Alabama trucker killed during violent protests

An Alabama trucker was shot and killed today as violence flared up again in a nationwide protest by independent drivers. The head of the American Trucking Association appealed to President Carter for action to assure peace on the highways.

Vegetables were rotting in fields, meat remained in packing plants and motorists lined up for tightening gasoline supplies. Several states beefed up National Guard and police protection for trucks still on the road.

Alabama state troopers said Robert Tate of Birmingham was shot and killed while standing in a cotton field beside his disabled tractor-trailer rig which had jack-knifed off U.S. 72 near Tusculum.

Minnesota Gov. Al Quie declared a state of emergency Tuesday, saying he would call out the National Guard and law enforcement officers to shepherd truckers who wanted to keep driving.

Gov. Otis Bowen ordered police to restore gas deliveries to fuel-starved northern Indiana. And National Guardsmen were to refill storage tanks to keep some Alabama service stations open.

Troopers along the East Coast today were to escort a convoy of trucks hauling produce from Florida to markets in the Northeast.

A spokesman for Florida Gov. Bob Graham said states along interstate highways 75 and 95 had agreed to protect an estimated 100 trucks hauling watermelons and other freight.

"We don't want to hurt the people," said Florida gasoline hauler Jim Dailey.

Jetliner carrying 137 persons

Skyjacker wants to go to Cuba

CHICAGO (AP) — A man who said he had two bombs and wanted to go to Cuba hijacked an American Airlines jetliner carrying 137 persons from New York to Chicago Wednesday, authorities said.

The Federal Aviation Administration said there was a single hijacker, but American Airlines spokesman Ray Dean in Chicago said there were two men in the cockpit, and that one of them said he wanted to go to Cuba.

The FAA said the Boeing 727, American Flight 293, took off from LaGuardia Airport at 11:16 a.m. EDT destined for Chicago and Oklahoma City. The plane landed at O'Hare at 1:03 p.m. EDT and was sitting on a pad at the southeast corner of the airport.

Chicago police declined to comment on reports that the hijacker was a Croatian nationalist, one of a group that seeks independence from Yugoslavia. However, police officer Victor Vrdolyak, who speaks Croatian, was on his way to O'Hare.

Vrdolyak was instrumental last year in negotiating release of workers held at the German Consulate in Chicago by Croatian nationalists.

On Sept. 10, 1976, five Croatian nationalists, seeking publicity for their independence demands, hijacked a Trans World Airlines flight between Chicago and New York. Their flight ended in Paris, where they surrendered. All were sentenced to prison.

The FAA said in Washington that there were 129 passengers and eight crew members aboard the flight. The pilot reported the hijacking at 12:29 p.m. EDT when the aircraft was near Flint, Mich., on its way from New York to Chicago.

The FAA said the hijacker was in the cockpit. It had no other details on the hijacker or any demands.

The hijacking was the fourth U.S. hijacking this year and the second in two weeks. On June 11 a Delta Airlines plane was hijacked to Cuba while on a flight from New York to Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The pilot reported the hijacking at 12:29 p.m. EDT when the aircraft was near Flint, Mich., on its way from New York to Chicago.

Clements declares gas allocation plan in state

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Motorists in Houston and the Dallas-Fort Worth area will have to look at their license plates Monday to see if they can buy gasoline.

Gov. Bill Clements declared Tuesday the state would try odd-even gasoline purchase restrictions in Harris, Dallas and Tarrant counties in an effort to ease long lines at service stations.

He said the restriction might be applied to other cities later. The Republican governor also called on Texans to raise their air conditioner thermostats to 78 degrees, instead of the 80 suggested by President Carter, and to abide by the 55 mile-per-hour speed law.

Let's make this a "No-Tie Summer," Clements said in an official proclamation, taking off his coat and tie while it was read at a news conference.

"None of these gas restriction actions will bring additional supplies," Clements said, "but the regulations are needed to preserve good order and make the limited supplies available in an optimum way."

Houston and the Dallas-Fort Worth area have 38 percent of the state's vehicles, Clements said. "I have considered this fact carefully and am doing what I feel is the minimum required at this time," he said, adding that he expected the restrictions to last at least until September. "It is my intention to remove these mandatory rules as soon as the situation eases. Conversely, should the situation worsen, I will not hesitate to develop further restrictions."

The odd-even plan would let cars with a license plate number ending in an even number, or a last letter from A to M, to purchase gasoline on even-number calendar days.

Other features of the plan for the three counties, effective June 25, would: —Set the minimum purchase amount at $6, unless a vehicle's tank held less than 10 gallons.

—Set the maximum purchase at 20 gallons, including any boats pulled on trailers.

—Limit filling of any auxiliary containers to two gallons.

—Give emergency, out-of-state and "identifiable commercial vehicles" the right to purchase fuel on any day.

—Require stations to prominently display flags indicating the supply and type of gasoline available.

Clements said he was ready to assist local governments in expanding traffic signal timing programs, long-range mass transit programs and "to develop appropriate local plans to help deal with these spot shortages" in gasoline.

Brahma bulls, barbecue to kick off rodeo tonight

Leon Adams with his trained Brahma bulls will provide special entertainment at the Grand Opening of the 46th Annual Big Spring Rodeo tonight.

A large crowd of eager spectators are expected for the opening night performance, 8:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds. Skipper Driver assures that "There will be plenty of seats."

Rodeo-goers will see contenders compete in the Grand Entry, followed by bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, team roping and girls' barrel racing.

Citizens Federal Credit Union and Driver Insurance. Tickets are also available at the gate.

What promises to be one of the best parades in the history of the rodeo will get under way at Tenth and Main Street shortly after 4 p.m., and wind its way through downtown, coming back up Scurry.

A committee will determine the three best floats in the parade and authorize the issuance of $400 in prize money, with $200 going to the top entry.

There'll be a Kiwanis Club barbecue at the Old Settlers' Pavilion in Comanche Trail Park from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $4. The Kiwanians usually feed about 900 people and are making plans to greet that many again. Tickets will be sold on the site.

Howard College tax rate undetermined $2,896,819 budget approved

The Howard College 1979-80 budget, calling for expenditures of $2,896,819, was approved without a challenge in a public hearing conducted here Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Charles Hays, school president, had told the board of trustees previously that the college would have to dip into reserve funds but that the school was in good financial condition and he anticipated no problems.

The trustees were told that it would be impossible to set the tax rate at this time, due to a law which took effect earlier this year. The act states, in effect, that County Tax Assessor Zarah Bednar first has to publish her recommendation for a tax rate, after which the college's board of equalization must determine it.

The college tax rate is now 70 cents per $100 evaluation and could vary as much as three percent, according to Dr. Hays. The rate will be set in August, it was decided.

Bank depository bills were reviewed by the board. Security State Bank, which has held the college's account the past six years, submitted the best bid by offering half a percent more in interest on deposits exceeding $100,000 than the other bidders.

The trustees approved the hiring of three persons to the college staff. They are Mrs. Sherrill Easterling, math instructor; Jan Dunagan, who is replacing L.L. (Red) Lewis on the staff but whose new title will be Registrar; and Terry Hansen, director of the college computer center.

In addition, Al Long is returning to the staff as an instructor in welding and machine tools. He previously had taught welding alone and the college did not feel it could justify his salary because of the limited number of students in his classes.

The trustees also accepted an Affirmative Action Annual Report and learned that a friend of the school had agreed to underwrite the expense of a triangular sign which would be placed immediately west of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum near Birdwell Lane.

The name of the coliseum and the college would be permanently engraved on the lower portion of the sign, immediately below a planter while the upper portion would be used to advertise attractions scheduled for the coliseum.

The board will study the maintenance and money needed to keep the sign operable before making a final decision.

Air conditioning bids on the school cafeteria and lounge areas of the Student Union Building will be sought. The cost of using refrigerated air for the whole project will run more than if half the area is served by an evaporative cooler, as initially proposed. However, a refrigerated cooling system would not pose the problems in maintenance and replacement that an evaporate system of cooling does, according to board member Dr. P.W. Malone.

Trustees also approved a plan to ask for bids for a new computer system for the college and heard that the makeup and the financial setup of the community tax appraisal board would likely be restructured later this year, a change that could diminish the college's role on a decision-making panel.

Dr. Hays asked board members to be thinking about upgrading, lighting and landscaping the college tennis courts, which he added were in a state of needed repair. A local service club underwrote the expense of the courts originally as a gift to the college. Hays said that the project likely would cost no more than $5,000. Dr. Hays also suggested that a light meter could be installed at courtside, enabling players to use the courts for prescribed periods at night by feeding coin slots.

All board members were in attendance with the exception of K.H. (Chub) McGibbon. Don McKinney presided.

Stanton citizens battle growing drug abuse problems

By DON WOODS
Six weeks ago, Stanton citizens decided to do something about a growing drug abuse problem. They organized the Martin County Abuse Committee. Purpose of the committee is to educate the public and counsel drug abusers.

"I thought it was really great because here's something that can bond us together. Most communities are split on so many issues," said Stanton resident Jimmy Stallings.

Committee President Corky Blocker was surprised to find a high degree of interest among Stanton residents. He called a meeting for persons willing to circulate petitions. Anticipating around 12 people, 80 turned out. The group was too large for the number of chairs in the First National Bank meeting room.

Petitions were circulated by people interesting in curbing drug abuse. Almost 1,000 names were collected.

Committee secretary is Mrs. Kathleen Louis. Mrs. Jendo Turner is the treasurer.

In their first public assembly, the committee drew 300 to hear the Rev. Bob Netherland, First United Methodist Church of Midland. Netherland, a reformed alcoholic, presented some basics about alcohol abuse and counseling alcoholics. According to Blocker, Netherland "put them on the track" of the Truth House, a counseling center for drug abusers. Blocker said reaction was enthusiastic.

Two weeks later, Sergeant Ed Kissinger of the Big Spring Police Department spoke on drug education to a crowd of 500. The meeting was moved to the high school auditorium when the crowd grew too large for the First National Bank meeting room.

At the next meeting, Dr. Lee Butler of the Big Spring State Hospital, drew 100 for a talk on relationships within families that contain drug abusers.

The Alcoholic Counsel of Odessa spoke to 100 people in the next meeting. Several ex-alcoholics spoke about their lives as alcoholics, how they came out of alcoholism and their return to productivity.

Among subsequent speakers, Clyde Alsop of the Big Spring State Hospital staff spoke on June 1 about parent-child relationships.

Though the drug problem is only as bad as it would be in any small town, Blocker said, "It may not be as bad as some people think it is, but if it's here at all it's bad." He said drugs have surfaced in Stanton grade schools.

Blocker and others in the committee traveled to Austin with the 1,000-name petition to talk to state officials. A representative of the Department of Public Safety Narcotics division was contacted. They also met with State Senator E.L. Short and Bob Flowers, head of the Criminal Justice Council.

Their conversation with Flowers was the most helpful of the three discussions. He told them a council representative would talk to the Stanton school board about getting state funds to set up a classroom and a special teacher. Known drug abusers will be placed in stricter classroom programs. Theoretically the difficulty of the class will motivate them to get off drugs and be allowed to return to regular classrooms.

Various opinions have been aired among involved persons. Some say the problem can be solved by better law enforcement. Others say the solution is spiritual. Some drug say education and counseling is the solution.

The Truth House, suggested by Netherland, is under construction to give youths a place to go for drug counseling. The center will also provide teaching on parental involvement.

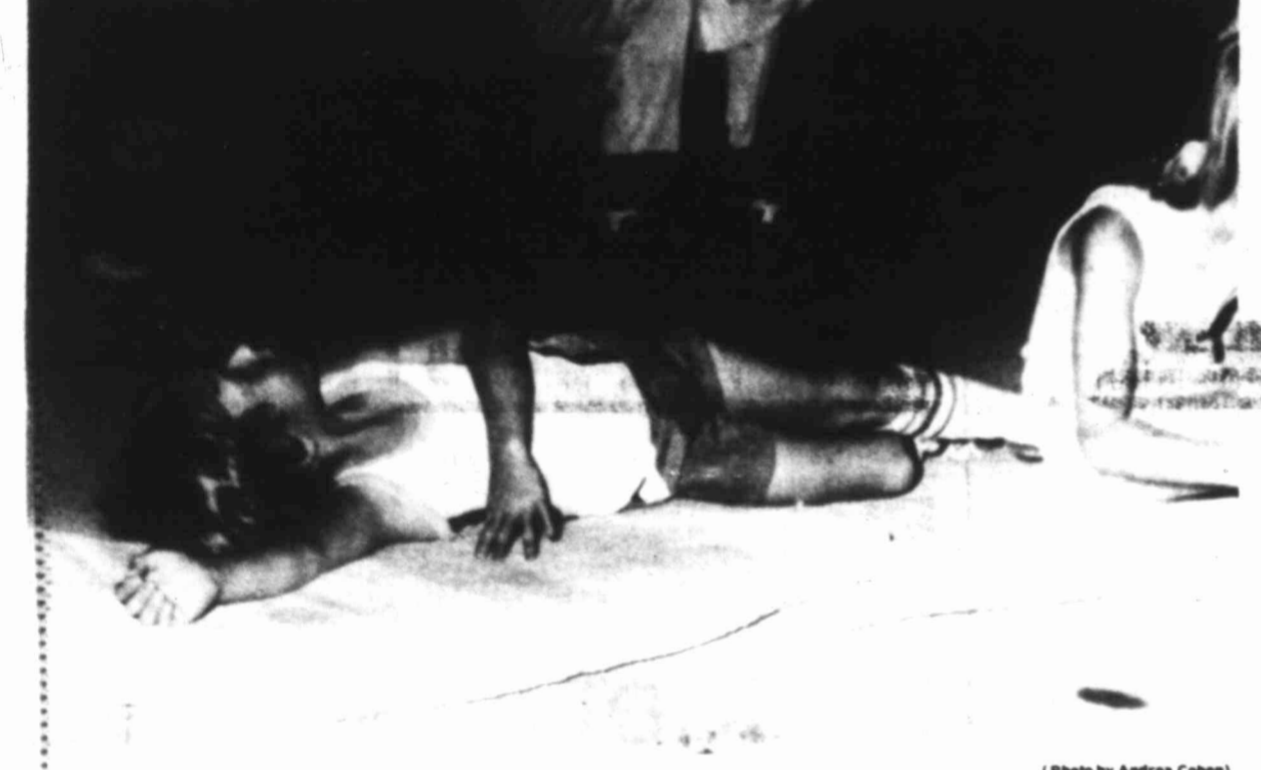

Other solutions include increasing the amount of recreational facilities and donations to help Big Spring purchase a drug sniffing dog.

Scattered incidences of violence show that some people are considering more immediate solutions to the drug problem. One house was pelted with rotten eggs.

Another was rocked because the house was holding a shower for a couple involved in drug selling.

In other incidences, verbal attacks have been leveled against Mitchell County Sheriff Dan Saunders for his handling of the drug problem. Stallings called the attacks "vicious rumors" and "unfair."

Stallings said people in Stanton are emotional about drug trafficking. "Everyone's concern is sincere but I think our problem is how we'll get about solving the drug problem. The idea of being sensitive to the kids" has been expressed he said.

SWING YOUR PARTNER — Some spectators got a little tucked out by all of the excitement, but many joined in on the square dancing in front of the County Courthouse Tuesday night. The street dance was held by the Big Spring Squares in celebration of the rodeo which begins today. Square dancing and rodeos are both part of Big Spring's West Texas heritage.

