EARLY COTTON IN GLASSCOCK COUNTY — Hugh Bryan Schafer and his wife, Ann, examine the quality of cotton they planted last April 26. The Schafers, who say they may get an average of a bale an acre on their 100 acres this year, took their cotton to Big Spring's Brown Gin Saturday for processing. In all, they collected about 15 bales Friday. The Schafers, who reside 17 miles south of Big Spring in Glasscock County, were one of the first families in this area to harvest cotton. They did it with the aid of Mrs. Schafer's father, Buster Haggard. Although this is the couple's first cotton crop (they were "weathered out" in their initial effort in 1978), the farm has been in the Schafer family for over a hundred years.

Air, water pollution top priority of presidents

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter and Jose Lopez Portillo agreed Saturday to give "a high priority" to discussions on air and water pollution that crosses the border between the United States and Mexico.

The pair agreed to try to negotiate an agreement that would "lessen or eliminate environmental damage in the future" from such sources as the Mexican oil well blowout, which created a huge oil slick in the Gulf of Mexico and tarred Texas beaches.

The discussions also will include U.S.-spawned pollution that crosses the border into Mexico, officials stressed.

It was uncertain, however, whether Carter administration negotiators would press Mexico to pay for damage caused to the U.S. shoreline by the recent oil well accident. Mexico has resisted such suggestions so far, and Carter has conceded publicly that no international agreement exists that would force Mexico to pay.

At the conclusion of two days of talks here, both Carter and Lopez Portillo were smiling and saying they were pleased with the outcome.

Their final, 90-minute session in the White House also covered the Middle East, Cuba, the U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation treaty, long-term prospects for U.S. purchase of Mexican oil and cross-border sales of electricity.

White House spokesman Jerrold Schecter said the two presidents spoke for less than 10 minutes about Cuba, but he refused to say whether Lopez Portillo had agreed with Carter's position that the presence of a Soviet combat brigade on the Caribbean island is unacceptable. The Mexicans are believed to be far less concerned about the matter than the Carter administration, however.

The closest thing to a solid agreement that came out of Lopez Portillo's visit, his second to the United States during Carter's presidency, was the anti-pollution accord.

A joint statement issued after the final session said the two leaders "agreed on the need for both countries to prevent actions on one side of the land or maritime boundary from degrading the environment on the other side. They also instructed their administrations to give a high priority to such questions."

Carter and Lopez Portillo asked their negotiators to report on whether an anti-pollution agreement "is possible or appropriate," the statement said.

The joint statement said Carter and Lopez Portillo "paid special attention" to the migrant worker issue, but agreed only on trying to get better information on the numbers of Mexicans who cross the U.S. border illegally. Carter said he had asked state governors to protect the rights of illegal immigrants.

Citizens group keeps De-Tox center open

The Big Spring De-Tox Center will not close Monday, though it will undergo some changes, thanks to a group of citizens who banded together in a final moment to save the center.

Ed Bowman, president of a newly appointed board of directors, said Saturday that a group of 30 to 40 concerned citizens are going to keep the detoxification center open.

That group has appointed a five-man board of directors, including Bowman, who helped to get the center started; Board Vice President Myrtle Tatum, a past director of the detox center; Bill Warner, a Big Spring State Hospital physician's assistant; and Mike Atchetee, manager of Cabot Corp. Secretary-treasurer for the board is Mrs. Ed Bowman, who has been keeping the detox center's books for the city since the center began.

Monday is Oct. 1, the date that the City of Big Spring officially withdraws support of the center due to the city's own money problems. The center is on its own now, with grants from the Texas Commission on Alcoholism and private donations to keep it functioning.

One of the first changes will be a name change. According to Bowman, the center will be reorganized as the Howard County De-Tox Center since it no longer is a municipal organization. He said that persons who have been afraid to donate to the center in the past because they didn't want their donations to go into a Big Spring general fund may now donate directly to the center.

Four or five donations have already been received by the de-tox center, and according to Bowman, any amount — even $5 or $10 — will help the center achieve its goal of staying open and continuing to serve this community.

The center's program offers motivation to the alcoholic who wants to stop and a place to go to "dry out." The center represents a first step in interrupting and changing drinking patterns.

Husband scares off pair who try to stop wife

Did they intend to rob her? Harm her? Authorities can only guess the intentions of two suspicious characters who were scared off before the act by an armed husband Friday night.

According to the Howard County Sheriff's Office, Beverly Yarborough was almost at her home on Country Road 28, six miles north of Big Spring, around 8:57 p.m. when another vehicle cut in front of her's in an apparent attempt to slow her down.

When she emerged from the vehicle and approached her home, she was followed by one of two male suspects in the vehicle. Her husband, Richard Yarborough, inside of the home, saw what was happening, got his gun and fired at the approaching suspect.

The sheriff's department assumes that the suspect intended to rob Mrs. Yarborough or follow her inside the house. When the shots were fired, the trespasser quickly changed his mind and scurried away on foot while his partner drove off toward town.

While units from the Texas Highway Patrol and the Howard and Martin County Sheriff's Offices were at the Yarborough residence looking for the scoundral, Big Spring Patrolman Ray Meek spotted the getaway car in town and began pursuit. According to Meek, the suspicious vehicle jumped a curb and was abandoned near Bauer School. The driver fled on foot.

No arrests have yet been made.

Tour possible deaf school

Howard College hosts confab

Deaf adults, parents of deaf children, and educators of the deaf from around the state were guests at a conference Saturday held at Howard College to hear the ideas and feelings of representatives of the deaf on the proposed deaf school here.

Attending the morning meeting, lunch, and afternoon tour of Industrial Park facilities earmarked for the proposed school were 28 people from as far away as San Antonio and Houston and as close as Big Spring.

According to Mary Dudley, assistant to Dr. Charles Hays, president of Howard College, the college was provided with a $24,000 grant from the Texas Education Agency to prepare a feasibility study determining need for the school. Saturday's meeting was part of the college's attempt to determine if the need does exist.

The college is trying to determine deficiencies of present postsecondary educational programs for the deaf. The college intends to fill needs that aren't currently being met.

According to Mrs. Dudley, everyone who has been approached regarding the school, including Congressman Charles Stenholm, HEW officials, and the group that met Saturday, feels that there definitely is a need for the program that Howard College would offer. She feels optimistic that federal funding applied for by the college to acquire and remodel buildings at Industrial Park for the school's campus will be approved, though she said that something could still go wrong.

Several millions of dollars will be needed to get the school off the ground, according to Mrs. Dudley. Three buildings at the former air base would provide for classrooms and dormitories for students from throughout the state and possibly from an eight-state area.

The former base hospital would be used for the school's medical programs. Though definite plans have not yet been made, the well-equipped x-ray technician labs and dental and optical labs would probably be used as they are to teach dental assistants and hygienists' skills.

Hospital rooms would provide for small classrooms or offices. The hospital offers 62,000 square feet for the proposed school.

Another 32,000 square feet of classrooms and gymnasium would be provided by building 346, formerly known as Withycombe Hall. That building was used for flight instruction and is, according to Mrs. Dudley, set up with sophisticated teaching equipment, including projector screens in the back of the classrooms. It could also be used much as it is.

The auditorium would provide for a number of activities, such as theatrics which is popular among the deaf.

The former Bachelor Officers' Quarters which include a swimming pool and bath quarters, would be used as a dormitory.

One of the speakers at the Saturday meeting was Dr. Hays who spoke on the history and idea of the proposed program. Interpreting spoken words into sign language for the deaf in the audience was Carla Warrington of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. A reverse interpretation, from sign language into the spoken word, was given by Douglas Burke, a deaf adult and regional superintendent of the deaf program of the Texas Education Agency.

TALKS THROUGH INTERPRETOR — Dr. Charles Hays, president of Howard College, 'speaks' to a group of deaf people who spent Saturday touring facilities which are being offered for a school for the deaf here. Interpreting

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Expensive painting

Q. Is there must doubt about which is the most valuable painting in existence? It has to be the Mona Lisa, doesn't it?
A. You're right. For insurance purposes, it was assessed at $100,000,000 in 1963.

Porno defense takes field

ROME, Ga. (AP) — The defense takes the field Monday as attorneys for Michael Thevis, charged with trying to corner the nation's smut market by murdering and burning out his competition, seek to prove the millionaire pornographer "didn't do it."

"We expect to come out zith punch; expect to have a strong defense," said one defense spokesman.

Thevis and one of the parent companies of his far-flung adult movie and publication empire are charged in a federal indictment with operating "in a pattern of racketeering" to gain control of the pornography industry "on a nationwide basis."

Some bus service ending

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Part of Ann Arbor's door-to-door bus service will be phased out beginning Monday as the city cuts back on its "dial-a-ride" system.

The service pioneered as the first large-scale program of its kind in the country when it was launched in 1971.

Richard Simanetta, head of the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority, said the cutbacks will not affect service to the elderly and handicapped. He blamed the reduction of services to the general public on soaring costs.

New Jersey man sentenced

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A Paterson man has been sentenced to a life term in prison after being found guilty of raping and murdering a 9-year-old neighbor.

A Passaic County jury deliberated four hours Friday before finding David Brown 23, guilty of slaying Latrelia Jones.

Brown's attorney, John Cleary of the Public Defender's Office, said a confession signed by Brown was fabricated by police and the jury's decision would be appealed.

Superior Court Judge Thomas Rumana immediately pronounced sentence after the verdict was announced.

Brown was convicted of sexually assaulting and bludgeoning the girl, whose battered and partially clad body was found by fire fighters responding to a blaze on March 21, five days after she was reported missing by her mother.

Firefighters, estate awarded

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — Two Saddle Brook volunteer firemen and the estate of a deceased firefighter have been awarded $2.6 million for injuries suffered when a fuel tank of a burning truck exploded.

The award Friday by a jury before Superior Court Judge Thomas Dalton marks one of the first times firemen have been compensated for injuries sustained under "trap or undue risk" conditions.

Neil Reisman, one of the attorneys representing the firemen, said that while injuries can be sustained by all firemen in the line of duty, "there are times when undue risks or traps prevail due to negligence."

Held liable Friday was the Range Rental Corp., which supplied a garbage truck and driver to collect trash at the Stratford Book Co., where the fire occurred in this Bergen County township.

Police beat Diamond ring stolen

A horseshoe-shaped diamond ring, valued at $1,200 and owned by Oscar Ovalle, 1305 Utah, was reportedly stolen from Room 203 of the Thrifty Lodge, 1000 W. 4th, Thursday morning between 6:30 and 11.

Pollard Chevrolet, 1550 E. 4th, has reported the disappearance of a black and chrome tailgate from a Chevrolet pickup truck on the front truck display line. The $250 tailgate was reportedly stolen between 7 p.m. Thursday and 2 p.m. Friday.

Police have received a report from Dorothy Humphreys, 603 George, that two plants, in heavy ceramic pots and their macrame hangers, were taken from her porch early Friday morning, around 3:15. The plants, valued at $300, were not visible from the street, she said.

Von Ceil Newton, 2001 Morrison, reported that sometime between Sept. 14 and 9 a.m. Friday, an unknown intruder took a pair of diamond ear studs, valued at $139, from the top of a dresser in a bedroom at that residence.

An unknown person smashed the side mirror of a pickup owned by Van Brown while it was parked at his residence, 1408 Stadium, around 10 p.m. Friday. Damages were $15.

Errol Porter's vehicle, parked at his residence, 1408 Virginia, took a lot of minor damages from unknown persons around 11:30 p.m. Friday. Porter reported the chrome trim on the front windshield had been torn loose, air was let out of a rear tire, drops of tan paint were found on the hood, and beer bottles had been broken on the rear bumper. Damages amounted to about $25.

Jimmy Binion, 1303 Marijo, reported that unknown persons took his .351 magnum revolver, .12 gauge shotgun and a half box of magnum shells from his pickup between 11 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. Saturday. The weapons were valued at $250.

A 20-year-old woman told police that for the past week she had been receiving threats from an ex-boyfriend who allegedly threatened to shoot her and burn down the restaurant where she works because she broke up with him.

Mrs. J.J. Tucker, 1311 Harding, reported an unknown amount of damages inflicted on her trailer house by someone who scraped the rear of the house with an unknown instrument, chipping the paint. The incident occurred sometime between Sept. 20-27.

A ladies' watch valued at $75, three rings valued at $40, and an assortment of costume jewelry was reportedly stolen from the dresser top in a bedroom at Loraine Dooley's residence, 905 N.W. 5th, between 10:30 p.m. Friday and 7:30 a.m. Saturday. Entrance was apparently gained when the intruder broke a window near a door, then reached in to unlock the door.

Police received two reports of assault in the Sandra Gale Apartments area Saturday. Felix Rubio, 306 N.E. 10th, reported that he was struck in the face by a known person behind Sandra Gale around 2:30 a.m.

About 3:05 a.m. Rodney Smith, 17, Southland Bldg, 17, Apt. 1, was riding a moped in the Sandra Gale parking lot when he reportedly passed two subjects one of whom allegedly struck him in the face, causing him to fall from the moped. Pat Dix, Sandra Gail Apt. 34, pursued the subjects and caught up with them on FM 700, about 1/4 of a mile south of Hwy 80. One of the subjects reportedly punched and kicked Dix, 3:07 a.m.

Two major traffic wrecks have been reported this weekend.

Arthur Armendariz, 1008 N. Gregg, was admitted to Malone-Hogan Hospital with a fractured left wrist and facial lacerations after his car collided with a Texas Electric pole at 205 N.W. 12th, 12:50 a.m. Saturday. Damages to the pole, which was located six feet from the curb, is undetermined. Armendariz was taken to the hospital by Shaffer Ambulance. He was released in good condition 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

John Wilhem, 3606 Calvin, was treated for minor injuries and released from Malone-Hogan Hospital Friday night after the vehicle he was driving collided with one driven by Donald Lacy of Lindsay, Okla., at E. 4th and Owens, 11:30 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Kenneth Huling, 1110 Johnson, and Frieda Grant, Rt. 2, Box 64, collided at the 500 block of

Ford sentenced in court here

Nolan Michael McDaniel, 18, 1419 E. 6th, pleaded guilty in district court Friday to a felony theft charge. McDaniel was arrested June 4 at Pollard Chevrolet, charged with felony theft, and indicted July 6. He received a five-year probated sentence at the 3 p.m. hearing.

Fifteen years at the Texas Department of Corrections was handed down to Kenneth Wayne Ford, 19, Chapparel 19, at 3:15 p.m. district court hearing Friday. Ford pleaded guilty to a robbery charge for which he was arrested June 4. Thirty days jail time will be credited to his sentence.

E. 4th, 9:05 a.m. Friday.

The 1800 block of S. Gregg was the scene of a 1:30 p.m. Friday collision between vehicles driven by Gary Glen Stuber of San Antonio and Larry Dean McSwain, 505 Goliad.

Vehicles driven by Juna Gross Hale, 2911 W. Hwy. 80, Apt. 61, and Hayes Franklin Stripling, 2 Indian Ridge, collided in the parking lot of Gibson's, 3:45 p.m. Friday.

The intersection of Wasson Rd. and W. FM 700 was the scene of a collision between vehicles driven by Kay Mondrick Griffith, 2718 Central, and Jack Mosley Griffin, 1101 Marijo, 4:26 p.m. Friday.

Local welding students putting talents to use

Welding students at Big Spring High School are constructing a large steel building 14' x 20'.

The steel building is being constructed by foreman Jeff Williams, and structural welders, Kevin Murphy and Dale Walker.

The students are under the supervision of Tom Ament, welding instructor. The metal trade students are members of the Vocational Industrial Club of America.

These second year metal trade students are, at this time, concentrating on metallic arc welding.

Other students in the class are Mark Hiney, Isroe Cooper, Richard Brito, Joe Lopez, Oscar Cruz, James McDonald, Barry McLean, Jaime Renteria, Phillip Smith and Oren Craig.

