Prices plunge on grain markets

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices plunged immediately as trading resumed in grain and soybean futures today, following a two-day suspension and government maneuvers to ease the impact of its grain embargo to the Soviet Union.

Traders said that 100 million bushels of corn and 30 million 40 million bushels of wheat were offered for sale but no one was buying. Within seconds of the opening, prices fell to the maximum amounts allowed each day before trading automatically is halted in those commodities.

At the Chicago Board of Trade, the nation's largest grain market, traders in the soybean pit jumped the gun and began dealing 15 seconds early. Only shouts and motions indicating sell offers could be heard.

"I've never seen anything like it before," said one veteran trader of eight years.

Several traders said President Carter's decision to raise grain support prices would help farmers and grain investors somewhat, but supplies would still be greater than demand.

The exchanges, in an effort to even erratic rises or falls in prices, set limits in price changes. Once the limit, either up or down, is hit for the day, trading in that commodity is stopped. The limit are 20 cents a bushel for wheat, 10 cents a bushel for corn and 30 cents a bushel for soybeans.

Carter's decision, announced

Tuesday, was an effort to soften the decline in prices that occurred as trading resumed at commodity exchanges in Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis after two days of halted trading in grains and soybeans.

The action raised support levels for wheat and corn but left them well below the market prices that prevailed Friday, the last day futures markets were open.

The administration also acted to encourage more farmers to withdraw their crops from the market, by raising the price formula for its grain reserve program.

Carter's decision to halt shipment of 17 million metric tons of grain to the Soviet Union to show disapproval of Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan roused fears of plummeting crop prices. Some analysts estimated farm income would decline by $4 billion.

But the boost in crop support levels, coupled with government purchases of grains, is expected to restore at least half that income, and possibly more. Assistant Agriculture Secretary Ben Williams put the cost to the taxpayer at $2.5 billion to $3 billion.

The embargo had other, widespread effects. While grain futures markets were closed Monday and Tuesday, those for cattle were open. The prices of most cattle futures dropped, reflecting a widespread conviction that grain needed to feed cows will cost less in coming months.

For seizure of Grand Mosque

Saudi government executes 63

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — The Saudi government today executed 63 militants who seized the Grand Mosque in Mecca, Islam's holiest shrine. Officials did not give the method of execution, but the traditional Saudi way is by public beheading after Friday prayers.

The Interior Ministry said the commander of the mosque attack, identified as Juseiman Bin Mohammed Bin Saif, headed the list of those executed, and that those put to death included 41 Saudis, 10 Egyptians, six South Yemenis, three Kuwaitis and one each from North Yemen, Sudan and Iraq.

The Interior Ministry said the executions were carried out in eight cities, apparently to dispel suspicions the mosque attack weakened government authority. The bulk of the attackers were said to be from a dissident Saudi tribe that opposed the monarchy.

The executions were spread out as follows: Mecca 15, Riyadh 10, seven each in Medina, Dammam, Bridah and Abha and five each in Hayil and Tabuk.

The announcement said the executions were in accordance with the punishment prescribed by the Koran — Islam's holy book, and that the interior minister, Prince Nayef Bin Abdul Aziz, was ordered to carry them out by King Khaled, "following the confessions of the criminals who attacked the Grand Mosque."

It also said the executions were in accordance with an edict by Saudi religious leaders. There had been no announcement of any trial preceding the executions, but earlier announcements said a full investigation was conducted.

The Grand Mosque is inside a 38-acre compound housing the Kabaa, which Moslems believe was built by the prophet Abraham.

It was seized Nov. 20 by several hundred militants led by Mohammed Bin Abdullah Al Qahtani. The government said he described himself as a mahdi, or messiah of the Shiite branch of Islam, whose appearance on earth is believed to coincide with the end of the world.

Qahtani was killed in the protracted battle that followed when Saudi troops besieged the occupied mosque in an effort to chase the militants out. Many of his followers held out for two weeks, however, fighting the Saudi troops in the tunnels under the mosque, before they were either killed or captured.

The government said Saudi forces captured 170 extremists, killed 60 others and suffered 60 killed themselves. It said four of those captured were children, and an unspecified number of others were women, and they were not to be tried.

The bulk of the invaders were described as members of the southern Saudi tribe of Oteiba. The Oteibans were one of the tribes defeated by King Abdul Aziz when he founded the Saud family kingdom a half-century ago.

Congressman plans local speech

Stenholm seeking re-election

Citing mounting tension in the middle east as a prime example of the need for increased United States preparedness as the top priorities in the 1980s, Cong. Charles Stenholm announced his plans in his home town, Stamford, Tuesday evening to run for his second term of office.

Stenholm told a large group of supporters of his firm commitment to a stronger defense position that could "leave no doubt in any nation's mind of America's resolve to defend our hard won freedoms."

"That is one of my primary goals during the next session of Congress", he said. "One of the reasons I am asking for a renewal of my contract to serve the people of the 17th District".

"Cindy and I wanted to make this announcement at home, where it all began", Stenholm told the group. "We could not have won in 1978 without your help. We shall continue to work hard to merit your confidence and pledge to every citizen in the district our commitment to listen to their views, to respond to their needs; and to represent them in Washington to the best of our abilities".

Stenholm, 41, was elected to Congress following the retirement of longtime Cong. Omar Burlison of Anson. He serves on the House Agriculture Committee and was recently named to the House Small Business Committee. A native of Jones county, he graduated from Tarleton State University in 1959 and in 1961 received his BS degree from Texas Tech University. The following year he earned his MS in Agriculture Education at Texas Tech.

Stenholm told the group of the "new and varied challenges" faced every day in the Congress. Outlining his overall views, he said he had "every confidence in our system of government and I am optimistic about the second session of the 96th Congress". He stressed the elimination of deficit spending as another primary goal and emphasized his intentions "to continue to do all that is possible to cut any unnecessary federal spending".

"The true test of a good Congressman, however, is knowing where to cut — knowing what is unnecessary fat and what is real muscle. In the case of national defense, we are dealing with the backbone of our country", he emphasized.

"We are grateful for the encouragement and help given by all of our good friends in the past and during the upcoming campaign", Stenholm concluded. "We know our roots here in Texas soil will continue to provide the strength and determination to use all of our energies in service to the people of the 17th District."

Stenholm plans to visit Howard County Thursday, Jan. 17, in efforts to meet as many of his constituents as possible. He wants to share with the voters matters concerning the upcoming legislative session and to receive input from them. The legislative session begins Jan. 22.

He leaves Big Spring to catch a plane in Midland that will take him to a meeting in San Antonio before he departs for Washington.

Stenholm has been appointed to serve on the Small Business Administration Committee. In addition, he will continue working on the Agriculture Committee and several sub-committees.

Stenholm has expressed hope he will be able to meet and talk with people from all segments of the community, including those in business, oil-related, agriculture-related, educators and students.

Stenholm will be present for a press conference and forum-type meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Conference Room at 8:15 a.m., Jan. 17.

He is scheduled for an appearance at Forsan community meeting at Forsan High School at 10:30 a.m. He will be the principal speaker at a Kiwanis Club meeting in the Cactus Room of the Howard College Student Union Building at noon that day, will remain at the college for a 1 p.m. reception for both the faculty and students, go to Coahoma for a community meeting at the high school at 2 p.m., and greet public school educators, students, parents and other interested citizens in a reception at Big Spring High School at 3:30 p.m.

The Kiwanis Club is inviting members of other civic clubs and other interested persons to attend the noon luncheon at Howard College and hear Stenholm.

'Slick' Boatler named acting Demo chairman

M.H. "Slick" Boatler, was appointed acting Howard County Democratic Chairman during a meeting of Democrats in the County Court room Tuesday night.

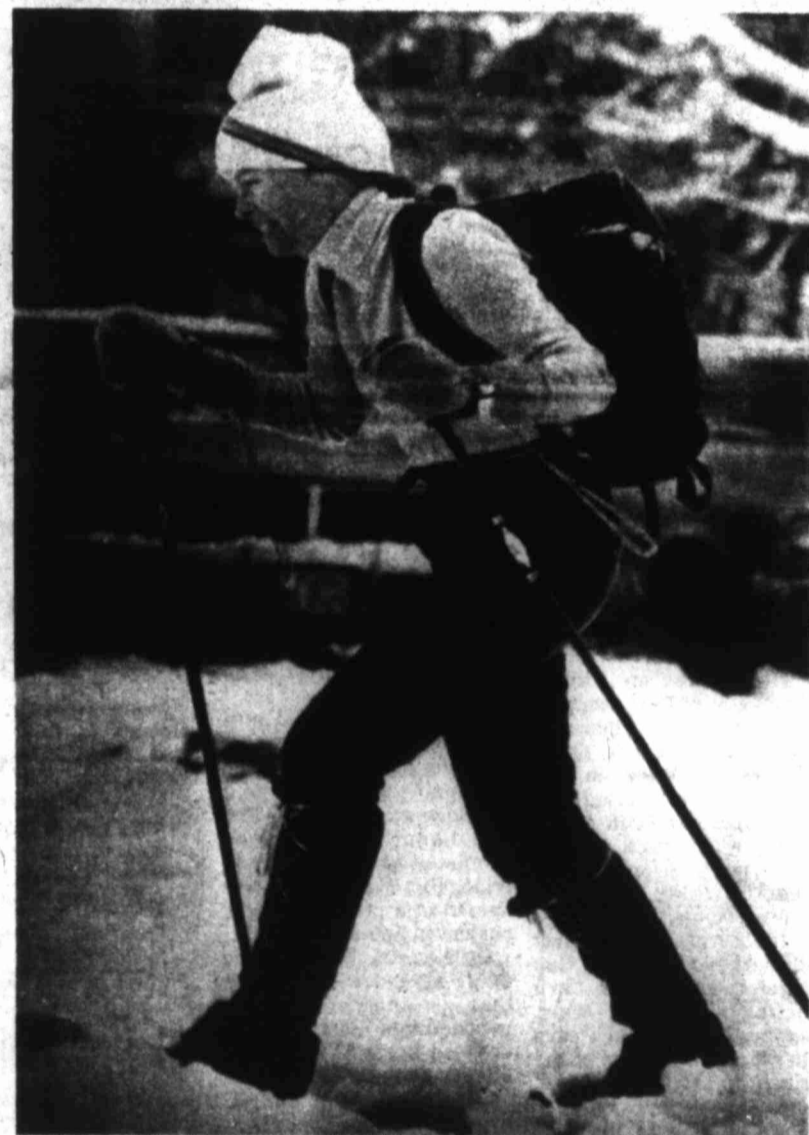

Ten members of the Howard County Democratic Executive Committee voted to approve the action.

James Baird, who presided in the absence of Jane Ray, state Democratic committeewoman and secretary to the county executive committee, pointed out 14 of 20 percent chairmen were needed to fill the chairmanship vacancy created by the Oct. 1 resignation of Hal Boyd, Majone-Hogan Hospital executive.

John J. Roemer, precinct 16 chairman, made a motion that Boatler be appointed, subject to two-thirds majority vote. The motion was seconded by Alta Lee Underwood, precinct 10 chairman.

Precinct numbers and chairmen voting "yes" are:

1. Charlie L. Merritt
2. Delano Shaw
3. Clovis Phinney, Jr.
4. Mrs. Hamlin Elrod
5. Larry Shaw
6. Alta Lee Underwood
7. John J. Roemer
8. M.H. "Slick" Boatler
9. Mrs. H.C. Wallin
10. James Baird.

BEATS THE CAR — Laura Raun found cross-country skies better than an automobile Tuesday as she made her way to work in Seattle. While the weatherman said the worst is over, the area continues to get snow. Heavy snow caused many traffic problems and closed schools in the Seattle area Tuesday.

Carriker indicted for robbery by Howard County Grand Jury

Richard Carriker was indicted Tuesday morning by the Howard County Grand Jury for the aggravated robbery of James L. Hart Dec. 3.

Lee Randal, also arrested in the case, was not billed. Randal and Carriker were hitchhiking with Hart when the stabbing occurred.

Also indicted Tuesday were: —Albert Chavarria, charged with failure to stop and render aid after colliding with a vehicle driven by Kevin Wolfe.

—Thomas W. Frye, appropriation of a 1975 Buick from Alma Moore.

—William Gatlin, operation of a 1969 Cadillac without the consent of owner, Bill Chrane.

