"I've had the sense that some people suspect my clients have a 19th century mentality toward the developmentally disabled," Condon said. "This is not true, in fact many of my clients have been financial contributors to the cause of the developmentally disabled."

Lambourn said, "The communities in McHenry County have always been wonderful about supporting our programs. But everything we have so far is...away from the neighborhoods where people live."

Lambourn's association, private and non-profit, runs programs for the mentally retarded including vocational rehabilitation, day care for children and adults and a community living facility for 20 mildly retarded persons on the outskirts of nearby Woodstock.

The group home would be for persons more retarded than those living at Woodstock. No residential facility for moderately retarded adults exists in the county — a gap the group home would fill.

the background for the report and the legislation contained in SB 745 and HB 1374.

The bill provides additional funding for related service personnel and related services, as well as substantial increases for handicapped children's transportation. Basic support funds, for instructional materials and personnel travel, are also increased.

The bill also includes provisions for better inter-agency coordination, a stronger role for all regional education service centers, special allocations for districts with unusual needs, and revised procedures for approving all residential placements.

The bill would expand the eligibility criteria for participation in any local district's program, so that children who do not necessarily need special teaching, but who need related services benefit from regular instruction, can receive those services.

Local districts will be able to employ personnel on extended contracts to provide services to severely handicapped students, and to engage in pupil evaluations and diagnosis.

The bill also requires local districts to contribute a local share of the contracting costs of a residential placement. "This provision, in particular," Snelson said, "will ensure better services for our severely handicapped population, by tying a dollar flow to specific services which will be contracted for an approval by the TEA."

Bond hearing a 'mini-trial'

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Prosecutors probed the murky world of narcotics traffic Tuesday at a bond hearing for Jimmy Chagra, a high-rolling gambler whom assistant U.S. Attorney James Kerr called "a major figure in smuggling marijuana and cocaine into the United States."

Kerr, who escaped an assassination attempt in San Antonio last year when his car was riddled with bullets, was the lead prosecutor in what defense attorneys called a "mini-trial" of their client.

Chagra, brother of slain defense lawyer Lee Chagra, was indicted by a Midland grand jury last month on narcotics charges. He is held on a $1 million bond that defense attorney Oscar Goodman of Las Vegas wants lowered. Kerr asked U.S. Magistrate Harry Hudspeth to raise the figure to $1½ million.

Hudspeth said he will make his recommendation on the bond "as soon as possible."

Kerr's main avenue of attack was a sworn statement from a Drug Enforcement Administration informant, Henry Wallace. DEA agent John Poole testified about Wallace's statement after Kerr raised the specter of organized crime.

The statement outlined a complicated series of dope deals, allegedly involving Chagra, dating back to 1977. Among the incidents the Wallace statement said involved Chagra were:

—A 1977 trip that brought 1,800 pounds of marijuana from Chihuahua, Mexico, into New Mexico.

—20,000 pounds of marijuana allegedly bought in Colombia for import, a deal aborted when the plane carrying the pot crashed.

—A deal for six kilos of cocaine from Colombia.

—Two ships seized off the Florida Coast with 57,000 pounds of marijuana aboard each, dope the Wallace statement said belonged to Chagra.

—Three kilos of cocaine and $40,000 in cash allegedly given Wallace by Chagra to be taken from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to El Paso.

Wallace said in his statement he had received money from Chagra "on several occasions" in "drug-related situations."

Defense attorneys fought back, claiming the government was guilty of misconduct in not allowing them to interview a potential witness (Wallace) in Chagra's trial scheduled next month in Midland.

The defense also said the 4½ years Poole said he worked on the Chagra matter was a further example of government harassment of the Chagra family.

Kerr brought organized crime into the picture while questioning Charles Walsh, an FBI agent from Massachusetts who is assigned to the organized crime squad for the Northeastern United States.

Walsh said he served a man named Michael Caruana with a subpoena to appear before a grand jury investigating racketeering in El Paso. Walsh said he had information linking Caruana to Raymond Patriarca, named by a U.S. Senate subcommittee as the Mafia "Godfather" in New England.

Patriarca's name was used despite strong objections from Goodman.

U.S. Attorney Jamie Boyd withdrew his subpoena of Caruana, who told the grand jury he was in El Paso once to do voice stress analyses at Lee Chagra's request.

Jimmy Chagra, who lived for a time at Caesar's Palace hotel in Las Vegas and who owns a home in the gambling mecca, was detained by authorities in Colombia during the 1977 incident described in Wallace's statement.

Clements: Riding tall and shooting from the hip

By SCOTT CARPENTER and JIM DAVIS
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
Many of the nation's leaders just don't know how to take the tough-speaking governor from Texas.

who seem to take joy from saying but not saying. During Clements first speech to the conference, he stopped and called for New York Gov. Hugh Carey's attention. Carey was whispering to aides instead of listening to Clements call for a new national energy policy based on maximum production rather than maximum conservation. It was a shock to Carey, who acted as sheepish as a child caught licking icing off a cake. Apparently from a fear of what he might say, Clements said that he would not be recognized to question James Schlesinger about the energy secretary's remarks to the conference. Clements has made no secret of his dislike for Schlesinger. After only one meeting, it is not possible to evaluate how Clements will perform on the national scene. As governor of the third-most-populous state, Clements' impact is bound to be felt. He was the only governor to be profiled by the Washington Post, which described him as "Riding tall and shooting from the hip." While Clements' bluntness is disdained by some, others contend that it is refreshing to have a governor say what's really on his mind. Clements plans to be a power broker at the Republican National convention in 1980. And, since he believes that he can keep President Carter from winning Texas and thereby from being re-elected, Clements sees his prominence on national affairs growing. During the campaign, Clements promised to be a more active voice on national and international affairs than his predecessor. He has called for an increased advocacy role for the state's Washington, D.C., Office of State Federal Relations. That has not yet come about. Clements does not suffer from modesty. He told the Washington Post, "I can assure you I am not insecure about anything."

If all of Clements plans are realized, he will become a national force, and the national leaders will have to learn how to deal with him. His plans seem almost too big, but then so did his dream about becoming the first Republican governor of Texas in more than a century.

TEXAS GOV. BILL CLEMENTS
Shocker in political world

Insurance premiums may rise slightly

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Rep. Gene Green, D-Houston, says car insurance premiums will rise slightly if everyone must buy liability coverage, but Texans pay for the accidents of uninsured drivers anyway. Green appeared Tuesday before the House Insurance Committee, making his third run in as many legislative sessions to pass a compulsory liability insurance bill. "I am still concerned about that person out there who is not concerned about himself. ... I protect that person with my liability insurance, but here I am also protecting me from him with my uninsured motorist or collision premiums," Green said. His bill would require motorists to prove they have liability coverage in order to get their license plates. A driver would have to carry an identification card from his insurance company and present it upon demand to a policeman. Green said 29 percent of all Texas drivers do not have liability insurance and predicted the figure would rise to 32 percent by April, based on a steady rise in uninsured motorists. In Dallas County, he said, 30 percent are uninsured, 37 percent in Harris County, 45 percent in El Paso County and 60 percent in Webb County. Texas drivers never will be 100 percent insured, he said, but he predicted the bill would raise the current 71 percent to 85 percent. Green said premiums probably would rise because a lot of bad drivers would become part of the rate base. "But the damage being done now by those uninsured drivers — it is being paid for through our collision premiums or our uninsured motorist premiums or out of our own pockets," Green said. His bill was endorsed by lobbyists for the American Automobile Association and groups of retired persons. J. Sam Winters of Austin, lobbyist for the Association of Fire and Casualty Companies in Texas, said mandatory liability has not worked in other states. He called it "an exercise in futility" that raises premiums, costs tax dollars to administer and never achieves full liability coverage of all drivers.

