

Three American hostages free

By the Associated Press

Three American hostages freed from the U.S. Embassy in Tehran arrived in Western Europe today and Iranian militants appeared about to release 10 more for expulsion from the country.

A White House statement said if Iran attempts to put any of the remaining 49 U.S. hostages on trial for espionage, as Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini has threatened, it would be a "further flagrant violation" of international law.

Looking fit and well, a young woman secretary and two black Marine sergeants arrived in Copenhagen on a Scandinavian airliner and were immediately transferred to a U.S. military plane. They were flown to Frankfurt, West Germany, for a medical checkup at a military hospital.

A military source told The Associated Press the three were to be taken to the U.S. Army's 97th General Hospital in Frankfurt. The source, who asked not to be identified, did not rule out the possibility they might be transferred later to a larger hospital operated by the Air Force in nearby Wiesbaden.

State Department officials in Frankfurt refused to say how long the three would remain there, but in Washington officials said they were expected to stay at least two or three days for debriefings and tests.

Their release was the first break in the embassy siege that began Nov. 4.

A report by Radio that four more women and six more blacks had been freed and would leave Tehran later today was apparently premature. ABC News said one of its correspondents in Tehran reported the official radio was anticipating the release, and the 10 hostages had not actually been turned over to the Iranian Foreign Ministry yet for expulsion.

Reports from Tehran indicated the 10 may be paraded before microphones and cameras at a press conference tonight before release. Their names were not announced.

The first hostages freed were Katherine Gross, 22, of Cambridge Springs, Pa., a secretary in the economics section of the embassy, and Sgts. William E. Quarles of Washington, D.C., and Ladell Maples, 23, of Earle, Ark.

The State Department said U.S.

authorities in Germany would question them about the condition of the rest of the hostages. An official said those freed would be given "decompression time" to themselves during which reporters would be kept away from them.

The trio waved cheerfully to a crowd of reporters and photographers waiting at the Copenhagen airport, but U.S. Ambassador Warren D. Manshel rushed them into his limousine and drove them to the waiting U.S. Air Force DC-9. After boarding the military plane, they came back to the door to wave again to the reporters and photographers. But they shook their heads at questions shouted up to them.

The Air Force plane took off less than 20 minutes after the hostages arrived.

Miss Gross, Quarles and Maples were put on display at a news conference at the embassy Sunday and she told several hundred reporters:

"We haven't had any problems. We've been fed more than fairly. There haven't been any problems physically. Maybe people have been mentally upset, but other than that we haven't had any problems."

Avoids criticism of Arab opponents

Sadat speech marks anniversary

WADI RAHA, Egypt (AP) — President Anwar Sadat appealed from the foot of Mount Sinai today to the peoples of the world to strive for "goodness and the avoidance of bloodshed, violence and hatred."

In a 15-minute speech marking the second anniversary of his historic trip to Jerusalem, the Egyptian president praised "my two friends," President Carter and Prime Minister Menachem Begin of Israel for making peace between Egypt and Israel possible.

Noting that Moses, regarded as a prophet by Islam, Christianity and Judaism, is said to have received the Ten Commandments on Mount Sinai, Sadat said:

"In this place chosen by God Almighty, where the three faiths descended, here we have the reaffirmation of the noblest values of men: tolerance and co-existence between peoples."

He avoided all criticism of Arab opponents who have attacked him for making peace with the Jewish state and stressed reconciliation, saying he came with "a heart full of faith, brimming with love."

Sadat reaffirmed an earlier agreement with Israel which turned over this 600-square-mile portion of Sinai last Thursday and will allow Jews, Christians and Moslems to visit the historic site.

"I announce this place open as of today to all believers, to all the faithful from the three faiths, with no restrictions so that they may come and address the Lord," Sadat said.

"I hope that we can together, all the believers and the faithful, do something that would glorify this magnificent achievement on this sacred spot."

Sadat has proposed the building of a single house of worship for all three religions in the valley where the Children of Israel waited for Moses while he climbed to the 7,500-foot peak to receive the Commandments.

Before his speech, Sadat said prayers of thanksgiving and, to the accompaniment of a military band, hoisted the red, white and black Egyptian flag.

About 500 guests flew into the southern Sinai for the ceremony, including Israeli officials and a U.S. delegation headed by outgoing Mideast envoy Robert Strauss.

They mixed with several hundred Bedouin tribesmen, some on camels, and prominent Egyptian officials including cabinet members, members of parliament and the religious leaders of Egypt's Moslem, Christian and Jewish communities.

Strauss at a meeting with Sadat Sunday told him: "Thousands of years from today, when the nations of this region are living as one, it will be recorded that it began Nov. 19, 1977, when you had the courage to take that great step forward."

Sadat praised Carter and the American people for their help and understanding and said the anniversary celebration was "something very sentimental... a happy moment."

He was expected to use the occasion to emphasize to the other Arab states — most of which broke relations with Egypt after the Israeli-Egyptian peace treaty was signed in March — that negotiations are the surest way to recover territory occupied by Israel.

Israel, which captured the Sinai Desert in 1967, turned over the Mount Sinai portion of southern Sinai to Egypt last Thursday, two months ahead of schedule, so that Sadat could hold the anniversary celebration.

It was the fourth of six withdrawals that will return two-thirds of the peninsula to Egyptian control by early next year. Then the two countries are to establish diplomatic relations.

Despite improving Egyptian-Israeli relations, little headway has been made in the second phase of the peace effort — negotiations to formulate a plan for Palestinian self-government in the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River and in the Gaza Strip.

Israel threw up new obstacles to the negotiations last week by arresting one of the leading Arab mayors in the West Bank prior to deporting him and by announcing plans to build more Jewish settlements in the territory. But Sadat indicated he still believes agreement on an autonomy plan will be reached before next May, the target date set in the peace agreement.

