Cambodia to receive massive airlift aid

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The Phnom Penh government Saturday gave the go-ahead for a massive international airlift of food and medicine destined for hundreds of thousands of people said to be facing death by starvation and disease in Cambodia.

A British Royal Air Force transport flew from Bangkok to Phnom Penh on Saturday, the first relief flight of an air bridge that will carry more than $100 million in food and medicine from 30 nations.

The U.S. State Department says $7 million in rice and other food — part of the international effort — is ready to go to Cambodia once legal questions concerning delivery are resolved. Bills now before Congress call for between $20 million and $30 million in aid to Cambodia next year.

Jacques Danois, spokesman here for the U.N. Children's Emergency Fund — UNICEF, said Cambodian authorities in Phnom Penh granted permission for the daily flights into the capital even though they, UNICEF and the International Red Cross still were negotiating details of the operation.

Danois said the RAF C-130 Hercules turbo-prop would transport 15 tons of rice, vegetable oil and other supplies a day, and that a chartered aircraft would take in medical equipment, educational materials and food.

Western relief experts say that to stabilize conditions in the country, where some say as many as 2 million people are in imminent danger of dying of starvation, about 700 tons of food a day will be needed for several months. And it will have to be properly distributed, they say, in a country where the basic infrastructure of society has been destroyed.

The Hercules took three vehicles and other supplies to Phnom Penh on Saturday, although it was at first uncertain whether the aircraft would be allowed to make the regular flights. To date, only irregular flights by Red Cross and UNICEF have been made.

The two groups and the U.N. World Food Program, operating under guidelines laid down by the Thai government, have been distributing food at and across the Thai-Cambodian border in areas controlled by toppled Premier Pol Pot.

Danois and the Vietnam-backed government of President Heng Samrin has made three demands.

JPs hear variety of excuses

Checks that bounce keep merchants hopping

By EILEEN MCGUIRE

Some $300 to $700 worth of useless money comes into Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin's office each week. The "money" comes in the form of checks, written on bank accounts that are depleted of funds.

Heflin and Justice of the Peace Bob West take the problem of hot checks seriously. Both want to stop the practice of writing checks on insufficient funds. West's office announced a crackdown on bad checks this summer while Heflin's has been showing no mercy in prosecuting the writers of worthless checks since he took office.

"We've slowed it down a lot," Heflin said of his office. "If we know where these people that write them are, if the merchant can help us by giving us the address, we can get the money. The merchants have got to help us."

People from nearly all walks of life write bad checks, Heflin said. According to him, 80 percent of all bad checks that enter his office are written by women at grocery stores. The usual excuse, he said, is "My kids needed food."

"If these people are in a bind, I'll work something out with them," Heflin said. His number one concern is the habitual bad check writers whose checks come into his office week after week.

"The habituals, I get mad about," he said.

Heflin believes that prosecuting persons who issue bad checks is more effective than attaching a penalty to the checks as some stores do.

"I think that it's an illegal charge. The merchants are lucky to just get their money from the bad checks."

The penalties that the bad check writer faces from prosecution are heavier and produce better results than if the business just attaches a $5 charge to the check, according to Heflin.

"But the merchant has to help us. The best thing for merchants to do is to get the checks to me as fast as they can. Some wait a month."

"We give them (bad checks writers) a 10-day notice that the check is here. If they don't do something about it, the fine is usually double the amount of the check."

The minimum fine for writing a bad check, regardless of how small the amount of the check is, is $25, according to Heflin.

"We can't put you in jail for writing a bad check," he said, "but we can put you in jail for failure to pay the fine."

"When they pay the fine, they usually pay the check, too, because we can fine them again."

A day in jail is equivalent to $5. Even with the minimum fine of $25, it would take five days in jail to "pay off" the fine, according to Heflin.

Prosecuting the persons who write bad checks costs nothing to the merchant, according to Heflin, and he feels that it is much more effective than for the merchant to try to collect the money plus an attached penalty.

"The merchant must send a certified letter to the person letting him know about the check. Then, we send a follow up letter. We don't have to do this, but I send it as a matter of courtesy. The courtesy letter tells them they have 10 days before they are fined. If they ignore the letter, they are fined."

Heflin said that a person who writes

Higher rates are in store for customers of TESCO

By JACK CALMES
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Texas Electric Service Co. customers in North and West Texas, including Big Spring, will have higher bills by December after a rate increase tentatively approved here Friday.

The Texas Public Utility Commission approved a 10 percent increase to about $37.9 million for the company, commonly known as TESCO. PUC staff counsel Allen King said what that means to the average customer is not yet known.

The $37.9 million is less than half of TESCO's request for $88 million, but higher than the PUC staff recommendation of $27.5 million.

Under TESCO's proposal, residential customers' bills would have risen an average 18 percent.

All-electric customers would have paid an average 23 percent more and other customers about 16 percent. The higher rate for all-electric customers is part of a PUC staff plan to make billing more equal. Previously, all-electric customers paid far less than their service cost. The difference was made up by other residential users.

Customer cities in TESCO's 48-county service area include Wichita Falls, Burkburnett, Midland, Odessa, Archer City, Breckenridge, Monahans, Snyder and Gorman.

Most are represented before the PUC by the Texas Municipal League.

Consultants for the cities had said that TESCO should get no more than a $14.5 million increase.

The PUC, by its decision, is allowing TESCO to get a higher rate of return on its investment, and to charge customers for construction work in progress on nuclear power plants.

It is a matter of controversy whether those charges — called CWIP — should be included in a company's rate base since customers are not getting service from plants not operating.

TESCO had asked for 100 percent of its CWIP costs, the PUC staff recommended 45 percent, and the commission approved 60 percent.

King said the company now must submit a breakdown of rates it will charge various classes of customers. The PUC staff then has 20 days to study that.

Also Friday, TESCO got permission to put the new rates into effect immediately. King estimated that customers may see the increase in their bills by late November or early December.

Meanwhile, any appeals of the increase must go to district court in Austin. King said he doubted any customer cities or consumer groups would appeal.

This was the third consecutive year TESCO sought higher rates. It got $44 million of the $79 million it asked for in 1977, and $37.9 million of the $110 million it sought last year.

the money.

According to the clerk, the amount of bad checks written in the store from week to week varies, depending on what time of the month it is.

"Around the first, we may get $100 or $200 a week. Towards the middle of the month, after the 10th, we'll get $500 to $600 a week."

The clerk stated that about 80 percent of the money is recovered.

Though the majority of bad checks are written to grocery stores, convenience stores are another popular place for cashing checks.

It was becoming such a large problem to one 7-11 clerk, that a new system was devised to handle it. The checks, according to the clerk, are sent to a collection agency in Dallas.

Though the Big Spring Herald has a policy against publishing the names of persons who commit misdemeanor offenses, Heflin, in his attempts to stop the practice of writing bad checks, has come up with an idea that he thinks would be the most effective solution of all.

"I think the Herald should publish the names of these people. They might think again if they knew their names would be in the paper. After all, it's a matter of public record."

Action/reaction: Not in violation

Q. In view of the child being struck in front of the College Heights — Goliad school area Wednesday, is anything being done to move the two Sno-Cone trucks which park there daily to an area where they will not continue to be a safety hazard?

A. "Those Sno-Cone trucks are checked periodically, and have not been found to be a safety hazard," said Big Spring Police Capt. Sherrill Farmer. "They park on the side, next to the school, and there is no ordinance prohibiting them from doing so."

VIEW FROM THE MOUNTAIN Convening for education

By CAROL HUNTER
Many in Howard County attend, at least, a yearly convention of sorts. These may range from conventions of fellowship to ones of support and information. All three are reasons why the Texas Association of School Boards conveys every year, having now merged with the Texas Association of School Administrators for a joint meeting the day after its own Delegate Assembly. Last weekend in San Antonio this year's convention registered 5000 Texas School Board members and Administrators, plus wives and husbands. This is the largest convention in the nation of this group.

All of Howard County was represented by its three Independent School Districts, Big Spring, Forsan and Coahoma. While viewing the name tags, a favorite pastime when the feet are killing one after miles of walking through exhibits and to workshops, were also seen representatives from Stanton and Garden City.

There are 2000 school districts in Texas and over 1000 belong to TASB. With no effort at all one can conjure the variety in this assemblage. The Delegate Assembly with one district, one vote has equal representation from Dallas ISD or Forsan. Because of the collective concern that all districts have for the bills which are passed by the Legislature, it is the one time to express collective input. Over one-fourth of all bills passed in a legislative session deal with education. This not being a legislative year, nonetheless, planning and preparation for educational interests are still utmost in the Resolutions presented. The Association itself is governed by a representative Board, divided roughly by Congressional Districts. Our area representative is John Quisenberry from Odessa, Ector ISD. On top of being a local board member, these 30 plus men and women meet often to keep the state-wide organization informed and in touch.

The Resolutions are the most important business of the day long meeting. Member school districts submit subjects of area or state concern, which can range from the slightly mundane to highly controversial. Each is debated by strict parliamentary procedure, for there are about 500 delegates, none of whom are bashful at speaking out, having been well-trained at home. Discussion and debate were lively over such issues as the mandatory breakfast program, bilingual education, Initiative and Referendum, Senate Bill 621, Teacher Certification or just adding soccer, gymnastics and wrestling to UIL sports competition.

It is with amazement, empathy and amusement that one sees how diverse yet how unified are the problems of School Boards throughout Texas. It brings one from the provincialism and isolation which are often felt while deliberating great educational issues out here on the prairie. Everyone suffers from some deficiency, be it size or money.

It is the design of the convention planners to bring various speakers to motivate and educate, but also to entertain. It is inspiring to hear or just see some of the leading educators of our state. Of special significance this year was newly appointed Commissioner of Education, Alton Bowen. Speaking to the heart of some real day to day concerns of those who run our public schools, he addressed discipline and violence in the classrooms, bilingual and vocational education, and back to basics.

Perhaps the most welcomed part of his speech, however, was the pledge from his state office to those in the trenches to stress and uphold local control. Coming out every session of past conventions, forever stated as a concern state-wide, is the fear of losing local control with the strong pledge of determination to fight to keep the same. No matter how poor, local control is better than the alternatives any day. Should the local community find the school so lacking, they can "throw the rascals out", for better or for worse. It is a lot harder to do up the ladder or with a bureaucracy.

Board member takes no classes to qualify him or her for this position. They are elected, so coupled with area workshops offered throughout the year, their education is offered at the workshops and clinics at this convention. Subject matters for workshops go from the erudite and academically oriented to ways to achieve better public relations between schools and community, down to the practical aspects, such as workmen's compensation.

Board members function as policy makers, but their main plus is their link as elected officials between all school employees and the people who pay them-you, the tax payer.

Many in Howard County were horrified by the recent cover story in Texas Monthly, concerning teacher standards. It was with great interest and relief, therefore, to attend a seminar conducted by the Chairman and vice-Chairman of the newly created Commission on Standards, mentioned in the article as the "hope". Their task is weighty, complex, but necessary. Their presentation and plans are aggressive, informed and promising. They must make Colleges and Universities accountable, already having put two on probation status. Standardizing the multiplicity of needs in different subject areas and school districts and addressing the question of competency testing is not a task any one would envy their doing.

We in Howard County are constantly reminded that board members and administrators can work and plan. The best budgets and curricula may be set up. Legislators may legislate the best of bills, and provide outstanding funding. The buses may run or not run. Districts may emphasize or de-emphasize sports. They may have spectacular bands and choirs, or open their pocket books to offer wrestling and tiddle winks. The vocational program may have every piece of equipment imaginable. Discipline out of the principal's office can be consistent. But...the whole key is when the teacher walks into the classroom every day and implements everything else by teaching our youth. Kindergarten through 12. This is what everything else is all about. In Howard County, we offer a lot of the frills, but mainly, we have also got the last ingredient, John Adams and the boys would be pleased to see public schools implemented so well. We must never stop in our pursuits.

They know him now

An exception to rule

By JIM DAVIS
Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Texas government is full of bureaucratic veterans skilled in non-controversy and content to conform to a course of least resistance — then there is Alton O. Bowen.
Until recently few persons outside public education and state government knew Bowen. His name is hardly a household word now, but it certainly has made the headlines.

Bowen became state education commissioner Sept. 1 and announced plans to reorganize the Texas Education Agency in his own management style: "It will be a little different from what we have had in the past."

Things have been different. Bowen has had more controversy than previous commissioners experiences in years.

The new TEA boss is no radical or hip-shooter. He came up through the ranks, starting as a teacher in Collin County in 1938 and joining the state in 1971 as an assistant commissioner.

Then came Bowen's speech to a school administrators' convention in San Antonio last week. He said bilingual education has developed too hastily and should be examined carefully before being expanded.

The commissioner said a foreign language is an important element of any group's heritage in the United States, but the responsibility for maintaining it rests with the family and community, not with the schools.

Mexican-Americans leaders sharply criticized the Antioch action and the speech.

The Antioch controversy has ethnic overtones because 88 percent of the system's graduates are Mexican-Americans. The university's lawyers point out this in a suit filed last week against Bowen's moratorium.

The extent of Bowen's opposition is disappointing but not critical to the issue. Supporters of bilingual education could take his comments as a challenge to prove that the system can be made to work better. Bowen could hear their arguments and help make needed improvements.

The worst possible result from all this would be for Bowen to become controversy-shy. We don't need another state official who keeps his mouth shut and avoids marking any waves on the sea of bureaucracy while quietly floating toward retirement.

Any statement questioning bilingual education is going to be controversial in Texas. It is no surprise that LULAC national president Ruben Bonilla of Corpus Christi has called on Bowen to apologize or resign.

Bowen declines any comment on the Antioch question because of the law suit, but he withdrew the moratorium pending a study by the Commission on Standards for the Teaching Profession. That action could be interpreted as a confession that he acted too hastily.

He can't withdraw his statements on bilingual education. They are too clear in the printed text of his speech, and he shouldn't withdraw them.

Garden City High School Favorites crowned, Council has dance

Favorites crowned, Council has dance

By LANI KAY FRERICH
Cooler autumn weather accompanied the Homecoming activities at Garden City this past week. It provided a welcoming relief from the hot, end-of-summer days. School spirit was high as some of the students rode around in class "spirit cars" before the burning of the bonfire Thursday night. Each high school class decorated a car or pickup with crepe paper and paint, and they were judged by the coaches at the bonfire.
At the Homecoming pep rally, a mum was presented to Mrs. Lowe by the senior class for help in organizing the chicken supper. Miss Horton, the pep squad sponsor, was presented a mum by the pep squad.
Before the Homecoming game, the high school Football Sweetheart and Mr. Bearkat were crowned. The crowning took place in front of a float made by the pep squad. The Sweetheart candidates were Nancy Batla, Denise Schwartz and Dorothy Schwartz. Mr. Bearkat candidates were Larry Halfmann, Darrell Halfmann and Pete Trevino. The Homecoming Exes' Sweetheart and Beau were crowned at half-time. Also at half-time, the pep squad and twirlers both performed routines.
After the game, the Student Council sponsored a dance in the old gym. Refreshments were served and a disc-jockey duo called M&S Express from Wall, Texas provided music.
Though everyone was excited about Homecoming, classes went on as usual. At the first of the week, Mr. Bradford's General Ag Theory class took several field trips. Mr. Travis Pate, of Garden City, provided the sheep that they studied on these field trips. On Monday, the Ag class aged the sheep. On Tuesday, they judged body, and on Wednesday they learned the different classes of the sheep.

