CAUSED BY THIRD VEHICLE — William Jimmy Cox, of Midland, being assisted at top by Shaffer Ambulance attendants, was seriously injured, in the collision, lower photo, caused by a third, non-contact vehicle that left the scene at FM-700 and East 11th around 11:10 a. m. today. Cox, driver of the pickup, was northbound on FM-700 when an eastbound car ran the stop sign on 11th. In attempting to avoid a collision, Cox turned east, striking a city dump truck that had stopped at the intersection in the westbound lane of 11th. Driver of the city truck, Kenneth C. Turner, 1510A Wood, was uninjured. Cox, an employee of Lantern Petroleum in Midland was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital. He suffered from cuts and abrasions and may have sustained a broken leg.

Nation's energy problems drop Carter's ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Most Americans don't think President Carter is doing a good job handling the nation's energy problems, but they give Congress even lower marks for its work in the area, an Associated Press-NBC News poll shows.

The public, deeply concerned about energy matters, sees claims of energy shortages as a hoax while remaining deeply worried about the availability of power in the future.

In the poll taken April 30 and May 1, 14 percent rated Carter's efforts on energy matters excellent or good.

But only 10 percent gave Congress similar ratings for its work on energy.

For Carter, the remainder of his energy ratings worked out this way: 35 percent, only fair; 46 percent, poor; and 5 percent, not sure.

Asked about Congress, 39 percent rated its energy work only fair and 44 percent said it was poor.

John Massey to be sworn in as council member Tuesday

With the election of its new members finally concluded, the Big Spring City Council will officially canvass the returns, swear in the new member and elect a Mayor Pro-Tem at Tuesday's regular meeting.

The meeting will be the first for member John Massey, who will replace Polly Mays after winning an April 28 runoff election.

Members will also consider a newly revised ordinance concerning peddlers and solicitors and setting up an itinerant merchants license. The council had previously passed such an ordinance on a first reading, but reconsidered after some complaints were lodged about its harshness.

The council will review a budget request for a city-wide summer recreation program at the 9 a.m. meeting. As an addendum to this agenda item, members will also listen to suggestions by Tina Arguello for improvements to the city.

Bids for pre-fab buildings to replace golf carts that burned at the Municipal Golf Course will be awarded at the meeting.

In other business, council members will:

—Observe a presentation of a mapping program by Earl Dean, tax appraiser.

—Consider awarding a bid for a riding lawn mower.

—Give permission to advertise for bids for the Northside Street Paving Program which will use Community Development Block Grant Funds.

—Consider giving permission to the Office of Housing and Community Development to hold a public hearing for improvements of city parks.

—Examine minutes of meetings of the Traffic Commission, the Big Spring Steering Committee and the Structural Standards Board.

—Present Service Awards.

—Go into closed session to discuss a personnel matter.

Guerrilla camp is target

Israeli jets strike

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli jets struck into Lebanon for the second straight day today, bombing a Palestinian camp at the southern Lebanese village of Reihah, an Israeli military spokesman said.

He said the target was a guerrilla camp 11 miles north of the border town of Metulla in Israel's northeast corner. A Palestine Liberation Organization spokesman in Beirut said there were no casualties.

Just hours later, Prime Minister Menachem Begin told the Israeli Parliament in a major policy address that he will offer to negotiate peace with Lebanon. He vowed, however, to continue attacking guerrilla bases in Lebanon to wipe out "terrorists who spill the innocent blood of men, women and children."

Begin also appealed to Arab countries to donate money and land for the resettlement of Lebanon's Palestinian refugees.

Opening the summer session of the Knesset, the Israeli Parliament, Begin said he would call on Lebanese President Elias Sarkis to join him in a summit meeting in Israel or on neutral ground.

Neither of Begin's proposals has any chance of being carried out.

In northern Lebanon, rescue workers dug two more bodies out of the rubble at Nahr El-Bared refugee camp today, bringing to six the death toll from Sunday's Israeli air raid on the camp, provincial Lebanese authorities said.

The 15-minute Israeli bombardment Sunday hit a stronghold of Dr. George Habash's Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine. A Popular Front spokesman said 25 persons were wounded. Government officials said five of the dead were from one family, including a 1½-month-old baby boy.

A taxi driver who was in the area said the Israeli jets "hit a house where more than 100 persons were gathered for a wedding party." He said about 30 of the crowd were wounded, "and three or four of them died minutes later."