JP discusses Curry's bond

The bond set on suspected murderer Jesse Packard Curry is set as a guarantee that the suspect shows up for trial, not as punishment, according to Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin.

The Justice Court Deskbook for Texas states that bond for murder is to be between $10,000 and $20,000. Some bonds are set even higher on some charges.

"When you set a bond you just have to use common sense. If you set it too high it will go to a higher judge and he'll just have to cut it," said Hefflin.

He said many persons have complained that Curry's bond was too low.

Coahoma still needs chief

COAHOMA — The City of Coahoma has been without a police chief for about four weeks now and no applicants have yet appeared.

Jimmy Lockhart, who was appointed to the position at the end of March, left the Coahoma Department to join the Big Spring police force in late May.

The Coahoma department is operating with only one officer, O.D. Majors, while the search for a chief continues.

Herald Citizens' Advisory Board selects chairmen

The Herald Citizens' Advisory Board, so named following a vote taken by the representation on hand Tuesday night at the newspaper, elected Elma Martinez chairwoman by acclamation.

Selected as vice-chairman was Mike McCracken.

The committee will gather again at the Herald at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, July 17, for an interim meeting and set the third Tuesday of each month as a regular meeting date.

Publisher Tom Watson, who met with the board, said The Herald would shortly carry an advertisement urging readers of the Herald for input, which they can offer by contacting members of the committee.

Watson also said that efforts would be directed toward adding one or two senior citizens and a couple of younger readers to the board, adding that the committee would consider people who wanted to volunteer for such service.

The editorial content of The Herald was divided into four categories after some discussion: Sports, Local News, Family-Entertainment and National - International - Columns - Features.

Sub-committees will monitor the Herald in each of the four categories, listen to any criticism offered by the reading public and ultimately report their findings in a general session of the panel.

Jimmy Jolley was named chairman of the Sports sub-committee. Other members of that group will be Ernie Boyd and Frank Rubio.

Head of the Local News sub-committee is Adrian Randle. Serving with him will be McCracken and Ann Couvillion.

Helen Gladden agreed to serve as chairman of the Family-Entertainment sub-committee. The other two members of her group will be named later.

Dr. Halvard Hansen chairs the National - International - Columns - Features sub-committee. Working with him will be Emily Ward and a person to be named later.

All persons named as officers and members of sub-committees were present for Tuesday night's session.

Weather Weak front causing hot, humid weather

By The Associated Press

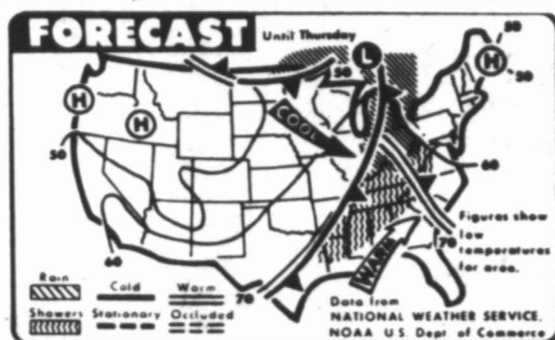

A weak frontal system moving slowly eastward along a line from Childress to Lubbock southwestward did little today to break up the pattern of hot, humid weather across Texas.

Ahead of the front, skies remained cloudy during the morning in the Hill Country and in South Central Texas. Most of the state, however, had mostly clear skies and continued warm temperatures and high humidity.

Scientists place Skylab in 'better control' spot

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) - Controllers at Johnson Space Center today placed the aging Skylab into a position they hope will give them better control when the 85-ton spacecraft falls back to Earth, probably sometime next month.

Charles S. Harlan, chief of Skylab operations, said the orbiting laboratory responded to commands from the Skylab control center and all systems still functioning appeared to be in good shape during a pass over the Ascension Island tracking station.

The sideways position has never been tried previously with a spacecraft, controllers said, but computer models indicate a disturbance-free condition would exist with the craft in that attitude.

Space officials have indicated NORAD may adjust its forecast to an earlier impact as a result of today's maneuver.

Scientists say the craft would begin a tumbling motion and become completely uncontrollable if today's maneuver were not successful.

Long-awaited 'Latigo' joins Herald's comic page Monday

Cartoonist Stan Lynde calls himself "a westerner by birth and inclination," and his action-adventure strip, "Latigo," is an apt reflection of his life-long study of the history and legend of the Old West.

Lynde's long-awaited "Latigo" joins the Herald's comic page Monday.

Born in Billings, Mont., and raised on the Crow Indian Reservation near Lodge Grass, Mont., Stan worked and traveled with his family wherever his father's sheep-raising business took them. During these early years, he lived in "every kind of dwelling you can imagine - sheep wagon, soddy, dugout, line shack, log cabin, tent and ranch house."

Following graduation from a Lodge Grass high school, Stan entered the University of Montana at Missoula, majoring in journalism and minoring in art. But his schooling was cut short when the Korean conflict broke out - in 1951 he enlisted in the Navy and shipped out to Guam. It was on this island that Stan began cartooning with a humor strip on Navy life called "Ty Foon" for the daily Marianas Mariner.

Upon discharge, Stan returned briefly to Lodge Grass, but soon left for Colorado Springs, Colo., and a job as a reporter and artist for a short-lived weekly paper called Week End.

In January, 1956, Stan picked up his courage - and a one-way bus ticket - and headed for New York City to break into big-time cartooning. "I had $30 and high hopes when I left Colorado," says Stan, "and they both evaporated pretty fast in New York."

Unemployed and living in Greenwich Village, Stan finally landed a job as a typist for the Wall Street Journal. Soon he was working as a reporter in the commodities department, as well as doing free-lance artwork and attending art school at night.

In 1957 Stan created "Rick O'Shay," a much-loved comic strip he wrote and illustrated for nearly 20 years. His beautiful art and storylines prompted the editor of the Houston Post to call Lynde "the Frederic Remington of the Sunday comic artists."

Now Stan is devoting his time, energy and abundant talent to LATIGO, a strip which focuses on the post-World War West and the exciting adventures of Cole "Latigo" Cantrell, a loner and an intelligent, competent man of action who lives by his own code and conscience.

Stan was appointed Deputy United States Marshal for the District of Montana and served in that capacity from 1969 until 1977. He is a Life Member of the Montana Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association and an honorary member of the Crow Indian tribe. He is listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in American Art and is the recipient of the Inkpot award for achievement in the comic arts.

Representatives Of Our HOWARD COUNTY HERITAGE
Thursday, June 21

Two years after he moved to Big Spring, Charlie Merritt, 1011 N. Gregg, was given a job at the Texas Electric Service Company that was guaranteed to last for 11 months.

That was 40 years ago. He worked for the firm until he retired a couple of years ago.

It is appropriate that Merritt is being honored now during the Howard County Heritage celebration, because this week marks another anniversary of sorts.

"I moved to Big Spring with the rodeo. It was just about this time, 42 years ago," said Merritt.

His wife, Viola, thinks that it was during the same month, 25 years ago, that she moved to Big Spring.

For 23 of those years she has been a well-loved teacher here in town. She presently teaches a first grade class at Marcy Elementary.

"A lot of my kids come back, and I don't know who they are. They ask 'who am I' but I have to think back to when they were six years old!" laughed Mrs. Merritt.

Merritt was born and raised in McKinney, where he remained until moving to Big Spring. Mrs. Merritt moved here from Lovington, N.M., but was originally a native of Henderson.

Both are members of the Baker's Chapel A.M.E. Church, the only church to which they have belonged since they became Big Springers.

Merritt is a secretary, trustee and steward with the church. Mrs. Merritt is a steward and teaches Sunday School there.

They have five children living in cities that stretch across the continent, from Massachusetts to California. They also have five grandchildren.

Mrs. Merritt, of course, knows hundreds of Big Spring children through her job as teacher.

"I have seen a lot of children come and go," she said.

She is also quite sure that her husband "knows everybody in town."

Do they like Big Spring?
"I guess we must like it after all this time," laughed Merritt.

"We must have fallen in love with it by now," added his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Merritt will be present at First Federal on Thursday, June 21. First Federal invites everyone to come visit with them.

Texans should be supporting cause

Because the state produces so much of the nation's oil and natural gas, it's not surprising to learn that the results of a government study show that Texas ranks at the very top among targets the Soviet Union (or any other military power) would hit in event of war.

Because both communities have a concentration of oil-related industries around their perimeters, Big Spring and Odessa could expect to be among the targets of those who direct the long-range missile attacks.

ACCORDING TO the report, prepared by the Congressional Office of Technology Assessment, if the Soviet Union were to launch an attack on this country with ten giant SS-18 missiles — each carrying eight one-ton warheads — almost half of the coverage area would be a series of "footprints" in Texas and Louisiana. The major focus of attack would be our state's vast refining and oil storage capacity. The result would be a predicted 472,000 "prompt fatalities" in Texas and five million nationwide from such a "limited" attack.

Rest assured this is all theoretical — as is the assumption in the same report that an all-out attack on this country might kill as many as 165 million Americans initially. But, as Dr. Peter Sharfman, the government official who released the study, observed, "nuclear weapons are real, and nuclear war would cause destruction on a scale we've not experienced. Most of us don't even dream about it."

If we did lend much thought to it, the spectre of 472,000 Texans being bombed into eternity in an instant is simply too horrible to comprehend. It's sobering to realize that the danger already exists, that Russia and the United States now have the weapons to completely paralyze each other, that a madman in either country could trigger such a holocaust.

IF NOTHING ELSE, the report should serve to underscore the necessity for achieving world-wide control of nuclear weapons — better still, the abolishment of them. No other courses make any sense at all.

Because Texas is a prime target and so vulnerable to attack, natives of the state should be out front in supporting the cause of disarmament.

It all depends

Around the rim

Don Woods

One of the fun things about reporting is the opportunity to investigate myriad subjects. Tuesday I asked a local stock broker to explain to a rank layman like myself how to get into the stock market.

The broker, Dan Wilkins, started with the basics. First, have in effect a savings plan that has been building for six months. Next, be sure you have adequate life and health insurance program.

"Above that," said Dan, "it's prudent to invest. Otherwise, you'll be victim to inflation and taxes."

THIS IS GOOD practical advice, and, surprising enough, the stock market isn't the obscure bunch of hooded wizards I thought it was. It's a pretty good hedge against inflation and higher taxes. The interest on some government bonds is tax free. And stocks are lower than they have been since the Depression.

Which brings us to the two varieties of products a stock broker has to offer. You can go with stocks, (many companies, mostly larger ones), are owned by the public. A group of people each own pieces, or shares, of the company.) or you can go with bonds. (There are three types of bonds: government, corporation and municipal.)

A simplistic approach to knowing how much you need to get started is to have around $500 to invest if you're going to buy stock and $3,000 if you want to buy bonds. If you're young you will want to invest in something that will cause your investment to appreciate. Older, established people will probably want to invest in something that will help them hold onto what they have gained.

Investing in stocks will, hopefully, cause your investment to build. And it costs less to get started. But the risks are greater.

STOCK MARKET has great opportunities for someone with ready cash to make a big profit. Dan told me a story about a man who had one dump truck. He drove a load of lumber from Boston to New Mexico. When he got there the company paid him with 100 shares of their stock. It was a small company at the time and still private but on the wage of going public. The trucker didn't care much for the stock. He wadded it up in his back pocket and drove back. When he got to Boston it was raining. The certificate fell out of his pocket, into the gutter and almost got down the drain before he caught it and put it into the bank. Well, when the company, Winnebago, went public its stocks started to split and increase in value. One day the man's banker called him to tell him his stock in Winnebago was worth over a million dollars.

On the other hand buying stock can be risky. Polaroid, for example, selling for $100 per share in its heyday, is now worth $30 per share. You have to keep from selling your stock too fast or keeping it too long. Bonds are much safer but they lack the excitement that "playing the stock market" has. Money market funds, for example, is a good product the broker has to offer because you are guaranteed a 10 percent interest on a $1,000 investment. Many people will put $1,000 in money market funds for a week and a week later write a check against the account for $1,100.

THE NUTS AND bolts of it is that a large number of investors pool their money. As much as ten million dollars may be accumulated. The money is given to a large bank which promises, for example, an 11 percent interest returned on the money. The company handling the money market funds keeps one percent for their services and returns the ten percent interest to their customers.

In a nutshell, betting on the proverbial battle of the bear and the bull can be prosperous. But, on the other hand, it can be the pits.

Stories denied

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — President Carter's son, Chip, and Anne Wexler, one of his top political aids, conspicuously walked out just before Sen. Henry M. Jackson began his hard-hitting speech Tuesday evening charging the Carter administration with "appeasement" of the Soviet Union.

Although eyewitnesses at the dinner given by the Coalition for a Democratic Majority (CDM) reported that the walkout looked suspiciously purposeful, as though Carter and Wexler did not want to be physically present for Jackson's tough talk, Wexler flatly denied that implication. In a comment relayed to us from Air Force One, on which she was flying to the Vienna summit with Carter, Ms. Wexler said she left the dinner early "not because of what Sen. Jackson said but because she had a very busy schedule the next day."

THE SPEECH was described to Ms. Wexler and Chip Carter at the pre-dinner cocktail party in the Hyatt Regency Hotel as "hard-hitting." CDM Chairman Ben Wattenberg gave the speech that label in a conversation with Ms. Wexler, one of the president's chief SALT salesmen.

Chip Carter walked out about the same time Ms. Wexler did, but we were unable to reach him to learn why. Both Chip and Ms. Wexler had been given a copy of the speech before they went to their table at the dinner.

A footnote: Despite the belief of some officials of CDM (a defense-oriented organization of moderate Democrats) that the walkout was a deliberate signal of White House displeasure, Chip Carter won good marks for "gracious" conduct before the dinner, shaking hands and making small talk with hawkish guests in the forefront of Carter's foreign policy critics. Both Evan Dobbela, Carter's 1980 campaign chairman, and Edward Sanders, another White House aide, stayed for the tough Jackson speech.

