

Inflation rises by 1.1 percent--again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Continued rapid increases in the price of gasoline and other petroleum products helped push consumer prices up 1.1 percent in May, the fourth straight monthly increase of 1 percent or more, the government said today.

Still, there was some moderation in food prices, which rose 0.7 percent last month. This led Labor Department economist Patrick Jackman to suggest that "the food situation, for the long run, is starting to look better."

Prices have been going up about 1 percent a month since the start of the year. A 0.9 percent rise in January was followed by increases of 1.2 percent in February, 1 percent in March and 1.1 percent in April.

If consumer prices continue to rise for the next seven months at the same pace as the last five, the annual inflation rate would be 13.4 percent, Jackman said.

The Carter administration had hoped to hold price increases to about half that rate this year. An economic slowdown or even a recession could help retard the upward price spiral later this year, although economists expect any such decrease will be smaller than in previous recessions.

At the same time the Labor Department was releasing the Consumer Price Index for May, it released its monthly statistics on workers' earnings.

Average weekly earnings rose 0.2 percent in May, the report said. When adjusted for inflation, earnings were down 3.1 percent since May 1978.

Workers' spendable income — what is left after Social Security and income taxes are subtracted — was unchanged from April and when adjusted for inflation, was down 3.3 percent for the year.

Gasoline and fuel oil prices were the biggest culprits in the May inflation rise, the Labor Department said.

"Gasoline prices increased 5 percent in May, bringing the increase so far this year to an annual rate of 55.1 percent," the report said.

Home heating oil prices rose 5.3 percent. It was the fourth consecutive large increase and helped push the overall cost of housing up 1.2 percent in May.

Jackman said the rise in petroleum products was responsible for one-fifth of the increase in consumer prices.

Food prices had been increasing at rates near 1 percent since December, so the May rise of 0.7 percent represented the first relief. The decline had been expected because of recent moderation of farm and wholesale food prices.

The Consumer Price Index stood in May at 214.1, meaning that a market-basket of goods and services that cost consumers $100 in the 1967 base period cost $214.10 last month.

The Labor Department said the index was 10.8 percent higher than a year ago.

Farm prices fell 1 percent in April and went up a moderate 0.75 percent in May. Wholesale food prices went down a total of 1.6 percent in the same months.

Economists agreed, however, that a number of factors could prevent that price slowing from being passed on to consumers.

Most important are higher food transportation costs that could result from government fuel accommodations to end a strike by independent truckers and higher costs for imported oil.

Also, the president's anti-inflation council reported recently that wholesalers, food processors and retailers have been rapidly increasing their profit margins, contributing to the food price acceleration in early months of the year.

In a negative development Monday, a Commerce Department official, who asked not to be named, said the department's "econometric model" for the April-June quarter shows preliminary estimates of a downturn in the U.S. economy.

The official said the early estimate indicates a drop at the annual rate of 2.4 percent in the gross national product for the three-month quarter. But he said the report is a "very preliminary estimate" based on incomplete figures.

Meanwhile, leaders of the Joint Economics Committee of Congress called Monday for a tax cut of at least $20 billion to fight what they see as an imminent recession. Half of the tax cut would be for corporations, and the other half for individuals.

Items can be placed by all citizens

Agenda procedure altered

The Big Spring City Council voted at today's regular meeting to allow any and every Big Springer to submit items for the council's consideration.

Controversy had arisen several weeks ago when two previously considered items were submitted for the agenda by Councilman John Massey. Saying that the items had already received adequate consideration, Mayor Wade Choate refused to place them back on the agenda.

"I really have no objection to a change. It doesn't matter to me who prepares the agenda," said Choate at today's meeting.

"I just want to determine who gets items on the agenda. I am elected, you (Choate) are elected. And the people out there have a right to have items placed on the agenda if they want," said Councilman Larry Miller.

The councilman then made a motion that any citizen of Big Spring be allowed to place an item on the council agenda for consideration. The motion passed unanimously.

Discussion of a city bond election also resurfaced at today's meeting. City Manager Don Davis warned the council that the deadline for required improvements to the city sewer plant looms, and a method to finance those improvements should be found soon.

"I'd like to have the authority to proceed with this. I will contact our financial advisers, see about sewer improvements, and try to come up with some estimates," said Davis.

This was approved unanimously by the council.

In the course of the discussion, Jack Watkins, former city councilman, presented an alternative to a city-wide bond election.

Watkins estimated that over the next two years a total of $150,000 would be transferred from the city water and sewer fund to its general fund. He proposed that this money be applied to the sewer improvement project.

Cost of improvements is estimated at $437,500. Watkins suggested that citizens be charged an additional $1 a month on their sewer bills, to produce between $250,000 and $260,000 a year to help pay for improvements.

Davis said that a number of alternate methods for financing the project would be discussed with financial advisers.

Two agenda items concerning the use of vehicles in the city were tabled by the council. Members had been asked to consider both increasing car allowances for Police Department Detectives, and limiting the use of city vehicles for personal business.

Davis asked the council for more time to consider both proposals before making recommendations. The items were tabled until the next regular meeting of the council.

Councilmen Miller and John Massey voted against the appointment of John L. Taylor and Clyde McMahon Sr. to the Board of Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

"I have nothing against either of these men, but I think we need more than just a handful of citizens involved on these committees. We need to get more people involved," said Miller.

Despite the two nay votes, the motion carried with the three other members voting in favor of it.

During his city manager's report, Davis presented an estimate of the city's current fund balance to the council.

"This is just a rough fund balance. It is not a budgetary report. It is just meant to show where we are in terms of budget and expenditures," said Davis. "It shows that we are not overexpended."

The report shows the city's airport and industrial park fund to be heavily in the red. This includes expenditures for construction of an $800,000 hangar, explained Davis.

Even with the imbalance in the airport and industrial park fund, however, total expenditures still fall within the estimated budget, according to the report.

"We have $80,000 cash in the bank," said Davis.

Davis also informed the council that the railroad spur into the industrial park has now been completed and accepted by city engineers.

In other business, members:

—Approved the second and final reading of an ordinance requesting a zone change for a 5.65 acre tract of land owned by Clyde McMahon and Son. The tract is bordered by 11th and Monticello, and will be used for the construction of storage units.

—Accepted a petition for the construction of a fishing dock at Moss Lake. The proposal will be discussed later when cost estimates have been prepared.

—Appointed Bill Brooks to replace M.A. Snell on the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

—Passed the second and final reading of an ordinance amending the city's taxicab ordinance.

—Approved a year's extension of a livestock permit granted to James W. Doss.

Elvis Presley's father dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Vernon Presley, father of the late rock 'n' roll great Elvis Presley, died today in a Memphis hospital, Shelby County Mayor Bill Morris said. He was 63.

Presley had been hospitalized for heart problems three times in the past seven months. He entered Baptist Hospital on May 29 after complaining of irregular heartbeat.

Presley, who also was a diabetic, first suffered a heart attack in 1975.

His son died of heart failure 20 months ago.

Presley was born in Tupelo, Miss., and worked as a carpenter, sharecropper and painter to support his wife, Gladys Love Smith Presley, and son.

The Presleys moved to Memphis in 1948 with most of their belongings crammed into a 1939 Dodge.

After his son became an international singing sensation, Presley managed his affairs at Graceland, the late entertainer's Memphis estate, and traveled with his son on tours. After the singer's death, his father was named executor of his estate.

Elvis Presley died Aug. 16, 1977, at the age of 42. His mother died Aug. 14, 1958, also of a heart attack, and is buried on the grounds of Graceland beside her son.

FAA refuses to audit Industrial Park property

By JAMES WERRELL
The proposal to call for a federal inventory of property at the Big Spring Industrial Park was stopped short at today's meeting of the city council.

The council had originally considered asking the federal government to conduct an inventory of former Webb Air Force Base property at the industrial park.

At today's meeting, City Manager Don Davis produced a memo from former Industrial Park Manager Harry Spannaus which stated that federal officials refused to provide the city with such an audit.

"The Federal Aviation Administration does not believe there is any neglect of criminal intent on the part of any city employee or citizen of Big Spring regarding the use of subscribed properties," said the memo.

According to the memo, federal officials agreed to allow the city manager to "take any action necessary to clear up existing problems as pertain to fair market rental value of those properties used by other city departments."

After presenting copies of the memo to council members, Davis suggested that city officials be authorized to develop a fee schedule for the property using FAA guidelines.

"This way we can meet the requirements specified by the FAA, and satisfy the matter," he said.

Councilman Ralph McLaughlin then made the motion that any consideration of a federal inventory be tabled until the city staff could present a set of recommendations. This motion died for lack of a second, and no other was proposed in its place.

"I'm not exactly certain what this means," said Mayor Wade Choate, following the meeting. "I'm sure the question of an audit will resurface in one form or another in the future, but I guess, as of today, no action will be taken," he added.

"What we were requesting was an inventory of the property out there. If the federal government says it won't do it, I guess that's it," said Councilman Larry Miller, also following the meeting.

Scattered showers ease heat woes in Big Spring

Scattered showers fell in the Big Spring area Monday evening and this morning. Their chief benefit was in offering some relief from the heat. The heaviest rain appeared to have been concentrated on the southern edges of Howard County, where up to 1.4 inches fell.

H.E. Tubb, who resides five miles south of town just off US 87, says his gauges trapped 1.1 inches.

According to Elbow Elementary School Principal Bill Cregar, the Lomax area received almost an inch and a half of rain Monday, benefitting the cotton crops enormously. The area was again visited by rain this morning but the fall was minimal.

Some rain fell in around Knott. Larry Shaw of that community said he caught .25 of an inch at his place but two miles north of there nothing fell.

Rain was falling in Big Spring this morning while the sun was shining. The fall was understandably light in most places, though some who take pride in their landscaping insist it was "better than a watering."

The rain was unexpected. The forecast for both Monday and this morning gave the area a .30 per cent chance for moisture.

Howard County's official measuring station, the U.S. Experiment Station, reported only a trace of rain Monday and none at all today.

The shower missed Ackery, too, but .25 of an inch refreshed the area around Moss Creek Lake, located six miles southwest of Big Spring. All that fell Monday evening.

TWC refuses to reconsider Stacy decision

The Texas Water Commission today refused to reconsider its decision to allow construction of the Stacy Dam on the Upper Colorado River. That action clears the way for what attorney's say could be a lengthy appeals process in the state courts.