The Lebanese government radio said the planes also bombed the neighboring Lebanese village of Al-Mohmara. But it said nothing about casualties there.

An Israeli communique said the raiders' targets were bases used for training guerrillas for raids in Israel. But Popular Front spokesman Bassam Abu Sharif claimed only civilian areas in the eastern part of the camp were attacked.

A report from Beirut said four planes attacked the camp while two others patrolled nearby to ward off Syrian planes. No Syrian attack was reported, and the Israeli communique said all the planes returned safely.

Israeli gunboats shelled Nahr El-Bared last month after guerrillas landed on the northern Israeli coast April 22 and raided the town of Nahariya. Four Israelis and two of the three guerrillas died in the raid.

Israel retaliated with four days of air, sea and artillery attacks in which about 60 Palestinian and Lebanese were reported killed before U.N. peacekeeping forces arranged a cease-fire.

FONDA SPEAKS OUT IN WASHINGTON — Jane Fonda backed by her husband Tom Hayden, speaks to a crowd on the Capitol grounds Sunday estimated at 65,000, gathered to protest nuclear power.

Critics of nuclear power claim issue has 'turned the corner'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Buoyed by the largest anti-nuclear rally in U.S. history, nuclear power critics say the questions they raise have become a national issue that could play a key role in deciding whether President Carter is re-elected.

While previous nuclear protests have been local and aimed at single plants, the demonstration Sunday at the foot of the Capitol took direct aim at the White House a mile away.

"Has Jimmy Carter deceived you?" shouted consumer activist Ralph Nader.

The crowd roared back, "Yes."

Pediatrician and former antiwar activist Benjamin Spock proclaimed, "Today the antinuclear power movement has gone national."

Police estimated at least 70,000 persons marched under clear sunny skies from the Ellipse near the White House to the Capitol steps. Protest leaders put the number at more than 100,000.

Despite the accident at the Three Mile Island nuclear plant March 28, Carter has called for continued development of atomic power, although ordering a review of safety procedures. The president avoided the protesters, using other-than-normal routes when he left the White House briefly twice during the day.

The rally took on a distinct political atmosphere as speaker after speaker lashed out against the continued development of nuclear power and particularly at Carter and his energy secretary, James R. Schlesinger, a strong advocate of nuclear power.

SIGNAL EVENT — A ribbon cutting ceremony signaled the opening of the State National Bank in its new location at Ninth and Main Streets this morning. Members of the Ambassadors Club gather around the Currie family to participate in the ritual. Agnes Currie and Mrs. Bob Currie stand between Marie Hall, who cut the ribbon and John Currie. John, who succeeded his late father as president of the financial institution, is in the checkered shirt without a coat. The handsome structure formerly housed the Malone and Hogan Clinic. For many years, the bank was located at Second and Main Streets. Formal opening of the facility has been scheduled for Sunday, May 20.

PUBLICITY WITH A SPLASH — British parachuting record holder David Parchment lands in the River Thames in front of the Houses of Parliament Sunday after jumping from a helicopter. Parchment was attempting to publicize his attempt on the world 24-hour parachuting record June 19-20 at Shobdon, Herefordshire.

Lobbyist: It's silly to accuse mortgage bankers of collusion

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The chief lobbyist of the Texas Savings and Loan League says it is "silly" to accuse Texas mortgage bankers of collusion in the legislative attempt to raise home interest rates.

"All I can tell you is that collusion is an impossible thing," Durwood Curlee, executive director of the Savings and Loan League, said on a radio talk program Capital Dateline. The program was taped Friday for broadcast beginning Sunday morning.

On Friday, Texas AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard said that U.S. Attorney Tony Canales in Houston was investigating possible anti-trust violations and charges of collusion between the Federal

Reconstructive surgery far more popular today

For better or worse, today's society places much emphasis on youth and beauty. With this emphasis, cosmetic surgery is becoming both more acceptable and popular. A few years ago, it was considered frivolous.

Cosmetic or aesthetic surgery is one branch of plastic surgery, the Texas Medical Association says. One of the best known examples of this type of surgery is the "rhytidectomy" or facelift. This operation involves lifting loose skin to eliminate wrinkles and restore its tightness and firmness.

After excess tissue is removed, the skin is stitched usually along a hairline incision. "Rhinoplasties" or nose jobs, and hair transplants are also popular.