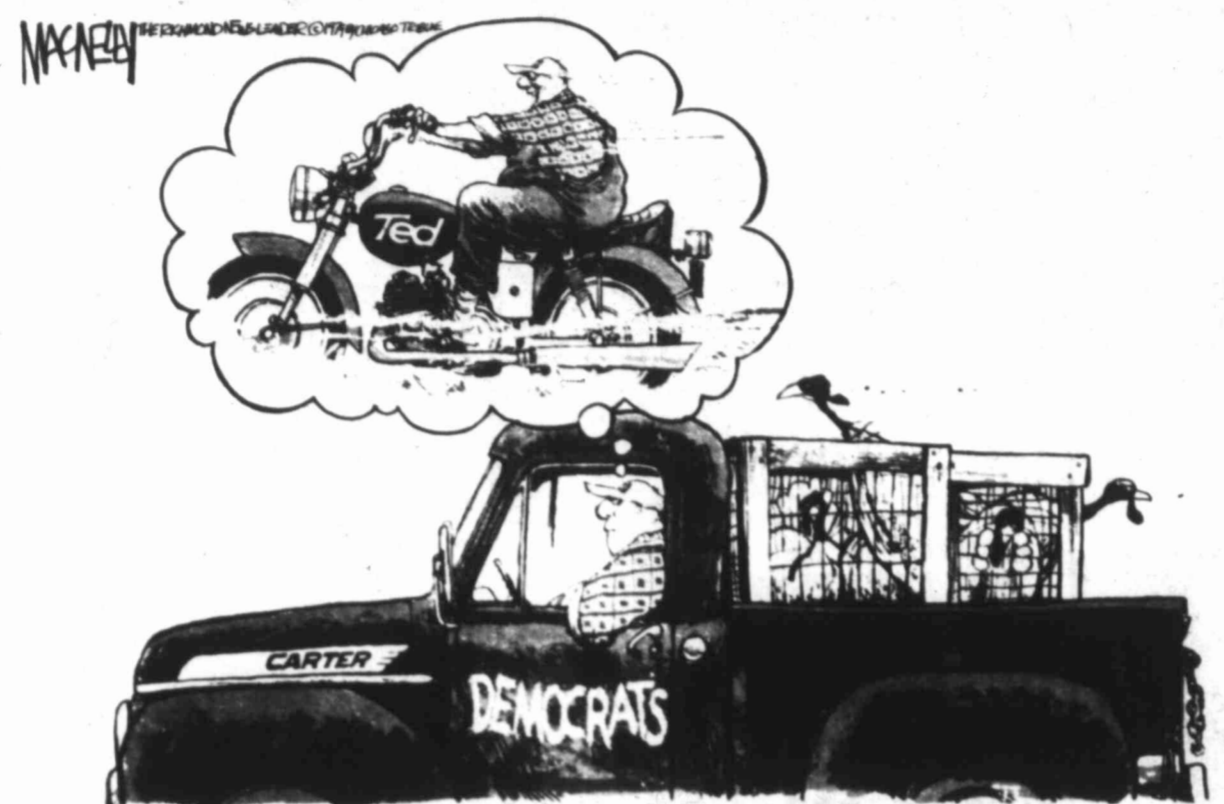

A new threat to Jimmy Carter's second-term ambitions from "non-candidate" Sen. Edward M. Kennedy now looms in the state of Maine, where the Democratic party has quietly adopted delegate-selection rules that could undercut the president — at an early and therefore psychologically dangerous date.

FOR THE FIRST time in modern history, the Maine party will choose its delegates at precinct caucuses held on the same day — Feb. 20 — nine days before the New Hampshire primary.

Kennedy sentiment is strong in Maine. New Hampshire Carter supporters are fearful that publicity from a pro-Kennedy showing in Maine could fuel the Kennedy write-in planned for New Hampshire. At precinct caucuses, Kennedy supporters would simply have to make an appearance and register themselves as pro-Kennedy. The state convention, which picks delegates to the national convention later in the year, must reflect the proportion of pro-Kennedy or pro-Carter sentiment registered at the precinct meetings.

The soon-to-be-announced resignation of New Hampshire Republican party Chairman Jerry Carmen, who is expected to follow up by joining the Ronald Reagan team in the first-in-the-nation presidential primary election, is a major acquisition for the front-running Reagan — and another slap at backers of George Bush.

REP. JAMES CLEVELAND, one of Bush's chief New Hampshire backers in the Republican primary battle, led an effort to purge Carmen as state chairman early this year when Carmen's first four-year term as chairman was drawing to an end. Carmen had not intended to run for reelection, but when Cleveland challenged him, Carmen changed his mind, ran and won. The victory was widely interpreted as hurting the presidential campaign of Bush.

Thyroid x-ray problem requires recheck

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Recently, C.W. asked about radiation treatment. You, doctor, answered that "over the years radiation treatments were used for many non-cancer medical problems, including arthritis of the spine, bursitis, thymus gland enlargement, etc." You said these treatments are no longer done because of thyroid gland problems. My question: In what way was the thyroid gland affected? — Mrs. L.P.

This subject has been given much publicity in recent years, but it is important to touch on it now and then, because a lot of people are still around who were treated this way.

The thyroid is especially sensitive to X-ray treatment. Several decades ago X-ray was considered good for the thymus enlargement, and skin problems. Thyroid cancer is relatively uncommon, so when the number of people developing it rose, the profession was alerted. The common denominator was found to be previous X-ray treatment.

The cancer is more prevalent in females than males, and odds increase with age. Researchers studied 1,000 people who received treatments as children and found 60 cases of cancer.

If you suspect you had such treatments, report it to your doctor and have your thyroid examined. Special scanning tests or biopsy of the gland might be necessary. You should be checked every two years thereafter, even if the gland is normal. If there is cancer, removal cures it in most cases. Thyroid hormone is needed afterward.

Dear Dr. Ruble: What exactly is Tietze's syndrome and what are the symptoms? I am a female, 37, and very often have pains around my ribs, upper back, and chest. They will last anywhere from a few days to two weeks. It prevents deep breathing and is painful to even move. I have had this off and on for four years and it seems to be getting worse and more frequent. I am getting very discouraged. — L.C.

I couldn't describe the symptoms of Tietze's (TEET-sees) syndrome any better than you have in your letter. I've touched on this before.

The cause is a swelling of bone cartilage in the chest near the breast bone (sternum). It is usually one-sided and disappears with time. Occasionally, patients have recurrence of pain. It's variable, and pain may last for long periods, as you have. The most troublesome aspect of this is misinterpretation of the pain as being heart-related. Conversely, there may be a tendency to ascribe chest pains to Tietze's when it is heart-related. Proper diagnosis is important.

Aspirin, heat, rest, and other arthritis-type medicines usually bring relief. In stubborn cases (and you seem to fit that category) local injections of pain-relieving medicine or cortisone drugs may be needed. The syndrome is named for Alexander Tietze, a Breslau surgeon (1864-1927) who first described the symptoms.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Would you happen to know how old a person is when they stop growing. One doctor told me 18. Another said 25, and another said after a woman starts her periods. — Miss S.N.

There is wide variation in this because there is wide variation in the age of puberty (when your periods begin). The peak growth occurs within a five-year span. Girls tend to have a great spurt in height a couple of years before boys do. Then boys eventually catch up and pass them. Much depends on one's parents (heredity). Average height, of both males and females, is increasing because today's generations enjoy better nutrition than past ones. As a rule, girls attain maximum height by 18, with very little growth expected after that.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Is there a certain food one can eat that would affect how he sunbans. If there is I'll eat all I can get my hands on. I stay like a ghost all summer. — Miss R.R.

None that I know of, although unfounded rumors often get started about such things.

Your thyroid plays a critical health role — in everything from eyesight to fertility. The booklet "Your Thyroid: How It Works for You" explains this important, and misunderstood, gland. To get a copy, enclose 50 cents and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope to Dr. Ruble in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Ruble: What are bile salts and what are they taken for? — K.F.

Bile, as you may know, is a complex fluid produced in the liver and stored in the gall bladder. It is released via the bile duct as needed for digestion in the small intestine. It is especially helpful in digestion of fats. It's a bitter tasting substance. Bile salt medicine is derived from the bile of cattle. It was once thought helpful in increasing alkalinity in a digestive system that is over-acid. A healthy liver produces adequate bile salts, so supplements are not needed. The salts may help in some forms of constipation.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. A.F.L. — Cortisone is effective in reducing the joint inflammation of rheumatoid arthritis, but that doesn't mean it should be used by everyone who has that problem. The article you mention discussed the problem of a woman who had to take cortisone drugs for life. She did not have arthritis. For her, it was necessary. Your doctor feels that cortisone at this point would be heavy artillery for you. He is probably correct. Other anti-arthritis drugs are all you need at present. When possible, cortisone is avoided because of side effects and the difficulty in withdrawal from it. Take your physician's word for this.

Dr. Ruble welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: We are moving to a new area. What do you think we should look for when we seek a new church home? — N.R.

DEAR N.R.: I am glad you are thinking about this. It is alarming the way people move about in our country, often not bothering to find a new church home in a new community. You will want to visit various churches, and you will want to ask God to guide you to the church you should join.

Let me begin with some don'ts. Don't just judge a church by its physical plant. We all like attractive and comfortable surroundings, but they do not necessarily help you grow spiritually. Also, don't join a church just because the people or the minister seem friendly. I hope you won't misunderstand me here, because you will naturally want a friendly church. You want a friendly church and should look for one, but there is more to it than that.

What is the purpose of joining a church? First, you become active in a church so that you will grow spiritually. This takes place as the Word of God is preached and taught. Therefore, the first thing you want to ask is, will this church help me come to know God better? Will it teach me more about His word, and how it applies to life? Are the pastor's sermons based on the Word of God? Is the Bible taught in the Sunday school? Is there opportunity for fellowship with other Christians — not just social affairs, but opportunities for growth and sharing? Does the church help me love God and worship Him more fully?

You join a church to serve also. Church should not be just a passive experience. God wants to use you, and the church is one place we should become equipped for Christian service. The ministry of the church should "prepare God's people for works of service" (Ephesians 4:12, NIV). Are there opportunities to serve Christ through this church?

Talk with the minister and with others in the church. No church, of course, is perfect, but seek the place God has for you so you will "grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (2 Peter 3:18, NIV).

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — Some fascinating documents, including a secret message from Henry Kissinger to the Shah of Iran, have turned up in Washington. They were left behind by the Shah's urbane ambassador, Ardeshir Zahedi, after he vacated the Iranian embassy.

The documents add some new jigsaw pieces to the great Iranian puzzle. They indicate that Kissinger, after leaving government, continued to advise the Shah; that Kissinger recommended the return to prison of the dissidents whom President Carter had encouraged the Shah to release and that Kissinger worked behind the scenes with the Rockefeller brothers, Nelson and David, to assist the Shah.

THESE STARTLING allegations add to the puzzle that we have been piecing together from top-secret documents and exhaustive interviews. In past columns, we have established that the Rockefeller brothers had close financial ties to the Shah and that he had ordered his subordinates to channel Iranian oil funds through their Chase Manhattan Bank.

Significantly, Kissinger began his international career as a foreign policy director for the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. He is now back with the Rockefellers, at least nominally, as a consultant to the Chase Manhattan Bank.

There is also suppressed, secret documentation that the Shah was the driving force behind the astronomical 500 percent leap in oil prices and that Saudi Arabia had offered to block the price rise in 1974 if the Nixon administration would intervene with the Shah. But Kissinger had stubbornly opposed any interference with the Shah, who was left free to continue agitating for higher prices.

This persuaded the other oil-selling nations that the United States secretly supported the Shah's drive for the moon. Soon the oil billions began pouring into the Shah's coffers — much of it by way of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

Banking sources in New York City, Paris and Geneva have told us that the Shah escaped with a staggering $25 billion, which he still controls through a maze of corporate fronts and bank accounts.

In two interviews, Kissinger angrily denied the insinuation that his attitude toward the Shah was influenced in any way by the Rockefellers' financial dealings. His present services for the bank, he insisted, are strictly advisory. He also denied evidence that he has continued to advise and assist the Shah.

But among the documents that the Shah's ambassador left behind in the Iranian embassy were copies of cables he had sent to the Shah. One of them, classified top-secret and dated Nov. 5, 1978, contains reactions to the Shah's decision to install a military government.

Translated from the Persian, the cable, written by Zahedi, begins with this salutation: "I kiss your feet thousands and thousands of times and beg you to allow me to report to His Imperial Majesty the following..."

Among other tidbits, Zahedi reported: "I talked to Kissinger at 6:30. He said he was glad to hear about the Shah's decisions and congratulations. He also said: 'You have to stay strong against all these critics. I believe that you have to get the prisoners you released earlier and put them in jail again. Your work will be easier if you put them in jail.'"

THERE WAS also a message from Nelson Rockefeller: "I would like to convey to your majesty my warmest congratulations and respect for the courageous, wise and statesmanlike decision which you have taken. By this decision you have saved not only the West but also Japan."

Kissinger told us that he made no such statement to Zahedi; in fact, that he was out of town at the time. Kissinger said it was not uncommon for ambassadors to concoct false, flattering reports. It was also possible, he suggested, for the Shah's enemies to have fabricated the cable after they took over the embassy.

Iranian sources told us that Kissinger, after his departure from government, kept in constant touch with Zahedi and visited the embassy once or twice a week. This, too, was denied by Kissinger who said he saw Zahedi socially only "five or six times."

We have obtained signed receipts which indicate the Shah's ambassador at least kept the Rockefellers supplied with expensive Iranian caviar. On Feb. 8, 1978, they received a case of Persian vodka with their caviar. The receipts also show mysterious packages and envelopes going to Kissinger. He accepted a small Persian rug, for example, worth thousands of dollars.

We have also established that Kissinger and David Rockefeller, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank, made it their business to find a sanctuary for the deposed Shah. Our sources say that Rockefeller arranged the Shah's temporary refuge in Nassau and that Kissinger intervened with President Lopez Portillo to get the Shah admitted to Mexico.

Meanwhile, both Kissinger and Rockefeller tried in vain to obtain permanent residence for the Shah in the United States. Rockefeller also sent Robert Armao, a former member of the late Nelson Rockefeller's vice presidential staff, to Nassau to coordinate the Shah's operation.

Not enough women for recruiters

The U.S. Army is not meeting its recruitment quotas for women and is worried about it. It wouldn't be so bad but for the fact that the Navy and the Air Force are doing better jobs of selling their programs to La Belle.

The Army brass thinks the glamour of sea duty and piloting planes may have something to do with it.

It's not easy to meet that competition with your basic Army activity — slogging through the mud under a heavy pack.

Eliminating kitchen duty might help.

Merit Smashes Taste Barrier.

—National Smoker Study

Majority of smokers confirm 'Enriched Flavor' cigarette matches taste of leading high tar brands.

Read what smokers had to say about MERIT in a recent nationwide survey.

Confirmed: Majority of smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: Majority of smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

And in research conducted among current MERIT smokers:

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking
MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands—but continues to satisfy! This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is the first real alternative for high tar smokers.

Rice bag shower June 12

A rice bag shower was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Beil, 7502 Highland Drive June 12 honoring Elizabeth Swindell, bride-elect of Matthew King. Other hostesses were Beverly Beil, Mrs. Bruce Wright and Mary Jane and Mrs. Ernest Boyd and Emily.

The honoree was presented a yellow daisy corsage. The hostess gift was an insulated ice container.

The table was covered with a beige lace cloth enhanced by a yellow and white candelabrum. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Among guests attending were Mrs. J.E. Swindell, mother of the honoree and Mrs. Bettie-Jane King, the prospective groom's mother. The evening was spent making rice bags and flowers.

Miss Swindell and Matthew King were married Saturday in the Trinity Baptist Church.

Secretaries Association met June 12

The Big Spring Chapter, National Secretaries (International) Association met June 12 at the Brandin' Iron Inn for the monthly meeting and installation of new officers for the coming year.

Officers installed were Mrs. Ella Vonne West, president; Mrs. Jane Overman, vice president; Mrs. Marjorie Dykes, recording secretary; Marguerite Cooper, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Edna Ames, treasurer.

Lykins-Webb reunion held

The Lykins-Webb family reunion was held Sunday at Comanche Trail Park with 60 members attending.

Mrs. Bonnie Hyden, president, asked each head of family to introduce his family. Dixie Leonard, secretary, read the minutes from the last reunion which were approved.

D.C. Lykins, 79, Iowa, La., was the oldest member attending. David Williams, two months, Blythville, Ark. was the youngest family member. Terry Smith, San Diego, Calif., and Jean Graham, Clarkston, Miss., came the farthest to attend.

New officers elected were Mrs. Ruth Hatch, president; Mrs. Mary Ada Brewer, vice president; Ms. Dixie Leonard, secretary; Mrs. Jo Wiley, treasurer and Mrs. Jo Wiley, historian.

The reunion will be in Big Spring next year.