"For sure we may have difficulties like this but we have to sit together and discuss it around the table like we agreed before instead of shouting at each other," he told reporters.

Clements attacks Carter for current energy bind

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas Gov. Bill Clements accused President Carter today of letting the country fall into another energy bind by failing to have a national energy program in force when the Iranian crisis broke out.

Clements led off an attack on the administration's energy policy in the opening general session of the Republican Governors' Association annual meeting.

In preliminary sessions Sunday, three GOP presidential candidates also said Carter should do more for the Americans being held captive in Iran.

Clements said the situation in Iran already "is directly impacting our oil supplies in the United States, although our country has been receiving only four percent of its full supplies from Iran."

"While I can appreciate and agree with the administration's decision to cut off our oil imports from Iran, I cannot excuse the fact that after nearly three years in office Mr. Carter has failed and is failing to develop a national energy policy which could free us from this kind of control by OPEC nations," he said.

"This recent turn of events is nothing but another chapter in what has happened with the oil embargo in 1973 and the Iranian turmoil this year and what will continue to happen unless we in the United States take the necessary steps to curtail our crippling dependence on imported oil and start producing our own."

The economy, already an issue in the 1980 race, was on today's program however, with former President Gerald R. Ford expected to attack President Carter on inflation.

Sen. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, former Texas Gov. John B. Connally, and Los Angeles businessman Benjamin Fernandez, all GOP presidential candidates, used the governors' forum Sunday to call for stronger action on behalf of Americans being held captive in the U.S. embassy in Tehran.

Although the candidate declined to say exactly what Carter should do about the situation in Iran, they agreed he should do more in light of new threats by Iranians to try the Americans for espionage.

"It is totally unacceptable for those Americans to stand trial in Iranian courts for espionage or anything else," Baker said. "It is unacceptable to the American people and it should be unacceptable to the American government."

Connally also said trial of the Americans "would be unacceptable. I don't think there's any question about that."

Baker, who is Senate minority leader, said he wanted to get his views on the record after talking with Carter and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance. But Connally complained that the other candidates were being asked to support Carter and not play politics with the situation without being briefed on it.

"What actions we could or should take, what options would be available to us, I would not want to try to spell out," Connally said. "Because I wouldn't have the information on which to base an informed judgment."

Baker said he discussed a wide range of options with Carter and Vance, but would not say what his own recommendations were.

"It is up to the president to decide how he wishes to proceed," Baker said. "We have a wide range of options and opportunities. And I would support him in any reasonable measure that he cares to take, and I believe the country would."

Both Baker and Connally declined to speculate on the advisability of military action in Iran, but Baker said the situation had become "totally unacceptable, and I think something must be done about it."

"I would not question that something more would have to be done than what we've already done," Connally agreed.

Fernandez said, "The minute an American is killed in Iran, I believe the United States must move forward aggressively to show the United States will not stand for any harm to its citizens."

He said Mexico City organizers invited him to go to Iran, but said he would decline unless he had assurances that the group could talk with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

Most of the country's 18 Republican governors are expected to attend the three-day meeting. Although today's program was built around economic issues, foreign policy returns to the spotlight on Tuesday, with a speech by former secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Probe reveals 12,700 recruited through fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) — An investigation of the Army's worst recruiting scandal since the end of the draft shows that up to 12,700 soldiers were enlisted through fraud or other irregular practices over the last two years, officials said today.

Opening the books on a six-month investigation, the Army told Congress that 427 recruiters have been relieved of their duties in the last year because of malpractice.

Officials said there was more malpractice among seasoned recruiters than among newer recruits. Many of those who lost their jobs had received awards for recruiting successes.

Seventy-five percent of the cases of fraudulent or irregular enlistments involved discrepancies in the educational records of potential recruits who had not graduated from high school, officials said.

Davis to attend Austin meeting

Big Spring City Manager Don Davis will meet with the Texas Water Development Board in Austin Tuesday to attempt to solicit funding for modifications of the water treatment plant here.

According to Davis, Mayor Wade Choate, mayor pro tem Ralph McLaughlin, City Finance Director Tom Ferguson, City Financial Advisor Joe Smith of Abilene, and engineer Roy Crim will also be present for the 8:30 a.m. meeting.

Big Spring officials will attempt to convince the board to purchase certificates of obligation. The bonds would produce financing of $1,950,000 for the treatment plant modifications.

Other cases involved illegal coaching for enlistment tests and concealment of police records, medical problems and dependents.

While readily acknowledging that recruiters are under pressure to meet recruiting goals, Army officials said the pressure is not overbearing.

"No one is forced to cheat in order to recruit for the Army," said Brig. Gen. Donald W. Connelly, head of a 55-member investigation task force set up last May.

Connelly, joined by Army Secretary Clifford Alexander and Lt. Gen. Robert G. Yerks, the Army's top personnel official, testified on the recruiting scandal before the Senate Armed Services manpower subcommittee.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., the panel's chairman and a skeptic about the all-volunteer military's ability to attract enough servicemen, said the administration is determined "to make the all-volunteer force work no matter what the cost or consequence."

Nunn noted that all branches of the service failed to meet their recruiting goals in the 12 months ending last Oct. 1, and said the Army and Navy are lowering the level of education needed for enlistment.

Alexander said the Army has never fallen more than 2 percent below its authorized manpower strength since the draft ended in 1973. It was 16,000 persons short of a goal of 158,700 new recruits in a recent 12-month period.

"Overall results have been very good," said Alexander. He blamed the shortages on the failure "to commit the resources necessary to make military service attractive in today's economic environment."

4-H curriculum main reason for success

Tropical fish, stamp collecting, antique autos, penmanship, enameling, riflery, ham curing, lapidary, square dancing, maple syrup, belly dancing, modeling, aerospace, calf roping and scuba diving....