—Danny Graham, hindering secured creditor, Bill Crane. Graham is accused of removing a car he was making payments on across the state line.

—Milton Lozano, delivery of marijuana on Nov. 1.

—Jackie Wayne Hogan, theft of a 1977 Camaro from Andrea Hohertz Aug. 23.

—Joseph Nicolas Siciliano and James Lee Greenhill hindering apprehension of Donald E. Myrick.

—Antonio Torres, aggravated assault.

—Rafaela Torres, unlawfully carrying weapon on licensed premises.

Others not billed by the grand jury were Patrick Richard Rodriguez, charged with auto burglary, and Simon Zublate, theft by appropriation from G.C. Knowlton.

Voters in Ackerly reject liquor

Dawson County voters opposed to repealing an anti-liquor ordinance in the Ackerly area showed up in strong force at the polls Tuesday.

The only section of the county that would have been affected was the northeast section and the election was limited to that section. The unofficial tally, according to Dawson County Clerk Billie Bingham, is 83 for and 184 against the repeal.

After all votes have been certified,

Dawson County Commissioners will announce the official election results Monday. The announcement of a defeat is expected.

This is the third time that the issue has been brought before the voters. The two previous times, the issue was defeated by a margin of 61 votes. If the election results stand as they are now, this will make the largest defeat yet.

President of Furr's replaced by Friederich

LUBBOCK — Patrick J. Murphy, who took over from Roy K. Furr as president of the Furr's supermarket chain six months ago, has been replaced by Jan Friederich, a long time employee of Rewe Handelsgesellschaft Leibbrand OHG.

Murphy's resignation was by request, it was disclosed. The West Germany corporation recently purchased the supermarket chain after it got into financial straits.

Friederich has directed the retail operations of Furr's for the past four months as executive vice president and chief operating officer.

During the reorganization of Furr's under Chapter XI bankruptcy proceedings, Murphy was hired away from Allied Supermarkets. He arrived at Furr's during a period of cash flow problems and limited credit. Klaus Wiegand, chairman of the board of the parent firm, said "it was decided it would be more appropriate for us to have a member of our own management team... as the chief executive officer of Furr's."

"The board has complete confidence in Jan Friederich and we shall furnish him with the support necessary to make Furr's a successful company once again," Wiegand added.

Since the West German corporation acquired the assets of Furr's, the company has negotiated a plan to repay massive debts owed by the Lubbock-based firm.

Furr's maintains a supermarket in Big Spring. The company grew from a single store in Kirkland in 1904 to a chain of 79 supermarkets and 24 discount-type stores or "Family Centers."

Arrest warrant issued

CINCINNATI (AP) — An arrest warrant has been issued for Hustler magazine publisher Larry Flynt, who a spokesman says is hospitalized at an undisclosed location for chronic pain and drug addiction.

Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge Robert Kraft issued the warrant and revoked a $27,000 bond Tuesday after Flynt and his attorneys failed to appear for a hearing to determine the status of various pornography-related charges pending against Flynt.

A lawyer came to the hearing to ask for a continuance, but said he did not represent Flynt or the magazine.

Three singers sued

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Singers Frank Sinatra Jr., B.J. Thomas and Fabian are being sued by Harrah's for allegedly not paying their bills while entertaining at the hotel's two clubs in Lake Tahoe and Reno.

The suit said Sinatra owes $4,556 in hotel, restaurant and telephone bills charged in 1976 and 1977. It said he has paid only $691.

Harrah's says Thomas owes $3,982 from 1977 and Fabian, $2,858 for the same year.

National Opera created

NEW YORK (AP) — For Beverly Sills it was a "dream come true" — a touring opera company where young gifted performers could gain invaluable experience from performing the same work — "La Traviata" — two or three times a week.

Miss Sills, the general director of the New York City Opera, announced Tuesday the creation of the National Opera Touring Company.

The company of 36 singers and 27 instrumentalists will begin the tour Oct. 5 in New York, make its way through the Midwest and close in Los Angeles.

Carter campaign wants to impress South Texans

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The Carter-Mondale campaign forces very much want to impress South Texas' thousands of Mexican-American voters in 1980.

Vice President Walter Mondale didn't hurt anything Tuesday with heaps of praise for the area's ranking Hispanic political leader and the announcement of an $18.8 million federal grant earmarked for San Antonio's huge Hispanic community.

Mondale came here to keynote a fund-raising, testimonial luncheon for U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Texas, a staunch Carter supporter.

He took the opportunity to announce what he said was one of the Carter administration's largest Urban Development Action Grants. He then praised some of Carter's economic accomplishments to the crowd of about 2,000 Gonzalez supporters.

"The grant is aimed at revitalizing a predominantly Mexican-American neighborhood near downtown San Antonio. Mondale explained that the city would use the funds to buy 100 acres and lease the land to a private Hispanic developer. That would create some 1,700 new jobs, he added.

The vice president then defended the timing of the announcement after a reporter said critics might claim the incumbent administration is using such grants to secure political support.

"I refuse to be bound by a rule that says we can only announce bad news," Mondale said. "The grant has been in the process for some time. I'm absolutely certain that if those that criticize us ever get in the White House, they'll do exactly the same thing."

Mondale also said the Carter administration helped create thousands of other jobs. Since Carter took office, new jobs have been created for 38,000 San Antonians, 718,000 Texans and a total of 9,000,000 Americans, the vice president said.

Rick Hamby designates McMahon as treasurer for DA campaign

Rick Hamby, 118th judicial district attorney, has designated Clyde McMahon, Jr., as treasurer for his campaign for the office of district attorney. Hamby will file the announcement with Secretary of State Mark White in Austin. Hamby said filing fees for district attorney rose this year from $500 to $600.

Statement issued

Zirah Bednar will not run for re-election

Howard County Tax Assessor-Collector Zirah Bednar has announced she will not seek re-election in the upcoming county election.

Mrs. Bednar held the tax collector office since 1961.

"In announcing I will not seek re-election I would not make this move without knowing there was someone trained in the requirements of the office who would seek the position of tax assessor-collector," said Mrs. Bednar, referring to candidate Dorothy Moore, Mrs. Bednar's chief of office deputy.

Mrs. Bednar further stated in making her announcement, "I moved with my family to Howard County in 1928. I am sure there has never been anyone that the people of Howard County means more to than me. I began my working career at the age of 12 at Dudley Variety store working after school and on Saturday. I have worked almost constantly since that time.

You have shared with me my joys and sorrows. You encouraged me when left a widow with three small children ages 2 and 6. You encouraged me and loved my children as they grew up in this community. My children and I were among those who helped begin the little leagues in the late forties. They, too, loved and appreciated you. They were particularly proud of my being elected to this office.

In 1967 you helped me through the tragic times of losing two of my children with the same heart disease their father had. You shared my happiness when in 1970 I married Edwin Bednar. Our home is at J610 Osage.

"In 1960 I announced for the office of County Tax Assessor-Collector. Thank you for giving me the privilege of serving in this capacity since 1961. I have often said, "The office I hold is just as important to me to do a good job as if I were the President of the United States."

"Thank you too for returning me to this office the terms I have served. I have tried very hard to do a job that would make you proud you elected me to this important office. I could not do to help individuals due to requirements and legislation of the operations of the office must honor.

"I must say a special thanks to the county commissioners' courts. They have cooperated and provided the means for modernizing the office. Records are computerized and further service to the people was to add the City of Big Spring and City of Forsan collections to the county tax roll. I sincerely hope that eventually all tax collections in the county can be combined.

"Again I say there are no words adequate to express my sincere appreciation to you and most important of all the Lord has been with me each step of the way."

Midland lands 12-story unit

MIDLAND — Construction in Midland, which topped the $90 million mark in 1979, got another shot in the arm Tuesday with the announcement that the HBF Corporation, in conjunction with First Savings and Loan Association, will build a 12-story building, Empire Plaza.

The structure will embrace 180,000 square feet of office space in downtown Midland. The first three floors will surround a glass atrium and lobby area, complete with a central fountain and hanging greenery.

Construction will get under way in the near future. The building reportedly will be ready for occupancy by mid-1981.

Haynes likes job of sheriff

SAN ANGELO — Ernest Haynes announced Tuesday that he would be a candidate for a second term as Tom Green County sheriff in March 1979 following the death of Sheriff Odell Wagner. He was elected for a full, two-year term later that year.

At one time, Haynes was a printer for the Big Spring Herald.

For the record

The home of James Thomas was not occupied when it was burglarized, according to his wife, Carla Thomas. A story in the Tuesday Herald stated that the couple had been eating dinner when three masked and armed men robbed them. In reality, Carla and James Thomas did not know of the burglary until they returned from Odessa. San Angelo authorities are holding Efrain Mier, Humberto Mier and Pedro Montoya on suspicion of the crime.

Singing Cadets visit here

One lady among many men

One woman appears on stage each time the Singing Cadets, Texas A&M University's 70-voice male glee club, gives a performance. She is Nancy S. Theeman, the Cadet's pianist-accompanist.

The Singing Cadets will be performing at the First Baptist Church in Big Spring Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The Texas A&M Club and the Howard County Ministers Association are sponsoring the concert.

Originally from Bethesda, Maryland, Miss Theeman joins the group this year to become the third accompanist the Cadets have had in the last twenty years. Along with her duties as Singing Cadet accompanist, Miss Theeman directs the Texas A&M Century Singers, the University's 65-voice mixed chorus.

Since this is her first year with the Singing Cadets, Miss Theeman is considered a "Buffo" by the men in the group. "Buffo," an operatic clown, is the title given to first year members of the Singing Cadets.

Even though Miss Theeman may be a "Buffo" to the Singing Cadets, her musical background and experience completely deny that categorization. She studied music at the University of Rochester.

Eastman School of Music, the University of Manchester in England, and Colorado College. She sang in the National Cathedral Choir in Washington, D.C. and also with vocal groups at both Eastman and Manchester. Nancy was a Scholarship Fellow at the Foundation Camargo in France for one year and a recitalist under the auspices of the American Embassy at Marseille. Miss Theeman also has concertized along the eastern seaboard. Although the piano is her main instrument, Nancy is quite at home with various members of the string family as well.

Nancy, a self-professed "klutz," enjoys jogging and cycling, although she has been known to land in ditches while enjoying her hobbies. Fortunately, her sense of humor and personality are as outstanding as her musical talents, making this displaced "Yankee" fit right in with the Singing Cadets of Texas A&M.

Police beat Criminal activity light

Criminal activity was light in the city Tuesday.

Burglars stole a case full of 25 eight-track tapes from a car belonging to Pat Rodriguez, 301 N.E. 11th, while the car was parked at McDonald's Tuesday afternoon. Loss was estimated at $185.

A battery was stolen from under the hood of a car belonging to Irene Marquez, 3622 Connally, sometime between 3 and 11 p.m. Tuesday. The car had been parked at Hall-Bennett Hospital. Loss was estimated at $50.

Thieves lifted a cassette tape recorder from an office at the Big Spring State Hospital over the weekend. The tape recorder was valued at $83.96.

Officials at Thornton's Department Store, 2600 Gregg, spotted a man and woman shoplifting a watch from a counter at the store. The pair fled in a white Cadillac. Value of the watch has not been estimated.

While a car belonging to Jean A. Reeves, 507 1/2 E. 17th, was parked in front of her residence, burglars rifled a purse in the front seat and stole two books of food stamps. The stamps were valued at $115.

Supreme Court retracts decision to remove DA

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court today retracted an earlier decision throwing out removal proceedings against disgraced Hidalgo County District Attorney Oscar McInnis.

The high court granted a request by the Texas Prosecutors Coordinating Council and set a hearing in the case for Feb. 27.

McInnis, in a separate case, is appealing his disbarment, which also would — if upheld — remove him from office because a non-lawyer cannot be a district attorney.

McInnis was named in a June 1978 federal indictment accusing him of plotting the kidnapping and murder of a friend's ex-husband. The indictment later was dismissed before it came to trial. But McInnis also is named in a pending federal perjury indictment.

On Nov. 28, the Supreme Court agreed with McInnis that the removal proceedings should be dropped because they were based on misdeeds that allegedly took place before he was reelected in November 1978.

This doctrine that the public "forgives" an official's wrongdoing by reelecting him applied to McInnis' case, the court held at that time.

But the prosecutors council said that law applied only to cases of official misconduct, incompetence and intoxication.

It cited a 1977 law which it said allowed the removal of McInnis — or any other district attorney — for alleged crimes beyond those involving official duties.