Sew and Chatter Club met

The Sew and Chatter Club met June 13 in the home of Mrs. Twila Lomax.

Mrs. Lee Porter, president presided over the business meeting.

The afternoon was spent quilting and crocheting. Refreshments were served to 13 members. The next meeting will be June 27 in the home of Mrs. M.A. Cook, 1611 Main, at 3 o'clock.

Older adult kitchen needs simplicity

COLLEGE STATION — A kitchen design for the older adult needs four "basics," says a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Pay attention to storage areas, counters, the range and the table, advises Sue Young, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Make these four areas easy-to-see and reach, and that will make storage, preparation and serving more convenient, she says. It will also help insure safety, Mrs. Young adds.

Eliminate difficult-to-reach storage areas — including space over the range. Store supplies and equipment at the point of first use. Get rid of not-needed gadgets.

Don't let guy blackmail you into having sex

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I have a big problem. My boyfriend wants to have sex with me but when I say no, he says I'm a big baby.

I really love this guy and I'm afraid that if I don't give in, he will dump me and I don't want to lose him.

Please help, fast. — Dieder, Santa Rosa, Calif.

Dieder: If you say yes, instead of being a big baby, you could have one. If this boy really cares for you, he will respect your high moral standards.

Ironically, many girls who are in a similar situation wind up getting dumped after they give in to the boy's desire. You see, that was all the boy was after and when he got what he wanted, he split.

Dr. Wallace: My best friend has been dating a guy for four months. Since she started seeing this guy, not once has she gone anywhere with me or our other best friends.

Every time I mention this to her, she gets all huffy and says, "You don't understand. I love Rick."

We have been good friends for a long time and I don't want to lose her friendship. Help. — Theresa, Newton, N.J.

Theresa: Love takes precedence over friendship, especially when the love is "new." Give your girlfriend time and she will get back to "semi-normal."

Don't nag or pressure her. This will only make matters worse.

This should be a learning experience for you. When you meet your one and only, you won't forsake your friends — will you?

Dr. Wallace: I'm 12 and will be going into junior high school in September. My problem is that my best friend whom I have known for eight years must go to a private school and we do everything together. We're inseparable.

I'm afraid our friendship might decrease and I don't know what to do. — Dee Dee, Seattle, Wash.

Dee Dee: There is no reason your friendship should diminish as long as this girl still lives in your neighborhood. This is also a great chance to gain new friends and to visit a different school.

CEHC met June 12

The Center Point Extension Home Makers Club met June 12 at the Kentwood Older Adult Center for a salad luncheon. Mrs. J.R. Petty, president, presided. Roll call was answered with my favorite song. The devotional was Proverb 17:22. Mrs. B.R. Griffith voiced the opening prayer.

Mrs. Vern Viger demonstrated using scarves to make rosette trimmings. Mrs. Griffith demonstrated making wall runners out of burlap and carpet warp.

Two visitors, Mrs. Norma Starmon, San Diego, Calif. and Mrs. Vern Viger attended with six members.

The next meeting will be at the Kentwood Center June 26 at 2 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Zay Birrell and Mrs. Lucile Petty.

Son's birth announced

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lynn Knous, San Angelo, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Jeremy Lynn Knous on Friday at 1:04 p.m. in the Angelo Community Hospital. Jerry weighed 8 pounds 5 ounces, and was 20 1/2 inches long.

The infant's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, Abilene. His great-grandmother is Marion Hays, Ballinger.

His paternal grandparent is Verlin Knous, Big Spring and great-grandmother is Edna Christian, Big Spring.

Gavel Club installs officers

The Laura B. Hart 1019 Past Matron's Gavel Club met Thursday at Herman's Restaurant, with Dee Martin, president, presiding.

New officers were installed by Gladys Fiveash as follows: Alma Pye, president; Clara Smelser, vice president; Anna Steen, secretary and Dee Martin, treasurer.

Carol Huff was initiated into the order by LaVera Mitchell.

The meeting closed with the club prayer in unison.

PBX dinner meeting held

Herman's Restaurant was the scene of the Big Spring PBX Club dinner meeting June 11, at 7 p.m. Thelma Rains, president, presided, introducing Vern Young, chief operator at the Big Spring State Hospital, as guest.

Members voted to have a Boss of the Year and an Operator of the Year banquet, date and place to be announced later.

Highlights of the State Convention were discussed. The State Boss of the Year is Bob Long of Shell Oil Company Houston office. State Operator of the Year is Joann Atkinson, Pasadena Bay Area PBX Club.

The International PBX Convention will be July 20-23 in Tulsa, Okla. Texas has a candidate for international president, Jean Staples of Houston. Thelma Rains is the delegate for the Big Spring club.

The group decided to work in the muscular dystrophy of America Telethon in September.

Mrs. Rains presented a workshop on your telephone personality entitled, "Which Shoe Fits You."

New members will be introduced at the July 9 meeting by their sponsors at Herman's Restaurant, 7 p.m. Verdie Mize of Shell Oil Company, president of the Permian Basin Club and past state PBX president, will be the guest speaker.

Jane Ray closed the meeting with a memorial in honor of Alice Chrane, a charter member of Big Spring.

Practice safety with oven cleaners

COLLEGE STATION — eyes.

—Open kitchen windows for ventilation.

—Keep children away from the area being cleaned.

—If the fumes become irritating, close the oven door, leave the room and get fresh air.

—Read the label for information about antidotes.

When storing oven cleaners, keep locked away from children.

Oven cleaners which contain more than two percent sodium or potassium hydroxide — caustic substances — must be packaged in child resistant containers to keep children from opening them. However, it's important to store them out of reach of children anyway. Don't keep them under the sink or in other accessible places. Keep aerosol oven cleaners away from heat sources, such as a furnace or water heater.

When using oven cleaners, follow these guidelines:

—Read and follow the directions before each use.

—Wear protective gloves for hands and goggles for

Provide 28 inches for depth — to allow enough "shoulder room" for garments. Also, give each person at least three feet of rod space — or six feet, if possible.

Install rods at different heights. To decide on the most workable heights, group garments according to their length. For example, shirts and jackets may hang together at one height, while dresses may require another height, and full-length items may need still another height. To determine exact height measure the longest items in each group and add six inches.

Make children's closet rods adjustable and within their reach — to move higher as children grow older.

Install shelves two or three inches above rods — and in the closet center as space permits.

Children's closets allow more room for shelves during the younger years.

Planning closet space increases efficiency

COLLEGE STATION — Plan a "reach-in" closet to make the most of space, recommends Pat Seaman, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

When rods are placed at children's level, more shelves can go above them.

A closet front should open completely, hiding no more than six inches of rod on either side. Bi-fold doors suspended from tracks are workable choices for most closets. Also, hinged, folding or sliding doors work well, but sliding doors allow access to only half the closet at one time.

Use fluorescent lighting for maximum efficiency. Use deluxe cool white tubes to select clothes for daylight and deluxe warm white tubes for incandescent lighting.

U.S. industry spends $30 billion annually on group health insurance, according to Bubb. To control these costs, corporations now are offering employees group health policies which emphasize preventive care or the option of joining a health maintenance organization. Another important step companies have taken is to start health education and health promotion activities for their employees.

"Smoking cessation clinics, alcoholism counseling, exercise programs and free blood pressure testing are not only attractive benefits to employees, but help the people take better care of themselves and at the same time, helping corporations keep their health care bill in check," Bubb commented.

"In a Pacific Mutual-Louis Harris nationwide study on America's health care attitudes, we learned that a significant and growing number of people in this

Health Insurance executive encourages outpatient care

LOS ANGELES — To help curb skyrocketing health care costs, America should encourage outpatient care and discourage the use of the hospital aspects of hospital care, according to Harry G. Bubb, president of Pacific Mutual, one of the nation's largest health insurers.

"Unless medically necessary, patients should not sleep in a hospital bed when they could be sleeping at home," Bubb told a Town Hall audience in Los Angeles today.

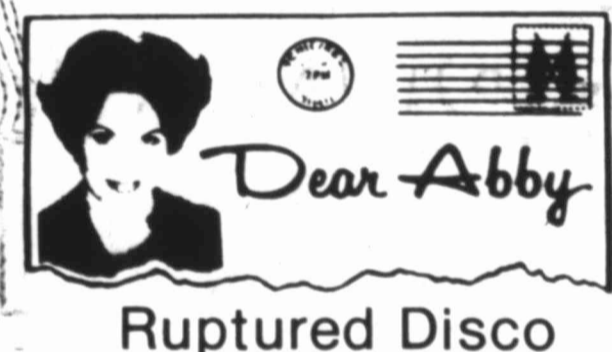

financial incentives where they should be — on the least expensive and most cost-effective medical services.

"By reimbursing for outpatient care, we have been able to encourage people to take care of their medical problems at an early stage rather than wait until the problems are so serious that hospitalization is unavoidable.

country are changing their health habits. More people are exercising. Some 31-million people have stopped smoking. Nearly two-thirds of the adult population have had their blood pressure checked within the last six months, and people are reducing their fat intake and taking other steps to improve their diets," Bubb revealed.

"In the continuing dialogue about a government-run national health insurance program, there now is widespread agreement that the private health insurance industry should continue to play a major role in the provision of health insurance to the people of this country.

"We can deliver better health care to more people without spending any more money — public or private. Preventive medicine needs widespread support and action from all segments of our society. It is my hope that rather than continuing to debate the pros and cons of comprehensive national health insurance, we can all get down to work and start improving the existing health care system, which despite its many faults, has a demonstrated ability to provide high quality medical care to the American people," Bubb concluded.

Ruptured Disco

DEAR ABBY: The house is finally quiet. My husband and two teenagers are in bed, but I am so upset I can't sleep. Our marriage has been so wonderful, plus we are blessed with two healthy children who have always been well-behaved.

We were an exceptionally happy family until about a year ago. So what's the problem? LOUD MUSIC!

Abby, why must music be played so loud today? The only answer we get from our children is, "Because."

The words exchanged between by husband and son tonight were terrible. My husband asked our son politely to please turn down the stereo. Our son ignored him, so his father turned the stereo off and announced that neither of the children would be allowed to play music again until they agreed to keep the volume at a level that was comfortable for us.

I've never seen my husband so angry. The kids are mad and I'm upset.

Do other parents have this problem? And how do they handle it?

AM FM

DEAR AM: Yes, many partners have that problem. And they handle it the same way your husband handled it — by exploding and the finally laying down the law.

The upsetting scene could have been avoided had you laid down the law as soon as the kids started playing music at a volume that was disturbing to you.

Loud music is "in," but the price one pays for constantly assaulting his eardrums with loud sounds is impaired hearing.

DEAR ABBY: My son has a lot of friends, and lately they have been getting married one after the other. Here is my gripe. He has to lay out $48 every time he rents one of those fancy tuxedos the bridegroom has picked out for him to wear to the wedding.

I think if the bridegroom wants his attendants to wear tuxes, he should pick up the tab for the rental. What is your opinion?

PINE BLUFF, ARK., MOM

DEAR MOM: It would be nice if the bridegroom could afford it, but most cannot, so it's customary for each attendant to pay for the rental of his own tuxedo.

DEAR ABBY: I'm expecting my first child in four months. All the beauty of pregnancy and motherhood are slowly being destroyed by the horror stories of other women.

Ladies I hardly know have told me how the doctor had to break the baby's arm for delivery, cords choking babies during delivery, etc. And as though that weren't enough, I've been hearing how "dangerous" hospitals are. (Unclean, mistakes made in the lab and pharmacy.) It's all so frightening.

These stories are entirely unsolicited and very unnerving. Abby, how can I stop these horror stories.

FIRST TIMER

DEAR FIRST: You can't stop them from being started, but you can stop them from being finished by saying "Thanks, but I'd rather not hear it."

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the wife asking how to get her attorney husband to update his will hit home with me. Here's how I got my father to update his 30-year-old will. He had left everything to my mother who has been dead for 15 years!

I sent my father a copy of my will, asking for his suggestions on how to dispose of whatever he was leaving to me since I had no children. He got the message and promptly updated his will. I may have been left out of his will for all I know, but at least it made him update his own.

G.A.G. IN L.A.

DEAR G.A.G.: Thanks for a good suggestion. Read on for another.

Roloff homes one order away from being closed

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — With one of evangelist Lester Roloff's three youth homes already shut down without his approval, state agencies stood by today for orders to take children from the remaining two facilities.

Roloff said the Anchor Home for Boys at Zapata was closed. "They sent the boys home," the beleaguered preacher said, adding that about 35 youths had been housed there.

Meanwhile, about 100 staff members of the Texas Department of Human Resources were massed near Corpus Christi, awaiting one more order from State District Judge Charles Mathews that would shut down the other two schools. They are the Rebekah Home for Girls at Corpus Christi and the Lighthouse Home for Boys in Kenedy County.

Mathews had given Roloff until Tuesday to apply for state licenses, which the evangelist says would invite anti-Christian control over his facilities.

Before state welfare workers and state troopers can move in to clear out the homes, Mathews must sign final writs that would remove about 400 children from Roloff's control.

Plans call for the young people to either be returned to their parents or placed in foster homes.

Marlin Johnston, associate commissioner of administration with the DHR, said of the evacuation force, "We have to play it by ear, step by step."

He explained that DHR staff members will not arrive at the homes with a convoy of buses.

Bill Woods, DHR information director, said, "The plans are to have a small group go in first to see if we are going to have any problems."

Steve Perrino, Texas Youth Council information director, said his agency is prepared to take youths in at the Corsicana State Home, the Waco State Home and the Tarras Haynes Ranch Farm near Killeen.

"We intend to enforce the order tomorrow morning," Assistant Attorney General David Young said Tuesday.

Roloff's top aide Wyley Cameron said today prayer sessions were held at the homes while they waited for the state to make its move.

Roloff's attorneys Tuesday unsuccessfully asked two state courts and a federal appeals judge to keep Mathews from closing the homes.

The Texas Supreme Court and the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals in Austin refused to interfere with Mathews' order. Judge Tom Gee of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals also rejected Roloff's request.

While lawyers for the Corpus Christi preacher scrambled from court to court, parents with children in Roloff's homes told Gov. Bill Clements they want their sons and daughters kept in the facilities.

But Clements told them he lacked power to stop the closings.

"I have no recourse at this point," Clements told 200 parents and ministers gathered in the Capitol rotunda.

"At this point, it's in the hands of the attorney general's office. He's in charge of enforcing the law," the governor said.

Clements told the group his efforts to help Roloff resist state licensing laws failed in the 1979 Legislature. The governor said the issue would be back before the next legislative session and parents asked him to call a special session to help Roloff.

Spokesmen for the parents and ministers said the group came from 26 states and attended a rally in Corpus Christi Monday night. They said they drove to Austin in cars and buses to protest violation of their parental rights.

Signs proclaiming, "Lester Roloff Today, Your Church Tomorrow" dotted the crowd. After Clements left, Pastor Earl Little of the Miller Road Baptist Church in Garland said it was not a small group that supported Roloff.

"It's not a little isolated, kooky group on the fringe side," he said of the evangelist's following.

"Now there's been talk of violence. There are a lot of swords out there — the sword of the spirit," he said as the crowd held up their Bibles.

Roloff has told girls in the Rebekah Home in Corpus Christi to resist state workers and police who try to move them.

Little said his church decided to turn in its state license for a day care center. Roloff has urged all church-run facilities to reject state permits.

After a prayer and two verses of "Amazing Grace," approximately 100 parents and ministers walked a half block to Attorney General Mark White's office.

