Inflation continues above 13 percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pushed by higher prices for food, fuel and housing, consumer prices increased 1.1 percent in September as inflation continued above a 13 percent annual rate, the government said today.

At the same time, it reported that the purchasing power of workers' paychecks declined another 0.7 percent during the month and was down by 4.4 percent from a year earlier.

There was nothing in the September price report to indicate any improvement in the nation's highly disturbing rate of inflation. It matched August's 1.1 percent increase and was the ninth month this year that prices have increased by about 1 percent.

Overall food prices, including restaurant meals, climbed 0.9 percent during September, the biggest increase in five months, and grocery store prices were up 1.1 percent. Food prices had shown little or no increase in the previous three months.

Fuel prices rose sharply again during the month, with home heating oil up 5.6 percent and gasoline prices advancing 3.1 percent to a national average of 99.8 cents a gallon for all types.

The overall cost of housing rose another 1.2 percent, with home mortgage financing up 1.8 percent, partly the result of government efforts to slow the economy by increasing interest rates.

However, even larger increases in mortgage costs probably lie ahead, because the latest actions by the Federal Reserve Board to push interest rates to record levels will not show up in the Consumer Price Index for another month or two, said Patrick Jackman, a Labor Department analyst.

Jackman said consumer prices have increased at a 13.2 percent annual rate during the first nine months of 1979, meaning that if the same trend continues through December, that would be the total increase for the year.

It would be the highest inflation for any year since 1946, when prices were up 18.2 percent after the government lifted wartime price controls.

The Labor Department said its Consumer Price Index stood in September at 223.4 of the 1967 average of 100, meaning that goods and services priced at $100 in 1967 had risen in cost to $223.40 last month.

Prices had increased 12.1 percent in the 12-month period ending in September.

Jackman said the worsening of food prices again following four months of improvement clouds the outlook for an easing of inflation in coming months.

The Carter administration originally had forecast an easing of consumer prices to below a 10 percent rate by the end of the year.

"It's not a very pleasant forecast... I don't see us getting worse, but it looks like we'll be staying right around where we are, with the highest rate of inflation since World War II," Jackman said.

Earlier in the week, Chiles L. Schultz, the chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers, had said he expected the rate of inflation to be slightly under 13 percent.

Steadily worsening inflation in the economy caused the Federal Reserve Board to take drastic actions on Oct. 6 to slow growth of the money supply and boost interest rates to help contain the upward price spiral.

Schultz said the government's anti-inflation program, which includes wage and price guidelines and restraint on federal spending, is chiefly aimed at keeping higher energy prices from becoming a permanent part of the nation's rate of inflation.

Even if the program is successful, Schultz said the best that can be expected is an inflation rate of 8 percent to 9 percent, which will be much more difficult to reduce. But an effort must be made, he said.

"We need a long-run objective of how to reduce the 8 to 9 percent that is probably the underlying rate," Schultz told an economic symposium of the Washington Forum on Thursday. He said the sharp slowdown in productivity growth is a key factor in the worsening underlying rate.

New 1980 Chamber officers elected

By EILEEN McGUIRE
The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors accepted its nominating committee's recommendations for 1980 board officers in a meeting Thursday.

The board convened at noon in the conference room of the Chamber with Johnnie Lou Avery, president, officiating.

The nominating committee's report, read by Ray Don Williams, past president, recommended Jimmy Taylor, president of First National Bank, as president; Tom Watson, publisher of the Big Spring Herald, as vice president; and Sid Clark, accountant, as treasurer.

A motion was made by Williams to accept the nominations and the motion was seconded by Daryle Hohertz. It carried unanimously.

The nominating committee also made a recommendation that by-laws be changed so that future nominations could be made from the Chamber of Commerce membership, rather than just from the board of directors. No action was taken.

In the absence of Walter Wheat, treasurer, who was absent due to an illness in the family, Leroy Tillery, executive vice president, presented the treasurer's report. The report revealed that by the end of September, the Chamber's general account showed a balance of $1,924.

Accounts payable include a $500 audit fee and $2,069 for Tillery's moving expenses from Amarillo to Big Spring. Tillery noted that some deposits had been made to the account since September, but an update was not available for the meeting.

A budget committee appointed at the last board meeting, chaired by Sid Clark, will review the current standing for the rest of the year, Mrs. Avery told the board, and will make recommendations for next year's budget. The committee will also be recommending changes in dues at a board meeting expected to take place in early November.

Mrs. Avery announced that the Chamber will be gaining a new employee, Mrs. D'Wayne Osborne of Amarillo. She will be working as the Chamber's bookkeeper. A former supervisor with the Texas Department of Human Resources in Amarillo, she has experience in both management and bookkeeping.

In reporting on the recent Arts and Crafts Fair held at the coliseum, Hohertz told the board that more was displayed and sold during this fair than 'he previous ones. He said that booths had already been reserved for next year and expressed gratitude for Mel Prather, Louis Tallent and others who had worked to make it such a success.

The board discussed Christmas activities which will be coordinated with Big Spring merchants. According to Mrs. Avery, plans include a whole day of Christmas activities for the community.

A one-night course designed to help retailers and anyone who accepts checks or has to deal with shoplifting was announced. Entitled "Controlling Retail Theft," the course is scheduled for 7 p.m., Nov. 8 in the Cactus Room of the Student Union Building of Howard College. The fee is $1.50 per person and the course is intended for management, clerks and other employees of local business area businesses.

Co-sponsored by the Chamber, Howard College, First National Bank, Big Spring Savings & Loan, State National Bank, First Federal Savings & Loan, Security State Bank, and the U.S. Small Business Administration, the program will help provide solutions to a number of problems.

The program covers good check cashing policies, detection of bad checks, legal recourse on bad checks and shoplifters, coffee breaks, preventing shoplifting, store layout, merchandising techniques, film—the "silent crime," a live demonstration and ticket switching. There will also be a question and answer period.

It was noted that it would be beneficial to business management to send employees dealing with these problems to the course. The small fee would permit management to easily finance their employees' attendance.

Tillery reported that while attending a chamber meeting in Odessa, he spoke to both television stations and requested more coverage of Big Spring events. A good response, was indicated as camera crews were sent to cover the Arts and Crafts Festival in Big Spring.

Tillery suggested that Big Spring groups need to make the Odessa-Midland stations aware of events in Big Spring worthy of coverage or the stations might otherwise not know about them. "Everyone in town should send them their news

Brothers arrested for drug possession

The Big Spring Major Crime Task Force confiscated two and a half pounds of marijuana and arrested two brothers Thursday during a raid on a Sandra Gail Apartment, 2911 W. Hwy. 80.

A search warrant was executed on Apt. 60, residence of William Douglas Long, 22, and Gary Wayne Long, 20, at 6:15 p.m. The brothers have each been charged with possession of a controlled substance.

Bond was set this morning at $25,000 for Gary Long by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin. Heflin denied bond for William Long.

The Longs' arrests follows the Wednesday night arrests of brothers Rodney and Brian Ferrell on suspicion of possessing a variety of drugs.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Texas millionaires

Q. Texas has long had a reputation as the Land of the Big Rich. The movies and television haven't done anything to damage that reputation, which, I suppose, is better than a rap in the mouth. The truth, however, How many millionaires does the state have, in comparison to some of the leaders?

A. If you assembled all of Texas' millionaires into one community, it would total slightly more than 21,000 in population. New York leads all the states with 51,031, followed by California, which has 33,509. Nine states, in all, outrank Texas in the number of people with assets of a million dollars or more. One in every 600 among us is worth at least that much. Have you got yours?

Poisonous gas leak claims lives of two Texas refinery workers

BORGER, Texas (AP) — A refinery worker says the poisonous gas that leaked from a pipeline, killing two men and injuring 11 others, smelled like rotten eggs and was probably lethal hydrogen disulfide gas.

But plant officials at the Phillips Petroleum refinery near this Panhandle city where the accident occurred Thursday said they don't know what toxic substance caused the accident or where it came from.

Federal investigators were summoned to the refinery today to try to determine how the accident occurred and what chemical overcame the men.

Greg Stout, 29, of Stinnett, one of the workers in the refinery's Unit 22 when the poisonous fumes belched from a pipeline, said it was hydrogen disulfide gas.

"I recognized it from the smell," said Stout, who helped rescue other workers overcome by the fumes until he was also stricken.

"It smelled like rotten eggs at first — it didn't hurt to breathe — but within a few seconds your sense of smell is paralyzed and you can't smell it anymore. Then you get dizzy and if someone doesn't get you out of there, you die."

Stout said the first man killed, Fran McGahan, 29, of Fritch, was working on a platform two stories above ground in the refinery when he was overcome by the fumes.