There are two things that all of these subjects have in common. First, they can be found in the dictionary, and second...they are all 4-H projects offered some place in the country.

4-H has traditionally been described by such adjectives as "modern," "flexible" and "expanding." The curriculum of the program is one of the main reasons for the success of 4-H. Not only the curriculum itself, but the way it comes about.

In some of the more traditional 4-H programs curriculum materials may be developed at the national or state level and then offered to the local level. This process, though, often operates in reverse. A club or county, to meet the needs or interests of their local youth, will try a new activity or offer a new project. The project is often requested by kids themselves. This is the 4-H program "flexibility" we talk about. This is what keeps 4-H current and meaningful. And often if the local program is a success, it may become a state program or even a national program, offering learning materials, leader training materials, training aids, and scholarships.

4-H has come a long way in the last 75 years from the early girl's canning clubs and boy's corn clubs. Yet, these too, still survive in various shapes and forms in most states. Food preservation remains a popular project in 4-H. Nutrition and health remain top priority areas in 4-H. One of the

Swift justice for alien

HONOLULU (AP) — Deportation is expected to be swift for an unwanted and outlawed alien from the Far East apparently being harbored here for the past several years.

A police officer at the Bellows Air Force recreation facility near Honolulu spotted the 12½-foot, 80-pound Burmese python slithering across a road Saturday — and drove onto its tail to keep it from escaping.

The huge snake, which will be extradited to a mainland zoo, was in custody today at the Honolulu Zoo, where keepers speculated the well-fed python was probably someone's pet. Such a pet is illegal in Hawaii, where state law allows only two such snakes, both males, to be kept at the Honolulu Zoo. Zoo officials say the python apparently was brought into Hawaii as a baby, noting it would be a bit difficult to slip the grown python past customs inspectors.

Monkey evades capture

STRONGSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — BULLETIN: Seldom Seen Sr. has been seen.

The elusive Japanese snow monkey, missing since June from the Columbus Zoo, may have escaped capture in the Cleveland suburb of Strongsville, police say. Police said the 7-year-old monkey was believed to have been spotted Sunday before it disappeared into woods.

Seldom Seen and his three-year-old offspring, Seldom Seen Jr., escaped from an unlocked cage at the zoo. The younger monkey was captured Thursday in a barn in Upper Sandusky. The older monkey was believed to have been spotted Wednesday at LaGrange.

The monkeys have been foraging for fruit, vegetables and bread. Zoo officials said they hope once leaves fall from trees it will be easier to find Seldom Seen — at least until it snows.

Reverse beauty pageant

CLEVELAND (AP) — The blushing beauty pageant contestants, clad in tight swimsuits, paraded through onlookers who patted thighs and administered an occasional pinch.

"This has been really weird," said one of the six contestants — all men — who put their charms on display before an audience of women. "Now I recognize what women go through."

The contest at Case Western Reserve University was arranged by lecturer Warren Farrell, author of "The Liberated Man: Freeing Men and Their Relationships With Women."

Farrell lined up the men and told women in the audience to pick the ones they wanted to date. The men were told to decide which women they would date based on their salaries and what the women would be doing five years in the future.

"For most women, their body is what will determine the financial support they will have for the rest of their lives," Farrell said in a recent interview. "For every laugh we had, there was a serious message."

Careful shopping cuts spending

The government has predicted that food prices could go up by as much as 11 percent in 1980, but you don't have to pay the higher prices if you shop carefully.

Economists at Citibank, the country's second-biggest commercial bank, recently priced a random market-basket of 36 food and non-food items at a New York City supermarket.

They found that a careful shopper rang up a bill of $51.08. A careless shopper, without paying much attention to price, paid $83.39 for the same products. The careful shopper saved 39 percent — more than three times as much as the maximum price boost predicted for next year.

Shopping to save takes time and effort. But the trouble may be worth it. Suppose you spend $60 a week on food. Assume you can save just 15 percent by spending an extra hour on shopping — clipping coupons, comparing prices, planning menus around specials. That comes out to $9 a week. That's more than $450 a year. How many hours would you have to work to earn enough to save $450?

Some of the savings reported by the Citibank shoppers were dramatic. One brand of vinegar, for example, cost more than twice as much as another — 34 cents a quart versus 79 cents. Three pounds of onions, purchased loose, cost 69 cents. The same amount, packaged in a bag, carried a price tag of $1.77.

Here are some of the things you can do to save money: —Check newspaper ads before you shop. Circle specials and buy those products at the store that offers the best deal.

—Compare prices on non-sale goods. A 10-cent saving on an advertised special is no bargain if a store's regular prices are higher than the competition.

—Try to plan your spending and shop less often. Each time you enter the supermarket, you're vulnerable to impulse buying; fewer trips mean fewer potential temptations.

—Look for unit prices so you can compare different sizes. The larger size is usually — but not always — cheaper.

—Inspect store displays carefully. A special display doesn't always mean a special price.

—Suit quality to use. No-frills brands in plain packages often offer equal nutrition at much lower prices.

We're glad you asked!

WITH TOMMY WHATLEY SHEPPARD FUNERAL HOME

SHOULD MY WIFE HAVE A WILL, TOO?

If your wife owns property, solely or jointly, or if she is heir to an estate, she should have a will of her own. This applies in quite a few other cases, too.

Husband and wife may be double victims of a fatal accident. The husband may have designated his wife as major beneficiary in his will. Without the wife's having a will of her own, distribution of her share of the estate will not have been provided for. Her share may be subject to state laws, tying it up for long periods right when it may be needed.

If the wife is a business partner in a family business, it is to the firm's advantage to have its business continuity assured by her having a will.

After the man has made his will, he should discuss with his lawyer a separate will for the wife. Above all, be sure to consult your attorney. We've seen bad situations arise because no wills were made or because they were drawn up by amateurs.

