Inflation rate soars to 33-year high

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices climbed 1.2 percent in December, pushing inflation for all of last year to 13.3 percent, the worst annual increase in 33 years, the Labor Department reported today.

What cost consumers $1 in the 1967 base year cost them nearly $2.30 as of 1979 ended.

Over the year, workers' real spendable earnings were down 5.3 percent as a result of higher taxes and other rising costs. While average wages before taxes rose 8 percent, they were offset by a slight decrease in hours worked and a very high inflation rate.

The acceleration last year was caused primarily by housing and energy-fueled transportation costs, which rose relentlessly and accounted for about three-fourths of the entire increase in the Consumer Price Index in 1979.

Through the inflation-ravaged year, the price of a gallon of gasoline rose an average of 35.7 cents, while home heating oil jumped an average of 33.8 cents a gallon, the department said.

All energy costs rose 34.7 percent.

Last year also saw: —Home financing costs skyrocketed 34.7 percent;

—House prices shoot up 15.8 percent;

—Food and beverages rise 10 percent;

—All transportation costs, including automobile prices, jump 18.2 percent;

—Medical care climb 10.1 percent.

December's 1.2 percent rise offered little prospect of relief to inflation-weary Americans, for it was somewhat higher than the average monthly increase through November.

The final CPI for 1979 is especially important because it affects the wages and benefits of more than 90 million Americans and the spending of billions of federal dollars.

That's because the index is used to calculate cost of living raises for more than 9 million union and non-union workers; benefit increases for more than 34 million Social Security recipients, and adjustments for 18 million food stamp recipients, 28 million children and elderly persons receiving meal subsidies and millions of other welfare recipients.

Economists estimate the government spends $1 billion to $2 billion for each percentage point rise in the CPI. The index is a survey of the average changes in retail prices for a fixed list of goods and services ranging from food, housing and energy to shoes, tobacco and vacation travel.

As a result of rising consumer prices throughout the year, the average gross weekly earnings of Americans fell 5.3 percent, the Labor Department reported.

An 8 percent increase in average hourly earnings — slightly above the figure prescribed by President Carter's voluntary wage guidelines — was offset by a slight decrease in hours worked and the high inflation rate.

The CPI's rise has been relentless, increasing at least 1 percent a month since last January. And President Carter's chief inflation fighter said Thursday that no relief is in sight.

In fact, Alfred Kahn, chairman of the Council on Wage and Price

Stability, said increased defense spending to counter Soviet actions could "aggravate" inflation.

President Carter has proposed a 3 percent increase in fiscal 1981 defense spending, after discounting for inflation. And several members of Congress indicate they will push to increase that amount in light of the Russian occupation of Afghanistan.

Kahn also said recent rises in mortgage interest rates and oil prices "will continue to give us a high rate of increase in the CPI for months to come."

In the 12 months ending last November, housing costs rose 14.3 percent, the Labor Department reported.

Vote the way Ayatollah you to!

By The Associated Press
Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini left his hospital bed today to cast his ballot and spur his countrymen to the polls for the election of the first president of their new Islamic republic.

Tehran Radio said the 79-year-old leader of the Iranian revolution, who was hospitalized early Thursday after what was officially described as a mild heart attack, "went to a polling booth at the hospital this morning and cast his ballot."

Another broadcast said Khomeini's condition this morning was satisfactory and he had said his morning prayers.

Revolutionary guardsmen were on the alert throughout Iran, guarding against "foreign mercenaries" who the government radio said were plotting to disrupt the election. But last-minute electioneering proceeded normally Thursday, and Tehran's streets were awash with campaign posters.

Man, woman of year to be named at Chamber of Commerce banquet

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce will announce the winners of its annual 'Man of the Year' and 'Woman of the Year' awards at its membership banquet, scheduled to get under way at 7 p.m., Saturday in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Upwards to 800 people may attend the event, including numerous people from out of town.

Ambassador Club members continued to sell tickets today for the banquet. The tickets are priced at $10 each. The team headed by Mel Prather has been especially effective in recent days selling the tickets.

The banquet is being staged in the coliseum for the first time, a place that holds many advantages over the sites in previous years. The seating arrangement is such that everyone in the banquet hall will be within 90 feet of the speaker's podium.

"Launching the Eighties" will be the theme of the banquet and the banquet room will be appropriately decorated. A group of women headed by Edna Womack are concentrating their efforts today on giving the coliseum a festive look.

Live trees and plants will be used around the perimeter of the seating area. Special lighting and dinner music will serve to create a dining atmosphere. At the close of the banquet, the trees, plants and centerpieces will be offered for sale at reduced rates.

The diners are going to eat well, too. The menu includes an eight-ounce fillet, baked potato, green salad, roll and dessert.

Both the Ambassadors and Howard College girls who work as Presidential Classics will usher the guests to their seats.

R.H. Weaver will serve as emcee. G. Robert Gadberry of Wichita, Kansas, who is gaining a national reputation as an after-dinner speaker, will deliver the principal address. Gadberry is noted for his light-hearted approach to life.

The banquet chairman is Sandra Killough, who reminds Big Spring residents that the decade of the 80s offers a real opportunity to the citizens to demonstrate their support for the community and the leaders who work to promote its growth and prosperity.

The program will get under way promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Last year's banquet was held in the High School Cafeteria.

Linked to nude mother, son slayings

An East Texas double murder bears "eye catching" resemblances to the Reeves murders that occurred here April 26, said Howard County Sheriff's Deputy Bill Shankles.

Mr. and Mrs. George Arriola were abducted from a family owned liquor store at closing time Monday night in west Nacogdoches County. Their bodies were found in the country. They had died from gunshot wounds from a small caliber weapon, possibly a .22.

Ann and Tracey Reeves were abducted from the IS 20 on highway 350 Texaco station at closing time also. Their bodies were also found in the country, dead from .22 caliber gunshot wounds.

Mrs. Arriola had been stripped, just as Mrs. Reeves had been. As in the Reeves case, robbery was the apparent motive of the abduction.

Mr. and Mrs. Arriola were approximately 59 years of age.

Mr. Arriola's body was found 13 miles from his wife's body. He was clothed and had a gunshot wound in the back.

Mrs. Arriola had apparently been shot with two weapons—a .22 caliber and a .38 caliber or a 357 magnum. She had been shot once in the breast, neck and side. Neither victim showed signs of having been tied or restrained.

Ann and Tracey Reeves had not been tied either. They had also been shot several times. In neither case was there any other sign of physical abuse.

Another similarity was that in both cases the woman's car was taken from the abduction scene and abandoned a short distance away.

Both murder cases bear the similarity of having no witnesses to the abductions.

"It could be just a coincidental deal, but the similarity there is worth looking at. It could be no relation at all," said Shankles. "Let me say this, I'm going to stay in touch with investigators there on the progress of their investigation."

Shankles said he would call Nacogdoches County Chief Sheriff's Deputy Don Griffin today.

The bodies of the Arriola couple were found in neighboring Angelina County. Rain was falling in this East Texas County at that time.

The bodies will undergo autopsies.

Tops on TV: Namath, love

Joe Namath, who regrouped after fading into the wings in professional football and is currently promoting pantie hose, cologne or whatever on television, appears in NBC's "Marriage is Alive and Well," scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight. However, the best bet may be the ABC offering, "Mother and Daughter: The Loving War," which begins at the same time. This is the story of a woman (Tuesday Weld) who had an unwanted child (Kathleen Beller), but works very hard to raise the girl and herself to a good level. A man Tuesday likes enters the scene and could change everything but the daughter puts a stop to the relationship. The daughter herself has a child and only then realizes the sacrifices her mother made for her. The relationship becomes quite strained, at times.

Two armed Muslims hijack jet to Havana

ATLANTA (AP) — Two hijackers believed armed and claiming to be Black Muslims commandeered a Delta Air Lines jet carrying 64 persons from Atlanta to New York early today. They forced the plane to fly to Havana where they demanded another plane to take them to Iran.

State Department spokesman David Passage said in Washington that the hijackers asked Cuban authorities to provide them with a plane to Tehran, but the Cubans refused. Delta said the hijacked plane, a wide-bodied L-1011, was not equipped to cross the ocean.

FBI agent Welton Merry in Miami said "At least two of the passengers have been identified as hijackers. They claim to be Black Muslims and they want to go to Tehran."

There were reports the hijackers carried a gun or a bomb. Merry said his only definite word was that they were armed with "real weapons."

Nearly seven hours after Flight 1116 landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport at 4:03 a.m. EST, its doors remained shut and Passage said the only person allowed off was one unidentified diabetic passenger who was taken to a Havana hospital.

There were no reports of injuries. The flight was hijacked over Greensboro, N.C., at about 1:51 a.m. EST, said Delta spokesman Jim Ewing.

Dennis Feldman, a spokesman for the FAA in Washington, said the plane apparently was being refueled in Havana and was to return to Miami. Aviation officials in Miami said they had not received a flight plan from Havana.

Delta spokesman Gordon Barrington said in Atlanta that the plane carried 51 adult passengers, two infants and a crew of 11.

Feldman also said before the plane landed in Havana "our information is that there is a man in the cockpit with a gun."

However, a State Department spokesman who declined to be named said a hijacker told the crew he had a bomb.

The flight began Thursday in Los Angeles and stopped in Dallas before arriving in Atlanta, taking off from there at 1 a.m. for Kennedy International Airport in New York.

The last hijacking of a U.S. airliner to Cuba occurred June 11, 1979, when a lone man took over a Delta jet en route from New York to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The passengers and crew were allowed to return to the United States.

U.S. airplane hijackings began in 1961 when Antulio Ramirez Ortiz forced a National Airlines plane to fly him from Florida to Cuba.