"He fell about 20 feet to a structure beneath him — but that was where all the gas was coming from," Stout said.

"Another man passed out and fell 10 feet. There was a tremendous amount of gas everywhere."

Another worker, Don Gibbs, 39, of Fritch, said he was working on a furnace when "I looked up and saw a guy hit the ground. I looked up to the platform and saw another guy pass out. Another one was hanging on a ladder."

"I went up one side of the ladder and another guy went up the other side and we lifted him back onto the platform. That's when I got it. I got dizzy. I managed to get onto the platform, and passed out. I don't know how long I was out."

The other fatality in the accident was Kim Manning, 27, of Fritch, who died several hours later in an Amarillo hospital of respiratory burns.

Phillips Petroleum spokesman Jim Ormsby said the pipe was supposed to be empty and the men were trying to remove a blind, or metal disc used to plug a pipe.

"They encountered an accumulation of gas which shouldn't have been there. Where it came from I don't have any idea," he said.

Stout said the men were working on a vent pipe designed to carry the toxic gas to a remote area of the refinery where it is burned off.

"Gas is present in many places throughout the plant, and the pipes are tied into this one vent pipe. One of the other units was probably venting their poisonous gas when this pipe was opened up," he said.

Mistaken identity costs Dallas hostage his life

DALLAS (AP) — Two policemen on duty where a gunman was holding three persons hostage saw a man running from the scene and ordered him to stop. When the man continued running, the officers, assuming he was the gunman, opened fire.

But the victim, Lee Douglas Page, 39, who collapsed and died of the gunshot wounds, was one of the hostages. He had been running in an attempt to escape the gunman Thursday.

Police Chief Glen King called it a tragic case of mistaken identity and placed the two officers on indefinite leave for their own good.

"The three officers believed him to be the kidnapper. He began to run in a crouch ... to a position north between the houses. They called for him twice to stop. He failed to do so and from a distance of approximately 75 feet they fired on him," King said.

"Because of the traumatic nature of this, because the innocent person's life was lost in it and because of the effect this likely will have on their mental and emotional conditions, I am placing them on leave ... to be sure everything is in order as far as they are personally concerned," King said.

Police said the gunman, who surrendered after Page was killed, had abducted his wife and a child at gunpoint from his mother-in-law's home about 8 a.m. The mother-in-law called police, who followed the gunman as he marched his family down the street at gunpoint.

Page happened to be getting into his car when the group approached. Police said the gunman pointed his pistol at Page and ordered him to drive them away from the area.

Meanwhile, officers said, other police units arrived. When one officer tried to hide behind a car, the gunman fired at him, then ordered his family and Page into the car.

Page backed the car across the street into a neighbor's front yard and leaped out in a daring escape attempt. Police said Page had run about 35 feet when he was hit in the head, leg and buttocks by gunfire from officers Randall Jackson, 35, and James Brigdon, 32, who were armed with a 12-gauge shotgun and a .38-caliber revolver.

King said he plans to visit Page's widow and their two sons, aged 13 and 9, to express the police department's sympathy.

"It was a very tragic thing," King said. "We all feel very badly about it."

King said it "was an error on their part" but it "was an error that was not inconsistent with the facts that were there."

Brawl breaks out Thursday in downtown San Salvador

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Supporters and opponents of El Salvador's new junta battled with fists and rocks, sending mobs on a looting and arson spree as the government stood by and continued talks for the release of 300 hostages held by 1,000 leftists in the labor and economics ministries.

The brawl broke out in a downtown plaza Thursday night after Christian Democratic Party leader Jose Napoleon Duarte, a junta supporter, returned from a seven-year exile in Venezuela and urged more than 50,000 followers to "take to the streets before terrorists dominate them."

About 100 leftists arrived on motorcycles, jeered Duarte, then set fire to the platform he was speaking from. Duarte fled, fist and rock fights broke out, and backfire from the leftists' motorcycles, mistakenly thought to be gunfire, sent other groups fleeing in panic.

The fleeing mobs were swelled by other Salvadoreans in the streets and the hordes then began looting four department stores, carting off office furniture, typewriters, radios, and kitchen and sports equipment. The mobs also set fire to two buildings, and firemen battled the blaze into the night.

Police had no reports on casualties and made no effort to intervene during the mayhem, but Red Cross ambulances were standing by just blocks away as people ran in panic through San Salvador's narrow streets.

Street corner agitators encouraged the looting, but mothers of political prisoners who had set up a tent and occupied the plaza to demand information on the fate of their loved ones, used loudspeakers in an attempt to calm the mobs. The loudspeakers just added to the noise, however.

Before the riot erupted, Duarte, an unsuccessful presidential candidate in 1972 whose running mate is now a junta member, told his followers, "I have returned to ask the people of El Salvador to forget fear and take to the streets before terrorists dominate them."

He also said he has faith in the junta that ousted President Carlos Humberto Romero in a coup Oct. 15, and that the two colonels and three civilians who now run the country should be given time to work out policies "that should be taken advantage of to avoid violence."

As he spoke, about 1,000 leftists, some armed with pistols and machetes, continued holding 300 hostages, including three Cabinet ministers, in the labor and economics ministries, demanding higher wages, price controls and freedom for political prisoners.

Earlier reports said only two ministers and 130 hostages were being held but a government source gave revised figures after negotiations began Thursday for their release.

Two of the captive Cabinet officers were Labor Minister Gabriel Gallegos Valdes and Economy Minister Manuel Hinds. The name of the third one was not immediately known. The hostages and the ministries were taken Wednesday.

CLAIMS MEXICO DOCTORS MISDIAGNOSED SHAH — Dr. Benjamin Kean, personal physician to Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, answers questions Thursday at New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, where the shah is recuperating from gall-bladder surgery. Dr. Kean said doctors in Mexico misdiagnosed the shah's recent chills, fever and weight loss as malaria. If he had gone untreated, Kean added, "I think he would have died." Doctors at the New York hospital also found the shah's cancer of the lymph glands was spreading and will begin chemotherapy shortly.

—NORMAN MAILER

Author takes chance

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Norman Mailer says he took a calculated risk in writing about executed killer Gary Gilmore because readers are often sympathetic to central characters — however monstrous.

"By the act of writing about somebody, you arouse some sympathy for them," Mailer said. His intention, he said, was not to glorify Gilmore but to inspire "a sense of awe about the complexity of human nature."

Mailer spoke Thursday at the University of Utah, concluding a 10-day tour promoting "The Executioner's Song," a 1,056-page work on the life of Gilmore.

Gilmore was executed Jan. 17, 1977, by a prison firing squad about 20 miles from where Mailer spoke. His was the first execution in the United States in nearly 10 years. There have been two since.

Mailer said he relied on the reader to see Gilmore as representative of all people "because his moral nature is so complex."

"He was a punk, and why pay attention to a punk? Well, he was a punk with a piece of God's substance," Mailer said.

Wife owns part of hit

NEW YORK (AP) — A little bit of Alan Jay Lerner's Broadway hits belong to the lyricist's first wife, a New York judge has ruled.

Lerner's personal property was placed in receivership Thursday by a judge who said the writer has failed to make a number of alimony payments to his fourth wife, Micheline.

"This is the ninth occasion that she has had to resort to enforcement proceedings in order to obtain support payments due her under a Nevada divorce decree," Justice Herterense Gabel ruled in Manhattan Supreme Court.

Mrs. Lerner, who was named as receiver of all Lerner's personal property in New York State, was seeking $12,499.98 in back alimony from July 1 to September 1.

Her attorney, Raoul Felder, said the ruling would allow Mrs. Lerner to collect Lerner's royalties from such hit shows as "My Fair Lady," "Camelot" and "Brigadoon."

Lerner, 60, also faces contempt charges for not paying $50,000 in back alimony under an earlier court order.

Kennedy son recovers

BOSTON (AP) — David Kennedy, son of the New York Sen. Robert Kennedy, is continuing his recovery at an secret location after being hospitalized for nearly seven weeks with an infection of the heart lining.

Kennedy was admitted to Massachusetts General Hospital on Sept. 9, several days after he told New York police he was beaten and robbed by three men who lured him to a seedy Harlem hotel, which police say is frequented by drug users.

The Manhattan resident was released Thursday. Hospital spokesman Martin Bander said Kennedy is "continuing to take oral antibiotics to complete his course of treatment."

South Africa denies setting off nuclear device

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa today denied U.S. intelligence suggestions that it set off a nuclear device, calling the report total nonsense verging on science fiction.

Dr. J. Wynand de Villiers, president of South Africa's Atomic Energy Board, said the report indicating South Africa might be on the brink of joining only six other nations in the world's known atomic arms club was "complete nonsense."

