Justice officials are suing SEDCO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government filed suit today to recover more than $6 million for cleanup costs plus an unspecified amount for damages from SEDCO Inc. in connection with a massive oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico last June.

The Justice Department charged that the oil spill was caused by SEDCO, a Dallas oil driller, and that the company's offshore oil rig was unseaworthy and its crew was incompetent and negligent.

SEDCO owned the rig that was drilling the Ixtoc I oil well in the Bay of Campeche in Mexico when a blowout occurred on June 3. The government said the accident caused a discharge of 10,000 to 30,000 barrels of oil a day.

Texas Republican Gov. Bill Clements, who founded SEDCO, said, "This is purely politically motivated. I'm glad to get another bird in the tree."

Jimmy Carter now has been joined by (Texas Attorney General) Mark White, (State Democratic Chairman) Billy Goldberg, and (Texas AFL-CIO President) Harry Hubbard and all four are twirling the same song."

The department said SEDCO neglected to stop or contain the discharge and failed to remove the oil from offshore navigable waters, the 200-mile U.S. fishing zone, or the shoreline.

The claim said the government was forced to clean up the oil spill and reroute traffic in the area and that SEDCO's alleged negligence caused extensive damage to natural resources, property and commerce.

It said the precise amount of damages remains to be determined.

The government's charges were filed in U.S. District Court in Houston as a counter-claim to a suit filed by SEDCO aimed at limiting the company's damages to $300,000 or excusing it completely from any costs.

The Justice Department also filed a court motion intended to clear the way for a separate suit against SEDCO that would charge the company with violating the 1972 Water Pollution Control Act and the 80-year-old Federal Refuse Act.

Assistant Attorney General James W. Moorman, head of the department's land and natural resources division, said no decision has been made to file claims against other parties.

Moorman said that matter is being considered by a group representing the departments of State, Interior, Commerce and Justice, the Army Corps of Engineers and the Coast Guard.

SEDCO had filed suit in Houston Sept. 12 asking a judge to clear it of all blame or limit its liability to $300,000, the amount it contends it would have earned through leasing the rig to the Mexican drilling firm. SEDCO posted $300,000 bond.

Texas gulf coast fishermen filed a $155 million suit against SEDCO Sept. 14. Rio Grande Valley businessmen and tax subdivisions filed a $100 million suit Sept. 17, and the state of Texas filed a $10 million suit against SEDCO Oct. 18, also contending SEDCO was liable for up to $50 million in cleanup costs.

Sewage treatment plant to be improved - more or less

Big Spring City Council today took steps to initiate both a less expensive plan and a more expensive, fail-safe plan to finance improvements at the local sewage treatment plant.

Mayor Wade Choate was first authorized to submit an application to the Texas Department of Water Resources for $1,950,000 needed by the city to complete the project. If the department approves this loan application, the city will have to pay only 5.5 percent interest, compared to an estimated 7.5 interest on the open market.

"This would probably save the city between $350,000 and $400,000 over the 13 years it would take the certificates to mature," said City Manager Don Davis.

The catch is that the city must award a contract to begin improvements at the plant by Dec. 16 at the latest. If the application to the department of water resources is rejected, then the city must be in the position to finance the project in another way.

"If the board turns us down, then we will just have to put together the best interest package we can. You (the council) will have to decide which way to go," said Joe Smith, city financial consultant.

To cover this contingency, the council voted to authorize the mayor to publish notice of intention to issue Water Works and Sewer System Certificates of Obligation. These would require the higher interest rates. Bids for the project were received weeks ago, and Belco Construction Company of Temple was the low bidder. That company's bid, however, was still nearly $2 million over the cost estimates the city had made last year for the project.

The city received $1,312,500 from the Economic Development Administration for the project, but this was approximately $1,950,000 short, making the search for further funding necessary.

Total cost for the project is estimated at $3,262,500. This includes $2,906,000 to go to Belco; $294,814 in engineering fees; $25,000 to cover inspection fees by the Economic Development Administration; and $37,686 for administrative costs.

In order to help finance the loan, as was announced several weeks ago, rates to water and sewer customers will be increased. The increase, which will amount of $2 a month, will go into effect Jan. 1, and will remain in effect for the next 13 years.

Deposed Shah of Iran hospitalized in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, deposed ruler of Iran, was hospitalized today at the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center for "extensive medical examinations" for an undisclosed ailment, an adviser said.

Pahlavi was installed in a three-room suite and surrounded by tight security, said the hospital's vice president for public affairs, Eamon Brennan.

Brennan said shortly before 9 a.m. that the patient was resting and the nature of his illness and his condition had not yet been classified.

"They've not begun diagnostic tests yet and it's unlikely there'll be any results to report before this time tomorrow, if then. He'll undergo all the usual tests — blood, urine, radiology, but no one's being more specific than that," he said.

William Greene, hospital administrator, said the shah was admitted around 11 p.m. EDT Monday, about an hour after he slipped into New York at La-Guardia Airport aboard a Gulfstream twin-engine jet. Seven hours after the shah's arrival, one of his senior advisors released a statement which did not reveal the shah's ailment.

"His imperial majesty has come to United States to undergo extensive medical examinations at New York Hospital. The shah and members of his family are optimistic that the outstanding medical care available in the United States will diagnose his ailment and provide a cure," the statement from Robert F. Armao said.

"The shah will not make any public statements nor hold any news conferences. For now he has authorized me to say that he is grateful President Carter and the United States government for making him welcome. To the extent that it is practical and advisable, efforts will be made to issue timely reports on the shah's condition," the statement said.

Life magazine in its current edition reports the shah, who has been tried in absentia in Iran and sentenced to death, has been unhappy that his face is so recognizable and has had his agents talk to plastic surgeons about a change.

Life said the shah, who is the target of death squads organized by revolutionary court judge Ayatollah Sadeq Khalkhali, has denied its report. Khalkhali has offered a bounty for the shah's execution.

The shah has been living in Cuernavaca, Mexico, since he was forced to leave Iran in February following a revolution.

State Department spokesman David Passage said in Washington early today the shah was granted permission to visit the United States strictly for medical reasons.

Passage said he did not know the nature of the shah's illness, but said the former Iranian ruler's doctors in Europe and the United States had advised the shah the medical care he required was available only in the United States.

The purpose of the visit, Passage said, "was not for taking up residence." Last spring the shah was told by a private citizen representing the United States that a visit was not advisable pending stabilization of U.S.-Iranian relations.

City Council passes rate increases for several facilities on first reading

By JAMES WERRELL
First readings of a number of rate increases for some city facilities were passed during the regular meeting of the Big Spring City Council, this morning.

Rates for use of the Municipal Auditorium, which hadn't been changed since 1939, were simplified and increased on first reading during today's meeting. The Parks and Recreation Board submitted recommendations for an increase which were simpler, but more expensive than those recommended by the city staff.

Councilman Ralph McLaughlin expressed concern that if prices were too high, patrons of the auditorium might be scared away, defeating the purpose of the increase. He made a motion that the council accept the lower, staff proposal, and the rest of the council concurred.

The council also passed on first reading an ordinance raising rental fees for the Dora Roberts Community Center. Rental for the ballroom there will be $100 for the first three hours and $25 for each additional hour.

Meeting room fees will be $25 for the first three hours and $5 for each additional hour. Rental for the entire building will be $250 per day.