The commission in March handed down an order allowing the Colorado River Municipal Water District to build the dam 24 miles southeast of Ballinger. That order came after the longest hearing in the commission's history.

The three-man board took less than five minutes Tuesday to overrule the motion to rehear the case.

The proposed Stacy reservoir could cover 19,000 acres of land in Coleman, Concho and Runnels Counties.

An attorney for the Lower Colorado River Authority, which opposes construction of the dam, said LCRA would appeal the decision to the Travis County District Court in the next few weeks.

Memorial church renovated

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A $400,000 restoration-renovation project at the 94-year-old Dexter Avenue King Memorial Church will include a library honoring the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

King was pastor of the church in the 1950s when the civil rights movement was born in Montgomery under his leadership. The church recently was renamed in honor of him. Church spokesman Thelma Rice said the project is being funded by the city of Montgomery, the Alabama Historical Commission and friends of the church. Before the building was completed in 1885, the congregation met in a house once used as a slave trading pen.

Firewood supplies down

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Homeowners who think heating with wood is in for a surprise this year. Maine firewood dealers say supplies are dwindling fast and prices as high as $100 a cord for split and dried wood may be a bargain.

The demand is already about double last year's, and the peak period does not arrive until September and October, said William Rocha of the Rocha & Sweet Fuel Co. in Sanford. Firewood dealers in southwestern Maine indicated that prices for a cord of dried split hardwood now ranges from a low of $55, with a minimum purchase of eight cords, to about $80, including delivery.

National Airlines sued

MIAMI (AP) — A 23-year-old California woman, who claims she was unjustly fired as a flight attendant in a dispute over her weight, is suing National Airlines for $1 million and back pay.

Ingrid Fee was taken off flight status April 30 when she weighed 143 pounds, 9 pounds over the airline's 134 limit. She was given until June 11 to trim down to within 5 pounds of the limit. She says she made the requirement but was fired anyway. A National attorney declined to comment. The suit alleges that National "overbooked" its flight attendants' class, cut some probationary attendants before they became union members and falsely represented that the woman lost her job because of her weight.

Gallstones detected earlier

ATLANTA (AP) — Gallstones can be detected in two hours rather than two days with the use of radioactive compounds, a researcher in nuclear medicine reports.

Dr. Leon S. Malmud, associate professor of radiology and medicine at Temple University, said nuclear medicine can be used to diagnose the condition of the gallbladder, intestines and other areas where digestive ailments occur. His findings are among those to be presented to the Society of Nuclear Medicine, meeting here this week.

Nuclear medicine requires the injection of minute quantities of radioactive tracers, which are absorbed by a particular organ or cell in the body. Sensitive scanning equipment outside the body locates the tracer and produces an image of the affected area.

Alleged baby selling attempt being probed

By EILEEN McGUIRE
Events leading up to the alleged attempt to sell a baby by a Louisiana couple passing through Big Spring last week are under investigation by the Department of Human Resources.

Tom Hoosier, Child Placement Supervisor for the Big Spring-Midland area, said that the three-month-old baby girl is healthy and is in foster care at the present time.

Her alleged parents, Yvette Margaret Wierson and Robert Lee Gibson, both of Leesville, La., remain in custody in lieu of $10,000 bond each, set by City Judge John Coffee.

Wierson remains in the city jail due to lack of space in the county jail where Gibson is being detained. The couple have been charged with the attempted sale of a child. First offense is a class A misdemeanor punishable by a $2,000 fine or one year in jail or both. According to county attorney Harvey Hoosier, a second time offense is a felony punishable with a penitentiary term.

Tom Hoosier said that an investigation is being conducted to determine whether the child is actually the child of the suspects and the piece together the events that caused them to offer the child to several employees at Rip Griffin Truck Stop on Thursday.

According to the employees, the couple was asking $30 for the infant. They were first seen attempting to hitch a ride near the truck stop that morning. The arrest came at 5:51 p.m. that afternoon.

An employee had reported the baby appeared to be sunburned and ill. The child has undergone medical examination, according to Tom Hoosier, and is doing well in an unidentified foster home.

He said that relatives of the couple are being contacted for information.

A decision on permanent custodial arrangements for the little girl will not be made until investigation is complete and the court renders a decision regarding the accused.

Police beat Local woman missing

A 26-year-old Big Spring woman reportedly disappeared Friday night.

Patricia Ann Young's family suspects foul play, though Detective Claude Morris said today that there is no evidence to support the suspicion.

Ms. Young was reported missing at 3:30 p.m. Monday. According to the report, she was last seen entering a restroom at Rip Griffin Truck Terminal between 11:30 p.m. and midnight Friday. She was not seen leaving the facility and has not been heard from by her family since.

According to the woman's family, she had no reason to leave home. The report states that family members have been looking for her for the past four days.

Ms. Young is 5'7", weighs 120 pounds and has blue eyes, blonde hair and a fair complexion.

Big Spring Major Crime Task Force arrested three persons early today for possession of large quantities of marijuana.

Russell Scott Bledsoe, 17, 704 Johnson, was seen leaving a residence that had been under observation for some time and placing something in his vehicle. A search conducted by Detective David Spilman, after the youth was halted on a traffic stop at 5th and Lancaster, produced one pound of marijuana.

The 10:45 p.m. arrest prompted detectives to obtain a search warrant on the home under observation.

Three pounds of marijuana was reportedly seized during the ensuing raid on the home of Timothy Allen Davidson, 19, and Julie Hale Davidson, 19, 504 S. Douglas.

In addition to Detectives Spilman and Mike Eggleston, arresting officers were Ray Meek, Raymond Hall and Cleveland Boyd.

The trio have been charged with possession of marijuana and are being detained in the city jail in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

A local landlord, Johnnie Winham, was greeted with a frustrating scene when she entered a vacated apartment Friday.

Her renters had apparently made off with $870 worth of furnishings including a dining table and chairs, stove, bureau with large mirror, metal cabinet, vacuum cleaner, large portable heater and a lamp and table.

Gail Sundin reported to police that her home was burglarized between 8 and 10 p.m. Sunday. Entry was apparently gained by breaking a window of the residence. Her bureau with large mirror, metal cabinet, vacuum cleaner, large portable heater and a lamp and table, valued at $121, taken.

Walter Fields reported the absence of two bicycles, taken from the yard between 3:30 p.m. Sunday and 7:15 a.m. Monday. Missing is a boy's motorcross bicycle, valued at $92, and an English-style 10-speed boy's bike, $108.

Bryant Construction Company, Gail Rt. was the target of some criminal mischief when someone decided to run over the company's trash cans between 10 p.m. Sunday and 7 a.m. Monday. The trash cans were worth $20.

A witness said that a pistol was used to shoot out the rear windshield of James McElvaney's station wagon, 11:10 a.m. Monday. The damage was estimated at $144.

John Franklin reported that his hand gun and holster were taken from his home between 7 p.m. and midnight Monday. The gun was valued at $60.

The price of movies went up drastically for Dale Walker Monday. He left the Ritz Theatre about 11 p.m. to find that someone had stolen his hubcaps and C.B. antenna, costing him $210.

Only one minor traffic accident was reported to have occurred within the city Monday. Keith Campbell, 2609 Clanton, and Canuto Ramirez Jr., 711 N. Scurry, collided at the intersection of 10th and Lancaster, 2:20 p.m.

$25,000 secured to study need of deaf school at HC

Funding of $25,000 has been secured to study the need and practicality of establishing a proposed deaf school at Howard College.

The school, tentatively being called Texas Technical Institute for the Deaf, would be established as an extension of the Howard County Junior College District.

The school was the subject of discussion at a meeting at Texas Education Agency in Austin, convened upon the request of Howard College President Dr. Charles Hays.

The Monday afternoon meeting was attended by the administrative hierarchy of TEA, Howard College administrators, deaf citizens and educators, legislative representatives and interested citizens.

They meet in the office of Dr. M.L. Brockette, Commissioner of Education. Dr. Hays presented plans developed thus far for the institute and invited feedback from the group. Maps and pictures of Industrial Park facilities available for the deaf school were distributed.

The feasibility study for which the funding was granted will demonstrate through statistics and other data the need for a technical institute for the deaf.

Through the state consensus of the deaf, the total number of deaf persons in Texas will be determined, specifically identifying the number who will be between 16 and 24 years of age in the fall of 1980 and the number of younger deaf citizens in the state for enrollment projections.

A statewide survey of the deaf population will be conducted by questionnaires and inquiries to deaf citizens, their relatives, administrators of educational institutions for the deaf and other interested persons.

The survey will reveal what post-secondary education is now available for deaf students and whether there is indeed a need for the proposed Howard College program.

A cost comparison study will also be conducted of a program designed for the deaf as opposed to the current situation where deaf students receive training in hearing classes through the assistance of interpreters, notetakers and tutors.

In addition to Commissioner Brockette, in attendance from TEA were Dr. Harlan Ford; Don Partridge, associate commissioner for Special Education; Ben Teague, associate commissioner for Occupational and Vocational Education; and Dr. Gary Curtis, director of Deaf Education.

The regional superintendents of the five regional programs for deaf education were also in attendance. They included Douglas Burke of El Paso, Dr. John Butler of Dallas, John Gonzales of San Antonio, Dean Cunningham of Austin, and Dr. Jake Pino of Houston.

The newly elected president of the Texas Association for the Deaf, Jerry Hassell of Austin, also attended. Senator Ray Farrabee and Representative Mike Ezell had representatives from their Austin offices in attendance.

Attending from Big Spring were Fred Maddux, Mrs. Nita Tarbett and Howard College administrators Dr. Hays, Dr. Bobby Wright and Mrs. Mary Dudley.

Attending from El Paso were Mrs. Beatrice Burke, a deaf educator and "teacher of the year" for 1978; Berne Jones, director of the regional education program; and Ruben Schaeffer, major pro tem and parent of a deaf child.

'Hot' watch

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — During a fire at a produce store a couple of months ago, Bloomington assistant fire chief Gene Ploense lost his digital wristwatch.

It was found at the scene recently. "I didn't think I'd ever see that thing again," Ploense said. He said he didn't know how the watch had survived the intense heat.

Roberts freed after bail posted

Milton Dale Roberts, Forsan, was released on $15,000 bond Monday set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin. Roberts and his wife, Virginia, were arrested Thursday following a burglary in Big Spring.