On Friday, October 5, Denise Schwartz, a student at Garden City, gave a slide presentation on her recent 4-H trip to Europe and the Soviet Union to Mr. Lee's Civics and American History classes. It was interesting to hear Denise's impressions and experiences in these foreign countries.
Student Council members will hold a general session on Tuesday. The FTA will meet Wednesday to discuss the upcoming district convention at Monahans on

Coahoma High Spirit Week something special for students

By RON BELEW
Spirit will be high next week as Coahoma celebrates its Homecoming. Next week will be Spirit Week. Each day will be designated in a special way to show spirit. Monday will be sock day, and all the students will wear silly and goofy socks. Tuesday is twin day, or character day, if the students don't have the same clothes. Wednesday is hat day and Thursday is shirt day. Students will decorate hats and shirts. Friday will be color day, and everybody wears red.

Homecoming Queer candidates were elected this past week. They are Ronna Tyler, Terri Poteet, Rhonda Griffin, Julie Higgins and Lisa Furlong.

Mayor of Coahoma, E. A. Richters, has proclaimed this past week as Bulldog week. He did so to get the spirit going for the football team as they take on the toughest opponent of the year, the Abilene Wylie Bulldogs.

The Coahoma Chapter of Office Education Association had its second meeting Tuesday at the high school.
The new 1979-80 officers were installed by Mrs. Marie Ethridge, Chapter advisor. Each officer lit a candle as they accepted the individual responsibilities of office.
Serving as officers will be Rhonda Griffin, president; Tim Ballard, vice president; Susan McGee, secretary; Tammie Doolin, treasurer; Cheryl Greenfield, reporter; and Kerri Read, historian.
The first money-making project was a candy sale. O.E.A. also prints the football programs for all home games.
The next meeting will be held November 13, at 7 p.m.
The Future Farmers of America met Wednesday, Oct. 10 to discuss money-making plans.
Their first project will be selling fruit and turkeys. The fruit is coming from R & S Fruit Co. and the turkeys come from Country Heritage Smokehouse.
The grapefruits are selling for $7 for a 20 lb. box and $9.50 for a 40 lb. box. The oranges are going for $9 for a 22 lb. box and $11.50 for a 45 lb. box. They are also selling apples this year for $9 for an 18 lb. box.
FFA turkey sales went so well last year that they decided to sell them again this year. The turkeys are smoked and are ready to eat. The cost is $17.95 for an 8 to 10 lb. turkey.

The student council met last Monday to discuss the float, which will be entered in the Homecoming Parade. The theme for this year's float is "Children of the World". The float committee will make the final decision on what and who will be on the float, but any ideas or comments are welcome. Mr. Robert Dewese, the art teacher, and Miss Kathie Sullivan, one of the English teachers, are the sponsors.
The Runnels band members received their T-shirts and wore them last Thursday at the pep rally where they featured a special "Dixieland Band." The band will continue featuring different selections each week. A Band Boosters meeting will be held next Tuesday, October 16, at 7:30 p.m., in the Runnels band hall. Our band will perform various selections. A spaghetti supper will be served before the Steer game on Friday, October 19, in the high school cafeteria. The purpose of this supper is to raise money from various band activities. Several bands will provide entertainment at the supper. Tickets may be purchased from any Band Booster.
The answer to this week's Calendar Clue game was "Clipper Ship". The winners were Beverly Tubb, Tymi Brooks, Lisa Ausmus, and Jan McPherson.
At last Monday's volleyball games, both the Red and White teams defeated Colorado City. The Red team's next game is against Sweetwater tomorrow, there at 6:00 p.m. The White team's next game is October 22 against Andrews, there at 6:00 p.m.

Stanton High Varied events spice week

By ELVA ACOSTA
The first half of the first quarter is over and the first week of the second half was full of fun and frolic. Homecoming Week brought special days and last minute preparations.
Cowboys, cowgirls and a few Indians thronged the halls Monday which was designated Western Day. Jangling spurs and an occasional cap gun were heard at breaktime.
Tuesday was Hat, Sock and Shoe Day for upperclassmen. Freshmen were initiated into high school by being bossed and generally harrassed by the older students. Those who chose to participate wore jeans, turned inside out, mismatched shoes and socks, and an old t-shirt on which was written the school song.
They carried loads of books, pushed pennies and loudly sang the school song.
"I was scared, but I wouldn't have missed it for anything!" remarked Freshman Brigit Vater.
Upperclassmen and a few faculty members sported a wild array of socks and hats while their shoes ranged all the way from scuba-diving flippers to combat boots.
Sixties Day brought out a host of hippies and flower children with a few playing it straight in mini-skirts, pointed shoes and the wig that was popular then.
"Peace, Brother" was heard from those in beads, headbands and hip-huggers.
School was dismissed at 2:00 Thursday so students could gather wood for the bonfire which was lighted at eight o'clock. The band played for a pep rally before the fire burned down to embers.
Friday we had a special pep rally at 1:40 where the four homecoming queen nominees were introduced to exes attending. Winners of class wall decorations contest were announced before the pep rally dismissed to go downtown for the Homecoming Parade.
A float prepared by the senior class was graced by Senior Homecoming Queen nominees Dymorie Christian, Meg Vann, Mary

Band Boosters plan dinner

Big Spring Band Boosters will be serving an all-you-can-eat spaghetti supper before the Big Spring-Permian football game on October 19 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Cost of tickets for the feast is $3 for adults and $1 for children under 12.
Spaghetti, salad, bread, homemade pies and iced tea will be on the menu for the evening. Entertainment will be provided by the Goliad and Runnels band.
Proceeds from the supper will go to provide many different services for the Big Spring band program. Tickets are available from any Band Booster or parent and can be obtained at the door.
All ticket holders are eligible for door prizes. Door prizes will include $25 bonds.

Runnels Junior High
Jeanine Fishback
directing choir

By JEANINE FISHBACK
This year at Runnels, five new teachers have joined the staff. Each week a new teacher will be interviewed. One of them, Mrs. Jeanine Fishback, is this year's choir director. She attended West Texas State University and has a B.M.E. in all levels. This is her first year to teach. She has been married for six months to the junior high band director at Coahoma. She is a newcomer to Big Spring, having lived in Canyon, Texas for six years. Each day she teaches four choir groups: the advanced boys, advanced girls, mixed choir and beginning girls choir. All the choir will be presented at an assembly in about three weeks.
The English classes of Miss Kathie Sullivan and Mrs. Cornelia Gary are working on newspaper folders. The objectives for doing this notebook are to make better use of newspapers by getting acquainted with their contents, to begin evaluating critically what we read in newspapers, and to become more aware of the world around us through reading them. Each student is required to do various things, such as finding a weather report, cutting out a foreign news story, taking the public records and attaching them to the appropriate page, and finding an advertisement. The notebooks are due October 29th.

These girls spend many long hours on Wednesday evenings decorating the school from top to bottom with hall signs and locker decorations for each football player. Also, they must use weekends and time after school hours to plan pep rallies, skits, and routines for the band songs. The results of the girls' efforts are reflected each Thursday in the spirit of their pep rallies.
The student council met last Monday to discuss the float, which will be entered in the Homecoming Parade. The theme for this year's float is "Children of the World". The float committee will make the final decision on what and who will be on the float, but any ideas or comments are welcome. Mr. Robert Dewese, the art teacher, and Miss Kathie Sullivan, one of the English teachers, are the sponsors.
The Runnels band members received their T-shirts and wore them last Thursday at the pep rally where they featured a special "Dixieland Band." The band will continue featuring different selections each week. A Band Boosters meeting will be held next Tuesday, October 16, at 7:30 p.m., in the Runnels band hall. Our band will perform various selections. A spaghetti supper will be served before the Steer game on Friday, October 19, in the high school cafeteria. The purpose of this supper is to raise money from various band activities. Several bands will provide entertainment at the supper. Tickets may be purchased from any Band Booster.
The answer to this week's Calendar Clue game was "Clipper Ship". The winners were Beverly Tubb, Tymi Brooks, Lisa Ausmus, and Jan McPherson.
At last Monday's volleyball games, both the Red and White teams defeated Colorado City. The Red team's next game is against Sweetwater tomorrow, there at 6:00 p.m. The White team's next game is October 22 against Andrews, there at 6:00 p.m.

Forsan Pie supper sponsored

By DeANN CANNON
The Forsan F.H.A. club sponsored a pie supper Friday night just before the game with Ropesville. It was held in the Forsan High School cafeteria.
KBST and Pretty Things sponsored a dance Saturday night in the Dora Roberts Community Center. Proceeds went to the Senior Class.
Student Council met Wednesday, October 10, in the conference room. Their new vice president is Kelly Long and the secretary is Darla Mincey.
Miss Linda Harp resigned Thursday, October 4. She taught at Forsan for 6 years. She is now living in Austin where she accepted a job offer.

Sands Talk slated by Lamesa officer

Young Homemakers of 4-County will host a talk on rape prevention on October 18th, at 8:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Guest speaker will be Cora Brown of The Lamesa Police Department. It is recommended for people of all ages.
Young Homemakers would like to congratulate Mrs. Kathy Blagrove who recently was elected president of Area II Young Homemakers of Texas.
Sands Junior High will journey to New Home October 18, at 5:30 p.m. Sands High will play New Home at 7:30 p.m., in Mustang Stadium.

Grady High Hayride will be held Oct. 25 by two clubs

By LAURA CONSTABLE
Saturday, October 6, the girls volleyball team left for New Home. Tournament time began at 9:00 a.m. Our girls played long and hard, and to show for their work, they brought home the second place trophy.
The volleyball team had a game October 9 with Water Valley. Water Valley won the first game, and Grady won the second. Water Valley came through and won the last game to break the tie.
October 4, the junior high football team had a game at Loop. They went up there with high hopes and good spirits, and they came home winners.
School was dismissed at 2:15 Friday for the long trip to Whitharrel for the varsity football game.

Stanton High Varied events spice week

Lynn Wheeler and Marcie Young.
Following the game, a Disco-Sock Hop was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Music was provided by Neeley Wright, disk jockey from San Angelo.
Members of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America participated in grass-judging meets in Dallas and Waco.
Attending the Waco meet, Jimmy Rich, Richard Parker and Roy Dill placed first, second and third respectively.
The Dallas meet consisted of both junior and senior divisions. The Stanton Senior Division team placed first. John Parker placed first with a perfect score. Bobby Mims took fourth and Meg Vann sixth.
A Junior Division team composed of Louis Parker, Jimmy Leftwich, Scott Church and David Mashburn also placed first. Winning High Individual Honors were Louis Parker, second; Jimmy Leftwich, third and Scott Church, fourth.
Another Junior Division team composed of Dinny Smith, Koy Blocker and John Jones placed fourth. Dinny and Koy placed eighth and tenth.

ONLY CASUALTY — Only Big Spring casualty in the Steer-Midland High football game in Midland Friday night was Carol Miller, a member of the Big Spring flag drill team. She stepped in a hole and had to be helped from the field. A Midland police officer offers Carol a helping hand. Teresa Alexander hovers nearby to lend assistance, also.

Texas artists to attend Wegners plan preview party

Again this year, Bob and Sherry Wegner will host a Preview Sale and Party in conjunction with the Annual Arts and Crafts Festival. Last year, the Wegners hosted the affair in honor of three well-known Texas artists, Jim Thomas and Justin Wells of Amarillo and George Boutwell of Austin. This year, works of the same three will be featured along with a fourth addition, Mary Selfridge of Amarillo, an artist who specializes in watercolors, will also be present with her work. Artists will be present for the 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. affair Friday at the Wegner home. Invitations have already been mailed, but according to Mrs. Wegner, anyone who has not received an invitation but is interested in coming, may call her at 399-4526. Earning his fame through sculptures and paintings of the Old West, Thomas is a founding member of the Texas Cowboy Arts Association. He was one of ten TCA artists chosen to illustrate "XIT", a major book on the American cowboy. His work is done from live models and has earned him national recognition. His bronze sculptures have made their way into the private collection of former president Gerald Ford, the late former president Lyndon Johnson, and former Texas governor John Connally. A large sculpture depicting longhorn cattle swimming the Canadian won him the 1974 TCS Gold Medalion Award when it was selected the best sculpture at the annual awards exhibition. Thomas was nominated for Texas State artist in 1975 by the Texas Legislature and was also nominated

"Cultural Achievement Man of the Year" by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in 1976. Modern western culture is a favorite subject for drawings done by Justin Wells. He particularly favors the horse and cattle culture. He has contributed illustrations for a number of Western history magazines including "The Westerner" and the "Western Horseman." "Cattle people are still a unique class of human being," according to Wells. "They are distinctly recognizable apart from any other group of men who make their living outdoors." These people and their culture are what Wells successfully captures on canvas and paper. He was recently inducted into the Texas Cowboy Artist Association. His works have been shown in galleries throughout the Southwest. George Boutwell, well known for his watercolors, has been an artist all his life but has never received any formal training. The subject matter is varied and all of his work is inspired from his own experiences. "I love everything about nature. It has a beauty that we humans are incapable of equaling. There are so many things I want to paint. I wish there were more hours in a day." Boutwell's watercolors are not typical of watercolor. They have sharp focus and detail and rich colors that are not normally found in watercolors. Many of his techniques cannot be found in books or in watercolor courses, because having had no formal art education, he discovered them on his own. His works have appeared in notable southwest arts magazines. He continues to follow a simple philosophy: "I see beauty all around me and I try to share it with others." Works of the four Wegner guests will also be on display at the Oct. 20-21 Arts and Crafts Festival.

Castro's sister among protest

NEW YORK (AP) — The younger sister of Fidel Castro has joined thousands of persons demonstrating against the Cuban leader, saying her brother "is a monster and must be overthrown."

"I have come up from Miami to confront this man," Juanita Castro said Friday as about 3,000 demonstrators rallied near the United Nations. But with the ultra-tight security around her brother, she had little chance of doing that.

Miss Castro, 46, worked with Castro as a guerrilla in the anti-Batista underground of the late 1950s, but turned against him in 1960 "because he betrayed the revolution."

Now a discount store proprietor, she left Cuba after her brother instituted land ownership reforms. When the family farm in Oriente Province was to be expropriated, she staged to sell off the cattle and was promptly denounced by the revolutionary government. She left Cuba for Mexico in June 1964 and later settled in the United States.

Miss Castro said she would like to return to Cuba someday and exhorted the crowd to "continue to fight so that someday we can celebrate with a huge demonstration like this in a free Cuba."

"I will not rest until I see my country free," she said. "The people of our country are living under the terror of a dictator and we are speaking for them against the crimes Fidel has committed against our country."

Meanwhile, inside the U.N. building Castro called for the end of "exploitation of the poor countries by the rich" and urged wealthier nations to step up economic aid to poor nations.

In a well-received two-hour address, Castro warned that if the nations of the world "do not peacefully and wisely solve and eliminate the present injustices and inequalities, the future will be apocalyptic."

Castro, 53, was covered by a heavy security system which stemmed from the threat of violence by right-wing Cuban groups here, including remnants of the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invaders.