Councilmen also approved increases on first reading for use of amphitheatre, Comanche Trail Golf Course and Figure Seven Tennis Courts.

Cost of renting the amphitheatre would be $50 for the first three hours, and $15 for each additional hour. The following fees would be charged for use of tennis courts: 50 cents, hourly student fee; 75 cents, hourly adult fee; $3, monthly student membership; $6, monthly adult membership; $7.50, monthly family membership; $30, annual student membership; $60, annual adult membership; $75, annual family membership.

"On the increase in golf course fees, we have sort of a chicken and egg situation. Some golfers want us to improve the greens before we raise rates. But we may have to raise rates before we can afford to improve the greens," said City Manager Don Davis.

The council voted four-to-one, with Larry Miller voting nay, to increase the fees on first reading.

The following fees would be charged for use of the golf course: $3, daily green fees; $4, weekend, holiday fees; $20, single member monthly fees; $125, single member annual fees; $30 family monthly fees; $125 family annual fees, with 50 cents for each additional player. Monthly cart shed rental would be $15.

Members also passed on first reading an ordinance approving the removal of several traffic signals with the provision that they be replaced with stop signs.

Signals will be removed, if approved on second reading, at: Fourth and Bell; Fourth and Runnels; Third and Runnels; Fourth and Johnson; Third and Johnson; Third and Nolan; Fourth and Nolan; Fourth and Benton; Third and Benton; Third and State; Sixth and State; Sixth and Main; Fifth and Scurry.

The council voted on an emergency basis to implement a zone change at the corner of Fifth and Union, for the construction of an office and warehouse for Basin Testers. The change, from single family to heavy commercial, was requested by Bill Chrane.

The city accepted the low bid from Arrow Refrigeration Company of Big Spring for the renovation of the former Webb AFB Officers' Mess building at the Big Spring Industrial Park. The building will be used as a Howard County Senior Citizens Center.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $22,226.90. The city will receive a $16,250 from the Agency on Aging, and the rest will be provided by the Howard County Nutrition Program and the Howard County Council on Aging, with no additional cost to the city.

The council also approved the final reading of resolution to enter into contract with Howard College to provide raw water from the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The water will be sold to the college at 55 cents per 1,000 gallons, with the provision that the price to the college will be raised if cost to the city rises.

In other business, council members:

—Approved a request from Mrs. Willie Huey for a permit to place a mobile home at 917 Ohio.

—Agreed to present a new ordinance allowing the keeping of bees inside the city limits at the next regular meeting of the council.

—Approved the second and final reading of an ordinance that amends the city's electrical code.

—Passed an emergency resolution naming the city manager as chief executive in an Affirmative Action Plan in the city.

—Approved an additional payment of $4,800 to the Juvenile Office.

—Approved meetings of the council and Parks and Recreation Board.

Supper staged by staffettes at VAMC

An international supper, with each member bringing a dish representing the country of her ethnic origin, highlighted the October meeting of the VA Medical Center Staffettes held at the center last week.

In all, 13 countries were represented. Hostesses were Paula Evers, Charlotte Shelton and Sue Dahl.

The special activity planned for October was a trip to Moody Planetarium in Lubbock.

The next meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 6. A dessert and sweet exchange is planned, with a program on how to trim a cake. Janie Harmon will offer the program.

Psychic encounter retreat

Calamity Creek Boondoggie

The Texas Chapter of the League of Families of Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in Southeast Asia is a group dedicated to learning the fate of over 2,000 American servicemen and civilians who vanished in Vietnam.

People are going to be getting together for a weekend in November to benefit the POW-MIA group. That's the official reason but the principal idea of the festival is "for a few — or maybe many — people to get together for a final fun and perhaps mildly constructive weekend."

Called the "Calamity Creek Boondoggie and Cathedral Mountain Psychic Encounter Retreat," the get-together is intended to be a "grassroots people happening" in a casual atmosphere 16 miles south of Alpine on the Woodward Ranch, Terlingua Highway (Texas 118).

Events during the Nov. 9-11 festival will include an introductory workshop on psychic phenomena and a musical pot-pourri of bands and free style entertainers offering rock, folk, country and even spirituals if anyone is inclined. The weekend will also include carnival rides and booths, an informal arts and crafts fair, and a beans and cornbread cook-off.

The festival will happen on campgrounds on Calamity Creek, 1 1/2 miles into the ranch at the base of Cathedral Mountain. There are 24 trailer hookups which may be reserved by calling (915) 364-2271, but camping for the most part will be Terlingua style, which means "dry" and impromptu.

The ranch is a mile above seal level and the weather may be wintry so participants should dress and prepare accordingly — bring fuel and cooking instruments. Maintaining the natural environment is emphasized so participants should also bring something to pack their litter in.

Admission is $12 at the gate for three days or $5 per day with separate charges for food and rides. A 33 percent discount is available by mailing $10 to Box 464, Midland 79701, before Nov. 1.

There will be no entry fee to enter the cook-off, but all entrants are expected to prepare an extra gallon of beans to be sold by or for the POW-MIA. The POW-MIA will also be selling red beans and cornbread.

Participation is solicited and encouraged among artists, craftspeople and musicians for the success of the festival. Early commitments are requested, but not mandatory. Questions should be directed to "Krash," 1501 W. Industrial in Midland, or call (915) 683-0035.

A "Battle of the Bands" will highlight Nov. 10 events. There will be $500 in cash prizes given away during the weekend.

HC instructor's story published in journal

A study written by Mrs. Lettie Lee, director of the ADN program at Howard College, and titled "An Investigation of the Effects of Clinical Experience on Cognitive Gains," has recently been published in the Journal of Nursing Education, according to Dr. Bobby Wright, Vice president of Instruction at Howard College.

"I think it's great that one of our faculty members would take the time and put forth the effort to contribute to her profession," said Wright. "I hope this will encourage other members of our faculty to write and publish in their profession's journals."

The article is an investigation of whether exercises in clinics help students on their tests.

For the study, Mrs. Lee used 50 students from St. Anthony's School in Oklahoma City, where she was working, before she came to HC. The students were divided into two groups; one group had a test immediately after having theory, and the other group had theory and clinical exercises, then the test. According to Mrs. Lee, the study found that the exercises did not help in the tests. "We felt the things the students were asked to do in the exercises were more complex than what they were studying," said Mrs. Lee.

Mrs. Lee said many of the results of the study were used as a basis to start the nursing program at HC.

Planned Parenthood adds two new services

Two new services have been added to Permian Basin Planned Parenthood Inc.

An instructor has been certified and will begin offering monthly courses on "Fertility Awareness-Natural Family Planning."

Fertility awareness methods teach ways to observe, chart and interpret natural bodily signs of fertility and infertility. The course consists of three sessions and individual follow-up consultations for a one year period.

As with all Permian Basin Planned Parenthood Family planning services, confidentiality is assured regardless of marital status or age.

There is no charge for the first class which is designed to give an overview of fertility awareness methods and Permian Basin Planned Parenthood's program. All other classes are based on ability to pay.

Fertility awareness can be a fun, healthy, cooperative way to plan for pregnancy or to avoid it, according to Planned Parenthood. Couples are urged to attend.

