LITTLE BIG RESPONSIBILITY — Scooter, 9-week-old pet Pekingese of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Coates, received his rabies vaccination today. The annual vaccination that protects both the pet and the family from the incurable disease of rabies is one of the many responsibilities that a person takes on when he decides he wants a canine or feline companion. The vaccination is particularly important now as cases of confirmed rabies are reaching record highs in the state.

FAA includes stipulations

Grounded DC-10s to be released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration will immediately release the grounded DC-10 jetliners for flight provided their engine mounts undergo frequent inspections, Rep. Jim. Lloyd, D-Calif., said today.

Lloyd said he received word of the action in a phone call from FAA administrator Langhorne M. Bond.

Bond scheduled a news conference at noon EDT to announce his decision on the DC-10s.

Lloyd, chairman of a subcommittee which is to hold hearings next week on the jet, said Bond told him the plane "is fundamentally safe as long as an adequate check" is made on their engine mounts.

He said as a condition for lifting the grounding, the FAA will require that the thrust-link assembly on the mounting be checked after every 100 hours of flight, and that other areas of the assembly be inspected every 300 hours.

Lloyd, chairman of a Science and Technology investigations subcommittee, said, "I would urge operators of the aircraft to be super-cautious in checking these aircraft" he said.

The 138 DC-10s operated by six U.S. airlines have been grounded since June 6 while federal investigators have sought to learn the reason for cracks discovered in the engine mounts of several of the widebodied jets.

The cracks were discovered during inspections ordered after an American Airlines DC-10 crashed on takeoff from Chicago May 25, killing 273 persons in America's worst air disaster.

Bond has taken personal charge of the FAA investigation, and has said repeatedly he would lift the grounding order only when he feels the planes are safe. He also said that once the planes are back in the air, the carriers would be required to conduct frequent inspections of the pylon, a section of the engine mount.

Many killed, Turkey's state radio says

Three Palestinian terrorists seize embassy

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Three Palestinian terrorists blasted their way into the Egyptian Embassy today, seized the ambassador and other hostages and reportedly killed "many" of them, the state radio said. Egypt gave the go-ahead for an army assault on the building if needed.

The raiders killed a Turkish policeman and Turkish security guard as they stormed into the building, firing automatic weapons and apparently tossing a grenade. It was reported they seized as many as 20 hostages, including Ambassador Ahmed Kemal Olema and his son.

The terrorists demanded that Turkey sever its relations with Egypt and Israel, that Egypt release two Palestinian prisoners, and that they get a bus to take them to Ankara's airport and a plane to fly to a friendly Arab country.

Home improvement raised

Maximum term of home loans increase okayed

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Homebuyers who borrow from state-chartered savings and loan associations received a new option for holding down their monthly payments Thursday.

The Savings and Loan Section of the State Finance Commission voted unanimously to increase the maximum possible term of home loans from 30 to 40 years.

Another action taken by the savings and loan regulators gives a host of new protections to borrowers confronted with a lender's offer of a variable interest loan, whose interest rate fluctuates with the money market.

Section members, representing both the savings and loan industry and the general public, also increased from $20,000 to $40,000 the maximum home improvement loan a state-chartered association can make.

In Texas, 250 savings and loans are chartered by the state and 72 by the federal government.

Savings and Loan Commissioner Alvis Vandygriff announced the "floating ceiling" on mortgage rates, which takes effect Aug. 27, will be 11 percent but probably would drop to 10 1/4 percent on Sept. 1.

Under a law passed this year, the usury ceiling will be two percentage points above the average monthly interest rate on U.S. Treasury bills and notes, up to a maximum of 12 percent.

Vandygriff said he would publish the ceiling for September on Aug. 20.

Abe Katz of Corpus Christi, a public member and chairman of the section, asked whether 40-year home mortgages were "for the benefit of the industry or the people."

"They could possibly reduce the amount of monthly payments, which is for the benefit of the purchaser," Vandygriff said.

"Surely the consumer groups should be happy with the change because it will reduce their payments," said section member E. Michael Lallinger of Houston.

Vandygriff also said the 40-year mortgage option might benefit homebuyers who take out variable interest loans because they could extend a 20-or 30-year note to keep monthly payments from rising if interest rates went up.

With a variable interest mortgage, the homebuyer gambles that rates will drop while the savings and loan bets on higher profits from a rising mortgage market.

School board decision

$3,000 exemption

for 1,520 rescinded

By DON WOODS

A $3,000 exemption for 1,520 Big Spring Independent School District landowners will be rescinded. The decision affecting the over-65-years-of-age homestead owners in the school district came in a decision of the Big Spring school district trustees Thursday evening.

The basis of the decision was that the majority of over-65 taxpayers will be getting a better exemption anyway from the recent passage of HB 1060. That bill provides for a $10,000 exemption for over-65 years of age homestead owners and a $5,000 general exemption.

The highest tax break the Big Spring school district could offer under the old local exemption was $5,611. The exemptions offered by HB 1060 result in tax breaks of up to $19,125.

Over half of the 1,520 over-65 homestead owners in the district have their land appraised as less than $15,000. They won't pay any school taxes if they file for the exemptions because the state's over 65 and general exemptions total $15,000.

Exemptions may be filed for at the school tax office at the west door of the school administration building across from the high school. Deadline for filing is Monday.

In other action at Thursday's meeting, in the high school board meeting, the school board approved phase II of the state accreditation process.

This involved selecting by committee certain student and program needs. The areas selected for emphasis by the committee and approved by the board were math computation and speaking and writing skills.

The phase II process is a necessary part of gaining continued state accreditation.

Depository bids from local banks were not considered because Texas Education Agency didn't provide the district with forms to distribute to the banks. The proposal will be considered at August's meeting.

Assistant Superintendent for Business Don Crockett presented a budget workshop and to school board members. That workshop anticipates a $319,611 increase in revenue compared with last year's budget.

There were several employment and resignation approvals at the meeting. Resignations were approved for:

Edwin Bloxdorf, high school coach; Patsy Byrd, Goliad language arts teacher; Viola Gonzales, Washington third grade teacher; Wilda Nobis, Goliad language arts teacher; Dennis Smiley, Goliad mathematics teachers; Marjorie Talmadge, Runnels English teacher; Shirley Tate, Goliad science teacher; Myra A. Vest, Marcy fourth grade teacher; George White, Runnels mathematics teacher; and Opal Wiley Goliad science teacher.

Newly approved employees include: Marjorie Dodson, high school choir teacher; Tommy Dodson, unassigned high school teacher; Barbara Fletcher, high school coach; and Sonia Lancaster, unassigned teacher.

Howard College trustees agree to make payment on coliseum

The Howard College board of trustees, meeting in an "emergency" session Thursday, voted unanimously to make a net payment of $181,866.10 to the general contracting firm of Haney and Sivley.

Thus, for all intents and purposes, the college retired the outstanding debt incurred for construction of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

The college had withheld the payment until obvious flaws in the coliseum could be corrected. The trustees were satisfied that leaks in the coliseum roof, among other things, had been eliminated.

The coliseum was started in April 1976 and was formally turned over to the college in October of last year. The contractors agreed to return a check to the school for $10,133.50 from the $208,200.60 payment for debts still outstanding against the coliseum for power used to activate air conditioning motors, lights and etc., over the construction period. The college also authorized a final payment of $3,623 to the architectural alliance of Gary and Hohertz, a firm no longer in existence. (Each partner now operates his own business under his own name).

The board also reached an understanding with the contractors to withhold $15,000 from the general contractors until some minor repairs could be completed. The firm reassured Dr. Charles Hays that the repairs would be made as soon as manpower and materials become available.

Architect Gary and complimented by members of the board and by Dr. Charles Hays, college president, for the dedication he showed in getting the coliseum work completed and for the completeness and the beauty of the structure itself.

Trustees also gave Hays unanimous approval to pursue a plan for opening an institute for the deaf.

Dr. Hays has already had several conferences with officials of the Texas Education Agency about the proposed school, which would be located on the site of the old Webb AFB but which would be affiliated with Howard College.

Money for a feasibility study of such a school has already been granted by the TEA. Once the study is completed, plans for the institute are expected to move rather rapidly.

If the school materializes, and the government approves a grant to construct dormitories from money already appropriated, the student body of Howard College could double in numbers.

Dr. Hays reminded the trustees that significant changes could be expected in college payrolls if an institute for the deaf becomes a reality here.

Radical changes in the Howard County Tax Appraisal Board are a certainty, it was disclosed, due to a new law passed during the last session of the Texas Legislature.

Some agencies dependent upon the board for appraisals and revenue would not be represented on the board itself but college officials said that information about the board's structure and the rules governing it had not revealed much to date. Hays said no one at the college would be in a position to comment on it until the exact wording of the law had been studied.

A new budget for the tax appraisal board will be adopted in the fall, at which time projected expenses will be projected to the various agencies availing themselves of its services.

are determined to blow up the building," state radio quoted one of the terrorists as telling a reporter in a telephone interview.

In Cairo, Egyptian Prime Minister Mustafa Khalil said he had given permission for Turkish troops to assault the embassy "if they see on the spot that it is needed to save lives."

He said Egypt holds the Palestine Liberation Organization responsible for the attack and threatened "serious retaliation" if the guerrillas harmed Egyptian diplomats. Palestinian guerrillas have struck Egyptian targets periodically since President Anwar Sadat launched his peace initiative with Israel 21 months ago.

A Turkish employee of the embassy who was released told police "there are many dead" among the hostages, the government broadcast said. This could not be otherwise confirmed.

The woman employee, secretary Bahar Ozturk, said the terrorists were holding four Egyptians and two Turks hostage. But local news agencies, quoting police sources, said there were 20 hostages, including Turkish employees.

One police source said Ozturk may have seen only hostages held in one room with her.

The guerrillas had threatened to kill one hostage every five minutes after a 2:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m. EDT) deadline passed for meeting their demands.

A ring of security forces, including armored cars of a mechanized infantry division and police sharpshooters, took up positions around the embassy compound, stationing themselves near the adjacent Bulgarian and Hungarian embassies. Police helicopters hovered overhead.

Premier Bulent Ecevit and Interior Minister Hasan Fehmi Gunes sped to the scene and were conducting apparently fruitless negotiations with the terrorists.

The gunmen said they wanted a flight to either Syria, Iraq, Kuwait or Libya, and the ambassadors of those countries were summoned to the Turkish Foreign Ministry, shot their way into the building with automatic weapons and set off a powerful explosion, evidently a grenade. A policeman and security guard were killed and two other guards were wounded.

The car, driven by a fourth terrorist, sped off. Police, guards and the terrorists exchanged gunfire for almost an hour, until about 12:05 p.m.

No injuries in fire

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP) — A small electrical fire damaged a meter in the control room of the crippled Three Mile Island nuclear power plant, but a plant spokesman says there were no injuries or damage.

"It was a 30-second thing. It happened to a meter in one of the controls. There was a short in the meter," Bill Gross, a spokesman for Metropolitan Edison Co., said Thursday. The fire broke out at about 7:30 a.m. in the control room of reactor Unit No. 2, the unit that was wrecked March 28 in the worst nuclear reactor accident in U.S. history. Frank Ingram, a spokesman for the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, said an overheated resistor caused the fire.

Coffee prices raised

NEW YORK (AP) — General Foods, the largest U.S. coffee roaster, has raised its wholesale price 10 cents — to $3.18 a pound — joining other big coffee marketers in the latest round of price boosts that have pushed wholesale prices up 70 cents since February.

General Foods, maker of Maxwell House, Yuban, Brim and Sanka, moved Thursday to match a similar increase announced Wednesday by No. 2 Procter & Gamble. Others were expected to follow suit. The increases, which should be felt in retail sales within a month, are blamed on a frost that damaged coffee trees in Brazil on June 1 and on the revolution in Nicaragua.

Grasshoppers problem to area cotton growers

The prolonged dry weather and resultant dehydrated grasslands have pushed grasshoppers out to adjoining cotton fields with considerable damage occurring in some areas.

The pests are difficult to control to say the least but some pesticides are available with varying degrees of success. Perhaps the most common method is the application of "bait," a mixture of mill-run bran and molasses with Toxaphene broadcast at the rate of 10-20 lb. per acre. It is prepared by mixing 100 lbs. bran with 3/4 pint of Toxaphene 6 E in 7-8 gallons of water together with 2 gallons of blackstrap molasses. Users are warned that too much toxaphene will keep grasshoppers from eating the bait, up to 75 lbs. of sawdust can be substituted for bran with equal results. Another treatment recommended is Sevin at the rate of 2 lbs. per acre. Only a 50 percent control can be expected with this treatment according to entomologists. Treatment by aerial application of a 2 lb. toxaphene and 1 lb. methyl parathion per 100 gallons water is also effective but this is a highly toxic product and producers are urged to carefully follow instructions on the labels regarding its use. This product can also be obtained commercially pre-mixed from most pesticide dealers.