Mrs. Roberts entered a guilty plea Friday to the burglary and received a three-year sentence in state prison. She was transferred to prison today.

Accused returned from Ballinger

Eddie Johnson, Big Spring State Hospital, was taken into custody by Big Spring Police Monday in Ballinger on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Johnson was arrested by the sheriff's office in Ballinger.

Johnson and a 13-year-old Mexican male walked away from the state hospital Saturday night allegedly stole the keys of a 1978 Ford Fairmont from the Auto Supermarket.

Boy Scout Troop 5 camping at ranch in Davis Mountains

Boy Scout Troop 5, sponsored by the Big Spring First Baptist Church, is camping at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains through Friday.

The ranch embraces 6,000 acres. Entrance road to the ranch is seven miles south of Toyahvale on SH 17. The Buffalo statues and totems which guard the main gate of the ranch is another 12 miles away.

Parents and friends of the scouts are invited down

Friday evening for an old fashioned barbecue and camp fire program.

Bill Bradford is the scoutmaster. His assistant is Curt Strong.

O'Donnell resident killed in hit-and-run accident

LAMESA — A 22-year-old O'Donnell resident, Rogelio Perales, died at 2:45 a.m., Monday in Medical Arts Hospital here of injuries sustained in a hit-and-run accident which occurred about two miles on US 87 just south of O'Donnell.

Perales was walking on the highway when he apparently was hit by a car, a Department of Public Safety spokesman said.

A passing motorist spotted Perales lying by the roadside and summoned the DPS. A native of Mexico, Perales was a farm laborer.

Weather

Tornado sighted near Abilene Monday night

By The Associated Press
Scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast for much of the northern half of Texas today.

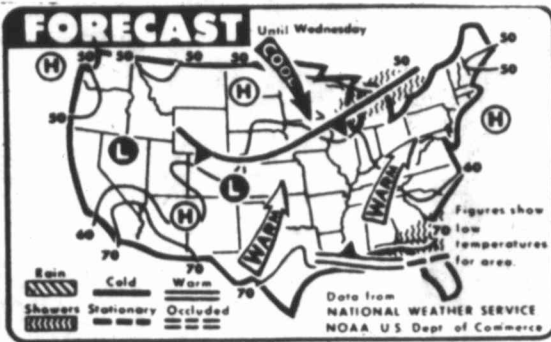

Forecasters said the showers and thunderstorms would spread eastward from the Permian Basin to the Louisiana border.

Skies in the western half of the state were to be mostly clear with skies to be mostly cloudy in the eastern half.

Showers and thunderstorms moved across portions of West Texas, North Texas and the South Plains late Monday. A tornado was sighted near Abilene and a funnel cloud was sighted near Nevada.

Highs Monday ranged from 81 at Amarillo to 102 at El Paso. Most areas had readings in the 80s and lower 90s.

WEATHER FORECAST — Warmer weather is expected in the forecast period, today until Wednesday through most of the southern tier of states and into the East. Cool weather is expected for the northern Plains. Showers are forecast for the Great Lakes and southern Georgia — northern Florida.

Dissension arises in OPEC ranks

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Moderate members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, already battling more militant members who want a huge rise in prices, found dissension in their own ranks today as giant Saudi Arabia said it would continue to hold out for a small increase.

OPEC, meeting for the 54th time, had been expected by many analysts to decide on a price for oil at about $20 a barrel compared to the current official price of $14.55 and an average price with surcharges of $17.

An increase to $20 a barrel could add as much as five cents to a gallon of gasoline or heating oil in the United States.

The Saudi oil minister, Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani, asked by The Associated Press if he would accept a price of $19 or more, said "No, that's too much."

"I won't accept what's abnormal." He then defined abnormal as "everything I've heard up to now."

Price hawks like Iran and Libya have suggested prices as high as $27 a barrel but most other members contacted seem to favor the $20 figure.

"Twenty dollars is a nice round number," said Nor-dine Ait-Laoussine, executive vice president of Sonatrach, the Algerian state oil company.

"I will not go for any sharp rises in the price," said Mana Saeed Al-Oteiba, the oil minister of the United Arab Emirates and OPEC's current president. He suggested a base price of $18 to $20 a barrel and a $21 ceiling, including surcharges for higher-quality crude.

Theft charges are lodged

SWEETWATER — Gladys Gerst, head of Sweetwater's People for Progress Inc., has been indicted on five counts of theft and tampering with government documents by a Nolan County grand jury.

The charges include one count of theft in the second degree, involving $17,000 allegedly taken from the Texas Department of Human Resources embracing the months of May through November 1976.

The prosecution is also maintaining that Mrs. Gerst falsified documents before presenting them to the TDHR.

Mrs. Gerst is at liberty on $5,000 bond.

Last year, Mrs. Gerst was acquitted on a charge of misappropriation of funds belonging to the Sweetwater Independent School District.

Vandalism--there's no excuse for it

Vandalism would be the crime hardest to explain to our antecedents and could be the unforgivable sin with which our reputations must live with future generations.

The rationale behind vandalism is hard, if not impossible, to understand. Some say it is caused by boredom. Others insist it increases in times of prosperity because the have-nots resent the substance accumulated by the haves.

WHATEVER THE CAUSE, vandalism is a crime in which everybody loses. The people whose property suffers damage or departure are the victims. The perpetrators of the crime are stained forever with their wantonness. And the individuals commissioned to investigate such nonsense could invest their time in far better pursuits if not burdened with that responsibility.

The viciousness of some of the vandals is shocking. They have been known to bury broken glass just below the surface of landing areas in playground equipment. They have shattered stone images of public idols into thousands of pieces and reduced park benches to dust.

They delight in puncturing tires with ice picks, knocking out street lights, put there for their own protection, and make shambles of school property.

The populace must shoulder part of the blame for the high incidence of mischief. Some people can stand by and watch the miscreants destroy property in a public place and never raise a word of protest or take the trouble to notify police officers that something is amiss.

LITTERING IS VANDALISM in a manner of speaking because it desecrates the facility where it occurs. Trash barrels are invariably provided in most park areas but the litterers never go to the trouble of using them, nor would they ever think of picking up after some one else.

Most vandals operate not with the fortitude of the wolverine but with the stealth of a weasel, invariably under the cover of darkness — when they can spread their mischief and run.

All citizens should resist vandalism wherever possible. The job of containing it is difficult enough for peace officers with the help of the public. Without it, the job becomes impossible.

Memorable trip

Around the rim

Marie Homeyer

I had always imagined that the mountains were beautiful from all the songs written about them, but I had never seen mountains until the week before last while I was vacationing in Colorado. My assumptions were correct — the Rocky Mountains are beautiful.

My parents and I made our base at the home of a friend of my mother's in Colorado Springs but ventured out into the state during our week-long visit.

THE SIGHTS IN and around Colorado Springs were enough to keep us busy for about three days. Pike's Peak, Garden of the Gods, the Air Force Academy, Manitou Springs and the Flying W Ranch were places we visited. Also included in the sight-seeing were the Denver Mint, The Denver Museum of Natural History, Estes Park and Boulder.

Of all the places we toured, the Flying W Ranch was the place I really enjoyed. It is actually a ranch made into a tourist attraction. It has many little novelty shops and a small mountain that can be climbed. But the most interesting part of the place is the meal and entertainment that is offered. Over 200 people are served chuck wagon style in less than 30 minutes. Barbecue beef, beans, applesauce, boiled potatoes, biscuits and spice cake along with lemonade or coffee are served on old tin plates. The service is so fast because of organization and a "mess line" that reminded my dad of an army mess line.

The entertainment after the meal was just as good as the meal. A group of singers comprised of people from different parts of the United States sang some of the old cowboy songs and some of the newer country-western songs and a Hollywood stunt man performed tricks with a six-shooter. All was done to emphasize the life of the cowboy on the trails to markets in the 1800s.

ALTHOUGH WE had not planned to go up Pike's Peak until we had had several days to get used to the altitude and climbing mountains, car trouble hastened the trip. We took the cog train up because my dad refused to ride up in a car. The ride up was fairly interesting at first, but after a while I became bored with the whole thing — pine trees, heights, snow and cold — and was ready to head back down again. But no such luck. At the top there was snow higher than I am tall and cold as could be. The ride down, which took as long as the ride up — one and a half hours — was even more boring. But I couldn't travel all the way to Colorado and not climb the most talked-about mountain.

The Mint and The Museum were both educational and the trip to Estes Park (without the additional car trouble) was relaxing.

Though the trees and the mountains were a welcome change from the West Texas terrain, after a week I was ready to return. Vacations are nice, but there's nothing like being home again.

Wine down drain

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I happened to be watching the news the other night with Huntsinger, a great wine vomitologist. To AS OME USUAG SOUXX — war in Nicaragua, Vietnam refugees pouring into Hong Kong, congressional gasoline shortage hearings, locust plagues in the Midwest, prices going up, none of it seemed to faze Huntsinger as we looked at the screen. Then suddenly, there was a news story from Teheran. The film showed the Intercontinental Hotel, and said the Ayatollah Khomeini had ordered all the wine and liquor in the cellar destroyed.

HUNTSINGER JUMPED out of his chair. "What the hell are they doing?" "It looks to me as if they are breaking bottles in the street," I said. He got as close to the screen as he could and said, "Oh well, they're only breaking Chardonnay 1975. It's a good everyday wine but hardly a provocative one."

One of the revolutionaries was shown smashing what looked to be a bottle of Beaujolais. Huntsinger endorsed, "I wouldn't be caught dead drinking that. It's for peasants."

Another bearded soldier broke the top off a white Burgundy. "Did you see what I saw?" Huntsinger shouted. "That was a Chassagne Montrachet 1977! What kind of savages are they?" "It looks like they're playing hard ball," I told him.

A soldier took his rifle butt and slammed it into a case of Bordeaux.

HE SAID, "I don't believe it. Do you know what he's destroying? A case of Mouton Rothschild 1949, one of the greatest vintages of the century. How can they let children watch this on television?"

"It's a tough world, and you can't censor wine-smashing just because it turns your stomach."

"That man is pouring Dom Perignon Champagne into the sewer!" Huntsinger cried.

"What year?" I wanted to know.

"What difference does it make? It's Dom Perignon — the gift of the gods."

"Look at that guy," I said, pointing to the screen. "Isn't he breaking a bottle of Chablis against the curb?"

Huntsinger studied it. "Yes, but it's a very overrated white that reached its peak three years ago."