More than 2,000 city police and machine-gun carrying Secret Service agents have "frozen" a two-block-square area around the Cuban Mission at Lexington Avenue and 38th Street where Castro is staying.

Despite the security, a 19-year-old Queens man was arrested Friday after he allegedly hurled a small, homemade pipe bomb wrapped in a Cuban flag at the mission.

Earlier, during Castro's address at the United Nations, a pro-Castro demonstrator wearing green army fatigues and a fake beard invaded the ranks of anti-Castro marchers shouting pro-Castro slogans. He was rescued unharmed by police.

U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim was among those attending the reception for delegates from nonaligned nations. Castro is chairman of the 95-member nonaligned nations group.

Police overtime is running at $100,000 a day, and authorities still do not know when Castro will leave. He told The Washington Post his trip would last a "minimum of five days and a maximum of 10."

"I'm in no hurry," he said.

DAVID FROST HENRY KISSINGER

Frost pleased with show

NEW YORK (AP) — David Frost says he is pleased with NBC's broadcast of "Henry Kissinger: An Interview with David Frost," a project he quit before it was completed in a dispute over editing. NBC aired the program Thursday night, on schedule, but preceded the broadcast with a denial of Frost's accusation that it had agreed to allow Kissinger more time to comment on questions in the interview.

Kissinger, former secretary of state under President Richard Nixon, had complained to NBC about points raised by Frost regarding United States policy toward Cambodia. NBC acknowledged that a short interview session was arranged to allow Kissinger further comment, but was abandoned when Frost quit the project.

"During the negotiations last week," Frost said in a statement, "we were concerned about a lack of resistance to Dr. Kissinger's demands and the failure to assert normal journalistic ground rules, in particular the agreement to record a 10-minute retake on Cambodia."

"That was why I resigned. This week, on the evidence of last night's program, the balance seems to have been redressed," he said.

Stewart receives award

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor James Stewart has been selected to receive the American Film Institute's life achievement award.

George Stevens Jr., director of AFI, announced the award Friday at a luncheon of the AFI's national conference on film and television. The award will be presented Feb. 28.

Stewart, 71, brought his slow drawl to nearly 80 films, including "Destry Rides Again," "Anatomy of a Murder," "Harvey," "Seventh Heaven," "Cheyenne Autumn," "Shenandoah," "The Man from Laramie," "Rear Window," and "Vertigo."

The seven previous recipients were the late John Ford, James Cagney, Orson Welles, William Wyler, Bette Davis, Henry Fonda and Alfred Hitchcock.

Farr meets dress-wearer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Corporal Klinger met the Ohio attorney general recently and he was wearing a dress — the attorney general, that is.

Jamie Farr, who plays the dress-wearing Klinger on the "M-A-S-H" television show, told a Columbus radio audience that Attorney General William J. Brown met him in his office in a black, wrap-around dress.

Farr said he was impressed as he was escorted through plush surroundings for what he expected to be a formal meeting in Brown's office.

"Then, there he was standing behind his desk, and wearing a dress," Farr said.

Brown, generally known as a conservative and dapper dresser, confirmed the story.

"That's right," he said. "It was a black wrap-around dress that some girl had here in the office and I stuffed paper in the bosom.... He (Farr) didn't say a word for about 15 seconds. I stood up and walked around the desk and he broke up laughing."

Farr, a Toledo native, met the attorney general while in Ohio to receive an award from Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Activity set for Halloween

Beginning Tuesday, the Howard County Library will be sponsoring a Halloween activity to get the children of Big Spring into the Halloween spirit early. The library has a partially finished, spooky, bulletin board with a haunted house that children can help to complete.

"To Help Finish the Haunted House," children must read a mystery, horror story, or a ghost story. When the books are returned, they will receive a ghost which may be added to the haunted house.

It should be fun to see how many ghosts they can get, and by Oct. 31, the Howard County Library should be one of the spookiest places in Big Spring.

UT stops Sims, Sooners

Tenacious Longhorn defense the difference

DALLAS (AP) — Senior tight end Steve Hall's first collegiate touchdown, an acrobatic one-handed stab of a wobbly, 2-yard Donnie Little pass, staked the fourth-ranked Texas Longhorns to a 16-7 victory Saturday over the No. 3-ranked Oklahoma Sooners in a battle of unbeaten.

Hall, a second-stringer from Broken Arrow, Okla., outjumped Sooners linebacker George Cumby with a left-handed grab just 2:00 before the end of the first half.

It gave Texas a 10-7 lead and the Longhorn defense, No. 1 in the country, made the play stand against the awesome Oklahoma offensive arsenal, which had averaged 45 points a game.

The Longhorn defense, led by tackles Steve McMichael and Bill Acker, shackled Heisman Trophy winner Billy Sims, who gained only 73 yards in 20 carries. It was the first time in 14 games Sims, whose longest run was 16 yards, had failed to gain 100 yards.

Sims suffered the indignity of fumbling away the Sooners' last chance late in the fourth quarter to Longhorn defensive end Tim Campbell at the Sooners 30.

Sims' fumble led to a 38-yard game-clinching field goal by barefoot kicker John Goodson, who had earlier connected from 37 and 23 yards. Texas is now 4-0 while the Sooners drop to a 4-1 record. Texas now leads this bitter series 44-27-3.

Defensive back Derrick Hatcher's 36-yard interception return of a wayward J.C. Watts pass set up Hall's touchdown at the Sooners 5. After two running plays failed, Little rolled out and pitched the ball to Hall.

Oklahoma scored its only touchdown in the first quarter on an 11-yard pass from Watts to rookie Stanley Wilson after recovering a Johnnie Johnson fumble at the Horn 16-yard line.

Sophomore tailback A.J. "Jam" Jones rushed for 127 yards on 31 carries as he gained most of the yardage for the Longhorns between the 20-yard lines.

The Texas defense was tested early in the third period when Wilson dashed 47 yards to the Texas 28-yard line. However, the Longhorns held and place-kicker John Hoge missed a 37-yard field goal.

Oklahoma flexed some defensive muscle of its own when the Longhorns charged to the Oklahoma 13 but nose guard Johnnie Lewis stopped Leroy King cold on 4th and 1.

The Texas defense sacked Watts five times trying to pass and held the Sooners to only six first downs, two of them in the first half.

TCU stops Rice Owls

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Christian quarterback Steve Stamp, subbing for starter Kevin Haney, turned two Rice fumbles into touchdown runs of 1 and 16 yards Saturday as the Horned Frogs defeated the Owls 17-7 and ended a nine-game losing streak.

TCU, which lost to Arkansas 16-13 in the closing seconds last week, took a 3-0 lead on its first possession with a 19-yard field goal by Greg Porter and went ahead 10-0 at halftime on a 1-yard plunge by Stamp.

TCU started its first touchdown drive when safety Steve Barnes recovered the first of two costly fumbles by Rice running back Earl Cooper.

Barnes recovered at the Rice 39 and TCU drove to the Owl 1 where Jimmy Allen failed to score on two line plunges. Stamp then piled into the end zone with four seconds left in the half.

The Frogs, who had not won since a 13-7 victory over Tulane last season, struck again early in the third quarter when Cooper fumbled and Jim Bayuk recovered at the Rice 16. Stamp scored on the first LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Twelfth-ranked Arkansas scored touchdowns on Gary Anderson's 67-yard punt return and Kevin Scanlon's 76-yard pass to Bobby Duckworth to defeat Texas Tech 20-6 Saturday in a Southwest Conference football game.

Scanlon, who completed five of nine passes for 109 yards, found Duckworth open at midfield in the second quarter for the score that gave the unbeaten Razorbacks a 10-3 halftime edge.

Ish Ordonez kicked field goals of 21 yards in the second quarter and 30 yards in the 30 quarter for Arkansas, which is 5-0 for the year and 2-0 in SWC play.

Tech fell to 2-3-1 for the year and 1-2 in SWC action. Tech got only a pair of field goals, both after fumbles deep in Arkansas territory after punts.

Bill Adams gave the Red Raiders a 3-0 lead with a 34-yard field goal in the first quarter after linebacker Jeff Crombie recovered Anderson's fumble at the Tech 22-yard line.

Adams kicked a 30-yard field goal in the fourth quarter after a bouncing punt hit Arkansas' Mark Dewey, and Billy Cummings recovered for Tech.

Anderson's punt return with 3:20 to play iced the game for the Razorbacks. He took the ball on his 33-yard line, squirmed from the grasp of three Raiders and raced down the right sideline for the touchdown.

Tech only 121 yards in a game that was mostly a defensive struggle.

Roland Sales had 107 of the Razorback's yards in 20 carries. It was his best output ever in a regular season game.

The Arkansas defense shutdown Tech's power runner James Hadnot, and Raider quarterback Ron Reeves couldn't mount a passing game.

Hadnot, held to under 100 yards for the first time since picking up 94 against top-ranked Southern Cal, said: "That is one of the quickest defenses I've ever seen. The holes were there, but if I didn't hurry up and get through it the hole would shut."

Aggies gag in final minute

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Sub quarterback Terry Elston completed two passes in the final 50 seconds and scored on a 5-yard run with only 15 seconds remaining Saturday against a backdrop of blowing dust and giant cranes, which are being used to expand the seating capacity of Kyle Field to 71,600.

It appeared A&M had upset Houston as the Cougars got the ball for the final time at their 40-yard line with only 50 seconds left in the game. Elston, a 6-foot-3 junior, hit Eric Herring with a 38-yard completion with Herring making a one-handed diving catch.

Elston then threw to halfback Teral Clark for 17 to the A&M 5 and scored on the next play by sprinting around right end after his receivers were covered. Curtis Dickey and Mike Mosley gave A&M a 14-10 halftime lead on a 1-yard scoring run, and the lead held up until Houston's last second heroics.

The win boosted Houston's record to 5-0. The Cougars are 2-0 in the SWC. A&M, playing its home opener just now because of the stadium construction, fell to 2-4 and 0-3 in the SWC.

Houston had grabbed a 10-0 lead on a 44-yard goal into the wind by Ken Hatfield and a 15-yard sprint by 220-pound David Barrett, who shook off three A&M tacklers.

Kush fired!!

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona State football coach Frank Kush was fired Saturday after 25 years at the helm of the Sun Devils.

At a hastily called news conference hours before his team was to take the field against Washington in a Pacific-10 Conference game, Kush said ASU athletic director Dr. Fred Miller advised him that he would be dismissed.

Kush said he was fired because Miller did not believe him when he denied punching former Arizona State punter Kevin Rutledge and forcing him to quit the team.

Attorneys for Rutledge have filed a $1 million lawsuit against Kush and the school over the incident.

Baylor rallies past SMU

IRVING, Texas (AP) — A clutch performance by freshman quarterback Mike Brannan and Robert Bledsoe's 21-yard field goal with eight seconds left carried Baylor's comeback Bears to a 24-21 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday night.

Brannan, substituting for injured Mickey Elam, directed three long distance Baylor scoring drives and then took the Bears 62 yards in a desperation race with the clock to set the stage for Bledsoe's winning kick.

Defensive tackle Max McGeary broke through to block two fourth period Southern Methodist field goal attempts after the Mustangs had deadlocked the score at 21 on a sensational 100-yard kickoff return by freshman James Collier.

The loss dumped Southern Methodist from the Southwest Conference's unbeaten ranks, while Baylor improved conference record to 3-1 and its overall season record to 4-2. SMU is now 2-1 in the SWC and 3-2 overall.

The Mustangs mounted a 14-0 lead before a sell-out Texas Stadium crowd of 65,101, their largest turnout of the season. Jim Bob Taylor tossed a 12-yard scoring pass to tight end Bob Fisher and tailback Eric Dickerson streaked 14 yards for the other touchdown after a key interception by Jerry Kovar.

Brannan came on late in the second quarter and guided the Bears on a 77-yard drive capped by Dennis Gentry's 13-yard scoring scamper, to reduce the margin to seven points at the half.

Stanford ties USC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Turk Schonert threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score Saturday as Stanford rallied from a 21-0 halftime deficit and earned a 21-21 tie with No. 1 Southern California in a Pacific-10 Conference football game.

Both teams missed field goal attempts in the closing minute of the game. Stanford's Ken Naber was short on a 53-yard try with 43 seconds left and Southern Cal's Eric Hipp had a 39-yard kick blocked after holder Jeff Fisher fumbled the snap as time ran out.

Schonert, scrambling under a heavy Southern Cal pass rush, darted 10 yards for the Cardinals' final touchdown with 4 1/2 minutes left and Naber kicked the conversion as Stanford snapped the Trojans' 13-game winning streak dating back to last year.

The Cardinals, a three-touchdown underdog, are 3-2-1 and 1-0-1 in Pac-10 play. The Trojans are 5-0-1 and 2-0-1 in conference action.

FORCED OUT — Pirates Phil Garner (3) slides under Orioles Kiko Garcia after being tagged at second base Saturday afternoon at fourth inning of fourth game of World Series at Pittsburgh. Garner was running on a sacrifice bunt attempt by Jim Bibby who knocked ball to O's pitcher Sammy Stewart who then threw to Garcia. Garner took out Garcia with the hard slide and there was no throw on Bibby.

Baltimore one win away from world championship

Orioles rob Pirates again

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pinch doubles by John Lowenstein and Terry Crowley drove in two runs apiece and Baltimore exploded for six runs in the eighth inning, roaring from behind for a 9-6 victory over Pittsburgh in Saturday's fourth game of the 1979 World Series.

The triumph gave the Orioles a 3-1 edge in the best-of-seven Series, which continues Sunday. Baltimore needs just one more victory to clinch its third world championship.

The six-run rally was the third big inning in the Series for the Orioles. They scored five times in the first inning of the Opener, which they won 5-4, and then had another five runs in the fourth inning of Game 3, which they won 8-4.

The Orioles mounted their rally against Kent Tekulve, ace of the Pirate bullpen who came on in the eighth after reliever Don Robinson got into trouble.

Baltimore was trailing 6-3 when Kiko Garcia, hero of the Birds' victory in Game 3, opened the eighth inning with a single. Garcia earlier had doubled home the first two Baltimore runs after the Pirates grabbed an early 4-0 lead.

Ken Singleton moved Garcia up to second with his third hit of the game. After Eddie Murray forced Singleton, Doug DeCinces drew a walk, loading the bases.

That brought Tekulve out of the Pirate bullpen. The lanky, side-arming right-hander relieved in 94 games in the regular season, posting 31 saves. But he just didn't have it on Saturday.

Lowenstein came off the bench to bat for Gary Roenicke in a righty-lefty switch by the Orioles. He drilled a double into the right-field corner, scoring two runs and cutting the Pirate lead to 6-5.

Billy Smith batted for Rich Dauer and was given an intentional walk, loading the bases again. Then Oriole Manger Earl Weaver went for his third straight pinch hitter, inserting Crowley to bat for Dave Skaggs.

Again, the strategy worked, with the pinch hitter drilling another double — almost identical to Lowenstein's — into the right-field corner for two more runs, giving the Orioles a 7-6 lead.

Tim Stoddard, the fourth Baltimore pitcher of the game, was the next batter. Because of the American League designated-hitter rule, Stoddard had never had an official plate appearance in the majors. But this World Series is being played without the DH, and the Orioles' hurler, a former star basketball player at North Carolina State, always will remember his first swing.