"The established fact is that it has been tried and has proven itself to be a failure, a detriment rather than a benefit," Winters said. Winters said the Legislature had dealt with the problem in passing legislation requiring uninsured motorist coverage and personal injury protection coverage as part of every auto policy in Texas unless rejected in writing by the policyholder. "Insurance dodgers" who take out coverage just long enough to get their license plates would find it cheaper to pay the $100 fine provided by Green's bill than to pay premiums for a year, he said. Green's bill was referred automatically to a subcommittee for further study.

Mondale recruits husband

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Joan Mondale credits herself with bringing around one new patron of the arts — her husband, Vice President Walter Mondale. "He's learning," she said Tuesday. "He's been to more museums since we married than he ever had before we met. In fact, he had never been in a museum before we met." Mrs. Mondale, who dabbles in pottery, thinks support of the fine arts is growing throughout the country. She visited the Albright-Knox Art Gallery for a preview of art from Northeast museums which will be displayed in the Mondales' Washington home through April 1980. Their residence has been a gallery for art of the Midwest and Southwest, she said. The Northeast collection will replace the Southwest display.

Nol moves to California

HONOLULU (AP) — Former Cambodian President Lon Nol says there are more opportunities for jobs and education in California, so he's leaving Hawaii for a four-bedroom house in Fullerton, Calif. "Hawaii is nice and the people are friendly, but there seem to be more opportunities for jobs and education in California," he said Tuesday. Lon Nol will move his family, including eight children, Friday. He came here in April 1975, just before Cambodia fell to the Communists. Since then he has lived quietly, first in an upper middle-class Honolulu neighborhood, and since May 1977, in a rural community where he and his family raised vegetables.

Kraus receives award

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Marine Sgt. Kenneth Kraus has received Pennsylvania's highest award for bravery, the Cross of Valor, for his actions defending the U.S. Embassy in Iran when it was attacked. Gov. Dick Thornburgh presented the award Tuesday to the 22-year-old Kraus, of Lansdale. The governor said Kraus "showed what the best qualities of our fighting men are by remaining cool at his post and showing toughness and tenacity." Kraus was wounded in the Feb. 14 embassy attack and was held in a Tehran prison for a week after being freed. Before disappearing from a hospital the day of the attack, he told a reporter, "We never fired a shot."

Prospect ahead of prince

SINGAPORE (AP) — Davina Sheffield is one step ahead of Britain's Prince Charles — she's already in Australia. Charles, however, isn't far behind. He's spending three days in Singapore, but will be flying on to Perth. Ms. Sheffield, the subject of much speculation as a possible wife for Charles, will greet him.

A SIGN RECOGNIZED AROUND THE WORLD — The sign above, implanted on the approaches to Stanton, helped make the Martin County capital known throughout the world. It originally identified Stanton as the "home of 2,500 people and a few old soreheads" but Stanton has experienced growing pains since then. The wording on the billboard once drew attention in Hedda Hopper's famed Hollywood gossip column.

PRACTICING THE ART OF PHARMACY — Practicing the art of pharmacy in a small community like Stanton is no different that it is in the great cities of the land. Here pharmacist Kyle Kendall lends his undivided attention to creating a dosage called in by one of Stanton's doctors. Kendall is on duty daily at Walgreen's Drug Store.

LATEST IN CRIME-COMBATTING EQUIPMENT — Martin County sheriff Dan Saunders may look like a storied Texas sheriff, which he is, but his office boasts some of the latest computerized equipment to combat and diminish the treat of crime. Here Saunders looks over the shoulder of Deputy Sheriff Sherry Ann Sebastian, who types a message that will be picked up in other law enforcement offices in other areas.

THE OLD AND THE NEW — Windmills once proliferated around West Texas. They were once a testimonial that civilization had arrived in the vast area "west of Fort Worth." Now they've become museum pieces. This one is located immediately outside of Martin County's fine new museum in Stanton.

WORTHY OF A STATE HISTORICAL MARKER — The sign placed next to a one-time convent at Stanton tells the whole story. The marker was authorized by the State Historical Survey Committee. Stanton was the site of the first Catholic church between Fort Worth and El Paso. Many tourists drive off IS 20 just to get a look at the stately, old two-story structure.

STILL A FAVORITE MEETING PLACE — The soft drink counter in the drug store has all but disappeared from the American scene. Not so in Stanton. Here attendants in Walgreen's Drug Store in downtown Stanton prepare confections that delight the customers and keep them coming back for more. Stanton wouldn't take on the dimensions it does without its drug store.

Delay on nitrite ban asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will be asked immediately to hold up for one year any ban on nitrite that might be ordered because of its suspected link to cancer, says Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland.

The moratorium would be sought so a federal law which now prohibits any known cancer-causing food additive can be modified, he said.

An industry group, the American Meat Institute, contends that "no ban on the use of nitrite currently is on the horizon" because evidence is weak that it causes cancer.

The Agriculture Department and the Food and Drug Administration have asked for a legal opinion from the Justice Department on whether nitrite can be phased out gradually, as the two agencies prefer, or must be banned altogether if it is shown to be a cause of cancer.

Bergland said Tuesday if Justice determines that the law is so explicit that it requires an "abrupt end to nitrite" in cured meats and that "we don't have authority for this gradual phase-down, we're immediately going to the Congress and ask for a one-year moratorium, within which we'll try to amend the basic law."

Last August the government released a three-year study by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology that appeared to show nitrites cause cancer in some animals and may do so in humans.

The FDA and Bergland's department want a phased withdrawal of nitrite as other means become available to protect consumers from deadly botulism, a form of food poisoning the preservatives are said to prevent.

If the Justice Department determines that a phase-out is illegal, then the FDA and Agriculture Department must abandon that course, barring congressional intervention.

Bergland, who made his comments in a telephone interview with a group of farm broadcasters, said if nitrite is banned outright, "we would almost certainly have a very major health problem with food poisoning" and that the subject needs "to be handled very carefully."

The agriculture secretary said his department and the FDA also are working on "suggested tolerances" for food additives suspected of causing cancer.

"I suspect it's going to be a highly emotional issue, because critics of some sort of tolerance will argue that we're allowing a little bit of cancer" in the food supply, he said.

"I don't think they can prove that contention," Bergland said. "I don't think anybody can establish clearly the linkage between additives and cancer."

Rural transportation advisory task force named by Bergland

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 16-member rural transportation advisory task force, including one farmer, has been named by Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland and Transportation Secretary Brock Adams to study the nation's agricultural transportation needs.

The task force was authorized by Congress and was signed into law last Nov. 2. Bergland and Adams will head the panel. Officials said nearly 200 nominations were received from agricultural, transportation, legislative and academic communities to fill the other 14 spots.

Members appointed were: Charlie Bath, Kansas City, Mo., director of traffic, Farmland Industries; C. Phillip Baume, Ames, Iowa, professor of economics, Iowa State University; Harold Breimeyer, Columbia, Mo., professor of agricultural economics, University of Missouri; and Carl Buchheit, Corning, Iowa, traffic consultant, National Farmers Organization.

Also, William Geach, Sacramento, Calif., traffic manager, Blue Anchor; Wayne Hoffman, Los Angeles, chairman, Tiger International; Andrew Jordan, Memphis, Tenn., manager, National Cotton Council; Myron Just, Bismarck, N.D., commissioner of agriculture; and Richard Schiefelbein, Washington, deputy director, Express Service Planning Office, Interstate Commerce Commission.