Black America Paid Its Dues

DEAR ABBY: In listing the various peoples who came from other countries to build America, there was no mention of the blacks who came from Africa. Should they not be credited with giving America gospel music and jazz and the blues?

BLACK AND PROUD

DEAR PROUD: Yes. But the blacks contributed much more than music. For decades they worked our fields, cleaned our homes, cooked our meals, nursed our babies and fought our wars. Against tremendous odds, they managed to produce such outstanding Americans as George Washington Carver, Booker T. Washington, A. Philip Randolph, Jesse Owens, Marian Anderson, Jackie Robinson, Ralph Bunche, Thurgood Marshall, Andrew Young and too many more to mention here.

But it took a Civil Rights Act (1964) to grant blacks equal rights and make racial discrimination illegal.

DEAR ABBY: I am amazed that the British didn't get a special mention for their contributions to America. They gave us the very foundation for our nation!

They gave us not only George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin, but most of our founding fathers. And of course, they gave us our language.

Our law is based on British common law.

Also, the British dominance in literature, combined with the English language, provided a tradition that gave us many of our own outstanding literary figures.

D.L. IN MICHIGAN

DEAR D.L.: You're right, or course. May heaven forgive me, and God save the king!

DEAR ABBY: When I was divorced two years ago, I gave my husband custody of our 2-year-old daughter because I felt that he was a more patient, responsible and capable parent than I. I pay a monthly support, so it's not as though I wanted an easy out from parenthood.

My problem is my grandparents who live in another state. They haven't spoken to me since my divorce because they think I'm "disgusting" for having given up my child. I've written to them, explaining my reasons for my actions. I've sent gifts at holiday time, but have been ignored. I've telephoned them, but the minute they hear my voice, they hang up on me! I've begged them to see me, but they refuse. They see my child once or twice a month, so they're not being deprived of their great-grandchild.

Abby, it hurts terribly to be treated this way. How can I get back in their good graces?

REJECTED IN RENO

DEAR REJECTED: You've done all you can. Quit crawling and begging. You didn't deserve to be rejected in the first place. I think it took a great deal of character and unselfishness to have given up your child for the reasons you did. I hope time will soften their hearts and harsh judgment of you. If it doesn't, they will be the biggest losers.

TWEEN 12 and 20

Lullaby ruled out

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: On school nights, I've got to be in bed at 10 p.m. because I've got to get up at 6 a.m. After I turn out my lights, I listen to music on my radio but my dad threatens to take it away because he doesn't think I get enough sleep.

I feel well rested every day and I have an A school average.

Your comments please. — Cherril, Ogden, Utah.

Cherril: Sorry but I'm with Dad. Eight hours of sleep for a teen is just a minimum. Catch up on your music listening on the weekends.

Dr. Wallace: My mother just became a Realtor and she needs the phone for business. I enjoy talking to my friends on the phone but my dad intends to restrict my phone calls to before 6 p.m. when all my friends are too busy to talk.

They won't get another phone for the rest of the family and when I ask them for a solution, they tell me not to talk on the phone.

Do you think this is fair? I'm 16. — Toni, Fullerton, Calif.

Toni: It's important that Mom gets her calls but no calls after 6 p.m. is a little severe.

I think all incoming calls for you should be allowed and should last no more than five minutes. You should also be allowed one 10-minute call per evening. After all, 20 or so minutes an evening shouldn't be too damaging to Mom's business.

Dr. Wallace: After going with a boy for two weeks, I have decided to break up with him. I like him but I just want to be friends — nothing serious.

Well, I told a couple of my girlfriends what I planned to do and, of course, they blabbed it all over school.

Kids are coming up to me and saying things like, "Don't break up with X. He likes you so much." or "X will be so sad when you dump him."

I'm the type of person who hates to hurt people's feelings so now I'm confused and don't know what to do. I'm going to stay with him until I see what you have to say. Please help as I'm taking this very seriously. — Kristie, Alliance, Ohio

Kristie: Break up with this boy. It's the only fair thing to do. Relationships held together by sympathy and pity are very weak and seldom last too long.

Write to Dr. Robert Wallace, TWEEN 12 and 20 in care of this newspaper. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Clubhouse

Hyperions review books

The 1905 Hyperion Club met Nov. 15 in the ranch home of Mrs. Aubry Stokes, with Mrs. Jim Lewis as co-hostess.

"What We Are Thankful For" was the response given by 22 members for the roll call. Mrs. Chesley McDonald, president, conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. D.O. Gray introduced the program by a reference to diamonds since Adam and Eve. Mrs. O.T. Brewster was the panel moderator.

"Myths and Legends of the Home" was the theme discussed by the panel. Mrs. Earl Ezzell reviewed "Look Homeward Angel" by Thomas Wolf. Mrs. McDonald discussed William Faulkner's "The Sound and The Fury." Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth" was reviewed by Mrs. Edwin Chappell and Mrs. Ritch Anderson discussed Piobaroja's "The Restlessness of Shanti Andia."

The central theme was the effects of fossilization of tradition and the search for false goals, the conflicts of two worlds — intellectual and materialistic. The traditional ruling class is usually moral, but then the tradition becomes divitized and there is a lapse from moral standards and they hide their lapses — Only a facade is left.

Mrs. G.T. Hall presented pamphlets and suggestions on ways to conserve energy. The Christmas meeting will be on Dec. 13.

Mrs. Ross to demonstrate oil painting

Roberta Ross will demonstrate painting with oils on Onasburg, a heavy slub material, to the Big Spring Art Association Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The group will meet in Kentwood Older Adult Center.

Two art shows are to be held in Seminole and Andrews. The show at Seminole will be accepting entries Nov. 28 in the Gaines County Civic Building at 402 N.W. 5th in Seminole. Purchase prizes totaling $2,200 are being offered to artists entering this show which will be judged by Dale Hamlett of Eastern New Mexico University, Portales. The show will close Dec. 2.