Stoddard bounced a single past third base, scoring the fifth run of the inning, and Baltimore added another on a force play groundout by Al Bumbry.

Stoddard then protected the lead over the final two innings to earn the victory in this slugfest which produced 28 hits by the two teams — 16 by the Pirates.

The Pirates jumped in front 4-0 in the second inning with Willie Stargell's homer touching off an avalanche of six hits — five of them in a row.

Stargell, the 38-year-old captain and leader of his club, sent a 400-foot shot over the center field fence. The Pirates then began shelling Orioles starter Dennis Martinez.

Pittsburgh is faced with a must-win situation in Game 5. The Pirates will use veteran left-hander Jim Rooker in that game against southpaw Mike Flanagan, winning pitcher in Game 1 for Baltimore.

SOUTHERN LEADER — Golfer Calvin Peete brings his club up to his face as he watches the fight of his ball during Saturday's round of the Southern Open being played in Clumbus, Ga. Peete has the lead going into Sunday's round at seven under par. Close on his heels are Jerry Pate, Tom Weiskopf and Mike Reid who are at six under.

SCHEDULED STARTING PITCHERS — Mike Flanagan, left, of the Baltimore Orioles, and Jim Rooker of the Pittsburgh Pirates have been named by their managers as the scheduled starting pitchers for the fifth game of the World Series, Sunday, Oct. 14.

C-City Wolves win

BALLINGER — Colorado City hung on to topple Ballinger, 10-8, in District 6-AA action here Friday night. The loss was the second straight for the Bearcats while Colorado City is 2-0 in conference action.

Neither team scored in the opening round. In the second quarter, Britt Chaney kicked a 22-yard field goal for the visiting Wolves, with 9:27 left.

With 2:54 remaining in the half, Colorado City moved farther ahead when Doug Johnson scored a touchdown from a yard away. Chaney kicked the extra point to give the Wolves a 10-0 bulge.

STARGELL'S HOME RUN NOT ENOUGH IN 9-6 LOSS

Roby rams Garden City

GARDEN CITY — Roby took advantage of three costly mistakes by the Garden City defense and two early fumbles to take a 31-8 victory. The loss spoiled the Homecoming festivities for the Bearkats. The game was the District 3-B East opener for both schools.

Garden City fumbles inside its own 20-yard line on its first two possessions, and Roby took advantage of them to tack 10 points on the board. Quarterback Pope ran in from the six for the first score, with Martin booting the PAT. Martin's 35-yard field goal came after the second fumble.

Martin raced in early in the second stanza and added the PAT to increase the Roby lead to 17-0.

With a couple of minutes left in the half, Garden City defensive end Rosenda Ybarra intercepted a Roby pass and raced 40 yards to paydirt for the only Bearkat score of the night. Scotty Hillger then passed to Pete Trevino for the two-point conversion.

But Roby struck back in the last minute of the half when Pope connected with Jennings on a 30-yard scoring play. Martin booted the PAT to give the Roby team a 24-8 halftime lead.

The second half was a defensive struggle, with the only score coming on a run by Roby's Stewart. Martin finished a perfect night kicking by converting the PAT.

The Bearkats, who have only four seniors and 17 players on the team, drew praise for their defensive effort from Coach Jesse Smalley.

Garden City is now 0-5 on the year and 0-1 in district play, while Roby is 2-3 and 1-0. The Bearkats travel to Sterling City for their annual grudge match next week.

Time runs out on Buffaloes Forsan falls by 14-7

FORSAN — A last gasp drive at victory by the Forsan Buffaloes was halted as the clock ran out and the Ropes Eagles escaped with a 14-7 win here Friday night in a District 5-A game.

Ropes had scored with 2:30 remaining in the game when quarterback Brad Bradshaw raced 16 yards to paydirt on a broken play to break a 7-7 tie.

Forsan couldn't move on their following possession and punted the ball. The Buff defense held, however, and Forsan used its three time outs at this point to allow time for their final drive.

The Buffaloes controlled the game, but not the scoreboard. Forsan had four scoring opportunities in the first half, but couldn't punch the ball over.

Ropes took a 7-0 lead into the intermission when Jesse Ybarra scored on a three-yard run. Gene Valentine converted after both Ropes scores.

Forsan fought back to tie the game midway in the third stanza. D.F. Stanley blocked a Ropes punt, with the Buffs recovering on the Eagles 24.

The Buffs then moved in to score when quarterback Ernie Strickland connected with split end Weldon Nichols on a 16-yard strike for the touchdown. Nichols' PAT tied the game.

Forsan dropped to 0-2 in district and 1-4 on the season, while it was the first win of the year for Ropes.

The Buffs hit the road next week when they travel to meet Shallowater.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Julius Erving scored a career high of 44 points and Doug Collins tallied 28 as the Philadelphia 76ers staved off a closing rush by the Houston Rockets for a 113-105 National Basketball Association victory Saturday night.

Houston, going down to its second straight loss in two nights, trailed by 64-48 at halftime and were behind by 92-78 at the end of the third period.

They rallied in the fourth quarter and came to within one point of the Sixers at 101-100 when Calvin Murphy dropped in one of two free throws with 3:26 remaining.

The Sixers then surged away to 107-100 on successive field goals by Erving, Collins and Maurice Cheeks, who stole the ball to make his score.

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Quarterback Rusty Lisch threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score, and running back Vagas Ferguson had a pair of first-half TDs as 10th-ranked Notre Dame routed Air Force 38-13 Saturday in college football.

The triumph boosted the Fighting Irish to 4-1 this season, while Air Force dropped to 0-6 and had its losing streak extended to nine games — the longest in academy history.

Notre Dame put together three sustained scoring marches and capitalized on two Falcon turnovers for another TD and a field goal to roll up a 31-7 halftime edge.

Ferguson, who didn't play in the second half, rushed for 84 yards and scored on runs of 5 and 23 yards. He now needs only 21 yards to break the school career rushing record of 2,682 held by Jerome Heavens.

The other Irish first-half scores came on Lisch's 2-yard pass to tight end Nick Vehr, Lisch's 1-yard run, and Chuck Male's 43-yard field goal.

Okie scores for Longhorns Is it justice?

DALLAS (AP) — Third-ranked Oklahoma was done in by an Oklahoman Saturday.

With No. 4-ranked Texas trailing 7-3 late in the first half in this joust of the unbeaten, backup senior tight end Steve Hall of Broken Arrow, Okla., scored his first collegiate touchdown on a remarkable onehanded stab of Donnie Little's wobbly two-yard pass.

Texas' awesome defense, which shackled Heisman winner Billy Sims with a sub-100-yard day and permitted the Sooners just six first downs and 30 yards passing, took over from there and Longhorns rolled to a 16-7 victory with the help of three John Goodson field goals.

Hall is just one of two Oklahoma players on the Texas squad, whereas Texas players have been liberally sprinkled throughout the Sooner team for years.

In 1977, Hall made the block that sprang Earl Campbell for the touchdown that defeated Oklahoma 13-6.

Hall said, "Not only was that my first touchdown pass, it was my first catch in two years. It went about how we had been practicing it."

"I just fake a block and go out to the end zone. It was a great pass. It is usually open. I really didn't feel like it won the game because we would have won it one way or another."

Texas Coach Fred Akers said, "Billy Sims is a great back but we were able to swarm him. We felt like we missed some opportunities, but we wouldn't change a thing."

Heisman winner Sims said, "I expected a game like this. It was a tough one."

Someone asked Sims if he thought he lost the 1979 Heisman Trophy Saturday and he answered, "I don't care. I have won already. We still have a chance to win the Orange Bowl and the Big Eight and that is what matters."

Runnels White takes 18-6 win

The Runnels White team used three touchdowns from quarterback Marty Rodriguez to bolt to an 18-8 win over the Sweetwater White team Saturday morning.

Rodriguez's runs came in the first, third and fourth stanza. He had plenty of offensive help from fullback Frankie McIntosh and receivers Jesse Ramirez and Robert Porras, who contributed big yardage on the touchdown drives.

Two of the touchdown runs were from the one-yard line, with the other coming from 40-yards out.

The Runnels defense kept the opposition in check most of the afternoon. The coaches lauded the play of Robbie Rhoton, a defensive end.

Lee stops San Angelo

SAN ANGELO — The Midland Lee Rebels used two short touchdown drives and a tough defense to take a 14-0 win over the scrappy San Angelo Bobcats in a District 5-A game here Friday night.

Lee limited the Bobcats to only seven first downs and 86 total yards in the contest, as the San Angelo team failed to score for the second week in a row.

Lee's first score came after San Angelo lost 36 yards and possession of the ball when the pigskins sailed over the Bobcats punter's head, giving the Rebels a first down at the San Angelo 15. Three plays later, quarterback Gary Butler dove one yard for a score with 9:10 remaining in the first stanza. Larry Linne's kick was good.

San Angelo moved to the Midland Lee two-yard line late in the first half, but quarterback Kel Crain was stopped just inches short on a fourth down attempt.

The defensive struggle continued throughout the contest, with Lee's Steve Waldron returning a Bobcat punt 25 yards to the San Angelo 29 late in the third quarter to set the Rebels in motion.

Butler completed three passes to move the Rebels closer, then Collins burst through from the three early in the fourth stanza to give the Lee team a 13-0 lead. Linne booted the PAT for the final point of the night.

Lee is now 2-0 in District 5-A play and 5-0 for the year, while San Angelo dropped to 0-2 and 1-4 on the season.

Crimson Tide drowns Gators

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Second-string quarterback Don Jacobs set up one touchdown with a 24-yard run after a fake punt alignment and bolted 73 yards for a third-period score, leading second-ranked Alabama to a 40-0 romp Saturday over winless and puncheoness Florida.

Jacobs' fourth-down run after Alabama shifted out of punt formation set up Steadman Shealy's 3-yard touchdown and Shealy's nifty running set up Steve Whitman's 5-yard plunge as the Crimson Tide took a 14-0 first-quarter lead and coasted to its fifth triumph of the season and 14th in a row.

The victory marked Bear Bryant's 289th coaching success, 25 short of Amos Alonzo Stagg's all-time record of 314. It also was his 34th triumph in 39 meetings with one of his former pupils and 24th in a row. Florida is 0-4-1 under Charley Pell, who played at Alabama in 1960-61-62 and later served as a graduate student assistant under Bryant.

Alan McElroy kicked the first of his two field goals eight seconds before halftime to make it 17-0 while Major Ogilvie and John Hill added scoring runs of 1-yard and 2 yards respectively as Florida suffered its worst defeat since a 49-7 licking by Georgia in 1971.

Feldt leads Midland past Steers

By NATHAN POSS Sports Editor

MIDLAND — The Midland Bulldogs used the talented one-two backfield punch of quarterback Michael Feldt and fullback Jeff Robnett, coupled with a swarming defense to completely dominate the Big Spring Steers by a score of 31-0 on a pleasant Friday night here in Memorial Stadium before a sparse crowd.

Feldt was a magician with the option offense, making some accurate pitchouts on his way to the turf to the speedy Robnett, who gained 102 yards rushing on the night, with 77 coming in the first half when the Purple Pack rolled to a 21-0 lead. Feldt added 96 yards rushing and passed for another 94.

Meanwhile, the Big Spring offense continued to sputter in its unimaginative way. The Steers, whose front wall has been as leaky as an unplugged dam recently, could manage only three first downs in the contest.

Midland wasted no time whatsoever in achieving all the points that they would need for the evening. Following a punt off David Coffey's foot on the Steers first possession, the Bulldogs drove 55 yards in nine plays for their initial touchdown. Jerry Zachery capped the drive on a five-yard jaunt, with Billy Stovall's kick giving Midland a 7-0 lead with 6:47 remaining in the opening stanza.

The drive was not easy, however, as Feldt twice had to convert third and fourth down plays to keep the march alive. The second came on a fourth and six at the Big Spring 36, with the 195-pound junior scrambling for an apparent loss and finding Russell Hays, who made a diving catch, for a ten-yard pickup and a first down at the Steer 26. On the next play, Feldt, falling to the ground with a Big Spring tackler, lofted a beautiful pitchout to Robnett, who raced 21 yards to the five.

Midland scored the next time they touched the ball on a 45-yard, six play drive. Feldt passed to tight end Pat Hickey for 14 yards to start the march, and five plays later raced around right end and cut back past the Steer defense on a 19-yard scoring play. Stovall again converted with 2:31 left in the opening stanza.

Big Spring made their first down of the game on their next possession, but were then forced to punt, with the Bulldogs setting up shop on the Steer 44.

The Steers held the Bulldogs for two plays, but Feldt then passed to Robnett on a perfectly executed screen for 18 yards to the Steer 31. Five plays later, Robnett raced around right end to bring the count to 20-0. Stovall's PAT was again true.

Midland's Hickey intercepted both Big Spring quarterback's Jimmy Marquez and David Coffey on the following two Steer possessions, but the Bovine defense held on both occasions. Midland was nexed from increasing its margin on these occasions when Stovall missed a 56-yard field goal attempt and Big Spring's Jack Odom recovered a fumble on his own 14 yard line.

Ironically, Midland did not score on its longest march of the night, a 68-yard drive that opened the second half and stalled on the Big Spring 12 yard line when Feldt was stopped short on a fourth and two situation by the hustling Steer defense.

But Midland scored on its following possession, setting up their attack on the Big Spring 29 following a short David Coffey punt. The drive took seven plays, with Robnett taking a miraculous pitch from a tackled Feldt and racing left end from 10 yards out on a fourth and two situation. Stovall's kick was good with 2:10 left in the third stanza.

Big Spring completed their only two completions of the night on the next two plays from scrimmage, both slip screens to Joe Willie Jones from Coffey, but could manage only six yards. Following yet another Steer punt, the Bulldogs drove from their own 47 to the Big Spring six before stalling. At this point, the accurate Stovall booted a 23-yard field goal to give Midland a 31-0 lead with 7:23 left to play.

The game had to be especially discouraging for Coach Ron Logback's Steers. Unpressured, Midland played nearly flawless football. The Steers did not cross midfield with the football once during the evening, with their best possession coming at their own 39, and that after taking over at the 38 after a Midland field goal attempt. Meanwhile, the Bulldogs were not forced to punt on one occasion throughout the contest.

The Bulldogs are now 1-1 in district play and 4-1 on the year, while the Steers are now 0-2 in loop action and 1-4 on the season. The Steers return home next week to play the powerful Odessa Permian Panthers, while Midland will play host to Abilene.

Oilers face Colts today

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Houston Oilers will be out to prove that last week meant nothing while the Baltimore Colts will be hoping to prove that it meant plenty when the teams meet in an National Football League game here Sunday.

The Oilers, an American Conference playoff team last season, were upset 24-17 last Sunday by the St. Louis Cardinals. The Colts, meanwhile, were beating the New York Jets 10-8 to snap a 10-game losing streak.

A crowd of about 50,000 is expected for the 2 p.m. EDT, kickoff. Although well below Memoria Stadium's capacity, it would be the largest home crowd for the Colts this year and come in the face of competition from the scheduled telecast of the World Series game between the Baltimore Orioles and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Coach Ted Marchibroda said the victory over the Jets could act as a springboard for the Colts, who won nine in a row in 1975 to take their first of three consecutive AFC East titles.