"I have no knowledge at all of such an explosion," he said. "If there was anything of the sort, my first reaction would be that some other powers might have undertaken a test, but it was definitely not South Africa."

Foreign Minister Roelof F. Botha declared, "I know absolutely nothing about this matter, whatsoever."

"Why don't you ask the Russians or the Chinese, or even the Americans," Botha asked sarcastically. "South Africa is not Antarctica. We might even be talking about Australia or New Zealand."

"It is a particularly vast area in which the phenomenon is supposed to have taken place. If the Americans don't know what is going on, I suggest they first make sure of their facts before they run away with the idea."

"It might even have been the rebirth of Venus. I suggest that the Americans ask Neptune for a report..."

Botha said the United States, "as leaders of the Western world...should not panic so easily..."

U.S. officials told reporters in Washington Thursday night they had evidence South Africa may have exploded a nuclear device in the atmosphere last month.

The officials said the indicators were picked up by a reconnaissance satellite, and were not conclusive. But they said their evidence indicated a "low-yield nuclear explosion occurred in an area of the Indian ocean and South Atlantic, including portions of the Antarctic continent and the southern part of Africa."

Snappy idea for bookmark

HONOLULU (AP) — Mayuri Nakasone, 18, of Honolulu, made her mark by winning a total of $16,450 in scholarships in state and national finals of the America's Junior Miss Pageant this year.

She also makes her mark with snapshots. A runner-up in the Kodak Junior Miss Photo Awards, Mayuri has this hint for book lovers.

"To make an attractive bookmark, take close-up photos of massed flowers. Cut the snapshot in two. Glue the backs together. Punch a hole in the top and thread a yarn tassel through. Then tuck the bookmark into a birthday card for a friend. Or use it yourself."

What a disappointment! You had a tremendous drive, the perfect chip shot, and a brilliant putt; then your ball stopped a hairsbreadth from the edge of the cup. The birdie you thought was yours didn't materialize.

Of course, it's only a game; it doesn't really matter. But blighted hopes are not always so trivial. What if something really big passes you by? Suppose you don't get that promotion, your son's scholarship is given to someone else, an important client changes his mind, or the stock market wipes out your investment? Where do you turn? Where do you find strength to meet life's disillusionments?

Spiritual values are constant. Fortunes may shift and change but your Church stands firm. The truths and inspiration you find there give meaning, purpose, and stability to your life.

Local minister, layman attend church assembly

About 10,000 members of the Christian Church, Disciples of Christ, will converge on St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 28-31 for the biennial assembly of that church body.

Judge James A. Noe, who is a judge in the superior court in the state of Washington, is the church's highest elected official and will, therefore, preside on the business sessions of the assembly.

Moderator Noe will introduce to the business sessions reports from the various departments of the church as well as oversee conversation, discussion, and debate on critical and controversial issues will be considered.

Dr. David R. Darnell, Perryton, minister, will give Bible lectures for the assembly of the church. He will give successive interpretations on the first three chapters of the book of Philippians. During the assembly more than 100 Christian Church, Disciples of Christ, ministers will speak in Greater St. Louis area churches Oct. 28.

Attending the General Assembly of the Christian Church, Disciples of Christ, from the First Christian Church of Big Spring is Joe B. Johnson, lay delegate, and Bill Smythe, minister.

Southern Baptists unite toward goal

The 94th annual session of the Baptist General Convention of Texas will meet in Lubbock, Oct. 30-Nov. 1 to deal with matters of major concern to 2 million Texas Baptists and other Texans.

Messengers from many of the 4,000 Texas Baptist churches will take action on plans for helping achieve a Southern Baptist goal to reach every person on Earth with the gospel of Jesus Christ by the year 2000, said BGCT president Milton Cunningham of Houston.

A major facet of the ambitious mission goal will be consideration of a proposed $34 million Cooperative Program budget for Texas Baptists' share of the worldwide mission efforts of 13 million Southern Baptists.

Other major business will include the election of a new president to succeed Dr. Cunningham who has served the maximum two terms. More than 6,000 people are expected to help share Christ in Texas and around the world.

Speakers include Cunningham; Dr. Harold C. Bennett of Nashville, Tenn., executive secretary-treasurer of the Southern Baptist Executive Committee; Dr. James H. Landes, Dallas, executive director of the BGCT; Dr. Russell H. Nazarene pastors confer in Waco

District superintendents of the four districts of the Church of the Nazarene in Texas have arranged for a conference of pastors and their wives from these districts at the First Church of the Nazarene in Waco.

The sessions will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday and will conclude at noon on Thursday. Pastors and wives from this community will attend.

Special workers will be Dr. George Coulter, general superintendent of the denomination; Dr. James Hamilton, lecturer, educator and author; Dr. Elmer Schmeizenbach, missionary; Dr. Millard Reed, pastor of Nashville, Tenn. First Church of the Nazarene; and Dr. John Knight, president of Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla.

While the meeting is primarily a time of spiritual refreshing and renewal, some promotional matters will be presented by the district superintendent.

Plans for the 20th General Assembly of the international denomination, to be held at Kansas City, Mo. June 19-27, 1980, will be announced.

At least one new General Superintendent will be elected at business sessions of the General Assembly since one of the six general leaders, Dr. George Coulter, will retire.

Youth will plan project

Major change approved for Wayland College

In a move termed the most significant from an academic standpoint in more than 20 years, Wayland Baptist College's Board of Trustees Thursday authorized the development of a comprehensive plan to restructure the institution into Wayland Baptist University over the next two years.

The board, meeting for its regular fall business session on the WBC campus, gave approval to the college administration for development of a proposal—including the listing of all necessary personnel and financial considerations—to be presented to the board no later than the fall meeting of 1980.

"This is the first major step toward the strengthening of Wayland's degree program since the school received full accreditation in 1958," explained Dr. Dan McLallen, vice president for academic affairs. "It will further insure that a good general education is there for every Wayland student."

The approval was one of four major moves taken by the 39-member board during a recent meeting. Also approved were the contracts for employment of nine new faculty and staff personnel; the extension of authorized degree plans toward the BSOE degree for religion and law enforcement majors; and a $200 across-the-board inflation-fighting bonus for each full-time college employee drawing less than $15,000 per year base salary.

"The cost of living has become a major concern to all of us, but it has become an even more significant problem for our employees on the lower end of the pay scale," said Dr. Roy G. McClung, president of the college about the bonus. "We realize that it won't solve any long-term problems, but we hope it can ease the crunch for a short while."

Mount Bethel hosts youth, adult revival

A "Youth Revival" for both adults and youths will be held Oct. 29 thru Nov. 2 at the Mount Bethel Baptist Church each evening at 7:30 p.m.

The revival is under the auspices of the youth department, the Rev. F. Nelson, pastor.

The evangelist will be the Rev. D.C. Cobbs, Dallas, who is now employed with the Big Spring Federal Prison. Prior to his employment here last June, the Rev. Cobbs served as the associate minister and choir director at Greater Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Dallas, with the Rev. M.E. Johnson, pastor.

The evangelist is a graduate of West Mesa High School, Albuquerque, N.M., where he was born and raised. He attended the University of New Mexico for two years where he studied Sociology and Theology. He began studying music at a very early age.

The Rev. Cobbs accepted his call to the ministry in

THE REV. D.C. COBBS

January, 1977.

On Monday evening, a musical will be rendered by the Mt. Bethel Youth Church, under direction of Mrs. Cindy Evans, the youth minister of music. Mrs. Delora Cobbs, wife of the evangelist and a soloist, will assist with the pre-revival musical. She will render special music, accompanied by the Rev. Cobbs during the revival.

Guest churches invited to render selections on the musical are Hillcrest Baptist, Bakers Chapel, and others.

"What Must I Do To Be Saved" is the evangelistic message to be preached during the revival.

On Halloween night youths will receive treats in fellowship hall after the service.

The public is invited to share in revival services.

The agenda for the evening services consists of devotional service with youths in charge, scripture, prayer, selections, by Mt. Bethel Youth Choir, Testimonials, selections by the youth choir, introduction of the speaker by the Rev. Nelson, presentation by the Rev. Cobbs, special music, sermon by the Rev. Cobbs, invitation to Christ, remarks by the Rev. Nelson and guest speakers, benediction.

Lutherans observe Reformation Day

Lutheran Churches across the nation will observe Reformation Day this Sunday.

"Reformation," according to Webster's Dictionary, is defined as the 16th century religious movement that aimed at reforming the Roman Catholic Church and resulted in the establishing of the Protestant churches.

Martin Luther was the great German leader of the Reformation. He was born in Eisleben, Saxony, of religious parents. His father was a miner and made sacrifices so that Martin Luther could attend the best schools and universities.

