Oil-stained beaches sparsely populated

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — Few Labor Day weekend vacationers ventured into the surf Saturday despite sunny weather and efforts to strip away an overnight oil accumulation along the usually crowded Hotel Row area of this tourist community.

"There's suppose to be about 80,000 here on a normal Labor Day weekend and there's nowhere near that," Coast Guard spokesman Mark Kennedy said at Port Isabel.

Crews with shovels and dump trucks tried to scoop up brown Mexican oil from public parks in the Corpus Christi area on Texas' mid coast and along a five-mile stretch on South Padre Island on the southern tip of the state.

The effort was to help boost the local tourist industry, which is expecting losses of 50 per cent or more this weekend.

The latest oil staining from a Mexican runaway well washed up Friday and hampered crews who had already covered the same ground earlier this week.

However, some beachgoers refused to let tar balls turn them away from a weekend at the seashore.

"We've been planning this for a long time, a year," said Jane Williams of Dallas. She and her husband Bill traveled with another couple from Tulsa, Okla., to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversaries, which came a week apart.

Tom Dezinque of Tulsa said oil deposits out in the surf are the worst problems, not new oil lapping ashore. At the plush Bahia Mar front office, Martha Estes estimated only 40 to 45 percent occupancy in the 350 hotel and condominium units.

"There's really not that many people," she said. "It's considerably less than normal."

About a 20-foot-to 30-foot-wide oil deposit marred the sand following the latest washup. This still left clean sandy beach between it and the hotels.

Kennedy said six crews concentrated on a mile and a half of beaches in front of the large hotels and resorts.

Along Mustang Island and other beaches near Corpus Christi some 100 workers scoured the shoreline.

$12,000 DONATION — Reba Baker, executor of the Guion Pool Keating Estate, presented a check to Lt. William Thrasher of the Salvation Army for the amount of $12,000, Friday. The money is in response to an appeal for more funds put out by Thrasher two weeks ago. Friday's donation brings the amount to $16,000. All funds received from this appeal will be used for the local Big Spring chapter. Also at the presentation were A. J. Prager (left), treasurer of the board of directors of the Salvation Army and Warden Mayes, immediate past president of the board of directors of the Salvation Army.

Howard County Fair

Something for everyone

There'll be a little something for everyone in this year's Howard County Fair, scheduled Sept. 17 through the 22, on the fairgrounds in western Big Spring.

The program will include agricultural exhibits, a barrow show and sale, a midway, commercial exhibits, contests, entertainment, a petting zoo, a horse show complete with roping, a pet show, special events, a steer and heifer show, women's exhibits and a lapidary exhibit.

Cash prizes, ribbons and merchandise will be awarded.

J. Arnold Marshall is president of the fair this year while Loyd Underwood and Jimmy Bailey are serving as vice-presidents, Geraldine Posey as secretary-treasurer and Delbert Donelson as past president.

Neal Fryar is the general superintendent, Skipper Driver as the assistant superintendent. June Nichols will be in charge of the agricultural division, Marshall of the operations division, Underwood of the special exhibits and Lavern Gaskins of the women's division. Ruth Mitchell will be the secretary-manager while Bailey will be the building manager.

Admission prices will be $1 for persons 12 and over, 25 cent for children 6 through 11. Children under six will be admitted free.

Terry Patterson will be in charge of the art division and will have Mrs. Howard Armstrong as the co-chairwoman. A limit of two paintings will be allowed each exhibitor. The winners will be determined by a qualified judge. Oils, acrylics, water colors, graphics, pastels and mixed media can be entered.

The crafts and hobby division will be in charge of Mrs. Calvin Hughes and Mr. J. G. Mitchell. The culinary division will be directed by Mrs. R. D. Soles (baked goods), and Mrs. L. J. Davidson, Mrs. Alvis Jeffcoat and Mrs. Ronald Fuqua (canned goods).

Mrs. Jerry Roman will have charge of the clothing division and Mrs. B. A. Bunn of Handwork in the Textile Division.

The Big Spring Kennel Club will take an active role in the fair's pet show, scheduled Friday, Sept. 21, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs will again supervise the flower show. Lavern Hill will be the general chairman and Mrs. Paul Guy the staging chairman.

Agricultural prospects are excellent in Howard County and fair officials are expecting this to be one of the best ever held.

Social Security---6

Facts especially for women

By WILLIAM STEIF

(Sixth of 14 parts)

One of the most common questions concerning Social Security is: What happens if both husband and wife work?

That question is common today because — unlike the 1930s when Social Security was founded — half the nation's women are in the work force.

What the wife in a working couple gets out of Social Security depends on both her salary history and her husband's.

Without doing paid work, the wife is entitled to a benefit half as large as her husband's at age 65. But if her own earnings history entitles her to an age 65 benefit greater than what she'd get as her husband's dependent, she gets the higher benefit.

If her earnings history entitles her to a benefit lower than the age-65 wife's benefit, she technically gets her own worker's benefit plus the difference between that amount and the dependent's benefit. That can make a big difference if, for example, her husband loses his Social Security by working after age 65.

With something like one in three American marriages ending in divorce these days, another question arises: Does the divorced wife of a Social Security beneficiary get anything from the system?

The answer is yes — if the couple was married at least 10 years, the former husband is retired or dead, and she has applied or reapplied after December 1978.

The eligible divorced wife gets an amount equal to 50 percent of her ex-husband's benefit, assuming that both have met the age requirements.

And if the divorced husband remarries, his second wife also qualifies for the wife's benefit when she reaches retirement age.

Social Security authorities say it is possible for one retired worker to wind up with four or five ex-wives receiving a wife's benefit.

Example: A working chap marries at 20, divorces and remarries at 30, divorces and remarries at 40, divorces and remarries at 50, divorces and remarries at 60. If he takes his normal retirement at 65 and divorces once again at 70, he could then have five ex-wives, each drawing 50 percent of his retirement benefit, assuming all the women had reached the required age.

Reason: Benefits for ex-wives don't count toward the family maximum imposed on Social Security benefits.

