

Eye surgeon worries about state bar exam

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Like every other recent law school graduate, Jack Lee is feverishly studying for next month's bar exam. A career hangs in the balance, and he admits he's worried.

But the similarity ends there.

Dr. Jack Lee was one of San Antonio's leading eye surgeons for 30 years before he retired three years ago to become a lawyer. He also happens to be 65 years old.

"I can't afford to fail the bar exam at my age," said Lee. "I'm getting too old. Time is running out. If I'm going to accomplish my goals, I need to get on with it."

"Plus, it would be very embarrassing. What would I tell my six grandchildren, not to mention my three sons?" he added. "Don't believe any law school graduate who tells you he's not worried about passing the bar exams. Yes, I'm worried."

"Law school was not easy for me. It's just as hard as medical school. I wasn't at the top of my class. I was right in the middle. I'm just thankful I wasn't at the bottom."

At this point, you no doubt think Dr. Jack Lee took leave of his senses three years ago when he took the St. Mary's University Law School entrance exam and abandoned his lucrative ophthalmology practice.

But there were a variety of circumstances three years ago that combined to land Lee in the St. Mary's freshman class.

First of all, Lee was getting on in years, and he was determined to retire as a surgeon while he was still accomplished and respected. "I didn't want to stay past my prime and be an old, decrepit liability," he said.

Then there was the divorce from his wife of 36 years. "There was no other man or woman or anything like that. We just drifted apart," he explained.

And there were the often bitter battles between the medical and legal professions, usually centered around malpractice suits. Lee said he was never sued, but had plenty of fellow doctors who were. The bitterness troubled him.

Mix all that with a lifelong fascination with the law, and energetic Dr. Jack Lee was a law student.

His family, fellow doctors and patients were supportive, but some would jokingly tell him he had gone crazy. "I think they were half-serious," he quipped. He also got a great deal of support from his new classmates — most of whom were 40 years younger.

"The first day at registration, the young fellows were kind of worried about what to call me. There had been a little publicity about my decision, so they knew who I was. But they didn't know what to call me," Lee recalled. "I said, 'Why don't you just call me Jack?' So they did."

"I asked for and received no special treatment. I didn't do anything any other student didn't do. Many of them did it better," he said. "I made a lot of friends and opened a whole new life. That was important, particularly after my divorce."

Lee intends to become a medico-legal consultant, working with lawyers at the secondary level in insurance, workmen's compensation and medical malpractice cases. He said he would not directly take any cases, entering one only when asked by another lawyer.

He hopes his expertise and understanding in both fields can bring doctors and lawyers closer together.

"There has been an unfortunate rift between members of the medical and legal profession. I'm certainly not conceited enough to think I can do everything, but I can do something."

"If I can do anything at all to bring them together, if only on the local level, then I've accomplished something," he said. "I understand the problems of both physicians and attorneys. I respect them both, even more so now."

Lee turns 66 in April, and will be making some grudging concessions to age. But he sees no reason why he can't be an effective lawyer past his 80th birthday.

"I'll work out of my home. I'm not going to open an office. I'm too old for that, too old to accumulate a law library or worry with a secretary," he said. "It would cost thousands of dollars to put together a law library. I'll use the bar association's library or the one at St. Mary's."

Lee said his 30 years as a doctor were profitable enough to leave him where he needs only a "small income" from his law practice. He doesn't expect his law specialty to be lucrative.

"It's difficult for someone who hasn't walked in my shoes to understand how I would give up what was a satisfying income and go to law school and then into a specialty of law where money is not the primary motive," he said.

"But if this all does nothing else, it will have broadened my horizons immeasurably. And a man can't help but be a better person if he has broadened his horizons," he added.

Sunshine-skin cancer relationship studied

The relationship between sunshine and skin cancer may be as important to the ophthalmologist as it is to the skin specialist.

Surgical treatment of skin cancer and other eye diseases and disorders will be the focus of the Ocular Plastic Surgery conference for ophthalmologists, Jan. 18-19, in El Paso.

"In the southwest, we are exposed to a lot of sunlight," said Fay E. Millett, M.D., clinical professor of ophthalmology at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC), El Paso. "Those of us who are light skinned can develop skin cancers. Common places for development are on the tip of the nose, on the cheeks and eyelids and all around the eyes. Treatment of tumors around the eyes and lids are of special concern to ophthalmologists."

Other topics of discussion will include causes and treatments of drooping eyelids, blepharoplasty — removing wrinkles from around the eyelids, and treatment of conditions which cause certain eye manifestations.

Guest speakers will include Robert M. Dryden, M.D., president of the American Society of Ophthalmological Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, University of Arizona, Tucson; Michael Callahan, M.D., Eye Foundation Hospital, University of Alabama, Birmingham; and Eugene O. Wiggs, M.D., thesis chairman, American Society of Ophthalmological Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. Ophthalmologists from the University of Texas Health Sciences Center Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, and TTUHSC in El Paso and Lubbock will also participate in the conference.

The conference is presented by the Texas Ophthalmological Association and the TTUHSC Department of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences and Office of Continuing Medical Education.

CC Chamber picks fem

COLORADO CITY — Starr Greenplatt, assistant manager of the Weatherford (Tex.) Chamber of Commerce the past year, has been named manager of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

Ms. Greenplatt is a native of Lenoir City, Tenn. She originally came to Texas in 1977 to work for a radio station in Weatherford. She has also worked in television.

Ms. Greenplatt, mother of two children, will formally assume her duties here February 4 but will be present for the Chamber membership banquet Thursday night in order to meet as many Colorado City residents as possible.

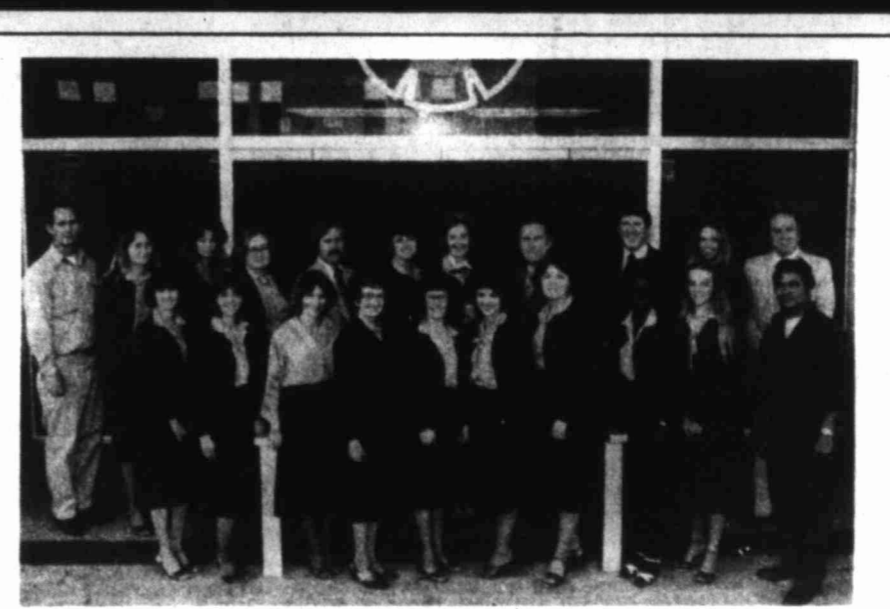

She is a Baptist and is a member of the Women's Business and Professional Club. Her two children, Dena 8 and Eric 6, will accompany her here.

Election plans due adoption

Howard College trustees will adopt an order for its trustee election procedure when they convene in regular session at 12:30 p.m., Tuesday in the board room of the Dora Roberts Student Union Building.

The board will also consider the school's tax appraisal contract, hear the college financial report and pay current bills before hearing the regular report by the school president, Dr. Charles Hays.

Energy — Well in Martin to be deepened

Southland Royalty Co., Midland, will re-enter and deepen to 10,000 feet for recompletion attempt as a seventh Wolfcamp producer and a 1/2-mile northwest extension to that pay at its No. 1-G Unit, Dean producer in the Martin County portion of the Lacaff multipay field, 17 miles southwest of Patricia.

It produced from the Dean at approximately 9,737 feet. Location is 1,320 feet from the north and east lines of 37-7-University.

Harold Henley is candidate

STANTON — Harold Henley, who had resided in Martin County for 19 years, has filed as a candidate for Martin County sheriff. His name will appear as a Democrat in the May 3 election.

Henley formerly was production foreman and a consultant for several West Texas oil companies.

Henley identified himself as a "concerned citizen." A native of Scurry, Henley and his wife are parents of four children, one of whom still lives at home.

Henley maintains a small farming operation and resides with his family southwest of Stanton.

Dan Saunders, the incumbent sheriff, has never before had an opponent during his 26 years as the Martin County sheriff. Henley will be making his first try for a political office.

Advice sought on rose care

A large number of calls have been received by the County Extension Office regarding winter care of roses.

Right now, many are tempted to prune their bushes. Advice from the horticulturists is don't wait until the new leaf buds begin to swell early in the spring, but while the plant is still dormant.

Selection of strong healthy buds is much more easy at that time. About all that might be done at the present with existing plants would be to hill up a mulch around the base of the plant to protect from severe freezes and to water regularly should natural moisture not occur.

As the first step in avoiding winter injury, keep your roses healthy during the growing season. Roses that have been sprayed to control diseases and have been properly nourished are more likely to escape winter injury than plants that have lost their leaves because of diseases or nutrient deficiencies.

Prune roses in early spring, just before growth starts. First remove the deadwood being careful to cut an inch or so below the dark colored area. If no live buds are left remove the entire branch or cane.

WTCC conclave set Thursday

West Texas Chamber of Commerce members and their guests from District VI will meet at the new Midland Center in Midland Thursday evening according to Joe A. Kloesel, WTCC District VI vice president and president of Drilco Industrial in Midland. A reception will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner immediately following at 7:30. Registration is $12 per person.

Purpose of the meeting is to provide those in attendance with an overview of the WTCC's activities in recent weeks. All interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Dr. Kreimeyer gains honor

A Big Spring physician has been honored by the Texas Medical Association.

Voted into honorary membership by his colleagues was James H. Kreimeyer, M.D. The election took place during TMA's House of Delegates meeting held recently in Austin.

To be eligible for honorary membership, a physician must have been a member for at least 40 years or have contributed notably to the advancement of ethical medicine.

The doctor was among 30 physicians in the 16,800-member TMA elected to honorary status.

Governor-for-a-day joins opposition

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Dallas Sen. Bill Braecklein — Texas' governor-for-a-day — decided to join rather than fight Republicans, who almost claimed his job four years ago.

Braecklein's inauguration was scheduled for 11 a.m. today in the Senate chamber.

The honorary position became available when senators elected Braecklein president pro tempore of the Senate at the close of the 1979 Legislature. He will hold the job until the Legislature meets again.

The president pro tempore or assistant presiding officer serves as governor when the governor and lieutenant governor are out of state, and traditionally a day is set aside for the pro tempore to serve as Texas' chief executive.

Braecklein served six years as a House member before being elected to the Senate in 1973.

Last September he announced he was switching from the Democratic to the Republican Party, stating he could not tolerate Jimmy Carter as president and could not take the party oath to support all Democratic nominees.

He conceded, however, he also was concerned about his own political future.

"With President Carter at the head of the Democratic ticket, it's going to be a burden for a Democrat to run for office in the 16th (senatorial) district," said Braecklein.

In 1976 Braecklein edged

Republican Tom Pauken by only 737 votes out of more than 109,000 cast.

At least two potential Republican candidates for Braecklein's Senate seat — Dallas Rep. Lee Jackson and President Tom James of the North Dallas Chamber of Commerce — backed off after Braecklein announced he was changing political parties.

A reception in the governor's Capitol office and a luncheon were included in Braecklein's governor-for-a-day ceremonies.

Vandalism, fuel costs pressing issues facing park executives

LUBBOCK — Vandalism is the most consistent problem in city and community parks, but maintaining those public facilities also is becoming difficult in the wake of inflation and rising energy costs.

Public parks are considered by many as a necessity, especially for people who are increasingly trapped in today's gas crunch and cannot travel long distances to enjoy recreational facilities.

A recent poll indicates that efficient maintenance, rising fuel costs, vandalism and new trends in personnel management are the most pressing issues facing park administrators.

The Southwest Park and Recreation Training Institute, which conducted the poll, will highlight those and other issues when more than 450 park administrators will meet at Kingston, Okla., Feb. 3-6. The 1980 meeting will mark the institute's 25 years of existence.

Dr. James W. Kitchen, professor of Park Administration and Landscape Architecture at Texas Tech University, is director of the training institute.

"More than 70 percent of our nation's population lives in urban areas. Yet, for many city dwellers, access to recreation opportunities is limited by geographic or economic factors," Kitchen said.

Referring to a federal study, Kitchen explained that in a number of cities, recreational opportunities have actually declined in recent years because of aging facilities and fiscal restraints.

"Parks are important as community focal points, but neighborhood facilities are often deteriorated, inadequate or entirely absent," he added.

According to the Texas Tech park administration expert, more than 70 percent of the expenses in existing park and recreational programs are devoted to maintenance and operation.

Kitchen said trends indicate that when community populations increase beyond the 20,000 mark, local authorities start looking at the possibilities of providing recreational facilities, if they don't have some already.

"City fathers, however, need to be aware of some of the problems of maintaining recreational programs before they acquire land for developing parks," Kitchen added.

Parks which combine high visibility and adequate night lighting could discourage vandalism, while natural features which require minimal attention may reduce maintenance costs.

"This does not mean that future parks should have a flat terrain, short trees, be crowded with lamp-posts and have fewer areas in grass," he said.

For new parks, Kitchen emphasized, the key is advance planning which incorporates the concepts of high visibility and efficient maintenance.

There are more than 100 state park areas in Texas and a similar number of municipal park and recreation departments. Figures for other states are comparable.

More than 450 park administrators from the Southwest will attend the training institute. Nationally prominent speakers in the areas of park and recreation operations will address the delegates.

Purpose of the institute is to provide an opportunity for people interested in parks and recreation to participate and discuss mutual problems.

Russell Studebaker, a horticulturist with the Oklahoma Parks and Recreation Department, Tulsa, is president of the institute. It is sponsored by the Department of Park Administration and Landscape Architecture at Texas Tech and the Oklahoma Tourism and Recreation Department.

Prof. Elo J. Urbanovsky, Horn Professor Emeritus and a landscape architecture consultant to the university, started the training institute. Kitchen has been responsible for developing the program for the last 16 years.

Health Systems Agency Governing body meets

The Permian Basin Health Systems Agency Governing Body will hold its annual meeting Monday, January 21, 1980, at 7:30 p.m. in the offices of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, Midland Air Terminal.

Newly elected chairman Earl Francell of Odessa will open the meeting with reports from the five standing committees of the agency. Among those items to be discussed will be the financial report for November and December.

