Rhodesian planes blast Zambia base; more raids predicted

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesian warplanes blasted a black nationalist guerrilla base in Zambia Saturday, only 24 hours after a Rhodesian commando raid on guerrilla headquarters in the Zambian capital of Lusaka.

A terse military statement said the air strike 100 miles inside Zambia was against "a terrorist camp at Mulungushi, which is situated 66 miles north-to-northwest of Lusaka. All Rhodesian aircraft returned safely to base."

It made no mention of casualties. Lt. Gen. Peter Walls, Rhodesia's supreme military commander, told reporters at a news conference there might be more raids before next week's general election. "Who knows," he said, "it might be on again tonight."

Earlier, the military command announced Rhodesian troops had killed 90 guerrillas inside Rhodesia in the heaviest fighting of the six-year war.

It issued a communique saying the guerrillas killed two Rhodesian soldiers and five black civilians in the fighting and that one "terrorist collaborator" was killed. It said the battle erupted after Friday's assaults inside Zambia.

Saturday's air raid was the latest in a series of cross-border strikes that have occurred almost daily in the past week. Walls said the air strike was directed against a base of Joshua Nkomo's Zimbabwe People's Revolutionary Army.

He claimed Friday's commando assault that destroyed Nkomo's home in Lusaka was not aimed at killing or kidnapping the guerrilla leader.

Zambian sources reported at least 10 guerrilla guards and three raiders were killed in the Lusaka attack, but Walls denied any raider had been killed.

Walls also confirmed two simultaneous raids Friday by Rhodesian forces into Botswana. He acknowledged for the first time that Rhodesian troops had seized captives during a raid in Francistown and said other commandos blew up a ferry boat in Kazungula.

Francistown is 25 miles east of the Rhodesian border, and Kazungula is 270 miles northeast of Francistown.

Botswana's President Seretse Khama said Friday that three people were killed in the ferry raid and 14 people had been kidnapped in Francistown. He condemned the raids as a "cowardly attack."

Nkomo's followers are based in Zambia while guerrilla leader Robert Mugabe, head of the Mozambique-based Zimbabwe African National Union, has bases in Botswana and Mozambique.

Decontrol of oil prices would up gas 3.6 cents, study says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's decision to phase out price controls on domestic oil will increase the cost of a gallon of gasoline 3.6 cents by 1981, according to a congressional study released Saturday.

The estimate, by the House Commerce subcommittee on energy, compares closely with administration projections that decontrol would push up gasoline prices 4 cents to 5 cents a gallon by September 1981. Other congressional estimates put the projected price impact at about twice that amount.

The subcommittee and administration estimates also do not include the effects of oil price increases that are expected from the oil exporting countries.

The subcommittee's report said that at its peak decontrol will cost consumers nearly $13 billion annually.

However, under Carter's phased-in approach, the impact will be felt gradually.

Chamber begins new drive for members at 7 Monday

The Kick Off Breakfast to formally open the Chamber's New Member Campaign will be held Monday at 7:00 a.m. at McDonald's Restaurant.

The New Member Campaign is conducted by the Ambassador Committee of the Chamber. Ambassadors will be working in teams under the direction of Team Captains: Ray Alexander, John Latham, Clyde McMahon, Jr. and Terry Newman.

Ambassadors will be calling on prospective New Chamber Members, Monday, April 16, through Friday, April 20. The Ambassadors will compete as teams and individually for points gained through their sales. The top Ambassador salesman will be recognized daily and the top team will be recognized Friday.

The public is advised to greet the Ambassadors with enthusiasm, he has a product to sell. Chamber officials call it "Our Program of Action." The Chamber is an Action Team that is already at work for Big Spring.

The Chamber of Commerce is the organization that brings people together, forming a strong cohesive force, working to build a better community; to develop better citizenship in the community, state and nation; and in doing so improves the economic stability and quality of life in the community.

Easter fanfare of joy heard 'round the world'

The bells ring out. The organs roll. Bright robes adorn the processional's. And the glad news resounds, "Christ is risen!"

That's the exultant note of Easter this Sunday morning, the fanfare of joy and confidence heralded by Christians around the world.

It was a public affair, back when it first began, too.

"This thing was not done in a corner," the apostle Paul declares in Acts 26:26.

It happened in the midst of high-level and official concern, and even the authorities knew of it after a shaken squad of soldiers assigned by the governor, Pilate, to guard the tomb reported it empty.

Bewildered, unable to explain it, they "told the chief priests all that had taken place," Matthew 28:11 relates, and also cites the agitated official collusion to try to cover up the occurrence.

None of those directly involved had expected it to happen, not even the closest friends of Jesus, and they doubted it for some time even after it happened, the records say.

"It seemed to them an idle tale," Luke 24:11 says of the apostles when the women brought word of the empty tomb. The apostles "did not believe them."

It seemed too incredible, wild, impossible to those hardheaded realists, just as it often seems today. They hadn't counted on it, hadn't put themselves in a psychic mood to imagine it. They wouldn't accept it — not until confronted by the resurrected Jesus himself.

The evidence of the event "is just as reliable as that we possess about any other important ancient event," says the Rev. Dr. Carl F. H. Henry of Arlington, Va., and in many ways more so.

It "comes from qualified witnesses who did not expect Jesus' resurrection and whose lives and mission were completely changed" because of it, he says in a sermon for a sunrise service on the mall in Fredericksburg, Va.

"The testimony comes also from Jesus' enemies — from the Sanhedrin, for example, that put a round-the-clock military guard at the burial place, only to have to confess that the tomb was indeed empty.

"It comes too from Saul of Tarsus, the officially appointed investigator and death-dealing persecutor of Christians."

Henry, an American Baptist theologian, educator and author, adds:

"If Jesus of Nazareth had not risen from the tomb the New Testament would never have been written and the Christian church would have never come into being.

"The fact of the resurrection event brought into being in the decades before Jerusalem fell in A. D. 70 a cluster of writings read by people all the way from Palestine to Rome.

"What's more, not a single known counterwork arose during the lifetime of the apostles to dispute the testimony of the gospels to the resurrection."

The sunrise service in Virginia was one of many across the country. At them, as well as in the celebrative liturgies of the churches, the resurrection is proclaimed in hymns, prayers and sermons.

They, too, focus on the mystery of it, its inexplicable nature, the bafflement that strikes people nowadays just as it struck those original followers.

When two of them came rushing back from Emmaus, reporting that the risen Jesus had walked with them along the road, the others remained skeptical. Even when he stood before them, "they were startled and frightened," Luke 24:36 notes.

The apostle Thomas who was absent on the earlier appearances scoffed at the others for claiming it, saying he wouldn't believe it until he saw and touched the wounds of Jesus' crucifixion.

But when Jesus confronted them all later, the dubious Thomas was overwhelmingly convinced, exclaiming, "My Lord and my God!"

It was an era of oral communication and the accounts weren't immediately put into writing. But one of the earliest was written by Paul about 50 A. D.

Paul relates in 1st Corinthians 15:5-6 that the risen Jesus "appeared to Cephas, then to the 12. Then he appeared to more than 500 brethren at one time, most of whom are still alive."

Invading soldiers find corpses, secret files in Amin's terror cells

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Rotting corpses and papers from secret files littered the grounds of Idi Amin's terror chambers at the State Research Bureau Saturday. Victorious soldiers helped Kampala residents loot shops and raid state warehouses.

Amin continued to elude pursuing Tanzanian and Ugandan exile troops. Inside the Research Bureau, where Amin held together his brutal eight-year reign with torture and murders, invaders found rotting bodies, prisoners shot this week by Amin's fleeing security agents.

Records of forced confessions and lists of informers to be paid off fluttered across the parking lot of the three-story, pink stucco building that stands among flowering trees, stately buildings and tranquil streets on Nakasero Hill. Amin's lodge is next door.

Hussein Mayambala, a 30-year-old technician, was one of the few who survived a stay in the Research Bureau's basement cells.

"I was taken in August 1976 and accused of plotting against Amin," he said. "They were right, but they never could make me talk."

"I spent two months seven feet underground in a cell without light or toilet. I was tied up and fed a piece of potato and a half glass of water every day."

"They forced me to sit naked on the neck of an upright bottle while they questioned me, and they put pins under my fingernails."

"Killing those people now would be like being invited for a cup of coffee. It would be nothing," he said. A municipal employee at Entebbe said, "We all kept quiet to live. You made a little noise and you were gone. You behave like a stupid fool and you were all right."

By some accounts as many as 300,000 Ugandans were killed by Amin's men in eight years.

At his official residence in Entebbe, 21 miles from Kampala on the shores of Lake Victoria, provisional President Yussufu Lule met with his Cabinet and told reporters gathered on the lawn that law and order was largely restored.

But unconfirmed reports in Nairobi, Kenya, said there was widespread violence beyond areas held by the Tanzanian and exile troops. Refugees reaching Kenya, mainly Moslems and Sudanese who were favored under the Amin regime, reported vigilantes had set up roadblocks inside Uganda.

Lule, sworn in Friday, said a court system would begin operating in a week. One of the first trials may be that of Amin. Tanzanian and Ugandan troops pushed north and east of the capital Saturday looking for the fleeing tyrant. They met little resistance from his few remaining men.

In Nairobi, oil company sources said Amin's private plane had been refueled at Soroti, in eastern Uganda, and that a Libyan crew was standing by. There was no sign of the fugitive president who reportedly fled to eastern Uganda with a few bodyguards.

"Amin is very fast indeed and difficult to catch," Lule said. "We hope we can do it."

Flash floods force 5,000 from homes

Flash floods spawned by two days of hard-driving spring rains forced at least 5,000 people from their homes in Mississippi and Alabama on Saturday and overflowed rivers and streams across the Southeast.

At least nine deaths — four each in Mississippi and Alabama and one in Georgia — were blamed on the flooding. The unusually heavy rains began Wednesday night and ended Friday afternoon.

In Alabama, the Red Cross said 1,000 families were staying in special shelters Saturday, and disaster crews were sent to Tuscaloosa, Birmingham and Wetumpka, north of Montgomery.

In Tuscaloosa, where the downtown area reported more than 10 inches of rain, County Commissioner Bobby Miller said damage countywide would "go into the millions of dollars."

The Tombigbee and Luxapallila rivers overflowed their banks in Columbus in northeastern Mississippi, dividing the city and driving 2,000 people from their homes, said Lowndes County Civil Defense Director Ray Gildea.

Committee appointed

Textbook controversy plagues state board

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The State Board of Education tried Saturday to quell recurrent controversies over textbooks for a high school elective on "Free Enterprise" and again wrestled with bilingual problems.

It also appointed a 15-member State Textbook Committee and a 15 member advisory council on migrant education dominated by parents of migrant students.

Board members approved guidelines for textbooks in the "Fundamentals of the Free Enterprise System" elective that all high schools are required by law to offer.

In 1977, the State Textbook Committee recommended four books but the board eliminated two of them. The two books were readopted in March for two more years.

The issue its next call for "Free Enterprise" texts in March 1981 and adopt books that November for use beginning Sept. 1, 1982.

Guidelines were issued early to give publishers plenty of time to develop new texts, said Education Commissioner M. L. Brockette.

The guidelines require the books to cover the "history and characteristics of a free market economy," how a free market economy determines prices and allocates resources, the profit motive, competition, private vs. state decision making and "advantages and disadvantages of government intercession (sic) in the free market economy."

"The content of the textbooks shall be objective in nature and impartial in the interpretations of the American free enterprise system," the guidelines say.

Board members also adopted an adult education rule requiring programs to address "special needs of undereducated adults" and permit bilingual instruction of those "who do not function satisfactorily in English."

W.H. Fetter of LaMarque objected to the bilingual aspect.

"This is not K through 3 (kindergarten through third grade)," Fetter said. Adults, he added, "are here to learn English and that will be their livelihood." He said the refinery where he is an executive will not hire anyone who can't speak or read English because it is essential for their safety that they be able to understand signs posted at the plant.

"They need flexibility so that when they find students who need this additional help, there can be some communication and success in the program. ... In my area, I assure you, 85 percent of the adults in adult education programs are having difficulty in communicating in English," replied Ruben Hinojosa of Mercedes.

Deputy Commissioner Harlan Ford settled the issue by reading a state law allowing bilingual instruction in adult education programs.

Board member James Whiteside of Lubbock later protested terminology in a proposal to add "English as a Second Language" to the list of high school credit courses.

Named to the newly created advisory council on migrant education were:

Esther de la Cruz, Gonzales; Ricardo DeLuna, Eagle Pass; Alicia Flores, Mercedes; Joe Torres, Eola; Raquel Esparza, Edcouch; Eusebia Ferdin, San Antonio; Susana Mathis, migrant director, Alice ISD; Betty Moore, Mumford; Roberto Negrete, Fabens; Sabas Robles, Rio Hondo; Margarita Valles, Lampasas; Mary Ontiveros, migrant teacher, Tulia; Bruce Roark, Lubbock, migrant coordinator for Lubbock regional education service center; Ruben Gallegos, Edinburg school superintendent; and John McQuaig, Freeport, owner of McQuaig Shrimp Co.

Stanton plans awards event

STANTON — No commencement exercises will be held for Stanton eighth grade graduates, starting with the 1979-80 school year. An awards ceremony will replace the ritual.

High school graduation rites are scheduled May 23 this year.

The Stanton school board has appointed Steve Park, a native of Forsan and a former coach at Coahoma, as head football coach and athletic director. Park currently is serving as an assistant coach here.

Park has been a coach for six years, three of them at Coahoma. He was a 1973 graduate of Texas Tech University.

Saudi Arabia key to future

Oil supplies to be short?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saudi Arabia's oil production will fall far short of worldwide demand by the late 1980s, touching off the potential for "a fierce political and economic struggle" among consuming nations, a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee said Saturday.

The subcommittee's report said that while Saudi Arabia has more oil reserves than any other nation, previous optimistic forecasts of its ability and willingness to produce as much oil as is needed should be discarded.

Unless the United States and other industrialized importers of Mideast oil sharply revise their energy policies, there will be "adverse implications for the lives of people everywhere," the report said.

Sen. Frank Church, D-I Idaho, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said the report's findings demonstrate that "it would be imprudent for the United States to rely on Saudi Arabia to increase its oil production capacity ... to bail us out of our long-term energy dilemma."

Church said the study was not intended to influence how much oil the Saudi Arabian government sells to the United States, despite the report's generally gloomy findings.

Nonetheless, the report said, there is risk of major international conflict unless demand for oil is somehow reduced.