It's show time here Saturday

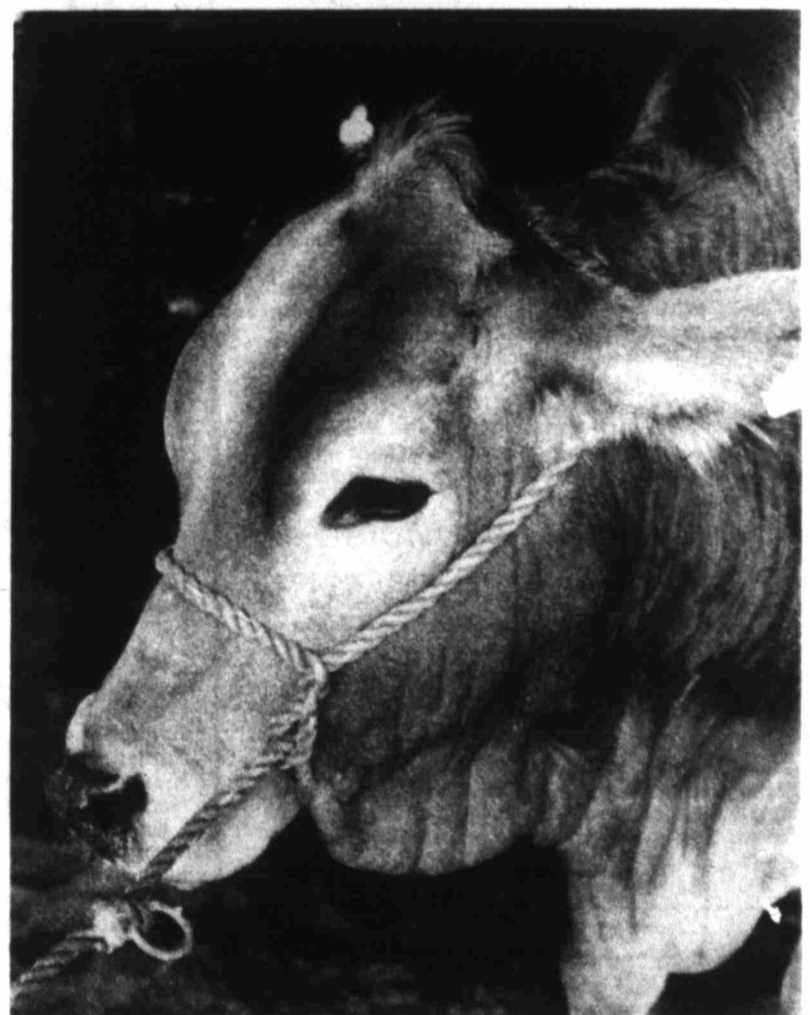

Eager youngsters busied themselves with washing and trimming their lambs and steers this morning in preparation for Saturday's Howard County Junior Livestock 4-H and FFA Show.

George Achlswede, San Angelo area livestock specialist from the county extension office, gave a seminar at 10 a.m. for the students on showmanship. He gave them tips on how to hold their lambs while the judge feels the animal for conditioning.

County Agent Don Richardson expects 200 animals in all. Currently most of the steers are at the Howard County Fair Barn. Around 50 of the lambs that will be exhibited have not been brought in.

Approximately 150 students will enter. Richardson said this morning

BUTTERFLIES? — The day before the show, 4-H and FFA students are feeling the butterflies but a steer as big as this fellow must get wombats. He doesn't appear too worried though.

25 or 30 have yet to register.

The lambs were sheared two weeks ago in most cases. The steers are being trimmed this week. It takes them around six hours to trim a steer.

The lambs are being washed today and will be trimmed again. Richardson said each animal may be on a different ration to control their weight. Weight can be affected even two days before a show by withholding corn and water or giving them higher amounts, he said.

Rick Vestal, Martin County Agent, officiated at the weigh-in and classifying this afternoon at 1 p.m.

Saturday the lambs will be judged at 8 a.m. followed by steer judging at noon. Sales begin at 4 p.m. with a barbecue at 6 p.m.

Farm

Texas farmers had planned to decrease grain acreage

AUSTIN — From farmer surveys taken before the grain embargo, it is evident that Texas farmers had planned to decrease their 1980 acreage in the major fields crops except corn and sorghum, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service released the annual Jan. 1 report on preliminary planting plans for state farmers this week.

Corn growers surveyed indicated that their acreage would be up 21 percent above 1979. "With the embargo on Russian exports and the supplies that will be available in the U.S., that percentage will probably not hold up," Brown said.

"Most farmers are just waiting to learn more specific details on the Federal storage plans and on the possible set-aside program," he added.

Sorghum acreage is forecast to be up slightly over last year with a total of 5,200,000.

With the near-record crop in cotton last year, plantings in 1980 are expected to be down one per cent at 7.6 million acres.

Other crops which are expected to have decreased acreage are barley, 100,000; flaxseed, 4,000; oats, 1,500,000; rice, 545,000; and soybeans, 850,000.

Soyflower acreage showed a high increase of 87 percent. Farmers indicate planted acreage of 187,000.

Gold rush may hurt fish

SEATTLE (AP) — A fishery biologist says he fears dredging by a rush of gold prospectors in the state's rivers and streams will harm salmon runs this spring.

Millard Deussen said he is concerned because hundreds of people, spurred by higher gold prices, are buying portable dredges that suck up material from stream bottoms and separate any gold from gravel, silt and sand. Salmon lay their eggs in shallow, gravelly areas.

Drug scandal at academy

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — An investigation of use and sale of marijuana at the Air Force Academy has led to the resignation of 12 cadets, officials report.

Lt. Col. Robert Hunter said Thursday the investigation began a month ago and focused on 18 cadets. He said 12 cadets resigned, four have been cleared of any involvement and the remaining two face disciplinary action. Identities were not released.

Academy officials said only small amounts of marijuana were involved.

Steel price going up

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 6.5 percent price increase on steel used mainly in beverage and food containers has been announced by National Steel Corp., the nation's third largest producer.

National said Thursday the increases on those tin-mill products, effective April 1, affect about 20 percent of the company's entire product line.

"These increases are moderate considering the very strong demand for tin-mill products and are in keeping with the government's anti-inflation program," Chairman George Stinson said.

Navy had sagest of years

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Navy had 128 major aircraft accidents last year in which 74 lives and 93 planes were lost, but 1979 was still one of the Navy's safest years.

Except for a series of crashes in the last six weeks of the year, 1979 would have been the best year for the service in the past decade, according to figures from the Navy Safety Center here.

However, messages to all Navy commands last week showed the office of the chief of naval operations is not satisfied. Vice Adm. Wesley L. McDonald, deputy chief of naval operations for air warfare, said he wants all squadrons to aim for a "zero accident rate."

Hostage-taker convicted

ATLANTA (AP) — A Fulton Superior Court jury has convicted Mark Anthony Haynes of holding a secretary hostage for 20 hours at the Hyatt Regency Atlanta hotel last October.

The jury deliberated for one hour Thursday and found Haynes guilty of kidnapping for ransom, armed robbery and aggravated assault. The charges stemmed from an incident last Oct. 4 and 5 in which hotel secretary Donna Craig was held hostage while Haynes negotiated with police. Miss Craig was released unharmed and Haynes was arrested after the car police provided for him did not start.

Sentencing was set for Feb. 1.

The group, which ate chili in the cafeteria before regrouping in the auditorium, was entertained by several members of the high school band and drill team. Prizes valued at $2,000 were given away before the meeting ended.

Radioactive material out following California quake

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Water laced with radioactive tritium trickled from a storage tank at a nuclear weapons lab today, following an earthquake in Northern California that cracked buildings and roads and injured dozens of persons.

The leak at the Lawrence Livermore lab began Thursday at the rate of a quart a minute and dwindled today to several gallons per hour, according to spokesman Michael Ross.

The tank, on a base of impermeable asphalt, was cordoned off as officials monitored the leak. Ross said the leak might continue for several days.

The seepage was apparently caused by Thursday morning's quake, which measured 5.5 on the Richter scale and was described by one person as a "gentle, rolling motion, not the usual jolt."

Ross said the radioactive tritium content of the water was about half the concentration permitted to be discharged into sewers under federal regulations, and that it posed no health hazard.

Earlier, most of the lab's 7,200 employees were evacuated when officials discovered leaking gas.

Ross said the 640-acre facility, one of two nuclear weapons labs in the nation, suffered only minor structural damage. He said there was no radiation leakage from the plant's nuclear reactor.

About 30 persons at the complex were treated for minor injuries.

In Livermore, at least two dozen persons were treated for minor injuries and released, and Margy Odell, spokeswoman for a local hospital, said six persons were admitted for additional treatment.

Dr. Bruce Bolj of the Berkeley Seismographic Station said the tremor's epicenter was located 12 miles northwest of Livermore. It was followed almost immediately by two severe aftershocks measuring 5.2 and 4.8. Two more strong aftershocks occurred Thursday night, registering 4.6 and 4.4 on the Richter scale.

"Wow! It moved my refrigerator 3 1/2 feet, and threw all my antique bottles off the fireplace," said Lynne Phillips, a Livermore resident.

Among the hardest hit areas was the Springtown Mobile Home Park where residents were evacuated after 133 units were shaken from their foundations.

Classes were held outside for some 12,000 students at 14 schools while officials checked for structural damage. About 16,000 electrical customers were without power.

Mel Leach, a liquor store owner in nearby Dublin, was working in the vodka section of his warehouse when the quake hit. Moments later, gasping from the fumes of wine and liquor, he picked his way through the 16,000 square feet of shattered glass. More than 1,000 containers had crashed to the floor.

Next door, a K-Mart store suffered $100,000 damage, as ceiling lights and braces smashed to the floor and merchandise pitched into the aisles. No one was injured.

Trailways 'Uniflation' Bus fares reduced

DALLAS — Trailways bus fares, available any time to interstate destinations anywhere for persons 65 years of age or older, have been reduced by 13 percent, which is equal to the percentage increase of inflation in 1979, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

The announcement for the Trailways "Uniflation Fare" was made by James L. Kerrigan, Chief Executive Officer, at a press conference in Washington.

Trailways, Inc., one of the nation's largest bus companies, operates 2,154 buses serving 5,000 cities, towns and rural communities in 43 states.

"We believe that this is the first time that a company serving the needs of senior citizens has set fares by taking into full account the insidious economic forces over which the elderly have no control," Kerrigan said.

"Our nation's senior citizens are entitled to a break in coping with inflation. Like everyone else, they should have the opportunity to visit loved ones, to travel for pleasure, and to enjoy some of the mobility that others take for granted," he added.

Because our nation's elderly, living on fixed incomes, do not contribute to inflation with higher paychecks, they should not have to suffer its ravages in their daily lives," he continued.

Today's announcement of the "Uniflation Fare" comes one year after Trailways introduced its first comprehensive fare reduction of 10 percent for senior citizens. Ms. Kerrigan indicated that this 20 percent reduction was extremely successful over the past year, during which time several million elderly passengers utilized the lower cost service.

"It was clear to us, as the inflation figures for 1979 became available, that 10 percent simply was not enough, and that we could create a whole new concept of serving elderly people on fixed incomes by indexing our fare reductions to the precise amount of inflation," he said.

According to Kerrigan, Trailways has a long history of special fare reductions for the unemployed and handicapped as well. "Over many years," he said, "Trailways has responded to those in our society who deserve special consideration. Our 'Uniflation Fare' is thus not an isolated exception, but is consistent with established company policy."