Action is expected on two projects submitted to the Agency for review. Martin County Hospital has submitted a Certificate of Need Application to convert 4 acute care beds into 3 intensive care beds. Project cost is anticipated at $10,000.

No change will be made in the licensed capacity of the facility.

The Permian Basin Community Centers for MH-MF is requesting $75,000 from the Texas Department of Community Affairs-Drug Abuse Division to be matched with $8,333. The project proposes a therapeutic camping program for youth between the ages of 13 and 17 who are "at-risk" for drug experimentation, use and abuse.

Referrals will be made through probation departments, school counselors and other school personnel. Also included in the program is the expansion of the existing counseling for youth on probation through the Odessa Center to one full day per week and a community organization program for the prevention of drug abuse.

Frame of arrow-heads is donated to museum

Mrs. Carl Lockhart has donated a frame of 100 arrow-heads to the Heritage Museum as a memorial to her husband, the late Carl Lockhart.

Lockhart found hundreds of arrow-heads at German Springs where Col. C.C. Slaughter first settled in 1877 and expanded north, east and west for miles.

Lockhart sold German Springs, located 18 miles out on the Gail Road, just before his death, Oct. 4, 1978.

Soon after Carl bought the land, J.W. Carpenter, a drover who had worked for Col. Slaughter, stood beside Carl and pointed due north toward the Gunsight Mountains and said, "Back in 1889 we spied a group of Indians all walking. We knew they would be looking for horses so every hand was on the alert day and night until they went away."

This story was told to museum curator Gerri Atwell and Frank Brandon back in 1975 when she and Frank were visiting Carl and photographing the seven springs that were still flowing.

Carl explained that German Springs had to be at one time a large campground for Indians as he had found hundreds of arrow-heads around there and had also plowed into several graves.

Two groups of Brownies toured the museum last week. Recent visitors and their hosts visiting the museum included:

Ida Mahan of Odessa and Deloris Needham of Algeria, who were guests of Agnes Currie.

Others included: Kathy Gunnels of Dallas, visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gunnels.

The Rev. and Mrs. A.A. Blanks of Long Island, Va., visiting her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Harrison.

Mrs. Vickie (Deel) McElreath and daughter, Rochelle, of Tacoma, Wash., visiting her mother, Mrs. Theo Deel.

Four visitors from Norway: Per Sandbu, Kell N. Heggebo, John Falhtrean, and John Nesberg. They are employed by Halliburton Company and will be in Big Spring for two weeks.

Lt. Richard Hatfield, USN, and Mrs. Hatfield of Naples, Italy, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hatfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mabry, Hickman, Ky., visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Pickle.

A group of the "Singing Cadets" from College Station, accompanied by Sidney Clark.

Mrs. Atwell is taking reservations for field trips for students and club groups. Museum patrons are reminded to pick up their 1980 historical souvenir calendars at the museum.

During the past year of 1977, the Big Spring area has again experienced and been able to retain a stable economy. As we go into the year of 1978, we can, and should, look forward with anticipation to further growth of our community. The availability of energy in our area, even at the increased cost, should still be attractive for industrial growth. As we look at National affairs and legislation, we sometimes wonder about the outcome; however, our present economic base still provides the opportunity for continued growth in our area.

Big Spring Business Leaders Express Optimism For New Year

Wade Choate

Mayor of Big Spring Treasurer-General
Manager, Citizens Federal Credit Union

1979 was another outstanding year for the city of Big Spring. Great strides were made in numerous paving projects throughout the city, in sewer and water plant improvements and expansion, and various other departments within our city government.

The year was also marked by a steady growth in our business community. Many new companies relocated, built, or expanded their operation in Big Spring during the past year. This not only assured us of a year of continued growth and prosperity, but also provided additional job opportunities for our citizens.

Those of us in Big Spring have all benefited in one way or another from the developments of 1979, and will continue to do so during the years to come. For example, the numerous retail outlets that opened in 1979 not only provided us with additional shopping alternatives, but also established our viability as a major trade center for this area of West Texas. I feel that 1980 will be a year of continued growth and development in our city and that the citizens of Big Spring can feel pleased to be an integral part of a growing and progressive city.

Wade Choate

Ken W. Perry

President
Cosden Oil & Chemical Company

1979 affected many of us who are leaving the community. The year included many disappointments as well as many good developments for the community.

Big Spring has some fine possibilities for growth with its excellent industrial facilities and good people with strong ambitions.

Let's put them all together for a progressive 1980.

Ken W. Perry

A.J. Prager

Prager's Men's & Boy's Wear, Inc.

We have been besieged by articles in the papers and gloomy reports from economists and television newsmen, all telling us that we are (1) in a recession or (2) headed for a recession. I am pleased to report that the business activity in Big Spring, Texas is moving along briskly, the last quarter of 1979 produced volume increases which none of us anticipated. Business was spurred on by farm and ranch, oil prospects as well as the usual optimism of West Texas.

One of the major forces of 1980 should be the presidential election — this could have a great impact on the overall economic situation.

In so far as the dollar, the energy situation, and political structure of our country, we will probably find that 1980 has no new surprises — no one of us on this page will have all the correct answers.

I want to acknowledge the support we have had in 1979 from our customers, employees and suppliers. We at Prager's look forward to working for you in what promises to be a challenging and productive 1980.

A.J. Prager

John Arrick

Vice-President
The State National Bank

Our local economy is flourishing as we settle into our new banking facility and conclude another year. We have been fortunate in making a bumper cotton crop and as a result millions of dollars will be injected into our local economy as the year progresses.

Oilfield activity has been brisk and continued exploration and recovery of oil and gas will certainly brighten our economic outlook.

When combining these factors with our industrial and commercial base we must maintain a great degree of optimism as we enter the 1980's.

John Arrick

T.K. Murphy

Store Manager
Montgomery Ward

We are very optimistic at Montgomery Wards about 1980 in Big Spring. There are a number of factors that make us feel this way, even though the national economic stability is in question. Our local agricultural production was good for 1979. Our unemployment rate is below national average. Our industrial development committee has done a good job in bringing a number of diversified industries to this area in 1979. The oil industry appears to be more stable. The total community appears to be putting together to build Big Spring and surrounding areas.

With a stronger effort on our part at Wards to provide better service, good merchandise at a reasonable price and we pledge to our customers of "Satisfaction Guaranteed", we feel 1980 will be a good year in Big Spring.

T.K. Murphy

Pat Medley

Co-Owner
Area One Realty

We can look back on 1979 as a year of upheaval, not only for us in the real estate business but also for many other businesses. We had to contend with an inflated market, high interest rates and soaring discount points. But despite those facts, it was a very profitable and successful year for us. And I am predicting that this year will be even better. Big Spring has no other way to go but up. Plans may change but decisions don't and I am confident that the right decisions will be made. We will attract new industry; we will prosper and grow. 1980 will be a bright new beginning for a new decade.

Pat Medley

Jim Wilson

Manager
Zales

We, at Zales have enjoyed our best year ever in Big Spring and we expect even more to come in 1980. We feel this is due to the great customers we have in this area. The farm and ranch people here are a big part of our success story.

We look forward to growth in Big Spring this year. The opportunity is here and the people with which to accomplish anything.

James L. Wilson

Clyde McMahon

President
Clyde McMahon Concrete Co.

Webb Air Force Base has been closed for two years now. The bank and savings and loan deposits at the close of 1979 were at an all-time high. We are about to complete one of the finest cotton harvest that we have ever had and interest rates are at an all-time high.

These interest rates have put the brakes on home building and to quite a bit of commercial construction. Most of our large buildings have been leased on Webb Air Force Base. We are now dealing with very good prospects to lease the new building and two of the very large buildings that are left. If these leases go through, we will have all the large buildings that are adaptable to heavy industry leased on the former Webb Air Force Base. The budget for 1980 at the industrial Park and Airport are in the black and it is my opinion that we are again facing another good year in Big Spring.

Clyde McMahon

Jerry Worthy

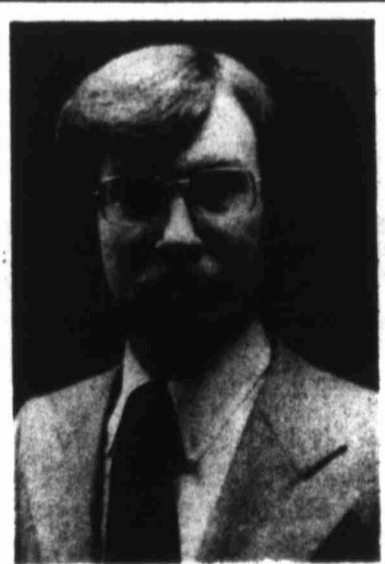

Developer
Village At The Spring

We are making a good recovery in nearly all instances, from the recent losses here. Still our potential needs to be stirred, because here there are qualifications for a great city. In this natural place for an urban center we have good people, in a beautiful strategic area, basic jobs and natural resources. We should recognize this and take pride in it. I don't feel we should dwell on our losses but should continue to get hard after those things we must have in order to attract others to make it a better city.

There are many involved, talented people here whose initiative and positive leadership in new civic and business ventures would be well recognized and rewarded.

With those and the sincere and much appreciated efforts now being made, progress and the betterment of the area will continue.

Jerry Worthy

Bill Bartlett

Manager
Dunlaps

Dunlaps would like to assure the people of Big Spring that we are optimistic about the future of Big Spring. Because we are optimistic we assumed the responsibility to our community and our customers of moving to our new fashion store in Highland South, even though at the time the economic picture of the country did not look that bright.

Our hopes for the future have been justified by the fine response of our customers to our new store. For this we express our heartfelt thanks to the community.

As long as the attitude of our community stays healthy and our hard working and industrious people pull together we're going to come out of this. Dunlaps would like to pledge to the people of Big Spring that we will do everything we can to help achieve this goal.

Bill Bartlett

Ken Welch

Manager, Rip Griffin
Truck Service Center,
Big Spring

First of all, our Truck Service Center here in Big Spring is part of an important "Growth Industry" involved in moving and hauling millions of dollars of goods that are produced in this country.

In spite of skyrocketing gas and oil prices, I believe that 1980 will still be an outstanding year, businesswise for this industry. Because of Mr. Griffin's location, size and volume, we should be able to weather any adverse conditions.

Big Spring will have a lot going for it in the 80's. Being strategically located 33 miles from El Paso and 200 miles from Dallas, gives it a giant industrial potential.

As long as Big Spring's oil economy remains stable, and we have little reason to believe it won't, there should be a boost in business from local gas buyers.

All in all, we look for a growing volume of business in 1980.

Ken Welch

Ed McCauley

Manager
Gibson's Discount Center

We believe that the first year of 1980 will be one of the best ever for Gibson's. We are making plans now to greatly expand our grocery department, and to increase merchandise in all other areas of the store. Despite inflation and other economic problems that have affected us all, we believe that Gibson's needs made for its customers that will exist no matter what shape the economy is in, and we will continue to do so in the decade ahead.

Ed McCauley

Big Spring Business Leaders Express Optimism For New Year

R.B.G. Cowper, M.D.

Cowper Clinic & Hospital

The Big Spring area's main industries, cotton, oil and cattle are all in great position in 1980. I think the much publicized current depression will not affect us as it will other areas. And if our Congress and President would abolish the oil excess profit tax, thus stimulating more oil production, adjust income taxes to our inflation rate and reduce bureaucratic regulations and government spending, we would return our great nation to prosperity soon. Competitive free enterprise and the law of supply and demand should be allowed to exert their unregulated influence. The outlook for Big Spring is great for the 1980s.

Roger B. G. Cowper, M.D.

Jack Redding

Manager
Texas Electric Service Co.

Many things are going on in the world and in this Nation that are causes for concern among all of us. It's time that we revert back to the principles on which this Nation was founded. These principles being the freedom of choice, including doing business without interference from a strong central government, a government that has failed in one of its main reasons for existence— that being foreign relations. We, at Texas Electric, are proud to be part of a community that believes in the principles on which this Nation was founded and will continue to work for the betterment of Big Spring.

Jack Redding

J.D. Nelson

Chairman of the Board and President
Security State Bank

Realizing that most local businesses and agriculture had a banner year for '79, I do not feel quite as optimistic for the year 1980; mostly due to the foreign crisis we are now confronted with. However, I do feel that we should have another good cotton crop in Howard County and a continued upswing in the oil field due to the heavy demand for all types of fuel. The cattle industry certainly looks much better than it has in the past. I look for a rather slow decrease in interest rates but they will certainly bottom out, I feel, at a higher level than we have ever known in history due to the continuing rate of inflation.

J.D. Nelson

Margaret Hull

Owner
The Casual Shoppe

We have entered a brand new decade and it can be one filled with great changes and growth. The opportunity to grow is here and now. There is growth everywhere we look in our trade area and we plan to look forward with high hope and optimism. We will take every opportunity to serve our customers better in this new year and to show them how much we appreciate their business.

Margaret Hull

Randy Mason

Manager
College Park TG&Y

During 1979 we were building our new store to better serve the people of the Big Spring Trade Area. Growth and progress in 1980 will far exceed any we have had before. We will continue to serve our customers' needs through more extensive merchandise choices and a bright, helpful staff.

Randy Mason

Jeff Brown

Co-Owner
Home Real Estate

1979 was an outstanding, record-breaking year for our business, HOME REAL ESTATE COMPANY. My wife Sue and I expect 1980 to be the same. However, some realities must be considered. Big Spring is on the cross-roads of continuing to grow and prosper, be stagnant, or decline. Its future is in the hands of its citizens. To grow, we must expand our job base, which has suffered some attrition from the WEBB APB closure and other setbacks. The only way to expand our job base quickly and proficiently is through our CHAMBER OF COMMERCE and our MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENTS. We must voluntarily accept individually our community responsibilities. We must support Big Spring with our money, our time, and our talents. We must also be willing to increase our Chamber dues and memberships, and willingly pay our taxes in this community, to enjoy the good life. If we will do these things, we will secure new industry, better support our agri-business environment, and attract needed investment capital to grow. 1980 can be a good year for Big Spring. Its up to you and me.

Jeff Brown

Billie DeWees

Owner
DeWees Fashions

We have grown during our first year in Big Spring because we feel we met a real need of the people here. We are looking forward to an even better second year. This first year of the new decade promises the people and businesses in our area a great opportunity to grow and prosper. As a business owner, I am expecting many exciting changes in the coming year.

Billie DeWees

Bob Johnson

Manager
C.R. Anthony

I am very optimistic about the future and growth of Big Spring as of March or April 1980. C.R. Anthony Co. will open 17,500 square feet in a new location in College Park Shopping Center. New fixtures, new look, new and more employees to serve the people in Big Spring, Howard County and surrounding counties.

Bob Johnson

Gregg Brooks

Manager
Brooks Jewelers

We at Blum and Brooks Jewelers wish to congratulate Howard, Martin, Dawson, Mitchell, Sterling and Glascock Counties farmers on their record breaking cotton crop. We believe the large cotton yield can be attributed to the progressive farmers and their use of increased technology in the cotton growing field. Judging from last year, this next year should be even better. Both the large cotton crop and the high amount of bank deposits are indicators of this. Big Spring is becoming a regional shopping center. This can only help the economy of Big Spring. This will facilitate the recovery of area money spent out of town.