Luther studied the Scriptures intensely and as he studied, learned that it is only through God's word that a person can know God and that the three great pillars of the Reformation — Scripture, grace and faith — stand on Christ, a sure foundation.

In 1517, though Luther still acknowledged the supremacy of the pope, there came about an unconscious break with the Catholic church. Highly indignant over the activity of a Dominican monk, Johann Tetzel, Luther publicized his indignation by nailing the 95 theses to the door of the Wittenburg Castle Church.

The Rev. Carroll C. Kohl, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, will be guest speaker at Grace Lutheran Church at Midland Sunday. All members of the West Texas region are invited to attend.

A combined choir, made up of choir members of these churches will present special music during the Reformation services.

Many of the West Texas Lutheran churches have experienced pastoral vacancies during the past few years. All of those vacancies have now been filled.

Recently installed at Lamesa was the Rev. Arnold Mueller of Malon; at Andrews, the Rev. Paul Rist from the seminary; at Pecos and Fort Stockton, the Rev. David Adler, also just out of the seminary; and at Monahans and Kermit, the Rev. Grady Archbold of New Melly, Mo.

The Rev. Mark Mueller of Wentzeville, Mo., will soon be installed as assistant pastor of Grace Lutheran, Midland.

College honored

The membership of First Baptist Church of Big Spring has proclaimed Sunday as "Howard College Appreciation Day."

Dr. Kenneth G. Patrick, pastor, said, "It is our hope to be able to express to those who make up this fine institution our gratitude for all that they do in enriching life in Howard County."

A brunch will be held from 9 to 9:45 a.m. in the foyer of the auditorium honoring all members of the faculty and administration. During the Sunday school hour and morning worship, special recognition will be given to all those associated with the college.

Phyllis Preston, director of the College Sunday School Department invites all Howard College students who do not have a local church home to join them for Bible study at 9:45 a.m.

Following the morning service, the Pastor's Sunday School Class will have a luncheon in the church's fellowship hall honoring the members of the 1979-80 men and women's basketball team.

Women seek good of city

Church Women United in Big Spring will celebrate World Community Day on Nov. 2.

A worship service with the theme "Causeway: This Community, U.S.A." will be held at St. Mary's Episcopal Church with registration at 9:30 a.m. and a meeting at 10 a.m. The Rev. Harland Birdwell will be the speaker.

The World Community Day celebration will highlight the findings of the Church Women United Urban Causeway which took place in the spring of 1978. At that time, 65 women traveled in three teams to 16 major metropolitan areas studying the impact on urban dwellers of six issues: education, employment, health-medical care, housing, transportation and welfare.

On World Community Day, the celebrants will consider how those issues affect "this community, USA."

A Farthing's Worth
As I followed the late model Cadillac east on Fifteenth, I noticed the bumper stickers — one said, "Christians aren't perfect; they're just forgiven"; and another was a likeness of a dove, symbol of Christian love and the Holy Spirit. My attention toward the stickers was suddenly interrupted, however, by a yellowish missile the driver launched from the window. It was a banana peel. Well, it's biodegradable. Before we had gone another block, however, another missile was launched — a wrapper of some kind that fluttered to the street. Just as I was preparing for the inevitable soft drink can, the Caddie darted down a side street. I can't swear to it, but it seemed as if I saw those bumper stickers start to curl up around the edges.
We Christians could be a lot closer to perfect than we are, and a lot more loving than we are. It seems to me.

She Suspects A Roommate

DEAR ABBY: I recently became engaged to a wonderful young man who lives in another city. I was very happy until he informed me that he had decided to share an apartment with a woman co-worker until we get married next year! He assured me that the arrangement is strictly a financial one—that he prefers to live with a woman that he already knows is honest and reliable than to advertise for an unknown male.

Although I want to trust him, I can't help feeling resentful. He tells me that when I come to visit, I will be convinced that there is no romantic involvement, but I don't know if I can reserve judgment until then.

I am debating between giving him an ultimatum and trusting him implicitly.

Abby, do you think it's possible to share living quarters with one of the opposite sex and have a platonic relationship? And what should I do?

FUMING

DEAR FUMING: Yes. But stop fuming and start rooming with a male friend and see how your fiance takes it.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I spent two hours scrubbing our tile shower with a toothbrush, detergent and bleach. It sparkled. My husband's only comment: "You missed a spot by the door."

This is typical of his reaction to nearly everything I do. He is the most critical person in the world, from the way I dress to the side of the sink I wash the dishes in. No matter how hard I try, he always finds something to criticize. When I mentioned this to him, he told me that the trouble with me is that I have never learned how to take criticism.

Abby, my mother is the "West Coast Distributor for Criticism," and I have had plenty of it, so I think I know how to handle it, but the way my husband finds a flaw in everything I do is driving me up the wall!

We've been married only a year, and I can't see myself taking 20 to 30 more years of his petty faultfinding.

He never misses your column. I hope you print this and he sees it before it's too late, and my self-worth is completely destroyed.

HURT IN LONG BEACH

DEAR HURT: Don't rely on a few lines in my column to communicate the hurt, anger and frustration you feel. Choose the proper time to vent your feelings, and encourage your husband to vent his. "Every animal revenges his pains upon those who happen to be near" (Samuel Johnson). Chances are that your critical husband is hurting, too.

DEAR ABBY: My son has been married for two years now and, would you believe, I have never seen my daughter-in-law in a dress. Never!

She wears jeans in the daytime, and when she gets dressed up, she wears pants suits. She's a nice-looking girl and I think she would look so much more feminine in a dress, but I swear to goodness, I don't think she owns one.

She's not sloppy; she just likes pants, I guess. I mentioned to my son once that I had never seen his wife's legs, and he just laughed and said she had two like everybody else, and that was the end of it.

Should I say something to her about it? I wouldn't be mean. I would just tell her she would look so much prettier in a dress. She's a motherless child and needs someone to teach her how to dress.

W. V. A. MOM-IN-LAW

DEAR MOM: Your daughter-in-law has the right to wear what she wants, and she obviously prefers pants. You've mentioned your preference to your son; that's enough. Unasked-for advice is seldom appreciated.

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (25 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

Attention presidents!

Attention Big Spring clubs and organizations!
This is your last chance to secure your club's representation in the 1979 Herald clubs and organizations tabloid, people with a purpose, which will be published Nov. 4.

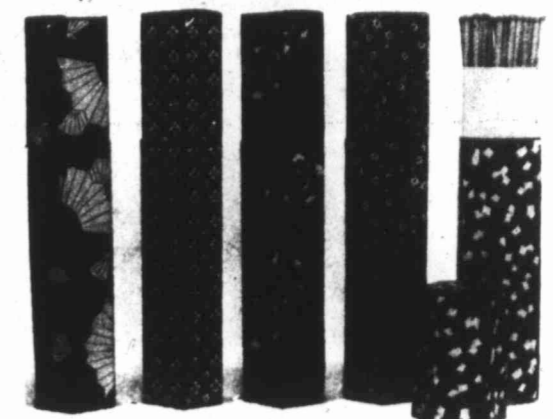

Several weeks ago, the family news section mailed out information forms to club president to be filled out and returned to the Herald.

It has been brought to our attention that a number of clubs and organizations were overlooked, or for some reason or another, did not receive their forms.

If your club was missed, please make plans to have your club president at the Herald Oct. 31 between 2-4 p.m. to fill out the necessary forms and have his or her picture taken for the tabloid.

Hits $2 billion mark

Teen Christmas spending rises 75%

NEW YORK, N.Y. — When teen-age girls across the country went Christmas shopping last season, they spent an all time high of $2 billion on gifts for family members, friends and themselves, says a survey just released from Seventeen Magazine. This figure represents an almost 75 percent increase in Christmas spending from just five years ago. In a 1974 Seventeen survey, it was reported the teen girls spent $1.15 billion on Christmas gifts.

Most of the dollars spent last holiday season went for the girls' families, totaling over $1 billion. Nearly every teen girl (95.6 percent) gave Christmas gifts to their mothers and spent an average of $30 on the gift. The three most popular presents for mom last year were perfume, sweaters and blouses, respectively.

Nine out of 10 dads (92.6 percent) opened Christmas gifts from their teen daughters last season. Sport shirts topped the teen girl's Christmas list for dad, followed by dress-regular shirts and men's cologne. The average amount spent for dad's gift was $25.

Over 90 percent of the teens played Santa Claus to their girlfriends last season with gifts valued at almost a quarter of a billion dollars. Teens wrapped up more necklaces-chokers-chains than any other gift, followed by earrings and perfume.

She spent an average of $17 for her girlfriend's gift.