By 1990, it said, "The consuming nations could begin a fierce political and economic struggle for scarce supplies, straining relations between Western allies and between richer and poorer nations."

The report estimated current Saudi oil reserves at 177.6 billion barrels, one-quarter of the world's total.

Several years ago, the Saudi Arabia government believed it could produce 20 million barrels daily through the end of the century, the report noted.

Disaster threat fades

NRC ability questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the threat of potential disaster faded at the crippled Three Mile Island nuclear reactor last week, attention shifted to the confusion that hampered key officials' responses to the accident.

More and more questions were raised about the Nuclear Regulatory Commission and its ability to handle problems at the nation's nuclear power plants. It also became known that many nuclear plants suffer from problems similar to those that triggered the Three Mile Island accident.

President Carter, aiming to get some answers, appointed an 11-member commission to study the accident and the official handling of it. And the NRC intensified its review of plant design and procedures with a more informed eye for possible problems.

As the week began, the tone was optimistic.

Pennsylvania Gov. Dick Thornburgh told pregnant women and young children that it was safe to end their 11-day exile and return to their homes within five miles of the plant.

Thornburgh also said schools within 5 miles of the plant could reopen, state offices could go back to business as usual and civil defense operations could be geared down.

AAC to meet here Apr. 26

The Affirmative Action Committee will meet at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 26, in the Administration Building Testing Room at Howard College.

The purpose of the committee is to monitor the practices of the college in hiring, training, and promoting personnel, and to assist the administration in its efforts to execute faithfully the Affirmative Action Plan of the college.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Anita Booth, Mrs. Ramona Harris, Mr. George Bustamante, Mrs. Julia Trevino, and Mrs. Doris Huibregtse, chairman. Ex officio members include Dean Ben Johnson, affirmative action officer, and Mrs. Mary Dudley, personnel director and affirmative action coordinator.

The meeting is open to the public. Any matters coming under the jurisdiction of the committee may be brought up at the meeting. A student, employee or other citizen may present matters for consideration in writing or request a personal hearing by contacting any member of the committee as listed above.

Also on Monday, NRC officials reported continued progress in moving the TMI Unit 2 reactor toward a cold shutdown. They said a cold shutdown — the final step in ending the danger — could come by the end of the week.

"I consider the crisis over with regard to the status of the core," said Harold Denton, the top NRC official who has been on the scene at TMI. At the joint news conference with Thornburgh.

But there was another development Monday that wasn't public and that struck a quite different note.

The NRC's Advisory Committee on Nuclear Safeguards wrote a letter that day saying that 42 other U.S. reactors like Three Mile Island could be vulnerable to a major instrument problem. And that could mislead the reactors' operators toward another near-disaster.

The letter got to NRC Chairman Joseph Hendrie the next day, Tuesday.

And on Wednesday, the NRC staff called for new safety measures for pressurized water reactors. Three Mile Island Unit 2 is such a reactor.

The problem, the NRC said, is that instruments designed to measure the amount of vital cooling water in the reactor may give conflicting readings.

With such a conflict, the NRC says plant operators should keep the emergency core cooling system turned on.

Faced with conflicting readings at Three Mile Island, the operator shut off the emergency cooling system and disaster moved a step closer.

Also on Tuesday, scores of those who live near the plant began tests of the radiation levels in their bodies. The initial results showed the levels were normal.

Later in the week, a study of NRC records by a team of Associated Press reporters revealed that at least 2,835 "reportable occurrences" hit the nation's nuclear power plants, incidents that could affect the units' operations.

Many plants, the AP study showed, had suffered from separate incidents that, when they occurred in one plant at one time, brought Three Mile Island near disaster.

Even as the NRC was issuing new warnings, President Carter named his own commission to look into the Three Mile Island accident.

Carter named a housewife who lives near the plant to the commission, but no one from an electric utility. And no members of the NRC joined the panel, which is expected to take six months for its work.

Less than 24 hours after Carter named the commission, serious issues were raised in public for the first time that the panel will have to consider.

Transcripts of NRC meetings on the crisis released Thursday showed confusion and a paralyzing lack of information pervaded the NRC's process during the first critical days of the incident.

"We are operating totally in the blind," said Hendrie on March 30, two days after the accident began. "I don't have the impression that they have a good grip on it."

Hendrie talked about the data available to Thornburgh, who was facing the decision on an evacuation: "His information is ambiguous. Mine is nonexistent, and — I don't know — it's like a couple of blind men staggering around, making decisions."

The major problem was that the incident at Three Mile Island was totally unlike any that had been expected by the experts.

"No plant has ever been in this condition, no plant has ever been tested in this condition, no plant has ever been analyzed in this condition in the history of this program," Roger J. Mattson, NRC director of systems safety, told the commission on March 31.

The transcripts also showed the NRC had a hard time convincing the plant operators, General Public Utilities, and the Babcock & Wilcox personnel, who built the reactor, that the situation was grave and included the possibility of a core meltdown.

"People haven't believed the instruments as they went along. It took us until midnight last night to convince anybody that those goddamn temperature measurements meant something. By 4 o'clock this morning, Babcock & Wilcox agreed," Mattson said.

Sen. Gary Hart, who heads a Capitol Hill subcommittee overseeing NRC operations, said he was upset by the transcripts.

"The transcripts ... are both distressing and alarming," he said in a statement Friday. "They show the commission to be in a state of confusion, reflecting the chaos at the reactor site in Pennsylvania. The commission was evidently totally unprepared for the kind of crisis which occurred."

Attempt raise in damages

Lawyers may have to wait

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Lawyers for the Karen Silkwood estate may have to wait a month before getting a ruling on their attempt to up the ante significantly in the $11.5 million Silkwood plutonium negligence case.

In an oral motion Friday before U.S. District Judge Frank G. Theis of Wichita, Kan., Silkwood lawyer Gerry Spence said he believes the Kerr-McGee Corp. lied to its nuclear fuel plant employees about the cancer risks of plutonium radiation. He asked Theis to increase the total damages being sought in the case to $71.5 million.

The judge said he probably won't rule until just before the case goes to the jury late this month or early in May. Kerr-McGee said it will oppose the motion.

On Tuesday, Silkwood lawyers filed an appeal brief with the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in an attempt to get two dismissed civil rights counts of their lawsuit reinstated. The counts named more than 20 Kerr-McGee officers and employees, four FBI agents, and a Nashville, Tenn., journalist as defendants. The Silkwood estate claims the defendants conspired to violate Miss Silkwood's constitutional rights.

Jurors in the negligence portion of the case didn't hear any witnesses Friday.

The judge and lawyers spent most of their time in chambers in an evidentiary hearing concerning the upcoming testimony of Nuclear Regulatory Commission investigator Gerald Phillip.

Silkwood attorneys hope to limit the scope of Phillip's testimony to the facts in the then-Atomic Energy Commission report of the contamination of Miss Silkwood and her Edmond, Okla., apartment.

This took the matter under advisement and is to meet with the lawyers for both sides before the trial resumes Monday morning.

Kerr-McGee finished with its first defense witness Monday, and presented two more before the close of testimony Thursday afternoon.

A certified health physicist formerly employed by the company, Al Valentine, 39, of Los Alamos, N.M., testified he wrote a health training manual he believes adequately informed the workers of plutonium's dangers.

He also said the defense's first witness, Wayne Norwood, 51, of Oklahoma City, is one of the most competent health and safety workers in the nuclear industry. Norwood is stand-by manager of Kerr-McGee's nuclear fuel plant and was its health and safety manager when Miss Silkwood was killed in a 1974 auto crash a week after becoming contaminated with plutonium.

One of the designers of the plant, William Utage 50, of Oklahoma City, testified the facility isn't tornado-proof, but its storage vault is. He also said if 110 pounds of plutonium was picked up in a tornado funnel and carried to 99,000 feet it would be so widely dispersed in the atmosphere it wouldn't cause significant danger to the public.

To West Texas dogs

Heartworms are threats

By JAN DICKERSON
(Special to the Herald)

COLLEGE STATION — A plea to dog owners in West Texas to protect their pets from a spreading invasion of heartworm disease was made today by Dr. Kenneth W. Knauer, cardiologist at the College of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University.

Until a few years ago, the incidence of heartworm in dogs was rare in areas where the climate is dry," Dr. Knauer said. "Now it is being reported throughout Texas, as well as across the country."

The disease, which is not a threat to humans, is transmitted from dog to dog by mosquitoes. It is called heartworm disease because the heart harbors the mature parasite.

However, when left untreated, it damages not only the heart but other vital organs, including the lungs, liver, and kidneys.

"A dog afflicted by heartworms can die within two years," Dr. Knauer said. The only bright aspect to the picture is that heartworm disease can be prevented.

"A dog that is free of heartworms can be given a daily medication, in liquid or tablet form, that will give full protection against infestation during the mosquito season," Dr. Knauer said. "The drug can be mixed with the dog's food."

The drug can be obtained only from a veterinarian, who must determine whether a dog has heartworms before prescribing preventive medication. An infected dog could have a fatal shock reaction to the medication.

A dog that already has heartworms can be treated with a fair measure of success, depending upon its physical condition, Dr. Knauer said.

"We see about 300 cases a year here at the College of Veterinary Medicine," Dr. Knauer said. "Most of them have already progressed into the moderate and severe stages. Still, we manage to save more than 90 per cent."

"Saving" a dog does not mean that the damage caused by the heartworms are eliminated, and that the dog can be protected from further infestation.

"A dog that has been successfully treated before too much damage has occurred has every prospect of living out its normal life span."

The treatment can be expensive, ranging from as little as $35 to as much as $200, Dr. Knauer said.

"In reality, it is not the treatment itself that is so expensive, but the medical work-up that must precede it. The work-up involves chest X-rays and liver and kidney function tests, as well as any other tests that are indicated. In severe cases, it may be necessary to treat a dog for other problems before treating it for the heartworms, so that it can withstand the treatment for the heartworms."

A dog is treated for heartworm infestation by a series of injections of a drug containing arsenic, carefully administered according to weight. The arsenic kills the worms, which decompose and are eliminated through body wastes. An infected dog usually hosts from 10 to 30 or more heartworms.

"An owner who cannot afford to pay a high cost for treatment of heartworm disease should discuss it with the veterinarian," Dr. Knauer said. "The extent of the medical work-up can be limited, if necessary."

The symptoms of heartworm disease are mild at the outset. A dog may seem to "lose pep" or tire more easily than usual, and may have a soft cough with exercise. When the disease is far advanced, the dog will not be able to tolerate exercise, will have a rapid respiration rate as well as a cough, and little or no appetite. It will be extremely weak, and the muscles of the shoulders and hips may be wasting away.

SEESAWING LIKE THE WEATHER — Cindy Barraza's fourth grade Ackery class was enjoying the change in weather Friday, in spite of the fact that they were going to school on Good Friday to make up for bad weather days. They were seesawing, something which the weather has been doing as the wind and clouds seem to seesaw between beautiful and dusty, windy ones.

Collection on hot checks can be laborious process

The prosecution of people who are guilty of writing hot checks will be accelerated, according to Howard County Justice of Peace Bob West.

Hot check writing has increased by 25 per cent in less than six months. West's office now receives complaints on 30 to 40 hot checks a day, compared to an average of 25 a day last November.

When the "hot checker" writes a check that comes back to a merchant from the bank the merchant is required by law to send a letter by registered or certified mail before he can sign a complaint against the check writer. Approximately half of the check writers respond to the merchants' letters by paying off their checks. The merchant must tell the bad check writer that he has ten days to pay off the check before a warrant will be issued for his arrest.

"If the merchant has sent his certified letter then there will be no further notice until the warrant is executed," warned Judge West.

If the check is not paid in ten days a complaint is signed by the merchant, a fine is assessed and a warrant issued for the check writer's arrest. Fines are assessed according to the number and size of the checks written.

The Justices of the Peace have no official jurisdiction over the offense until ten days after the registered or certified letter has been received. If the letter is returned to the merchant without being received by the check writer the JPs may begin prosecution immediately.

Charges are not filed in all cases, however. If an individual doesn't have a record of check activity a letter of summons, or "courtesy letter," is sent. These letters result in paid off checks 60 per cent of the time.

Councilwoman Mays: 'City is not broke'

Polly Mays, incumbent candidate for Place 3 on the Big Spring City Council, takes issue with those who contend the last city audit show the city is broke.

"I'm amazed at the misunderstanding concerning the audit," the major pro-tem said Friday. "The city is not broke. It is not the function of the city to accumulate large sums of money."

"Inflation rates are high for city governments, too. We must purchase gas, tires, uniforms (for police and firemen), food for jail inmates and the detox center and pay for all utilities just as does the average homeowner."

"The city has not had to raise taxes, however, to meet our demands as have some of the surrounding communities. The independent audit firm assures me and I am assuring the public that the city is in the black."

Mrs. Mays, wife of a retired physician here and a three-term city councilwoman, led the Place 3 ticket in the first election April 7. She faces John Massey, a teacher in a Law Enforcement course offered at Howard College, in the April 28 runoff election.

Alpine man elected president of WTCC

Bob Corkins of Alpine, President of Gem Wholesale Company, was elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce during the annual business meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the 61st Annual Convention held in Fort Worth recently.

Other officers elected for 1979-80 were Jack Pilon, Brownwood, president-elect; Burvin Hines, Arlington, vice president; Finance and Membership: Ray Clymer of Wichita Falls, vice president, Program of Work, Robert Woolter, Fort Worth, vice president, Special Events; C.C. Elliott of Abilene, treasurer; and W.G. Marquardt, Fort Worth, chairman of the board.

District Vice Presidents elected were: C.F. Milnar, Amarillo, District I; Giles M. Forbess, Lubbock, District II; Killen M. Moore, Vernon, District III; James R. Nichols, Fort Worth, District IV; Bill Cox, Abilene, District V; Joe A. Kloesel, Midland, District VI; C.J. Barrett, El Paso, District VII; Richard E. Morrow, Fort Stockton, District VIII; F.L. Stephens, San Angelo, District IX; Stuart Coleman, Brownwood, District X; and

Raymond Barker, Kerrville, District XI.

Named members-at-large of the Executive Committee were Durwood Chalker, Abilene; J.R. Beadel, Brownwood; W. Lee Watson, Brownwood; Thomas H. Barnett, Jr., Fort Worth; John A. Wright, Abilene; and Hellen Reese, Odessa.

WTCC directors elected for three-year terms were: (list attached).

The 61st annual Convention opened Thursday afternoon with committee meetings followed by a reception of the Kahler Green Oaks Inn.