INSATIABLE PEST — Last week, hungry grasshoppers moved in on a mulberry tree at the FM 700 Wastewater Treatment Plant, stripping the tree of leaves which they later devoured. The problem is now spreading to cotton fields, according to County Agent Don Richardson, and resulting in damage to crops. The pests are difficult to get rid of.

Chain of grocery stores will likely be sold

Furr's Inc., which operates a chain of grocery stores in West Texas, including one in Big Spring, will likely be sold within a month, according to the firm's lawyers.

The announcement came during the first meeting of Furr's creditors in Bankruptcy Judge John Flowers's court in Fort Worth Thursday.

The company, which has its headquarters in Lubbock, has been operating as a Debtor-in-Possession since May 26. Furr's officials filed a petition under Chapter XI of the Federal Bankruptcy Act to provide an automatic stay of legal proceedings against Furr's while an arrangement with its creditors was formulated.

Henry Simon Jr., an attorney for Furr's, indicated in Fort Worth that one or two "avid" entries are in the forefront in bidding for the chain. Simon added that it is possible a deal may be made within 30 days.

Furr's reportedly has more than $56 million in debts. The sale would not wipe out that liability, according to Simon, but the new owner would assume the responsibility of devising a method for paying off Furr's estimated 5,000 creditors.

One of the prospective buyers, based in West Germany, has been identified as Rewe-Handelsgesellschaft Le-ibbrand OHG (Rewe-Leibbrand).

If the West German group should buy Furr's, it would be rewe-Leibbrand's first merchandising operation in this country.

Other firms which have expressed interest in taking over Furr's include Cullum Companies of Dallas (Tom Thumb), Smith Manufacturing Co., Salt Lake City, and Handy-Andy, which likely will make its tender through the offices of Morris Jaffe in San Antonio.

Patrick J. Murphy of Lubbock, chief executive officer of Furr's, said it was the unanimous decision of the stockholders to sell.

Judge Flowers set a hearing for 10 a.m., Aug. 21, on any arrangements Furr's may reach, either with a buyer or another plan to settle its debts.

Furr's once operated as many as 101 stores throughout the Southwest but sold 12 of that group, now maintains 89.

Tax appraisal pact renewed

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County's contract with the tax appraisal firm of Pritchard and Abbott is being renewed for another year for a fee of $19,500. That's $7,500 more than the county paid for the service last year.

Elaine Joyce, Ramblers to play at Brass Nail

Elaine Joyce and The Bush Country Ramblers will be appearing at the Brass Nail, Highway 87 South, tonight and Saturday night. There will be a $3 admission charge.

According to a press release, Ms. Joyce was born in Chattanooga, Tenn., moved to Nashville at an early age and lived just outside Nashville most of her life. She is one of Tennessee's natural born musicians and Country-Western singers.

Born into a family of eight musicians, she was the last to become proficient of the guitar and the only one to become professional entertainer. She has sung with such bands as Tony Douglas, Dale McBride, Indigo and many others, but has had her own band, called the "Bush Country Ramblers" for over a year.

She is presently making San Angelo her home and covering wide areas of Texas in her performances prior to the release of her latest recordings, which she just completed in Houston with Mickey Moody and Huey Meaux at Sugar Hill Studios. Businessman Eldon Gotscher from Brownwood, Texas is one of her co-producers.

In the short time that Elaine has been performing in Texas, West Texans have honored her with the title of "The Sweetest Voice in Music." This caption appears on her records. Elaine profited from a statement Tony Douglas made to her at one time, and that was, "Always keep the best band that you can get to back you up in your singing; because without a good band, a singer is nothing." Elaine has done that.

The "Bush Country Ramblers" have captured one of the best sounds of Country-Western music in this part of the country. Elaine sings all types of music and intersperses a little of all of it into her performance, never straying very far from the traditional Country-Western theme.

She believes in involving the audience in her performance and has never failed to win the hearts of young and old before the evening is over. She conducts a family-type program that is suitable for the entire family.

She believes that a good, clean show will not be frowned upon by anyone and that it is the best assurance of a return engagement.

Chamber likely to name exec veep by July 25

The new executive vice-president of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce likely will be named no later than July 25.

The list of applicants has been narrowed to two or three people, according to Jack Redding, chairman of the Chamber's Search Committee.

Redding said that in his opinion the individuals still being considered for the job have excellent credentials and appear to be well qualified for the position.

The committee interviewed one applicant recently and has another interview set up for next week. The position was vacated

Accused tax schemer jailed

The last of 26 persons named in sealed indictments by a federal grand jury in Lubbock in connection with a tax scheme that reportedly bilked Big Spring pawn shops and lending companies of thousands of dollars was arrested in San Angelo Tuesday night.

Bureaucracy flaws come to surface

The casual manner with which the State Department handled bits and pieces of information emanating from the notorious Jonestown encampment in Guyana is another indictment against government bureaucracy.

The mass murders and suicides which occurred in the South American colony just weren't something that occurred on impulse, that something had long been wrong with the Rev. Jim Jones and his "paradise."

THE LATEST TO weight into the controversy are two retired State Department employees. They recently revealed that they have put together a report which systematically riddles their former employer. The functionaries responsible for processing and the passing on the raw data pertaining to the Jonestown colony fell prey to serious errors of judgment, the report contends.

In some instances, the embassy staff in Georgetown failed to forward subjective estimates of Jones' instability — apparently fearing that the Rev. Mr. Jones and his followers would gain access to their reports through use of the Freedom of Information act.

The two former State Department employees concede that, even had the information been routed properly, it might not have made any difference.

The point, however, is that the system in this instance broke down badly. That much can easily be established. Fixing the blame is another matter entirely.

CERTAINLY THERE was no cover-up as such. What was lacking was courage and vision on the part of officials closest to the situation and those immediately above them.

Unhappily, it is the tendency of any bureaucrat to do everything they can to suppress just those qualities.

If nothing else, the tragedy at Jonestown, where an estimated 900 died, may demonstrate to us just how high a price we pay for maintaining and acquiescing in such a seriously flawed system.

Special breed

Around the rim

Mickie Dickson

I can remember pleasant hours at the feet of an "old maid" or "maiden lady" aunt, listening to such classics as "Miss Minerva and William Greenhill," "Edgar Rice Burroughs 'B'r'er Rabbit' stories," "Alice in Wonderland" along with "Little Women" by Louise Mae Alcott.

Mom said that a maiden lady is one who had the chance to marry and chose not to, while an old maid never had the opportunity to marry. Only the lady herself would know other than her spurned suitors.

We, three nieces and nephew worked hard for the 25 cents paid to us by Aunt Cindy for each "A" on our report cards.

It was Aunt who joined the country club and learned to play golf so we would have a nice place to swim. Mud and sand bottom notwithstanding, it was cool, and greatly appreciated.

She furnished and drove the car on vacations to East Texas to visit our grandparents, whom she looked after until they died.

Our first trip to a cafeteria was sponsored by this super person, and she just laughed when we took lots more food than we could possibly eat.

She worked for one firm for 50 years, turning down offers for better positions time and again.

In addition to all this, she was guardian to a number of patients at Central State Hospital at Norman, Okla., including the sister of her employer.

One experience that stands out in my memory is taking a joy ride to Purcell (about 30 miles) for ice cream with aunt in an old Rickenbacher car. Four children and an 80-year-old lady were listening to the story of the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow told by aunt in a sprinkling rain, when she lost control of the car. After zig-zagging back and forth, the heavy car rolled over into a 10 foot ditch. Opening the door above us over the screams of a frightened red-headed cousin, the group was helped out by passers-by. The car was completely demolished, but not one person received a scratch.

I FORTUNATELY married into a family that was blessed with a maiden lady aunt (sister to my husband), Mildred C. Hart. She has helped us to raise our family in innumerable ways. Financing trips to Europe for nieces and nephews and entertaining them while they were there. Helping them through college, taking them on trips and ad infinitum.

I wonder how families get along who don't have an old maid or maiden lady aunts.

Is trip necessary?

William F. Buckley, Jr.

An unusual controversy is surfacing over the question whether the queen of England should travel to Lusaka, which is the capital of Zambia, to attend the Commonwealth Conference on August 1. For the benefit of ex-colonials who may not have kept track of the evolution of the British constitution, which does not exist except in tradition, the decision whether she should go is made not by the queen of England, but by the government. Which means that Margaret Thatcher will decide whether the queen goes.

HOWEVER, QUEEN Elizabeth although at the margin dutiful, most definitely has a mind of her own. On a previous occasion, when Sir Roy Welensky, as prime minister of what used to be the Federation of Rhodesia, urged her to stay away, the queen is said to have caused something of a royal fuss over the matter. As these words are written, four senior British officials, three of them members of the Privy Council, are meeting for the purpose of making a recommendation — either to Mrs. Thatcher or, directly, to the queen.

What's going on? What's going on is the mess in Zambia, much of it the result of President Kaunda's backing of Joshua Nkomo's was against the government of Zimbabwe-Rhodesia. President Kaunda, the Rhodesian scholar John Hutchinson points out, "is an unlucky sponsor. While in office he has espoused the causes of Nkrumah of Ghana, Ojukwu of Biafra, Balewa of Nigeria, Lumumba of Zaire and Obote of Uganda." It is rumored that he would find it most welcome if Nkomo were simply to go away, but that is just a rumor.

What is not a rumor is that Zambia is in terrible shape. It is chronically short of food and other vital supplies. "Zimbabwe-Rhodesia," Professor Hutchinson reminds us, "in response to increased or even continued attacks, could cut every road and railway into Zambia in a matter of hours; it could cut down all electrical power in Zambia and bring both government and industry to a halt. The Soviet Union would have to fuel and feed Zambia by air — assuming that President Kaunda continued to place the interests of the Patriotic Front above those of his countrymen. It is not likely he would survive such a choice."

BUT BACK to the rumors. They include — a projected regicide. There are reports that trained assassins have been dispatched from Cuba. The idea — if this is more than mere fancy — is to cause a disruption in Lusaka during the Commonwealth Conference resulting in the assassination of the queen apparently at the hands of a resentful Rhodesian. Nkomo has extravagantly assured the Commonwealth ministers that he will order a cease-fire for the duration of the conference. But Nkomo is simply not an effective command even of the forces that fight in his name. The place is crawling with guerrillas fighting in the bush, with Cubans, with East German technicians, with tribal hostilities. Kaunda is not in charge of his own country, and it is speculated that Castro would greatly benefit from a spectacular diversion in Zambia the purpose of which would be to distract attention from the leadership he proposes for his own country at the meeting of the "unaligned" later in September at — of all places — Havana.

All in all, a sticky wicket if ever there was one. Add to it the irony of Lord Carrington, the British foreign minister, loudly deploring the treatment of innocent Indo-Chinese — while continuing relations with Kaunda who is sponsoring Nkomo who is given to shooting down innocent Rhodesians in civil airerafts. Nkomo, by the way, has a British passport, and could be expected to participate in the festivities around the queen.

Why good bowel rhythm is important

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Could you possibly explain why I would feel sick after a bowel movement? I have indigestion the rest of the day. X-rays show nothing wrong. — Mrs. A.S.

For you and for other readers who complain of a variety of constipation symptoms, a brief review of normal bowel activity is in order.

Food moves through the digestive system and collects in the lower bowel after nutrients have been removed. At this point the residue contains a good deal of moisture. The body, being the different machine it is, does not waste this, but absorbs it through the large bowel walls.

When the residue reaches the rectum it is ready for evacuation, so one gets the urge for movement. Many constipation problems emerge at young ages when this normal instinct may be ignored or response to it delayed. Further loss of liquid causes a hard stool, indicating it has stayed in the bowel too long. I suspect from parts of your letter (not printed) that constipation is part of your problem.

This may cause low back and pelvic pain and stomach discomfort, increased gas, general weakness, cold sweats, ear ringing, visual disturbance, rapid breathing, and headache. Straining at stool adds to the total picture of "sickness."

Make sure you have no contributing medical problems, and I'm thinking of such things as rectal disturbances (fissures or strictures) and low thyroid activity, to name two. Some medicines, such as calcium carbonate, aluminum hydroxide and others, aggravate bowel problems.