He also invited other organizations serving senior citizens to join with Trailways in gearing charges for their services to increases in inflation. "We believe other service organizations share our concern for the needs of the elderly, and will join with us in this effort to improve the quality of life for them. I am sincerely hopeful that they will do so," he said.

Police beat Young burglars seized

Local police arrested a six-boy burglary ring with a combined age of 49.

The young burglars, two aged eight, one 10, one 11, and one 12, had already ferreted away over $2,000 worth of stolen merchandise before they were caught. Officers Sean Curran, Bill Price and David Spilman made the first arrest, 1:30 p.m. Thursday, that led to the capture of the others.

According to Lt. Claude Morris, the youths had hidden the goods inside the residence of one of the burglars where even his parents hadn't found it.

The biggest haul came from the home of W.J. McNew, 511 Galveston. Stolen were a .22 caliber rifle, a .410 shotgun, a tool box, a hydraulic jack, a telephone and a camera. Loss was estimated at $2,000.

Officers found identifying features on some of the other recovered merchandise. A portable radio and alarm clock were returned to their owner, O.M. Long, 1006 W. 6th apartment 2. Leslie Kimble, 1006 W. 6th apartment 4, retrieved a clock radio, watch and camera.

Other items may be traced in the near future. Off-duty Patrolman Gilbert Barraza walked into the Giant Food Store, North Lamesa Highway, just as employees there were subduing a shoplifter. The thief managed to break away, and while trying to escape, ran into Barraza. Barraza hit him back, knocking him onto a counter at the store where he was finally subdued. The suspect faces charges of shoplifting and assaulting a peace officer.

Thieves ripped off three scaffolds belonging to Dry Walk Specialists of Dallas. The equipment had been located in a storage building at the College Park Shopping Center, and was valued at $870.

Only one mishap was reported Thursday. Vehicles driven by John Christian, 403 W. 3rd, and Samuel Shover, 2004 Gregg, collided at 819 W. 3rd, 4:04 p.m.

Backing Carter's pledge tall order for military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States faces serious military handicaps in backing President Carter's pledge to repel any Soviet drive to gain control of the oil-producing Persian Gulf region.

The Carter administration is moving to overcome these handicaps.

But it could take five years or longer to correct major deficiencies in U.S. ability to send large Army and Marine forces and their heavy equipment to remote areas and to sustain them with supplies and reinforcements in extended fighting.

Meanwhile, American strategists are counting on long-range nuclear missiles and bombers to deter the Soviets from any move that would endanger vital U.S. interests. Carter made it clear a Russian grab for control of the Persian Gulf would be so regarded.

Navy analysts warned a dozen years ago that the first voyage of a Soviet naval task force there probably was the forerunner of a long-term Russian program to dominate that vast area after the British pulled out. They were ignored.

Federal judge strikes at discriminatory law

EL PASO, Texas (AP)—A federal judge has struck down several "invidiously discriminatory" provisions of Texas election law that could open new political doors to many officeholders in the state.

U.S. District Judge Harry Lee Hudspeth, in a lawsuit filed here by four elected officials, ruled Thursday that provisions of the state election law are unconstitutional.

The provisions required some elected officials to resign before running for another office and forbid other officeholders from campaigning for the Legislature even if they do resign.

"This prohibition affects mayors and city councilmen, whose terms typically end in April of a non-election year, as well as many judges and other officials serving four-year terms. No reciprocal prohibition, however, is placed upon a legislator seeking to run for mayor or judge," Hudspeth said in his ruling.

Hudspeth said no trial was necessary and he issued a summary judgment in favor of County Court-at-Law Judge John Fashing, two justices of the peace and a constable.

According to the suit, County Court Judge John Fashing would consider running for the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals if the law were different.

Court officials said the ruling does away with the two provisions unless it is appealed by the Texas attorney general.

The state Attorney General's office had argued the law was necessary to prevent public officials from abusing powers and neglecting old jobs while campaigning for new ones.

The state also contended the laws were not restrictive because they only applied if an officeholder who had more than a year of a term remaining.

Hudspeth noted the law did not cover all officials.

"Can a classification be upheld which allows a municipal court judge ... to run for district judge without resigning his office, while a justice of the peace cannot," Hudspeth said in the ruling.

Weather

Unseasonably warm weather forecast

By the Associated Press

Scattered showers were forecast for Southeast Texas, but most of the state was to have another day of good weather with unseasonably warm temperatures.

Skies were partly cloudy over the northern half of the state and mostly cloudy over the southern half.

Highs were to range from the upper 40s in the Panhandle to the low 70s in the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas. Most areas were to have highs in the 50s and 60s.

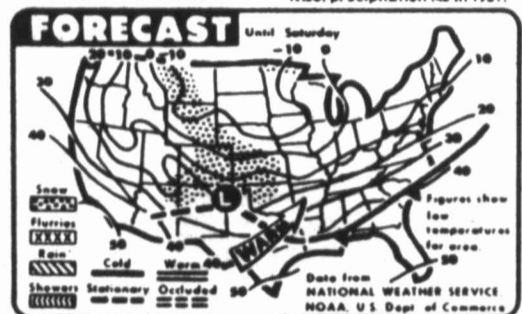

Colder weather appeared to be in store for the northern half of the state by tonight with the possibility of some freezing rain mixed with snow expected in the Panhandle.

Scattered light rain fell during the night near Del Rio and along the upper Texas coast, but there were no reports of significant rainfall.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the mid 30s in the Panhandle to the mid 50s along the coast.

WEST TEXAS — Mostly fair today, becoming cloudy north and partly cloudy south. A slight chance of freezing rain mixed with snow Panhandle late tonight Saturday. Colder north and cooler south Saturday. Highs upper 40s north to 70s Big Bend. Lows near 20 north to upper 30s south. Highs Saturday near 30 north to low 40s south except low 70s Big Bend.

WEATHER FORECAST — A band of snow is expected in the forecast period, today until Saturday morning, to the Southwest and southeastern Plains. Warm weather is forecast along the southern tier of states from the Southwest to Florida but most areas will be cold.

Islamic confab postponed?
ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — The Islamic foreign ministers' conference to discuss a common strategy against the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan may be postponed from Saturday to Sunday at Iran's request, conference sources said.
They said the Iranians told conference officials Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh couldn't attend Saturday because he is a candidate in Iran's presidential election, and returns were expected Saturday.
They also said Iran, Syria, Libya and the Palestine Liberation Organization objected to holding the conference Saturday because it coincides with the day Egypt and Israel are to normalize relations.

Shoplifters make all of us suffer

Most shopkeepers resign themselves to the fact that they are going to lose a certain amount of goods to shoplifters over a period of time. The busier a store is, the more apt it is to be plagued by shoplifters.

Shoplifting is both a national plague and a national disgrace. The crime is not only a battle of wits between the criminal and the store employees. The general public is deeply involved because they, in time, must make good the losses suffered by the merchant. The losses simply are passed along to the public in the way of price hikes.

THE SMALL RETAILER is 35 times more likely to be victimized by the light-fingered gentry than the retailer who has receipts of $5 million annually and more. Last year, amateur shoplifting, the most common crime, depleted inventories nationwide by considerably more than $2 billion.

Shoplifting is one of the fastest growing crimes in America, perhaps because some of the older people, who discover they can't quite manage on fixed incomes, are engaging in the pursuit, too. It's estimated that over a third of all property theft is done by shoplifters.

Under Texas law, shoplifting is an act of theft. Theft, as defined by the Texas Penal Code, Article 31.03, Section "A," is when a person "unlawfully appropriates property with intent to deprive the owner of property." In other words, it is simply a more gentle word than "stealing."

HOW GREAT A LOSS does the average person suffer because the shoplifter takes his share? It's probably bigger than you think. Estimates on the markup of goods to cover losses to shoplifters run as high as 15 per cent.

Shoplifting becomes rather intense at holiday time but it can occur at any time.

Shoplifters are not always easy to catch, either. The burden of proof that they have been active at their trade lies with shop attendants, who might see the criminals commit their act but must wait until the light-fingered gentry gets outside their places of business before accusing them of it. By that time, it may have been too late.

Marx is dead

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Although it is likely that more academic and philosophical attention has been devoted in the last 50 years to the flowering of Marxist thought and to life under Marxism, it is astonishing how little thought is given to the great residual paradox. It is expressed in the antipodal manifestos of our time.

THE FIRST IS THE voice of Solzhenitsyn, a single voice to be sure, but it is the voice of baptized humanity. What he said is that there is probably not one believing Marxist in Moscow. The contrary voice is the voice of — the Politburo: a great assembly of lords secular, disposing of 3,000 silos armed with hydrogen bombs, the world's greatest army, navy, submarine force; the greatest satellite empire since Rome's; the world's greatest intelligence service. The largest number of client states in the world. They are fighting for the most penetrable idiocies in the history of superstition; and yet on and on they go.

What would the Soviet Union be if you stripped it of its ideological pretensions? The answer to that question is most easily given, one supposes, if it were asked of, say, Machel in Mozambique, or Castro, or the Ethiopian sadist; or those grisly imposters in France and Italy and East Germany. There are three typhonic vectors in the postwar world. One of them is nationalism. The second — related — is anti-imperialism. The third is Marxist imperialism.

ALTHOUGH EVERY nation represented in the United Nations, ourselves included, will vote against imperialism, very nearly as many (subtract a dozen) regularly vote to ratify the Soviet Union's de facto imperialism. Although every nation will swear out a blood oath against tyranny, the majority will back tyranny — as long as it is done in the holy name of Marx. Find yourself any old country, impoverished, agricultural, illiterate; by rigorous definition laid down by Marx himself, lacking the constituent parts to pass over into communism. But you need only require that the prevailing tyrant declare himself to be a Marxist, and the propaganda war is half-won. If Machel of Mozambique had said everything he had said, done everything he had done, but announced that he was just a good old-fashioned bourgeois despot, he'd have been the target of universal obloquy from the beginning, in 1974. He had only to say that he is a Marxist, and he is blessed among the ignorant, and the cynical, of this world.

The question arises: Why doesn't the West take better advantage of the palpable superstitions? The obvious differences apart, Karl Marx was no more reliable a prophet than the Reverend Jim Jones. Karl Marx was a genius, an uncannily resourceful manipulator of world history who shoved everything he knew, thought and devised into a Ouija board from whose movements he decocted universal laws. He had his following, during the late phases of the Industrial Revolution, when certain superficial congruities between his thought, and his vaticinations, enthralled members of the intellectual community. But he has been discredited by historical experience longer ago than the Wizard of Oz; and still, great grown people sit around, declare themselves to be Marxists and make excuses for Gulag and Afghanistan.