The classes will be held in Odessa. If there is enough interest in Big Spring, classes may also be offered here. Anyone interested may contact the local Planned Parenthood office, 263-8351, or may call the Odessa office on its toll free number, 1-800-592-4560.

A second new service is a telephone information service which is now available in the 17-county area covered by Permian Basin Planned Parenthood. The information line has been installed to provide the public with a resource for answering questions in areas such as human sexuality, birth control, venereal disease, infertility and pregnancy. Referrals will be made to other community agencies when necessary.

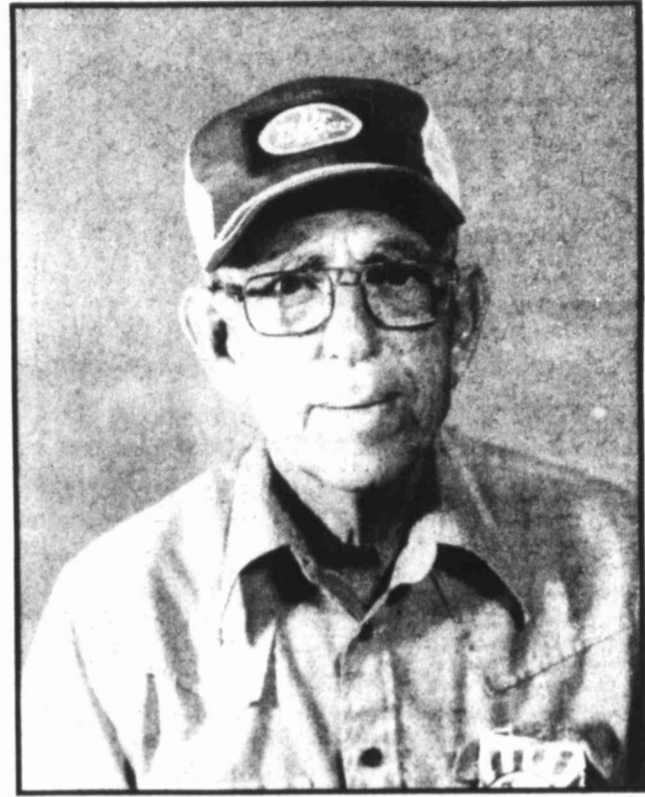

The information service is available Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The toll free number is 1-800-592-4560. All calls are confidential.

Mayor turned traffic cop?

CHICAGO (AP) — When Mayor Jane Byrne complained of traffic congestion in Chicago recently, a police officer anonymously suggested she get out of her car and direct traffic herself.

Traffic became snarled Sunday during the America's Marathon Chicago, and Mrs. Byrne called the city's 911 number to complain, but after 15 rings the phone remained unanswered.

After she complained again, Citizen Band radio listeners, among them the mayor, heard a police officer challenge, "Let the mayor come out and direct traffic."

Mrs. Byrne, who was in her car at the time, grabbed her microphone and demanded to know who made the remark.

"I did," came the reply.
The officer is still unidentified.

Demonstrations spark again

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Former Yippie leader Jerry Rubin is sparking campus demonstrations again, leveling criticism at topics ranging from government and big business to wet T-shirts.

Rubin, one of the Chicago 7 anti-war protesters, spoke at the University of Wyoming last week and his words led to a protest denouncing a fraternity's wet T-shirt contest as sexist and degrading to women.

Rubin also criticized the government, big business and socialism and predicted the 1980s will bring a return to activism.

"I think people are tired of the separation of the 'Me Decade,'" he said of the '70s. "The '80s will be a people's movement."

Rubin called for breaking up major oil companies and creating a national energy corporation so energy decisions would be public.

Author protest s casting

NEW YORK (AP) — Fania Fenelon, who wrote a book about her experiences in a Nazi concentration camp, has met with CBS officials to protest the casting of Vanessa Redgrave in the part of the author.

Miss Fenelon held a news conference Monday to denounce what she termed the insensitivity of the network in casting Miss Redgrave. The actress is a supporter of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Miss Fenelon's book, "Playing for Time," describes how she survived the camp by playing in an all-woman orchestra.

CBS issued a statement that said while it had no intention of offending anyone or desecrating the memory of Nazi victims, it would not remove Miss Redgrave.

Presley's ex in television

NEW YORK (AP) — Priscilla Presley is launching her new career, following in the footsteps of three stars of the "Charlie's Angels" television series.

She's going into television, but not in one of the coveted "Angels" spots.

The ex-wife of Elvis Presley has begun filming commercials as a spokeswoman for Wella Balsam shampoo, a job previously held by Farrah Fawcett, Jaclyn Smith and Cheryl Ladd.

"I don't want a movie career," she said. "It's just too time consuming. In fact, this is pretty hectic."

Cost of biz letters soar

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — According to the Dartnell Institute of Business Administration, the cost of an average business letter has risen from $3.05 in 1970 to $5.59 in 1979.

While there is concern with the cost of postage, Clifford Bennett, manager of Pitney Bowes' Postal Education Center, notes that the far greater expense is in the mail's handling — gathering, sorting, sealing, weighing and stamping. "In many companies," said Bennett, "there is little attention given to mailing operations."

He suggests mail-room management should be a part of corporate planning. "Mail-handling should be taken out of the basement and put into the boardroom. A well-organized mail room can save as much as one-third the cost of mailing a business letter," he says.

Twinkle, twinkle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stars pass through a well-defined life cycle, according to National Geographic.

It says, "They are born from clouds of dust and gas, live long and relatively uneventful lives pouring out energy, and then die spectacularly. The explosion of a large star, called a supernova, creates one of the most dazzling displays of fireworks in the universe. About 100 million times more brilliant than the sun, the explosion sends matter in all directions.

"From this material, new stars and planets, even life, are born. Nearly all the atoms in the human body and in the earth once originated in a star that exploded and disintegrated."

Squares travel

Pat Barbour of Houston was the caller for the Big Spring Special Dance Sept. 28 at the Square Corral. Visitors from Midland, Snyder, Colorado City and Lubbock helped form the approximately 15 squares dancing. Dave and Nita Smith, Lubbock, also called several rounds.

Many of the Big Spring Squares went to Snyder Sept. 29 to dance at a special dance called by Gary Shoemaker which was sponsored by the senior citizens group. Burt Whitaker, Big Spring, is the caller for that club.

The regular October 6 dance of the Big Spring Squares was cancelled because many of the members attended the Annual Square and Round Dance Festival in San Angelo. Several couples attended the Friday and Saturday night sessions and the Saturday afternoon workshops. Callers were Wayne Baldwin and Wade Driver. Several of the couples wore their new costumes.

Lesson sign up is over and the new group is now moving forward.

Dear Abby

Early Birds Are Ruffled

DEAR ABBY: Some people sure have evil minds. (Including you!) Why should anyone suspect Beverly of hanky panky because she leaves her home at 6 a.m. for a 15-minute drive to a job that doesn't begin until 8 a.m.?

I'm not due at my job until 8 a.m., but I always get there at 7 a.m. That's the only time of day I don't have to put up with ringing telephones and kids yelling and fighting. The office is quiet, and I use the time to organize my day's work. Also, I take the bus, and it's never crowded at 6:30 a.m., the traffic isn't as heavy, and I never have to stand up. I can't see dashing through the office door just before the clock strikes 8 the way most of my co-workers do. Some are so nervous they arrive at 8 a.m., prepare coffee and sit around drinking it until 8:30!

