Oscar hopefuls may be upstaged by 'true grit' of John Wayne

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oscar nominees hoping to be in the floodlights at the Los Angeles Music Center tonight during the 51st Academy Awards are likely to be upstaged — not by each other but by John Wayne.

The Academy Award-winner for "True Grit" 10 years ago was scheduled to appear at the end of the telecast to announce the best picture of 1978.

Wayne, 71, whose history in Hollywood predates the Motion Picture Academy, will be making his first public appearance since cancer surgery three months ago.

Producer Jack Haley Jr. has rounded up a cast more stellar than last year's golden anniversary. Presenters range from Cary Grant and Lauren Bacall to Robin Williams and Brooke Shields. NBC's Johnny Carson will make an unaccommodated appearance on ABC as master of ceremonies for the show, which starts at 7 p.m. PST (9:00 P.M. Big Spring time).

"The Deer Hunter" and "Heaven Can Wait," both with nine nominations, were generally considered favorites for best picture, with "Coming Home" — with eight nominations — also a possibility. "An Unmarried Woman" and "Midnight Express" were also nominated for the year's best film.

If "Heaven Can Wait" scores a sweep, Warren Beatty could be the first person to win Oscars in four categories. He is nominated as best actor, producer, co-writer and co-director.

For the first time in recent memory, all of the nominated songs will be delivered by those who sang them for the films. The performers: Debby Boone, Barry Manilow, Johnny Mathis and Jane Oliver, Olivia Newton-John and Donna Summer. Sammy Davis Jr. and Steve Lawrence will sing a medley of hit movie songs not nominated for Oscars.

No-shows among acting contenders, a blight in some recent years, should be minimal. Of the 10 nominated actresses, only Ingrid Bergman has declined to appear.

Of the candidates for best actor, only Robert De Niro, nominated for "The Deer Hunter," was a doubtful arrival.

General excellence

Hawk publications cited

The Hawk Reporter and the Hawk Flight annual, both student publications of the journalism department of Howard College, won top honors Friday at the 55th annual conference of the Rocky Mountain Collegiate Press Association (RM-CPA).

The RMCPA is the largest college-university press organization in the United States and represents major universities and four and two year colleges throughout the state of Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Oklahoma and Texas.

The United States Air Force Academy was host school for the conference held at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The Hawk Reporter of Howard College won first place in the "general excellence" category, the highest division award given any school in the conference. Jim Brown is the 1978-1979 editor and Kim Hall was the editor during most of the spring of 1978.

According to the critique given by the judges, "The magazine style and imaginative use of color and photos make this the winner..."

Other winners in the "general excellence" newspaper category included The Western Texan of Western Texas College, Snyder, second place; and the Northwest Trail, of Northwest College in Wyoming.

According to Jeff Henderson, Executive Director of RMCPA, "I can't remember when any college won first place in the general excellence division the first year they joined RMCPA as Howard College has done. The people of Big Spring have much to be proud of with the journalism program at Howard College."

The 1978 Hawk Flight annual won second place in the "general excellence" category. Denise Crenweige, now a journalism major at Texas A&M, was the 1977-1978 annual editor.

John Marder, faculty publications advisor for The Hawk Reporter and The Hawk Flight annual, was complimentary of Howard College journalism students.

"We won because of the dedication of Howard College students to put in the long hours necessary to be the best," Marder said. "It's people such

Runoff election day

When the Big Spring City Council convenes Tuesday, one of the first orders of business at the 9 a.m. meeting will be the setting of a date for the runoff election between incumbent Polly Mays and challenger John Massey.

Mays led Massey by 46 votes in Saturday's election, but the lead did not represent a majority of the votes.

According to City Secretary Tom Ferguson, the city charter specifies that the runoff must be set for a date that the runoff must be set for a date days after the election.

Other topics on the agenda include swearing in of newly elected Council member Larry Miller, consideration of a zone change from single family residential to retail for a 21.4 acre tract of land on Wasson beside the Jet Drive In, and consideration of a request to close 14th street.

Other items are:
—Consideration of an ordinance setting up a licensing method for itinerant merchants which includes a fee to be paid by such vendors and solicitors;
—Discussion of a lease agreement between Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and the City.

—Consideration of an ordinance retaining the local sales tax on residential use of gas and electricity (a tax which, by order of State Comptroller Bob Bullock, can be, exempted as a tax relief measure or retained, as the city wishes);
—Presentation of the City audit;
—Consideration of replacing the burned golf cart sheds;

—Consideration of permission to advertise for bids for a mower for the City Park Department;
—Consideration of a tabled item on awarding of a bid for a railroad spur at the Industrial Park.

In city audit, says Ferguson

Only one fund has deficit

Big Springs's Airport Fund is the only one of three to show a deficit in the city audit for last fiscal year.

All figures in the audit have been dated Sept. 30, 1978, and the city's Airport Fund shows a cash deficit of $27,418.

"The Airport Fund was not included in the budget at the beginning of the year. This was the first time it has ever been included in the audit, and with no history to rely on there was just no way to predict how much would be spent," said Tom Ferguson, city finance director.

According to Ferguson, cash for the fund was provided through the city's General Fund.

Ferguson also explained that some conjecture may arise about the solvency of both the General Fund and the Water and Sewer Fund.

"While records of cash in the bank total less than our liabilities in these funds, our accounts receivable make up the difference. Some may argue that this money due the city should not be included under current assets, but I disagree with this," he said.

The Water and Sewer Fund shows liabilities totaling $269,223 with only $58,912 in pooled cash and investments. Accounts receivable, however, total $242,895 which when included in current assets, show the fund to be firmly in the black.

Somewhat the same situation exists in the city's General Fund. Liabilities total $68,371, compared to only $15,792 cash on hand.

Accounts receivable, however, total $85,976, more than balancing the debt.

The firm of Lee, Wilson, Reynolds & Co. also included a cover letter with the 1978 audit which provided 26 different suggestions regarding internal accounting during the current fiscal year. Most of the suggestions can be routinely incorporated, but one may call for a great deal of work, according to Ferguson.

It was noted by the auditors that neither the Water and Sewer Fund nor the Intragovernmental Service Fund contain provisions for plant or equipment depreciation.

"We, of course, haven't had a chance to assess all the new city property at the airport, but I don't know why it hasn't been done in Water and Sewer equipment," said Ferguson. "This means that we will have to go through all the city buildings and equipment, and set a reasonable cost figure on them so that we can start figuring depreciation," he added.

The valuation will include not only immediately accessible equipment, but also underground water and sewer lines, said the finance director.

Focalpoint

Action / reaction: Not legal

Q. How close to the property line can someone get when building an addition to their house? I noticed one carport being built connected the fence posts on the property line.

A. That is not legal, according to City Building Inspector Mark Campbell. "In the middle of the block, any additions must be 10 percent of the lot width away from the property line," said Campbell, adding that other restrictions included construction being three feet away from the alley, depending on the location and street conditions, construction is usually limited to being 25 feet or more from the street. "If a citizen suspects a violation, they should call and report it to me," Campbell said. "The name will not be divulged — and must not even be given — but we will check on any possible violations and, if the citizen requests, report to him on the result of the check."

Calendar: Band meeting

TODAY
Big Spring Community Band will meet at Big Spring High School, 7 p.m.

Joint recital (piano and voice) of Gene and Charlotte Phillely in Howard College Auditorium, 7:30 p.m. Presented by College Music Department. Free to public.

TUESDAY
The John A. Key Rebecca Lodge meets at 7:30 p.m. at the Lodge Hall. The Big Spring Lung Association will meet at 7 p.m. at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, 306 W. 3rd. Dr. B. J. Caplan will speak on "Hints for Aesthetics." The public is invited.

City Council meeting at 9 a.m. in City Hall.
Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast, Howard College Cafeteria, 6:27 a.m. Prizes galore.

The Tejas Cowbells will meet at The Shack in Snyder Tuesday at 10 p.m.

Tops on TV: Academy Awards

A gripping movie, "Deliverance," starring Jon Voight and Burt Reynolds, will start on NBC at 8 o'clock this evening. It is a tale about four Atlanta businessmen who find their weekend canoeing trip into a backwoods area turns into a physical and psychological nightmare. Cheryl Ladd will have a special on ABC starting at the same hour. The biggest show of the night, however, won't get started until 9 p.m., when the annual Academy Awards special will be beamed over ABC. Johnny Carson will be the emcee.

Increasing cloudiness and not as warm today. Chance of showers late this afternoon. Mostly cloudy and windy tonight with a chance of showers. Tuesday will be warmer with a slight chance of showers. High today in the mid 70s, low tonight in the low 50s. High Tuesday near 80.

Monthly increase in funds for rehab center sought

County Commissioners were asked to consider a $2,500 monthly increase in funds for the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center today in their regular meeting in the Commissioner's Courtroom. Rehab Center Director Larry Bristo discussed with commissioners the raise in funds from $5,000 a month to $7,500.

The city of Big Spring provides equal funds and will also be asked for the same increase.

Bristo said that since 1973 when the funding started the number of patients had increased by 30 percent. Monthly utility bills for the facility were averaging $1,200, said Bristo, and a $2,000 bill had been incurred for maintenance of a boiler and heating facility.

Salaries were approved for two temporary employees in the tax office and two in the road and bridge department.

A raise was approved for Gayle Worthan, county clerk employee. A $50 automatic raise was added to her $566 base salary after she had been employed six months. Also, a Vocational Education student employed by the county clerk's office will be employed through the summer.

A right of way was also approved in the meeting for General Telephone Co. of San Angelo.

Commissioners moved to approve the purchase of a new adding machine for the county tax collector's office. County Auditor Virginia Black estimated the cost at $180. Commissioners moved to allow the purchase at the best price available.

Derailment fears mount

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—Shifting winds wafted toxic fumes from wrecked railroad tankers and threatened the evacuation of the 10,000 residents of this Florida Panhandle town today. More than 4,500 others from an 80-square-mile area near the town were already in emergency shelters.

No serious injuries were reported.

Civil Defense officials worried that the chlorine-laden winds might begin drifting toward Crestview from the scene of a Louisville & Nashville Railroad derailment four miles away.

In the meantime, a railroad disaster team — experts in hazardous materials — was walking to the scene of Sunday's derailment that left 28 tank cars in a jumbled pile, said Tom Nichols, county Civil Defense director.

Executions continue

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's Islamic courts kept their firing squads busy over the weekend, sending 10 members of the ousted royal regime to their deaths.

Tehran Radio reported two generals, a former cabinet minister who also headed the Iranian news service, and a senior police constable were executed early today. Tehran newspapers reported six others were executed Sunday, but the government radio confirmed only three of them.