One way to promote health throughout life is to establish good and regular bowel habits at a young age.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Some people claim that a tablespoon of cod liver oil and two ounces of milk daily for six months keeps your skin smooth and lubricates all your joints so that you never get arthritis or other joint aches. After six months of this treatment you just take it once a week. I started the awful stuff a couple of days ago. It tastes terrible. Does all this make sense to you, or is it just another fish story? — P.M.

It's an old folk medicine idea based on the fact that cod liver oil is rich in vitamin D. But you don't have to take that concoction to get the vitamin D your body needs for sound bones. The milk contains enough of that vitamin, plus calcium, for your needs. Nothing prevents any "rheumatoid" arthritis you are destined to get, nor will it provide a "fountain of youth."

Dear Dr. Ruble: My son (three years old) has ears that stick out. I know from reading your column that there are surgical techniques to correct this, but why must my son wait until he is five or six to have it done? — N.C.

One good reason is that maximum growth has not occurred yet and probably won't for some time. Ideally, it is best to wait until puberty, but psychologically it may be best done prior to school, especially if the ears are quite prominent. A second very good reason for delay is that at three the child probably can not be taught the importance of leaving bandages alone after surgery.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Settle this argument. I say you do your growing while you are sleeping. My husband says while you are up and active. Who's right? — Mrs. T.J.

The pituitary gland, where the human growth hormone is produced, works around the clock. The idea that we grow while sleeping may have arisen from the fact that people do tend to be a bit taller after lying for long periods. They revert to normal height after an hour or two of walking around upright.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. T.L. — The six week post-natal checkup is so the doctor can determine if your uterus has reverted to normal size and if there are any lacerations (bruises, cuts) of the cervix. It is best to avoid sexual intercourse until after that time or until the doctor gives the go-ahead.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Wouldn't you call 12 years old a good time to start a girl on regular Pep smears? — B.C.

I would call that too early unless there were suspicious discharges or some other reason to suspect pelvic infection. For most non-sexually active females, age 18 is a good time to start. Children whose mothers used the drug "DES" (diethylstilbestrol) during pregnancy should be examined earlier.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Ruble's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Ruble in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Is polio an inherited disease? — Mrs. T.H.

No. It is caused by exposure to the polio virus, for which, as you know, there is an effective vaccine. Polio is not "wiped out" just because we have the vaccine. Many parents are becoming lax in having their youngsters immunized, so don't be surprised if some year in the near future we find some surprising outbreaks of polio.

Dr. Ruble welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you think it is wrong to have self-pity? I have had a lot of problems, and I feel sorry for myself a lot. — Mrs. B.F.

DEAR MRS. B.F.: This is a very common human reaction. Even in the Bible we see instances of self-pity on the part of some people. I think some passages in Job hint that Job was overwhelmed with self-pity from time to time because of his enormous difficulties. Jeremiah the prophet encountered great opposition, and once said, "Cursed be the day I was born... Why did I ever come out of the womb to see trouble and sorrow and to end my days in shame?" (Jeremiah 20:14, 18, New International Version).

But the important thing is that we not wallow in self-pity, but move from it to a strong faith in God. Self-pity can be wrong for a number of reasons. For example, it means that we are preoccupied with ourselves instead of loving and serving others and God. I think of the prophet Elijah, who felt defeated and consumed with self-pity — to the point of wanting God to take away his life. (You can read about his struggle in 1 Kings 19.) His problem was that he set his eyes on himself and his problems instead of keeping them on God. When he came to a new commitment to God he overcame his self-pity and depression and again became a useful servant of God.

Another reason self-pity may be wrong is because it often paves the way for bitterness against God. We feel somehow that He has dealt with us unfairly, and we may even begin to doubt Him and His love for us. Such self-pity is sin and must be dealt with clearly and decisively.

You will note that this is what Job, Jeremiah and Elijah all did. They came to trust again in the promises of God, realizing that He is completely faithful. That is one reason, incidentally, why it is important for you to read God's Word regularly and trust His promises. Jeremiah did not come on feeling sorry for himself, and could say: "But the Lord is with me like a mighty warrior; so my persecutors will stumble and not prevail... Sing to the Lord! Give praise to the Lord! He rescues the life of the needy from the hands of the wicked" (Jeremiah 20:11, 13, NIV).

Lady has clout

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — One of the most important lessons of Watergate was — or at least should have been — that "national security" cannot be used as a cloak and dagger by the intelligence community to gut the constitutional rights of individual Americans. The Nixon administration's best and brightest wound up in prison for their unwillingness to grasp this simple truth.

Now, as public outrage has forced some restraints on the FBI, the CIA and other federal intelligence agencies, it is becoming apparent that some members of Jimmy Carter's team are no more willing to tighten the leash on Uncle Sam's undercover agents than the Nixon gang was.

A leader of the "old guard" that wants intelligence gathering unrestricted in the name of national security is Deanne Siemer, 38-year-old Defense Department general counsel. She was named to the powerful post by Carter on April Fool's Day, 1977, but her appointment has been no laughing matter for those who have crossed her path.

LONG-LEGGED AND short-tempered, Siemer has an abrasive, intimidating style that has earned her the sobriquet "Dragon Lady" in some government circles. Those who are trying to curb the spooks are only the latest targets of her wrath: In her two years at the Pentagon, more than half her original staff has been fired, demoted or forced to transfer. "She's not the most loved person," said one source with dry understatement.

Siemer came to the government from the prestigious Washington law firm of Wilmer, Cutler and Pickering, whose senior partner, Lloyd N. Cutler, was recently retained by President Carter to lobby SALT II through the Senate. The law firm's "in" with Carter may explain the amazing clout Siemer has arrogated to herself in intelligence matters.

This clout has been demonstrated in a number of ways. One of her former aides, Daniel Silver, has been appointed general counsel of the CIA; another, Gil Kujovich, is now executive director of the White House's Intelligence Oversight Board. Sources told us Siemer is currently trying to maneuver another protégé, Rick Stone, into Silver's former position as general counsel of the National Security Agency.

Siemer's weight has also been felt in the longstanding bureaucratic feud between the Pentagon and the CIA over which agency should be top dog in intelligence matters. The power struggle is going on in the Special Coordinating Committee, a National Security Council group charged with producing a new charter to let the FBI and CIA know exactly what they can and cannot do.

Sources close to the committee told us that Siemer has succeeded in including in the charter the stipulation that control of intelligence will be given... to the Defense Department in time of war. She has also managed to hang onto a bureaucratic plum — the National Security Agency, which will stay under the Pentagon's wing instead of going to the CIA.

Siemer's attitude toward restraints on intelligence activities have astonished some of her colleagues. Sources say she has been the leader of those advocating an intelligence charter loose enough to allow such practices as CIA surveillance of Americans abroad. She has also shown a reluctance to require FBI and CIA accountability to Congress and the public.

Siemer may have breathed fire in the wrong direction, though, when she tried to move in on the Justice Department recently. Justice, whose boss, Attorney General Griffin Bell, is an old Georgia buddy of President Carter, succeeded in transforming the Pentagon's dread Dragon Lady into a paper tiger.

THE CLASH occurred over the prosecution of William P. Kampiles, a CIA employee who sold documents to Soviet agents. Although the Defense Department's interest would seem to have been peripheral at best, Siemer demanded participation in the trial, claiming that highly classified material would be endangered if Kampiles' prosecution wasn't handled her way. The Justice Department resisted Siemer's meddling.

One problem, an administration source told us, was that Siemer's people wanted to protect intelligence secrets at the cost of the defendant's rights. "They didn't care if the kid got a fair trial or not," one official said. At one point, Siemer's office proposed that the Justice Department try to fool the Soviets by prosecuting Kampiles without admitting that he had turned secrets over to the Russians — despite the fact that he had signed a confession to that effect. And, of course, the Soviets already knew what he had sold them.

The Justice Department hoped to use the Kampiles case to restore public confidence in the intelligence community and in the administration's control over it. The White House finally gave Justice permission to try the case as it saw fit.

This didn't stop Siemer. She demanded that one of her representatives be allowed to sit at the prosecution table during the trial. This nifty interference attempt was nixed by Justice.

David Ready, the federal prosecutor in the case, explained that he "didn't want any dead weight at the counsel table." If Siemer's aide had shown up and tried to interfere, Ready added, he would have had the U.S. marshals "come haul him away."

Footnote: Siemer did not return our repeated calls; we visited her office, but she refused to see us. Her deputy Brent Rushforth also refused comment.

People learning to like home

The worsening energy crisis may bring with it one blessing — a new appreciation for home.

There has long been a burning desire for many Americans to "get away from it all" on weekends — to hop into the family car and drive "somewhere."

In recent weeks, the average motorist has spent an increasing amount of time looking for a gas station that is open and getting in line for service at the station's pumps.

People are discovering how much better it is to stay home, to take a little time to talk over things with the kids, maybe grab 40 winks.

The mania for spending money on those weekends diminishes, too, in weekends spent at home. It's really quite nice to caress the wallet pocket on a Monday morning, knowing there is money there that, under ordinary circumstances, would not be there.

A 'present' for city hall

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Dan Knowles says he is tired of paying the city to pick up his trash and getting no service.
 So Knowles wrapped his garbage in "pretty green bags with ribbons tied on top" on Wednesday and dumped them in front of City Hall.
 He received a $25 ticket for littering, but says "I'll go to jail before I pay a fine on this." A court date has not been set.
 Knowles said he has had to take his trash to the city dump "on the average of three times per month — otherwise it just piles up in my front yard."
 "I've paid for the trash pickup," he said. "It's up to them (the city) to dispose of it. I'm just saving them gas by bringing it down here."

A thank-you stew

THATCH, Ala. (AP) — It was all free — 100 gallons of chicken stew, 50 gallons of goat stew — washed down with gallons and gallons of iced tea and lemonade.
 Grocery store owner Harvey Moore said he prepared the feast for 300 people "to say thank you" to folks in this north Alabama community.
 "Citizens around here have a lot to talk about and we couldn't think of a better time to bring them together," said Norma Living, helping to arrange the stew served earlier this week.
 "I've been living up here for 44 years and I plan to make this event as long as I live," said Albin Griffin. "It's a time to see old friends and get filled up at the same time."
 Thatch, located east of Interstate 65 between Athens and Ardmore, was described by residents only as a "wide place in the road," but a "wonderful place to live."

Science marches on

LONDON (AP) — Ever wonder how scientists arrive at some of their conclusions?
 One man's opinion was offered this week by Derrick Ovington, an Australian scientist attending the International Whaling Commission annual session.
 He was asked by delegates whether a South African suggestion for a three-year ban on whaling would be practicable.
 No, he said, as the scientific requirements go like this:
 —It takes three years to work out what to do.
 —It takes three years to do it.
 —It takes three years to decide what was done.
 —Then, it takes a final year to analyze the previous and do something about it.

Busy mama

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A dairy cow on Willie Feagle's farm has leaped to stardom by doing something one expert reckons was a one-in-10-million shot.
 The Holstein cow, named Killer's Sister, gave birth Wednesday to four calves.
 "It's very rare," said County Agent Mike Kelly. "As a matter of fact, the records I have (indicate) there have been only three or four ever reported."
 "If you consider there are 10 million dairy cows in the country and considering the number of years (50) they have been keeping records of this type of thing, one in 10 million is a pretty conservative estimate."

Pianist combines music with teaching

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — As a student at the Julliard School of Music 30 years ago, pianist David Garvey picked up extra money by accompanying nervous singers during their entrance exams.
 The name of one soprano tryout, Leontyne Price, meant nothing at the time.
 But several years later in 1955, Miss Price asked Garvey to accompany her at a professional concert.
 "Since that time, I've been with her every recital she's ever given," said Garvey.
 When the 55-year-old pianist isn't rehearsing or performing with Miss Price in New York, he puts in 12-hour days as a music professor at the University of Texas.
 Garvey is beginning his fifth year coaching graduate vocalists in his cramped, 12 feet by 20 feet office-studio. The room has just enough space for an old Steinway piano, a filing cabinet, two chairs and some shelves.
 The small, paneled office contrasts to the vast concert halls and audiences where Garvey performs.
 He has performed four times at the White House with Miss Price. The most recent was in a program to celebrate the signing of the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty this spring.