Spaceship survives crossing

Pioneer II in Saturn's realm

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Pioneer 11, slightly battered from its 6½-year odyssey, survived a perilous crossing into the realm of Saturn on Saturday and headed for a close-range look at the planet and its swirling yellow clouds and exotic rings.

Officials at Pioneer mission control said a continuing radio signal proved the spaceship had successfully raced through a gauntlet of debris just beyond the glimmering rings.

"The spacecraft has survived the ring plane crossing (and it) appears to be in excellent health. All systems are operating as planned," said mission spokesman Larry King at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Ames Research Center here.

Chief scientist John Wolfe had earlier given the 568-pound ship only a 50-50 chance of surviving the crossing, which took less than one second. A collision with space debris believed to be in the region could have irreparably damaged the Pioneer.

The ship then sailed just beneath the rings of orbiting, icy particles and, traveling about 70,000 mph, passed about 13,300 miles from the bands of yellow clouds that are Saturn's only visible surface.

Pioneer's single camera should provide pictures 20 times better than any possible from Earth. Color photos displayed just before the close encounter showed far greater detail than had ever been seen.

The swirling clouds, arranged in a series of belts that whip completely around the gas-filled planet, for the first time showed a range of soft colors: faint traces of blue shimmering within the yellow and golden background.

One picture, which showed a small portion of the planet, displayed in sharp detail the shadow cast on the clouds by Saturn's famous rings. The shadow showed a sharply delineated dark band with a light stripe near either edge, as if drawn by a ruler.

Project manager Charles Hall said instruments aboard the spacecraft showed it was hit at least twice by some form of debris, but there was no apparent damage.

"There is no question we did go through an area of debris," he said. "We may have just been lucky — this has been a lucky mission. We're very happy."

Twelve scientific instruments are crammed into the little ship, which was launched April 5, 1973. Pioneer toured Jupiter in December 1974. After leaving Saturn Saturday, it will sail endlessly through space.

It carries a metal plaque as a greeting to any other living beings who might someday stumble across it in a far corner of the galaxy.

ENCOUNTER — This artist's rendition shows Pioneer II's projected passage through the dangerous area beyond Saturn's rings at 10:37 a.m. EDT Saturday. The veteran spaceship, launched April 5, 1973, sailed past the edge of the second-largest planet's rings on its way to a historic rendezvous.

Action/reaction: Go to principal

Q. My son is in the third grade. He has organized P.E. first thing in the morning and no other time away from school work during the day except at lunch. Some schools here do have some play time after lunch. Who decides how much free time kids have? After all, the teachers get breaks. I think this has been regulated until it is contributing to school discipline problems. Who would I talk to about this?

A. Harold Bentley, assistant superintendent of public schools, says that the school schedules are decided upon between the principals and teachers. You may take your problem to the principal of your son's school.

Calendar: VOTE meeting

TUESDAY

The VOTE organization will have its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m., in the county court room at the Howard County Courthouse.

Post 2013 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the VFW Hall on Driver Road.

WEDNESDAY

The Westside Well-Baby Clinic will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Tops on TV: 'True Grit'

If you haven't seen John Wayne's 'True Grit' in the movie houses or in early television releases, you'll get another chance tonight. It's scheduled to get under way at 9 p.m., on ABC. Wayne won the Academy Award for Best Actor with his portrayal of Rooster Cogburn, a tired, overweight lawman who is pressured by a very determined young lady (Kim Darby) to track down her father's killers. For sports lovers, there's nothing like the start of another NFL season. NBC will offer Houston and Washington at 12 noon and Oakland and Los Angeles as the second part of a double header, starting about 3 p.m. CBS will likely command the attention of most of the viewers, however, because it will have the Dallas Cowboys and the St. Louis Cardinals, starting at 1 p.m.

Stenholm not surprised by presence of troops

COLORADO CITY — Cong. Charles Stenholm (D-Tex.), who made the Mitchell County Farm Tour here Friday, said he was not surprised to learn that Russia had combat troops in Cuba.

"If there are 3,000 Russians in Cuba," Stenholm said, in a talk made at a luncheon, "it will confirm my fears of the Domino Principle of the fall of Nicaragua."

Stenholm said that, in his opinion, the presence of Soviet combat personnel and military machinery in Cuba will create a "tremendous diplomatic problem."

The Stamford congressman added that he believes that if the Domino Theory is allowed to prevail, there will eventually be communist troops in Mexico.

Although he still thinks the United States is No. One in the world militarily, Stenholm was pessimistic that that situation would endure through the mid-80s if the defense budget is compromised.

"We cannot afford to cut our defense," Stenholm warned.

RETIREMENT PARTY — When Oleta Barnett had her retirement party at Cosden Oil and Chemical Company here Friday, following 23 years of service as a legal secretary, among those attending was Joe Moss (left), Dallas, vice president and general counsel of the firm. Mrs. Barnett worked for Moss during the time he resided in Big Spring.

'Recruitment Week' will start Monday at college

The Adult And Continuing Education Program at Howard Colville has declared Sept. 4-7 as "Recruitment Week". This means that during this week the staff along with many of the students are engaged in an effort to enroll Big Springers in their many Adult Education courses.

The campaign will also focus on recruiting within the Big Spring State Hospital. There will also be a city-wide door-to-door campaign. During this time, the staff and students will be visiting people at their homes.

During this week, Big Spring Businesses will be visited in an effort to encourage their employees to enroll in the many courses offered.

The campaign will be directed at recruiting students for the Veteran's Administration Learning Center. This will only include those within the hospital that are eligible for the courses.

This will then conclude the campaign; the public is invited to visit the Howard College Learning Center during the week of September 4-7 to talk to some of the instructors or to ask any questions concerning Adult and Continuing Education.

For more information call the Adult and Continuing Education Department at Howard College at 267-6311, ext. 70.

Hudson wins promotion

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. — Terry R. Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.J. Joyce of Colorado City, Texas, has been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sgt. Hudson is a medical service technician at the U.S. Air Force Hospital, Robins Air Force Base, here, and serves with a unit of the Air Force Logistics Command.