Artists may bring their entries to the Civic Building in Andrews on the Big Spring Highway Nov. 29 and pick them up Dec. 2. This show has purchased prizes totaling $1,500. Stan Jacobs of Midland will be the judge.

Twelve attend luncheon

A luncheon meeting at Alberto's was attended by 12 members of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club Nov. 15. The Christmas meeting will be held Dec. 3.

Lanette Brooks gave the program on Spotting Forgery and Counterfeiting as a report on a meeting she attended in Dallas. A discussion followed with a question and answer period.

Helen Draper won the capsule fund.

Club learns to make decorations

The Gay Hill 4-H Club met at the Gay Hill School Nov. 12. Joie Brummett, president, called the meeting to order.

The program, "How To Make Christmas Decorations," was presented by Anna Proctor and Tanya Hollis. Refreshments were served by Kevin and Duncan Hamlin.

Coahoma homemakers give gifts

Members of the Coahoma Extension Homemakers Club brought gifts for the Big Spring State Hospital Christmas program to their Thanksgiving luncheon Dec. 14 at 11 a.m. in Furr's Cafeteria.

Mrs. B.L. Mason presided over the brief business meeting attended by eight members and two guests, Mrs. Joe Nixon and Kelli

Long hair makes clean comeback

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Teenage girls are wearing their hair longer says a survey just released from Seventeen Magazine. Over half the girls surveyed said their hair is longer than last year, and 65 per cent of the girls wear their hair shoulder length or below the shoulder.

Clean hair is a high priority for today's teen since 45 per cent of the girls shampoo their hair every day or more often. Teen girls are also very concerned with keeping their hair in place since almost 42 per cent use hair spray, as compared to only 28 percent reported in Seventeen's 1977 Hair Care Survey.

There has been a dramatic increase in the use of permanents too, with nearly 42 per cent of all teen girls having had a home or salon permanent within the past year.

Copies of "Seventeen's Hair Care Survey 1979," compiled from the first 1,391 returns of questionnaires sent to one of the magazine's 2,000 member Consumer Panels, are available from the Research Department.

To retaliate or not, that is the question

WASHINGTON (AP) — However the bizarre drama in Iran ends, President Carter will be left with a delicate foreign policy and political problem that might be a pivotal point in his presidency. On the one hand, Carter will be pressed to retaliate against Iran, to demonstrate to American voters and the world that he is a strong leader who will not allow the United States to be flouted. Failure to do so would undoubtedly jeopardize his hopes for re-election. But weighing against massive retaliation will be advisers telling him that whatever measures he chooses, they must not be so severe as to endanger the long-range chances of protecting Western interests in a critical part of the world. For, despite the rabid anti-Americanism of the Tehran mobs, experts in and out of government say it is still possible that Iran will remain a source of oil for the West and a barrier to the expansion of Soviet influence in the Middle East. Once the crisis ends, Iran is likely to be in turmoil, say State Department officials who are unwilling to be quoted directly while the hostages are still being held. There are few organized and disciplined political power centers left in the country. One is the Islamic clergy, headed by the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. But the clergy has yet to demonstrate that it has the political skill necessary to govern the country. Another is the Marxist left, which, although it is small, has the virtues of being armed and organized. Thus far, the Marxists have run into solid anticommunist opposition from the Islamic revolutionaries. Two other key groups are the military and the middle class. But they are in disarray, their leaders either gone or discredited, with no man or organization to rally around. The shah virtually destroyed responsible, democratic opposition. A social democratic group emerged after the revolution, led by Prime Minister Mehdi Bazargan. But his government fell early in the current crisis.

Citing this vacuum, one State Department official said his best estimate is that Iran will be in a state of "low-level anarchy," with the clergy nominally in control but unable to bring order to the country or pacify separatists like the Kurds, who will seek to take advantage of the central government's disarray.

This official acknowledged that in such conditions, the Marxist groups may well be able to gain influence if they time their moves carefully and appear to be the only group to offer stability, justice and progress to the people.

How Carter balances reprisals with restraint could help determine which scenario eventually unfolds in Iran.

But in choosing among his options, Carter would have to weigh whether they might undercut the very forces which, if encouraged, might enable the United States to reestablish decent relations with Iran.

Connally closes behind Reagan in straw poll

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Although Republican residential candidates Edward Baker and John Connally are trying to play down the recent straw votes they lost, both agree they are going to have to beat frontrunner Ronald Reagan soon.

Baker, the Senate minority leader from Tennessee, and Connally, a former Texas governor and ex-treasury secretary, talked about the campaign during their visits to the Republican Governors Association convention Sunday.

"We've got to start beating Reagan before March and Illinois, or we're going to have a tough time beating him," Connally said.

Connally said he would not drop out of the GOP nomination race if he is beaten in the Illinois primary, but he added, "If we do not have enough support by the time that March comes, we will be hard pressed to say when we will beat him."

Connally finished second to Reagan in a straw vote taking Saturday at the Florida state convention. Reagan got 36.4 percent of the vote, Connally 26.6 percent and Baker less than 1 percent.

Connally called his second place "a significant victory." But Baker, who released his supporters before the voting took place, tried to brush aside the whole thing.

"I think we're past the place now where the exhibition games and the preliminaries are out of the way and we're past the season of straw polls, thank goodness," Baker said. "And we're going to move on to the business of selecting delegates."

Baker, who was in Iowa Saturday campaigning for that state's January caucuses, said the real fight would come in the early primaries and caucuses and agreed with Connally that he will have to beat the frontrunners quickly in some state to stay in the race.

"The main event has just begun," Baker said. In a forum staged for the candidates by the governors, Los Angeles businessman Benjamin Fernandez predicted he would be the early frontrunner with a victory in Puerto Rico, where he has strong support because of his Hispanic heritage.