"Well, you can say one thing about the revolutionaries, they're destroying the good with the bad."

"I don't believe it. They're starting on the Chateau Latour '59. Some day they're going to have to answer to a wine crimes commission for what they've done."

"THE ROMANEE Conti is going next. Look at what a beautiful color it has even when it's poured into the gutter."

"I can't look," Huntsinger said, his hands over his eyes. "No one has ever done that to a bottle of Romanee Conti since Prohibition. Sacre bleu!"

"Don't look now, Huntsinger, but they're throwing hand grenades into the Haut Brion '55."

Huntsinger beat his fists against the screen. "Stop," he yelled. "You're destroying the nobility of France."

"It's no use, Huntsinger. The Ayatollah is so ignorant he probably drinks Sauterne with Steak Diane."

"What the hell is the CIA doing, letting them dump a million dollars' worth of liquid gold into a sewer?"

"It's too late," I told him. "There goes the last of Iran's Sherry supply. There's no way the Intercontinental Hotel Restaurant will get three stars now."

Huntsinger said, "Good. After what they've done it doesn't deserve a mention in the Guide Michelin at all."

Pill medicine favored over liquid

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Just curious. I find it difficult to swallow pills. Why can't they all be made in liquid form for us? — M.M.

There are many good reasons why it isn't done. Many medicines, of course, are available in either pill or liquid form — those for children, for example. Yet, for many medicines the pill is the most convenient and effective "package." Medicine keeps better in solid form. It's easier to measure doses in pill form unless every household medicine cabinet contained calibrated vials.

Pills also have other advantages. The rate at which they are absorbed by the body can be controlled better. Some medicine is meant to be absorbed in different parts of the digestive system and pills are the best ways to deliver it to those points. Pills also allow better control of the length of action of medicines. Many medicines that can be easily taken in pill form would be difficult to take as liquid because of the bitterness of the compound.

Most effort has not been in making pill medicine available as liquid, but quite the opposite. Your grandmother found it hard to accept the idea that no medicine was worth its salt unless it was taken along with a sour expression.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Please send me the booklet, "Help for Hypoglycemia." I've been on a low carbohydrate-high protein diet for nine months and feel weak, sleepy, and tired. My sugar count dropped to 28 when I had a sugar tolerance test. I've been faithful to the diet, but I must be not eating right or something. Can you comment on this? — Mrs. J.L.

In some cases of hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) there is marked overproduction of insulin in the pancreas. That may cause a sharp drop in blood sugar and diet would not help if this is the case. You will need further tests to see if this is your problem. You will find more on the subject in the material you request. Other readers can order a copy ("Help for Hypoglycemia") by mailing 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Sometime in the past it seems to me you discussed the problem of milk intolerance. You said there was some kind of product that could be purchased and mixed with milk to take care of the problem. Can you tell me about it? — R.A.E.

Some people cannot tolerate regular milk because their systems lack the enzyme (lactase). There are products available to help them enjoy milk despite the deficiency.

Sweet acidophilus milk is available in some areas of the country. This is milk that has been altered by a certain organism (acidophilus). This changes the lactose to glucose and galactose, sugars their bodies can tolerate. There is also a powdered form of the lactase enzyme that does the same thing. This is added to regular milk to make it digestible. When I mentioned this product recently many readers wrote to tell me they could not find it. You may have to conduct a hunt for it. A pharmacist should be able to help. Some people object to the taste of the treated milk.

Generally, yogurt, buttermilk, and cottage cheese can be tolerated by the person who has the milk enzyme deficiency.

Dear Dr. Ruble: If, as some doctors say, women get bone thinning in later years (after menopause) because of lack of estrogen, shouldn't those of us taking the birth control pill have less of this? — M.S.

Wrong. It's a case where more of a good thing doesn't help.

The body needs only so much estrogen to take care of bone needs. Whatever extra you supply, as with birth control pills, has no effect on your bone health. The amount of hormone the normal healthy body produces for itself is necessary but sufficient. For many women the amount produced after menopause may not be sufficient. For some of them supplements may be in order.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Not too long ago I turned my life over to Christ. What about some of the things I did in the past, especially shoplifting from department stores? Should I try to go back and make things right, or just forget about the things I stole? — Mrs. H.E.

DEAR MRS. H.E.: The fact that you are asking this question is encouraging. It indicates that Christ has come into your life and is giving you a new sensitivity to sin and a hatred of it. Be thankful for this.

I know it will not be easy, but I believe the Bible teaches you should make restitution for the things you have stolen. The principle of restitution was part of the Old Testament law, which covered a number of detailed examples. "A thief must certainly make restitution" (Exodus 22:3, New International Version). "If anyone sins and is unfaithful to the Lord by deceiving his neighbor about something entrusted to him or left in his care or stolen... he must return what he has stolen or taken" (Leviticus 6:2, NIV). There is even the stipulation that he should pay back more than he stole, as a form of interest. In the New Testament, Zacchaeus, who had stolen money from people as a dishonest tax collector, vowed he would make restitution when he came to Christ. (See Luke 19:1-10).

This is, incidentally, not just something you should do in order to make things right, although that is important. You should make it clear that you are doing this because you have now become a Christian and you believe God would have you do it. You can share the fact that Christ has forgiven you for this sin, as well as all your sins.

Now you are a creature in Jesus Christ (2 Corinthians 5:17). It is important to do what you can to clear away the past, but it is also important to learn what it means to walk with Christ every day. At one time you stole. Now you no longer will steal. But, more than that, you will learn what it means to give to others who are in need. Be thankful God has delivered you from the past, and learn what it means "to live a life worthy of the calling you have received" (Ephesians 4:1, NIV).

Dear Dr. Ruble: The non-stick surface of my aluminum pan has worn away and I'm wondering if cooking with it this way is harmful to humans? — Mrs. J.H.W.

The infinitesimal amount of aluminum you might get from cooking utensils is harmless. It's converted into a phosphate salt and excreted via the feces. Any small amount that might be absorbed otherwise is removed by the kidneys. You get between 10 and 100 milligrams of aluminum in an average diet. If you don't mind your omelets sticking to your pan, forget about this.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, write to Dr. Ruble, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for his invaluable booklet, "Make Menopause Easier." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Ruble welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Tax bite on gas getting worse

In West Germany they're paying $1.02, in Belgium $1.18 and in Italy $1.53 — not for each gallon of gasoline but for taxes extracted by each government for a gallon of gasoline.

That information comes from Tax Notes, a private publication intensely interested in the subject.

The American situation clearly could be worse — and the ways things are going, it almost certainly will be.

They want more

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The oil lords of Islam, most of them only a generation removed from tribal feudalism, have reduced the United States and its industrial allies to petroleum penury. Yet the oil caliphs are not satisfied with the fabulous riches they have already looted from an oil-thirsty world: They have returned to Geneva this week to renew their price gouging.

Already this year, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries has jacked up prices another 33 percent. Spot-sale prices have hit an extraordinary $40 a barrel. If the price increases and supply uncertainties continue, the economic repercussions could imperil the major industrial nations.

THE OUTLOOK is even more bleak for the developing countries, which are already $40 billion in hock to the oil sheikdoms. These impoverished countries have run out of credit; they simply cannot pay their rising oil bills. Everywhere, living standards are falling so that a few oil sheikhs can live in luxury beyond the excesses of the Roman emperors.

Yet the oil ministers, now more arrogant than ever, are back in Geneva hell-bent on driving up prices higher and higher. Not even Saudi Arabia, the most conservative of the OPEC powers, will oppose a price hike. The Saudis will try merely to stabilize oil prices at a higher level and to stop them from zooming out of control.

The relentless oil gouge, meanwhile, has damaged our national prestige, endangered our security and revolutionized the economic world. From top-secret documents and exhaustive interviews, we have pieced together the sorry story.

It goes back to the 1973 Arab-Israeli war. Two weeks after the outbreak, the Arab rulers resolved to use the oil spigot as a weapon. They imposed an oil embargo against the United States on Oct. 17, 1973. This brought then-Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to Riyadh on Dec. 14, 1973, for an urgent meeting with Saudi Arabia's King Faisal.

The king, giving Kissinger the cold eye, said Jews were "putting themselves into positions of authority" all over the world. But Faisal vowed that, with his oil weapon, he would stop the Jews from running the world.

He indicated that he would lift the oil embargo, however, once the Israelis began to withdraw from the conquered Arab territory. The Saudis also took pains to separate the embargo from oil pricing.

BUT THE ARAB radicals, led by Libya's firebrand dictator Muammar Qaddafi, agitated for a price squeeze to pressure the United States into altering its pro-Israeli policy. Still, the Central Intelligence Agency reported that most Arab oil potentates "would be very reluctant to employ price hikes as a weapon."

The Saudis, according to a secret CIA source, "have long insisted in producer councils that the determination of price is an economic function, and this view is shared by most OPEC members, who would probably avoid opening the price question to exploitation by the few radical producer states."

Indeed, the Saudis repeatedly urged the Nixon administration to support them in holding down oil prices. But Richard Nixon and Henry Kissinger refused to interfere with the Shah of Iran who clamored for higher oil prices to finance his military expansion. He had dreams of restoring the Persian empire as a world power. His timetable called for Iran to surpass West Germany by the year 2000.

The Nixon administration's failure to restrain the Shah was interpreted by the OPEC nations as tacit approval of higher oil prices.

Big Spring Herald

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank Eileen McGuire for her "Around the Rim" column in the June 14 edition of the Herald. Let me assure her that single, working mothers are not alone in supporting the International Year of the Child, although we who stay at home may have different reasons behind our support.

No matter what approach we take toward rearing our children, unless we encourage empathy for other human beings they will grow up to learn hate, which for some will lead to violence.

Those who use the IYC as an excuse to preach against communism should examine the hatred they are transmitting through their opposition to socialist beliefs. As the McCarthy era showed us, such hatred can be as dangerous to "the American Way" as racial and religious prejudice.

If you feel that your religious beliefs dictate that you hate communists, read the words of Jesus in John 15:12 when He said "This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you." Remember while you read that the Lord loved all mankind, without reservation. He even associated with Samaritans, whom the Jews so despised that they would not even pass one on the road.

Regardless of who conceived or supports the idea, the IYC will mean much, much more to mankind than day care centers. If carried to the summit of its potential, the wheels will be set in motion which will ultimately enable us to feed the children whose stomachs are now bloated from malnutrition, reduce the abuse and exploitation of innocents and educate those who now must spend their lives in ignorance. When these goals are met, the cycle of poverty will be broken as well, at least for a moment.