NO SLACKER IN TWIN FALLS

DEAR NO SLACKER: Let's hear it from Dottie:

DEAR ABBY: I must come to the defense of Beverly, the perfectly groomed, beautiful woman who leaves her house at 6 a.m. for a 15-minute drive to an office where she isn't due until 8 a.m.

A reader asked what she did with all that extra time. He even hinted that perhaps she arrived at work disheveled and with a few spangles missing.

Well, I leave my house at 5:50 a.m., and arrive at 6:10 a.m., for an 8 to 4 job because I like it that way!

I make no stops and arrive as neat as when I left home. No one else is at work, either, in case you might think I'm meeting someone there.

I set things up for my day's work, and if I have something special that requires my full concentration, I prefer to do it then. I also read my newspaper in peace and quiet.

I'm sure there are many others who arrive at their jobs early for legitimate reasons.

DOTTIE

DEAR DOTTIE: You're right, of course, and I need not look far to find one. My devoted secretary, Katie Beal, who has been with me for 23 years, isn't due at her desk until 8 a.m., but bless her, she's frequently there at 7. (She calls her self "Abby's Irish Rose")

Death threatens a way of life

The 'turncoat' sheriff

WEIRTON, W.Va. (AP) — Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Donell shares a grim joke with his friend, Bob Leach. When Donell turns the ignition key in his cruiser, Leach steps back, plugs his ears and grimaces.

The macabre ritual was born of the fear that has gripped Donell and his family since last January, when he blew the whistle on county Prosecutor Robert Altomare and a score of gamblers who paid Altomare to escape prosecution.

The indictments made Donell an unpopular figure in Weirton, his hometown of about 25,000 people. Many considered him a turncoat who'd sold out his friends.

Since the indictments and through the months of trials, rumors circulated that Donell would be killed, that his house would be firebombed. Rumors twice prompted police to send the family away and stake out the home.

The sheriff said he has heard a tape recording in which a local hoodlum tells friends the way to get Donell is with a high-powered rifle.

Guns are now part of the Donells' daily life. Alice Donell, the sheriff's wife, was taught how to shoot by a policewoman who sometimes stayed with the family. Nearly every room in the ranch-style house has a loaded weapon within easy reach.

"You're not going to catch me going out of the house without a pistol," Donell, 34, said as he carefully tucked a shiny silver revolver into his trousers.

Donell's daughters, Alison, 8, and Aimee, 6, have been escorted to school each day by state troopers. Metal plates were installed in the windows of the girls' bedrooms.

Donell consented to be interviewed only after the last of the trials was completed, that of Weirton attorney Emmanuel Loucas. Donell was the government's key witness in the trial.

Last Thursday night, Loucas was found guilty in U.S. District Court in Wheeling on one count of traveling in interstate commerce to promote and manage unlawful activities.

Altomare was earlier sentenced to 10 years in prison on federal convictions of racketeering, conspiracy, obstruction of justice and obstructing the enforcement of state law. He is appealing.

Of 25 persons indicted, 20 were convicted or pleaded guilty, four were acquitted and two had trials delayed because of illness.

By appearance, Donell would have to be considered an unlikely hero. He is baby-faced and soft-spoken. At the trials, his glasses kept slipping down his nose; he repeatedly shoved them back up with a finger.

Donell grew up in Weirton. He was president of his high school student body and graduated from Alderson-Broadus College with a psychology degree. After a hitch in the Army, he returned home to work in a steel mill and as a probation officer.

He was elected sheriff on the Republican ticket in 1976. During his campaign, Donell said, he was approached by a known gambler who said a good sheriff could make $100,000 a year — tax-free — by taking payoffs.

The gambler gave him a signed card for free meals at a Pittsburgh restaurant and sent him two cases of whiskey and five cases of beer, Donell testified.

Donell said he was not surprised that people thought he could be bought.

"I was no different than any other sheriff that walked in there — I had a price tag," he said. "They figured I was young, I was naive, we don't really have to offer him that much."

The indictments and convictions were obtained on the strength of tape recordings of telephone calls and personal conversations involving Altomare and the others.

All taping was done with the help of state police and the FBI, who often monitored the conversations from nearby vans.

During one conversation between the sheriff and the prosecutor, during which they were emptying a confiscated slot machine, Altomare pulled the last tissue from a tissue box and almost discovered the tape recorder concealed inside.

When the grand jury indictments came down in January, many in the community rallied to Altomare's defense and turned against Donell.

"There's a lot of family ties involved in something like this," Donell said. "It's not as if I was a stranger. It became very personal with a lot of people."

UNEXPECTED DIP — Balloon pilot Derald Young, of Newport, R.I., and two passengers take advantage of Monday's balmy weather to float over Brewer and Bangor, Maine, in a hot-air balloon. They even took an unscheduled dip in the Penobscot River when the craft lost altitude faster than expected. The 70-foot-tall balloon eventually landed in a field near the Bangor Mall.

Texas Democratic defectors to be purged

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas Democratic leaders vote Sunday and Monday on a plan to cleanse the state party of political defectors who hold office in the Democratic party but support Republicans.

"This is not an attempt to purge the party of conservatives. It is not a witch-hunt," said Carrin Patman, Rules Committee chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. "But we want to make sure we have the proper procedures to handle the situation."

Mrs. Patman and a subcommittee on "party integrity" met Saturday at the Dallas-Fort Worth airport. Out of the meeting came a general agreement to do something about Democratic defectors.

"We have had a rule since 1971 that says that any person who accepts a party office at any level must agree to support all the party's nominees or be removed from office," Mrs. Patman said Monday.

However, after the 1978 gubernatorial elections when some Democrats supported Gov. Bill Clements, Republican, "it came to our attention that we did not have an exact mechanism."

"I don't think we will go to a form of pledge but we do intend to take steps against anyone who works for defeat of the Democratic party," she said.

Two general agreements were reached, Saturday, Mrs. Patman said.

First, a party official could be charged with "non-support" if he gave money to the Republican party, served on the steering committee of any Republican candidate, or willingly and knowingly allowed his name to be used in any news release or advertisement for a Republican candidate.

Second, a procedure for appeal was needed. "This is still being drafted, but it probably will call for a precinct or county chairman to investigate any charges of non-support and report to the county committee for action," she said. "Afterwards, the person involved, if he wanted to, could appeal it to the county committee or even to the state committee."

Mrs. Patman said the subcommittee on party integrity will meet Sunday noon in Houston to go over the draft of its report, and then make recommendations to the Rules Committee at 2 p.m.

Failure of safety devices cause Midway accident

DALLAS (AP) — Two safety devices failed to function when a pair of gondolas on the Swiss Skyride dropped, killing one man and injuring 16, the manager of the ride at the State Fair of Texas says.

Also, a third safety device used on similar cable car rides was never installed at the State Fair ride.

Ride manager Bill Hawkins said a wind monitor designed to stop the tram if winds get dangerously high was "not functioning right, I guess."

The other device that apparently failed was an emergency switch which was supposed to stop the ride if the cable holding the cars dislodged. It "didn't work and we don't know why," Hawkins said.

The third device, which was never installed, is a safety shield that can prevent an accidental release of the grippers holding the gondolas to the cable. It was installed on many such rides after a fatal accident in St. Louis last year.