"The Legislature specifically wished to create a system of removal for felonies and other crimes not involving official duties ...," the council said.

"If the present ruling holds, the honorable court has, in effect, told the Legislature that the removal of a prosecutor for a felony or misdemeanor not involving official misconduct can only be accomplished by a separate criminal trial if committed prior to his re-election. Please note that a prosecutor who is a criminal district attorney, as in this case, must disqualify himself or be his own accuser," the council said in its brief.

Chester Jones freed on bail

Chester George Jones, Midland, is free on $2,500 bond set by City Judge John Coffee.

Jones was arrested by Big Spring Police on suspicion of felony DWI Tuesday. He was transferred to county jail Tuesday then released on bond.

Shorthand skills still marketable

Shorthand is still a marketable skill, according to recent surveys, says Doris Hübretge, director of mid-management at Howard College.

Too many students have been discouraged from attempting shorthand because of the emphasis on the use of machine dictation, said Hübretge.

Recent publications have pointed out the critical shortage of secretaries. Surveys show that the majority of employers prefer dictating to a person rather than to a machine. Many executives use a combination of machine and personal dictation for expediting business correspondence.

Even with machine dictation, secretaries are needed to take telephone messages, impromptu dictation and minutes of meetings.

More requests for secretaries who take dictation are made than can be filled, according to Hübretge.

Persons interested in developing or improving shorthand skills may enroll for beginning shorthand at Howard College for the spring semester.

The class will meet at 8:55 a.m., Monday-Wednesday-Friday, with a lab at 11:20 a.m., Fridays.

Intermediate classes are available at 10:25 a.m., Monday-Wednesday-Friday, and at 6 p.m., Monday and Wednesday.

Weather

Fog creates bad driving conditions

By The Associated Press

Dense fog cut visibility to near zero across much of the southeastern half of Texas early today, prompting the National Weather Service to issue travelers advisories for many areas.

The fog was mostly south of a line from Del Rio to Waco to Lufkin.

Visibility was near zero at Houston, Austin and San Antonio, causing hazardous driving conditions.

Forecasts called for mostly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures statewide. Highs were to range from the 40s in the Panhandle to the 70s in South Texas with most readings expected in the 50s and 60s.

Skies were mostly clear across the northwestern half of the state and cloudy over the remainder of the state during the early morning hours.

Temperatures ranged from the teens in the Panhandle to the 50s in South Texas with most areas reporting pre-dawn readings in the 30s and 40s. Extremes ranged from 15 at Dalhart to 57 at Brownsville.

FORECAST
WEST TEXAS - Partly cloudy through Thursday. Warmer most sections Thursday with windy conditions north and widely scattered showers west of mountains. Highs upper 40s north to upper 70s south. Lows upper 20s north to mid 40s south. Highs Thursday mid 60s to near 80.

EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy. Cooler Saturday but warmer again Sunday. Highs 60s north to 70s south except 50s north and 60s south Saturday. Lows 30s north 40s south Friday cooling to 20s north 30s south over the weekend.

WEATHER FORECAST - Rain is expected in the forecast period, today until Thursday morning, for the Pacific coast and the Southwest. Snow is forecast from the northern Rockies to the upper Great Lakes. Warm weather is expected from Texas to Florida but most of the country will continue cold.

Pioneer reveals three management changes

AMARILLO - Charles K. Vaughan, vice president for distribution operations of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, has announced three management changes within the distribution department of the utility division of Pioneer Corporation.

Harry Neel, recently elevated to Amarillo division manager from Amarillo district manager, has assumed additional responsibilities as assistant to the vice president. The Amarillo division provides utility services to a Panhandle area which includes the cities of Amarillo, Hereford and Pampa.

Nicks V. Fariss has been promoted to Amarillo district manager. He has been Hereford district manager for the past five years.

Replacing Fariss as Hereford district manager will be Gene Ehler who has been manager of the local office of Pioneer Natural Gas Company in Floydada.

Neel has been associated with Pioneer since 1960 and has held various positions in the personnel and distribution departments. He was named Amarillo district manager in 1974. Neel has a degree in finance from Texas Tech University.

Fariss received a bachelor of business administration degree from West Texas State University and joined Pioneer in 1958. Prior to being named Hereford district manager in 1974, he held various management positions including manager of distribution operations in Lockney and the assistant manager of the Amarillo district office. He has been active in the Lions Club of Hereford and currently serves on the Hereford Day Care Center board of directors.

Ehler has been with Pioneer for 17 years and has held a number of positions within the distribution department. He was named manager of the Lockney office in 1970 and promoted to manager of the Floydada office in 1975. He has been active in the Floydada Chamber of Commerce of which he is a past president, and is an officer of the Floydada Rotary Club. Ehler also is past president and director of the Floydada Industrial Development Company.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company, the utility division of Pioneer Corporation (NYSE), is engaged in the gathering, transmission and distribution of natural gas to over 60 cities and towns in a West Texas region stretching from Dalhart and Amarillo southward to Lubbock, Midland and Odessa.

Pioneer Corporation is a diversified, energy resources-oriented corporation with operations and facilities in 14 states through subsidiary companies and the utility division.

Diphtheria dip 'mystery'

ATLANTA (AP) - Although reported cases of diphtheria in the United States have dropped from more than 220,000 in 1921 to just 65 last year, national health officials aren't sure why.

Dr. Albert C. England III of the Center for Disease Control's Bureau of Epidemiology said about 10 percent of the nation's population has never been vaccinated against the disease.

Colorado City chief answers 'allegations'

COLORADO CITY - Chief of Police Fred McWhorter, in an appearance before the city council here Tuesday evening, defended his department against rumors and allegations which McWhorter said had been circulated locally.

McWhorter said his department had been accused of 'entrapment, harassment, official oppression, abuse of authority and excessive force.' McWhorter then asked for and received expressions of support from Mayor Marion Basham and members of the council.

The police chief said one story making the rounds was that of a police woman who allegedly pistol-whipped a man she had arrested. McWhorter said the story was untrue.

McWhorter said word had also come to him that a story was circulating that employees of one Colorado City business had been harassed by officers. That account was not in keeping with the facts, he reassured the council members.

McWhorter declined to discuss particular cases but reminded council members that no charges had been filed against his department.

Texans stand good chance of boosting their ranking

AUSTIN - Texas farmers and ranchers stand an excellent chance of boosting their national agricultural ranking for 1979, thanks to gains in cash receipts which have outstripped all other competing states, reports Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

For the first nine months of 1979, Texas (currently ranked third) registered substantially greater improvement in farm cash receipts than either first-ranked California or the No. 2 state, Iowa, said Brown.

"Cash receipts were up 18 percent in Texas, compared to a 13-percent increase for Iowa and only a five-percent rise for California," he said. "During 1979, Texas recorded excellent crops of cotton, wheat, grain sorghum, peanuts and pecans. When marketings of crops and livestock for the entire year are tabulated, it is likely we will overtake the No. 3 position."

For the January-September period, Texas farm and ranch cash receipts totaled $6.34 billion, compared to $6.68 billion for Iowa and $7.23 billion for California. Brown noted that for the nation as a whole, farm cash receipts were up 14 percent to $85.59 billion.

However, he also pointed out that during this same time, farm and ranch production expenses rose an estimated 16 percent, led by a 45-percent average increase in fuel prices. In the 12-month period ending October 15, 1979, for instance, Texas farmers and ranchers saw prices for on-farm delivered diesel fuel shoot up 36 cents a gallon, with gasoline prices following a similar pattern. Further price increases have come about since then.

"In spite of the fact that Texas farmers and ranchers are doing a tremendous job of producing and selling, inflation continues to severely erode net profits," Brown added.

NTE will be given at HC

The National Teacher Examinations (NTE) will be given in the Administration Building of Howard College Feb. 18.

Scores from the examination are used by states for certification of teachers, by school systems for selection and identification of leadership qualities, and by colleges as part of their graduation requirements.

Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the tests, says they are designed to measure knowledge gained from professional and general education and in 26 subject-matter fields.

Bulletins describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained from Mary Dudley, Director of Guidance and Counseling, or directly from the National Teacher Examination, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, NJ 08541. Deadline for registration is Jan. 23.

Job of feeding world not ours alone

Mankind is constantly being reminded that millions of human beings simply don't have enough to eat.

President Carter's Commission on World Hunger, in a report issued recently, said the figure could total as many as 800 million. The number has grown by 40 million in the last five years, this despite the fact that there has been reasonably good harvests during the last three years.

THE DEPRESSING FACTOR

course, is the uncontrolled growth of population in developing countries, and the worsening of economic conditions in many nations.

The job of feeding the world's hunger-stricken masses should not fall upon the United States alone, the commission said in so many words.

"It could not succeed at such a mission and should not try," the report said. "The principal cause of the world's hunger is not the occasional dramatic disaster...but the enduring condition of sub-human poverty that afflicts as many as one in five members of the human family."

What America should be doing, the members of the commission believe, is assisting the developing nations to master the capability to feed their own people. To that end, they submit that we should promptly double the $1.5 billion in technical and economic aid we give these nations to the end of making them more agriculturally self-sufficient. Nor would this place any great strain on us: As matters now stand, we devote less than one quarter of one percent of our gross national product to such aid.

All of this represents the kind of realistic, hard-nosed thinking on which we must rely if we are really serious about coming to grips with the problem of hunger and with the incalculable consequences we face if we should let it continue unchecked.

As the commission correctly pointed out, we cannot be the world's breadbasket; but neither can we sit idly by while people in other nations suffer increasingly from starvation and severe malnutrition.

Whipping guys Around the rim

Marj Carpenter

It's always easier to point out the other guy's mistakes. Even if you're not absolutely sure he did it, it's more convenient to blame him anyway. And heaven forbid you admit it was actually your goof-up in the first place.

I'm referring to a battle that's been fought for many, many years. It's not the Battle of the Sexes and it's not even the Battle of the Network Stars. It's the never-ending verbal war between the newspaper's Editorial Department and the Production Department. I know, because I've seen it and participated in it from both sides of the door.

IF I DON'T accomplish anything else by writing this rim, I hope I can make both departments realize that they're all working toward the same goal — a good quality daily newspaper.

I was employed in the Production Department almost five years before moving to the Editorial Department and I have to admit, my loyalty, or most of it anyway, still lies there.

I really have a lot of compassion for the employees of that department. Why? Mainly because they're held responsible for the mistakes of three departments — theirs, editorial and advertising.

Now even though I may sound like I'm on my soap box defending the Production Department, you should be aware of the fact that I fully realize they aren't completely faultless. I've caught my goof-ups and corrected them. I guess it makes us even.

But then I think about the times they caught me on more than a few occasions, especially since I worked back there and made more than my share of mistakes.

But what the other departments don't see or acknowledge are the mistakes made by them that are caught and corrected by the Production Department. Maybe they should try typesetting all of the copy sent back exactly as it is. Then we'll see how many errors are in the paper.

Another thing that really bothers me is the bad-mouthing from one department to another. Especially from employees who don't know what they're talking about.

I KNOW FOR A fact that if you have never worked in a particular department and experienced the various circumstances and situations first hand, then you're probably not educated enough in that field to blame anyone. The less you say, the better.

The 'back shop,' as the Production Department is labeled by members of the advertising and editorial staff, for one reason or another, is a place where the true meaning of the word 'deadline' is experienced. Whether or not they meet their deadline depends upon whether or not the other departments meet theirs.

When people call the Herald to point out obvious errors, it seems convenient for those answering the telephone to say 'Oh, the back shop must have goofed again. I bet if the real truth was known, almost half of the 'goof ups' were probably sent back that way to begin with.

I'm sure I'm coming across somewhat biased in my feelings, but I do know the utter disgust, anger and frustration felt when a mistake ends up in the paper that editorial or advertising had marked to be corrected and the Production Department didn't correct it. You really feel like ringing production's neck.

But then I think about the times they caught me on more than a few occasions, especially since I worked back there and made more than my share of mistakes.

We're all in this together. We're all (or at least we all should be) working toward the same goal. And all of us, before conveniently throwing the blame on the other department, ought to wake up and quit patting ourselves on the back.

If there are mistakes in the paper, we all look bad, not just the department that the other departments so quickly point their fingers at.

What now?

William F. Buckley, Jr.