Honor society invites ll

Eleven Howard College students have been invited to become members of Phi Theta Kappa, Iota Beta Chapter at Howard College, according to Anita Butler, president of the local Howard College chapter.

Those invited to join are: Michael K. Brashers, Jeff E. Nairn, Margaret L. Smith, Casey L. Thompson, Tammy K. Watkins, and Nickie Billingsley, all of Big Spring.

Also Susan J. Martin, of Ackerly; Sherry L. Altizer, of Del Rio; Jay A. Phelps, of Alamogordo, N.M.; Shawn J. Smith, of Clayton, N.M.; and Walter J. Hall, of Cleveland, Miss.

The Howard College chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, Iota Beta, is a national honor society for Junior College students.

Phi Theta Kappa began in 1918 at the Missouri Junior College to recognize the intellectual achievement of college students and to promote scholarships in American colleges.

Texas largest customer of business in state

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The state was a million-dollar customer for no less than 245 businesses last year, buying products and services ranging from cars to child care.

"I think your state government is the largest business in Texas today. We also are the largest customer of business in Texas today," says Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Bullock said the state bought $2.5 billion worth of goods and services from 226,000 businesses in the fiscal year that ended Aug. 31. His figures show that state purchases exceeded $1 million each from 245 corporations and firms, most of them in Texas.

"I was rather surprised at the number doing business with the state, and the magnitude. ... I know there are a lot of people out there who don't think much of their government, but they still don't turn away from doing business with it," Bullock said in an interview.

The comptroller's figures for the fiscal year that ended Aug. 31 were obtained under the Texas Open Records Act. The top 25 vendors — 16 of them highway contractors — did $416.4 million worth of business. Sales by the top 50 amounted to over half a billion dollars — $570.7 million to be exact.

Biggest of all sellers to the state was Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., which collected $62.3 million in premiums as group life and health insurance carrier for most state employees.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was No. 2, receiving $29.6 million for its services.

The remaining eight of the top 10 were highway contractors, starting with the Dahlstrom Corp. of Dallas-Fort Worth, $27.46 million, and the H.B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio, $21.9 million.

Sperry Rand Corp. sold the state $14.5 million in computer equipment and services, including $12.8 million worth to the Department of Human Resources.

Bullock's figures on the top 500 vendors show state payments of $72.18 million for natural gas and electricity, $33.2 million for telephone service, $23.5 million for school buses, $26.8 million for schoolbooks, $16.64 million for automobiles and trucks, $15 million for gasoline $13.8 million for office supplies, $9.86 million for child care, and $7.57 million for food at state institutions.

One vendor was Lloyd Bentsen III of Houston, son of U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, who sold the federally funded Texas Employment Commission a building in Pasadena for $346,259.

The state is even a consumer of advertising — largely for tourists and new industry — and paid Neal Speice Associates, Inc., of Austin $501,856 to tout Texas' charms.

One surprise in Bullock's figures was the amount spent by the Department of Human Resources on day care.

Child Care Association of Metropolitan Dallas received $1.8 million, Neighborhood Centers Day Care Association of Houston $1.5 million, the Young Women's Christian Association of El Paso, $1.46 million, Kenwood Community Council of San Antonio, $900,000 and CDA Home Chore Program of Laredo, $900,000.

Bill Wagner, a spokesman for the Department of Human Resources, said the day care is provided for children of welfare mothers holding jobs under the Work

Incentive (WIN) Program.

Unlike most state purchases, these are not made by competitive bid but are negotiated when there is "a demonstrated need in a community" for such services, he said.

The biggest seller of automobiles to the state was Jay Smith Chrysler-Plymouth of Austin, which did business totaling $4.36 million, including sale of 600 patrol cars to the Department of Public Safety.

Lon Smith, the dealer's fleet manager, said the state sales account for about 50 percent of Jay Smith's fleet business but are not all that profitable.

"You darn sure don't make your profit off the state," Lon Smith said, and if competitors beat out Jay Smith for the business, "your pride would be the thing that would be hurt most. It wouldn't hurt your pocketbook very much."

He declined to say what the profit margin was on a highway patrol car because the information might help a competitor underbid him.

Bullock said this is the first time his office has pulled together information on state purchases from various businesses.

Heavy rains bring halt to harvesting

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Open weather the past week allowed for some drying of water-logged fields in coastal and eastern areas, and harvest operations should start again soon.

While the rains of a week ago were beneficial for pastures and ranges, they brought harvest operations to an abrupt halt, said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Some cotton, rice, corn and peanuts remain to be harvested along the coast while most of the cotton is still in the field in East Texas. A good portion of the cotton crop also remains to be harvested in Central, South Central and North Central Texas.

Cotton bolls are beginning to pop open in the Rolling Plains where the crop looks good. And a few early fields are opening in the South Plains. However, most of the crop in the Panhandle and South Plains is late, noted Pfannstiel, and warm, open weather is needed.

Some hay was lost to heavy rains in coastal and eastern areas last week, but favorable moisture conditions should boost grass growth for additional cutting. The moisture should also give a boost to small grains that have been planted for winter pastures.

The state's livestock picture continues to look good, with most cattle in good flesh going into the fall season. Markets prices have strengthened in some locations, and farmers and ranchers have been selling many heavy calves and lambs. Forage conditions are good in most areas although sections of West Texas are in poor shape due to dry conditions, noted Pfannstiel. Some livestock feeding has started in West Central Texas due to lack of forage.

Reports from district

Extension agents showed the following conditions.

PANHANDLE: Harvesting of high-moisture corn for feedlot use continues along with harvesting for silage. Sorghum and cotton continue to mature. Most dryland sorghum is suffering from lack of moisture. About half the wheat crop has been seeded although planting moisture remains short. Most cattle are in good shape, with marketing heavy at local auctions.

SOUTH PLAINS: Warmer temperatures have helped the maturing process in cotton. A few early bales have been harvested. Corn harvesting is active, and some sorghum harvesting has started. Harvesting of bell peppers and sunflowers continues. Wheat seeding is past the halfway point. Livestock and range conditions are good for this time of year.

ROLLING PLAINS: Although some wheat has been planted, most farmers are awaiting planting moisture. About 10 percent of the cotton is open and crop prospects continue to be good. The sorghum harvest is generally complete except in western counties. Mung beans are being harvested in Wilbarger and Hardeman counties, with excellent yields of more than 1,000 pounds per acre.

NORTH CENTRAL: Rains last week halted cotton harvesting but should give a boost to small grain plantings and peanuts. Most of the corn and sorghum is in. Weevils continues to infest some pecan trees but the crop looks good. Hornflies continue to increase in cattle.

Did President make the right decision?

Many people can be forgiven for questioning President Jimmy Carter's decision to commute the jail sentences of those four Puerto Ricans who tried to storm the Harry Truman White House and take over the House of Representatives in the 1950s.

Carter freed the four after they had spent almost 30 years in jail for the two shooting incidents.

Two had fired bullets wildly from the balcony of the House of Representatives in 1954. The other two attempted to run past some guards and get at Mr. Truman in the White House.

THE FOUR RESORTED to such violent action not because they were mad at Mr. Truman or any one on the floor of the lower house. Instead, they wanted to dramatize the cause of Puerto Rican independence.

Carter, in announcing his decision, noted that the quartet had served far longer sentences than other convicted of similar crimes. He indicated he was taking such action for a cause of his own, that of Human Rights. He's not to be faulted for such compassion. He did not take into consideration, however, the fact that at least two of the Puerto Ricans sounded anything but repentant. Lolita Lebron, for one, vowed to continue her struggle for her island's independence, just as she had fought for it before going to jail.

Another of the four, Oscar Collazo, voiced much the same kind of defiance.

THE WOMAN ESPECIALLY appeared to be the more resolute. She said she would not disavow the use of bombs in that struggle. When bombs explode, they invariably hurt and sometimes kill a lot of innocent people.

It might be wise for United States officials to keep a close eye on Mrs. Lebron. There's been far too much of that kind of needless violence over the years.

When she's in the neighborhood, chances are not many people nearby are going to get much sleep. We might all feel safer if she were back in jail.

Tough guy

Evans, Novak.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Frank Church's sudden transformation to hard-line, anti-Soviet tough guy over troops in Cuba, now that he faces a difficult re-election campaign in conservative Idaho, has not only diminished his stature with old liberal friends but — more surprisingly — with conservative enemies as well.

Far worse, the administration complains, President Carter's negotiating flexibility with Moscow shrunk when the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee took it upon himself to set the terms: the new strategic arms treaty (SALT II) was dead, he trumpeted, while Soviet combat troops remain in Cuba.

Whatever the shrinkage of Carter's flexibility, Church has very nearly ruined chances for treaty ratification.

Thus, by taking the confidential tip from Under Secretary of State David Newsom Aug. 30 and converting it into what one Senate colleague calls "Church's big issue," he has reached a fateful point in his quarter-century Senate career.

HAVING FINALLY ACHIEVED his youthful goal of the chairmanship once held by Tom Connally, Arthur Vandenberg and Walter George, he has removed himself from the SALT II playing field for the sake of Idaho politics. He is now irrelevant to the treaty debate. Instead of praise and prestige enjoyed by those titans of the previous generation Church is ridiculed behind his back in the Senate and administration.

On the Senate floor, Majority Leader Robert Byrd recently spoke to Sen. George McGovern in a voice overheard by several other senators: "You made great good sense in what you said about SALT and the Russian troops being two separate issues."

While publicly uncommitted on SALT, Byrd is expected to wind up supporting it and obviously resents Church's defection. While there are compelling reasons to link SALT with overall Soviet policy, Byrd has privately pressed several Democratic senators — one of whom opposes the treaty — to speak out against Church's SALT-troops linkage. Byrd has told Carter that SALT may be a good or bad treaty but should be judged on its own merit, not as a campaign issue tied to Cuba.

At lunch in Secretary of State Cyrus Vance's private State Department dining room, Byrd's point was driven home. "I am sorry that the situation of the Soviet troops has become so politicized by certain people," a key congressman said. "It is too serious to politicize." There was no need to name names, including Frank Church's. Vance said he completely agreed.

But Church's transformation to protector of the West from the Soviet menace has not endeared him to serious politicians of the right who have watched the Soviets turn Cuba into a worldwide enforcer of Soviet-style communism and a budding military power. One defense-oriented Democratic senator complained that Church has "trivialized" the U.S.-Soviet struggle by his "simplistic" demand for the brigade's withdrawal.

Sen. Sam Nunn of Georgia, another pro-defense Democrat with an increasingly important voice on U.S. security, did not refer to Church but told us that the real Soviet-Cuban problem transcends the Soviet brigade in Cuba. Nunn and other SALT-skeptic Democrats insist on linking SALT with the Kremlin's conduct, but they have more in mind than just one brigade.

"I see it in terms of Roman numerals," Nunn told us, "and I do not even list the Soviet brigade under Roman numeral I. The real issue is Castro subsidized by Moscow to send Soviet surrogate troops around the world. The brigade issue comes under Roman numeral II, but even there it must be listed below the Soviet MiG 23s and Soviet submarines now assigned to Cuba."

"I'm afraid poor ol' Jimmy just doesn't have the stamina for a presidential runner."

Doomsayer worries asthma patient

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am in my late teens, weigh 85 pounds and am 5 feet, 3 inches. I developed chronic asthma when very young and still have it. I read in a book that this severe condition can be fatal and sometimes crippling. How can it? — J.R.

Doomsayers have to work very hard to come up with distressing news.

Asthma is a narrowing of the airways along with increased mucus production. It can be crippling if it cannot be controlled. Fortunately, it is extremely rare not to be able to control asthma today. There are drugs available to keep the airways dilated (expanded) — ephedrine, for example. There are others of this type, and more stubborn cases may require cortisone-like drugs.

If your asthma is triggered by allergy, to substances in your surroundings — pollens for example — desensitization to those substances often helps. An allergist can say if you need desensitization. Small amounts of common offending substances are placed on or into the skin. The substances the skin reacts to are the ones to which you are allergic. From many such tests the allergist can "mix up" a serum and begin injections. The idea is to stop your body from overreacting to the offending substances when it contacts them in nature.

You need not worry about asthma being fatal if you follow your doctor's advice closely. It is not good to dwell on such rare happenings. Riding in an auto can be fatal or crippling, but we don't let that stop us from sensible use of cars.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am a 15-year-old girl and have been worried about something for quite a while. I have informed my parents about this, but they seem to believe that it is nothing.

When I stand up I have attacks of dizziness and my eyesight becomes blurry. I know this can happen from a change in blood pressure, but this happens every time and it is very annoying. I always feel tired and weak. I always have headaches and frequently have to urinate, which was never a problem before. I feel as though I am not on this earth most of the time and on another planet. I get enough rest so that couldn't be the reason. Could I have diabetes or some type of anemia? My grandfather had diabetes. Please tell me what you think. — Concerned.

A 15-year-old girl should not have any of the symptoms you have.

Frequent urination and constant headaches need a thorough investigation. The diagnosis you suggest (diabetes) is possible. The chances of this increase if other family members have it. I would guess that you are a regular column reader. You do seem well-informed. There are, incidentally, other forms of diabetes not due to a lack of insulin from the pancreas. One (diabetes insipidus) is from a lack of another hormone (antidiuretic hormone) from the pituitary gland. Tests, both blood and urine, should tell much.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Over the past few years there has been a lot of controversy about "maternal instinct" and whether women need to bear children. I've done enough research on that issue, and have observed through experience that there isn't anything innate or instinctive about women's desire to bear children. Now I am wondering about women who choose not to bear children. Barring psychological effects, what are some of the physical consequences of remaining child-free. What do you have to say about all this? — D.K.

One thing I'm not going to do is take a stand against motherhood. But I can give you the example of many childless women who are in great health — physically and psychologically — nuns, for instance.

Dear Editor: The Gray-Y cheerleading program is finally getting off to a good start, thanks to many mothers and fathers in the community. Last year, we had 40 cheerleaders for the Gray-Y basketball teams. This year is the first for football and over 100 showed up for the cheerleading clinic.

I'd like to thank your staff for the news coverage of this program, along with the sponsors of each squad, the behind-the-scenes sponsors, the try out judges, and the patient parents.

Several B.S.H.S. cheerleaders and their friends played a vital role in this program. They have spent sometimes up to four hours at one time teaching the girls new yells, chants, how to jump, do cartwheels and stunts. They are Stacey Hodnett, Shana Hohertz, Lyn Bryan, Michelle Curry, Kristy Matthews, Delia Correa, Caroline Torres and Diane Herrera.

A special thanks goes out to Julie Dudley who took most of the responsibility in organizing the help needed.

My thanks goes out to all the above. Because of their help, over 100 girls are unable to participate in a sport they enjoy.

Dear Editor: What I have to say will probably be, primarily, of interest to Christian people.

We seem to have quite a controversy going in our town over the issue of Planned Parenthood, or, more to the point, Legal Abortion. This, of course, is a result of the Women's Lib Movement. Our society seems to have reached a point where all we hear is "my rights." What makes "me" happy is all that matters.

As our humanistic society takes us farther away from the truth of God's Word, they have their hand out asking us to help support their beliefs. I'm sure many Christians have done this in the past, not realizing what was really involved. But now, the issue is in the open. We can't claim ignorance any more. Life and death are opposites.

If something is alive, and you kill that life, in the case of a human being why call it anything but murder? Human life has different stages, beginning with conception: fetus, baby, child, adolescent, adult, elderly. God talked about life before birth in the case of John the Baptist in Luke

1:30-45; in the case of Jacob and Esau, in Romans 9:10-13, and, of course, Jesus in Luke, Chapter 1.

Those who advocate Legal Abortion cannot justify it by God's standards. It's high time for Christians to stand up and be counted.