Former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen, who is 72, criticized the Carter administration for "an overgrown staff of juveniles stumbling around the White House."

Sen. Larry Pressler of South Dakota, who is 37, said the party and the country "should seriously consider electing a president in the prime of his life for such a demanding job."

Martin: "Redskins have no class"

Pokes get bad-blood transfusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins have made the National Football Conference East as tight as it can be, but a last-second field goal against Dallas may come back to haunt them.

"The Redskins have no class," said Dallas defensive end Harvey Martin after Washington won 34-20 Sunday. "When they get us down they want to rub it in our face. That's great. Maybe that's what it's gonna take to wake up this ball club."

"It was totally an insult," he said. "It got me in a frame of mind just to hate the Redskins."

With 14 seconds remaining in the game, and Washington ahead 31-20, the Redskins took possession of the ball and immediately called a time out to bring on the field goal kicking team.

Mark Moseley then boosted his second field goal of the day, a 45-yarder that came with only nine seconds left.

Coach Jack Pardee and Redskins players justified the field goal because of the closeness of the NFC East, with Dallas, Washington and Philadelphia all tied for first with records of 8-4 with four games to play.

"The way this division is going the point differential could be involved," said Pardee. "Taking a field goal that is nearly a gimme is not running it up."

Asked about the possibility of stirring up bad blood between the two teams, Pardee replied, "There's not too much good blood to begin with."

"Look at what they did to us a year ago," he declared. "Using play-action bombs (late in the Cowboys 37-10 Thanksgiving Day victory) is running it up."

Quarterback Joe Theismann threw three touchdown passes — a 4-yarder to John McDaniel, a 10-yarder to Clarence Harmon and an 11-yarder to Ricky Thompson to spark the Redskins offense as the defense blitzed the Cowboys, picking up six sacks, three interceptions and two fumble recoveries.

"This was one of the best football games we played, offensively, defensively and special teams," said Theismann. "It was a classic."

Dallas Coach Tom Landry, who agreed with Pardee on the field goal and the closeness of the NFC East race, said, "We're in a lot of trouble. We haven't played very good football for some time."

"We have been beaten three times in the last four games and haven't played with much emotion. Maybe we're not hungry."

Quarterback Roger Staubach said, "We had some good plays, some good chances and we didn't take advantage of them. They beat us with the blitz."

Redskins defensive end Coy Bacon, who had two sacks, said, "There is no doubt in my mind that if we keep playing like this, we'll get in the playoffs."

Defensive tackle Diron Talbert, a long-time Dallas-baiter, said, "It's always fun to play the Cowboys and to beat them."

As for the field goal, which came after Talbert called the time out, he said, "If it had been a 50 or 55 yarder, we would be trying to run the points up. It was just a short chip shot for Mark."

However, Dallas substitute quarterback Danny White, who got the Cowboys a touchdown with a 9-yard toss to Drew Pearson late in the game, talked for many of his teammates when he said:

"They rubbed our nose in it with the field goal," he said. "We will remember it. It will be something to remember in a couple of weeks and get us fired up."

"They love it now," White continued, "but it may come back to haunt them." The teams closed out their seasons against each other in Dallas Dec. 16.

BELL GAINS GROUND — Tampa Bay Buccaneer running back Ricky Bell makes his way through New York Giants defenders as Brian Kelly of the Giant's moves in to tackle. Bell gained over 100 yards in the first half of play as the Bucs beat the Giants 31-3.

Weekend NFL Action Tied!

By The Associated Press

Because neither of them played particularly like Super Bowl teams, Pittsburgh and Dallas find themselves tied at the top of their respective National Football League divisions today.

Both the Steelers and Cowboys, who met in last January's Super Bowl, drowned in a sea of turnovers Sunday.

Pittsburgh saw its four-game winning streak go up in flames as San Diego intercepted five passes and turned four of them into Charger touchdowns and a 35-7 rout of the defending champions. The loss, combined with Houston's 42-21 victory over Cincinnati, left the Steelers and Oilers tied for first place in the American Conference Central race.

Eagles 16, Cardinals 13

Ron Jaworski hit Keith Krepfle with a 40-yard TD pass play in the fourth quarter, giving Philadelphia its victory over St. Louis and a share of the NFC East lead.

Broncos 38, 49ers 28

Craig Morton threw three TD passes and Bob Swenson returned a fumble 88 yards for another score as Denver won its fourth straight.

The Broncos had to come from behind after San Francisco, held to just 88 yards in the first half, nevertheless moved to a 21-10 lead. Rookie James Owens returned a kickoff 85 yards for a 49er TD.

Patriots 50, Colts 21

New England recovered from last week's 42-7 drubbing by Denver, getting its revenge at the expense of Baltimore. Steve Grogan passed for two TDs and Stanley Morgan returned a punt 80 yards for another.

"It was our turn to mushroom instead of getting mushroomed," said New England Coach Ron Erhardt, recalling the Denver debacle.

Browns 30, Dolphins 24

Cleveland moved within one game of Houston and Pittsburgh in the AFC Central by beating Miami in overtime. Brian Sipe's 34-yard TD pass to Ozzie Newsome with 1:21 left to play tied the score and then Sipe hit Reggie Rucker with 39-yarder less than two minutes into the overtime for the victory.

Seahawks 36, Saints 24

Jim Zorn, who passed for 384 yards, threw TD passes to Steve Largent and Brian Peets in the final 6:16, snapping a 24-24 tie to defeat New Orleans.

The late TDs were the third and fourth of the game for Zorn as the Seahawks won their fourth game in the last five weeks and evened their season's record at 6-6. New Orleans also is 6-6.

Bucs 31, Giants 3

Doug Williams threw a pair of TD passes to Larry Mucker and Ricky Bell rushed for 152 yards, 102 in the first half, as Tampa Bay ripped New York. Linebacker David Lewis scored another TD, returning a Phil Simms fumble 39 yards as the Bucs avenged an earlier 17-14 defeat.