 "It was a great, exciting moment in history," Garvey remembered in an interview at his office.
 A large German community with a love for music lived in his hometown of Reading, Pa., said Garvey, who remembers attending Lutheran services in German.
 "I started studying at an early age. I was 5½ or 6," he said. "There was a great deal of interest in music which I think came from the German population."
 After high school, he studied about four years with a teacher in Philadelphia before going to the Julliard School in New York.
 Before graduating, his concerts already gained favorable reviews by the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune.
 Then came Leontyne Price, "one of the major musical figures of my life," he said.
 "She came into Julliard the year I graduated in 1949," Garvey said.
 The two went separate ways — Miss Price to fame in "Porgy and Bess" and Garvey to successful tours with violinists.
 In 1955, the singer asked Garvey to accompany her in recital. Since then, he has appeared with her everywhere unless she sings with an orchestra.
 "I make up her program. We try it out at her home two times for friends before we perform them," he said.
 The two rehearse at Garvey's apartment near Lincoln Center in New York. In Austin, he lives in an apartment within walking distance of the University of Texas campus.
 "Frankly, it's not ideal to be that far away from New York," Garvey admits.
 He entered the professional ranks after deciding he needed a change from full-time performing.
 "After all, I'd been doing it for 25 years. I didn't need to prove anything any more," he said. "I had a lifetime of happiness that I could share with so many young people who were trying to be born into the profession."
 Universities now are taking over from old conservatories in developing youthful talent, he added.
 After putting out feelers to several colleges, Garvey came to Austin on a performance with Miss Price and decided to move here.

 Always a bachelor, the pianist said he never worried about job security.
 "And if I had wanted to make money, I'd be doing something else — playing the stock market or something," he adds.
 His 24-year association with the internationally famous singer has been unusually problem-free.
 "I always use the word 'strong,'" he said when asked to describe Miss Price. "Leontyne has a kind of utter honesty about herself and relationships with her friends."
 Garvey describes himself as "a workaholic. I fill up my life, day and night, with my work."
 He tries to sit down at the piano at least three to five hours daily. His coaching classes usually fill up most of that requirement.
 "There's not much that I haven't already played before," said the musician. He describes his tastes as eclectic. Perhaps the Romantic period and the French school please him most.
 Although Garvey turned professor to prepare himself for a possible mid-life energy loss, his fall schedule already is getting full.
 His first concert with Miss Price will be in October at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington. The next day, he will play with someone else in New York's Carnegie Hall.
 He plans to continue blending his academic and professional careers indefinitely.

"I think I'm using my gifts in the best possible way," he said. "That's the way I look at it. It's our duty as human beings to use our talents."

Appellate court will consider reviving wrongful death case

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A federal appellate court has agreed to consider whether to revive a $3.5 million wrongful death suit charging the government illegally recruited a Marine who died after a training drill.
 Lynn McClure, 20, of Lufkin, Texas, died March 13, 1976, four months after he was struck in the head during a pugil-stick training drill at the Marine Corps Recruiting Depot in San Diego.
 McClure — whose family contends he was mentally retarded — was assigned to the Motivational Platoon, a now-defunct unit designed to help recruits adjust to training. On Dec. 6, 1975, McClure refused to join the mock bayonet drills.
 McClure was fatally injured when drill instructors sent a succession of recruits against him, investigators said.
 McClure's family first filed the wrongful death suit against the government in 1976. In 1977, U.S. District Judge William Enright dismissed the case before trial, citing a 1950 court ruling that held servicemen cannot sue the government for active duty injuries.
 Attorney J. Warren Beall argued before the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals here Thursday that the case should be sent back for trial because McClure was illegally recruited.
 Beall noted that McClure had been rejected by the Marine Corps, Navy and Army in September 1975 after he scored abnormally low on an entrance examination. He was accepted by the Marines in November 1975 after he rated an average score on a second test.
 Following the investigation into McClure's death, a colonel, two captains and three sergeants were suspended from duties involving recruit training.

Tides of Time

Portrait of human initiative!

At the moment it is moving bits of beach from place to place. But as the tides of time sweep in that initiative will be turned to ever more important aims.

TODAY offers more exciting opportunities than changing the contours of the sand. In churches around the world children are being taught the spiritual truths that will become essential as their horizons of initiative expand.

We love to watch our toddlers "working." Yes, we marvel at the energy and industry that inspire their sand bucket brigades. It is time to provide them with the moral and religious resources needed by those we count on to build a better world.

Ackerly home is scene of shower

The home of Patsy Zant, Ackerly, was the setting for a bridal shower given June 16 in honor of Kathleen Ozborn, bride-elect of Frosty Floyd.

Other hostesses were Nell Hopper, Peggy Webb, June Kennemer, Joe Hughes, June Nichols, Patricia Hall, Janie Hunt, Clovis Bodine, Wanda Dryer, Billie Fern Foster, Allison Foster, Don Nell Herm, and La Verne Gaskins.

They presented Miss Ozborn with a Hoover vacuum cleaner, and a corsage of daisies and baby's breath.

Other special guests receiving corsages were the bridegroom's mother, Ruth Floyd; the prospective bridegroom's grandmothers, Merle Womack of Lamesa, and Vel Floyd of Ackerly. A bouquet of yellow daisies and baby's breath flanked by gold candlesticks enhanced the refreshment table which was draped with white lace over pale yellow cloth. Cake and punch were served.

Out of town guests were Mrs. J.M. Womack of Lamesa; Doris King, Lori King, Kay McPherson, Marty and Amy Harrison, and Sandy Burks, all of Lubbock; and Jan Sanders of Plainview.

Miss Ozborn and Floyd will be united in marriage Aug. 3, at the Ackerly Church of Christ.

Over 60 attend homecoming

Over 60 people attended the 27th Annual Knott Homecoming June 30 at the Kentwood Adult Center in Big Spring.

Registration began at 4 p.m. with people attending from as far away as Ohio and Virginia.

Providing the music was the Johnny Shortes Family Band, including Johnny, Ann, John Mark, Chris, Floyd Scott, David and Tony. Mrs. John McGregor gave the welcome and revealed several humorous events in past teaching careers at Knott School.

Officers elected for the 1980 homecoming were Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, president; Johnny Peugh, vice president; Mrs. McGregor, secretary, and Kelly Gaskins, treasurer.

62, His Hormones Don't Act His Age

DEAR ABBY: I am 62, in good health and still a better man than most men in their 40s. I'm well-to-do and can retire with a pension anytime. I work for a big airline. I can offer a girl a good home and travel.

I am very fond of a young lady, 22. She's very pretty and well built and would probably marry me if I made her an offer. She is not a virgin. She lived with another man for a year but he left her.

Here's the twister. I just met another lady. She's the kind most men dream about but never meet. She's 19 and a virgin. She doesn't drink, smoke or run around. She's my dancing instructor and she thinks a lot of me, but her contract states that she can't date any of her students. She's very honest and refuses to see me outside of dancing class because she doesn't want to get fired.

I went to a woman who tells fortunes with cards and she told me I should keep trying for the virgin.

I am a Capricorn and the virgin is a Gemini. What do you think?

LONG ISLANDER

DEAR LONG: I'm no fortune teller, but if the virgin thought as much of you as you think of her, she would give up her job for you. But as long as she refuses to see you outside of class, a future with her is not in the cards.

DEAR ABBY: I feel like the biggest dummy in the world, but I have a problem I'm ashamed to ask anyone else about. I live in a small apartment with my husband and Debbie, our 20-month-old daughter. Every time I run the vacuum cleaner, Debbie becomes hysterical. She starts to scream and shake and I can hardly calm her down. She is terrified of the vacuum cleaner and I can't seem to explain that it's only a machine and won't hurt her. Maybe it's the noise that frightens her, but that can't be helped.

I have not used my vacuum cleaner for weeks, and I really need to. Can you help me?

C. IN WORCESTER, MASS.

DEAR C: Your child becomes hysterical because she is afraid of that curious-looking "monster" that makes such a threatening noise. Show her how harmless it is by letting her turn it off and on, and also by letting her guide it. When Debbie realizes that she can control it, and it can't harm her, she'll overcome her fear.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 48-year-old grandmother who, for reasons of health, must have all my teeth extracted and replaced with dentures.

I have always had a very ugly mouth. My teeth were yellow, they stuck out in front, and there were large spaces between them.

My dentist promised to make me a beautiful set of teeth—nicely spaced, straight, white and pretty. I was looking forward to having a mouth I wouldn't be ashamed to smile with. Then I told my sister-in-law about it and she said, "Oh, no, don't let the dentist do that. You won't look like yourself." Then she went on to say that a really good dentist would try to make my new teeth look exactly like my old teeth.

Abby, I don't want them to look like the teeth I hated all my life. I want to look prettier.

What would you do?

UGLY MOUTH IN ILLINOIS

DEAR MOUTH: I'd go for the beautiful new choppers!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TROUBLE GALORE" IN WACO, TEXAS: I just read your 55-page letter and will send you a personal reply when you send me your address. In the meantime, if you wish to cry over spilled milk, next time please condense it.

Miss Sneed feted at bridal shower

The Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. was the setting of the July 5 bridal shower given in honor of Teresa Sneed, bride-elect of Robert Williams.

Hostesses for the event were Roxanne Daniels, Debbie Reid, Cindy McMahan, Robbie Pope, Cindy McAdams, Susie Swann, Suzann Shive, Kerrie Brown, Lisa Scott, Debbie Hensley, Pat Furlong, Carman Helman and Jennene Shive.

Miss Sneed was presented a bread box, canister set and

Homemakers participate in workshop

Elbow Extension Homemakers Club served as hostess for a countywide batik workshop Tuesday. The workshop was an all day event held at Elbow Elementary School Cafeteria.

Eighteen homemakers participated in the workshop, taught by Janet Rogers, County Extension Agent and Joyce Hamlin, 4-H leader.

Batik is the ancient art of wax resistant dyeing. It is a way of decorating cloth by covering parts of it with a coat of liquid wax and dyeing the cloth.

A display of batik items were on exhibit. Two special batik items were shared with the group — yardage Thetus Dunagan had brought from Singapore and a batik greeting card that belonged to Hazel Duggan.

Each person participating in the workshop created one or more batiks that they planned to use as wall hangings or pillow covers.

Squares have old-fashioned Fourth of July

The Big Spring Squares met July 4 at the clubhouse for an old-fashioned Fourth of July day.

Everyone enjoyed dominoes and games of Forty-two were in progress most of the day. Other activities included ping pong, horseshoes badminton, and square dancing.

At 12:30 p.m. July 7, the Squares' float left for Colorado City to take part in the Rodeo Parade. Randy Phillips was caller for the occasion as the square dancers performed on the 12-foot dance floor. The float received fourth place.

Following the parade, a square dancing demonstration was given at the Big Spring State Hospital. Two and one-half squares participated. Members then returned to the clubhouse for their regular Saturday night dance called by Phillips. State Federation presidents Red and Mary Barber attended as guests.

Secretaries schedule convention

"NSA, The Professional Way — Know the Way, Show the Way, Go the Way," will be the theme of the 34th annual convention of the National Secretaries Association (International) at the Diplomat Resort and Country Clubs, Hollywood, Fla., July 16-20, hosted by NSA's Hollywood Chapter.

Approximately 1,200 members are expected to register for the 5-day event which will be presided over by Mrs. Beverly H. Hamby, CPS, International President, of Houston. Beginning with a keynote talk, "Step Up for Success," by Kathy Alla, the members will hear from experts on a variety of topics, such as Letitia Baldrige, author of the revised and expanded "The Amy Vanderbilt Complete Book of Etiquette." Dr. John W. Allen, The Center for Education and Research in Free Enterprise, Texas A&M University, and the Rev. Francis Quinn, S.J., School of Business Administration, Temple University, Philadelphia, talking on secretarial ethics. Other participants other than Ms. Hamby will be Dr. Rita Huff, Dean, Institute for Certifying Secretaries, Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, Texas, and L. Millard Collins, manager, Word Processing Education, IBM, Dallas.

Conduct of Association business will occupy part of the convention schedule. NSA international officers will be elected, one of six finalists will be judged 1979 International Secretary of the Year, and a $2,000 scholarship will be awarded to a member of the Future Secretaries Association.

NSA is the world's leading secretarial association with 38,938 members in 791 chapters throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands. Foreign country affiliates are in Central and South America, West Indies, Europe, Asia and Australia.

Homecoming tea held

The Altrusa Club held "A Homecoming Tea" July 8, from 2-5 p.m. in the Blue Room at the Dora Roberts Community Center. Pat Highley served as general chairman.

