Hostages released in El Paso

Skyjack attempt flops

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — FBI agents said they subdued a Massachusetts man who hijacked an American Airlines 727 jet with 71 persons aboard at El Paso International Airport Saturday about 3½ hours after the incident began. No shots were fired, and no injuries were reported.

Just before the announcement, a group of persons could be seen leaving the plane through a rear door. Shortly after, armed officers boarded the plane.

The man was identified as Gerald James Hill Jr., 18, of Chester, Mass., according to FBI Special Agent Roger Terrazas. Hill had demanded to be taken to Iran.

Hill, dressed in blue jeans, a plaid shirt and tennis shoes, was arraigned Saturday afternoon before U.S. District Judge William S. Sessions, who set bond at $500,000.

The federal complaint against Hill alleged he interfered with the flight attendants and crew members by assaulting, intimidating or threatening them with a "large knife" and with threats of dynamiting the plane.

Sessions said the charge carries a maximum sentence of life in prison because a deadly weapon was involed. FBI agents said in the complaint that at one time during negotiations he told officers he had a stick of very old dynamite and that it could blow up very easily and "it would make a big hole in the airplane."

FBI agents said Hill carried a knife but did not have any dynamite.

In the complaint filed by assistant U.S. Attorney Kenneth Mighel, agents said that Hill stated he would make three demands. The first was to be taken to Kennedy Airport in New York and the other two would come after the jet was airborne.

Sessions said he would appoint a lawyer for Hill Saturday, but he also scheduled another hearing Monday morning to further discuss appointment of counsel. A preliminary hearing was set for Friday.

Hill was interrogated at the federal building in El Paso but gave officials no reason for his demand to travel to Iran.

Agents said Hill told them he is a former paratrooper who served at Ft. Benning, Ga.

A Ft. Benning spokesman said Hill was released from the service during infantry training because "he couldn't adjust to the military."

"I don't know anything about the paratrooper business he talked about," said Staff Sgt. David Bristow of the Ft. Benning public information office.

Hill took control of American flight 395 as it landed on schedule at El Paso. The flight originated in San Antonio and was bound for Los Angeles.

CALL TO AMERICA — Young Iranian girls about anti-American slogans outside the US embassy in Iran Saturday, as militant Islamic students continue to hold 50 hostages inside the compound. The crowd gathered round the embassy gates call continually for President Carter to return the former Shah to Iran for trial.

Entebbe-style rescue of American hostages nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's military options in Iran are not expected to include a lightning Entebbe-style rescue of the hostages — no airborne assault behind a cry of "Remember the Mayaguez."

Military experts agree that any such effort to free the 49 Americans held by students at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran would result in many casualties and be doomed to failure. Most likely the hostages would be killed, they say.

Some analysts believe the closest precedent to the United States' current Iranian dilemma is the 1968 capture of the USS Pueblo by North Korea. In that incident, the United States was forced to stand by helplessly as the Pueblo crew members were imprisoned on the Korean mainland.

Sources both inside and outside government say there are few comparisons between the Iranian crisis and the dramatic Israeli raid which freed 94 hostages at the Entebbe airport in Uganda three years ago. Even the 1975 American rescue of the crewmen of the merchant ship Mayaguez from the hands of Cambodian troops cannot be repeated in the Iranian situation. In the Mayaguez operation, the 39 merchant seamen were rescued, but 41 U.S. servicemen were killed and 50 wounded.

"I don't think you can make any comparison between the Mayaguez and this case; the two situations are so different," said retired Maj. Gen. Daniel O. Graham, head of the Defense Intelligence Agency at the time of the Mayaguez rescue.

And Israeli officials, although reluctant to discuss the Iranian matter publicly, shy away from making a comparison of the Entebbe rescue and a possible airborne assault on the U.S. Embassy in Tehran to save the American hostages held there.

President Carter, after earlier discounting armed intervention, hinted this week that military action might be necessary after the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini said the American hostages would be tried as spies. Carter immediately dispatched the carrier Kitty Hawk, with 85 warplanes, from the South China Sea toward the Persian Gulf.

Rather than preparing for a rescue mission, U.S. military warnings were intended "to lay out a believable threat" of retaliation in the event the hostages are harmed, sources agree.

The Carter administration avoided public comment on its military options. High-ranking Pentagon officials say privately that any rescue attempt would inevitably result in heavy casualties and probably death to the hostages. "It's not a viable option," said one Pentagon source.

The United States does have a small Army unit at Fort Bragg, N.C., that is intended for use in anti-terrorist strikes, but there are few similarities between the quick raids in the Entebbe and Mayaguez cases and the Iranian crisis. Analysts say those raids were simple compared to the obstacles which would face a U.S. rescue in Tehran.

Church bells will ring each day at noon in Big Spring

Those church bells which will be ringing out across town each day at noon will serve to remind residents that this is a time of great crisis for America throughout the world.

The kidnapping of Americans in the U.S. Embassy in Terhan, Iran, by students supporting revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini focused attention on the problem but a wave of anti-American sentiment, unrivaled in U.S. history, is evident throughout the world.

The plan to focus attention on the problem here was conceived by Ralph Caton, former district judge, and the Rev. Harland Birdwell, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

The two are asking all churches in the communities to cooperate in the ringing of the bells.

'I Like Mike' reception, dinner slated here Monday

Friends of Rep. Mike Ezzell are putting finishing touches on the "I Like Mike" reception and dinner here Monday evening.

Tickets for the fund raiser are reported moving briskly for both the reception in the Tumbleweed Room and the dinner in the Cactus Room of Howard College Student Union building. The reception will be from 5 to 7 p.m. and the dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Speaker of the House Bill Clayton, who holds all records for longevity as presiding officer of the Texas House and who is regarded to have a wide lead for another term in that post, will be here for Ezzell's party and will be the speaker at the dinner. State Sen. Ray Farabee, Wichita Falls, will preside, and Rep. Foster Whaley, Pampa, will be among the guests. Other officials are expected.

Rep. Ezzell has not announced to succeed himself as representative from the 63rd District but is expected to do soon. A second term veteran, he is on a number of key committees of the House and chairs the one on health and state hospitals.

Tickets ($10 reception and $100 dinner) will be available at the door.

Former baseball star injured in car wreck

R. J. Englert, 29, former star baseball player for Big Spring High School, was one of three persons injured in a one-car accident which occurred late Thursday night near Sonora. Englert now resides in Odessa.

R.J. suffered head and internal injuries in the mishap. He is confined to a San Angelo hospital.

Beverly Ann Billingsley, 23, Odessa, was killed in the rollover. Cynthia Fields Smith, 27, Odessa, was in the intensive care unit of the San Angelo hospital, suffering from head and internal injuries.

The accident occurred about 12 miles east of Sonora on IS 10. The vehicle in which the three were riding ran off the highway on the left side, swerved back across the road and struck an embankment before turning over.

Englert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Englert, of Big Spring, played professional baseball for several seasons after leaving Texas A&M University.

YMCA Cluster Conference slated Nov. 29-30, Dec. 1

The Dorothy Garrett Coliseum will be the site for the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico YMCA Cluster conference. The Professional YMCA staffs, boards, and committee members from 15 YMCAs across the two states will be here Nov. 29, 30, and Dec. 1.

Dr. James M. (Bo) Hardy, opening speaker, will be returning here from Erwin, Tenn., where he has his own Organization Development Consultant firm. Dr. Hardy was executive director of the Big Spring YMCA during 1955 to 1961. He has gone on to become a widely known consultant and author. He is also widely recognized in the national YMCA organization, as he was selected as one of the "Five Giants of the YMCA in the U.S.A." in 1975.

John W. (Bill) Bartley is the other major speaker. Bartley is the executive director of the Wichita Falls YMCA. He has been the president of the Y there for the last 15 years.

Bartley, who has dramatically increased the enrollment production of the Wichita Falls Y, will be speaking on Financial Stability Friday, and then on Membership enrollment Saturday.

Upwards of 200 people are expected for the conference, with the wives being invited to come and enjoy such entertainment as Raconteur "Tumbleweed Smith", and also they will have shopping tours while their spouses are at the coliseum.

Saturday will be the final day of the meeting with several speakers from all over this area leading sessions on various phases of YMCA operation. Bill Quackenbush, Amarillo, will be conducting the session for the Board and Committee people. Ray Ezzell, Perryton, will be leading the General Executive meeting. Pat Owens, Midland, will be conducting the Physical Staff session, and Rich Wood, Hereford, will be handling the Program Staff.

Q. Why is it that letters written to the editor on the coaching staff and football team are not published in the paper?
A. Letters concerning any of the athletic staff of area schools will not necessarily be dignified by publication on the editorial page, but rather in the sports section. Letters to the editor must be signed and authenticated, incidentally.

Citizens get chance to speak with the chief

HOUSTON (AP)—The radio talk show host took a deep drag on his cigarette, a sip of coffee, flipped a couple of dials, punched a button for a brief commercial, and then let the listeners know Harry Caldwell was on the air.

Caldwell's once-a-month, 90-minute show is one of the most popular in Houston. There's always a backlog of callers left hanging because time has run out.

Caldwell is the chief of police in the nation's fifth largest city and he uses the talk show to answer questions, hear complaints, give advice and "just get to talk with a lot of folks."

The unique talk show, Caldwell said, "Gives our citizens a chance to speak with the police chief, something there's just not time for during a regular working day."

Blessed with a deep voice and near perfect enunciation, the police chief sounds like a veteran announcer.

In a few quick lessons, he learned the operational procedure and now flips what needs to be flipped for commercials, takes his cues from the producer, and appears as comfortable in front of the microphone as behind his desk at headquarters.

"In fact," Caldwell said during a break in a recent show, "There are some people out there who have suggested I might be better as a radio announcer than a police chief."

Houston police in recent years have been charged with brutality; accused of causing the deaths of at least three unarmed persons; and investigated by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Through most of that time, Caldwell has continued his talk show, fielding all questions concerning police behavior.

He openly admits there are problems within the department, but that a few bad apples shouldn't ruin the whole barrel.

"I decided to do the show (KTRH) when I realized that despite our rapid growth, many of our citizens still have small town values.

"The people want to talk to the police chief. This show gives the people that chance. Sure, I get some irate callers and take some abuse but that is the price you must pay to build the confidence of the people."

Caldwell added, "and believe it or not, I can get a lot of things corrected with this program. I may not even know about a certain problem until a caller brings it to my attention."

Washington portraits goal 'tough'

BOSTON (AP) — Five weeks before their deadline, the people trying to raise $5 million to keep Gilbert Stuart's famous portraits of George and Martha Washington in Boston concede that they will fall far short of their goal.

Retired Gen. James M. Gavin, the World War II paratrooper who is leading the campaign, says the fund-raisers will probably finish the year with between $2 million and $3 million.

The shortfall leaves in doubt the outcome of the biggest cultural controversy of the year in Boston, a city that takes its culture seriously. But Gavin says it does not necessarily mean the paintings will be sold to the National Portrait Gallery in Washington, which enraged Bostonians with its bid to buy them.

At stake are a pair of portraits of the Washingtons that Stuart painted 183 years ago. The picture of George — the more famous of the two — is the original of the one that appears on the dollar bill. It is probably the most famous painting in America.

The Boston Athenaeum, a venerable private library, owns the pictures and has loaned them to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts since 1876. Twice over the past five years, the library offered to sell the paintings to the museum, but the museum refused.

Inflation wipes out most of gain

Median income zips to $17,640

WASHINGTON (AP) — The median family income rose by 10 percent in 1978 to $17,640, but people saw little benefit because inflation wiped out most of the gain, the government reported Saturday.

The Census Bureau said that for the second straight year, the number of persons earning less than the poverty level dropped slightly. Yet, 24.5 million persons, or 11.4 percent of the population, still earned incomes below the 1978 poverty level of $6,662 for a non-farm family of four.

The figures reflected a survey last March and did not address this year's income adjustments and rising inflation rate. The median income means that half of the families earned more and half earned less than the figure.

According to the survey, the median income of all families rose by $1,630 in 1978, from $16,010 in 1977. But, the government said, a 7.6 percent inflation rate in 1978 cut the real gains to $410, or 2.6 percent. The rate of inflation this year has been running at better than 13 percent.

Since 1970, the median family income after inflation has risen by only 6.5 percent. Government economists attribute the slowness of the rise to sagging economic growth, including the 1974-75 recession, and an increase in the number of families headed by women or young persons, both of whom traditionally have earned less.

There continued in 1978 to be a wide gap between the median incomes in families headed by a man — $19,229, up from $17,517 the previous year — and those headed by a woman — $8,537, up from 7,765 in 1977, the government said.

The 1978 figures, however, showed the first significant rise in three years in real income — after inflation — for black families, whose median income increased from $9,563 in 1977 to $10,879, or 6 percent. The 1978 median income for all white families was $18,370, up from $16,740 the previous year.

The number of black families living below the poverty level changed little from 1977 with more than 1.6 million families, or 27.5 percent, having incomes of less than $6,662. By comparison, the number of white families below the poverty level was 6.9 percent, or 3.5 million families.

Geographically, the government said, three out of every five poor persons in 1978 lived in a metropolitan area with about 60 percent of those persons living in the central cities.

As has been the case in other years, the median family income was lowest in the South at $15,940, followed by the Northeast, $18,190; the West, $18,410; and the north-central states, $18,600.

Arrests spoil planned Ku Klux Klan rally

VINELAND, N.J. (AP) — A planned Ku Klux Klan rally fizzled Saturday afternoon after 22 Klansmen and Nazi Party members were arrested on weapons charges just 2½ hours before the rally was to begin, authorities said.

A "Brotherhood Prayer Assembly," a community counterrally organized by Mayor Patrick R. Fiorilli, went off without a hitch at a football stadium about 10 blocks away.

Fiorilli, who personally rented the stadium to divert attention from the Klan, had expected a turnout of more than 2,000 persons in this agricultural center of southern New Jersey.

Only about 500 persons attended the prayer service. But the mayor said he was satisfied with the turnout.

"Look at these people. The spirit's there," he said. "A lot of people thought there was going to be an incident and so they shied away from coming."

"I assume they were going to the Klan rally," Cumberland County Prosecutor William P. Doherty said.