White was in Aspen, Colo. After a 20-minute wait, his information assistant, Nancy Puentes, met with the group.

"We're very, very concerned about our constitutional rights being infringed," said Wayne Ticer, a parent. "We placed our children in the homes of our choice and now the state is going to take our children away. We just don't understand that."

Mrs. Puentes said she would tell White about their concerns. The group then left.

The flurry of activities follows at least 5½ years of court fights between Roloff and the attorney general's office.

OLD CAUSEWAY — Arnold Samuelson standing on the Old Causeway bridge that links South Padre Island with the mainland feels the structure is a hazard to navigation and wants part of it blown up. He feels that since the Island is now connected by a new elevated (83 feet) causeway built in 1974 part of the old bridge should be removed.

Donations taken for demolition

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — It took three years and three million 1950s dollars to link this strip of sand with the mainland of South Texas.

The concrete Queen Isabella Causeway marked the arrival of South Padre Island as a tourist resort. Until its completion in 1954, sun-seekers had to take a boat or the "Sandcrab Taxi" (a half-track vehicle) across the Laguna Madre.

Now, Arnold Samuelson, a pleasant, gray-haired, transplanted Yankee, wants to blow up part of the old causeway.

And he's asking his friends to donate $107,000 for the demolition project.

"The old causeway is a Chinese wall. It's a navigation hazard," said Samuelson, chairman of the Cameron County Recreation and Tourism Advisory Council.

The 15,272-foot Queen Isabella was replaced in 1974 by the Queen Isabella II — a $12 million engineering marvel. The new causeway rises to an impressive 83 feet above the bay waters. That's high enough to let most pleasure craft sail under the crossing and up the bay.

The old causeway — a few hundred yards to the south — is much lower and still locks much seaborne traffic. The larger pleasure boats must make a five-mile out-of-the-way trek around an island in the bay to bypass the old causeway.

"That's why we want to put a cut in the old causeway," Samuelson said. "It's been talked, talked, talked. We finally want some action."

Talk of removing the old causeway began on the February 1971 day when the U.S. Coast Guard granted a permit for construction of the new causeway. That permit required that the old causeway be removed within 90 days of the opening of the new one.

But in May 1974, the permit was amended and the old causeway remained. The two ends have been used as fishing piers since then. And the larger boats have been making the five-mile voyage around Long Island to an old swing bridge in order to sail up the bay.

The "cut the causeway" project has had its ups and downs. Samuelson said it's been endorsed by many local authorities — but no one has come up with the money.

An application for state funds was turned down earlier this year.

"It's just a matter of the money now," he said. "It's just a start to put our money where our mouth is."

The start came at a recent "bust the bridge bash" at a local nightspot. Samuelson hopes that sailors tired of making Long Island detour and local businessmen with an eye on more business will donate to the project.

Samuelson said the 60-foot causeway cut could be accomplished by some strategically placed dynamite to loosen up the old concrete. Large pieces taken from the crossing would be hauled away.

"As it is now, it's a real hazard. If there's a sudden storm all the boats are jammed up waiting to get through that swing bridge," he said.

"Some people say don't cut it. They say 'what if the new causeway falls.' But that's the reason they built the new one. The old one wasn't safe."

"Anything that will knock down the new one is going to take the old one too."

Hearing set on Wayne's estate

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — A probate hearing has been scheduled for July 10 on actor John Wayne's $6.85 million estate, which excludes his third wife and a son-in-law.

According to a 27-page will filed Tuesday in Orange County Superior Court, the legendary film veteran's estate includes $1 million in real property, $5.75 million in personal property and $100,000 in income from his holdings.

Wayne died June 11 of cancer. The actor's attorney, John S. Warren, noted that although Wayne's wife, Pilar, was not included in the will, she was provided for in a 1973 separation agreement.

In addition to Mrs. Wayne, Donald La Cava, the husband of the actor's eldest daughter, Toni, was excluded from the will. La Cava also will be unable to collect his wife's portion upon her death, Warren said.

Warren declined to say why Wayne made that provision.

The will provides for a special bequest to his two children under 18, in the amount of $5,000 multiplied by the difference between 21 and the child's age at Wayne's death. This provision applies to John Ethan, 17, who will get $20,000, and Marisa, 13, who will receive $40,000.

Also, when Wayne's three youngest children — John Ethan, Marisa and 23-year-old Aissa — reach age 30, they will receive one-half the principal in their trusts, then at age 35 they'll get the remainder. It was not known how much was in each trust.

Wayne has four children over age 35. They are Michael, 44; Toni, 43; Patrick, 42, and Melinda, 41.

Each of those four was bequeathed a trust sum, which will go to the qualified spouse upon death. The only exception was that the trustees continue to administer Toni's share, which will go to her children after she dies and they reach age 21.

Wayne also left $10,000 to former secretary Mary St. John, and $30,000 to Pat Stacy, his secretary at the time of his death.

All of Wayne's art objects — paintings, sculptures, and American Indian artifacts — were given to organizations that can provide his estate with tax deductions.

The remainder of Wayne's estate will be placed into trust accounts, one of which will provide his first wife, Josephine, with monthly checks of $3,000 for life. Upon her death, the funds will be divided among her four children by Wayne.

Wayne's second wife, Esperanza, died soon after their divorce in 1953. They had no children.

Lewis Johnson, Wayne's Arizona ranch partner, also is a trustee of the estate. The ranch is included in Wayne's personal property. Other major land holdings include his Newport Harbor home and property on Puget Sound in Washington.

Wayne bequeathed preferred stock in his movie production company, "Batjac" Productions Inc., to his eldest son, Michael, the third named administrator of the estate.

Howard College awarded $63,300 in federal funds

Howard College has been awarded $63,300 in federal funds for two programs, announced Cong. Charles Stenholm (D-Tex.), Tuesday.

The funds will be provided through the Office of Education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The largest portion of the grant $60,000 will be used to serve 108 students in Work Study Funds. The remainder will serve six students in Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant funds.

These funds are provided under Public Law 89-329, the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, for the award period of July 1, 1979 through June 30, 1980.

Crime against tourists up

When in Rome, watch out

ROME (AP) — Increasingly aggressive Roman thieves are working the airports, highways and narrow streets of the Italian capital, and U.S. consular officials report an upsurge of crime against American tourists.

An American couple who came here on their honeymoon were the latest victims, picked clean of passports, money and jewels before they even reached their hotel.

Starting with record crowds during the sun-splashed Easter period, Italy is experiencing a tourist boom with West Germans and Americans leading the pack. An estimated five million Americans are expected to visit Italy this year.

The boom has also brought out the thieves and American officials here say the robbers are becoming more violent in pursuit of loot.

Leslie and Robert Tortolani, married in New York last Saturday night, flew into Rome on Monday morning and rented a car at Leonardo Da Vinci airport, but when they reached the modernistic exposition center on the outskirts of the city, a tire blew.

Tired from their overnight flight and fried by the morning sun, the couple decided to leave the car and take a taxi to their hotel on the Via Veneto, seemingly the wise move.

Mrs. Tortolani carried her shoulder bag containing $800 in cash, both passports, travelers checks and jewelry and sat in the back of the cab while the driver and her husband, a Providence, R.I., costume jewelry manufacturer, got the luggage.

"Suddenly the door of the taxi opened and a man grabbed my bag. I was screaming at him but he kept pulling and he dragged me out of the car. When he got the bag he smiled at me," Mrs. Tortolani recounted.

The thief escaped in a waiting Fiat, the same light green car that Mrs. Tortolani noticed driving behind them from the airport.

The U.S. Consulate said it was the fourth such incident involving tourists who rented a car in two weeks. Last year, cooperation between airport police and the U.S. and several West European consulates helped crack a ring of thieves who followed rented cars into the city, and usually in the area of the exposition center, punctured a rear tire and then pounced on the vulnerable occupants when they had the trunk open and car up on the jack. Only a tiny percentage of the thousands of tourists here are victimized, but an attack, of course, ruins a vacation often made at considerable financial sacrifice.

This year the U.S. consulate recorded 70 passports stolen in April and 111 stolen in May, compared with 64 in April 1978 and 82 in May 1978, by "scippatori" — thieves usually striking from motorcycles or cars.

Last year, the Embassy issued a travel advisory which said, "Like many other countries, Italy has witnessed a dramatic rise in the level of crime directed against both Italians and foreigners. Although crime involving Americans in Italy is almost invariably non-violent, a victim may at minimum suffer inconvenience and some financial loss."

But says an American consular officer, "This season the thieves are a lot more bloody minded. In the past, if there was violence it was incidental. Now they seem determined at whatever the cost."

In one unusually violent incident, a gang knocked down and robbed an American couple as they were standing on the ancient Appian Way last Thanksgiving, then drove over the woman's legs as they made their getaway.

Italian police blame an increase in drug use for much of the street crime.

New York native joins Army Recruiting team in Odessa

S-Sgt. Pet Frank, a native of New York, has joined the Army recruiting team in Odessa as a Reserve Recruiter for the Odessa Area.

Sgt. Frank has been a member of the Army Reserve for nine years as a motor sergeant. For four years he has also held a civilian position in the Reserve in Denver as a heavy construction equipment repairman.

'Bamboozled' to include movies, dancing girls

The 1979 Midland Summer Mummies will open June 29 for a ten week run.

From the prolific pen of J. Randal Hicks, Esq., comes "Bamboozled on the Bounding Main," or "Perfidy on the Poop Deck," a rousing tale of adventure on the good ship Santa Maria Del Norte El Paso, and in a peculiar port or two.

"Bamboozled" will include the silent movie sequences which have become a popular requisite of Summer Mummies productions, and, of course, it will be followed each night by an all new version of the olio, complete with dancing girls, singers and comics.

The 31st annual Summer Mummies will be held in the original location, 206 S. Colorado — the old American Legion Hall, behind the County Library.

The building has been leased to the Summer Mummies for this season, who will, for the first time, handle the entire operation. They will be purveyors of all beverages, in addition to the usual sale of popcorn and novelties, with the entire proceeds going in to the operating fund of Midland Community Theatre.

The box office is now open for the 1979 Summer Mummies at Theatre Midland, 682-4111. All tables are reserved and must be paid for (non-refundable) within 24-hours of making the reservation. Tables will seat from four to twelve.

Performance dates, Friday and Saturday, June 29, 30, July 6, 7; and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday from July 12 through Sept. 1.

'Egad, What A Cad' casting completed

The Big Spring City Theatre has completed casting for its melodrama, "Egad, What A Cad" to be presented July 12-14 at the Comanche Trail Park Amphitheatre during the Starlight Specials. This presentation will be directed by Cecilia McKenzie.

Ursula Greystone will be played by Cathy Mays. Ursula's husband, Augustus is Greg Smith. Nancy Kogler is cast as Fowler, the maid.

Kris Boubek is playing Constant Hope and Many Rash is played by Mike Shinabery. Mark Sheedy will play Bertram Oleander and Lynn Smith will play Milly Smith.

Tickets will be available at Arcand Electronics, Fayes Floers, Caudills, Nick's Togs, The Cherry Orchard, Grays Jewelers, Western Glass and Mirro, Creative Woodworking or any theatre member.

WAITING FOR GAS — Long lines of cars snake past closed gas stations along Route 4 near Fort Lee, N.J., on Tuesday and head towards the few stations which remained open. In an attempt to reduce the size of the long lines at the pumps, New Jersey as well as other states are planning an allocation program which will restrict purchasers to alternate days.

More states will begin rationing

By The Associated Press

Gasoline rationing came to New York and Connecticut today and was set for midnight in New Jersey as officials in other states dealt with the eastern swing of the Gas Crisis of 1979 with minimum gas purchases.

Rhode Island hoped minimum gasoline purchases — $5 for small cars, $7 for large models — would discourage "topping off." Massachusetts energy director Joseph Fitzpatrick said minimums were likely in that state as well.

But officials were to decide today whether to begin "odd-even" rationing in Maryland, Washington, D.C., and northern Virginia, where minimum sales requirements have failed to shorten lines at pumps.

"I think people have finally adjusted to the fact that this is a gasoline crisis," said Kathy Godzik, spokeswoman for the Automobile Club of Maryland. "It used to be a crunch; now it's a crisis."

Other states like Pennsylvania and Georgia held off on any measures but kept an eye on gasoline supplies and the success of rationing elsewhere.

The odd-even rationing system — which alternates days on which gas can be bought between motorists with odd- and even-numbered license plates — began at 12:01 a.m. in the New York City area, where gas prices were over $1 a gallon in many places.

The plan, announced by Gov. Hugh Carey on Monday, also includes a minimum-purchase requirement, limits sales to drivers with half a tank or less, and requires some stations to stay open on weekends.

Many service station operators were not happy at the scheme, which Carey said would be extended to other parts of the state if needed.

"If the governor thinks we're going to stand around like a bunch of corner cops looking at license plates and gas gauges, he's got something else coming," said Russell Murway, president of the 1,200-member Long Island Gasoline Retailers Association.

"We have more regulations than we care to handle," Murway said. "We can't tolerate any more violence at the pumps. The answer is more gas."

Gov. Ella Grasso began odd-even rationing in her state today after New York and New Jersey announced their programs. She said the state faced a 20 percent shortfall in gas supplies this month and "there was no community that was comfortable."

While all of New Jersey goes on the odd-even system at midnight, its Garden State Parkway was already rationing gasoline at pumps, the first spot in the East to do so.

Rationing was slated to begin Monday in Texas' three most populous counties.

Elsewhere, Montana's Gov. Thomas Judge asked his state's newspapers to carry the hours service stations are open. Florida officials looked for ways to keep people from buying unneeded gasoline — possibly with fines against topping off.

Vietnamese refugees rejected by Malaysians

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Six boats carrying 585 Vietnamese refugees were towed from the east coast of Malaysia into international waters today and sent on their way, a military spokesman announced.

The spokesman told reporters the six boatloads arrived in Malaysia during the past two days and the refugees had not been admitted to government refugee camps, which now hold more than 80,000 Vietnamese awaiting resettlement in other countries.

The boats were towed away from the coast of Trengganu, about 170 miles northeast of Kuala Lumpur, and from Johore, 120 miles southeast of the capital, the spokesman said.

He said the refugees were given food, fuel and other necessities. Refugee officials said the boats were small, wooden, seaworthy, equipped with motors and should be able to be at sea for some time.

It was the second sizable expulsion of refugees this week. On Sunday, 490 were put into a repaired boat and towed away from Kota Bharu, on the northeast coast.

Last Friday, Deputy Prime Minister Mahathir Mohamad announced that all Vietnamese refugees in Malaysia would be put out to sea and any more arrivals would be shot on sight. This touched off an international storm, and on Monday Prime Minister Hussein Onn withdrew the threat of mass-deportation and shooting.

But at the same time Home Minister Ghazalie Shafie told a news conference Malaysia's declared policy since late last year has been to "turn away all new refugees entering Malaysian waters," and it would continue to do this.

Nixon cancels plans

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard Nixon has canceled plans to attend a moon-walk anniversary festival in Las Vegas next month, but he'll have his own party for the nation's astronauts at his Casa Pacifica estate.

Jean Magowan, a spokeswoman for the Dunes Hotel and Country Club where the astronauts' Las Vegas party will be held July 11-15, said Nixon had planned to attend the Las Vegas gathering marking the 10th anniversary of the first landing on the moon.