Some United Way programs have dropped Planned Parenthood. Why not ours? There are much better solutions to the problem. There are different methods of birth control to fit different people. Why should Christians promote promiscuity? If an unwanted pregnancy does occur, there are many families still waiting for adoption. We need to get back to the Bible.

As for one lady whose grandmothers had 6 or 7 children, and died in their thirties — one of my grandmothers had 7 children, and lived to be 85. The other had 10, and lived to be 96. My mother had 14, and is alive and happy today. At age 87, she is greatly admired and loved by her children, her 40 grandchildren, her 30 great-grandchildren, and her 2 great-great-grandchildren. We see in her a beautiful example of Proverbs 31.

I'm not necessarily promoting large families — just saying we have no right to destroy human life, once it has begun.

I suppose, at this point, I am being labeled Catholic, which I am not. But I thank God for our Catholic friends who stand for this Bible truth.

Dear Editor: I would also like to express my feelings to the eight concerned citizens, D.A. Reed, M.A. McCutchan, P.A. Low, J.L. Pherigo, J.L. Ballinger, Lenora Wrinkle and Penny Huckabee on your Sept. 19 edition.

I sure would have hated if you eight had had your say about the birth of our Lord Jesus. There wouldn't be any hope for us. And also when Jesus died one of the persons that was with him to the last was an ex-adulteress.

So don't concern yourselves about Miss Diaz, as you can see God has helped her up till now with her five healthy kids.

Be concerned about yourselves. In your Bible read Matthew 25, 31-46 also Luke 18, 22-30 for more of my feelings.

Good as gold

WASHINGTON — They used to be very quiet and you rarely saw one. But lately the gold bugs have come out of the closet. You can recognize them by the mad glint in their eyes.

My friend Bob Levin is one of them. He's hard to live with these days. This isn't just my opinion — it's his wife's.

She came to see me the other day. She looked as if she'd been crying. "You've got to do something about Bob," she said. "He's gold crazy."

"Well, if he can afford it, it's not a bad investment."

"HE CAN'T AFFORD IT," she said. "He's putting everything we have into gold. He says it's the only safe thing left in the world."

"Maybe he's right."

"I told him I'd rather put some of it into food for myself and the children."

"What did he say to that?"

"He said, 'How can you think about food when South African Krugerrands are going up five percent a week?' I told him you can't eat Krugerrands, and he said, 'Maybe not today, but when gold hits $600 an ounce, we can have caviar for breakfast while everyone else will be starving to death.'"

"He sounds as if he's really got the bug," I said.

"Last week I told him I had to buy shoes for the children. I asked him for $50. He screamed at me, 'How can you ask for paper money when it's losing its value every day?' So I said, 'All right, give me a Mexican gold 50 peso coin instead.' He said, 'The gnomes in Geneva would really like that. They're counting on people like me getting out now, just when the market is going to soar.'"

"I don't know what I'm going to do. The only thing we've bought for the house in the last six months is a scale. Bob spends his evenings weighing tiny bars of gold in cellophane wrappers. When I tell him to come to bed he says, 'Not until I find out what's happened in Tokyo.' The other night I asked him, 'What has Tokyo got to do with going to bed?' and he said, 'Everything. If you watch the Japanese bankers, you'll know where the dollar is going.'"

"What did you say to that?"

"I SAID I DIDN'T CARE where the dollar was going as long as I could go with it — at least to a store. He said if I just held on for six more months we could buy the store."

"Where does he keep the gold?"

"In the house. He took the insides out of an old television set we have in the attic. Every day he calls up from the office and asks me to go up and check to see if it's still there. He doesn't even like me to go out any more because he's afraid someone will break in while I'm gone."

"Why doesn't he put it in a safe deposit box in a bank?"

"Because he says the way gold is going the banks could close any day and he won't be able to get at his box."

"Has he seen a shrink?"

"He went once at my request." "What happened?"

"He said he persuaded the doctor to put all his earnings into 10 gram bullion."

"I DON'T SEE HOW I can do anything," I told her as she pulled out some tissues to dry her eyes.

"I thought you could talk to him. He respects you and perhaps he'd invest in what you're investing in now."

"I don't think it would do any good," I told her. "My brother has me up to my ears in silver. I've got so much of it I can't even get it into my freezer any more."

selfish interest, we have conflicts. The Bible says, "What causes fights and quarrels among you? Don't they come from your desires that battle within you? You want something but you don't get it. You kill and covet, but you cannot have what you want. You quarrel and fight? (James 4:1-2)."

The Bible tells us that the reason we are so selfish and unable to love is because of sin — we have tried to live apart from God. There is only one lasting solution to our problem, and that is to have God forgive us and give us a life — what the Bible calls a "new birth." This can happen to you if you will turn to Christ. Christ died on the Cross so we could be forgiven, and rose again from the dead to give us new life. When you turn to Christ in faith and trust, He gives you a new capacity for love. In fact, love should be the mark of the Christian. When we experience God's love in Christ we too can learn more and more about loving others for Christ's sake.

By CAROL HUNTER
Cool weather may be on its way. Even so, it hasn't been hot at the Potton House this summer, for the one allowance given under the strict guidelines of the federal grant obtained to restore the Potton House was the provision for central air and heat. So, why would one have to fan at the Potton House? It is strictly voluntary because now some hand fans have been donated by Ernest Welch, 1,000 in fact. These fans are reproductions of those used before air conditioning.

The fans are available, free of charge, along with other material about the home and historical facts about Howard County, while touring the Potton House. The fans are interesting mementoes because among other treasures obtained with the purchase of the house in 1975 was a small collection of hand fans, saved through the years by the family.

The accumulation ranges from some out-of-town specimens to local advertisers. J.D. Biles Drug Store, phone 888, seemed to be the most prolific advertiser on the fans. In those days, his fans featured classic items such as O.J.'s Beauty Lotion or Spicer's Nux Herb and Iron, $1 a bottle. The latter was advertised as guaranteeing to "purify your blood, clean your system, clear your complexion, build you up all over, etc." Biles advertised, on another fan, such by-gone goodies as Rido-Dander, manufactured in Cuero, Texas, or try Marsha, Ideal face powder, 50c a box. Still another fan from Biles urged one to come to the drug store and "drink at our sanitary fountain. Our drinks are classy drinks of quality. Our fountain is a mecca for the tired and hungry." One can only mourn at the passing of such a delightful-sounding place as J.D. Biles Drug Store. Still another fan pictures a cool scene on the front, water fall, green grass, trees galore, and many small advertisements on the reverse side, i.e. Settles Hotel Barber Shop, U Save Store (phone 107, groceries, meats, Wedeliver), Bolinger Grocery, Cunningham and Phillips Drug Store (cool off with a pint of our ice cream, 15c), Re-elect E.G. Tower, County Treasurer and Re-elect R. Lee Warren, County Clerk. Wonder how those elections came out?

Big Spring Hardware was promoted on the back of a portrait of the Last Supper, one would assume these were particularly appropriate for church. It is interesting that it is called Big Spring's Hardware, Big Spring, Texas on this particular fan. Still another of the collection is a fan devoted to De Voe's Extra Quality Snuff, "the snuff you can count on."

A unique feature of the Potton House is the previously mentioned memorabilia, most of which belonged to the Pottons or the Hayden's, the Potton's daughter and her family who owned the house until 1975. Located in the bedroom, the one closet in the house, a rarity for those times, is filled with some beautiful clothes and shoes. The dresser top displays some fantastic trivia, including Mr. Potton's Funeral Notice, 1920. Inside the top drawer, Mr. Potton listed, in pencil, the numbers and names of his insurance policies as well as the numbers of his and Mrs. Potton's watches, dated 1902.

Of the lovely furniture, most comments are made about the huge grandfather clock in the Reception Hall, now valued at the same price for which the house was originally built in 1901. Its chimes are as clear as the day the Pottons purchased it, before leaving England. Also sparking great interest is the Listz-Knabe piano. Mr. Potton had this beauty delivered to Big Spring several months after Theodore Roosevelt had purchased one for the White House.

Interestingly, Potton House docent, Joan Beal, is a descendant of William Knabe. Along with the piano in the parlor is an 1894 music box, loaned to the home by Ella Smith. It is wound by hand to play its zine records. Music was important to the family in the early part of the century. Mrs. Potton's brother, E. Ball, was a professor of music, an organist and choir master at Reishall Parish Church in England. Some of his works and his advertisement were kept by the family and are now on display. He is pictured in a brochure which tells of his teaching organ, his forming and training choirs. Several choirsters having thus been trained by him, had gained Cathedral appointments. He also outlined the terms of his lessons.

The yard of the Potton House has taken on special interest of late. The first order of business was to revamp the house itself, and most of the grant monies went for that purpose. It was, however, the desire of the Potton House Board to reconstruct the Barn. In an agreement with the Big Spring High School Trades Class last year, this was accomplished. They also constructed an outhouse, which the city had made the Pottons tear down completely. There was an amazing excavation when the construction began, for by chance, the site turned out to be the very same as the original outhouse. There being no garbage pick up in those days, the outhouse had been used as a trash dump also. Unearthed were lightglobes, broken bottles, broken pieces of china and pottery. One bottle had a Latin inscription. These have been pieced together, in some instances, and are on display. Bob and Sherry Wegner have generously loaned several spectacular items to the home. The stove in the kitchen is theirs, and a buggy dating back 80 or 90 years, is stored in the rebuilt barn. Wayne Burleson is going to restore the buggy. The windmill, across the street in the parking lot, is soon to be fixed to actually turn again. Elton Weaver plans to give new blades for the windmill.

The Pottons' every day china was made by Thomas Haviland in Limoges, France. Broken pieces were found in the unearthing, but it is gone except for the pieced-together ones. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frei have loaned an identical set which is not exhibited on the dining room table. Gladys Fivash has loaned some doll china and other doll furniture.

With new items being added all of the time, it is worth a frequent trip to the Potton House. Remember to bring out of town guests. Do go by and pick up a hand fan. We may all need them next summer.

Wilbert Braden has first bale

St. Lawrence Gin processing and 500 pounds after processing. A total of 1979 cotton harvest Thursday, reports Delmer Batla, gin manager. Wilbert Braden was the producer of the cotton. It weighed 2,050 pounds before Batla said he expected the Glasscock crop to be very good.

ALL GOOD THINGS ARE CHEAP.

Twenty years ago most prescriptions cost less than they do now. But, they did less. We had none of the costlier antibiotics, new hormones, and other "miracle" drugs which can be depended upon to produce a positive benefit and very often a certain cure.

Present prescriptions are "cheap" indeed, for they usually limit sickness-time to days instead of weeks and save more lives. Some cost more, but you benefit more.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Inmate's mother corrects communications breakdown

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — A mother's tenacity overcame a "breakdown in communications" that had kept a man locked in a Colorado jail for eight days, charged with a crime he did not commit.

Robbery charges against Wesley L. Bump ultimately were dropped because his mother, Mrs. Marty Bump, conducted her own investigation.

Mrs. Bump said she proved her son was in Colorado June 13, the day a San Angelo grocery was held up. She said she gave that proof to the San Angelo police chief 16 days before Bump was arrested.

"There was a breakdown in communications," said San Angelo Police Chief Dick Burnett. "We thought the district attorney (in Routt County, Colo.) was checking out the story... he apparently thought we were looking into it."

"I'm not happy with the investigation," said Burnett. "I'm not trying to second-guess the investigators but I think I would have handled it differently. I feel bad about it but it was just one of those things."

Five days after Bump's arrest, two San Angelo police detectives arrived in Steamboat Springs, Colo., and spent three days questioning Bump.

"I hated those guys so bad I couldn't stand it," Bump told the San Angelo Standard-Times Thursday in a copyright story.

"They were just doing their jobs but I think they went about it in the wrong way. I was scared to death. I was afraid they were going to get me for something I didn't do."

Bump, 20, of Steamboat Springs, was charged with aggravated robbery with a deadly weapon. Bump had recently moved to Colorado from San Angelo.

He was arrested Sept. 4 and released eight days later after Colorado officers and two San Angelo detectives determined Bump was at work in Steamboat Springs the day of the robbery, and could not have been in Texas.

Bump is in San Angelo now for the conclusion of a lawsuit unrelated to his troubles with the local police, but he says he won't be staying there.

"I can't stay in San Angelo because I don't want to take the chance of being harassed here," he said.

Bump indicated he may take some sort of legal action but was not sure what course he would pursue eventually.

FIRSTHAND LOOK — March Of Dimes National Poster child Betsy Burch gets a first hand view of the organizations efforts to protect the unborn from birth defects. While on a visit to Fort Worth, Texas, Betsy visited the Fort Worth's Children's Hospital Neonatal Intensive Unit to visit some of the tiny patients, who like Betsy, had less than a perfect start in life. As poster child, Betsy will travel across the country this year representing the more than a quarter-million infants affected by birth defects each year.

Saddle is awarded to Coahoma youth

First place in the Howard County Roping and Barrel Race program this year went to Shannon Boyles, Coahoma, in the Howard County Fair.

Boyles won the trophy saddle with a 63.64 second average for two calves and two steers. Second place went to Tom Romine with a 64.12 second average on four head.

In the calf roping, best average belonged to James Doss with 20.34 average on two calves. He won the trophy buckle. First go-around winner was Jesse Doss with 10.40 seconds. Second go-around winner was Bill Romine with 9.42 seconds.

In team roping competition, Lane Griffin and Jimmy Sterling had the lowest average with 26.20 seconds on two steers. Each won a trophy buckle. First go-around winners were Kyle Ditto and Martin Fryar with 9.08 seconds. Second go-around winners were Claude Hodnett and Ricky Furlong with 9.64 seconds.

In barrel race competition, Gay Greenfield won the first place buckle with an average of 35.81 seconds on two runs. Kristie Taylor took second with 36.35 seconds and Melody Choate came in third with 37.76 seconds. Shawn Moser took fourth with 40.80 seconds average.

First place in the first go-around went to Ann Clark with 18.57 seconds. Second place went to Terry Himes with 18.68 seconds and third went to Patricia Wright with 24.59 seconds.

In the second go-around, Wanda Driver came in first with 17.96 seconds. Leslie Guitar took second with 18.06 seconds and Valencia Kirby was third with 18.23 seconds.

FALL IS THE TIME TO PLANT

Why? Because there is less wind activity, more moisture, cooler days and nights, this results in less strain for the plant during fall months and rooting activity increase — resulting in the max. amount of plant growth in the spring.

WAITING FOR WIND — The DaVinci Trans-America balloon crosses the Continental Divide in Colorado on Friday before dropping down into the eastern Colorado farmland, where the crew hovered early Saturday. The balloon's progress was halted to wait for favorable winds to continue its nonstop transcontinental flight.

Source found in Tucson school cake

Radioactive cargo Arizona-bound

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A tritium-laden Army National Guard convoy Saturday rolled through Phoenix on its way to a northern Arizona site where guardsmen have been ordered to bury the radioactive cargo seized from a manufacturing plant.

Tritium, used to make luminous watch dials and exit signs, was suspected as the source of radioactivity found in cake at a Tucson school kitchen near the plant.

The half-mile-long caravan of three large trucks, several smaller vehicles and a dozen police motorcycles left Tucson before dawn, destined for an Army depot west of Flagstaff, 270 miles to the north.

The convoy was traveling at about 50 mph on open highway but was expected to slow down once it reached mountain roads near Flagstaff.

It pulled to a halt about 40 miles north of Phoenix at a rest stop on Interstate 17 where scientists checked the $500,000 cargo.

The tritium is sealed inside 6.4 million tiny glass tubes which in turn are packed in 38 barrels that are locked inside a steel box.

Tests showed no radiation had been emitted, scientists said.

Army National Guard and state Department of Public Safety helicopters were sweeping ahead of the convoy to make sure the path to Flagstaff was clear.