No one is responsible for himself only; we each have the obligation to give what aid we can to those who need it. The greater needs of children only increase our responsibilities. By not doing anything, we hold the guilt for the abused and maltreated children of the world as surely as do those actually responsible.

We must forget our individual differences and unite long enough to work for a better world through the International Year of the Child. If everyone will do his part, perhaps the nations that unite under the flag of hope for a better world for their children will find it easier to cooperate on other matters as well, reducing hostility and ultimately, war. If we all try to make it happen, perhaps indeed a little child led us into a peaceful world and a greater humanity.

Mrs. Phillip Evan Boyd

Mathews-Boyd vows exchanged

The Apostolic Faith Church was the setting of the Friday evening candlelight ceremony uniting Darlean Idell Mathews and Phillip Evan Boyd in holy wedlock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mathews, 1305 Lindbergh and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Boyd, Leakey.

Rev. James Hosler, pastor, performed the 8 p.m. rite before an altar and arch draped with flowering tea leaf vines and baskets of blue parrot tulips on each side with tiered candelabums accented with baskets of lights and blue cathedral tapers and greenery.

Wedding music was provided by Jim Boyd, vocalist, and Ellen Slagle at the piano, brother and sister of the groom from Leakey.

A floor length gown of white knit was worn by the bride as she was presented down the aisle by her uncle, Joe Mathews, Lubbock. The bridal gown featured a rounded neckline and fitted, full-length sleeves ending in scallops of Victorian lace at the wrist. The veil was fashioned of Victorian lace and seed-pearls that bordered chapel-length train.

A cascading bouquet of white daisies, baby's breath, blue wild roses, tiger lilies and forget-me-nots accented with blue streamers and doves was carried by the bride.

Carolyn Fowler, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a floor length gown of blue knit featuring a sheer blue and white shoulder length cape edged with lace. She wore a blue candlelight hat adorned with a blue chrysanthemum and baby's breath. Her bouquet was of white daisies, baby's breath, blue chrysanthemums and forget-me-nots.

Gene Fowler, Big Spring, served his brother-in-law as best man. Ushers were Jim Boyd, brother of the groom and Kelly Stevenson, nephew of the groom, both from Leakey.

Candlelighters were Shelly and Kelly Stevenson, Leakey, niece and nephew of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd were feted with a reception in the church parsonage following the wedding. Guests were registered by Mrs. Jim Boyd, Leakey, sister-in-law of the groom.

The table was covered with a blue cloth overlaid with white lace. A centerpiece arrangement of blue mums, tiger lilies, forget-me-nots, white daisies and baby's breath enhanced the setting. Crystal and silver appointments were used to serve punch, mints and nuts. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with the traditional bride and groom figurines accented with blue roses and bells.

Serving at the reception table were Mrs. Omer Sherman, Margaret Bradley, Shelly Stevenson and Brenda Boyd.

The bride attended Big Spring High School. The groom attended Borden County High School and is employed as a welder.

The couple will make their home in Leakey upon returning from their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination.

Sports Nuts Get Shelled

DEAR ABBY: AMY'S POP asked what you thought the chances were for a happy marriage between Amy and Jerry, her fiancé, a regular sports nut. Jerry ate, drank, slept, talked, read and lived sports, but Amy didn't share his enthusiasm. AMY'S POP said he tried to tell her that guys who lived for sports made poor husbands and worse fathers, but she wasn't buying it. You told Dad to back off.

Well, my husband is a sports nut. He watches sports on TV every chance he gets. When we were first married, I'd watch, too, to keep him company, but I was bored and complained a lot. Finally, I realized how lucky I was that my guy was home with me—not out drinking and running around with the guys like a lot of other husbands. I confess that when my man isn't watching TV he tends to get underfoot, so I welcome the weekends to sew, clean house, read or write letters. If Amy keeps busy she won't mind it a bit.

DISAGREES WITH AMY'S POP

DEAR DISAGREES: My mail has been running about 90 percent with me and 10 percent with AMY'S POP. Here's one for Pop's side:

DEAR ABBY: Any guy who lives for sports has got to be very selfish. I know what poor Amy is letting herself in for if she marries a sports fanatic because I married one. Only mine is worse. His love for sports takes him out of town. He follows "his" teams, so whenever the Vikings, the Twins or Minnesota U goes out of town to play, my guy goes, too. When they lose, he sulks for a week. His whole life is wrapped up in sports. And as if that isn't enough, my man also loves hunting and fishing! During the fishing season he fishes with his father. During the hunting season he hunts with his brother. During bowling tournaments he travels with his team. Anything that takes him out of town (without me) looks good to him. I can't go because I'm stuck with nine kids, which gives you an idea of what his favorite indoor sport is.

MINNEAPOLIS MAMMA

DEAR MAMMA: Read on for some advice from a sports nut himself:

DEAR ABBY: I'm a sports nut, so I know how Jerry feels. I have a few words of advice for other sports nuts who are still single: Either marry a girl who's into sports the way you are, or stay single.

The gal I dated for four years (all through college) put on a great act. She went to all the games with me and pretended to love them.

As soon as we were married she let me know she thought sports were for little boys and it was time I "grew up."

We never fought about anything else, but we fought about sports enough to end our marriage.

I hear she's living with a guy, and what do you think he does? He's an assistant basketball coach at a major university. I hope she marries him. It will serve her right.

SPORTS NUT

DEAR ABBY: About Amy, who is going to marry a sports nut: I hope she reconsiders. I am married to such a man and it is awful. He lives for sports. The minute he opens his eyes in the morning he runs out to get the paper so he can look at the sports pages.

At breakfast there's no conversation since he is carefully reading the sports section.

During our lovemaking he's listening to some game on radio. I think men who are devoted to sports should take an oath of celibacy.

TWEEN 12 and 20

Bible put dooper on the right road

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm not any special person and I don't deserve any special recognition, but I'd like to share a few things with my fellow teens, if you will please allow me.

I have had many problems in my life and I'm still not clear of all of them but, I'm on the "right road" now.

I was one of the teens who tried to escape reality by doing the smoking, drinking and drug scene. I was so hooked that I thought about committing suicide, but I was such a gutless person, I couldn't do it.

Let me tell you how things stand today. I have totally quit smoking and I've really cut down on the booze and drugs.

Please let me tell you what changed my life.

One day I was alone in my house and I got stoned on beer and bourbon. When I started coming out of it, I picked up the nearest book because I was bored and started reading it. Let me tell you what I read scared the heck out of me. I was reading the Bible.

I decided right then and there that I would clean up my act. I asked for God's help and got it.

It was just a chance of fate that it was the Bible that I picked up.

Teens, all I can say without preaching is that God answered me and changed my life for the better.

— Alice, Gadsden, Ala.

Egg yolk shines hair

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Everybody knows eggs are great for breakfast. But did you know that eggs are also great for your hair?

Fact is, an egg is largely made up of protein, and protein is just what hair needs to thrive, says the June issue of Seventeen Magazine. Get crackin' on this favorite egg recipe from hair pro Louis Guy D:

Blend an egg yolk with two tablespoons of cool tap water (not hot or you'll poach the yolk). Apply to just-washed, towel-dried hair. Leave on for three minutes. Shampoo once; rinse with cold water. Result: hair that's conditioned and super shiny!

Inflation affects your electric bill even more than your grocery bill.

Every time you go to the grocery store you can see what inflation's doing to your food bill. But because you don't buy electricity by the can, you probably don't realize how inflation affects the cost of electricity.

Fuel costs are up, particularly natural gas. Equipment costs are up. Power lines, transformers and poles cost us more every day. Just like milk costs you more every day.

The millions of dollars we must borrow to build plants to ensure your electricity needs in the future are costing us more.

The cost of building these plants is higher, too, because of inflation. And because of the time and money it takes to comply with an ever-increasing number of government regulations. The longer it takes to build, the more inflation takes its toll.

Inflation, overregulation and rising fuel costs are all making your electricity cost you more. But by using electricity wisely you can do your part in keeping that cost down in your home.

At Texas Electric, we want you to know what you're paying for.

French fries to go

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Missoula authorities are looking for at least 5,000 pounds of "hot" frozen french fries, believed to be one driver's way of coping with the independent truckers' shutdown.

Officers said a driver for the Carnation Co. left Washington state two weeks ago with a load of fries for a customer in Pennsylvania.

The driver reached Missoula on June 14 and parked his rig at a local truck stop, apparently because of a shutdown by independent drivers. The truck stayed there until an officer of the Pennsylvania company flew to Missoula after the fries failed to arrive.

He found the truck, but there was no sign of the driver or the cargo. The sheriff's office says the driver is wanted for questioning. His name was withheld.

Officials asked Monday that citizens who may have gotten a good deal on french fries recently contact law officers.

Pardon me, but your snake

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Peggy Hardel's sleep as North Central Airlines sped toward Milwaukee was interrupted by a misplaced passenger exploring the aircraft — a 3½ foot snake.

"I felt something drop on me," Mrs. Hardel, of suburban Brookfield, said Monday. "I pushed it away with my arm. I was drowsy; I thought it was a friend trying to wake me."

"I sat up, and here was this snake by the window," she said. "It was just horrible. I woke up the entire plane with my screaming."

Authorities said the non-poisonous red rat snake had escaped from its container during the flight from Tampa, Fla.

While airline employees tended to Mrs. Hardel, others joined passengers in searching for the snake. A passenger found the errant reptile and returned it to its owner.

Panda population booms

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Giant Chinese pandas may not want to mate in captivity, but their cousins — the red or lesser pandas — don't seem to mind.

Three red pandas — looking more like fur balls than anything else — were born Sunday to Buster and Bernice, a pair of pandas on loan to the Knoxville Zoo from the National Zoo in Washington.

"The parents and babies are doing fine; she's a very good mother," said curator John Fleming. "She's moved the cubs from one box to another three or four times but that's normal behavior for pandas."

Except for their color, the red pandas appear to be exact miniatures of their larger cousins, the black and white giant pandas. They usually weigh no more than 10 pounds — about the size of a house cat — compared with the 200-pound giants.

The red pandas apparently are easier to breed in captivity than their Chinese cousins. However, says Fleming, "They don't have much to do with each other the rest of the time."