Apart from performing this type of surgery, the cosmetic surgeon focuses much of his attention on repairing deformities resulting from cancer, burns and congenital disorders.

National Mortgage Bankers Association and Texas lenders.

Earlier, Gov. Bill Clements retracted his pledge to veto any bill that would raise interest rates from 10 to 12 percent. He said he now favors a "floating" rate based on long term U.S. Treasury bonds with a 12 percent maximum.

Curlee said it was merely a coincidence the shutoff of Texas VA and FHA loans by the Federal National Mortgage Association happened at a time the interest rate bill was pending in the legislative.

"Some people are always walking around the Capitol saying there are a lot of conspiracies going on," he said, "but people who have really been there know that people don't operate that way. Things cause events to happen and people respond

Large crowd is likely for college graduation

The 1979 graduation exercise at Howard College bids fair to attract the largest crowd in the history of the school.

The ritual will be held in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum starting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday. The principal speaker will be Roosevelt (Rosie) Grier, nationally known figure who has made his mark in athletics, the acting profession and in human relations.

Grier is a former defensive tackle for the New York Giants who grumbled when he discovered he was being traded to Los Angeles. As it turned out, it was the best thing that ever happened to him.

Hero prefers his privacy

DERRY, N.H. (AP) — Alan B. Shepard Jr., a 1960s hero as the nation's first man in space, prefers his privacy so much today that he even declined to do an American Express card commercial.

That came to light here Saturday on the 18th anniversary of America's first manned space flight.

Born and reared in this small New England town, Shepard made the 15-minute suborbital flight of 302 miles aboard Freedom 7 on May 5, 1961, and later went to the moon.

Shepard said he recently declined to do an American Express credit card commercial because he prefers to remain out of the limelight.

Foreign students promote peace

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: My dad said that the reason why our colleges and universities are so overcrowded is the great amount of foreign students attending colleges in the United States.

If this is so, why don't we stop these students from taking our education away from us? — Johnny, Worland, Wyo.

Johnny: There are 180,000 foreign students studying in the United States and 49,000 studying in Canada, and both nations are seeking more. Having foreign students is an excellent opportunity to promote world peace and share cultural customs.

Actually, colleges and universities in the United States and Canada are under-enrolled and are looking for students.

Qualified students have no problem enrolling in schools of their choice.

Dr. Wallace: I'm almost 14 and constantly in an argument with my mom concerning my drinking coffee. I'm 5-foot-8 and have had my main growth spurt.

My question is: Should I be able to drink coffee, and if so how much should I be allowed to drink? — Adam, Chico, Calif.

Adam: I can't say if you should be able to drink coffee or not. I can only give you the facts.

First of all, coffee does not stop the natural growth pattern but the caffeine in coffee is addictive and can cause "coffee nerves" (six or more cups per day). Coffee has no calories and no nutritional value but caffeine is considered a drug.

Hope that this info will stop the arguing.

Dr. Wallace: Please help me. I'm really down in the dumps.

At the beginning of the school year a few girls spread the rumor that I went to bed with a "bad guy."

Now all the girls are calling me terrible names and I can't handle it. Guys take me out but they are only after one thing and never call me after the first date.

Please help me, fast. — Dumps, Galesburg, Ill.

Dumps: There is no easy solution to your problem. Get involved in a club or organization where kids can really get to know you.

In this case, don't say anything back when you hear things. It will only add to the problem.

Write to Dr. R. Wallace, TWEEN 12 AND 20, in care of this newspaper. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Gaskins, bride-elect, showered with wedding gifts

The home of Mrs. J.E. Peugh, Knott, was the site of a bridal shower May 3 honoring Kayla Gaskins, bride-elect of Tom McDonnell.

Various shades of blue and ivory were used in decorations throughout the entire party setting. A corsage of blue silk roses was presented to the honoree.

Corsages were also given to the bride-elect's mother, the prospective bridegroom's mother and the grandmothers present.

The registration table, draped with blue and ivory, was enhanced by a wedding invitation in an ivory and gold frame featuring a skyblue background.

Refreshments were served to the 60 guests attending from a table covered with ivory-tinted, lace-trimmed cloth. A three-branched candelabrum accented with silk flowers of blue and ivory interspersed with silver wedding bells topped the table as centerpiece. Completing the table decorations were two white doves nestled in a bow of ivory satin ribbon.