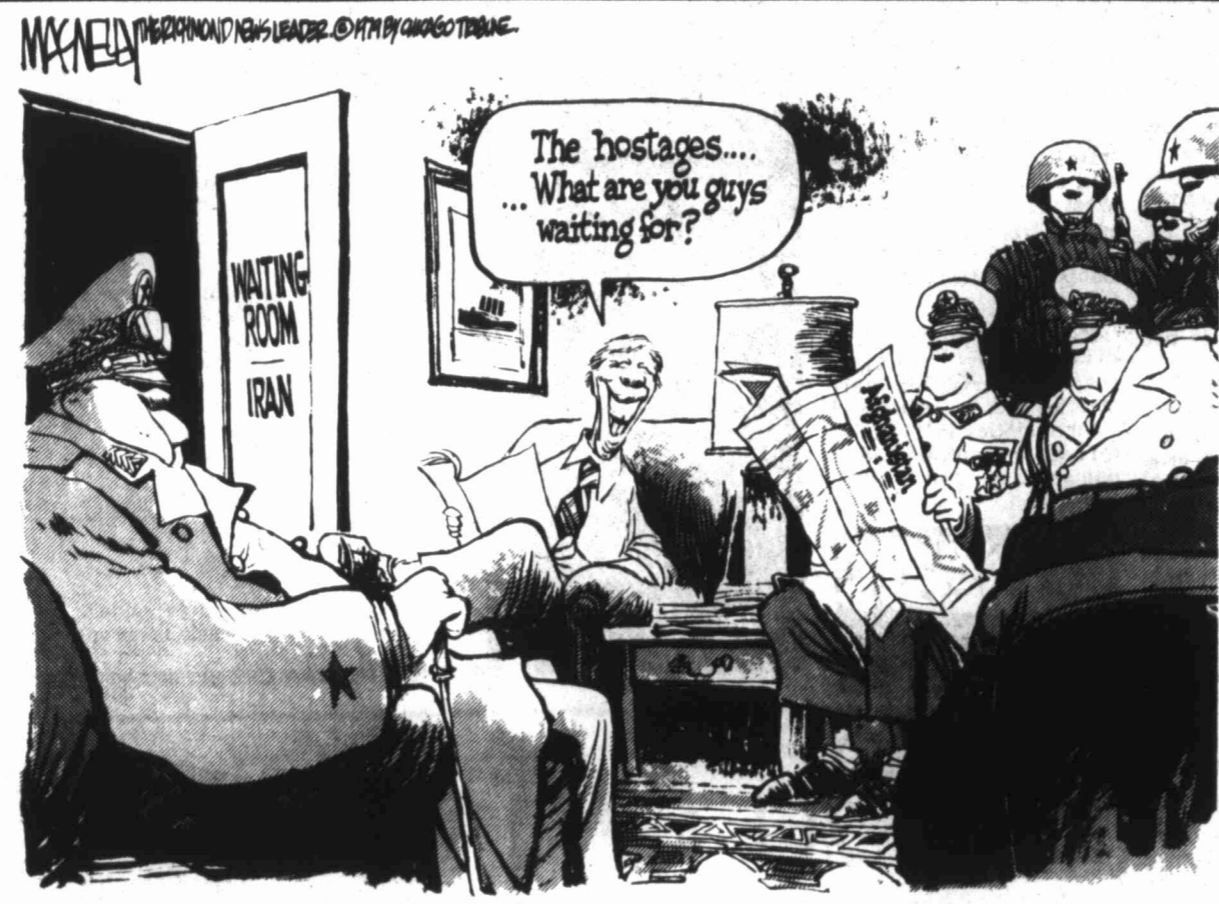

At the little island of Grenada, the last of the Lesser Antilles islands that form a lazy crescent stretching from Puerto Rico to Venezuela, the cruising ground on the south shore has been popular for years; but now, after you reach Hog Island — you are stopped. The territory to the east is closed to boating. Why? Because it is reserved for young soldiers receiving firing drills with machine guns and other weapons. Training from whom? Cubans. Training for what? I mean, what does a 100-square mile tropical island with 100,000 inhabitants and a lot of bananas need with weapons, beyond those necessary for the local constabulary? What is going on in Grenada, under the auspices of Brother Bishop, as the new revolutionary head of the country calls himself, is a Soviet operation.

WE READ THAT in Afghanistan many of the military trucks used so effectively during the Soviet invasion were made at the Karma River plant, 500 miles east of Moscow. That plant is the fruit of American technology and American credit — $400 million worth of credit at less than one-half the interest rate Americans need to pay if they want credit to buy trucks to transport food, not soldiers. The foreign minister of Iran, who deals with the secretary-general of the United Nations as one might with an importunate mother-in-law, is reliably believed to be a man of Moscow — which the other day speeded up by a nearly unprecedented rate the purchase of American corn and wheat, for a single day's purchase of 2.7 million metric tons. Meanwhile, the Soviet Union, which effectively controls the foreign policy of North Vietnam, conspires to continue its genocidal policies against Cambodians, and we read of truckloads of grain, stuck at depots here and there, inaccessible to men, women and children who are starving.

THE KREMLIN HAS branded President Carter as "wicked," and called him a liar for referring to the Afghanistan invasion as an invasion. All good Communists know it was nothing of the sort — it was a rescue mission, invited by the president of Afghanistan, for the purpose of repressing a rebellion financed by the CIA. To be sure, the president who allegedly issued that invitation is not available to speak to Barbara Walters to confirm or deny this allegation, because a few minutes after the Russians arrived to protect him, they executed him.

When you think of corn, what do you think of next? Exactly. Iowa. A mayor of a small Iowa town entered the anthology of pith when, escorting the late Queen Wilhelmina about the countryside, he replied to her statement that this surely was the tallest corn in the world, "You said a mouthful, Queen." President Carter struggles to devise means of containing the mad machine in the East whose revolutionary momentum reaches into the little bays east of Hog Island in Grenada, over to Phnom Penh, over to Afghanistan, which is to Iran and Pakistan what Laos is to Cambodia and Vietnam.

What would stop this madness? The American people are prepared for mobilization. We should begin by Carter's asking Congress for authority to embargo the export of any grain to the Soviet Union. This is concededly difficult to do when everyone is looking at Iowa with the view to his political future. But whoever said mobilizations were comfortable? Equitable arrangements should be made to protect the American farmer. We should follow this up by a total embargo on the shipment of any goods at all to the Soviet Union, yes, including Pepsi-Cola.

Catheter risk called low

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I had my yearly checkup. As my doctor listened to my heart, he said, "I would like you to have an X-ray of the arteries to the heart." He said it was an injection of dye. Can you tell me about this X-ray, and how serious it is? How did he know I needed this just by listening? — Mrs. B.S.

Your doctor's advice was based on more than just listening to your heart sounds. He based it on your complaints to him, your previous examinations, your ECG readings and your general physical examination.

X-rays of the arteries leading to the heart are called "coronary arteriograms." They can detect any significant narrowing of those vessels. If there is narrowing it may be possible to remove the sections and replace them.

For this test, a small plastic tube (catheter) is threaded into an artery in the arm or leg. This passes along upwards toward its opening into the larger vessel leading directly to the heart itself. At this point dye is "squirteed" out and X-rays are taken. If the artery is blocked, the dye will not enter that vessel and thus will not show up on X-rays. Heart specialists and radiologists are skilled in reading and interpreting coronary arteriograms.

Coronary arteriography has been done for many years, and is performed daily in hospitals throughout the country. The risk of complications is small and might depend on many factors — age, severity of illness, etc. All procedures in medicine carry some risk. Undiagnosed heart disease poses much greater risks than arteriography.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I had a baby five months ago and have not menstruated yet. Would you inform me as to what is causing this absence of menstruation? My doctor wants me to see an endocrinologist. What does this doctor specialize in? — J.G.

Menstruation should begin by about eight weeks after childbirth if you are not nursing your baby. An endocrinologist is a doctor who specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of glands that make hormones — the endocrine glands.

Since the ovary makes female hormones it can be considered an endocrine gland. Its hormones are responsible for the menstrual cycle. However, its work is under the control of the "quarterback" gland — the pituitary. Endocrinologists are specially trained in unraveling the complex chain of events that can lead to such phenomena as your lack of menstruation.

Dear Dr. Donohue: This is not exactly a medical thing except that it might apply for a lot of folks who write you about itches of various kinds. This is what I found to be a cause of continuous itching — an itching board. In some, there is a stuffing that can cause an itch if it comes in contact with the skin. If some of the covering is torn and some of the inside material gets out onto the board it can be transferred to clothing being ironed, like blouses, shirts, etc. When I corrected the problem my family's itching disappeared. Just a tip you might find worthwhile passing on. — A Reader.

Thanks.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have been treated for hypertension for the past 10 years. My dilemma: When my reading is taken by my son-in-law, who is a gynecologist, it varies between 130-70 and 140-80. When I go in to my regular doctor for my checkup he says it is 160-90. This has occurred in at least three visits. Is my doctor's office reading due to temporary stress? — V. K.

Yes, the discrepancy may be due to the stress of visiting the doctor. Why not make a record of your son-in-law's readings? Your doctor will accept those as reflecting your true blood pressure.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor: On Oct. 17, 1979, an article by columnist Evans and Novak was published in the Washington Post purporting to describe what had occurred in closed sessions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. That article, and the testimony of the Chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, labored under a misapprehension as to the facts.

Actually the procedure at these sessions was as follows: at the request of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the Chairman of the Select Committee on Intelligence, Senator Birch Bayh of Indiana, and the Vice Chairman, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, reported to the Foreign Relations Committee on the two-year study that they had just completed concerning the capabilities of the United States to verify compliance with the SALT II Treaty.

A copy of the full report of the Intelligence Committee was given to every Member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for review. In our view, both Senators Bayh and Goldwater gave a full and fair summary of the Intelligence Committee's report and its findings, and then answered questions during two days of testimony to the Committee's satisfaction. We found the presentation thorough, balanced and fully documented. The Foreign Relations Committee and the Senate owe their thanks to Senators Bayh and Goldwater and the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence for the work that they have done on this important subject.

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My husband went through five years of deep depression, and eventually took his own life. Now I find myself feeling guilty, wondering if I could have done something to prevent this. — Mrs. R.E.

DEAR MRS. R.E.: It is natural for you to ask yourself if you contributed in any way to his problem, or if there were things you could have done to prevent it. If you know of such things, you should bring them to God and confess them. He has promised to forgive you if you turn to Him in trust and faith; Jesus Christ came and died on the cross so we could be forgiven. "He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness; by his wounds you have been healed" (1 Peter 2:24).

But you should remember also that we do not always know what causes depression such as your husband had. Even professionals who have studied such things deeply often cannot say why they happen. Why do I say this? I say it because it may be impossible for you to know whether or not you really could have done anything to change your husband's situation. In other words, there may be no real reason for you to blame yourself for what happened.

The important thing now is for you to do all you can to be a good mother to your children, and not be paralyzed by the past. If there were ways in which you could have done better, God has forgiven them if you have truly sought His forgiveness. God has not only forgiven them but He has forgotten them also. And you must forgive yourself and forget as best you can, with His help. Then concentrate on your present responsibilities. You need God's wisdom and strength now, and you need to learn to turn to Him each day. The past few years have been difficult for you, but God wants to help you and give you a new strength and joy for living.

Hunters hamstrung

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — For many Americans, the movies "Marathon Man" and "The Boys from Brazil" are not simply fantasies about Hitler henchmen who survived the Nazi downfall to pursue their victims 35 years later.

For tens of thousands of the Third Reich's victims who lived through the holocaust and found refuge in America, the nightmare of Nazi Germany will never fully disappear. The horror lives on in their memories.

Unfortunately, the United States gave refuge to more than just the victims of Nazi brutality. Through the infamous "Operation Paperclip," which I have exposed in earlier columns, American officials bent the immigration rules or looked the other way while dozens of Nazi scientists, many of whom performed inhuman experiments in concentration camps, slipped into the United States with their families after World War II. At the same time, some of the Nazis' most brutal killers and torturers from East Europe found a safe haven here.

THERE ARE AN estimated 200 to 250 un punished Nazi war criminals still hiding out in this country, living the comfortable lives of respected citizens, their unsavory past undreamed of by their neighbors. And because of mismanagement, bureaucratic infighting and lackadaisical leadership in the Justice Department, their chances of remaining unmasked improve as every year passes.