Bags of pot are found on road

Seven bags of a substance appearing to be marijuana were found by a local man on the north side of Highway 33 east of the Elbow cutoff Sunday. The seven bags were found along a fence around 6:30 p.m.

A BAD DAY FOR PITCHERS — Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Steve Carlton hands over the ball to manager Danny Ozark, left, after the Chicago Cubs built up a six-zero lead in the second inning Monday in Chicago. At right is Pete Rose, Phillies' first baseman. Carlton was replaced by Kevin Saucier in the fifth inning, and Saucier was replaced by Ron Reed in the eighth as Chicago won, 8-2.

Expos gaining popularity in Canada

Sweep twinbill from Cards

It's not the national sport in Canada, but the way the Montreal Expos are playing baseball these days it soon could be.

The Expos have won their way into the hearts of their fans, not to mention first place in the National League East.

"We have confidence in ourselves as a ballclub," says first baseman Tony Perez. "This is something we didn't have before. We just have to play the best — and see what happens."

So far, things have been pretty good — a solid 41-25 record which includes two more victories Monday night. The Expos beat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 in the completion of a suspended game, then 8-2 in the second game at Busch Stadium.

"Our club is the club to beat," said Montreal Manager Dick Williams. "I do respect all the other clubs in our division. But the Expos are having fun. They know they can play well; they believe in themselves."

The Expos' victories were their 10th and 11th in their last 15 games.

"The pitching has been good — the bullpen and the starters," noted Perez. "We have as much confidence in our pitching this year as I can ever remember."

Braves 6, Giants 1

Buddy Solomon and Craig Skok combined on a four-hitter as Atlanta beat San Francisco. Joe Nolan gave the Braves their first run with a homer in the second inning and Jeff Burroughs hit a two-run homer in the sixth off Giants starter John Montefusco, 1-4.

Solomon, 4-2, allowed a line-drive single by Mike Sadek in the third and a bloop single by Larry Herndon in the sixth. Skok earned his second save, giving up a ninth-inning homer to Mike Ivie.

Cubs 8, Phillies 2

Jerry Martin's two-run homer capped a three-run first inning and Ivan DeJesus smashed a bases-loaded triple in a five-run second, leading Chicago over Philadelphia. The triumph was the ninth in the last 11 games for the Cubs.

Lynn McGlothen, 7-6, beat the Phillies for the third time this season, allowing eight hits in eight innings, but wasn't very impressed with his performance.

Dodgers 4, Padres 3

Joe Ferguson slugged a two-run homer with one out in the bottom of the ninth to lift Los Angeles over San Diego. Ron Cey slugged two homers for the Dodgers, who snapped a threegame losing streak.

Loser Rollie Fingers, 6-5, who took over for Gaylord Perry in the ninth inning, walked Cey to lead off the inning and after striking out Dusty Baker, gave up Ferguson's 11th home run of the season.

Pirates, Mets split

Dave Parker and Rennie Stennett drove in two runs apiece to back the five-hit pitching of John Candelaria as Pittsburgh downed New York in the opener of their doubleheader.

Pete Falcone fired a five-hitter for his first shutout and first complete game in more than two years and Lee Mazzilli hit a two-run homer to carry the Mets to victory in the second game.

Orioles 3, Indians 2

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver didn't have to go and hide when Don Stanhouse came in to pitch, still he couldn't escape the usual agony of another cliffhanger by the Orioles reliever.

The Orioles' manager, ejected from the game in the eighth inning, watched closed circuit television in nervous wonder as Stanhouse extricated himself from a no-out, bases-loaded jam in the ninth and preserved a 3-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians Monday night.

"How many years can you take it?" was Weaver's rhetorical question after the Orioles had won for the 16th time in 18 starts. "I ask him why he does it, but he has no answer...he just keeps winning and saving ballgames."

Blue Jays 3, Yankees 1

Tom Underwood shackled the Yankees on three hits and Al Woods slammed a three-run homer in the fifth inning as Toronto broke New York's fourgame winning streak and its own fourgame losing skid.

Underwood, 2-10, outpitched Ken Clay, who was making his first 1979 start after 19 relief appearances. Clay surrendered an infield hit to Rico Carty leading off the fifth, then a single to John Mayberry and Woods' blast.

Sonics, Nets like NBA draft picks

NEW YORK (AP) — Who got the best of the National Basketball Association draft?

Los Angeles, Chicago, New York, Detroit and Milwaukee had the first five picks in Monday's lottery, and all appear to have done well.

But Seattle and New Jersey may have done best of all.

The NBA champion Sonics, owning the sixth and seventh picks because of deals, cashed them in for 6-foot-9 center-forward James Bailey of Rutgers and guard Vinnie Johnson of Baylor.

Bailey gives the Sonics a good big man who should fit right in with players like Jack Sikma, Lonnie Shelton and Tom LaGarde and provide extra rest for aging forwards John Johnson and Paul Silas. Vinnie Johnson, meanwhile, is a highly rated backcourtman who will give Seattle depth at that position.

"We feel we got two quality players," Coach Lenny Wilkens said. "Bailey gives us a lot of versatility and Johnson is a takecharge, run-the-show type of guard."

"There's no better team to be drafted by than Seattle," Bailey said. "I think playing with people of their caliber will help me, and it will give them more depth."

New Jersey would like to have gotten Bailey, a local favorite since the Nets play their home games at the Rutgers Athletic Center.

But they still managed to strengthen their frontcourt with the eighth and 11th picks on the first round, taking highly touted Calvin Natt of Northeast Louisiana and 19-year-old Cliff Robinson of Southern Cal.

"It's quite an unbelievable draft for the Nets," Coach Kevin Loughery said. "I expect both of these players to put in an awful lot of minutes."

Natt, 6-5 and 225 pounds, averaged 24.4 points and 10.9 rebounds per game and drew raves from Loughery.

"He always gives 100 percent," Loughery said. "I never expected him to be available. We felt he would be one of the top three players picked. He's a 6-6 Willis Reed."

Robinson, a 6-9, 220-pounder, elected to pass up his final two years of college eligibility to turn pro. He played center in college but the Nets have him penciled in at power forward, and he likes the idea.

Los Angeles, meanwhile, came away from the festivities at the Plaza Hotel with Earvin "Magic" Johnson signed, sealed and ready for delivery.

Reggie asks for trade but Yankees refuse

TORONTO (AP) — The New York Yankees have rejected Reggie Jackson's request to be traded with a verbal slap at the sidelined slugger while Manager Billy Martin adopted a policy of silence after firing one final shot.

Shortly after the Yankees announced Monday night that "the club has done all it intends to do toward bringing Jackson around," Martin said he would have "no comment whatsoever anymore on that subject."

It was another wild and crazy episode in the on-again, off-again Jackson-Martin feud but this time owner George Steinbrenner was in Martin's corner and the next move was up to Reggie.

In a statement released during Monday night's game here against the Blue Jays, the Yankees disclosed that Jackson had asked the club last Thursday to put him on waivers so that a possible trade could be worked out.

Ironically, Jackson's name — along with six other Yankees — had been put on the American League waiver list two days earlier, usually a routine piece of baseball business, even for star players. The waiver period expired Monday and Jackson's name was withdrawn when he was claimed by several clubs, including the Blue Jays.

"I'm not trading Reggie Jackson," said Yankee President Al Rosen, "unless I can get a Reggie Jackson in return."

The outfielder, asked about the constant turmoil surrounding his dealings with Yankee management said, "It's no fun." Jackson added he has been on waivers before and that the procedure once was explained to him by Oakland A's owner Charles Finley.

"Charley told me I was on waivers once or twice," Jackson said. "He said it was a formality, that sometimes you do that to sneak another player through. Sometimes you have a lesser talented player who you want to waiver. So you lump him with a bunch of others. They're not gonna let those guys go, so they'll just waiver the whole group. And the one guy you really want waived is slipped through."

Since Jackson did not clear waivers and was withdrawn, his name cannot appear on the waiver list again for 30 days, meaning he will remain a Yankee for at least that long. After that, who knows?

"No man is indispensable," Steinbrenner said. Earlier in the day, Steinbrenner told The Associated Press that Jackson had said 10 days ago that "I don't think I can play for Billy in 1980." At the time, Martin was scheduled to return as manager next season, but two days later he was appointed to succeed Bob Lemon — the man who replaced him last July — and he took command of the team last Tuesday.

"I can forgive but I can't forget," he said Monday after taking special batting practice at Yankee Stadium. Jackson has been sidelined for more than three weeks with a calf injury and the Yankees hope to have him back this weekend when the Boston Red Sox make their first 1979 visit to New York.

Gerulaitis upset in Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Unheralded Pat DuPre and Bruce Manson, both far down the list in the U.S. tennis rankings, performed giant-killing acts as the Wimbledon Tennis Championships got off to a sensational start.

DuPre, ranked No. 28, upset fourth-seeded Vitas Gerulaitis 7-6, 6-3, 3-6, 3-6, 6-3, and Manson, rated No. 30, stunned Poland's Wojtek Fibak 4-6, 6-7, 6-4, 6-2, 9-7, who was the tournament's 10th seed.

Australia's Chris Kachel, a part-time pro who is ranked No. 23 in his country, provided another surprise when he eliminated seventh-seeded Arthur Ashe, the 1975 champion, 6-4, 7-6, 6-3.

The two top seeds, Bjorn Borg and John McEnroe, were winners in the $395,000 tournament. Borg topped Tom Gorman 3-6, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1, while McEnroe defeated Terry Moor 7-5, 6-1, 6-4.

Matthews named NL Player of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Garry Matthews of the Atlanta Braves batted .461, drove in 10 runs and scored 11 last week to earn National League Player of the Week honors, the league office announced.

Over that span, Matthews had 11 hits in 24 at-bats, including four home runs, four doubles and one triple. The American League also announced that Fred Lynn of the Boston Red Sox won the American League Player of the Week award. Lynn hit .500, with 12 hits in 24 at-bats, including six doubles, and three home runs. He also had 10 RBI.

Niemann's arm gives Astros split

After Seaver displays old form in opener

HOUSTON (AP) — The old and new guard paraded to the pitcher's mound at the Astrodome Monday night and when the dust cleared from the Houston-Cincinnati doubleheader, it was a deadlock.

Cincinnati's Tom Seaver was his old masterful self in the opener, parcelling out three hits until he tired in the eighth and needed relief help to complete a 2-1 victory over the Astros.