Hostesses for the event were Bonnie Ruth Brown, Raye McGregor, Jeneane Perry, Wanda Dyer, June Nichols, Laveta Bowlin, Joe Hughes, Nelle Hopper, Leona Roman, Nina V. Riddle, Sue Robinson, Joann Peugh, Zula Coleman, Louise Coleman and Johnny Sue Coleman.

They presented the bride-to-be with a kitchen center appliance set.

Attending from out of town were the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Thad McDonnell, Levelland;

Mrs. G.W. Martin, Lamesa; and Mrs. Nan McKinney and Mrs. Rob Ethridge, Coahoma.

The couple will exchange vows June 16 in the First Methodist Church, Ackerly.

Cow Belle Kitchen

Not all the family always eats together nowadays. Often schedules don't jibe and mom becomes a short order cook, much to her dismay. Or if she's the family member that must be somewhere else, it may mean a cold meal for the children and even for dad.

Yet a hot meal is important, especially in chilly weather. A solution for lunch or supper is satisfying made-ahead sandwiches that can be heated all at once or individually upon demand.

Meat in the sandwiches provides not only flavor but the protein, iron and B vitamins that the family needs.

BARBECUED BEEF BURGERS
2 pounds ground beef
2 medium-sized onions, chopped
1 medium-sized green pepper, chopped
1 can (15 ounce) tomato sauce
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
8 hamburger buns
Lightly brown ground beef, onion and green pepper. Pour off drippings. Add tomato sauce, mustard, brown sugar, Worcestershire sauce and salt to meat mixture, combining thoroughly. Bring to boil, reduce heat and cook 20-30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spoon barbecue mixture on bottom halves of buns, cover with bun tops and serve at once. Or filled buns can be individually wrapped in foil and heated in 300 degrees F. oven, 8 servings.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing a Dear Abby letter, but I must speak out in defense of PIANO LESSON HATER, to whom you said, "I've had thousands of people tell me they were sorry they quit piano, but not one ever said he was GLAD he quit."

Disharmony From The Key-Bored

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing a Dear Abby letter, but I must speak out in defense of PIANO LESSON HATER, to whom you said, "I've had thousands of people tell me they were sorry they quit piano, but not one ever said he was GLAD he quit."

Well, now you can retract your statement! My mother was a piano teacher who made me practice an hour every day from the time I was 8 until I was 15. (I'm a boy.) I never was very good and I hated that kind of music. I finally talked her into letting me quit piano and take guitar lessons. I rented a guitar and worked at every odd job I could get to pay for my own lessons and nobody had to nag me to practice, either. (I loved country and western and ballads, and still do.)

I suppose I should thank my Mom for having exposed me to music in the first place, but when a kid reaches a certain age, he should be allowed to select his own instrument and his own kind of music. What do you think?

HATED PIANO—LOVES GUITAR

DEAR HATED: I think my answer was out of tune with the times. At least it certainly struck a sour note with most of my readers. Read on for more disharmony.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't encourage parents to force music lessons on their children.

My wife and I decided that our son should take piano lessons when he was 9. He liked it at first, then lost interest, but we forced him to take lessons and practice an hour a day for three years.

Finally he persuaded us to let him quit piano and take clarinet. Then he quit clarinet and took trumpet. Then he quit trumpet to take guitar. After he quit guitar he took up drums!

The boy had absolutely no talent. It was a waste of our money and his time. In my opinion, forcing music lessons on children is a form of child abuse!

LONG-SUFFERING DAD

DEAR ABBY: This is an open letter to parents who are forcing their children to take piano lessons for violin, trumpet, clarinet, etc. STOP!

If you want your children to learn about good music, take them to concerts when they're small. Even if they don't pay close attention, they'll absorb something each time.

At Christmastime take them to a local ballet company's "Nutcracker." They'll love it.

Expose them to opera by getting "Live From The Met" on your radio every Saturday afternoon. Even if they're doing something else, the background music will become more and more familiar each time they hear it.

And lastly, give them access to a good record player and fine classical records.

I spent five precious years (from 8 to 13) hating piano lessons, dreading recitals and feeling guilty about the hard-earned money spent on lessons for me. My love for classical music came from listening to records at a friend's house.

The parent who forces a child to learn an instrument should examine his own desires, and perhaps take lessons himself. You're never too old to learn.

Astros rally

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Houston Astros took their share of lumps on a two-week-long road trip that ended here Sunday, but they still came out of the ordeal leading the National League West by 1 1/2 games.