Cold front straddles middle of Texas

A weak cold front straddled the middle of Texas Saturday, stretching from the Red River to the Rio Grande and touching off rain showers throughout the state's southern two thirds.

Clear skies prevailed over the Panhandle and northern portions of West Texas, where the mercury dipped below freezing over most parts during the early morning hours. The lowest reading was 20 at Dalhart.

Early morning rain showers sprang up in Southwest Texas and spread eastward. Amounts were generally light. However, Alice measured 24 of an inch, Corpus Christi got 21, and San Antonio received .15.

Highs for the day were mostly in the 50s and 60s. Brownsville had the warmest reading, 71.

Forecasters predicted the rain will continue to move eastward from central sections into East Texas early Sunday.

Fighting continues at Grand Mosque

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Moslem leaders have given Saudi King Khaled permission to use all necessary force to rout radical Moslems from the holy Grand Mosque in Mecca, Saudi state radio announced late Saturday.

In one of the few official reports since the mosque was invaded Tuesday, the broadcast said scores of persons, including government officials, have been killed or wounded in the siege. It said 32 Moslem priests issued a statement saying the use of force against the "defilers" of the mosque would not violate Islamic law. It gave no other details.

Earlier, informed sources said Saudi troops crept from room-to-room in the mosque, trying to rout the radicals who peppered the sacred compound with gunfire.

The sources, who asked not to be identified, said an undetermined number of gunmen still held the basement of the huge mosque and some sniped at soldiers from windows in the towering minarets, where muezzins usually call the faithful to prayer five times a day.

Only Moslems are allowed to enter Mecca and reports about the siege have been difficult to obtain and sometimes contradictory.

Officials said the leader of the attackers calls himself the Mahdi. The Mahdi was a Moslem leader who disappeared in the ninth century, and whom many Moslems believe will reappear as a messiah to restore true Islam.

"If they believe this is really the coming of the messiah ... they will fight to the end because, if they die, they (believe they) go directly to heaven," a diplomatic source said.

The source added the leader had issued a series of demands including the banning of radio and television in Saudi Arabia and prohibition of women in business.

When the gunmen took the mosque before dawn Tuesday, up to 50,000 pilgrims were inside, and some were taken hostage. The government said all hostages had been freed by Friday. But the sources said it appeared 20 hostages were still being held in the mosque basement.

Mecca, a city of 100,000, 480 miles southwest of here, surrounds the mosque that is the holiest site in Islam and OCCUPIED MOSQUE — Mecca's Grand Mosque shines in the night in this 1975 file photo. the focal point of prayer and pilgrimage for the world's nearly 800 million Moslems.

One Saudi report said 200 invaders had been killed since the takeover, but the sources said that seemed to be exaggerated. The only official reports of casualties said two civilians were killed and eight wounded, and for days the government has announced it had the situation in hand.

People leaving the town said the estimated 200 invaders brought plenty of food and ammunition and were prepared for a long siege in the mosque, which is about three times bigger than Yankee Stadium, surrounded by a nearly one-mile-square colonnade-enclosed courtyard.

The government is also ready for a long standoff, and has moved troops and armored vehicles into the city, cut off water and electricity, and is securing the mosque slowly to minimize damage to the shrine.

Reports from the office of Iran's Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini claim the invaders were part of a U.S.-Israeli conspiracy. That set off a demonstration in Islamabad, Pakistan, by enraged Moslems who burned the U.S. Embassy, killing two Americans.

Other anti-American demonstrations, touched off by the reports of U.S. involvement in the Mecca siege, were reported in Rangpur, Bangladesh, and Calcutta, India.

$20 million gift doubles in value

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A widow's $20 million bequest to Santa Barbara has more than doubled in value during two years of legal haggling and detective work that established her Italian lover's claim to a $5 million share.

Alice Keck Park, who went to school in Santa Barbara as a girl, left her entire estate to four local institutions when she died at age 59 in June 1977. The gift now totals between $40 million and $50 million, since much of it was in Superior Oil Co. stock, whose market price has been pushed higher because of oil-shortage scares.

By month's end, about $23.38 million in cash and Superior Oil stock will be distributed among the Santa Barbara Humane Society, Cottage Hospital, the museum of art and the botanical garden. An additional $20 million is expected to be distributed in a few months from the rest of the estate, once the legal process is completed.

Mrs. Park was the daughter of William Myron Keck of Pasadena, founder of Superior Oil. She attended private school in Santa Barbara, and married David Edgar Park at age 35. After three years of marriage he died in 1956. They had no children.

Saudis hint they will hike oil prices

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Treasury Secretary G. William Miller said today the Saudis indicate they will increase oil prices unless the United States takes steps to soak up some of the profits of U.S. oil companies.

"Their message is: Either you put on a windfall profits tax, or we will be raising prices," Miller told reporters at a briefing after talking with Saudi officials on the first stop in his six-day Mideast visit. "They feel they've been taken advantage of by the oil companies," he added.

Miller is hoping to persuade the Saudis they should maintain their oil production at the current level of 9.5 million barrels per day and not cut it by 1 million barrels, as some Saudi sources have indicated may happen.

In exchange, Miller said he told the Saudis, the United States will take new, undisclosed actions to curtail oil consumption and relieve pressure on world oil prices.

He said he told Saudi officials America has reduced oil consumption 2.5 percent this year below the level of last year and that consumption in the first quarter of the year was down 7.8 percent from the third quarter of last year.

Miller said Finance Minister Mohammed Aba Alkhalil gave no assurances the Saudis would maintain the high production levels they started last summer to offset the slowdown in Iranian oil production.

Saudi Arabia provides 24 percent — 1.4 million barrels a day — of the oil America imports.

held by Islamic students demanding the return of deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, the White House was tight-lipped about what transpired during the Carter's session with the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

At the conclusion of an similar session Friday involving Carter and his top civilian advisers, however, press secretary Jody Powell had passed along the president's message that "extremely grave" consequences would result from harm to any of the hostages.

Carter's new meeting with uniformed military leaders had been described by Powell on Friday as having been scheduled some time ago to discuss the Defense Department's fiscal 1981 budget. But the spokesman stressed at the time that he couldn't rule out the possibility the Iranian crisis would be discussed.

Secretary of Defense Harold Brown, Deputy Secretary of Defense Graham Claytor and national security adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski were present along with the Joint Chiefs. The session lasted from 10 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. EST and included a working luncheon, White House press aide Annette Samuels said.

"We don't have any details at this time," she said.

Carter has shown a preference for the privacy of Camp David in the toughest decision-making times of his presidency. He spent 11 days in a summertime, soul-searching reassessment of his administration that resulted in the Cabinet shakeup. And it was in the seclusion of Maryland's Catoctin Mountains that Carter presided over the super-sensitive negotiations with Egypt's Anwar Sadat and Israel's Menachem Begin that produced the Camp David accords for peace in the Middle East.

The president is confronted with the question of how to secure the release of the Americans taken hostage on Nov. 4 when a mob stormed the embassy compound. The United States has steadfastly refused to extradite the shah, whose admittance to the United States for cancer treatments was permitted by the administration for "humanitarian reasons."

Administration officials have said privately that no final decisions have been made on the use of force against Iran if the hostages are hurt or put on trial. Iran's revolutionary leader, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, and the militant students have threatened to try the Americans as spies in a revolutionary court.

On the diplomatic front, the United States has halted imports of Iranian oil, frozen Iranian government assets in this country, ordered a halt to the training of Iranian pilots in the United States and moved to deport Iranian nationals in the country illegally.

Meanwhile, there was another escalation in the war of rhetoric that has characterized the 21-day crisis.

Khomeini said the shah had "murdered thousands" and "plundered great amounts of our wealth" and added:

"It is the absolute right of a nation to demand the right to put one of its criminals on trial. (President) Carter's big mistake and that of people like him is that they have failed to understand the depth of feeling of the Islamic movement."

Houston and other large cities show mass conversions

Condominium boom sweeps Texas

By The Associated Press

A nationwide trend away from apartments and expensive suburban housing has swept Texas in the form of a condominium boom. Nowhere in the state has the trend been so pronounced as in Dallas, where apartment conversion and new condominium construction more than doubled in the past year. Condominium consultant Sharon Reuler said that through the end of October,

3,063 condominium deeds had been filed in Dallas County, and 1,984 more condos were on the market. In 1978, 1,378 condominiums appeared in the city. Since 1970, she said, 10,746 condos have been built and converted in Dallas. In Houston, condominium conversions more than doubled in 1977 when 5,042 apartment units were converted, figures from the Greater Houston Builders Association show. Since 1970,

15,008 units have been converted. Through August of this year, however, only 1,194 were converted. No figures were available for condominium construction. Conversion in Houston has leveled off because "all the properties suitable for conversion have already been converted," said Dr. Arthur Wright of the Texas Real Estate Research Center in College Station. Condominiums, which were unheard of 10 years ago, have been built on a smaller scale in other Texas cities. But since "condominia" is a fairly new phenomenon, few figures are available. The young, the single and the retired have made the move to condominiums because of relative low cost, low maintenance and proximity to work, Ms. Reuler said. "A U.S. housing economist expects one-half of the U.S. population to be in condominium housing within 20 years. I think that in this region, that means any type of attached housing — townhouses, patio homes, low-maintenance housing, but not counting apartments," she said. "What is happening is the attached housing market is the fastest-growing segment of the housing industry. What we're seeing, really, is a literal explosion. There is very little mortgage money for single family housing, but there is mortgage money for condominiums, much of it with 95 percent financing." Ms. Reuler said changes in the population and lifestyles have led to the condominium craze. "There are so many one- and two-person households," Ms. Reuler said. "The population structure is getting older, staying healthier longer and living in their own homes longer. Young adults are deferring marriage or not marrying at all; they are deferring children or not having children at all. What you've got is an ever-increasing number of households, even if the population stays static." The skyrocketing cost of land and the energy crisis have helped fuel the move toward low-maintenance homes in the city, she added. Dallas' condominium explosion led to a July report by the city's Department of Urban Planning. The department said conversions of apartments accounted for 80 percent of condominium units made available in 1978, and that 70 percent of those units had been sold by the end of the year. Condominiums, however, accounted for only 4 percent of all multi-family units in the city at the end of 1978, the report said. "More and more the tenants' basic choices are to buy or move," the report said, "adding tenants generally are given 90 days' notice. It said tenants are 'aggressively wooed' to buy their apartments, but called the pressure "an excellent marketing strategy." The report conceded that tenants who choose to move may have difficulty finding a comparable replacement. "This fact does not, however, mean that these tenants have been treated unfairly," the report said. But the director of the Dallas County Tenants Association disagrees with that conclusion. "The city's housing report on condominiums does not accurately reflect what's happening in Dallas," said Dorothy Masterson. "It says people are treated fairly and have adequate time to relocate, but the calls we get (from tenants) shows this is not true."

Two guerrilla chiefs, Africans map strategy

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Patriotic Front guerrilla chiefs Joshua Nkomo and Robert Mugabe flew to Tanzania Saturday to discuss with black African leaders their strategy over British plans for a cease-fire in Zimbabwe Rhodesia. The two guerrilla chiefs are expected to meet with other African leaders in a Commonwealth conference in London. They said the African leaders probably will support the guerrillas' opposition to the British cease-fire plan. The plan would require the guerrillas to take their weapons and equipment from bases in friendly countries to 15 sites in Zimbabwe Rhodesia under a safe-passage guarantee. Patriotic Front representatives and a Commonwealth force would monitor the cease-fire at the sites. No Zimbabwe Rhodesia troops or police would be present. Tanzanian government sources said the two guerrilla leaders asked for the meeting to prepare for the final phase of the 11-week Zimbabwe Rhodesian peace conference in London. They said the African leaders probably will support the guerrillas' opposition to the British cease-fire plan. The plan would require the guerrillas to take their weapons and equipment from bases in friendly

Kennedy chances slim, Chip Carter convinced

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Chip Carter, the president's son, said Saturday Sen. Edward Kennedy has a "very slim chance" at getting the Democratic presidential nomination, and Ronald Reagan appears to be the leading Republican contender. Carter, 29, described himself as a "surrogate spokesman for dad" — President Jimmy Carter. The president's son said he had been beginning traveling 24 days a month since April and has been in 41 states. Chip Carter was interviewed earlier this week on the radio program "State Capitol Dateline" for broadcast this weekend. He quoted the president as saying the takeover of the American embassy by Iranians is "the worst thing he's had to go through — the toughest pressures." "We don't want to do anything at all that might give the Iranian students an excuse to do harm to the hostages," Chip Carter said. However, he said, "I think it would be absolutely horrible for us to bend to the demands those students are making." A major difficulty in negotiating with Iran, he said, is "we don't know who is running the country — if anybody is." Asked if his father viewed Kennedy as a threat, Carter said, "Yes, he's a legitimate threat. He's ahead of us in the polls about 2-to-1... The biggest thing we have to do right now is to dispel the myth and legacy away from Sen. Kennedy and run against him on his own record." Carter said as the records of the president and Kennedy are compared, voters will realize the president is "much more in the mainstream of the Democratic Party and of America... he (Kennedy) has a very slim chance of winning." Asked about the GOP presidential race, Carter said, "I would say right now across the country Ronald Reagan is definitely the frontrunner. I really feel that his organization — the grassroots people — are still there." Carter also said George Bush "is coming out very strong in New England," which "is almost a surprise to me." Asked about former Texas Gov. John Connally's campaign, Carter said, "I don't think he actually is (a threat)... you can't write him off, but I don't think he has very much caught on in the Republican Party."

Asked if President Carter would be "thrilled" to run against Reagan as a result of Reagan's age — 68 — and his political philosophy, Carter said, "I would assume dad would be thrilled to run against any Republican. I don't think he worries about them very much at all." One person who will not campaign for President Carter's reelection is his daughter, Amy, according to her older brother. "Dad won't let her campaign... he would never let her get on the campaign trail. He would hate to have her subjected to the press," Carter said.