"That snapped Houston's six-game winning streak and cut its lead over the Reds in the National League Western Division to 4 1/2 games.

Then came Astros rookie Randy Niemann, tabbed by Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark as an AA pitcher at best. Niemann scattered six hits and shut out the Reds 3-0 to restore the Astros' 5 1/2 game bulge going into tonight's series finale.

"A lot of people are asking if Tom Seaver is finished," Seaver noted. "Anytime you have someone who has pitched as many innings as I have for 13 years there comes a point where you wonder if he can pitch anymore."

"I feel fine physically and I'm only 34 years old. Once I got my good pitching back, the good location and the changing speeds, I knew I was pitching the way I can."

None of the near capacity crowd in the Astrodome or the national television audience doubted Seaver's ability Monday night.

George Foster's 17th homer of the season, a two-run shot in the first inning, was all Seaver needed. After yielding a triple to Craig Reynolds in the first inning, Seaver didn't allow another hit until Cesar Cedeno's lead off single in the seventh.

Seaver tired in the eighth and gave way to Dave Tomlin and Doug Bair, who pitched the ninth to get his 10th save of the season.

Reynolds scored Houston's lone run in the first on Cedeno's sacrifice fly.

Niemann, called up from the Astros' minor league system to fill injury gaps, got the second shut out of his brief major league career to run his record to 3-0.

"I just tried to keep it close," Niemann said. "I knew if I could keep us within one run, we could win the game because we've been doing it all year."

Niemann duelled with Cincinnati starter Mike LaCoss through six scoreless innings until the Astros finally broke loose in the seventh with four runs off five hits. Jose Cruz clubbed a run-scoring double to the rightfield corner to start it off.

Enos Cabell's triple brought home two more runs and Denny Walling's single plated the final run.

Seaver pitched 8 1/3 innings, allowing three runs on four hits and one walk. He struck out 11 batters.

Niemann pitched 7 1/3 innings, allowing one run on four hits and one walk. He struck out 11 batters.

Tomlin pitched 1 1/3 innings, allowing one run on two hits and one walk. He struck out one batter.

Bair pitched 1 1/3 innings, allowing one run on two hits and one walk. He struck out one batter.

Seaver's record is 13-10. Niemann's record is 3-0. Tomlin's record is 0-1. Bair's record is 0-1.

The Astros lead the Reds 5 1/2 games in the National League Western Division.

The Astros' record is 41-25. The Reds' record is 36-30.

The Astros' home record is 21-12. The Reds' home record is 18-15.

The Astros' away record is 20-13. The Reds' away record is 18-15.

The Astros' record against right-handed pitchers is 20-10. The Reds' record against right-handed pitchers is 18-15.

The Astros' record against left-handed pitchers is 21-15. The Reds' record against left-handed pitchers is 18-15.

The Astros' record against National League pitchers is 41-25. The Reds' record against National League pitchers is 36-30.

The Astros' record against American League pitchers is 0-0. The Reds' record against American League pitchers is 0-0.

National BMX Tour here tomorrow

In only one season the National Bicycle Association and the Schwinn Bicycle Company's National BMX Tour has become the most prestigious event in bicycle motocross. The tour was such an explosive success in '78 that there was no question that the NBA and Schwinn would again barnstorm the country with more than 20 top-notch riders and the awesome Schwinn Factory BMX Team.

Big Spring will host the third on the young tour this season. There are 30 stops on the 12-week tour. It began in San Francisco on June 10, with an Odessa stop yesterday.

Bobby Encinas, Richard Zagars and Kevin Jackson, who carry the number one, two and three ranking in the super tough Southern California district, will be conducting a seminar at the Big Spring BMX track tomorrow beginning at 1:00 p.m. The actual racing will begin at 4:00 p.m. Locals are expecting between 300 and 400 riders at the event.

There are many different age divisions. They range from age five years and under to 18 years and older, plus one professional division. The entry fee for each race is five dollars. The tour is sponsored by the National Biking Association of Newhall, California. Locally, the tour is supported by Hall's Bicycle Shop, Earthco, and K-Mart. The races will be held at the local BMX track approximately six miles south of town. Those wishing to ride or attend should go South to Jeffrey Road and turn left. Then proceed to Kyle Road and take another left, before proceeding a few hundred yards and taking a right at a marked spot.

Although only some of the riders are officially on the tour, traveling from one city to the next to race at local tracks, hundreds of other riders follow along in vans, motor homes and cars. A total of almost 4000 rode in last year's NBA-Schwinn Tour and even more are riding this year. BMX has caught fire nationwide and there's no holding back the surge of kids who want to race.

The tour brings to local riders the opportunity to race against the greats — to match their skills with those whose nationwide reputations have to be fought for in every turn and at every jump. The end result: an eruption of white-hot competition at every race. The locals are on their own track and gunning for those big riders to see just how big they really are.

Howard Stewart-Royce Cox capture BS Golf Partnership

Howard Stewart and Royce Cox shot a two-day total of 135, six shots under par, to capture the Big Spring Golf Association Partnership Tournament held the past weekend at the Comanche Trail Golf Course.

The winning duo took a two-stroke victory over the team of Ben Garcia-John Hernandez. Others finishing in the money in the championship flight include third place Bernard Rams - Riley Wyatt, and fourth place Jimmy Welch-Mike Hall.

The duo of Loy Carroll-Joe Sharpnack won the first flight on the second hole of a playoff. They carded a two-day total of 146, which tied them with Felix Martinez and Joe Mentz, before winning in the playoff. The team of Tano Chavarria-Robert Rodriguez finished third, with James Petty and Jerry Roach finishing fourth.

There were co-winners in the second flight. The teams splitting the first and second place purses were Tommy Young-Roddy Caffey and the duo of Joey Pate-Mike Scarborough. Both had two-day totals of 156. Don Kasch-Travis Hunter were one stroke behind the winners in the second flight for a third place finish, with the duo of Terry Vaughn-George Cole finishing fourth.

A total of 38 two-man teams participated in the competition.

Red Sox take twinbill

John Thomas Smith hurls one-hitter

John Thomas Smith pitched a one-hit shutout to pace the Big Spring Red Sox to a sweep of their doubleheader with the Alpine A's in baseball action Sunday at the Roy Anderson Complex.

Smith hurled his gem in the late contest, and also helped the Red Sox cause offensively by connecting for two hits. John Morelion and Ernie Garcia also were effective with the bats, as they both collected two hits as the Big Spring team took an easy 13-0 victory.

The Red Sox used a seventh inning rally in the first game to tie the score, then won in the ninth inning by a count of 8-7.

Tony Lujan opened the Red Sox ninth with a single and moved to second on Mike Gamboa's single. Joe Martinez then hit a long fly ball, but the Alpine centerfielder misplayed it, allowing Lujan to score the winning run.

Milo Hernandez was the winning pitcher in the opener. The Red Sox were led in the hitting department in the game by Morelion and Hernandez, who had three hits each. Adam Yanez, Gamboa and Garcia, also had two hits each for the Red Sox, with one of Garcia's shots being a round tripper.

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS Honors Winnie Dell Rhoton Representative Of Our HOWARD COUNTY HERITAGE WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27

When she speaks of the past, Winnie Dell Rhoton, 81, lights up with pride. Her father, she said, was the very first Howard County resident.

Her father was orphaned when his father died in a prison camp in Illinois during the Civil War. His mother died immediately after.

Miss Rhoton's father was brought from Tennessee to Austin by an aunt. While still a young boy, he joined some men on a cattle drive to Kansas City. Later, in 1872, he ventured to the uninhabited Howard County and began ranching southeast of Coahoma. For supplies, he had to travel to Fort Worth.

"He was one of the original ranchers," said Miss Rhoton, one of nine children born to her parents. "Later, when sheep came out this way, he added them to the ranch."

He also raised horses for the Fort Bliss Cavalry, she said.

"Then the Drought came and the Depression. He lost everything in 1932."

Recalling the days of the ranch, Miss Rhoton said that she and her sisters and brothers worked the ranch in lieu of hired hands.

"We went to school in Coahoma only two or three months out of the year," she said, noting that the schools closed whenever the crops were in.

"I can remember when there were only about 5,000 people in this town," she said of Big Spring. "There were railroad shops and that's about all."

For fun, he said, "I used to like to go over to Colorado City and ride the street cars in the 1920's."

She said that she and her sister, Lillian, bought the home where they still live in 1916. The house was built in 1906.

"We went to work in the shops and after we bought this house, we moved our parents from Coahoma."

Miss Rhoton's sister is currently in Parkview Manor Nursing Home recovering, as Miss Rhoton said, from a broken "limb."

The two sisters are well known for their dressmaking and alterations which they did at their home for a number of years up until Lillian's accident six months ago.

About Big Spring, Miss Rhoton said "it's just a good town."

Winnie Dell will be present at First Federal on Wednesday, June 26, everyone is invited to come visit with her.

KEEPING THE PEACE — A group of state troopers stand around a service station island in the five-points intersection in Levittown, Pa., Monday night to prevent the recurrence of violence that marred the weekend here. Seventy-five to 100 state troopers and 40 local police were on hand to police the scene of the nation's first violent riot brought about by the gasoline crisis.

Estes defense attorneys grill cleaner manufacturer

DALLAS (AP) — Attorneys for Billie Sol Estes Monday grilled prosecution witness M.L. Copenhaver about his role in the manufacture and sale of 36 mysterious steam cleaners.

Defense attorneys claim at least eight of the cleaners existed, that the sales were made in good faith and that the rest of the equipment would have come into existence if Copenhaver had lived up to his end of the deal.

The federal government has charged Estes and co-defendant Raymond K. Horton with making more than $500,000 from the sale of steam cleaners that never were delivered and that did not exist.

But the defense says Copenhaver failed in his obligation to manufacture the equipment even though Estes and Horton paid him more than $30,000.

Copenhaver said Monday he was asked merely to provide brochures, invoices and "expertise," not to manufacture the cleaners. Copenhaver said he was told Horton would assemble the cleaners with the help of his expertise.

Copenhaver said he asked Estes for more money when he realized the project was "flim flam" and that he was "sticking his neck out" by allowing his company name to be used in the scheme.

In later testimony, however, Copenhaver said he wanted the money so that he could manufacture the steam cleaners.

Estes not only refused to give him the money, Copenhaver said, but he also threatened to kill him if he did not provide the brochures, invoices and expertise.