Houston returns home to the Astrodome Tuesday, and as third baseman Enos Cabell says: "We seldom lose there. If anybody's going to beat us, they better beat us on the road."

The Astros lost three straight games to the Cincinnati Reds, then salvaged a split of Sunday's doubleheader with an 8-2 victory. The Reds pummeled Houston 17-5 in the opener.

"After losing three in a row then winning the last one, that's a big lift," said Astros Manager Bill Virdon. "All you have to have is somebody go out and pitch a good game. That changes the whole complexion."

That job fell to Frank Riccetti, a "spot starter" who held Cincinnati to five hits, silencing the bats that had boomed out 17 hits and three home runs in the first game.

"I wasn't getting a whole lot over," Riccetti complained afterwards. "I only had two good curve balls all day. But I had a good enough fast ball to sneak by."

Cabell drove in three runs with two singles, and Riccetti drove in three more with a bases-loaded double.

"He's not a bad hitter. I remember Riccetti as a kid in the Giant organization," said Reds Manager John McNamara. "I've seen him used as a pinch hitter (in the minor leagues)."

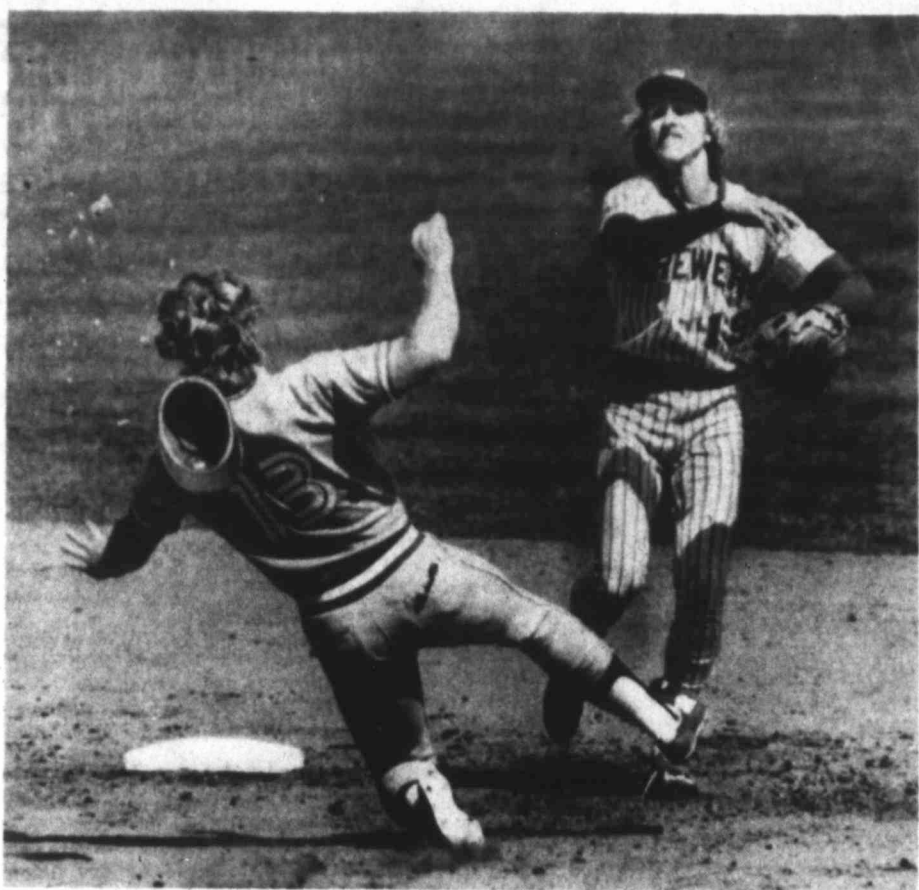

McNamara, whose team gained two full games on the Astros during the series, said the first-game rout showed that "our bats are starting to come around."

"It would have been very nice to go into first place (by sweeping the series), but we have to be satisfied with taking three out of four," McNamara said. "We played very well all week long."

One of the bats that came to life belonged to Champ Summers, who drove in five runs with a homer and three singles in the opener Sunday.

Summers was the Minor League Player of the Year last season, but that was the first game in which he had four hits or drove in five runs as a major leaguer.

He drove in the first two with a single off J.R. Richard, who had been unbeaten and the National League strikeout leader going into the game. Richard, an imposing 6-foot-8, 240-pounder, was chased after 11-3 innings.