Also, James Springrose, Minneapolis, vice president-transportation, Cargill Inc.; Stoney Stubbs, Dallas, vice chairman, Frozen Food Express; Richard Wilson, Long Grove, Ill., executive vice president-general manager, Agri-Trans Corporation; James Wolfe, Chicago, president, Chicago and North Western Railroad; and William Zagelow, Odessa, Wash., farmer.

Foreign investors urged to report security interest in farm land

The Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act of 1978 requires any foreign person to register his or her security interest in agricultural land. The foreign investor should submit a completed form within 90 days of acquisition or transfer of the land.

The reports can be filed within the local county ASCS office. Failure to disclose an interest in agricultural land could incur civil penalties of up to 25 percent of the fair market value of the agricultural land on the date of the civil penalty.

The Howard County ASCS Office is in the Federal Building Room 208. The phone number is 267-2557.

Wheat is doing good

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winter wheat entered March mostly in "fair to good" condition, says the Agriculture Department.

But some of the crop, which was planted last fall for this summer's harvest, was in "poor" shape in parts of the South, the department said Tuesday in a weekly review of weather and crops.

The report covered the week of Feb. 26 through March 4. It said "above-normal temperatures in many parts of the nation melted snow cover, particularly in the Central Plains and the Corn Belt."

Looking at livestock and the pasture situation, it said "grasses began greening as far north as the southern Corn Belt" but that growth was limited in most areas of the United States because of low temperatures or extremely wet conditions.

Sands Junior High Student shows top Hereford steer at Houston

Cole Hunt, 13, of the Ackerly community, a member of the Howard County 4-H Club, showed the top Hereford steer at the Houston Livestock Show. The two-week event ended Sunday.

Hunt showed a 1,036-pound, 19-month-old animal. Winning at Houston isn't exactly a new experience for young Hunt. He took the breed title with a Chianina cross and second place with a medium weight Chianina in other years.

Cole is a student at Sands Junior High. He also played quarterback on his eighth grade football team and is active in basketball, track and tennis.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt. He's been showing animals at Houston ever since he was eight years of age.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL — Michelle Triola Marvin, left, cries as she leaves Los Angeles courtroom Tuesday as her attorney Marvin Mitchelson, right, is rushed to the hospital after he was stricken with a coughing spasm during the cross-examination of a witness in the property suit case against actor Lee Marvin. Superior Court Judge Arthur Marshall said later that Mitchelson "was in good shape". (AP WIREPHOTO)

College student wins bet

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — When Smith College sophomore Mary Dickinson won a $2,500 bet that she could forego alcohol for a year, she celebrated with a midnight gulp of peppermint schnapps.

Then the real celebration began.

Her small party in her dormitory room spread spontaneously from dorm to dorm as hundreds of "Smithies," some in nightgowns, cavorted across campus at 1 a.m. Tuesday.

Bell-ringing in the first dorm sparked the revelry. Women drank and danced on the quadrangle. They sent music blaring across the quad from stereo speakers in dorm windows.

"It was crazy. It was incredible. It was just terrific," said Ms. Dickinson, an economics and history major from Brainerd, N.Y.

The ruckus awoke Jill Ker Conway, president of the 2,200-student college, and the revelers — recalling that Ms. Conway had missed the traditional Christmas caroling last year — serenaded her with "Silent Night."

The anything-but-silent night was the result of a bet made a year ago between the 20-year-old student and her mother, Eileen Dickinson.

The bet required Ms. Dickinson to go without booze for one year — her mother's way of showing her how to get along socially as a non-drinker.

"It was a really good experience," the daughter said Tuesday. "I don't feel like I need to have a drink to function socially."

She said the toughest challenge came last summer in Washington, D.C., where she worked as an intern in the office of Sen. Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y.

The "Washington party circuit" provided strong temptation almost every evening, Ms. Dickinson said.

However, the end of the year-long bet "was one hell of an excuse for a party," she said with a laugh.

The college president joined in the high spirits, coming out of her campus house and walking students back to their dorms.

Before parting with Ms. Dickinson, the president joined her in a ceremonial drink of tequila as students sang, "Goodnight, Ladies."

Wildcat scheduled in Martin County

A wildcat has been scheduled in Martin County.

RK Petroleum Corp., Midland, will drill the No. 1-E Hyatt, a 12,200-foot Devonian wildcat, 1 1/2 miles south and slightly west of the Anchor Ranch (Devonian oil) field, separated by a 12,150-foot failure, 3/4-mile west of Dean and 1 1/2 miles northwest of Strawn production in the Breedlove, South field, two miles southeast of Spraberry production in the Breedlove field and five miles northwest of Tarzan.

Location is 3,371 feet from the north and 8,466 feet from the east lines of 247-Hartley CSL.

Anchor Ranch field and amended to the above field, it was drilled to 12,196 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 9,597 feet, and plugged back 9,576 feet.

Location is 739 feet from the south and 6,310 feet from the east lines of 250-Hartley CSL.

Patrick Petroleum Co. of Michigan, Midland, was waiting on cement after setting 4 1/2-inch casing at 8,100 feet at its No. 1 Hannah Bailey, in CB&CNG No. 1, Abst. 20, Glasscock County multipay prospect, two miles southeast of Barbee (Wichita-Albany) field and 18 miles southeast of Garden City.

The Anchor Ranch field produces from 12,089 feet.

The failure, Tamarack Petroleum Co., Inc. No. 1 Holt-Wolcott, was abandoned Oct. 24, 1978. It recovered mud on drillstem tests at 11,785-12,085 feet and 12,085-125 feet; mud and sulfur water on a drillstem test at 12,080-150 feet, all in the Devonian.

The Martin County portion of the Spraberry Trend Area was extended 3/4-mile west-southwest with completion of RK Petroleum No. 3 Wolcott-Adobe, 4 1/2 miles northwest of Tarzan, for 94 barrels of 46.2 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,276-1.

Production was through a 10-64-inch choke and perforations at 9,359-66 feet.

Scheduled as a test in the Recovery was 1,193 feet of salty sulfur water and 6,010 feet of drilling mud on a drillstem test at 9,945-10,000 feet, the total depth.

Production was indicated with the recovery of 800 feet of 40 gravity oil and 550 feet of oil-and-gas-cut mud on a drillstem test at 7,760-900 feet, probably Wolfcamp; and with the recovery of 2,400 feet of gas, 376 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 219 feet of heavily gas-cut drilling mud on a drillstem test at 6,625-84 feet, probably Wichita-Albany.

The Barbee field produces at 6,756 feet and formerly produced from the upper Wichita Albany at 6,723 feet and the Wolfcamp at 7,920 feet.

60 percent of sales tax dollars received from buys by businesses

(Special to The Herald)

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock today said Texas businesses contribute the bulk of the state's revenue collected from sales taxes.

"Although it is often assumed that the sales tax is collected chiefly from the millions of consumer purchases that occur in retail stores throughout Texas, this is not the case," Bullock said.

He said approximately 60 percent of all sales tax dollars are received from purchases made by businesses.

Bullock's remarks were included in "Fiscal Notes," a monthly financial report published by the Comptroller's Office.

According to recent estimates by the Comptroller's Office, the state's four percent sales tax supplied Texas government with more than $2 billion in the last fiscal year, accounting for 40 percent of all tax dollars.

The report also featured a state-by-state comparison of usury laws and basic rates on loans. The report showed that the most restrictive rate limits are usually applied to loans to individuals.

These range from six percent in Pennsylvania and six to eight percent in New Jersey to 21 percent in Rhode Island.

A state-by-state analysis of tax relief proposals in 19 states was also detailed. The report showed that 12 of the 19 states adopted tax relief proposals last November, including 10 constitutional amendments, one statutory change and one advisory proposition.