The Republican candidate for the president of the United States should declare himself devoted absolutely to the total atomization of the Marxist myth. He doesn't need to conscript thinkers-for-hire. The thinking has been done. The research has been done.

Glands control calcium in body

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Please tell me about parathyroidism. My mother is 69 and has been told she has this. Is this really rare? She had many kidney stone problems the past four years. She has had surgery for removal of some of her parathyroid glands. Then her blood calcium went from a reading of 21 down to 16 and then back to 17. So now she will need further surgery on the thymus gland.

Mom seems better. At least her appetite is better and so is her attitude. She had been losing weight. Please explain all this for us. — Mrs. M.M.

It's not as complicated as it may seem.

The parathyroid glands are located in the neck. They adhere to the surface of the back of the thyroid gland — hence the name "para" (around) thyroid.

These glands control the use of body calcium and phosphorus through the hormones they secrete (parathyroid hormones).

Too much of these hormones can have very subtle effects at first. As time goes on the problem becomes more obvious with recurring kidney stones, peptic ulcers and personality changes. Actual loss of bone substance comes later.

The condition is diagnosed by laboratory tests to measure the levels of calcium and phosphorus and of the parathyroid hormones in the blood.

Yes, it is a relatively rare disease — reported in about one case in 1,000 patients yearly.

Most often, removing the over-producing glands results in cure. Sometimes all four glands have to be removed.

There is another rare circumstance. In some people a couple of parathyroid glands, through some quirk, may be found farther down from the neck close to the thymus gland. These may have to be removed also, and this is possibly the case with your mother.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am 16 years old and weigh 115 pounds. My problem is that I have only menstruated once, when I was 13. Other girls at school with the same problem say their doctors tell them this is "normal." They say not to worry because it takes some longer than others. Is this anything to worry about? — Concerned.

Menses can be quite irregular in the first year after the beginning of menstruation. For awhile periods can be quite irregular.

This problem usually solves itself within a year. You have been period-free for three years. Beyond a year, this should be investigated to be absolutely sure the irregularity is only a phase of adolescence. This is what your girlfriends have done, and it is what you should do. See your doctor.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My granddaughter brought her five-month-old daughter home for the family to see for the first time. The baby is fine and healthy, but her ears protrude. One is worse than the other.

I am very distressed and feel something can and should be done. The family seems oblivious to the whole thing and I don't want to mention it. — Mrs. W.G.

Ears protrude usually because of a lack of natural support from the underlying cartilage. Plastic surgery can correct this, but it is best to delay until the ear has had sufficient time to develop. What appears prominent in a five month old may not be so prominent in a five-year-old. Age five is soon enough to discuss this. If you have noticed this it is a good bet that the child's parents have also. Let them handle it. Female hair styles usually camouflage such harmless defects.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

Many words have been written and spoken about the marvelous scientific know-how which brought Louise, the "test-tube" baby to Gilbert and Lesley Brown in Britain.

Something is so grotesquely out of focus, namely, it is the fuss over the birth of one child and the deafening silence over the slaughter of millions of babies through abortion. Such a development of a child with the aid of medical science is, of course, a noteworthy event; but when we are told about the destruction of one million lives annually, we merely sigh, turn the page, and go on to the next item of news. No outrage, no days of prayer in churches, no out-cries from the protesters who lamented the killing of baby seals or marched in defense of the snail darter. Nothing but silence!

We've become apathetic and blah to all that blood flowing from our "legal" and tax supported abortion mills. One child was awaited with great eagerness. Only Heaven's gates heard the stampeding little feet of the millions as they rushed and are rushing daily through the pearly gates to join the "Holy Innocents" of King Herod's day. After all, they have so much in common. Both groups are dead because they were an inconvenience to someone's pleasure.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I guess I have really made a mess of my life. I am only 18, but I have had two abortions and also have been hooked on drugs. Now I am in a hospital to get straightened out. Can God help me live the way I ought to? — L.N.

DEAR L.N.: He not only can, but He will if you will allow Him to work in your life. The New Testament is full of people who, like you, had become entangled in all kinds of problems but who discovered that Jesus Christ could help. The Bible says, "If anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has gone, the new has come!" (2 Corinthians 5:17).

All your life you have left God out, and have sought only what you thought would bring you happiness and pleasure. You have discovered, however, that this kind of life leads eventually to great unhappiness and sorrow. The Bible tells us, "Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows. The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature will reap destruction"

(Galatians 6:7-8). But what is the answer? The answer is to let God into your life. The answer is to turn to Him in repentance and faith, asking Him to forgive you and give you a new life.

How can this happen? It can happen because God loves you very much. You may have left Him out of your thoughts, but you have never been outside His thoughts. He loves you so much that He sent His only Son into the world to make your salvation possible. Jesus Christ took your sins upon Himself when He died on the cross, and He rose again to show you that He has the power to give you new life also. What must you do? First, confess your sins to God, and tell Him as best you know how that you want to leave them behind and live for Him.

Then invite Jesus Christ into your life as your personal Lord and Savior. Accept by faith that He has forgiven you, as He has promised. Then read his Word, the Bible, daily and seek the fellowship of other Christians so you can learn to live for Christ every day. God bless you.

Real turkey

Around the rim

James Werrell

A good rule of thumb for movie viewers is to stay away from the flicks with too many "stars" in them.

Take "The Visitor" for example. Since I was desperate to see a movie, and "Visitor" was the only one in town that was neither G-rated nor "Held Over For Its Fifth Big Week!" I plunked down my $3 and went.

Nobody should be that desperate. But how was I, lamb being led to the slaughter that I was, to know? I mean, look at this lineup of "big-name stars": Glenn Ford, Mel Ferrer, John Huston, Shelley Winters, and (get this!) Sam Peckinpah, the director.

UNFORTUNATELY, THE one who spent most of the time up on the screen was an obnoxious little girl named "and introducing..." somebody-or-other. I never could figure out which actor was Sam Peckinpah.

It is simple to pick out the ripoffs from other modern horror and sci-fi films: the worst traits of both possessed kids in "The Omen" and "The Exorcist"; the ominous floating clouds from "Close Encounters"; the crazed birds from (what else?) "The Birds"; the sound-track from "Godzilla Meets Mothra"; and the religious mumbo-jumbo from God knows where (pun intended).

Following the plot is less simple. Here is a rundown:

A group of demon worshippers wants to control the world and bring a winning basketball team to Atlanta. They have fixed their sights on the little girl with strange powers (the obnoxious one) and have hired some chump (actor unknown, maybe Sam Peckinpah) to impregnate the girl's mother so that they can have two kids with strange powers.

Mom doesn't want any more kids. Who could blame her? She tells impregnator, "there is something inside me I don't understand, and it scares me."

Moving along — demonic kid shoots her mother in the back with a pistol she mysteriously receives at a birthday party, and enjoys it. Doctor (Mel Ferrer), actually a demon worshipper, tells mother she will be paralyzed forever.

Cop (Glenn Ford) doesn't think shooting was an accident. He pokes around the house, arouses the nasty little girl's suspicions, and has his eyes pecked out by a hawk while driving along the Atlanta freeway.

Unable to see, he kills a motorcyclist before careening onto a soccer field where his car becomes entangled in the goal and blows up.

A new housekeeper (Shelley Winters) comes to live with the paralyzed mother. She knows what's up, and proceeds to slap the kid around without, strangely, having her eyes pecked out by a hawk.

A mysterious stranger (John Huston) also begins hanging around the house. One has the impression he also knows what's going on.

Meanwhile, upset at the fact that the chump hasn't done his job, the demon worshippers hire some guys from outer space who wear football helmets and plastic visors to do it for him. They succeed, but Mom gets an abortion.

THE CLIMAX IS coming. Mother returns from the doctor's office only to be attacked by a hawk. Then (this is my favorite scene) Shelley Winters kills the hawk and tells the mother, "No harm can come to you now." Within seconds of this utterance, the demonic daughter pushes her mother on a wheelchair through a 2,000 gallon aquarium with no fish in it.

Soon thereafter, mother appears in a neck brace and is about to be done in by her daughter and the chump. She is saved (so help me!) by a flock of pigeons, who subdue the girl and bite the chump in the jugular vein.

The final scene of the flick shows us John Huston with the girl, now completely bald for some reason, in what I presume is supposed to be the Kingdom Of Heaven. Why do I presume this? Because there's a guy there who looks just like those pictures of Jesus in children's Bible story books. Heavy!

If I have made this movie sound intriguing, I apologize. Let's hope this "visitor" doesn't tarry long in Big Spring.

'Weak, vulnerable'

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — There is a quiet, nagging conviction in the Washington strategy councils that President Carter himself laid the groundwork for the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.

His unsure, unsteady hand at the helm, the strategists think, encouraged the Soviets to strike. These professionals believe Carter was gulled and intimidated by the Soviets. According to one scathing assessment, the Kremlin took Carter's measure and found him "weak, vacillating and vulnerable."

The strategists doubt that the wily but wary old men of the Kremlin would have risked a massive military move to the rim of the Western oil reserves if they had thought the president would stand up to them.

IN AN EARLIER COLUMN, I described how the Soviets had tested Carter's mettle at the beginning of his term. They repeatedly rebuffed him, and he repeatedly rebounded — full of confidence that moralism would triumph over amorality in the end.

He was sure he could reach an understanding with Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev if only they could sit down together. Carter believed that the sincerity of his purpose and the power of his faith would overcome the barriers between them, that a summit meeting would ease world tensions and reduce the nuclear threat.

The president was as enthusiastic as an evangelist when at last he confronted Brezhnev in Vienna last June. Carter beamed happily when the Soviet leader responded to his appeal for world peace by declaring: "God will not forgive us if we fail." Eagerly, Carter jotted down the remark on a sheet of yellow paper.

Other members of the American delegation looked startled at the old atheist's reference to the Deity. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, apparently sensing their surprise, pointed at the ceiling and confirmed: "You know, that's the Guy up there."

CARTER LEFT VIENNA exuberant over his new personal relationship with the Kremlin czar. But intelligence reports suggest that Brezhnev was less impressed with Carter; according to one report, Brezhnev regarded his American counterpart as weak and waffling.

The next crisis came just a few months later. Photo reconnaissance detected a Soviet combat brigade on maneuvers a few miles south of Havana. Soviet advisers had been in Cuba for 17 years, but the appearance of a combat force within 90 miles of our shores was a disturbing new development.

The president registered a protest with his new friend in the Kremlin. Back came a flat denial that a Soviet combat brigade had been sent to Cuba. Carter complained to congressional leaders that the Soviets were lying. "The Soviets deny it has combat status," he told them privately. "But it is a combat unit."