BREAKS UP DOUBLE PLAY — Toronto's Roy Howell caught Robin Yount's throw to first on his helmet when he tried to break up the Brewers' double play attempt Sunday. The impact shattered the logo on Howell's helmet and he fell to the ground but was apparently not injured.

Indy battle still hot

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indianapolis Auto Racing Teams won an important victory in federal court, but the battle with the U.S. Auto Club is far from over.

The ruling by U.S. District Court Judge James Noland Saturday put 19 entries by six CART teams back in the Indianapolis 500. Its impact could extend well beyond the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

In Noland's ruling, which granted a preliminary injunction against USAC's rejection of the 19 CART entries, the judge stressed it had no bearing on whether USAC and the Speedway in fact conspired to violate the Sherman Antitrust Act. He said the "severe hardship the drivers would suffer far outweighs the harm to the defendants by allowing them to race."

The eight drivers who might have been kept from competing in the 500 were defending champ Al Unser, his brother Bobby Unser, Gordon Johncock and Johnny Rutherford, all former Indy winners, plus veterans Wally Dallenbach, Mike Mosley and Steve Krisloff and last year's rookie of the year Rick Mears.

USAC had maintained all along that its action was not directed at the drivers, who they said could get rides with other racing teams.

But it was the testimony by three of the drivers, Al Unser, Rutherford and Dallenbach — all of whom said they could not and would not switch allegiance — that might have meant the difference in Noland's decision.

Grevey fires Bullets

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Kevin Grevey, a pure shooter since his high school days, has had his problems of late. Now he feels as if a 10-ton weight has been lifted from his back.

Grevey, one of Washington's struggling guards, found his shooting touch in the third quarter Sunday to spark the Bullets to a 115-96 victory over the San Antonio Spurs to even up their National Basketball Association Eastern final at 1-1.

The next game in the best-of-seven series will be played in San Antonio Wednesday, with Game 4 there on Friday.

"It had to be mental," said Grevey, who scored 12 of his 18 points in the third quarter. "In practice, I would be in the groove. But then I would be pressing in a game."

Grevey, along with the other Washington guards, has been horrible in post-season play, hitting only 32 of 89 shots, or 36 percent, in the seven-game quarter-final series against Atlanta and the first game against San Antonio, lost by Washington 118-97 Friday night. The guards were only 10 for 39 against the Spurs in Game 1.

Suns burn Sonics

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Seattle felt it just had an off day, while Phoenix thought it had finally put things together.

The outcome, however, was indisputable: Phoenix had pulled out a 113-103 victory Sunday before a sellout crowd of 12,660 at Veterans Memorial Coliseum. The victory cut Seattle's lead in the best-of-seven, NBA Western Conference championship series to 2-1, with Game 4 slated for Tuesday night in Phoenix.

"We just had much better defensive aggressiveness," explained Suns Coach John MacLeod, whose club has won all six playoff games it's played at home this year.

"There was an improvement in defense, and we had some good fast break opportunities. I think we could be more aggressive, although I thought our effort was good."

In the first game of the series, the SuperSonics out-rebounded the Suns 56-45 and coasted to a 108-93 victory. In Game 2, the Suns' offense improved, but Seattle took a 59-38 edge in rebounding and a 103-96 victory.

Sunday, Phoenix sliced Seattle's rebounding margin to 52-46. At the same time, the Suns won the battle on the offensive boards 24-19.

"You can only give them one shot," said Lenny Wilkins, whose SuperSonics are the defending conference champions. "You can't allow a team two or three shots, and that hurt us."

At the same time, Wilkins doesn't think the victory was due to so much to what the Suns did but what the SuperSonics didn't do.

"They did a better job because we allowed it," said Wilkins. "We played very poorly as a team. I thought at times we were too much in a hurry... we threw the ball away (31 turnovers)... we took hurried shots."

MacLeod attributed Seattle's turnover problems to pressure by the Suns, while Wilkins maintained the Suns were able to get into their running game because "one team played badly."

"I just haven't been doing normal things," said Grevey. "I haven't been sleeping. I disconnected the phone. I quit reading the newspapers because of the criticism that's been written, some of it directed at me personally."

He mentioned one story that said that if Grevey and Tom Henderson, the other starting guard who also is playing out his option, did not do well in the playoffs, they won't be around next year.