Curtis named chief med director of VA

Dr. Donald L. Curtis, a former Surgeon General of the Navy, has been named the next Chief Medical Director of the Veterans Administration. In announcing the appointment, VA Administrator Max Cleland said Dr. Curtis will assume the agency's top medical position on Jan. 2, 1980, when the present Chief Medical Director, Dr. James C. Crutcher, retires from government service. Dr. Curtis joined VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery in 1976, after his retirement from the Navy with the rank of Vice Admiral. He served in the staff office for academic affairs until Oct. 6, 1978, when he was appointed Deputy Chief Medical Director, the number two position in the nation's largest medical system. Born in Goshen, Ind., July 23, 1917, Dr. Curtis is a graduate of Wabash College and Northwestern University Medical School. He joined the Navy in 1944 after completing his internship at Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago. His wartime Navy service was as medical officer on a Navy attack transport. During a 10-year break from the Navy, 1946-56, Dr. Curtis was a surgical resident at Virginia Mason Hospital in Seattle, a Surgical Fellow at the Mason Clinic, a surgeon in private practice and a clinical associate in surgery at the University of Washington Medical School. He is certified by the American Board of Surgery. In 1956, Dr. Curtis joined the staff of the American Medical Association Council on Medical Education, and in that same year returned to the Navy as a staff surgeon at the Portsmouth, Va., Naval Hospital. Subsequent assignments included two years as Executive Officer at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital, a year in Vietnam as Commanding Officer of the Naval Hospital in Danang and three years as Commanding Officer of the Bethesda Naval Hospital. He was selected Surgeon General of the Navy in 1973 where he served until his retirement in July 1976. Dr. Curtis' Navy decorations include the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit with Combat V for his service in Vietnam. He is on the board of trustees of the American Hospital Association and a member of the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association.

'Valets' provided by Clements drawing fire

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Harry Hubbard, Texas AFL-CIO president, says Gov. Bill Clements assigned state troopers and National Guardsmen as "chauffeurs and valets" for the Republican Governors Conference and should be called to account.

"I don't know why he would want to say some demagogic thing like that," responded Clements' press secretary, Jon Ford.

The conference was held here earlier this week. In letters to Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton, Hubbard asked the Legislative Budget Board to look into the matter.

The labor leader, who has criticized Clements on a variety of matters in the past, called it "blatant misuse of state personnel for a purely political meeting."

Hubbard said an Austin bank was robbed while the conference was going on and the robber apparently escaped down highways usually patrolled by the DPS.

"I make no necessary connection, but the matter certainly is one that should be considered in connection with the misuse of DPS officers on menial assignments," he said. "If DPS officers were taken off the highways in Austin to chauffeur and carry bags of governors' aides, then Governor Clements should be called to task for a serious misuse of tax money."

Community Christmas program set Dec. 1

Christmas greetings through music will usher in the 1979 Christmas season for everyone in Big Spring at the second annual Community Christmas Program at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum on the Howard College campus beginning at 7:00 p.m. next Saturday.

A special feature of the program will be the revealing of the winner of the program cover design and the awarding of a special plaque to the winner by Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery, president of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce. The program cover design will appear on the front cover of the printed program.

All of the sketches entered by second through fifth grade elementary music students in the Big Spring Public Schools competing for winner of the program cover design on the printed program will be on display at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum on the night of the program.

The combined second and third grade elementary music classes will sing under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Tedesco at the second annual Community Christmas Program. Under direction of Mrs. Joyce Bradley the combined fourth and fifth grade elementary music classes, also, will sing at the program.

Mrs. Linda Lindell will accompany each of the combined elementary music classes at the program. The members of these elementary music classes come from the six elementary schools of the Big Spring Public Schools.

Carol singing by the audience at the program will be led by Buddy Pedigo, director of the Goliad Middle School Choir. A brass choir from the Big Spring High School Band will accompany carol singing by the audience which will be directed by Frank Wentz, a former director of the Big Spring High School Band and a BSHS graduate, who is also the coordinator of the program. He has a bachelor's degree in music education from Texas Tech University.

Appearing on the program with the elementary music classes and the brass choir will be the Howard College Choraleers and the Howard College Jazz Lab Band under the direction of Arthur Castetter, chairman of the Howard College Music Department.

Because of an overflow, no standing-room space available at the first annual Community Christmas Program in the municipal auditorium, the second annual program has been scheduled for the more spacious Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at Howard College.

The program is sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Committee of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce, the Big Spring Public Schools, Howard College and the following Big Spring business firms: First Federal Savings and Loan Association; Big Spring Savings, Citizens Federal Credit Union, First National Bank, State National Bank, Security State Bank, Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, Tallant Printing, Dunlap's, and Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

The Big Spring Radio Stations will broadcast the program.

For an enjoyable evening the program promises to be a fast-moving program of an hour in length and is free to the public.

DALLAS (AP) — Robbers who took $150 and a pack of cigarettes from Monsignor John Brady and his one-legged secretary found that the 82-year-old priest isn't inclined to turn the other cheek.

For that matter Aida LaBelle, the 71-year-old secretary, is no pushover, either.

The pair lost the fight and the money, but not before Brady got in a couple licks with his fists and Miss LaBelle did some damage by swinging a frying pan at the attackers.

Police said the fracas started Friday after the priest admitted a young woman who asked to confess "the sins of my life."

When the confession ended, two men and a boy about 12 years old, apparently accomplices of the woman, stormed into the St. Edwards Catholic Church rectory.

After finally subduing Brady and Miss LaBelle, the attackers bound his hands and feet with a table cloth, gagged him with a linen napkin and held a butcher knife to his throat while they ransacked the residence.

"I've taken some boxing lessons and I've got a good pair of hands. I socked this fella as hard as I could. I don't know if he was surprised or not," said the white-haired Brady, speaking the brogue of his native Ireland.

"Anyway, his reaction was to hit me on the back of my head with a wooden club," Brady added.

Miss LaBelle, whose right leg has been amputated, said she fended off the robbers with a frying pan and feigned a heart attack when she was yanked by the hair from her wheelchair and relieved of her prosthetic limb.

"They pulled me out of my leg," she said indignantly. "If you know anyone who can teach jujitsu to a one-legged woman, let me know."

"I was on the floor and I yelled at the woman, 'I'm having a heart attack! For God's sake, let the monsignor come here and give me the last rites!' And then I closed my eyes and I guess she ran away," said Miss LaBelle.

Brady, who has served at the church for the last 30 years, said he has been robbed four times in the last two years. The last time was several weeks ago.

"Next time they come," said Brady, "you'll hear over the radio that I've shot two of them."

Many a Howard resident arises early, probably the best part of the day out here where the fresh, unpolluted, air can see for miles to the sun rise. However, this time of the year many "early to bed, early to rise" folks tend to be a little later. Not so at Spring High School. This vivacious "in the pool" five week by 6 a.m., as it now in the midst of competing swim season.

Without swimming ties itself, the Big School District entered an agreement four years with the YMCA to pool. The Y has had swim team for 20 years. In fact, swim coach, Harlan Smith has coached for 20 years. His career as coach of Swim Team. He is interested in high school kids, and after a 10 about ten years, the competition was re-He also still coaches Swim Team, which is an excellent program for high school.

Recoil blamed for injury to Priscilla Davis' hand

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A powerful recoil — not a bullet — probably caused the injury to Priscilla Davis' hand when the .357-caliber Magnum revolver she pulled out of her purse accidentally discharged, police say.

Mrs. Davis, former wife of industrialist Cullen Davis, was hospitalized after undergoing plastic surgery Thanksgiving Day to repair damage to her left forefinger.

Police Capt. Jack Bicknell said the recoil of the revolver apparently tore out the flesh while the bullet struck the door panel and the force shattered the window in Mrs. Davis' limousine.

Assistant District Attorney Jack Strickland and Strickland's girlfriend, Barbara Burke, were in the back seat of Mrs. Davis' car with her at the time of the incident.

"I was unloading my gun, and it went off accidentally," Mrs. Davis said.

Strickland was the chief prosecutor in Davis' recent trial on a murder solicitation charge. Davis was acquitted.

Swimming in the winter

By CAROL HUNTER
 Many a Howard County resident arises early. It is probably the best part of the day out here where the air is fresh, unpolluted, and one can see for miles to watch the sun rise. However, about this time of the year even many "early to bed, early to rise" folks tend to sleep a little later. Not so the Big Spring High School Swim Team. This vivacious group is "in the pool" five days a week by 6 a.m., as they are now in the midst of the competing swimming season.

Without swimming facilities itself, the Big Spring School District entered into an agreement four years ago with the YMCA to use its pool. The Y has had its own swim team for numerous years. In fact, swim team coach, Harlan Smith, started his career as coach for the Y Swim Team. He inspired interest from high school age kids, and after a lapse of about ten years, the team competition was reinstated. He also still coaches the Y Swim Team, which serves as an excellent training program for high school.

For landlubbers, be informed that swimming competition includes four different strokes, back, butterfly, breast and freestyle. A medley combines all four strokes and there are individual medleys and relay medleys. These strokes are taught through the Y Learn to Swim program, but when the high school team began, many were in need of learning these basics. As the program grows, this need is being met through the Y programs, and the Junior Varsity Swim Team, which was started for the first time this year.

Not everyone is a Mark Spitz, and the program had to begin "somewhere." Even in his infancy, however, individual Big Spring swimmers have competed well. As we are all painfully aware, any kind of competition in District 5AAAA is tough, and swimming is no exception; although swimming in District 5AAAA is a relatively new sport. In fact, last year was the first time a District Meet was held. Up to that time, one qualified by time for going to the Regional Meet, then held at Tech. Now both District and Regional are in Midland. At last year's District Meet, both the boys' and girls' teams placed sixth. Morgan Wise won a first place in the 100 Back. Others who qualified for Regional last year were The Boys' Medley Relay; Girls' Medley Relay; Kirk Nelson, 100 Breast; Bill Hart, 100 Butterfly; Carrie Little, 100 Breast; Tonda Bachelor, 500 Free; both boys' and girls' free style relays; and Ellen Karwedy, Cathy Biggs, Julie Hunter, and Carrie Little all in 200 Individual Medley.

Big Spring's hopes are high to do well in District again this year. Already the team has soundly beaten Andrews, and the girls have overcome Odessa. To qualify for Regional, one must place in the top 8 in District. The first two Regional winners in each event go to State. Coach Smith is looking forward to taking some to State. He lists as high hopes Morgan Wise, the Boys' Medley Relay team consisting of Wise, Todd Lloyd, Bill Davey and Russel Stukel, the Boys' Free Relay consisting of Wise, Stukel, Davey and Doug Horton. Todd Lloyd, only a sophomore, has already been timed in a meet for his 100 Breast which is only 4 seconds off of the Regional winner's time last year. The Girls' Free Relay looks good according to Coach Smith. These are Patricia Jones, Paula Willardson, Cathy Miller, Kathryn Martin and Tonda Bachelor, alternate. These same girls are individual hopefuls also.

The Junior Varsity swims at 4th period of the school day, while the Varsity finishes its early morning hours through the first period. Smith is pleased to have time with these 9th and 10th graders on the JV Team for perfecting the fundamentals. They also participate in their own Meets. Some of the top swimmers on JV are Matt Warren, Ronnie Jones, Mike Forshee, Kristi Matthews, Pam Matthews, Pam Alfano and Connie Grisham.

Meanwhile, back at the Y, there is a lot of afternoon activity with the younger set. The Y Swim Team is composed of the 13 and under group. Many of these have been swimming with the team since age 6. They may come in and out of the program as Coach encourages them to partake of other sports, but they gravitate back to the swimming program. Abilene is the outstanding Y team in the area, but Big Spring is beginning to hold onto second place in the Y meets against Lubbock, Midland and Odessa. Some outstanding Y swimmers are Megan Burkhardt, Jennifer Ross, Rita Fleckenstein, Cade Loftin, Sam Ross, Kevin Morrison, Scott Ferguson and Mitch Houghton.

One of the characteristics of the Swim Team success, both high school and Y is the excellent parent participation. Before the Y van, it was essential that parents take cars to meets. The Y parents operated concession stands at Y Football games, while Patti Horton heads concessions for high school meets. Marvin Wise has been instrumental in filming high school meets, an essential process for learning. Parents are willing timers and scorekeepers at local meets, and are avid fans, traveling to most out of town meets. Another help has been the high school coaching staff. They are always willing to assist at the meets. Don Davis, our new city manager, was on the Tech Swim Team, and has donated time to assist with our meets. Paul Schaffer was on the A and M Diving Team. He worked with BSHS divers. Managers, Debbie Madewell and Carol Fleckenstein are essential to the program. Some ex-swimmers have done well in other places. Two are on Midland High's team. Maynard Calkin is swimming for Arizona State and Michelle Tarleton is setting records in Biloxi, Mississippi.

Another plus for swimmers is that summer jobs are available for those who desire. Of 12 life guards trained last year from the team, all were employed at the Y, City Pool, Country Club or in the Y travel program to Colorado City. This year the Federal Prison and Forsan have requested these trainees also.

A swim meet is exciting. The sport itself is demanding. At Big Spring the program is building. There is current promise culminating two years of hard work. There is future hope, for there is continuity in the program with the Y and JV Teams. Look for continued excitement.

Gold to regild dome

COAL MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — Some 150 outsiders on horseback accompanied 50 wagons Saturday on the second leg of a 70-mile-long journey to Atlanta. The wagon train is carrying gold from the north Georgia mountains to regild the state Capitol dome in Atlanta.

Rainy weather failed to dampen the spirits of the marchers, who plan to present Gov. George Busbee on Monday with 43 ounces of gold. A bluegrass band in one of the lead wagons provided the marching music.

Gobble-off continues

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A gobble-off — that's some humans trying to chortle like turkeys — was one of the entertainment highlights here this weekend.

Among the contestants who showed up to exercise their vocal chords Friday was Wayne Wilcox, 34. He won first prize, a frozen turkey, by tugging at his neck and producing a high-pitched sound.

A live turkey who witnessed the event never made a sound.

Flaming dessert burns two women

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Two elderly women were burned, one of them critically, when a cherries jubilee dessert at a country club dinner exploded and set their clothing on fire, officials said.

Ethel Bass, 88, suffered second- and third-degree burns over much of her body when her hair and clothes caught fire during the Thanksgiving dinner Thursday at the Riviera Country Club, authorities said.

Employees threw her to the floor and put out the flames with tablecloths, according to witnesses. She was in critical condition today at Jackson Memorial Hospital, said hospital officials.