The sergeant is a 1967 graduate of Robert E. Lee High School, Midland, Texas.

His wife, Kim, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Silvers of Universal City, Texas.

David Bradford in exercise

MINDT, N.D. — Capt. David G. Bradford, son of retired Air Force Major and Mrs. L. Galen Bradford of 2602 Carol, Big Spring, Texas, recently participated in Global Shield 79, an Air Force exercise conducted by the Strategic Air Command.

Capt. Bradford is a missile maintenance officer with a SAC unit at Minot Air Force Base, here.

Global Shield 79, which involved bomber, tanker, missile and reconnaissance forces, and associated Air Force Reserve Units, was the largest and most comprehensive test of SAC forces in more than 20 years.

Law academy

MIDLAND — The Permian Basin Law Enforcement Academy's 19th session of basic recruit training begins here Sept. 10 and extends through Nov. 2.

This course of training is offered to all recruit law enforcement officers in the Permian Basin region.

Students receive an extensive training program covering all aspects of criminal law enforcement and investigation, community relations, patrol procedures and emergency care of the injured in situations most encountered by officers.

The school is funded through a criminal justice grant through the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission.

Congress returns to work

Energy, SALT II fate upcoming

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returns from its monthlong August recess this week to a full agenda that includes two programs dear to the Carter administration: energy and the SALT II treaty.

Victories in these two areas could be a big boost for President Carter's reelection hopes as 1980 approaches.

Senate leaders hope to start floor debate on the SALT II treaty in October and have asked the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees to complete their reports on the pact by Sept. 25.

The arms limitation agreement with the Soviet Union is expected to be linked with a 3 to 5 percent hike in defense spending. A Senate floor battle of at least six weeks is expected, with the outcome still viewed as close.

The president's new energy plan, unveiled in mid-July after Carter's period of self-reassessment at Camp David, is scattered in Congress across a number of different bills and committees.

"There will be some titanic struggles upcoming" over energy measures, predicted House Democratic Whip John Brademas, D-Ind. He called energy "the biggest issue of all" facing Congress in the coming months.

And Brademas said that while Congress is nominally scheduled to finish its work by Oct. 20, members of Congress and aides "should not plan to go too far away from Washington for their Thanksgiving dinner and should expect to do some of their Christmas shopping in the nation's capital."

Here's where the major energy measures stand: —Standby gasoline rationing. A House-Senate conference panel will begin meeting late this week to reconcile House and Senate differences over legislation giving the president authority to ration gas and take other energy-conservation steps during grave fuel shortages.

—"Windfall Profits" tax. The proposed tax on revenues oil companies make as a result of the president's related decision to deregulate domestic crude oil prices has passed the House and is now before the Senate Finance Committee. However, the House has yet to act on legislation determining how to spend revenues from the tax.

—Synthetic Fuels. The president wants to earmark $88 billion of his $141 billion 10-year energy program for promoting the development of synthetic fuels through a combination of government subsidies, loans and guarantees. A scaled-down version has already passed the House. This bill and Carter's are now being studied by the Senate Energy and Banking Committees.

'Plain English' insurance issue takes front burner

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The State Insurance Board appears ready to move on two consumer issues — "plain English" homeowners policies and new health insurance advertising rules — that have been hanging fire since May 1978.

Turnover on the board — starting with the Senate's removal of chairman Hugh Yantis in August 1978 — plus a five-month legislative session account for much of the delay.

Board members held a hearing 15 months ago on a readable homeowners policy submitted by a committee that included insurance men, academics and representatives of the Texas AFL-CIO and the Texas Consumer Association.

Yantis was "busted" by the state Senate less than three months later, and the readable policy has been on the back burner ever since.

Clint Dare, director of the Texas office of the Insurance Information Institute, says he cannot understand the delay on something so many diverse interests have agreed on.

"It's just like apple pie as far as I am concerned," said Dare.

Opposition came mainly from G.J. Jones, chief property actuary for the board, who objected that the readable policy also makes some coverage changes, such as putting a $500 limit on boats, $500 on jewelry and $1,000 on guns that are stolen.

William Daves, the new board chairman, said the board will take up the readable homeowners policy "as soon as we possibly can. Whether in the fall or winter,

I don't know."

"It's as difficult for me to read one of those as anybody else," said Daves, who was an insurance company executive and then a banker before Gov. Bill Clements put him on the board this year.

The board has required readable "outlines of coverage" on all individual health insurance policies since Dec. 1, 1978, but clarity of language has not eliminated consumer deception.

One thing that is needed is tighter control over what insurance companies can and cannot say in their advertising, says Woody Pogue, manager of the policy approval division.

"There are new inventions, new sales gimmicks, in the insurance industry all the time," says Pogue, who believes existing advertising rules "are antique, and we need to put in some teeth."

The board last reviewed the rules drafted by Pogue's staff on May 2, 1978.

Only Durwood Manford remains of the three men who then were on the board.

Lyndon Olson replaced Yantis, and Clements put Daves on in place of Ned Price.

A board staff member, who asked anonymity because his job might be in jeopardy, said Manford was a stumbling block to tighter advertising rules.

"Mr. Manford shot us down every time we were up. ... Always Manford," the source said.

The staffer said he believed the two new members are not likely to be influenced by Manford and predicted Daves and Olson would "be much more receptive to our proposals."

Daves said the board would consider the advertising rules "sometime in the next few months."

Rules proposed by the staff would, among other things: —Require advertisements to spell out all policy provisions that would reduce or deny benefits that are promised in the ads. Present rules allow advertisers to cover this rather important point with a simple statement that exclusions do exist.

—Outlaw the use of technical terms in advertising.

—Compel advertisers to make it clear that their policies do not pay for treatment of ailments the customer had when he or she took out insurance.

Nugent romance exists no longer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—It was the romance of 1966—President Lyndon Johnson's slender, black-haired teen-age daughter and the personable young Air Force enlisted man named Pat. When Luci Baines Johnson, then 19, and Patrick Nugent, 23, married in the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C., thousands attended and millions watched on television. Pat and Luci were divorced Friday, 25 days after their 13th wedding anniversary. Details of child custody and property arrangements were covered by settlement that was not disclosed.