Attorney General Mark White opened the Friday morning session.

A special energy panel "Energy Outlook '79 and Beyond" featured E.E. Hagan, Chevron, U.S.A., Inc.; Mack Wallace, Texas Railroad Commission; Jack M. Allen, Independent Petroleum Association of America; Lynn R. Coleman, U.S. Department of Energy. Questioning the panel were Bernice Cleere, Oil Editor, San Angelo Standard-Times; Jack B. Tinsley, Executive Editor, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; Clarke B. Gillespie, President, Cawley, Gillespie & Associates, Inc.

If it becomes necessary for a warrant to be served, the warrant is given to the Howard County Sheriff's Office and executed by a deputy. The check writer is called or taken into the sheriff's office. The suspect then goes before the judge who issued the warrant, where a plea of guilty or not guilty is entered.

If a plea of guilty is entered the fine is paid and the case is considered disposed of.

If a plea of "not guilty" is entered, the defendant makes bond or goes to jail and the date for trial is set for approximately 30 days later. Usually, said West, the defendant comes up with the money to pay the check before the case comes to trial.

'Old Timers' will be honored at IPE Sept. 10-13 in Tulsa

"Old Timers," retired oil men who have been responsible for the development and running of the petroleum industry, will be honored at the onshore International Petroleum Exposition, Sept. 10-13, at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Nine Gold Medals will be awarded men nominated and selected to represent various divisions of the oil and gas industry, according to W.J. Sherry, independent oil man, and John Steiger, retired Cities Service Oil Company executive, co-chairman of the IPE "Old Timers" Committee.

The following awards will be made to those who have made significant contributions to the petroleum industry through the years: "Pioneer of Pioneers;" (all industry award); "Grand Old Man of Exploration;" "Grand Old Man of Drilling;" "Grand Old Man of Production;" "Grand Old Man of Pipeline-Transportation;" "Grand Old Man of Refining;" "Grand Old Man of Petrochemical;" "Grand Old Man of Natural Gas;" "Grand Old Man of Natural Gas Processing." The awards will be made during the IPE.

First "Old Timers" awards were given at the 1977 IPE, when John D. Rockefeller provided the medals, and have been awarded every show since. Winners will not be revealed until the beginning of the oil show.

A special meeting lounge will again be provided at the IPE for "Old Timers."

The Tulsa Oil Show will hold 10 acres of new and improved equipment and services to display to 40,000 expected oil men from 50 states and over 60 nations of the world, says John M. Houchin, IPE President.

Input is sought

The Howard College Adult Education Department is requesting public input on their Co-op Plan for Comprehensive Adult Education. A public hearing will be held for Howard, Martin, Glasscock and Reagan County residents Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Tumbleweed Room.

The Adult Education Department of Howard College attempts to serve adults from public and private organizations, business, labor, church and civic groups, and individuals. People from these diverse sectors are encouraged to provide information that can improve the quality or quantity of service that is being offered.

Locally, the population can take advantage of basic education courses such as reading, writing, math, basic English skills, and basic history and government. Instruction for those people who wish to learn to speak, read, or write English is also offered.

The most popular plan of study is the preparation for the G.E.D.

3 counties get confirmers

Confirmers have been finalized in Howard, Glasscock and Borden counties.

Campana Petroleum Co., Midland, No. 7 Read, fourth Fusselman producer, 3 1/2-mile south-southwest of the nearest production in that pay in the Coahoma, North (Fusselman and Clearfork oil field of Howard County, 1,500 feet southwest of Mississippi production in the Coahoma (Mississippian and Wichita-Albany) field of Howard County, five miles northeast of Coahoma, was finalized for 188 barrels of 48.6 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 1.128-1.

Production was through a 12-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,875-888 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

Scheduled to 9,100 feet also to test the Mississippian, it was drilled to 8,940 feet on a 9,100-foot Mississippian contract, where 4 1/2-inch casing was set, it is plugged back to 8,918 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of 33-30-T&P.

The Garden City, Wolfcamp and Spraberry field of Glasscock County gained its current second Spraberry producer and a 2 1/2-mile northeast extension to that pay with completion of Joy Petroleum Corp., Midland, No. 1 Books, two miles south of Garden City, for a daily pumping potential of 42 barrels of 34.5 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 405-1.

Production was through a 1-inch choke and perforations at 6,716-36 feet, which had been acidized with 5,500 gallons.

Drilled to 7,542 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 6,948 feet, it is plugged back to 6,903 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the south and west lines of 13-34-48-T&P.

The re-opener, Petroleum Exploration and Operating Co. No. 1 Y.C. Gray, was finalized May 28, 1975 to pump 35 barrels of 40 gravity oil, plus 30 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 800-1, through perforations at 6,326-7,396 feet.

The Seven J (Strawn oil) field of Borden County gained its second producer and an approximate 1,500-foot south extension with completion of Amoco Production Co. No. 3 G. A. Milliken, 12 miles northeast of Gail, to pump 62 barrels of 40 gravity oil, plus 1,164 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,661-1.

Production was through perforations at 8,072-80 feet, which had been acidized with 1,500 gallons.

Prior to plugging back to 8,100 feet, it tested through Ellenburger perforations at 8,786-801 feet and Mississippian perforations at 8,353-60 feet and 7,848-72 feet.

The following tops were picked on ground elevation of 2,533 feet: San Andres, 2,448 feet; Spraberry, 4,776 feet; Dean sand, 6,180 feet; Strawn, 7,771 feet; Mississippian, 8,157 feet; and Ellenburger, 8,307 feet.

It was drilled to 8,900 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing was set.

Location is 2,200 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of 476-97-H&T.C.

The discovery, Midwest Oil Corp. (now Amoco Production) No. 1 G.A. Milliken, was finalized Feb. 4, 1959 from the Strawn for 218.62 barrels of 43 gravity oil, no water, through a 22-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,856-864 feet. It was dually completed as the Ellenburger opener and lone producer Feb. 11, 1959 for 37 barrels of 40 gravity oil, plus 48 barrels of water, from open hole at 8,310-16 feet. It is now depleted in the Ellenburger.

The Myrtle, West (Strawn oil) field of Borden County gained its current seventh producer and an approximate 1,500-foot south-west extension with re-completion of Amoco Production No. 4 Joe H. Scott, former Strawn producer, 12 miles northeast of Gail, to pump 31 barrels of 42 gravity oil, plus 513 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 2,903-1.

Production was through perforations at 8,084-88 feet, which had been acidized with 8,000 gallons.

Deepend to 8,800 feet, with a 4 1/2-inch liner hung from 8,123-790 feet, it tested through Ellenburger perforations at 8,558-607 feet and 8,398-420 feet, prior to plugging back to 8,117 feet.

It was reported as plugged and abandoned at 8,800 feet March 10. Originally drilled to 8,204 feet by Midwest Oil to 8,204 feet, it was finalized July 22, 1956 through perforations at 8,082-87 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of 413-97-H&T.C.

Ellenburger production in the field is depleted.

John H. Hendrix Corp., Midland, will re-enter, clean out to 9,920 feet, the old total depth, and attempt completion as a 1/2-mile east extension to the Luther, Southeast (Siluro-Devonian) field of Howard County at the former Texas Pacific Oil Co. No. 1 Ward-Cone, 3.5 miles north-northwest of Luther. It is the No. 1 Ward.

It was abandoned July 20, 1973.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of 47-32-3n-T&P. Gaines Projects.

Coahoma's Band boosters meet

Coahoma Band Boosters will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the band hall at the high school. New officers will be introduced at that time.

A trip for the band, May 3 through May 6, and the area extravaganza will be discussed. The extravaganza will be held at the Howard College Coliseum, April 21 in cooperation with the College and area bands.

CC contracts are renewed

COLORADO CITY—The contracts of 93 school employees have been renewed by the Colorado City school board.

Only the high school coaches were not offered new contracts. It is the policy of the school district to allow the new athletic director to pick his own coaching staff.

Tommy Ramsey recently was named the district's director of athletics.

Home owners under-insured often get rude awakening

By the Associated Press

The soaring cost of housing has left millions of American homeowners with less insurance than they need.

And homeowners without enough insurance could be in for an unpleasant — and costly — surprise when it is time to file claims.

The amount of coverage homeowners have should be based on the amount it would take to replace the house or any part of it — not on what was paid for it.

As a general rule, insurance companies require homeowners to have coverage equal to 80 percent of replacement value. If the coverage is less, homeowners will not be able to collect in full — even for partial damages.

Here's how it works: Suppose you have a house that would cost $50,000 to replace. A tree falls on the roof and does $1,000 worth of damage. Unless you have at least $40,000 in insurance — 80 percent of the replacement cost — you will not be reimbursed for the full $1,000.

The 80 percent level was set to enable companies to charge a fixed rate per $1,000 of insurance.

IF A HOME could be insured for only a few thousand dollars — at a low rate per thousand — and the owner still could collect in full for partial damages, the companies would have to pay more in benefits than they could collect in premiums.

Because of inflation, it is easy to start out at the 80 percent level and quickly fall behind, so coverage must be updated regularly.

The size of the increases varies from area to area, depending largely on local construction costs.

Insurance Information Institute spokesmen say that in California, for example, construction costs have risen about 35 percent in the past three years; if a homeowner had to replace his house, it would cost 35 percent more than it did three years ago.

In Illinois, construction costs are up 37 percent; in Massachusetts, the increase is 26 percent.

A growing number of insurance companies offer policies including an "inflation guard adjustment." The amount of coverage is increased automatically every three months either by a fixed sum or by an amount tied to local cost increases.

INDUSTRY spokesmen say homeowners' insurance is relatively inexpensive when compared with auto or life insurance. Ronald W. Vinson, vice president of the Insurance Information Institute, said up to 30 percent of total U.S. personal income goes for housing and related expenses, including furnishings.

By contrast, he said, less than half a percent of total U.S. personal income is spent on premiums for homeowners' insurance.

There are several ways to cut premiums without falling below the critical 80 percent level. Many companies offer discounts if a house is less than five years old or if the home has a fire or burglar alarm system.

A homeowner may even be able to trim his annual premium by up to 2 percent simply by installing a smoke detector. Ask about all available discounts; don't wait to be told.

Increasing the amount of the deductible can decrease the premium. Boosting the deductible from $100 to $200, for example, probably will save 10 percent.

On the light side

Easter dressing

MIAMI (AP) — Brother Roger Perreault saved his secular good news for Good Friday.

He and other members of the Order of the Oblates of St. Bernard of the Strict Cistercian Observances make the salad dressing that got national attention several months ago because it is made in a reconstructed ancient monastery.

The brothers and novices have been making about five cases a week of Abbey Mix, a fragrant blend of wine, tomatoes and spices. But that is about to change.

"We are about to sign a contract to have our salad dressing made in a Hialeah factory," Brother Roger said happily Friday.

When it goes into mass production, he said he expects the output to reach 500 cases a day. That would be enough for it to be sold in supermarkets. So far, it has been sold only in Episcopal churches. The money from the sales goes to mission work.

Deflated gas

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — "If I could afford it, I'd fight inflation like this every day," laughed Jim Johnson, as he paused momentarily from pumping gasoline.

It wasn't long before his supply of about 2,000 gallons of unleaded was depleted, and no wonder — on a whim he lowered the price to 46.9 cents a gallon.

If he was looking for business, he got it. Cars lined up for five blocks to get in on the good deal, many of them honking their horns.

"You'll never see it at this price again," Johnson said between cars.

Like motorists, Johnson said he's simply tired of hearing stories about shortages and seeing prices go up, so he decided to do something about it.

"We just wanted to give the people of Spokane sort of an Easter present," he said.

The regular price of unleaded gasoline at Jim's Union 76 is 82.9 cents a gallon.

Krueger named to federal post

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Former U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger has confirmed that he has been appointed by President Carter as special coordinator for Mexican affairs, meaning he will oversee multi-agency negotiations between the two countries.

The president and the State Department agreed on Krueger after Carter decided to leave Patrick Lucey as ambassador to Mexico.

A Krueger aide confirmed the position had been offered to his boss although he said the White House did not give a concrete title.

"The word we get is that he will be a special envoy," the aide said.

White House said Hamilton Jordan said the details of Krueger's assignment will not be completed until Krueger and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance confer when the president returns from a vacation.

Carter is to meet with Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo in June.

Krueger, who speaks Spanish, narrowly lost a race against John Tower for the Senate last year.

Class enrollment high

Marder 'sells' course

Enrollment in the Howard College journalism department has more than tripled since John Marder began teaching there two years ago. Department Head Gary Grant attributed the increase to Marder's teaching. Enrollment in journalism courses is now 83; about 13 higher than the fall semester. The second semester he was there enrollment tripled.

Marder said he is trying to present the best possible program. His philosophy of teaching is "Not being afraid of hard work" and "trying to learn from students as well as them from me."

He teaches that newspapers should "illicit change for the common good" and not be afraid of controversies but to present both sides of an issue.

Marder said he likes working with college students. He encourages them to never be afraid to express themselves. He teaches photography, advertising and writing.

Marder got his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Houston. He then worked for the Delta Optimist, a newspaper in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. He went to Texas Tech for a teaching assistantship in 1975. He learned to operate a radio station at Tech's station, KTXU, and got his master's degree. He said he likes teaching better than reporting because he can "learn and relate and still be involved in what I'm interested in."

There are other pluses for the journalism department. The department is equipped with video display computer terminals. Student type their stories into a computer memory bank. The computer produces their stories when they are ready to be set for printing. They save the original copy in case the memory bank is erased.

The department is also set up for color publications. On Dec. 5 a newspaper was produced with six pages of color using Herald presses. The H.C. Review, a feature magazine, has also increased students' interest in journalism at the college.

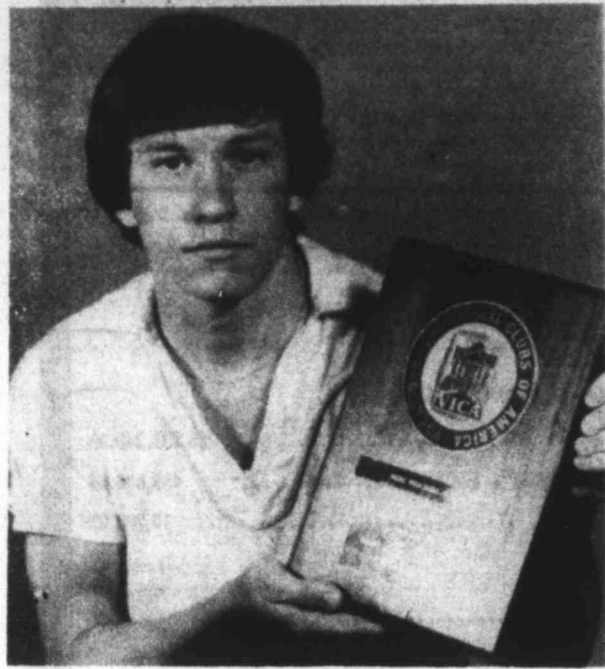

Five thousand copies are printed quarterly.