President Carter authorized a special unit in the department to track down the undercover Nazis, many of whom have become naturalized citizens by lying about their past. They were to be deported for trial in Germany and other European countries that suffered under them in their jackbooted heyday.

The Nazi search team became bogged down in bureaucratic pettifoggery until congressional pressure, primarily from Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., got the unit transferred to the better-organized criminal division.

The pace of the Nazi probe picked up temporarily. But petty jealousies and other chronic ills of the paper-shuffling brigade again slowed the search for Nazi war criminals. Then, late last month, Philip Haymann, head of Justice's criminal division, was persuaded to sack the unit's most diligent Nazi hunter, deputy director Martin Mendelsohn.

After more than two years with the special unit, Mendelsohn had developed legal expertise in the often tricky handling of ex-Nazi cases. He also had important contacts with prosecutors in other countries, whose help in finding witnesses and documents is frequently crucial.

AS ONE KNOWLEDGEABLE source put it, "The one man who knows the most about the investigations and can do the best job is being removed. Why?"

The reason seems to have been a personal feud between Mendelsohn and the special unit's director, Walter Rockler, a former prosecutor at Nuremberg. Inside sources told my associates Gary Cohn and Jack Mitchell that Rockler has provided inept, part-time leadership, preferring to spend much of his time in the offices of his Washington law firm, Arnold & Porter.

Though Rockler's per diem payment by Arnold & Porter — at the rate of $47,500 a year — is technically legal, his frequent absences from his Justice Department office have resulted in chaotic management, half-hearted pursuit of cases and low morale, according to insiders.

While he has shown little enthusiasm for expediting the prosecution of ex-Nazis, Rockler has been diligent in his efforts to block our access to the facts. Last October, when we obtained secret documents detailing the disgraceful Operation Paperclip, Rockler issued a stern memorandum to his subordinates, ordering them not to talk to my office.

Rockler has admitted that he engineered Mendelsohn's ouster from the unit, claiming he did it to bring in a new deputy, Allan Ryan Jr., to "enhance the efficiency of the unit." He also insisted he now spends "close to full time" at the Justice Department.

Perhaps the best news is that Rockler is planning to go back to his lucrative private practice in April. This will leave Ryan, who is reported to be competent and conscientious, in charge of the Justice Department's long-hamstrung Nazi hunters.

RESELLERS' RIPOFF: As if legal price increases on domestically produced oil aren't soaking consumers enough, Energy Department regulations have encouraged crooked operators to add up to $6 a barrel of oil just by shuffling papers back and forth.

I've reported the inside details of the Great Reselling Ripoff, which stems from the department rule allowing a higher price for "new" oil, which is more costly to produce. But some greedy middlemen have sold and resold old oil reclassified as "new," making it eligible for the markup. In a modern twist on the Biblical injunction against new wine in old bottles, they're putting old oil in new barrels.

Here's an example, from a secret DOE file turned over to the Justice Department for action:

AWECO, a Dallas-based firm, brought 40,500 barrels of old oil from a supplier, then sold it as "new" oil to BPM Ltd. of Tulsa. AWECO then bought back the reclassified oil from BPM and marketed it, for an illicit profit of $109,800, according to DOE investigators. BPM was paid $24,570 for its part in the purely paper transaction.

AWECO, DOE reported, "didn't cause the oil to be moved and it didn't physically handle it. It merely entered into transactions in which resellers were selling the same crude oil to each other."

Congressional investigators told my office that the same examination system that caught the two small fry — inspection of pipeline documents — is also turning up evidence that major oil companies are working the same swindle.

So far, though, the Energy Department has failed to go after the big boys vigorously. In fact, General Counsel Lynn Coleman wouldn't even give the House subcommittee on Energy and Power documents on the filimflam operations. The subcommittee is planning to subpoena the documents.

Film prices nothing to smile about

NEW YORK (AP) — Shooting pictures is getting a lot more expensive, and rising silver prices is the reason.

Eastman Kodak Co., the world's largest film producer, says it will raise film prices by as much as 75 percent later this month to compensate for the sharp increase in silver prices.

The increase comes on top of one imposed in October and replaces one announced two weeks ago, before the latest leap in silver prices.

"What we have done is to revise the previous increases to reflect the even higher prices of silver," said Henry J. Kaska, a Kodak spokesman.

As a result of the increases, the retail price of a 12-exposure roll of Kodachrome II color print film, size 110, will rise from the current $1.86 to $2.15.

A 35mm roll of Kodachrome slide film, with 20 exposures, will rise from $4.95 to $6.20.

The price of silver, $6 an ounce a year ago, had risen above $18 by early last month, then soared to almost $40 after the first of the year. On Tuesday, it slipped back to $31.91 in trading on New York's Commodity Exchange.

Silver is a key component of the photosensitive emulsion on film. Kodak uses 50 million ounces of silver a year.

There were no price increases for photo printing papers, which also use silver, Kaska said.

The price increases are in suggested list prices, but retailers are free to charge either higher or lower prices. They are to take effect Jan. 26.

Kodak is by far the largest producer of film and its pricing actions are often followed by smaller producers, who are also feeling the pinch from rising silver prices.

The largest price increase came in phototypesetting papers, used by many newspapers. They rose 75 percent because they are relatively heavy users of silver, Kaska said.

The Kodak increases were disclosed to dealers on Tuesday but not publicly announced. Kaska confirmed them in response to an inquiry from a reporter.

The new price list replaces one announced Dec. 26, which also was to take effect Jan. 26. In many cases, the increases are twice as large as had been planned. Phototypesetting paper, for example, was to rise by 35 percent.

Most film bought by amateur photographers — for movies, color prints and slides, had been slated to rise by 7.5 percent. Now it will rise at least 15 percent and as much as 25 percent. Rolls of black-and-white film will rise between 25 and 35 percent, instead of 7.5 percent.

The increases are even steeper in the bulk rolls frequently bought by professional photographers. Those rolls were to have risen by 20 percent in color and 30 percent in black-and-white. The new figures are 30 percent and 50 percent.

UT scientists say

Blood test may detect cancer

DALLAS — A blood test for cancer may sound far-fetched.

But a group of researchers at The University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas are already using a new kind of blood test to monitor the progress of certain types of cancer in the lymph nodes (lymphoid cancers). The procedure may eventually allow doctors to detect the presence of these cancers long before traditional methods of detection could give a warning.

That's the long-range goal of the Cancer Center group, a mixture of basic scientists and physicians involved in the research, diagnosis and treatment of lymphoid tumors. Headed by clinical hematologist Dr. Eugene Frenkel, the group also includes Dr. Graham Smith, a tumor specialist (oncologist); Drs. Jonathan Uhr and Ellen S. Vitetta, molecular immunologists; and Drs. Jack Kettman, James Forman and Frances Ligler, cellular immunologists.

"We've found that in many cases we can almost predict the remission or recurrence of lymphoid tumors when we test the blood samples from patients with known lymphoid cancers," says Vitetta. "It's sort of a barometer of the patient's condition. When the physician sees that the patient is doing well, we're seeing a parallel to that in the blood samples. When the patient is doing poorly, that's reflected in the blood samples."

Precise monitoring of the disease is vital to treatment, says Vitetta. "The earlier you treat the malignancy, the better chances of killing the tumor. But you want to avoid overtreatment with toxic drugs that kill not only the malignant cells but the normal, healthy cells as well. You want to have the treatment parallel the disease."

Conventional methods of examining blood cells usually can't distinguish between malignant and normal cells. A reappearing lump is in many cases the first sign that the cancer has returned. But the research group has developed a method of detecting a small tumor cell population (less than one percent) in a blood sample containing otherwise normal cells. To do this, they're using a sophisticated new research tool developed at Stanford University, the fluorescence activated cell sorter (FACS), and specialized computer programs for analyzing the FACS data developed here by Dr. Kettman.

The FACS employs a laser beam that causes the surfaces of certain cells to "glow" when these cells are treated with a "fluorescent" antibody specific for that type of cell. These glowing cells can then be analyzed and sorted according to the intensity of brightness, which are normal cells.

Researchers here are looking specifically at the detection of B cell lymphoid cancers. Normal B cells are a part of the body's immune system and produce antibodies against viruses and bacteria. They are a type of lymphoid cell having only one of two types of immunoglobulins or antibodies on their surface and are monoclonal, meaning that all the malignant cells come from a single malignant parental cell and are identical.

Studies at the Cancer Center have shown that in every normal human about half of the B cells have one type of surface light chain marker, the "Kappa" type, and the other half of the B cells have the "Lambda" type — an approximate one-to-one ratio of the two cell variations. But monoclonal B cells, in contrast, will be of only one type — all Lambda or all Kappa. Some of these malignant cells will "leak" into the blood stream from the tumor, altering the one-to-one ratio of Kappa to Lambda cells. It's this altered ratio that the FACS can detect at a level of one percent or less.

"It's as if you had a half dozen oranges and a half dozen apples and then added another orange. You could see the change in the ratio of oranges to apples. That's what the FACS does — it detects the change in the ratio of Kappa to Lambda B cells," explains Vitetta.

Currently, the group uses the FACS technique to screen various forms of B cell lymphoid cancers, in particular the solid tumor forms. In the early stage of telling the scientists which cells are tumor cells and research, blood samples from lymphoid cancer patients and patients with a variety of other infectious and non-malignant diseases have been tested to answer some basic questions. Vitetta explains: "Patients who are sick have antibody responses going on, which means they have activated B cells. We wanted to make sure that these other diseases didn't trigger the type of B cell reaction we were studying in lymphoid tumors. We also had to determine if the number of tumor cells in the blood samples was a barometer of the state of the disease. That is, do patients who are very sick with the disease have more of these cells, and do patients who have undergone treatment and are doing well have fewer of these cells in the blood?"

Preliminary findings indicate that the changes in Kappa versus Lambda bearing B cells are peculiar to lymphoid cancers and that these "clonal excesses" that alter the ratio of B cell types in the blood are indeed a barometer of the disease stage.

The next step is to determine at what stage in the disease this blood test can diagnose the presence of these cancer cells. Must the cancer be in a well-developed stage before the tumor cells begin to leak into the blood, or can the disease be detected in its earliest stages? Only testing on a vast scale can answer this question.

Early diagnosis of cancer is just part of the research going on at the Cancer Center. Working with the group from Stanford University, the team has developed a mouse tumor "model" which is very similar to the CLL found in humans. It's an important milestone in the diagnosis and treatment of this type of cancer because for the first time, researchers have an animal model to study how the tumor grows, why it grows and how it can be treated.

By duplicating a human tumor cell system in a mouse model, the researchers were able to develop a specific antibody for any B cell tumor. Like a key fits a lock, only one specific antibody will "fit" the B cell tumor it was designed for. It identifies one particular clone of B cells out of all the millions of other clones of B cells. Since the tumor comes from one specific clone, this antibody will identify all these tumor cells, but not normal cells.

"We've used this antibody to look at the growth of the tumor in the mouse, and we are now attempting to couple it to drugs to kill the tumor in the mouse — a sort of 'guided missile' for the tumor cells that will leave normal cells unaffected by the treatment," says Vitetta.

Part of the study includes shipping the tumor-laden mice to Israel, where researchers at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem treat the mice with a new irradiation-transportation procedure to "shrink" the tumor. The mice are shipped back to Dallas for "mopping up" treatment on the tumor, using the experimental antibody-coupled drug.

This new method of detecting lymphoma cells in the blood was reported in the September issue of the Journal of Immunology and the Nov. 1979 issue of the Journal of The American Medical Association.

It's too early to tell how successful these studies will be, cautions Vitetta. "But with these mouse models, we can't help but find something out. All the things you can't do in humans, we can do in mice."

Other members of the Cancer Center research team include postdoctoral fellows Drs. Sally Anderson, Peter Isakson, Keith Krolick and Michael Muirhead. Research assistant Joyce Himes is responsible for the development and use of the FACS.

Ultimatum for a flirt

Dr. Wallace: I have been going steady for only one week but I have liked this boy for a long time.

My problem is that when I'm not around, he flirts with other girls. He says that he likes me best, but I don't like this flirting. Do you think I should give him back his ring? — Jana, Vancouver, Wash.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 16-year-old sophomore who has a very unusual situation. I'm sure this is a first for you.

I've been dating this certain girl for about two years and suddenly she wants to have a baby and wants me to be the father. I love her but I don't think I'm ready to be a father.