The convoy drew no crowds and no incidents were reported along the way.

It was estimated the caravan would reach the Navajo Army Ordnance Depot, about 12 miles west of Flagstaff, at about 5 p.m. EDT.

Shipment of the gas had been in doubt after a Superior Court judge issued a temporary restraining order against the move Friday. But the judge lifted the order five hours later after telephone discussions with state officials.

Dale Pontius, an aide to

Gov. Bruce Babbitt, said Superior Court Judge Richard Mangum reversed himself after a conference call Friday night.

"Once he was advised of the situation, he was convinced he shouldn't have entered the order, so he rescinded it," Pontius said.

Pontius said the governor "is very confident that no danger exists for anyone" in the Flagstaff area, where the tritium is to be moved. He noted that Babbitt's family lives in the area.

The injunction was issued at the request of Flagstaff residents who get their water from a well just a few hundred yards from the depot.

State legislature to work on pending urban problems

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Lawmakers need to know how population growth is affecting Texas cities "will become more acute" during the 1980s, and two committees will work in the next year on public policies to deal with those problems.

A nine-member Select Committee on Urban Issues has been formed, with the members selected from metropolitan House districts, Clayton said in his recent newsletter.

"The committee will concentrate its efforts in seeking to determine if there is an ample water supply, if environmental concerns are met, and if there is adequate recreational space set aside," Clayton said.

He said the study also will include "scrutinizing public schools from elementary through university level, vocational training, and continuing education with an eye toward future needs.

Joint Committee on Urban Needs in the 1980s — "will deal with the economies of metro areas and attempt to resolve concerns such as revenue and expenditure levels," Clayton said.

LAKEVIEW LINEBACKERS — Head Start classes, parents, other relatives, friends and the Lakeview School faculty gave Lakeview Kindergartners lots of support and applause as they marched through the school gymnasium, strutting in costumes made of triangles, rectangles and other shapes. The kids' parades come at the end of their first Lippincott workbook, which centers on the theme of a parade. It's designed to teach the children the shapes which were proudly displayed Friday.

In Connecticut primary, yes

Connally content with third?

HARTFORD (AP) — Republican presidential hopeful John Connally revisited Connecticut Saturday, saying he would be content to place third in the state's presidential primary next year.

Connally's organizers in the state agreed, saying they think Connally will place behind former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and U.S. Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee in the March 11 contest.

Connally, who made one other visit to the state earlier this year, held a news conference at the Hartford

Hilton hotel and later was to attend a Fairfield fundraiser, where former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger also was expected.

The former Texas governor told reporters he doesn't expect to do better than second or third in the New England primaries early next year, including Connecticut's.

He said Reagan should place first in Connecticut considering the time he has spent organizing in the state.

Connally forces only recently began forming an organization in the state. His Connecticut organizers include a number of Republican politicians who were close to former Gov. Thomas J. Meskill during his administration in the early 1970s.

Connally wouldn't speculate on who would place second in the Connecticut primary. But his campaign director in the state, James Donnelly, said he felt it would be Baker rather than George Bush of Texas, a Connecticut native who has the support of many leading Republicans in the state.

"It's all clubby," Donnelly said of Bush's support in the state.

"It's just a lot of friends. I don't think it's going to translate into votes," Donnelly said.

"He's had a good start and if he's going to do well it should be here," Connally said.

Connally, who served as treasury secretary during former President Richard Nixon's administration, said his aim is to do respectably in New England and cut into Reagan's strength elsewhere in the country.

"If I can penetrate the aura of invincibility of Reagan, I'm going to defeat him," Connally said.

Toopers not bowing to county's demand

JOURDANTON, Texas (AP) — Texas state troopers faced with a "get out of town" deadline aren't leaving, but they aren't planning to keep a high profile, either.

Atascosa County commissioners have threatened to throw the Department of Public Safety's six-man contingent out of their county-owned office Monday unless Patrolmen Albert Rodriguez, 26, and Earl Conway, 32, are transferred out of the county.

The commissioners say the pair have been "harassing" residents.

Rodriguez and Conway are credited by their superiors with cutting the county's traffic death rate in half by cracking down on drunk drivers.

That crackdown has led to drunken driving charges against the sons of two local politicians, including the county commissioner who sponsored the eviction resolution.

DPS spokesman Richard Grinnett said Friday in Austin that the six troopers in the county, including the two controversial officers, county officials want transferred, will still be stationed there, but would be available only in response to problems.

"We're not pulling the troopers out, but until we get our problems resolved, we will not be doing concerted

K.D. HESTES

W.F. HILLEBRANDT

Former local resident named veep of Mo-Pac

K.D. Hestes, general manager of Mo-Pac's Western District since 1970, has been promoted to assistant vice president-operation with headquarters in St. Louis.

William F. Hillebrandt, assistant to the vice president-operation since 1977, succeeds Hestes as general manager of the Western District with headquarters at Kansas City.

Hestes, who has been a railroad officer since 1946 when he was appointed trainmaster in Big Spring, began his railroad career in 1941 as an agent-telegrapher.

He was promoted to superintendent of transportation for the former Texas & Pacific Railway in 1961, and later assistant general manager for Mo-Pac's former Northern District in 1962. He moved to Little Rock as assistant general manager in 1964, and to Houston in 1966, as general manager.

Hillebrandt began his Mo-Pac career in 1970. After completing the railroad's management development program, he served as a transportation planning officer at St. Louis, prior to being named assistant superintendent at the Kansas City Terminal Division in 1973. In 1974 he was promoted to superintendent of the Little Rock Terminal Division.

From 1975-77 he served as superintendent of the Arkansas Division before being promoted to assistant general manager-transportation at St. Louis, and subsequently, to assistant to the vice president-operation.

GOOD FOR FIVE — Texas quarterback Donnie Little (1) threads his way for a gain of five yards and a first down during the first period of play against the University of Missouri Saturday afternoon at Columbia. Moving in to assist in bringing Little down is Missouri's Ken Harlan (41). Texas won 21-0.

Tigers are gored

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — John Goodson kicked four field goals and the quick, swarming Texas defense dominated Missouri's offense Saturday, leading the fourth-ranked Longhorns to a 21-0 victory over the previously unbeaten and fifth-ranked Tigers.

A record crowd of 75,136 watched Goodson, a 200-pound sophomore, tie a Texas record with field goals of 23, 50, 35 and 25 yards.

The Longhorns, 2-0, took an 8-0 lead in the first quarter on two Goodson field goals and a two-point safety. Texas' first four scores followed Missouri turnovers or mistakes as the Tigers were unable to overcome miserable field position at the game's outset.

Missouri, 3-1, launched its first four drives from its own 13, 20, 13 and 5 yard lines and was stopped cold each time.

Texas, after a 27-yard Jeff Brockhaus punt, took over on the Missouri 34 and quickly set up Goodson's 23-yarder on its first possession.

Vance Bedford intercepted a Phil Bradley pass moments later and put Texas in business on the Tiger 32. The defense held and Goodson was called upon to boot a 50-yarder which gave the Longhorns a 6-0 lead with 7:46 remaining in the first quarter.

Steve Sly fumbled the ensuing kickoff but Ron Fellows fell on the ball at the 5.

Three plays later Brockhaus stood deep in the end zone and punted into the chest of hard-charging Richard Slaydon, the ball bouncing out of the end zone, and the two-point safety put the Longhorns in front, 8-0.

The Texas defense was so dominant Missouri ran only 28 plays in the first half and 18 in the second.

Ponies drowned By Green Wave

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane tailback Marvin Christian burst 19 yards up the middle with 1:22 left on the clock to give Tulane a 24-17 victory over 19th ranked Southern Methodist University in an inter-sectional college football clash Saturday night.

It was Christian's second touchdown for the night. He got a 14-yarder in the first half.

Christian carried 17 times for 108 yards, including the winning touchdown, which came after it appeared that

SMU had rallied from a 10-point halftime deficit to knot the score at 17-17.

Tulane appeared to be going in for the clinching touchdown early in the fourth quarter, but an interception and a 45 yard runback by linebacker Eric Ferguson, put SMU in business for the tying score.

With the ball on the SMU nineyard line, Tulane quarterback Roch Hontas hit freshman fullback Reggie Reginnelli in the flat and the ball popped up in the air.

Battle-Gill lead

Hal Battle and Audry Gill, who turned to golf after they carved out niches for themselves in football, teamed to fire a net score of 54 in the first round of the Member-Guest Tournament at the Big Spring Country Club Saturday.

The score was good enough to lead the 36-hole event by a stroke. The tournament winds up today.

Battle, who lives in Midland but who holds a membership in the Big Spring Country Club, has a 17-stroke handicap. Gill makes use of a 14-stroke handicap.

Ken Perry and Monty Miller are second with a collective score of 55 while the Medley-Schutzenhoffer formed a tandem that fired a 56.

Tied at 58 are the combinations of Tom McCann-Whitesides and Ray Mize-Glover.

Within shooting distance of the top spots are Harrol Jones-V. Strahan and Tom Burke-Baron, each with a score of 59.

The scores ranged upward to 69.

Buffs KOed by Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Backup fullback David Barrett scored three second-quarter touchdowns, including a 48-yard run on his first carry, to ignite eighth-ranked Houston to a 49-10 non-conference victory over outmanned West Texas State Saturday.

The Cougars, 3-0, scored on four of their six first half possessions, but didn't get cranked up until Barrett entered the game to start the second quarter. On his first carry, Barrett dashed 48 yards for a touchdown and later scored on runs of 6 and 1 yards as the Cougars took a 28-3 halftime lead.

Houston jumped to a 7-0 lead on its first possession when Terald Clark ran 11 yards.

Running back John Newhouse fumbled into the West Texas end zone on Houston's next possession and the Buffaloes, 1-4, drove back to a 46-yard field goal by Press Theriot.

Mavs decision

Frogs, 21-14

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Roy Dewalt rushed for 122 yards and two touchdowns, setting up one of the scores with a 58-yard bomb, as Texas-Arlington defeated Texas Christian 21-14 Saturday night.

After a scoreless first quarter, Dewalt led the Mavericks 81 yards in 12 plays, sending halfback Kent Sharp the final five yards.

Four plays later, UT-Arlington got the ball at its 41 after a punt and Dewalt threw a pass that Scot Burt caught at the TCU 5-yard-line. He fell at the 1-yard-line after the lunging catch and Dewalt carried it over on the next play for a 14-0 halftime lead.

Elam, Baylor topple Texas Tech Red Raiders, 27-17

WACO, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Mickey Elam passed 22 yards for a touchdown to exciting sophomore Dennis Gentry and rushed for over 100 yards Saturday, lifting the Baylor Bears to a come-from-behind 27-17 Southwest Conference victory over Texas Tech.

With temperatures reaching 102 degrees on the artificial floor of Baylor Stadium, the Bears overcame a 10-0 deficit on parents day to earn their second SWC victory against no losses and tying them with Southern Methodist in the league standings.

A blocked punt by Max McGary which Vic Vines recovered in the end zone for a touchdown tied the game 10-10 in the second quarter. Elam lofted a 22-yard scoring toss to Gentry for a 20-10 Baylor halftime lead.

Gentry, who had only carried the ball 15 times all year, scored on a nine-yard run in the third quarter for what proved to be the game clincher.

Tech quarterback Ron Reeves, who suffered from an erratic, took the Red Raiders on a long fourth-quarter drive highlighted by James Hadnot's 45-yard run to score himself on a one-yard keeper.

Tech is now 0-1 in SWC play and 1-2-1 for the year. Baylor, which lost 45-0 to Alabama last week, is 3-1 overall.

The Red Raiders jumped to a 10-0 first quarter lead on an 11-yard touchdown pass from Reeves to Howie Lewis and 39-yard field goal by Bill Adams. Baylor countered with a 40-yard field goal by Bledsoe before Vines made his blocked punt recovery.

Texas A&M deflates Memphis State, 17-7

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Senior tailback Curtis Dickey rushed for 137 yards and a touchdown Saturday night to lead Texas A&M to a 17-7 college football victory over Memphis State.

The fleet-footed Dickey scored on a one-yard run set up by a 36-yard interception return by cornerback Carl Grulich.

The Southwestern Conference Aggies opened the scoring in the second quarter on a fouryard run by quarterback Mike Mosley. Memphis State tied it in the middle of the third quarter on a 44-yard pass play from senior quarterback Kevin Betts to Richard Williams.

That score was set up by Tiger tight end Russell Richards' recovery of a fumble on Aggies' 43 yard line.

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

SUNDAY, SEPT. 30, 1979
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You would be wise to look into new interests which could give you a more complete life. A time to share responsibilities with family members. Look ahead and study potential!

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Try to improve your image with the public in general today. Study career activities and make plans for improvement.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Follow your hunches early in the day since you are likely to be off target later. Make plans to improve your social life.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) See to it that all your affairs are better arranged. Give more thought to your mate and come to a better understanding.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have fine creative ideas that should be put in operation as soon as possible. Discuss future with family members.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make exacting plans now to handle important tasks ahead of you. Take some treatment that can give you more vitality.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Planning how to have a more ideal life is in the morning. Try to argue with the one you love and get more out of life.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure things are running smoothly at home. Show that you are very serious in all that you do and say. Share happiness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be more astute in handling correspondence and communicating in person with others. Enjoy a quiet evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study monetary matters well so that you will know how to handle them at the right time tomorrow. Plan for the days ahead.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Think along lines of gaining your most cherished aims. Stick to loyal friends since others could lead you astray.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be most practical in any arrangements you make today and sidestep one who wants to waste your time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Seek the company of good friends but don't commit yourself to something you know nothing about. Your judgment is good now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY
 ... he or she will be one of those intelligent young persons who is a born organizer and engineer, whether dealing with engines or ideas. A strong personality here which should not be thwarted with too much discipline. The stars impel, they do not compel. "What you make of your life is largely up to you!"

MONDAY, OCT. 1, 1979
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Start the week right by utilizing an excellent day and evening where whatever is progressive and original are concerned. Get moderate and up-to-date friends to aid you in setting up plans.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Contact friends and gain their backing. Take time to repay social obligations. Accept worthwhile invitations.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You now understand how best to handle property matters, so contact bigwigs and gain their support. Avoid one who is not a true friend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Elevate your consciousness and make life more worthwhile. Plan a trip you are contemplating wisely and don't forget details. Don't take risks where money and reputation are concerned.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Use tact in dealing with debtors and creditors. Come to a better understanding with close ties, also. Improve your health.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Discuss important matters with associates and come to a fine understanding, get good results. Get involved in community affairs.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You get excellent results in handling important work. Come to a better understanding with family. Take care of business affairs before entertaining friends at home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to find a solution for problems that have been puzzling you. Look for the right source of trouble. Evening is fine for socializing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get together with partners and plan a more successful future for all concerned. Visit those who are important to your welfare.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Improve conditions at home and have more happiness with family. Take care of business affairs before entertaining friends at home.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You look and feel charming now and can put your talents across more effectively. Repay social obligations. Avoid one you dislike.

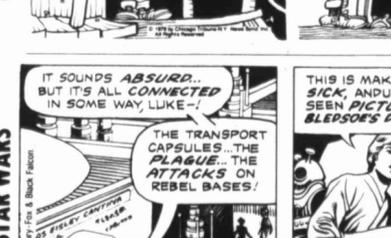

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Do something a little dramatic today that can bring something good into your life, although you are usually very serious.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY
 ... he or she will be most helpful to others where beauty, culture and musical matters are concerned. There is a natural ability at precision and driving, into minute details. The personality brings a cheerful one, the sky will be the limit. The stars impel, they do not compel. "What you make of your life is largely up to you!"