"The win cured a lot of ills," said Marchibroda. "Now if we can only string two wins together. That would really be something. I know that Houston has an excellent football team, as good as any in the league when they are playing well, but I'd like to win big Sunday."

The Oilers, now 4-2, did not play well in the loss to St. Louis, especially on defense. For the season, the Oilers have allowed 132 points compared to 134 scored. Baltimore has scored just 72 points in six games while giving up 112.

"Our defensive problems are a matter of each player trying to take matters into his own hands instead of operating as a team," said Oiler Coach Bum Phillips. "We have a good defensive team, and that's part of the problem. They've each got a lot of pride, and everybody gets to the point where he is trying to personally turn things around."

On offense, the Oilers are led by quarterback Dan

Pastorini and running back Earl Campbell, the conference's most valuable player as a rookie last season.

"Campbell is so good that he can turn an ordinary gain into a game-breaker," Marchibroda said. "He is quick, strong and powerful. We know we'll have to be at our best to stop him."

Greg Landry will again start at quarterback for the Colts, who have been without the services of Bert Jones virtually all season. Jones, who missed most of last season with shoulder injuries, suffered another shoulder separation in the opening-game loss to Kansas City.

ODESSA — The Big Spring Steers girls volleyball team remained alive in the first half of the District 5-AAAA race by defeating Odessa by a score of 15-12, 15-2 here Thursday night. The win by the Steer fems sets up a showdown with the only two completions of the night in Steer Gym (night on the next two plays) to Tuesday night by Big Spring from scrimmage, both slip screens to Joe Willie Jones from Coffey, but could win Thursday night. Kimble with 10, followed by the Steer junior varsity, 15-1. High point server from their own 47 to the Big Spring six before stalling. Tuesday's do or die match at 7:00 p.m., while the schools will battle at 6:00 six-yard pass for Jayton. Jayton moved farther out in front on touchdown runs by Jimmy Smith and Joe McMeans. Smith's run was for 23 yards while McMeans covered two yards.

Pat Parker booted two extra points for the Jaybirds. Borden's only touchdown came with five seconds left in the game when Dyess scored on a keeper from a yard out.

Overall, Jayton is 3-1-2. The game was the first in conference for the Jaybirds.

Pecos stops Snyder with early score, 3-0

PECOS — Pecos edged Snyder, 3-0, here Friday night on the strength of a 23-yard field goal by QB Larry Mosby.

The play occurred with 4:27 left in the first half. The Eagles' had moved to Snyder's six-yard line only to be stalled by some fine defensive play on the part of Snyder.

Snyder drove from its own four to Pecos' four in the fourth but couldn't muster enough strength to get across the double stripes.

Takes 39-0 win over Shallowater Stanton celebrates Homecoming

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes once again used their outstanding defense to dominate play and take an important 39-0 win over the Shallowater Mustangs here Friday night in District 5-A play.

Stanton allowed the Shallowater team only five first downs in the contest, and forced the visiting Mustangs to turn the ball over five times, thus setting up some short touchdown marches for the Buffs in their Homecoming affair.

Stanton scored quickly in the first stanza when fullback when Derrick Looney bruised over from the one. The drive was a 28-yarder following a poor Shallowater punt, with Curtis Williams' 26-yard dash setting up Looney. The PAT failed.

The Buffs scored with 9:04 remaining in the half when quarterback Craig Eiland connected with tailback Lewis Henry for a 25-yard touchdown pass. Eiland booted the PAT.

A Shallowater turnover gave the Buffs possession on the Mustang 28 minutes later, and Eiland found split end Freddie Silva on a 16-yard pass for the score. The PAT failed and Stanton led at halftime 19-0.

The defense dominated for both teams in the third quarter, with neither side scoring.

Midway in the fourth stanza, Eiland found Silva once more, this time on a 49-yard scoring pass to give Stanton a 25-0 lead. The PAT failed.

On the next Shallowater possession, linebacker Greg Douglass stared a very low Mustang punt on the 30-yard line and raced in for the touchdown. Eiland converted the PAT.

Stanton's defense held Shallowater to a total of 15 yards on offense during the game. The Buffs' defense forced the Mustangs to punt six times during the contest.

Stanton's offense, led by quarterback Craig Eiland, moved down the field with ease. Eiland passed for 150 yards and three touchdowns, while running back Lewis Henry rushed for 110 yards and one touchdown. Curtis Williams added 73 yards rushing and a touchdown.

The game was over by the second quarter, with Stanton leading 19-0. Shallowater's defense was unable to stop Stanton's offense, which scored three touchdowns and a field goal in the first two quarters.

Stanton's defense was outstanding, forcing the Mustangs to punt six times. The Buffs' defense held Shallowater to a total of 15 yards on offense during the game.

In the waning moments of the game, Stanton cornerback Rusty Allred intercepted a Shallowater pass and returned it 20 yards to the Mustangs 28.

Eight plays later, Allred took the final scoring honors for the evening on a three-yard run. Curtis Williams booted the PAT for the final point of the game.

Tailback Henry was the leading rusher for the Buffs with 110 yards on 15 carries. Silva led the Buff receivers with three receptions for 69 yards, while Eiland had 96 yards passing for three scores.

The Stanton coaching staff recommended the entire defense. Shallowater accumulated gained 124 total yards, but 36 of these came on a fake punt just before halftime.

Stanton, now 4-0-1 and 2-0 in district play, will travel next week to take on Plains. Shallowater dropped to 0-2 in district play and 2-2-1 on the season.

Coahoma miscues give Wylie win

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs outplayed the undefeated Wylie Bulldogs in nearly every way possible here Friday night, but five fumbles and a couple of mistakes in the Coahoma pass defense gave the visitors a 22-14 win in a District 6-AA game here Friday night.

Coahoma took the opening kickoff and drove 65 yards when tailback Ambrosio Uranga scooted across from the 15, but a penalty nullified the Big Red Machine and they couldn't score at this time.

Wylie then scored first in the game with 38 seconds remaining in the first stanza when quarterback Gregg Conder passed 38 yards to Kevin Ingram. Billy Joe Schulte booted the PAT. Coahoma rallied quickly in the second stanza to tie the score. Clint Elliot raced in from five yards out with 8:39 left in the half, with Spot Paige's successful PAT tying the score.

Minutes later, Coahoma quarterback Gary Gee raced 35-yards for a score to give the home team Bulldogs the lead. Paige converted the PAT.

But with 3:35 left in the half, Conder ran in from one yard out to pull Wylie within one at 14-13. The visiting Bulldogs then took the lead when Conder connected with tight end Dennis O'Dell on the two-point conversion.

Wylie controlled the clock in the third stanza, using nine minutes of the clock as the Bulldogs could run only three offensive plays. The first play was a fumble, with Wylie recovering on the 50.

They controlled the ball at this time, but couldn't score. Then, with five minutes to play in the third stanza, Wylie recovered a Coahoma fumble on the Big Red's 18-yard line. Coahoma stiffened, but Conder passed to Ingram on fourth down on an 18-yard scoring play to increase Wylie's lead to 21-14. Casey added the PAT.

Coahoma drove back immediately, with Elliot's 41-yard run moving the Bulldogs into Wylie territory. But Elliot fumbled the ball back to Wylie on the five yard line to stop the scoring threat.

The Bulldogs had a last gasp drive in the fourth quarter move deep into Wylie territory, but the visitors held on a fourth down run by Gee to take over on downs.

Wylie averaged 192 pounds on the front seven of their defense, but the quick Coahoma team whipped them throughout the contest, forcing many of their visitors to the sidelines. But the numerous fumbles was simply too much for the Big Red Machine to overcome. The secondary breakdowns also hurt.

The host Bulldogs managed 252 yards rushing out of their I-attack, with Uranga, Elliot and Gee leading the way with 81, 76 and 72 yards, respectively.

Much of the running success was due to the blocking of such linemen as tackle Bobby Joe Tucker, guards Faron Phinney and Gary Bayes, and center Jerry Roeber. Slotback Paige and fullback Chubby Abrego also had good nights blocking.

Defensive leaders for the Coahoma defense, which limited Wylie to only 153 yards rushing, were nose guard Abrego and linebacker Paige, who had 12 tackles each.

The Coahoma coaching staff was naturally disappointed in losing and with the costly mistakes, but still very pleased and encouraged over the outstanding effort that was produced against the bigger Wylie team.

Coahoma now has its back to the wall in the District 6-AA race with a record of 1-1, while Wylie is now 2-0 and 5-0 on the year, and in a tie with Stamford and Colorado City for the district lead.

Coahoma will try to get back on the winning road next week when they host the Winters Blizzards in a Homecoming affair. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Cooper defense stifles OHS, 21-0

ABILENE — The Abilene Cooper defense stopped the Odessa Bronchos twice on scoring opportunities late in the first half, one on a goal line stand, then used two long marches in the second half to take a 21-0 win here Friday night.

Cooper, the top rated team in the state in Class AAAA, scored on a 69-yard five play drive in the first stanza, with split end Mike Flores scoring on a 30-yard run on an end around. Kyle Stuard kicked the PAT.

Midway in the second stanza, Odessa advanced to the Cooper one-yard line, but halfback Gordie Mason was thrown for a loss on fourth down to squelch the threat.

Following a Cooper fumble on its own 36, the Bronchos drove to the Cougar 15 with less than a minute remaining in the half. But Cooper safety Ronnie Houston intercepted a pass in the end zone to stop the Odessa team once more.

The Cougars then established control of the game at the start of the second half, driving 68 yards in 14 plays, with Keith Pantallion's eight-yard pass reception from John Slaughter the scoring play.

Cooper then concluded the scoring for the night in the fourth stanza, driving 69 yards in 14 plays for the final score of the night. The touchdown came on a seven-yard pass from Lanny Dycus to Alvin Jenkins, with Stuard again converting.

Cooper could gain only eight more total yards (260-252) than Odessa, and the Bronchos had 15 first downs to Cooper's 12.

The win gives the Cougars a 2-0 district mark and a 5-0 season mark, while the stubborn Bronchos dropped to 0-2 and 3-2.

OVER-WHELMING BIRD — Larry Bird, making his debut with the Boston Celtics, pumps a pass over the head of Houston Rockets' Mike Dunleavy during first quarter action Friday night in Boston. Bird, the nation's collegiate player of the year, scored 14 points, helping Boston to a 114-106 victory.

Mojo capitalizes on Eagle errors

ODESSA — The Odessa Permian Panthers took advantage of Abilene Eagle mistakes in the second stanza to score three times and take a 21-7 win in a District 5-AAAA game matching two unbeaten teams.

Permian scored its first touchdown on a 22-yard drive following an excellent runback of a Loyal Proffitt punt. Quarterback Kelly Howard capped the short march when he flipped a five-yard pass to tailback Ricky Reynolds with 8:34 left in the first half. Roy Dunn converted the PAT.

Following a fumble by Abilene's Leo Parrish on the 40, the Panthers drove in for another score with 5:39 left in the half. Kent Sager ran off left tackle for four yards and a score, with Dunn converting.

Then, following an 18-yard punt to the Abilene 40, Mono marched in for their final score of the night. Five plays later, Howard connected with split end Terry Brown in the corner of the end zone for a touchdown with only 12 seconds remaining in the half. Dunn booted the PAT.

Abilene drove to the Permian 16 yard line in the third stanza, but the Mojo defense held to prevent the Eagles from denting the scoreboard.

Abilene finally scored with 37 seconds remaining when Parrish leaped over from the one. The touchdown was set up by a pass interference call in the Permian end zone. The Eagle scoring drive came after an 80-yard march, primarily on Proffitt to David Russell passes.

Permian is now 2-0 in district play and 4-1 on the season, while Abilene is now 1-1 in loop play and 2-3 on the year.

Estacado routs Lamesa

LUBBOCK — Lubbock Estacado dominated play throughout in its game here Friday night, winning by a score of 35-0.

After a scoreless first quarter, Kenneth Cole but Estacado ahead on a 34-yard pass from Jerry Gray. Cole booted the PAT to make it 7-0.

The Matadors scored three times in the third period. Alvin Gray ran 16 yards across the double stripes. Preston Davis followed with a 30-run. Warren Lyons chalked up the fourth touchdown of the night for Estacado on a 23-yard pass from Gray.

Estacado scored again in the fourth when Stacy Burrell gathered in a pass from Gray and raced 27 yards to pay dirt. Cole converted for Estacado after each touchdown.

The win was the fifth in six starts for Estacado. A Lamesa fumble set up Estacado's second score.

Lamesa is winless now in six starts. The Tornados, who play Sweetwater next week, were held to six first downs and 93 yards total offense.

Christian Academy topples Oaklawn

The Big Spring Christian Academy Warriors won both their football and volleyball games over Oaklawn Baptist of Midland. Both were Permian Basin Church Athletic Association League games.

The boys six-man touch football team took a 27-0 win. Quarterback Danny Thompson scored two touchdowns, one on a run and the other on a return of a pass in interception. Others adding touchdowns Damon Boudreaux and Byron Gossett. Robbie Coyle added a conversion run.

The win gives the Big Spring team a season record of 1-2.

The girls volleyball team took a 15-0, 15-10 win over Oaklawn. Their record is now 3-0.

Leading servers for the Big Spring fems were Nancy McClure, Sarah Cantu and Ester Strain.

Wilson erupts past Sands Mustangs, 36-8

WILSON — The Wilson Mustangs erupted for 23 points in the first quarter on their way to a 36-8 win over the Sands Mustangs. It was the District 3-B opener for both schools.

Randy Hall scored two touchdowns for Wilson in the first quarter. The first was on a six-yard run and the second on a 65-yard punt return. Bobby Garcia then added a four-yard touchdown run in the first stanza, then Donald Fratag and John Cox tackled Sands quarterback Shayne Wighton in the end zone for a safety to conclude the scoring in the disastrous opening 12 minutes.

SLOW RECOVERY — Six months after a tornado ripped through Wichita Falls, Texas, much of the rebuilding still isn't completed. The French Quarter apartment complex, one of the many buildings damaged still is a long way from being ready for occupants.

Tornadoes: Quick to destroy, slow to rebuild

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — The three funnels that converged on Wichita Falls April 10 took only a few minutes to devastate the city. Six months later, the slow process of rebuilding is still in the early stages, and some survivors have found more stumbling blocks than help in their efforts to regroup.

Ray and Judy Muller, for example, hired a contractor to rebuild their house soon after the tornado. After completing only a fraction of the work, the contractor took off — with $1,500 in money and supplies.

Two men who bid on the work wanted $200 a day. "It didn't cost that much before the storm," Mrs. Muller said. "Right now we can't afford to build it and we can't afford to sell it."

Instead, the Mullers live in an 8-by 40-foot trailer near the remains of their home in the Western Hills section of the city, one of the areas hit first and hardest by the storm.

Their neighborhood is a hodgepodge of vacant slabs, patched and battered houses and the rebuilt homes of the more fortunate and affluent.

Charles Harper, head of the terminated reconstruction and redevelopment task force, estimates construction has begun on little more than a third of Wichita Falls' wrecked homes.

To his surprise, Harper said, one area that is rebounding quickly is south of Southwest Parkway near Memorial Stadium. The stadium, one of the first structures hit, was repaired before the Oil Bowl in August.

Across from the stadium, however, the Willow Creek Apartments remain a mass of twisted metal, shattered glass and splintered wood.