A report on coal production also showed that Texas will be producing about 50.5 million tons of lignite by 1984.

Hanoi reports more fighting

Vietnam claims victory

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vietnam claimed today "a splendid victory" over China and said it would allow China's invasion force to withdraw in peace. But Hanoi also reported continued fighting and Vietnamese victories.

It also described recent clashes in Cao Bang and Hoang Lien Son provinces, where it said the Chinese had dug fresh trenches, staged ground attacks and shelled villages. But Vietnam claimed it had "fully punished" the Chinese in all these areas.

I am not prepared to call it a withdrawal. It may be only redeployment. Titled "A splendid victory of the Vietnamese people and armed forces," Nhan Dan's editorial said the frontier area which Chinese troops invaded Feb. 17 had become "a burial ground" for them.

East Germany claims defector from NATO

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany claims a defector from the NATO secretariat staff in Brussels brought the Communists war plans of the North Atlantic Alliance. A NATO spokesman at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's headquarters in the Belgian capital confirmed that Ursel Lorenzen, a West German employed by NATO for 11 years, defected on Monday.

exercise now being held by NATO. But the NATO spokesman said the exercise is "a paper exercise, involves no troops at all," and will conclude in about two weeks. ADN said another factor in the woman's decision to defect was her learning of the "facist past" of NATO Secretary-General Joseph Luns, who last month was listed as a member of the Dutch wing of Hitler's National Socialist movement from 1933-36.

Bench ponders Reds future

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Johnny Bench, his muscles seeming to bulge beneath his longjohns, sat on a stool in front of his locker, spat tobacco juice into a paper cup and pondered the future of Cincinnati's denuded Big Red Machine.

"We've always had to win — we always expected to," he reflected soberly. "Now people are telling us, 'You can't do it with Sparky and Pete gone.' I'm not sure about that. The incentive has to be greater. We must motivate ourselves."

The thick-chested catcher long has been the unshakable anchor of the Reds — well before the shocking dismissal of Manager Sparky Anderson, who guided the club to four National League titles and two world championships, and the departure of captain Pete Rose to the $3.2 million greener pastures of the Philadelphia Phillies.

While the scrappy Rose was the Reds' inspirational leader, it was Bench — more than Rose — who served as a liaison between management and players.

"What some people automatically put down as a minus could turn into a plus," Bench said. "For instance, we should have more speed with a new leadoff hitter. Pete never was much of a baserunning threat."

"But I think one of the most important factors could be the boost that will be given to some of the younger guys. I say younger. Gee, Ken Griffey and George Foster have been on the club six years. And Dave Concepcion, he's almost as old as I am. Would you believe it?"

Bench is 31 but preparing for his 13th season in a Cincinnati uniform. Concepcion is 30, with nine years' major league experience.

For years, the Reds' success under Anderson, a near .600 winning percentage, was attributed to the club's remarkable chemistry which had Bench serving as sort of a scoutmaster of the white players, Joe Morgan the blacks and Tony Perez the Hispanics. Perez was traded to Montreal after the 1977 season.

Rose, as team captain, was "Mr. Dedication." He overshadowed almost everyone with his fierce competitive spirit and unbridled exuberance.

"It wasn't intentional, I am sure," Bench said. "but a lot of the guys — and I mean the real talented guys like Foster, Griffey and Concepcion — must have felt overshadowed."

"I think, you'll find these fellows coming out of their shell more, feeling themselves an important cog on the team, and their play may reflect it."

The stolid catcher, with 1,500 games to his credit and 1,111 runs batted in, said he could understand teammates getting miffed when newspapermen continually congregated around his and Rose's lockers after a game.

Exhibition opens, but umpires won't

By The Associated Press
The cry of "Play ball!" will be heard at five exhibition baseball locations today...but major league umpires won't be doing the shouting.

In fact, if the contract dispute between the 51 ump and the two major leagues isn't settled by Friday, the Chicago Cubs' head groundskeeper at Ho Ho Kam Park in Mesa, Ariz., will help officiate the game against the Seattle Mariners.

"He can make up his own ground rules. Nobody will be able to argue with him," quipped General Manager Bob Kennedy.

The dispute, of course, is somewhat more serious than that. The umpires have authorized Richie Phillips, head of the Major League Umpires Association, to try and renegotiate individual contracts even though the union and baseball have a contract in force for a few more years.

"I see no possibility that this thing will be settled in time," Phillips said Tuesday from his Philadelphia law office. "Without individual contracts, the umpires will not work."

"It's an individual action on the part of 51 individuals who are unhappy. I'm not feeling any pressure to give in. In fact, the only pressure I'm getting is that some of the individuals are thinking of re-evaluating their situations to ask for more money."

Dick Butler, supervisor of umpires for the American League, said the exhibition games would be officiated by former minor league ump and college baseball arbiters.

"We don't foresee any problem," Butler said. "Every town's got plenty of ump. Most of these guys will have done umpiring for us before. They won't be as good as our guys, but the players probably won't notice. They're concentrating more on getting in shape and making the ballclub than on umpiring."

NMMI's Lloyd named MVP

Randolph, Bonds honored by WJC

The Western Junior Conference All-Conference team was announced yesterday, with Howard College sophomores Robby Randolph and Allen Bonds making the second team.

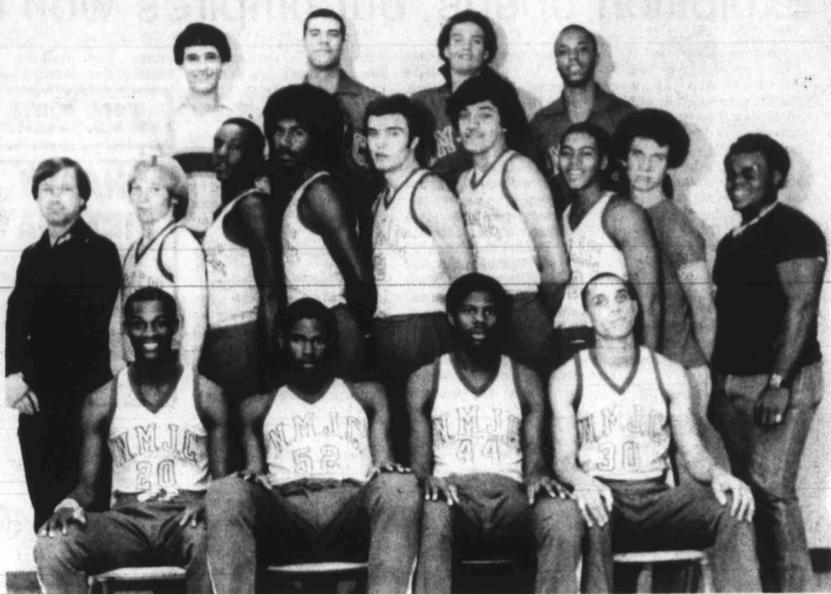

Lewis Lloyd, the 6'5" do everything forward from New Mexico Military Institute, was named the WJC's Basketball Player of the Year. Lloyd averaged 31 points and more than 12 rebounds per game in conference play to earn the award. He is joined on the first team by NMJC's Rod Camp, Billy Ennis of Odessa College, Cullen Mayfield of Midland College, and Victor Mitchell of Amarillo. Mitchell is a freshman, while the rest are sophomores.

Joining Bonds and Randolph on the second team are Western Texas freshmen Paul Pressey and Greg Stewart, and James Jones of Frank Phillips.