WHO HAS THE RIGHT OF WAY? — Los Angeles City officials are working to clear the jam on city bike paths caused as increasing numbers of skaters and bicyclists battle for space. With hospitals giving first aid to casualties, this young girl not worried about a collision skates down a path in the Venice area listening to music on her earphone-radio set.

Weather Clouds expected over western areas

By the Associated Press

Skies were clear over most of the state except for parts of far South Texas today, but clouds were expected later over northern and western sections.

Fog and low clouds drifted south of a stationary front stretching from Port Arthur to Laredo before dawn, and Victoria was reporting drizzle.

Predawn temperatures ranged from the 40s in the Panhandle to the 70s in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Forecasters predicted increased cloudiness in northern and western sections today and continued clouds in the south, with rain showers and thunderstorms in South and West Texas later today.

FORECAST
WEST TEXAS — Increasing cloudiness today becoming mostly cloudy tonight. Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms late this afternoon and tonight. Windy on Tuesday with widely scattered showers and thunderstorms east of the mountains. Warmer tonight. Highs through Tuesday low 70s Panhandle to upper 80s extreme south. Low tonight, upper 40s Panhandle to upper 50s south.

EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS — Partly cloudy Wednesday through Friday with mild days and cool nights. Highs in the 40s and 70s, except 80s extreme southwest. Lows in the upper 30s and 40s, except 50s southeast.

Farm markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No.2 were higher at midday dealings today.

The average price for strict low middling 1-1/4 inch spot cotton advanced 45 points to 57.75 cents a pound Friday for the ten leading markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Midday afternoon prices were 25 cents to 22.60 a bale higher than the previous close. May 62.12, Jul 61.85, and Oct 63.30.

TWISTER AFTERMATH — Cars hurled like toys by Sunday's tornado in Camden Ark., landed in unlikely spots in the southern part of the city of 16,000, but serious injury was minimal. The Camden unit of the Arkansas National Guard patrolled this section of the city early today to prevent looting.

Police beat

Activity sheet weighty

Police had an extremely busy weekend and a full jail. Between 5 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, 47 arrests were made on charges ranging from traffic violations to burglary and assault. The majority, however, were for public intoxication or drunk in auto.

Curtis Williams was arrested on suspicion of auto burglary, breaking and entering and assault in a sequence of activity early Sunday morning in the 1500 block of Wood.

Maria M. Flores, 1507A Wood, reported that a man broke down the front door of her residence at 1:56 a.m. Sunday, came in and attempted to strangle her, tearing her nightgown before running out the back door.

Shortly later, at 1:02 a.m., the man reportedly broke into the home of Marsha Gilbert, 1506B Wood, going through the house to the bathroom where he grabbed Ms. Gilbert. They fought several minutes before the man fled out the front door.

Then, at 1:45 a.m., Williams was arrested where he was found lying on the seat and working under the dash of an auto belonging to Lesley Lloyd, 1601 Wood. Williams is being held on suspicion in all three incidents.

Two schools were burglarized over the weekend, College Heights and Bauer Elementary. Taken from College Heights, between 5 p.m. and 6:06 p.m. Saturday, was a movie camera, film, calculator, cassette recorder, T-shirts, change and assorted items. Value of the loss was not estimated, although the damage to the building in entry as well as general vandalism to the doors and walls was estimated at $75.

At Bauer, some $100 worth of food was taken from the cafeteria between 3:35 p.m. Friday and 7:30 a.m. Monday.

An $80 bicycle belonging to Carl Winton, 13, 1904 Nolan, was taken from near the front door, where it was parked between 7 p.m. Friday and 11 p.m. Saturday.

Thanks to a call from an informant, police arrested three male juveniles for criminal mischief. The citizen spotted the youths throwing rocks at a street light in the 1300 block of Mobile. The light, valued at $10, was broken out, and the informant identified the youths, who were arrested shortly after the rock throwing incident Saturday evening.

Reuben Flores, 819 E. 13th, reported that he left his wallet, containing approximately $30, on the counter at Fina's Cafe when he was paying his tab around 4:30 p.m. Sunday. He returned a half-hour later to find the wallet gone.

Cottingham Bearing, 301 E. 2nd, was burglarized between 5 p.m. Saturday and 7:15 a.m. Monday, with $64 in cash taken. A window was broken out in the burglary, bringing to total cost to $105.

Four fender benders were reported Saturday.

At 5:10 p.m., vehicles driven by Benjamin O. Armendarez, Eunice, N.M., and Gary Len Posey, Lubbock, collided at the intersection of 3rd and Goliad.

At Gregg and Edwards, vehicles driven by Steven Wayne Bryant, Gal. Rt., and Willie Francis Settles, 1905 Main, collided at 8:08 p.m. Saturday.

Vehicles driven by James K. Murphy, Box 2162, and Larry J. Smith, 1812 Benton, collided in the 2400 block of Gregg at 8:54 p.m.

At 10:05 p.m., vehicles driven by Jana Mishelle Terry, 1731 Purdue and Charles Michael Hicks, 1312 Colby, collided in the 1200 block of Gregg.

Two more minor accidents were investigated.

Vehicles driven by Bana E. Chastin, San Angelo, and Juan Limon, 4206 Birch, collided in the 300 block of W 3rd at 3:30 p.m.

At 7 p.m., a vehicle driven by Danny Ornelas, 508 NE 10th, collided with a parked vehicle belonging to Bernice Williams, 1502 Bluebird, in the 300 block of NE 4th.

Lujan named to new post

Detective Tony Lujan has been appointed Juvenile Officer for the Big Spring Police Department effective today.

Detective Lujan has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Police Administration from Sul Ross University and came to work for the Big Spring Police Department, October 27, 1975 after spending two years with the Alpine Police Department and ten months with the Lamesa Police Department. While with the Lamesa Police Department, he held the rank of Sergeant.

The juvenile officer's work involves police duty in plain clothes and requires the use of considerable discretion, as well as seasoned application of specialized knowledge and abilities in both counseling juveniles and investigation and detection of crime.

"One of our problems was lack of communication between our department, the Juvenile Probation officer and the Juvenile Judge," said Police Chief Stanley Bogard. "We feel, with the appointment of Detective Lujan to the juvenile officer's position that this problem will be eliminated."

The tendency is to preach, but Kim Hall avoided that pitfall. She states her views with force, but with reason. Especially appreciated her defense of the rights of free speech"; third place, Tom Carter, illustration, judges' comment: "nice lines, good tone variety"; Third Place, Andra Hohertz, Single Ad, judges' comment: "Good fashion photograph. Had the type reversed for contrast and legibility, the ad would have ranked higher"; Third Place, Carol Waters, news feature, "Marj Carpenter, Grandma of West Texas Reporters," judges' comment: Even though the journalist could have made the story more dramatic by elevating anecdotes of Marj Carpenter's experiences covering sports, Billie Sol Estes, and political figures to the lead, the effort was worth third place"; second place, Jim Brown, Special Section Supplement, el nido supplement on stained glass; and second place, Joey Puga, humorous cartoon, "The New 'Fooloroid' camera."

Denise Crenzelweg took all honors for the 1978 Hawk Flight annual. Denise won second place awards for Layout, Cover, and use of color. Denise won the third place award for the Theme of the annual. According to the judges, "The Hawk Flight annual has a good blend of people, places, and things."

Howard College students who attended the conference were Jim Brown, Lisa Robertson, Delaina McQuerry, Ritchie Priddy, and Publications Advisor, John Marder. The Texas Intercollegiate Press Association meets this week and the journalism students of Howard College will again compete in various contests.

Man arrested following rape

An attempted rape of a child occurred Saturday six miles north of Big Spring. Raymond P. Mendoza was arrested Saturday on suspicion of the rape. Bond was set at $10,000.

B.C. Mann

B.C. Mann, 87, of San Angelo, the uncle of Mary Stipp of Big Spring, died early Saturday morning in a San Angelo hospital.

Services were held at 10 a.m., today in Johnson's Funeral home Chapel with the Rev. Harold Odum of the San Angelo First Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial followed in Fairmount Cemetery.

He was born on Dec. 14, 1891, in Sterling County. He was married to Foy Sonia Walker June 17, 1912, in Ballinger.

He was a retired independent oil operator and a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife; one granddaughter, Mrs. Keith Moore of Denver, Colo.; two great-grandchildren; several nieces; and one nephew.

The family has requested memorials be made to West Texas Boy's Ranch.

Best all-round here

Pam Mitchell is winner

Buddy Reynolds of Texas Tech emerged as the All-Around Cowboy and Pam Mitchell of Howard College was named the All-Around Cowgirl in the Howard College Intercollegiate Rodeo which ended here Sunday afternoon.

Although the show didn't attract many fans, it proved to be an artistic success.

Reynolds accumulated 210 points during the rodeo, winning first places in both bareback riding and saddle bronc riding.

He earned a trophy as did

Miss Mitchell, whose 190 points were amassed with a second place in goat roping and first places in breakaway roping and barrel racing.

Trophies also went to Texas Tech and Howard College men's teams who tied for first place with 215 points each; and to Howard College women's team which wound up with 340 points.

Skipper Driver, coach of the Howard College team, said he was deeply grateful for the help the committee got in staging the show.

"It was a very successful show," Driver said.

Rigging (equipment) bags were given to overall winners in the riding events. Those prevailing in roping and steer wrestling earned rope bags. The girl champions received leather handbags.

The entries move on to Stephenville for the Tarleton State Rodeo next weekend. They will compete at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene April 19-20-21, at Western Texas in Snyder April 26-27-28 and at New Mexico Junior College in Hobbs May 3-4-5.

Prior to the Howard College meet, the Howard College boys were esconced in first place in regional standings while the girls may have taken over first place with their strong showings here.

The National Collegiate Finals are scheduled June 13-16 in Lake Charles, La.

Sunday's results:

Overall winner — Buddy Reynolds, Texas Tech, 214.

Steer wrestling — 1. Brad Churchill, West Texas State, 5:07; 2. Mack Altizer, Howard College, 6:15; 2. Sam Koeling, Sul Ross, 6:48.

Colorado High Student Council Sponsor Kathy Wilson said students were exchanged for the day to "get a different viewpoint."

We try to have an exchange day every year." Colorado High is a smaller, 2-AA school while Big Spring is a 4-AAAA school.