Emily Harris, 81, who said Mrs. Bass is her "very best, my, very dearest, friend," suffered burns on the stomach and wrist after her dress jacket caught fire. She was treated at a hospital and released.

Damage estimated at $20 million
 44 die in Colombian quake

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The most powerful earthquake to hit Colombia in 20 years left 44 persons dead and 600 injured, and caused an estimated $20 million in damage, government officials said Saturday.

The Andean Geophysical Institute said at least a dozen earth tremors were recorded in the 12 hours after Friday night's quake, but apparently were not felt by Colombians. Rescue workers began to dig through the remains in search of other victims.

Officials said the quake destroyed 1,000 homes and buildings, nearly all in the coffee-growing region near the Pacific coast; left 2,000 vehicles stranded after electrical, telephone and water service in 50 communities during the night. Most service was restored Saturday.

Scientists said the country was spared worse damage because the quake's epicenter was not in a populated area. If it had been, "entire cities could have been reduced to rubble," said Jesus Emilio Ramirez, the institute's director.

The institute located the epicenter, or focus, of the quake in the depths of the Pacific Ocean near the Panama border, where the earth movement registered 10 degrees on the Mercalli Scale of 1 to 12.

The earthquake registered between 5 and 6.5 degrees in the more densely populated areas of western and central Colombia, where damage and loss of life were heaviest.

Government officials said all but five of the victims discovered so far were either crushed to death, suffocated under the collapsed remains of buildings or were struck by flying objects during the 90-second quake.

Four persons died of heart attacks and one old woman jumped to her death from the third floor of a building, the government said.

The heaviest damage was in Pereira, a provincial capital with a population of 300,000, where 80 homes and buildings were severely damaged and some collapsed.

"Some zones of Pereira look like a city recently bombed," said one of the firemen who helped dig through the rubble of a four-story building that collapsed, killing four persons.

Manizales, a provincial capital of 400,000, was another city that suffered heavy material losses. The earthquake severely damaged the soccer stadium, a theater, the state communications building, the federal office building and the University of Caldas.

At least six Roman Catholic churches were damaged. A piece of the tower of the Jardin municipal church fell and crushed to death two women visiting a church official.

In the town of Sonson, the walls of the jail fell, seriously injuring a guard. Municipal authorities said police prevented a mass escape of the 70 prisoners.

The earthquake was felt as an intense, prolonged shake in Bogota, the federal capital, but there were no victims reported. Bogota firemen evacuated 40,000 persons from homes along the Bogota River, which is in flood stage from heavy rains.

Abduction suspect nabbed in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police have arrested a 24-year-old man suspected in the separate abductions of five young women in the Northwest Dallas area.

Two of the victims were raped, police said, including a 16-year-old girl taken from her brother's car on a parking lot early Friday.

The suspect was arrested late Friday night on the parking lot of a Northwest Dallas disco where he was talking to a 15-year-old girl. He was first questioned, police said, because he fit the 16-year-old's description of her bearded abductor.

The girl told police her abductor took her to a house where an older man raped her. At daybreak, seven hours after her capture, the girl was released, according to investigator W.E.

McDonald.

Police said two other abductions occurred Tuesday.

A 21-year-old woman said she was confronted by an armed man as she returned to her parked car from a shopping errand, police said. The man forced her into her car and they drove along a North Dallas street when they pulled alongside a 19-year-old driver and told her a tire on her car was on fire.

When she stopped, police said, the man freed the 21-year-old, got into the car with the 19-year-old, and forced her to drive to a motel on the city's southwest side.

The younger girl said the man robbed her of $3 and a car tape player, police said. She was able to escape, she told police, when the man dozed off at the motel.

Marching Banquet slated Tuesday

The Big Spring High Band went to the UIL marching contest last weekend at Odessa, performing after Odessa Permian.

The contest show consisted of a number of songs popular in the drum corps style bands. The band opened the show with "Fanfare For The Common Space Odyssey". Their second song was "Bohemian Rhapsody," and third was "Boogie Bee", a percussion feature. "Fanfare From Superman" was next, to be followed by "Echano." The Pride Drive Band earned a Division II. Marching contest ended the season. The annual Marching Banquet will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Twirlers also had their UIL contest in Odessa. Seven contestants from Big Spring earned First Divisions. They were Kim Deel, Patty Griffin, Debbie Butler, Sherri Blalack, Angela Schmidt, Kandis Myrick and Anne Mullin.

He wouldn't cough it up

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP) — Nature has prevailed where medical science failed.

Doctors had tried unsuccessfully to retrieve a $10,000 diamond ring from the stomach of a West-minster man Tuesday.

Police said Jerry Dwayne Massey, 19, deliberately swallowed the ring at an Anderson jewelry store, allegedly as he was trying to switch the expensive ring for another he had in his hand.

Doctors tried to get Massey to cough up the ring by giving him a solution to induce vomiting. That failed and they then used an endoscope — a long tube with a camera attachment — to enter Massey's stomach and try to recover the 2.8-carat diamond. But that, too, failed to produce the ring.

The jeweler was advised he would just have to wait until nature took its course. Thursday night, nature did.

The ring is now in police custody and Massey has been transferred from a hospital to the Anderson jail where he is charged with grand larceny.

Waldo's cops vigorously enforcing speed laws

WALDO, Fla. (AP) — The five policemen in this tiny North Florida crossing have little crime to fight, so they devote their time to traffic enforcement — writing tickets by the hundreds.

The speed limit plunges from 55 mph to 30 mph within a few blocks in Waldo, a community of 950 persons a few miles north of the college town of Gainesville.

Waldo Police Department officers issued 373 speeding tickets in October while the Florida Highway Patrol wrote 651 during the same time in all of Alachua County, which includes Gainesville.

"Most people say they didn't see the speed limit signs," said Police Chief Dick Moorhous. "The people who live here know better and the others do, too, but they figure they will get away with it. It's human nature."

While Moorhous said officers have no quotas to fill for ticket issuing, some days just seem to be more profitable than others.

"Take Fridays. We can write tickets just as fast as we can. It's payday and people are thinking about what they are going to do. And we get more in the mornings, when people are thinking about work or what they had for breakfast," he said.

Court records show the city has collected more than $44,000 in traffic fines this year, $10,000 over the total for all of 1978.

Moorhous noted that the placid town has little crime, so instead of having his officers sit idle, they work traffic.

"I'd rather write a citation than an accident report," Moorhous said. "We used to work four and five accidents a month here, but now we work maybe three in four months."

Colorado City Church Military to dedicate new organ

COLORADO CITY — The First United Methodist Church here will have a service of dedication for its new organ at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 2. The service will include an organ recital by Randy Stevens of Houston.

The entire day at the church will be a celebration through music with a service of giving and receiving, to be held during the 10:50 a.m. worship service.

Special music at the morning worship service will include a solo by Mrs. Randy (Peggy) Stevens of Houston. She will be accompanied by her husband. Other special music will be presented by the junior choir, the Psalm Psingers. There will be a piano duet by Tracy Womack and Marjorie Maddox and piano and organ duets will be played by Tracy Womack and Marie Helm.

The Allen Digital Organ is a gift to the church from Mrs. B.D. (Marion) Bassham of Colorado City and the plaque on the organ will include the following words: "Music is a gift from God. This organ is a gift of love to all who listen. Open your hearts and be blessed."

Stevens, a native of Winters, will present a 45-minute afternoon concert which will include music by Johann Sebastian Bach, Percy Fletcher, Leo Sowerby, Dale Wood and Louis Vierne.

An organist for the First United Methodist Church of Winters for 10 years, Stevens is currently an instructor of music at San Jacinto College in Houston. He also serves as organist at Holy Trinity United Methodist Church in Houston.

Stevens earned a Bachelor of Music degree from McMurry College in Abilene where he was a member of the McMurry Chanters and Morning Star and served as president of the McMurry Indian Band. A student of Francis Hinkel, Stevens was a finalist at the Robert Markham Organ Competition at Baylor University while at McMurry College and a recipient of the Chapman-Donham Memorial Scholarship. He was listed in Who's Who in American College and Universities and was on the Dean's List while attending McMurry College.

Stevens earned this Masters of Music degree from Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., where he studied with Oswald Ragatz.

Mrs. Stevens, who will be singing in the morning worship service, is a native of Waco. She earned her Bachelor of Music Degree at McMurry College where she was a member of the McMurry Chanters and Morning Star and served as soloist for both groups. A student of Dr. David S. Blackburn, she was first place winner in the regional auditions of the National Association of Teachers of Singing.

Mrs. Stevens earned her Masters of Music from Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., where she was a student of Gianna d'Angelo. She was also active in opera productions while there. She is currently employed in the educational ministries of Holy Trinity United Methodist Church in Houston where she also directs children's choir. Mrs. Stevens teaches voice privately in Houston.

Aledo resident succeeds Nichols as commander

AUSTIN — Major General Delmer H. Nichols of Taylor, veteran Texas Army National Guardsman, retired recently as a commander of the 49th (Lone Star) Armored Division during impressive, colorful change of command ceremonies at Camp Mabry.

Nichols ended an illustrious career that spanned almost four decades. He had commanded the 49th Division the past three years and had been an assistant division commander since the outfit was reactivated six years ago.

Major General John B. Garrett of Aledo near Fort Worth succeeded Nichols as commander of the top-rated Guard division. Garrett had been serving as Director, State Area Command, State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment in the Capital City. Both are veterans of World War II.

Other major reassignments involved Major General Harry V. Steel, Jr., of San Antonio, who succeeds Garrett at State Headquarters. Steel, formerly assistant 49th Division commander, is succeeded by Brig. Gen. James B.

McGoodwin, of Fort Worth, who had been a 49th Division brigade commander.

Two one-star generals — Glenn H. Kothmann, assistant 49th Division commander and Texas Senator from San Antonio, and Elmer L. Stephens, Deputy Director, State Area Command, State Headquarters and insurance executive from Dallas — switched assignments.

JOHNNY "LAM" JONES NABS TOUCHDOWN PASS FOR TEXAS — University of Texas wide receiver Johnny "Lam" Jones (26) gathers in a 54-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Rick McIvor in the first period of their game with Baylor Saturday as defensive back Howard Fields of Baylor makes a dive to stop the reception.

UT defense stops Baylor

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Sixth-ranked Texas' clawing defense, led by tackles Steve McMichael and Bill Acker, held Baylor to just two first downs and freshman quarterback Rick McIvor's passes to Johnny "Lam" Jones carried the Longhorns to a 13-0 Southwest Conference victory Saturday over the 17-ranked Bears. Peach Bowl-bound Baylor could not make a first down in the first half and only crossed midfield twice in the game as the Longhorn defense frustrated quarterbacks Mike Brannon and Mickey Elam. Texas, tied atop the SWC standings with Houston and Arkansas, struck for a touchdown on its first possession when Jones sneaked behind Howard Fields on a 54-yard pass-and-run scoring play. However, the Longhorns lost their starting backfield to injuries when freshman Rodney Tate and sophomore A.J. "Jam" Jones were hurt. Neither returned to the game and Jones will be lost to Texas for the season. Barefoot John Goodson's second-half field goals of 44 and 42 yards were all the points the Longhorns could cash despite excellent game-long field position on this rainy day with temperatures in the 50s. Baylor did not get a first down until :54 deep into the third quarter. The Bears crossed midfield for the first time in the fourth quarter on a 29-yard Brannon to Bo Taylor pass. However, All-America safety Johnnie Johnson intercepted Brannon to end the only Baylor threat. Texas is now 9-1 overall and 6-1 in the SWC. Baylor, which plays Clemson Dec. 31 in the Peach Bowl, is 7-4 and 5-3. Lam Jones broke a school receiving record by catching eight passes for 198 yards. The old record was 162 on six catches in 1949 by Ben Proctor against TCU. He also established a new career yardage receiving record for Texas. Baylor's offense could only manage 18 total yards in the first half, 14 of them rushing. Baylor, which went into the game leading the conference in touchdowns with 20, never got beyond its own 35-yard line in the first half. The deepest penetration they had for the game was to the Longhorn 28 before Johnson's interception. Texas got inside Baylor's 40-yard line four times without scoring and penetrated to the Baylor 17 and 2-yard lines without benefit. Lam Jones' receiving yardage was the most ever against a Baylor team.

UT retires Earl's jersey

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The University of Texas retired Heisman Trophy winner Earl Campbell's No. 20 jersey Saturday before the kickoff of the Texas-Baylor Southwest Conference game. It was the first time in the school's football history that it had retired the jersey of a player. Campbell is now an All-Pro running back for the Houston Oilers of the National Football League. On hand for the ceremonies were his old high school coach, Corky Nelson of Tyler, who is now an assistant coach at Baylor, and Athletic Director Darrell Royal, who recruited Campbell for Texas.

Aggies drown Frogs

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M turned a blocked field goal and a fumble into third quarter touchdowns and exploded for a 30-7 Southwest Conference victory over Texas Christian Saturday afternoon.

Trailing only 2-0, TCU tried to gain the lead early in the third quarter on a 39-yard field goal try by Greg Porter. But 6-foot-4, 233-pound defensive tackle Mack Moore blocked the kick and fell on it 18 yards farther up field, giving the Aggies possession near mid-field. David Beal, who took over at quarterback after an ineffective first half by starter Mike Mosley, took the Aggies 53 yards in 13 plays, getting the touchdown himself on a one-yard run.

Less than a minute later, Aggie linebacker Cal Peveto stripped TCU running back Jimmy Allen of the ball and linebacker Mike Little recovered for A&M at the TCU 1-yard line. Fullback David Hill rammed the line three straight times, finally getting in for the score. Beal hit split end Mike Whitwell for passes of 7 and 4 yards for the Aggies' third and fourth touchdowns. Mosley lost a fumble and was intercepted at the TCU 3 and the TCU 20 in the first half. But the Aggies took a 2-0 lead in the first quarter when Horned Frog quarterback Kevin Haney fumbled in his end zone for a safety. TCU scored on a 26-yard pass from third team quarterback Ruben Jones to Phillip Epps with 1 second left in the game. The win raised A&M's record to 5-5 for the year and 3-4 in SWC play with one game remaining, against Texas. TCU fell to close its season at 2-8-1, with a 1-6-1 league slate.