TV equipment for the journalism department is still in the mill. Marder said the department is trying to get approval for cameras that will shoot color remote broadcasts. The cameras will be able to tape an event so it may be played back at a later time.

The photographic dark room has also been recently re-equipped.

Both full and partial scholarships are offered in the department. Nine students are currently on full scholarships.

VICA students claim Skill Olympic honors

Big Spring students returned home last week from the 31st annual Texas Vocational Industrial Clubs of America Skill Olympics in Houston, where they won numerous awards.

Jimmie Barrier, Big Spring, representing the Industrial Cooperative Training Program, finished first to qualify for a large plaque.

Other Big Spring winners in the various phases of competition:

Metal Trades Classes — Kent Ivey, Mark Hines and Tracy Pruitt, all won first place; Joe Eastman and John McCloud, each won second place.

Industrial Cooperative Training Program — Jimmie Barrier, Technical Training Contest, first; Billy Shaeffer and Kerry Simpkins, both student selected project, each won third place; and Ramiro Ramos, both in Technical Information Contest, results not yet posted; Teresa Sherman represented District One as the District

Reporter. Automechanics Class — Kenneth Awtry and Kirk Henson, both in Student Selected Projects, both won third place. Charles Purcell participated in a Technical Information Contest.

Appliance Repair Class — Mart Sherman, Skill Speed Contest, fifth.

While on the trip to Houston, the Big Spring students were involved in a number of meetings involving about 3,000 Vocational students from all over the state. They also visited Astroworld and the Astrodome.

Many of these students as well as others enrolled in the many Vocational Programs available in the Big Spring Schools will continue in the occupations for which they have been trained. Many, in fact, are already employed and receiving training from local employers. Others of the Vocational students will be continuing their educations by attending various colleges and trade schools.

Jim Brown wins first place in TIPA event

EL PASO—The presentation of the annual Texas Intercollegiate Press Association (TIPA) contest awards climaxed the spring TIPA convention Saturday in El Paso.

College and university journalists from across the state gathered at the annual Texas collegiate press convocation, hosted this year by the University of Texas at El Paso.

Entries in newspaper, yearbook, general and literary magazine, radio and television competition were judged by professionals from across the state.

Jim Brown of Howard College won first place in News Feature writing in Division II, edging Rilla Tomy, Tarleton State, and Mickey Torres, Angelo State University, for the honor.

Southwest Texas State University, the location of TIPA central office, coordinated the print media judging. Contest director was Dr. Frank W. Buckley, SWT journalism professor. This year, sophomore journalism major Yvonne Weinheimer of Fredericksburg served as assistant contest director. Broadcast contests were coordinated at West Texas State University under the direction of Paul Malney.

In newspaper competition, the University of Texas at Arlington (UT-A) won sweepstakes in Division I with 132½ points. University of Texas at El Paso (UT-EP) was second with 58½ points, followed by Southwest Texas State University (SWT) with 47½.

The Division II newspaper sweepstakes award went to Tarrant County Junior College's South Campus (TCJC-South) with 51 points while Tarrant County Junior College's Northeast Campus (TCJC-Northeast) took second with 41. Amarillo Junior College (AJC) was third with 40.

In the yearbook category, the University of Texas at Arlington (UT-A) won sweepstakes in Division I while in Hardin-Simmons University (HSU) Division II. In Division I, Sam Houston State University (SHSU) was second and West Texas State University (WTSU) was third. Sul Ross State University (SRSU) was second and Angelo State University (ASU) third in Division II.

In general magazine, Division I, Lamar University (LU) won sweepstakes, followed by SWT, second, and UT-EP, third. In Division II, Amarillo College was first with Paris Junior College (PJC) second, and Midland Junior College (MJC), third.

Sweepstakes winner in Division II literary magazine competition was North Lake College (NLC) of Dallas. Second place went to Sul Ross while Eastfield College (EC) was third.

No sweepstakes award was presented for Division I literary magazines.

Injured right hand hampers Rossman Galindez whips Rossman on 10th round TKO

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Rugged Victor Galindez ripped Mike Rossman with left uppercuts to the head and regained the World Boxing Association light-heavyweight championship Saturday when Rossman was unable to answer the bell for the 10th round because of an injured right hand.

Promoter Bob Arum said Rossman had broken the hand. Referee Stanley Christodoulou of South Africa said Rossman's corner asked him to stop the fight.

It goes into the books as a 10th-round knockout for Galindez, and was a sudden end to a wild fight which saw Rossman's brother throw punches at Galindez after the fourth round.

In the fourth round, Galindez hurt Rossman with a right hand and had him in trouble at the bell. When the bell sounded, the Argentine kept on punching, and after being sent to his corner by the referee, Rossman's brother Andy dashed across the ring, shouted at Galindez and shook his fist at him.

Galindez shook his right hand at the youth, then cuffed him with two left hands as cornermen for both fighters jumped into the ring.

The referee made no penalty against either fighter. From the fourth round on, Galindez — who lost the title to Rossman when he was stopped on cuts in the 13th round last Sept. 15 — was in charge of the fight. In the fifth round, Galindez shook Rossman on three occasions with rights after left hooks. Galindez suffered a cut above his right eye, but this time the cut didn't bother him.

In the seventh round, Galindez, who weighed 174½, the same as Rossman, hurt the defending champion from Turnersville, N.J., with a hook that turned him around.

Galindez followed with two smashing rights to the head and then had the best of a toe-toe exchange that lasted about 20 seconds.

Three smashing hooks just before the bell had Rossman in trouble in the eighth, and then Galindez had him in real trouble in the ninth.

In that round, two ripping hooks slashed a cut over Rossman's right eye at about the midway point. Rossman fought back for the remainder of the round, but Galindez hurt him on at least two occasions.

A dejected Rossman, making his second defense of the 175-pound title, said: "I'm not sure when it (the injury) happened. In the sixth or seventh round I think I hit him with a right hand and I felt it throb. I tried to keep going, take a chance with the pain."

Abilene batters Steers

ABILENE — The Abilene Eagles combined an explosive 12-hit attack with six Big Spring errors to pound their way to an 11-0 lead, then withstood a late Steer rally to take a 12-7 victory here Saturday afternoon. It was the first game for both teams in the second half of District 5-AAAA play.

Abilene scored one run in the first inning off Steer starter Larry Smith on Les Ogden's sacrifice fly, then added three more in the second on Freddie Johnson's two-run single and Bill Blackwell's squeeze bunt.

The Eagle chased Smith from the mound with a four-run third inning. But Smith's own teammates helped the Abilene cause by committing four of their six errors in the stanza.

Abilene increased the lead to 11-0 in the fifth when Blackwell laced a triple off Luis Rodriguez with two men on base.

Big Spring finally got untracked in the sixth inning when Kevin McLaughlin, Tony Rubio and David Manley hit consecutive singles, with Manley's bingle scoring two runs.

Tony Rubio hit a two-run single to narrow the lead to 12-4 in the top of the seventh, and Abilene sent their pitching ace, Mac Rogers, to the mound to squelch the Bovine rally. He did, but not before Steer catcher Myers blasted a three-run homer over the centerfield fence.

Abilene's Ricky Stokes, now 2-1, got the win, while Smith took the loss. The Eagles are now 1-0 in the second half, while Big Spring is 0-1. The Steers return to District 5-AAAA action Tuesday when they travel to Midland to meet the Midland Bulldogs.

River Oaks opens Monday

HOUSTON (AP) — First there were contracts that guaranteed the presence of top tennis players at pro tournaments. Then came the big bucks, the mushrooming purses that attracted the top players like a magnet.

But now that the world class players have become so affluent that they can pass up $400,000 tournaments without a second thought, how do tournaments attract players like Jimmy Connors, Vitas Gerulaitis or John McEnroe?

Try a little friendliness, says Al Hill Jr., Director of World Championship Tennis.

Contracts, money or even friendship, however, couldn't get any of the top five players on the WCT tour to this week's $175,000 WCT tournament beginning Monday at River Oaks Country Club, where a $30,200 check awaits the singles champion.

NOW THE BROTHER — Victor Galindez draws back on light-heavyweight champion Mike Rossman's brother, Andy, at the end of the round and got mixed up with Galindez.

Sneed takes lead in Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Ed Sneed, calm and composed under the greatest stress of his golfing life, strode through bright southern sunshine to a 3-under-par 69 and established a commanding 5-shot lead Saturday in the 43rd Masters.

Sneed, a journeyman pro who has won three times in 11 years on the tour, watched in something approaching detached interest as his challengers either failed to make a major move or fell victim to the subtle tests of the famed Augusta National Golf Club.

While Tom Watson, the man deemed most likely to win this event, had his adventures on the back-side par 5s; while mighty Jack Nicklaus failed to get it going; while Craig Stadler went from bogey to bogey to watery double bogey, Sneed quietly put together a 54-hole total of 204, a distant 12 shots under par and took control.

"What it amounts to," said

Nicklaus, "if Ed plays well tomorrow, I can't catch him. Neither can anyone else. If he plays well, he wins. It's that simple."

"Ed's a good player. He hasn't won a lot and he hasn't won in the majors, but if he can keep this up, he'll run away from everyone else."

But, he said, that isn't necessarily so.

"If he should slip, well, I'm only 3 shots out of second place," Nicklaus said. "If I shoot 65 I could go past everybody."

SNEED GOES AFTER ONE — Ed Sneed of Pompano Beach, Fla. watches as he tries for a short putt on the 7th hole Saturday during the third round of the Masters. Sneed parred the hole and was early leader.

SATURDAY'S BASEBALL

Expos 2, Cubs 0

MONTREAL (AP) — Andre Dawson triggered a two-run sixth with a leadoff homer and Ross Grimsley and Elias Sosa teamed up on a six-hitter as the Montreal Expos defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-0 in their home baseball opener Saturday.

Grimsley, 1-0, was locked in a pitching battle with Cubs starter Rich Reuschel, 0-2, when Dawson slammed his second home run of the year over the wall in left field.

It was only the third Expos hit, but Rodney Scott and Warren Cromartie followed with singles and then pulled a double steal. Ellis Valentine struck out and Tony Perez was walked intentionally to load the bases for Gary Carter, who hit a sacrifice fly to center fielder Jerry Martin to score Scott.

Grimsley, who last season became the first 20-game winner in Expos history, struck out one and walked two before needing last-out relief help from Sosa.

Blue Jays 8, Royals 6

TORONTO (AP) — Rick Cerone's bases-loaded single with one out in the eighth inning broke a 6-6 tie and helped the Toronto Blue Jays to an 8-6 victory over the Kansas City Royals Saturday.

It was the fourth straight victory for the Blue Jays, who lost their first three starts. The Royals lost for the second day in a row and fell to 4-3.

John Mayberry drew a walk off loser Dennis Leonard, 1-1, to open the Toronto eighth and was replaced by pinch runner Ted Wilborn. Steve Mingori relieved Leonard and gave up a single to Al Woods and Roy Howell was safe on a fielder's choice to load the bases.

After Dave McKay struck out, Mingori gave way to Ed Rodriguez, who surrendered Cerone's game-winning single to right.

Dave Freisleben, who relieved starter Mark Lemongello with one out and none out in the eighth, picked up his initial win of the season, blanking the Royals on one hit the rest of the way.

Yankees 8, White Sox 5

CHICAGO (AP) — Pinch-hitter Jay Johnstone's grand slam home run in the eighth inning lifted the New York Yankees to an 8-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

Dick Tidrow, the third pitcher used by the Yankees, picked up his first victory of the year but left the game after the White Sox put two men on base with one out in the ninth. Ron Guidry, last year's Cy Young Award winner, made his first relief appearance in two seasons and got Jorge Orta to hit into a game-ending double play to earn the save.

With one out in the Yankees' eighth and Chicago leading 5-4, pinch batter Jim Spencer drew a walk off loser Dewey Robinson and Reggie Jackson followed with a double. Graig Nettles, who earlier in the game had homered, was given an intentional walk to load the bases and Lerrin LaGrow came on in relief of Robinson.

Johnstone greeted LaGrow with his first home run of the season over the wall in rightcenter.

Giants 2, Astros 1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's Vida Blue beat the Houston Astros 2-1 Saturday to become the major leagues' first three-game winner of the season.

Blue struck out eight batters and walked none. The Giants had only four hits in the game, and three came in the fourth inning when they scored both their runs. Darrell Evans drove in the first with an infield out and Mike Ivie followed with a run-scoring triple off Houston starter Vern Riffe, 0-2.

Blue allowed nine hits, including three for extra bases, but shut out the Astros until the eighth. Houston scored on singles by Terry Puhl and Craig Reynolds and a sacrifice fly by rookie Jeff Leonard.

Brewers 11, Orioles 10

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gorman Thomas, who earlier hit one of a Milwaukee team-record six homers, singled home two runs in the last of the ninth inning to lead the Brewers to a 11-10 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday.

An error by Baltimore shortstop Mark Belanger on Don Money's leadoff grounder opened the door for the Brewers. Cecil Cooper doubled Money to third and Larry Hisele was walked intentionally to load the bases and set the stage for Thomas' game-winning hit.

Bob McClure, 2-0, was the winner and Tim Stoddard, 0-1, took the loss.

Earlier, Pat Kelly's two-run pinch single broke a 6-6 tie in a four-run Baltimore seventh that gave the Orioles a 10-9 lead. The Brewers closed to within 10-9 in their half of the seventh on a two-run homer by Cooper and a bases-empty blast by Thomas.

Angels 9, A's 3

OAKLAND (AP) — Righthander Dave Frost, facing the Oakland A's for the first time in his career, pitched a five-hitter and Bobby Grich knocked in four runs with two homers as the California Angels coasted to a 9-3 victory Saturday.

The triumph was the fourth in a row for the Angels, equalling their longest winning streak of 1978. The hapless A's lost for the eighth time in nine games.

Frost, 1-0, allowed only two infield singles until the A's ruined his shutout in the eighth on a walk by Jim Essian and Mike Edwards' triple.

Grich, who now has four homers, belted a solo shot in the fifth and capped a five-run rally in the eighth inning with a three-run homer.