Big Spring High School students were very favorably impressed with Colorado High School, according to Big Spring Student Council Sponsor Craig Fischer. He passed out a rating sheet to students after the visit soliciting opinions of the lay out of the building, how the halls and cafeteria looked, the food and the teachers. Big Spring students were impressed that Colorado High students' lockers required no locks.

Miss Wilson said Colorado High students commented on how much larger Big Spring High School is than Colorado City High School. She said she had not decided yet how to ask the students to rate the school.

A small party at 3 p.m. in the Big Spring High cafeteria will unite the two student councils but otherwise sponsors plan to keep the school day as normal as possible. Big Spring Student Council members have paired off with Colorado High School Student Council members to attend classes with them.

Colorado High School initiated Exchange Day in this student council district. Fischer said Big Spring would probably follow suit next year.

Colorado High has exchanged student council members for three years. Council members from Colorado High have also been to high schools in Winters and Big Lake.

Amazing stories told insurance firms

If news reporters sometimes seem a bit jaded, probably it is because they're heard every conceivable kind of story and most of them more than once.

Claims people who work for insurance companies, no doubt, come to feel the same way. The truth amazes sometimes and a few of the people go to great lengths to concoct stories hoping the insurance firms will 'buy' them.

One national company (Aetna Life & Casualty) has prepared some gold nuggets, stories it has screened from a stream of millions of claims processed in 1978. Some are worth sharing, if for no other reason that some people may need to borrow a story in a pinch.

CONSIDER THE New England constables who thought they had rounded up a band of thieves red-handed loading the contents of a home into a van. One of the worthies convinced the police officers he actually was the home owner and was, unhappily, claiming what was his after a bitter divorce.

The embarrassed legal beagles bowed out, but not before offering to help the heist team. A later check showed even the homeowner's dog was missing.

Want a story with a different twist? A policyholder in New Jersey filed a claim after an appropriately named throw rug slipped out from under a house guest. The claimant insisted the guest 'spilled' blood all over her wallpaper.

A horse challenged an automobile in a contest in New York last year and won, according to another insurance claim. The car traveling along a bride patch startled the steed and its rider. The horse reared and the rider took a tumble. The rider started using language that would have melted the paint on a battleship and the horse spooked again. This time he left his calling card — hoofprints on the side of the car.

ONE CAR OWNER never hesitated to file a claim after his car went up in flames. He had the bright idea of defying winter by placing an electric blanket on his Volkswagen engine. A short circuit resulted. Needless to say, the VW owner won the 'I thought it was a brilliant idea' award for the day.

Ever go out hiking and walk right into a tree? One poor soul did, and promptly filed a claim. He blamed the dust and the noise distracted him. And how about the woman who was mugged by a cat in the front seat of a car? The tabby made tracks on the back of her neck after being rudely awakened from a sleep in the backseat. The driver was propelled forward by the rush of the cat, with the result some of her dental work was rearranged after hitting the steering wheel.

There's also the case of a jailed tossip who tripped on his shoe tongues and knocked out a gold tooth on a toilet seat. The luckless soul had been jailed for his own safekeeping and his shoelaces were routinely removed, because the police thought he might hurt himself. The gold tooth? It wound up somewhere in the sewer.

Newsmen and insurance claims adjusters have long since concluded that truth can be stranger than fiction and, too often, they wonder which they are hearing.

Each effort won

Around the rim

Carla Walker

Just over a week ago, I went to take pictures at the Special Olympics, held in Big Spring at Blankenship Field. Instead of just taking a couple of photos and leaving, I ended up staying most of the morning there, because I was so impressed by everything that was going on.

THE RESULT — in my job — was the picture page in Sunday's paper, but more important than the job was what I saw, and the way it affected me.

Special Olympics is a program for the Handicapped, but I've seen "normal" people with worse handicaps than those of the 16 participants in the Special Olympics.

Although not all of the 16 participants had muscle coordination, they all were eager to learn, eager to participate and eager to get along.

I have known people without what we call "handicaps" who had none of those traits, and wasted great potential to achieve. There was no wasted potential among those 16 hard-working kids.

They listened to their volunteer coaches, and the coaches were paid — not with money or anything tangible, but with love. The mutual respect between the participants, and between them and their coaches showed itself in many ways, but most of all in comradery and all around fun.

And, every effort won. Not just first place, not just second was important; to the group on Blankenship field, 16th place was just as respected and valued as first — provided number 16 gave his effort as completely as number one. That is a healthy "winning" attitude.

SOMETIMES, WHEN I accomplish a task, I feel proud of myself. But, seeing those kids finish a race, knowing how much effort it required, seeing them jump or throw a softball and knowing that that accomplishment took more concentration for them than most of my everyday tasks made me feel very humble.

Most of all, I was impressed with the love between all the individuals, and the group's willingness to accept me, a stranger, into that fun and fellowship. I found myself more and more involved as each event came along, thanks to their little ways of showing me I was welcome.

If everybody had as healthy an attitude toward competition, and if we all were as easy to get along with as the 16 kids and the volunteers, it would be easy to solve a lot of the conflicts in our society.

The conflicts would be solved, because they would never exist.

Tightening money

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — In a reversal of the roles normally played in a Democratic administration, Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal is pressing a resistant Federal Reserve Board to tighten the money supply as an anti-inflation weapon.

Blumenthal, who has developed into the most conservative economic force in the Carter administration, believes the money screws must be considerably tighter before there is any hope of controlling inflation. But William Miller, the Federal Reserve chairman, insists that any further tightening would put far too much of a strain on the economy.

IN RECENT DEMOCRATIC administrations, it has been the Fed leading the way in tightening money while the more liberal Treasury howls in protest. Ironically, when President Carter selected Democrat businessman Miller to succeed to highly conservative Arthur Burns to run the nation's central bank, White House aides forecast he would be much more amenable to the president's wishes.

An added ironic twist is the fact that major opposition to tightening money within the reserve board is centered among conservative followers of Dr. Milton Friedman's monetarist theories. Despite the uncontrolled inflation, they view the present size of the money supply as just about right.

MADAME PRIME MINISTER
The prospect of Conservative Margaret Thatcher succeeding Laborite James Callaghan as British Prime Minister as a result of the forthcoming election does not fill President Carter and his top aides with joy.

On her last visit to Washington, Carter did not find time to see Mrs. Thatcher. Her visit with Vice President Walter F. Mondale was much less than satisfactory. Instead, she spent much of her time talking to conservative Republicans.

She is particularly out of step with the Carter administration on economic policy. "I would say she would be a very right-wing Republican in this country," one senior official in the Carter administration told us. She makes no secret of the fact that far and away her favorite U.S. secretary of the treasury was the last Republican to hold that office, the conservative William Simon.

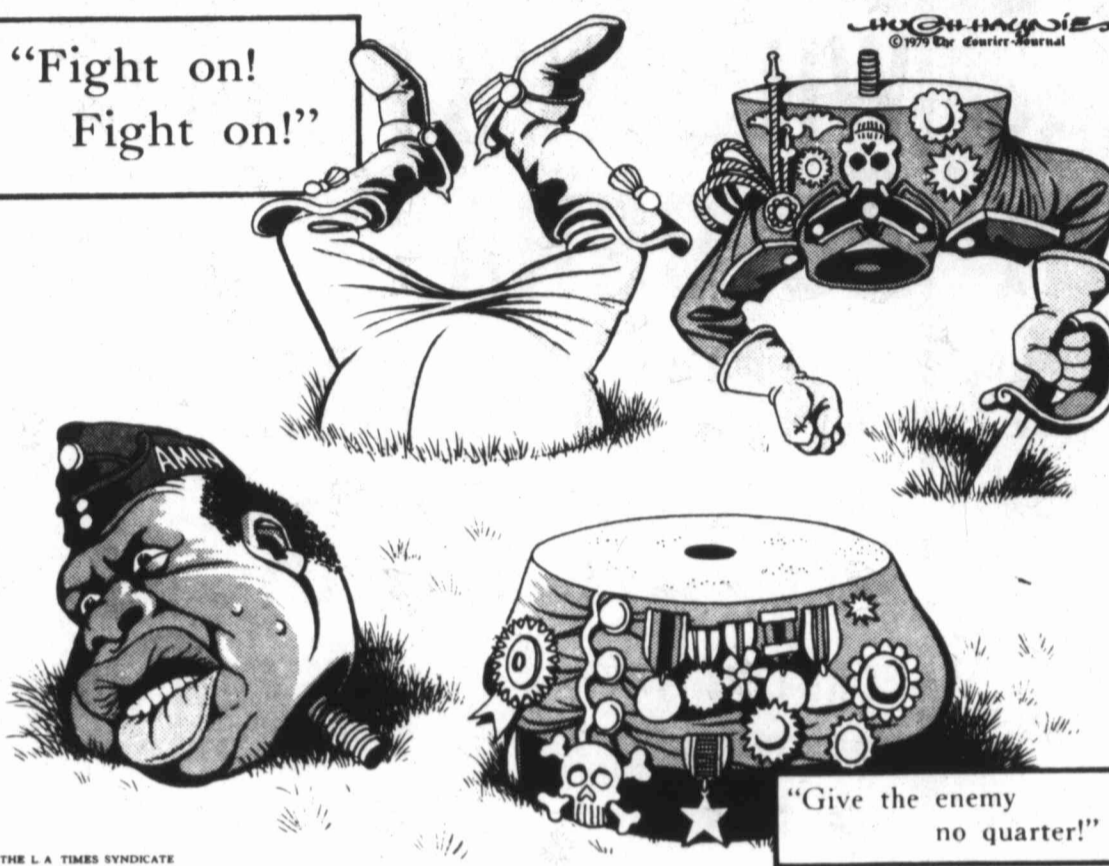

SHADES OF LBJ
It was almost as though Lyndon B. Johnson were back in the White House the morning of April 3 when President Carter and his senior advisors gathered to put the finishing touches on his energy message.

Bits and pieces of Carter's decontrol of oil prices had been appearing in print for several days (including our column of the previous day), and a fairly definitive version was run in that morning's New York Times. The wailing over the president being upstaged on his own program was worthy of LBJ.

Satur Eisenstat, the usually calm and unflappable domestic policy chief at the White House, was in a towering rage. Gerald Rafshoon, the chief White House publicist, displayed sarcasm instead of anger. "Why should the president deliver the speech?" asked Rafshoon. "It's already appeared in the paper."

Actually, it would have been surprising if the plan had not leaked out. Over the previous weekend, Eisenstat had briefed about two dozen sub-cabinet-level officials. When that many people know something in Washington, it ceases to be a secret.

Tubes in ears react to pressure

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: How can one get rid of congested eustachian tubes when pills won't work. Everytime I swallow there is a clicking sound in my ears, and when I eat my ears itch. — E.B.