Now, however, about 100 persons — including astronauts, their wives and dignitaries — will attend Nixon's Mexican-theme poolside cocktail party and luncheon July 15, said Ms. Magowan. She said the party is apparently the final function Nixon will host at the Spanish-style seaside estate, which the Nixons have sold.

Jagger suit continues

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The court with final jurisdiction over the Jagger vs. Jagger divorce case has yet to be determined, but that fact hasn't stalled legal action in the case.

Bianca Jagger's attorney has filed a motion here asking that rock singer Mick Jagger be held in contempt for failing to pay his estranged wife $3,000 a week in temporary support as ordered by Superior Court Judge Harry T. Shafer. Marvin Mitchelson said Jagger, 35, has also failed to obey the court's order to deposit $35,000 in trust for attorney's fees for Mrs. Jagger, 25.

Mitchelson said Jagger would be served with a subpoena to appear in Los Angeles when the contempt motion is heard Aug. 9. A British court has scheduled a hearing for July 6 to decide whether the marital battle should be waged here or in London.

Bayh tire of 'if onlies'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "if onlies" finally got to Sen. Birch Bayh, he told members of Congress in an appeal to have more resources committed to the treatment and cure of cancer.

The Indiana Democrat, whose wife Marvella died of cancer in April, appealed to Congress Tuesday along with others who have lost loved ones to the disease.

"If you talk about what you learn when you go through an experience like this, there are more 'if onlies' than you can imagine," Bayh told the Senate Appropriations Committee which helps set limits on federal health spending each year.

"If only we had invested a little more money..." he said.

Also speaking before the panel were Mrs. Nat "King" Cole, whose husband died of lung cancer 14 years ago; Frances Humphrey Howard, sister of the late Sen. Hubert Humphrey; and Ann Morton, the wife of former Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton. Morton died April 19 after having cancer for six years.

Young child mauled by rats expected to live

LEBANON, Tenn. (AP) — "She was nearly eaten alive," said the pediatrician who treated Valerie Hearn, a 10-month-old child mauled by rats. "It was more than one rat, it appears. They'd had to be big rats, too."

Dr. Bernard Wiggins, who runs a children's clinic in Wilson County, said the attack that left Valerie in serious condition at a suburban Nashville hospital Tuesday was the worst he had ever seen.

"She had severe rat bites on multiple places of her body — both her hands, her lips, her ears, her nose, her legs and arms, her body, back and shoulders. Her right hand was nearly eaten through. Most of the fat pad in the central area of the hand was eaten out," he said.

However, Wiggins said he believes the child will survive.

"Her bites look like they're infected and she's running a fever, but I think she'll come out of it," he said.

"I interned at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital so I've treated rat bites. But this attack is the worst one I've ever seen."

Wiggins said the child might soon have died of malnutrition if her mother had not rushed her to the hospital after discovering the attack.

"It looks like she suffers from palsy. And she's a classic case of a failure to thrive. She's 10 months old and weighs just 10 pounds. That compares with an average weight for her age of 15 to 18 pounds," he said.

The child had suffered from a poor diet and lack of health care even before she was attacked, he said. "It is just a pathetic thing."

Wiggins said he had treated the girl once when she was a month old, but her mother never returned.

The mother called an ambulance early Tuesday morning after she heard the baby crying and "went right to it," said Wiggins. He said the mother "said she had just seen the baby minutes before it was attacked."

Officials say 19-year-old Carolyn Hearn and her three children lived in a dilapidated downtown neighborhood where Wiggins said he had treated a few rat bite victims earlier.

Joanne Smith, county Human Services Department supervisor, said the other Hearn daughters, ages 2 and 4, would be examined. Attempts to reach the mother were unsuccessful.

week during an interview at Florida State Prison. The two are among 133 Death Row inmates in Florida.

Death Row inmates' lawyers confident

Execution schedule won't be met?

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Lawyers for Charles W. Proffitt and Robert A. Sullivan, whose death warrants have been signed by Florida Gov. Bob Graham, say they are confident neither man will be put to death as scheduled next week.

Sullivan's attorneys Tuesday asked the Florida Supreme Court to delay the executions scheduled for 7 a.m. June 27. Proffitt's lawyers said they would file a similar request in Tampa circuit court this week.

If appeals fail, the men will become the second and third to die in the electric chair in little more than a month. On May 25, Florida State Prison inmate John Spenkelink became the first man executed unwillingly in the United States since 1967.

Proffitt, 33, was sentenced to death for the 1973 murder of a Tampa high school wrestling coach. The coach, 23-year-old Joel Medgebow, was asleep when Proffitt plunged a breadknife into his chest.

Sullivan, 31, was sentenced to death for the 1973 shotgun slaying of motel and restaurant manager Donald Schmidt, who was abducted and murdered in the Everglades.

"They're not at the end of the road," said Proffitt's attorney Jack Boger of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Legal Defense Fund. "Neither of these cases should result in execution anytime soon."

Both men lost appeals after their trials, but are allowed by law to try a second round. Neither has completed those appeals, which lawyers said generally deal with whether a trial met certain constitutional standards.

When those appeals end, the two men could press similar contentions in federal court. That approach spared the life of Willie Jasper Darden Jr., who had been scheduled to die along with Spenkelink.

"It's pretty easy to say it's not an imminent thing, but it's difficult for my client to contemplate that they're going to execute him in a week," said Sullivan's lawyer, Roy E. Black of Miami. "He's got to take it seriously. And I do, too."

Proffitt, a slightly-built man, has said he would rather die in a hospital as a guinea pig for research than "cook" in the electric chair.

"I mean, you stick a guy in a chair, he's hot. He can't help anybody," Proffitt said in a 1977 interview.

Sullivan, a former law student, once said if he had to die in the electric chair he wanted it shown on television.

"If people see what they want, they won't want it," the articulate, heavy-set man said in an interview two years ago.

Graham would not comment on his reasons for signing the death warrants. And lawmakers were divided in their reaction.

Third trial predicted by Henley's attorney

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — While prosecutors tried to convince a judge that Elmer Wayne Henley voluntarily told police about his part in the Houston mass murders, a defense lawyer was boldly predicting that Henley will get a third trial.

"I would wager money on it if I had any," Will Gray of Houston told reporters Tuesday.

Henley, 23, is being re-tried here on six murder counts stemming from the homosexual torture and death spree that left 26 boys dead. He had been convicted of the killings at a 1974 trial. But Gray successfully argued on appeal that the defense had been improperly denied a change of venue hearing. The conviction was thrown out.

"We've got all the record we need (for a successful appeal)," Gray said. "The rest is just window dressing."

Gray believes State District Judge Noah Kennedy has committed an error that could force a third trial if Henley is convicted. He claimed that several jurors were improperly seated. He forecasted that "we'll do it again in two or three years."

But Harris County District Attorney Carol Vance said that he found nothing wrong with the jury selection process.

"The judge was very cautious in the jury selection. It's not the easiest thing to get a jury in a case with world-wide publicity," Kennedy Tuesday began hearing testimony in a pretrial hearing to determine the admissibility of a written statement Henley gave police after his 1973 arrest. The defense wants the statement suppressed.

After the eight-man, four-woman jury was sequestered, Vance began calling witnesses in an attempt to show that the statement was not coerced.

Pasadena policeman J.B. Jamison and Dave Mullican testified that Henley had been advised of his rights and did not ask to see a lawyer. The two men were among the first to arrive at a Pasadena home where Henley said he had killed Dean Corll. Henley claimed the 33-year-old Corll masterminded the death spree.

Mullican said Henley voluntarily led police to burial sites in Houston, San Augustine and High Island where the bodies were dug up.

"He did tell me in fact that he had been involved in killing some of these people," Mullican said. "He told me he felt better by having the thing off his chest."

Mullican also testified that Henley gave detailed descriptions of the murder and torture methods.

"He said it was not as easy to choke someone to death like they showed on television. He said he had to call Dean to help him," the detective said.

Ellis installed as chairman of THA during convention

W. Clay Ellis, FACHA, administrator of Wichita General Hospital in Wichita Falls, was installed as Chairman of the Texas Hospital Association (THA) during the Association's recent 50th Annual Convention and Exhibit Show in Dallas.

Ellis has served THA as a trustee for three years, treasurer for one year and vice chairman for one year prior to being elected chairman-elect last year. He has also served as Chairman of the Exhibits Committee in 1975-76 and vice chairman of THA's Council on Comprehensive Health Planning in 1973-74. He is a fellow of the American College of Hospital Administrators and a Delegate to the American Hospital Association House of Delegates.

Ellis began work at Wichita General Hospital in 1963 as Business Manager. He was promoted to Assistant Administrator in 1967 and then in 1968 assumed his current position as administrator. He has been a leader in civic affairs in Wichita Falls and is a past president of the Gold Coated Ambassadors of Wichita Falls Board of Commerce and Industry. He is a past master of the Seymour (TX) Masonic Lodge No. 604 and is on the Administrative Board of Floral Heights Methodist Church in Wichita Falls.

Ellis has been quite interested in health planning in the Wichita Falls area and has served as vice president (1981) and James J. Farns-Systems Agency based in Wichita Falls.

Other officers elected by the THA House of Delegates at their final meeting at the 50th annual convention were: Alton Pearson, president, Hillcrest Baptist Hospital, Waco, chairman-elect; George Fleming, Ed.D., FACHA, executive director, San Jacinto Methodist Hospital, Baytown, vice chairman; Gordon H. Russell, administrator, Hi-Plains Hospital, Hale Center, treasurer. Roderick M. Bell, FACHA, was elevated to Immediate Past Chairman and Chairman of the House of Delegates.

Elected by the House of Delegates to serve on the Texas Hospital Association Board of Trustees were: Jerry A. Howard, administrator, Highland Hospital, Lubbock (1982); Norman L. Knox, administrator, Malone-Hogan Hospital, Inc., Big Spring (1982); and Frank Cheevers, administrator, Memorial Hospital, Dumas (1982).

These newly elected Trustees join the following members whose terms continue: Paul C. McCord, administrator, Dolly Vinsant Memorial Hospital, San Benito (1980); David E. Rose, senior vice president, American Healthcare, Inc., Dallas (1980); R. William Warren, executive vice president, Memorial Hospital System, Houston (1980); Sister N. Nora Dwan, president, St. Mary Hospital of Port Arthur, Port Arthur (1981); Scott D. Evans, vice president-regional manager, Lifemark Corp., Houston (1981) and James J. Farnworth, FACHA, president, Children's Medical Center of Dallas, Dallas (1981).

BACK TO HIS FIRST LOVE — Dallas Cowboys defensive end Ed "Too Tall" Jones, right, and heavyweight champion Larry Holmes hold up their fists for the photographer in New York Tuesday. Jones, a 6-foot-9, 270-pounder, was holding a press conference to announce his retirement from pro football to pursue his first love, boxing. Jones said he expects to be ready to fight a contender within two years.

Too Tall to enter boxing ring

'I never liked football, even though I had the talent

NEW YORK (AP) — Remember the idle rumors in the 1960s proclaiming those dream fights — Jimmy Brown vs. Sonny Liston or Wilt Chamberlain vs. Muhammad Ali? Would you believe Ed "Too Tall" Jones vs. Larry Holmes? It's not quite as far-fetched as it might sound — but don't start lining up at the ticket booth just yet, either. Brown, once the terror of the National Football League, wound up grimacing at us from movie screens. And Chamberlain, once the scourge of the National Basketball Association, turned his attention to volleyball. But Jones, until now a defensive end with the Dallas Cowboys, says he has had it after five years of pro football — he never liked it to begin with — and at the age of 28 is pursuing his first love, boxing. Holmes, picking up a little free publicity for his Friday night heavyweight title fight against Mike Weaver at Madison Square Garden, attended the news conference Tuesday at which Jones, a 6-foot-9, 270-pounder with mammoth hands, announced his intention to become the heavyweight champion of the world. That was pretty big talk from a guy whose only previous boxing experience was limited to the Golden Gloves while in high school. But Jones pointed out: "I never lost a fight and none of 'em went past the first round." Jones said he figured it would take about two years for him to be good enough to take on a contender and that you can be ready by November, I'm willing to take you on." Jones, who said he decided several years ago to quit football after playing out the option year on his contract, insisted his retirement isn't a ploy to squeeze a better contract offer out of the Cowboys or to get offers from other clubs. "I never liked football, even though I had the talent to play the game... I enjoyed it the first three years with the Cowboys. I was happy with it. In my second year I made it all the way to the Super Bowl. There's lots of guys who played 15 years and never got there. "But the last two years were tough mentally because I made up my mind that after I played my option year I'd go into boxing."

Then, looming over Jones (Holmes was standing; Jones was seated), the 6-3 Holmes assessed: "He's not too tall to fight. And he's not too old. Heck, Archie Moore didn't win the title 'til he was 37. "I think you'll be ready sooner than two years," Holmes said to Jones. "If

Andujar hurls two-hitter at Mets

HOUSTON (AP) — Andujar will tell you the guy teammates of Houston is emotional and occasionally does crazy things.

Coetzee confident entering Spinks fight

SAN REMO, Italy (AP) — The manager of South African heavyweight Gerrie Coetzee wants his fighter to remain a mystery to Leon Spinks until Sunday's fight, and he carefully checks that no spies from Spinks' camp are around when Coetzee spars. "You cannot understand all qualities of a fighter from a training session. But I prefer not to have disturbing presences around the ring," manager Al Tucker said Tuesday. The 24-year-old South African, unbeaten as a professional, fights Spinks, a former world champion, in the nearby principality of Monte Carlo. If he wins, he will get a World Boxing Association title shot against John Tate, assuming that Muhammad Ali retires his crown. Coetzee has been fighting an average of five training rounds a day against sparring partner Randy Stephens since his arrival in San Remo. He was reported by Tucker "in outstanding physical condition." "He is fit for the fight and is also psychologically ready for Spinks," Tucker said.

"I've seen him take a shower with his uniform still on," Astros third baseman Enos Cabell laughed. "He just kind of goes crazy sometimes. We just laugh and say, 'well, there goes Joaquin acting crazy again.'" Andujar went crazy again in the Astrodome Tuesday night but the New York Mets were not laughing. Andujar pitched a two-hitter en route to a 3-1 victory that promoted the Astros to a 212 game lead over second place Cincinnati in the National League Western Division. "I like to be different," Andujar said recently after plunging into the shower in full uniform. Andujar proved himself a little different on the mound Tuesday night, handcuffing the Mets with a single by John Stearns in the second inning and a run scoring single by Willie Montanez in the eighth. The single by Stearns resulted in a brief exchange between the two players with several players from both dugouts charging onto the field. "He said something to me after he got the hit and I said, okay if you want to fight let's go," Andujar said. "But he's really a smart player. He didn't want to fight. He just wanted to break my concentration." "But it didn't work. I kept my concentration, but he didn't get another hit." Stearns had little to say about the incident. "He just threw a knock-down pitch and I don't know why," Stearns said and walked away from an interviewer. Andujar had thrown a pitch over Stearns' head prior to his hit. Andujar faltered in the eighth inning when he walked three batters and yielded the Mets' lone run on Montanez' single. Steve Henderson led off the inning with his third walk of the game and scored the run. The Astros supported Andujar, 7-4, with single runs in the first, third and fourth innings. Andy Hassler, a recent trade acquisition, got the loss in his first National League start. Houston leadoff batter Terry Puhl scored the Astros' first two runs. He walked to open the first inning, was sacrificed to second, stole third and scored on Cesar Cedeno's double. In the third inning, Puhl singled to rightfield. Julio Gonzalez then singled, sending Puhl to third base and when Mets rightfielder Joel Youngblood tried to throw Puhl out at third base, Puhl scored on third baseman Richie Hebner's third fielding error.