Pirates 7, Cardinals 4

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ed Ott drove in four runs with a homer and a triple to back the pitching of Ed Whitson, leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday in a nationally televised baseball game.

About 30 major league umpires from both leagues picketed Three Rivers Stadium before the game, supported by members of local labor unions. With the umpires and union members appealing to fans to stay away, the game drew a modest crowd of 10,940 despite warm weather and a Helmet Day promotion.

Stadium employees crossed the picket lines and four minor league and sandlot umpires worked the game.

Whitson, used solely in relief last season after two Pirate starts in 1977, checked the Cardinals on five hits over the first eight innings. He was relieved by Grant Jackson with none out in the ninth after allowing a walk and the sixth Cardinal hit. Jackson gave up the Cardinals' last run on Garry Templeton's sacrifice fly.

Ott hit a two-run homer to break a 3-3 tie in the eighth, then drove in two more runs with a triple in the eighth to make it 7-3.

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Kerry Reid played nearly error-free tennis to upset top-ranked Martina Navratilova 6-3, 7-6 in the semifinals of a $150,000 women's tennis tournament Saturday.

Reid, seeded third, meets No.2 seeded Tracy Austin of the United States in Sunday's nationally televised final.

In the other semifinal match Saturday, Austin took less than an hour to defeat fourth-seeded Evonne Goolagong 6-0, 6-1. Goolagong was playing her first tournament since injuring her leg at Wimbledon last summer.

Reid's victory was her first over Navratilova, the Czech expatriate now living in the United States, in eight meetings.

NCAA changes championship

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP) — The site-selection committee of the NCAA has recommended that its District 1-2A championship contest be moved from Wichita Falls, Texas, to Orlando, Fla.

John Miles, NCAA director of events, said cold winter weather in Wichita Falls, Tex., prompted the association to recommend a shift.

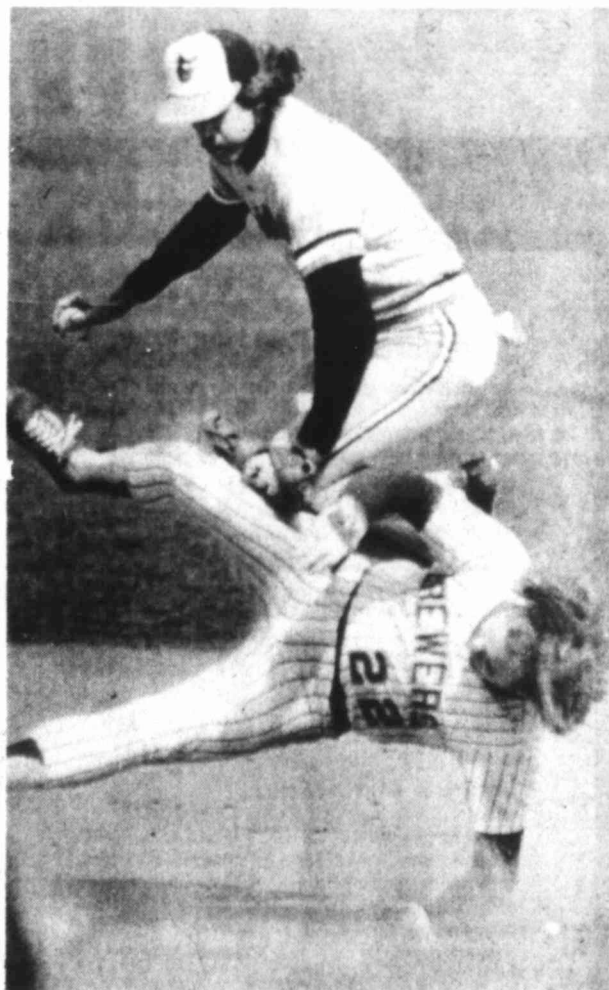

"We were impressed with Orlando's bid," Miles said. "And we changed location because of the weather in Wichita Falls. We had not had a good day, and we certainly want one for the (1-2A) championship game."

The NCAA selection committee has not yet decided on a site for the Division 2 game, but Denny Pope, NCAA assistant director of events, said the field had been narrowed to Longview, Tex., and Albuquerque, N.M.

A final decision on the site for that game is expected before next week's executive committee meeting.

In one other decision, Phenix City was again chosen to host NCAA college football's Division 3 Stagg Bowl on Dec. 1, as it has for the past several years.

The decisions are subject to approval by the NCAA executive committee, which meets next week in Dallas.

Meet Sixers today

Spurs hope to avoid playoff jinx this year

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The San Antonio Spurs, who have lost 10 straight pro basketball playoff series since winning their first in 1968, went through a final tuneup Saturday for Sunday's opening here of a best-of-seven, second-round playoff with Philadelphia.

And it was no surprise that the man most on their minds was Philadelphia's All-Star forward Julius Erving, a clutch playoff performer many of the Spurs remember from their American Basketball Association days.

"We're going to stay on Julius until he gets rid of the ball, double-team him until he gives it up. We can't let him get inside. We have to make him take the outside shot or give up the ball," said James Silas, captain of the National Basketball Association's Central Division champions.

"Let somebody else beat us if we're going to get beat, not let him do the things we know he can do to a playoff," added Silas, who played against Erving in the ABA.

"He's really unbelievable in the money games."

The 76ers, playing without injured star guard Doug Collins, made their way into the second round by sweeping a best-of-three series from New Jersey. They won Wednesday night and Friday night, while the Spurs, who drew a bye, haven't played since last Sunday.

"Doctor J will be a stronger player with Collins out," said Spurs Coach Doug Moe. "He'll have to do it. When he has to do it, he does more. Just like he did three years ago with the Nets."

Erving led the Nets to the ABA title in 1976, eliminating the Spurs in the first round.

Moe said the Sixers were definitely crippled by the loss of Collins, their second-leading scorer who has missed much of the season with an ankle injury. But he added that Erving, centers Darryl Dawkins and Caldwell Jones and guard Henry Bibby would probably play harder to take up the slack.

Jones got 24 points and Dawkins had 19 in Philadelphia's 111-101 victory Friday night.

"They're still a helluva team. They miss him a lot. But guys like Dawkins can come to the forefront. I think people who look at the series objectively will rate it a toss-up. It would surprise me if we were made favorites," he added.

The talent-laden Sixers were a disappointment to Philadelphia in the past two playoffs, sailing through the regular seasons before stumbling in the playoffs.

They had a mediocre 47-35 season this year, however, and without Collins, they weren't expected to have much success in the playoffs.

That, Erving said, might work to their advantage.

"Judging by the attention we're getting, people don't expect us to do well. We might be able to sneak up on them and come up with a few surprises, that would be nice. We've taken a lot of heat all year."

The Spurs, who were in Dallas for their first six seasons, have been in either the ABA or NBA playoffs for 11 of their 12 seasons, but won their only playoff series in 1968. They lost in the second round that year.

win the 83rd Boston Marathon, which has outgrown the bucolic starting point west of Boston.

More than 7,800 qualified entrants, all of whom have run the 26-mile, 385-yard race in 3½ hours or less, will clog Hopkinton's streets for the noon start. The winner is expected in Boston before 2:15 p.m.

Hundreds of unofficial hopefuls, many denied an entry number because they're just joggers, will help create additional chaos until the pack spreads out heading towards Framingham, Mass.

Already there is talk of cutting the field in the future. Despite qualifying standards — three hours for men, 3½ hours for women and men over 40 — the number of official runners in the 1979 event is a 75 percent increase over last year's record. Female entrants have doubled to more than 500.

As usual, the winner's reward is a laurel wreath and a gold sunburst medal. But every finisher earns a bowl of beef stew, if they can first recover from the rigors of the run from the countryside, through suburbia to the city.

Among the pre-race contenders are 95 men who have completed a marathon in two hours, 20 minutes, or less. They include 1972 Olympic champion Frank Shorter, Japan's No. 1 marathoner Toshiko Seko and 1977 Boston winner Jerome Drayton of Canada.

The women's race, over the same course, is somewhat harder to handicap. Defending champion Gayle Barron of Atlanta is entered.

Rodgers set the American record in Boston in 1975 with a time of 2 hours, 9 minutes, 55 seconds. Last year, the former teacher of emotionally disturbed children won in 2:10.13, barely escaping the charge of Texan Jeff Wells. The two-second margin of victory was the smallest in the event's history.

Officially, the race is called the Boston Athletic Association Marathon. But that sponsoring organization, consisting mainly of race director Will Cloney, has allowed the Prudential Insurance Co. of America to provide substantial aid.

The race itself is downhill, but it's given special character by a series of rolling hills in Newton, Mass., five to six miles from the finish line.

Martin dislikes outsider role

By the Associated Press

If you happen to see a thin man with a black mustache, collar pulled up around his face, surreptitiously sneaking into a remote corner of Yankee Stadium, don't panic. No need to call the FBI.

It's not an anarchist. It's only Billy Martin, looking for a safe spot from which to watch a Yankee baseball game.

"I feel lost, like some kind of an intruder," says the fiery onagant, off-agent manager of New York's world baseball champions. "I'd like to watch some games but I feel uncomfortable, like a black cat, every time I get near the team."

"If I show up in the locker room or on the field, I am surrounded by the press guys, wanting to know what gives. Then George Steinbrenner thinks I'm pressuring him. It's hard for me to watch from the stands. People swarm all over me."

The fiery, 51-year-old Martin is a man in limbo. After resigning on July 24 last season while up to his eyeballs in controversy, he was rehired dramatically five days later with a dramatic electronic scoreboard announcement by owner Steinbrenner that Martin would be back in 1980.

It was a public relations coup. Billy's adoring fans at the Old-Timers' Day game went wild. Billy went into hibernation, but not for long.

He was accused of belting a sportswriter in a Reno, Nev., bar last November and was subsequently sued for $20,000. He showed up at spring training in Fort Lauderdale and reportedly gave the impression he felt Steinbrenner was giving him the old "Don't-call-us, we'll call you" treatment. Also he was linked to another bar room brawl, never substantiated.

Steinbrenner was livid. The sometimes bombastic Yankee owner said that if Martin expected to return as manager he would, in effect, have to keep his nose clean. "It's a two-way bargain," George warned.

"Keep my nose clean, hell," Billy says. "I'm myself — Billy Martin. Nobody's going to change that. Others, all the way back to Babe Ruth, have had their scrapes. I don't believe in double standards."

In his interim role as scout of the Yankees' minor league talent and spy on possible future free agents, Billy has steered clear of the team he guided to American League pennants in 1976 and 1977 and World Series victory in 1977 — but not largely by choice.

"I try to watch the games on television," Martin says. "I can't do it. I feel like all my guts are coming out. I have to turn the things off. Lem's done a great job, but I still consider it my team. I've got to get back to the dugout."

"I will be back," he vowed. "George has told me too many times that the job is mine in 1980. I believe him."

Atlanta win m

By the Associated Press

Atlanta's defense Philadelphia's m brought an abrupt end to a miniserie in National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference, while the court advantage stretch things to the West.

The Atlanta Hawks Cleveland to just 13 in the final period and Cavaliers 100-91 in a night, while centers C. Jones and Darryl D. combined for 37 rebounds. Philadelphia overpowered the New Nets 111-101.

Atlanta and Philadelphia thus completed two sweeps of their first series and will begin the best-of-seven round Sunday, with Atlanta at Washington Philadelphia at San Antonio.

In the West, the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Phoenix 96-92 to tie those series victory apiece. The games will be played in Denver and Phoenix.

Atlanta and Houston tied 78-78 after three; but the Rockets were scoreless for 5:33 fourth quarter and n just 5 points in the 9:25 of the period. Hawks pulled away.

"The key to our good team defense Terry Furlow, Atlanta reserve guard. "The Hawks' D, that's what came down to."

Atlanta, Philly win mini-series

By the Associated Press

Atlanta's defense and Philadelphia's muscle brought an abrupt end to the two miniseries in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference, while the home-court advantage helped stretch things to the limit in the West.

The Atlanta Hawks limited Cleveland to just 13 points in the final period and beat the Cavaliers 100-91 Friday night, while centers Caldwell Jones and Darryl Dawkins combined for 37 rebounds as the Philadelphia 76ers overpowered the New Jersey Nets 111-101.

Atlanta and Philadelphia thus completed two-game sweeps of their first-round series and will begin play in the best-of-seven second-round Sunday, with Atlanta at Washington and Philadelphia at San Antonio.

In the West, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Denver Nuggets 121-109 and the Portland Trail Blazers defeated the Phoenix Suns 96-92 to tie those series at one victory apiece. The deciding games will be played Sunday in Denver and Phoenix.

Atlanta and Houston were tied 78-78 after three periods, but the Rockets were held scoreless for 5:33 of the fourth quarter and managed just five points in the opening 9:25 of the period as the Hawks pulled away.

"The key to our team is good team defense," said Terry Furlow, Atlanta's reserve guard. "The Atlanta Hawks' D, that's what it all came down to."

Moses Malone led Houston with 21 points and 24 rebounds but only scored 8 points in the second half.

"As John Paul Jones or someone once said, 'We found the enemy and they're really us,'" said Houston Coach Tom Nissalke, who said the Rockets did not get the ball inside enough to the 6-foot-10 Malone.

"Their defense took us out of what we wanted to do," said Houston guard Calvin Murphy. "They had a game plan and they stuck with it."

Offensively, John Drew and Eddie Johnson scored 25 points each and Furlow scored 12 of his 14 points the second half as Atlanta posted its 17th consecutive victory at home.

The 76ers simply out-muscled the Nets, pulling down an amazing 80 rebounds as Coach Billy Cunningham used his two centers together for much of the game. Jones had 24 points and 21 rebounds while Dawkins had 19 points and 16 rebounds.

The 6-11 Dawkins said he liked being on the court at the same time as the 7-1 Jones. "If my guy gets by me I know Caldwell will be there," he said. "I can relax a little if I know he's in there."

The Sixers led 51-45 at the half, went up by 10 after three periods and kept the lead in double figures throughout the final quarter.

Bernard King led New Jersey with 27 points while John Williamson, who scored 38 points in Wednesday's game, was held to 21 this time on 9-for-34 shooting.

LONG ARM — Los Angeles Lakers' premier center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, 33, stretches his long arm to its limit to block a shot by Denver Nuggets' Charles Scott during NBA playoff action Friday night in Los Angeles. Los Angeles defeated Denver 121-109 to tie 1-1 in the best of three series.