Workers today continued removing the remaining gondolas from the ride in search of further clues.

"The gondolas will be stored and examined thoroughly in the next phase of the operation, but no conclusive findings are expected for several days," fair spokesman Bob Halford said.

Fair officials said one of the ride's foremen had ridden the skylift minutes before two gondolas crashed to the crowded midway Sunday.

One of the gondolas jammed when crossing a support post and then stalled, causing the next three gondolas to strike the first. The two in the middle fell off the cable and onto two carnival booths. The officials concluded, however, that the 23 mph wind was not dangerous enough to close the ride.

Witnesses said the wind, which gusted to 35 mph, caused the first gondola to hit a support pole. Others said gondolas were colliding as they passed each other.

"If there had been any reports of those buckets hitting each other or the posts, they would have shut the ride down," said Bill Hawkins, who has been in charge of the ride for seven years.

Officials at nearby Six Flags Over Texas closed a similar ride, manufactured by the same company, Sunday because of the high winds.

Fred Millard, 41, of Dallas, was killed Sunday afternoon when one of the cable cars plummeted 65 feet and crashed into a booth where he, his wife and three daughters were playing Skeeball.

Only three of the injured remained in the hospital, none in serious condition.

Meanwhile, an $850,000 damage suit was filed against the State Fair of Texas by Dallas attorney Windele Turley on behalf of Dennis and Cindi Holder.

The suit claims Mrs. Holder, 20, is paralyzed from the chest down from injuries sustained in the accident. She was in fair condition at Parkland Hospital.

Holder was treated and released.

The suit, filed in State District Judge Snowden Lettich's court, also puts a restraining order on the fair's investigation of the accident until independent investigators are allowed to join the probe.

French trek

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Starship Enterprise traveled the galaxy as usual this weekend, but to some Tallahassee viewers, it appeared the destination might be the Twilight Zone.

Capt. Kirk met Mr. Spock with "Bonjour," and Scotty's accent was decidedly not Scottish.

Joe Hosford of station WCTV said the distributor mistakenly sent the French version of the hour-long science fiction show, and the station's film editor edited only the picture without checking the sound before it was televised.

A dog's life

WYTHEVILLE, Va. (AP) — Going to the dogs will never be the same if proposed state Health Department rules take effect.

The regulations will require animal shelters to have electric-lighted rooms with skylights, thermostatically operated fans and fully equipped kitchens.

Wythe County Administrator Billy R. Branson complained Monday that the proposals are the "dream of some state bureaucrat who has nothing else to do except try to overregulate local governments."

Branson said the requirements for windows and skylights to admit a specific level of light exceed those for homes, hospitals and schools.

The proposed rules also would require that kitchens "be equipped with a minimum of a two-compartment sink and drainboards, stove, refrigerator, countertop space and storage bins. The equipment used shall be of a type that is easily cleanable...Bins used to store food shall be rodent proof."

Branson said the county feeds animals in its pound a dry food mixture that is "a well-balanced diet and requires no cooking."

Burned Friday at Japanese base Survival of 19 Marines doubtful

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The Army's famed burn specialists are battling to save 37 young U.S. Marines severely burned Friday in a freak fire at their Japanese base, but officials concede that 19 of the victims generally have a less than a 50-50 chance of survival.

"We anticipate more deaths," Col. Basil A. Pruitt Jr., commander of the crack Brooke Army Medical Center burn treatment unit, said Monday.

More than 70 sleeping Marines at the Mount Fuji base were burned before dawn last Friday when Typhoon Tip caused a 5,000-gallon rubber fuel container to rupture. The fuel ignited and swept through an enlisted man's barracks.

Two of those victims died in Japan and 19-year-old Pvt. Thomas J. Breunig of St. Paul, Minn., died Sunday night en route to Brooke. Two others were left in Japan because they were too critical to move.

Nineteen of the 37 victims airlifted Sunday to Brooke had suffered burns over a majority of their bodies and were listed Monday night in critical condition. Some were being monitored by as many as three specially-trained nurses.

Pruitt said four of the victims were burned over more than 81 percent of their bodies and seven others had burns covering more than 60 percent of their bodies.

"As a group, there's a little less than a 50-50 chance of survival with burns this critical," Pruitt said of the 19 in critical condition.

The odds vary slightly with each of the victims, he added.

But Pruitt said the Marines have a better chance of survival than most burn victims because they were all from 17 to 22 years old and were in excellent physical condition.

"This is a young, healthy group. They are in the age group where the chances of survival are most favorable," he said, adding that the next three weeks are the most critical for survival. Eleven of the Marines were listed in satisfactory condition, some of whom were able Sunday night to walk into the hospital under their own power. Seven were in serious condition.

The airlift brought back memories of the Vietnam War, when Brooke's famed burn specialists handled hundreds of casualties. The 37 Marines were the most patients to be admitted at one time since Vietnam.

An 18-person burn team was dispatched from Brooke to Japan on Friday afternoon to stabilize the victims and treat them during the grueling 14-hour flight to San Antonio.

Families of the victims began gathering Sunday. Pruitt said some of the victims "will be here for weeks" for therapy.

Military authorities have identified the two Marines who died in Japan as Lance Cpl. L. C. Malveaux of Beaumont, Texas and Pfc. Tyrone C. Elem of Alexandria, Va.

Two Texans, Lance Cpl. Mark Bedwell of Burkburnett and Pvt. Mike Cummings of Emory were among those being treated at Brooke. Bedwell, 21, was listed in critical condition and Cummings, 17, was in serious condition.

Alabama retains top spot in AP grid poll

By The Associated Press
Defending national champion Alabama held onto first place today in The Associated Press college football ratings while Nebraska moved into second place and Texas, last week's runner-up, skidded all the way to ninth.

Alabama, a come-from-behind 27-17 winner over nationally ranked Tennessee, received 52 first-place votes and 1,341 of a possible 1,360 points from a nationwide panel of 68 sports writers and broadcasters.

Nebraska, which trounced Oklahoma State 36-0, moved up from third place to second with six first-place ballots and 1,266 points. Southern California, which was No. 1 until a 21-21 tie with Stanford a week ago, whipped Notre Dame 42-23 and climbed from fourth to third with nine first-place votes and 1,198 points.

The other first-place ballot went to Ohio State, which clobbered Wisconsin 59-0 and vaulted from sixth place into a tie for fourth with Arkansas with 1,089 points. The Razorbacks, 10th last week, upset Texas 17-14.

Despite a 37-10 triumph over Southern Methodist, Houston slipped from fifth to sixth with 1,070 points. The Cougars meet Arkansas this weekend.

Oklahoma rose from eighth to seventh with 883 points for a 38-6 rout of Kansas State while Florida State, which was idle, slipped from seventh to eighth with 871.

Ninth-place Texas received 864 points while Michigan, a 27-7 victor over Illinois, went from 11th to 10th with 757. Notre Dame, which had been ninth, dropped to 14th.

PAIR OF ACES — Franco Harris, left, and Terry Bradshaw of the Steelers chat on the sidelines as their replacements wrap up Monday night's game against the Broncos in Pittsburgh. Bradshaw had two touchdowns in the game and Harris rambled for 121 yards and two touchdowns. Pittsburgh beat Denver 42-7. Notice the Red Man chewing tobacco under Bradshaw's belt.