Ranger newcomer impressive in win

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Texas Manager Pat Corrales was pleased with what he saw of newly acquired pitcher John Henry Johnson in Tuesday night's 2-1 victory over the California Angels. But Corrales, whose team moved into second place in the American League West, 4½ games behind California, wasn't happy with what he thinks he saw of Angel starter Jim Barr. Johnson, obtained on Friday from the Oakland A's, went five innings before developing a tightness in his left leg, giving up four hits and striking out 10 Angels. The victory in his Texas debut gives him a 3-8 season mark. Jim Kern blanked the Angels over the last four innings for his 10th save of the season. Barr, 3-2, went 8 1-3rd innings and gave up both Texas runs. He also had Corrales fuming that the Angel right-hander was doctoring the baseball. His most forceful complaint, with two outs in the top of the sixth, earned Corrales his second ejection of the season. "I don't know what he was using," Corrales said of Barr, who joined the Angels during the winter after playing out his option at San Francisco. "I don't think it was moisture, maybe a little grease." Corrales began yelling at home plate umpire Darell Cousins in the second inning, after Pat Putnam and Oscar Gamble of the Rangers opened with singles. Barr got out of the inning when John Ellis flied out and Richie Zisk and Jim Sundberg struck out. Barr has become used to the complaint from opposing American Leagueers. He said he merely holds his fastball three different ways, causing different action on his pitches. Whatever Barr was doing to the ball, it wasn't enough to beat Texas. The Rangers got one score in the fourth inning when Buddy Bell and Putnam opened with singles and Gamble had a sacrifice fly.

SHOWING THEM THE WAY — Billy Martin calls the plays in his debut return Tuesday night as the New York Yankees manager. Despite all the signals and a very appreciative crowd, the Toronto Blue Jays won the game, 5-4.

Blue Jays ruin Martin's return

Billy Martin picked a bad night to come back home to Yankee Stadium. Only two American League home teams were winners Tuesday and Martin's Yankees weren't one of them. The fiery Martin took over the defending World Champions from Bob Lemon, the man who replaced Martin when he resigned last July, and also coached third base as Toronto edged New York 5-4. The Blue Jays were one of five victorious visiting teams in the AL Tuesday. "Just being back in uniform is great," Martin said. "You don't realize how much you miss the game until you're gone for as long as I was." Martin also had kind words for the Yankee fans. "They're great fans," he said. "I wish we could have given them a victory. I've been a Yankee fan all my life; maybe that's what we have in common."

The Yankees weren't much more effective under Martin than they'd been recently under Lemon. Light-hitting Luis Gomez broke a 3-3 tie when he drove in his first two runs of the season with a bases-loaded single in the sixth inning. New York almost won it in the bottom of the ninth. Thurman Munson led off with a bloop single to center and Graig Nettles, who had a two-run homer earlier, drove a fly ball to deep right field. "It was hanging up in the air," said Toronto right fielder Joe Cannon, who was inserted as a defensive replacement the inning before. "I got back as far as I could and got lucky and brought it down. I was really trying to keep it from going out; I think it would have hit the top of the fence." "It was a good shot but I'm proud of the way I timed my jump." Martin was proud of the effort his Yankees gave. "I'm never happy after I lose a ball game," he said, "but we hit the ball hard and executed well."

Tigers erupt in 14th

"They're an awful good club to keep beating in this park," said Boston Manager Don Zimmer. He was right. Detroit, which lost 9-8 to Boston Monday night in a game that ended at 1:12 a.m. Tuesday, erupted for six runs in the 14th, two on Steve Kemp's single and another pair on Lance Parrish's double.

Orioles pound Indians

A pair of eighth-inning walks, followed by Billy Smith's single, drove in the run that gave Baltimore its fifth victory in a row and its 11th in 12 games. The Indians were the victims of Eddie Murray's tie-breaking homer in the seventh and tough relief pitching by Tim Lincecum, who held Cleveland in check over the final four innings.

Mariners continue winning ways

Seattle scored a pair of unearned runs in the fourth to spark its third straight victory and 12th in 19 games.

A's homers sink Royals

Mike Heath, acquired in the trade for John Henry Johnson last week, but his first two major league homers to lead the A's to victory. Mitchell Page, Wayne Gross and Dave Revering also homered for Oakland, which managed an unorthodox triple play in the sixth. Darrell Porter singled and George Scott was hit by a pitch. Al Cowens then grounded to third baseman Gross, who tagged Porter and threw to second for a force out. Scott ran over second baseman Mike Edwards and interference was called, accounting for the third out.

Niekro beats Phillies again

After getting beamed by a pitch last Friday night, Phil Niekro laid low between starts. "I just stayed in bed for three days," said Niekro, who was hit in the head by Craig Swan in last weekend's game with the New York Mets. "I didn't do anything at all, just rested." Then it was business as usual against the Philadelphia Phillies. Looking as good as new, Niekro beat the Phillies for the sixth straight time Tuesday night, with a 10-4 decision. "It always seems I pitch well against Philadelphia, and I really don't know why," said Niekro, who hasn't lost to the Phillies since August 31, 1977 and holds a lifetime mark of 22-12 over his National League East Division rivals. The Braves have followed Niekro's lead, holding a 12-5 record over the perennial Eastern powerhouse the last two seasons.

Brewers outslug Twins, 10-9

Butch Wynegar's wild throw on an attempted steal in the eighth allowed Cecil Cooper to score Milwaukee's decisive run. Hosken Powell and Roy Smalley homered for Minnesota.

Expos defeat Reds, LaCoss

Bill Lee and Woodie Fryman combined on a six-hitter and Lee contributed a run-scoring single as Montreal edged Cincinnati and handed Mike LaCoss his first defeat in nine decisions. "You know that you're eventually going to get beat," said LaCoss. "The most important thing I wanted was if I had to lose, I wanted to lose with my best stuff and not get shelled." "I had a little inflammation of the elbow and from the first inning I was kind of leery about my arm. I was feeling my way through instead of concentrating on my pitches."

Pirates explode past Giants

Two-run doubles by Ed Ott and pitcher John Candelaria sparked a five-run, third-inning rally that triggered Pittsburgh over San Francisco. Most of the Giants' production came on solo homers by Bill North, Jack Clark and Larry Herndon. Phil Garner had a 5-for-5 night for the Pirates, including an RBI triple.

Cubs rally past Dodgers

Jerry Martin's two-run single keyed a four-run seventh inning as Chicago rallied to beat Los Angeles. The Dodgers had built a 4-2 lead after five innings as Reggie Smith slugged his sixth home run and Ron Cey his 13th, a two-run clout, before the Cubs came back. Dick Tidrow, who relieved starter Rick Reuschel in the sixth, earned the victory, with last-inning relief help from Bruce Sutter in the ninth.

Cardinals break losing skein

John Fulgham surrendered just two unearned runs and eight hits in his major league debut as St. Louis snapped a six-game losing streak by beating San Diego. Fulgham struck out seven and walked one to enable the Cardinals to snap a 13-game losing streak at San Diego Stadium. The Cards' last victory in San Diego came on July 17, 1976.

Big Spring State Park to receive 38 acres on June 21

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will receive approximately 38 acres of land adjoining the Big Spring State Recreational Area during ceremonies on June 21, 1979.

The acreage, formally a part of Webb Air Force Base, will be donated to the P&WD by the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service, a division of the U.S. Dept. of Interior.

The new tract of land will increase the recreation area to 527 acres and furnish additional opportunities for hiking and nature study by park visitors. The P&WD has no immediate plans for facility development on the new tract.

The new tract of land will act as an important buffer zone between residential development and the main park area.

Dudley wins June bass tourney

Jerry Dudley captured first place in the Big Spring Bass Club June Tournament held at the Twin Buttes Reservoir near San Angelo. Dudley had a three-string catch of seven pounds, four ounces. Ken Sprinkle was second with a two string catch of four pounds, 15 ounces, with Tom Adams third, Howard Stewart fourth and Donny Baker fifth. Terry Tate caught a fish weighed at five pounds, two ounces, but was late to the weigh-in.

Nine fishermen fished during the day, and only eight fish were weighed in. The conditions were extremely tough, as winds around 30 miles were in evidence most of the day.

Nehemiah wins in Finland

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Reynaldo Nehemiah of the University of Maryland ran the 110-meter high hurdles in 13.36 seconds and easily won his event at an international track meet. The Soviet Union's top hurdler, Viktor Myashnikov, was second in 13.96. In the other events, Reijo Stahlberg of Finland won the shot put with a toss of 66 feet, 4 1/4 inches, and Arto Haerkoenen was beaten by East Germany's Wolfgang Hanisch in the javelin throw. Hanisch's effort was 289-7 1/2 while Haerkoenen tossed the spear 285-1 1/4.

Nicklaus sets sights on Canadian Open

OAKVILLE, Ontario (AP) — Tom Watson, Jack Nicklaus and Hale Irwin top the strongest field ever assembled for the Canadian Open Golf Championship, an event that grows in stature and prestige on an annual basis. "It is a national championship," Nicklaus said. "Any national championship is of very considerable importance." And the event, which gets started Thursday, holds a special lure for Nicklaus. A victory would be of more than normal importance for the man who is struggling through the poorest season of his matchless career. First of all, he hasn't won this season. He needs to win to restore the confidence that has begun to erode in an erratic, unproductive season. Secondly, he'd particularly like to win on the Glen Abbey Golf Club course, a 7,050-yard layout playing to a par-71 which Nicklaus designed in the Toronto suburbs. And, finally, the Canadian Open is one of the few important titles that has eluded him. He comes into the tournament, which carries a $350,000 purse, on a mild upswing and needs a strong, positive performance to set him up for the two remaining major titles of the year — the British Open and the American PGA. Nicklaus had a strong 68, one of his better efforts of the year, in the final round last week in the U.S. Open. But it was too late to lift him into contention. A struggling 77 in the second round took him out of that one. With a $63,000 prize going to the winner, a Watson victory could make him the first man to go past $400,000 in single-season winnings.

Waldrep disappointed in physical exam

DALLAS (AP) — Kent Waldrep and Bob Hurt, two paralyzed former athletes, say a newly-formed research foundation will fight the attitude that "there's no cure" for crippling spinal cord injuries. At the same time, Waldrep and Hurt, who have been as far as the Soviet Union trying to find a cure for their affliction, criticized an examination given them Tuesday by a team of physicians commissioned by the Veterans Administration. "It was not the thorough examination we expected," said Waldrep, a former Texas Christian University football star. "I was disappointed," said Hurt, who was paralyzed when his car crashed into a wall at 186 miles an hour during the Indy 500 Speedway trials in 1968. Waldrep underwent controversial neurological treatments in Leningrad late last year. He is still confined to a wheelchair — as is Hurt — but says he has improved 25 per cent since the treatments. Waldrep said the pair was invited to Southwest Medical Center for an examination by a team of neurological experts following a deluge of requests from paralyzed veterans desiring access to the treatment. "I felt the examination was a disservice to the paralyzed vets who forced a committee to evaluate us," Waldrep said. Waldrep and Hurt were joined by paralyzed jockey Ron Turcotte, injured almost a year ago in a spill, as they announced the formation of the Arlington-based Kent Waldrep International Spinal Cord Research Foundation at a press conference Tuesday. Waldrep said that while some $3 billion was being spent in America on rehabilitation only some $3 million was being spent on research trying to find a cure for spinal cord injuries. Waldrep said he will fight what a doctor told him after his injury: "You will just have to get used to being paralyzed. There's no cure."

Buddy Bell honored by AL

NEW YORK (AP) — Buddy Bell of the Texas Rangers was named American League player of the week after batting .480 last week. Bell had a double and three homers among his 12 hits, drove in six runs and scored seven. He had 22 total bases, a slugging percentage of .920 and an on-base percentage of .480. He became the first Ranger to win player of the week honors this season.

Ali might retire in LA on July 5

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — The statement was in a letter that Mike Mortimer had received from the camp of World Boxing Association heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali. It read:

"I, Muhammad Ali, agree to stage my retirement party at Los Angeles Forum on the evening of July 5, 1979."

A spokesman for the Forum said he was not aware of any such event scheduled for the arena.

Mortimer, chairman of the Championships Committee of the WBA, said here that the letter he received arrived with notification from Barry Frank, senior corporate vice president of International Management Group, which officially represents Ali.

"I am enclosing Mr. Muhammad Ali's agreement to retire his heavyweight championship as of July 5, 1979," Mortimer quoted the letter as saying.

When asked to confirm if he indeed sent a letter to Mortimer which contained a letter of resignation from Ali, Frank told The Associated Press in New York on Tuesday: "I have no comment on that. He (Ali) will make the appropriate announcement at the appropriate time. All I can say at this point is his retirement plans are his own."

Ali, meanwhile, reportedly was in Libya and has not been heard from while the announcements were being made. However, he has said on several occasions that he would not fight again.

Under WBA rules, the 37-year-old champ must sign for a title defense by Sept. 15, one year from the date he regained the title from Leon Spinks.

Sweetwater hires Beck

SWEETWATER — Don Beck, head coach at Perryton since 1972, has been named head coach at Sweetwater High School.

Beck, whose teams in 16 seasons have won 118 while losing 47 and tying seven, succeeds Joe Marlett, who resigned and is being reassigned within the Sweetwater system.

Beck's teams have averaged seven wins a season over the years. Perryton, which had never won a district championship before Beck arrived, won four during his tenure. Perryton's 1976 team lost to Gainesville in the Class AAA semifinals.

Beck has also coached at Wellington and Sunray. He is a 1958 graduate of West Texas State University.

His starting pay will be $25,000 annually plus travel and moving expenses.

McLaughlin named SMU track coach

DALLAS (AP) — Ted McLaughlin, assistant coach at the University of Texas-El Paso, will be named the new head track at Southern Methodist University this week, inheriting a rich freshman crop that has some of the best talent in the nation.

McLaughlin, 40, will replace Jim Parr, who resigned to work for the Mustang Club.

UTEP won NCAA titles in both outdoor track and cross country. The Miners came within one point of a rare triple crown in collegiate track this season, finishing second by a single point in the indoor championships.

McLaughlin was interviewed both by Athletic Director Russ Potts and Head Football Coach Ron Meyer.

Recent SMU recruits include shot putter Michael Carter of Dallas Carter, who recently flipped the shot a national record 81 feet 3 1/4 inches; Bonham's 9.1 sprinter Mitchell Bennett; Sherman's Kenneth Jackson, who is in the low 20s in the 200-yard dash; and sprinter Eric Dickerson of Sealy, the No. 1 rated schoolboy running back in the state.

"The football players will be released from spring training if they want to run track," said McLaughlin. "I know something about all of them. I know because we tried to recruit them, and SMU already had them all."