Lakers even series

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 32 points despite playing nearly the entire second half with five fouls, leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 121-109 victory over Denver Friday night that evened their best-of-3 National Basketball Association playoff series with the Nuggets at one game apiece.

The teams play the deciding game at Denver Sunday afternoon, where the Nuggets won the opener 110-105 last Tuesday night. The winner Sunday will play Pacific Division champion Seattle in the second round of the playoffs.

The Lakers, who led most of the way, appeared in command as they held a 104-96 advantage with 5:20 remaining. But the Nuggets, trying to end the series in two games, scored five straight points to trail by only three.

However, Los Angeles then outscored Denver 11-4 over a two-minute span to clinch the victory.

Blazers dump Phoenix

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Rookies Ron Brewer and Mychal Thompson scored 21 and 20 points, respectively, and the Portland Trail Blazers used a scrambling fourth-quarter defense to drop the Phoenix Suns 96-92 Friday night in their National Basketball Association playoff game.

The victory evens the best-of-three series at 1-1. The deciding game will be played Sunday in Phoenix.

The Suns led 76-73 after three quarters, but the Blazer defense allowed just five Phoenix field goals in the final period.

Portland took the lead for good 82-80 on a 3-point play by veteran Larry Steele with 8:27 left in the game. Steele came off the bench to score 16 points and hold the Suns' Walter Davis to 11 points in the second half. Davis had 18 in the first half and led all scorers with 31 points.

The Blazers put the game away on Steele's layup with 46 seconds to go in the game to give Portland a 94-86 lead.

Portland hit only 40 percent of its field goals, but forced 24 Phoenix turnovers. The Blazers out rebounded the Suns 52-46.

Judge dismisses Rose paternity suit

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Hamilton County juvenile court judge has dismissed a paternity claim against baseball star Pete Rose, but the case will be pursued in Florida, attorneys say.

Mayor discusses jazz move

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mayor Ernest Morial says it's his duty to find out what's behind the talk of moving the New Orleans Jazz of the National Basketball Association to Salt Lake City, Utah.

He called a meeting today in efforts to keep the Jazz in the Louisiana Superdome. Meeting with the mayor will be Denzil Skinner, the president of Hyatt Management Corp. which runs the Superdome, and Lee Schlesinger, who owns 30 percent of the Jazz. The majority stockholder in the team, Sam Battistone is supposed to listen in by long-distance telephone.

Battistone said he cannot get playing dates in the Superdome because of conventions and other events, which have crowded out the Jazz during the peak of the NBA season.

Florida, attorneys say. Judge David E. Grossmann dismissed the suit in Cincinnati Friday at the request of Cincinnati attorney Ed Benson, who represented Terry Rubio of Tampa, Fla.

Rubio, 25, alleged in lawsuits filed in Ohio and Florida that Rose is the father of her 1-year-old daughter, Morgan. The suits asked that Rose be ordered to pay hospital and other costs related to the child's birth and make support payments.

Benson said he had been instructed by Rubio's attorney in Florida to ask the Ohio court to drop the case, which was filed here first because Florida law barred a married woman from lodging a paternity claim against a man other than her husband. But a recent Florida Supreme Court ruling established a precedent for filing such a claim, attorneys said.

At the time Rubio's child was conceived, she was married to another man but was separated, she said. She claims to have been Rose's lover for more than two years after meeting him in spring training in 1976.

Rose, who is married, has refused to comment on the lawsuit.

WHY FISH STRIKE LURES

Fish are attracted to and will strike bits of plastic, wood and metal with hooks attached.

Why?

Are they dumb, or just so hungry they don't care? Experienced anglers who were asked this question by Mercury outdoors fishing department gave many different answers. Among these, six stand out as being universal reasons why fish strike lures.

Hunger is the primary reason. Fish feed like other creatures and when a lure appears as something they would like to eat, they strike!

Protection at nesting sites is another basic reason. This is true during spawning season among fish which provide parental care for their young or the unborn eggs.

Greed is another reason. A fish will rush to strike something which it is afraid a smaller fish will want.

In a lake or stream, big fish take up the best feeding stations and keep all others away by being there first when food happens by.

Some fish are gluttons. They'll regurgitate what's in their stomachs in order to strike a lure.

Fish can be provoked into striking.

Everett displays fishing skills

Kenny Everett, seven-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Everett, recently caught a three pound, five and one-half ounce wall eye while fishing in the South end of the dam at Moss Creek. Everett nabbed his fish on April 10. He resides in Midland.

Indy 500 faces likely boycott

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — An Indianapolis 500 without most of the top drivers might cut attendance somewhat, but the race will almost certainly be run and even more certainly infuriate the sponsors who pay thousands of dollars to paste their decals on the world's fastest billboards.

"For a sponsor, it's a cold, hard business decision," said one U.S. Auto Club spokesman. "Sponsors don't care about the infighting (between USAC and Championship Auto Racing Teams). If they build a program around a car driver in the 500, and then the car isn't even in the race, I would think they'd be throughly honked off."

CART, which had threatened to boycott the May 27 Indy 500 and stage its own $1 million race on the same day, submitted 44 entries to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Thursday.

But CART President Pat Patrick emphasized the entries were made only to meet Sunday's deadline and avoid technical disqualification, implying there is still no guarantee the CART drivers would be in the race.

He said CART would continue to press its demands for more control, and he said he has asked CART's attorney to advise him of possible options should the dispute with USAC and the Speedway not be resolved to CART's satisfaction.

Before Thursday's announcement, four-time winner A.J. Foyt, an original director of CART who had defected back to the USAC, was the only bigname driver entered in the race.

The CART entries included cars for former Indy winners Al and Bobby Unser, Johnny Rutherford and Gordon Johncock, two-time USAC national champion Tom Sneva, and other top drivers such as Danny Ongais, Wallyallenbach, Rick Mears, Mike Mosley, Pancho Carter, Salt Walther and Larry Cannon.

USAC recently lowered the allowable manifold pressure for all turbocharged engines to make them more equivalent to each other. CART, whose cars are mainly powered by the 8-cylinder engines, wants the pressure raised and wants equal voice with USAC in technical inspection of the racers.

YMCA hosting softball program to develop youngsters' skills

Registration for 5-pitch softball began at the YMCA Wednesday and will continue through April 25, while Tee-Ball registration has been extended to Friday, April 20. Both programs are intended to develop sportsmanship, teamwork, physical conditioning and the fundamentals of softball.

Boys and girls 12 and under may participate in 5-pitch softball. Except for the number of pitches thrown, the game has basically the same rules as softball. Games will be played Tuesday and Thursday from 5 to 6 p.m. Practice is at the discretion of the coaches and team.

The season will start May 1 and end May 31. Cost is $8.00 for Y-members and $15.00 for non-members.

Tee Ball registration will end Friday, April 20 for boys and girls grades one and two. A game consists of five innings or one hour, whichever comes first. The team will take field when three outs are made or when they have scored six runs. The ball is placed on a tee and the batter has three swings to hit the ball. When the ball is in the outfield it is in play. On an overthrow, or when the ball goes inside the 20 foot arc near home plate, all play is stopped.

Games for tee-ball are Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4 to 4 p.m., at the Boydston fields. Cost is $8.00 for Y-members and $15.00 for non-members. The cost includes a T-shirt.

A coaches, parents and umpire meeting for 5-pitch will be April 24 at 6:30 p.m. Tee-ball had their meeting April 3. Both sports will end the season with a Y-series tournament on May 19. If you have any questions, call the YMCA at 267-8234 or come by 801 Owens.

79 should be excellent year for hunters

By the Associated Press

AUSTIN — Texas' wildlife and fish may be heading for a banner year in 1979, thanks to widespread rains. Charles Winkler, big game program director for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said the late winter and early spring have soaked virtually all the state's wildlife habitat and should enhance reproductive efforts and survival of both big and small game species.

"You just can't overestimate the importance of rainfall during the time of year," Winkler said. "It provides food and cover during the critical weeks when birds are hatched and fawns are born."

Wild turkey production is expected to be exceptional this spring, after only a mediocre output in the spring of 1978, according to Horace Gore, upland game program leader.

Gore also is cautiously predicting a good year for quail production. "There always is such a high turnover rate for quail from natural mortality you have to have a good spring to have a good quail season the next autumn," Gore said. "And so far it looks like they're going to have a very good spring for nesting."

Gore pointed out that both quail and turkeys had a good year for reproduction in 1977, but the dry spring of 1978 saw production dip somewhat. "But this year is shaping up more like 1977, and unless a pretty severe drought hits this summer we should have good bird populations in the fall," added Gore.

The ground-soaking rains' benefits aren't confined to animals and birds, as some species of fish will reap the rewards of full lakes and flowing streams.

"Fresh water stimulates spawning," explained Bob Bounds, the department's inland fisheries management coordinator, "and it helps the young fish survive after they're hatched because it makes so many nutrients readily available."

Westbrook's Rich honored

WESTBROOK — Daryl Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleburne Rich of Westbrook, has been chosen to play in the Texas Six Man Coaches Association All-Star game on July 21. The game will be played in Stephenville on the campus of Tarleton State University.

Rich played guard on the District 10-B champion Wildcat basketball team the past year, averaging 14 points and 12 rebounds per game.

He was named to the all-district squad both his junior and senior years, as well as being named to the honorable mention list during his freshman and sophomore campaigns.

Big Spring Red Sox whip Fort Stockton

The Big Spring Red Sox baseball team won their first game of the year recently, taking a 10-2 decision over the Fort Stockton Snocs.

The Big Spring Red Sox baseball team opened their 1979 season in successful fashion, taking a doubleheader from the Fort Stockton Snocs. Mike Hernandez hurled the first victory, a 10-2 romp, and had ample support from th bats of John Morelino, Tony Lujan, Adam Yanez, Vincente Garcia, Ernie Garcia and Rennie Paradez.

The Red Sox won the second game by a score of 14-7. It was a come from behind affair led by the hitting of Garcia, Yanez, Lujan, Morelino, Mechie Sarmin' and Pete Amaro. David Cruz was the winning pitcher. The Red Sox will resume play the 22nd of April when they travel to Abilene.

"THE CHAMP" — Child star Ricky Schroder, 8, is shown in a recent studio portrait in Los Angeles. Schroder, from Staten Island, New York, plays the son of a prizefighter, played by Jon Voight, in a remake of the 1931 movie "The Champ."

Original director remakes movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Recently MGM gave an invitational preview for its remake of "The Champ," replete with searchlights, champagne and hoopla that recalled the studio's old glories. The guests included Cary Grant, Louise Fletcher, Rock Hudson, Jacqueline Bisset, Peter Falk, Jackie Cooper and King Vidor.
The presence of the latter pair was significant. Vidor directed the 1931 original that starred Cooper as the boy and Wallace Beery as the down-and-out prizefighter who stages a comeback to vindicate himself in his son's eyes. Frank Capra, who directed the 1979 version with Jon Voight, Faye Dunaway and Ricky Schroder.
After the preview I asked Vidor for his reaction.
"It took a lot of courage to remake a classic," said the vigorous, 85-year-old director, who will receive a special Oscar on April 9. "I think they did a good job. To me, Wally Beery was more convincing as a derelict than Jon Voight, but Voight worked into the role."
"I think the new picture is beautifully done," commented Cooper, himself a director as well as an actor. "Like most movies nowadays, I think it's too long. Two hours is a long time to sit through a movie; 100 minutes is about right."

Biographies make interesting reading

By JOHN W. DEATS
County Librarian
What do Lauren Bacall, Paul Newman, Joan Crawford, and Montgomery Clift have in common?
Aside from the obvious "show-biz" connection, they all have held center stage for some of the most informative biographies written during the past year. In a similar vein, Charlton Heston, Peter Ustinov, and Alan Jay Lerner have each authored their own, unique memoirs of exciting careers, in the process revealing much about an era gone by and a profession which has always been humorous in many respects.
Lerner is the noted playwright who gave the world those great stage successes, "Gigi," "Camelot," and "My Fair Lady." His book, "The Street Where I Live," can only contribute to the admiration which is held for noteworthy such as Rex Harrison, Audrey Hepburn, and Richard Burton.
For the literary interest, there is a wealth of recently published material. Tatyana Tolstoy renders an interesting account of life with her father in "Tolstoy Remembered," and Helga Sandburg offers an insider's perspective on her parents, Carl and Lillian.
Anthony Burgess has many insights to share with readers of Ernest Hemingway, and Scott Berg writes of the career of the noted editor, Max Perkins, a terrible speller but also a man totally committed "to be a dwarf on the shoulders of giants." C.P. Snow is a fine author of both fiction and non-fiction, and in "The Realists" he portrays both the idiosyncracies and the genius of a class of writers which includes Dickens, Balzac, Henry James, and Dostoevsky, among others.
Political lives are rarely dull, often controversial, and invariably a mother lode of material for the armchair analysts. Arthur Schlesinger accepted the challenge and wrote a lengthy but rewarding work on Robert Kennedy. A sometimes scathing critique on Governor Jerry Brown takes shape in James Lorenz's "The Man on the White Horse." Much more personal accounts are offered in the autobiographies of Betty Ford and Barbara Jordan. A bit more thought

Songwriter of the Year

Sonny's father 'sees the light'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The story goes like this: Sonny Throckmorton's father, a Pentecostal minister, had this sign outside his church in San Francisco:
"Brother Throckmorton preaching Sunday morning on why you shouldn't go to nightclubs on Saturday night."
Across town, a nightclub sign read:
"Sonny Throckmorton appearing here tonight."
The story has been embellished, but Brother Throckmorton can be proud of his son. Sonny was recently named songwriter of the year by the Nashville Songwriter's Association, which is like being first in your class at West Point, most valuable player in the Super Bowl or No. 1 black-jack player in Las Vegas.
Last year, more than 3 million people bought songs Throckmorton wrote. The best known were "Knee Deep in Loving You," recorded by Dave & Sugar, "Thinking of a Rendezvous," recorded by Johnny Duncan, and "If We're Not in Love by Monday," co-written by Glenn Martin and recorded by Merle Haggard.
That's not bad for someone who was told by his English teacher at Midwestern University in Texas that he should consider anything but writing.
"I don't think she meant songwriting," Throckmorton said in his second-floor office at the plush Tree International, a top song publishing company. "But she wasn't entirely wrong. If I had to sit down and write articles, I'd starve to death."
But his father has seen the light, so to speak, about his son's music career.
"He's beginning to like it now," Throckmorton, 37, said a few hours after a recording session that lasted until 5 a.m. "He was a totally devoted preacher and God's word was first. He wanted me to do something constructive with my life. He was trying to save souls and here I was in music. But he thinks it's neat I can make a living with a pencil."