But homeowners behind the apartments are among the few heeding the Board of Commerce & Industry's slogan, "Wichita Falls is coming back strong and fast."

Rebuilders are taking advantage of the situation to expand and improve their property, knocking out walls and adding fireplaces.

"Houses are going back better," said Mrs. Bobbie Whitely of Faith Village, another hard-hit area. "I'd say the majority are building back brick. They don't know what will be next door, though, after they make their improvements."

Mrs. Whitely said builders are not obeying an ordinance prohibiting the reconstruction of any structure in the tornado area that wasn't there before April 10.

"In the next block there is a beauty shop. And there is a barbershop somewhere around here," Mrs. Whitely said, adding she and her neighbors hope a zoning ordinance will be adopted by the city council.

Building in the city has nearly tripled this far this year. Last year, construction totaled slightly more than $40 million. At the end of September this year, construction had surged to more than $111 million.

Harper said economics has played an important role in rebuilding. Those who had the money or received Small Business Administration loans early have rebuilt.

But "for a lot of people, living in a federally financed trailer home is easier than trying to do something else," Harper said.

For other tornado victims, recovery means more than physically rebuilding. Those haunted by the storm still are coming in to Inter-Faith Disaster Services, Inc., the group formed by the cities' churches to meet the human needs of disaster victims.

"Some need help getting furniture, or help with emergency bills. Some need help in labor construction," said Johnie Harris, volunteer coordinator of the services.

"We've seen a lot of people who have no insurance coverage and whose income is too small to qualify them for SBA loans," she said.

"Some people are still paying on furniture that blew away and also are making payments on furniture to replace what blew away. Not all notes to lending agencies are covered by insurance."

But some "just need someone to talk to now. Everybody is tired of listening to tornado stories and want to go on to a more normal way of life. But some people are just now telling their experience. They've kept it bottled up inside," Mrs. Harris said.

The agency has assisted about 340 victims, and has 160 volunteers still on the job, some with the same cases they started with.

Inter-Faith has closed very few cases, she said, because "the victims work through one crisis or solve one problem and then start on the next one. They just can't face it all at one time."

For many, the trauma lives on in the subconscious.

"It's all catching up with me," said Ellen Gagahan, who lost everything but a scrapbook, some family pictures and a chair to the tornado.

"It's been a nightmare — literally," she said. "I dream about it; or I dream about dying. It's never out of my mind. How could it be? It's made all the differences in my life."

The nightmares began in May for Dennis Spruill, the city editor of the Wichita Falls Times who wrote an award-winning eyewitness account of the storm. "None of the dreams has ever involved a storm or any kind of weather-related disaster," he said. "But it is always a life or death situation, where I am drawn into dangerous, crisis-type predicaments, or somebody dies or comes close to dying... someone who is close to me, real close friends or relatives."

Spruill kept the dreams to himself until a month ago when he confided to colleagues.

"You don't want to hear someone suggest that you go to a psychiatrist," he said. "You want to think you're a stronger person than that, that the disaster is not going to have that kind of effect on me."

"But then, you realize you are human like everyone else. You're not made out of stone. You're made out of flesh, bones and blood. Your mind can suffer through traumatic experiences, and it stays with you. It's not something that goes away with the clouds."

Texas' energy policy unique, Clements says

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says Texas is unique in that he knows of no other state with an energy policy.

"I question that any other state has a policy of position," Clements said.

"As I have talked with other governors, I have not found any state that can say with no hesitation it has a policy or position."

Clements said the Texas policy, fundamentally, is one thing. "We must produce more energy."

gas, coal, and nuclear power, plus research and development to improve such production.

The fifth point is conservation but on this, Clements said, Texas disagrees with President Carter.

"The Carter administration has been putting too much emphasis on conservation because conservation will not do the job," he said.

"Our position is we must produce energy and that must be top priority with conservation secondary."

On Friday, Clements briefed the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association on the status of the Texas policy and sought support for it from the trade group he once served as a director and executive committeman.

Clements said the Texas policy was developed by the state's elected officials—governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, railroad commissioners, comptroller and land commissioner—and their studies led to the establishment of the Texas Energy and Natural Resource Advisory Council that became a reality Sept. 1.

"All of the elected officials are in total agreement with the policy," he said. "But all of us who are evolving this Texas position or policy feel the energy problem is not a Texas issue. It is national and international and a very complex and very serious problem. It is probably our No. 1 national and international problem today."

Clements said 10,000 to 15,000 coal miners are out of work and the nation is mining less coal than two years ago.

"Our nation cannot stand this kind of procrastination," he said.

"And we need to quit this nonsense that is going about on an anti-nuclear position. We must allow and have our nuclear capability playing a significant role in energy between now and the year 2000."

Clements said the exotic and glamorous energy supplies will not be available until after 2000.

"From now until 2000, we are going to have to depend on what we have on hand—oil and gas, nuclear, coal, research and development, and, in a secondary role, we must practice conservation," he said.

LIZ RUIZ SHERRI ROGERS TRES HOHERTZ

Three are nominated for Band Sweetheart

The Big Spring High School band recently voted on their band sweetheart. Finalists are Tresa Hohertz, Sherri Rogers and Liz Ruiz.

Tresa Hohertz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daryle Hohertz, a senior at Big Spring High School. Tresa is captain of the Golden Stars and is a varsity cheerleader for the Steers.

Sherri Rogers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Rogers. She is also a senior at BSHS and is very active in the band program.

She is the saxophone section leader, woodwind lieutenant and uniform lieutenant for the band.

Liz Ruiz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Ruiz. Liz is active in band. She plays aboe and is the double reed section leader. Liz plays marching bells during marching season.

Band sweetheart will be announced during the pre-game show at the Steer-Odessa Permian football game October 19.

Museum to sponsor Linney art show

The Heritage Museum is sponsoring Mrs. Jannie Linney, an artist of rare talent, in an art show and sale at the museum Oct. 20.

The public is invited to the 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 20 and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 21 event.

Mrs. Linney has the unique ability of capturing the imagination with her adept use of simple subjects. Her pictures produce a peaceful atmosphere, and include landscapes, still life, butterflies and animals.

Her favorite medium is oil, however, she is equally gifted in the mediums of pencil, pen and ink, acrylic pastel and oil.

Mrs. Linney is from Stanton and is married to Leroy Linney. They are the parents of three daughters.

Mrs. Linney has recently completed a mural for the Big Spring State Hospital.

Visitors and hosts visiting the museum recently were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Demais from Rapid River, Mich., visiting Mrs. J.D. Bilbo; and Rhonda Bransom of Burleson visiting aunts, Dwanna Robertson and Muriel Myrick.

Recent renewal membership include Mr. and Mrs. Harold Talbot, Mrs. Lillian Dawson and Mrs. Nat Shick.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE
from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR Sunday, Oct. 14, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you would be wise to live the Golden Rule to the best of your ability. Take time to study ways to have added abundance in the days ahead. Express happiness with others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You could find it difficult to express yourself well in the morning but later it is just the opposite. Make plans for a better life.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You must use tact at home and show more affection if you want harmony there. Study new ideas that can be helpful to you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A fine day for lofty philosophical studies and then try to be of service to others. Fine day for visiting friends.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be careful you are not too extravagant in speech when visiting congenials. Avoid arguments of any sort.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try to please family members and come to a fine understanding. Plan how to stretch your finances in the coming weeks.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Follow the finest philosophy that is known to you and put your life on a more even keel. Make this a worthwhile day.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Fine day for being with friends you like and can trust, but suspect one who is in touch of you. Plan for the days ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Try to meet influential persons socially today, but be careful in conversations. Enlist company of relatives in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Fine day for being with persons of wisdom who can impart some of this to you. Make careful plans for the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study your friends well so you will know where they fit into your plans for the future. Show more devotion to loved ones.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be of assistance to a person you know who is having a tough time. Concentrate on how to be more productive in the future.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Showing appreciation in some way to those who have done you favors in the past is wise now. Make a good impression on others.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have the capacity for making along important lines, with influential persons, so be sure to give as fine an education as you can afford, and success will follow. Good religious training early in life is important. The stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!

FORECAST FOR Monday, Oct. 15, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to think of the important man most able to give you the support and backing you need. Make your decisions early. Later you can get an advanced vision of the best means by which you can handle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Accept the assistance of one whose experience is greater than your own and be more successful. Take treatments that improve health.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Plan future entertainment now. A fine opportunity offers itself to make a good impression on a bigwig. Use more logic in your thinking.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Follow suggestions of kin, even if it means making big changes in your way of living. Be careful when dining away from home.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get in touch with those who are capable of helping you improve daily routines. Consult with bigwigs for information you need.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use caution where money is concerned. Study carefully any contract before you sign. Get your name in better shape—both inside and out.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Seek the assistance of trusted advisers who can keep secrets and get good results later. Be more articulate, precise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A personal goal you couldn't attain can now be reached. Think along constructive lines.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Come to a better understanding with those who have power over your affairs. Time for expansion where career is concerned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have many ideas for advancing in your career, but don't procrastinate about doing just that. Think along constructive lines.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Carry through with agreements with others, and gain their goodwill, get benefits. Show loyalty for mate, loved ones.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have a plan to present to your associates, and can cooperate for it now. Get more involved in community affairs.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will make plans and then steadfastly carry through successfully. Teach your child first understand the motivations behind such plans, as well as those of others and thereby, and success will follow. Good religious training early in life is important. The stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Tryouts for Midland theatre production set

Auditions for Midland Community Theatre's December production, "The Happy Apple," will take place October 22, 23 and 25 at 8 p.m. in the Redfern Room of Theatre Midland. This hilarious British spoof of the advertising business needs a total of nine men and two women to complete the cast. "The Happy Apple" concerns three young advertising executives who have left a large and successful agency to start a company of their own. With neither funds, clients, office furniture — and especially, without a trained staff to conduct market research surveys — they are stymied. But, by an incredible (and amusing) stroke of luck, they discover their pretty, little naive receptionist is the perfect "average" citizen. Her personal opinion of products exactly matches the reactions of a large cross-section of the public which has been individually interviewed. She is a one-woman gold mine, and they guard both her and her special talent exclusively. The firm becomes enormously successful.

"THREE BY TWO" — Mark Phillips, left, Holly Mathias and Bill Shaner practice the scene "Adapation," from the Midland Community Theatre's most recent production, "Three by Two."

Midland Community Theatre

'Three by Two' opens Friday

"Three By Two," Midland Community Theatre's upcoming production in Theatre Two, consists of an evening of three one-act plays by two authors: "Adaptation" by Elaine May, and "Next" and "Botticelli" by Terrence McNally.

The first two opened as a double bill that "killed" the critics and then audiences for twenty months in New York, some ten years ago. Now they will be presented in the wonderfully intimate style of a Theatre Two production, opening October 19 for 10 performances.

"Adaptations" examines The American Dream and presents Life as a television game show. The contestant is moved like a pawn across a marked board as he journeys, lies and cheats his way through the game of life. A games master indicates roles, crises and situations, and penalties and bonuses are meted out. "You are in conflict: advance two points to maturity." As the contestants play the game, they present us with a graphic picture of the mindless way so many people drift through life. "Adaptation" is a hilarious satire of everyday life. The cast of players includes Bill Shaner Jesse Grimes, Mark Phillips, Holly Mathias and Melinda Myers.

"Next," a provocative play set in an army induction center, tells of an overweight, over-age, and overwrought draftee, who through some computer error has been summoned to a physical examination by the draft board. He is sure he will be excused when his age is known, but his examiner is an overbearing WAC sergeant who has no time or patience for his explanations. It is zany, funny and maybe a little bit heart-bending. The roles are played by Dean McLain, Jeanne Haralson and Tom Greany.

In "Botticelli" we find two American soldiers playing an intellectual guessing game while waiting for a trapped enemy soldier to show himself. It is a biting, satirical vignette concerning the callousness young Americans acquire in war. The cast members are Corby Considine, Steven Roche and Monte Connolly. Rick Schiller is director and Vivian Gillaspia stage-manages.

There are only 130 seats for each performance, so reserve your seats early. The box office will open to theatre members on October 15th and to the public on October 17th. Call 682-4111 or drop by Theatre Midland between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays for reservations.

The year 1960 was a milestone in Moore's career. At the Edinburgh Festival, he joined forces with Peter Cook, Johnathan Miller and Alan Bennett in an outrageous university revue called "Beyond the Fringe."

The revue played for two years in London, and in 1962 it came into Broadway as a long-running hit. This was followed a few years later by another hugely successful revue with Peter Cook, "Good Evening," which ran for five years in London, New York, and on tour of the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

DUDLEY MOORE

There's not a man in town who won't be able to relate to the fantasy of the persistent hero of "10." He is on the hunt for the perfect girl, and when he spots her at a Hollywood intersection, the chase is on.

Dudley Moore, the happy, sharp-witted British comedian, plays the man with the big fantasy in his eternally high-spirited romantic comedy which is now playing at the College Park Shopping Center.

It co-stars Julie Andrews and introduces Bo Derek, and was written and directed by Blake Edwards.

In 1978 Dudley Moore finally made his mark on the American film public in "Foul Play" as the chubby swinger with the bedroom full of rubber dolls. That hilarious performance won him the starring role in "10."

Whipped into shape, Moore was not only able to hold his own in a room full of orgiasts, and a bed full of Bo, but also to do such stunts as saving a man twice his size from a shark. The script also called for him to fall over a hedge backwards, topple into a swimming pool, struggle down a steep hill and trip over a room divider onto a bed — without letting go of a pretty blonde.

"10," however, is not merely a series of pratfalls. It is sometimes serious, and the mishaps that Moore suffers could happen to any

The Anthony Hunt Library

Do you have a yen to go back to the early days of Big Spring? You can, you know. The Anthony Hunt Library will take you there. We'll transport you by way of a microfilm reader.

Does anybody remember when the BIG SPRING HERALD was called THE ENTERPRISE? The first local newspaper the Hunt Library has on file begins as THE ENTERPRISE on January 3, 1908 and goes through December 29, 1911.

Our holdings then skip to January 7, 1921, and the title has changed to THE BIG SPRING HERALD, but the file is complete from that date to June, 1979, and is kept current on microfilm.

So come to the Library and let us show you how to read a newspaper on microfilm. For 10 cents you can make a copy of any article for your own files.

Speaking of "oldies," do you remember the oft-quoted ditty "What are little girls made of?" and "What are little boys made of?" etc.

There is a modern version now. It's termed: "What are astronauts made of?" The answer is THE RIGHT STUFF. The book, THE RIGHT STUFF, by Tom Wolfe, published by Farrar, etc. of New York, 1979, has just arrived in the Hunt Library.

The book tells of the inner world of the early astronauts, John Glenn, Alan Shepard, Gus Grissom, and their conferees. Tom Wolfe shows us the hidden olympus to which these men aspired, and the ineffable quality of their makeup — not just bravery nor willingness to lay down their lives — other men have had that. It was a broader pattern, a bigger whole — hard to describe, it was simply "the right stuff."

Hours of the Anthony Hunt Library are: Mondays through Thursdays, 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; Fridays, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.; Sundays, 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. All area residents are urged to take advantage of the library materials on the Howard College campus.