Copenhaver admitted that he had pleaded guilty to one count of the conspiracy charge before the trial started. Copenhaver said he agreed to testify for the government hoping he would receive a light or probated prison sentence.

Copenhaver first denied that anyone representing Estes and Horton ever came to his San Antonio plant to check on the progress of the cleaners. But later he said a representative did come. And another time he said that while the representative did come, it was not to inspect the same kind of equipment Estes and Horton were selling.

Copenhaver said he manufactured only one cleaner corresponding to the specifications of equipment offered for sale by Estes and Horton. But defense attorney G. Brockett Irwin introduced a sworn statement Copenhaver made to a federal agent before the trial in which Copenhaver said he delivered eight cleaners to Horton.

Houstonian charged with cyclist's death

BASTROP, Texas (AP) — Edward Stephen Hollomon, 27, of Houston, was charged late Monday night in the slaying of a motorcyclist whose girl friend also was killed.

Capital murder charges were filed against Hollomon in the shooting death of Robert Thomas Carter, 39, of Brownwood, whose body was found at a U.S. 290 roadside park five miles east of Elgin.

Hollomon was in the Travis County jail in Austin today as sheriff's officers and Texas Rangers continued their investigation of the death of Merlina Marie Shipsey, 18.

Miss Shipsey's body was found a short distance south of U.S. 290 on old Highway 20 three miles east of Manor in Travis County.

Travis County Sheriff Raymond Frank said Hollomon gave a statement about the double slaying to Texas Rangers at a jail in Waller County after he was arrested for public intoxication.

Poultry, feed are pilfered

Poultry and feed were stolen from the residence of Jerry Bennett, Vealmoor Route, Box 107, Sunday between 5 p.m. and 8:25 p.m. Several ducks, geese and chickens were taken. The items were valued at $235.50.

Midland Symphony Guild hosts 'gypsy' Thursday

MIDLAND — The Midland Symphony Guild in cooperation with Southwest Summer Musicals, Inc. will host the gala premiere of "Gypsy" at 7 p.m. Thursday. Immediately following the performance, guests are invited to meet the cast at the gala to be held at the First National Bank plaza. Heading the cast are ten professional players from the Los Angeles area with the remaining cast members from the Permian Basin. Midland High director, James Buchanan, who directed a professional production of "Gypsy" in Los Angeles, is presently writing a musical with Los Angeles Composer Ned Gungersberg, entitled "Boom Town," based on the early West Texas oil boom.

A jazz combo, champagne and hor d'ouves will lend a festive mood to the occasion honoring the musical which gave us favorite lyrics as "Let Me Entertain You," "Small World," and "Everything is Coming Up Roses." Opened on Broadway in 1959, Ethel Merman portrayed Mama Rose. Lyricist Stephen Sondheim also wrote "A Little Night Music" and "Sweeney Todd" which opened on Broadway this season and recently won six Tony Awards. Anyone wishing to attend the gala who did not receive an invitation, please contact Mrs. Ronny Hissom, 683-2606.

Following the gala performance, "Gypsy" is scheduled for seven additional presentations from June 29-July 4 and July 4-7. "Damn Yankees" scheduled for eight performances will follow from July 12-15 and July 18-21. Tickets are priced at $5.50 for all performances to be held at Midland High Auditorium.

The two summer musicals will be a major fund raising project for the Midland Symphony Guild's coming year. Previous benefits for family entertainment include "Evenings With" the New Christy Minstrels, Phyllis Diller, Jack Jones, Ginger Rogers, and designer Bill Blass.

Assisting Guild President Mrs. Frank B. Powell on the gala presentation are Mrs. Ronny Hissom, Projects Chairman; Mrs. Roger D. Allen, Mailing; Mrs. Marshall Mason, Box Office Chairman; Mrs. Carl Lawrence, Gala Treasurer; and Mrs. Charlie Martin and Mrs. Peter G. Crain, Public Relations Co-Chairmen.

Guild members will be assisting the Box Office at Midland High between the hours of 10:30 and 5:30 daily. The Box Office number is 682-0296.

E. HOWARD HUNT RICHARD BOLLING

Newman testifies Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — An obscure trial underway in U.S. District Court, Manhattan, drew a sizeable audience of mostly women admirers when actor Paul Newman appeared to give testimony.

Newman testified for more than an hour Monday in a civil suit involving filming rights to an auto racing story, "Stand On It."

The trial stemmed from a suit filed by First Artists Productions Co. Ltd., in which Newman is part owner. First Artists is seeking more than $1 million damages from authors, William Neely and Robert K. Oltum, and their agent, Gloria Safir, Inc. It claimed the defendants broke a contract giving First Artists an option on exclusive movie rights to the story by contracting with another firm.

Son born to E. Howard Hunt

MIAMI (AP) — Convicted Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt says his newborn son "marks the end for me of one life that held more than its share of tragedy."

Hunt's wife, Laura, 34, gave birth to Austin Dairing Hunt Sunday morning. It was the first child for Mrs. Hunt, formerly Laura E. Martin of Albany, Ga.

Hunt, 60, was a lookout in June 1972 when five burglars entered the Democratic offices at the Watergate complex in Washington.

He pleaded guilty to conspiracy, burglary and illegal wiretapping and served 32 months in prison. He was paroled in February 1978.

Since his release, Hunt has written spy novels and lectured.

"My wife and I are happy and grateful for the birth of our first child," Hunt said Monday. "In a very real way, the baby marks the end for me of one life that held more than its share of tragedy."

Hunt has four other children by his first wife, who died in a jetliner crash in 1973.

Senator admits alcoholism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Rules Committee, Rep. Richard Bolling probably will be away from his duties through July after voluntarily entering an alcoholism program, his aides say.

"Certainly he will not be back before the Fourth of July recess," Nancy Lowe, an administrative assistant for the Missouri Democrat, said Monday. "I would imagine — depending on the treatment and what the doctors tell him — he would be out most of the month of July."

Mrs. Lowe said Bolling, 63 and in his 16th term in Congress, voluntarily entered the Alcoholism Rehabilitation Service at the Bethesda Naval Hospital last week.

"He is very confident he can lick this problem," she said. "He says this is something he should have done and he is doing it."

NDC to manage FINA's credit card program

DALLAS — American Petrofina Co., of Texas, a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, Incorporated, (FINA) and National Data Corp. (NDC) of Atlanta, Ga., have jointly announced the signing of a multi-million dollar contract for NDC to manage and operate FINA's credit card program from NDC's Atlanta headquarters. The contract provides for a three-year initial term with options for extensions through 1985. NDC will assume operation of the Fina credit card program on or about April 1, 1980. Involved on a continuing basis will be FINA representation based in NDC's Atlanta headquarters to coordinate activities between FINA and NDC. National Data Corporation will provide a full range of services, including new account processing, credit card processing, credit collection, customer service, statement printing and mailing, remittance processing, invoice processing, accounts receivable accounting, preparation of management information and statistical reports, promotional and merchandise sales mailings, and credit card authorization.

Cotton production set at 1,166,300 bales

Official figures just released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service (TCLRS) show 1978 cotton production in the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, at 2,049,100 bales of 480 pounds net weight.

The 1978 crop year yield was 1,166,300 bales below the all-time record of 3,215,400 produced in 1977.

Planted acreage according to TCLRS were 4,043,100, eclipsing the previous acreage record of 3,749,600 seeded in 1977. But after drought and other adverse weather conditions only 3,584,300 acres were harvested in 1978. Yield per harvested acre came to 374.4 pounds in 1978, compared to 424.1 pounds in 1977 and an average of 378.5 pounds per acre for the 10-year period 1968 through 1977. The highest average per-acre yield ever achieved on the Plains was the 513.2 pounds recorded in 1965.

Lubbock County with 228,000 bales, led the area in production. Second, third and fourth places were taken by Gaines (172,000), Floyd (164,900), and Hale (164,800). The top four producing counties in 1978, respectively, were Lubbock, Gaines, Hockley and Terry.

Per-acre yield leaders in 1978 were Parmer (414), Floyd (388), Hale (388) and Lubbock (359). The chart below shows planted and harvested acres, yields per harvested acre and total production in 480 pound net weight bales for each of the 25 PCG counties.

Cynthia Huse on Dean's List

LUBBOCK — Seventy-six of the 139 students making the Dean's List at Lubbock Christian College for the spring 1979 semester were holdovers from the fall 1978 semester.

Forty-three students also compiled a perfect 4.0, including a dozen seniors. Among those graduates were Brenda Ray Engle, Jimmy Harris and Louise Beyer, all of Lubbock, who made the Dean's List each of their semesters at LCC.

Freshmen Bryan Pruitt and Lisa Sorenson, sophomores James Burke and Kyle Smith, juniors Roy Whittington, Molly Williams and Robin Wright and seniors Mrs. Engle, Harris, Kay Mayberry and Susan White having 4.0's both semesters of the 1978-79 school year.

Twenty-three of the 39 seniors on the latest Dean's List were holdovers from the fall, as were 13 of the 34 juniors, 17 of the 31 sophomores and 23 of the 35 freshmen.

Juniors Byron Rogers, Roy Whittington, Molly Williams, and Robin Wright and sophomores James Burke and Kyle Smith all had 4.0's each semester of the 1978-79 school year.

Also included on the list was senior Cynthia Huse (3.60) of Big Spring.

Corinthian

by Thomasville.

The Renaissance in Italy was an age of never ending display of great splendor and magnificence. Furnishings were created which were appropriate in scale and richness. Now Thomasville recreates these timeless traditional designs in a bedroom and dining room grouping. A particularly elegant traditional detail is the breakfront feature of the case pieces. The center section breaks forward from the very beautiful top to the handsome base. The key-stone motif, another pleasing traditional detail, is seen on doors and the flowing arch pediment of the china and the mirror. Each piece illustrates quality craftsmanship and meticulous attention to design detail. The woods are pecky pecan veneers and pecan solids. For added visual interest, rare ash burl veneers from the graceful hedgerows of France are artfully featured as overlays on doors and end posts as well as accents on the drawers and as a banding on the magnificent table top. These choice veneer treatments offer an exciting beauty seldom seen in furnishings. The finish, a lighter fruitwood tone, is hand-rubbed to a medium sheen more in keeping with today's traditional taste. Special hardware treatments include elegant brass finished rings and fashionable ball pulls. Here is a grouping which will answer the needs of the most discriminating homeowner.