New here is what will blow your mind. She said if I don't do the job, she will find another guy who will. Help me! — Brett, Hagerstown, Md.

Brett: It's your girlfriend who needs help but it should be psychological not physical.

Having children is a blessing from the Creator and should have the benefit of a happy marriage.

Encourage your girlfriend to talk to a school counselor, the school nurse or a member of the clergy.

Needless to say, don't be her partner. Hopefully, no boy will.

Sleep Singly But Double Their Fun

DEAR ABBY: In response to JERI OUT WEST, who wondered how many couples who really love each other sleep apart: We've been married for 34 years, and for the last 17 years we have had twin beds. There is nothing like it for comfort and total relaxation. We're able to turn every which way without worrying about kicking one another, or breathing in each others' faces.

He likes the blankets on. I like them off. If he has a cold, he can keep the cold germs in his own bed. And when it comes to intimacy, we manage nicely. One twin bed is big enough for both of us.

I LOVE MY HUSBAND IN ALHAMBRA

DEAR ABBY: What has sleeping got to do with lovemaking? Nothing whatsoever! If I didn't get my rest I would be a lousy lover. That's why the little woman and I sleep in separate bedrooms. She snores up a storm.

ARTHUR IN ARIZONA

DEAR ABBY: Sleeping apart is really great. I meet a lot of new girls that way. My wife stays on her side of town, and I stay in the other 95 percent of town!

LARRY IN COLUMBUS, OHIO

DEAR ABBY: I'm 33 and my husband is 35. He's always been a very restless sleeper, and gets up several times during the night to make notes or read. (He says he gets his best thinking done at night.) The only way I can get any sleep is to sleep in another room, which I do. Believe me, it hasn't hurt our love life. Our children are 10, 7, 6, 4, 2 and another is on the way.

SLEEPS APART BUT GETS TOGETHER

DEAR ABBY: We've been married for 37 years and love each other. For years we slept together — or, I should say, tried to sleep together. He's a big man who sleeps spread-eagled. He also snores like a sawmill. I wanted to sleep next to him because I enjoyed the closeness and pillow talk and, naturally, the lovemaking, but once he fell asleep he assumed the spread-eagle position and started to snore. I would poke him in the ribs to make him turn over, which disturbed HIS sleep. This went on for years until I decided to move into another bedroom — the smartest move I ever made.

Gov. Clements takes charge

Hospitals may be begging again

By JACKIE CALMES
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Despite two past setbacks, Texas' financially beleaguered public hospitals are likely to be back begging during the 1981 Legislature, but this time led by Gov. Bill Clements.

Clements is concerned that unpaid bills are piling up at hospitals that treat indigents from outlying areas. He promised a group of San Antonio religious leaders last week that he would add some kind of hospital relief to his 1981 legislative program.

However, he would not specify whether aid should come from counties or the state, or whether it should go to all public hospitals, just to hospital districts, or to the half dozen teaching hospitals where residents are trained.

The San Antonio clergymen were particularly concerned with the Bexar County Hospital District. That district has a teaching hospital for students from the University of Texas Medical School of San Antonio.

The group wants both reimbursement from surrounding counties for indigent care, and state grants of $15,000 per resident student to be paid to the Bexar County Hospital District from University of Texas system funds.

Clements has been cool to the idea of state aid for hospital districts. But, as a solution to indigent care costs, he said he favors billing commissioners courts when persons from their counties don't pay.

"It's wrong — it's just not right for these counties that don't have their own hospitals to not have to pay for treatment of their poor people," Clements said.

The governor said his legislation would deal with all public hospitals. But Jim Kaster, the aide charged with drawing up any legislation, said, "Our proposal will probably just deal with teaching hospitals."

He acknowledged the problem is statewide, however, and added, "The legislature may well change the bill to apply to all hospitals."

The San Antonio group's proposal to funnel state aid through the medical school's budget is similar to one offered unsuccessfully in the 1977 and 1979 legislative sessions.

In 1979, Sen. Chet Brooks sponsored a bill to reimburse teaching hospitals $15,000 a student from funds in the budgets of Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech university schools of medicine and the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Jerry Hall, former lobbyist for teaching hospitals, said the bill failed largely due to opposition from rural lawmakers.

Teaching hospitals are in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Temple and San Antonio.

But a key opponent, Sen. Lloyd Doggett of Austin, said he opposed Brooks' bill because it would not help non-teaching hospitals like the city-run facility in Austin, and he persuaded Sen. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi to join him.

Doggett said he was not won over when the bill's backers assured him that aid would be expanded to other hospitals in the 1981 session.

Lobbyist Hall said some legislators oppose any aid to hospital districts because those entities were created by the legislature with the understanding the districts would be fully supported by ad valorem taxes.

The Texas constitution states that a hospital district "shall never become a charge against the State of Texas, nor shall by direct appropriation ever be made by the Legislature for the construction, maintenance or improvement of the said hospital or hospitals."

So, Hall said, state aid to hospital districts is a "sticky constitutional problem," one that advocates have tried to get around with indirect aid in medical schools' budgets.

$2 million amusement park plans told

MIDLAND — T.J. Melton III has announced plans to develop a $2 million amusement park here.

Embracing 12 acres, the park will be called Wild River Canyon. It will be situated between Idlewild Drive and Holiday Hill Road. The project includes construction of a man-made canyon.

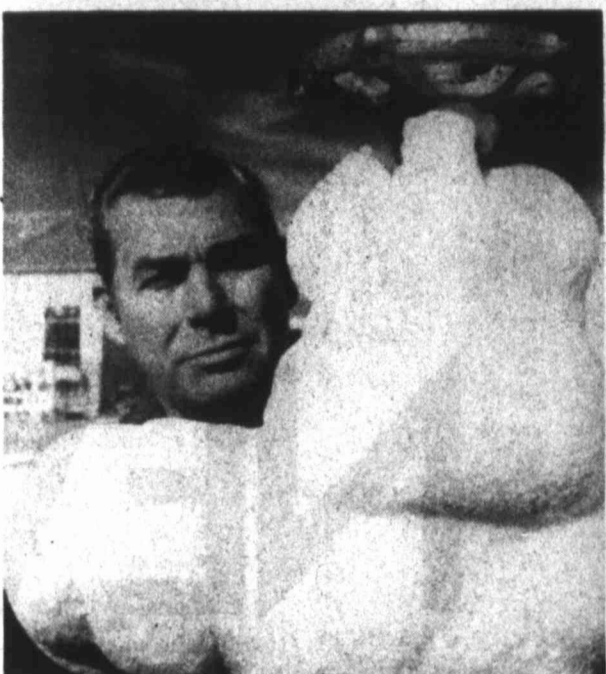

Attractions would include a quarter-scale train circling the park, boat rides and a catfish-stocked fishing lake. The main attraction would be a river ride, in which riders will splash down one of three 300-foot chutes on a rubber raft, into a pool.

Also included in the planning are a 1 1/2 acre swimming lake, bumper boats, a paddle-boat canal, a children's playground, an outdoor movie amphitheater, mini race cars, a game arcade, and various concessions stands.

IS NO SNOW — Conoco production superintendent Joe Galovich shows what can happen when even a little carbon dioxide hits the atmosphere. Taken at a field in northern Colorado scenes like this could occur even in warm weather as oil companies use CO2 projects to boost production in West Texas and New Mexico oil fields. To most people, carbon dioxide means soda pop, dry ice or perhaps fire extinguishers. But petroleum engineers have found that the bubbly pressure created when carbon dioxide expands is ideal for fracturing individual wells to stimulate production. Now, petroleum companies are experimenting with the use of large-scale carbon dioxide injections in enhanced recovery projects covering entire oil fields.

Spelling books available at Herald for 35 cents

Spelling books are available at the Herald for students planning to take part in the 1980 Howard County Spelling Bee, which will be held in the Howard College Auditorium Tuesday, Feb. 19, at 4 p.m.

The books are available at cost — 35 cents each. All elementary and junior high school students in Howard County are eligible to take part.

The winner gets an expense-paid trip to the Regional Bee at Lubbock in March and the winner there qualifies for a trip to the National Bee in Washington, D.C., where the top prize will be a four-year scholarship to any university in the country.

Howard County has qualified several students for National competition in the past.

Students should take note that the County Bee is scheduled earlier than usual this year. For that reason, time is very much a factor in the training of a student for the competition.

Each of the schools will declare a school champion and an alternate winner. Each school will be represented by only one student in County Bee competition.

ABC Olympic Classic promises exciting action

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

The ABC Olympic Classic gets underway tomorrow, and two of the top 20 junior college teams in the nation will be on hand to participate in what promises to be an exciting affair.

Top ranked Western Texas College of Snyder, who finished fourth in the nation last year and returns virtually everybody from that team, opens the action with a 7:00 p.m. encounter against host Howard College.

WTC runs a full-court press and employs at least 10 members of their team into the game in regularity. The Westerners of Coach Nolan Richardson are the second leading scoring team in the nation, averaging an auspicious 102.5 per contest. But their foe tomorrow, the Hawks of Coach Harold Wilder, can also score, as they rank fourth nationally in team scoring with a potent average of 99.6.

WTC is led by classy sophomore Paul Pressey, who is being recruited by almost every major college in the land. The 6'5" performer from Richmond, Virginia, is an excellent all-around player, but his stats are not that noticeable because he never has to play an entire game due to the outstanding strength of the WTC team. Pressey does lead the Western Conference in blocked shots, however, and is second in steals and fourth in field goal percentage.

Another player that most every major college scout is looking at is WTC's 6'9" center from the Bronx, New York, Greg Stewart. Stewart averages 15 points per game, and also is third in the WJC in field goal percentage and fourth in blocked shots.

The WTC also has numerous other players that are drawing the raves of major college scouts, most noticeably being Phil Spradling, Bill Patterson, Ron Portee and David Brown.

The Howard College Hawks, currently sporting a record of 8-5, have one of the best one-two punches in the tourney and in the Western Conference in 6'7" Mike Wallace and 6'6" Ron Akins. Wallace leads the WJC in scoring with a 27.8 per game average, and is second in the rebounding department. Akins leads the WJC in rebounding with a career average of 13.9, while the former Fort Worth schoolboy is third in the WJC in scoring, averaging 20.7 per contest.

But in order to stay in the game against the 14-0 Westerners, the Hawks are going to have to have a total team effort in order to take some of the heat off of Wallace and Akins.

Tomorrow night's second contest will feature the nation's 13th ranked junior college outfit, Midland College, against South Plains. The Chaparrals boast a record of 14-0.

Midland College is paced by the play of forward Robert Tate, but like Western Texas, plays at least 10 performers regularly without a dropoff in results. Tate is a sure major college prospect who hails from Chicago, Illinois.

Midland College can also score at will, as they average over 94 points a game thus far, compared to allowing their foes an average of 75.

Other key players for Midland College include Chuckie McGill, Charles Johnson, Kenneth Young, Tim Shelby and Kevin Willingham.

The fourth team in the ABC field is South Plains. The Texans currently have a record of 5-8, and will have to hope that Midland will be looking past them to their Friday encounter with Western Texas.

South Plains is led by Mike Vaughan and Ronnie Butler, who both rank high in the WJC scoring and rebounding categories.

South Plains also has been known for their scoring, averaging over 80 points per game. In an Olympic style tournament such as the ABC affair, in the case of a tie, the team that scores the most points is declared the winner. If this happens, there is a great likelihood that the winner will set a new record for the most points scored in the 10-year history of the tourney.

Howard College has won the ABC Classic four times to lead all teams, but Western Texas has won the last three tournaments.

Midland routs Steers

MIDLAND — The Midland Bulldogs won their 20th game of the season here Tuesday night as 12 players scored, with four hitting for double figures, in taking an easy 84-40 win over the outmanned Big Spring Steers.

The win gives the defending 5-AAAA champions, who entered the game ranked 10th in the state in Class AAAA, a district record of 2-0. The Bulldogs sport a season mark of 20-4.

Big Spring, meanwhile, in the process of a massive rebuilding year, drops to 0-2 in loop play and 5-13 overall.

6'9" Herbert Johnson led the charge for the Purple Pack with 16 points as the Midland crew had the game well in hand by halftime. Carroll chipped in with 13 points for the Bulldogs, with Henry and Morett adding 12 points each.

Big Spring was led in scoring by sophomore Robert Rubio, who had 12 points.

The Steers resume 5-AAAA play on Friday, when they play host to Odessa Permian. Midland travels to Abilene on Friday.