Snyder is defeated

SNYDER — QB Keith Brooks led Andrews to a 14-8 victory over Snyder here Friday night. Brooks opened the scoring with a pass to Ruben Acosta. The play covered 13 yards and occurred in the opening round. The try for point failed. In the second round, Brooks ran a punt back 74 yards for the second Andrews tally. The Andrews quarterback passed to Chuck Fuson for the two-point conversion. Snyder couldn't untrack until the fourth quarter. With 56 seconds left, QB Mike Roemisch passed to Trussel Thane for a six-pointer. The drive covered 63 yards. Snyder outgained the Mustangs on the ground, 125-112, and through the air, 96-85, but could move when it counted.

Lamesa beaten by Hobbs, 13-0

HOBBS, N.M. — Hobbs humbled Lamesa, 13-0, here Friday night after scoring its first touchdown of the year. QB Marty McIlroy went over from the one for Hobbs' first touchdown in the third quarter. Barry Woods then booted the point after to make it 7-0. Woods added an insurance score in the fourth period when he plowed across from the one. This time, the try for point failed. Lamesa showed to advantage on defense but could not mount a serious scoring drive.

Garden City defeated by Bulldogs, 33 to 6

MILES — The Miles Bulldog won their first game in four starts here Friday night by defeating Garden City, 33-6. The visiting Bearcats, still winless in four starts, waited until late in the fourth quarter to mount their only scoring drive. The Kats marched 99 yards for the score. Chris Halfmann got it on a three-yard run off tackle. The Bulldogs built up a 26-0 bulge at half time. Modesto Salinas scored twice for Miles while Cipriano Salinas and Randy Carroll each counted once.

Texas Open starts Thursday

Desperate Streck in field

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The 50th version of the Texas Open gets under way this week, with a list of entries weakened by the golf tournament's 11th hour position on the 1979 pro tour and Ron Who? as the defending champion. Ron Who? is obscure Ron Streck, who captured the fancy of the gallery, the writers and his fellow pro golfers last year by firing PGA record back-to-back rounds of 63-62 after scrambling to barely make the cut in the first two rounds. Streck, now 25, had come into the tournament with only $6,932 in 1978 winnings and needed to hike that in the last few tourneys to $10,000 to earn a third year on the Professional Golfers Association tour. He won only $11,000 his first season. He fired a three-over-par 73 in the first round and looked like he would miss yet another cut. His parents even checked out of their hotel the next morning. But Streck hit a pressure-packed six-foot putt on the 18th hole the next day to salvage a 67 and barely make the cut at 140. Streck then demolished the 6,525-yard Oak Hills Country Club course the next two days, out-playing stars like Lee Trevino, Hubert Green, and Ben Crenshaw to win the $40,000 first prize. Streck is in a little better position this year, but he still is only 91st on the PGA money list with $38,500 — $20,000 of which he won with a fourth-place finish in the PGA Championship early last month. That was his only top 10 finish this year. Streck won $2,200 in his next tournament, but has missed either the cut or the entire tournament since. He entered the $250,000 Texas Open with putting problems. But he is the defending champion. "Since I've never been a defending champion, I don't know what it's like. All it does is give me confidence," Streck said by phone from Oklahoma. "I haven't been playing very well in the last few weeks. I would love to play well there again." Streck discovered that one of the benefits of being a tournament winner is that he was paired regularly with the stars. "People were saying, 'Who's that guy?' But I didn't care. I don't know them either," he said. The Texas Open began in 1922, but was interrupted by the Depression, World War

II and a fiscal disaster that forced cancellation in 1971. But this year's tourney is three weeks later in the tour and a week after the World Series of Golf — customarily considered the climax of the tour. Therefore, many of golf's top players are not playing here this year. Only three of the PGA's Top Ten money winners — No. 3 Crenshaw, No. 5 Trevino and No. 8 Bruce Lietzke — are entered, compared to eight last year. All three are Texans.

Alfonso Cortez scores twice

Grady loses first game

PAINT ROCK — Paint Rock handed Grady its first football defeat of the season here Friday night, 42-14. Paint Rock is now 3-0 while Grady dropped to 3-1. Grady had trouble holding onto the ball, yielding possession on fumbles three times. QB Rick Podtscheld passed seven yards to Bill Halfmann for Paint Rock's first score. The play covered seven yards and occurred in the opening round. The resident club scored again when running back Butch Horne went in from ten yards out. John Weeks scored the first of his two touchdowns for Paint Rock shortly before the half ended on a 12-yard surge. The Indians led at half time, 30-6. Podtscheld passed to Blaine Robertson for 27 yards and another Paint Rock score in the third. Grady tallied in the second when Alfonso Cortez breezed 25 yards on a draw play.

Weeks hit Halfmann with a seven-yard scoring aerial in the third, then scored himself with less than two minutes to play on a 19-yard run. Cortez put Grady on the score board again in the closing seconds when he broke loose on a 46-yard run. Leandro Gonzalez added the two PATs on a kick. Ronald Chee made 52 yards in 13 carries for Grady. Cortez gained 85 yards in seven efforts while Larry Key picked up 19 paces in 11 tries. For Paint Rock, Butch Horne gained 77 yards in ten efforts, John Weeks 69 in 13 carries, Ken Peters 26 yards in three runs and Blaine Robertson 16 yards in four tries. Larry Key had 12 tackles for the Wildcats, Ron Chee, nine, Cortez eight, Leandro Gonzales, six, Ron Deatheridge five, Allen Wegner and Joe Rodriguez four each while Lynn Key came up with two.

Referee finally stops Holmes-Shavers fight

LAS VEGAS (AP) — "Man, stop the fight," heavyweight champion Larry Holmes begged the referee. "Look at him — all banged up, cut around both eyes. He's hurt. What do you want me to do — kill him?"

Challenger Earnie Shavers, a battered old veteran of 35, hung limply on the ropes. His legs were rubbery. His eyes were glazed. He couldn't raise his weary arms for defense.

"I begged Earnie to quit, too," Holmes said. "I said, 'Man, why you hanging on? Why don't you quit?' He said, 'I ain't quitting. I'm trying to take your title away.'"

At two minutes of the 11th round, referee Davey Pearl stepped between Holmes and a battered Shavers, and raised Holmes' hand as successful defender of the World Boxing Council heavyweight crown.

Twice the 29-year-old champion pulled himself off the floor — once in the seventh from a shattering right to the head, again in the ninth after a half-slip — for his 32nd victory and 23rd knockout without a defeat as a pro.

Shavers was rushed to the Valley Hospital to have doctors sew up ugly gashes around both eyes.

It was a knockdown, dragout brawl reminiscent of the now-legendary third Muhammad Ali-Joe Frazier "Thrilla of Manila" in October, 1975 and it turned an affluent crowd of 4,500, who paid up to $250 a seat, into a wild frenzy at the Caesars Palace Pavilion.

The television audience was estimated by ABC-TV at 50 million.

Holmes, a standup boxer who never has gained the recognition he deserved, proved himself a true champion. He appeared on the verge of being knocked out in the seventh, when he was sent thudding on his back by a Shavers right, but he was in charge at the finish.

The three ringside judges gave him nine of the 10 rounds they scored, all except the seventh.

Holmes now virtually has run out of suitable opponents until the WBC and the rival World Boxing Association can reach some sort of accommodation to end the split in the division. Olympic silver medalist John Tate and South Africa's Gerry Coetzee meet in Pretoria, South Africa, Oct. 20 for the WBA version of the championship.

Holmes said he plans to rest the remainder of the year, undertake three title defenses in 1980 and ultimately — he hopes — get a shot at Tate to unify the heavyweight championship.

"I think Tate will win in South Africa," he said. "Other guys I might fight in the meantime are Ron Lyle, Scott Ledoux and Michael Dokes." Dokes, an unbeaten contender from Akron, Ohio, outpointed Jimmy Young on the accompanying card.

In other fights of the show, Sugar Ray Leonard, an Olympic gold medalist, retained his North American welterweight crown by stopping Andy "Hawk" Price in 2:52 of the first round; Wilfredo Gomez of Puerto Rico stopped Carlos Mendoza of Mexico in 2:29 of the 10th to keep his WBC super bantamweight title, and Roberto Duran of Panama, the former lightweight champion, scored a 10-round decision over Zeferino "Speedy" Gonzalez of Los Angeles in a welterweight match.

But it remained for Holmes and Shavers to bring the crowd to a pitch of excitement. The fight lacked the finer points of the Ali-Frazier duels, but for raw drama, it was one that will long be remembered.

As Shavers swung wildly, there always was the sense that any minute he might land one of his roundhouse blows and enhance his record. In 58 victories, he had scored 56 kayoes, half in the first two rounds.

With honesty

Lee threatens baseball brass

By The Associated Press

Bowie Kuhn, the lord high commissioner of baseball, is a man of dignity, unquestioned integrity and well-meaning, but in his latest square-off with Pitcher Bill Lee of the Montreal Expos, pardon us, but we have to line up in the "Spaceman's" corner.

Detrimental to baseball? Someone's gotta be kidding. Bill Lee — or "Space" or "Moon Man," as his mates call him — is the freshest puff of breeze to blow across the diamond in years. His manager considers him a marvel. To his teammates, he is a flake who keeps the locker room loose. He is the darling of the college liberals, most of the fans and the media.

With all his idiosyncrasies, he's the kind of guy you wouldn't mind your son growing up to be.

So he gets belted with a $250 fine for acknowledging — honestly and off-handedly — that, sure, he'd used a little marijuana in his lifetime. He didn't say he was junkie. He didn't say he was hooked on the stuff. He just admitted in a conversation that he had exposed himself to the horrible weed that more than half of the nation's school kids treat like bubblegum.

This all happened in the spring. Now the matter has been reopened by Lee, with the support of the American Civil Liberties Union and the players association, to test the constitutional right of free speech.

It's hard to see how baseball can win this one. We'll leave that to the judges. But it is in our province to reveal Bill Lee as the person he is — not an ogre, not a stumblebum but a bright, articulate athlete and family man, father of three, who is a blythe spirit yet genuinely concerned about the quality of life.

He cuts through all the fakery, hypocrisy, social snobbery and pontifical, holier-than-thou attitudes to put his sport and his world in true perspective.

His greatest sin, if any, is that he goes heavy on the hyperbole.

He once referred to Billy Martin and the Yankees as "that neo-Nazi and his Brown Shirts." Of the 1972-74 champion Oakland A's, he said, "They remind me of Gates Brown lying on a rug." He rated Cincinnati's Big Red Machine as third in fundamentals behind the Taiwan Little Leaguers and Southern Cal's college champs.

Personally, he is a physical fitness and rock 'n' roll freak. He is deep into the evils of pollution, nuclear energy, tobacco, alcohol, junk foods, sugar and white breads.

His buffoonery is largely an act. Friends insist he is a man of intellectual depth and feeling using his kookiness as a platform.

The "Spaceman" was fined not because he used marijuana — it would be naive to believe scores of ball players are not as involved, or more — but that he said so publicly.

In baseball's eyes, that is the cardinal crime. By mentioning it, the maverick left-hander defiled the minds of countless innocent youngsters. That's ludicrous. Surveys have shown kids are into the "dope" scene probably more deeply than their sport heroes.

The bothersome element is that baseball — or any other pro sport — feels that it can purify its ranks by stifling free speech.

Wolves, Antelopes play to deadlock

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City gave Post all it could handle but had to settle for a 14-14 tie in a football game played here Friday night.

Fullback Doug Johnson of the Wolves broke free for a touchdown in the fourth quarter only to have the play nullified by a penalty.

On the following play, the Wolves tried a pass only to have it intercepted by Rance Adkins. The Antelopes then ran out the clock in their end of the field.

Colorado City was left with an 0-2-1 record.

Post scored first in the second quarter on a two-yard run by Adkins. The play culminated a 78-yard drive. Fullback Larry Rodrigues booted the point after.

Within 60 seconds, Colorado City's Jay Green broke over left tackle and raced 76 yards for a touchdown. Britt Chaney added the PAT on a kick to tie the score.

On the ensuing kickoff, Post's Alonzo Luna broke free on an 85-yard scoring jaunt. Rodrigues again spiced the uprights with a kick to make it 14-7.

Colorado City tied the score within four minutes after Squeaky Hanks recovered Luna's fumble on the Antelope 16. Hanks scored from the three four plays later.

The all-important extra-point was kicked by Chaney.

Four fumbles, two by each

Huskers dazzle Penn St.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Quarterback Tim Hager connected with tight end Junior Miller on two touchdown pass plays and Nebraska scored two others on the ground, all in the second quarter, as the Cornhuskers defeated Penn State 42-17 in a non-conference football game Saturday.

Nebraska trailed 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, the third consecutive game the Cornhuskers have faced such a deficit.

But the Hager-Miller combination tied it up and Nebraska went ahead when quarterback Kenny Brown, following a Penn State turnover, carried the ball in from 16 yards out on a reverse flow play for the go-ahead points.

Penn State's two-touchdown lead in the opening quarter came on a 19-yard pass and a 40-yard pass-run play.

Penn State opened the scoring when Brad Scovill caught a pass from quarterback Dayle Tate a step out of the end zone with 8:23 left in the quarter.

sides, marred the play. The contest became largely a defensive struggle after the intermission.

Tampa fans becoming delirious

By The Associated Press
"Dump McKay in Tampa Bay."

That was an exhortation blared on automobile bumper stickers and t-shirts throughout the Tampa Bay area in 1977 after John McKay's Tampa Bay Buccaneers had lost 26 straight games in the National Football League. "Go for O," said other disparaging fliers while posters surfaced depicting a sinking pirate ship.

Florida newspapers were full of letters from disenchanted fans, urging that the coach of the NFL's expansion team be subjected to every mode of medieval torture.

It was enough to send even the strongest man scurrying back to the safe haven of college football, such as the University of Southern California where the laconic, silver-haired gridiron tactician had solidified his base as a builder of traditional national champions.

"If this keeps up, I may have to don a fake nose and mustache," he quipped.

He didn't mean it for a second, and it never became necessary. He has emerged as the new god of the pigskin worshippers in the sunshine belt.

The once scorned Buccaneers, Tampa Bay's first major sports franchise, now have gone 4-0 in the new season with a punishing 21-6 victory over the highly rated Los Angeles Rams.

And Tampa Bay people are wildly delirious.

It hasn't been an easy road for McKay. Critics lambasted him for his draft choices that cost the Buccaneers the services of such stars as Tony Dorsett and Earl Campbell, now rated two of the best ball-carriers in the NFL.

McKay bit his lip, took another puff on his cigar and went his way. Now his critics are feasting on barbecued crow.

In the May, 1977, college football draft, McKay chose his former USC running back, Ricky Bell, over Dorsett, Pittsburgh's highly touted Heisman Trophy winner. Critics called it the fumble of the age.

Bell, 6-foot-2 and 220 pounds, has grown in confidence and skill as have other Bucs and is performing comparably with Dorsett, who runs for the Dallas Cowboys. He has 253 yards in 56 carries compared with 162 in 39 carries excluding Monday night's game for Dorsett, who missed the opening game because of an injured toe.

McKay swapped his No. 1

draft choice the following year to Houston for a tight end Jimmie Giles and a draft pick the Buccaneers used to draft quarterback Doug Williams. The Oilers used the pick to snare Texas' hard-running Heisman winner, Campbell.

Despite the appearance of a gross inequity in the deal, Williams and Giles have turned out to be gold in the Tampa Bay talent chest. Williams hit for two touchdowns Sunday, one a 29-yarder to Giles. He hasn't been sacked this year.

Meanwhile, Tampa Bay's swarming, inspired defenders held the Rams to no offensive points.

So much for those nasty bumper stickers. Monday morning the headline on the Tampa Tribune's sports page trumpeted: "BELIEVE IT!! You gotta."

John Thomas Smith second in AFC stats

Former Big Spring High School and North Texas State star John Thomas Smith is ranked second in the NFL's American Conference in punt returns.