Let's take a minute to discuss these tubes. Most people who have taken airplane rides or gone up in an elevator in a tall building or traveled in the mountains have learned they have eustachian tubes. These are air passages from the throat to the ears, and their purpose is to maintain proper pressure in the ears. Since man's natural environment is not flying thousands of feet above the ground, maintaining correct pressure in flight becomes difficult.

A balloon will expand as it rises. If it gets too high it may even burst in an attempt to equalize inner pressure with the thinner atmosphere outside. Similar forces affect the eustachian tubes. In an airplane during ascent, air tends to rush in and force the eardrums to bulge outward. In descent the drums bulge inward.

Now, to your questions. A person like yourself, who has trouble at normal elevation, is dealing with a slightly different situation. Tubes can become blocked, causing pressure differences that create a feeling of fullness, unpleasant noises, and hearing loss. Fluid may accumulate in the ears. Allergy, infection (as in sinusitis) or enlarged adenoids may cause blockage. In some a tumor might be a cause.

You don't tell me what pills you are taking. Nasal decongestants (to shrink membranes), antihistamines (for allergy) and steam inhalation can help. Antibiotics may be needed if there is infection. Sometimes fluid is drawn out with a needle, or air blown into the tubes to clear the passages. These mechanical techniques usually give only temporary relief but can be performed if there is great pain. Ideally, the answer is to track down the specific cause of the blockage and treat that.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I was appalled to hear from so many old friends who had cataracts. What could be causing this? Color TV perhaps? Is there something in our way of life that is damaging our eyes? — E.K.M.

TV gets blamed for a lot of things, but it has nothing to do with cataracts.

Cataracts (clouding of the eye lenses) is one of the unfortunate consequences of aging. The reason for the rise in cataracts is that people like yourself and your friends are living longer than they used to.

Out to get Sadat

Jack Anderson

TRIPOLI — Deep in the shadows of the Israeli-Egyptian negotiations, a team of assassins has been watching for a chance to upset the peace and turn the triumph into tragedy.

Ironically, these grim plotters may actually have helped to bring Israel's Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Egypt's President Anwar Sadat together. But they haven't abandoned their attempts to murder the men who, in their view, have betrayed the Arab cause.

The story goes back to the summer of 1977 when a team of terrorists allegedly carrying Libyan documents, slipped into Cairo. They had murder on their minds.

The details are shadowy; the Central Intelligence Agency still hasn't pieced together the full story. But high on their hit list, our sources say, was the name of Anwar Sadat. The American ambassador in Cairo, Hermanson Eilts, was also marked for assassination.

THE MASTERMIND behind the plot, according to intelligence sources, was Libyan dictator Muammar Qaddafi. Early in his political development, he had come under the spell of the charismatic Gamel Nasser, the late Egyptian leader, who raised the banner of Pan-Arabism in Cairo.

Nasser's death, Sadat's succession and Qaddafi's coup only strengthened the fierce young Bedouin's determination to make Nasser's dream come true. Qaddafi tried to unite Libya with Egypt as the first step toward creating one great nation. Intelligence reports claim that Qaddafi even lived for awhile in Sadat's home.

But the dream somehow turned sour. The uncompromising Qaddafi felt that Sadat had betrayed the Nasser ideal and had become a traitor to the Arab nation. Sadat developed an equally unflattering opinion of Qaddafi. "Magnoun," he called Qaddafi, meaning crazy.

The Libyan leader, meanwhile, opened his country to Palestinian extremists. Intelligence reports claim he helped to organize some of them into an assassination team. The reports vary on whom he had in mind for targets. One reportedly was his former Cairo host, another the American ambassador in Cairo.

In any event, Israeli intelligence got wind of the plot and tipped off the Egyptians. The contact was made through Morocco, where Israeli foreign minister Moshe Dayan made two secret trips to see Sadat's confidant Hassan Tohamy.

According to one report, Sadat confirmed the Israeli tip, rounded up the culprits and registered his displeasure with Qaddafi by sending his armed forces to blast Libyan border outposts.

THE UNITED STATES handled the threat against Ambassador Eilts in a quiet manner. A top State Department official simply called the Libyan charge d'affaires, Shadan Gashut, and notified him that the United States had full knowledge of the plot and Qaddafi's backstage role in it.

I looked up Gashut in Tripoli. He confirmed that he had received the dramatic call but denied that Libya was involved in the plot to assassinate Ambassador Eilts.

In Cairo, meanwhile, the assassination tip is said to have persuaded Sadat that he could deal with his old foe, the Israelis. Thus Qaddafi's alleged plot may have had a different result than he had intended. Now Israel and Egypt are at peace, freeing combat divisions to move from the Israeli to the Libyan border.

But in the Bedouin tent that Qaddafi has pitched outside his palatial headquarters in Tripoli, he tersely denied having anything to do with the plot to kill Sadat. "How is it possible to believe such a thing?" he asked me. "Sadat will be exterminated by the Egyptian people. That is the correct way."

Still intelligence reports continue to carry vague but sinister reports of assassins lurking in the bazaars and alleyways of the Middle East. One report warned that they hoped to knock off Sadat during his historic peace mission to Israel. The hour of greatest danger, sources told me, was during his visit to Jerusalem's Mosque of Omar where King Abdullah Ibn Hussein of Jordan was assassinated in 1951.

But the Sadat trip to Israel was arranged too hastily for the assassins to make sufficient preparations, my sources suggested.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am in my 70s and am afraid I waited too long to turn to Jesus. I've been praying for forgiveness but am not sure I've been saved. — L.S.

DEAR L.S.: The Bible declares, "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9). This is God's Word, and you should trust what He has promised you in it.

I suggest you sit down with your Bible and read the First Epistle of John. Believe what you read and take careful note of the use of the word "know." You will have assurance that God has saved you as you come to "know" what He is doing in your life.

Everything that God does lasts for eternity. The work He is doing in your life is an eternal work. Your age is not important because that has to do with time. You are to live forever in God's kingdom and your 70 years on earth fade away into insignificance compared with eternity. "This is the promise that He hath promised us, even eternal life" (1 John 2:25).

Here is something else you need to know: "Ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin" (1 John 3:5). If you know that the sole purpose for which Jesus came to this earth was to take away sins, then you can be certain that He has taken yours away as you believe the truth of this great statement. "This is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment" (1 John 3:23). It is as you believe the Word of God that its teaching and God's promises come true in your experience.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

This is a thank-you letter from the staff of the Anthony Hunt Library on Howard College campus. We wish especially to thank the Big Spring Herald for the many articles which they have continually published, boosting the library. We wish also to thank the Howard College El Nido and the Hawk Reporter publications for their printing of our articles. Every one of these published items has increased our circulation. But, of course, we wanted more — we weren't reaching everyone we needed to bring in.

Around the middle of January of this spring semester we began a concentrated campaign to try and make it known to every resident of the Howard College area that ours is a community library, not just a college library. Over and over through the years we have urged the public to come in and use our excellent facilities — our reference section, our microfilm, newspapers, periodicals, copying machine, current paperback books, etc.

So we sent out letters to all area school superintendents and principals, inviting teachers to bring classes to us for orientation and any kind of help we could give them, and urging juniors and seniors to come for their own borrowers' cards. We wrote the editor of Big Spring High School's The Megaphone, asking juniors and seniors to claim their own borrowing permits. We put out posters in places of business, showing the eligibility of all area residents to use the Library, giving our hours and the information that we are open six days a week (one a Sunday afternoon), and four nights until 9:00 p.m.

Radio stations KBYG, KBST and KHEM helped us by giving us an ongoing series of library mentions in their free advertising spots.

We have had great results from these contacts and our advertising. Classes have come in for orientation and to use the library — Aline Bohannon and Marilyn Reed brought their AWAKE students from Coahoma. Ann Gates brought her seniors from Grady. Many high school juniors and seniors from Big Spring High School and from area high schools have come to obtain their borrowers' cards and to use the Library at nights and on Sundays.

But the most exciting advancement that we have made is a jump in circulation and the number of borrowers' cards which we have issued. The first week of our campaign we had 15 new borrowers; during the month of March we had 85 new patrons, and for the ten-week period ending March 27, we had issued 154 new borrowers' cards to area and community residents and to high school students from Big Spring and the Howard College area.

We want to stress again our hours: We are open Monday through Thursday from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. On Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

It has always been frustrating to librarians to see treasures in the libraries go unused, but it was gratifying to this librarian to know that President Truman shared this same feeling. In Merle Miller's plain speaking, an oral biography, Truman remarked on the Library of Congress and how impressive it was; how he loved to spend time there. And — to quote him — "What surprised, what disappointed me about the Congressional Library was how few members of Congress ever seemed to use it; I used to go in there and there sometimes wouldn't be anybody else there except a few young people and the librarians. Seldom any — very seldom any members of Congress. I couldn't understand it then, and I still can't."

Mr. Truman, you spoke from the heart of every librarian. Mary Crawford, Head Librarian The Anthony Hunt Library Howard College Campus

Dear Editor: I am sorry officials of the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 feel the way they do.

I still believe, after talking with our attorney, that the city of Coahoma was favored by Judge Hume Cofer's ruling, but I don't feel I want to smear this thing through the media so I have no further comment except to again express my hope that the matter is settled.

Joe Swinney (Coahoma mayor)

Kentwood kindergarten makes 'gingerbread boy' come to life

THE GINGERBREAD BOY
Chris Jordan

The kindergarten classes of Kentwood Elementary School presented an operatta version of "The Gingerbread Boy" and some selected songs, to the Kentwood Parent Teacher Association as well as many members of the faculty with two performances April 3.

The cast of the morning classes included Naquai Horn as Little Old Woman; Michael West, Little Old Man; Chris Jordan, The Gingerbread Boy; and Jeffrey Johnson, The Fox.

Students participating in the cast of the afternoon classes were Tresa Ward, Little Old Woman; Jeffrey Terry, Little Old Man; Mark McKinney, The Gingerbread Boy; and Kyle La Rochelle, The Fox. All other students participated as cows, horses and pigs.

Kindergarten teachers coordinating the program were Sharon Sebastian, Shirley Burgess, Laura Lowry and Betty Birdwell. All masks were made by aide Betty Sadler.

Costumes were arranged through the Parent Involvement Program and were made by Donna Gannaway.

As a special treat, 15 dozen homemade gingerbread men were made by Thelma Carlile for the kindergarten students. Mrs. Carlile is the wife of Kentwood Elementary Principal C.L.