They have four children, Patrick Lyndon, 12; Nicole, 9; Rebekah, 5; and Claudia, 3. Luci, 32, filed for divorce in January. She specified no grounds, and none are required under Texas' no-fault divorce law. Following the language of the statute, she alleged merely that irreconcilable differences had made the marriage insupportable. She issued a brief statement Friday, saying that "after over a year and a half of separation, an amicable resolution was reached and divorce was granted for Luci and Pat Nugent. Those involved would like to express to friends within and without the media their appreciation for their consideration toward us during this time of personal pain." Pat, 36, resigned last November as general manager of the Johnson family's radio station, KLBJ. He now publishes a state government directory and owns a service station called "The Gas Station" in far Northwest Austin. Luci converted to Pat's Roman Catholic faith in July 1965 and became engaged on Christmas Eve 1965 at the LBJ Ranch. Pat, a Marquette University graduate, was then serving as an Air Force enlisted man. He later went to Vietnam for a 12-month tour of duty and returned with the Distinguished Flying Cross and other decorations. Johnson's other daughter, Lynda, 35, is married to Lt. Gov. Charles Robb of Virginia and is chairwoman of the President's Advisory Committee for Women.

Prison Camp inmates and employees are happy in Big Spring

They never had it so good

By MICKIE DICKSON

The atmosphere of the Big Spring Prison Camp, and only one in Texas, is one of relaxed, comfortable acceptance and happy congeniality throughout.

John Allman and his assistant, Jerry A. Edwards, whom he insists is his co-superintendent, maintain a first name basis with each inmate which is reciprocated by genuine respect and love.

Both men are well qualified for their positions, Allman having 19 years of prison service in six institutions as well as prison administration headquarters in Washington, D.C. He is a graduate of S.W. Missouri State University with work at the University of Tallahassee in Florida on a masters degree in psychology. Edwards is from Canyon, and has nine years service with the prison system having served at the Federal Correction Institutes at Texarkana, Danbury, Conn. and at La Tuna in El Paso. Jerry also served on probation and parole and at the U.S. Army stockades.

Talking with a few of the 70 employees, the impression came through loud and clear that they all like Big Spring and love their jobs. In fact, one employee who is nearing retirement chose this location to spend his retirement years.

"The Big Spring Camp opened about the middle of June with 30 carefully selected inmates equipped with skills of all kinds needed to make the camp operational. Carpenters, painters, electricians, plumbers and landscapers are a few of the skills being utilized to renovate the 14 buildings on 63 acres which the camp occupies," said Allman.

The facility became operational on July 17 with 150 inmates housed in Sunrise dormitory where the men live two to a room. Each room has a dressing room with lavatory and bedroom with twin beds, a closet for each man and a shower and toilet between each two rooms. The furnishings remain as they were when used by the air force except for two folding chairs. The closets can be locked if desired. Each of the three floors has a color TV and each dormitory has a laundry facility with five washers and dryers. The men do their personal laundry.

The residents of the camp are people who have committed crimes against property rather than people. Inmates are allowed to go into Big Spring only for correctional or program needs unless they are in an escorted group. For instance, if the prisoner is within 3-6 months of his release date and his family comes for him to visit with them, he may be given a pass to spend from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to spend with them to strengthen family ties. Thirty-five inmates are attending Howard College in the evening, four of them to receive degrees this semester. This is a program need. A group of inmates were escorted to the Howard County Rodeo and as the opportunities occur, they will be taken to other community events or to the show. Another instance that would occur is an inmate being allowed to go into town to seek a job prior to his release.

Section C People, places, things

BIG SPRING, TEXAS,
SEPTEMBER 2, 1979

REVIEWING AN INMATE FILE — John Allman and Jerry Edwards, superintendent and his assistant, review an inmates file in anticipation of a possible M-2 match.

Four men have been released to date.

If an inmate happens to break any of the camp rules while in the community like using drugs or partaking of alcoholic beverages he is immediately transferred to another facility within the prison system. One such incident has occurred.

"It is important to know that the camp is a work-related camp in that every inmate must be assigned to a productive job and be a healthy individual. He must produce his own way here," declared Allman.

To the question of whether the inmates are paid for their work, Allman replied, "Out of the prison industries profits here and across the United States, we have what is called a meritorious service pay so an inmate who might be a clerk in the business office would receive money for his work that came from the profits made on the production of prison industries goods. So, therefore, it is not taxpayers money. It is money made by other inmates in a production setting that's in excess of the cost of production that's distributed throughout the prison system to pay other individuals for the work they do. Normally, the maximum pay is $50 a month, most generally it will run in the neighborhood of $20-$25 a month." Allman continued.

The Cable Manufacturing Industry with four employees operates in a limited way at this time in a renovated building with a small assembly line set up. The industry manufactures all kinds of electronic cables from common extension cords to highly sophisticated electronic cables for space ships, starter cables for aircraft engines and anything else other government facilities may need. Within the next two months the industry will employ 150 to 200 inmates, turning out cables by Sept. 10.

"The U.S. Penitentiary in Augusta, Ga., is in the process of phasing down its size and we'll be transferring from Atlanta the large textile manufacturing plant. This plant makes canvas products such as mail bags, canvas tops for jeeps, army trucks and anything canvas that government agencies use. This plant will then employ around 150 to 200 inmates which will make about 300 to 350 inmates employed in an industrial operation. The raw materials for the industries will be purchased locally and local carriers will be used to transport materials and finished products which are sold to other government agencies.

Until the industries are fully operational the residents are kept busy renovating buildings, landscaping, painting, carpentering, in food service and in the laundry.

Superintendent of Industries is John Pavolich who has been with the prison system since 1965. He and John Allman had worked together in Leavenworth, Kansas a number of years ago.