"We were magnificent," decided Tampa Bay Coach John McKay.

Chiefs 24, Raiders 21

Kansas City won its first game in the Oakland Coliseum in 13 years, beating the Raiders when Jim Breach missed an 18-yard field goal in the final seconds.

Ken Stabler threw three TD passes for the Raiders and nearly pulled out the game, moving Oakland 74 yards in the final two minutes only to have Breach miss the field goal that would have sent the game into overtime.

The victory ended a five-game losing streak for the Chiefs.

Bears 23, Jets 13

Mike Phipps moved Chicago to its fourth straight victory, throwing two TD passes in the triumph over New York.

Dave Williams scored twice for the Bears, who moved their record to 7-5 and stayed two games behind Tampa Bay in the NFC Central.

Bills 19, Packers 12

Nick Mike-Mayer kicked four field goals and Buffalo broke a fourth quarter tie with its only TD of the game — a 1-yard burst by Mike Collier — which delivered the victory over Green Bay.

Mike-Mayer's field goals traveled 37, 34, 31 and 32 yards and then the running of Terry Miller and Curtis Brown positioned the ball for Collier's winning TD.

Vikings 14, Lions 7

Rickey Young scored both Minnesota TDs in the second half on runs of 23 and two yards as Detroit suffered its 11th loss in 12 games. The victory ended a three-game slide for Minnesota and moved its record to 5-7.

Aggies picked as b-ball champs

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — Southwest Conference basketball coaches have picked the Texas Aggies to win the 1979 championship.

"Texas A&M could play in the NBA this year. They have so much talent," said Baylor coach Jim Haller in a typical comment about A&M's prospects for the coming season which begins conference play in January.

Texas A&M was selected at the annual SWC basketball coaches annual press day the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport Marina Hotel.

"The Aggies have more pure basketball talent than any team in this

Nielsen shines as reliever

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers Coach Bum Phillips hasn't gone to his bull pen too often this season but there was no loss in efficiency Sunday when he called on Gifford Nielsen to relieve injured quarterback Dan Pastorini.

Pastorini had completed 10 of 13 passes for 182 yards when he was gouged in the eye by Cincinnati defensive tackle Eddie Edwards in the second quarter with the Oilers leading 21-7.

Without any change in tempo, Nielsen shook off four games of inactivity, completing his first six passes and leading the Oilers to a 42-21 victory that enable the Oilers to tie Pittsburgh for the American Football Conference's Central Division lead.

"I was happy that I got the opportunity," said Nielsen, a second-year pro from Brigham Young. "I hate to see anything happen to Dan but I have to always be ready to perform."

Nielsen's performance included 10 of 16 passes for 139 yards and a seven-yard pass to running back Rob Carpenter that boosted the Oilers to a 9-3 record, equal to Pittsburgh, which lost to

San Diego 35-7.

Nielsen had not played in the past four Oilers games.

"I knew when he (Pastorini) went down that I'd be coming in for at least one play," Nielsen said. "We had the lead when I came in and we built the lead."

Pastorini, recently recovered from a shoulder injury that had hampered his passing, built a 21-7 second quarter lead around a two-yard run by Earl Campbell, Carpenter's three-yard run, and a 17-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mike Barber.

Then, with 3:45 to go in the Best of weakest meet tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 1979 National Football League season has not been a banner year for either the Los Angeles Rams or Atlanta Falcons, but both teams are fortunate in one regard — they're in pro football's weakest division.

Going into tonight's nationally televised contest, both the 5-6 Rams and 4-7 Falcons are still well in the thick of the NFC West race.

Los Angeles, in fact, can move into a tie for the division lead with a victory over the Falcons, since New Orleans fell to 6-6 via a 38-24 loss to Seattle on Sunday. And in a division where 500 is tops, the Falcons can move within a game of first with a triumph over the Rams, who are favored by a touchdown in this meeting.

As an example of what kind of year it's been for the Rams, they're hoping against hope that their No. 2 quarterback, Vince Ferragamo, can start against the Falcons.

Injury-riddled Los Angeles, NFC West champions the past six years, has lost starter Pat Haden for the season with a broken finger, and backup Ferragamo — who has never started an NFL game — has been sidelined since Oct. 14 with a broken bone in his throwing hand.

Bob Lee, the 11-year NFL veteran who formerly played for Atlanta and Minnesota, has been with the Rams for less than two weeks, and he and rookie Jeff Rutledge are the other Los Angeles

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, NOV. 20, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Double check your judgment early in the day and make sure it is correct. Find new ways that can increase your income in the future. Study whatever has been puzzling you in the past.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be sure you have correct data before making any important decisions today. Be alert to new opportunities now present.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your mate is cooperative so make the most of this now. Your intuition will improve as the day gets longer.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use caution in whatever you do early in the day, but later all goes smoothly and you can throw caution to the winds.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure your activities are well scheduled before you start working. Strive for more harmony with family members.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be sure to handle difficult work early in the day so you will have more time for social activities later in the day.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study new interests that could be profitable in the future. Make sure you invest money wisely and well. Be more cheerful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Contact higher-ups who can give the support you need at this time. The evening is fine for social pleasure with congenials.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't take any chances with money in the morning or you could regret it later. Don't let an outsider take advantage of you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Morning is not the time to go after personal goals, but the rest of the day is fine. Friends can bring you pleasure in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Concentrate on how best to solve problems that have been puzzling to you in the past. Health treatments can be helpful to you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day for seeing as many persons as you can, either for business or personal reasons. Show that you have wisdom.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan how to expand in your line of endeavor. Be sure not to let an opponent upset you in any way. Relax in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be able to comprehend anything having large scope to it, be projects or philosophies. There could be fame and wealth in this chart. Teach good manners and give good religious training early in life.