Through this program, students achieved experienced in performing, gained increased self-confidence and experienced personal achievement in group participation.

Slides shown of Poland Tween 12 and 20

Kayla Gaskins, a graduate of Texas Tech, showed slides of and described her trip to Poland to the 1941 Study Club of Coahoma April 2 in the home of Mrs. Charlie Murphy, to 14 members and one guest besides herself, Mrs. Laverne Gaskins.

Poland was rewarding, she loved and appreciated the United States even more upon her return.

Mrs. Quail Dobbs, president, conducted the business meeting preceding Miss Gaskins report.

Miss Gaskins was secured by Mrs. Rob Etheridge who was in charge of the "Youth in Action" program to talk on her six month trip to Poland as a 1978 International 4-H Youth exchange student.

Two weeks was spent in Washington D.C. and two weeks in Poland learning the language before she was sent to work on various farms. She worked in the fields, grooming and caring for prize race horses and helping to make sauerkraut in huge vats from cabbage grown on one of the farms, among other chores.

Miss Gaskins commented that she appreciated her country when she left on her trip, though her trip to

The club's annual Senior party honoring the Coahoma senior class was discussed.

Mrs. Dwayne Clawson and Mrs. Wendell Shive gave a committee report on the community improvement and beautification project. Plans are being made to begin painting downtown, cleaning up and improving shrubs and flowers.

This project also includes encouraging all members of the community to vote in the elections, and to provide transportation to the polls for those who need it.

The meeting adjourned with the group reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Phil Wynn.

Cheated

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Marilyn, 14, from Oroville, Calif., is concerned about her best friend cheating in an English class. Beverly Jefferson, 14, who lives in Modesto, Calif., and Tim David, 13, Michigan City, Ind., will add the teen point of view.

Dr. Wallace: I am a freshman in high school and my best friend and I are taking English in the same class. At present we are writing poetry and we are having a difficult time trying. This morning when I picked her up for school, her mother was writing a poem for her and said, "I hope this will help your grade."

I'm mad because even though I'm not a good poet, I was better than she was. Now she will get a better grade than I will.

Should I tell the teacher? What do you suggest?—Marilyn, Oroville, Calif.

Marilyn: Not only is your girlfriend guilty of cheating, she, in fact, was cheated.

You will learn the basics of poetry writing and your friend will learn only how to read Mother's poetry.

Do share with your friend that she is only cheating herself and that you do not appreciate the fact she is improving her grade this way. Hi Marilyn: I wouldn't be a "fink" and squeal to my teacher, but I would tell my mother. Knowing my mother very well, I know she would call my friend's mom and would set her straight. After all, if the teacher grades on the curve, your friend's cheating could lower your grade — Beverly Hello Marilyn: I think it would be tacky to tell your teacher that your best friend's mother is doing her homework, but I would tell your friend that her mother had her chance at high school, and if she wants to write poetry, she should take a college class.

You should be so lucky to have me in your class and my mother writing my poetry. She is a terrible writer. Good luck. — Tim

Crowd attends dinner

Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019, Order of the Eastern Star, honored master masons, their wives and families at a dinner March 31, at the Big Spring Lodge 1340, on Lancaster St.

Mrs. Dick Mitchell was master of ceremonies. Paul Sweatt made the introductions.

Carol Huff, worthy matron of Laura B. Hart 1019, introduced the chapter's special guests for the year, Mr. and Mrs. John Conley O'Neil, Odessa 4473, Mrs.

Lottie Sefton, chapter mother and Henry Sefton, chapter sweetheart. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sid Abrams, Perth, Australia.

The program was directed by Mrs. Dick Mitchell. Gordon Hughes gave a brief talk on the brotherhood of masonry. Marvin Steen, incoming worshipful master, gave the history of the birthday of Big Spring Lodge 1340 on its anniversary. Invocation was by Dick Mitchell. Approximately 80 people attended the dinner.

Club learns tips

The Texas Star African Violet Club met April 5 at 7 p.m. in the office of Marie Rowland.

Meeting was called to order by President Lavelle Hill. Margaret Gentsch, Dorothy Jones and Mozelle Porter attended as guests.

The program was presented by Thelma Montgomery on "Growing Violets Under Lights." She stated that African Violets do better in an eastern window because the eastern sun in the early morning is usually more gentle than the afternoon sun.

Another benefit revealed by Mrs. Montgomery was that it was best for the plants to receive the sunlight in the morning when their energies are at a low ebb after hours of darkness.

"The early morning sunshine acts as a booster," explained Mrs. Montgomery. She also stated that if African Violets receive too much sun, the foliage will have a yellow, bleached appearance; the leaves in the center or crown will tend to knot up; petioles will be shortened; and leaves will turn downward. In extreme cases, flowering will decrease.

As a result of too little light, leaf stems will be longer than plants of the same variety grown with sufficient light; foliage will appear light in color and bloom will be sparse or non-existent.

"If a plant is lopsided, it needs regular turning so that all parts will get equal light and symmetrical growth will develop," said Mrs. Montgomery.

If using fluorescent lights, they need turning from 15 to 18 hours a day. Plants under fluorescent lighting require more fertilizer than plants at a window, concluded the speaker.

Protem makes presentation

The Big Spring Howard County Retired Teachers' Association met March 27 in the Tumbleweed Room at the Howard College Student Union Building.

Mrs. Margaret Baum entertained those attending with music.

Mrs. Polly Mays, mayor pro tem, gave a presentation with pictures about the interesting places and people in Howard County and surrounding areas.

The next meeting will be a covered dish meal at the First Presbyterian Church April 24.

Council meets

The City Council of Beta Sigma Phi met April 5 in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Jo Ogle presided at the meeting and all chapters were represented with past and present representatives.

Members discussed the Founder's Day Banquet which will be held April 26 at the Country Club.

The council voted and elected Helen Gladden as Howard County Woman of the Year.

Elected as 1979-1980 officers were Maria Faulkner, president; Rose Stuckler, vice president; Theronne Baker, corresponding secretary and Jo Ogle, treasurer.

Being a Grandfather Isn't Grand to Him

DEAR ABBY — Our 16-year-old daughter recently married a boy my husband doesn't approve of, but she was pregnant at the time and it seemed the best solution. (She didn't tell us she was pregnant until it was too late to do anything about it.)

The baby was born three months after they were married. It was a little boy, so they named him after my husband, hoping it would soften him up, but it didn't work. Our son-in-law is going to college and working, too, trying to make something of himself, but my husband hates him. He's still so upset over the whole business he hasn't even gone to see the baby yet. I go often, but I have to go alone.

Abby, I think my husband is acting like a stinker, but there's nothing I can do about it. Do you have any suggestions for getting him to forgive those kids and start acting like a grandfather? (Don't tell me to lock him out of the bedroom.) He would break down the door.

NEW GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: Quit begging your husband to forgive the kids and start acting like a grandfather. Unless he's a terminal stinker with a heart of stone, eventually he'll come around. And if he doesn't—it's his loss.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy who has been reading your column faithfully for years. I've seen many letters from girls asking how to say "no" to a boy without losing him permanently, but I've never seen a letter from a boy asking the same question about girls, so here goes:

I am tall and considered good looking by most people. My problem is that, on dates, girls sometimes want me to go farther than I know I should for the good of both of us.

How can I say "no" without making a fool of myself? Abby, I have discovered that the boy is not always the aggressor, so how about lending a helping hand to us guys by printing this letter and your answer?

BUDDY IN BELOIT

DEAR BUDDY: You have answered your own question very intelligently. At the appropriate time, say, "We have gone as far as we are going—for the good of both of us." (And if you make a "fool" of yourself with that statement, I know a lot of fine young women who are looking for the kind of "fool" you are.)

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell a relative that it's time she and her husband gave a party? When this couple moved to town over two years ago, they didn't know a soul. We introduced them to all our friends, and now our friends are their friends, too.

They are an attractive couple, well-liked and popular, but if they don't start inviting some of those people back, they won't be well-liked and popular much longer.

Since we, in a sense, sponsored them, we feel somewhat responsible for their social sins of omission. What do we do? I can hardly hold my head up.

KISSING COUSIN

DEAR COUSIN: It's not necessary to stick your neck out in order to hold your head up. If you're concerned about this couple's threatened loss of popularity as well as the reflection on yourselves, tell your cousin that when she starts to reciprocate her social obligations you'll be glad to help her. If she doesn't take the hint—you've done your part.

CONFIDENTIAL TO J AND K: Too much togetherness is unhealthy for a marriage. If you're together all the time, you'll have nothing new to tell each other. What could be more boring?

Birth announced

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Jones of Madison, Conn., announce the birth of their first child, Lindsey Sarah, born April 6 at 6:35 p.m. in Yale University hospital in New Haven, Conn. weighing 7 pounds 11½ ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cataldo, Madison. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Lottie McClure, and Berle Jones of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Reeder of Big Spring.

After trying to stab teen to death

Girls claim 'salvation'

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — The Rev. Lester Roloff says the five teen-age girls now are "among the sweetest girls on earth," but the girls say they tried to stab another girl to death at the evangelist's rehabilitation home less than a year ago.

The unsuccessful attempt to kill 16-year-old Misty Hardman occurred July 1, 1978, according to Rhonda Loftis, 16, a Tennessee native. Roloff said each of the five girls, which he describes affectionately as "my little murderers," now claim salvation. And the evangelist says their new outlooks constitute one of his "greatest victories."

Roloff's Rebekah Home and other facilities for wayward children have been under scrutiny by the state in a continuing flap over inspections. Roloff has prevailed. "Sometimes I can't believe we have come so far ... changed so much," said Miss Loftis. She said she stood watch while the stabbing occurred.

Terrie Thomas, 17, of Cincinnati said she was the "mastermind" of the scheme. She said she was sent to the Roloff home by an Ohio court after she was arrested for armed robbery and receiving stolen property. "The way I had it planned, if Misty didn't get killed, we would stab someone else until someone died and we could leave," Miss Thomas said. "We chose Misty because she was weak and wouldn't fight back."

Nueces County District Attorney Bill Mobley said he was "shocked" that something this serious and severe went unreported, adding he will ask a grand jury to look into the stabbing. "It was (Roloff's) law-abiding duty to report it," Mobley said. The prosecutor added it will be difficult to pursue the case now if the victim's family refuses to cooperate. He also said the jury could subpoena Misty's purported testimony if necessary.