Steers rally to win Sweetwater Tournament

SWEETWATER — The Big Spring Steers rallied to overcome a very slim deficit then held on to take a 54-53 win over the Sweetwater Mustangs and in the process claim the consolation championship in the annual Sweetwater Tournament.

The Steers, trailing 39-38 going into the final stanza, gradually built a five-point lead going into the final seconds. But Sweetwater intercepted Big Spring passes and converted them into four points to narrow the Steer lead to 54-53, only to see Big Spring hold onto the ball until time expired.

Big Spring was led in scoring by James Doss, who had 12 points. Others scoring in double figures for the Bovines included Cesar Espinosa and Mike Domino, who had 11 and 10, respectively. Kenny Walker and Gilbert Gerst led the Sweetwater scoring charge with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

Big Spring also benefitted from the fine floor play of Robert Rubio, Domino, Doss and Dickie Wrightsil in the contest.

Big Spring advanced to the consolation finals by losing their first round game to Lamesa on Friday morning, then coming back to defeat Pecos in an afternoon tilt.

A second quarter explosion by Lamesa propelled the Golden Tors past the Steers. Big Spring held a 9-8 lead after the opening eight minutes, but Lamesa outscored Big Spring in the second stanza by 22-10.

The Steers, who were paced in this game by Dickie Wrightsil's 16 points. Big Spring suffered through a miserable morning from the free throw line, sinking only nine of 21.

Harris was high point man for Lamesa with 21. Big Spring then totally dominated Pecos to take a 75-60 win in the consolation semifinals.

The Steers used their full court press to advantage throughout the first three stanzas, leading by 61-38 going into the final quarter.

Big Spring benefitted from a balanced scoring attack in the Pecos win, headed by Robert Rubio's 14 points. Others scoring in double figures in the win included Wrightsil and Fletcher Johnson with 13, Doss with 11 and Mike Domino with 10.

The Steers return home this Tuesday to host the Lamesa Golden Tors at 8:00 p.m. in Steer Gym. There will be a junior varsity and sophomore game also on the agenda.

Arkansas bombs SMU

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Kevin Scanlon, the most accurate passer in Arkansas history, tossed three touchdown passes in the first half and scored once as the seventh-ranked Razorbacks locked up at least a share of the Southwest Conference championship with a 31-7 victory over Southern Methodist University on Saturday. Scanlon, who entered the game hitting 65 percent of his passes, hit 10 of 14 for 121 yards as Arkansas built a 31-7 halftime lead. Arkansas started at the SMU 29, 34 and 44 in the first quarter because of two fumble recoveries and a 17-yard punt and turned those opportunities into a 17-0 lead. The Razorbacks, picked to finish in the SWC's second division, wound up 10-1 for the season and 7-1 in league play. Houston and Texas are both 6-1 in the conference and finish the season next week — Houston against Rice and Texas against Texas A&M. If both win, and both will be favored, Arkansas will go to the Cotton Bowl. Texas would go to the Sugar Bowl and Houston would go to the Sun Bowl. SMU finishes the season 6-

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern Cal tailback Charles White ran for 194 yards and four touchdowns Saturday as the fourth-ranked Trojans won the Pacific-10 Conference football championship and a Rose Bowl berth with a 49-14 victory over the UCLA Bruins.

Hontas passes Tulane past LSU, 24-13

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane quarterback Roch Hontas threw for 259 yards and three touchdowns Saturday to lead 18th ranked, Liberty-Bowbound Tulane to a 24-13 victory over arch rival Louisiana State. It was only the second time in 31 years that Tulane managed to whip LSU, and it was the last regular-season coaching appearance for Charles McClendon, head coach at LSU for 18 years. LSU, 6-5, has a Tangerine Bowl date on Dec. 22, the same day that Tulane meets Penn State in the Liberty Bowl. Hontas got all his team's touchdowns in the first half. After completing a 16-yard pass to set up a 19-yard field goal by Ed Murray in the first quarter, Hontas hit three different receivers for the touchdowns. LSU, held scoreless through the first three quarters, finally got on the boards on a 4-yard run by quarterback Dave Woodley midway through the final period. Tulane wound up its regular season with a 9-2 record.

Key divisional clashes highlight NFL

By the Associated Press

Struggling under the burden of some rather ragged play so far this season, the National Football Conference West Division has been granted a divorce — for a week — from its more successful rivals. The four NFC West teams play each other Sunday and even though their records aren't as impressive, first place is on the line in this division, just as it is in the rest of the National Football League.

New Orleans and Los Angeles share the NFC West lead, each with mediocre 6-6 records. This week the division is split in geographical pairings, with Los Angeles playing at San Francisco and New Orleans at Atlanta.

Sunday's other games pair Buffalo at New England, Cleveland at Pittsburgh, Kansas City at San Diego, Miami at Baltimore, Oakland at Denver, Minnesota at Tampa Bay, Philadelphia at Green Bay, and Washington at the New York Giants.

The New York Jets play at Seattle Monday night. The season's 13th week got started Thanksgiving Day with two upsets as Detroit shut out Chicago 20-0 and Houston won its fifth in a row, 30-24 over the Dallas Cowboys.

New Orleans slipped back into the first-place tie when Seattle's Jim Zorn burned them for his third and fourth TD passes of the game in the final six minutes last Sunday and then LA beat Atlanta Monday night. Saints quarterback Archie Manning had a pretty good day, too, hitting on 20 of 27 for 268 yards and directing a 420-yard offense.

The Falcons have won four straight against New Orleans, including a 40-34 seasaw overtime affair earlier this season, and a pair of 20-17 minute victories last year. Atlanta is two games behind Los Angeles and New Orleans and a loss would eliminate the Falcons.

The Rams have enjoyed an impressive record of success against the 49ers, beating their northern neighbors six straight times and 17 of the last 19. Overall, Los Angeles leads the series 38-19-2.

San Francisco, despite its 1-11 record, threw a giant-sized scare into Denver last week, shooting out to a 21-10 lead as James Owens returned a kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown. But the Broncos came back with four straight second-half TDs to win the game.

That victory kept Denver tied for the AFC West lead with San Diego, which stung Pittsburgh last week. Both are 9-3.

Denver returns home for Oakland and Mile High Stadium agrees with the Broncos, who have won 20 of 24 games there since Red Miller became coach in 1977.

Both the Broncos and Raiders staged second half rallies with different results last Sunday when Denver overtook San Francisco but Oakland fell short against the Kansas City Chiefs.

KC tries to halt San Diego's three-game winning streak but the Chargers are sky-high after belting Pittsburgh last week. Eight turnovers, including five interceptions, were the difference, with linebackers Woodrow Lowe and Ray Preston picking off two apiece. Lowe took one of his 77 yards for a TD.

UTA routs Idaho State

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Idaho State coach Bud Hake announced his resignation Saturday afternoon, after watching the Texas-Arlington Mavericks dismantle his Bengals 48-0 in a non-conference game Saturday afternoon.

The Mavericks rolled up 471 yards total offense with 14 different players running with the ball, three catching it and five scoring with it.

The win was the sixth in a row for UTA, which closed its season with a 9-2 record. Idaho State dropped its 16th in a row, finished 0-11 for the year and 5-27 for three seasons under Hake.

Heisman Trophy winner too much for Nebraska Cornhuskers
Sims runs Sooners to Orange Bowl berth

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Billy Sims rushed for 247 yards and set up both Oklahoma touchdowns and the Sooners defense choked off Nebraska's high-powered offense as the No. 8 Sooners eased to a 17-14 victory over the third-ranked Cornhuskers in their Big Eight football championship showdown.

Sims, the 1978 Heisman Trophy winner, was pulled down at the 9. But with 7:55 left, quarterback J.C. Watts scored from the 3 on fourth down. Nebraska, which entered the game with a 35.2-point scoring average, roared back downfield and closed the gap to 17-14 on a trick play.

Sun Bowl selection committee representative Sam Jenkins confirmed the conditional Sun Bowl invitation following Friday's game.

Neither Houston's future nor present appeared too bright in the first half against the Red Raiders, 3-6-1, trying to salvage a disappointing season.

That's when Elston, who had replaced Brown late in the second quarter, started to work his magic once again. Elston executed a perfectly timed fake and then pitched to Terald Clark for a 14-yard touchdown run late in the third quarter.

Then in the fourth period, Elston faked into the line again, then kept the ball and shot through the secondary on a 72-yard touchdown run that lifted the Cougars into the lead for the first time with only 11:21 left in the game.

"The defensive end came down real hard and that allowed me to jump into the secondary," Elston said. "I made one move on the safety and then I was free and running for a touchdown. I knew there was nothing else to stop me."

Hadnot gained 199 yards on 21 carries and scored his first touchdown of the season. He moved into the top 10 among all-time SWC rushers. Houston's Clark countered with 167 yards on 30 carries and needs only thirty against Rice this week to hit the 1,000 yard mark.

TRENT — The running of Herbert and Richard Beaver led the Trent Gorillas to a 51-0 bi-district over the Paint Rock Indians in a six-man football game played here Friday night.

The game was called at the halftime due to the 45-point rule.

Trent jumped out to a 24-0 lead in the last four and a half minutes of the first quarter on two runs by Herbert Beaver and a returned pass interception by Greg Easley.

Trent added three more touchdowns to increase their lead to 44-0 in the second stanza, and then capped the game when kicker Lloyd Williams burst into the end zone from the three to give Trent the necessary points in order to call the game at the intermission.

Trent piled up 219 yards rushing in the first half, while holding Paint Rock to only two first downs and 90 yards total offense.

Sands wins twice

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs basketball teams swept their games Friday night with Dawson in play here.

The Sands girls started the victorious night by taking a 64-28 decision over Dawson. The win increased the Sands fens record to 5-1.

Penny Grantham was the high point scorer for Sands in the contest with 21. Jana Long and Carla Nichols added 12 and eight points, respectively.

The Sands boys then boosted their record to 4-0 on the season with a 68-45 win over Dawson.

David Long and Shayne Wigington led the Sands attack with 14 points, with Bill Wigington chipped in with 12.

Both teams resume play this Tuesday at Grady at 6:30 p.m.

The Celtics downed the Pacers 118-103.

Haskell whips Rotan, 52-20

SWEETWATER — The Haskell Indians broke open a close game by erupting for 26 points in the fourth stanza en route to a 53-20 win over the Rotan Yellowhammers in a Class A bi-district clash here Friday night.

Haskell will now meet Seagraves, 21-0 winners over McCamey next weekend at a site to be determined.

Haskell scored three touchdowns before Rotan rallied to close the gap to 20-6 at halftime. The Indians points came on runs by Monnie Hise and Jim Harris, with quarterback Harris also connecting on a scoring pass to Joseph Browning.

Rotan then scored late in the first half and early in the second half to narrow the Haskell lead to 20-12.

But Harris then connected with Kirk Flippen on an 11-yard scoring pass late in the third period to start the Haskell rout.

Haskell was trying to achieve a 60 point night for the second consecutive week. Last week, the Indians defeated Paducah by a score of 67-8 to clinch the District 7-A title.

Haskell will take a 10-0-1 record against Seagraves, while the loss which ended Rotan's season was their first of the year.

Score by quarters:

Boxer seriously injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Classen of Puerto Rico was fighting for his life today in Bellevue Hospital after suffering head injuries and possible brain damage following a 10th-round knockout Friday night at the hands of unbeaten Wilfred Scypion of Houston.

Classen, a 159-pounder, had taken an eight-count with 15 seconds remaining in the ninth round in the middleweight fight at Madison Square Garden's Felt Forum. When the bell sounded to start the 10th and final round, the 29-year-old Classen, who lives in Sancti Spiritus, remained on his stool.

The Puerto Rican's handlers, headed by manager Marco Minuto, lifted him from the seat and pushed him out of the corner.

Classen never raised his hands and was caught with two rights by the 156-pound Scypion, who registered his 13th knockout in as many bouts.

Referee Lew Eskin moved in and stopped the fight at 12 seconds as Classen was flat on the ring with blood coming out of his mouth. Classen remained there for about seven minutes before being carried out on a stretcher.

Oxygen was applied before Classen was taken to the hospital, where he underwent surgery.

Taiwan continues argument with Olympic officials

LONDON (AP) — The Taiwanese are fighting to stay in the Olympic Games, to go on calling themselves the Republic of China and to keep using the old Kuomintang flag.

A pile of letters lies in the headquarters of the International Olympic Committee (IOC) at Lausanne, Switzerland, containing votes by IOC members on the latest formula to bring the athletes of mainland China into the Games. The votes will be counted Monday.

The formula calls on Taiwan to drop its old political name, compete as the Chinese Taipei Olympic Committee and march in the opening parade under a special Olympic flag. If that is approved — and Olympic sources say approval is virtually certain — Taiwan's lawyers will seek to block it through the courts in Switzerland, legally the IOC's home.

The Taiwanese are prepared to argue before judges that the IOC has no right to tell them to march without their chosen national flag. They will quote the Olympic charter, which says each team must be accompanied in the parade by the flag of its country.

The China problem, which has plagued the Olympics for more than 20 years, could be in a state of deadlock again.

The IOC executive board drew up the new plan at Nagoya, Japan, last month, and the Taiwanese immediately turned on the pressure to get it rejected. Every member of the IOC received a letter from Taipei saying legal action would follow if the vote went against Taiwan's wishes.

American dollars helping US athletes

It was the second floor of one of the most exclusive eateries in New York, and the place radiated with class and affluence. The co-hosts: The U.S. Olympic Committee and Coca-Cola, which counts the daily sales of its product in the multimillions.

America's Olympic effort no longer has to stand on street corners and pass the hat. It has moved uptown. It's now strictly vested suits, white shirt and tie.

"We have 104 corporations now involved in the movement," said Col. Don Miller, a former army officer who is executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "There are 137 nations under the Olympic flag. Only the United States does not receive assistance from the government."

"It's our free enterprise system. As we like to say, America does not send teams to the Olympic Games, Americans do."

Miller is typical military — straight-backed, serious, every word measured. When he speaks, you feel you are being briefed on a very important mission.

He introduced Robert Kane, the USOC president. Kane is more relaxed. That is understandable. They change presidents every four or five years. Miller's is a permanent, salaried job. He tends the store at the Colorado Springs headquarters.