"HOME OF THE WEEK"

2622 South Albrook
OPEN HOUSE

CAPEHART ADDITION
Come to see our open house at 2622 S. Albrook, former Air Base housing. Prices range from $29,950 to $49,950. Salesman on duty 6 days a week 1:00-6:00. All types of financing, including F.H.A. & V.A. on these homes. No down payment on V.A. and some F.H.A. closing cost only. Two new streets just open this week. 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths are $29,950.

MOTHER NATURE
Outside herself — 2½ acres with outdoor pool in fantastic setting for this super 3 bedroom, 2 bath with central heat and air; huge living area with fireplace, country-style kitchen. $45,000.

TOO LATE
For the first school bell but in time for the tomorrow walk to school. Sparkling clean 2½ brick w/lovely den, built-in bookcase; nice carpet throughout. Fenced yard with patio. $25,000.

NATURE WAS HERE FIRST
Private area — A very lovely brick on huge lot with water well. Large stone fireplace in family room. Huge family breakfast area. All built-in. Hobby room or sewing room — Popular address. $45,000.

KENTWOOD CLASSIC
Here is the opportunity to get the space you need for an affordable price. Formal living and dining. Den with woodburning fireplace. Large kitchen with breakfast area. Huge utility room with space for office. Level drive-up appeal. $45,000.

THREE NEW HOMES
Three different and unique floor plans. All have large family rooms (bedrooms), 2 baths — built-in even-oven, dishwasher, central cooling-on large lots. $20's.

NEW LISTING
Our cup of tea could be this lovely home in Kentwood. Big, big living area, formal dining, carpeted and draperies, owner transferred and ready to move. $41,000.

COOL GREEN
The carpet that is in this charming white brick on Wicky St. This brick, 1½ bath, brick home has much to offer. Separate living room, den, well-arranged kitchen with built-in, granite, 15x37 covered patio. Sits on ½ acre with garden spot and fruit trees. $34,000.

DREAMS DON'T LAST
Get neither do dream houses, so see this one now in Parkhill. This sparkling brick, with refrigerated air, new carpet, new kitchen vinyl, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths, with covered patio. One of our best buys at $40,000.

YOU PICKED A FINE TIME
To consider this great home in a secluded area. Bus stops at front doors. An extra lot adjoins this lovely brick in outstanding condition. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, one owner home. $34,500.

THINK BACK
Pretext you're at Grandma's house. Big rambling ranch and nice kitchen. This house needs a remodel. Priced at $29,500.

TRI-LEVEL
Almost 2000 Square Feet in this brick and siding home — 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, with family room on lower level. Also boasts a swimming room and 3-car carport. $45,000.

IT'S IN TO BE OUT and we can put you in this almost new brick South of City — nice location. It's a 3-2 with all built-ins and in addition — large pool on pond water well. $45,000 — mass offer.

STEP INTO TOMORROW
See this Ultra-Contemporary, 1½ acre home in Highland South. On one acre in natural, rustic setting it has 3 bedrooms plus 2-story high den with fireplace. Skylights in both and breakfast areas. For those seeking bold new concepts in housing — Appointment only. New Construction.

STARTING TWO NEW HOUSES
Our builder is starting 2 new homes this week. Come to our office and we will show you the plans on these handsome homes; or select one of your own, and he will custom-build for you.

PRIZE PACKAGE
— Near 3 bedroom. Home in Parkhill — Reduced to $33,000.

SOME LIKE THEM ROOMY
— All rooms large in this 3 bedroom, 1½ bath, brick — Studio and work room. Extra at $40,200.

YOU CAN'T WIN BY WAITING
but you can win by looking at this 3 bedroom, 2 bath brick in Kentwood — Refrigerated air — Double Carport. $39,800.

$17,000 IS A GOOD PRICE ON THIS
3 bedroom Home near College Shopping Center — No storm windows with concrete cellar — Corner lot.

PRICELESS VIEW
from this large 3 bedroom. Home on 3 acres — let us show you the Home and grounds — $80,000 — will look at offers.

'God gave me life... God gave me life...'

Mrs. Bordofske fights back and wins battle against breast cancer

By ROBBI CROW
Family News Editor

The thought is hidden in the back of every woman's mind. The possibility is there. The fear is there.

But things like that only happen to other women. Mrs. Fran (Sherry) Bordofske, only 37 at the time, was one of those 'other women' — a victim of breast cancer.

Mrs. Bordofske's story, unlike the popular book by Betty Rollin, "First You Cry," now circulating the country, is a story of closeness with family and friends, a story of realization and acceptance, and above all, a story of combined faith and trust in God to see her through the unwelcomed nightmare.

"First You Cry," is the story of NBC correspondent Betty Rollin and her battle with the disease dreaded and feared by all women — breast cancer.

Mrs. Bordofske pointed out that Ms. Rollin's "lack of faith in God" showed through her book, which was "written totally on the negative aspect of her circumstance."

"I despise that book," protested Mrs. Bordofske. "Someone should have written it that believed in God. If she had had faith in God and a positive attitude, the book could have helped many people."

Mrs. Bordofske is living proof that a "very positive" attitude is one of the major factors in the mental and emotional recovery of cancer patients following surgery.

"A good attitude is so very important," revealed the former cancer victim. Mrs. Bordofske didn't read "First You Cry" until after she had her mastectomy. She claims that if she had read it prior to her surgery, her entire optimistic attitude might have been reversed.

"The book thoroughly depressed me," she revealed.

Mrs. Bordofske began her story of cancer by explaining that Dr. J.H. Burnett at Malone-Hogan Clinic, had been watching several lumps in her left breast for approximately 5 years.

"One morning I woke up feeling very sluggish," she stated. "My stomach was upset and no matter what I ate or drank, including water, I would burp it."

Thinking it was a condition she had for some time called diverticulosis, Mrs. Bordofske went to see Dr. Burnett for a checkup.

It is her belief that God played a most important role in the early detection of her cancer. As a rule, Dr. Burnett normally didn't order mammograms for women under 40 unless there were definite signs of cancer. In Mrs. Bordofske's case, there were no evident signs.

During the period of time Mrs. Bordofske was admitted to the hospital for a series of tests, Dr. Burnett said "While we're at it, let's do a mammogram."

A mammogram is a specialized x-ray which shows soft tissue structures better than the conventional x-ray method, enabling possible abnormalities to show up.

"I almost backed out," recalled Mrs. Bordofske concerning the tests. "I thought it was a waste of time. It couldn't be anything but my diverticulosis acting up."

She had her bags packed and was almost out the door when they called her in for the mammogram.

Mrs. Bordofske was an employee at Malone-Hogan Clinic working as a receptionist in Internal Medicine during this time. She had been there only six weeks.

"When the mammogram results came in," she said, "Dr. Burnett called me into his office immediately. He told me that there were some definite calcifications that showed up on the right breast. We hadn't even been concerned with that one, it was the left breast we had been watching. He couldn't feel a thing in the right breast. There was not lump or anything."

She explained that on the mammogram, numbers of tiny dots could be seen about the size of BB's. These are virtually impossible for doctors to detect.

It was Dr. Burnett who then recommended a biopsy, so Mrs. Bordofske made an appointment with Dr. Jim Matthews, also of Malone-Hogan Clinic.

"When Dr. Matthews examined me," continued Mrs. Bordofske, "he couldn't feel anything either. He ordered another mammogram taken at a certain angle. He was hoping that if he knew the exact location, he could get it all in the biopsy."

Mrs. Bordofske's mammogram was taken on a Tuesday. The biopsy was performed the following Friday. The date was March 17, 1978.

"Prior to the biopsy, Dr. Matthews and I had an agreement. If it was malignant, he would go ahead and remove everything then, without awakening me. I just thought that would be best," revealed Mrs. Bordofske.

She knew there was a chance she would awaken with out her right breast and possibly her left.

"If one was malignant," she stated, "I wanted them to go ahead and remove both breasts. I knew that if one was cancerous, the possibility of the other getting it later was high. I just wanted to get it all over with."

She and her husband, Fran, who is employed at Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., had conflicting views.

"Frank didn't want both breasts removed if they both weren't malignant. So I agreed to his terms," she stated with regret.

"Soon after my surgery, and before I was completely out of the anesthetic, I was aware of the talking around me. It was at this time," she revealed, "that I found out I did have cancer."

"My initial thought was 'Oh, no, I've got cancer and I'm not going to be here very much longer.'"

If everyone experiences this initial feeling of loss, depression and helplessness first felt by Mrs. Bordofske, then how is her story different from others?

"When I awoke in my room," recalled Mrs. Bordofske "all I could see were 33 people and 23 flower arrangements all around me."

"It was at that moment I said to myself, 'Sherry Bordofske, you should be ashamed of yourself for not caring whether you live or die. You better thank the

'I'VE GOT LIFE' — The story of Mrs. Fran (Sherry) Bordofske and her battle with breast cancer is one of hope, realization and acceptance of the disease dreaded by all women. Her story is one of success, not all are. However, Mrs.

Bordofske believes the number one factor involved in the speed of mental and emotional recovery is "a positive attitude."

Section C

People, places, things

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, OCTOBER 14, 1979

good Lord you're alive. All these people here care whether you live or not, so you better care."

Sherry said from that time on she felt it was stupid and immature to sit around and brood about having had cancer and the possibility of getting it again.

"I knew I should be doing all that I could for God, my family, others and lastly, myself. My dad and mom tried to teach that to me and my sisters all of our lives, but it wasn't until after my surgery that I truly realized it. I knew I had to live every minute of my life to its fullest from now on," she stated.

During her 10-day stay in the hospital, Mrs. Bordofske said seeing people was extremely important to her.

"Some people are just the opposite. They don't want to see anyone after undergoing something like cancer surgery."

According to Mrs. Bordofske, some days as many as 50 to 100 visitors came to see her while she was in the hospital.

"Some days visitors would come to see me all teary-eyed. People would come in with their depressed attitudes, but I wouldn't cry. I never cried. Dr. Matthews was really amazed at my attitude."

"The way I look at it," she continued, "is that I've got life."

Mrs. Bordofske said several who came to see her came out of curiosity.

"When someone hears someone has cancer, they become curious. But even though I knew some came to me because of their curiosity, it made me feel good to know they were concerned."

Not all cancer victims are as lucky as Mrs. Bordofske.

"I was lucky," she admitted. "I guess I am an exception to the rule, but I contribute that to early detection, which, if it hadn't been for Dr. Burnett, would have been impossible."

Dr. Burnett was later asked by Mrs. Bordofske why he had ordered a mammogram for her when there was no evidence of cancer to merit it.

He replied "I really don't know why. The man upstairs just told me it would be a good idea."

"I know God had a hand in the early detection of my cancer," stated Mrs. Bordofske.

And because of the location of the malignancy, Dr. Matthews, who was assisted by Dr. N.S. Rao, was able to perform a modified radical mastectomy on Mrs. Bordofske. The surgery was done without removing the nipple.

to Dr. Matthews and Dr. Rao, is the removal of breast tissue, lymph nodes under the arm and in some cases, several of the chest wall muscles.

According to Dr. Matthews and Dr. Rao, a modified radical is a mastectomy performed to remove breast tissue, lymph nodes under the arm and usually some of the muscles of the chest wall.

Although Mrs. Bordofske's surgery was a success — all cancer was removed and lumps in her left breast were benign — Mrs. Bordofske, as well as her family, still had to face the aftermath of realizing, accepting and living with the fact that she has been a victim of cancer.

"I never did sink down into a state of deep depression," claimed Mrs. Bordofske, "but one of my lowest moments was the day I returned home from the hospital following surgery."

"When I got home, I wanted to take a shower. I took my clothes off and stood in front of a full-length mirror. I saw exactly what had been done to my body."

"It was such a shock," she recalled.

Mrs. Bordofske said there were many times when she had to do "a lot of talking" to herself in order to steer clear of low or depressed moods.

"If I hadn't talked myself into a higher mental attitude, I could have really gotten down. But I had to keep thinking God gave me life... God gave me life... God gave me life."

As with any normal person, Mrs. Bordofske still goes through periods of depression, but she tries not to use her cancer surgery as a crutch.

"I used to use my surgery as a way to get attention," she recalled. "If the boys weren't acting right or if they weren't doing what I wanted them to, I would say, 'Well, when I'm gone...'"

"That was terrible and in bad taste. It really hurt me and then after I said it, but it only happened twice."

Women's husbands who have suffered through the effects of cancer surgery along with their wives, must also battle through a period of adjustment themselves.

Mrs. Bordofske's husband was no different. She says it was more difficult for him to accept the fact she had been a victim of cancer than it was for their two sons, Terry, who at the time was 12; and David, who was then 15.

"Frank just refused to accept it at first," stated Mrs. Bordofske of her husband. "It really did affect him. He just wouldn't believe it had actually happened."

Mrs. Bordofske confessed the fact her surgery put a definite strain on their marriage, but went on to say "I feel it would put a strain on any marriage."

"I never really felt that having the mastectomy took away from my femininity. Fran felt it did. He just couldn't make himself believe that I was a victim of cancer. Some people just can't face reality. It took time for the entire family to believe it was true."

"My boys adjusted as well as anyone could. My in-laws and parents also gave me great encouragement and inspiration. Without the encouragement and love shown to me by my doctors, nurses, family and friends, my recuperation period would have been more difficult."

Mrs. Bordofske had nothing but words of praise for Dr. Burnett, the doctor who diagnosed her cancer; Dr. Matthews and Dr. Rao, the doctors who performed her mastectomy; and Dr. Raleigh White IV and Dr. Don Lynch, the doctors who performed her breast implant.

"All of the doctors are fantastic and I love each one of them very deeply. I admire them for what they are able to do for cancer victims," she stated.

"Modern medical technology is wonderful," she continued. "I can't understand why women think they're already doomed when there are so many modern techniques. Life can be so great if you want it to be. You've got to make the most of what you've got."

Several weeks after her right breast was removed, Dr. Matthews referred Mrs. Bordofske to Scott and White Hospital in Temple, Tex., for her implant surgery.

"The implant is like a clear balloon," she explained. "It's sealed around the edges just like a seal-a-meal bag. When implanted, it's stationary. That's really the only difference between my two breasts now."

She also revealed that with plastic surgery, doctors can reconstruct nipples from other parts of the body for women whose nipples were removed with the mastectomy.

Getting used to the implant is uncomfortable at first Sherry says.

"You've heard of people who have lost a leg or an arm, but they can still feel it?"

14 OCT 14

Sherry all for 'Reach for Recovery'

(Con't. from P 1-C)
Well it's the same way when you lose a breast. It's really weird when it itches because you can't feel anything when you scratch it," she said humorously.
She also explained that during the healing process, "it felt as though someone was holding my breast, pulling it. It wasn't painful," she said, "just uncomfortable."
Mrs. Bordofsky has had her share of surgeries in her 38 years. She has learned to live with pain.
"In the last 10 years," she revealed, "I've had six major surgeries."
With the discovery of four new lumps in her left breast, it is eminent that in the near future, at least two more surgeries will be added to that total.

"They've found four new lumps in my left breast. I'm going to go ahead and have the surgery done as soon as possible. I don't want to mess around with it.
"But like I said before, I really wish I had had both breasts removed at the same time. Now I'm going to go through both surgeries (the mastectomy and implant) again," she stated with regret.
Mrs. Bordofsky was president of the American Cancer Society at the time she was stricken with the disease. She is still an active member, serving as chairman of special events on the board of directors. She has served in every capacity with the exception of two, secretary and treasurer.