The fire department at Industrial Park is operated by inmates who are experienced firemen and have attended seminars in Lubbock and Amarillo in fire fighting training to update their skills. The equipment and building, consisting of pumper No. 4 with ladders and 350 pounds pressure capacity and an attack truck with foam and dry chemicals belong to the city of Big Spring. The firemen operate the equipment for the protection of the camp, the Industrial Park and Howard County Airport at no cost to the city.

The inmates day begins with breakfast in the attractive cafeteria dining room at 6:45 a.m. Room clean-up and get ready for job time is 7:15-7:45 a.m. with reporting time on the job at 8 a.m. At the present time, lunch is from 11:30 to 12:30. Lunch will be staggered as the population increases since the dining room only has room for 152 people at a time. Workday ends at 3:30 p.m. with one of five canteen taken at 4 p.m. The men are then free to go to the canteen until dinner time. Evenings are occupied with self study groups, Adult Basic Education classes in view of receiving GEDs taught by local teachers and 35 go to Howard College, an Alcoholics Anonymous group meets coordinated through the Big Spring chapter at this time. Bible study by local churches, recreational activities in the recreation building or the base gym occupy their leisure time. Two baseball teams from the camp are in the fall league in Big Spring.

The recreation building has a small chapel set up in it with a small library of religious books. Another library is in the projected plans. The building contains three nice pool tables, a table tennis set and a large screen TV. Chaplain Jerry Kelly, the Protestant coordinator, is available at all times, and holds regular services in the chapel. A Catholic priest from Big Spring attends the needs of the Catholic inmates by contract. Protestant, Catholic, Jewish and Mormon services are held regularly. Services will be provided for any identifiable religion among the inmates by bringing in clergy from the community either by contract or voluntarily. The minister of a group could even come out and escort the individual to services in his church if that would serve his needs.

The inmates families can come out and attend services with them.

A visiting room in the Administration Building accommodates inmates whose families can visit on Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

The camp administration welcomes community involvement in the camp. Chaplain Kelly has instituted the M-2 program which matches up a local family to an inmate whose family isn't in the area. The family can take the inmate to church with them, have him visit in their home and generally minister to his needs.

Mail call is at 4 p.m. The inmates subscribe to a number of newspapers including the Big Spring Herald.

Jerry Dobek, the food administrator, does a fantastic job of preparing delicious meals on the $1.52 per day per man allowed him. Dobek has 36 years experience in food service, 15 years in prison administration in four facilities and 21 years in U.S. Navy. Danny Valdes and I had lunch there Tuesday and it was delicious.

The cafeteria is a bright, cheerful room with real plants hanging along the line which are cared for by contract with a local florist. The tables are covered with checked plastic which Dobek says will be alternated to relieve the monotony. "Monotony," said Dobek, is the one thing we have to fight, in food as well as surroundings. The places of the plants will be changed from time to time.

As we listened to the happy hum of conversation around the dining tables, Dobek remarked, "As long as you hear this sound everything is all right."

The employees of the camp intermingle with the inmates at the tables, one or the other of the supervisors being present each day. Billy Mac Jobe, an inmate, does the clerical work involved in purchasing supplies for food service, keeps records of work schedules and inventories each morning.

Reuben Figueroa, personnel director, is in the process of interviewing 36 applicants for jobs to be added Oct. 1 to the 67 presently authorized positions.

The camp has the most modern switchboard and telephone system there is in the state of Texas, called the dimension 100.

Inmate Clerk D.O. Martinez, Anthony N.M., transferred from the FCI in La Tuna at El Paso eight months ago, is serving a ten year sentence and will be eligible for parole in a few months. D.O. said, "It is beautiful here. Be sure to say that we have a wonderful supervisor."

Phyllis Turney, a graduate of Big Spring High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaffer, works in the communication system, using teletype, sycor and Century, an inmate information system.

"Phyllis is tied into Washington, D.C. and all other federal institutions and U.S. marshals. She has at her fingertips all information on any inmate, prisoner movement or transfers here. All of the camps payroll records, business records and things like that are on tape in Washington, D.C. The equipment is actually terminals off the computer in Washington, D.C.," Allman said.

The inmates medical needs are met by contracts with ten local doctors and four physician's assistants, two of whom are David Keyes and Ed Gawrisiak. David R. Huff is the hospital administrator. A three bed hospital is in the process of renovation.

Sarah Mott, wife of Howard Mott, personnel director at Malone Hogan Clinic, is the medical records technician. Sarah attended Howard College. She is the daughter of Kenneth Manuel.

Mrs. Sarah Gill is the procurement agent for the camp. She is from Danbury, Conn. and has been with the bureau of prisons four years. Mrs. Gill finds the climate here delightful, completely relaxing and tranquil, and walks around Scenic Mountain each day.

The occupied dormitory building, Sunrise No. 255, has three floors, an identical one, Sunset 254, will be occupied as the population increases.

Johnny L. Hedges is a correctional officer serving there. He is a native of Big Spring, graduate of BSHS in 1969. Johnny played offensive guard and defensive end on the BSHS football team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Hedges, 808 Lancaster.

Marianne Roemer, a graduate of Monahans High School, is a secretary in Sunrise dormitory. Pat Morris, a CETA employee, is also a secretary in the unit.

Alan Weibel is case management coordinator at the camp. He is a Kansas University graduate, receiving his master degree in guidance and counseling at Southwestern Missouri State University. Alan spent three years in the peace corps, two in Ecuador and one in Costa Rica. He spent two years in the military in Western Europe. His wife, Judy, will be teaching special education at Marcy Elementary School.

The swimming pool at the Industrial Park will be available to the camp when the city puts water in it.

The Big Spring Prison Camp is primarily a training facility, preparing men for life on the outside making them into productive citizens. The men are very protective of their environment, feeling that they are fortunate to be here.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS JOHN HOOVER

Kansas couple recently wed

Minneapolis, Kan., couple Charlotte LaFaye Hudson and Thomas John Hoover were united in marriage Aug. 25 in the Immaculate Conception Church of Minneapolis, Kan.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby K. Hudson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hoover, all of Minneapolis, Kan.