There were 41 members, friends, and past members present and charter members attended as honored guests. Those still active are Marguerite Wooten, Kay McDaniel, Doris Guy, Johnnie Winham, Jessie Nalley, Olive Ruth Cowden, and Tot Sullivan. There are 19 deceased members. A scroll bearing their names was given to each member present.

The table was covered with a white cut-work tablecloth. Silver appointments were used. A centerpiece of red, white and blue carnations was used to carry out the Fourth of July theme.

Ruby Billings registered guests. Attending from out of town were Myrdene Bear-den, Mary Alice Tidwell, and Ada Phillips from the Midland Chapter; Pat Brown and Doris Russell from the Odessa Chapter; Ruby Lee Walker and Fay Kuykendall both from Lubbock; and John Lou Callison from Brownfield.

Rebekahs plan installation

The members of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 met at the I.O.O.F. Hall, 3203 West Highway 80, July 10. Mary Leek, noble grand presided over the 16 members present.

LaVerne Rogers, pro tem recording secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. They were approved and accepted.

The sick members were reported and visits to the sick reported.

Initiation will be conducted at the July 24 meeting.

Desdemona Martin, team captain, requested that all members of the team to be at the I.O.O.F. Hall July 18, at 8 p.m. to practice.

Odelle LaLonde gave report of the Auditing Committee. Juanita Hamlin read the semi-annual report. Election of officers to fill vacancies was held. LaVerne Rogers was elected recording secretary. Frances Loftis, treasurer; Desdemona Martin, team captain; and Gladys Fiveash was appointed conductor. LaVelle Hill, district deputy president, was installing officer.

The Charter was undraped for Hazel Lamar and Minnie Anderson. This service was conducted by Desdemona Martin. Members assisting her were Odelle LaLonde, Pauline Petty, Brookie Martin, Mary Leek and Charles Leek.

Frances Loftis, lodge deputy, held her school of instruction.

Nurses discuss practice act

Fourteen members of Texas Nurses Association met July 10, in the Horace Garrett Library for their regular monthly meeting. Mary Ernsting and Lettie Lee were hostesses.

The program was a report on the provisions of the New Nurse Practice Act, which the governor signed into law two weeks ago. Of special interest to members were the increased injunctive powers given to the Board of Nurse Examiners to enforce regulations.

Another change, made in the Act, is a more specific definition of Professional Nursing. This Act, as does the preceding Act, spells out violations and disciplinary actions. However, a new clause added to the new Act is of extreme importance to all Registered Nurses.

This clause, Section 8, Article 4525, No. 6, provides that: Any RN "aiding and abetting, directly or indirectly, or in any manner whatsoever, any unlicensed person in connection with the unauthorized practice of professional nursing" can be disciplined.

A rewording of the minimum score on State Board Exams, and a new provision for inactive nurse's licenses has also been added. Also new is a provision for fees to be deposited in the Treasury under the State Comptroller instead of under the Board's control.

Ellen Brooks is new membership chairman with Pat McCutchan and Charlotte Green on the committee.

A schedule was made up for the screening to be sponsored by the association with Medicine Shoppe. Since an RN must do the test, it was divided into two-hour segments, each nurse working one segment.

Announcement was made for further programs and Continuing Education offerings and a report on last Saturday's Blood Chemistry by Paul Ausmus was given. Participants earned three CEARP points.

There will be no business meeting in August, although a seminar on "Entry Into Practice" issue will be conducted Aug. 14. It has been applied for two CEARP points and all RNs are invited.

The meeting will be held at the same time and place that regular meetings are held — 7:30, the second Tuesday of the month, in the Reference Library of the Horace Garrett Building at Howard College.

THE NORWOODS

Singing family appears at College Baptist

Evangelist Hugh Jack Norwood and "The Norwoods" of Ft. Worth will present a gospel concert at College Baptist Church at 10 a.m., July 22.

Norwood has been involved in evangelistic crusades throughout the country and around the world.

His campaigns have ranged from the local church to crusades on college campuses. His ministry also includes Bible conferences, retreats, banquets and gospel concerts.

The Norwoods, Daron and Byron, are the talented sons of Hugh Jack and Margaret Norwood. Their dynamic voices and sincere commitment have inspired audiences of young and old.

Some of the songs sung were written by the two young Norwoods.

Mrs. Norwood and daughter, Misti, often join the family in concert. Misti's specialty is her version of "Jesus Loves Me."

Jimmy A. Turner, pastor of College Baptist, extends an invitation to the public to attend the Norwoods' concert.

Church power too expensive

SILVER SPRINGS, Md. (AP) — When the electric bill for their one-room church which was used only two hours each week leaped from $6 to $297 per month, members of Mt. Zion United Methodist Church felt something was wrong.

They complained, but without results, and patiently borrowed the money to keep paying the steep bills. That went on for two years for the black church of about 100 members, with monthly bills averaging $250, despite regular protests.

Church treasurer Zelma Snowden said the Potomac Electric Power Company (PEPCO) sometimes ignored her calls, at other times promised to investigate. It reported the meter was working properly, she says, and the big bills continued.

Finally, however, the church engaged an attorney, and it was determined that the utility company had installed a high demand commercial meter, resulting in an inflated minimum commercial price for the church's infrequent power use.

PEPCO admitted its mistake, a United Methodist report said this week, installed a new meter and agreed to repay the little congregation more than $2,000 it had borrowed to pay a bill it really didn't owe.

Faith seminar services feature popular preacher

Gerald Davis, often referred to as "the preacher who makes the Bible come alive," will conduct a faith seminar at Christ Fellowship

Center, Sunday through Tuesday.

Services will be held at the church, located on the corner of E. 11th Place and FM 700, nightly beginning at 7 p.m. Sunday and 7:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

Born into and raised in a home where both mother and father were ordained ministers, Davis was constantly exposed to Bible teaching and was taught the importance of obedience to the word of God.

After receiving an unquestionable call to the ministry at age 17, his intense interest in the study of the scriptures resulted in him receiving the highest honor ever received in his area at his ordination.

He moved on to a ministry that has included pastoring and guest preaching in revivals and summer camp meetings for over 20 years.

Prayer for the sick and for those in need of help in any other area of their lives will be offered by Davis.

The public is invited to hear his inspired preaching and teaching. There will be special music and a nursery will be provided.

Local Lutherans attend convention

Mrs. Leroy Budke will be a delegate representing West Texas Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) at the 18th biennial convention of the international league at the Omaha Civic Auditorium, Omaha, Neb., July 16-19.

LWML, an auxiliary of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, has 6,000 local societies with 200,000 members in the United States and Canada. About 6,000 delegates and guests are expected to attend the convention.

Theme for the convention is "Sow the Seed," taken from Mark 4:14. It was chosen for its application to the league and in consideration of the convention site and the "Sower" figure atop of the Nebraska Capitol Building.

Convention speakers will highlight the convention theme. Dr. Oswald J. Hoffman, "Lutheran Hour" speaker, will speak at the opening of the convention Monday evening.

During the convention sessions on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, delegates and guests will hear Rev. David Block of Lexington, Neb., recently returned from the Philippines; Rev. Clifford Horn, missionary on furlough from Japan; and Rev. Robert Gussick, who served in Central America and is now executive director, Lutheran California Baja Mission.

Mrs. Rivers Testke of Philadelphia, Penn., a soprano, will give Christian witness in testimony and song. She will serve as the convention song leader.

Tuesday luncheons will provide opportunity to hear from speakers on specific concerns: Rev. Paul Foust, Ann Arbor, Mich., Evangelism; Mrs. Marie Sump, Clarinda, Iowa, and Rev. Melvin Witt, St. Louis, Mo., World Relief; and Mrs. Marnie Dawson, Greenwich, Conn., Lutheran Refugee Service.

Wednesday, convention speakers Block, Horn and Gussick and their wives will address guests attending the special luncheons.

Mrs. Budke will be accompanied by her husband. They are members of St. Paul Lutheran Church here. She is president of the West Texas LWML which represents Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Andrews, Ft. Stockton, Kermit, Pecos and Monahans.

A Farthing's Worth

The story is told of a soldier in the army of Alexander the Great who was brought before the great world-conqueror for court-martial. When the emperor had listened to the charges and the evidence, he turned to the soldier and said, "What is your name?"

"Alexander," was the reply.

Again the emperor questioned, "What is your name?"

Again the soldier answered, "Alexander."

And when the soldier answered for the third time, "Alexander," the great Alexander angrily replied, "You say your name is Alexander? You are found guilty of your crime as charged, and now you must pay the penalty. EITHER CHANGE YOUR CONDUCT OR CHANGE YOUR NAME! No man can bear the name of Alexander, my name, and do the things you have done."

What about you, my friend? What would the Christ say to you who call yourself a Christian, while your life gives evidence to the contrary?

'Religious faith in action'

Churches provide most relief to refugees

Although it often goes unnoticed, whatever American help is extended to relieve the mounting human tragedy of refugees in Southeast Asia is done largely through religious organizations.

They provide most all of the local sponsorships that are required for admitting the castaways, and have promised to line up such hospitality for as many of the refugees as the government will admit.

"This central role that Protestant, Catholic and Jewish bodies are playing in this massive human calamity is rarely recognized, but it's essential to saving lives," says Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum of the American Jewish Committee.

"It's a great demonstration of religious faith in action."

With thousands fleeing tyrannies in Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam, many to die, starve or drown in the South China Sea, Christian and Jewish forces have joined forces to press for all-out rescue measures.

It's "the greatest humanitarian crisis of this decade," they declared in a joint statement, urging government leaders "to do everything in their power to meet this vast human catastrophe now."

Already, U.S. religious organizations have resettled three-fourths of the 210,000 Indochinese refugees admitted to this country.

Prairie View has revival

Dr. Jerry Pittman, pastor of Greenwood Baptist Church in Midland, will preach a revival at Prairie View Baptist Church, July 15-22.

Pittman holds a Ph.D. in Theology from the Southwestern Seminary.

He works as an assistant part-time chaplain with Chaplain Lee Butler at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Pittman is married and is the father of a boy and girl. The public is invited.

Church sponsors are awaiting others still in detention camps, and pledged to handle all additional refugees allowed in the country.

"The churches and synagogues are experienced hands in resettling refugees, and we're ready to resettle more in their desperate, excruciating plight," says the Rev. George Harkins of the Lutheran Council in the U.S.A.

Religious organizations have been in the business of sponsoring resettlement of outcasts and the homeless throughout this century, including hundreds of thousands after World War

II and in subsequent upheavals around the earth.

All major denominations and interchurch bodies have overseas staffs working with refugees and also departments to arrange sponsorships for finding homes and employment through local congregations.

With thousands now "desperately seeking help" in the "terrible human saga" in Indochina, "we cannot sit idle," says Episcopal Presiding Bishop John M. Allin. He urges the U.S. to use military and civilian aircraft and ships to bring the refugees from overcrowded camps and drifting boats.

Uncounted thousands of refugees already have perished, including about 200,000 boat people drowned at sea, with other thousands dying on the land, doubtlessly including many of the 40,000 Cambodians recently forced back into Cambodia at gunpoint by Thailand to face starvation or execution.

Refugee experts estimate that the tide of refugees will total a half million by fall, a million in a year, and that under present conditions, 50 percent to 70 percent of them would perish.

Hillcrest Baptist hosts concert

Hillcrest Baptist Church, 2000 West FM 700, will host a concert by "The Reflections" of Midland on Wednesday.

The talented musical group, headed by Robbie Barrett, will present a program of musical praise beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Phillip McClendon, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist, invites the public to hear what promises to be an outstanding program at the church.

A nursery will be provided and there is no admission charge. More information is available by calling 263-7127 or 263-8309.

Concentration camp guard stripped of U.S. citizenship

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith hailed the July 2 unanimous decision by the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans directing the revocation of the citizenship of Feodor Fedorenko, a guard at the Treblinka death camp in Poland.

Posing as a Polish refugee, Fedorenko entered the United States in 1949 and was granted citizenship in 1970.

Justin J. Finger, ADL's national civil rights director, said, "We are gratified with the court's decision in this case. We urged the government to appeal because we knew Fedorenko would have been denied American citizenship if he had truthfully completed his application."

The U.S. government initially brought denaturalization proceedings against Fedorenko, now a Miami Beach, Fla., resident, early last year on grounds that his American citizenship application concealed his involvement in the notorious Nazi extermination center.

The federal district court judge who heard the case in Ft. Lauderdale in July, 1978, barred the government from revoking Fedorenko's citizenship following a 15-day trial which heard testimony by survivors who witnessed Fedorenko engaging in atrocities.