Smith, who toils for the Kansas City Chiefs, has returned 22 for 307 yards and two touchdowns. He has an average of 14.0 per punt return.

In first place is Buffalo's Keith Moody, who has a 14.7 yard average, but has returned only seven punts.

Smith has the distinction of being the only player in the NFL who has returned a punt for a score, and he has returned two.

The Chiefs play at Seattle today.

Lake Spence report

Lake E.V. Spence received a bountiful stocking of blue catfish last week by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, and the lake's present blue catfish population seemed to form a welcoming committee. There were numerous catches of the variety, including 10, 15 and 19-pounders.

Technicians for the TPWC put 120,000 of the blues measuring about six inches into Lake Spence.

Numerous varieties were included in reports from fisherman at the lake last week, including 17-lb. striped bass. Reports included channel, blue and yellow catfish, crappie, white bass and strippers. Among them were:

Skinney's Grocery — Willie Ames and Dennis Morgan, Abilene, 16 channel catfish to 4 lbs. and two strippers to 6 lbs.; Robert Berry, Odessa, 5 1/4-lb. striper; Edith Sutton, Odessa, 4 1/2-lb. striper; Johnny and Pattie Brown, Wichita Falls, two channel cats to 7 lbs.

Triangle Grocery — Bill Smith, Odessa, four blue catfish to 10 lbs.

Paint Creek Marina — Joyce Dawson, Lubbock, 17-lb. striper; Larry Bailey and party of Denver City, 15 blue catfish totalling 65 lbs. and one blue catfish 19 lbs.; L.B. Garrett, Odessa, 16 crappie; Phil Schruggs, Lubbock, 16 channel catfish and 15 white bass; Larry McClintock, Sterling City, 35 crappie.

Coahoma Seniors order pictures

By RON BELEW
The juniors started selling magazines and tapes last week to raise money for the Junior-Senior Banquet. The seniors ordered pictures last Friday and they will order invitations on Wednesday, Oct. 3, at 1:30 p.m. They will need to bring a $10 deposit.

The Powder Puff game that was originally scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 27, was played Saturday, Sept. 29 in Bulldog Stadium. There was a Powder Puff Pep Rally at 1 p.m. Thursday. The cheerleaders for the Red team were: Randy "Rubie" Clanton, Bryan "Bertha" Neff, Kim "Kimberly" Robertson, Gary "Gertie" Stovall, Cliff "Cliffita" Snell, Phillip "Phyllis" Ritchie, Clint "Clintese" Elliot and Jimmy "Jenny Sue" Long. Leading the cheers for the White team were: Bobby Joe "Bobbie Jane" Tucker, Lynn "Lynnette" Hinsley, Bret "Bretta" Sterling, Bubba "Bubbles" Dykes, Bruce "Brunhilda" Meyer, Derrell "Derlene" Douglass, Shane "Sharmin" Mayhall and Bart "Beatrice" Griffith.

Big Spring El Rodeo assembly successful

By DARALYN LAWRENCE
The senior picture went great. Not all the seniors showed up, but at least 90 percent did. The pictures were on sale Friday in the cafeteria for $6.50.

El Rodeo staff had an assembly last Tuesday in the auditorium. It was held for the sale of annuals. Contract-like forms were signed. Students are to bring $14.00 for their annual on Tuesday, Oct. 2nd to be collected during their advisory. The assembly was unlike any other given for annuals. The El Rodeo staff and advisor, Mrs. Dana Strong, did a great job.

Class meetings were held for the first time last Tuesday. Floats for the homecoming parade were discussed. Homecoming will be the weekend of Nov. 1-3. The themes this year are to be chosen from the category, countries.

All unimmunized students had better get on the needle. After Oct. 6th, the students not having all their shots will not be allowed in school. This could also interfere with their six weeks tests.

Runnels Annual sales last through October 12

By BRONWYN ALLEN
The Runnels annual will go on sale Oct. 2 through Oct. 12. Any student who would like to buy a yearbook needs to order it during the above dates. Each annual will be six dollars and contains pictures of all students, faculty, and administrative personnel, as well as athletic events, assemblies, and other highlights of school life throughout the year. Mrs. Cornelia Gary is the sponsor of the annual. The annual staff members are Sarah Barton, Tymi Brooks, Andi Burns, Matt Crooks, Vickie Halfmann, and Steve Wilson. The yearbooks will be distributed in the spring, but orders are needed now to get an idea of how many to print.

A pep rally was held Thursday in the boys gym. The Runnels Red football team played Thursday against Sweetwater. We lost with a score of 6-33. The Red volleyball team played Monday against Snyder and won their match. The White team also played Snyder and defeated them in their match. The White team's next game will be here, Oct. 4, at 6:00 p.m. They will play against Andrews. The Red team's next game will be here against Sweetwater, Oct. 1 at 6:00 p.m.

Each week that there is a football game the student council will sell ribbons, pennants, and toboggans. Each ribbon is 20 cents and each pennant is 75 cents. The toboggans sell for $3.00. The student council has organized committees and elected chairmen. The committees will start meeting to plan activities that they will sponsor. The Runnels Band is now

Twelve YAC's attended a meeting last Monday night in the home of Mrs. Mary Haislip and made plans to assist the American Cancer Society in November with the Great American Society. The group, Youth Against Cancer, will ask each high school organization to have at least one educational program on cancer during the school year and assist them in finding materials to do this. They'll also ask them to help out or take the responsibility for planned projects. YAC officers are president - Derrick Looney, vice-president - Lee Byrd, and secretary - Lana Looney. The newly-organized YAC's will meet on the last Monday night of the month in the home of their sponsor.

Westbrook Organizations elect officers

The first few weeks of school were very busy with meetings of different clubs and organizations. On Sept. 4, The Future Farmers of America held their first meeting. Officers were elected and they are: president, Terry Webb; vice-president, Ricky Reyes; treasurer, Trey Smith; secretary, Alan Moody; reporter, Jeff Boon; and sentinel, Vance Ellett. J.W. Schlee is their sponsor.

The Future Homemakers of America also held their first meeting. The officers for the new school year are: president, Sharla Rollins; vice-president, Rosemary Lopez; secretary, Lisa Anderson; treasurer, Sandy Harris; historian, Teresa Dorn; parliamentarian, Jana Shackelford; and reporter, Beth Geiger. Mrs. Mary Ellis is their sponsor. The Student Council met and elected officers at their first meeting. Elected were: president, Jane Miller; vice-president, Trey Smith; secretary, Lynn Dawson; treasurer, Tina Wimberly; and reporter, Evon Bradshaw. Mr. Sonny Hollis is their sponsor.

The Student Council sponsored a Western Day. Everyone dressed western and competed in different contests.

A stickhorse contest was held for the elementary students and teachers. A three-legged race was held for the jr. high and high school. A fast-draw gun contest was also held for the jr. high and high school. The best dressed kids in K-2 were Jeran Ware, Sandy Lamb, Amy Chitsey, and Buck Gerhardt. In grades 3-6, the best dressed were Tracy Webb, Gabriel Fuentes, Marty Browne, and Elizabeth Wright. The best dressed jr. high students were Evon Bradshaw and Todd Whitesides. The best dressed high school students were Sharla Rollins and Trey Smith. The best dressed teachers were Sandy Anderson and Sonny Hollis.

Senior pictures were taken Friday, Sept. 14. On Sept. 25, at 2:40, "The Juggler" presented a program for the student body and teachers.

Sands Norton elected queen

The Sands junior high will host Dawson, Oct. 5, at 5:00 p.m. Sands High will host Smyer at 7:30 p.m. All parents and fans are urged to attend.

Irma Franco, Area II First Vice President for FHA, attended an Area II Future Homemaker of America leadership conference, Sept. 22. She reported that the plans for the Area II meeting in March on the 7th and 8th were finalized. All Area II schools will be represented at this meeting in Odessa.

The FFA and FHA hayride will be Oct. 2. The FFA Chapter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brasher, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Marshall will go ahead of the kids and set up for the Weiner Roast. Those attending will meet at the school at 6:00 p.m. and will leave at 6:30 p.m. on the hayride.

The Booster Club would like to remind everyone to attend the outsiders football game Saturday, Oct. 6.

Homecoming was Sept. 29. The Homecoming Queen nominees and their escorts were Cheryl Scott and Russ Shortes, freshmen; D'Ann Hall and Steve Blagrove, sophomores; Norina De Los Santos and Shayne Wigington, juniors; and Denise Norton and David Hall, seniors.

The 1979 Football Hero was David Hall. He is a senior this year and is involved in many school activities. The Football Sweetheart was Cindy Brasher. She is a cheerleader this year and is also involved in many school activities. The Homecoming Queen is Denise Norton.

The 1980 Mustang will be on sale Monday, Oct. 1 through Oct. 17. The price is $9 for an annual and $1.50 for your name on the cover. Order Now! If you don't order one, you won't get one.

Garden City

Classes active

By LANI KAY FRERICH
School is finally in full swing and the students at Garden City are up to their elbows in various activities. In an effort to raise money for the senior trip, the Seniors are testing their abilities as salesmen. They are selling smoked turkeys for Christmas and coupons for family portraits to be made the weekend of Nov. 17. Bearkat bumper stickers will be sold at a later date. A senior class meeting will be held Wednesday. Class officers are: Nancy Batla, president; Jorge Patino, vice-president; Lani Kay Frerich, secretary; and Crystal Overton, treasurer.

The juniors, getting an early start on class fundraising, had a car wash and bake sale Saturday. Also, they will be selling Homecoming mums until Oct. 10. Officers elected for the junior class are: Dinette Plagens, president; Jody Kingston, vice-president; Mary Kaye Halfmann, secretary; and Andrea Frerich, treasurer.

The sophomore class has scheduled a class meeting for Thursday. Officers are: Kelly Hunter, president; Marianne Hoelscher, vice-president; Rosemary Ramirez, secretary; and Brenda Havlak, treasurer.

Various clubs are also on the move. FHA is especially busy last week with freshman initiation. Undaunted by snickering peers, the fearless freshman girls dressed up in their dad's pajama tops, long-johns, and work boots on Weirido Day, Monday. Tuesday was Square Day; the girls wore an assortment of paper sacks and cardboard boxes. On Wednesday, they huffed and puffed to their classes dressed as fat ladies. Thursday, the final day, the freshman pledges were Chinamen. After school, the whole FHA club collected for UNICEF and then had a cookout.

The FTA held its first meeting Wednesday. They elected officers and made plans for future activities. Each morning, the day's announcements are made over the intercom by one of the Student Council members. This service is one of the projects of the Student Council for the school year. Also, Student Council president, Jorge Patino, has reported that the announcement board purchased by the Student Council should be in this week. The Student Council will meet Tuesday.

On Friday, Sept. 21, Garden City football fans had the pleasure of hearing the Garden City Band play at their first Pep Rally and football game. The band, under the direction of Mr. Joe Rackley, gave a performance that everyone enjoyed. We look forward to hearing them again in the future.

In sports, the Bearkat Varsity and Junior Varsity volleyball teams played Water Valley Tuesday night. Thursday, the junior high football team faced Sterling City. The high school football team finished off the week with a game at Miles.

Goliad

Circulation of books good, says librarian

By LISA SALAZAR
Goliad girls volleyball team was in action Saturday the 22nd. The team traveled to Lamesa to play in a tournament. Goliad Black team won consolation, having been defeated only by Seminole. Gloria Bustamante was the high score server with a total of 36 points. Delia Correa had 12 points. Goliad White team defeated Brownfield and lost to Lamesa and Seminole. Alice Lopez and Tonya Gilstrap were high score servers. Mrs. Jones said that every one played well. The students have really been using the library. Mrs. Persons said that, according to the circulation statistics, 868 books have been checked out in the last 3 weeks. The 7th grade science classes have been learning to use microscopes this week in Mrs. Newby's and Mrs. Adams' classes. They took a test on the parts of microscopes and will start learning to identify the parts of a cell next week.

The Goliad Black and White teams played Monahans Saturday morning. Coach Launarey said, "All the boys are working hard and are picking up the complex offense we're running this year. We feel they will improve with each week." A large crowd showed up and cheered for the teams.

The 6th grade P.E. classes are playing touch football. They will start physical conditioning next week, and will start volleyball soon.

Grady

Open house held to exhibit new area

By LAURA CONSTABLE
Friday, Sept. 21, Grady had open house to show off their new area in the high school. They have built an auditorium, five classrooms, a photo room, and a teacher's lounge. The Grady Board was the host. We are proud of our new rooms. We also had our Homecoming game Friday night. The candidates for Homecoming Queen were Ginger Madison, a junior; Margaret Rodriguez, a junior; Debbie Romine, a senior; and Judith Yates, a senior. The candidates for Football Hero were Larry Key, a junior; Alfonso Cortez, a junior; Ronald Chee, a senior; and Brad Tunnel, a senior.

It was a good game between the Grady Wildcats and the Highland Hornets. They are a good team, but we are better. The score was 32-38, our favor. At halftime, the Grady drill team performed in the shape of a V. Also during halftime, the Homecoming Queen and Football Hero were announced. Judith Yates is the Queen, and Brad Tunnel is the Hero. Tuesday, Sept. 25, our girls had a volleyball game at Union. They won the first game and lost the other two. Thursday, Sept. 27, the Grady Junior High football team had a game here with Hellman at 6:00. Friday, the high school had a game with Paint Rock at 8:00 p.m. Saturday morning the girls had a tournament at Water Valley. Good luck to all of our athletes!

Shakespeare alive and well at Globe of Great Southwest

Shakespeare is alive and well in Odessa, Texas and to prove it the Globe of the Great Southwest will be producing his most hilarious comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew," beginning Oct. 5 and continuing through the first three weekends of October.

To insure that people of all ages will enjoy Shakespeare, the director, James Buchanan, has chosen to stage the play in the manner of the commedia dell'arte of the Renaissance theatre. This adaptation of the original script will bring a carnival atmosphere to the "world's most nearly authentic replica" of the Bard's Globe Theatre.

The role of the shrewish 'Kate' will be played by Melissa Hirsch while her suitor, the boastful 'Petruccio' will be portrayed by Phil Caffey — both are Odessa actors. Grant Lauderdale lends his talents as 'Gremio,' servant to 'Petruccio,' and delivers all of his lines while riding a unicycle around his master.

Also in the cast are: Steve McGuire as 'Lucentio,' Dana Hand as 'Bianca,' Matt Vaughan as 'Hortensio,'

Moves from native Iceland Magnussion's new career

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Small may be beautiful, but too small can be downright limiting. That, in a nutshell, is why Jakob Magnussion left a successful musical career in his native Iceland to build a new one here.

"It's so small, it's just like one family over there," says Magnussion, reminiscing over ducking in a small Polish restaurant. "You can give two or three concerts a year, and then you start playing for the same people."

Sounds reasonable. There are, after all, only 200,000 people living in Iceland. The origin of superstitions, and regard for the property and feelings of others.

Has one of your children had to go to the hospital and bombarded you with questions on what it will be like? Dewey Duck had to have his appendix removed, and "A Hospital Visit: Know What to Expect," provides a view of his visit. Dewey's fears are calmed and his questions are answered by a candy-striper girl duck, and he begins to understand his feelings a little better. For classroom use, there are suggested activities and even a six question test.

Once you show "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" everybody in your house will be humming "Heigh-Ho, Heigh-Ho, It's Off to Work We Go." Nobody is too old to chuckle at the dwarfs (Can you name them all?), or hiss at the wicked witch. This two part filmstrip would be great on a Saturday night — Just you, Dad, and the kids.

place probably is most famous as the scene of Bobby Fischer's world championship chess triumph over Russian Boris Spassky seven years ago.

Magnussion has a fair chance of changing that if his American achievements so far are any indication.

Unlike many foreign musicians who hope to crack the fat U.S. music market and spend years trying to get people to listen, Magnussion — after only 18 months — is already set to embark on a tour to promote his recently released American debut, "Special Treatment."