Boyfriends certainly didn't go unnoticed last Christmas either, as teens poured a third of a billion dollars into Christmas gifts for their special men. In fact, the girls spent an average of $41 on their boyfriends' gifts. What did most of the young men open up on Christmas morning? Sweaters were number one on the list, followed by sport shirts and men's cologne.

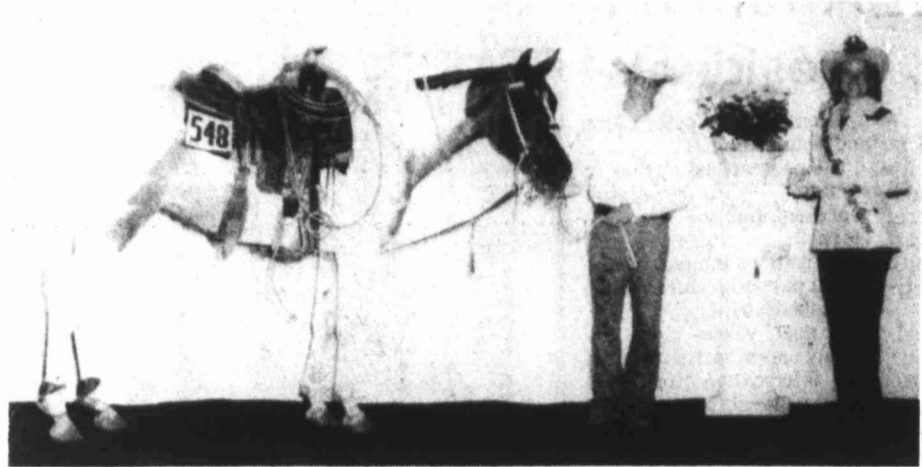

When the teen girl looked under her own Christmas tree last season, more of them found sweaters (almost 10 1/2 million) than any other gift. The second most popular gift the teen girl received was necklaceschokers-chains (wrapped up for 9.8 million girls) and blouses (received by 9.3 million teens).

Over 75 percent of the teens reached into their Christmas stockings last year and found cash gifts from friends and relatives. The girls received a mean amount of $38, and 39 percent of these teens spent the money on gifts for themselves.

Seventeen's "Christmas Story 1979" was compiled from the first 1,013 responses to questionnaires mailed to one of Seventeen's 2,000 member consumer panels and is available from the Research Department, Seventeen Magazine, 850 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.

NATIONAL CHAMPION — Yellow Boots, owned by Ross Westbrook, Gail, was recently named National Champion in the Youth Calf Roping class at the American Paint Horse Association National Championship Show in Oklahoma City. A record high 5,596 entries was recorded under the new four go-around format which saw National Championship buckles being awarded to winners of 60 halter and performance classes. The second place horse in each event was named Reserve National Champion. Horses from 30 states and provinces were in competition for the prestigious awards.

CRMWD directors adopt budget of $7,192,231

Interest earned on trust funds, plus additional revenue anticipated from "catch-up" customers, will help the Colorado River Municipal Water hold its budget increase to 9.45 percent for 1980.

Directors Thursday adopted a total budget of $7,192,231, up $620,571 from the 1979 total.

Revenues will come from the sale of water, interest earned on trust funds, and from recreation (the latter about equaling the out-go).

Debt service of the district peaks in 1980 at $3,963,343, but the effective debt cost for the year is reduced by application of $795,486 earned chiefly from trust fund interest. Last year debt service cost $3,876,343, less $714,260 in interest earned. Net effect is that the over-all debt service charge gains only some $5,000 in 1980 because a scheduled $87,000 increase was washed out by the additional interest.

So this means that most of the higher budget figures come from operations, maintenance, administration and general expense which are budgeted at $4,024,374 up $614,977 or 18.04 percent. This will be largely offset by greater revenues from non member-city customers who will be catching up to the higher rates member cities paid last year.

Here is the way it breaks down compared to this year (1979 in parenthesis):

Source of supply (maintaining reservoirs, well fields, lifting equipment), $747,377 (595,675); pumping expense (pump stations, pipelines, energy, etc.), $2,726,358 ($2,314,107); administrative and general expense $459,667 ($410,223); recreation expense $90,972 ($89,392).

The chief increases in the 1980 projections are: Electric power up $452,576 (Texas Electric Service Company figures indicate: CRMWD will pay a base rate 26.67 percent higher); payroll up by $44,043; water royalties up by $55,285 (the CRMWD buys some of its ground water which has a royalty payment tied to the commodity index increase, adjustable each decade, and 1980 will be the first full year of the adjustment); administrative and general up $33,506. The remainder of the increases, roughly $50,000, represent the greater cost of materials and supplies.

Health units providing influenza immunizations

The Texas Department of Health and city and county health departments are providing influenza immunizations for the 1979-80 influenza season.

Federal health officials have underwritten a $6.2 million program to protect individuals in high-risk groups.

The vaccine recommended for this year is a trivalent preparation that will protect against the A-Brazil, A-Texas, and B-Hong Kong influenza. One dose of vaccine is recommended for persons at high-risk over age 26.

Individuals 26 years and under are urged to get two doses of vaccine, spaced by at least one month, because they have no natural protection against the type A influenza viruses which were widespread in the late 1940's and early 50's.

Anyone who received the 1978-79 influenza vaccine last year need only to receive one dose of vaccine this year, regardless of age.

Two A influenza viruses, A-Texas and A-Brazil, occurred last year in many parts of the nation. Both are expected to return.

The vaccine is recommended for all individuals with chronic illnesses such as: heart and lung disease, kidney disease, diabetes, cancer and other diseases of a serious nature, and all persons age 65 and older.

Proof of chronic disease is required of anyone under 65 years of age who seeks immunization in public clinics. Those over 65 need only show proof of age to be vaccinated.

Beginning Monday Flu

vaccine will be given each Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., at the Big Spring-Howard County Health Department, Second and Lancaster Streets.

Salt mine will close

LUNEBURG, Germany (AP) — Germany's oldest industry, the salt mine of Luneburg, will close in 1981, a mine spokesman said recently.

The mine opened 1,000 years ago. It used to be a profitable industry, but its appetite for oil to heat its boiling vats has made it uneconomical.

Filed before county squabble began

Two DPS troopers requesting transfers

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Two state troopers, the focus of a bitter dispute between Atascosa County officials and the Department of Public Safety, are seeking transfers on purely personal reasons. But a DPS official indicates there will be no immediate transfers.

DPS Capt. Randol Gilmore said here Thursday that patrolmen Earl Conaway, 32, and Albert Rodriguez, 26, filed their transfer requests before county officials demanded that the DPS transfer them or move its entire six-man operation out of the county-owned command post.

The DPS vacated the building and suspended routine traffic patrols in the rural South Texas county on Oct. 1 rather than yield to the demands.

The six troopers, working out of their homes, are answering only emergency calls in Atascosa County and confining their routine traffic patrols to adjoining counties.

The two troopers had spearheaded a drunken driving crackdown that Gilmore credited with cutting the county's traffic death rate in half. But it also resulted in drunken driving charges against sons of two prominent local politicians, including the county commissioner who sponsored the eviction resolution.

DPS officials feel the eviction order stemmed from those arrests. That allegation is denied by county officials, who claim Rodriguez and Conaway "harassed and abused" residents.

Gilmore said both troopers had personal reasons for requesting transfers.

"It's an internal matter," he said. "Conaway's family lives in San Antonio and he lives in Pleasanton. He wants transferred to San Antonio. The Rodriguez situation is similar. He wants to move to Austin."

"They wanted transferred before the Atascosa County officials tried to get them transferred out of the county," Gilmore added. "There are policies and procedures to be followed. Also, they're supposed to be in an area for a year before they can be transferred."

Rodriguez began working in Atascosa County last April and Conaway was stationed in the county last May.

County officials collected numerous statements from residents with complaints against the two troopers and turned them over to DPS Director Col. Wilson Speir.

But an DPS internal investigation turned up no serious violations against the two troopers, the DPS announced Tuesday in Austin.

Speir has said Conaway and Rodriguez would be left in Atascosa County while DPS and county officials attempt to resolve the situation.

Gilmore and County Judge O.B. Gates said there have been no recent negotiations. Gates said the results of the internal investigation "were about what we expected."

Gates and county officials deny that the eviction order stemmed from the drunken driving arrests of Plez William Hall, son of Pleasanton Mayor Travis Hall, and Thomas J. Tausch, son of Commissioner Smith Tausch.

The six troopers also felt racism aggravated the problem, since Conaway is black and Rodriguez is Mexican-American. Officials in the rural South Texas county also denied that charge.