Gregg Brooks

Ray Don Williams

President
Big Spring Savings
And The Big Spring
Chamber of Commerce

1980 will be a year of continued high inflation with economic conditions improving in the latter half of the year. Big Spring and Howard County will be more fortunate than some other areas due to the fine cotton crop by our farmers. Many changes will be taking place in the housing and financial areas this year, and we at Big Spring Savings will continue to change and improve our services to meet the needs of our community.

Ray Don Williams

Eddie Cole

Owner-Manager
Westex Auto Parts, Inc.

With the beginning of a new decade, we have the opportunity to revitalize and prosper. The opening of new retail stores and restaurants is evidence of business confidence in Big Spring and that Big Spring will continue to grow as a community.

Nova Dean Real Estate

Owner and member of the Independent Real Estate Brokers of America. Looking back over business and Big Spring's growth since 1940, we have had exciting times and many prosperous years. We all know we have been slipping downward since our base closed. Let's face our town's problems head-on and keep what we already have. I feel every legitimate business understands what we mean. We must all honestly join together for the betterment of Big Spring's future, which I am happy to own a stake in. We would like to hear more folks say our town is a great, healthy, cheaper, safer and attractive West Texas town on the crossroads of I 55 and 57. At least we can work together with a brighter faith to achieve these goals.

Dog show is Saturday

The Big Spring Kennel Club will host its annual All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial in the Dora Roberts Fair Building Saturday, Jan. 19.

The Big Spring show, an annual event licensed by the American Kennel Club, has received invitations from all over the United States. Some 999 dogs are likely to compete.

The Obedience Trial entries total 50 dogs, a number limited by the American Kennel Club due to limited space.

Judges for the show will be Mrs. Bob (Peggy) Adamson, Roslyn Heights, N.Y.; Edward W. Bracy, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Mildred K. Bryant, Runaway Bay, Bridgeport, Tex.; Mark M. Davis, North Little Rock, Ark.; Frank H. Grover, Helotes, Tex.; George E. Nichols, Lubbock; Tom Stevenson, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Mrs. Tom Stevenson, same address; Mrs. Diane Vick, Clute, Tex.; and Mrs. Ruby N. Vincent, Richmond, Tex.

Local officers of the Big Spring Kennel Club are Donald G. Bailey, president; Bruce Wright, vice president; Mary Morrison, treasurer; and Sharon White, secretary.

The show chairman will be Mary Bailey while Don Bailey is the obedience chairman.

Walton Morrison, Gailyn Palmer and Bernard Rains are also helping with show plans. Members of the club's board of directors include Hattie Boland, Richard Palmer and Pat Blackshear.

The show will be superintended by Jack Onofrio Dog Shows, Oklahoma City.

The approximate time for judging each breed will be published in the Herald immediately prior to the show. Dogs not officially entered in the show will not be allowed on the grounds, a rule imposed on all showing clubs by the American Kennel Club. A 25-inch trophy, offered by the First National Bank, will go to the Best in Show.

Hearings on Carter's embargo of grain sales slated Jan. 29

WASHINGTON — The House agriculture Committee will hold hearings on President Carter's embargo of grain sales to the Soviet Union, a reaction here to the prospect of plummeting grain prices that already has caused Texas farmers to complain.

"We will call administration officials to meet with us Jan. 29 for a full and detailed review of what this loss in export sales may mean to farmers," Rep. Thomas Foley, D-Wash., committee chairman, said Monday.

"We've got to figure out what the administration is prepared to do to offset the potential decline in farm income, and what further steps may be needed," he said.

Carter's decision to block a 17 million metric ton sale of grain to the Soviets in the wake of that country's invasion of Afghanistan, prompted the Commodity Futures Trading Commission to halt grain trading until at least Wednesday.

Though the market is guarded by law against drastic drops in grain prices, some observers of grain trading say the market could reopen with prices as much as 15 percent lower than at Friday's close.

And although the administration will allow a current eight million metric ton contract with the Soviets to be filled, prospects for the future have left Texas farmers worried.

"It's scaring them bad," said James Morgan, agriculture aide to Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford. "Our phones have been ringing all day with farmers wanting to know what they're going to do."

Stenholm, who has returned to Texas for the congressional recess, said farmers are concerned about the likely drop in prices, but are in "strong support" of the president's actions in restricting grain sales.

"I disagree with those who say that this is an inappropriate way to deal with the Soviet leadership," said Stenholm, an Agriculture Committee member.

"I believe the Soviet government was seeking to meet the complaints of its citizens to upgrade the diet," he said. "This grain was designed to feed the extra livestock needed to produce more meat and I think that without that meat, there are going to be some internal problems for the government."

Committee member Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, has recommended that the commodity market remain closed until farmer-held grain reserves are increased by 17 million metric tons. He said the administration should guarantee to hold farm subsidies equal to what the market price of grain was one week before the Afghanistan invasion.

Stenholm, who has returned to Texas for the congressional recess, said farmers are concerned about the likely drop in prices, but are in "strong support" of the president's actions in restricting grain sales.

"I disagree with those who say that this is an inappropriate way to deal with the Soviet leadership," said Stenholm, an Agriculture Committee member.

$140,000 is asked in suit

The Spring City Ice Company is suing Mile High Equipment Company for $140,000.

The ice company claims the equipment made by the Denver based firm did not produce the amount of ice promised by the warranty.

The suit alleges that damages incurred were due to loss of sales, leasing equipment from another company to meet demand and the necessity of purchasing ice.

The ice company also alleges that it is entitled to the monetary difference between the amount paid for the six icemakers and the amount they are worth. The difference, according to the ice company, is $20,000.

Spring City Ice Company bought the machines through the Commercial Ice Machine Company in Odessa. The ice company learned of the alleged deficiency February 1977. In March they notified the distributor. The following summer a Mile High representative was notified.

The suit was filed by local attorney Ben Bancroft.

BSHS banquet honors athletes

By NATHAN POSS

Big Spring High School honored their football and volleyball athletes Saturday night in the annual banquet in the school's cafeteria.

Edwin Chappell, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, was the guest speaker. Chappell stressed to the audience that they should have lofty goals in life to achieve and work diligently to achieve them, always remembering to be patient in their work toward that dream.

Volleyball Coach Carole Bartasek then introduced the varsity volleyball team. Members of that team were Pam Banks, Pam Caudill, Dee Earhart, Karen Kimble, Linda Magers, Jackie Roach, Cynthia Washington, Elise Wheat, and managers Joanie Avery and Jeanne McLeod.

There were four individual awards for the members of volleyball team.

Linda Magers won the Texas Electric Outstanding Volleyball Award.

The Volleyball Coaches Award for her unending effort and excellent performances was presented to Dee Earhart.

Karen Kimble won the Scholastic Athlete Award for her lofty grade point average of 94.6.

The Big Spring Herald Volleyball Award was presented to Elise Wheat. This was for her spiking ability, her aggressive performance and determination on defense.

Football Coach Ron Logback then presented the gridders from the past fall. Those team members included Reggie Anding, Scott Barnes, Jerry Bennett, David Bordofski, Bill Brown, Kevin Cain, David Coffey, Charlie Corson, Ben Dominguez, Mike Domino, Richard Evans, Brad Files, Joe Willie Jones, and Eugene Kayser.

Other football players presented were Mark Knight, Bill Kothman, Danny Larez, Jimmy Marquez, Carbet Newton, Jack Odom, Mike Scholer, Keith Sheedy, Mike Terry, Rocky Torres, Carl Trevino, Edward Vela, Ben Watson and Bobby Earl Williams.

The football managers were Dean Restelli and Gary Snowden, and student trainer for all of the sports is Barry Criswell.

There were five individual awards for play in the past football season.

Rocky Torres, a mini-mite 130-pound safety, earned the Dibrell's Outstanding Back Award. He was the leading tackler on the team.

Jack Odom, an honorable mention All-District defensive tackle, earned the KBST Outstanding Lineman Award.

The Football Coaches Award went to Mike Terry, a two-way performer at fullback and free safety.

Mark Knight, an honorable mention All-District linebacker, was awarded the KBYG Defensive Award.

The Dibrell's Scholastic Award for the outstanding grade point average in the classroom was presented to Jerry Bennett.

Big D honors Navratilova

DALLAS (AP) — Tennis queen Martina Navratilova of Dallas will be presented the Big D award at the annual awards banquet of the All Sports Association here Feb. 21.

Navratilova, who has won more than $1.2 million the past two pro tennis seasons, is a two-time Wimbledon champion and was runner-up at the U.S. Open last season. She is defending champion of the Dallas tournament on the women's pro tennis circuit.

Also to be honored are Alabama Crimson Tide head coach Paul "Bear" Bryant and veteran Dallas Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach.

In Desert Classic Regalado takes lead

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Victor Regalado birdied three of his last four holes for a solid 68 and tied Larry Nelson for the third-round lead Saturday in the rain-delayed Bob Hope Desert Classic, a kickoff tournament for the 1980 PGA Tour.

Regalado, a seven-year regular on the American tour and a two-time winner, and Nelson, the second-

Hawk Queens nip Hill in Texas A&M Classic

COLLEGE STATION — The Howard College Hawk Queens used a 23-point effort from Jayne Jones to run to an 84-61 victory over Hill County in the battle for seventh place in the Texas A&M Girls Basketball Classic here Saturday.

Jones exploded for 19 of her points in the second half. Also connecting in double figures for the Queens were Joanne Lefridge and Susan Martin, who had 12 and 11 points, respectively.

The Hawk Queens played excellent defense, limiting Hill to only 15 field goals. Hill County stayed in the contest somewhat by connecting on an auspicious 31 of 36 from the free throw line.

The Western Junior Conference, in which the Queens compete in, represented themselves well, as Amarillo College defeated Western

Western Texas wins ABC Olympic Classic

By NATHAN POSS

The Western Texas College Westerners, the nation's top ranked junior college basketball team, overcame some sluggish play with a non-stop blitz with nine minutes remaining in the last half to topple the South Plains Texans and clinch the championship in the 10th Annual ABC Olympic Basketball Classic here Saturday night in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

WTC, who were pressed to its entirety in a win on Friday over an excellent Midland College team that is ranked seventh nationally, held a slim 72-65 lead with nine minutes to play and South Plains seemingly gaining momentum.

But the talented WTC team of Coach Nolan Richardson scored 14 unanswered points in the following two minutes to increase their margin to 86-65 and put the game on ice.

13 players hit the scoring column for WTC, with Greg Stewart's 19 points leading the way. Phil Spradling added 17 and Bill Patterson and All-American Paul Pressey contributed 14 each.

Ronnie Butler was high point man for South Plains with 18.

The win gives the WTC team a season record of 17-0, while South Plains drops to 1-1.

Midland College recovered from their emotional loss to WTC on Friday to take a 106-82 win over Howard College in the night's first contest.

The Chaps won second place in the Olympic style tourney, which consists of all four teams playing each other on successive nights.

Howard College was within six points at 49-43 at the intermission, but Midland College used an explosion paced by the shooting of Robert Tate, early in the second half to increase their margin to 77-

36 with 10 minutes to play. Six of the Midland College players hit in double figures, with Tate's 22 points being the high.

Howard College's Michael Wallace, who entered the tournament as the seventh leading scorer in the nation, continued his torrid shooting by canning 36 points. Ron Akins added 16 and Jeff Faubion 12.

Midland College is now 16-1 on the season, while Howard College is 9-6.

There were 10 All-Tournament selections. They included Howard College's Akins, Wallace and Kenneth Jones, WTC's Pressey, Stewart and Spradling, Midland College's Kevin Willingham, Charles Johnson and Tate, and Jackie Vaughn of South Plains.

For all practical purposes, the Western Texas team won the tournament on Friday night in a classic struggle with Midland College.

The top ranked Westerners spotted the fast paced Chapparrals an early lead before rallying before halftime to make the game a tight one throughout its entirety.

Midland jumped out to a 16-4 lead in the first four minutes of the contest to put Western Texas in a position that they are not used to.

But the classy WTC team gradually rallied, narrowing the margin to 28-22 with eight minutes left in the half and tying the game at 30-30 with 5:30 left in the first half.

But Kenneth Young and Robert Tate led a Midland surge that gave the Chaps a 45-36 lead with 1:36 left in the half, only to see Pressey lead the WTC team back within one at 47-46 at intermission.

WTC came out red hot in the second half, and had a 63-56 lead with 12:30 remaining. But Midland battled back, with Raleigh Freeman's

Baylor beats Rice, 73-63

WACO, Texas (AP) — Terry Teagle led all scorers and rebounders Saturday night to lead Baylor past Rice, 73-63, in Southwest Conference basketball action.

"Teagle took our kids to the washer any time he wanted to," Rice coach Mike Schuler said after watching Teagle score 22 points and grab eight rebounds.

It was the first conference win of the year for the Bears. Baylor is now 1-2 in the SWC, 6-7 overall, while Rice fell to 1-2 and 3-8.

Freshman James Bailey, 14 points, and Mike Battle and Pat Nunley with 12 apiece joined Teagle in double figures for Baylor.

Ricky Pierce led the Owls with 20 points, and Bobby Tudor chipped in 14.

Houston rallies by SMU

HOUSTON (AP) The Houston Cougars used the second-half shooting of Ken and Robert Williams and an effective slowdown game in the final eight minutes to rally to a 90-81 Southwest Conference basketball victory over Southern Methodist University Saturday night.

The Cougars, who evened their SWC record at 2-2, played rugged defense, holding SMU's leading scorer Brad Branson to two second half points and shutting down guard Billy Allen, who tallied only four points in the game. Allen fouled out with 12:42 to play.

Houston trailed most of the first half and was behind 60-52 at the start of the second

Hogs stifle UT

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Alan Zahn, U.S. Reed and Scott Hastings hit the crucial baskets and the Arkansas defense — one of the best in the nation — shut down high-scoring Texas Saturday as Arkansas captured a 55-50 Southwest Conference victory.

Arkansas grabbed a 29-19 half-time lead and went into a delay game with five minutes remaining to win its third contest without a loss.

Texas dropped to 2-2 and now have lost two consecutive games on its home court after compiling a 37-1 record since the opened play in the arena in 1977.

Zahn, a 6-foot-7 senior, threw in 16 points for Arkansas. He had eight in a row, including a 45-foot field goal as the buzzer sounded ending the first half in the televised game.

Hastings scored 13 and Reed 10 for Arkansas.

Ropes stops Forsan twice in overtime

ROPES — Ropes High School played the role of the teaser here Friday night in District 5-A basketball action, as they defeated both the Forsan boys and girls team in overtime action.

The Ropes girls remained in the running for the first half championship by taking a 50-48 overtime win.