Mike Faulkner Jaycee prexy

The Big Spring Jaycees recently elected their new officers. The installation banquet has tentatively been set for later this month. Elected as incoming president was Mike Faulkner. Robert Spiller is the new vice president for individual development; Louie Smith, vice president for community action; Jack Buckley, vice president for membership; Wayne Pierce, secretary; Robert Cox, treasurer; Mike Lammon, Nancy Marshall and Chuck Smith, directors; and Mike McKinney, legal counsel.

Angie Griffin, 17 of Virginia, said the attack happened after the five had been at the home about a month. "We hated it here," she said. "We thought if maybe a girl would die, we'd all get to go home." Miss Griffin said she did the actual stabbing with a serrated kitchen knife while Rhonda Meyers, 15, and Kathy Ticer, 14, held the victim down. Miss Meyers is from Dayton, Ohio, and Miss Ticer is from Corpus Christi.

Mobley replied, "That's the most bizarre thing I've ever heard. If this kind of thing goes unchecked, next time there could be a murder...there could be a death." The girls said they stole the weapon from the home's kitchen and hid it in a toilet tank. "I was such a child of the devil," Miss Loftis said. "I couldn't wait for the stabbing to happen."

Mobley said he did not report the incident because he believed the girls are better off at his youth home than in prison. If the girls "had succeeded in murder, I would have reported the crime. Not to would have made me dishonest," he said. Mrs. Hardman said Roloff aides asked her, "You aren't going to press charges, are you?" "They knew we were Christians and meek and didn't want to cause any trouble," Mrs. Hardman said.

Names in the news

ALI MCGRAW

VIVECA LINDFORS

Actress robbed of medal

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Viveca Lindfors says she has put a message on her telephone answering machine just for burglars, telling them "no use coming here, it's all gone." Thieves broke into her East Side townhouse Saturday night and stole silverware, ornaments and a rarely awarded Swedish royal medal, Miss Lindfors told police. The Swedish-born actress said Sunday that the stolen medal was the Wasa Order, a 2-inch gold and enamel cross awarded her four years ago. The medal is supposed to be returned on the death of the recipient.

Rage, alcoholism linked

SOUTH KINGSTOWN, R.I. (AP) — Actress Mercedes McCambridge says the underlying cause of alcoholism is universal rage. Miss McCambridge, a recovered alcoholic, said rage is not always hidden deep inside a person; sometimes it's close to the surface. "That's how I was able to play the voice of the demon in 'The Exorcist.' I just let all of my rage come out," she said during a series of lectures at the University of Rhode Island. "All you need is a half-hour with an alcoholic and you can find out the exact moment that his rage began," she said. "It's the essential loneliness in all of us that accounts for the rage and frustration of our times," she said.

Star's passport found

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people seek out film stars so they can get something from them, such as an autograph. But a New York medical student wants to find actress Ali MacGraw to give something back. Gary Nikolis, a 26-year-old senior at Lutheran Medical Center, found a passport in the name of Alice MacGraw in a taxicab. "The passport must have been on the seat because when I got out, the passport fell to the ground," the student said. He turned the passport over to the Daily News on Saturday and asked for help in reuniting the actress with her missing property.

Too old for marathon

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Carter says he thinks he is too old to enter a marathon race, even though he jogged 3 1/2 miles from his mountaintop retreat to a state park and then scaled rocks to the top of waterfalls. Wearing a dark blue jogging suit, the president and his 11-year-old daughter, Amy, walked up the large rocks Sunday toward the tip of the falls as Rosalynn Carter, her hair pinned up, sat on a rock at the base. Carter skipped across a shallow creek on rocks and briefly greeted a small crowd that had gathered to watch him. After the brief outing at Cunningham Falls State Park, he and his family ended their three-day holiday here and returned to Washington.

Vote canvass slated tonight

STANTON — Results of last Saturday's municipal election will be canvassed at tonight's meeting of the Stanton City Council, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., at City Hall. Following the canvass, new members Billy Wheeler and Jim Graves will be sworn in. Subsequently, a mayor pro-tem will be selected. Bids will also be accepted on Lots 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 in Block 38 of the original townsite.

College accepting VN applications

The Howard College School of Vocational Nursing is now accepting applications for the next class which will begin in September. This class, which will be limited to 30 students, is a 12 month course including 584 classroom hours and 1250 hours of clinical experience. On successful completion of the course, the student and school faculty will submit a completed application for State Board examination. On passing the State Board examination, the applicant will be a licensed vocational nurse as registered in Texas.

Seminar is set on alcoholism

The Big Spring State Hospital will conduct its thirty-eighth alcoholism seminar Friday in the auditorium at the Big Spring State Hospital. These seminars are made possible through the Big Spring State Hospital and are being held in conjunction with Howard College. Marty Lumpkin, Ph.D., Director of the Terrell State Hospital Alcoholism Program, Terrell, will be the consultant for this day-long seminar. This seminar will be of interest to those working in the field of alcoholism and to those of the general public, who are interested in learning more about this problem. Registration will begin at 8 a.m., and the general session at 9 a.m. A registration fee of $1 will be charged for those wishing to receive Continuing Education Units from Howard College. The theme for the day will be: "Creativity and Addiction: A Model of Health and Diminished Living." Additional information may be obtained from Clyde J. Alsop, Training Officer, Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Program, Big Spring State Hospital.

A crowd estimated at 300 attended a fish fry in the clubhouse. Hunnicutt arranged to get the fish for the party.

Austin voters want to share in South Texas nuke project

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — For the fourth time, Austin voters have decided they want a share in building the South Texas Nuclear Project near Bay City, 135 miles southeast of the Texas capital. In a close election that was watched nationwide Saturday, about 34 percent of the city's eligible voters decided to retain 16 percent interest in the $2.07 billion power project. The decision means that $215.85 million in revenue bonds will be issued to take care of cost overruns above and beyond the original $161 million bond issue voted in 1973. It was the first vote on a nuclear issue since the March 28 nuclear accident in Pennsylvania, which local officials said put heavy pressure on the local campaign. Even after the vote counting ended near midnight Saturday, anti-nuclear supporters demonstrated, chanting "Sell the nuke. Sell the nuke." Pro-nuclear officials, who admitted they had little hope after the Three Mile Island incident, near Harrisburg, Pa., were elated. "I think the citizens of Austin just had the good sense to make their decision despite a lot of disturbing things like the Harrisburg incident," said Herb Woodson, head of the pro-nuclear Committee on Economic Energy. "They finally realized that nuclear power is safe and relatively inexpensive." The issuance of $215.85 million in bonds to retain the 16 percent interest was one of four questions put to voters in a referendum that accompanied the city's regular election of city officials. It passed by 53.15 percent or 28,430 to 25,037. The other three propositions on the ballot failed. Authorization for the city council to sell the 16 percent interest failed 26,436 to 25,500. Early Saturday night it appeared confused voters might approve both retaining the 16 percent and selling it, which would have probably required another election. Issuance of $434 million in bonds for a new coal or lignite generator for Austin failed 40,430 to 10,247. Authorization of the City Council to use proceeds from sale of the 16 percent in building the coal-fired generator failed 39,420 to 11,534.

Fire arms course is scheduled

The Adult and Continuing Education office announces a ten-hour course in Fire Arms Instruction. The course will cover such topics as safety, range commands, and match competition. The lecture part of the course will be held Friday, April 20, Friday, from 6-8 pm in Room 102 of the Horace Garrett Building. On Saturday, April 21, demonstrations and performance practice will be held from 8-12 noon and 2-6 at the Sportsman Club range. The course will be limited to 15 participants. Students must furnish their own weapons and ear muffs for the course. A .38 or .357 revolver are the only weapons acceptable. Ammunition and targets will be provided by Howard College. Cost of the course, $27.50 covers this service. Students must be 21 years of age and never convicted of a felony. Each student will be required to present a social security number and a driver's license. It will be imperative that each student sign a waiver of liability which will be notarized. Applicants will be screened. The instructor for the course is Gary Porter. Mr. Porter is a certified firearm's instructor. His assistant will be George Wanner. Wanner is a retired marine corp officer. The instructors' objective is to teach the public safety in handling the revolver in the home and on the range. Students must come by the Adult and Continuing Education office to complete registration. Registration will close at 5 pm Wed. April 18. For more information, one can call 267-6311 ext. 70.

Astros win another one; Roseless Reds in gear

By the Associated Press

It took the Cincinnati Reds four games to get untracked without Pete Rose. After 2½ games, Philadelphia still hasn't won with him—but at least the Phils are on the right track.

Cincinnati, which had lost its first three games to San Francisco, used Rick Auerbach's pinch-double and Joe Morgan's run-scoring single in the 10th inning for a 7-6 victory over the Giants Sunday.

The Phillies, who have shown only occasional bursts of punch in this young season, had dropped their first two games to St. Louis. They were on their way to a victory over the Cardinals Sunday when the rain dampened their spirits.

But because of a new rule, they'll be able to keep their 3-2 sixth-inning lead when the teams resume play June 29, so at least they're a little more than halfway to a victory.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Houston blanked Atlanta 2-0, Montreal shaded Pittsburgh 5-4 and Los Angeles beat San Diego 6-5 in 12 innings. The New York Mets' game against the Cubs in Chicago was rained out.

The fact that Rose isn't around has had no dramatic effect on the Reds, veteran pitcher Bill Bonham observed.

"Really, it's too early to tell," he said. "If Philadelphia had won three quick games, they would have said it was because of Rose. And I suppose since we lost three somebody would say that's because of Rose. But with both teams losing, I don't think anybody really cares."

George Foster hit his seventh career grand-slam home run, two shy of club leader Johnny Bench, and Dan Driessen hit a solo homer for Cincinnati. Roger Metzger had a two-run triple and an RBI single for San Francisco.

Suspended

"You like to win them all, but you can't do anything about two that you didn't," said Rose. "When the ball club starts scoring runs, we'll win." He's doing his part, hitting .300 so far.

Larry Bowa, set up the Phils' go-ahead run with a sixth-inning single. Mike Schmidt doubled to break a 2-2 tie.

Astros 2, Braves 0

If knuckleballer Joe Niekro had any thoughts of matching Houston teammate Ken Forsch's feat of becoming part of a no-hit brother act, Atlanta's Jerry Royster dispelled them in a hurry with a leadoff single. But Niekro settled down and allowed only four hits the rest of the way en route to his 13th career shutout.

Expos 5, Pirates 4

Willie Stargell became Pittsburgh's all-time extra-base hit king with 870 as he hit a two-run homer that pushed him past Honus Wagner.

CROWD PLEASER — Houston Astros' pitcher, Ken Forsch, waves to fans at the Houston Astrodome Sunday after he thanked each of his teammates for their help and support Saturday night as he pitched a no-hitter against the Atlanta Braves. Back of Forsch are: coach Bob Lillis, pitcher Joe Sambito (35), and pitcher J.R. Richard (50).