He made his protest public. The presence of a Soviet combat brigade in Cuba, he declared, was "unacceptable." He would use diplomacy, he said, "to get the Soviets to eliminate the combat nature of this unit." If we do not succeed, we will take appropriate action to change the status quo.

But four weeks of diplomatic efforts had no effect upon the Soviets. Gromyko rejected Carter's entreaties in blunt language. "Our advice on this score," he said, "is simple: It is high time you admit this whole matter is artificial and proclaim it to be closed."

Seventeen years earlier, the Soviets had backed away from a Cuban confrontation with President John F. Kennedy. This time it was America's turn to back away. What had been "unacceptable" four weeks earlier, Carter conceded, was now acceptable.

"The brigade issue is certainly no reason for a return to the cold war," he explained to the American people. He couldn't even extract a Soviet pledge, according to insiders, not to provide airlift or sealfit capacity for the disputed brigade.

Carter's backdown came last October. There is solid intelligence that the Soviet decision to invade Afghanistan came later the same month. U.S. analysts believe that the two events were related, that Carter's nervous handling of the Cuban crisis convinced the Kremlin crowd they could get away with aggression in Afghanistan.

Carter had made such a sorry hash of things in Iran, meanwhile, that the Soviets were tempted to close in on the oil fields. At first, Brezhnev tried to mask his military moves by announcing a unilateral withdrawal of Soviet troops and tanks from East Germany. He made this appear to be a concession to Western Europe.

In reality, the Soviet units were quietly moved to the borders of Afghanistan. They reinforced an airborne division, which was also put on a war footing.

The military buildup was monitored by U.S. intelligence agencies which submitted their reports to the president. He sought an explanation from Moscow, and Brezhnev reassured him that the Soviets intended no military action.

The trusting Carter accepted Brezhnev's assurances. Later Carter took the Afghanistans aggression as a personal affront. He was particularly offended by Brezhnev's explanation over the Moscow-Washington hot line that the Soviet troops had been "invited" into Afghanistan. "This was obviously false," the president later commented angrily.

But with the election only nine months away, he now seeks to project himself as the hero of his own catastrophes.

Double digit inflation hurting

University budgets feeling pinch

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Financial erosion from double digit inflation has prompted the finance committee of the Texas College and University System Coordinating Board to recommend a whopping 22 percent increase in 1982 funding for the state's institutions of higher learning.

The committee also voted Thursday to recommend that 1983 funding be raised 12.1 percent above the 1982 level.

The recommendation will be acted on by the full board Friday and the board action will be the subject of public hearings before it goes to the next session of the Legislature.

"I share with you the shock you must feel at my recommendation," said Commissioner Kenneth Ashworth. "But I've never had to bring recommendations to you in a year when we faced 12.6 percent inflation."

Committee action on tuition hikes was deferred to the full board, but Ashworth said he will recommend an increase. He said the Legislature would determine the amount of the hike.

Ashworth said the spending increase includes 12.6 percent to meet the current inflation rate and a 7.5 percent "catch-up" for past inflation not reflected in salaries.

The 22.3 percent overall 1982 increase includes the inflation factor and the "catch-up," and "fine tuning" in various areas.

"My recommendation today is to increase funding to try to keep higher education somewhere in the ballgame with the inflation we are facing," Ashworth said.

The biggest increase is in organized research. The committee recommended a 22 percent increase that, he said, reflects the Legislature's unwillingness to grant increases in the past.

Austin, a Clements appointee and board chairman, spoke against the proposal. She said the 7.5 percent "catch-up" is not needed. She said she favored a 12.6 percent increase in salaries, and increases in other areas that would not exceed the 9.5 percent hikes suggested in President Carter's wage and price guidelines.

"I don't understand why the formulas came down simply to the inflation factor," she said.

Mrs. Milburn and Gwendolyn Morrison of Fort Worth, another Clements appointee, cast the only votes against the recommendation.

A member of the advisory committee that studied the formulas used to set allocations also spoke against the recommendation. Doug Harlan of San Antonio said the system provides inequitable funding.

"You are perpetuating a very serious misrepresentation," Harlan said.

New Paperback — For Adults Only

DEAR READERS: Every week I received more newly published books than I can lift, much less read. But one little paperback caught my eye: "Parenthood Without Hassels—Well, Almost," but Dr. Kevin Leman. It was dedicated to "My high school counselor, who told me, 'Leman, with your disciplinary record and grades in this school, I couldn't get you into reform school.'"

Being one who appreciates humor, I read on and found it to be well worth reading. With the author's permission, I quote:

- "A CHILD'S TEN COMMANDMENTS TO PARENTS"
- 1) My hands are small; please don't expect perfection whenever I make a bed, draw a picture, or throw a ball. My legs are short; please slow down so that I can keep up with you.
 - 2) My eyes have not seen the world as yours have; please let me explore safely; don't restrict me unnecessarily.
 - 3) Homework will always be there. I'm only little for such a short time—please take time to explain things to me about the real world, and do so willingly.
 - 4) My feelings are tender; please be sensitive to my needs; don't nag me all day long. (You wouldn't want to be nagged for your inquisitiveness.) Treat me as you would like to be treated.
 - 5) I am a special gift from God; please treasure me as God intended you to do, holding me accountable for my actions, giving me guidelines to live by, and disciplining me in a loving manner.
 - 6) I need your encouragement, but not your praise, to grow. Please go easy on the criticism; remember, you can criticize the things I do without criticizing me.
 - 7) Please give me the freedom to make decisions concerning myself. Permit me to fail, so that I can learn from my mistakes. Then someday I'll be prepared to make the kind of decisions life requires of me.
 - 8) Please don't do things over for me. Somehow that makes me feel that my efforts didn't quite measure up to your expectations. I know it's hard, but please don't try to compare me with my brother or my sister.
 - 9) Please don't be afraid to leave for a weekend together. Kids need vacations from parents, just as parents need vacations from kids. Besides, it's a great way to show us kids that your marriage is very special.
 - 10) Please take me to Sunday school and church regularly, setting a good example for me to follow. I enjoy learning more about God."

DEAR ABBY: I recently visited our daughter who has a 2-month-old baby girl. I took some pictures of the baby; one showed the mother bathing the baby.

After returning home I took the pictures to a longtime friend and neighbor woman who has never had any children. She looked at the picture of the baby being bathed and said, "You should not be showing this around. It is pornography!"

Abby, I was shocked, and told her so. How can a picture of a naked baby be pornography? An innocent little baby's body is a beautiful sight, and there is nothing dirty or pornographic about it.

Am I wrong? Or could such a picture really be considered pornographic?

SHOCKED AND CONFUSED

DEAR SHOCKED: Pornography is the depiction of erotic behavior, intending to cause sexual excitement. If a picture of a 2-month-old baby being bathed created that kind of response in your friend, the "pornography" is in her mind.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Museum publishes study of artist

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Museum of Art has published a comprehensive study of American artist William McGregor Paxton 1896-1941, illustrated with 53 full-color plates. Paxton, a member of the Boston school which flourished there in the first quarter of this century, was a painter whose favorite subject was the human form, posed within a rich interior setting. Written and edited by the museum's associate curator, Ellen Wardwell Lee, with the assistance of Martin F. Krause Jr., assistant curator, the book includes an essay on the artist by R.H. Ives Gammell, a Boston artist and writer who was one of Paxton's students. The book, "William McGregor Paxton, N.A.," is an expansion of the catalog for the retrospective exhibition organized at Indianapolis, which recently completed a national tour.

POOCH WITH A PROBLEM — Robert Avanzino, President of The San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, (top panel), has come to the aid of Sido (lower panel), whose former master Mary Murphy, took an overdose of sleeping pills shortly before Christmas last year. The woman's will included orders that Sido, a six-year-old blonde and white Sheltie mix dog who was in the apartment when she died, be destroyed. Avanzino has refused to turn Sido over to Murphy's attorney and has found lawyers willing to argue, without charge, for Sido's right to live.

Miscellaneous shower held for Miss Abelar

Anna Abelar, bride-elect of Mark Sheedy, was recently honored with a miscellaneous shower at the Texas Electric Reddy Room. Hostesses were Denise Crenwelge, Janie Rodriguez, Sharon Bailey and Tina Bromley. The honoree was presented a purple carnation corsage and mothers of the couple, Mrs. Ray Abelar and Mrs. Paul Sheedy were presented blue carnation corsages. The bride's chosen colors of blue and yellow were carried out in the decor. The gift table was accented with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums decorated with blue. The couple will be married March 8 at St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Combining cleaning products dangerous

Those involved with public education programs are reminded to call attention to the dangers of combining chlorine bleach and cleaning powder and other common substances found in most households. Recent tragic accidents point out the need for more public education in this area. Two housewives in separate locations were faced with the same cleaning problem. Both were using ordinary toilet bowl cleansers, but they were unhappy with the way stains were being removed. Each decided to use a chlorine bleach, which they poured in with the powder and stirred with a brush. One woman died as a result, while the other spent a lengthy stay in the hospital. When certain types of ordinary cleaners are combined, an oxidizing agent in the powder mixes with a chemical in the bleach and produces phosgene, a highly toxic gas that can be fatal when inhaled. Users of such products should be advised to read labels carefully, use only as directed and remember to never mix bleaching agents, toilet bowl cleaners, ammonia, lye, rust removers, vinegar, oven cleaners or other cleansers with one another.

Basketball is No. 1 in Indiana

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and I think that I'm the problem.

My girlfriend and I have been going together for nine months and we didn't have a problem until basketball season.

At the games, I get super nervous and uptight and my girlfriend gets mad because I don't hold her hand. She thinks I'm ignoring her. On top of that, her sister goes to the games with us and she is always on my case to kiss my girlfriend. What's wrong with me? — Kevin, Goshee, Ind.

Kevin: I'm with you 100 percent. When I go to a sporting event, I want to be a fan and to get involved in the action. (On the field or floor, that is.) To answer your question, there is nothing wrong with you, but your girlfriend and her sister better learn that in Indiana, high school basketball is No. 1.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and want to be an actor, but if I make it, I'll have to leave my friends behind and I really don't want to do that.

I know that I can't have both but I would rather be an actor. Of course, I could always write to my friends but it's just not the same as seeing them. Please give me some advice — acting or friends? — Billy, London, Ontario, Canada
Billy: You are lucky. You can still have both. London, Ontario, has many fine theaters where career actors can get started.

Remember, acting is a very demanding career and one that is very difficult to achieve. Get involved in school, church and civic performances. If you're a standout — then you can think about "Broadway." But that's a few years down the road.