Baseball Roundup

Yanks spell relief G-U-I-D-R-Y

Yanks 6, A's 5

Ron Guidry, the Cy Young winner who volunteered to go to the bullpen to replace the injured Rich Gossage, came into a 5-5 ballgame with one out in the seventh and a runner on third.

He struck out Oakland's Miguel Dilone, who was caught looking at a slider on the outside corner, and retired Larry Murray on a popup.

Guidry went the rest of the way, 32-3 innings because the game went 10, yielded two hits and ran his record to 3-2 on 89 pitches, not your everyday short relief stint.

Guidry walked two, struck out five and didn't permit a runner beyond first. The Yankees won the game on Jim Spencer's bases-loaded single with two out in the bottom of the 10th.

White Sox 3, Rangers 0

Left-hander Ken Kravec blanked the Rangers on three singles, striking out five and walking none. The only hit past the infield allowed by Kravec was John Ellis' liner to left center in the second.

Wayne Nordhagen doubled in a run and then scored on a misjudged fly ball to left fielder Billy Sample in the White Sox's sixth.

The White Sox got their third run in the eighth when Mike Squires' infield single scored Chet Lemon, who had four hits in the game.

Mariners 3, Red Sox 2

Designated hitter Willie Horton ripped four singles and drove in two runs, including the tie-breaker in the ninth inning, to help Seattle salvage the final game of their series with Boston.

Leon Roberts also doubled home a run in the ninth as the Mariners overcame a 2-1 Red Sox lead. Fred Lynn's 11th homer of the season scored two runs in the bottom of the eighth.

Mike Parrott and John Montague, 3-0, combined on a sixhitter for Seattle.

Indians 5, Royals 4

Cleveland rallied for all its runs in the ninth inning, capped when reliever Steve Mingori issued a bases-loaded walk to Rick Manning. The Indians' Mike Paxton, 2-1, tossed a fivehitter.

Royals starter Steve Busby had a six-hit shutout through 8-3 innings, when Manning started the rally with a single.

Twins 9, Tigers 6

Roy Smalley slammed a three-run homer in the eighth to power Minnesota and reliever Mike Marshall to victory over the Tigers. Marshall, 6-1, worked the final 12-3 innings.

Butch Wynegar also homered for the Twins and drove in another run with a single.

Brewers 4, Blue Jays 0

Milwaukee right-hander Lary Sorensen blanked Toronto on four hits, walking one and striking out two. Sixto Lezcano had a pair of run-scoring singles, and Robin Yount hit his third homer of the year, a solo shot in the second inning.

Mets 5, Giants 4

Doug Flynn's run-scoring single with two out in the eighth inning capped a four-run rally and lifted the Mets over the Giants. San Francisco, which had a four-game winning streak snapped, built a 4-1 lead before New York came back.

Cardinals 4, Pirates 2

Ted Simmons' sixth-inning homer snapped a 1-1 tie and helped St. Louis beat Pittsburgh.

Veteran outfielder Lou Brock added his fifth three-hit game of the season, raising his batting average to .382 and pulling within 74 hits of becoming the 14th player to reach the 3,000-hit mark for his career.