Forsch retraces path to no-hitter

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Ken Forsch, the 190th pitcher to throw a major league no-hitter, tells the story.

"I was trying to make the Astros team in 1971. On the last day before we broke camp I pitched two innings in a 'B' game and gave up 11 runs in one inning and 10 more the next and didn't get anybody out.

"I figured that was the end of it. But the next day Jim Owens (pitching coach) told me I had made the team.

"I asked him how that was possible because I had given up 21 runs the day before. He told me, 'When I came to get you, you still didn't want to come out of the game. I figured anybody who still wanted to stay in the game after that must have guts.'"

Forsch was the unlikely hero again Saturday night when he started the Atlanta Braves, 6-0, with a no-hitter.

The 10-year veteran had a poor spring training, including a pair of shellings by Minnesota and Montreal, and was plagued by nagging injuries.

Two days before his first regular season start, an insect bite caused his left elbow to swell so painfully he was listed as a doubtful starter for Saturday's game.

"I felt terrible Thursday, but by Friday I was feeling great," Forsch said Sunday. "I actually felt stronger than usual because I had gone from last Tuesday without even warming up."

Forsch got hot quickly when the game started, however. He missed a perfect game by two batters, walking Jeff Burroughs in the second inning and Barry Bonnell in the eighth.

Pointing to his poor spring training can be misleading, Forsch said.

"I always have a bad spring training," he said. "I go to Florida to get my arm in shape for the regular season. I'm just glad spring training is over and we're into the regular season."

Forsch says a change in his pitching style over the years contributed to his no-hit effort.

"In my younger days, I probably couldn't have thrown a no-hitter," he said. "I mostly threw hard stuff and when you get into the seventh inning, it's hard to keep relying on fastballs every time."

Foyt wins fifth in a row

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — They might as well start calling it Foyt's Alley.

Ignoring what he believed to be a leaking rear tire, A.J. Foyt sped to his fifth consecutive victory Sunday at the Texas World Speedway to capture the $70,000 Coors 200 race for championship cars.

Sixteen cars started, seven finished, but only two endured 100 grueling laps and roared out of the final turn and in a desperate race for the checkered flag.

On the final lap, Gary Bettenhausen tried to slingshot out of the fourth turn, but the maneuver failed to gain the necessary speed. He finished one length and .03 of a second behind.

"I was having trouble with the right rear tire the last six

Spurs are champs

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Coach Doug Moe is relieved, Larry Kenon is confident and the San Antonio Spurs once again are champions of the National Basketball Association Central Division.

"I'm happy, but relieved," said Moe, who watched the Spurs lose five of their last seven home games before they clinched the division crown with a 117-101 win over the Cleveland Cavaliers on the last day of the regular season Sunday.

"I knew we had it when I heard the buzzer sound," said a smiling Moe.

Saturday night the Spurs took it on the chin, falling 123-106 in Houston to their Central Division rivals, the Rockets. But Sunday the champagne flowed once again in the Spurs dressing room as San Antonio captured its second consecutive division title before 10,055 fans in the Convention Center arena.

Deadlocked 31-31 at the end of the first quarter, Kenon picked up the offensive tempo for the Spurs scoring 12 of his game high 36 points in the second period.

The Spurs took a 57-49 advantage at the intermission and built on it in the second stanza, leading at times by as many as 17 points.

"They kept trying to slow the ball down but by the second quarter we were controlling the tempo even after we lost last night," said Kenon.

"We knew we were winners and we'll never take a back seat to anyone."

Kenon, who scored 21 points in the second half, was supported by George Gervin, the NBA's leading scorer, who finished with 21 points.

DENNIS THE MENACE

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, APR. 10, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is fine for working out the details of whatever has been left undone and to organize your efforts to get more accomplished in the future. Conditions break in your favor.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contact helpers early for work you have to do. Take time to improve health before seeking friends for recreation later in day.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Schedule your work so you can reach the peak of efficiency. You can be most creative now, so get into the spirit of things.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Know what it is that family members expect of you and aim to please. Handle important business early in the day.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Go after the information you need early in the day for best results. Use common sense in business dealings.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning should be devoted to business matters. Plan how to have more security in the future. Avoid one who is too talkative.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Put new ideas to work without delay. Show that you are progressive thinking and very logical. Advance through right channels.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Study your aims in life and take steps to achieve them. Get good suggestions from an adviser you like and trust.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Contact those friends early for whatever it is you have in mind and then get right down to work enthusiastically.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handle business affairs early in the day so you will have time for personal matters later. Handle your money wisely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make plans to put new ideas to work and then consult a higher-up for the support you need. Be logical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Complete unfinished duties at hand and then look into new interests that could result in greater success. Be wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal morning to make new arrangements with associates and then carry through with obligations you have assumed.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have every opportunity to get a good education and should be taught the importance of such, and then there can be much success. Give good religious training to strengthen the will and bring happiness.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Celtics in transition

BOSTON (AP) — After months of turmoil and the most disastrous season in 33 years in the National Basketball Association, the Boston Celtics are looking for new low-key ownership, a new coach and, hopefully, All-American Larry Bird to restore fallen pride.

The Celtics, missing the playoffs for the second year in a row with 13 NBA championship flags hanging from the Boston Garden rafters, ended a 29-53 campaign Sunday with a 127-101 romp over the New Jersey Nets.

Then, veteran center Dave Cowens, who became player-coach when Tom Sanders was fired last November, announced he was dropping the coaching position to concentrate on playing.

Cowens dropped the bombshell even as Bird was in another corner of the dressing room for a quick visit that wound up a weekend trip to Boston before he returned to Indiana State University.

Earlier, Harry Mangurian, a multi-millionaire businessman-sportsman who has been virtually a silent partner in ownership of the Celtics, said the "deal is all set" for him to acquire flamboyant John Y. Brown's 50 per cent share of the club at a meeting in Louisville, Ky. today.

Bird, the nation's college Player of the Year, was drafted by Boston last June. He was given a whirlwind tour of the city by his attorney, Bob Wolf, who will begin negotiations with the Celtics on Tuesday.

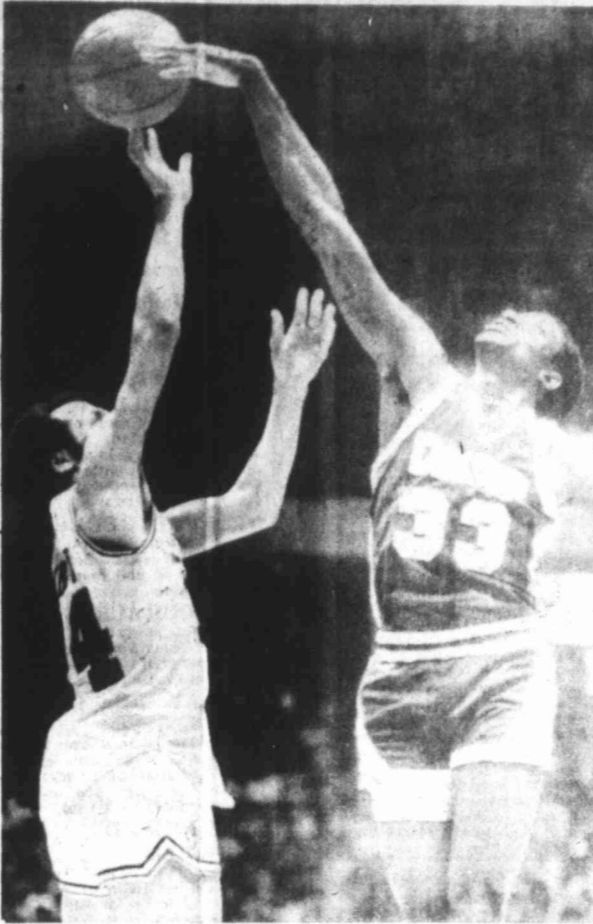

Mangurian said that President and General Manager Red Auerbach, architect of the championship clubs, would "run the team." However, he said that because of the amount of money involved in negotiations with Bird, "I will be involved."

"I have a figure in mind which I plan to offer," Mangurian said. "It's more than anyone ever has received entering professional sports. Of course, I have no idea what kind of money my agent will ask, but I know that our offer will be a good one."

Mangurian declined to disclose how much it would cost to buy out Brown, who aspires to become governor of Kentucky. However, most observers put the purchase price close to $4 million.

Cowens, who will be 31 in October, completed his ninth NBA season on the bench because of an injured ankle. Then, he announced that he was stepping down as coach, a decision he told the Celtics privately before the game.

BLOCKED — Denver Nuggets' David Thompson (33) blocks the ball on an attempted jump shot by Sixers' Henry Bibby in the second half Sunday's game in Philadelphia. Despite Thompson's 44 points the Sixers won, 112-111.

Kings' comeback complete

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Kings capped their remarkable comeback season Sunday by winning their first National Basketball Association division title in 27 years and earning a week's vacation.

The Kings beat the Indiana Pacers 107-101 to win the Midwest Division with a 48-34 record, finishing one game ahead of Denver and 17 games better than their record of a year ago, when they tied Indiana for last place in the division.

By winning, the Kings earned a bye through the best-of-three first round of the playoffs, which begin Tuesday night with Los Angeles at Denver and Portland at Phoenix.

The San Antonio Spurs also gained a bye after beating the Cleveland Cavaliers 117-101 Sunday to win the Central Division championship.

The Eastern Conference first-rounders begin Wednesday night, when New Jersey at Philadelphia and Atlanta at Houston. Those pairings were not set until the final day of the season, when the Philadelphia 76ers edged the Denver Nuggets 112-111 and the Houston

Rockets beat the Washington Bullets 112-102.

In other NBA regular-season finales Sunday, the Boston Celtics beat the New Jersey Nets 127-101, the Golden State Warriors trimmed the Seattle SuperSonics 89-86, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Phoenix Suns 111-103 and the Chicago Bulls topped the Detroit Pistons 117-107.

The last time the Kings won a division title was 1952, when the club was located in Rochester, N.Y., and nicknamed the Royals.

Kansas City Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons said many factors were involved in his team's success, but he gave special credit to rookie Phil Ford, who led the club in steals and assists and averaged 16 points per game.

"A lot of guys turned it around — they just got tired of losing," said Fitzsimmons. "But Ford is everything I expected he would be. He is the finest point guard in the league."

Ford's presence proved a boon to second-year guard Otis Birdsong, who blossomed into a scoring star now that he did not have to handle the playmaking chores.