Steelers show old form in 42-7 rout of Denver

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Denver Broncos' timing was off. They met the wrong team at the wrong time.

"The real Pittsburgh Steelers showed up tonight," quarterback Terry Bradshaw said after a revitalized Pittsburgh crushed Denver 42-7 Monday night in a National Football League game.

"They kicked our fannies. We got humiliated," said Denver quarterback Craig Morton.

The week before, the Steelers fumbled nine times in a 34-10 loss in Cincinnati. It was the worst Pittsburgh defeat in nine seasons, dating back to a 29-3 loss to Houston in 1971.

But Bradshaw passed for 267 yards and two touchdowns in the nationally televised game and Franco Harris rushed for 121 yards and two touchdowns as the Steelers dealt the Broncos their worst loss since 1968, when they were thumped 43-7 by Oakland.

"That's the Steeler team I know," said Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll. "We were better in all departments. We got after it much better than we did last week. I think to a man we had everyone functioning the way we have to for us to win in this league."

The Steelers had been limited in practice in previous weeks by injuries. But last week, Noll had a virtual return to training camp, complete with conditioning runs and no-fumble drills.

It paid off as the Steelers climbed to 6-2 and into sole possession of first place in the AFC Central Division.

The Broncos, meanwhile, slipped to 5-3 and into second place behind San Diego in the AFC West. And Denver Coach "Red" Miller was downright displeased.

"We were outplayed, outcoached and very embarrassed in front of a lot of people," Miller said. "Not just here, across the country."

"This was the worst, most humiliating defeat in the 30 years I've been associated with football. And I don't like it. I don't know how anybody could stomach that and live with themselves."

By halftime, the Steelers held a 28-7 lead.

In the first quarter, a 56-yard run by Harris set up an 11-yard touchdown pass from Bradshaw to Lynn Swann, back in the lineup after missing two games with a hamstring pull.

In the second-quarter, Bradshaw's passing set up a pair of short touchdown runs by Harris and another by Sidney Thornton.

"Ever since the league went to a 16-game schedule, every team has a lot of ups and downs," said Denver linebacker Bob Swenson. "Last week, Pittsburgh was down. This time we were."

Bradshaw, who hit 18 of 24 passes, added a 17-yard scoring pass in the final quarter to Thornton. And Steeler rookie Anthony Anderson bolted 10 yards for his first pro touchdown with 26 seconds left in the game.

Denver managed its only touchdown in the first quarter on a 64-yard pass play from Morton to Haven Moses. Despite the lopsided score, Morton hit 16 of 31 passes for 261 yards, just six less than Bradshaw.

"We moved the ball well, but we didn't get many points," Morton said. "That's very discouraging. There's not much you can say except they really beat us. They scored a lot. We didn't."

Akers takes blame for UT loss

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas' failure to land an early knockout punch against Arkansas cost Texas the game Saturday, says Coach Fred Akers.

Akers, however, took the blame himself Monday for the 17-14 loss.

No. 10 Arkansas upset second-ranked Texas at Little Rock, Ark., when a 51-yard field goal kick into a strong wind failed on Texas' last play.

"I don't think we completely let go of the Oklahoma game soon enough," Akers said. "Somewhere down the line I failed to get the team fully ready for that (Arkansas) game."

Texas had defeated Oklahoma 16-7 the previous week.

Referring to scoring opportunities in the first quarter against Arkansas, Akers said, "We had our chances to get things settled right then. If we had, I don't think there would have been a problem."

However, Akers told his weekly news conference, "It's time to tighten our belts and not sit around sucking our thumbs. We have a tough conference race — we're not out of this thing. I hope our team can learn from that (loss) and overcome whatever we have to win this thing, because I think we still have a chance."

Asked about his controversial decision to try for a field goal, rather than a first down, on fourth-and-10 at the Arkansas 34, Akers said:

"They only had 30 yards to defense and could put a lot of people in a lot of places. They had more defenders than we had receivers. The field really gets small when you down there trying to find openings. We could have tried one of those Hail Mary passes but that's really rolling the dice. We felt our chances at a field goal were much better."

He said John Goodson had been kicking field goals of up to 57 yards into the wind in practice before the game, but he "hit the ball so poorly — it just never had a chance."

Asked about an unsuccessful 41-yard Goodson field goal attempt in the first quarter, Akers said a team manager stationed behind the end zone to retrieve the ball said the ball "went right over the bar (upright) — it was very close."

"What's the rule?" Akers was asked.

"It depends on which field you're playing on," he replied.

On fourth-and-19 quarterback Donnie Little had hit Johnny "Lam" Jones with a 23-yard pass for a first down on Texas' final futile drive, and Akers was asked if he thought at that point Texas would win.

"Yes, I thought we had a chance to win, I really did."

Williams wins National League Manager of the Year honor by AP

NEW YORK (AP) — Seasoned Dick Williams, who led the expansionist Montreal Expos to their best baseball year ever, Tuesday was named The Associated Press' National League Manager of the Year for 1979.

It is the second such award for Williams, who was selected as the American League Manager of the Year after winning a division title with the Oakland A's in 1971.

Williams won the NL award in a relatively close battle with Houston's Bill Virdon, who had the Astros in the thick of the Western Division race until the last few days of the season.

A nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters gave Williams 113 votes to 95 for Virdon.

Under Williams, the Expos came the closest they ever did to winning the NL Eastern Division championship. They finished with a 95-65 record, two games behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who went on to win the World Series.

Until this season, the Expos had never finished over .500 in their previous 10 years in the league.

This is Williams' third year in Montreal. His previous experience as a manager was all in the American League, where he managed the Boston Red Sox, Oakland and the California Angels over a span of nine seasons.

Williams managed Oakland to World Series victories in 1972 and 1973, becoming the first non-New York Yankee field boss to win consecutive world championships since Connie Mack. He also guided the Red Sox to the AL pennant in 1967 in his first year as a major league manager. He has 941 major league victories thus far.

Williams managed Toronto in the International League before surfacing in the majors.

Affirmed retires to stud

NEW YORK (AP) — Affirmed, thoroughbred racing's 1978 Triple Crown winner, has been retired to stud, ending all speculation even Bud Delp's — that there would be a match race with Spectacular Bid.

Trainer Laz Barrera announced the decision Monday at Aqueduct. It was a decision that he made for Harbor View Farm's Louis Wolfson, and it came one race earlier than expected. The 4-year-old son of Exclusive Native was expected to start in Saturday's $250,000 Turf Classic at Aqueduct.

"I'm very proud of Mr. Wolfson for letting me make the decision," Barrera said after a conversation with the owner.

The timing of the announcement apparently was influenced by Affirmed's distaste for running on grass. He worked a mile Sunday under jockey Laffit Pincay. The time was slow, and Pincay said the colt was cautious and uncomfortable with the surface.

"He didn't like the grass," Barrera said. "It would not be fair for the horse or the public for him to compete...if he doesn't like the grass, how could I run him and the horse be 1-5."

Cowboys activate Dutton

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys have placed second-year running back Alois Blackwell on no-recall waivers to make room for defensive end John Dutton.

Blackwell, a second-year back from the University of Houston, had not carried the ball this year.

In his rookie season, the 5-foot-10, 195-pound Blackwell carried the ball 9 times for 37 yards.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said, "He is a pretty good back. Somebody will get him."