Anesthetists map workshop

The Abilene Area Association of Nurse Anesthetists will sponsor a six-hour workshop Saturday, Nov. 10, from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Briarstone Manor in Abilene.

The subject will be the "Central Nervous System, Drugs and Anesthesia" as presented by Linda Larson, CRNA, BS, Assistant Director-Education for the School of Nurse Anesthesia, Kaiser Permanente Medical Care Program, Los Angeles, Calif. Various topics include pain, epilepsy, spinal shock, enkephalin interneuron, spinal cord injuries, tricyclic antidepressants, MAO inhibitors and phenothiazines.

The registration fee is $25, which includes handout materials and luncheon. The program is approved by both the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists and the Texas Nurses Association. All area anesthetists, registered nurses and other interested disciplines are invited to attend.

Revived Steers visit Lee Rebels tonight

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

MIDLAND — The Big Spring Steers, a much improved looking team in the last three quarters of last week's game against Odessa Permian, will try to play the role of the spoilers tonight when they invade Midland's Memorial Stadium for an 8:00 p.m. encounter with the Midland Lee Rebels.

Big Spring enters the contest with a loop mark of 0-3 and a season slate of 1-5, while the Rebels are 2-1 and 5-1 on the season.

Odessa Permian exploded with the help of Big Spring errors to a 28-0 lead last week, but the spirited Bovines outplayed the Panthers in the last three quarters in the 35-7 loss.

Lee was ranked as the ninth best team in Class AAAA in the state of Texas before last week's game with top ranked Abilene Cooper, but suffered through a 28-14 loss to the awesome Cougars.

Another loss for the Rebels would put them out of the title picture, but the Lee team, coached by the much traveled and very successful Gil Bartosh, don't think the Steers can do it. They will more than likely be trying to recover from last week's setback and get ready for next week's intense rival, Permian.

But if the Steers can avoid the early mistakes that have plagued them in their three district losses and play the way they did the last 36 minutes against Mojo, a victory could be reality, especially if the Rebels aren't ready.

The Rebels, despite their lofty record, do not have the outstanding individual athletes that they possessed last season. Gone are such stalwarts as Jeff McCowan, Elmer Montgomery and Dwight Washington. But the Rebels have relied on what Coach Gil Bartosh calls a great attitude of togetherness.

One reason for the togetherness is the play of field general Gary Butler. Butler was the only returning offensive starter the Rebels had, but he has given the Lee team more than ample leadership and has played superbly. Butler is fifth in District 5-AAAA in passing, as he has completed a most accurate 15 of 24 tosses for 165 yards and two touchdowns, while adding 51 yards on the ground. A southpaw, Butler also directed Lee's 33-0 win over Big Spring last season.

The leading rusher for the Rebels is tailback Steve Waldron. Waldron is more effective on the wide options, and has amassed 174 yards on 42 carries in loop play. The fullback in the Lee ball control attack is senior Mark Thompson. Thompson has carried 35 times for 126 yards and is an ample blocker.

Butler's favorite receivers are split end Larry Linne and flanker Joe Windsor.

Linne also handles the Lee place kicking chores.

The Steers don't expect the Rebels to pass much, however, rather depending on the ball control attack that they have utilized thus far.

The Rebels, as usual, are strong defensively. They allowed 21 points in the first quarter to Cooper last week, but then stiffened to limit the powerful Cougars to only one touchdown afterwards. They rank fourth in the district defensively overall, with the third best ranking against the run.

The linebackers are the strength of the Rebel team. Junior James McGarrity is the middle linebacker and the leader of the unit. Another stickout backer is senior Craig Ellis, who stunts often and is a very hard hitter.

The Lee secondary has been extremely tough against the run, spearheaded by safety Barry Corley, who also is the Rebel punter. But the Rebel secondary has shown a tendency to overlook the pass, and the Steers will probably try to test them early.

The Big Spring offense, which suffered miserably in their first two conference games, looked like another crew in the Permian game. Quarterback David Coffey looked excitingly dangerous on the sprint out passes, both running and throwing, and Coach Ron Logback is hoping that the junior signal caller will improve with age. He will be throwing to the likes of wide receivers Joe Willie Jones and Mike Domino, as well as tight end Mark Knight.

The Steer rushing attack suffered a setback early in the Permian game when sophomore Bobby Earl Williams suffered a broken leg. Williams broke the bone just above the ankle, and the talented rookie will be lost for the remainder of the season. Filling his place will be another sophomore with starting experience, Richard Evans.

Steers rip Mojo in volleyball

The Big Spring Steers volleyball team remained undefeated in the second half of District 5-AAAA play here Thursday night by totally dominating Odessa Permian by scores of 15-4, 15-2.

It was the third consecutive win for the Steer fems, who remained tied with San Angelo Central for the lead in the second half. San Angelo defeated Odessa High on Thursday night.

Karen Kimble led the Steers charge, as she was the high point server with 12 points.

The Steer fems of Coach Carole Bartasek also continued to run their four-hitters, two-setters attack with winning form. Bartasek praised the effective spiking of Cynthia Washington, Linda Magers and Elise Wheat, while also mentioning the outstanding setting of Kimble and Pam Caudill.

The entire team had excellent backcourt coverage. Those drawing special mention for their work in that department were Dee Earhart and Jackie Roach.

The Big Spring junior varsity took a 15-5, 17-15 win in the preliminary affair. Marianne Paradez was the high point server for the shorthorns with 13 points.

Bartasek lauded the effective spiking of Sissy Doss and Dawn Estes, while Paradez and Sandy Puga were mentioned for their play in the backcourt.

Both the Big Spring teams return to 5-AAAA action next Tuesday when they travel to meet the Midland Lee Rebels.

The Shorthorns, first half champions in 5-AAAA, travel to Abilene Cooper tomorrow morning for the District JV Tourney. The Big Spring junior varsity is the top seeded team, and will face the Cooper jvs at 8:00 a.m.

Area grid roundup

Coahoma at Anson

ANSON — The Coahoma Bulldogs will try to remain in the running for the District 6-AA title tonight when they meet Anson here in a 7:30 p.m. game.

Coahoma must win in order to stay in the chase for the spot in the state playoffs, while Anson has two losses and in reality is not in contention.

Coahoma is coming off a 14-6 win over Winters last week, while Anson took their first win in loop play, a 29-0 whitewash of Merkel. The Bulldogs defeated Merkel earlier in the season by a margin of 35-7.

Coahoma is 2-1 in district play and 3-3 on the season, while Anson is 1-2 in loop action and 2-4 on the year.

Wellman at Grady

GRADY — The Grady Wildcats, eliminated from any state playoff hopes in their loss to Three-Way last week, play host to the extremely big and tough Wellman team in a District 3-B (Six-man) game here at 7:00 p.m. tonight. It will be the last home game for Coach Richard Gibson's crew.

Grady started off with a bang, winning their first two games. But the Wildcats have fallen to a season mark of 2-3-1 and a district mark of 0-2. Wellman, meanwhile, is undefeated, with a district record of 2-0 and a season mark of 6-0. They are currently tied with Cotton Center for the lead in District 3-B (Six-man).

O'Donnell at Stanton

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes will try to get back on the winning track tonight when they host O'Donnell in a District 5-A contest.

Stanton suffered their first loss of the year last week, a 10-9 falter to Plains. The Buffs played their usual outstanding game on defense, but five lost fumbles proved to be too much for the stingy Stanton team to overcome. Stanton is now 2-1 in district play, one game behind both Plains and Seagraves, and 4-1-1 on the year.

O'Donnell, meanwhile, is coming off a 7-0 win over Ropes. Hoss Cartwright's hometown sports a season mark of 2-3-1, and a loop record of 1-1-1.

Stanton must win all of their remaining games in order to have a chance at representing the district in the state playoffs.

Borden County at Garden City

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Bearkats and Borden County Coyotes tangle tonight in what promises to be an exciting football game in the District 3-B East race.

The young Bearkats of Coach Jesse Smelley have only four seniors and 18 players on their squad, but have refused to fold under their adversities this year. Garden City is 0-7 on the year.

Borden County, meanwhile, is on the resurgence. The Coyotes suffered through an 0-10 record last year, but have rebounded thus far to post a mark of 3-4, with a district contending record of 2-1. Borden County is fresh from a 41-22 win over Lorraine in their last contest.

Garden City lost last week to Sterling City. Tonight's game will be Dad's Day for all fathers of members of the Garden City team.

Anton at Forsan in Homecoming tilt

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes, still searching for their first win of the year in District 5-B play, will play host to Anton tonight in a Homecoming affair.