Ropes shot 51 per cent from the field in the contest, compared to only 37 per cent for the Buffalo Queens.

Ropes held a 46-44 lead with five seconds remaining in regulation, but Forsan's Valerie Adams connected on two free throws to send the contest into regulation.

Ropes then won the contest by sinking four free throws in overtime, while Forsan was extremely cold, hitting only one of eight from the field and missing both of their free throw chances.

The win gives the Ropes girls a district record 4-1, while the loss was the Buffalo Queens first in loop play, making them 4-1. The Forsan girls are 15-4 on the year. Whiteface leads the district with a 5-0 mark, but must face both Ropes and Forsan this week.

Regina Melton paced the Ropes fems with 19 points, while Christi Adams had 16 to lead Forsan. Forsan suffered a hindrance when shooting ace Valerie Stevens drew four fouls early in the second stanza, and missed most of the game.

"This just puts the pressure on us to win our last two games against Seagraves and Whiteface," a disconsolate Forsan Coach Ronny Taylor said. "We just didn't have a very good shooting night."

In the boys game, Ropes prolonged the game into two overtimes before taking a 44-40 win.

The contest was close throughout, with the teams tied at 38-38 at the end of regulation and 40-40 after the first overtime.

Mark Moore paced Ropes, now 2-3 in district, with 16 points. Weldon Nichols and Vance Stevens had 16 and 14 points, respectively, for the Forsan boys.

An oddity in the game was that Forsan never went to the free throw line.

The Forsan boys are now 1-4 in district and 5-10 on the season.

Ropes also won the boys JV contest, taking a 50-45 win. Glenn was high point for Ropes with 15, while Andreas Alcantar led the Forsan JVs with 10 points.

Stanton boys routs O'Donnell

O'DONNELL — The Stanton boys basketball team remained in the running for the first half title in District 5-A by romping to a 104-64 win over O'Donnell here Friday night.

The Buffaloes jumped out to a 23-12 lead at the end of the first quarter and were never threatened thereafter.

Craig Elland paced Stanton with 28 points, while Bobby Mims and Lewis Henry added 20 and 16 points, respectively.

Mike Reed scored 31 points to pace the O'Donnell team.

The win gives Stanton a loop record of 4-1 and a season mark of 12-8, while O'Donnell has yet to win a district tilt.

Borden County girls, Sands boys post wins

BORDEN COUNTY — The Sands boys extended their record to 19-2 for the season by taking an 89-51 win over Borden County in basketball action here Friday night.

The Sands attack was very balanced, with five players hitting in double figures. David Long had 18 for the Mustangs, with Bill Wington adding 15, Larry Feaster 14, David Hall 12 and Frank Garfias 11.

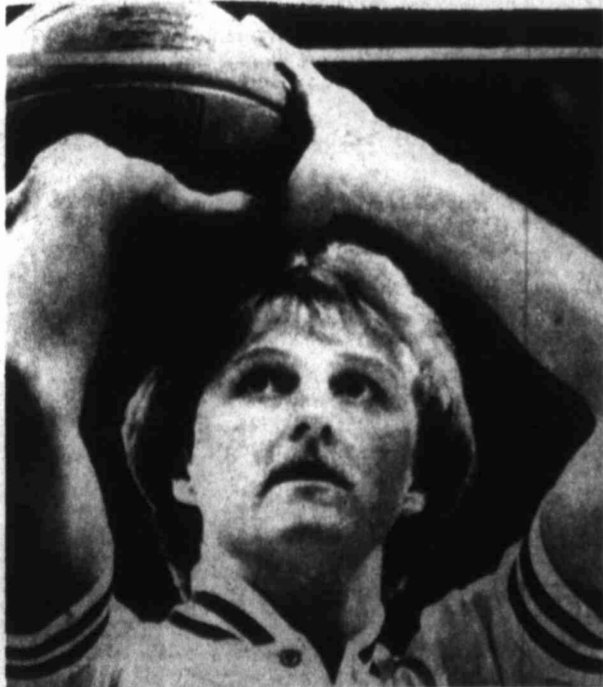

Borden County, now 10-

for the year, was led by Blaine Dyess' 18 points.

The Sands girls weren't as fortunate, however, as the Borden County fems held on for a 43-37 win.

The Borden County win gives them a record of 19-1, while Sands falls to 16-5.

Jana Edwards led the Borden County fems with 14 points, while Sands was paced by Penny Grantham's 22 points.

Midland leading 5-AAAA

The Midland High Bulldogs took over sole possession of first place in District 5-AAAA by taking a 66-57 win over the Abilene Eagles Friday.

Four Bulldogs hit in double figures for the Purple Pack, who now are 3-0 in district and 2-1 for the year. Abilene, meanwhile, is 1-2 in district play and 10-11 on the year.

Abilene Cooper dropped out of a first place tie when Midland Lee's David Keys hit a jump shot with six seconds remaining to propel the Rebels to a 52-51 upset win over the Cougars.

The win gives the Rebels a 5-AAAA mark of 2-1 and a season record of 12-9, while Cooper is now 2-1 in league play and 9-9 on the season.

Cooper's Woody Martin scored 29 points to lead all scorers in the contest, while Keys paced Lee with 14.

The Odessa High Broncos won their initial game in 5-AAAA play when Steve Shannon scored with four seconds left to give his team a 52-51 win over the San Angelo Bobcats.

It was the third straight close game for the Bobcats, who split their opening two district games, with both being overtime affairs.

Both OHS and San Angelo now have 1-2 district marks. OHS is now 5-13 on the season, while San Angelo is 14-9 overall.

Junior Cobos had 18 points for Odessa, while San Angelo was led by Charles Bishop's 20 points.

Snyder Gold beats Brahmas

The Snyder Gold boys basketball team edged the Big Spring Brahmas for a 64-57 win in ninth grade boys basketball action here.

Tom Cudd had 19 points for the Brahmas, with Pete Valenzuela and Tracy Kruse adding 13 and 10 points, respectively. Kevin Watson had seven points, with Jeff Whiteside and Fred Rubio contributing four points.

The Brahmas hit 36 per cent from the field and 46 from the free throw line. The Brahmas are now 3-5.

Snyder edges Toros, 82-75

The Snyder Black boys basketball team edged the Big Spring Toros 82-75 in action here this weekend.

The Toros were paced by Danny Stevens, who had 19 points. Parnell Parker and Darin Green chipped in with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Tatum's book causes NFL uproar

Stingley left the Patriots' wide receiver paralyzed from the neck down.

Tatum describes the incident briefly in his autobiography. He also relates other incidents in which players he has hit were injured.

"He said in the book that 'I never make a tackle just to bring someone down. I want to punish the man I'm going after and I want him to know that it's going to hurt every time he comes my way.'"

Jack Sands, Stingley's attorney in Boston, said in an interview Friday that he wants Tatum banned for life from football. He said he sent a letter Thursday night to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle asking him to suspend Tatum indefinitely.

"I'm writing not only as Darryl's attorney but also in behalf of all Americans who are outraged" by statements in the book, he said.

"His admission of his conduct strikes at the foundation of the integrity of the game," he wrote to Rozelle. "Furthermore, by allowing him to continue his style of play, you will seriously erode all public confidence in the game of professional football."

Tatum was quoted as saying the book is "pretty honest and basically true. Rozelle and his people know what goes on, so what can they say? This is the way the game is played."

Stingley, who lives in Chicago, said he feels "nothing at all" about the book. "Everything is after the fact," Stingley declined to comment on whether he felt Tatum should be banned from football but said, "The guy is really lost. He's being controlled by evil forces. What he needs more than anything is for people to pray for him like they prayed for me."

The book, he added, "is really like a slap in everybody's face. He says 'I'm being bad, what are you going to do about it?'"

Rozelle was quoted as saying Tatum "has really put himself in a vulnerable position."

Atlanta outscores San Antonio

ATLANTA (AP) — Eddie Johnson scored a career high 36 points and John Drew and Dan Roundfield combined for 51 as the Atlanta Hawks defeated the San Antonio Spurs 120-101 in Saturday night National Basketball Association play.

The victory increased Atlanta's lead over second place San Antonio to four games in the Central Division. San Antonio scored the first basket of the game, but never led after that.

Atlanta took a 29-24 lead at the end of the first quarter and built a 17 point lead, 47, with 41 seconds left in the half.

The Hawks continued their offensive explosion in the third quarter while the Spurs continued to have problems. The Spurs had an edge at the free throw line — hitting 34 of 43 attempts in the first three quarters compared to only 15-of-19 for the Hawks — but it didn't offset the Spurs cold shooting from the field.

Leading scorer for the Spurs was George Gervin with 34 points.

Drew scored 28 points for the Hawks and Roundfield added 23.

Runnels All-region band tryouts Feb. 2

By BRONWYN ALLEN
The Permian Basin All-Region Band Tryouts will be held on Saturday, Feb. 2, in Odessa. Forty-one Runnels band members will try out. From the flute section are Carol Brackett, Kerry Fortson, Tina Hillyer, Lisa Dixon, and Allison White. Jinger Jones will try out on the oboe. On the clarinets will be Lisa Ausmus, Laura Brown, Grace Hernandez, Pamela Kinman, and Jan Terpero. Sue Shults will play the bass clarinet. The alto saxophonists will be Diane Boothe, Jooney McAdams, and Robby Roten.

Johnny Saldivar will play the tenor saxophone, while Jesse Ramirez will try out on the baritone saxophone. Bert Andrews, Jimmy Cearley, Karen Crandall, Dwain Fox, and Lisa McWilliams will try out on the cornet. Bryan Hauser and Wendy Myers will play the French horn. Playing the trombone will be Clark Johnson, Tracy Farthing, and Teddy Groebel.

Paul Holguin, Paul Ramirez, Fabian Salazar, and Jerry Wrights will try out on the baritone. George "Shot" Smith, Lanton Hamby, and Darren Huckabee will try out on the tuba. In the percussion section, Melinda Corwin, Kyle Schaffner, Louis Dorton, Mike Hecker, Ricky Lopez, Michael Walker, and Chris Williams will try out.

The intra-mural volleyball games began last week. Each day during the advisories, two classes play against each other. At the end of the tournament the two top teams will play the final game. This activity is sponsored by the Recreational Committee of Student Council. After the volleyball tournament, a basketball tournament will begin.

The clothing classes of Mrs. Conley completed their patchwork pillows this week. They were judged for neatness and originality of design. Winners in second period were Mary Alvarado, first place; Paula Lee, second; and Rebecca Mills, third place. Third period winners were: Wendy Walker, first place; Shelly Neill, second place; and Katy Thompson, third place.

The Student Council is making directories which will contain the names, addresses, phone numbers and birthdays of all Runnels students. Any one who prefers not to have that information included about them will be excluded from the directory.

Mrs. Alred's History classes are beginning a special project on Texas crime and punishment, for the fourth six weeks. Students will study what acts are crimes as well as courtroom procedures. Emphasis will be placed on the students' making decisions and forming opinions concerning fictitious cases.

The Speech classes of Miss Kathie Sullivan have been working in the library the past few weeks to obtain information for a researched speech which they presented to their classmates on Friday, Jan. 11. Many interesting topics were investigated, including: Big Foot, Marijuana, Child Abuse, the Loch Ness Monster, U.F.O.'s, Hamilton Jordan, the Olympic games and the Yeti.

Next week the Speech classes will begin studying interviews. Each pupil will be required to interview someone who is of interest to them. Students will report on their interviews to their class on Jan. 18.

The third six weeks will end on January 18. The Honor Rolls will be printed in a future Megaphone. Report cards will be issued Jan. 23.

This week's calendar clue was gorilla. The winners were: Tammy Yancey, Eric Watkins and Leo Cobb.

Forsan Juniors taking ASVAB test

By DEANN CANNON
The juniors took the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) test Thursday, Jan. 10. It is not known when the results will be in.

Forsan will host Seagraves Tuesday, Jan. 15. The A and B boys and the A girls will be playing, starting at 4:30. The following Friday, Jan. 18, the A boys and the A and B boys will meet Whiteface here, beginning at 4:30.

Stanton Juniors receive class rings

The days just before and after Christmas abounded with tournaments, games, decorating, parties and banquets.

The varsity boys entered the Plains Tournament and won first place. The varsity girls defeated Seagraves with a score of 44-35. The varsity boys played Forsan here and won with a score of 69-39. This Tuesday night the varsity boys went to Whiteface and defeated them with a score of 47-45.

The Homemaking Class sponsored a Christmas party for the whole student body and faculty. They prepared all the goodies which included cakes, cookies, dip and chips, and punch for drinks. During the party the faculty performed a skit of the Muppets singing the Twelve Days of Christmas.

The Door Decoration Contest winners were: 1st place—sophomore class, 2nd place—senior class, and 3rd place—art class.

Wednesday morning juniors were glad to receive their class rings after a month's delay. The FFA members are making preparations for the Sweetheart Banquet for Feb. 9, at 6:30 at the Broken Spoke Restaurant in Midland.

Beau nominees for the Sweetheart Banquet are David Luna, Randy Kelly, Kenneth Cook, Norberto Arguello, and Curtis Williams. The Sweetheart Beau will not be announced until the banquet.

Garden City SC holds tourney

By LANI KAY FRERICH
The six weeks ended Friday, bringing the first half of the school year to a close. Report cards will go out on Wednesday, Jan. 16.

Next week will start off with a comedy pantomime on Monday morning at 10:45. Mr. Wayne Milnes from International Lectures will give the program. Admission is 25 cents.

The Student Council is hosting a foosball tournament in the gym on Monday. The entry fee is $2. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

On Tuesday, the Student Council officers meet. Tuesday afternoon, beginning at 5:00, the high school varsity boys' and girls' basketball teams play Grady. This will be the second game the girls play under their new coach, Mrs. Stringer, who will be coaching for the remainder of the year.

The junior and senior classes have meetings scheduled for 2:30 on Thursday. At an earlier meeting of the senior class, they decided to fly to New Orleans for their senior trip at the end of the year. They will leave after graduation, which will take place on May 16 this year.

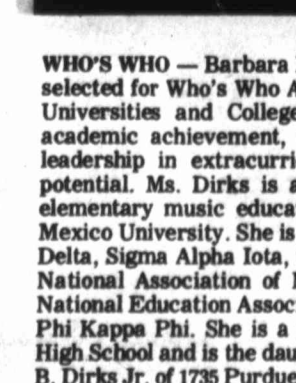

On Friday morning, the Beta Club members will leave from school to attend the state Beta Club convention in Dallas, Texas. They will return home on Sunday, Jan. 20.

Two new teachers began teaching at Garden City at the first of January. They are Mr. Dean Herbert, a recent graduate of Sul Ross University, and Miss Glenda Greenwood, who is also a graduate of Sul Ross. Mr. Herbert teaches math and will be the girls' track coach. Miss Greenwood teaches the science classes.

We will also have several new faces in grade school this week. The kindergarten registered on Friday. They will begin school on Monday.