Providing wedding music for the double-ring ceremony was Karen Wedel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose to wear a gown of ivory polyester sateau featuring Bishop sleeves and a chapel-length train. Floral Venice lace trimmed her ensemble designed with narrow lace edging at the hemline. Her double-tiered veil of nylon illusion fell gratefully from a headpiece adorned with coordinating lace.

Maid of honor for the ceremony was Cheryl Hardesty, sister of the bride; bridesmaids included Sherrie Hudson, sister of the bride; Connie Ross, Kansas City, Kan., and Pam Gilley, Minneapolis, Kan.

They were attired in rush satin-crepe gowns featuring skirts gathered to the bodices. Spaghetti straps fashioned each gown.

Attending the groom as best man was Monte Saunders, Wichita, Kan. Groomsmen were Jocky Stratton, Minneapolis, Kan.; Steve Gonzales and Bill Butler, both of Hayes, Kan.

Guests were seated by Tom Barta, brother-in-law of the groom, Wichita, Kan.; John Hudson, brother of the bride, Wichita, Kan.; Dave Hardesty, brother-in-law of the bride; and Harold Hogan, Osawatamie, Kan.

Serving at the reception held immediately following the rite were Mary Beth Barta, sister of the groom; Beth Lott, Wendy Calkins, and Rhonda McCullick. Valarie Crum registered guests.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to Kansas City, Kan. The couple will make their home in Minneapolis, Kan.

Joni Deanne Jones became the bride of Steve Dwayne Hodges in a candlelight ceremony performed Saturday evening in the East Fourth Street Baptist Church.

The Rev. Guy White, pastor, read the ceremony before an altar featuring a wedding arch and columns accented by an arrangement of mums. The sanctuary was lighted by spiral candelabrams and a unity candle as well as a seven-branched candelabrum entwined with greenery. White lace bows marked the aisles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob J. Jones, 1511 Vines. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Hodges, 1006 E. 12th.

Wedding music was provided by Dianne Oliphant, pianist; and Jerry Oliphant, organist, who accompanied vocalists Lorinda Lee and Tom and Carolyn Williams, uncle and aunt of the bride.

The bride chose to wear a formal gown of white silk organza trimmed with Venice lace. The lace-adorned, empire bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline edged with lace motifs. The full, Bishop sleeves ended in wide, lace-covered cuffs. The deep-flounced A-line skirt ended in a chapel-length train. Her ensemble was completed by a fingertip-length veil of illusion which fell from a Juliet headpiece accented with lace.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white silk roses atop a white Bible belonging to her mother.

Nancy Porter attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Tanga Cain, cousin of the bride; Lorinda Lee and Carol Hollingsworth.

They wore floor-length, crystal pleated gowns of yellow quana fashioned with chiffon capelets. Each carried a bouquet of yellow silk roses sprinkled with daisies, apricot lilies and brown pansies.

Herm Hodges, Houston, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen included Terry Fortson, Marty Herron and Alan Partee, all of Midland. Ushers were Chuck Bromm, Ricky James, Ricky Davidson and Brent Pearce.

Jana Jones, cousin of the

bride, served as flower girl wearing a floor-length gown of yellow eyelet. Jason Jones, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Reagan and Chad Williams, cousins of the bride, lit the candles.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hodges were feted with a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table was decorated with white lace cloth underlaid with yellow skirt. The bride's bouquet atop a brass candelabrum surrounded by the bridesmaids bouquets enhanced the setting as centerpiece. A three-tiered fountain cake topped with yellow bells was served to guests by Linda Jones, Linda Coates, both aunts of the bride; and Phyllis Jones. Crystal appointments were used.

Brown cloth draped the groom's table which was accented with white lace. Chocolate cake was served by the groom's sisters, Jeannette James and Nita Bromm. A tiered wooden

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cain, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Dunagan, Mr. and Mrs. Loy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hitt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pearce and Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Porter.

Out-of-town guests attended from El Paso, Cayce, South Carolina, Lubbock, Clovis, N.M. and Lamesa.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Big Spring High School and is employed by Superior Office Service in Midland. The groom graduated from BSHS in 1977 and has attended Howard College and Texas A&M. He works as an engineering coordinator for Compressor Systems, Inc.

The couple will reside in Midland when they return from a wedding trip to the South Texas area.

Sarah Taylor is employee of month

Fellow co-workers and supervisors of Sarah Taylor nominated her as Malone-Hogan Nurses Service Employee of the Month of August.

Mrs. Traylor, wife of Tom Traylor and mother of Tom Traylor Jr. of Houston, has been employed at the hospital for 7 years. She was chosen because she "best represents nurses service philosophy."

She has been a resident of Big Spring for 21 years and is active in the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church. She also sings in the church Senior Choir.

Mrs. Traylor is also active in the Ade Belle Dement Civic and Art Club and served as president for 4 years.

Dr., Mrs. Patrick feted on 25th

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Patrick were feted Aug. 25-26, two days designated as Pastor Appreciation Weekend.

Nine years ago on Aug. 12, 1970, Dr. Patrick preached his first sermon as pastor of First Baptist Church.

Twenty-five years ago on the same date, Kenneth G. Patrick and Wanda M. Smith were united in marriage.

A reception was given in honor of the Patrick's Silver Wedding Anniversary Aug. 25 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel, 706 Hillside.

Members of First Baptist Church and friends and relatives of the couple took this opportunity to congratulate the couple on this occasion.

The following day, Dr. Patrick was recognized for his 9 nine years of service to the First Baptist Church during the morning worship service. He was also honored that evening with a Family Night Fellowship in appreciation for his nine years of service.

Those present enjoyed dinner of the ground at 6 p.m. followed by singing of the ground which included quartets, fiddles and old fashioned gospel singing.

The evening ended with 'recreation on the grounds' with those present participating in volleyball, 42 and horseshoes.

Members of the houseparty were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Newell, Mrs. Judy Bumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Klaus, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Killough, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Jones, Mr. and Mrs. David Berryhill, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Estes, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Red Womack, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hamilton.

Attending from out of town were Rev. and Mrs. Jack Clinkscales, Forsan; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Franklin, Midland; Dr. and Mrs. Jimmy Law, Odessa; Dr. and Mrs. Byron Orand, San Angelo; and Mrs. Joy Clark, Midland.