"The decision today will undoubtedly be a significant factor in the prosecution of other alleged war criminals," Mr. Finger said, following the appeal.

ADL and the American Jewish Congress filed a friend-of-the-court brief in the case last December, he added.

Pastor opposes abortion law

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A Lutheran Church of Norway pastor strongly opposed to a new law allowing abortion says the king and members of parliament who supported it should be excommunicated.

The Rev. Boerre Knudsen says he will no longer perform civil duties required of pastors in the officially established church. Last year, the church's bishops issued a pastoral letter condemning the new abortion law.

Dear Christian Parent:
 Are you concerned about your God-given authority for training a child in the way they should go? Does your child's current school support what you believe and teach in the home? Can you rest in delegating your authority to those who may not further support your beliefs? WE UNDERSTAND. That's why Big Spring Christian Academy is "THE ALTERNATIVE" for quality education, Christian environment and personal growth and attention. We are enrolling for Fall 1979. Exciting things are happening at The Academy.

BSHS honor graduate receives scholarship

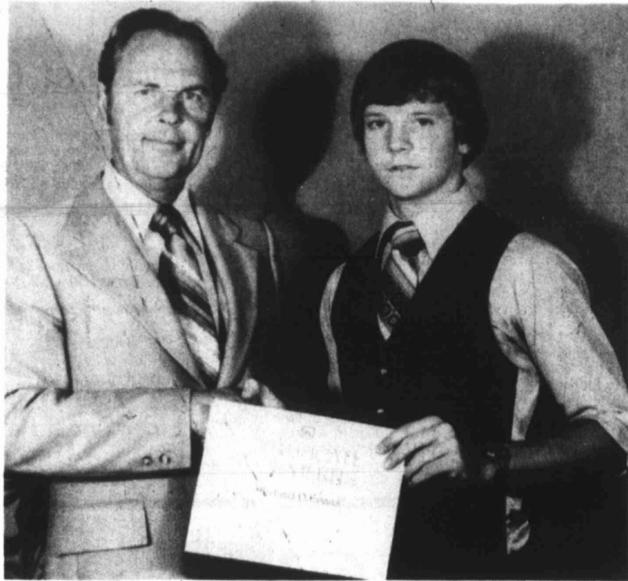

Big Spring High School honor graduate Michael D. Evans today received a scholarship from the S&H Foundation of New York.

S&H area manager Don Wright of Odessa presented the scholarship, a Certificate of Merit for scholastic excellence and a Cross pen and pencil set.

The program is open to children whose parents are employed by retailers giving S&H green stamps. Michael is the son of C.G. Evans.

Michael's qualifications included Who's Who in High School, Dibrell's Football Scholastic Award, Obie Bristow Award and Fellowship of Christian Athletes Award. He plays tennis, baseball and enjoys camping and fishing. He plans to study financing and banking at Howard College in Big Spring.

Some 795 students benefitted from the merchants scholarships since the S&H Foundation began its program in 1964. Evans was one of 47 students in the nation and one of five in Texas to win this year. Johnny Grimes of Monahans, Stephen Graves of Azle, Jana Roberts of Meadow and Angela Bennett of Dallas were the others.

New Insurance plan approved

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City council changed hospitalization insurance carriers for city employees Thursday.

Effective Aug. 1, American Security Insurance Company will assume stewardship of the plan. Blue Cross has had the contract.

The new insurance will cost the city $26.86 per employee per month. The city has been paying Blue Cross $40.97 per month per employee to Blue Cross.

Insurance coverage, is being reduced somewhat, according to Mayor Marion Bassham, because of inflationary pressures.

The city employee will also contribute less, paying $47.20 per employee per month, compared with $65.09 per month at present.

Welfare officials continue search for identity of girl found in Killeen

KILLEEN, Texas (AP) — Welfare officials are at a loss to explain the identity of a little girl found near this Central Texas town 15 days ago.

The little girl — about 4 years old, 40 inches tall, with dark, curly hair and dimples — is called "Kim."

That's because authorities don't know who she really is. "We are stagnant right now. We just don't have any information at all about her," said Lawrence Parker of the Texas Department of Human Resources office in Killeen, which has custody of the lost child.

The girl, who doesn't say much, was found playing alone near a park.

"It's kind of inconceivable that someone could be looking for the child because she has been missing since June 23," Parker said Thursday.

Welfare officials in Central Texas have been working on the case since residents of an apartment complex near the Long Branch Park found the little girl. At the time, the dark-complexioned child was wearing green shorts and a white print blouse.

Officials say Kim has not been able to help much. "The child is not really very vocal. Sometimes if I were to ask her a question she would only repeat my question over and over to herself," Parker said.

He said they have driven her through several neighborhoods in the Long Branch Park area in hopes of jogging her memory, but to no avail. Parker said because Kim appears to be part Oriental, he brought in foreign language interpreters to try to communicate with her — but that didn't work either.

"We don't run into many situations like this," Parker said. "Normally, a missing child is reported gone to someone in about an hour. And usually the children can give us some information about themselves."

"Something has to break sooner or later," he added. "Sometime, somehow we will get something."

TAKE ME OUT TO THE MELEE — Some of 7,000 fans of a 50,000-fan crowd storm field at Chicago's White Sox Park Thursday night during an Anti-Disco Night promotion by local radio station. Bonfire in center field and blowing up of disco records caused umpires to rule field unfit for play. Detroit won first game, 4-1.

In anti-disco bonfire

Rampaging fans force cancellation of second Tiger-White Sox game

CHICAGO (AP) — It began as a baseball game on a sticky summer night and erupted into a melee of 7,000 rampaging fans over come by Thursday night fever.

The ruckus at Comiskey Park forced the cancellation of the second game of a double-header between the Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers. It wasn't bad pitching that incited the mob to storm the field between games. It was disco.

Thousands of people, mostly teen-agers, had been drawn to the ballpark by a White Sox-sponsored anti-disco night. Admission was reduced to 98 cents provided each fan brought a disco record.

But the "Disco Demolition Night," a gimmick dreamed up by the White Sox promotional department and a local disc jockey, Steve Dahl, who promised to blow up the records between games, backfired.

Midway in the first game, which the Tigers won 4-1, records began spinning from the stands onto the field.

Pandemonium finally broke out halfway through the between-games break after Dahl performed his disco demolition ritual. Fans, some of them waving anti-disco banners, began overrunning the field, pulling up bases, setting small fires and destroying the batting cage.

"It was the sickest thing I've ever seen in my life," said White Sox pitcher Ross Baumgarten. "I didn't know people could have such little regard for other people's safety."

Police said 39 persons were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. One of those arrested was charged with aggravated assault with a knife, police said, adding that many of those in the mob were intoxicated. No serious injuries were reported.

"This is the worst night not only in my recollection, but in the recollection of other men who have been working here for 25 years," said Lt. Robert Reilly, head of the police detail that patrols outside the park during games. "It's as bad as the night the Beatles were here."

White Sox President Bill Veeck said he had anticipated a turnout of between 30,000 and 35,000. "But they just kept coming and we finally had to close the gates," he said.

Veeck estimated the crowd at 50,000 to 55,000, the largest since he took over the team in 1976. About 10,000 fans were turned away at the gate, and most of whom remained outside the park, he said.

Veeck announced that the game would be made up as part of a double-header Sunday, but Tigers Manager Sparky Anderson disagreed and said, "There will be no double-header Sunday."

The second game should have started at 8:46 p.m. but at that time the field was flooded with people running around. While banners burned in center field, Veeck went onto the field and pleaded over the public address system for the crowd to go to their seats. It didn't help.

Once the crowd had left the field, it took another hour to clear it of debris in an effort to get it in playing condition.

It was then that the umpires, headed by crew chief Dave Phillips, declared the field unplayable and the game was called.

Britz, Massey share lead in US Women's Open

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — It's a familiar place for Jerilyn Britz; she only hopes it lasts.

The Minnesota golfer shares the first round lead in the $125,000 U.S. Women's Open with Debbie Massey. Both shot one-under-par 70s

Thursday. Britz had the lead in last week's Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament at Noblesville, Ind. with two holes to play, only to see it fade away. Hollis Stacy won the $15,000 first prize in a playoff.

"I was really lucky today," the 36-year-old Britz said, pointing out that she had to make five crucial putts to save par, including one on the 18th hole.

While she has yet to post a victory on the women's tour, Britz has won $36,100 this year. Stacy is in a six-way tie for third place in the oldest women's professional tournament, one stroke back. Jane Blalock, Pam Higgins, Cathy Morse, Sandra Spuzich and Sally Little also matched par 71.

McEnroe takes tough win

NEW YORK (AP) — John McEnroe got by India's Vijay Amritraj 6-2, 1-6, 6-1 in the $300,000 Forest Hills Invitational, but was nonetheless eliminated from the round-robin competition.

Eddie Dibbs beat Sandy Mayer 6-2, 6-2, to spoil McEnroe's chance at gaining the wild-card berth in the semifinals. In other action, Victor Pecci outlasted Australia's John Alexander 7-6, 1-6, 7-6, while Wojtek Fibak downed Vitas Gerulaitis 6-2, 6-2.

Wendall Sadler resigns as BSHS tennis coach

Wendall Sadler, tennis coach at Big Spring High School the past two years, resigned his position with the local school system Monday to take a similar post with Texas High School in Texarkana, Texas.

Sadler, who helped the local netters achieve third place the past year and in the process was named the 5-AAAA Coach of the Year, will assume his position on August 1 at the northeast Texas school.

Sadler related that he was not leaving with any negative feelings toward the Big Spring school system, but that the Texarkana offer was simply too good to bypass. "I felt like this was a good time and opportunity for my wife and I to make a move," Sadler stated yesterday afternoon. "The school system and their tennis program at Texarkana is fantastic. The athletic director, James Moffatt, has informed me that I will be able to help design a new facility exclusively for the high school tennis players."

The facility Sadler is referring to include eight tennis courts, with a separate dressing room for the high school netters, all on the Texarkana High campus.

Another factor that definitely influenced Sadler's decision was that he will be in total charge of the tennis program there, as was not the case here. Both of the junior highs in Texarkana have two tennis courts, and Sadler will have two class periods a day to devote to teaching the increasingly popular sport to this age group. He will also have three periods a day of tennis instruction to devote to his junior varsity and varsity netters on the varsity level at the high school. Sadler will have no classroom instruction.

A successor to Sadler has not been named thus far.

'I'm a Pepper' Women's Tourney begins tomorrow

This weekend softball action may be seen at Johnny Stone ballpark for the YMCA "I'm a Pepper" Open Women's slowpitch Tournament. Play begins at 9:00 Saturday morning. The last game for that day should begin at 11:00 p.m. Finals will begin play Sunday afternoon.

The YMCA and Dr. Pepper Company are the sponsors of the tournament. "I'm a Pepper" tee shirts were provided by the Dr. Pepper Company, thanks to Mike Hall from Midland. Both sponsors hope to make this tournament an annual event. Awards will be given to the top three teams. Sponsors of these trophies were Jo-Boy's Restaurant, Barber Glass and Mirror, and Rip Griffin's Truck Stop, and 15 individual first place trophies were donated by Sheppard Funeral Home, The Citizens Federal Credit Union sponsored the Gold Glove and Most Valuable Players trophy.

The tournament is double elimination. Each game will have an hour limit. Game cancellation will come only at the discretion of the umpires due to weather. Women in the tournament will have access to the Women's Health Center during the regular time designated to women health center members on Saturday.

The brackets were drawn up by Mike Scarbrough Thursday morning. The teams entered from Big Spring are Big Spring Savings Association, coached by Bill Battle; C&G coached by Manuel Gutierrez; Silver Streak, coached by Leo Gatson; YMCA coached by Jimmy Hensley; Signal Mountain Home, coached by Tommy White, and Bad News Bears coached by Thomas Louis.

Out of town teams include the Weebles from San Angelo; T.I. from Lubbock; Mesa Lions and Happy Days from Lamesa; the Loriane Women's Softball Team; Lamesa Merchants and a team from Colorado City.

CEDENO SAFE ON STEAL—Cesar Cedeno, (28) of the Astros safely reaches second base on a steal. Tim Foli, (10) short stop for the Pirates, is unable to latch onto a throw from the catcher, Ed Ott during the first inning Thursday night at the Astro dome in Houston. Cedeno went on to score for the Astros on a Jose Cruz double. The Pirates won the game 5-3.