Construction is now under way for the new science lab and band hall to be attached to the existing building (auditorium and high school). Though the campus is a little cluttered right now as a result of the construction, everyone is tolerant of it as they look forward to using the new facilities.

School will not be held on Friday because of the annual Glasscock County Livestock Show. Students involved in 4-H will help set up for the stock show in the bus barn after school on Wednesday, Thursday, 4-H members weigh-in show animals. The show ends with a sale Saturday afternoon. School will resume as usual on Monday.

WHO'S WHO — Barbara Dirks of Big Spring has been selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The honor is based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential. Ms. Dirks is a senior music therapy and elementary music education major at Eastern New Mexico University. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Sigma Alpha Iota, the Music Therapy Club, the National Association of Music Therapy, the Student National Education Association, Epsilon Mu Beta, and Phi Kappa Phi. She is a 1975 graduate of Big Spring High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Dirks Jr. of 1735 Purdue.

Big Spring Activities resume

Students got out of school early Wednesday, Jan. 9, while teachers stayed for a meeting of the Southern Association evaluation in which Dr. Kenneth Laycock, their consultant, gave orientation.

As classes resumed, so did clubs. The Science Club began planning a possible trip to Houston to the Manned Space Flight Center next year. The financing for this trip has not yet been decided on.

The Paint by Numbers Set held a meeting Jan. 8. They decided to elect Cara Morris as the new secretary. They also discussed fund raising projects, painting curb numbers, bake sales and a car wash. The money will go for a trip to Cloudcroft or Red River at the end of the school year.

FHA hosted a meeting Jan. 8 in which Denise Grenwelge, former area officer, gave a program on an encounter. They have also helped in the March of Dimes Drive.

Metal Trades are in the process of making projects for contest in February.

VICA will go to Midland Feb. 14 for a show of their projects.

FFA is involved in making new, sturdier animal pins.

Presidents of the Bible Club presented the devotionals at the last meeting at Mrs. Johanson's house, 7:30, on Tuesday, Jan. 8. Social chairmen were in charge of bringing games for entertainment.

The French Club will begin flower sales on Feb. 4.

Quill & Scroll will have a meeting Jan. 14 at Lavelle Bradford's house, 604 Dallas Street, 7:30.

Seniors were busy last week ordering their caps and gowns for graduation. Six weeks exams will begin next week: Wednesday-2nd and 4th, Thursday-3rd and 5th, Friday-1st and 6th.

Big Spring woman on honor roll at ENMU

PORTALES — Barbara Dirks of Big Spring has been named to the 1979 fall semester Dean's Honor Roll at Eastern New Mexico University.

Eastern students receive one of four designations as a Dean's Honor Roll student and are graded on a 4.0 scale. Summa cum laude students have a 3.8 to 4.0

grade point average, while magna cum laude recipients have a 3.7 to 3.79 GPA. Cum laude students hold a 3.6 to 3.69 GPA and students receive "honors" if they have a 3.25 to 3.59 GPA.

Ms. Dirks is a senior music therapy major at Eastern and a summa cum laude Dean's Honor Roll student.

SED lists jobs good for college credits

The 1980 Summer Employment Directory of the United States (SED) is a nation-wide "want ads" section of summer jobs, according to its editor, Lynne Lapin. "It takes the leg work out of hunting for a summer job, and it helps you look for a job outside the area where you happen to live or go to school."

SED is an annual paperback. This year it lists 50,000 summer jobs all over the United States. Each listing includes job description, pay rates, working conditions, and a name and address to write to. Lapin said that the SED only lists employers who are actively seeking people to work for the summer. "That way you don't waste time and stamps writing to people just to find out whether or not they have summer jobs available," she said.

Some of the jobs in the 1980 SED could be lead-ins to a chosen career field, Lapin said. Others are geared to the student who wants to mix fun and adventure with summer work.

"Some of the jobs listed in the 1980 SED even offer college credit," Lapin pointed out. "For example, jobs at summer camps for mentally and physically handicapped children." For other jobs listed in the directory, Lapin suggested that students ask about practicum credit at their respective schools. "If you're in special education, for example, some of these jobs let you test your chosen field and see how well you like it before you graduate. They also give you some practical work experience to put on your resume when you apply for your first job after graduation."

"Other summer jobs listed in the 1980 SED — at national parks or scenic resort areas — give you the opportunity to spend the summer at a place where you'd never go on your own if you had to pay for it," Lapin said. "A summer job at a resort is a great way to go someplace interesting for the summer and get paid for being there."

"Lots of jobs listed in the 1980 SED are fairly unusual," Lapin added. "For example, there are river trips in Colorado, jobs at resorts in Alaska, and paying positions at summer theaters all over the country. Several resorts in upstate New York and some in California are looking for entertainers, too."

Lapin said that the 1980 SED is like the "want ads" in your local newspaper in one other significant way. "The really good jobs go fast," she said. "Smart people who consult the 1980 SED will get summer jobs first and fastest. The 1980 SED will be in bookstores by late November. And since there are a limited number of positions in the book, you should start thinking about next summer's job about the same time you think about Christmas shopping."

This year for the first time, the Summer Employment Directory includes listing from huge commercial resorts like Disneyland, Disney World, several of the Six Flags resorts, Cedar Point in Ohio and Busch Gardens in Florida. Lapin said that such resorts employ thousands of college students each year, as well as older high school students.

The 1980 SED includes national temporary help organizations that refer your records from your summer job back to their offices at your year-round home, and continue to provide temporary or part time jobs for all you all year round, according to Lapin.

The 1980 Summer Employment Directory of the United States (paperback; $6.95) can be purchased in most bookstores. It is also available from the publisher, Writer's Digest Books, 9933 Alliance Road, Cincinnati, Ohio 45242. Mail orders should include $1.25 for postage and handling.

University Day at Tech to be held on Feb. 29

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech will sponsor its fifth annual University Day for high school students Feb. 29. Day-long activities include entertainment, campus tours, advisement sessions with faculty and counselors, and departmental and college visits.

University Day is designed for prospective students of higher education who want to get acquainted with the university before making a final choice of where he or she will attend college.

For additional information regarding Texas Tech University Day students should contact their high school counselors or John Edwards, Office of New Student Relations, Room 133 Doak Hall, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409 (806) 742-1480.

Graduate class offered by TTU in Lamesa

LUBBOCK — An advanced graduate class in public education which may apply toward certification in administration and supervision will be offered for the first time in Lamesa this spring by the College of Education at Texas Tech University.

The course in general supervision (EDAD 5310) will be presented from 6-9 p.m. Wednesdays, starting Jan. 16. Registration will be conducted during the first class session in Lamesa High School Student Center on North 14th St.

The course places emphasis on principles, planning, organization and processes of supervision in both elementary and secondary schools, according to Dr. Paul Zintgraf, professor of education at Texas Tech.

If the course receives satisfactory enrollments, additional classes will be offered in Lamesa next year, Zintgraf said.

Westbrook Report cards given after test survival

By BETH GEIGER
All the students and teachers were in the Christmas spirit Friday, after lunch and a morning of tests. The elementary and junior high held parties. The FHA club held the Christmas party for the high school and teachers in the cafeteria. The home economic girls had been busy all week preparing the refreshments. FHA president, Sharla Rollins, presented the club sponsor, Mary Ellis, with a Christmas gift.

Everyone survived the semester tests that were given this week. Report cards will be sent out after the Christmas holidays.

Saturday, Dec. 15, the high school girls defeated Grady, 77-39, to bring home the Consolation trophy from the Borden County Tournament. The boys beat Borden County, 53-52, to capture third place.

Monday, the junior high basketball teams played at Highland. The girls lost and the boys won.

The FFA boys have been busy delivering the fruit they sold as a money-making project.

The Student Council sponsored a Christmas door decoration contest. The winners received a coke party. The elementary winners were: second and sixth grades; junior high, seventh grade; and the sophomore and junior classes tied for first place in the high school division.

Tuesday, the Divide high school basketball teams came to Westbrook. The girls trounced Divide, 62-17. Rose Lopez put in 18 points and Beth Geiger added 10. The boys won 48-44. Ricky Reyes had 14 points and Trey Smith had 13.

Thursday, the Bronte Longhorns played basketball at Westbrook.

School was dismissed at 2:30 Friday for the Christmas holidays. School will resume at the usual time Jan. 2.

Goliad Six are winners in free throwing

By BECKY BRIDGES
A local freethrow contest was held by the Elks Club. Winners in the seventh grade division were Gloria Bustamante in first place and Anna Jackman, runner up in sixth grade division.

Derek Logback won freethrow contest at Goliad with fifteen freethrows out of twenty-five. Thomas Rodriguez came in second with fourteen shots out of twenty-five. Jay Pirkle came in third with fourteen out of twenty-five. Derek Logback went to original freethrow contest at the high school and came in second place with twelve shots out of twenty-five.

The Goliad girls' basketball team played a game against Andrews Monday afternoon. The girls were defeated by a score of 10-16. Team fouls were a problem and the team had difficulties passing the ball. Adriane Allen was high point scorer with 6 points and Alice Lopez with 4 points. There was a basketball tournament Jan. 10, 11, and 12 at Coahoma. The "B" team played at 9:00 against Coahoma. The "A" team played at 3:00 against Stanton on Thursday. Results may be in a future column.

The Goliad Torros were outmatched by Seminole's seventh grade team. The Torros were not able to hit many of their field goals. This kept them behind the whole game. Jay Pirkle was high point scorer with 10 points.

Ms. Sonia Lancaster, boy's P.E. teacher and girl's basketball coach, is seriously ill and has been hospitalized since Christmas Eve. She is presently at Scott & White Hospital, Room 590, Temple, Tx. Her condition is steadily improving. However, we are looking forward to her return to school in the near future.

The winners in the computer room for the month of December are James Rawls, Kin Manning, Sam Gibson, Tony Flores, Cruz Rodriguez, Melecia Gosiniak, Tammy Riffey, Craig Norman, David Ross, and Perry Donnell. They received free passes to the movies which were provided by the Ritz Theater.

REMEMBERING THE BEATS — John Heard, left, portrays Jack Kerouac with Sissy Spacek in the role of Carolyn Cassady and Nick Nolte as her husband Neal, in the film "Heart Beat." Despite much research, the film does not pretend to be a documentary about the founders of the "Beat Generation." "We romanticized the hell out of it," Nolte said.

'Heart Beat' and wild times

Nick Nolte makes film

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I don't think we did anything wrong," says Sissy Spacek as Carolyn Cassady in the new film "Heart Beat." "We just did it first."

Mrs. Cassady is the surviving member of a triumvirate that has become part of the folklore of mid-century America. The others were her husband, Neal Cassady, who is portrayed by Nick Nolte in the movie, and Jack Kerouac, who is played by John Heard.

Those who matured in the 1950s don't need to be told who those figures were. Kerouac's free-wheeling prose captured the spirit of a generation while appalling the literary establishment (Truman Capote: "That's not writing; it's typing.") Cassady was the wild spirit fictionalized as Dean Moriarty in Kerouac's "On The Road."

"Heart Beat" portrays the wild times and unhappy ends of these two progenitors of the Beat Generation. Which, of course, spawned the counterculture revolution of the 1960s.

The Orion-Warner Brothers film probably wouldn't have been made except for the star presence of Nick Nolte, an actor who refuses to sell out for surefire projects.

"Sure, it was a hard little film to make," Nolte admitted as he fingered a bottle of beer in an Orion office at the Burbank studios. "It's not easy to take a hunk of history and portray the development of a whole subculture, meanwhile trying to do an ensemble piece without spotlighting any one of the three performers..."

"Yes, it would be easy just to go for the big-money movie. But that's not too exciting, you know. The exciting part is what connects with art. I have tried to resist the pressures of commerce in order to do the things I believe. I can be very bad (as an actor) when there is no connection to art."

Nolte followed his sensational success in the ABC miniseries "Rich Man, Poor Man" with an obviously commercial movie, "The Deep."

Nolte followed the undersea adventure with "Who'll Stop The Rain?" and then "North Dallas Forty," then came "Heart Beat," written and directed by newcomer John Byrum, interested Nolte from the beginning.

"I graduated from high school in 1959 and I read 'On The Road' when it first came out," the actor recalled. "Growing up in the Midwest, I had no fantasy to pattern my life after. I found it fascinating to read about a guy who would just jump in a car and go. I did it myself, traveling all over the country."

'Tenspeed and Brown Shoe'

Cannell adds polish, speed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ben Vereen is Tenspeed. Jeff Goldblum is Brown Shoe. Stephen Cannell is the man who puts Tenspeed into gear and puts the polish on Brown Shoe.

Cannell created the new ABC action-comedy series, "Tenspeed and Brown Shoe," under his new deal to develop shows exclusively for ABC. He also has another new ABC show, "Stone," in which Dennis Weaver plays a cop who becomes a best-selling author.

Cannell is one of television's most prolific and imaginative writers. He wrote the pilots for "Chase," "City of Angels," "Toma," "Baretta," "Baa Baa Black Sheep," "Duke," "Richie Brockelman" with Steve Bochco, and "The Rockford Files" with Roy Huggins. He created "Stone" from an idea by Richard Levinson and William Link.

"I'd always wanted to do a show like 'Tenspeed and Brown Shoe' — about an odd couple who team up as detectives," said Cannell, 38, whose tamed face is partly hidden by long hair and a dark beard.

"Tenspeed is a black con man. Brown Shoe is a white stock broker who's a romantic. ABC was a little skeptical about the show, so I came back with a story. They liked it and I wrote it."

ABC also wanted the two-hour pilot for its mid-season changes. Cannell wrote it in 10 days. He said he is used to working 14-hour days under deadline pressure — he's produced "The Rockford Files" for the last six years. He's written more than a hundred scripts in the past seven years.

"Tenspeed and Brown Shoe" premieres on Sunday, Jan. 27. "Stone" premiered earlier and airs Monday night.

The two-hour pilot of "Tenspeed and Brown Shoe"

PROLIFIC WRITER — Stephen Cannell, one of television's most prolific and imaginative writers, is putting the finishing touches on his latest TV series "Tenspeed and Brown Shoe." The show is about an odd couple who team up as detectives — co-starring Ben Vereen as a black con man, and Jeff Goldblum a white stock broker.

is an ingenious and amusing story of how the two disparate partners got together. Vereen, who was Chicken George on "Roots," is an ingratiating con man with a repertoire of tricks to outwit the pursuing Mafia and Nazi party.

Goldblum is the square, conservative stockbroker whose passion is detective stories. He's a newcomer to television, but has been in such movies as "Invasion of the Body Snatchers," "Between the Lines," "Next Stop Greenwich Village" and "Nashville." Cannell said he wrote "Stone" with Dennis Weaver in mind. The idea came from Levinson and Link, who created "Columbo" but now want to write exclusively for motion pictures. The pilot aired last September.