Dr. Wallace: I have a dog that I got for my 13th birthday two years ago. He is not fully housebroken yet though I've tried my hardest at training him. A month ago, my mom said she was going to sell him if he wasn't fully housebroken by Valentine's Day and she means it. I love my dog so much that I don't know how I would live without him. Please help me. Time is moving fast. — Karen, Petaluma, Calif.
Karen: Go to a pet store and-or the animal shelter and take your dog with you.

Of course, I could always write to my friends but it's just not the same as seeing them. Please give me some advice — acting or friends? — Billy, London, Ontario, Canada
Billy: You are lucky. You can still have both. London, Ontario, has many fine theaters where career actors can get started.

Remember, acting is a very demanding career and one that is very difficult to achieve. Get involved in school, church and civic performances. If you're a standout — then you can think about "Broadway." But that's a few years down the road.

Dr. Wallace: I have a dog that I got for my 13th birthday two years ago. He is not fully housebroken yet though I've tried my hardest at training him. A month ago, my mom said she was going to sell him if he wasn't fully housebroken by Valentine's Day and she means it. I love my dog so much that I don't know how I would live without him. Please help me. Time is moving fast. — Karen, Petaluma, Calif.
Karen: Go to a pet store and-or the animal shelter and take your dog with you.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and want to be an actor, but if I make it, I'll have to leave my friends behind and I really don't want to do that. I know that I can't have both but I would rather be an actor. Of course, I could always write to my friends but it's just not the same as seeing them. Please give me some advice — acting or friends? — Billy, London, Ontario, Canada

Guarded Treasure

What infinite pains we take to guard our valuable possessions! Yet not all our possessions can be given protection in a safe. What about that priceless treasure which each of us possesses — our eternal happiness?

To safeguard this great treasure, where can we go?

The answer lies in the Church. It gives us the combination that opens the door to our spiritual riches — the combination of faith and good works. The Church guards and guides us along the way that leads to the treasure — the way led by Jesus, our Savior. It invites everyone to join in service to God and to our fellowmen. In this way, we inherit new riches of the spirit that no man or circumstance can steal or destroy.

A Farthing's Worth

"Oh, what a lovely cow," said the city dweller visiting a ranch for the first time. "But why doesn't it have any horns?"

"There can be many reasons," replied the rancher. "Some cows do not have horns until later in life. Others have them removed, while still other breeds are born without them. This one does not have horns because it is a horse."

I have found that so many people are about as uninterested about the Bible and Christianity as this city dweller was about animals. We invite you to consider visiting the Christian Church of Big Spring, where we are Christians daily and the Bible is our only rule of faith and practice.

VICTOR KORCHNOI MUHAMMAD ALI

Ali willing to fight now

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Muhammad Ali, stripped of his boxing title when he refused induction for the Vietnam War, says he would be willing to fight against Soviet forces in Afghanistan because "that would be a just war."

The now-retired heavyweight champion told reporters here Friday that "I am threatened, my family is threatened, the peace of the world is threatened" by the Soviet presence in Afghanistan.

Ali also repeated his strong support of President Carter's call for a possible boycott of the Moscow Olympics.

Chess master fears for life

VELDEN, Austria (AP) — Victor Korchnoi, a Soviet chess grandmaster before his defection four years ago, says he fears assassination attempts during an upcoming match here.

In a letter to organizers of the world chess championship quarter-finals, Korchnoi said he wants bulletproof glass between him and the audience. He also asked Thursday if Velden had enough apartments to allow him a quick change of address, saying he feared his apartment might be bugged.

He said he would share the costs of the glass.

The 10-game quarter-finals with Tigran Petrosian of the Soviet Union are scheduled to start March 8.

Landon doing fine

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Republican Alf M. Landon is "doing fine" and receiving visitors and phone calls as he undergoes medical tests.

Landon, 92, was hospitalized Wednesday for dizziness a day earlier. He was in satisfactory condition Thursday at Stormont-Vail Regional Medical Center.

Hospital officials said they were awaiting test results to determine when Landon, the 1936 GOP presidential nominee, would be discharged.

Last treatment set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons is due for one last treatment for a benign tumor on his bronchial tube, but he is "just fine," says a union spokesman.

The 72-year-old Fitzsimmons was in Los Angeles on Thursday for a three-day meeting of the union's international executive board. The meeting was scheduled to be held last month but was delayed because of the series of operations Fitzsimmons underwent in Boston.

Teamster spokesman Duke Zeller said the treatments, which take about three hours, are designed to isolate the tumor and make it shrivel away.

Thailand queen coming

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The queen of Thailand is on her way to the United States for treatment of an allergy caused by atmospheric pollutants, says a spokesman for the royal household.

Queen Sirikit, 47-year-old wife of King Bhumipol Adulyadej, left Bangkok today for Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C. She was accompanied by her son, Crown Prince Vajiralongkorn.

The royal pair was seen off at the airport by the king, two princesses and the prime minister and his cabinet.

Suspect sought in case of marijuana transaction

DAINGERFIELD, Texas (AP) — Law enforcement officers combed the woods near this Northeast Texas community today, searching for a suspect involved in a thwarted marijuana transaction.

Morris County Sheriff Neil McKinney said authorities confiscated 52 bags of illegal weed — weighing about 1,000 pounds — during an impromptu bust early Thursday.

Two men were arrested, but one was released after questioning, the sheriff said.

Officers received a call from someone who reported a light plane had landed at the county airport, a bare strip of asphalt without lights, hangars or a tower, McKinney said.

"By the time we got there the plane had already dumped its load and taken off again," McKinney said. He said three men scattered and ran into the woods, abandoning two pickup trucks.

He conceded chances of capturing the fourth suspect — the pilot of the plane that apparently dropped the pot off — were slim.

"We haven't any idea" where he went in the air-plane, McKinney said.

He acknowledged the incident was not totally unexpected.

"We had been trying to watch the airport because we had received reports that that kind of thing was happening out there. We had found one 20-pound bag up there last week beside the airport," the sheriff said.

Iran not responsible for debt?

DALLAS (AP) — Iranian attorney Mortezanacilli contends the organization that asked Electronic Data Systems to develop an advanced data processing system is a separate entity and not responsible for the balance on a $41 million contract.

Nacilli, a former professor of international law at Tehran University, said Thursday it would be almost impossible for the Dallas-based firm to recover any of the $23 million balance.

His comments came at the end of eight days of testimony before U.S. District Judge Robert W. Porter in the non-jury trial.

In earlier testimony Thursday, Mortezanacilli testified EDS had modified existing data processing systems instead of designing an advanced computerized national health care program as promised. The trial centers around a September 1976 contract. Under terms of the agreement, EDS was to provide a "functional" computerized program for the Iranian government.

The firm, owned by multimillionaire H. Ross Perot, charged Iran failed to pay for services rendered during six months of 1978 and filed suit to recover the debt.

If Porter rules in their favor, EDS officials hope $17 million in frozen Iranian assets would be turned over to them.

The Iranians contend EDS failed to provide a "functional" system for Iran's Ministry of Health and Social Services.

The Iranians also argue EDS obtained the contract through promises of kickbacks to the deposed shah.

However, Porter has refused to allow testimony about the alleged kickbacks, claiming the dispute is whether contractual duties were fulfilled and not the method used to obtain the agreement.

EDS attorney Thomas Luce also questioned Nasira, programming director for the Social Services Organization, concerning a personnel evaluation the firm was required by contract to conduct.

In a heated response, the former IBM employees denied he or his employees were ever evaluated.

Nacilli was the last of three Iranian witnesses to testify for the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolutionary government concerning the contract.

He said Iranian law required bids be accepted on any government work unless "experts" have been hired to do the job.

The defense claims the government had not hired "experts."

ED "TOO TALL" JONES KNOCKS OUT OPPONENT IN TUESDAY NIGHT MATCH

Will 'Too Tall' return?

DALLAS (AP) — Ed "Too Tall" Jones, who left the National Football League to become a professional boxer, will return to the Dallas Cowboys after he completes two scheduled fights in Jacksonville, Fla., and Atlanta, a Dallas sportscaster said Friday.

Norm Hitzges, sports producer for KABC-TV in Los Angeles, quoted a source close to Jones. He broke the story during his weekly talk show Friday morning on KERA Radio in Dallas.

Jones could not be reached for comment.

"He will fight in Jacksonville and then in Atlanta in February. At that time, Jones feels he will have fulfilled his financial obligation to his advisor. They will have made money for what they have undertaken," Hitzges said.

The turning point in Jones' decision to return to the Cowboys, Hitzges said he was told by his source, was when Jones stayed over in Dallas after fighting in the city and watched the Cowboys play the Washington Redskins.

"He said when (John) Riggins ran 66 yards over right end on a play that seemingly won the game for Washington, Jones couldn't take it any more. That was his end they ran around," Hitzges said.

Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach engineered a couple of late touchdown drives that gave the Cowboys a last-minute victory over Washington. A spokesman for the Dallas Cowboys said Jones has not been in contact with the organization, "as far as we know."

"But he's still the property of the Cowboys, and there would be no problem. I hope the report is true. He's on the reserved retired list, and it would just be a matter of reactivating him. I'm sure he'd be welcomed with open arms," said Greg Aiello, assistant public relations director.

Hitzges declined to divulge his source, but said the same source gave him 17 days' advance notice of Jones' decision to quit the Cowboys after the 1978 season.

According to the source, Hitzges said, the first player chosen in the 1974 pro draft has become disillusioned with his progress in the ring.

Central edges Steerettes

The San Angelo Central Bobcats girls' basketball team used foul trouble on the part of the Big Spring Steerettes to take a 44-32 win in a second half encounter in District 5-AAAA action here Thursday night. The contest was played in Steer Gym.

The win was the second without a loss for the Bobcat

Top ranked WTC stops Midland

SNYDER — Western Texas College defeated Midland College, 83-74, here Thursday night.

The win was the second of the season for the Texans over Midland and this one counted in Western Junior College Conference standings.

Western Texas pulled away in the second half after leading by only a point, at 36-35, at half time.

The game was in doubt until Western Texas' Paul Pressey pulled off a three-point play with a minute left to play.

Pressey led all scorers with 27 points. Phil Spradlin added 14 for the winners. Robert Tate was tops for Midland with 19.

Yearling boys stop Monahans

The Runnels Red Yearlings boys basketball team increased their record to 9-5 by taking a 40-33 win over Monahans in action here Thursday night.

Jerry Wrightsil had 16 points and 10 rebounds to lead the Yearlings attack, with Juan Williams adding eight points and 12 rebounds. Mark Johnson also scored 12 points for the Runnels crew, with Jimmy Brown and Tracy Farthing adding two each.

Runnels returns to action on Monday, when they play host to Sweetwater.

fems in second half action, and boosts the Central season record to 12-12. Big Spring, meanwhile is 0-2 in second half action and 6-18 on the year.