Part of becoming a good songwriter, he said, is hard work.
"It's applying yourself and working hard. Maybe after you write 1,500 songs, people will say you can write."
"Learn your craft, then be lucky. Keep yourself attuned to thought waves. Study people. A great way to learn about people you are writing about is to know what you yourself are."

We're unveiling the first Chevy of the '80s on April 19th

Citation. It's a whole new kind of car. The first Chevy with front-wheel drive and transverse-mounted engine. Contemporary styling in a sporty package that takes up less than 3/4 of a parking space, yet carries five adults in comfort. It's the most thoroughly tested new car in Chevy history. And it'll be here for you to see and test drive April 19th.

GARDEN OF CANAAN MEMORIAL — Three crosses were recently erected in the Garden of Canaan in the Trinity Memorial Park. Though the lots in the garden are ready now for burial, paving of the garden's roads is still incomplete.

Trinity Memorial Park adds 3 granite crosses

The three-quarter acre Garden of Canaan in the Trinity Memorial Park and Mausoleum on the San Angelo Highway was graced recently with three granite crosses of Calvary, erected as a memorial to those buried in the garden.

The Garden of Canaan is on the south side of the cemetery and the crosses are in the center of the east end of the garden.

The center cross is almost 12 feet tall. Etched in gold near the base is the name of the garden. It is made of 2,700 pounds of Carnelian granite from Milbank, S.D.

The other two crosses standing at each side of the larger one are almost 10 feet high and weigh 1,600 pounds each. They are made from Sunset Granite quarried in Marble Falls.

Granite was chosen for its durability and the ability to give the stone a high polish.

Three other gardens are being developed along with the Garden of Canaan. They are the North Garden of Serenity, South Garden of Serenity and the Garden of Meditation on the west.

549 criminal cases pending

Total number of criminal cases pending in Howard County Court was 549 at the end of March, according to the monthly report. Cases pending at the beginning of the month numbered 532. Total number of cases added to the docket was 79. Total number of dispositions in March was 52.

The bulk of cases pending come under the heading, "other criminal," which consist of criminal misdemeanors other than DWI, marijuana possession and worthless check writing. Cases at the beginning of the month under other criminal numbered 399. Total number added in March numbered 68. Cases disposed of in March totaled 42 leaving 425 cases at the end of March under other criminal.

DWI cases constituted the second bulkiest class of criminal cases in county court with 106 at the beginning of March. Total number of cases added in March was nine. Total dispositions was 10 DWI cases leaving 105 at the end of March.

Marijuana cases numbered 26 at the beginning of March. Number of cases added to the docket in March was two. No marijuana cases were disposed in March.

Moore reunion next Sunday

The 17th annual homecoming of the Moore community in Howard County will be held from 2 to 5 p.m., next Sunday at the First Methodist Church in Big Spring, 400 Scurry Street.

The schoolhouse in the Moore community, which is located northwest of Big Spring, has long since disappeared but teachers, board members, former students, their families and descendants have managed to keep the spirit of the neighborhood alive.

The afternoon's activities will include the singing of gospel songs, refreshments and visitations.

The grandson of the late J.T. Miller, Delbert Schulze, now a member of the clergy, will address the gathering.

Anyone with any kind of ties to the Moore community is being invited to be in attendance.

"A Musical Review of the American Theatre"

Extravaganza coming soon!

By MICKIE DICKSON

Howard College will host and sponsor an area wide "Extravaganza" for the first time in recent Big Spring history. The theme is "A Musical Review of the American Theatre."

High school students from Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan, Grady, and Borden County will participate in this combined effort.

Jack Bowers, choral director of Big Spring High School will present "Guys 'n Dolls."

Coahoma High School will present "West Side Story," under the direction of Pam Hanson, band director.

Borden County High School will offer "Oklahoma," under the direction of Sam Parker, band director.

"Li'l Abner" will be presented by Forsan High School under the direction of Sam Robertson, band director.

Grady High School will present "George M." under the baton of Linda Simms, drill team director.

The coordinated effort is under the direction of John Gordon, Howard College drama instructor. Musical direction is by Ken Sprinkle, H.C. music instructor.

According to Sprinkle, "I'm very pleased with the quality of instrumentation we have for the Pit Band for the performance. The students are spending a lot of time rehearsing for the "Extravaganza" and I hope the community will support them with their attendance."

Students performing in the pit band are: Flutes: first, Toni Myrick, Big Spring High School; second, Janene Shive, Coahoma High School. Clarinets: first, Jim Griffin, second, Paula Witte both of Big Spring High School and third, Annette Cregar, Howard College. Alto Saxophones: Sherri Rogers, Big Spring High School and second, Kerre Brown, Coahoma High School. Trumpets: first, Mike Anderson, Forsan High School, second, Julie Hall, Coahoma High School and third, Christi Adams, Forsan High School. Trombones: first, Paula McCraw and second Tim Ballard both of Coahoma High School; third, Mark Key, baritone of Howard College. French Horns: first, Kathie Timmins and second, Debbie Butler, both of Big Spring High School. Tuba: first, Robby Rupard, Coahoma High School. Bass Clarinet: first, Cheryl Gillenwater, Big Spring High School. Percussion: Traps, Brent Rhoton, Borden County High School; Mallets, Brad Robertson, Forsan High School and Tymps, Alicia Thompson, Coahoma High School. Guitar, Russell Burchett, Big Spring High School.

Harlen Thornton, Howard College staff accompanist and piano instructor will accompany the pit band on the piano.

Sprinkle will also conduct the Howard College Choraliers, who will present the "Grease" portion of the Broadway musicals with the songs, "Summer Nights," "Raining on Prom Night," and "We Go Together."

The Choraliers will also sing selections throughout the Extravaganza from "Chicago," "Cell Block Tango," and "All That Jazz."

Members of the Howard College drama school are supplying the following soloists: Kerry Swann, Debra Woods, Andra Hohertz, Norma King, Cassandra Green, Mariella Wise and Denita Kionka. Other drama students participating in the production are Robert Cox, Leland Daniels, Chuck Dickens, Louis Porras, Charlie Nickle and Noel Martinez.

The finale will be performed by the Choraliers joined by other participants of the Extravaganza singing the hit "You're the One That I Want."

Saturday, April 21, is the date of the Extravaganza in the Howard College Auditorium at 8 p.m. Various awards will be given and judging will be done by area media representatives.

First place winner will receive $500, second place, $300 and third place $150.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children, and may be obtained from area high schools or Howard College.

Couple united Saturday in Baptist ceremony

Deana Linn Pittman became the bride of Barry Wayne McGonagill in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in the Fundamental Baptist Church, Sweetwater.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Max Smiley, Sweetwater and the Rev. Bill Hatler, Lubbock, at 7 p.m. before an altar flanked by two seven-branch candelabras entwined with ivy.

Wedding selections were performed by Tony Hillgoss as vocalist and guitarist. Judy Romine accompanied at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Pittman, Sweetwater. Parents of the groom are Dr. and Mrs. D. H. McGonagill, Big Spring.

The bride chose to wear a gown of candlelight organza featuring a fashioned yoke of antique Cluny lace. Tiny seed pearls defined the front yoke and candlestick sleeves. The princess skirt fell into a full chapel-length train enhanced by a deep flounce of antique lace around the bottom of the skirt and train. She wore a picture hat accented with matching antique lace, and carried a cascading bouquet of apricot carnations, apricot and white rosebuds and white daisies sprinkled with baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Debbie Lair of Sweetwater. Bridesmaids were Michele Jones, Sweetwater; and Sherree Johnston, New Orleans, La., cousin of the bride.

Attending the groom as best man was Dennis McGonagill, Loreda, brother of the groom. Groomsman included Tommy Porter, brother-in-law of the groom; and Don Weeks, both of Big Spring.

MRS. BARRY MCGONAGILL

Guests were seated by Lance Pittman, Sweetwater, brother of the bride; Danny Smith, Big Spring; and Greg Spencer, Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry McGonagill were feted with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. A three-tiered cake decorated with apricot rosebuds centered the bride's table which was draped with white satin cloth overlaid with lace. The bride's bouquet and a white Bible also enhanced the setting. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Sweetwater High School and attended Western Texas College. She is now employed by Citizens Federal Credit Union.

The groom is a Big Spring High School graduate and has attended Howard College and Texas Tech University. He is presently employed by D.D. Johnston Construction Company.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will make their home at 1904 East 25th, Big Spring.

What boys look for in girls

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Girls, did you ever wonder what boys really look for and desire in girls, especially in these ever-changing times when lifestyles, sex roles and social standards are difficult to understand and accept?

Recently, Gilbert Youth Research, in a national sampling of over 1,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 21 made these findings:

— Living Together: Boys were split almost right down the middle when asked if they expected to live with a girl before marriage.

— Marriage: Overall, almost 76 percent of all the boys indicated they would eventually head for the altar.

— Virginity: Feelings about virginity have fluctuated greatly in the last 40 years, and this survey shows that the pendulum seems to have swung back to a more conservative attitude. Nearly 60 percent of the boys surveyed preferred to marry a virgin.

— Interreligious Dating: Asked if they would consider dating someone of another religion, over 90 percent of all boys felt that probably or definitely would.

— First Impressions: Nearly half of all the boys polled said that a girl's figure is what first catches their eye. Slightly more than 31 percent said they look at her face.

— Dating habits: Boys preferred dating one girl exclusively to an arrangement in which both could see other people (44.4 percent as opposed to 39.9 percent).

— Interracial Dating: More than half of the boys — white and nonwhite — said they probably or definitely would date someone of another race.

— Female Assertiveness: When asked how they felt when a girl called them for a date, 44.2 percent of the boys admitted being turned on, 42.5 percent said it didn't matter, and only a scant 13 percent claimed that it turned them off. Another kind of assertiveness, offering to pay half the expenses of the date, turned off more boys than it turned on, 37.6 percent as opposed to 20.3 percent.

— The Date of His

Dreams: When asked to name the most important quality a girl can have, 33.4 percent of the boys chose personality. Beauty came in second, overall, garnering 22.8 percent of the votes. Warmth was third.

More 16- to 17-year-olds cared about beauty than 20- to 21-year-olds who more often opted for warmth and intelligence. A girl's opinions, her ambition and her independence trailed the list. Incidentally, a sense of humor, which was the reason given most often for asking someone for a second date, came in way down on the list of a girl's most important qualities. But who ever said boys were predictable!

Unpredictability and contradictions turned up over and over in the survey. Consider the following teen-ager, who blushing told his interviewer, "I don't want this to get back to my girlfriend, but, yes, I would like to live with her." The same boy, however, said he did not plan to marry the girl. He wanted his bride to be a virgin!

SUMMER NUPTIALS — Dorothy Hoyt announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Marshann to Robert L. Carlisle Jr., both of San Angelo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Carlisle Sr., 2200 Cindy. The bride-elect is also the daughter of the late Clyde Hoyt. The wedding date has been set for July 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Luke United Methodist Church, San Angelo. The Rev. Norman Roe, pastor, will officiate.

Newcomers

Joy Fortenberry, Newcomer Greeting Service hostess welcomed a large number of new residents to Big Spring April 2-6, many from out of state. New Big Springers include:

Bobby and Bonnie Powell from Victoria. Bob is employed as assistant manager of K Mart. They have two children, Michael, 6; and Angelia, 2. They enjoy sports, crocheting, handcrafts and fishing.

Bart and Pat Sherwood from Corpus Christi. He is a pharmacist at Malone-Hogan Hospital. He and his wife raise and train horses and enjoy reading, sewing handcrafts, and Back Gammon.

Bobby R. and Marlina Beasley and their 3-year-old son, Todd from Arlington. Bobby is a salesman at Prager's Men's Store. Their hobbies include music, sewing and handcrafts.

Gerald and Becky Dykes. Coming to Big Spring from Texarkana, Gerald is employed by Montgomery Ward. He and his wife play the guitar, sew and enjoy arts and crafts.

Rick Richards from Canton, Okla. Employed by Able Construction, his hobbies are fishing, hunting, car mechanics and crafts.

Lloyd and Patsy Williams from Hot Springs, S.D. Lloyd works for Able Construction and he and his wife have three children, including Christine, 11, Teresa, 9, and Troy, 1 1/2. Bowling, fishing, camping and swimming are enjoyed by the family.

Jerry L. and Frances Crews come to Big Spring from San Angelo with their children, Thomas, 15, Joyce, 14, and Frances, 16. Jerry is employed by Pool Co. and pastimes enjoyed by the family are motorcycles, fishing and bowling.

Coffee honors nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins of Knott were hosts for a coffee on Saturday morning in honor of their daughter, Kayla Jean, and her fiance, Thomas Thad McDonnell, Dallas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad McDonnell.

The couple plan to be married on June 16 in the First United Methodist Church of Ackerly. Rev. Weldon McCormick, minister of the First United Methodist Church in Levelland will officiate.

Mrs. A.J. Beckmeyer, Flower Grove, created original decorations for the entertainment area using the adage, "The Cat Is Out Of The Bag."

Mrs. Kenneth Schuelke registered guests from a square table covered with a floor-length flounce overlaid with candlelight lace. Ceramic siamese kittens were used on the registry table.

Mrs. Joe Paul Beall, Mrs. Billy Reed and Mrs. David Smith, served refreshments from an oval table covered with a handmade Irish linen cloth which the honoree brought from Poland. A crystal compote filled with fresh fruit centered the table. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Shower held

Mrs. Ricky Stone was honored April 6 with a baby shower given in the home of Mrs. Lynn Adams.

Other hostesses, in addition to Mrs. Adams, were Mrs. Tommy McMurtrey, Mrs. Ricky Cauble, Mrs. Bobby Hogue, and Mrs. Steve Coleman.

Mrs. Stone was presented a high chair, a stuffed toy bear, and a corsage of pink, blue and yellow baby socks decorated with a pacifier and diaper pins. Pink and blue ribbons adorned the corsage.

The refreshment table featured a teddy bear centerpiece and crystal appointments were used.

DATE SET — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knott, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kayla Jean, to Thomas Thad McDonnell, Dallas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad McDonnell, Levelland. The couple will be married June 16 in the First United Methodist Church, Ackerly, by the Rev. Weldon McCormick, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Levelland.

FLORENCE SUTTON LOST OVER 124 POUNDS AND 143 INCHES

Since I started Pat Walker's I have lost 124 lbs. and 134 inches. A lot has happened since my first picture appeared in the paper. I have lost more weight and I have even lost a 1/2 size in my shoe size. Needless to say, I feel and look like a different person.