"Joe Wambaugh is the obvious front-running model for the character," said Cannell, "but there are other policemen who write books. We didn't structure our character after Wambaugh. Dan Stone's background is closer to Dennis Weaver's."

Books help children prepare for scouting

By CATHY McCracken, Children's Librarian, Howard County Library

"Be Prepared." The definition of these two words comes alive to literally millions of young people all over the world who are members of Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, founded in 1910, and Girl Scouts, in 1912, offers children age seven through eighteen a chance to belong to a worldwide movement dedicated to teaching high ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service.

Beginning a new year and decade with worldwide turmoil might encourage parents to look for ways to brighten their children's outlook on life. These two organizations help in every way to train our youth for the road through life.

The children's department of the Howard County Library has numerous books on these programs. Two excellent beginner-type books are "The Story of the Boy Scouts" by Wyatt Blassingame and "The Girl Scout Story" by Adele deLeeuw. The book on Girl Scouts tells how the organization started and grew, and what Scouts have done over the years — from helping the war effort and working on community projects to camping and selling cookies. "The Story of the Boy Scouts" includes true stories of life-saving and other rescue work for which the Boy Scouts earned the National Court of Honor Medal for heroism. It also covers the story of a Peruvian Scout who completed a 10,000-mile hike. Both books should help your child understand what scouting is really all about.

For pleasure reading on the subject, "Razzberry Jamboree" by Jullily Kohler offers boys a look at a Scout Troop's adventures at the Third National Boy Scout Jamboree at Santa Anna California. It's a Boy Scout story to end all Boy Scout stories with swapping contests, Mohawk haircuts, and the mysterious "Operation Beltbuckle." Each funny and unexpected incident portrays the special spirit and excitement of a Boy Scout Jamboree.

"If you are a leader for a Girl Scout troop and need something extra for one of your meetings, check out the "Girl Scout Cookbook" by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. The handy paperback lists equipment as well as the ingredients for recipes, definitions of cooking terms, tips on food buying, and advice on what to serve with what. The added attraction, of course, is the fact that Girl Scouts like your own troop tried and tested the recipes and put the book together.

One of the newest additions to our collection is the ninth edition of the "Official Boy Scout Handbook" by William Hillcourt. Featuring the beautiful artistry of Norman Rockwell, the book covers everything from your life as a Scout to you the American citizen to books you'll enjoy reading.

These are just a few of the books we have that are available on Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. If you are interested in what your children do at their troop meetings, stop by the Howard County Library and become an informed parent. If you have a child who is thinking of becoming a Scout, encourage him to do some research on what it's all about. All you need is at your library.

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY, JANUARY 13, 1980

GENERAL TRENDS: A very good day and evening to use your mind to good advantage, especially in thinking out a course of action which you can best operate in the days ahead. Use common sense.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Look over your property and make plans for improvement. Plan how to stretch your finances so you have more security.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be consistent in dealing with family members and increase harmony at home. Not a very good day for visiting.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can easily gain the desire you need by going to the right sources. Late visit with key friends and relations.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan how to have a far greater income in the future. Study property you have and see how to improve it in some way.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be sensible in handling matters of communications and get excellent results. Get together with loyal friends in the afternoon.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Do not investigate that will bring you the confidential information you need. Make this a most worthwhile day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Concentrate on how to be more productive in the days ahead. Show more devotion for your mate and express happiness together.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan time for handling certain duties that require precision. Show more consideration for loved one.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Express your own view in no uncertain terms with others so they know where you stand. Seek understanding.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Carry through with regular routines early in the day, and then handle duties to which you have committed yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Have those talks with associates that bring greater rapport and understanding. Discuss future with family members.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who will hit upon an idea and want to follow through on any agreement made with others. Give as fine an education as you can in preparation for a most successful life. Be sure to give good ethical and spiritual training early in life.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Statement Of Nondiscrimination

West-Tex Telephone Cooperative, Inc. has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the grounds of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color or national origin in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meetings of beneficiaries and participants or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operation of this organization.

"Any person who believes himself, or any specific class of individuals, to be subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Act and the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder may, by himself or a representative, file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, or the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D.C. 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 90 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture or the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time for filing. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations."

Latin is language of endings

By CAROL HUNTER

The stiff curricula of the early Big Spring schools included four years of Latin, for everybody, with no electives. If a pupil did not fit the course, he just got out of school, altogether. Obviously there was room for improvement as more students were able to complete more grades. By the middle 1930's, the Big Spring schools, typical of other progressive school districts, were coping with the expanding of subjects and the fitting of the pupil to his life's work through education. Unfortunately, one of the losses in modern day public school education is the turn around concept that a foreign language is no longer a necessity. Actually, the problem was perpetuated when a large number of colleges and universities dropped two years of high school foreign language as an entrance requirement. Losing out first and foremost were the classics, Latin and Greek, with Spanish, French and German not doing as well as in earlier years.

Even as early as 1931 when Lillian Shick Dawson began her teaching career in Big Spring Schools, there were only two years of Latin being taught. In her student days, the late 1920's, there were still four (the third and fourth years were studies of Cicero and Virgil) Lillian taught English her first two years, but then, her mentor and inspiration, Vesta Mostella, retired and Lillian was able to put her Latin major to practical use. Now, I would never be the one to tell tales, but there were surely less erudit stories of Lillian's Hardin Simmons days than her Latin major would indicate. She was, however, well trained having done her practice teaching under that master from Abilene High, Myrtle Trantham. So, Lillian's sparkle and fun-loving spirit only complimented what can be a dull subject.

With eagerness, Lillian began her Latin pedagogy only to find that with the new variety of subjects and electives that students began to shy away from Latin. She immediately began to think of incentives to gain interest for her subject. Thus, incentive was the purpose for "the trips". When a student had finished his or her second year and was passing in all subjects, he or she was eligible for the Latin trip. Every spring, Supt. Blankenship granted a Latin Holiday at noon one Friday. In the early years before buses, Garland Sanders let the classes use one of his firm's cattle trucks, which he cleaned and rigged for travel using a tarp for cover. Bill Olsen, the jovial janitor had the idea of equipping the truck with benches from the football field and moved in mats for the benches and floor. They were then ready to go. Students had to earn the money, but expenses were kept to a minimum to give everyone a chance to go. Many students sold coat hangers.

The scholars packed a lunch and loaded into the vehicle. They stopped at Hobbs to eat, reaching Carlsbad before dinner. They always had reservations at the same "tourist court." Friday and Saturday during the day it was into town for the group, but they toured the Caverns Saturday, went to the church of their choice on Sunday, and were home by

Sunday night. Lillian took the group for about 13 years. Her parents, Nat and Holly Shick went most of those years also. Lillian is quick to add that the kids were so good that she did not need additional help. In later years, the cattle truck was abandoned in favor of a real bus, and they always had the same driver, Ray Bullock. He became such a bulwark of the trip that one year when he was sick, the students were not sure that they could go. Ray was recently recognized by an ex-Roman when he drove the bus for the Steer Band's spring trip two years ago. It was a fun reunion.

There were some wild experiences over the years. One boy had an emergency appendectomy in Carlsbad one Sunday a.m., but was made comfortable and brought home Sunday p.m. Another time, two spry gladiators boarded the cattle truck, armed with itch powder, planning rate experience for classmates. The tables turned and the powder spilled on them before they ever left town.

All of us old Latin teachers are well versed in the art of Roman Banquets. It begins with a slave auction of first year students to the masters, 2nd year students. Slave misery follows. If ever there were an incentive to take that 2nd year of Latin it is the pleasure of returning the sadistic tricks. Great research goes into the students having such an authentic performance, from food and entertainment to costumes. The Crawford Hotel always let Lillian use its facilities.

Another extra curricular activity for would be Caesar experts was the District Latin Tournament, complete with a silver loving cup to the winners. That cup remains in Big Spring because one of our teams won it the year competition was discontinued. Another undertaking was the Spring Latin project. The Museum displayed some of the more understanding exhibits and paintings depicting Roman life.

After Lillian married and retired, 1949, Big Spring was fortunate enough to hire Mrs. Rita Weeg who taught until three years ago and continued schooling our students' having such an the Gallic Wars. Students loudly sing the praises of Miss Shick (Dawson) and Mrs. Weeg. Through the years a good Latin teacher turns deaf ears to such cuties as, "Latin is a language, dead as dead can be. First it killed the Romans and now it's killing me." For, she has had too many, "thank yous". "I am glad that you made me work that hard", and "I passed that entrance test because I knew Latin."

Military — Jimmy Horsley ends training

Navy Seaman Recruit Jimmy D. Horsley, son of Jimmy B. and Ruby L. Honea of Route 2, Box 23, Big Spring, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1976 graduate of Big Spring High School, he joined the Navy in October 1979.

FORSAN'S GMC — This 1950 model GMC fire truck with a 900 gallon tank is still in use by Forsan Volunteer Fire Dept. This truck was purchased by the city of Forsan before HC began sponsoring county fire protection units, and has fought many a county fire over the years.

Rural property at stake

Volunteer firemen handicapped

By MICKIE DICKSON
Imagine living in a Big Spring rural area in a $100,000 home with little or no near fire protection except willing volunteers equipped to fight grass fires only. Or imagine having an oil lease operating and no equipment available to fight a fire with the proper foam to extinguish it.

That is the situation in several communities such as Knott, Sand Springs, Luther, Vincent, Forsan, Hilltop and Silver Heels. Howard County volunteer fire fighters are to be commended for the many hours they spend fighting county grass and structural fires for no reimbursement and answering other emergency situations. Much needed emergency equipment is bought by the volunteer fire associations out of funds donated by individuals in the communities and the firemen themselves.

Howard County furnishes the fire station buildings and trucks with water tanks and pumps and keeps them up. The volunteers contact the county commissioner in their particular precinct if repairs are needed and the commissioner takes care of it. A break occurred in the situation Aug. 4, 1979, when Howard County agreed to provide equipment and man-power for improvements to over six miles of city street in return for fire protection for structures outside of Big Spring city limits in the county by the Big Spring Fire Dept. This was done on a trial basis through Dec. 31. The City Commissioners voted Tuesday to continue this protection. The city made 12 runs which included some brush fires that posed a danger to structures at a cost of $984 in three months.

The Luther Volunteer Fire Department operates a late 1950 model International truck with a 750-1,000 gallon tank on it housed near the H. & M. Grocery store near the Luther Gin.

Lloyd Underwood is president of this Fire Fighters Association. Hollis Puckett, owner and operator of the grocery store, receives the fire calls at 399-4333 and keeps the truck up. All the farmers in the community act as volunteer firemen, and many times the truck is manned by whoever is in the grocery store when a call comes in. As the truck proceeds to the fire with lights flashing and siren open men in the community follow in their cars to help. If Puckett is alone, he locks the store and takes the truck while Mildred, his wife, phones neighbors to go to the fire then follows in her car. As of now the flashing lights on the Luther truck are inoperable.

The fire truck at Luther is equipped with chemicals, axe, ladder, water and siren. Puckett said, "We are lucky if we have brakes on the truck. One day the truck wouldn't start, so the men pulled it with a pick up five miles to the fire, it then started and put out a fire at the Tom Lockhart home. There was about $12,000 worth of damage done to the house." The Luther Volunteer Fire Association bought an oxygen bottle and mask for emergency use which is kept at the grocery store and has been used three times. The association also has a CB interfire truck communication with the base station at the store. Some fire calls come to them through the Sheriff's Dept.

The Luther area receives help from the Jonesboro Station Volunteers out of Big Spring and the farmers from Vealmoor who show up at every fire with cattle sprayers and water truck to help. The volunteers attended some training meetings at the Howard County barn and three years ago about ten Luther women were trained to drive the truck and operate the power take-off to run the water pump and turn the valves. The women follow in cars to help fight grass fires. David Barr, commissioner for precinct 4 and Vincent volunteer fire fighter, is responsible for Vincent, Luther, and Jonesboro fire equipment. Barr, also a farmer and rancher, is interested in keeping the county fire equipment in tip-top shape and is hopeful that H.C. volunteer fire fighters will be trained by the Big Spring Fire Department professionals in the future. When Barr took office a year ago he had all the trucks in his precinct checked by the mechanics in the county barn, and he hopes that the volunteers will feel free to call him any time their equipment needs to be repaired. It is his hope that the volunteers will organize and hold regular meetings and training sessions. Barr was instrumental in securing the cooperation between the city and county fire fighting units which now exists and hopes that further communication and cooperation can be attained.

Vincent has a loosely organized Volunteer Fire Dept. which was formed of local farmers about four years ago when Howard County began sponsoring the volunteers. All the Vincent farmers met at the fire station to receive training from a Webb Air Force man. The department has a 1966 Chevrolet truck with a 1,000 gallon tank with pump. The truck has no foam or chemicals. Vincent residents call Barr at 952-3382, and while he gets the truck, his wife, Patricia, calls other farmers to follow the truck to the fire.

The Jonesboro Volunteer Fire Dept. has about 15 volunteers, about half of whom are active. Their 1974 Ford truck has a 1,200 gallon capacity tank and there are compressed air tanks available for the firemen to use when entering smoke filled buildings. Johnny L. Turner is the fire chief and holds regular meetings the second Friday of each month. This group has a phone set-up where six volunteer's phones ring continuously at the time the emergency number, 263-0612, is called. Turner said that only three of the six phones are operating at this time because the telephone company hasn't gotten around to repairing them. Most of the volunteers work daylight hours so nights and weekends are when they are operable. Chief Turner said, "I'm proud that the Big Spring Fire Dept. comes out now to fight fires and grateful that other volunteer fire departments help us out a lot."

The Knott Volunteer Fire Dept. has fifteen volunteers under Chief Jerry Roman and a phone set-up that rings volunteer's phones continuously simultaneously. The phone number is 353-4345. In the fall people of Knott call the Knott Co-Op Gin where the fire truck is housed. Their one pumper has a 1,500 gallon tank in which they use a soap concentrate called "wet water" to make the water go further. No foam or chemicals are on the truck. Most of the volunteers use their personal CB's to communicate with each other. The volunteer's wives phone others to help the fires after the men leave. Other area volunteers and Big Spring Fire Dept. come out to help fight fires.

The Knott fire fighters have a bottle of oxygen and mask for emergency use. About five volunteers show up at each fire.

Richard Parker's three-bedroom home caught fire about two weeks ago at 4 a.m. and Robert Rivera, gin superintendent, shut down the Knott Co-Op gin and he and his gin hands controlled the fire well until the Big Spring Fire Dept. arrived to put it out. Pat and Kelly Gaskins, Don Brownfield, gin manager; John Jones and Rivera are active volunteers. Knott is in precinct 1 under Commissioner O.L. "Louis" Brown.

The Sand Springs Volunteer Fire Department under J.B. Hall, fire chief, operates a 1975 Ford truck with the same 1,000 gallon tank they've had on two previous trucks. Two fire plugs are available to them, one at the station and the other near old Midway schoolhouse. No chemicals or foam is on the truck. One compressed air pack is available for a fireman to use which Couden refills for them at no cost. This department has eight or nine volunteer's phones that ring when 393-3599, the fire number, is called. Two tanks of oxygen are also available for emergency use, supplied by the county. Their equipment and truck is in good shape.