There were 19 players honored on the honorable mention list. They are Robert Worthy, Mike Young and Keith Moore of Amarillo, James Poarch of Clarendon, Willie Smith and Brad Webster of Frank Phillips, Luis Alvarado and Tim Shelby of Midland, Kirk Eubank and Ronnie Black of NMJC, Roy Hunnicut of NMMI, Kelly Kitchens of Odessa, Richie Phillips, Charles Rogers and Ron Butler of South Plains, and Joe Mendoza, Bill Patterson, Neil Patridge and David Brown of league champion Western Texas.

MEETS RANGER TONIGHT — Pictured above are the New Mexico Junior College Thunderbirds. The Thunderbirds have shown a great deal of potential at times this year, and will be hoping to put it together tonight at 7:00 when they meet the Rangers in the opening game of the Region V Tournament qualifying round. The 9:00 game features NMMI vs. Hill.

NMJC vs. Ranger, NMMI vs. Hill

Region V Tourney begins tonight

The Region V Tournament qualifying round gets under way tonight at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at 7:00 when the New Mexico Junior College Thunderbirds meet the Ranger Rangers. The second game of the doubleheader will pit the New Mexico Military Institute Broncos against Hill County Junior College.

The winner of the NMJC-Ranger game will meet Western Texas Thursday night at 7:00, with the survivor of the NMMI-Hill County game meeting McLennan at 9:00 p.m. on Thursday.

New Mexico Junior College is led by 6'10" intimidator Rod Camp. Camp is one of the nation's leading rebounders and blocked shots leaders, and capped a fine season by being named to the All-Western Conference First Team. NMJC has also received outstanding play from 6'4" forward Kirk Eubanks in recent weeks. Eubanks is averaging over 25 points a game in the Thunderbirds last ten games. Ronnie Black directs the NMJC floor game, and the Thunderbirds have at times been as good as anybody in the league.

Tonight's second game features the patient attack of the NMMI Broncos against the pressing run and gun tactics of Hill County. NMMI is led by the Western Conference's Most Valuable Player, Lewis Lloyd. Lloyd averages over 30 points and 12 rebounds per game in the NMMI attack. Roy Lee Hunnicut, a 6'1" guard could also be a mostly likely contributor in the Broncos quest for victory.

Hill County is a small but very quick team. They do not start a player over 6'4", but overcome this height inadequacy with an outstanding full-court press. Hill defeated Northwood Institute of Dallas to advance into tonight's qualifying round.

Tomorrow afternoon will be the opening round of the tournament. Midland College will meet Weatherford at 2:00, while Odessa College meets Cooke County at 4:00.

IOC still talking to China

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The executive board of the International Olympic Committee will try again this weekend to get Mainland China into the Olympic Games.

But the closer the IOC gets to the 1980 Games in Moscow, the more formidable the Chinese puzzle becomes. China has said it will not compete unless the IOC drops Taiwan. And that is not as easy as it sounds.

Lance Cross, IOC member for New Zealand who led a three-man team to China this winter, is to report his findings to the executive board Friday and Saturday. The board could make a recommendation to the full session of the IOC, set for April 3-8 in Montevideo, Uruguay.

Lord Killanin, president of the IOC, newly home from a fact-finding tour of seven African countries, said: "All I can tell you is that the Chinese want to compete in Moscow. Beyond that I cannot begin to predict what might happen."

NIT opens tonight

The nation's oldest post-season basketball tourney, the 42-year-old National Invitation Tournament, gets under way tonight and, for a change, it is truly national in scope.

The NIT, which has been criticized in the past for loading up with Eastern teams when the entire tourney was held at New York's Madison Square Garden, has gone national in recent years, holding the first round or two at various sites around the country and bringing only the survivors to the Big Apple.

This year, the NIT boasts a 24-team field, including 16th-ranked Purdue. The Boilermakers will host Mid-American Conference runner-up Central Michigan in one of Thursday night's six opening-round games.

Tonight's six-game schedule features the meeting at Lexington, Ky., between Clemson (17-9) and fast-moving Kentucky (19-11), which narrowly missed a chance to defend its 1977-78 NCAA crown by losing a 75-69 overtime thriller to Tennessee in the final game of last week's Southeastern Conference post-season tourney.

The rest of tonight's slate finds St. Joseph's (19-10) at Ohio State (17-10), Rhode Island (20-8) at Maryland (18-10), Northeast Louisiana (23-5) at Virginia (18-9), Nevada-Reno (20-6) at Oregon State (18-9) and Wagner (21-6) at Old Dominion (21-6).

On Thursday night, it's Central Michigan (19-8) at Purdue (19-7), Texas A&M (22-8) at New Mexico (19-9), St. Bonaventure (19-8) at Alabama (19-10), Indiana (18-12) at Texas Tech (19-10), Holy Cross (17-10) at Dayton (18-9) and Cinderella Alcorn State, one of the nation's two major unbeaten teams with a 27-0 mark, at Mississippi State (19-8).

Central Michigan "won" its NIT berth Tuesday night by losing 72-65 to Toledo in a playoff at Ann Arbor, Mich., to decide the MAC champ. Both teams finished the regular season with 13-3 league records. The winners gained a berth in the NCAA Tournament, which begins Friday.

Toledo trailed 37-28 at halftime but Stan Joplin scored 15 points in the second half to spark the Rockets' comeback in which they outscored the Chippewas 14-3 over the final five minutes.

"We made mistakes on offense in the first half," said Toledo Coach Bob Nichols. "We weren't attacking the basket. In the second half, we did better going to the basket."

NBA Roundup

Who says the San Antonio Spurs don't play defense? Not Coach Doug Moe...or New Jersey Nets Coach Kevin Loughery.

"They have a great offense, but they also have one of the better defensive teams," Loughery said Tuesday night after the usually high-scoring Spurs defeated the Nets 103-99. "A lot of people look at the stats, but they play good defense. You have to play defense to win in this league."

The contest included a fourth-quarter shouting match between Loughery and Allan Bristow of the Spurs. The San Antonio player claimed New Jersey's Winford Boynes spit on him while they were jockeying for position under the boards. Boynes declined to comment on whether he spit at Bristow.

Hawks 94, 76ers 91
Despite their defeat, the third-place Nets remained just 1 1/2 games behind Philadelphia in the Atlantic Division. Atlanta turned back the 76ers when Tom McMillen sank a pair of free throws with 1:28 remaining for the Hawks' seventh consecutive victory and Philly's fifth straight loss.

Atlanta, paced by Eddie Johnson with 22 points and John Drew with 20, trailed only once — by one point in the third period. The Hawks got the lead back 64-63 on two free throws by Dan Roundfield and then got six more points, including a pair of baskets by Johnson.

Rockets 119, Nuggets 118
Houston's Moses Malone blocked George McGinnis' shot attempt as the final horn sounded to preserve the Rockets' victory, their second in a week over Denver. With regular center Dan Issel out, Denver used Kim Hughes and Tom Boswell in the pivot. Malone finished with 26 points, but the Denver duo helped keep the game close and it was tied 29 times.

An attempted slam dunk by Denver's David Thompson with 11 seconds left was pinned against the backboard by Houston's Robert Reid but goal tending was not called. Thompson finished with 33 points while McGinnis added 24. Calvin Murphy led Houston with 30.

Trail Blazers 118, Knicks 110
Injury-plagued Portland was led by Tom Owens' 34 points and moved within one-half game of San Diego in the race for the final Western Conference playoff spot despite the absence of Maurice Lucas and Lionel Hollins. The Trail Blazers blew an 18-point lead before Dave Twardzik threw in two long-range jumpers and added six free throws in the last four minutes to seal the victory. The Knicks suffered their 40th setback, one more than all last season. They still have 14 games remaining.

OVER FOR TWO — Philadelphia 76ers Julius Erving reaches over the outstretched defensive arm of Atlanta Hawks Dan Roundfield (32) for two points in their 94-91 loss to the Hawks Tuesday night in Atlanta.