The Cowboys gave the Colts No. 1 and No. 2 draft choices in 1980 for All-Pro Dutton, who had a contract dispute with Baltimore management and did not report to the team.

The activation of Dutton means he will be ready to play against Pittsburgh Sunday but the Cowboys have indicated he will not start.

Dent heads NY free agents

NEW YORK (AP) — Bucky Dent, the Most Valuable Player in the 1978 World Series, is among four New York Yankees who have become free agents.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, confirmed Monday night that the Yankee shortstop, along with outfielder Roy White, pitcher Don Hood and infielder-outfielder Lenny Randle, all have joined the free agent list.

Three players from the New York Mets also have declared their intentions to go into the free agent draft, according to Miller: first baseman-outfielder Ed Kranepool and pitchers Skip Lockwood and Andy Hassler.

Md., Delp said: "I'm disappointed, naturally. My first concern is that Affirmed was healthy, and they assured me that he was."

Williams buys Baltimore O's

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward Bennett Williams has won quick approval to buy the Baltimore Orioles for $12 million.

"It was a very short meeting," American League President Lee MacPhail said Monday after the 14 league owners formally approved the sale of the team from Jerold Hoffberger to Williams.

"A lot of people in our league know Ed personally and others know him by reputation. We welcome him as someone who will be of real assistance to the American League and to baseball. He should make a fine owner for Baltimore."

Williams, who also owns part of the National Football League's Washington Redskins and serves as president of that franchise, will take control of the baseball team on Nov. 1.

Soviets ask kids to leave to make room for Olympics

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet authorities, faced with an expected influx of 220,000 tourists for the 1980 Moscow Olympics, are attempting to reduce the city's population by urging children — and many adults — to make plans to leave the city.

Officials of the Ministry of Education and the Olympic Organizing Committee distributed appeals at Moscow elementary schools urging parents to send their children to visit relatives outside the city, or to the network of "pioneer camps," during July and August. The camps, subsided by trade unions, hosted over 600,000 Moscow children last year.

"Of course, there can be no compulsion in this matter," conceded an educational ministry official Monday. "This is not an order, just a suggestion to parents."

There are about a million children of elementary school age in Moscow, a city of eight million residents.

Final examinations at several Moscow institutes have been moved up to May in order to permit students to leave the city by summer. Trade unions and other tourist organizations are organizing a large number of trips outside the city for adults, according to ministry officials.

Officials said the main reasons for getting a large number of children out of the city was a fear that they would get in the way of the massive Olympic operation, or that the influx of tourists might affect their health.

The American Funeral . . .

A Tradition Of Honor

Funeral service could be simpler. As a matter of fact, in many countries, it's a brief and meaningless disposal provided by the state.

In America, we believe that the lives of individuals are important . . . and that the end of life calls for an act of honor and respect. Providing a final tribute that reflects this honor and respect is what Valley-Pickle service is all about.

Oil earnings near record high levels

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil companies are drawing new fire this week as some third-quarter profits reports show near-record earning levels.

President Carter made another pitch Monday for his tax on oil company windfall profits, saying that while oil concerns already generate large sums of money, "they want more. But it's not fair to the American people for them to have more."

Carter was particularly piqued at Exxon Corp., the world's largest oil company, which said Monday its profits had risen 118 percent in the July-September quarter. The increase was the biggest in Exxon's history and among the most ever earned in a quarter by a U.S. company.

White House press secretary Jody Powell called the Exxon profits "rather enormous."

Also announcing a big rise in third-quarter earnings Monday was Atlantic Richfield Co., the nation's seventh-largest oil company, which said its profits rose 45 percent. Standard Oil Co. of Indiana announced a 49 percent profit gain last Friday, and other major oil companies are expected to weigh in with similarly large increases in earnings this week.

The profits probably will also seem high to Americans who began the third quarter in gas lines and ended it wondering whether they'd have enough heating oil for the winter and what it would cost.

But both Exxon and Arco said profits from domestic refining and marketing units were hampered by price regulations which limited the amount of cost increases that could be passed on to consumers. They said increased earnings from other areas of business were primarily responsible for the big profits.

Love Field services halted?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a measure which, if it passes the Senate as well, would halt interstate service from Dallas Love Field.

The amendment by House Majority Leader Jim Wright of Fort Worth, passed Monday, states that no interstate commercial flights are permitted at a satellite airport if authorities of a regional airport and satellite airport oppose them.

The Civil Aeronautics Board approved last month Southwest Airlines' bid to start service between Love Field and New Orleans.

The interstate flights would be the first at the older, in-city airport since Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport opened in 1974.

The CAB said it did not have the authority to turn down Southwest's request even though regional authorities opposed it.

Southwest had asked for the route under a provision of the Airline Deregulation Act which allowed each airline to select one new route a year, or "automatic market entry."

Wright's amendment, aimed squarely at the Love Field situation, would prohibit regularly scheduled commercial flights where the regional airport authorities oppose them, notwithstanding any "automatic market entry Provision."

Marshal Lynum, Wright's aide, said if it passes the amendment would allow officials to shut down any interstate service already started.

About 150 Cheerleaders attend Gray-Y games

Approximately 150 Gray-Y cheerleaders attend the Gray-Y football and soccer games, as well as the Pee Wee football games each week. The girls are in grades one through sixth. To be a Gray-Y cheerleader, they attended a four hour workshop conducted by the Big Spring High School cheerleaders. The workshop included learning the new NCAA yells, chants, jumps and stunts. They spent time discussing sportsmanship conduct and the role of cheerleaders.

The girls are divided in squads of six to seven members. Each squad has a sponsor. The sponsor is a mother of a child on the squad. She spends time coordinating meetings and practices. Most squads practice one to two times a week. Many meet at the Y.M.C.A. where they receive additional help from the Y staff.

For each football team, there are two cheerleading squads. One squad leads cheers and chants during half the game, while the other serves as a pep squad. Their roles are changed during half time.

The Gray-Y football teams that are the Cowboys, Redskins, Oilers, Bullfrogs and Vikings. The Pee-Wee teams are the Cosden Cowboys, Elks Lodge Vikings, Optimists Dolphins, Tomco Packers and Belt-Rite Raiders. The Gray-Y cheerleaders are in 3rd and 4th grade. Their games are on Tuesday nights at 5:30 at Goliad and Saturday mornings across from the Y. The Pee-Wee Gray-Y cheerleaders are in 5th and 6th grades. Their games are held on Saturday afternoons at Blakenish field.

The soccer Gray-Y cheerleaders are first and second graders. They cheer for the Bandits, Cougars, Mustangs and Eagles. Their games are at the Steer Band practice field on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 5:30 to 6:30.

Gray-Y Basketball season is approaching and many of the squads will be cheering for these games.

Two local members of TCU Chapel Choir performs Nov. 4

Two Big Spring residents, Joyce Hull and Larry Wheat, are among the 56 students in the Chapel Choir at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth who will perform their first concert Nov. 4. The 7:30 p.m. event will be in Robert Carr Chapel on the TCU campus.

Under direction of Ruth Whitlock of the music faculty, the choir's program will be highlighted by Handel's Chandos Anthem No. 6 "Sing to the Lord" and William Byrd's Mass for Four Voices. A small orchestra will accompany the Handel anthem, which will feature soloists Ira Schantz, tenor from the TCU faculty, and soprano Terry McKenzie, senior from Garland.