The Sand Springs volunteers purchased a side-band radio and a woofer type siren which either woofs or wails and can be used as a loud speaker with contributions from citizens whose fires they have put out. This fire department is fortunate to have a number of shift workers as volunteers so their community is covered most of the time.

Forsan Volunteer Fire Dept. has three co-chiefs, W.K. "Bubs" Gressett, T.J. Walls and Loren Cassleman. Everyone in the community helps fight fires when they occur. Young people, oil field roustabouts and citizens turn out five or ten at a time to help. Two fire trucks, one furnished by HC, a 1967 Ford with 1,200 gallon capacity tank and a 1950 model GMC with a 900 gallon tank on it which Forsan community bought before the county commissioners began furnishing trucks are used. The Fire Station is located underneath the water tank. Fire plugs are used to fill the tanks on the trucks, mainly.

FORSAN'S 1,200 GALLON CAPACITY FIRE TRUCK — Howard County. This 1967 Ford fire truck was furnished to Forsan by

O.W. Scuddy, Jim Alexander and Gressett are on the finance committee to take care of donated funds to keep up the trucks. The county commissioners also furnish them $500 a year for upkeep of the trucks. The county put a new tank on the truck on the Ford truck two years ago. "Bud" J.T. Summers, a reserve deputy sheriff, has a police radio and handles communication with the sheriff's office and Big Spring Fire Trucks for them. Forsan and Silver Heels are in precinct 3. Commissioner Bill Crooker's precinct.

Silver Heels has a fire department with one truck. Two people man the truck and whoever answers the volunteer's phones goes. The volunteer's radio for needed help. One volunteer said that the mechanics from the county barn were good to check each week to see that the truck had gas and oil.

One of the best equipped volunteer fire departments in the area is the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp. The city of Big Spring owns the equipment and building left by Webb Air Force Base which consists of pumper No. 4 with ladders and 350 pounds pressure capacity and an attack truck with foam and dry chemicals. Their equipment has recently been upgraded by the addition of a big tanker foamer that will put out aircraft fires. Webb Air Force Base personnel had surveyed it and found that it wasn't worth fixing up, but the prisoners repaired it.

Inmates of the camp operate the equipment at no charge for the protection of the camp, the Industrial Park and Howard County Airport. These inmates are experienced firemen who have attended seminars in Lubbock and Amarillo to update their fire fighting skills.

John Allman, superintendent of the prison facility, said, "Charles Benson, regional director for the south central region for the Bureau of Prisons, has designated Big Spring Federal Prison Camp as the regional fire training center for the prison systems for this region. All the fire chiefs from the other federal institutions in the South Central Region will be sent here to be trained.

The Coahoma Volunteer Fire Department with 27 volunteers under Fire Chief Bryan Jenson, Assistant Fire Chief Bruce Allen and Fire Marshall Kenneth Lawhorn, is working toward becoming the best volunteer fire department in this part of the country. Each volunteer fireman has to have 160 hours of fire fighting training for basic certification since Coahoma is an incorporated city, and is on probation for one year. Volunteers are reimbursed for expenses. The Coahoma volunteers drill 2 hours each first and third Monday nights of the month and have an hour meeting. Volunteer firemen from other Big Spring areas are invited to participate in the drills.

Coahoma volunteers operate two trucks, a pumper with 500 Gallon per minute capacity and a booster with 300 gallons a minute capacity with a full complement of hoses on each truck. A foam inductor is on one truck, as well as CO2 fire extinguishers and purple K dry chemicals for car, gasoline and electrical fires.

Larry Sheppard recently donated a vehicle to Coahoma volunteers which contains emergency care of sick or injured people until an ambulance arrives. The Coahoma department also has a device named "jaws" for prying apart or into wrecked vehicles to rescue people in automobile accidents.

Howard County pays Coahoma $2,000 a year to fight structural fires outside the city limits. One truck, the booster, can go to these structural fires. The City of Coahoma buys the equipment and keeps it up.

The Coahoma volunteers instruct the public on fire safety, give free home inspections, hold fire prevention programs in the school, hold free blood pressure checks and keep medical records on all older citizens. "One of the glaring deficiencies of the volunteer capabilities is the difficulty in radio communications. The Volunteer Fire departments that have radios usually are on the low band frequency which cannot communicate with the Big Spring fire chief and police who are on a high band police frequency," said Ricky Womack, arson investigator.

Womack stated that the Big Spring Fire Dept. will go to structural fires in the county on the first call. The department will assist in grass and oil fires if the volunteers cannot handle them or if their equipment is broken down. The Big Spring department responds to any emergency situation if life is endangered and they are called upon to help.

The Big Spring Fire Department will fill all compressed air packs for the volunteers free. "We'd be glad to assist volunteers with equipment or training on equipment," said Womack, who would like to see total fire protection and total fire investigation all over the county by all concerned.

Howard County has great potential for greater emergency and fire protection care through organization, cooperation, training and better communication between county and city fire departments.

Focus on family living

A Will For The Living

DEAR ABBY: I want to thank you for the most wonderful present I have ever received. Because of an item in your column last year, I sent for "The Living Will." Now I have peace of mind, knowing that if my husband or I should ever become terminally ill, our loved ones will never have to watch us die slow and agonizing deaths as some we have witnessed.

I saw my handsome, 6-foot, 200-pound father waste away to an 88-pound skeleton after fighting a two-year battle with cancer. The doctors told us it was hopeless, yet kept that poor dear man alive month after month with transfusions, tubes, needles and drugs, while he prayed to God to take him.

Abby, you would do millions of readers a priceless service by acquainting them with "The Living Will" as you did me. GRATEFUL IN JOLIET, ILL.

DEAR GRATEFUL: Thank you for giving me this opportunity to publicize "The Living Will" again. It reads as follows:

TO MY FAMILY, MY PHYSICIAN, MY LAWYER AND ALL OTHERS WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Death is as much a reality as birth, growth, maturity and old age—it is the one certainty of life. If the time comes when I can no longer take part in decisions for my own future, let this statement stand as an expression of my wishes and directions, while I am still of sound mind.

If at such a time the situation should arise in which there is no reasonable expectation of my recovery from extreme physical or mental disability, I direct that I be allowed to die and not be kept alive by medications, artificial means or "heroic measures." I do, however, ask that medication be mercifully administered to me to alleviate suffering even though this may shorten my remaining life.

This statement is made after careful consideration and is in accordance with my strong convictions and beliefs. I want the wishes and directions here expressed carried out to the extent permitted by law. Insofar as they are not legally enforceable, I hope that those to whom this Will is addressed will regard themselves as morally bound by these provisions.

To date, over three million "Living Wills" have been distributed. Yes, I have signed one. I requested six copies and enclosed my check for $10 to cover cost of documents and mailing. (It is tax deductible.)

If you send for "The Living Will," please be patient. I promise your request will not be overlooked. Be sure to enclose your name and address, clearly written.

The document is free but this is a non-profit organization, so all donations are gratefully accepted.

One woman requested eight copies and enclosed her check for $500 saying, "This is the most marvelous thing I've ever heard of." I agree.

P.S. If you or your lawyer have any questions concerning the enforceability of "The Living Will," please write to Concern For Dying, same address as above.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Adapting your home for retirement living

A feeling of independence is important to the elderly and handicapped. The majority of elderly persons in Texas own their homes and wish to live independently as long as possible.

This is possible if they can do for themselves. Much can be done in a home, with little effort or cost, to increase safety, convenience, comfort and independence.

Lighting appears to be inadequate in many homes of older adults as we notice how dark they often keep their homes. Not that they do not need more light — they actually require twice the level of illumination as do younger people. They are sensitive to glare. Glare can be minimized by using frosted or shaded bulbs and by eliminating exposed bulbs. Fluorescent lighting is troublesome for the older adult.

Adapting to dark and light takes longer for the older adult. Night lights will aid in this transition. Area lighting as well as general lighting is needed. Bedside lamps and well lighted work areas are a must.

Accidents can be reduced with the use of ceiling lights that pull down, lamps and wall fixtures. Three way switches beginning at the front door eliminate groping in the dark. Luminous switches are also useful. Ample light at outside doors are a must.

Painting a room is an inexpensive way of adding light and a feeling of warmth. Light colors reflect the light. It is a good idea to contrast the color of furniture with walls and floors. Contrast in color can distinguish stairs.

For additional information request the pamphlets "Adapting the Home" and the "Housing Checklist for Older Adults" from Janet Rogers, county extension agent-home economics at 267-8469 or 267-1821. The publications are available at no cost.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D.T. King, Friona. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Nona Blagrave and the late Floyd Blagrave, Ackerly.

Great-grandparents are Clara Prosser, Friona and Clarice King, Plainview.

Talent
search underway

The Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising is once more conducting its annual search for the nation's most gifted young fashion design talent.

The college, the largest of its kind in the nation, specializes in training people for careers in merchandising, fashion design and interior design.

The "Designer of Tomorrow" contest, now in its ninth year, is open to all 1980 high school graduates and older students interested in a fashion career. Participants compete for a year's scholarship to the school and an all-expense paid European study tour.

Well known personalities from the fashion and entertainment business serve as contest judges. Among the experts who annually assist in the selection of the winner is Edith Head, internationally famous designer and multi-Oscar winner; Bob Mackie, whose award winning creations are worn by many of the world's most glamorous women; Ray Aghayan, Emmy Award winner and television producer and Marylou Luther, fashion editor of the Los Angeles Times. Other members of the panel include the board members of the California Fashion Creators and T.V. personality, celebrity judge Toni Tenille.

"Our belief and faith in God, and trust in our fellowman, and worship is necessary for a full, well-balance life," Mrs. Smith conveyed.

A mentally healthy person depends on his or her ability to handle problems as they arise, with equanimity (reasonable, just and sensible decisions). Mrs. Smith worked at the Big Spring State Hospital several years and said that mental health care has advanced tremendously through the years.

"Our physical health depends mostly on our will power and common sense in developing good health habits: proper food, exercise, rest, work, recreation, and sleep," she said. Things to avoid are: alcohol, cigarettes, lack of exercise, overeating, and boredom.

Wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Tonn, 1712 E. 15th, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Tammie Leigh.

Miss Tonn will marry Charles David Lamar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sobo, Box 2042, Feb. 9 in the College Baptist Church. The Rev. Jack Clinkscales, pastor of the Forsan Baptist Church, will officiate.

Bradshaw's graduate

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Bradshaw, 3208 1st Place, Lubbock, and formerly of Big Spring, were December graduates of Texas Tech University. Both are graduates of Big Spring High School.

Bradshaw is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Bradshaw, Big Spring. He graduated from Tech with a degree in Mechanical Engineering Technology. He holds membership in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and the Society of Heating-Refrigeration Engineers. He is employed by Robert Madden, Inc., Lubbock.

Mrs. Bradshaw, the former Brenda Hester, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Hester, Big Spring. Special Education was the major emphasis of Mrs. Bradshaw's degree in Elementary Education. She is employed by the Lubbock Independent School District, teaching at Wheatley Elementary. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, an honorary organization.

Both students earned places on the Dean's list while attending Texas Tech, with Bradshaw having an over-all grade-point average of 3.15, and Mrs. Bradshaw a 3.86.

MARCH MARRIAGE — Mr. and Mrs. Dale Soles, Box 125-A Garden City Rd., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Vicki Michelle to Mark Wray Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garrett, 1107 E. 13th. The couple will speak their vows March 6 at the Birdwell Lane Church of Christ, with Byron Corn, minister, officiating.

Mrs. Smith speaks on personal health

The Big Spring Business and Professional Women's Club met Jan. 8 at 7 p.m., in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Kip Bracey presided and introduced Mrs. Mary Smith, chairman of the Personal Health Maintenance Committee, and her co-chairmen, Marie Affleck and Mary Newell, who were in charge of the program.

Mrs. Smith, a registered nurse at the VA Hospital, spoke on "Personal Health Maintenance." She said the three health ingredients necessary for a well-balance life are spiritual health, mental health, and physical health.

"Also, she stressed immediate attention be given to symptoms of diseases such heart disease, cancer, strokes, ulcers, eye diseases such as cataracts, detached retinas; glaucoma, diabetes; and to avoid anything that might aggravate the disease itself — for instance, she said that strokes are very much affected by family attitudes.

Any type of bleeding or unusual occurrence which can be seen or felt should be checked immediately.

They are the worst enemies to good health.

In speaking of health, Mrs. Smith said there are many people who need help that do not receive it because of shame or pride. There are many avenues for help available through state and federal government programs which people are entitled to who do not use them including the food stamp program, meals on wheels, help for alcoholic, drug addicts, family counseling, and others.

Also, she stressed immediate attention be given to symptoms of diseases such heart disease, cancer, strokes, ulcers, eye diseases such as cataracts, detached retinas; glaucoma, diabetes; and to avoid anything that might aggravate the disease itself — for instance, she said that strokes are very much affected by family attitudes.

Any type of bleeding or unusual occurrence which can be seen or felt should be checked immediately.

New mailout series on young children

Young children spend most of the preschool years learning about people and the world around them. Preschoolers want to know how machines work; what hurts and what does not hurt; why it rains and why the sunshines.

As a parent, you are a child's first teacher. You probably spend more time with your child than anyone else. What you teach your children when they are young will help them for the rest of their lives.

The series is entitled "Living with Children" and is free upon request. The series will consist of eight sections of focusing on such topics as play, discipline, growing up and learning to get along with others.

You may request enrollment in this series either by phone or mail. You will receive the first section of the series beginning Feb. 4. Contact Janet Rogers, county extension agent-home economics, 267-8469 or 267-1821, P.O. Box 790 Big Spring.

ELEANOR MATHENY Proven, Guaranteed Program.
OF BIG SPRING SAYS:

The day Pat Walker's Figure Perfection Salon opened in Big Spring was a very important one for me. I had heard about the program several years ago and was impressed with it. Naturally, when we were fortunate enough to get one located here, I made an appointment for an evaluation.

On July 12, 1978, I enrolled. Since that time I have had a weight loss of 40 lbs. and have firmed 71 inches. Needless to say, my health is much better and I have more energy than I have had in years.

It has been a pleasure to go to the Salon. The efficient personnel makes you feel so welcome and seem sincerely interested in your progress. I recommend the program highly.

Sincerely,
Eleanor Matheny

Couple wed Saturday in candlelight ceremony

Spiral candelabrum entwined with greenery accented the scene during the wedding ceremony uniting Deborah Meyer and David Baremore.

Performing the Saturday afternoon rite in the Tollett All Faith Chapel was Chaplain Lee Butler, pastor. An archway and unity candle completed the altar setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard W. (Bill) Meyer, Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Don Baremore, Snyder, are parents of the groom.