Score by quarters:
Big Spring 9 12 10 9-40
Midland 23 28 13 20-84

5-AAAA Roundup

Abilene Cooper kept pace with Midland High in the first half race of District 5-AAAA by taking a 57-46 win over Odessa Tuesday night. Cooper is 2-0 in league play.

Cooper jumped out to a 30-19 lead at the halftime, and kept that margin throughout the last half. Kenny Henry scored 26 to pace Cooper, with big Woody Martin managing 11. Junior Cobos led OHS, now 0-2 in 5-AAAA play, with 11 points.

San Angelo evened their loop record at 1-1 by taking a 65-62 win over Midland Lee on some late free throw shooting by Wade Rossman. San Angelo's Charles Bishop scored 21 of his 26 points in the second half to rally the Bobcats into a tie. Lee, now 1-1, was led in scoring by Danny Rabb, who had 16 points.

Odessa Permian used a 32-point effort from returning All-District selection Brad Kerley in taking an 88-76 win over Abilene High. The contest evened both squads record at 1-1 in district play.

Scott Wynne added 23 for the Panthers, while Abilene was led in scoring by T. W. McGee's 31 points.

Kaline, Snider named to Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielders Al Kaline and Duke Snider were elected to the Hall of Fame by the Baseball Writers Association of America today.

Kaline, 45, who played 22 seasons for the Detroit Tigers, became the 10th man in history to be named to the shrine in Cooperstown, N.Y. in his first year of eligibility.

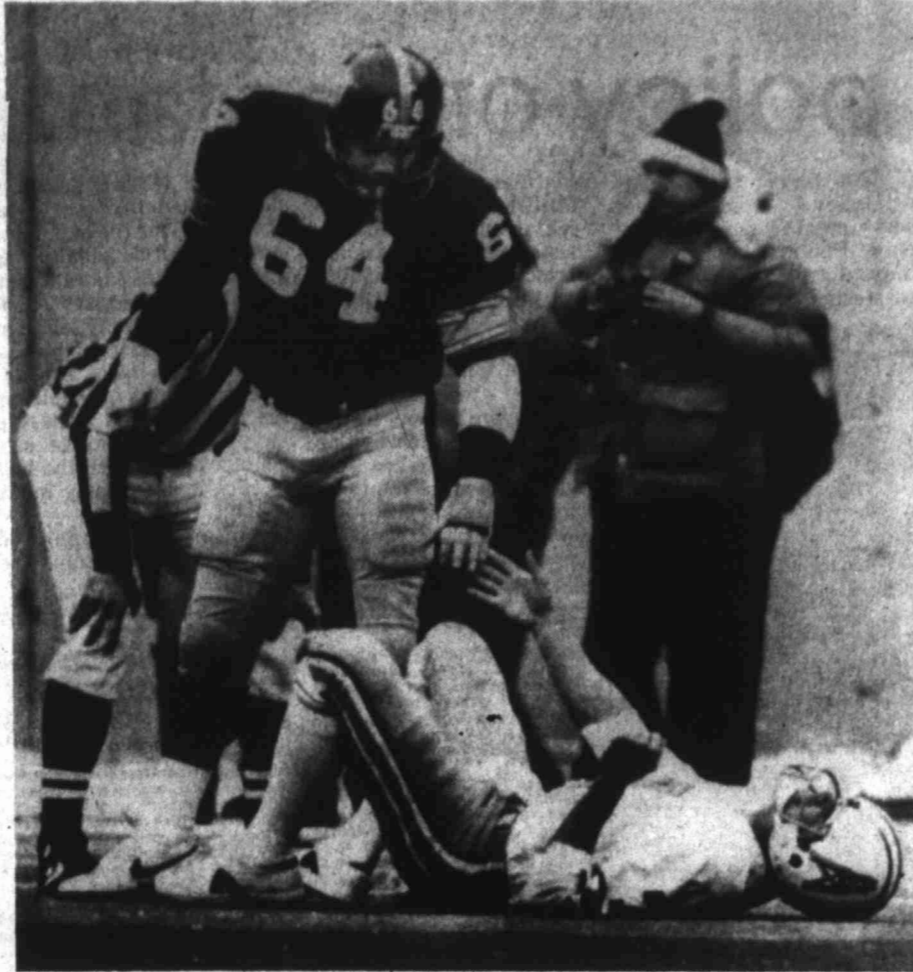

Snider, 53, who starred for the Dodgers in Brooklyn and Los Angeles, was elected in his 11th year of eligibility.

A total of 385 ballots were cast by 10-year members of the BBWAA, with 399 representing 75 percent needed for election. Kaline received 340, or 86 percent of the vote, and Snider, who fell 16 votes short of election last year, had 333, or 86 percent.

Pitcher Don Drysdale, a former teammate of Snider's, finished third, 51 votes short of election. The late Gil Hodges, another Dodger standout, was fourth with 233 votes, five less than Drysdale.

It was the second straight year that Hodges finished fourth in the voting.

Relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm was the only other player to receive at least 200 votes, finishing fifth with 209.

NO HELPING HAND — Steelers Steve Furness (64) offers his hand to hurt Houston Oilers quarterback Dan Pastorini, but then changed his mind and walked away so that Oilers trainers could use a stretcher if needed Sunday during AFC championship game at Pittsburgh. Pastorini was not seriously hurt, but the Oilers lost, 27-13.

Coahoma boys upset Ballinger

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs boys basketball team broke the Ballinger Bearcats 17-game winning streak in District 6-AA here Tuesday night, taking a 56-54 win.

The victory gives Coahoma a district record of 3-0 and propels them into sole possession of the first half race in 6-AA. Defending champion Ballinger drops to 2-1 in district. Ballinger entered the contest as the favored team in the state in Class AA.

The Bulldogs took a 16-11 lead at the end of the first stanza, but Ballinger narrowed the Coahoma lead to 28-27 at the intermission.

Coahoma then increased their lead to 45-35 entering the final stanza, but Ballinger's 6'6" sharpshooter, Marty Akins, led a last period surge that nearly overcame the Bulldogs. Akins scored 11 of his 15 points in the final quarter.

Akins, one of the top players in Class AA in the area, was covered by Spot Paige and Gary Gee, a couple of 5'10" performers, throughout the contest. They limited the taller Akins to only four points in the first three stanzas as the Bulldogs, led Coahoma in rebounding with 13, and Harriman also praised the rebounding work of Philip Ritchey and Greg Wright.

"It was the biggest victory we've had around here in a long time," Harriman exclaimed, adding, "and what was really pleasing was that it was an overall team effort."

The Bulldogs, now 11-4 for the season, travel to Stamford on Friday in an attempt to move one step closer to the first half title in 6-AA. Currently, Ballinger, Colorado City and Wylie all sport 2-1 first half records.

Ballinger won the junior varsity game by a score of 42-28. Coahoma's Jay Hall scored 13 points and also drew praise for his rebounding.

Aggies use charity to overcome Tech

By The Associated Press

Texas Tech held the league's second-leading scorer to 2 points, but that wasn't enough in the Red Raiders' battle with Texas A&M for the undisputed Southwest Conference basketball lead.

The Aggies grabbed a slim lead, went into a delay game and got 6-for-6 free throw shooting from senior David Britton and 17-for-19 at the line from the team as a whole to hold off Tech 63-60 Tuesday night.

The win, which came despite the bad night by top scorer Vernon Smith, put the Aggies alone atop the standings with a 3-0 record. Texas A&M got good inside play from 6-11 sophomore Rudy Woods for the second game in a row.

In other games Tuesday night, Scott Hastings 23 points gave Arkansas a 70-58 victory over Texas Christian, Brad Branson poured in 25 points and SMU made 32 free throws in a narrow 78-72 decision over Baylor, and John Danks' torrid early shooting pushed Texas to a 99-73 rout of Houston.

The Aggies, the only home team to win Tuesday, are alone at 3-0, although Arkansas is also unbeaten at 2-0. Texas and Texas Tech are 2-1, Rice 1-1, Houston and SMU 1-2, Baylor 0-2 and TCU 0-3.

Texas Tech coach Gerald Myers was pleased the Raiders were able to shut down Smith, who was averaging 18.2 points a game.

"We were able to play good defense on them for a while, but it caught up with us. They were just too tough for us inside. We made a lot of mistakes. They controlled the ball real well and handled the ball real well," Myers observed.

Aggie coach Shelby Metcalf agreed.

"Vernon Smith just had an off night, but Woods played his second straight good game. We got a lot of defensive help inside from Rudy, Claude Riley and Rynn Wright. We always want to get the ball inside, and we did a lot of it in this game," Metcalf said.

Texas welcomed back George Turner, a 6-1 freshman from Hitchcock who quit the team after getting criticism from Longhorn coach Abe Lemons and teammates after a low-scoring performance in a loss to Texas Tech last Thursday in the Super Drum.

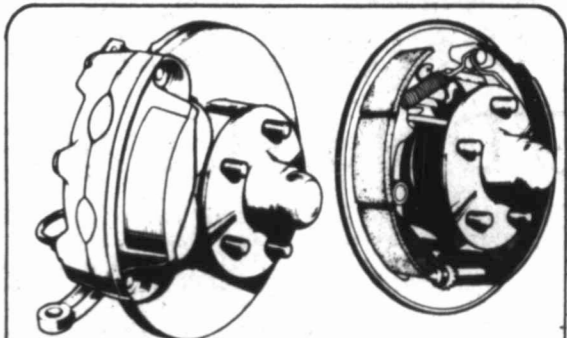

"Turner came in and played well tonight. He's a good player," Lemons said. "Fred Carson will keep playing a lot too. It's just that as long as we're sharp, we were going to leave the same guys in there."

Houston coach Guy Lewis said his Cougars just played one half.

"Awful. We were thoroughly outplayed the second half. Thompson and the rest of the Texas bunch just soundly whipped our tails inside."

TCU coach Jim Killingsworth said Hastings' performance was too much to overcome.

Phillips blasts NFL policy on instant replays

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers coach Bum Phillips says the National Football League should either use instant replay to its best advantage or not use it at all.

"They'll use instant replay to prove their point but they won't use it to prove your point," Phillips said Monday after showing film of a controversial play in Sunday's 27-13 loss to Pittsburgh. Side judge Donald Orr nullified an apparent touchdown catch by Mike Renfro.

"We have film that conclusively shows there was interference on the play," Phillips said. "Even if they didn't rule he had possession, they should have called interference."

Phillips came to the weekly meeting of the Houston Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association with Oiler game film of Sunday's loss in the American Football Conference Championship game.

"I can live without instant replay if that's the way they want to go," Phillips said. "But if they are going to use it to prove an official right, they should use it to prove him wrong."

Steelers cornerback Ron Johnson bumped Renfro as he went up for the ball in the end zone but no penalty was called, Phillips said. Phillips said NFL supervisor of officials Art McNally told him the contact was incidental.

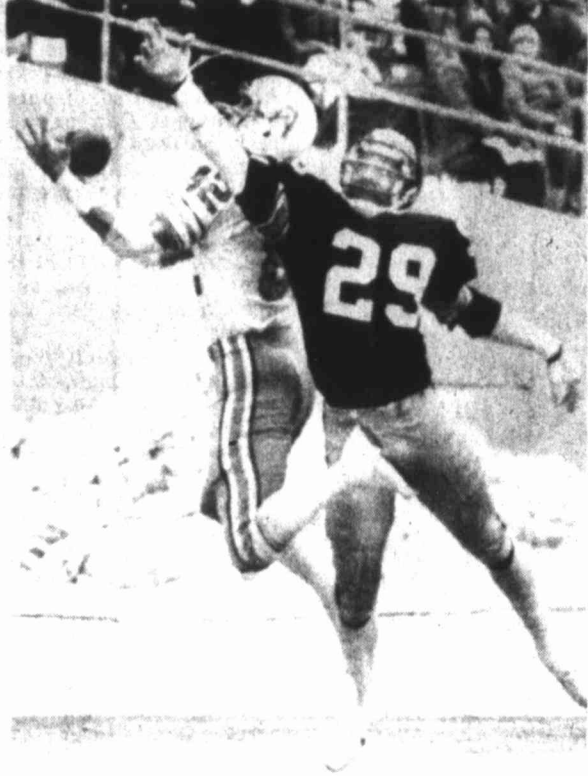

"I doesn't make any difference if it was incidental or not," Phillips said. "The rule says you can't make any contact period until the ball is caught. He clearly made contact."