Cubs 14, Braves 13

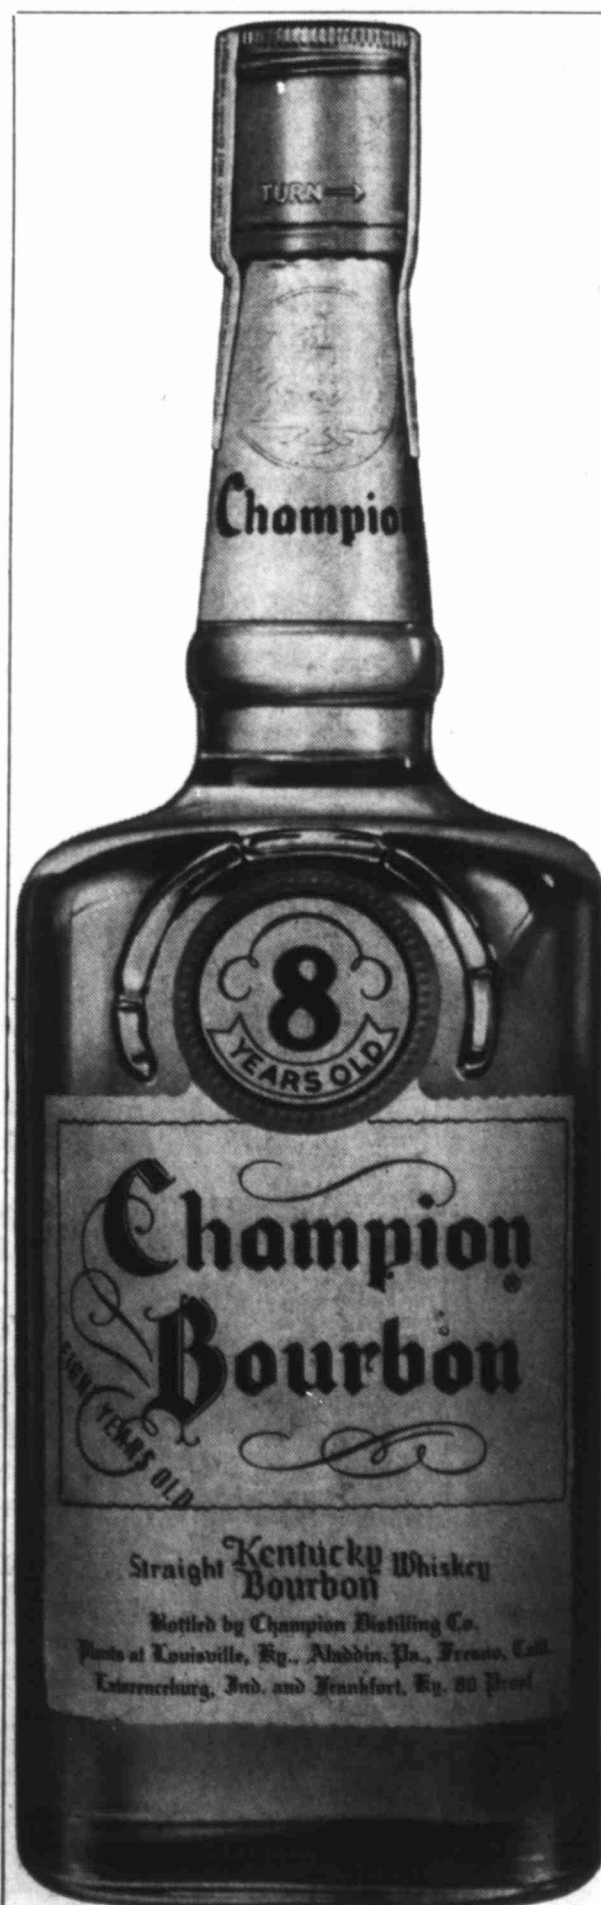

Tim Blackwell's windblown triple and Scot Thompson's pinch single gave the Cubs the extra point in their runfest.

"Fourteen runs and you still have to struggle like the devil to win," exclaimed Cubs Manager Herman Franks.

Expos 7, Padres 5

Gary Carter's fifth-inning grand slam capped a five-run Montreal burst against Gaylord Perry and carried the Expos past the Padres.

The Expos led 7-0 before Bill Lee, 4-0, gave up five seventh-inning runs.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, MAY 7, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: In the midst of other duties, consider what your desired relations with others are, and if necessary make plans to have greater accord in the days ahead. Maintain a cheerful manner.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Try to be more helpful to associates and you also will benefit. You can now make a fine impression on higher-ups.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Analyze those duties ahead of you today and know how to handle them well. Take no risks where money is concerned.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get in touch with congenials early in the day and plan recreations with them for the days ahead. Think constructively.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have to economize more now if you want to gain your most cherished aims. Don't neglect to pay pressing bills.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have good ideas that will help you have happier relations with your friends, so put them to work. Be logical.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Good day for handling an important financial affair in a most wise way. A monetary expert can give you excellent advice now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Know what you want to accomplish today and take definite steps in the right direction. Show courtesy to co-workers.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A good day for investigating whatever is puzzling to you and getting the right answers. Let your intuition guide you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan to have more abundance in the future. After your duties are done, enjoy a group meeting with congenials.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Good day to handle civic affairs and improve your standing in your community. Serve those who are less fortunate than you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have good ideas that will help you advance, so put them in operation quickly. Your hunches are accurate at this time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do something to please your mate more and get good response. Be sure to keep any promises made to associates.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will know how to find the right solution to problems of others, so direct the education along lines of the law, the theater, or in teaching for best results. There is a fine balance of a keen mind and physical prowess in this chart.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!