Also on the program will be the early American hymn "Worthy of the Lamb," "Ich Freue Mich Mich Herrn" by Homilius, Brahms' "Let Nothing Ever Grieve Thee" and two contemporary pieces — "A New Psalm" by Dallas composer Dede Dulas and Mathias "Make A Joyful Noise." The Dusan will be accompanied by handbells. Organist Michael Bedford of the music faculty will accompany two other pieces.

Miss Hull resides at 605 E. 13th St. Wheat lives at 901 Mountain Park Dr.

Expectations deflated, polls show

America: Land of the pessimist

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The average American today believes that the past was better than the present and that the future will be even worse, says pollster Daniel Yankelovich.

"We've gone almost overnight from a nation of optimists to a nation of pessimists," Yankelovich said at a recent conference in Philadelphia on "Coping with Economy Uncertainty."

Yankelovich, head of the firm of Yankelovich, Skelly & White, cited these signs of gloom:

—Almost half of all Americans — 48 percent — say they are having trouble paying for housing. Five years ago, only 23 percent complained of problems in buying and keeping up a home.

—Nearly three people in four — 72 percent — agree with the statement: "We are fast coming to a turning point in our history where the land of plenty is becoming the land of want." Sixty-two percent think the United States is entering an era of permanent shortages.

—There is widespread disillusionment with government. Seventy-seven percent of the public thinks government wastes money; 60 percent say it doesn't care about the people; 65 percent say it is run in a way that benefits special interest rather than the population as a whole.

—More than four people in five say that the individual who works hard and plays by the rules of society goes unrewarded.

Yankelovich told the conference: "The American personality is not changing, but changes in the environment are posing an almost unique problem of adaptation."

He said the changes have come not only in the economic situation where inflation is eroding incomes and hopes, but also in the areas of culture and politics. In the cultural area, for example, Yankelovich noted that the so-called typical family — a male breadwinner, non-working wife and two small children — is rapidly disappearing. Fewer than 20 percent of the families in the country fit that pattern today, he said.

Americans also are becoming less concerned with the material signs of success and more interested in self-fulfillment. Only 13 percent of the public thinks work is important than leisure, Yankelovich said. Fewer people show a "raw competitive edge," he added. Only 10 percent express the determination to get to the top, monetarily and professionally.

Yankelovich said the economic and cultural changes have led to political ones. There is less support for traditionally liberal ideas of helping the poor and minorities. The idea of "need-based entitlement" — if you NEED a job, an education, etc., you have a RIGHT to it — is growing unpopular. The public today thinks that help should be based not only on an individual's need, but also on whether he or she deserves aid.

Abortion Rights Action Week

Majority opinion into reality

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Legislation limiting the use of federal funds for abortions will lead to a return to "back alley abortions," according to leaders of the Texas branch of National Abortion Rights Action Week.

Peggy Romberg, director of the Texas Abortion Rights Action League, said the week was designated to "affirming a woman's right to reproductive freedom at a time when the right to safe, legal abortion is under attack."

"If we could state a theme for this week of varied activities sponsored by many pro-choice groups, it would be translating majority opinion into reality," Ms. Romberg told a Capitol news conference Monday marking the start of the week.

She was joined by officials from the National Organization of Women, Texas Women's Political Caucus and the American Civil Liberties Union.

Ms. Romberg said several polls show a majority of Americans support "a woman's right to have an abortion." She said lawmakers who placed the limit on federally funded abortions have ignored the polls.

"They treat it as ice cream that women are being denied because they were sexually active ... like it's a luxury item to be sought after like a fur coat or ice cream," said Ms. Romberg.

The federal legislation limits the use of federal money to cases where the pregnancy was caused by incest or rape and cases where the pregnancy could endanger the mother. Ms. Romberg complained the legislation has endangered the lives of poor women who cannot afford abortions by qualified persons.

She said the law changes the 1973 U.S. Supreme Court decision that abortion is legal.

"The Congress has, in effect, said the 1973 decision does not apply to the poor, and current restrictions mean that only 1 percent of the women who previously received aid can get it now," she stated.

Ms. Romberg said at least one Texas woman — a Rio Grande Valley resident who was denied federal aid for an abortion — died as a result of an illegal abortion.

Vicky Worsham, coordinator of the Austin Now chapter, said: "NOW believes reproductive rights are essential to women's equality."

The abortion rights week will include marches, speeches and conferences throughout the nation. Texas activities include a Tuesday luncheon honoring Austin legislators.

Homicides story a hoax, brother of executed says

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Police say it's possible. His family calls it a hoax. But the truth about 18 alleged murders was locked — perhaps forever — behind Jesse Bishop's half smile as he sat down in the Nevada gas chamber and died.

Bishop, executed early Monday for killing a man in a Las Vegas casino in 1977, concocted a bizarre story about 18 other murders as part of an elaborate escape plot, a family spokesman says.

The spokesman — Bishop's older brother who declined to be named — said Bishop "just wanted an opportunity to get outside and try to escape." He termed the police report about the slayings — released shortly after Bishop's execution — "pure, unmitigated b.s."

Authorities never gave the tough-talking convict a chance to lead them to any graves. Instead, they agreed to Bishop's demand that the information not be released until after his death.

After sentencing him to death, Judge Paul Goldman of Clark County District Court said he visited Bishop in prison, where the condemned man told him "about having committed a number of homicides."

Goldman then sent Las Vegas Homicide Detective Charles Lee to speak with Bishop. The judge said Lee "came back with figures about 18 other homicides... 12 in California and six in other places." Lee, who conducted the Death Row interview last August, said Bishop didn't want the information released until his execution because he "didn't want to violate his own criminal code, he didn't want to go out as a snitch."

He said Bishop's recollections of the slayings were "so vague it would be virtually impossible to pin it down." Lee added that Bishop said he was paid for about 80 percent of the slayings.

"I don't quite frankly know whether it's true," said Lee. "But on the other hand, he certainly had nothing to lose. My opinion is that he was truthful."

Bishop's brother said the hard-bitten convict, who spent more than 20 of his 46 years in prison for robbery and drug crimes, wouldn't offer that sort of help to police, adding that "his background has not been full of cooperation with the authorities." He said Bishop once told him about "being a hit man for the mob," but he doubted his brother was telling the truth.

No appointment until appeal process over

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A spokesman for Gov. Bill Clements says the governor will not name a new Hidalgo County district attorney until Oscar McInnis completes his appeal of a disbarment ruling.

A state judge last week told McInnis to give up his law license. The ruling came after the State Bar of Texas convinced a civil court jury McInnis had lied to a federal grand jury and planned a murder.

The disbarment suit was filed after McInnis was named in a June 1978 federal indictment charging he plotted to have a friend's ex-husband lured into Mexico and killed. The man was not killed. The longtime prosecutor also was named in perjury indictments charging he lied to a federal grand jury when asked about the purported plot.

The murder conspiracy charge was thrown out by a federal judge, but McInnis will be tried on the perjury counts.

Jon Ford, a Clements spokesman, said Monday the disbarment is not final until the appeals are completed. McInnis' lawyers have said they will appeal.

Shoval said McInnis will not be paid during the appeal of the disbarment.