Steers, darkness sink Monterey

The Big Spring Steers spotted Lubbock Monterey a ten run lead in the first inning, then rallied behind the hitting of David Manley, Ysa Rubio and Ricky Myers to overcome the Plainsmen and take an 18-16 victory.

The win was the fourth of the year for Coach Tommy Collins crew without a loss. Manley, who was the only Steer hurler that had any effectiveness on the sunny afternoon, was credited with the win, with darkness getting the save.

Luis Rodriguez started for the Steers, but could get only one man out of the nine he replaced him. Rubio didn't have much better luck initially, as the second man that he faced, David Ledbetter, crashed an opposite field homer to give the Plainsmen a 10-0 lead.

Monterey added one run to its lead in the second inning before Big Spring began their insistent rally.

Rusty Hayworth led off the second inning with a single, and Larry Smith reached on an error. Mike Gomez also reached base on an error, before Tony Rubio grounded to Monterey third baseman Jim Coleman, with Hayworth being forced at the plate. Mark Warren then singled in the first two runs of the game. Mike Evans then drove in another run, before Manley uncorked a three-run homer one out later to cut the lead to 11-6.

But Monterey took advantage of Rubio and the wildness of reliever Jim Files to score four more runs in their half of the third to take a 15-6 lead. Manley entered to finally squelch the Plainsmen in the third.

Big Spring came back in their half of the third to match Monterey's four runs and cut the lead to a Little League score of 15-10.

Monterey got its last official run of the afternoon in the fourth inning to increase the lead to 16-10, but Ysa Rubio's three-run homer in the bottom of the inning highlighted a four-run output that tightened the game at 16-14.

Manley shut down Monterey in the next two innings, setting the stage for the winning Steer rally in the bottom of the sixth.

The Steers tied the score at 16-16 with one out in the bottom of the sixth, before Myers singled in Kevin McLaughlin with what would be the winning run. Tim Shaver's squeeze bunt scored Manley and boosted the Steer lead to 18-16.

Darkness set in as the clock reached seven, and the coaches and umpires decided to continue play. With one out in the seventh, Monterey's Kurt Bevins slammed a three-run homer to give the Plainsmen a one run lead. The lead was short lived, however, as the game was called shortly after, with the final score reverting back to the previous inning.

The win enables Big Spring to enter this weekend's South Grand Prairie Tournament with an unblemished record of 4-0. Monterey, last year's Class AAAA state runner-ups, drops to 1-2 on the year.

OUT NUMBER ONE — Big Spring's Mike Gomez leaves first base after catching the first out in the Big Spring-Monterey game played yesterday afternoon as Monterey Plainsmen Joe Pinkerton arrives too late. Monterey scored ten runs in the first inning, but the Steers rallied for an 18-16 win.

Will Bobby Bonds report?

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians will have to wait a little while longer to gain the services of reluctant slugger Bobby Bonds.

The outfielder, who came to the Indians in an off-season trade with the Texas Rangers, was expected to arrive at the Cleveland training camp Tuesday.

However, he called team officials Monday night from his San Carlos, Calif., home and said he was delayed by a family problem and would join the team in Palm Springs, Calif., Thursday.

The Indians open their exhibition season that day against the California Angels.

Permian leads BSBS Invitational

Permian Basin led the BSBS Invitational Golf Tournament after the first round that was played at the Comanche Trail Golf Course. Permian had a 315 total to lead second place Lamesa by 10 strokes. Snyder was third at 331, followed by Slaton at 337 and the Big Spring number two team at 339. Big Spring's number one team had already played its limit of invitationals and is not eligible.

Tahoka shot a 363 to lead the Second Division. Lee and Midland's number three team were second and third, just five strokes off the lead.

Big Spring's top golfers were Ralph Clarke at 84, John Basden, at 88 and Rodney Jones at 94. Forsan's Mike Bailey shot an 87.

Justice Department may probe Carter business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department acknowledges there is a possibility a special prosecutor will be named to look into President Carter's family peanut warehouse business. But the department adds such an action would be "a rather extraordinary step."

Federal investigators have been investigating operations of the warehouse, including $6.5 million in loans it obtained from the National Bank of Georgia in 1975 and 1976, when former Budget Director Bert Lance was president of the bank.

In a meeting Tuesday with Republican members of the House Judiciary Committee, Justice Department officials said they had received a lengthy FBI report on the case and would decide soon how to proceed with the case.

Terrence Adamson, department spokesman, said several possible options were listed for the legislators, including "the rather extraordinary step of appointing a special prosecutor."

PUBLIC NOTICE

ELECTION ORDER AND NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF HOWARD

On this the 4th day of February, 1979, the Board of Trustees of Coahoma Independent School District convened in regular session, open to the public, with the following members present: Kirby Brown, President; A.D. Greenfield, Harold Abernethy, Justis Justis, Don Myers, Harold Abernethy, Clavis Phinney, Jr. and the following absent: None.

Whereas, the term of office of A.D. Greenfield, Harold Abernethy and Justis Justis members of the Board of Trustees of this School District will expire on the first Saturday in April, 1979, and said first Saturday is April 7th, 1979, and on said date a true election will be held in said School District.

WHEREAS, the term of office of A.D. Greenfield, Harold Abernethy and Justis Justis members of the Board of Trustees of this School District will expire on the first Saturday in April, 1979, and said first Saturday is April 7th, 1979, and on said date a true election will be held in said School District.

WHEREAS, it is necessary for this Board to pass an order establishing the procedure for filing for and conducting said true election.

THEREFORE, BE IT ORDERED BY THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF COAHOMA INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

That an election be held in said School District on April 7th, 1979, for the purpose of electing to the Board of Trustees of said School District Three Trustees.

That all requests by candidates to have their names placed upon the ballot for the above mentioned election shall be in writing and signed by the candidate and filed with the secretary of the Board of Trustees at the superintendent's office not later than 30 days prior to the date of said election.

All candidates shall file with said application the loyalty affidavit required by Art. 6.02 of the Election Code.

The Secretary of this Board of Trustees shall post on the bulletin board in the building where the Board of Trustees meets the names of all candidates that have filed their applications in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Order, and said Secretary shall otherwise comply with the terms and provisions of Art. 13.32 of the Election Code.

That said election shall be held at the following places, and the following named persons are hereby appointed officers for said election:

(1) In election precincts numbered 5 & 9 at Coahoma Fire Building, in Coahoma, Texas, in said School District, with Mrs. Viola Bates as Presiding Judge and Mrs. Mattie Miller and Mrs. Alameda Pines, Clerks.

(2) In election precincts numbered 7 at Vincent Baptist Church Building, in Vincent, Texas, in said School District, with L.N. Hodnett as Presiding Judge and Mrs. L.N. Hodnett and Mrs. Steve Wolfe, Clerks.

NOTE: If additional polling places are necessary, follow the above form for each additional polling place and insert here:

(c) In election precincts numbered 18 and 21 at Sand Springs Fire Station Building, in Sand Springs, Texas, in said School District, with Mrs. H.C. Wallin as Presiding Judge and H.C. Wallin and Mrs. Jim Burgess, Clerks.

The polls at the above designated polling places shall on election day be open from 7 o'clock a.m. to 7 o'clock p.m.

4. Maxine Hinsley is hereby appointed Clerk for absentee voting, and Shirley McMahan and Sue Riddle are hereby appointed Deputy Clerks for absentee voting. The absentee election shall be held at administration building in Coahoma School District, Coahoma, Texas within the boundaries of the above named School District and said place of absentee voting shall remain open for at least 24 hours on each day for absentee voting which is not a Saturday, a Sunday, or an official State holiday, beginning on the 29th day and continuing through the 4th day preceding the date of said election.