The organization's residential campaign was dedicated to Sherry in 1978, the year her cancer surgery was performed. She served as president for 2 years.
"During my two years as president of ACS, there were many times I sat with cancer patients. At least seven of those times, the patient died only minutes after I left their bedside," she recalled.
Mrs. Bordofsky says her experience with cancer has taught her to be a stronger person.
"I'm a very emotional person and always have been, but it's amazing to see how strong you can be when you have to."
"I've sang at funerals for cancer patients who have passed on and not shed a tear until I was alone. You have to be strong for other people as well as for yourself."

It's difficult, according to Mrs. Bordofsky, not to picture herself being there, instead of the other cancer victim.
"But then again, you've got to talk to yourself."
Reach for Recovery is a major program now in operation by the American Cancer Society. It is a specialized program formed to help those women who have been through mastectomies to accept the fact and cope with possible difficulties they might have during their recuperation period.
The program is comprised of women, who themselves, have been through mastectomy surgeries and have been cancer free for at least two years. It is their job to talk with recent victims of breast cancer.

"I definitely like the Reach for Recovery program," revealed Mrs. Bordofsky. "It's great for most women, but as with anything, there are always exceptions. If a patient is interested in the program, she should consult her doctor."
"A lady from the program, Nell Wilson, came and talked to me following my surgery," continued Mrs. Bordofsky. "She was a great help and inspiration."
Mrs. Wilson is an inactive nurse who has been specially trained for the program.
Mrs. Bordofsky hopes that in the near future, the ACS will organize a class for husbands who wives have had mastectomies to help them realize and understand what has happened.
Mrs. Bordofsky's breast cancer case is unique as well as inspiring to other women. However her story of success stems from early detection.
"I want to plead with every woman," she advised, "to check her breasts at least once a month. It's so important."
"Several years ago I had a hysterectomy and after that, I never saw any reason to examine my breasts or even go to the doctor for a yearly physical." She continued saying, "If it hadn't been for having my beauty license renewed, I would have never gone to a doctor for anything."

Mrs. Bordofsky believes her faith in God was definitely tested during this trying period of her life.
"Having breast cancer and a mastectomy is scary and I'm not going to try to make anyone think it's not," she said.

"But you have to go on. You've got to believe that there is hope for you and hope for others."
Her experience with cancer has taught her the importance of telling others you care.
"When I returned to work following my breast cancer surgery," recalled Mrs. Bordofsky, "I remember Dr. Burnett saw no one but cancer victims on Friday. On that day, when he was alone in his office dictating or writing in charts, I would stick my head in the door, grin, wink and say 'I love you and thanks for saving my life.' That would always get a smile from him."

"I believe people should tell others they love them whenever possible. It's so important to tell them now, because no one knows if they will see tomorrow."
"God loves us so we should love also to be able to enjoy the true meaning of 'JOY' — Jesus, Others, You," she concluded.

Resignations accepted

The Mary Jane Club met Thursday morning at 9:30 in the home of Mrs. James Coates, R-Bar Community. Co-hostess for the meeting was Mrs. A.V. Lewis.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Glyn Mitchell. Plans were made for a Sand Sift Booth at the Coahoma Halloween Carnival that will be held on Oct. 27 from 6 to 10 p.m. in the Bilt-Rite Pallet Shop. Profits from the booth will go to assist the AWAKE program for gifted and talented children in the Coahoma School System and also for rose bushes for the Community Beautification Project.

Resignations of membership were accepted from Mrs. Quail Dobbs and Mrs. A.V. Lewis.

Mrs. Janet Rogers, Howard County extension agent, gave the program, "Brighten Your Bathroom." She stated that sheets were one of the most economical and versatile decorating fabrics. They can be used for wall coverings, window and shower curtains.

She reminded that collectibles make pretty and different accessories, and that designer towels could be made easily and still stay with a family's budget by purchasing towels on sale and stitching on decorative trim to carry out a color scheme.

Eleven members answered roll call with "The first piece of furniture we bought." Refreshments were served from a table covered with a green cloth and centered with a Baby Tears Plant.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 9 in the home of Mrs. Dewayne Clawson.

Moss plans carnival

Moss Elementary School will hold its Halloween Carnival Oct. 27.

Beginning at 6 p.m., chili, frito pie, hot dogs, pie and coffee will be served. The chili supper and drinks will be $1.25.

Opening at 7 p.m. will be the carnival booths including the cake walk, hay ride, Coke toss, dart throw, sweet shop, toy walk, grab bag, fishing pond, witch ring toss and duck pond.

A costume contest will be conducted for those wishing to participate beginning at 6:30 p.m. Drawings for many door prizes will be held throughout the opening.

Moss students will be taking donations of $1 each for the grand prize drawing for a $150 shopping spree and $300 worth of Green Stamps from Don Newsom Grocery.

Schoolers announce birth

Bruce and Lana Schooler, 3200 Drexel, announce the birth of their first child, Farrah Dawn, Oct. 5 at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

The infant made her debut at 11:21 a.m. weighing 8 pounds 5¼ ounces. She measured 19 inches in length.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Karnes, Big Spring, J.E. Schooler, Ely, Nev., and Joy Glaser Houston, are the paternal grandparents.

Farrah also has great-grandparents including Mr. and Mrs. Frank McHaney, Odessa; and Ruth Leonard, Roanoke, Va.

Today's teen girl says 'thin is in'

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Does it sometimes seem like every teen-age girl you meet is on a diet? A new survey just released by Seventeen Magazine confirms that today's young woman definitely thinks thin.

The survey found that almost 79 percent of all teen girls have decided to shed some pounds at one time or another, and almost two-thirds of these girls are currently on a diet.

What kind of diet is most popular with the teen girl? Eight out of ten girls said they simply cut down on the amount of food they would normally eat. Diet pills are the least popular way to lose weight: 82 percent of the teens have never tried them.

The Baroque period: depth, light, color, heavy decoration, splendor of the aristocrats. Gone forever? Look again. The essence of the period has been captured in true design themes. Consider the double framed design on the drawers, doors and mirrors. The deep, rich, mellow Largo finish has the look of fine antiques. The permanence and character of real wood are in the pecan veneers. Authenticity and value are in the burnished drawer pulls. All qualities combine into a grand symphony of enjoyment. Wedding ceremony read in candlelight setting

The First United Methodist Church was the setting of the Oct. 6 wedding ceremony uniting Susan Ita Bristol and Loyd Bartin Holley.

The ceremony was read by Dr. Edwin Chappell, pastor, before an archway flanked on either side by arrangements of white gladiolus. Completing the altar decorations were greenery-adorned candelabrum accented with baby's breath.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harlan H. Bristol, Big Spring. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Keeter, Hico, and the late Bill Holley.

Charles Parham, organist, and his daughter, Holly Parham, pianist, provided wedding music for the 7:30 p.m. rite.

The bride was presented down the aisle wearing a gown of white sheer organza over taffeta featuring a bodice complimented by long, sheer sleeves and a sweetheart neckline embellished with lace applique trim. The A-line skirt, which fell from the empire waistline, was fashioned by V-shaped pleat inserts framed with lace applique edging, forming a chapel-length train. Her ensemble was complimented by a veil of sheer organza trimmed with coordinating lace which was attached to a headpiece of lace applique and seed pearls.

She carried a cascading bridal bouquet of blue roses, white rosebuds and white carnations sprinkled with baby's breath and tied with white streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Nancy Porter. She wore a floor-length gown of white eyelet over blue print trimmed in baby blue satin. Her attire was complimented by a nosegay of baby blue and white carnations tied with royal blue streamers.

MRS. LOYD BARTIN HOLLEY

Mrs. Evelyn Layne, Houston, sister of the groom, served as the bridesmaid. She wore a floor-length gown similar to that of the maid of honor.

Boyd Holley, Hico, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Vennie Gardner, Snyder; Alan Bristol, College Station, brother of the bride; and Kirk Layne, Houston, brother-in-law of the groom, seated guests.

Ring bearer was John Holley, Snyder.

Immediately following the evening ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Holley were feted with a reception in the Garrett Hall of the church. Guests were registered by Mrs. Steve Hodges, Midland.

The bride's table was draped with white lace over baby blue and centered with a white, three-tiered wedding cake which featured a staircase of miniature candles and a cascade of pale blue flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used by servers Mrs. Paul Garrett, Lisa Griffice and Sandra Harbin.

The groom's table was covered with cream cloth which featured a brown linen overlay. A chocolate cake adorned with traditional wedding bands was served by Mrs. Doris Rudd, Gail, aunt of the groom.

Attending from out of town included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ita Nole, Avoca, Tex.; the bride's sister, Mrs. Connie Eppler and family, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Taylor, Hico, grandparents of the groom; and Loyd Holley I, Snyder, grandfather of the groom.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Big Spring High School. The groom is a 1977 graduate of Hamilton High School, Hamilton. He has attended TSTI in Waco and is presently employed in Snyder by Ezell-Key Feed and Grain where the couple will make their home upon returning from a wedding trip to South Texas.

WEDDING VOWS — Mr. and Mrs. James L. McGill, Midland, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Sue, to Gary Nicholson (Nick) Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hood, 2208 Rannels, Big Spring. The couple will speak their wedding vows Nov. 17 in the St. Luke United Methodist Church, Midland. Dr. O.A. McBrayer, pastor, will perform the rite.

Dear Abby

Sallies Were Her Salvation

By Abigail Van Buren
1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I owe you heartfelt thanks for an article you wrote concerning missing persons some eight or nine months ago.

I had cried and prayed so much for someone to show me how to get in touch with my son, whom I hadn't heard from in two and a half years. Then I read in your column that the Salvation Army helps to locate people, so I wrote to them immediately.

In a matter of days they wrote back. Those wonderful people didn't leave a stone unturned in trying to locate my son. One night, less than two weeks later, my telephone rang. It was my son calling me! Abby, that had to be the happiest day of my life. We are now reunited.

Please print that information that helped me find my boy, since there are a lot of people who don't know where some of their loved ones are, or even if they are alive.

God bless you and the Salvation Army!

VIRGINIA B.

DEAR VIRGINIA: Anyone wanting to locate a lost relative should write to:

Salvation Army Missing Persons
30840 Hawthorne Blvd.
Rancho Palos Verdes, Calif. 90274

Please note the following: The Salvation Army will search for relatives ONLY, and even in a foreign country, but not for juvenile runaways or children kidnapped by the other parent.

They are not set up for adoption or genealogy research. And please do not ask them to locate a relative to collect a debt.

The Salvation Army is a non-profit organization, supported by donations, so if you request a search, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a few dollars for long-distance telephone calls.

DEAR ABBY: What would cause a grown man to take guests in the house on a grand tour, pointing out the furnishings, objects of art, pieces that were found in various places/around the world during his travels, etc., ad nauseam?

The man is my husband, and I am so embarrassed when I see the looks on their faces. It sounds like so much bragging to me. I've even heard him mention how much various items cost. Lord, help me!

We do have a lovely home, have traveled extensively and have collected some interesting things, but, Abby, if he would just wait until someone admired an object, or asked him where it came from, there might be some justification for all his talk.

If he had been needy in his childhood I might be able to understand it, but that was not the case.

Tell me, please, what I can do to help him.

ELEANOR MATHENY OF BIG SPRING SAYS:

The day Pat Walker's Figure Perfection Salon opened in Big Spring was a very important one for me. I had heard about the program several years ago and was impressed with it. Naturally, when we were fortunate enough to get one located here, I made an appointment for an evaluation. On July 12, 1978, I enrolled. Since that time I have had a weight loss of 40 lbs. and have firmed 71 inches. Needless to say, my health is much better and I have more energy than I have had in years. It has been a pleasure to go to the Salon. The efficient personnel makes you feel so welcome and seem sincerely interested in your progress. I recommend the program highly.

Sincerely, Eleanor Matheny

Rate of divorce changes marriage counselor role

With at least one-third of all marriages in America now ending in divorce, marriage counselors are finding themselves in a new business — divorce counseling. So says an article on this new phenomena and how estranged couples are benefitting from it by Bernice and Morton Hunt in a recent Family Circle.

According to the Hunts, authors of the recently published "Divorce Experience," "divorce counseling" may ease the painful period of emotional and social upheaval most people experience after a divorce and speed up the healing process, which can usually take two to three years.

Today, continues the article, many marriage counselors are beginning to sort out those clients who really want to save their marriage from those who need help taking the steps toward divorce.

As psychiatrist Harold Lief, director of the Marriage Council in Philadelphia told the Hunts, "Many people coming to us for counseling say they want to save their marriage. Actually, what they want is the counselor's validation of their secret feeling that the marriage is hopeless." These people, continues the doctor, want to be able to say "I tried, so don't blame me." They also want the reassurance that a counselor concurs with their feelings.

Patients who subconsciously feel their marriage is hopeless, points out Fowler, often do not want the blame for the ultimate separation. Therefore, while believing they are working on their marriage, they are, in fact, creating a situation where their partner is made to feel guilty when the marriage finally doesn't work. In these cases, says the doctor, "If a counselor brings out the truth, the decision to divorce is made with a fair allocation of responsibility, hence, a better chance of recovery for the reluctant partner."

Divorce counselors, notes the article, may help the person who is unwilling to face the separation deal with it while building his or her emotional strength. Counselors will sometimes offer advice on personality changes, and there are also some who play a part in working out the money and visitation terms of the divorce agreement.

The methods of working with troubled couples, point out the Hunts, vary from counselor to counselor. Some prefer to work in groups while others like to deal with patients individually. Couples using a marriage counselor may also find that, if there is a divorce, one partner may stay with the same counselor while the other mate is apt to look elsewhere for assistance.

Divorce counseling, says psychologist Terry M. Levy and professor Wendy Joffe of Biscayne College, Miami in the article, is usually considered a three-state process. First, the client is taught how to handle the separation, the letting go and the learning to live alone. Next, comes "individuation," the building of a new identity and growth as an individual. And, finally, "reconnection," the point at which a person learns to care again.

For many counselors this type of divorce therapy evolved, says Dr. C. Ray Fowler, executive director of the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy in the magazine, when marriage counselors began to think in terms of saving people. If that meant salvaging a marriage and making it into a good one, fine; and if it meant helping people get out of a hopeless marriage and make a good recovery that was fine too."

As psychiatrist Harold Lief, director of the Marriage Council in Philadelphia told the Hunts, "Many people coming to us for counseling say they want to save their marriage. Actually, what they want is the counselor's validation of their secret feeling that the marriage is hopeless." These people, continues the doctor, want to be able to say "I tried, so don't blame me." They also want the reassurance that a counselor concurs with their feelings.

International theme is emphasized

Alpha Tau Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night in the home of Jo Anne Ezell in Coahoma.

The dinner meeting emphasized the 1979-80 international theme of Beta Sigma Phi, "Around the World with Beta Sigma Phi." Members brought foreign dishes which they had prepared and dressed in the costumes of those countries.

A business meeting followed the dinner with Kathy Nichols, vice president, conducting pledge training. The Oct. 27 Halloween carnival was discussed.

JoAnne Ezell gave a program on Emily Post, the author, and the meeting adjourned.