Kane is a handsome, white-haired man who is dean emeritus of the athletic department at Cornell University. He has been in the Olympic hierarchy since 1952 and has given it dignity and direction, as has Col. Miller.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY, NOV. 25, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to study your ideas, motivations and philosophies of life. Use your imagination to express your finest thoughts. Strive for more harmony with family members.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Come to right decisions in conjunction with relatives, friends and allies. Not a good day for handling business affairs.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you study the motives of friends, you can then cooperate more with them and be more successful. Use common sense.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Contact the finest and wisest persons you know can be helpful to you in many ways at this time. Plan the future wisely.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Come to a far better understanding with the one you love and be happier. Show more consideration for others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good time to make new allies whose ideas coincide with yours. Make plans to improve your social life in the days ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Showing gratitude for kind deeds of others is wise at this time. Make plans to have greater abundance in the future.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be sure not to comment about things you know little about. Make sure there are no obstacles in your path of progress.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan what must be done to have more harmony at home. Look over your work and make plans for improvement.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study the highest type of philosophy that can inspire you to live a better life. Make this a most worthwhile day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Concentrate on how to be more productive in the future. Show more devotion for mate and express happiness together.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get after personal wishes that mean the most to you and you can easily gain them. Be with persons you really enjoy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Think of practical ways to gain your most cherished aim. Make sure there are no obstacles in your path of progress.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one with originality, so be sure to encourage this and much success will follow. Originality is strong here, so don't try to change the nature. Be sure to give good spiritual training early in life. "The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Look at down side of life

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's not out of any particular determination to destroy an image as the Pollyanna of pop music, but Pablo Cruise is taking a look at the down side of life on the group's new album.

"In contrast to, say, 'Place in the Sun' and 'Worlds Away,' where the lyrics are really positive and optimistic, I think there's more of an emotional statement in 'Part of the Game,'" says Cory Lerios, keyboard player-vocalist for the San Francisco-based ensemble. "We've always been contemplative," he adds. "Some people may have thought that we never thought of anything bad in the world or felt anything bad in the world."

This is probably true. In six years and four albums, Pablo Cruise has attracted quite a few fans with a rock sound that could best be described as, well, unrelentingly upbeat.

Like the band's music and even its name, album packages and song titles reeked of sunshine, surf and the California good life: "Ocean Breeze," "Island Woman," "A Place in the Sun." Band members Lerios, Dave Jenkins, Steve Price and Bruce Day look like they never spent a day sick in bed in their life.

Lerios says the whole carefree, outdoorsy image wasn't planned; it just happened. In fact, Lerios and Price, a high school friend, were planning business careers when they started jamming together —

Lerios at the piano and Price on the drums.

The business careers were dropped after few terms at college; with guitarist Jenkins, Lerios and Price joined a San Francisco band called Stoneground. Later they teamed up with It's a Beautiful Day bass player Bud Cockrell and Pablo Cruise was born in the summer of 1973.

The band actually got some of its earliest exposure through television. Music directors for sports programs lapped up the bright, active sound; at one time or another Pablo Cruise selections have been played on CBS' "Sports Spectacular," NBC's "Sports World," ABC's "Wide World of Sports," "Monday Night Football," "Celebrity Superstars" and "Super Star Competition."

One selection off "Lifeline," the band's second album, "Zero to Sixty in Five," was used for a surfing documentary, "Free Ride."

Charlie Louvin reflects again

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Singer Charlie Louvin says he and his brother Ira would be country music superstars today if Ira were still alive.

Ira Louvin was killed in a traffic accident in 1965. Before splitting up two years before, the Louvins formed what many consider the greatest country music duo of all time.

"We would have eventually gotten back together," Charlie Louvin, 52, said in an interview. "If we were together today, we could be the hottest group. That's where the music is — the Louvin Brothers sound. Everybody is trying the Louvin sound."

He said the Eagles have the Louvin sound and Emmylou Harris and Linda Ronstadt have harmonized their records much like the Louvin Brothers used to.

"And lots of bluegrass groups imitate it," he said in an interview in the one-room country music museum he runs in the Nashville suburb of Hendersonville.

The Louvins are best known for their record "When I Stop Dreaming," which more than 100 singers have recorded. Charlie Louvin also has had hits like "If I Could Only Win Your Love," which was recorded

Roles of 'Deep Throat' actor 'titillate' fans

NEW YORK (AP) — It's not odd to sight an actor both in a play and a movie here. But one does notice if the actor is Harry Reems, the play "The Office Murders" and the movie "Deep Throat."

"Throat," of course, is the porn flick that caused him all that unpleasantness in 1976 in Memphis, Tenn. There, he was convicted (he says that later was overturned) on federal obscenity charges.

Since Nov. 9, he has been acting in "Murders," an Off-Broadway comedy thriller. It is the Off-Broadway debut of Reems, 32, a Bronx lad raised in suburban Harrison, N.Y.

True, he is famed for doing whatever it is porn stars do. But he insists he is not suddenly going legit, cashing in on his "Throat" notoriety with no real background in legit theater at all.

He studied acting here as a youth, he says, and broke in, circa 1968, in "Coriolanus" at the Cooper Square Arts Theater, then did other works at such off-off Broadway havens as La Mama and WPA.

It was at this time he entered the full-display section of the performing arts. He did 50 "exploits," as he calls porn films, before the halcyon year of 1972, when he made "Throat" in Florida.

After that, he says, he was involved in 11 more exploits, many of soft-core, high-budget persuasion, the last done in 1974.

Why do porn, denounced by many as degrading, disgusting and just awful. Reems, who got but $100 for "Throat," cites The Money. But he also cites two unexpected factors, "curiosity and titillation."

So, it isn't the old story of the starving young actor forced into a life of cinematic sin, hey? "Nah, that's bull," he snorts. Not only has he no regrets, he even suggests that anyone who carries on as he did in "Throat" and for "a lousy $100 is doing it for more than just the money."

"I don't care how desperate they are. There's a certain titillation, a certain curiosity, a certain need to be doing that, performing sexually in front of others."

Regardless of how he or others regard said exhibitions, one thing is certain: Exhibit A at his Memphis trial cost him a boodle. He says his legal tab totalled $187,000, much of that paid by a defense fund promoted by Hugh Hefner, who publishes Playboy and smokes a pipe.

You'd think, what with the Great Court Fight of '76, that Reems would swear off X-rated emoting, repair to the guest house he rents in Malibu, Calif., and start a new life of sackcloth and surfing.

Think again. Sure, he's doing legit stuff now, but hasn't bid adieu to that which made him famous: "Oh, not, not at all. It may sound pretentious, but I think I've got a role to play."

"I think I've got what could be a very important position in dispelling antiquated myths about sexuality."

"And if it can be done" — he meant myth-dispelling in a sex film — "in a way that meets with my standards of taste, then I'll get involved."

FRED ASTAIRE

Astaire hard act to follow

NEW YORK (AP) — He's a cab driver, a doorman, jeweler, hot dog vendor — even Santa Claus. He's also Fred Astaire and, at 80, a hard act to follow.

The ageless hooper is in the Big Apple making "The Man in the Santa Claus Suit," to be aired on NBC Dec. 24. A spokesman says: "It's another way of telling the 'Miracle on 34th St.' but it is quite different."

'Head Over Heels' eyed

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HEAD OVER HEELS is a modest but satisfying film concerning a young man possessed by love. John Heard plays the Salt Lake City civil servant who is obsessed by an ambivalent beauty (Mary Beth Hurt) who can't decide between him and her solid, dull husband. Nothing remarkable happens, but writer-director Joan Micklin Silver has created scenes and dialogue that ring of truth. The leads are superbly cast; both Heard and Hurt are compelling performers who seem destined for solid careers. Gloria Grahame registers strongly as Heard's suicidal mother. The rating is PG; Silver has tastefully treated material that could easily have been vulgarized.

ZSA ZSA GABOR

Zsa Zsa loved being beaten

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Zsa Zsa Gabor says all seven of her husbands beat her at times, but she adds, "I love it."

"I like to know that the man has the upper hand, that I make a man mad enough so that he beats me," the Hungarian-born personality said during a taping of the Mike Douglas Show earlier this week. The show will be aired on Dec. 11.

She said some of the husbands hit her "a little bit more, some a little bit less."

DUSTIN HOFFMAN

Ideal director, parent compared

NEW YORK (AP) — The ideal parent, says Dustin Hoffman, would be a lot like the ideal director.

"That is, someone who guides you without you even knowing it, without imposing himself," said the actor in an interview in the December issue of Parents magazine. Hoffman and his estranged wife, Anne, have two daughters.

"You kid yourself if you think being separated does not have a traumatic effect on them," said Hoffman, who starred in "All the President's Men" and "The Graduate."

CARD OF THANKS
 Perhaps you sang a lovely song,
 Or sat quietly in a chair;
 Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers,
 If so, we saw them there.
 Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words
 As any friend could say;
 Perhaps you prepared some tasty food,
 Or maybe furnished a car;
 Perhaps you rendered a service unseen,
 Near at hand or from afar;
 Whatever you did to console the heart
 We thank you so much,
 Whatever the part.

CARD OF THANKS
 The wife and children of Norman (Boots) Burkhardt wish to thank everyone for all they did to help us during the sickness and passing of our loved one.
 A special thank you to Chaplain Hicks and Bro. McFerguson for their help and words of comfort.
 Also the many friends and ladies of Calvary Baptist Church, who brought food, or sent floral or money offerings.
 Without the help of Ben Faulkner who guided and helped us so much at this time our loss would have been harder to bear. We love you Ben.
 A sincere thank you to the Disabled American Veterans and Auxiliary, The Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary and The American Legion Post 355 for their generous donations of money and food and the many other acts of kindness.
 Also Sheppard Funeral Home for their kindness and efficiency in making the arrangements.

Power utility course set

The West Texas Regional Training Center has announced two Electric Power Utility courses to be held during December. They are basic Overcurrent and Over-voltage Protection Dec. 3-5 and basic Watt-hour Metering Dec. 10-14. These courses will be offered at the Texas A&M Engineering Extension facility in Floydada. For further information one can call 806-983-2827.

Farm Cotton strippers busy in West Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Cotton strippers are rolling in West Texas and the High Plains as harvest operations elsewhere taper off, says Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. But he notes in his weekly crop report that sugar cane, soybean, vegetable and fruit harvesting remains active in the Rio Grande Valley. Dry weather that has aided harvesters is dealing a severe blow to small grain crops planted for winter pasture in some areas, with many plantings that have failed to come up at, Pfannstiel said. Some farmers have not planted small grains at all because of the drought. Forage conditions on pastures and ranges in the western part of the state have declined rapidly, bringing an increase in livestock feeding and stepped-up culling of cow herds, he said. Many young calves also are going market as prices remain strong.

LARRY FLYNT
Decision should be challenged?

CINCINNATI (AP) — A New York lawyer for Hustler magazine publisher Larry Flynt says a decision barring out-of-state lawyers from representing Flynt should be challenged in court.

Paul Cambria of Buffalo, N.Y., said he and his partner, Harold Fahringier, may seek a trial in U.S. District Court here on whether their removal as Flynt's defense was discriminatory. A ruling earlier this year by the U.S. Supreme Court said Flynt has no constitutional right to be represented by out-of-state lawyers. Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge William Morrissey decided in 1977 to bar Fahringier and Cambria from representing Flynt on charges of disseminating material harmful to juveniles.

"We think the issue ought to be tried so Morrissey can be called as a witness to explain why he excluded us," he said.

Some good yields of sorghum and sugar beets are also being harvested in the High Plains. Peanut harvesting is complete in East and Central Texas, with about 10 percent of the late crop still to be harvested in the Coastal Bend.

Pfannstiel said a bumper pecan crop continues to come in, and while yields are excellent, quality is down in some areas due to dry weather. Reports from district Extension agents showed the following conditions.

PANHANDLE: About 75 percent of the sorghum crop is out, and cotton harvesting is in full swing. Sugar beets are 60 percent harvested, and carrot harvesting continues in Deaf Smith County. Cattle are in good shape, with large numbers moving onto harvested grain fields to graze stubble.

SOUTH PLAINS: Cotton harvesting is peaking; turnout and micronaire are lower than normal. Harvesting of soybeans and sorghum is virtually complete. The sugar beet harvest is 80-90 percent complete; yields and sugar content are good. Irrigated wheat is making good progress. Stocker cattle are moving onto wheat and crop stubble.

ROLLING PLAINS: Cotton harvesting has been in full swing, with above-average yields of about a bale per acre. Rains early in the week will cause some delays, but should give a boost to wheat. Greenbugs are increasing in some fields. An excellent pecan harvest is under way. Some ranchers have started limited supplemental feeding due to poor grazing.

NORTH CENTRAL: All field crops have been harvested except for a few fields of cotton. Wheat and oats are growing well but need rain.

Pecan harvest is showing good yields. Fall calving and cattle marketing continues, with strong prices. Some cattle feeding has started.

NORTHEAST: Corn, sorghum and peanuts are harvested. About 10 percent of the cotton and soybean remain to be harvested. An excellent sweet potato crop is in. Prices are down for a record pecan yield. Some supplemental cattle feeding has started though grazing is good.

FAR WEST: Cotton harvesting continues, with good yields and grades. Some harvesting of red chili and carrots continues in western counties, and a bumper pecan harvest is making good progress. Wheat is fair but needs rain. Cattle are in good shape, with some supplemental feeding.

WEST CENTRAL: Cotton harvesting ranges from 25 to 100 percent complete. Yields are fair to good. Harvesting of an excellent pecan crop continues. Wheat is growing slowly and range conditions are poor due to prolonged dry weather. Livestock feeding is active.

CENTRAL: All field crops are up, with cotton and peanut yields and quality good. Harvesting of a heavy pecan crop continues, but quality is down due to a late summer drought. Scattered rains should help small grains but more is needed. Livestock remain in good condition.

EAST: Harvesting of cotton, corn, sorghum and peanuts is virtually complete, with good yields. Pecan harvesting remains active. Wheat and oats are growing well but need rain. Forage and livestock are good, with fall calving heavy.

SOUTHEAST AND UPPER GULF COAST: Soybean harvesting is about complete with a good pecan harvest continuing. Land is being prepared for spring crops. Scattered rains will help small grain pastures. Livestock are in good condition, with average grazing.