Said place of voting shall remain open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on each day for said absentee voting. The above described place for absentee voting is also the absentee Clerk's mailing address to which ballot applications and ballots voted by mail shall be sent.

5. The manner of holding said election shall be governed, as nearly as may be, by the Election Code of this state, and this Board of Trustees will furnish all necessary ballots and other election supplies requisite to said election.

7. Immediately after the votes have been counted, the officers holding said election shall make and deliver the returns of said election and perform all other duties as provided by the Election Code.

8. The Board of Trustees shall give notice of said election, and this combined Election Order and Notice shall serve as Notice for said election. The President of the Board of Trustees is hereby authorized and instructed to post or cause to have posted said combined Election Order and Notice at three public places, where the same are customarily posted in this school district, and said posting shall be made at least 20 days before the date of said election.

The President shall also cause a copy of this combined Election Order and Notice to be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where this school district is located. Said publication shall be not more than 30 days nor less than 10 days before the date of said election.

It is further found and determined that in accordance with an order of the Board of Trustees, the Secretary posted written notice of the date, place and subject of this meeting on the bulletin board located in the central administrative office of this school district, a place convenient and readily accessible to the general public, and said notice, having been so posted, remained posted for at least 72 hours preceding the scheduled time of said meeting.

It is further found and determined that in accordance with an order of the Board of Trustees, the Secretary furnished a notice of the date, place and subject of this meeting to the county clerk of Howard County, Texas, the county in which most, if not all, of this school district's pupils reside.

The above order being read, it was moved and seconded that the same do pass. Thereupon, the question being called for, the following members of the Board voted AYE: Brown, Justis, Greenfield, Myers, Abernethy, Reid, Phinney, and the following voted NO: None.

Accused killer found dead

CROSBYTON, Texas (AP) — The defendant in a capital murder case was found dead in his cell today and a .22-caliber pistol was found near the body.

The victim was John Thomas Carter, 34, of Lubbock, charged in the Oct. 2, 1978, shooting deaths of Valton and Cora Gandy of Lorenzo.

Cause of death was withheld pending the results of an autopsy. Authorities would not say where the weapon came from.

The special prosecutor in the case, Alton Griffin, said a jury was being chosen for Carter's trial, and he was the only prisoner in the Crosby County jail.

Griffin said a jailer discovered the body this morning when he took Carter his breakfast. No gunshot was heard, but Griffin pointed out that the prisoner was in a remote section of the building where work of construction was.

"I saw blood covering his face, but did not see the wound. The presumption, subject to the Rangers' investigation, is that the wound was self-inflicted," Griffin said.

A woman co-defendant is being held in Lubbock, pending her trial.

Clements' bureaucracy proposal met with silence from officials

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements expected some questions, maybe even an argument or two, when he asked Texas' top bureaucrats to help him trim the bureaucracy by 25,000 jobs.

What he got was silence. Dead silence. Even after he almost pleaded for a response from the approximately 400 state agency officials who had turned out to hear him.

Clements was clearly disappointed.

Not a hand shot up. "Who is in agreement?" Maybe one or two of the approximately 400 officials and high-level employees raised a hand.

"I was hopeful that if one of you violently disagreed, you would say so."

"That's interesting," Clements said resignedly. "I'll see you in your departments. Good afternoon."

The new Republican governor was conciliatory in his appeal for cooperation in eliminating 25,000 of the 169,000 state jobs by the end of his term in January 1983.

He said 85 percent of all vacancies that occur each year could be filled and still meet his goal.

Clements said he "fully recognized" that some agency budgets should grow. "But I do want to eliminate as much duplication, redundancy and surplus as we possibly can. I want our employees to be fully employed but right now I know they are not, in many instances," Clements said.

Some department heads even have told him they don't have enough work to do, he said.

Clements told reporters he thought their presence dampened the possibility of give and take between himself and the agency heads.

"I think you fellows inhibited them," he said.

But he said, "I think I have their cooperation. I am satisfied with that."

Kenneth Ashworth, commissioner of the Texas College Coordinating Board, said he thought the officials remained silent because "you are always kind of intimidated in front of a large audience to stand up and talk about the special problems of your program."

"We just didn't have anybody break the ice," he said.

PLO calls for strike

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Yasser Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization called Wednesday on Palestinians under Israeli rule to confront President Carter with a general strike and demonstrations.

The PLO's 15-man executive committee, at an urgent meeting convened by Arafat to discuss Carter's visit to Egypt and Israel, also called for a summit conference of Arab heads of state to deal with the result of Carter's visit.

Clubhouse

Council will donate money

The Howard County Texas Extension Homemakers Council voted to donate $25.00 to the narcotics division of the police department to buy a dog as they met Monday at 2 p.m.

The Creative Homemakers Club hosted the meeting in the County Agent's office.

Mrs. J.D. Johnson, chairman, presided and gave the devotional from Psalm 100. Twenty-eight members answered roll call. All eight Howard County Extension Homemakers Clubs were represented.

The council decided to give $5 toward a 4-H scholarship along with the clubs.

The district 6 meeting will be April 17 in the McMeans Methodist Church at Andrews beginning at 9 a.m. The theme is Living, Learning and Sharing.

Extension Homemakers Day is April 28 at the Dellwood Plaza in Midland beginning at 9 a.m. There will be booths, computer centers and different demonstrations with all the Howard County Extension Homemakers Clubs participating. Frances Zant will have a sewing demonstration, Evelyn Vigor will demonstrate car care and Alta Lee Underwood will man the health booth. A style show of hand made clothing will be held at 2 p.m.

Members were reminded of the Spring Sneak Preview Style Show, at Kentwood Center, March 13, at 7:30 p.m., sponsored by the Creative Homemakers Club. Everyone is encouraged to participate.

Guests were Terri Fuqua of the Spring City Falls, and Inez Petty of Centerpoint Club.

Plant and soil program slated

Chesley Wilson, of the soil conservation service will present a program on plants and soil to the Retired Federal Employees as they meet at Kentwood Older Adult Center Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Refreshments will precede the 10 a.m. business meeting, followed by the program. Wilson will discuss shrubs, flowers, grasses as well as indoor plants and soil. He will show slides of the plants he discusses.

Mrs. Guy presides

Mrs. Marie Rowland gave a program on "Misbehaving Leaves of African Violets," to the Texas Star African Violet Club at the March 1 meeting in the home of Mrs. R.W. Baker.

Mrs. Rowland said that leaves can be encouraged to grow the right way by using toothpicks beside each leaf to make it grow correctly. It is also beneficial to bounce the pot of violets a few times to stir them up.

Mrs. Paul Guy, secretary, presided in the absence of the president.

Thirteen members answered roll call.

Mrs. W.R. Rogers resigned as president. Mrs. Paul Guy installed Mrs. Cass Hill as the new president.

The next meeting will be April 5 at Mrs. Marie Rowland's home in the Silver Hills Addition.

Invitation is extended

La Gallinas, a ladies bridge club for beginners in duplicate bridge, meets at 10 a.m. each Friday at the Big Spring Country Club. Membership and participation is not limited to Country Club members.

A special invitation is extended to those not experienced in duplicate bridge who would be interested in learning this form of competition.

Partnerships are welcome, but persons without partners who are interested in learning to play should contact Mrs. Ed Corson, director, at 267-8056, to locate a partner for them.

The game is called "Duplicate Bridge" because each hand is played at least twice (but not by the same players), under conditions that exactly duplicate those of the other tables. The score does not depend on the luck of the deal, but on the skill with which the hand is played.