The game was tied at 8-8 at the end of the first stanza, but the San Angelo girls took an 18-14 lead at halftime in the four-plugged contest.

The Steerettes remained within striking distance entering the final stanza, but both Candy Walker and Joyce Jackman fouled out, and scoring ace Pam Banks added four fouls. The Bobcat fems then increased the final margin at this time.

Big Spring Coach Barbara Fletcher felt that the key to the game was the foul trouble her team had, as the Steerettes ended up with 20 total fouls, to only 12 for the San Angelo girls. "The foul problems killed us," said Fletcher. "We had to play people in positions that they're not familiar with, and that really hurt."

Fletcher did have kind words for the effort and improvement that her team did display, however.

San Angelo was led in scoring by Phyllis Scott, who had 15 points; while Debbie Ford contributed 10.

Sophomore Elise Wheat paced the Steerettes with 12 points.

San Angelo also won the JV game. Rochelle Rutledge had 12 to pace the Steerette JV.

In other girls 5-AAAA games last night, Odessa defeated Permian 58-42. Lee toppled Midland 51-35, and Abilene edged Cooper 59-53.

San Angelo, Lee and Odessa are now tied for the second-half lead, each with a record of 2-0.

Boys 5-AAAA roundup

Steers visit Bobcats

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo Bobcats and the Big Spring Steers meet tonight in the final game of the first half of the District 5-AAAA race, with nothing but pride on the line.

Neither team has a chance at the first half title, as the Bobcats are 3-3 and the Steers still seeking their first win in loop play.

Both teams are coming off losses. Permian upended San Angelo 86-65 on Tuesday, at the same time Odessa nudged Big Spring 48-44.

The two key games in 5-AAAA tonight occur when Permian travels to the Odessa High gym and Midland travels to the Lee Rebel gym. Both Permian and Midland are 5-1 in the first half race.

In the other District 5-AAAA game, Abilene faces Cooper in the Cougar gym.

Baseball sign-up tomorrow

A preliminary baseball sign-up for all prospective Teenage Little League players will be held on Saturday morning, January 26, at the Roy Anderson Complex. Athletes will be allowed to sign-up between 10 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Teenage League President Dale Worthan is also urging anyone that is interested in managing or coaching one of the teams to meet on Monday, January 28, at the Flame Room in the Pioneer Natural Gas Building. The time for this meeting is 7:30 p.m.

Howard College guns down Thunderbirds

HOBBS, N.M. — The Howard College Hawks broke open a tight game in the final 10 minutes and raced to a 97-78 win over the New Mexico Junior College Thunderbirds in a Western Junior Conference game here Thursday night.

The win was the fourth in a row for Coach Harold Wilder's team, and their third conference win in the last four nights. Howard College is now 4-4 in conference play and 13-8 on the season.

NMJC, meanwhile, drops to 2-6 in conference play and 7-14 for the year.

The Hawks held a 47-42 halftime lead, but the NMJC team stayed close, trailing by only three points with 10 minutes remaining.

But the Hawks went on a scoring spurt to quickly increase their bulge to 10 points, and Wilder ordered a four-corner offense at this point.

Howard College then put the game out of reach of the host Thunderbirds.

Mike Wallace, Howard College's sophomore scoring ace that ranks fifth nationally in points per game, led all scorers in the contest with 33. Ron Akins added 26 for the Hawks, with Rocky Rawls contributing 12.

Jeff Hannah was the high point man for NMJC with 25 points.

The Hawks will continue their four-game road trip next week with important battles against Amarillo College and Frank Phillips.

Both games will be extremely important to the Hawks, as they must finish higher in the standings than both foes in order to earn a spot in the Region V Tourney in March. Amarillo, also currently 4-4 in conference play, is led by 6'10" Vic Mitchell, who is being widely recruited.

HOWARD COLLEGE — Wallace 11-11-32; Akins 12-2-26; Rawls 4-4-12; Faubion 4-0-8; Green 2-0-4; Jones 4-0-4; Ward 1-0-4; TOTALS 28-21-97.

In TSU Tournament

Hawk Queens edge Mary Hardin Baylor

STEPHENVILLE — The Howard College Hawk Queens used a 23-point effort from Shawn Smith to overcome a tall Mary-Hardin Baylor team by a score of 76-70 in the first round of the Tarleton State University Tournament here Thursday evening.

The win puts the Hawk Queens into the second round of the 16-team affair. They will oppose Texas Wesleyan this afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

Mary-Hardin Baylor started three 6'1" players, and Hawk Queens Coach Don Stevens felt that this was the basic reason that his crew couldn't break the game open.

The Queens led most of the way, and had a 42-34 lead at the intermission.

Besides Smith's 23 points, Joanne Lefridge had 14 points and Susan Martin 12 for the Hawk Queens.

Patterson had 27 points to

In second half 5-A openers

Forsan sweeps pair from Anton

FORSAN — Both of the Forsan varsity basketball teams got off on the winning track in the second half race in District 5-A here Thursday night, posting wins over Anton.

Both contests were originally scheduled for Tuesday, but were delayed due to the weather.

The Forsan girls increased their season record to 17-5 in the second half opener, taking an easy 70-47 win.

The Buffalo Queens, who shot an anemic 32 percent from the field in their loss to Whiteface for the first half championship last Friday, came back to connect on 41 percent from the field in the win last night, and Coach Ronny Taylor is hoping that his girls have broken out of their shooting slump.

The Buffalo Queens held a 31-22 lead at halftime, but broke the game open in the second half.

Christi Adams scored 23 points to pace an otherwise balanced Forsan attack, as five players hit six points each. Lavonne Brumley had 10 for the Buffalo Queens.

Candy Taylor had 18 points to pace the Anton attack.

The Forsan boys then won their second half opener by taking a 50-46 decision over Anton.

Forsan led throughout the game, with the four point margin coming due to a fourth quarter rally by Anton.

Dale Earnest scored 20 points to lead the Forsan charge, with Vance Stevens and Weldon Nichols adding 12 each.

Herman Synatzsch had 14 points to pace Anton, with Lonnie and Donnie Dutton adding 12 each.

The Forsan boys are now 6-12 for the season.

House of Reps, AFL-CIO support Olympic boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to follow the House in supporting President Carter's stand on the Moscow Olympics, but not before next week.

There were only 12 dissenters — as opposed to 386 in favor — when the House approved a resolution Thursday supporting a possible U.S. withdrawal from the summer Games.

But quick Senate concurrence was stymied when the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee ignored a White House appeal for full congressional approval before this weekend.

Instead, said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, his Foreign Relations Committee will stick to its plan to hold hearings on the resolution next week.

The resolution urges the U.S. Olympic Committee to honor Carter's request and seek to have the Olympics moved from Moscow or canceled if Soviet troops are not out of Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

It would urge athletes from the United States and other nations to boycott the Olympics if they are held in Moscow while Soviet troops stay in Afghanistan.

The White House had asked congressional leaders to complete approval of the resolution before the USOC's executive board meets on Carter's request this weekend in Colorado.

A possible boycott also won support Thursday from AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland, who charged that the U.S. Olympic Committee was arrogant in opposing Carter's proposal. "The committee has become big business, with financial interests rather than human concerns," Kirkland said. He accused the committee of "prostitution of Olympic ideals in order to gain corporate sponsorships."

THEY CALL ME 'MEAN' JOE — Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers Joe Greene greets a four-year-old football fan, Robi Davis of Honolulu, at Aloha Stadium Wednesday. Green is in Honolulu for Sunday's National Football League's all-star Pro Bowl game.

Despite emotional letdown of Sunday's game Pro Bowlers still have pride

HONOLULU (AP) — They came on, so close. Then the bubble burst. Now all that's left is an exhibition game.

But there's still the matter of pride.

That's what drove the Los Angeles Rams to the brink of National Football League supremacy, and that's what's going to keep them going next Sunday in the Pro Bowl, the all-star game that comes as an annual anticlimax to the Super Bowl.

"We've come from a game that meant the whole world to us and now we're coming to a game that's a little bit more enjoyable, a little bit more fun, and we're looking forward to it," guard Dennis Harrah of the Rams said Thursday after another light workout at Aloha Stadium. "It's not the Super Bowl, but there's no doubt that we've got our own personal pride."

Harrah, a 6-foot-5, 250-pounder, acknowledged that the intensity with which the Rams went into last Sunday's Super Bowl against Pittsburgh will be missing in this all-star competition that pits stars of the American and National conferences against each other. "If I play this game as hard as I tried to play the Super Bowl, there's something wrong with me," Harrah said.

His NFL teammates from the Rams, who lost 31-19 to the Steelers, voiced similar feelings.

"It's definitely going to be an emotional difference," said defensive tackle Larry Brooks. "But by the time game time comes around I think the preparation will have us ready to play."

Linebacker Jim Youngblood added: "It took me about two or three days to get over losing the Super Bowl, but before Sunday, I'll forget about it."

The post-Super Bowl letdown isn't the sole property of the Rams, of course. Consider the Dallas Cowboys, preseason and playoff picks by most observers to return to the Super Bowl. They were knocked off by Los Angeles in their first playoff game.

"The layoff is the toughest part of the whole situation," said safety Cliff Harris, making his sixth Pro Bowl appearance. "When you're playing, performing week after week, you have a certain level of performance in your mind. But when your season's over and you lay off for three or four weeks, or in some cases longer than that, it's a problem to get that competitiveness going."

"But I'm sure when we get on the field it's all going to come back," Harris added. "It's going to be a competitive game and it's going to be a fun game."

Publishing company buys NY Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets, last-place finishers in the National League East the past three years, have been sold to a group headed by the huge New York publishing firm of Doubleday & Co. for a reported $21.1 million, a record price for a baseball team.

In a five-paragraph announcement Thursday that ended a two-month bidding war among as many as 21 bidders, Doubleday said it had purchased controlling interest in the Mets from the family of Charles Shipman Payson, the team's principal owner since the franchise was awarded by the National League in 1962. The Mets began play two years later.

The announcement said Doubleday would have two minority partners — City Investing Co., a diversified firm which was formed in 1904, and Fred Wilpon, chairman of the board of Sterling Equities Inc., a Manhasset, N.Y., real estate firm.

The key men in the deal are Nelson Doubleday, president of the publishing company and a great-grandnephew of Abner Doubleday, credited in some quarters with inventing baseball in 1839, and John O. Pickett Jr., chairman of the board of the New York Islanders of the National Hockey League.

The sale must be approved by baseball's National League but that is expected to be a formality.