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 28, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is your day to think in terms of what you need to do to obtain the goodwill of associates and the approval of the public at large in your ventures and undertakings. Give full credit where due.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have every opportunity now to show your finest capabilities to bigwigs who can help you to commercialize on them. Get out to amusements but with congenials only.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Improve conditions at home and have the rapport there that you wish. Entertain worthwhile individuals and get the backing you need.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate on whatever has to do with communicating with others and travel for good purposes. Visit with persons who can be of help to you. Show you are wide awake, generous with all.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A new project may be in the offing, so be on the alert for it, or look into one yourself and add to income soon. Have a frank discussion with a prominent person on how to become more affluent yourself.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make confidential plans that will bring about an uptrend in all of your affairs in the near future. Confide only in bigwigs who can help you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Concentrate on your most important goals and know how best to attain them. Avoid one who does not understand or appreciate you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle those affairs concerning friends that will bring you mutual benefits early and well. Get out to important group affairs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you get into civic work you gain prestige, also in business circles. More application to career work will bring in greater benefits.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make plans early for a trip you want to take and count the cost well. Use caution in a new condition that suddenly arises.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study your responsibilities well and know how best to handle them. Show more affection for loved ones and get good response.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get those ideas working early that will help you to communicate better with others. Finish any contracts you have pending and get good results. Be more open-minded with others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Organize mutual enterprises with others and handle them intelligently. Don't permit others to undermine you in any way.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will comprehend early the needs of the public and will want to please them. An inventive mind here that needs a good education to make the best use of it. Some musical talent here also.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Estes attorneys claim payoffs to late LBJ

DALLAS (AP) - A lawyer defending Billie Sol Estes in his fraud trial said in federal court here the paroled swindler made payoffs totaling upwards of $10 million to former President Lyndon Johnson.

Defense attorney G. Brockett Irwin did not introduce evidence to back up his claim, but he did play a secretly recorded conversation between Estes and an undercover Internal Revenue Agent in which the alleged payoffs were discussed.

Estes, in the tape made in the summer of 1977, confided to undercover IRS agent Walter Perry that he gave late president about $500,000 in exchange for multimillion dollar government grain contracts.

Irwin contended he could show "10 million went to Lyndon Johnson as business expenses." But U.S. District Judge Robert Hill sustained a prosecution objection that any payoffs Estes' may have made were irrelevant to the charges against him.

Estes, and his Midland business associate Robert K. Horton, are accused of concealing assets from the federal government and conspiracy to defraud investors in an alleged scheme involving investments in nonexistent oil field cleaning equipment.

Irwin has maintained that Estes has been a "political prisoner" since his fraud conviction in 1963, and the target of over-zealous prosecutors.

MAPLE FALLS - A 50-year-old, 100-foot high male tree is toppled by high winds that hit midtown Omaha Tuesday. The tree damaged the roof and porch of an apartment building owned by Ron Fehr. Tornadoes, funnel clouds and severe thunderstorms swept over much of eastern Nebraska in the late afternoon and early evening.

Violent weather kills 2, ruins Midwest crops

Tornadoes, heavy rain and hail pounded the upper Midwest, uprooting trees and power lines, smashing buildings and light airplanes and destroying crops.

The National Weather Service in Kansas City, Mo., called the storm "the most widespread outbreak of severe weather over the northern Plains for this time of year that can be recalled."

Two people were killed Tuesday and several others injured.

Nebraska took the brunt of the storm, which swept eastward Tuesday with winds gusting up to 90 mph. Its main force stretched 140 miles from the Kansas border to the South Dakota line. Damage or injuries were also reported in Iowa, Minnesota and Kansas, and the Dakotas.

Tornadoes caused an estimated $500,000 damage in Watertown, S.D., about 100 miles from the Minnesota border.

At least 23 Nebraska counties were hit and tornado warning sirens wailed in 10 of them at various times Tuesday afternoon.

Antelope County authorities said Randy Schwarring and Clarence Strahm were killed when 75-80 mph winds and three-quarter-inch hail struck a farm shed about a mile and a half from tiny Oakdale.

In southwestern Nebraska, hail damaged corn, wheat, bean and sugarbeet crops in Perkins, Keith and Deuel counties. A dust storm briefly cut off visibility at Cairo.

In Iowa, several funnel clouds were reported Tuesday night, and at least four people were injured. Gusts up to 90 mph were reported in western Iowa and heavy rains sent one stream out of its banks.

Six light planes at the Spencer airport were destroyed by a tornado and two persons were injured when strong winds whipped through a campsite near Anita.

One of the hardest hit areas was Merville, Iowa, a community of 1,200 in north-central Woodbury County, where a tornado-like wind damaged several homes and businesses and caused at least one injury. A garage was ripped from its foundation at one residence and dropped on the other side of the house.

"There was no warning," said Mrs. Gene Belknap, whose husband is the town's mayor and police chief. "Usually we get a call from the Woodbury County sheriff's office to sound the alarm, but this came too fast."

High winds, heavy rain and hail in Sioux City downed power lines, causing spotted power outages.

Dozens of funnel clouds were reported in Minnesota, downing power lines and trees. At least 40,000 Northern States Power company customers were without electricity today and utility spokesman Wayne Kaplan said it would be several days before all service was restored.

Tornadoes and high winds swept through eastern Kansas, injuring two occupants of an overturned mobile home near Hartford and damaging a grain elevator and bins near Courtland.

PROPOSED RENEWAL OF TEXAS WATER COMMISSION PERMIT NO. 1008-01

The City of Big Spring has applied to the Texas Water Commission for renewal of its permit, which authorizes disposal of treated domestic sewage effluent, at a volume not to exceed 3,000,000 gallons per day average, from the municipal wastewater treatment plant located on the north side of Eleventh Place approximately 1,000 feet east of its junction with FM Road 708 on the east side of Big Spring in Howard County, Texas. The treated domestic sewage effluent is discharged to Bear's Creek adjacent to the plant site; thence into the Colorado River in Segment No. 1412 of the Colorado River Basin.

RENEWAL AUTHORITY: Rule 156.25, 30.001-.004 of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The permit, if renewed by the Commission, will specify conditions and limitations generally the same as those currently authorized by the existing permit. The expiration date of the existing permit is November 26, 1979. It is proposed that the expiration date be specified as midnight, five years after the date of Commission approval.

A public hearing shall be held on this application for renewal unless a person who has received notice of the proposed renewal has requested a public hearing in writing. A person requesting a public hearing should set out the factual basis of his belief that renewal should not be granted by the Commission.

If no sufficient request for hearing is received within 30 days of the date of this notice, the permit will be submitted to the Commission for approval of the renewal.

Further information concerning any aspect of the renewal request may be obtained by writing Larry R. Seaward, Assistant Chief Hearings Examiner, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 12087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512) 475-1311, or by issuing this 13th day of June, 1979. Mary Ann Heister, Chief Clerk. June 20, 1979.

NO SPECIFIC CHARGES WAGED AGAINST SURRENDERED AIRMAN

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - Air Force authorities have not specified what charges Staff Sgt. Wilmer W. Higgs Jr. declared legally dead after disappearing 18 months ago - might face following his surrender to Lackland Air Force Base officials.

"Higgs just walked up and turned himself in" Monday to his squadron commander at Lackland Air Force Base, where he had been a marksmanship instructor before vanishing New Year's Eve 1977, a base spokesman said.

Officials declined to say what charges the 33-year-old serviceman might face. However, the spokesman, who asked not to be identified said servicemen who turn themselves in after being absent without official leave usually face only AWOL charges, instead of more serious desertion charges.

Higgs was reclassified a deserter earlier this month after FBI agents reopened the investigation into his disappearance.

Higgs vanished from his part-time job at a northside San Antonio service station and police feared he had been the victim of a robbery- abduction. The Air Force declared him legally dead and paid his wife military death benefits.

Higgs made his surprise appearance late Monday afternoon and was immediately placed under military arrest. He is restricted to his squadron area pending a complete investigation of his disappearance.

The 12-year Air Force veteran was moonlighting in an overnight Exxon station at the time of his disappearance. Police discovered an empty cash register in the station's blood-spattered office.

The sergeant's car was later found partially submerged in the San Antonio River south of downtown. Police reported signs of a struggle.

A statewide search, bolstered by a $1,000 reward offered by Exxon, failed to turn up a trace of the missing sergeant. He was declared legally dead in January 1978 and a memorial service was held for him four months later in Vidor.

But a recent FBI investigation, sparked by a tip, showed Higgs worked at two jobs in Southeast Texas and had received a traffic ticket in Vidor last June under his real name.

Only last Friday, Higgs' father, W. W. Higgs of Vidor, made a public plea for his son to surrender. Higgs revealed to authorities that his son had called him from Galveston last month.

Carolyn Hall Higgs, the serviceman's wife who now resides in Hawaii, said, "I'm relieved to know Bill's still alive. I'm happy, but I was shocked when all of this came out."

She said she never knew her husband was alive until reports surfaced earlier this month that the FBI and Air Force had reopened the investigation.

Mrs. Higgs said she thought her father-in-law's plea last Friday led Higgs to give himself up. She refused to discuss what benefits she received after her husband was declared dead.

Farm Congress resumes action on sugar legislation package

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-awaited package of sugar legislation has resumed trickling through Congress after months of strategy mapping among lawmakers and administration officials.

As action reopened Tuesday, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee accused the national press of "hostility and ignorance" in reports on pending legislation to raise sugar prices.

An international agreement to set a range of prices and companion bills to hike domestic supports for farmers are aimed at price stability for both consumers and producers, said Democratic Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, a major sugarbeet state.

Church, the panel's chairman, had blocked any movement on Senate ratification of the pact until higher U.S. supports were enacted.

Despite his remarks, the hearing itself was taken by industry and administration officials as a sign the long-delayed International Sugar Agreement and legislation to boost domestic sugar price supports now will move through Congress this summer.

The legislation, supported by President Carter, would add an estimated 74 cents to each consumer's food budget this year and about $1 a year more through 1981. About 80 percent of the sugar consumed is in foods and beverages.

About $60 million in direct subsidies would be paid for by import fees without affecting consumer prices.

The House Agriculture Committee approved a boost in supports almost three months ago. But sharp divisions among sugar producers, processors and users have stalled it in the Ways and Means Committee, where its tariff provisions must be approved, too.

Stories and editorials calling the bill inflationary, but supporting the pact are illogical, and "nothing but flagrant propaganda," Church said at the committee's first hearing this year on the agreement, negotiated two years ago.

The administration now uses import duties to keep the U.S. price of foreign sugar at 15 cents a pound. It has a separate program for 14,000 U.S. farmers that assures them 14.7 cents on 1978 sugar and 13 cents a pound on this year's crop.

Because imports amount to 45 percent of the sugar consumed in the United States, the duties raise the cost of all sugar to refiners and then consumers, who now pay an average of about 25 cents a pound for table sugar.

The world raw-sugar price before duties is less than 8 cents a pound, less than half what U.S. growers say they need to stay in business. The pact would use export quotas and stockpiles to hold that price between 11 and 21 cents a pound.

The United States is the largest sugar importer. Assistant Secretary of State Julius L. Katz testified that the other parties are becoming impatient with the Senate's delays.

Church said he now wants ratification papers ready even if the House kills the supports, although he believes "a reliable complementary domestic program which will act as a safety net for domestic producers is mandatory."

He said he still doubts the pact will work because the European Common Market, a major exporter, has not agreed to it.

Bill raises pay of election judges, County Clerk Ray says

A total of 37 bills affecting the Howard County Clerk's office were passed in the Texas legislature this year, according to County Clerk Margaret Ray.

Mrs. Ray and 118th District Clerk Peggy Crittenden returned recently from the 84th Annual Conference of County and District Clerks' Association of Texas held in Kerrville.

Mrs. Ray said that several new bills will affect her office.

The Peveto Bill (SB 621) mentions the county clerk's office 60 times. It deals with ad valorem taxation and was instituted by Senator Bill Peveto. The bill will create a state property tax board and a county appraisal district in each county. It will also require county clerks to conduct elections among taxing units for the board of directors of the county appraisal district.

Mrs. Ray said this bill, with its detailed influences on the county clerk's office, will be the hardest of the new bills to implement.

Another bill that will affect the county clerk's office is HB 408. It raises pay to election judges and clerks from $2 to $3 dollars an hour. It also provides for county commissioners to pay $20 to bring election boxes from the polling place to the courthouse. Both pay raises are contingent on commissioners' approval.

HB 500 will keep county clerk's office, county tax office and election administration office open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on election days on which a state office appears on the ballot.

HB 263 will raise the cost of filing death and birth certificates from $2 to $3. SB 537 will raise the fee for filing nominations.

Also related to nomination filing is HB 1007. It mandates that candidates can not file for a place on a ballot before 30 days before the deadline.

Ms. Crittenden said new legislation will not affect her office to any large extent.

Barbee named to Dean's List

ABILENE — Timothy Rayburn Barbee of Big Spring has been named to the Dean's List at McMurry College for the spring semester. Dr. Paul Jungmeyer, McMurry vice president and academic dean, has announced.

"Barbee is included in this select group comprised of those students whose academic average is 3.5 or above, a distinguished group indeed," says Jungmeyer.

McMurry College is a fully accredited four year liberal arts institution owned and operated by the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences of the United Methodist Church.

On the light side

Hard hat zone

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Skylab Watchers and Gourmet Diners Society has announced it will hold a garden party June 30 to view Skylab's plunge to earth.

"Those attending are required to wear hard hats or similar protective headgear," said a release from the newly formed group, which invited reporters to watch the crash from a back yard.

The invitation states "sponsors of the watch are not responsible for any injury or property damage sustained during the bombardment."

However, "catcher's mitts are allowed," said society spokesman Don Zachritz Jr.

Warning: Money ahead

WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Robert McDonald, a 31-year-old inventory control manager with a mortgage and two children to feed, was just driving along the road when an armored car dropped nearly $24,000 in front of him.

After a brief bout with temptation, he gave it back.

"My wife and kids, they're all pretty glad I gave the money back," he said. "They said they're proud of me."

McDonald says he was driving behind the truck Tuesday when its rear door swung open and out spilled two bags.

"I chased the truck for about a half mile," he said. "They wouldn't stop. Someone told me later, they could have shot me. I didn't think of that at the time."

McDonald said he took the bags to a bank branch.

"Between you and me," said McDonald, "I don't think they could have traced the money. Nobody saw me at all. But I realized it isn't mine, you know. I'd like someone to do that for me someday."

Pinball wizard

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — For Sonny Ciavatta, 25 cents goes a long way. He's been playing the "World Cup" pinball machine for a week now and says he hopes to set a world's record.

"I've created a monster," said Ciavatta, vowing he would not stop until he had beaten a record 216 hours of continuous play listed in the Guinness Book of World Records.

"If I make it through Saturday at 2 p.m., I'll have played 10 days and 10 hours. Anybody who can beat that deserves to have the record," he said Tuesday.

Ciavatta, 31, said he felt "great." The host bowling alley has been feeding the carpet salesman free hot dogs and Coke, and he naps between games.

He said his wife, Maria, was initially opposed to the endeavor.

"At first, she figured no one could win that many games," Ciavatta said. "But I've had the machine checked, and now she accepts that I'm just good."

Sniper search in Fort Worth ended today

FORT WORTH (AP) — Heavily armed law enforcement officers searched a vast area at Greater Southwest International Airport, but could not find any trace early today of a sniper who reportedly fired on a utility crew and passing cars.

The sniping incident was reported to police late Tuesday by a Texas Electric Service Co. crew working near the airport.

Police, including special weapons squads, were sent to the scene from Fort Worth, Hurst, Euless and Bedford following the report.

A member of the crew said someone opened fire, possibly with an automatic weapon, from a catwalk on the control tower.

Officers cordoned off an area of the airport and warned persons in the area to be cautious. No more shots were heard after police arrived.

A helicopter circled the tower, shining a floodlight on it, as officers searched the area without turning up any trace of the sniper.

Officers used dogs to search the tower area and to search several underground tunnels around the airport area without finding any trace of the sniper.

The search was called off early today.