This is an excellent way to acquire new friends and improve your bridge game.

Art show and pageant to highlight roundup

"Girls interested in participating in the 17th Annual Miss Diamondback Pageant should pick up entry forms at the front desk of the Big Spring Herald," stated Mrs. Mike Faulkner, pageant chairman for this year's Rattlesnake Roundup.

Those interested must be between the ages of 16 and 18, residents of Howard County and unmarried. The only charge will be for the photograph taken by Danny Valdes. For more information contact Mrs. Faulkner at 263-4963.

Also being held in conjunction with the Rattlesnake Roundup for the first time is the Arts and Crafts Festival. Local merchants are urged to enter soon in order to assure adequate and good location in the fair barn. There has been good response from many out-of-town artists.

Hunter registration and weigh-in will take place March 23. Hunters will be paid $2.75 per pound. Mike Faulkner is this year's Roundup chairman.

TWEEN 12 and 20 Californian searching for foreign pen pals

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

I am constantly on the lookout for pen pals for you teen readers and was happy my travels took me to Hayward, Calif., for there I met a young lady who was looking for American and Canadian teens to write to teens in Japan, India, Venezuela and Argentina. The age ranges from 15 to the mid-20s for both sexes.

So if this creates a spark in you, please write to Rainbow Club, The Daily Review, P.O. Box 3127, Hayward, Calif. 94541. Please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Dr. Wallace: I know the population of the United States is about 200 million persons and growing. Can you please tell me how they figure the rate of growth.

Your answer can really help a not-so-smart social science student. — Thomas, Florence, Ala.

Thomas: I always vow I won't do someone's homework but invariably I renege. The U.S. population is slightly over 230 million and is calculated by the Commerce Department in this manner.

A person is born in the United States every 10 seconds and a person dies every 16 seconds. An immigrant is added every 77 seconds and an immigrant is subtracted every 15 minutes.

This means that our population increases about 4,200 persons per day.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and smoke and seem to enjoy it. My question is this. Should I tell my mother? And if your answer is yes, how should I do it.

My mom and I have an open relationship. — Joy, Pottstown, Pa.

Joy: You can eliminate your dilemma by just quitting the smoking habit. The longer you smoke, the harder it will be to quit.

Yes, tell your mother you smoke. Tell her when you are alone with her and she is in a good mood because she will not be happy to hear what you will tell her.

Hopefully she can help you quit.

Write to Dr. Robert Wallace, TWEEN 12 and 20 in care of this newspaper. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wedding Strife: Dad's New Wife

DEAR ABBY: I am planning my wedding and need some advice. My parents were divorced four years ago. Dad married again last year. Mom is still single and has a lot of bitterness toward Dad, although I must say in all fairness that she nagged him so much he did well to stay married to her as long as he did.

Also, Dad didn't meet Joyce (his present wife) until his divorce was final, so no one can say she broke up his marriage.

Abby, I want my wedding to be perfect. I want Dad to give me away, and I want Mom and Dad to be there as a couple so that they don't seem to favor Dad's new wife, and if Dad brings her it will spoil everything for Mom. My minister says I should invite Dad and Joyce. Should I? Deep down, I hope Joyce will be wise enough to let Dad come alone, but what if she decides to come with him? Please help me.

IN BETWEEN

DEAR IN: If you're old enough to be married, you're old enough to accept the fact that your parents are divorced and your father has another wife. Quit living in the past when you mother and father were a couple, and get on with the business of living life as it is. Invite your father and Joyce, and let them decide whether Joyce stays home or accompanies her husband.

DEAR ABBY: I have on occasion found the man I date sucking his thumb while watching TV or napping. He is 41. This shocked me, so I called his attention to it. He became very defensive and quite irritated, and an argument ensued. Abby, do other adults regress to this kind of infantile behavior? Is this serious enough to require professional help?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Yes, other adults have been known to regress to thumb-sucking when they're tired or in need of relaxation and comfort. Aside from the humiliation and teasing they might suffer if this babyish habit is discovered, there's no harm done. If your friend is mature in other ways, overlook it.

DEAR ABBY: To GRANNY, whose grandchildren never send thank-you notes for the gifts she sends: Don't blame the kids. It's their parents' fault! I never knew if my grandson received my gifts since he never bothered to thank me for them. One day while talking on the phone with my son, I asked, "Did Jamie ever get the present I sent him?"

My son called out, "Hey, Jamie, did you ever get Grandma's present?"

Then I heard someone yell, "Yeah. Tell her thanks."

Well, that did it. Now I send greeting cards. And if the subject ever comes up, I will explain why.

FED UP WITH BAD MANNERS

DEAR FED UP: I'm sure your cards conveyed the message.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 48700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90008. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Innocent victims bill wins House approval

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Senators are in favor of repaying Texans who suffer personal or property injury in a violent crime that was not their fault.

The new state program was approved on voice vote Tuesday and sent to the House. Traffic law violators, except for parking tickets and nonmoving violations, would pay for the compensation fund with a $1 contribution for each violation.

"This bill has passed the Senate on the last two sessions and then was bogged down in the House in the final days," said Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland. "We're running with it this time in hopes it will get through the House in plenty of time."

The State Industrial Accident Board would administer the fund established as the Crime Victims Compensation Act. One member of the board could decide if a hearing was necessary.

The board would be authorized to give the victim an award if it decided the person suffered a monetary loss as a direct result of criminal injury.

Applications for the reward would not be considered if a victim did not report the injury within 72 hours, if the victim did not suffer financial loss or if the victim participated in the crime or was close kin to the offender.

Awards would be limited to $50,000, plus "reasonable" attorney's fees. Any award up to $1,500 could be made while the claim is being processed.

The Senate also approved 30-0 and sent to the House a bill that would increase the mandatory retirement age for most state employees from 65 to 70. The act would be optional to district school boards. It would not apply to employees of state universities and colleges until July 1, 1982.

Also approved on voice vote by the Senate and sent to the House were:

BOSTON (AP) — Male musicians in the Boston Symphony will fly off Monday for the orchestra's China tour armed with an opening line for approaching Chinese women and with advice that it probably won't work.

"China is a fairly puritanical society," advised Jan Berris, a University of Michigan China specialist. She briefed the 103 men and women of the orchestra Tuesday on their tour, the first by a major American musical organization since the U.S. and China established diplomatic relations.

"Chinese women find it difficult to cope with compliments," she said. "Tell a woman she is lovely and she finds it very embarrassing. If you want to compliment a woman, tell her what a lovely political ideology she has."

City robbed to pay city

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming law officers are looking for an armed robber who stuck up a Casper liquor store to raise money to pay a fine in Gillette.

The gunman walked into the liquor store Monday night and demanded $125 — no more, no less, Casper authorities told Campbell County Sheriff D.B. "Spikie" Hladky.

The robber told the clerk he needed $125 to pay a fine in Gillette or go to jail. He took only $125 and left the rest of the money, Hladky said Tuesday.

Six held hostage in San Antonio pawnshop

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Police negotiators and an attorney talked two gunmen into surrendering without incident Tuesday night after the pair held six hostages in a pawnshop.

Police said attorney Julie Marquez and official negotiators reached the two men by telephone, and Ms. Marquez said they were ready to surrender after a 4½ hour siege.

Ms. Marquez identified one of the men as 33-year-old Gregoria Lopez, who was wanted in connection with the knife woundings of three persons at the Bexar County courthouse Jan. 26. No charges were filed at once against the second man.

Three of the hostages, including pawn shop owner Andy Cardenas, were known to have heart conditions, but all were apparently in good shape when the ordeal ended. The two men threw their weapons out and surrendered to officers who had encircled the building.