Ellis' muscle propels Rangers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — John Ellis is playing for the Texas Rangers this year because Pat Corrales believed in him.

And after the Rangers beat the Kansas City Royals Thursday night because of John Ellis, he and Pat Corrales were two happy fellows.

"Pat is the one who gave me the chance to play," Ellis said. The well-traveled blond batted two-run home runs in the first and third innings to carry the Rangers to a 6-2 victory.

"I was very close to not playing for Texas. But Pat believed in me."

A nine-year major league veteran, used alternately as a part-time catcher, first baseman and pinch-hitter, Ellis suffered a horrendous ankle fracture in 1976.

"His ankle was just hanging on by ligaments," said Corrales, Texas' first-year manager. "It took him two years to get right. He's really fortunate today that he can walk. I've never seen such a fracture."

When the Rangers went to spring training this year, the thinking in the organization was that John Ellis did not figure into the plans.

"When I got this job," Corrales said, "I made up my mind we were going to carry his bat because I knew he could hit. And, he's returned the confidence."

To help keep him on the team, Corrales named Ellis a player-coach, and designated him the bullpen coach.

"I'm sure that some day he's going to have to take me out of the lineup because I'm not hitting," Ellis said. "But we'll cross that bridge when we come to it. I firmly believe it was Pat's faith in me that kept me in baseball."

Ellis' two homers off Larry Gura, 5-7, were nothing new to the Royals, who are suffering through their most horrid slump since 1974. So far this year the Royals' staggering pitching staff has given up 100 of the long balls, and most astonishing, 50 in the last 28 games. The loss plunged the defending American League West Champions to two games below .500, their 12th setback in 13 games.

Lasorda running out of excuses

"I've run out of excuses," Tommy Lasorda moaned. "I've used them all up."

Lasorda's misery is understandable. He's the manager of:

- (a) the National League's defending champions,
- (b) the National League's worst team, or,
- (c) both of the above.

The answer, of course, is (c). The Los Angeles Dodgers, losers of six of their last eight games and 12 of their last 15, hit a new low Thursday night, sinking 18 games under .500 under the weight of a 12-5 loss to the New York Mets, who'd had the league's worst record before the Dodgers showed up.

"A rout's a rout," said Mets catcher John Stearns. "That's all there is to it."

The game was, in effect, over after one inning. At that point the Mets led 8-0. It was the biggest first-inning in Mets history and the most runs scored against the Dodgers in one inning this season.

Cubs 10, Reds 8

Steve Dillard's tie-breaking single and pitcher Bruce Sutter's two-run single in a rain-delayed five-run ninth inning propelled the Cubs past Cincinnati and within 3½ games of the first-place Expos in the East. The game was delayed 2½ hours at the start and again for 1:11 in the top of the ninth after Chicago had scored its five runs.

George Foster drove in four runs for the Reds with a two-run single in Cincinnati's five-run fourth inning and his 20th homer in the sixth. The four RBI gave him the league lead with 72, three ahead of Chicago's injured Dave Kingman.

Giants 5, Expos 3

Dennis Littlejohn drove in three runs with a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly and Jack Clark slugged his 17th homer as San Francisco became the season's first team to sweep a series in Montreal. The Expos have dropped three in a row.

Andre Dawson doubled and singled to drive in two of Montreal's runs. The other one came on Gary Carter's 14th homer.

Pirates 5, Astros 3

Houston's slide continued as the Astros, leaders in the West, dropped their sixth straight game, but remained 5½ games ahead of the Reds.

Willie Stargell hit a solo homer for Pittsburgh in the fourth inning, then Bill Madlock hit a two-run shot in the seventh, his first homer for the Pirates since being obtained from San Francisco.

Bert Blyleven got the victory with help from Kent Tekulve, who notched his 13th save.

Tigers 4, White Sox 1

Comiskey Park was really rockin' Thursday night. So much so, in fact, that the White Sox and Tigers couldn't finish their dance.

Detroit beat Chicago 4-1 in the opener of their scheduled two-night double-header, a routine contest in which unbeaten rookie Pat Underwood won his fourth straight game. An Anti-Disco Night promotion followed, staged by Steve Dahl, a local disc jockey who professes to hate disco music.

Yankees 14, Mariners 2

Willie Randolph had four hits, drove in four runs and slammed a three-run homer, and Reggie Jackson also homered as the Yankees broke a seven-game losing streak in the Kingdome.

"I don't believe in all this hex stuff," said Randolph. "It's just that the Mariners get super up for the Yankees. We're the world champions, after all."

If the Yankees want to repeat their titles of the last two seasons, they'll need ace reliever Rich Gossage, who returned to action against the Mariners, pitching the ninth inning.

Brewers 5, Blue Jays 3

Dick Davis belted a three-run homer to pace Milwaukee. Sixto Lezcano also homered in helping Moose Haas even his record at 6-6.

John Mayberry had his 15th homer for Toronto.

Phillies 4, Padres 3

Bake McBride hit a tie-breaking, eighth-inning sacrifice fly to give Steve Carlton his third straight victory and 11th of the year.

Carlton struck out five batters to boost his career total to 2,583, past Bob Feller and into a tie with Warren Spahn for 10th place on the all-time major league list.

US continues Pan Am domination

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Coach Bobby Knight headed for municipal court today to face trial on aggravated assault charges, hours before he was to direct the United States men's basketball team on a gold medal showdown in the Pan American Games with Puerto Rico.

Meanwhile, United States Olympic Committee spokesmen predicted the U.S. gold medal count, which stood at 93 entering today's action at this eighth edition of the hemispheric Olympics, would climb to an all-time record 125 by the close of competition here Sunday.

The Americans expected to reap a bumper crop of medals today and Saturday as sports such as freestyle wrestling, tennis, boxing, sailing and track and field wound down to conclusion.

U.S. athletes collected three of Thursday's eight gold medals, with big victories in the men's and women's 400-meter runs and singles tennis.

Dark-horse Tony Darden of Norristown, Pa., came from out of nowhere to make up 10 yards in the final strides and beat Cuban powerhouse Alberto Juantorena in the men's 400.

Darden said Juantorena's loss, his second in three days, emphasized "He's getting old. Now it's my turn..."

In the controversial women's 400, Sharon Dabney, Philadelphia, nipped Guyana's June Griffith as the two lunged headlong for the finish line. Two protests by the Guyanese, accusing Dabney of leaving her lane and disputing the interpretation of the photo finish, were turned down.

Susan Hagey, LaJolla, Calif., beat teammate Trey Lewis, San Pedro, Calif., 3-6, 6-0, 6-2 to win the women's singles gold medal.

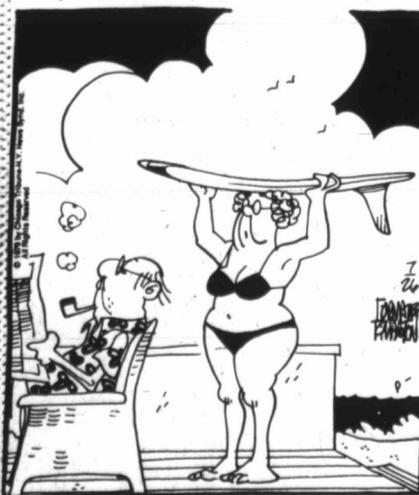

In boxing, however, another legendary Cuban, heavyweight Teofilo Stevenson, had little trouble with his American opponent, Bubba Hadley, Camp LeJeune, N.C., lasted only until 1 minute, 39 seconds into the first round before being knocked out by the awesome Stevenson.

In other semifinals bouts, the Americans all advanced — bantamweight Jackie Beard, Jackson, Tenn., junior welterweight Lemuel Steeles, St. Louis, junior middleweight James Shuler, Philadelphia, and light heavy Tony Tucker, Grand Rapids, Mich. — into Saturday night's finals.

In basketball, Mike Woodson was switched from forward to guard to replace the injured Kyle Macy and hit for 29 points as the U.S. team trounced Brazil 106-88. It was the eighth consecutive victory in the round-robin tournament for the Americans, a record matched only by the host Puerto Ricans.

The basically unheralded Puerto Ricans rallied furiously to pull out some of their victories, but their steady improvement showed Thursday night in a 109-75 thrashing of Argentina. Puerto Rico trailed early, then blew the Argentinians out after taking a 63-61 lead.

Ali, Alzado meet in exhibition tomorrow

PROCLAIMING — Muhammad Ali does some big talking during weigh-in for July 14th exhibition boxing match with Lyle Alzado, right, defensive end for the Denver Broncos. At left is Monique St. Pierre, Playboy's Playmate of the Year, who assisted in Thursday's weigh-in.

DENVER (AP) — Muhammad Ali and Denver Broncos' All-Pro defensive end Lyle Alzado pranced and danced, punched the air, wrestled and vowed their eight-round exhibition bout on Saturday would turn Mile High Stadium into a slaughterhouse.

The retired heavyweight champion and the eight-year National Football League veteran weighed in Thursday at a private athletic club in downtown Denver.

The 6 foot, 3 inch Alzado, who fought 44 bouts as a Golden Gloves heavyweight, weighed first. Wearing red, white and blue boxing trunks and light jogging shoes, he was recorded at 243½ pounds, several pounds under his football playing weight.

The 30-year-old New York native thanked reporters, fight promoters and onlookers for "having faith in me."

"I promise that when this fight takes place on Saturday I'll give him all the hell he can handle," the bearded grid star said.

Ali entered the room about 15 minutes later in a dark business suit. He shouted insults at Alzado, calling him a "big, fat football player," proclaiming himself the greatest, and saying the promoters of the bout "got to be crazy."

"I've beat the baddest black fighters in the world, and they're putting me in with a football player," he sneered.

The 37-year-old Ali at first refused to be weighed but later took off his suit coat, stepped on the scale, and was reported at 234½.

The two swapped insults and tried to look serious for television interviewers.

The fight card is scheduled for 1 p.m. at the stadium, where the Broncos play their home games.

Marriages of sports stars isn't easy

Rigby: 'It takes a lot of understanding on both sides, allowing of personal egos'

By The Associated Press
There is a volatile element in the chemistry of athletes that generally doesn't mix. Marriages between sports stars often have a rocky start and wind up on the rocks.

Not that of tiny Cathy Rigby, America's most celebrated gymnast, and big Tommy Mason, an 11-year veteran in the National Football League.

It isn't easy. It takes a lot of patience and understanding on both sides, swallowing of personal egos," Cathy was saying here this week.

supporter in my career." Cathy, a doll-like figure who stands only 4 foot 11 and weighs but 88 pounds, met the 6-2, 200-pound Mason, a graduate of Tulane, when he was with the Los Angeles Rams in 1970.

"I am gone quite a bit," ABC and asked him to give me a broadcasting tryout." And little Buck — will he be a pro griddier or a gymnast? "Neither," said Cathy. "He loves baseball. He'll be another Joe DiMaggio."

HAS CAREER AND MARRIAGE — Former Olympic gymnast Cathy Rigby smiles as she sits in a New York restaurant Wednesday. Despite a demanding career, Rigby is happily married to former professional football player Tommy Mason. "It takes a lot of patience and understanding on both sides," she said.

They were married Jan. 20, 1973. Mason retired from football 4½ months later after stints with the Minnesota Vikings, Rams and Washington Redskins. He took a flogging at law and then went into business for himself. They now have a son, Buck, aged 4, and maintain a home in Southern California.

Stevenson quickly KO's Hadley

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Cuba's Teofilo Stevenson needed only one minute and 39 seconds to dispose of brash young American Bubba Hadley in boxing action at the Pan American Games.

Oilers ink Mike Stensrud

HOUSTON (AP) — Defensive end Mike Stensrud — the Houston Oilers' first selection in the 1979 pro football rookie draft — has signed a five-year contract with the team.

"I left that (contract terms) up to Randy (Hendricks, his agent) and I think he did a pretty good job," Stensrud said.

possible and we can't blame him for that." Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Dempsey takes Houston AD post

HOUSTON (AP) — Cedric Dempsey, athletic director at San Diego State for only four months, has resigned that position to accept a similar position at the University of Houston.

Houston has "one of the finest athletic programs in the country." University of Houston Central Campus Chancellor Barry Munitz was to introduce Dempsey today following a two-month search for a replacement for Harry Fouke, who is retiring after 34 years at the Southwest Conference school.

Dempsey said one of his first duties at UH would be to advertise for a new women's athletic director to replace Dr. Sue Garrison, who also is retiring.