SOUTH CENTRAL: All the cotton is in, with some gins running around the clock. The crop has been excellent, with some record yields. A few fields of peanuts are still out, and an excellent pecan harvest continues although quality is off. Rains should boost winter pastures.

SOUTHWEST: Extremely dry conditions continue, with livestock and wildlife losing condition due to lack of grazing. Harvesting of pecans and fall vegetables continues. Small grains are poor due to the dry weather. Ranchers are busy with livestock feeding and deer hunters.

COASTAL BEND: Soybean are harvested, with yields averaging 23 bushels per acre. About 10 percent of the late crop remains out, with good yields. A heavy pecan crop is 80 percent harvested. Small grains are making little growth and pastures and ranges are generally poor due to continued dry weather. Some livestock feeding has started.

Talk is cheaper than you think.

How to save up to 60% on Long Distance.

If you're one of those who thinks a Long Distance call is a luxury, read on. The trick to saving money while keeping in touch with family or friends is knowing when to call, and calling One-Plus.

Call between 11pm and 8am.

Before you groan about how you can't stay up late or see straight in the morning, think about it. You'll be saving up to 60%! If you're a night person, you probably don't start counting sheep until after 11 pm anyway. And if you've got friends and family to call out west, it'll be a perfectly civilized 9 or 10 pm when their phone rings. If you like to see the sun rise, and you know folks back east, it'll be an hour later on their end.

Call out of state anytime before 8 am and you can talk all day if you want and still save 60%. In-state calls are also greatly reduced. Just remember to dial One-Plus.

Reach out on the weekend and save up to 60%.

Now this is a stroke of good luck: a really cheap Long Distance phone call just when you may want it most. Call any time between 11 pm Friday and 5 pm Sunday and really save. For instance, dial One-Plus and you can make a ten-minute call to Atlanta for only $1.55. That's almost worth making a new friend in Atlanta for.

Even on weeknights, save up to 35%.

Sometimes you can't wait for the weekend. Or you don't want to. But you can still save plenty Sunday through Friday from 5 pm to 11 pm. Think about what a bargain it is to call someone 1900 miles away, talk it up for ten minutes, and only run a tab of about $2.00. There's just no other way to get close to a faraway friend or relative so quickly, so cheaply.

On weekdays it's still a bargain.

Here's a surprise. From 8 am to 5 pm, a Long Distance chat still doesn't cost very much. A five minute call out of state, to anywhere in the continental U.S. is only about $2.50 when you dial One-Plus. Think of how good the sound of your voice would be to a friend (not to mention your mother!) right in the middle of the day.

Reach out and touch someone.

vantage of some of the learning equipment available at the Howard College learning center.

PRESSURES — Whether it be the pressures of school, the pressures of home or complete lack of interest, high school students seem to be forfeiting their right for an education. Adult Education gives dropouts a second chance to learn necessary skills they missed from dropping out of high school.

Dropouts forfeit right for an education

Adult Education gives second chance

By ROBBICROW
Family News Editor

Maybe they've had numerous run-ins with their teachers. Maybe they've had boyfriend-girlfriend problems. Maybe they're just not interested.

Whatever the reasons, high school students across the country are forfeiting their constitutional right for a 12th grade education.

Conclusions from a 1979 Regional Population Analysis of the Permian Basin four-county region (Howard, Martin, Glasscock and Rankin) revealed the following statistics:

Out of 28,000 people, 7,000 of those 22 years of age and older had less than an 8th grade education. A total of 5,600 participating in the census did not complete high school. Thus, 45 percent of the 28,000 had less than a high school education.

Also discovered in the analysis was the fact that 8,676 under 18 years of age were not attending school.

Another recent survey taken of the total population of Texas revealed the shocking fact that 52.61 per cent, over half, of those 25 years of age and older did not have a high school diploma. The survey did not even include those in the 18-25 age group.

In 1965, programs were recommended by the World Conference of Ministers of Education on the eradication of illiteracy. The seriousness of this nation-wide problem prompted the federal government to provide funds to states to deal with the situation. Thus, the Adult Education Program was formed.

Howard College is the prime sponsor or the local A.E. program which is based in the Horace Garret Applied Science Building on the college campus.

Cheri Sparks serves as the program director. Martha Fierro is assistant director.

"Funding for Adult Education comes from the Texas Education Agency," Ms. Fierro explained, "and although the programs are free to students, the taxpayers help pay for them."

The A.E. program is on the same bill as the Big Spring School System.

Malcolm Knowles is known throughout as the father of Adult Education. He cited the goals of the program as "to bring adults into viable relationships with his fellow human beings, his environment and his own potential and purpose."

Knowles stressed that the goals of the program should reveal an intention to meet a discovered need.

"A.E. is defined as education for adults whose inability to read or write the English language constitutes a substantial impairment in getting or retaining employment or in fulfilling family and citizenship responsibilities," revealed the program director.

Adult Education provides instruction in computation and communication skills for adults 16 years of age and over who are functioning at a level of performance which does not permit them to meet their adult responsibilities in today's society.

"The way I perceive it," continued Ms. Sparks, "Adult Education is exactly as it sounds, education for adults."

A. E. gives those people, who, for whatever reason dropped out of school, the opportunity to pick up again on the process of learning. The program also aids in the long-range goal of acquiring that which is equal to a high school diploma, the G.E.D. (General Educational Development.)

According to the assistant director, reaching those who would benefit most from the program has proposed somewhat of a problem.

"The basic people are the hardest to reach," she said. "We've tried to put learning centers in the neighborhood church and it is working out real well."

The A.E. staff blames lack of transportation as one of the major hindrances in acquiring program participants. Therefore, Adult Education learning centers have been located in numerous areas throughout Big Spring and surrounding areas to provide easier access for A.E. students.

Learning centers are located at Howard College, the Veterans Administration Medical Center, the Big Spring State Hospital, the St. Thomas Catholic Church, the Nutritional Health Site, Mountain View Nursing Home, and the Big Spring Federal Prison.

"We also have learning centers open in Coahoma and Stanton and plan to open centers in Big Lake and Garden City in the near future," Ms. Fierro revealed.

Adult Education is available to anyone 16 years and older from grade 0 to grade 12. Even those wanting to refresh their skills are welcomed to the program.

"Many people come to us with nothing but survival skills," conveyed Ms. Fierro. "So we also offer life coping skills."

In the life coping skills program, students are able to learn anything from how to write a check to how to fill out a job application form.

"We try to do a little of everything," Ms. Fierro stated.

Upon accepting a student for the Adult Education program, a member of the staff informally interviews the individual.

"We try to find out what subjects they had the most trouble with, their reasons for dropping out of school, and what their main interests are. Then we have them take an informal test so we can see exactly what level they are at," Ms. Fierro explained.

Upon completion of the test, the student immediately begins working on his weaknesses.

"Slowly," Ms. Fierro continued, "we begin picking up on other skills until we feel they are ready to take the GED and pass it."

The GED program consists of five parts including English, science, social studies, reading and math. The actual testing system is available at Howard College.

"Adult Education works hand in hand with Howard College," said Ms. Fierro. "Without HC, we wouldn't be here."

The format of Adult Education is intentionally designed to be as different from a regular classroom as possible.

"We realize that there were reasons for these people dropping out of school, so we try to make Adult Education as much unlike a regular school classroom as we possibly can. Definitely no lectures," Ms. Fierro stressed.

Although those coming to Adult Education often seem timid or embarrassed at first, as soon as they get a taste of immediate success, their timidity is overcome by their eagerness to learn more.

"And no one ever knows what the other person is working on," Ms. Fierro explained, "so there is no need for embarrassment."

Student success from the Adult Education program has been continuous.

"We've never had anyone who completely failed to become interested or benefit in some way from the program. We've always found something to interest each person. Usually, if you just sit and listen, you find out their interests."

Ms. Sparks pointed out that the majority of those participating in the program were in it to get results.

"The students are sincere and dedicated because most of them have been through the college of hard-knocks. They know how hard it is to get a good job without an education."

"Kids have to go to school, these people don't," added Ms. Fierro.

It has been discovered by the teachers of the program that a number of the students who find their way to the Adult Education program have an undetected learning disability such as dyslexia, a disturbance of the ability to read. This is a very common occurrence, and probably the reason they lost interest in school to begin with, says Ms. Fierro.

Others have a considerable memory problem.

"They have failed in school because of their inability to remember," Ms. Fierro explained.

Teachers are often sent to workshops to learn how to detect such signs in their students before they become discouraged and drop out.

The program reaches a wide range of age groups. Some adults coming back to re-learn have been in their 80's, while others are considerably younger, such as women who dropped out of school when then married at an early age.

Mrs. Juana Mendoza, 49, is the perfect example of the numerous success stories that result from the A. E. program.

She graduated and received her G.E.D. Oct. 23, 1979.

Her father died when she was very young and being the oldest child, she had to quit school in the 5th grade and help her mother support the family.

"I never had the schooling I should have. So, since my children were grown, I wanted to learn more," Mrs. Mendoza explained.

It only took Mrs. Mendoza 1 year to acquire her G.E.D. She is an employee in the housekeeping department of the Big Spring State Hospital, and had easy access to the A.E. learning center stationed there.

"I worked real hard," she said, "and I'm very glad I did. I'm going to keep going to school because I want to improve my spelling. I know I can if I just put my mind to it," she stated.

Mrs. Mendoza also has the desire to learn how to play the piano.

"I want to learn how to play so I can teach it to my 12 grandchildren."

For Mrs. Mendoza, it was hard to get into the routine of studying. There were times when she became discouraged and contemplated quitting.

"But I would see how determined the other students were and that inspired me to go on. Graduating and receiving my G.E.D. was a very exciting moment for me and my entire family," she concluded.

Other members of the A.E. staff, in addition to Ms. Fierro and Ms. Sparks, include Karen Abbott, learning center teacher; Kathy Daughter, Big Spring State Hospital and V.A. Medical Center learning center teacher; and Joy Vaughn, clerical worker and teacher's aide.

For those interested, the learning center hours are 8 a.m.-3 p.m. Monday-Thursday; 8 a.m.-noon Friday; and 6-9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

DROPOUT — In a recent survey taken on the total Texas population, it was revealed that over half the people, ages 25 and older, did not have a high school diploma. The Adult Education program is getting a large number of those dropouts back in school and many are walking away with their diploma equivalent, the G.E.D.

PROUD G.E.D. POSSESSOR — Oct. 23, 1979 was an especially exciting and happy day for Mrs. Juana Mendoza. After having to drop out of school in the 5th grade to help support her family, Mrs. Mendoza went back to school at age 49 through the Adult Education program and acquired her G.E.D.

Midway Baptist setting for Friday ceremony

Cindy Fryar became the bride of Kenny Fryrear in a doubling ceremony performed Friday evening in the Midway Baptist Church.

John Snider, minister of the Melrose, N.M., Church of Christ, read the 7 p.m. ceremony before a heart-shaped archway entwined with greenery and enhanced with baskets of white gladiolus and burgundy roses. The sanctuary decorations were completed with two seven-branch candelabras flanking either side of the setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fryar, Rt. 1, Box 423. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fryrear, Rt. 1, Box 319.

Performing the wedding selections were vocalists Andy Spell, Vickie and Doug Harriman, Shana, Kelly and Lonnie Anderson, Steve Sargent, Tracy Spell, Bruce and Marsha Allen and Sharon Tindol. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lorene Barber, organist.

A white satin bridal gown featuring an empire waistline and sweetheart neckline applied with lace was worn by the bride as she was given in marriage. The floor-length skirt, accented with lace appliques, formed a chapel-length train. A silk veil of illusion trimmed with coordinating lace appliques fell from her lace-adorned Camelot cap.

A cascade bouquet of white silk stephanotis centered with one white orchid was carried by the bride as an accent to her ensemble.

Nancy Howell attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patricia Bennett and Fay Fryar, both sisters of the bride; and Debbie Stone, sister of the groom.

MRS. KENNY FRYREAR

Billy Smith served the groom as best man. Ken Kelso, Garden City; Randy Oliver, Holyoke, Colo.; and Rusty Zwrn Otis, Colo., were groomsmen.

Guests were seated by Bobby Fryar, Ray Don Meyers and Kelly Hunter.

Christy Bennett, niece of the bride served as flower girl. Michah Epley, cousin of the bride, Forsan, was ring bearer. Terry Buchanan, Mt. Calm, Tex., and Jana Hunter, Garden City, were candlelighters.

Following the rite, the couple were feted with a reception in the church fellowship hall. Guests were registered by Julie Hall.

The bride's table was covered with white net cloth trimmed with burgundy and dusty rose ribbons. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with white love birds enhanced the table. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The groom's table was draped with burgundy and dusty rose cloth. A crystal pitcher holding silk flowers accented the setting as centerpiece.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Sue Tindol, Mrs. Doris James, Mrs. Doris Tiller, Mrs. Mary Anderson, Mrs. Jean Wynn, Mrs. Donna Hunter, Mrs. Patsy Shaw, Mrs. Katie McAdams, Mrs. Nita Stone, Mrs. Billie Fraizer, Dennett Moore, Donna James, and Dianna Milliam.

Out-of-town guests attended from Forsan, Mt. Calm, Haxton, Colo., Yuma, Colo., Melrose, N.M., Garden City, Odessa, Sedgewick, Colo., and Holyoke, Colo.

The bride is a Coahoma High School graduate and is employed by Furr's Supermarket. The groom graduated from Coahoma High School and attended Angelo State University. He is presently enrolled at Texas Tech.

The couple will make their home in Lubbock upon returning from their wedding trip to an undisclosed location.

Her 315 Pounds Is Ton of Woe

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 33-year-old unmarried woman with a 315-pound problem: ME!

I haven't gone back to my home town to see my family in four years because of the way I look. I've tried every diet you can name. I was down to 155 once, but I got depressed and started eating like crazy and gained it all back in six months. I wanted to commit suicide.

My friends and relatives have lectured me about my weight all my life. I've always been heavy, but now I'm hopeless. I've even had strangers come up to me and tell me I have such a pretty face it's a shame I'm so fat.