Forsan suffered their first loss to Shallowater last week, while Anton dropped a 48-0 game to powerful Seagraves. The teams appear to be matched evenly, as Forsan has a district mark of 0-3 and a season slate of 1-5, while Anton is 0-2-1 in District 5-A play and 0-5-1 on the season. Anton's tie was a 7-7 kisser with O'Donnell.

The Buffaloes have relied on a strong passing combination of quarterback Ernie Strickland to split end Weldon Nichols thus far, but Coach Ronny Taylor is hoping for a more balanced attack during the Homecoming festivities.

Sands at Meadow

MEADOW — The Sands Mustangs will be trying to catch the Meadow Mustangs sleeping tonight when the two District 3-B West opponents hit the field.

Sands is still trying to register that first elusive win of the year, while the Meadow team will be trying to regroup following their first loss of the year, a 17-7 decision to Wilson. Meadow is 2-1 in district play and 6-1, while Sands is 0-7.

Sands did show some much needed improvement last week in their 26-8 loss to New Home, and Coach Dickie Leopard is hoping that the improving trend will carry over into tonight's game.

Hangin' Out

Over the years, in the country of America, the sport of football in the televised form is growing more rapidly than Acapulco Gold.

Within a period of five years after its introduction, the telecasting of college and professional football is drawing an estimated seven to 10 million viewers in the country to our south, with a total of 100 of the US games on tap for the tube there this fall. This is even more staggering if one considers that there are only six million TV sets in Mexico, as compared to 135 million in the United States.

Mexicans were introduced to television in their country in 1974 when TV executive Miguel Aleman began scheduling the gridiron sport to boost sagging ratings. Needless to say, they were a quick success.

The influence of televised football also has reportedly caused some complaining among the housewives, which is not unusual. Neighborhood bars have prospered, however, adding to their sales, especially those of cheap tequila, having soared with the addition of giant TV screens to show football games.

The Houston Oilers and the Dallas Cowboys are the biggest favorites with the fans, while the Oilers' Earl Campbell and the Cowboys' Roger Staubach are their favorite players.

The translations thus far that make the game understandable have been somewhat unique, with a "first down" becoming primera oportunidad, which means "first opportunity." The "quarterback" is referred to as mariscal de campo, which means "field marshal".

COLLEGE FOOTBALL NOTES...

Arkansas Razorbacks self proclaimed Heisman Trophy candidate, center Mike Burlingame, was dealt a serious blow last week in the Texas game when he suffered a severely sprained knee and is definitely out of the Houston game.

Burlingame, before the Hog win over UT last week, had this to say about his Heisman chances: "It seems the selection committee has gotten off the track. John Heisman was a center but they've never picked a center as the winner of the trophy. If he were around today, he'd be very disillusioned. In games I've started, we're 18-0-1 and this year we're 6-0 for the first time in 10 seasons. You can't argue with those kind of figures. Plus, I've never had a downfield fumble..."

The Nebraska Cornhuskers host Colorado Saturday, and if the Huskers again sell out their stadium, it will mark the 103rd consecutive sellout for the 76,000 seat Memorial Stadium. That's an NCAA record. And the Husker defense, called the Black Shirts by Nebraska fans, will be shooting for their fourth straight shutout, an awesome feat...

Tyler Junior College, where former Big Spring Steer Ken Coffey is starring is currently ranked 11th nationally in the weekly NJCAA poll. Ranger JC is the top ranked team...

Mustang Mania has proved lucrative to both SMU and its opponents. If the Mustangs continue drawing at their present rate this season of 61,080, it will break the SMU home attendance record of 60,617 set in 1949. The Texas-SMU game should reach 65,000...

QUOTABLES

San Francisco Coach BILL WALSH, following the Giants seventh straight loss to open the 1979 season: "We have a young team. Some of the guys are in their first year and some of them may be in their last."

TOM LANDRY, on Sunday's game with Pittsburgh: "The game doesn't do anything for me on a Super Bowl rematch basis. We had our chance in the Super Bowl. We didn't make it, so now it's just regrouping and starting again, whether it's Pittsburgh or anybody else. They don't give you a trophy when you beat 'em Sunday. They give you one game."

DANNY VALDES, explaining why the losers of this year's Crystal Ball predictions race have to throw a party at the end of the season for the winners: "When you go to war, nobody tells you where you are being sent." You figure that one out.

Money will be made available for a while

Carter moves to ease mortgage crunch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration has moved on several fronts to ease the nationwide mortgage money crunch, but at the expense of further boosting record high interest rates.
 A federal official who requested anonymity said Thursday's steps will make money available for a while, "especially so lenders can make good on commitments. But who is going to borrow at the rates they'll have to charge?"

 The supply of mortgage money is expected to grow as a result of revised Federal Home Loan Bank Board regulations which:
 —Lower the minimum amount of money thrift institutions must keep in reserve, thereby freeing up to $2.4 billion that can be made available for mortgages.
 —Give savings and loan associations permission to greatly expand their borrowing from "outside sources," starting in 60 days. Those sources could include such things as commercial banks and mortgage-backed bonds.
 In a related move, the maximum allowable interest on single-family home mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration was raised a full point to a record 11.5 percent. For multi-family dwellings, the ceiling was raised from 10 percent to 11 percent.

 Ceilings on Veterans Administration loans also rose 1 percent to 11.5 percent.
 It was the second time interest ceilings on federally insured mortgages have been raised in the last month by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.
 High interest rates on non-federally insured mortgages, now at 14 percent in some states, may increase before turning around, said several housing analysts.

 After the first of the year, one said, "I think we will start seeing interest rates coming down."
 The actions by HUD and the bank board, which regulates the nation's 4,000 federal savings and loan associations, came as mortgage money has all but dried up.
 Savings and loans are losing deposits, which they use to make mortgages, to other institutions and investments offering better returns, such as money-market mutual funds.

In addition, mortgage bankers, who write most government-backed mortgages, have had trouble finding investors for mortgages carrying interest rates lower than other available investments.
 Some housing experts said the FHA ceiling increase should make it somewhat easier for mortgage bankers to sell mortgages to their investors.
 Although the actions are designed to increase mortgage money availability, they will not do so in all cases.

Sweetwater, CRMWD sales pact expected

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is willing to make 3,000 acre feet of water annually available to the City of Sweetwater at Lake E.V. Spence.
 District directors voted unanimously at their meeting Thursday in Big Spring to inform Sweetwater officials that the water is available. The water would be transferred to the vicinity of Oak Creek lake, owned by the City of Sweetwater, to meet that city's water needs to the year 2010.

District directors voted unanimously at their meeting Thursday in Big Spring to inform Sweetwater officials that the water is available. The water would be transferred to the vicinity of Oak Creek lake, owned by the City of Sweetwater, to meet that city's water needs to the year 2010.

Terms of a water sales contract will be formulated later, and the district also will consider a request that it construct an 18-mile pipeline connecting the two lakes. CRMWD and Sweetwater officials have been conferring on the matter for more than two years.

Two appropriations were approved by the board, one for $17,544 covering the district's share of cost of stream flow gauging stations to Aug. 31, 1980. The other is for $40,000 to be used in replacing the interior coating of three 420,000-gallon storage reservoirs.

An amendment of the Employees Pension Trust and Retirement Plan was approved by directors, and Thomas Hand & Associates were retained as consultants for actuarial work. The changes do not affect benefits.

O.H. Ivie, general manager, informed the board that the appeal of the district's permit to construct the Stacy reservoir will be argued in Austin Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, 1980. Paschal Odom, assistant general manager, reported that materials and equipment are on hand for the addition of another pump at the Moss Creek station so that the pumping of as much as 30,000,000 gallons a day west from that point will be assured by May.

Presidential odds favor Teddy 7-4

LONDON (AP) — One of Britain's biggest bookmakers, Ladbroke's, has started taking bets on the 1980 presidential race in the United States, and Sen. Edward Kennedy is the early favorite. President Carter is a close second choice.
 The odds include Kennedy 7-4, Carter 2-1, John Connally 4-1, Ronald Reagan 5-1 and Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. 10-1.

A person betting $4 on Kennedy would collect $11 if he won, $7 in winnings plus his original stake. A person betting $4 on Carter would get $12 if he won, twice the $4 bet plus his original stake.

Other odds offered by Ladbroke's: ex-President Ford 12-1, Gov. Jerry Brown 16-1, Vice President Walter Mondale 20-1, Sen. Robert Dole 25-1, Sen. Howard Baker 33-1 and Rep. Philip M. Crane 33-1.

'Most gerrymandered state in the Southwest'

Texas coalition asks for redistricting

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A coalition of organizations, calling Texas "the most gerrymandered state in the Southwest," is asking federal courts to order 11 counties to redraw precinct lines.