Wedding music was provided by pianist Ted McMillan, uncle of the groom, who accompanied vocalist Mrs. Janie McMillan.

The bride was given in marriage wearing a white full-length gown of sheer woven polyester underlaid with acetate taffeta. The lace applique trim on the sweetheart neckline was accentuated with seed pearls. The full skirt, which fell to a chapel-length train, was enhanced with front pleats edged in lace appliques. Matching lace sprinkled with seed pearls formed the headpiece from which flowed her bridal veil of illusion.

She carried a cascading bouquet of apricot rosebuds, and white orchids decorated with baby's breath.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Cheryl Wright, Garland. Teddy Baremore, Kermit, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Following the candlelight ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Baremore were feted with a reception in the chapel entertainment room.

The bride's table, draped with lace cloth, featured a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with apricot rosebuds and topped with white wedding bells. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Floor-length brown cloth overlaid with lace covered the groom's table. A bronze and wildflower centerpiece accented the setting from which chocolate cake and coffee were served.

Servers included Mrs. Beverly Faulkner, Mrs. Lashie Johnson, Mrs. Karon

1975 and is employed as vice president of Baremore Drilling Co.

The couple will reside in Snyder when they return from a week-long wedding trip to Corpus Christi.

MRS. DAVID BAREMORE

Huey and Mrs. Jacquie Ward.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Howard College where she received an Associate Arts degree. The groom graduated from Angelo State University in Elementary schools to participate in project

The City Council Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a Cultural Arts Project in the local elementary schools.

The purpose is to encourage creative expression among children. The divisions in which they will compete include Visual Arts (paintings and drawings); Literature (poetry, prose and drama); and music, which will consist of scores of original compositions, with or without words.

The age categories will be primary, grades 1-3; and intermediate, grades 4-6. Each entry must be directly related to the theme "Behind the Gates of Tomorrow."

Judging will be based on evidence of creative ability and expression of theme.

Each school participating will be awarding first, second and third places to each grade category. The first-place winner of each division will then be judged and the overall first-place winners will be sent to district competition.

District entries are due Feb. 1. All entries for local judging should be turned in by Jan. 28. The district winners will be due for state competition March 1.

Last year, only two schools participated in this project. This year, all elementary schools have been given information concerning the project and more participation is hoped for.

Award certificates will be presented to winners of each division at the respective schools' next PTA meeting.

Shelane Roberts, president of the Kentwood PTA, is the District Cultural Arts chairman this year. For further information, contact her at 267-2798 or call the school your child attends.

Thanks to readers

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

By ROBERT WALLACE, Ed. D. Copley News Service

Dr. Wallace: I want to thank the many, many readers of your column from 4 to 34 who took time to write to our daughter Susan Temple who has leukemia.

I'd like to bring your readers up to date on Susan's condition. Sue is much improved and is presently at home with the family. In the very near future she will undergo a bone marrow transplant and Sue's 20-year-old sister will be the donor.

You were right when you said the hospital would be avalanched with cards and letters addressed to Susan. The mail came from Wheeling, W.Va., Anaheim, Calif., Seattle, Wash., Gadsden, Ala., and cities too numerous to mention. These letters played an extremely important role in pulling our daughter through her crisis.

To those who wrote or offered their prayers, we want to express our heartfelt gratitude. Dr. Wallace, we are asking for one more favor. Please tell your readers to continue writing to Susan. She is very weak and can't do the things she enjoys, but she can read and that's the best medicine for her.

We are a Christian family, and believe that prayers are answered. Susan needs prayer.

We realize that you write a teen column but, let us assure you that your message reaches all ages.

Susan's (she's 17) new address is 1618 South School St., Lodi, Calif. 95248. Words cannot express our thanks. — Mr. and Mrs. Lather Temple, Lodi, Calif.

Teens: When I was a high school administrator, a fellow administrator had the tragic misfortune while driving his car, of hitting a bicycle with a young teen rider aboard. It was dusk and the driver never saw the boy swerve into his path until it was too late to avoid the terrible collision. The young boy died in the arms of my colleague.

This moving and unfortunate incident, even though it took place over six years ago, placed a great fear in me, fear that I would strike a bicycle and its rider while driving my car.

Whenever a possibility of a collision is present, I take extra precautions.

Last month I was in Chicago on a business trip and had time to stop and visit a bicycle show and was happy to meet a German-American lady who was displaying a bicycle safety device. Of all the items at the show, this one impressed me most.

This lady told me that she had been perfecting the item for over three years and had a patent pending for it in the United States, Europe and Japan. She said the device would be for sale sometime around Jan. 1, 1980.

The device is called "Night Eyes" and is a twinkling blinking light the shape of an elongated horseshoe. The idea is that the bicycle rider would be noticed at dusk and at night. For further information, please write to Night Eyes, P.O. Box 18354, Irvine, Calif. 92713.

Ceremony solemnized in Catholic church

The wedding vows uniting Cruz Marie Rocha and Arthur Olague were solemnized Saturday morning at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The Rev. James P. Delaney, O.M.I., read the 10:30 a.m. ceremony before arrangements of greenery sprinkled with white roses. A multi-branched candelabrum, entwined with greenery, completed the altar setting.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rocha Sr., Gail Rt., Box 34-A; and Mr. and Mrs. Diego Olague Sr., 909 N. Runnels.

Eva Rodriguez, organist, provided traditional wedding music as the bride was presented down the aisle wearing a white floor-length gown of bridal satin overlaid with lace organza. The bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline and full bishop sleeves which ended in deep ruffled cuffs. Falling from the natural waistline was a tiered skirt which cascaded in lace to a chapel-length train.

As a complement to her attire, the bride wore a flowing veil of bridal illusion which fell from a headpiece of crystal white azares. She carried a bouquet, also of crystal white azares.

Lydia Galindo, Chandler, Ariz., attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Teresa Rocha, Nina Alviar, Jessica Rubio, Susie Rubio, Helen Castro, Mary Ann Rocha and Sylvia Del Bosque.

Other groomsmen included Tommy Olague, Pete Campos, Robert Aguilar,

MRS. ARTHUR OLAGUE

Hilda Alacone, and Belinda Puga.

Ysa Rubio attended his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were Manuel Rubio, D.J. Alviar, Benito Rubio, Rudy Rubio, Danny Castro, Joe Rocha Jr., Frankie Rubio, Tony Cavazos, Johnny Jones and Bobby Villareal.

Other groomsmen included Tommy Olague, Pete Campos, Robert Aguilar, Alvin Rocha, Lalo Alacone and Tony Rubio.

Guests were seated by Mitch Alviar, cousin of the bride, and Ricky Lopez, cousin of the groom.

Immediately following the candlelight ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Olague were the honorees at a reception held in the Sacred Heart Youth Center. The couple were also feted with a dance at the Dora Roberts Fair Barn.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Howard College.

The groom graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Texas South-west College in Brownsville and Howard College.

The couple will make their home in Big Spring.

Amateur radio club to begin novice class

The Big Spring Amateur Radio Club will have its monthly meeting Monday, at 7:30 p.m. in the newly constructed club building, with program emphasis on emergency communication. All interested persons are invited to attend.

The building was built by volunteer labor of the local Hams, with a vision in mind of a base of operations during an emergency plus a place to meet, teach, train and fellowship.

The location gives a vantage point with respect to altitude. Local Hams own, and are trained in the operation of fixed, mobile and portable equipment. They have portable power as well. Currently they are in the process of notifying local government agencies, the Red Cross and others of the club capabilities.

Amateur Radio exists for two basic reasons, hobby and emergency. For example, there is an operator in Big Spring who has designed a 2-Meter antenna in use throughout the states.

Printed articles attributed dedication and success to Amateur Radio Operators following the tornado destruction in Wichita Falls.

A novice class will begin Jan. 17 for persons interested in becoming Amateur Radio Operators. The class will be from 7-10 p.m. weekly on Thursday evenings at a cost of $10 each. The novice license is the initial license in Amateur Radio and requires International Morse Code of 5 words per minute plus a written exam given by the instructor. It is then forwarded to the Federal Communications Commission for grading.

All interested persons are encouraged to enroll in an organization seeking to meet a need.

Recognizing hidden stress can save lives

After staying up late for weeks writing articles about stress-related problems, an author realized he was describing himself. A job change altered his lifestyle and probably saved him from physical damage.

An air traffic controller retired years early when his ulcers and high blood pressure forced him to leave his high-stress job.

A busy executive constantly fought off fatigue until one day he collapsed at his desk. In what he considered a heroic effort, he was back at work the next day. Despite the strain, he continued to work long, hard hours even though he collapsed twice since then.

All these true-life examples are various ways some people cope, often unsuccessfully, with stress. Since some stress is unavoidable in daily life, coping with it is a skill as essential as knowing how to read or make change.

Recognizing when stress is excessive is one of the keys to coping. If physical signs or other factors do not alert people to excess stress, they may follow the executive's example and then ultimately permanently collapse, according to the Texas Medical Association. TMA has compiled a checklist for physicians to help them avoid that possibility. These questions, which also apply to the general population, are designed to help spot a stress problem before it gets out of control:

Do you experience problems coping with people or with the normal stress of daily work?

Do you become easily depressed or easily annoyed?

Do you drink more than a moderate amount?

Do you over-use mood-altering drugs?

Do you find yourself slowing down, over-tired, or constantly placing work ahead of personal needs, family, recreation, or self-interest pursuits?

Other stress clues may include rapid heart beat, high blood pressure, fingernail biting and sleeplessness. Irritability and lack of concentration can be two of several possible mental indicators.

telephone counselling services, and churches may be able to offer professional counselling for specific situations.

But no amount of help can eliminate stress totally. In fact, a stress-free world would be dull, said Hans Selye, M.D., president of the International Institute of Stress in Montreal. Speaking to Texas psychiatrists in Austin recently, Dr. Selye defined stress as the body's response to any type of demand on it. A pleasant event such as Christmas can be stressful and can produce the same effects on the body as sitting in a dentist's chair.

Dr. Selye said each person has an individual stress level. But even "racehorse" types who can handle great amounts of stress have limits and should be wary of excess stress.

Dr. Selye has written about 1,600 articles and 30 books on stress but some of his basic recommendations on handling and eliminating stress include:

1. Discover your own comfortable stress level and live at that level.
2. Choose your own goals and follow them, not other people's ideas about what you should do.
3. Try to make yourself useful and necessary to others.

FUTURE PLANS — Mr. and Mrs. Elzy Ellis Davis, Sterling City Rt., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Kay, to James Alan Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wallace, Odessa. The prospective bridegroom is also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Wallace, Coahoma. The wedding date has been set for March 1 in the First Assembly of God, Big Spring. Rev. Tom Lakey, Lubbock, will officiate.

Happy families, happy marriages

COLLEGE STATION — Happy families create happy marriages, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In other words, the quality of early family life affects the lives of young people anticipating marriage, she explains.

Young people are usually conditioned early in life in ways that will make them "good" or "poor" risks in marriage.

Ten circumstances affecting this "conditioning" for marital happiness include:

- 1) happiness of parents
- 2) childhood happiness of marriage partner
- 3) lack of conflict with mother
- 4) firm, not harsh, family rules
- 5) closeness to mother
- 6) closeness to father
- 7) lack of conflict with father
- 8) frankness about sex

- 9) mild, infrequent childhood punishment
- 10) positive attitude toward sex in marriage

The most significant factors about marital happiness are directly related to the happiness and success of a parent's marriage and the relationship of parents and the adult child, the specialist continues.

Traits that affect marriageability in a negative sense are parent-child friction, broken homes and conflict in intact families.

In a sense, people are conditioned for marital success and happiness by their own family background.

Scenic Chapter to award scholarships

Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery was the speaker when the Scenic Chapter of American Business Womens Association met Tuesday night at Furr's Cafeteria. Mrs. Avery is the first woman to be Chamber of Commerce President in Big Spring.

Mrs. Avery said "Everyone has a business to sell, it is called 'You Inc.'" She stressed six things one should consider before doing anything else in 1980.

1. Time, how much time you will make to devote to yourself,

2. Energy: How alert you are mentally and physically,

3. Skills: Your training, education and talents,

4. Imagination: The ability to use your creativity,

5. Concentration: Your ability to follow through and get things done,

6. Decision: Your ability to make decisions.

Most people do not like to make decisions, they would rather be on a committee than be the Chairperson of it. No one can push or pull a person, it has to come from within and he must desire to take on responsibilities.

The Vocational Talk was given by Lone Hood, switchboard operator at the Veterans Administration Medical Center.

Pearly Nason from the De Oceana Chapter in Redondo Beach, Calif. has asked to affiliate with the Scenic Chapter.

The chapter congratulated Delores Le Vier on the bazaar which was held in December. Netted was $679.37 for the Scholarship Fund.

Boss night will be held in March and Kay Winn, president, appointed Jeanine Rundell as Boss Nite Chairman.

Two scholarships will be awarded this semester to Tammy Burcham who is attending Western Texas College in Snyder and Brenda Burnett at Howard College. Miss Burcham is studying to be a teacher and Miss Burnett is studying to be a nurse.

Guests at the meeting were Dene Sheppard, Teresa Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Harden, Dottie Robinson, Sarah Higgins, Pearly Nason and Mrs. Avery.

Bridal Lines

Here at the Accent Shoppe, we've heard of brides who know about the availability and importance of the Bridal Gift Registry, yet hesitate to register. They say they don't yet know what they want. But that's the very reason the registry is such a help! Our consultant will show you patterns and styles, give you advice, make suggestions, and spend as much time with you as you like. It's a great opportunity to have help deciding which gifts might best fit into your new lifestyle. And remember too, that you don't have to make all your decisions in one visit. You should take your time making important decisions. After all, you thought about marriage before your fiancé actually asked you, didn't you?

100,000 kids snatched yearly from parents by parents

An estimated 100,000 American children are abducted every year, but it's not your ordinary kidnapping case, says an article in the Feb. 1 Family Circle magazine. These abducted children are snatched from one parent by the other parent, and only one child out of five is ever recovered.

Behind the statistics is the fact that in many cases the abducting parent is breaking no law. The Family Circle article, which relates the true account of a woman whose estranged husband stripped their house and took away their three children while she was out, explains that the Lindbergh Law, the Federal legislation dealing with kidnapping, excludes a parent who abducts his or her child. And in cases where parents are not legally divorced or separated and where there isn't as yet a custody decision, no state law applies.

Receives B.S. degree

Jacquelyn Ann Frerich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Frerich of Garden City, finished her course of study with a B.S. degree in Home Economics Education from Texas Tech University recently.

During the three and a half years, Miss Frerich was listed on the Dean's List, was an active member in the Texas Tech Women's Swing Choir, and was a Texas Tech American Home Economics Association (AHEA) member for three years, one of which she served as treasurer. She also was a member of the Vocational Homemaking Teachers Association of Texas (VHTAT). Recently, she completed her student teaching in Home Economics at Midland High School.