MRS. JIM BRUCE HENSHAW

Vows solemnized in Abilene church

Wedding vows uniting Jamie Carol Craig and Jim Bruce Henshaw were solemnized Saturday afternoon in the Minter Lane Church of Christ, Abilene.

Harvey McQueen, minister of the Church of Christ in Megargel, Tex., read the 2:30 p.m. rite before a fan of long tapers and two spiral candelabums. Green palms and floor plants accentuated the sanctuary and pews were marked with fern and candles.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James Craig, Robert Lee. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Henshaw, Seymour.

Wedding music was provided by an a capella group from Abilene Christian University.

The bride was presented down the aisle wearing a Fink original of candlelight silk over peau de soi. A molded bodice of France lace fell into a princess-style skirt. Re-embroidered lace gauntlets enhanced her attire as did silk-covered buttons. The gown featured a cathedral-length train and a floor-length veil of silk illusion which fell gracefully from a candlelight cap adorned with seed pearls and re-embroidered lace.

She carried an arm bouquet of fall lilies and mums sprinkled with baby's breath.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. Gary Kelley of Odessa, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carla Howle, Bedford; Patti Mendenhall, Abilene; and Peggy Henshaw and Beba Studer, both of Seymour.

Jerry Henshaw, San Angelo, served his brother as best man. Groomsman included Rickey Bohannon, Richard Morgan, Chris Lawrence and Rickey Elliot, all of Seymour.

Guests were seated by Jim Craig, Craig Howle, and Bernie Kastner, Abilene.

Melissa and Amanda Kelley, Odessa, served as flower girls. Blake Henshaw, Brownwood, was ring bearer. Candles were lit by Jennifer Sessions and Jean Henshaw.

Following the ceremony, the church social hall was the setting for the reception held in honor of the newlyweds. Zona Zant registered guests.

The bride's cake was set atop a small single round table decorated with fresh fall flowers. Complimenting the scene was a large table featuring brass appointments and fall flowers.

Serving were Adria Kastner, Dene Grun, Jayne Taylor, Mandy Box, Karen Bagwell, Charlene Rogers, Linda Havins, Sandra Sessions, Linda Howle, Karen Craig, Jan Henshaw and Jan and Holly Tarter.

The bride is a graduate of Robert Lee High School and Abilene Christian University. She is a teacher for the Megargel Independent School District. Her grandparents are Vera Harris and Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Craig, all of Forsan.

The groom is a graduate of Seymour High School and is employed by Walker Livestock in cattle raising. Upon returning from a wedding trip to Northern Colorado, the couple will make their home in Seymour.

Comical style show scheduled Wednesday

Howard County Extension Homemakers Club and Council will be presenting a "Comical Style Show" as part of their annual membership drive Wednesday Sept. 5, at 10 a.m. The style show will be held in Kentwood Older Adult Center. Refreshments will be served following the show.

The event is free to the public and all interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

Have you ever seen a pill box hat made out of pill boxes, or an envelope handbag made from an envelope? These are only a few of the interesting fashions you will see at our "Comical Style Show." The program is prepared and presented by Centerpoint Extension Homemakers Club. It is coordinated by Ireba Griffith. Models are Centerpoint Extension Homemakers, Ireba Griffith, Lucille Petty, Mattie Wren, Zan Ryan, Olean Melton, Fannie Kent, Zay Birrell, Jen Davidson, Inez Petty, Frances Martinez, Joyce Orr and Frankie Walker.

The membership drive is coordinated by Extension Homemakers Expansion Committee, Mrs. W.N. Norred, Chairman. Other committee members involved in plans for the event are Mrs. Alton Underwood, Mrs. J.R. Petty and Mrs. D.H. Griffith.

We invite you to visit our style show and enjoy it. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

KATHRYN MARTIN

Teen shows ambition

Kathryn Martin, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Martin, 2517 Larry Drive, unable to find work in Big Spring this summer, accompanied her family on a one week vacation to Lake Vallecito, located just east of Durango, Colo., nestled deep in the Rocky Mountains at 7000 foot elevation.

Kathy, who has a horse named Toby, visited several corrals looking for work to exchange for riding privileges. A young mormon girl asked her to return in the morning to meet the operator of the corral, her brother. The young mormon man hired her as a wrangler and invited her to move into the bunkhouse by his corral of 32 horses with three other girl wranglers. Kathy's family gave their consent after careful investigation.

The owner of the facility believes that female wranglers cause less trouble, take better care of the equipment and horses, and show more patience toward and understanding of the greenhorns who pay to ride the mountain trails.

The wrangler's day began at 5 a.m. with feeding the horses. After breakfast the 20-30 horses are saddled for the day's ride and the corral opened for business at 7 a.m. The trail rides were from one hour to all day in groups. The full day included the noon meal and supper on the trail prepared by the wranglers.

At the week's end Kathy persuaded her family to leave her behind to pursue her venture, being sure the business would fall apart without her.

Kathryn has returned home to attend Big Spring High School where she is a sophomore, a bit wiser with a few dollars in her pocket. She is active on the swim team, sings in the capella choir and is a member of the Howard County Youth Horsemen.

Newcomers invited

Members of the Newcomer's Handicraft Club and newcomers to Big Spring are invited to attend the club's next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Macy Schwartz, 1800 Laurie Street, at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The group will begin work on a macrame Christmas wall hanging.

Members and newcomers as well, interested in this project should bring a 2 1/2" to 3" ring. Information as to the amount of wooden blocks needed and where to buy them will be given by phone to each member.

Newcomers may call Mrs. Schwartz at 7-3139.

The Newcomer's Handicraft Club offers newcomers to Big Spring the opportunity to become acquainted with other residents by participating in the social and learning activities of the club.

Regular meetings are held at 9:30 a.m. on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

C. R. ANTHONY CO.

Couple united in evening rite

The wedding vows uniting Jeanne Louise Alden and Randell Dean Christian were solemnized Friday evening in the Bartholomew Catholic Church in Fort Worth.