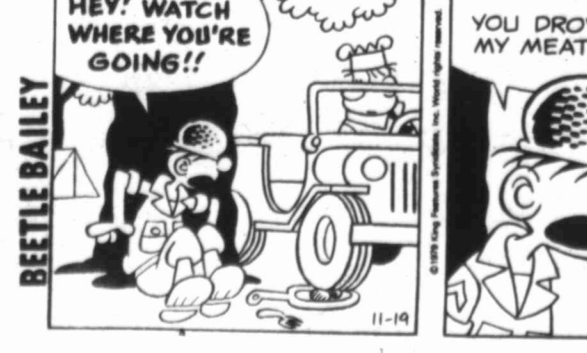

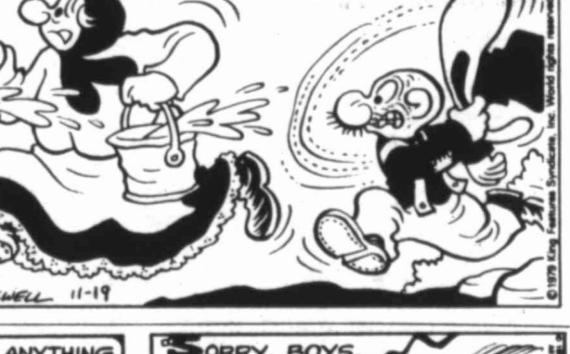

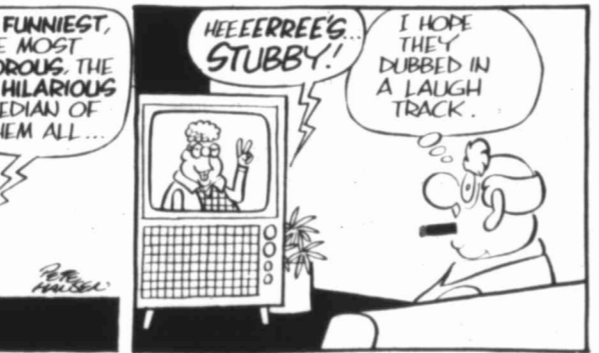

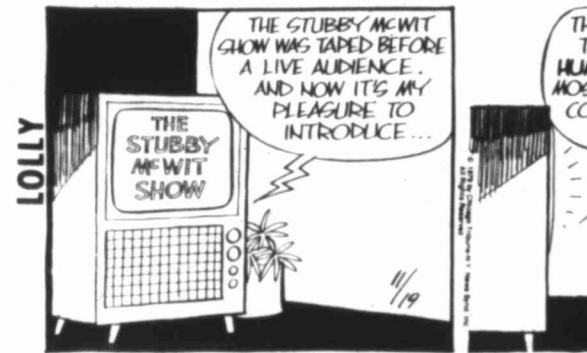

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Two grades of gasoline sell for more than $1

Motorists driving in Texas during the Thanksgiving Weekend will find that the average prices of two grades of gasoline have passed the $1 a gallon mark.

A statewide survey of 419 service stations by the American Automobile Association indicates that premium gas is now selling at full-service pumps for an average of $1.001 per gallon, compared to 98.8 cents last month. The average price of premium unleaded fuel passed $1 gallon last month and has remained steady at $1.002 per gallon. Prices for all grades of gasoline have increased approximately 1 cent per gallon since last month.

Gasoline availability remains about the same as last month with 44 percent of the stations surveyed open on Sundays, 38 percent open weekday nights and 56 percent open Saturday nights. In October, the corresponding percentages were 42, 37 and 58. Forty-seven percent of the stations surveyed said they expect to be open on Thanksgiving Day.

As in October, the survey showed that 6 percent of the stations are selling gasoline 24 hours a day, and only 2 percent report that they are out of any grade of fuel. No supply problems are expected over the holiday weekend.

Current average full-service gasoline prices (October's prices in PARENTHESES ARE: Regular 94.6 cents per gallon (93.7); unleaded 98.2 (97.1); premium 1.001 (98.8); and premium unleaded 1.002 (1.002). Average self-service prices are: Regular 91.4 (90.5); unleaded 95.7 (94.4); premium 97.4 (96.3); and premium unleaded 98.0 (98.3). The average price of diesel fuel is 98.1 cents per gallon, compared to 97.3 last month.

At this same time last year, average full-service prices were: Regular 83.6 cents per gallon; unleaded 66.8; and premium 68.8. Average self-service prices were: Regular 57.7; unleaded 62.2; and premium 64.2. Diesel fuel averaged 57.5 cents per gallon.

High plains to harvest nearly half of cotton

Sixteen counties on the southern high plains will harvest around 2.6 million bales of cotton this year, nearly half of the state's projected 5.7 million bales and a regional increase of more than one million over last year's harvest.

percent complete by early November.

American-Pima cotton production is estimated at 32,000 bales, up 20 percent from last year but down 1,000 bales or three percent from last month. Yield is expected to average 512 pounds per harvested acre.

Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Gaines, Dawson, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Midland and Glasscock counties are expected to produce 1,125,000 more bales of cotton than they did last year, giving the state its biggest harvest in 30 years.

County yields should average 404 pounds per acre, up from 259 last year. More than 3 million acres are anticipated for harvest.

According to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service sees this year's crop as 50 percent higher than last year's and four percent above 1977's. If figures are realized, the 1979 crop will be the largest since the 1949 production of 6.04 million bales.

The Nov. 1 forecast is up 100,000 bales or 2 percent from the previous month. Harvested acreage, estimated at 6.9 million, is unchanged. Yield is expected to average 397 pounds of lint per harvested acre, compared with 294 for 1978 and 407 for 1977.

Cotton quality has been good except for early ginnings on the High Plains which have reflected low micronaire readings. Statewide harvest was 36