William Velasquez, director of the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project, said Thursday the counties have intentionally drawn precinct lines that dilute Mexican-American voting strength.

Velasquez sat in front of a map showing 97 Texas counties in which he said Mexican-Americans are underrepresented on commissioners courts.

He said continued losses at the polls in those counties have alienated Mexican-American voters and left them with little hope of representation.

The counties named in the federal suits Thursday were Atascosa, Medina, Refugio, Uvalde, Cochran, Edwards, Lynn, Dawson, Crosby, Victoria and Castro.

Of the 11 counties named in the suits, Uvalde is the only one with a Spanish-surnamed county commissioner.

The smallest precinct is 80 percent smaller than the ideal precinct, according to the figures.

Rolando Rios, director of litigation for SVREP, said staff members were "told to get out of the county by sundown" when they tried to look at voter registration figures in the Southwest Texas county.

Velasquez said more suits may follow.

"We intend to remedy this problem even if it takes us suing all the counties," Velasquez said. He said the organizations have the funds to pursue the matter, but he added he hoped the counties would agree to negotiate new precinct lines.

Rios said reapportionment of the 97 counties would mean Mexican-Americans would be in the majority in 104 precincts. He said there are now only 17 Mexican-Americans on commissioners courts in the 97 counties.

El Paso Rep. Paul Moreno, chairman of the County is the only one with a Spanish-surnamed county commissioner.

Velasquez was joined at the news conference by officials from the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, the League of United Latin-American Citizens and the American GI Forum. Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc., also helped prepare the litigation, he said.

The suits are the result of a two-year study of county government in Texas, the officials said. Velasquez said the first 66 counties checked were gerrymandered — "some to an outrageous degree."

The suits charge the county precinct lines violate the one-man, one-vote doctrine. Federal law says the most populous precinct in a county should not be more than 10 percent larger than the least populous precinct.

Statistics gathered by the organizations showed all 11 counties are violating that law. In Edwards County, the largest precinct is 180 percent larger than the "ideal precinct" (based

NO PIECE OF CAKE — California's Democratic Governor Jerry Brown is assisted by an unidentified woman as he wipes the remains of a lemon-coconut pie from his face in New York Thursday. Brown was hit in the side of the head by the pie, thrown by Yippie pie-thrower Aron Kay, as he was entering Cooper Union to deliver a speech before the student body. Brown, a presidential hopeful, said in his address that "campaigning is not a piece of cake."

(AP LASERPHOTO)

THROWER SCORES ANOTHER HIT — Yippie pie-thrower Aron Kay is escorted by police from New York's Cooper Union, Thursday, after scoring a hit on the side of California Gov. Jerry Brown's head with a lemon-coconut pie. Kay would only say that Brown "was not doing anything for the prison system and prisoners in California."

UAW to defer raises, pension

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP) — The United Auto Workers union has given financially sick Chrysler Corp. a break at the bargaining table and its president is headed for the company's board room in return.

The UAW, in an unprecedented contract agreement, will defer raises and corporate pension payments and give up paid holidays to aid the company with a package of concessions worth $403 million, the union said Thursday.

In return, Chrysler said it would nominate UAW president Douglas A. Fraser for a seat on the board of directors and give the union a voice in pension fund decisions.

"We did break with 42 years of tradition and history," Fraser said in announcing the pact. Bargaining lasted more than 25 hours and more than three hours past a noon deadline, set up to speed negotiations.

The company's chief negotiator, William O'Brien, said he was "very pleased" with the contract.

Chrysler is seeking $750 million in federal loan guarantees. It estimates it will lose $1-billion in 1980, and will use the union concessions as a selling point to convince Congress it needs help.

In the tentative contract, the union agreed to defer $203 million in wages and benefits and, as announced previously, to defer for one year $200 million of this year's payment to the pension fund. Union members will get no paid days off other than vacation in the first year, compared with eight days for GM and Ford workers.

Fraser said Chrysler workers would return to parity with their counterparts at General Motors Corp. and Ford Motors Co. in the third year of the pact, which must be ratified over the next two weeks.

The union already has reached agreements with Ford and GM.

The pact also gives the union two long-sought social goals: the right to recommend investment policy for part of the pension fund, and the right to recommend investment sanctions against some companies it may designate for their South Africa policies.

In the most radical break with tradition, though not part of the contract, the company said in a statement that Chairman Lee A. Iacocca will submit Fraser's name to the board's nominating committee. Approval seemed assured at the May shareholder's meeting.

Organized labor has never taken a directorship in a major U.S. corporation, though it is required by law in some European countries.

Asked if he saw any conflict of interest in representing shareholders as well as workers, Fraser replied, "None at all. I'm going to represent the autoworkers on that board."

It is such a break with tradition that the preamble to the UAW constitution still says, "The worker does not seek to usurp management's functions or ask for a place on the board of directors of concerns where organized."

O'Brien, Chrysler's vice president for industrial relations, said the company was "delighted" about Fraser's directorship. He did not mention the company's stiff opposition to such an idea in the past.

Dallas girls still missing

Police have possible suspect

DALLAS (AP) — Police held a man today who fit the description of the kidnapper of a 7-year-old girl who has been missing for four days, but officers admitted they were not optimistic about the possible suspect.

"Chances are very slim that he will be the suspect," said Police Sgt. John Adamcik. "He's just another one of many people that fit the general description of the (kidnapper) and drive an automobile that may generally fit the description."

Elsewhere, police continued to search the city for blond Elizabeth Barclay, the firstgrader abducted Tuesday night as she walked to the store to buy some ice cream with her 3-year-old brother and 5-year-old boy.

The two little boys told police a husky black man in his 30s whisked Elizabeth into a black or gray 1974 Buick. Her playmates said the man told them, "I'm going to take her and throw her in the water."

The potential suspect was arrested Thursday night as they searched for 1974 dull gray Buicks.

The man, who was arrested on an outstanding traffic ticket, generally fit the description of the abductor. But Adamcik said, "Some of our investigators will talk to him, obtain photographs, get all the information as to his whereabouts on that particular day ... and chances are that he will be released."

More than 35 police officers used horses and helicopters to search creek beds, ravines and trash containers in Northwest Dallas Thursday, but found nothing.

Officers said mounted and tactical officers searched Mountain Creek Lake and an area roughly from Texas Stadium to Love Field and Irving Boulevard to Northwest Highway.

The courtyards around Elizabeth's northwest Dallas apartment, usually filled with playing children, remained silent Thursday.

"I'm going to keep my kids in here," a man said from his doorway. "I'm not going to let them out."

Elizabeth's family has offered a $5,000 reward for Elizabeth's safe return or the arrest and conviction of her abductor.

Elizabeth was the third young girl in the Dallas area abducted in the past two years.

The body of a 12-year-old Denton girl, Suzie Mages, was found behind a drive-in movie in southwest Dallas, and the body of 7-year-old Ladina McCoy was found along Interstate 20. Neither case has been solved.

Are you fed up Jimmy Dean?

Don't stop 'til you get enough

DALLAS (AP) — A country and western singer who became a sausage tycoon now has entered the arena of radio advertising, but some of his associates are concerned that the commercials won't sell sausage.

For one thing, they don't even mention sausage. Instead, they put Jimmy Dean's pet peeves to music with a twangy guitar in the background, attacking such things as slow mail service, welfare, income taxes and lost luggage.

For example: "A funny thing happened to the letter I mailed. Somewhere the Postal Service failed. "I think about it and it makes me sore. "Service gets worse and the stamps cost more. "Ain't that a mess? I'll take Pony Express. "Prob'ly get there a whole lot quicker."

That is one of about 10 little ditties that are running on radio stations in 10 markets. They're sponsored by the Jimmy Dean Sausage Co., and technically, they're commercials, even though no pitch is made to buy sausage.

The messages are the first recordings Dean, whose big hit a few years ago was "Big Bad John" has done in about two years, and he admits they're fun. But he admits, "I don't know if they'll sell sausage." Dean said he recorded the first one about mail service on impulse in Dallas after a letter took eight days to be delivered.

"I just sat down and started writin'. I had fun," he said. More of life's irritants popped into Dean's mind, and it was off to the studio again. Friends and associates chipped in ideas. More recordings.

Like: "Folks like us we break our backs. "Every day they hit us with a little more tax. "While we're out there breakin' our necks, some folks are cashin' them welfare checks. "Ain't that dandy? Plenty money handy. "That is if a feller don't wanna work."

Some of Dean's associates warned the mini-songs might backfire, but Dean is plunging ahead and said he hasn't had any negative feedback yet. The commercials have been airing for about seven days.

"I don't know (if it will hurt the sausage business). Some people said, 'Well, I don't know.' I said I don't care," Dean said.