Phillips quickly pointed out that he didn't think the controversial play cost the Oilers the football game. "That play did not beat us, Pittsburgh beat us," Phillips said. "I'd like to have seen some of the calls made different but even if they had, we still might not have won the game."

Phillips said if Orr had made an instant ruling on Sunday's play, he would not have questioned the call until he had seen film. "I hated to see the guy looking lost and looking for help and then going into a huddle and coming out two minutes later and making the call," Phillips said.

feet down in bounds for the touchdown. Officials ruled that Renfro did not have possession of the ball as he fell out of bounds. Pittsburgh won the game, 27-13, and will meet Los Angeles in the Super Bowl.

Forsan whips O'Donnell twice

FORSAN — Both of the Forsan varsity basketball teams won their games with O'Donnell in District 5-A games here Tuesday night.

The Forsan Buffalo Queens boosted their district record to 4-0 and their season record to 15-3 with a 46-37 win over O'Donnell. The loss drops the O'Donnell team to a district mark of 2-2.

The Queens shot only 29 percent from the field, but managed to hold off their visitors from the field enough to win. "We didn't shoot very well," commented Forsan Coach Ronny Taylor on his team's 26 of 68 shooting performance. "But we played well otherwise."

Valerie Stevens scored 13 points to lead the Buffalo Queens in scoring, with Monica Dyess adding 11. A big hindrance in the Queens game was the fact that Christi Adams was saddled with three fouls in the first stanza.

Tracy Clark led the O'Donnell women with 16 points.

The Forsan Buffalo boys then won their first District 5-A game of the year, using a big second quarter en route to a 69-54 win.

O'Donnell led by a 19-14 at the end of the opening stanza, but the Forsan team took the lead for good in the second stanza.

Dale Earnest scored 23 points to pace the Forsan boys, with Weldon Nichols adding 16 and Vance Stevens, 12. Mike Reed was high point man for O'Donnell with 18.

The Forsan boys are now 1-3 in district play and 5-9 on the season, while O'Donnell drops to 0-4 in district action.

The Forsan junior varsity girls also won, taking a 44-36 win. Vickie Baggett scored 15 to lead the Forsan JV girls.

Both of the Forsan teams travel to Ropes Friday night, with the girls contest being the most important game of the year thus far for the Buffalo Queens.

Dykes named Midland Lee football coach

MIDLAND — Former Big Spring Steer head football coach Spike Dykes, who is an assistant at Mississippi State University, has been named the head football coach at Midland Lee.

Gil Bartosh, who vacated the Lee position last month to take over as the athletic director of the Midland Independent School District, made the announcement.

Dykes is the second head football coach that has been named in the Midland school systems this week, as former Northern Illinois University head coach Pat Culpepper was named the mentor at Midland High on Monday.

Dykes was in his first year at Mississippi State, where the former Texas A&M football coach is heading the Southeastern Conference program.

He had moved to Mississippi State from the University of New Mexico, and had served five years as an assistant for Darrell Royal at the University of Texas.

Dykes already has the reputation as an outstanding head football coach in the high school ranks, compiling a record of 58-28. He accomplished this mark with stints at Coahoma, Belton, Big Spring and Alice.

He guided Alice to the state quarterfinals in Class AAAA in 1971, and was the last coach at Big Spring High School to compile a winning record, with his 1969 team going 6-4.

In his three years at BSMS, Dykes had records of 5-5, 5-5, and 6-4.

Dykes started coaching by serving as an assistant at Eastland, Ballinger and San Angelo.

Dykes' first head coaching job was at Coahoma, where the enthusiastic mentor compiled a mark of 22-2 and guided the Bulldogs to a berth in the state quarterfinals.

Dykes played his high school football at Ballinger. He then played at San Angelo College when it was a junior college, and transferred his final two years to play for the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, graduating in 1959.

He will assume his responsibility on January 15, with his yearly income being $30,000.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JAN. 10, 1980

GENERAL TENDENCIES: If you are truly cooperative in your relations with other persons you will be able to get much of value done. But anything you do that is of a drastic or dramatic nature can put you behind the eight ball and cause a difficult upheaval. Consider all aspects of any plan you have in mind.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't upset your romantic life over some silly matter that doesn't amount to anything. Be alert to possible trickery by others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A fellow worker could tax your nerves if you are not tactful. Show that you are an efficient worker and gain benefits.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't argue with anyone over money and this becomes a fine day. Start a new enterprise that has been difficult to do before.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Petty annoyances at home could lead to much unpleasantness. It's best you overlook them. Evening is fine for entertaining at home.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keep any meetings with others harmonious otherwise it could cause a severance of connections. Use particular care in travel.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are tempted to spend too much and could regret it later, so be sensible. Improve surroundings in ways that are not costly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Forget business for now and improve your personal life. Join with interesting friends who can be of help to you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) This is not a good time to make changes which you could later regret, so stick to the status quo. Evening can be delightful with a loved one.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be a good friend and show others you like them for themselves alone and you get like response. Add to present happiness.

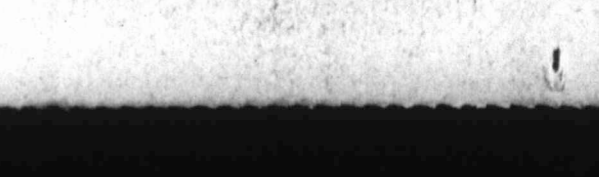

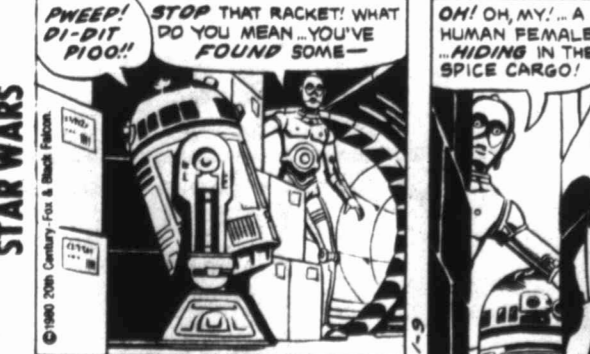

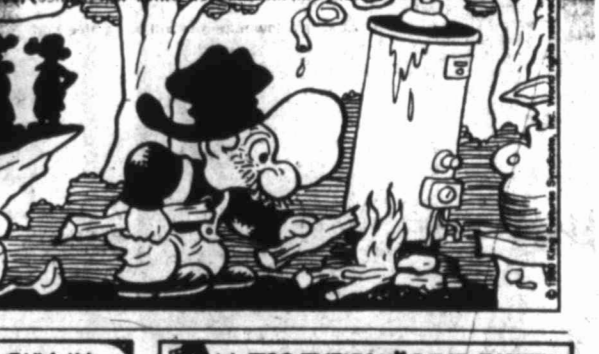

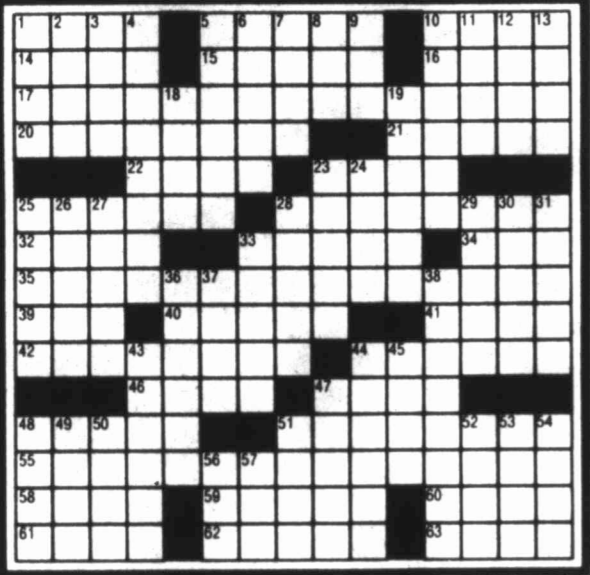

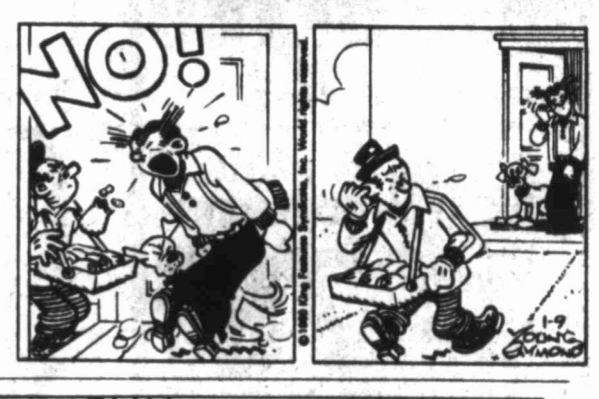

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get involved in community affairs and do not permit a conniving person to waste your time. Take time for personal correspondence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have a fascinating project you are working on, so don't permit a selfish person to keep you from it. Not a good day for travel.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Not a good time for making radical changes but fine for maintaining poise with everyone. Understand better what kin expect of you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be successful provided you teach early to finish whatever has been started. There is much ability at neatness and precision. One who is interested in religious matters, so have good books around early.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Refinery strike begins
No effect on consumers

HOUSTON (AP) — Refiners affected by a walkout of more than 20,000 Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union members in Texas and Louisiana say there will be no short term effect on consumers.

The union, with more than 60,000 members nationally, stopped work Tuesday in a dispute over higher wages and an improved medical plan.

Plants in Texas and Louisiana produce seven million of the nation's daily output of 17.4 million barrels of oil.

"As far as the consumer is concerned, we would expect, certainly on the short term and possibly on the long term, that they will see no effects of this strike," said Bill Gibson, a spokesman for the Shell Oil refinery at Deer Park.

Supervisory personnel started taking control of the plants throughout the area Tuesday when the strike started and in most cases the transition was smooth.

Wayne Tiller, a spokesman for Amoco Chemicals, said the plant was under full operation by supervisory personnel one half hour before the scheduled 4 p.m. strike.

"They got their transition over with early," Tiller said.

Within minutes after 4 p.m., the strike quickly spread to the huge Texaco and Gulf Oil refineries in Port Arthur and Shell Oil and Atlantic Richfield plants on the Houston Ship Channel.

Strikers at the Texaco plant in Port Arthur used hammers and rocks to shatter windows on some of the 17 catering service trucks that drove past the pickets and into the plant.

PCG hammering away at cotton program

LUBBOCK — Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, Dec. 29 took advantage of the House Cotton Subcommittee hearing held in Lubbock to continue hammering away at Congress on the organization's call for substantial improvements in the government cotton program for 1980.

The PCG statement was presented by President Joe D. Unfred of New Home.

Noting that a 1978 amendment to the original loan formula in the Agriculture Act of 1977 has forced the 1980 loan level to be announced at 48 cents per pound, down from 0.23 cents in 1979, Unfred stated "Our costs are literally going up by leaps and bounds and for the loan to go down under these conditions is nothing less than ridiculous."

It has been difficult to get Administration support for a change in the law to even maintain the current loan level, he went on, "and that makes it doubly important that this Committee exert its full influence to override any and all objections to new legislation permitting the higher loan that we desperately need if we are to continue producing for U.S. and world markets."

PCG's position on the expiring disaster program is simple, Unfred said: "The disaster program must be extended until some other form of protection is fully available to producers and proven effective." Explaining, he stated "It is inconceivable that the improved, expanded Federal

Tuesday night. Texaco spokesman Larry Bingaman said the vehicles were not strike breakers, but catering service trucks were sent to feed the technical and supervisory personnel operating the facility. He said one catering service employee sustained a minor injury from flying glass.

Port Arthur police said there were no arrests and that they did not intend to step up security at the refinery.

The incident was the only confrontation between the companies and strikers that was reported Tuesday.

"Pickets are up at the gates and everything is quiet," said Dean Baxter at the 363,000 barrels per day ARCO refinery where 1,800 workers were affected.

There had been hope earlier Tuesday that the strike could still be averted. But Kirk Vogeley, a Gulf spokesman, said a meeting with federal mediators and OCAW president Robert Goss, broke up with no indication of progress.

The only Texaco facility shutdown in Texas by the strike was the 127-employee plant at El Paso, which produces 17,000 barrels per day.

Plant Manager Howard Muselewhite, said the facility had enough supplies on hand to meet requirements for several weeks.