I made a New Year's resolution to do something about my weight problem. I think I have kept that resolution. I have tried a number of diets but the Pat Walker routine is one I could live with the rest of my life.

The biggest thrill I get is shopping for clothes and being able to pick and choose. When you wear a size 24 1/2 you don't have much choice, but size 8 you have a better selection.

If you have a weight problem this is the place to come.

Lutheran church is wedding site

The St. Paul Lutheran Church was the setting of the Wednesday evening wedding of Jeanine Angela Craver and Jerry Wayne Reddin.

Performing the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Carroll C. Kohl, pastor, at 8 p.m. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James I. Craver, 1805 Duquoin and Mr. and Mrs. Sims Reddin, 1302 Wood, Big Spring.

The altar was decorated by a heart-shaped arch of greenery surrounding a sunburst floral arrangement, two heart-shaped candelabums of greenery, and a unity candle flanked by two vase of palm leaves. The aisle pews were decorated with single palm leaves.

Providing the music for the ceremony was China Long at the organ and Angela and Glenda Kohl, daughters of the pastor, vocalists.

The bride chose to wear a white satin gown with an empire waist, trimmed with embroidered lace on the long sleeves, bodice and down the front. Her cap of embroidered lace was enhanced with pearls and a waist length veil. The bridal gown and accessories were made by her mother.

A cascade of white carnations and blue daisies tied with blue satin streamers enhanced the bride's ensemble.

Leisha Biddison, Big Spring, served as maid of honor. Sharon Craver, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They were attired in gowns of blue satin with empire waists with lace entwined with blue ribbon and embroidered flowers, and light blue hats. They carried nosegays of carnations and blue daisies.

Serving the groom as best man was Kenneth McMurtrey, Big Spring. Groomsmen were Jim Craver, brother of the bride and Terry Reddin, brother of the groom.

A reception feted the couple in the St. Paul Lutheran parish hall. A three-tiered wedding cake of white and blue with blue satin wedding bells was served from the bride's table with punch. Appointments were a crystal punch bowl with glasses and an eight-tiered candelabrum.

Serving at the bride's table were Terry Stockton, Wendy Namley, Nancy Porter and Joni Jones.

Colleen Craver, sister of the bride, and Sandra Harbin, Big Spring, registered the guests.

The bride is a senior at Big Spring High School and a bookkeeper for Sidney T. Clark Tax and Bookkeeping Service. The groom attended high school in Gallatin, Tenn. and works for National Supply Company.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, Tyler and Mineola, the couple will be at home in Big Spring.

Mrs. Rogers shows crepe preparation

Mrs. Janet Rogers, county extension agent, gave a demonstration preparing crepes to the Center Point THEA Club when they met Tuesday at the Kentwood Center with Lucile Petty, president, presiding.

Roll call was answered with members explaining how they make time for their hobbies. Mrs. Bob Wren presented the devotional from II Timothy 2:6.

Mrs. Alene Milton gave a reading on "Diary of a Bible, Is It Yours?"

Mrs. Rogers revealed in her demonstration that crepes are packed with nutrients, especially protein from eggs and milk.

"A serving of chicken and broccoli crepe would provide you with nutrients the same as meat," explained the county extension agent.

Crepes can be prepared a day or weeks in advance. They, like omelets, can be frozen.

Rita Sherrill marries Stephen Craig Yeats

The wedding vows between Rita Claire Sherrill and Stephen Craig Yeats were solemnized Friday evening in the chapel of Wesley United Methodist Church.

The Rev. August A. nodt, pastor, performed the rite before two arrangements of mixed spring flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gladys Sherrill, Box 16, Sterling City Rt. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yeats, Box 17, Sterling City Rt.

Imogene Rickabough provided the wedding music at the piano, accompanying the bride as she was presented down the aisle in a street-length dress of light blue crepe. She carried a nosegay of mixed spring flowers and pink rosebuds adorned with baby's breath.

Immediately following the ceremony, the newlyweds were feted with a reception in the home of the groom's

Over 800 nurses and students, including 20 from Big Spring, attended Texas Nurses Association's 68th Annual Convention at Loew's Anatole Hotel in Dallas April 4-7.

Keynote speaker was Connie Halloran, R.N., director of N-Cap, whose topic carried out the theme of the convention, "The Seventies-Pathway to the Eighties."

Ms. Halloran said, "There are over 1 million nurses and we need more of them on Public Health Boards and holding elective offices."

Senator Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, reported Friday to the convention on the status of his bill, SB-1062, that was introduced to relieve the "standing order" conflict.

Under the AG ruling, that nurses cannot follow "standing orders" unless the physician has prescribed for the individual patient, has thrown many sectors of the health system into possible conflict with current law and nurses have asked the legislature for relief because they feel they have an obligation to their patients" Truan said.

His bill, specifically aimed at resolving doubt created by the AG ruling, by setting up a joint practice committee which would issue regulations governing the physician's delegation of activities to Registered Nurses and clarify "standing orders", passed in committee by a 6-2 vote.

Eddie Bernice Johnson, R.N., M.P.A., Principal Regional Official, Dept. of H.E.W., Dallas, spoke on rising hospital costs and urged increased use of educational advanced nurses in primary health care positions.

She said, "The American people are making a gigantic investment in health care, but getting only a moderate return in better health and the third largest industry in the U.S. is glaringly absent in qualities that have made American economy: consumer choice, incentive to keep cost low, rational planning, and competition."

In addition to the principal addresses, business meetings, skills seminars, educational lectures and specialty conferences were held to help nurses further their professional knowledge.

Several significant resolutions were passed at the business meeting, chief among them being to decertify as a collective bargaining agent. Other resolutions passed were in favor of mandatory licensure and mandatory continuing education.

The group voted to support the Associate Degree as the minimum level of education for the practice of Registered Nurse and to send a resolution to Governor Clements urging him to appoint qualified and practicing RNs to the Statewide Health Coordinating Council. Thursday and Friday during lunch, the nurses broke up into different specialty conferences to discuss advances in health care in such areas as Medical-Surgical, Maternal-Child, Mental Health, Community Health, School Health, Gerontological Health, Nurse educators, and Private Duty.

Saturday, the group attended an address by Marjorie Gordon R.N., Ph.D., Associate Professor, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, Chairperson of the Task Force on Nursing Diagnosis who spoke on purposes and methods of nursing diagnosis.

She said, "Nursing diagnosis gives the nurse a better perspective of the total person and their problems rather than just the medical problem."

Before the meeting adjourned plans were made to hold conventions every 2 years in odd years as American Nurses Association hold their meeting in even years.

Realtors ready for seminar

A panel of six speakers will conduct a free seminar to assist first-time home buyers in understanding the steps involved in the purchase of a home at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 19, at the Cactus Room, Howard College Student Union Building. The seminar is sponsored by the Big Spring Board of Realtors.

The Realtors will discuss how to select a first home, financial programs designed for low-income buyers, how to apply for a home loan, how closing costs are determined, and the formal procedures followed in a home purchase. A question and answer session will follow the panel presentation.

Speakers are Rufus Rowland, Charles Beil, Mark Campbell, Jackie Johnson, Bill Estes, Mike McKinney and moderator Jeff Brown.

The program is designed for those actively seeking a first home as well as those who hope to purchase in the future. It is open to the public and there is no obligation to these attending.

Adultery: Eight-Letter Word That Means Sordid

DEAR ABBY: Is adultery always wrong? I have a married friend I'll call Jim who has a girlfriend I'll call Joyce. When Jim and Joyce are together it is obvious that they are madly in love.

Jim was trapped into marriage by a girl who got herself pregnant so Jim would have to marry her.

A few years ago, when Jim fell in love with Joyce, he was all set to leave his wife and marry Joyce, but his wife deliberately got herself pregnant, and Jim was trapped again.

The only reason Jim is staying with his wife is because of his two children. Joyce understands the situation and accepts it, so she doesn't pressure Jim for a divorce.

Jim's wife knows nothing about Joyce, so she's not getting hurt by his affair.

So what's wrong with Jim grabbing whatever happiness he can? Isn't this affair better than breaking up a family?

A FRIEND OF BOTH

DEAR FRIEND: Even if Jim and Joyce were never caught in this adulterous affair it would still be wrong. When a man really loves a woman he wants her by his side publicly instead of sneaking around back alleys. Divorce is legal, respectable and dignified. Adultery is cheap, shoddy and deceitful.

And as for Jim's wife "deliberately getting herself pregnant" . . . that's not possible. She had to have Jim's deliberate cooperation.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 16-year-old girl who was grounded for three weeks. I couldn't even have my friends over. I was very, very angry, but my parents really did me a favor, and I'd like to tell other kids about it, and maybe it will help them.

The first week I was really mad. I wouldn't speak to my parents. The nicer they were to me, the nastier I was—slamming doors, turning the radio way up just to bug them, etc.

Then I had a talk with my favorite teacher. She advised me to use the time constructively, so I cleaned my room from top to bottom—rearranged all my clothes and sorted them out. I gave the stuff I'd outgrown to the Goodwill, sewed on buttons that had been off a long time, etc.

I got way ahead in my history, science and English. I also read two good books and caught up on letter writing I'd put off for a long time.

I was still mad at my parents when I was around them, but inside I felt a lot better about myself.

Hope you think it's worth passing along.

UNGROUNDING AT LAST,

DEAR UNGROUNDED: You bet it's worth passing along. You didn't say why you were grounded, but I'll bet you'll never do it again.

DEAR ABBY: I cheated a little on my income tax and haven't been able to sleep very well lately. Any suggestions?

TOSSING AND TURNING

DEAR T and T: Yes. Send the IRS $500. And if you still can't sleep, send them the balance.

Join Medic Alert

TURLOCK, CA — Of the nearly one million people who suffer myocardial infarctions each year, twenty-eight percent or approximately 375,000 die as a result.

"The other seventy-two percent, those who have suffered a myocardial infarction and survived it, should become members of the Medic Alert system of emergency medical identification," according to former U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry, M.D. "If another attack should ever come, Medic Alert can help save his life. Perhaps then we could reduce the percentage of fatalities from this illness."

Three reasons for the fatalities of heart attack victims have been cited by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare:

1. Two-thirds of the patients never receive medical assistance;
2. Patients delay in call for help because of ignorance or because they refuse to accept their own symptoms;
3. Seven percent cannot be resuscitated by rescue crews.

By joining Medic Alert, a member receives a bracelet with the universally recognized Medic Alert, a member receives a bracelet with the universally recognized Medic Alert emblem engraved on the front and, on the reverse, his member computerized identification number and the 24-hour Medic Alert emergency telephone answering service number.

"A person suffering any kind of heart condition, or who has survived a myocardial infarction, should immediately avail himself of Medic Alert's protection," declared Dr. Terry. "If he or she should ever suffer another attack, and become unconscious or is unable to speak, the Medic Alert emblem will call immediate attention to the condition."

"Emergency technicians treating the patient can immediately contact Medic Alert's emergency answering services the patient is taking, the name of his or her physician, and other important information which can help save the patient's life."

Dr. Terry advises rescue personnel attending emergencies to look immediately for a Medic Alert bracelet or necklace on the patient. If he or she is wearing the alerting device, the patient's wallet should also be checked to find the annually updated Medic Alert wallet card which provides other important data about the patient's condition.

"Medic Alert is designed to speak for a victim in the event they are unable to speak for themselves in an emergency," Terry said. "We can and do save lives everyday of the year."

Terry, Director of Medical Affairs for the Medic Alert Foundation, stated that in a recent twelve-month period, the Foundation's unique system of emergency medical protection is credited with saving 2,000 lives.

Medic Alert, which serves people with hidden medical conditions ranging from medication allergies, to heart problems, diabetes and epilepsy, is non-profit, tax-exempt, and charitable. To its 1.3 million members, it provides a complete 24-hour emergency medical identification and information system.

Further information can be obtained by writing Medic Alert, Turlock, California 95380.

Medleys celebrate 25th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Medley, Big Spring, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at the Big Spring Country Club April 6 at 8 p.m.

The cocktail buffet party was hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. John Riher, Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Craig Medley of Dallas.

Pat Elkins of Coleman, Texas and Ron Medley from Joplin, Mo. were married April 16, 1954, in the Blodgett Baptist Church in Carlsbad, N.M.

A three tiered wedding cake topped with fresh red sweetheart roses was served to the approximately 75 friends attending.

The three tables were covered with white lace cloths enhanced by centerpieces of red roses and pink carnations. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

HIEFSS to hold spring workshop

The Permian Basin chapter of The Hospital, Institution and Educational Food Service Society (HIEFSS) meets the first Wednesday of each month, 7:30 p.m., at Trinity Towers, 2800 W. Illinois, Midland.

Ethel Pringle of Malone-Hogan Hospital, is president elect for 1979-1980, to take office in September.

The Hospital, Institution and Educational Food Service Society (HIEFSS) will hold its 1979 Spring Workshop at Tides II Motel in Houston, Texas April 20 through 21, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Outstanding speakers who have accumulated knowledge from working in the food industry will lecture in areas of Nutrition, Management, Diet Therapy, Assertiveness, "The Latest in Nursing Home Standards," "The New Guidelines for Hospitals from Joint Commission", as well as practical pointers to be applied in other areas of food service.

The Texas HIEFSS were organized in Houston in 1969. At this workshop, they will celebrate their Tenth Birthday by presenting a Historical display of HIEFSS work in Texas.

HIEFSS is a national organization, which was found in 1970 by The American Dietetic Association (ADA), representing the Dietetic Assistant and Dietetic Technician. The objectives of HIEFSS are "to promote education in schools, hospitals, and other institutions in nutrition practices of human beings and in food service; to advance to science of food service by offering continuing education opportunities for its members."

Members of HIEFSS are recognized by employers as having met certain requirements of education and experience which more than meet requirements of federal regulations for skilled care facilities.

Turning dull into sparkle

NEW YORK, N.Y. — All that's gold may not glitter. Your jewelry can lose its shine from tarnish and daily wear.

How to turn dull into sparkle? The April issue of Seventeen Magazine says to soak fine gold and silver jewelry, with or without stones, in a solution of warm, soapy water. A soft toothbrush is perfect for gently removing stubborn grime. Place the jewelry in a wire strainer, and rinse it under clear, lukewarm water. (Never rinse jewelry with stones in cold water. The temperature change could cause the gems to crack.) Then, polish the jewelry with a soft cloth.

Skip the soap with turquoise jewelry, as it could become discolored.