It's a stylish jazz-tinged rock release showcasing Magnussion's wide-ranging talents, both as a composer and keyboard player.

In Iceland, Magnussion is known as a rock 'n' roller from the three records he cut with a band he started in high school. But playing in Iceland was no way to earn a living, so in 1974 he decided to go for broke in England.

Broke it eventually was. Magnussion returned to Iceland in 1976, taking odd jobs to support himself between gigs and his political science studies at the University of Iceland.

 BIG SPRING — 267-1641 502 E. FM 700

Meetings set on scouting
 Boys 8-9 and 10 years of age will have a chance this week to learn how to become a Cub, and those 11 to 14 years of age how to become Scouts in a series of meetings in various Big Spring schools.
 Jerry Phillips, chairman of the annual autumn membership Roundup, announced these dates for prospective Cubs: Monday at Marcy School at 1:30 p.m. and 2 p.m.; Tuesday at Moss School at 2 p.m. and Bauer School at 3 p.m.; Wednesday at Washington School at 9 a.m.; Thursday at Kentwood School at 2:30 p.m.
 For those wanting to know about the fun and adventure of Scouting, there will be meetings at Goliad School at 11:50 a.m. and at 12:25 p.m. Thursday. Phillips said that Scout leaders will be present to explain the program and to obtain names of boys interested. Then leaders in the various Cub Packs and Scout troops will begin contacting the boys to extend an invitation to join.

Retail sales course open
 A course in Introduction to Retail Sales will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Cheri Sparks, director. Classes will meet from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 2 through Nov. 6 in the Horace Garrett Building.
 Instructor for the course will be Lee Lowrey, an educator in the field of Office Education.
 Cost of the course is $12. Interested persons must pre-register in the Continuing Education Office located in the Horace Garrett Building. For further information, call the Adult and Continuing Education Department at 267-6311, ext. 70.

Cappy Tatom is named to post
 Cappy Tatom, a 1979 graduate of Big Spring High School, was elected second seat freshman senator in Student Government at West Texas State University in Canyon.
 The fall general elections were held Sept. 20.
 Twenty-seven freshmen filed for the seven seats available. Cappy was placed on the Internal Affairs Committee.
 She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Tatom, 1502 E. Fifth Street, Big Spring.

THEIR STATUE OF LIBERTY — The mermaid overlooking the harbor near Denmark is the equivalent of the United States Statue of Liberty, according to Mrs. Burks who was reared in Denmark as one of eight children born to a Danish couple. Childhood days in Denmark relived

'Holocaust' brings back painful memories for Tony Lise Burks

By ROBBI CROW
Family News Editor

Tony Lise Burks was one of eight children born to a poverty-stricken Danish couple in Soborg, Denmark during World War II when Germans occupied the area.

She has experienced things in her lifetime most people only read about in books or watch on television.

"Soborg is a suburb of Copenhagen, Denmark," said Mrs. Burks who has been living in the United States now since 1973.

"I remember everyone used to build big bonfires in the middle of the streets to keep the Germans from patrolling the area.

"One night I was watching my dad drag a mattress out into the street for the bonfires. I was always the real nosey type and I ran out to watch.

"All of a sudden my dad began yelling at me to get back into the house. Just as I got in the door, the Germans came through firing on the people with their machine guns. I just barely made it," she said recalling one terrifying memory of World War II.

"As soon as we were in the house and safe, my parents made all of us kids get under the bed because the Germans were going from door to door trying to find out who had started the bonfires."

Mrs. Burks remembers her childhood days as being full of fun and laughter. "We were a close family," she said.

But because of her family's low economic status, their living conditions were less than adequate.

She, her parents, six sisters and one brother lived in a one bedroom apartment complex.

"All eight of us kids slept in the same room," she revealed. Her parents slept in the living room.

She stated "Many times the German soldiers would fire their machine guns for no reason at all.

This was particularly frightening because our bed was right up against the window."

Because of her family's poverty, Mrs. Burks said she was unable to finish school. She worked to help support them.

"It's a custom in Denmark for the working children to give so much of their income to their parents. In a way," she continued, "the children must earn their keep."

Before Mrs. Burks was forced to quit school, she experienced several instances that still linger in the back of her mind.

"When I was a little girl, about 10, I always thought it was funny to watch the German soldiers click their heels, raise their arms and shout 'Heil Hitler.' In fact, most of the Danish kids made fun of the soldiers when they weren't looking.

"One day at school, a German soldier walked in and did his 'Heil Hitler' bit. I couldn't control myself and I burst out laughing. My Danish teacher walked over and hit me across the face."

According to Mrs. Burks, the teacher slapped her to keep the German soldier from doing worse.

It was later discovered that the soldier had come to school to inspect it for the purpose of converting it into a refugee camp for the Polish.

Another experience recalled by Mrs. Burks relating to her school years was the day the sirens were sounded off at a full force.

"Immediately we were all herded down to the gymnasium which also served as a fall out shelter," she said. "Everyone thought we were being bombed."

"What had happened was that a British plane on its way to bomb a shell house and free some underground people there had crashed into a catholic school. Several kids were killed."

During the war years, Mrs. Burks says everything was rationed.

"I remember standing in long lines for bread and milk. We had to put mustard on the bread instead of butter," she said.

"Everyone also had to be in bed by 8 p.m. when the Germans occupied the area and no more than five people could congregate at one time or the Germans would accuse them of conspiring."

"I'm sure most everyone knows all of this from watching the television mini-series 'Holocaust.'"

While most families watched the series on their living room television sets unable to truly realize or experience the reality of the inhuman deeds done during that period, Mrs. Burks watched and relived a hell she hoped to forget.

"Watching and remembering just made me sick," she said referring to the show, "but it was done well and it captured the true atmosphere. It seemed very real."

Mrs. Burks' mother, now 74, who still resides in Denmark, worked as a cleaning woman for a rich Jewish family when her children were young.

"One day while she was at their house cleaning, the German soldiers came to round up the Jews," said Mrs. Burks recalling the incident.

"Mother didn't speak any German, but they kept asking her where the family was. She didn't understand a word they were saying and she just stood there with her scrub board washing clothes and saying 'wash! wash!' in Danish.

"They grabbed her and threw her in the basement until they got the Jews. They then let her out unharmed. The Jewish family she had worked for was never heard of again."

With her head bowed, Mrs. Burks remembered yet another tragic day during her childhood.

"A couple and their child were riding bicycles down a street in Soborg one day. And for no reason at all, a bunch of Germans just gunned them down with machine guns. They were Danes," she said, "not Jews."

Since the war's end, every year on Victory Day, people of Soborg place flowers at the location where the three were murdered as a memorial.

Following the events of World War II, Mrs. Burks decided to go to Germany and start a new life for herself in a new atmosphere. At one time, she worked as a stewardess on a ship that sailed between Denmark and Norway.

It was while she was living and working in Germany that she met and married Jerry Burks of Lovington, N.M., who was stationed at Ramstein Air Force Base, Germany. They had two daughters, Debbie, who now lives in Big Spring and Maj-Britt, who resides in Denmark.

California was the next home for Mrs. Burks, her husband and two daughters, but getting there, according to Mrs. Burks, was one of the most harrowing experiences of her life.

"All four of us were on a plane heading for the states in 1961.

"When the plane was about 3 1/2 hours out of Ireland, it began to shake. The pilot then came on over the intercom and informed us that they were having engine trouble and we would have to land in Ireland. It was not a scheduled stop.

"There was a big chance we were going to land in the Atlantic Ocean," continued Mrs. Burks. "There were ships waiting in the ocean to rescue us just in case we did."

However, the plane landed safely at an airport in Ireland after being escorted by one of President John F. Kennedy's escort planes.

"When we landed, everyone at the airport was clapping because we had landed safely. They gave us free room and board while we were there."

Eventually Mr. and Mrs. Burks and their two daughters made it to Requa Air Force Station in Northern California, land of the Redwood trees.

"I remember once we were at an amusement park in Stockton, Calif., riding a train that traveled over a bridge which crossed water. Just our luck," said Mrs. Burks, "the train stalled on the bridge and we had to climb down and walk through the water to get back to the park."

After residing in California for 2 years, Mrs. Burks' husband received orders to go to England. While her husband went ahead to find a house, Mrs. Burks and her daughters stayed with her in-laws in Muleshoe, Tex.

"They showed me everything there was to know about Texas, cotton and gins," she said.

According to Mrs. Burks, it wasn't easy to switch from living Texan-style to English-style.

"I didn't know it when we first moved there, but little girls in England didn't wear pants. I always dressed Debbie in Texas blue jeans and everyone thought she was a boy."

Mrs. Burks says the highlight of her stay in England was going to the London theatres.

In 1968, the Burks made their way back to the states to live in Clearfield, Utah. "My husband went off to Vietnam," she said.

Out-of-the-ordinary incidents still continued to happen there also.

"Debbie and Maj-Britt were at home one night while I was at work.

"We lived in a duplex and our next door neighbors were very strange. The kids were playing and they knocked over a stool. I guess the neighbors thought they were making too much noise. The woman came over and pounded on the door and yelled 'my husband will take care of both of you when he gets home.'

"As soon as he got home, he came over with a gun and threatened the girls. Debbie ran out the side door of the duplex to another neighbor's house and they called the police."

Traveling seems to be just part of life for families connected with the air force. The Burks family was no exception. In 1969, they were back in Germany where they lived in Rhein Main which is located between the Rhein River and the Main River of Germany.

Debbie, Mrs. Burks' youngest daughter, and wife of Gary Burton, says her most vivid remembrance of Germany is Dauchau, which at one time was an actual Jewish Concentration Camp where German soldiers tortured and executed the Jews.

 "It is the most solemn place I've ever seen," said Debbie of the place which has been modeled to look exactly the way it did in World War II.
 "They have actual films of the Germans leading the Jews into the gas chambers," she explained.
 Mrs. Burks, now divorced, has been back in Texas since 1973. She is the Fashion Accessories department manager at K-Mart in Big Spring and she also works at a waitress at the La Posado Restaurant. She speaks fluent German, English and Danish.
 She is the owner of a moped, a motorcycle-type vehicle which is steadily increasing in popularity in the United States.
 "In Denmark," says Mrs. Burks,

"almost everybody rides one. They even have special traffic lanes for mopeds."
 She says she loves to get on her moped and ride in the open Texas air. "I just love Texas air. It's so fresh and crisp."
 In Denmark, where minimum wage is $6 per hour and cigarettes are $2.25 a package, Christmas is a special time of year.
 "Every year on Christmas Eve, the women of the households there make rice pudding and put only one almond in it. Whoever gets the almond receives a special gift," she explained.
 "Everyone then holds a candle and circles around the Christmas tree singing Christmas carols."
 As a rule, no Danish Christmas trees are put up until Christmas Eve and then everyone in the family helps decorate them.

 "The Danish are extremely proud of their flag and every tree is decorated with a string of Danish flags," she revealed.
 Mrs. Burks, who says she tries to be American while living in America, still cooks mainly Danish dishes.
 "My son-in-law's favorite meal is Frikadellen (Danish meatballs)."
 She's grown accustomed to American and Mexican food, however, while living in Big Spring.
 Mrs. Burks plans a visit to Denmark in May of next year to visit her family, but she says she'll be back.
 "I couldn't live this good in Denmark. And besides, I really like Big Spring people," she concluded.

Miss Huckabee becomes Mrs. James Ringener

The Midway Baptist Church was the setting for the Friday evening candlelight wedding of Penny Denise Huckabee and James Philip Ringener.
 Rev. Bill Grandon performed the ceremony at 8 p.m. before an altar flanked by two nine-branch candelabums garlanded with lustral and English Ivy. The altar was further enhanced by an arrangement of silk rust, beige and brown flowers.

 The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Huckabee, Rt. 1, Box 547. Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Ringener, 1726 Yale, are the parents of the groom.
 Wedding music was provided by Sherry Fryear, pianist, and Glenn Drewery, soloist.

 The bride was accompanied down the aisle wearing an off-white floor-length gown of double knit featuring a V-neck with long sleeves and a bow at the waistline from which fell a pleated skirt. The shoulder-length veil of off-white flowered lace fell from a bandeau sprinkled with seed pearls.
 The bride carried a cascade of tangerine, walnut and yellow carnations sprinkled with baby's breath and tied pale yellow satin.
 Chris Luttrell, the maid of honor, carried a nosegay of tangerine carnations, yellow button chrysanthemums and rust dried foliage.
 George Robertson served as best man.
 Randy Robertson and Ricky Huckabee, brother of the bride, Brownfield, seated the guests.
 A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in honor of the couple in the reception hall of the church.
 The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and an employee of Malone-Hogan Clinic.
 The groom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is employed by Big Spring Bowl-A-Rama, continuing a career in professional bowling.
 Following a wedding trip to Austin, the couple will be at home in Big Spring.

SNYDER CEREMONY — Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Thrower Snyder, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Shana Renae Holmesley, to Raymond Morris Sewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sewell, Snyder, formerly of Big Spring. The prospective groom is the grandson of Louis Helms and Mr. and Mrs. Garland McMahan, Big Spring. The wedding ceremony is to be held Oct. 20 in the First Presbyterian Church, Snyder, by Rev. Lee Butler.

Pot no substitute

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 13-year-old girl who has very few friends. I had a close friend but her mother found out that I smoke pot and made her stop being my friend.

I've tried to quit smoking pot. In fact, I quit for two weeks then someone offered me a "toke" and I said yes.

When I'm high I don't feel lonely. Could you please help me with my problem? — Dora, Dubuque, Iowa

Dora: You are caught on a merry-go-round. You don't have many friends because you smoke pot, so you smoke pot to forget that you don't have many friends. You know what the answer is — quit smoking pot and start enjoying close friendships.

Dr. Wallace: My older sister hangs around with a bunch of girls who shoplift and they give her a lot of the stuff they steal.

She says that she goes with them when they shoplift but that she doesn't do it. She also says that if they get caught, she won't get into trouble because she didn't take anything.

We are very close and I don't want to tell my mom but I also don't want my sister to be in trouble. What should I do? — Lisa, Youngstown, Ohio

Lisa: Tell your sister that she can be in trouble even if she didn't take anything while with a group of shoplifters. She too would be apprehended and would be considered a lookout if she knew the others were stealing.

Tell your sister to wise up and quit taking the stolen goods (better yet, quit hanging around the shoplifters). If she doesn't listen to you, tell Mom what is happening.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 18 and my boyfriend is 20 and we are very much in love. He is so good to me that he treats me like a queen.

 The problem is that I'm white and he's black. My mom wasn't prejudiced but her boyfriend is, so now so is she.
 Now I have to choose — my mother or my boyfriend. I'm really hurt because I love them both. Please tell me what to do. — Janet, South Lake Tahoe, Calif.
 Janet: I cannot tell you what to do. Only you can decide. But I can say that your mother was entirely wrong for placing you in this situation.

RONDA BEENE

Ronda Beene new worthy advisor

Ronda Beene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Beene, 3231 Cornell, was installed as worthy advisor of the Order of The Rainbow for Girls, Big Spring Assembly No. 60. Ronda dedicated her term as Worthy Advisor to two of her best friends, her mother, Mrs. Martha Beene, and Jean Alice Knox. She read a favorite poem on friendship to them.

The installation ceremony was conducted Sept. 29 in the Masonic Temple, 221 1/2 Main at 8 p.m.

Miss Beene is a junior at Big Spring High School. She is an active member of Trinity Baptist Church. Ronda is involved in band, Future Teachers of America, and the Bible Club.

Ronda chooses as her theme Our Friendship With Jesus. She selected John 15:12-15 as her scripture and "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" as her song which Rick Stout sang. The colors chosen to represent her term were pale blue and white. Her symbol was an open Bible. Mrs. Edie Fryar recited an original poem that was written by her on the occasion. The poem was entitled "My Friend Jesus."