I haven't had a date with a man in five years. It's impossible to find nice-looking clothes in my size, so I order my things from a maternity catalogue. And I wear a coat, winter and summer.

I haven't seen a doctor in years because I know what he'll say.

Someone told me they heard there's an organization for fat people who have decided to accept themselves as they are without apologizing to anyone. Is there really such a club? Where is it? It would be heaven to get together with other fat people and not feel like a freak.

FAT FRANCES

DEAR FRANCES: I checked it out and there IS such an organization. It's called the National Association to Aid Fat Americans, Inc. They are a legitimate, non-profit organization whose purpose is to help fat people accept themselves as they are and cope with the many handicaps and injustices fat people face daily.

For information about the chapter nearest you, write to: P.O. Box 43, Bellerose, N.Y. 11426. Please enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

And please let me hear from you again, Frances. I care.

DEAR ABBY: After being divorced for three years I am getting married again. I'm 38 and Bob is 41. It will be his second time around, too. (His wife died last year.) We are crazy about each other, and I consider myself the luckiest woman alive.

Now the problem. I have never been able to sleep in the same bed with another person. Don't get me wrong; I am not a cold, tough me-not type woman. I love to cuddle, and lovemaking is very high on my list of priorities, but I simply cannot fall asleep if someone is in the same bed.

I told Bob we would have to have twin beds for sleeping, and he said, "No way. I have to have someone to hang on to when I sleep."

I know you can't settle this for us, but I just want to know if there are other married couples who really love each other, but SLEEP apart?

JERI OUT WEST

DEAR JERI: After this runs, we'll find out. Readers?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TROUBLES GALORE IN PITTSFIELD, MASS.": No one said it better than Nelson Algren: "1) Never play cards with a man named 'Doc'; 2) never eat in a place called 'Mom's'; 3) and never sleep with a woman whose troubles are worse than yours." Please pay special attention to No. 3.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Dress bright for holidays

NEW YORK, N.Y. — This season's holiday fashions will be brought to you in living colors of red, violet and blue, says the November issue of Seventeen. Because these are the colors that will be brightening your holidays in fabrics spun with shine.

Look for western jeans done up in smooth satin, bare-shouldered camisole tops that glitter and sweaters sparkled with metallic threads. Accessories too are part of the bright picture. You'll spot a dazzling display of colorful extras in the form of spangled bags, metallic belts and boots that are one part leather, three parts glitter!

But holiday dressing's just part of the color story. You can also hit the ski slopes in dazzling brights that really stand out against the snow. Vests, jackets, overalls and sweaters each take on a different hue for layer upon layer of color.

From holiday show clothes to cold-weather snow clothes, color is the name of the game.

'C' comes before 'D'

"D" is for dairy products, but remember the "C" that comes before "D."

It stands for clean, cool and covered, and that's what's needed to keep dairy products in top-notch condition, advises Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

DECEMBER PLANS — Col. and Mrs. Stanley C. Hanson, RAF Bentwaters, England, formerly of Big Spring, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Debra Lynn to Ronald Eugene Mercer, both of Lubbock. The wedding date has been set for Dec. 29 at the First Christian Church Wedding Chapel in Lubbock.

Clubhouse

Upcoming art show announced

Hostesses for the November meeting of the Big Spring Art Association were Janie Harmon, Gladys Shortes and Nancy Martin. Fall colors and Thanksgiving were the theme of table decorations.

The Big Country Traveling Citation show will be displayed at the First Federal Savings and Loan during the month of December.

In addition to art shows in Andrews and Seminole, the Abilene Fine Arts Museum Show was announced for January, and Odessa Art Show for early March. Members are urged to get paintings underway.

Big Spring Art Association will present its second Annual Miniature Show in February. Details will be given at a later date.

The annual Christmas party will be held at the regular club meeting in December with Jeanetta Brown, Elsie Merrell and Arlys Scott as co-hostesses. This will be a covered dish supper and members are to exchange gifts of an art-related item.

Robert Martin was welcomed as a guest and Nancy Martin was introduced as a new member.

Tipping of the Brush went to Elsie K. Merrell, first; James Martin, second; and Arlys Scott, third. These paintings will be displayed during December at Citizens Credit Union, State National Bank and Clip & Curl Beauty Shop, respectively.

Members enjoyed the demonstration by Roberta Ross of painting with oils on Osnaburg, a heavy cotton material which is applied with ModPodge to gessoed masonite board.

Center gets new dishwasher

The Big Spring Child Study Club met for their November meeting at the Dora Roberts Community Center. Sixteen members answered roll call. It was reported a new dishwasher had been installed at the Dora Roberts Community Center.

Mrs. Michael Emerson and Mrs. Harvey Rothell were welcomed as new members.

Each member participated in the program game "This Is Your Life" and presented the characteristics, talents and activities of one other member.

The hostesses, Mrs. Stanley Haney and Mrs. Jim Berringer served refreshments.

The December meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Warren Wise, 603 Scott. Mrs. Nelda Tarbet will talk on "Progress Toward a Deaf School."

Art Mart is Dec. 1 and 2

The Sands Art Mart, sponsored by the Sands Art Association will be held Dec. 1 and 2, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and 1-6 p.m. respectively at Ward County Coliseum, Monahans.

Demonstration and working booth exhibitors will be accepted. Booth fees are $15 for one person and $22.50 for 2 people, organizations or businesses. No commissions will be charged on sales. Spaces will be assigned in registration sequence.

Drawings will be held Dec. 2 at 5 p.m. The coliseum will be open Nov. 30 from 6-9 p.m. for exhibitors to set up early.

The Arts and Crafts Show has all categories for entries from all age groups.

Entry fees should be mailed to Sands Art Association, Box 2031, Monahans, Tex. 79756. If there are any questions call Gladys Powers at 915-943-5113.

'R'-rated movies are not fit for anyone

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 15 and my parents and I have a great relationship. There is no generation gap between us.

My problem is that my parents will not allow me to see "R" rated movies. I would not want to see a movie just because it might have some sex in it.

I feel that I'm mature enough to handle any movie that I'd like to see.

Please give me your thoughts. I know my parents will respect your opinion. — Linda, Lodi, Calif.

Linda: You are not permitted to see a picture rated "R" by yourself until you are 18. You could see an "R" picture with your parents.

This is an odd rule. Either the picture is suitable for all under 18 or all 18 and over. What difference does it make if parents are in attendance?

But to answer your question, no, I don't believe 15-year-olds should see "R" rated movies. In fact most "R" rated movies are not fit for anyone of any age.

Dr. Wallace: I liked Stan and he liked me so he asked me to go steady and I said yes. After a couple of weeks I was informed that my so-called "best friend" was flirting with him at school. This was possible because I didn't have any classes with him.

Last night Stan called me in the evening but asked me for my "best friend's" phone number. Like a dummy, I gave it to him. Today at school my "friend" had "Stan" written on her wrist.

I took this to mean that Stan and I are no longer going steady. Do you agree? — Carole, Astoria, Ore.

Carole: I think you just lost a boyfriend and a girlfriend but it appears you didn't lose too much.

Dr. Wallace: I'm writing regarding a letter sent to you by a very lucky 15-year-old girl. You said a good relationship with her 22-year-old guy is as rare as a five-cent cup of coffee.

Well, I'm one of those rare cups of coffee and I've never been happier. The same is true for my 24-year-old husband. Our parents are thrilled we are married and it doesn't bother any of them that I'm only 16.

I've met several couples with this age difference and they, too, are happy. — Penny, Ogden, Utah.

Penny: Thanks for sharing your happy situation. Happy marriages are successful regardless of age. But in most cases, 16-year-old girls are more comfortable taking a family living course in high school.

TV viewers 'consumer alert'

Like what you see on TV? Do you approve of it? Some consumers don't approve of some programs, and they're taking outside action on behalf of children.

In citizens' groups they're going beyond simply setting guidelines at home. Several groups have complained to networks and sponsors that the content of many prime-time TV shows is offensive and may influence children adversely.

Some consumer groups have effectively boycotted advertisers who sponsor shows they say are offensive.

Deciding on appropriate shows starts with the consumer. Also, "comparing notes" with others can help. Consumers can study ratings of such groups as the National Parent-Teacher Association.

1530 P. Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005; and Action for Children's Television, 46 Austin Street, Newtonville, Mass. 02160.

What can consumers do if "changing channels" or "turning off the set" isn't quite enough? They have several opportunities to voice their feelings to people who influence programming.

First, you can let advertisers know if you think they're sponsoring a program of dubious merit. You can also tell them when you like programs they sponsor.

Likewise, if you object to their particular advertising style — or approve of it — let them know that, too. Also, you certainly can write your concerns — and compliments — about television to the networks.

Audience Information, ABC-TV, 1330 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10019. Audience Services, CBS-TV, 51 West 52nd Street, New York, N.Y. 10019; Audience Services, NBC-TV, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10020. Viewer Mail, Public Broadcasting Service, 4475 L-Enfant Plaza West S.W., Washington, D.C. 20024; and Corporation for Public Broadcasting, 1111 16th Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Consumers also could consider filing a formal complaint with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), if they feel specific programming is not "in the public interest."

When the FCC was created in 1934, it said that programming must be "in the public interest." Radio and television stations must renew their broadcasting licenses every three years.

As members of a community served by a station, consumers have a legal right to participate in the license-renewal process. For more information about that, write the Office of Public Information, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

People everywhere are rolling along

NEW YORK, N.Y. — It has taken a few years for the idea to get rolling, but skates on wheels are moving full speed ahead as our latest sports craze, says a recent issue of Seventeen Magazine.

On city sidewalks, roller-skating mamas steer their baby strollers to the market. In New York, skaters breeze past the joggers in Central Park. The president of Chicago's Stockbrokers' Association rolls to and from work every day over eight miles of lumpy sidewalks, past bumper to bumper traffic. Linda Ronstadt has skated to lunch with California's Jerry Brown. College students are skating to class. In short, people from all walks of life are rolling along.

upswing too. No longer dark and dingy hangouts where organs blare outdated music, today's rinks are plush palaces with carpeted halls, waiting rooms and skating floors that resemble ice.

A whole new roller culture has sprung up around the country. Roller-disco wear — clingy pants and shorts in shimmering hot colors — is invading the fashion scene, although jeans and T-shirts will do too. A movie, "Rollermania," is in the works; several new magazines devoted to the sport are in print; and by the end of 1979, at least twenty-five books on every aspect of roller skating will be available.

In just a few short years, roller skating has finally gone from kid stuff to serious business. And with gas prices doing triple leaps, a lot of people have traded in their car wheels for skates on wheels!

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD M. NEWTON

Newtons to celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Newton will be honored on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, Dec. 2 at the fellowship hall, Trinity Baptist Church, 810 Eleventh Place, Big Spring.

Hosting the reception from 2-4 p.m. will be the couples children and grandchildren; Mr. and Mrs. Lindell Newton, Steve, Peggy, Larry and Gary; Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Bonnie) Hale, Toni and Austin; and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur (Doris) Pope, Nancy, Roger and Allan.

Howard and Viola grew up in the Moore Community and attended school there. They were married Dec. 1, 1929 by the Rev. L.D. Hull at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Hammack. His parents were the E.M. Newtons.

The couple were engaged in farming in Dawson County and Midland County for several years before returning to the Moore Community in 1945 where they continued farming until retiring in 1975. They are members of Trinity Baptist Church. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception.

Daughter is born to Mr., Mrs. Wright

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Wright, Garland, announce the birth of their daughter, Lindsay Mahon, Nov. 16 at 6:44 p.m.

The infant was born at the Memorial Hospital of Garland weighing 8 pounds 1 3/4 ounces. She measured 20 1/2 inches in length.

Maternal grandparents of Lindsay are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard (Bill) Meyer, Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Wright, also of Big Spring, are the paternal grandparents.

Great grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Burdette, Big Spring and Mrs. Sylvia Bennett, Olney, Tex.

Sandra Redic becomes the bride of Dean Boyd

The Wesley United Methodist Church was the scene for the Friday evening wedding ceremony uniting Sandra Lee Redic and Dean Boyd.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. De Alton M. Redic, Mercer, Pa. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland O. Boyd Sr., Longview, Tex.

The sanctuary was decorated with bouquets of white and orange mums, gladiolus and carnations. Lighting was provided by an arched candelabrum and a memory candle as the Rev. W.O. Rucker, pastor, officiated the rite.

Organist Lyda Boland accompanied Jackie Boyd, sister of the groom, and Diane Johnson, vocalists, on the chosen wedding selections.

The bride chose to wear a gown of candlelight color fashioned into Victorian style. The fitted bodice featured a ruffled and laced flounce which fell gracefully over the shoulder's. The sheer yoke and Victorian neckline embellished with lace accented her attire as did the long, fitted sleeves of sheer embroidered lace.

Attached to the empire waistline was a full pleated skirted which ended in a chapel-length train. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of woburn abby, bronze mums, roses and star flowers which complimented her ensemble.

Susan M. Redic, Mercer, Pa., attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Laurie K. Redic, sister of the bride, Mercer, Pa. Cleveland O. Boyd Sr. served his son as best man.

MRS. DEAN BOYD

J. Cyrus Boyd, brother of the groom and Wendel Peacock served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, the couple were feted with a reception in their new home at 2502 Larry. Guests were registered by Diane Johnson, Longview.

Serving at the reception table were Lindy Bartlett, Debra Wegman and Bonnie Proctor.

The bride is a graduate of Mercer High School, Mercer, Pa., and attended Bossier Parish Community College, Bossier City, La. She is presently a claims representative for the Social Security Administration at the Big Spring office.

A graduate of Pine Tree High School, Longview, the groom attended Kilgore Jr. College, Southern Arkansas University and Louisiana State University. He is presently enrolled in the law enforcement program at Howard College and is a police officer with the Big Spring Police Department.

Marriage announced

Peggy Crooks, Big Spring, announces the marriage of her daughter, Darrisa Kay, also the daughter of the late Ray Crooks, to Ronald Lynn Salter.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Salter, Gilmer. The couple were married Nov. 1 by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

The bride is a graduate of Forsan High School and Tarleton State University. She was employed by the Cabot Corporation until her marriage.

The groom is a graduate of Pine Tree High School, Longview, and is employed by Halliburton Services.

The couple now make their home in Farmington, N.M.