The Kings will play the winner of the Portland-Phoenix series, while Pacific champion Seattle will take on the Denver-Los Angeles winner.

In the East, Atlantic titlist Washington will play the Houston-Atlanta survivor while San Antonio will oppose the New Jersey-Philadelphia winner.

76ers 112, Nuggets 111 Philadelphia finished with six wins in its last seven games, clinching the victory over Denver with Caldwell Jones' layup with seven seconds to play. That gave the Sixers a threepoint margin, enough to withstand a basket at the buzzer by the Nuggets' David Thompson, who led all scorers with 44 points.

Rockets 112, Bullets 102 Calvin Murphy sank 12 of 19 shots for 24 points as Houston dealt Washington, playing without three regulars, its third straight defeat.

John makes debut with Yanks

By The Associated Press

It was sink or swim for Tommy John.

"I thought I was on a boat out there," said John. "My foot was hitting the ground either too soon or too late."

Trying to maintain balance in his return to the American League, the lefthander eventually found his equilibrium as the New York Yankees beat the Milwaukee Brewers 2-1 Sunday.

"First-game-itis," was the way John described his opening Yankees' performance — a shaky first inning followed by a creditable six. He gave up six hits overall.

"The first game you've got to get your feet on the ground whether it's your first game of the season, the first game of the playoffs or the first game of the World Series," said John, who spent seven years with the Chicago White Sox in the American League, then seven with the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League. The Yankees obtained John from the Dodgers as a free agent last winter.

In other American League games, the Chicago White Sox beat the Baltimore Orioles 5-1, the Kansas City Royals defeated the Toronto Blue Jays 8-3, the Boston Red Sox edged the Cleveland Indians 7-6, the Minnesota Twins topped the Oakland A's 3-1, and the California Angels whipped the Seattle Mariners 7-5. The Texas-Detroit game was postponed by bad weather.

John walked Paul Molitor on four pitches to start the game. Molitor advanced on Don Money's grounder and scored on a single by Cecil Cooper.

Jim Spencer blasted a two-run homer in the second for the Yankees' runs, then John — displaying his well-known sinker ball — had the Brewers well in hand before Rich Gossage relieved.

White Sox 5, Orioles 1 / Rick Wortham and Lerrin LaGrow combined on a threehitter as Chicago defeated Baltimore. An RBI single in the first by Chet Lemon and a ranscoring hit by Greg Pryor in the fifth provided the White Sox with all the runs they needed.

Royals 8, Blue Jays 3 / Paul Splittorff pitched a fivehitter and George Brett collected four hits and scored three runs as Kansas City beat Toronto. A three-run rally in the fifth gave the Royals a 4-3 lead and all the runs they needed.

Red Sox 7, Indians 6 / Jim Rice scored on Jack Brohamer's infield out in the 12th inning, lifting Boston over Cleveland. Fred Lynn had hit a pair of two-run homers and Rice added a two-run single, giving the Red Sox the lead three times.

Twins 3, A's 1 / Geoff Zahn pitched a threehitter as Minnesota beat the A's and sweep a season-opening, three-game series. Minnesota scored two runs in the first inning without a hit off Mike Norris, who walked four batters and hit one in the inning.

Angels 7, Mariners 5 / Dan Ford knocked in three runs with two homers and a double and Carney Lansford's double in the eighth scored the winning run as California beat Seattle.

Floyd wins Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Ray Floyd read a little something extra into his dramatic victory in the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"It may be an omen," Floyd said after birdies on the final two holes gave him a five-under-par 67, a comeback from a six-shot deficit and sent him to Augusta, Ga. and the Masters as pro golf's most recent winner.

"There's certainly no reason I shouldn't be a factor in Augusta," Floyd said Sunday. "The year I won the Masters I did the same thing. I shot 66 in the last round here in Greensboro. Maybe it's an omen."

"Just like then, I've been playing better every week. When you're striking the ball well, making some putts, you get used to shooting good rounds and when the heat gets there you can handle it."

He was in plenty of heat in the final round. With two holes to play, he trailed two golfers by two shots and another by one.

"After the 16th, I looked at the leader board. I was four under par. I told myself, 'Well, you've just got to birdie the last two holes. It's that simple.'"

"I figured six under par was the number I had to shoot," he said.

And he did it.

Drawing on 17 years of pro golf tour experience, he ignored the two-iron shot the par 3 17th called for and hit a four iron low, "right through the wind," then birdied from 20 feet. And he birdied the 18th from 25 feet.

Forsan thinclads triumphant

The Forsan Varsity Girls Track Team took a commanding first at a weekend District Meet in Plains.

Forsan scored 131 points to outdistance seven other teams at the meet. Seagraves took a distant second with 84 points.

Lucey Thixton turned in the premier performance of the day, setting a new record of 59.21 in the 400-yard dash. This was just one of six firsts snagged by Forsan during the meet.

While the Forsan girls competed in plains, the boys' varsity took sixth place in an 11-team meet in Colorado City. That get-together was won by Stanton.

 Good chick, egg year likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department experts say poultry and egg producers are headed for another big year as shoppers look for ways to offset record high prices for red meat.

A big increase in pork supplies could dampen some poultry prices by this fall, but superheated consumer demand and the basic reduced output of beef will keep the industry on relative stable ground through this year and into 1980.

William E. Cathcart of the department's Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service says nothing is on the horizon to suggest a precipitous break in the thriving poultry industry.

"We may not get quite the seasonal gain (in prices) this spring and summer ... and there will be a seasonal drop in the fall that will depend partly on the pork situation," he told a reporter.

But Cathcart said it now looks as if broiler production probably will continue to expand in early 1980 at least, although probably not at the rate it has been growing.

Broiler output in the first quarter was up around 10 percent from a year earlier. Production for all of 1979 may be up 8 percent to 10 percent from last year.

Wholesale broiler prices averaged 47.5 cents a pound in the first quarter of the year, compared with 41.8 cents in the first three months of 1978, Cathcart said.

In the second quarter of last year, broiler prices jumped to 47.6 cents a pound, were 46.6 cents in the third and declined seasonally to 42.1 cents in the fourth.

An annual review by USDA shows that the combined gross income from poultry and eggs jumped by more than 11 percent last year to $7.91 billion from $7.1 billion in 1977.

Broilers accounted for $3.69 billion, a 20 percent increase. But gross income from eggs, at $2.92 billion, was down 3 percent from 1977.

averaged 26.3 cents a pound on a liveweight basis, up from 23.6 cents in 1977.

Lime growers would object

WASHINGTON (AP) — While most agricultural producers would be happy to see commodity prices at 100 percent of parity, lime growers right now would object.

An Agriculture Department weekly publication — the Farm Paper Letter — said today that "it's a seasonal thing" with limes.

In January, the report said, a 38-pound box of limes brought growers $8.89. That was only 67 percent of parity, the indicator which at 100 percent would give producers the buying power they had in 1910-14.

The February price of limes rose to $17.87 a box, 133 percent of parity.

Last month a box of limes brought an average of $42.67. That was 311 percent of the March parity price of $13.70 a box.

The newsletter said that a market reporter, John Toth of the department's Agricultural Marketing Service, Lakeland, Fla., explained that limes are produced year-around but that shipments in March and April are the smallest of the year.

Tractor course slated June 25-28 at Ackerly

A tractor maintenance short course for adult farmers will be held June 25-28 at Ackerly under the sponsorship of the Sands High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to Lon McDonald, teacher of vocational agriculture, and Bill Everett, Sands superintendent.

Richard Pivonka, tractor maintenance specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A&M University, will be the instructor. He is headquartered at Texas A&M University.

Pivonka received his B.S. degree in Mechanized Agriculture from Texas A&M University in 1975. From June, 1975 to April, 1977 he has worked for the Rio Grande Valley Sugar Growers, Inc. as a Mechanical Equipment Foreman. He was responsible for the maintenance of a wide variety of shop and field equipment.

The short course at Sands High is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. During the dates the short course is in progress, Pivonka will be available to assist farmers with individual tractor problems and to provide "on-the-farm" instruction, according to McDonald.

Farmers interested in attending the short course should write or call Everett, or McDonald. An entry fee of $5 will be charged. Tractor Maintenance Short Course certificates will be presented to each individual who attends all the training sessions.

Pivonka states that the key to longer tractor life comes from a full knowledge of the fundamentals of an engine and the application of the proper maintenance skills involving lubrication, fuels, carburetion, air cleaners, cooling systems, valves and ignition. Pivonka will cover the proper adjustments and maintenance of the above, with emphasis on the importance of each in obtaining a longer tractor life, and improved performance.

Throughout the short course, emphasis will be placed on "learning to do by doing" through the use of several demonstration tractors. All enrollees will have the opportunity to perform actual adjustments and maintenance on their own tractors. Safety and operating techniques will also be stressed.

"Short courses in tractor maintenance, as well as other subjects, are now available to farmers throughout the state under a cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University," stated Bob Jaska, associate professor, Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M University who coordinates the program for Texas A&M.

"This cooperative program," states Jaska, "is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people."

Specialists are now available in the fields of Beef Production, Farm Wiring, Electric Motors, Farm Arc Welding, Swine Production,

 Executive Vice President, Big Spring Area Ch. of Commerce Industrial Growth and Development

This past week I had the pleasure of visiting our U.S. Congressman in his Washington Office. Representative Charles Stenholm, in true West Texas style, was very cordial and hospitable. His staff reflected the boss's personality and really made me feel welcome.

I visited briefly with Charles, advising him of my meeting with the U.S. Chamber Food and Agriculture Meeting — noting that I wanted to acknowledge his position on the House Agriculture Committee and coordinate any information, position or point of view. I also invited Charles, his wife, Cindy, and the office staff to be my guests at the Texas Chamber of Commerce Executives Annual Reception in Washington during the U.S. Chamber Annual Meeting on April 30. He accepted and will join the other 23 Texas Congressmen and 2 U.S. Senators at the informal affair.

tailment of Agriculture Research over the past 2 years and the increased cost of grants and contract projects. Others present strongly supported the need to reverse the trend and a sub-committee will be appointed to examine in detail the research situations including the capacities of competing countries.

Reports on the Anti-Trust laws, Excess Acreage limitations and Environmental Issues rounded out the program.

All items examined will be considered for presentation to the Board, if such action appears appropriate. The next scheduled meeting of the committee will be in September 1979.

Mr. Palmbly concluded that Agriculture will play an increasingly important role in world politics and economics during the next two years and that we must prepare to meet the challenges of greater agricultural requirements.