The installation was opened by David E. Grant, Coahoma, who gave the invocation. Mrs. Beene presented her daughter with her Rainbow Bible and Odys R. Woodall presented his daughter, Rhonda, with her gavel.

Installing officers were introduced by Mrs. Edie Fryar, mother advisor. They were Cappy Tatum, installing officer; Jean Alice Knox, installing marshal; Sandra Waggoner, installing musician; Dana Hodnett, installing recorder; and Leilani Thomas, installing chaplain. They all wore corsages of blue roses ac-

Focus on family living

Work smarter, not harder

By JANET ROGERS
Community Extension Agent

Students, work smarter, not harder. Start by setting your goals, then decide the important steps in reaching those goals. Finally, make a schedule for your activities.

All this is called "time management." When you learn how to manage your time, you have a valuable tool — or skill — that will last a lifetime. Time is valuable.

Getting in control of your time — and staying in control — is even more valuable. Making effective use of your time is the most valuable.

Remember that all things do count — if they help you reach goals or they keep you from reaching them. For example, a student will graduate because of each small day of hard work and studying, rather than just by hoping for a diploma or degree.

Make a schedule that will help you get more things done — without rushing or staying up late at night. Set limits for talking on the telephone, for eating, for watching television and other such activities. Place a high value on activities that will help you reach your goals.

But, at the same time, remember to plan time for recreation — an important part of life. Plan to have some "planned" time each day. Everyone needs some free time.

Have a place to study — away from noise and interruptions. This will help you use your time better.

A clean desk or table will cut down on distractions as you study. Also, put necessary equipment within reach — to save time.

Once you've learned to get in control of your time — and stay there, we promise you'll find it much easier to reach more and more goals.

You'll enjoy the journey toward those goals, too — and that's as important as reaching them.

When you start to set goals, decide what you want to accomplish in the next week, month or year. Write all these goals down on paper — to remind yourself of them.

Once you decide on goals, it's easier to plan ways to reach them. Map out a plan discussed along with the menu that is to be served.

Mrs. Angel dazzles crowd at luncheon

A large crowd turned out to hear Mrs. Clyde Angel review a book by Erma Bombeck at the Dora Roberts Community Center Saturday afternoon.

MRS. CLYDE ANGEL

The event was the Big Spring Garden Club Council's biggest money-making project of the year. Prior to Mrs. Angel's book review, everyone enjoyed a salad luncheon.

Mrs. Angel is known throughout Big Spring and surrounding cities for her uniqueness in reviewing books. Behind her she has numerous honors, awards and recognitions.

These include serving as president of the Big Spring Garden Club for 2 years; the 1961-1962 president of the Council of Garden Clubs; Cultural Affairs Committee chairman of the Chamber of Commerce; YMCA director; director of the American Society Board; Malone-Hogan Hospital volunteer; Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter No. 67 member; director on the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center board; as well as teaching school for seven years.

She was recently honored by the Council of Garden Clubs in Big Spring as one of the outstanding women in Garden Club work. She was presented a Golden Garden Award by Mrs. Jay Huckabee, state president of Texas Garden Clubs.

She has served on the committee to landscape the courthouse square and she has assisted the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs in planting a rose garden in the Comanche Trail Park. Active in all civic work that contributes to the betterment of Big Spring, Mrs. Angel has served as president of the Big Spring Concert Association 12 years, the 1965 Hyperion Club 2 years; the Hyperion Council 2 years; and is a past president of the Heritage Museum.

Church work is of extreme importance also to Mrs. Angel who has been a member of the First Baptist W.M.U. for 3 years; served on the building committee and board of directors at First Baptist Church. She has also taught Sunday School for 47 years.

All proceeds from the Saturday event will go for public beautification including civic plantings and the preservation of historical areas.

MR. AND MRS. AL VALDES

Mr. and Mrs. Al Valdes celebrate anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Al Valdes are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary today with a family dinner.

Al and Lilliam met in Havana, Cuba, and married Sept. 30, 1954 in a civil ceremony.

Lilliam is a graduate of University of Havana and UTPB and taught school in Havana for three years before coming to the United States. Al was a professional baseball player both in Havana and with teams in the United States for eight years. Al has worked for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company as an operator for 25 years.

The Valdes are members of the First United Methodist Church.

The couple have two children, Al Jr. and Cathy, 20, of the home. Al Jr. and his wife, Greta, live in Lubbock where he is a pharmaceutical representative for Merck, Sharp and Dore Laboratory and she is a kindergarten teacher. Cathy is a senior at Texas A&M, majoring in education.

Mrs. Valdes has worked for the Big Spring Independent School District for 11 years, and has been teaching a bi-lingual class in College Heights elementary school for the last three years.

Valdes is a member of the BSISD school board, and is president of the Teen-agers league, a board member of the YMCA, a board member of the trade union 826 credit union and is a Shriner and a Mason. Valdes is also a member of the board of the First United Methodist Church.

The Valdes enjoy camping and outdoor activities. Mrs. Valdes likes to sew.

Mrs. Petty presents program on safety

Center Point Homemakers Extension Club met Sept. 25 at Kentwood Center at 2 p.m. Mrs. Lucille Petty and Mrs. Nannie Garrett were hostesses.

A report was given on Howard County Fair Sitters for Women's Division by Irena Griffith. Twelve women worked the Fair on Wednesday.

Cookies were brought for the Big Spring State Hospital. Program on "Safety" was given by Lucille Petty. Door prize was won by Mrs. Cleo Eggleston.

The next meeting will be Oct. 9 at 2 p.m. at Kentwood Center with Mrs. Jen Davidson and Mrs. Frankie Walker serving as hostesses.

Ed Wright, president, encourages all members to attend.

Engagement announced

Charles N. Butts and Patricia L. Butts, formerly of Big Spring, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tammy Leigh, to Scott Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schneider, Georgetown. The wedding ceremony is planned for Nov. 3 in Georgetown.

New pledges installed

The Alpha Tau Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night in the home of Sue Scott, Coahoma. The meeting began with the installation of five new pledges by Jayne Titsworth, president including Sheri Lepard, Tracy Fadal, Judy Nichols, Patty Johnke and Sherry Woods. Other pledges are Jan Nichols, Arlene White, Shirley Terry, Kathy Nichols, Pat Winters, and Glynn Drewery. Social Chairman Jan Nichols announced that the Around the World party will be held Oct. 8 in the home of Jo Anne Ezell preceding the regular meeting. Arlene White, service chairman, reviewed plans to serve at a birthday party at the Big Spring State Hospital. She and Sheri Lepard will serve Oct. 12. Mrs. Winters, ways and means chairman, appointed a special committee to decorate at the Halloween Carnival. Members of this committee are Mrs. Fadal, Mrs. Johnke and Mrs. Lepard. Mrs. Winters assigned publicity duties to Mrs. Lepard, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Ezell, Judy Nichols and Kathy Nichols.

Mrs. Woods, chairman of the special committee for the concession stand at the carnival, reported on the types of food to be served. Everything from sandwiches and burritos to caramel apples and cupcakes will be sold. Alpha Tau Rho encourages the public to have supper at the carnival prior to making the rounds of the 20 booths that have been booked. The Halloween Carnival will be held on Oct. 27 at the old Bill Rite Pallet Company building in Coahoma, from 6 to 10 p.m. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for all children under 10. Proceeds from admissions will go to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Recording secretary Sue Scott presented a program on social behavior and refreshments were served.

Newcomers invited
The Newcomers Handcraft Club will meet Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mildred Beckcom, 2809 Navajo Dr., to complete work on the macrame Christmas wall hanging. Further activities planned for the month are another meeting on Oct. 17, and a luncheon on Oct. 31. Location of these events will be announced at a later date. Any newcomers to Big Spring are invited to attend these meetings and to join the club. For further information call Mrs. Beckcom at 267-5466.

Soil builders to meet Monday
"Significant Issues in Organic Gardening" will be the program topic at the regular monthly meeting of the Organic Soil Builders of Big Spring, to be held on Monday night, at the home of Mrs. Pauline Garrison, 807 East 13th St. Mrs. J.D. Leonard and Spencer Wolfe will lead the program. Mrs. John Johansen, president, will preside over the business meeting. Interested persons are invited to attend. For more information call 267-6472.

Mrs. Griffith gives program
The Fairview Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Frank Micallef Tuesday at 2 p.m. Mrs. H.F. Awtry, president, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Micallef gave the devotional, Joshua 24:14-24. The thought for the day was, "When life gives you a lemon, make lemonade." Roll call was answered by "A new idea on saving energy" by nine members and one guest, Mrs. L.N. Brooks, Marble Falls. Cookies will be taken to the Big Spring State Hospital the week of Oct. 1. Mrs. Lonnie Griffith gave the program on "Your Best Defense is Common Sense, Don't be Paranoid, Be Prepared." She enumerated ways to be prepared. Mrs. Brooks won the door prize. The next meeting will be Oct. 2 in the home of Mrs. C.A. Smauley. Janet Rogers, extension homemakers agent, will bring the program.

Forum hears J. Newsom
The Big Spring Eagle Forum met Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Blue Flame Room, Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Nelda Regan, president presided. Pastor J. Newsom, Snyder, opened the meeting with prayer, then spoke on "Conspiracy in America." Quoting from the book, "None Dare Call it Conspiracy," by Gary Allep with Larry Abraham, pastor Newsom told of the Tri-lateral commission, founded in 1973 as a spin-off of the Council on Foreign Relations because the former was moving too slowly toward world government on economic control. The primary purpose of the Tri-lateral commission is to create crisis so government can stop in and take "care of it." Crises promotes international control. Originally there were 200 members of the commission, 70 of whom were United States citizens. President Carter's cabinet has 19 members on the Tri-lateral commission. The Tri-lateral commission has managed to get every presidential candidate as a member except Lyndon Johnson and one other. The three major goals of the commission are to:

1. Abolish belief in God as the supreme Being.
2. To do away with the family structure.
3. To get rid of patriotism.

He said the word National is fast disappearing from our news broadcasts and in other media communication, and is being substituted by "World." "Since 1922 our freedoms have been taken away gradually and are being eroded more and more," he continued. One of the goals of the Tri-lateral commission is to abolish private ownership of property. Thirty people attended the Eagle Forum meeting in addition to Pastor Newsom. Newsom's recommendations were to train your family in nationalism, patriotism and belief in God. Spend time together and become informed, get involved and start talking about the situation and solutions. Newsom quoted II Chronicles 7:14 as a major step toward solutions. Other books on the subject are "The Return of the Puritans" by Patricia O. Brooks, "The Rise and Fall of America," Charles S. Stanley and Ezekiel 32 out of the Bible concerning watchmen.

AARP will meet Oct. 2
American Association of Retired Persons will meet at 10 a.m. Oct. 2, at Kentwood Older Adult Center. All retired persons are invited to attend. Program and business will be conducted, followed by covered dish luncheon.

Role of the male steadily changing

"Male chauvinism is on its way down," said one Big Spring High School Homemaker when members of the Homemaker Department Advisory Committee met with BSHS homemaker teachers at the Brandin' Iron Inn Sept. 27.

Discussions were held throughout the evening concerning the changing role of the homemaker department.

"It's not just cooking and sewing any more," stated another homemaker teacher at the senior high school.

In addition to the regular sewing and cooking classes, a wide range of other courses are offered including child development, consumer education, home and family living and others.

Unlike the past, more and more males are enrolling in homemaker courses as women's fight for equality continues.

"They are realizing they have some responsibilities in the home just as women do," revealed Mrs. John Hamilton who teaches child development.

Homemaker Department Head Fern Alexander reminded everyone of the Future Homemakers of America installation ceremony which will be held Tuesday evening at Furr's Cafeteria.

LUTHERAN CEREMONY PLANNED — Mrs. Mary Hulan announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Jamie, to Jackie Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Berry, Rt. 2, Box 13. The ceremony is to be performed in the St. Paul Lutheran Church Oct. 27 by the Rev. Carroll C. Kohl, pastor.

Coed named finalist in 4-H fashion revue

Karla Simpson, 18, of Stanton, was named a finalist in the 1979 State 4-H Fashion Revue in Waco last week. An Angelo State University freshman, she is the daughter of Nolan and Kay Simpson.

For the contest, she created a cotton and polyester skirt and blouse in shades of brown, rust, pink and blue-green — all trimmed in yards of ruffles, lace and ribbon.

Featuring tucks with top stitching and a front-band closure, the long-sleeved blouse has cuffed sleeves and a ribbon-tie at the neck. A shaped waistband and contrasting ties that crisscross top the skirt which ends in a deep ruffle bordered above with a contrasting band of fabric trimmed in ribbon. Crocheted lace edges the ruffle bottom.

State 4-H Fashion Revue, an optional part of the state-

Intolerance Is Ignorance

DEAR ABBY: I am a graduate student from Bombay, India. I am informed that in your column a few years ago you very eloquently defended the religious practices observed in foreign countries, and particularly of my homeland—India. I would be most grateful if you would repeat that letter.

STUDENT AT N.Y.U.

DEAR STUDENT: I found the letter. And here it is:

DEAR ABBY: How long are you going to pollute the world with your ignorance?

Someone wrote and told you that in his native country (India) it was all right under certain conditions to do something which is absolutely immoral. You then replied, "Thank you for illustrating a point which we in the Western world are apt to forget. We represent a very small part of the world, and what WE consider 'immoral' or 'unethical' is not necessarily immoral or unethical in other countries and for other cultures."

Well, he is wrong and so are you! Just because they do it in other countries doesn't make it right.

You ignorant woman. Have you not read the Ten Commandments? Have you not read in the New Testament that Christians are to go all over the world and teach the gospel? That includes India, too.

It is polluters like you who delude ignorant people into believing that immoral acts are all right. It's time Christians everywhere wrote to you and demanded that you speak the truth.

DISGUSTED WITH YOU

DEAR DISGUSTED: The essence of all religions is to love your neighbor as yourself. And to love one's neighbor, we must respect his beliefs, though they be different from our own. To try to impose our values on others is not only a denial of their rights but also a form of arrogance, which in itself is irreligious. An ancient Hebrew prayer put it very well:

"From the cowardice that shrinks from new truth,
From the laziness that is content with half-truths,
From the arrogance that thinks it knows all truth,
Oh, God of Truth, deliver us."

DEAR ABBY: (I never thought I would be writing those words!) This is in response to Mary, who hated her name, and signed her letter, "I'd rather be Susie."

Well, my name IS Susan, and everyone calls me "Sue" or "Susie."

I hated my name when I was younger, because my uncle used to say "Susie" was a name fit only for a mine mule or a cow. And then there was a song titled "Runaround Sue," and another one titled "If You Knew Susie." And that awful one called "A Boy Named Sue."

As though that wasn't bad enough, they had to name a circular tray a "Lazy Susan."

So, Mary may hate her name, but I hate mine, too.

Abby, do you think anybody really likes their own name?

SUE

DEAR SUE: I like mine. I selected it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HURTING IN CHICAGO": An anonymous letter is the ultimate in cowardice. Disregard it. A person who would stoop so low is not above lying.

If you need help in writing letters of sympathy, congratulations or thank-you letters, get Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for all Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Newlyweds make home in Bremerton, Wash.

Lauri Kathleen Thomas and Robert L. Goodwin were wed in a ceremony Sept. 21 held in the First Presbyterian Church at Bryan.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jim Collier, formerly of Big Spring. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Kathy Thomas and Donald Thomas, Corpus Christi. Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Goodwin, Big Spring, are parents of the groom.

The couple will establish their home in Bremerton, Wash., where the groom is in the navy.

Daughter is born

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard Jones Jr., 1602 Donley, announce the birth of their daughter, Anna Renee, born in Cowper Hospital, Sept. 25 at 5:05 p.m.