The Rev. Robert Litteken, priest, performed the 7:30 p.m. rite before two arrangements of yellow spider mums, large white mums and daisies.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Alden, Fort Worth. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Christian, 3207 Cornell, Big Spring.

Lib Connelly provided wedding music at the organ as the bride was presented down the aisle wearing a gown of white organza accented with a touch of Venice lace. A sweetheart neckline and a double-ruffled hemline fashioned the gown as did her fingertip-length veil of illusion which flowed gracefully from a lace—and pearl-adorned headpiece.

She carried a colonial bouquet of silk roses and yellow and white daisies sprinkled with baby's breath. Satin ribbons tied the arrangement.

Serving as maid of honor was the bride's sister, Karen Alden, Fort Worth. Bridesmaids were Dianne Stone, Grand Prairie; and Laura Nemitz and Kitty Sorrell, both of Fort Worth.

They were attired in floor-length gowns of yellow maize knit and featured round necklines, cap sleeves and blouson tops. Each carried a nosegay of small yellow and white silk daisies adorned with matching ribbon.

Mike Christian, Big Spring, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Jim Doherty and Kirk Nemitz, both of Fort Worth; and Craig Parrott, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Ralph Cornett and Terry Wright, both of Fort Worth, seated guests.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Christian were feted with a reception in the church parish hall. Leslie Echols, Fort Worth, served as registrar.

The bride's table was draped with yellow cloth accented with a white full, gathered lace overlay. Decorating the area behind the table was a white lattice-work screen embellished with foliage and silk flowers. Flanking either side of the setting were two ferns atop stands.

The bride's cake featured three-tiers decorated with white lily of the valley and yellow roses. Topping the cake were china bride and groom figurines.

The groom's table was covered with a tan underlay and overlaid with full gathered lace. Chocolate cake was served. Silver appointments were used.

Serving were Angela Abbott and Karen Kimberling, both of Fort Worth; Gage Lucy, Dallas; and Sonya Worthan, Big Spring.

Attending from out-of-town were Mrs. Della Steengrafe, Mrs. Stella Tate, both of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Steengrafe, Sun City, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lucy, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lucy, Tulsa, Okla.; and Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Christian, West, Tex.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Southwest High School and is employed by Color Print Co. as a photographic-mini-printer.

The groom graduated from Big Spring High School in 1975 and attended Howard College. He received his Associate Degree in Applied Science of Food Marketing from Tarrant County Junior College. He works at Safeway.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will reside in Fort Worth.

MRS. RANDY PHILLIPS

Wedding vows spoken Saturday

The Wesley United Methodist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding ceremony uniting Cindy Dian Chrane and Randy Phillips.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chrane, 2102 Allendale. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Phillips, Rt. 2.

The sanctuary was decorated by a pedestal archway entwined with greenery and adorned with white stephanotis as the Rev. W. O. Rucker, pastor, performed the 7:30 p.m. rite. Two branched candelabums and baskets of fern completed the altar scene.

Mrs. Malinda Blackburn, organist, accompanied Mrs. David Harrington, sister of the groom, vocalist on the wedding selections.

The bride was given in marriage wearing a white sata-glow gown designed by Mori Lee. Chantilly lace accentuated the bodice which featured a Queen Anne neckline, full, Bishop sleeves and an attached chapel-length train.

She wore a walking-length veil edged with matching lace which fell from a lace-adorned mantilla. A silk bouquet of white carnations, yellow roses and blue forget-me-nots was carried by the bride complimenting her ensemble.

Carla Chrane served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sharon Chrane, sister of the bride and Angela Dykes. They wore identical gowns of blue Quiana which featured blue and yellow organdy capelets. The groom's brother, Jim Bob Phillips, served as best man. Groomsmen included Terry Don Roberts, and Tim Childers, both of Coahoma.

Guests were seated by Tom Chrane and Steve Chrane both brothers of the bride.

Christie Dian Ferguson, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Ring bearers were Paul Ferguson, nephew of the bride; and Shannon Crenshaw, nephew of the groom.

Following the wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were feted with a reception at the Big Spring Country Club. Lisa Long served as registrar.

The bride's table was draped with white lace and featured silver and crystal appointments. The three-tiered wedding cake with a flowing fountain was decorated in the colors of yellow and blue.

The groom's table, which featured a champagne fountain, was covered with brown cloth and overlaid with beige. Brass appointments and a brass centerpiece complimented the setting.

Serving were Mrs. Robert Crenshaw, sister of the groom; Mrs. Bill Clackum, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Steve Chrane, sister-in-law of the bride.

The bride attended Big Spring High School and is employed at Safeway. The groom is a graduate of Coahoma High School and is employed at Cotton Machinery Co. Upon returning from a wedding trip to San Marcus and New Braunfels, the couple will make their home at 2609 Wasson Rd.

Knott couple honored at surprise dinner

Leland and Lupe Calvio were feted with a surprise family reunion dinner given by their children Saturday evening at the La Posada Restaurant commemorating their 40th wedding anniversary.

The Spanish-style dining room set the atmosphere for a buffet Mexican dinner. A three-tier cake topped with a white heart featuring a 40th insert, enhanced the table. Red roses completed the scene.

Mrs. Calvio was presented a corsage of red roses and Calvio received a boutonniere.

The couple were married Sept. 7, 1939 at Austin University Catholic Church of San Eduardo. They then made their home in Buda, Tex.

In 1942, their first child, Jimmy, was born. The couple's other children include Sammy, Salvador, John, Alfonso, Tony, Alex, Linda and David.

In 1947, they moved to Knott where they have resided for 32 years.

Calvio is a retired farmer and his wife, a housewife, enjoys sewing and growing plants.

They are the grandparents of eight.

Out-of-town guests attended were Mr. and Mrs. Salvador Calvio, Garden City, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Vicent Arrando, Mr. and Mrs. Mike War, all of Kyle, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Steve McCullian, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Salazar, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Riojas, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lucero, all of Abernathy; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Garcia and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ochoa, all of Rotan.