DENNIS THE MENACE

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 14, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is good for social, mental or spiritual expansion and for getting more in tune with the various situations you want to know more about. Then, in the afternoon and evening you are able to prepare for a big day tomorrow.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan a wiser course for the days ahead. Come to right decisions. Go after the knowledge you require. Take no risks with money, possessions.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to please your good friends. Later meet with a good adviser and plan the future better. New situations arise that can bring fine benefits to you. Be careful of a much older person.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle outside matters early and then go after social pleasures. Improve your credit before you go out for fun. Be on time for any appointments you make.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be inspired in the morning and then handle any community work that is to your liking. Look to new acquaintances for ideas to make the future better for yourself.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be sure to carry through with promises made and then delve into whatever interests you. Avoid one who talks too much and could wear you down.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Complete arrangements with partners before you go out to other interests. Handle an upcoming problem as best you can. Show that you are devoted to loved ones.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make your home more charming and then do some entertaining there, discuss mutual interests. Cooperate with fellow workers more and get much done. Show more devotion to family.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) First get your work done and then join with good friends socially. Put creative ideas to work. Plan time to schedule activities for the week ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Discuss mutual plans with kin before going off to amusements you like. Put finest talents to work. Get foundational affairs in order early.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make calls to friends and relations and then look about your home and improve conditions there. Be precise in handling correspondence. Plan to take some course of study that will help you in the future.

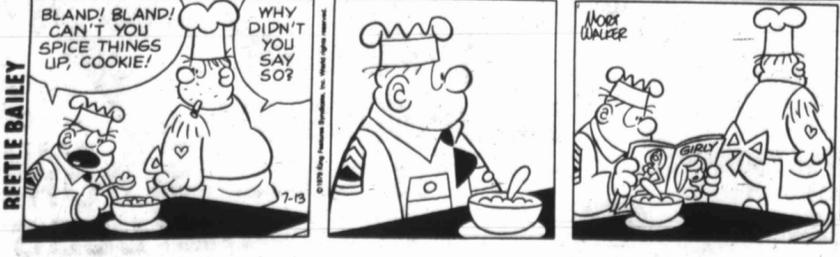

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handling important affairs early is wise. Then get matters cleared up with your relatives. Plan repairs to property. Don't neglect writing important letters.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Handle personal affairs early and then get down to practical tasks. Study social matters before you make business appointments.

Melody Choate, Driste Taylor represent Howard County

The Howard County 4-Hers journeyed to Fort Stockton recently to participate in the District 6 4-H Horse Show.

Melody Choate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Choate, and Driste Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, represented Howard County 4-H club in the event.

Over 130 entries participated for buckles and winners in each event will participate in the State 4-H Horse Show July 24-28 in Odessa.

Nature's own cooling system slashes costs

COLLEGE STATION - One of the best ways to cut air-conditioning costs in the hot summer months is with nature's own cooling system says a Texas A&U University scientist.

In a research project examining low-cost energy-saving techniques, forest science Professor Dr. Robert Dewers points out that the proper positioning of shade trees can substantially reduce power consumption by air-conditioners.

"We know a tree canopy will reduce temperatures in the air beneath the tree," Dewers said. "Of course, it takes more than one tree to have a very substantial effect."

Because air-conditioning accounts for more than 19 percent of all residential energy use in Texas - compared with the national average of 4.4 percent - Dewers' advice to homeowners is to plant more trees and protect the ones that are already there.

What Dewers calls nature's air-conditioner, the tree doesn't so much air-condition as reduce solar radiation that can make indoor temperatures reach a sweltering point very quickly. Sunlight pouring through a closed window will take on a "greenhouse effect" raising the temperature inside as heat is absorbed. Absorbed heat also can be collected in walls and the roof as well.

Trees that provide high shade can block off this build-up of solar-radiation, said Ray Rudie, a graduate student who works with Dewers.

Some rapid-growing trees like the cottonwood and the willow can reach 15 feet in less than three years. More hardy varieties that are also fast growing are the pecan and Shumard oak.

Rudie says these fast-growing trees are not always the most desirable because of their shorter life spans and susceptibility to disease, but they can be planted until sturdier varieties are grown.

Other factors affecting air-conditioning costs are color of the house and roof, and the amount of insulation already in the house. A white roof will reflect much more heat than it will absorb.

Rudie said a good place for shading is on the west side of the house where trees can block the late afternoon sun and adjacent to the house where they can block the noon sun.

Conservation practices

The Howard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Committee has authorized a continual sign up period for the remainder of the 1979 program year for conservation practices.

These practices are detailed in the Agricultural Conservation Program Handbook.

Among the practices to be found are rootplowing, dozing, chaining of brush, seeding, terraces, stock tanks, livestock pipelines and water wells and waterways.

The county committee will take applications at any time from the present until Sept. 15. However, each application will be acted upon each time the committee meets which is once a month. There is $3,540, which will be distributed as the committee determines needed. Therefore it is important that an applicant sign up as soon as possible. The applicant should be ready to start the practice as soon as approved by the committee and should also be able to finish by the reporting deadline given by the committee.

Any questions concerning the program should be directed to the ASCS Office, Room 208 of the Federal Building, phone 267-2557.

Funds hearing slated July 30

STANTON - A proposed use hearing of Revenue Sharing Funds for Martin County during Period 11 will be held Monday, July 30, at 10 a.m., in the commissioners' court room in Stanton.

The amount of money available for proposed use will be $81,717.

Anyone desiring to propose a use should be present for the meeting, according to Jimmy Mathis, county judge.

WHEE! - Despite its appearance, this is no futuristic ride at a carnival. John Warren, a supervisor at Tenneco's Petro-Tex Chemical Corporation, is high above ground, all right, but he is descending from the top of a large storage tank.

No trace of oil found near Tampico waters

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) - A U.S. Coast Guard aircraft swept Mexican coastal waters for six hours Thursday, but found no trace of oil in the 13,200 square mile area it searched north of Tampico.

Before an overheating battery forced the aircraft to land, it made four passes over the coast from Brownsville to Tampico. Each pass covered 50 kilometers.

The crew reported finding two small oil slicks, but said there was no sign of the massive oil slick from a runaway Mexican offshore well.

After the battery was replaced today, the aircraft was to fly farther south to chart the oil slick, which is 300 miles long and 25 miles wide.

The Coast Guard at New Orleans said there has been no new word on the position of the slick since Tuesday, when the Cutter Durable reported it 360 miles south of Brownsville.

Now there's a cotton insecticide additive that makes sure worms eat your insecticide.

New Gustol is the spray tank additive specially formulated for use with a viral insecticide like Elcar® and B.t. insecticides like Thuricide®.

Biological insecticides must be eaten to be effective. And Gustol makes sure bollworms and budworms eat your insecticide. Not just a little but a lot. When that happens, you know your insecticide is going to do what you sprayed it to do. Kill worms.

This is no fluke. Gustol has been researched and put through extensive testing for the past three years by Sandoz, a company that never introduces a product until tests prove it works!

Agnew writing second
 OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Spiro T. Agnew is alive and well and writing his second novel in this resort city.
 In a brief interview published in Thursday's Baltimore News American, the former vice president said he plans to spend the summer in his luxury condominium working on his book. He declined to discuss its contents, but added, "Maybe I can say more in the fall."
 His first book — "The Canfield Decision" — was published in 1976 and enjoyed moderate sales.

Sculptor cancels visit
 ROCKLAND, Maine (AP) — Sculptor Louise Nevelson, apparently upset "that art was destroyed," has canceled her stay at the Samoset Resort, her brother says.
 The resort demolished a 25-foot Bernard Langlais wood sculpture last month after trying unsuccessfully to sell it. Samoset manager William Manger said it was done to make room for shrubbery.
 "She is upset at the fact that art was destroyed," Nathan Berliawsky said Thursday.
 The 79-year-old artist was in Rockland to prepare for a major exhibition of her work at the Farnsworth Museum.

Actor awarded $280,000
 DETROIT (AP) — A judge has awarded $280,000 to actor John Gavin, who says he was hurt financially by a newspaper article linking him to the wife of an auto industry executive.
 The default judgment in the 1975 lawsuit was handed down Wednesday in Wayne County Circuit Court against Los Angeles publicist Jay Bernstein. Gavin blamed Bernstein for a syndicated newspaper story linking Gavin romantically with Detroit area socialite Dollie Cole.
 At the time, she was married to General Motors Corp. President Edward N. Cole, who later died in a plane crash.

'Most hated' sworn in MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., once called the "most hated man in Alabama," has been sworn in as the newest member of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.
 Johnson has been hailed by Attorney General Griffin Bell as the "role model" for federal judges in the United States. He was once called the "most hated man in Alabama" for his landmark civil rights decisions during the 1950s and 1960s.
 President Carter had nominated Johnson for FBI director, but the judge withdrew, citing a health problem that required time to overcome.

Songwriter sued
 NEW YORK (AP) — The songwriter who composed such works as "My Fair Lady" and "Gigi" has been ordered to appear in court to show why he should not be held in contempt for failing to answer a court questionnaire about his finances.
 Alan Jay Lerner was named in an action filed by A La Vieille Russie, a Russian art jewelry and antique dealer on Fifth Avenue, claiming Lerner owes $19,146 for a diamond necklace.

Rabies death confirmed
Young boy becomes third

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — An 8-year-old boy's 35-day struggle for life has come to an end. Gerardo Castano has become the third young victim of a rabies outbreak in the Southwest Texas border area where he lived.
 Castano, a Mexican who was living in Eagle Pass, died Thursday of a cardiac arrest, said Jack Finger, spokesman at Santa Rosa Medical Center in San Antonio.
 "There will be no autopsy," Finger said. "His doctor is convinced the cause of death was rabies."
 Finger said the boy's body has been returned to Piedras Negras at his family's request.
 The young Castano, who was bitten on the right hand by his father's pet dog in Piedras Negras, Mexico, had been hospitalized since June 8. Finger said the boy had been "in a deep coma" almost during his entire hospital stay.
 The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta confirmed his ailment as rabies on June 29.
 Marianita Garza, 8, last week became the first Texan to die of rabies contracted in the state in a decade. The child, who was bitten by a rabid dog May 31 in Eagle Pass, had completed the painful 21-shot rabies vaccination series in late June.
 Mexican health officials said a 9-year-old girl died last month in Piedras Negras, just across the border from Eagle Pass, after contracting rabies.
 Sister Angela Moran, Santa Rosa's executive director, said the hospital staff extended "prayers and deepest sympathy" to the families of the rabies victims.
 "We join with the family members in the prayerful hope that through these terrible tragedies ... measures will be taken to prevent recurrence of this dreaded disease," she said.
 City officials in Eagle Pass have worked feverishly on procedures aimed at preventing further human infection with the almost always fatal disease.
 Veterinarians are continuing a door-to-door drive to vaccinate pets in Eagle Pass.
 Officials estimated Thursday afternoon that about 420 pets have been inoculated after the first two days of the program.
 City Manager Roberto Gonzalez, who said the drive could last through today, estimated that 85 percent of the city's animals would be vaccinated.

Costa Rica refugees operation aid asked

The two refugee camps in which the Salvation Army is involved in Costa Rica continue to expand. The Salvation Army's responsibility continues to mount.
 Commissioner Arthur Pitcher, Territorial Commander, has agreed to purchase much-needed radio equipment for communication between the two camps and from the Salvation Army Headquarters in the Western Territory. This radio equipment will be installed by Captain Musgrave while he is in Costa Rica.
 Major George Duplain of the Western Territory will be flying to Costa Rica for a first-hand inspection tour, which will give us a little better understanding of what the total needs are.
 Big Spring and area residents wishing to assist The Salvation Army in this Refugee operation may do so by calling Lt. Bill Thrasher, local Salvation Army Commander, at 267-0141, or mailing contributions to The Salvation Army, P.O. Box 1248, Big Spring, TX 79720.
 The Southern Territory is sending personnel to assist in the camps. Captain and Mrs. Fred Musgrave, Major Steve Weaver and Brigadier Luther Smith will all be serving for the month of July. Replacements will be going in on August 1st.
 There has been a plea from Major Bernard Smith, Costa Rica Regional Commander, for tents and cots. The Western Territory, under the leadership of Major George Duplain, is conducting a drive this Sunday, July 15, hopefully to secure 1,000 tents, 5,000 cots and 1,000 hand tools. These items will be flown from the West Coast to Miami by Eastern Airlines.
 More than 6,000 lbs. of medical supplies are being flown from the West Coast to Miami by Delta Airlines. This will be transported on to Costa Rica by Pan American Airlines.