The reported sale price of $21.1 million far exceeded the $12 million paid last year in the sales of both the Baltimore Orioles and Houston Astros. Former New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, spokesman for a group that included the Twentieth Century-Fox Film

Corp., said it was "incredible that anyone would pay that much."

A Mets spokesman said the purchase price would be announced at a press conference today, but added that the $21.1 million figure was "not far off."

In its announcement, Doubleday & Co. said: "We believe in New York and we believe it is the communications and entertainment center of the world. We also feel this city deserves the greatest team in the world."

Doubleday and Co. had not been mentioned recently as a contender to buy the team but outbid the investment firm of Allen and Co., whose spokesman was Earl E.T. Smith, former U.S. Ambassador to Cuba and a close friend of Charles Payson.

The Smith group originally submitted a bid of $14 million and reportedly went as high as $19.1 million after the Payson family set the minimum price at $17 million. Smith's group was given a chance to match the Doubleday offer but dropped out of the bidding at that point.

Calfee leading Andy Williams Tourney

SAN DIEGO (AP) — This is a year of decision for Bill Calfee.

Based on his performance, he'll decide whether to give up the PGA tour and pursue another line of work.

"I'm just not going to stay out here as a Monday qualifier," the 30-year-old Calfee said Thursday. "You can't play out here indefinitely winning $15,000 or $20,000 (less than expenses)."

"Becoming an exempt player — maybe not winning but making the top 60 (money-winners) — is my goal right now."

Calfee, who has experienced little but frustration in three previous years on the tour, took a major step in the right direction Thursday with a no-bogey, 7-under-par 65 that gave him a 1-stroke lead after the first round of the $250,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open golf tournament.

"Last year was a very disappointing season for me," said Calfee, who won only $15,402. "The first two years I considered learning experience. But last year was very disappointing."

A single shot back of him were D.A. Webring, who won his first pro victory last season in the Quad Cities Open, and Bobby Walzel.

said Jim Spence, senior vice president of ABC Sports.

Thursday's joint announcement was made by Roone Arledge, president of ABC News and Sports, and Ahmed Karabegovic, general secretary of the organizing committee of the Games of the 14th Winter Olympiad.

Final approval must be given by the International Olympic Committee, which is scheduled to meet next month in Lake Placid. But once the organizers are satisfied, IOC consent is considered a mere formality.

ABC will pay $225 million for the Los Angeles Games and something much less for Sarajevo. The price tag was not immediately known, but best estimates were that the initial bidding was around $50 million.

The Sarajevo Olympics will be ABC's fifth Winter Games, following the coverage in Innsbruck in 1964, Grenoble in 1968, Innsbruck in 1976 and the upcoming Games in Lake Placid next month.

ABC receives 84 Winter Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC didn't like having to split the rings with NBC this year, so it has bought both 1984 Games to claim the title as the real Olympic network.

ABC reached an agreement with the Sarajevo Olympic Organizing Committee Thursday for the rights to the 1984 Winter Games in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, adding this broadcasting jewel to its Los Angeles Games that summer. The two broadcasts will give ABC nine of the last 12 Olympics.

Prestige, prime-time promotion and profit — in that order — motivated ABC. The network plans more than 60 hours of coverage, most of it in prime time. "We expect to realize a profit,"

said Jim Spence, senior vice president of ABC Sports.

WJC players, teams listed in NJCAA poll

Western Texas College of Snyder continued to lead the NJCAA men's basketball rankings in this week's poll. They are one of three Texas teams ranked in the top 10 nationally.

Midland College, Western Texas' rival in the Western Junior Conference, is ranked sixth, while Tyler JC is ranked ninth.

In the women's NCAA poll, Truette-McConnell College of Cleveland, Georgia, is ranked in the number one slot with a record of 17-0. Ranked seventh and eighth, respectively, are Odessa College and Amarillo College.

In the team offense and scoring categories, Howard College and its ace scoring threat, Mike Wallace, are both ranked high.

The Hawks are the fourth rated team in the nation, averaging a salty 99.4 points per game. Western Texas College is the second rated scoring team in the nation, averaging 101 points per game.

Wallace is ranked fifth nationally in scoring, with an average of 29.2 per outing.

Australian athletes, government disagree

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — The Australian Olympic Federation side-stepped a call by Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser for a boycott on the Moscow Olympics Friday.

At a special meeting in Canberra, the AOF decided to pass on the Australian government's views to the International Olympic Committee.

Meanwhile, it urged Australian athletes to continue training.

The executive of the AOF, in a press statement, said its inquiries had revealed that so far no national Olympic committee had made an "unequivocal decision" to boycott the Olympics.

Consequently, the statement said, it was not clear that any action, other than referring the Australian government's view to the IOC would lead to an effective boycott.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Show that you can be sensible in the handling of property and finances. If you have any doubts, consult with an expert in such matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan how to get what you want most and need in the future and you can make real progress. Contact good friends and have greater rapport.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Consult with a trusted adviser and get fine ideas that are best to follow in the future. Spend money wisely and well.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take time to be with friends and have a delightful time. You are able to gain a personal aim that has long been on your mind.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Contact bigwigs and talk over any plans you have in mind that they can help you to put across. Stop dreaming so much and start doing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) New situations that did not appeal to you before have merit in them now, so get at them for greater success. There's a trip in your future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Follow through with promises conscientiously and you gain the goodwill of others. Strive for greater happiness and success.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Listen more carefully to ideas of partners and understand them for greater mutual benefit. Be socially minded in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have to use more modern methods if you are to get constructive ideas worked out well. Be more understanding of co-workers.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Some special thought for the one you love brings fine response. Study important legal papers carefully before you sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study conditions at home well before you make any changes. Entertain friends at home in the evening but keep an eye on your spending.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will easily coordinate mental with physical prowess. Teach early not to flatter from one interest to another without finishing any. Teach to be a humanitarian.

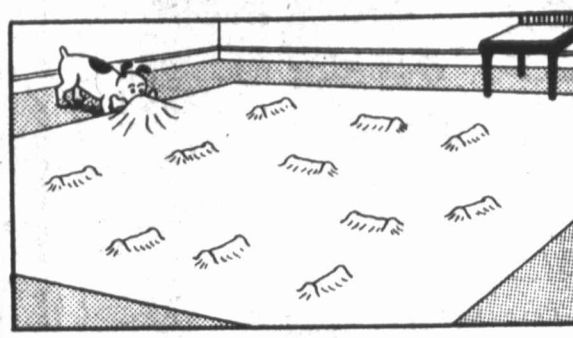

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Snow dance brings results

CARRABASSETT VALLEY, Maine (AP) — It was only a rehearsal, but an Indian snow dance was followed 24 hours later by the best skiing of the season at Maine's largest ski area.

And Sugarloaf Mountain is looking for an even bigger snowfall after a group of Penobscot Indians performs its ritual dance this Saturday afternoon around a bonfire outside the base lodge.

Sugarloaf spokesman Chip Carey noted that the Indians rehearsed their prayers and dances Monday night at their reservation at Old Town. "Sure enough, it snowed Tuesday night — 6 inches," he said, bringing the best conditions of a dismal ski season.

Was the dance responsible for the long-awaited snow? "We'll believe anything," said Carey.

One man, one vote

AMBER, Iowa (AP) — Many stories have been written about the record turnout in Monday night's Iowa precinct caucuses.

However, as in most things, not all meetings were winners.

Tom Norlin of Amber, an unincorporated village in Jones County, showed up on schedule for his Republican caucus in the public meeting room of the town hall. But he was the only one to attend.

Undaunted, Norlin called himself to order promptly at 7:30 p.m., polled himself and phoned in the result, then nominated and elected himself to the county convention.

He voted for Rep. Philip Crane, who finished in fifth place in the straw vote.

Norlin adjourned himself at 7:30 p.m.

Coping with your income tax---V

Energy credits pay off for tax filers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fifth in a series of five articles entitled "Coping With Your Income Tax." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1979 tax returns.

By GLENN RITT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Last year, nearly 6 million taxpayers claimed $600 million in tax breaks for such energy conservation schemes as installing storm windows and building windmills.

With oil prices still climbing and the Middle East a perpetual powder keg, these energy credits appear even sweeter this year.

And Congress could expand the conservation incentives by the time taxpayers sit down to prepare their 1979 forms.

At the moment, there are two distinct energy breaks:

You can reduce your taxes by up to $300 for household improvements such as replacing your thermostat or weather stripping your doors.

You can also claim a tax credit of up to $2,000 for more ambitious endeavors — installing what the law calls "renewable energy sources." These include devices that transmit some solar, wind, or geothermal energy to heat, cool or provide hot water for a residence.

That must be your "principal" residence, the IRS cautions.

Household improvements: These include: —Insulation for floors, ceilings, roofs, hot water heaters and pipes.

—Exterior storm, or thermal, window and doors.

—Caulking or weather stripping for exterior windows and doors.

—A furnace replacement burner that reduces the amount of fuel used.

—A device to make flue openings for a heating system more efficient.

—An electrical or mechanical furnace ignition system that replaces a gas pilot light.

—An automatic, energy-saving thermostat.

—A meter that displays the cost of energy usage.

A taxpayer can claim 15 percent of the first $2,000 spent on the energy-saving moves, or a maximum of $300, the IRS says.

A credit is subtracted from your total taxes, not your total income.

Here's an example:

Your tax bill is $5,000, but you spent $1,000 to install storm windows last February. You can claim 15 percent of that expense as an energy credit of $150 and pay total taxes of $4,850.

There's a bit of fine print attached to this credit:

—You can't claim it for installing carpets, drapes, wood paneling or exterior siding, even if they do help save energy.

—Nor can you qualify for installing a heat pump, fluorescent lights, wood- or peat-burning stoves, or replacement furnaces and boilers.

—The maximum $300 credit applies to the entire period you own your home; not to each year you live there. If you take a $100 credit one year; you can qualify only for $200 in subsequent years.

—You must be the first person to use the energy conservation item and it must be expected to last at least three years.

—You cannot claim less than a $10 credit at any one time.

The credits do apply to owners of condominiums or cooperatives.

Renewable energy sources:

This credit is computed by taking 30 percent of the first $2,000 and 20 percent of the next $8,000 spent for solar, geothermal and wind devices.

As with energy conservation expenses, the full $10,000 limit can be spread over several years. A new $10,000 limit applies for each principal residence you occupy.

These larger projects must be expected to last at least five years.

This credit does not apply to solar devices such as extra-thick walls, windows, skylights, greenhouses and roof over-hangs.

Congress is considering expanding these credits to include heat pumps and other solar schemes, the IRS advises.

Taxpayers may also be able to take some deductions for home heating expenses.

If such changes are made by Congress, the IRS will distribute a separate form, in addition to the already-published 1040 form.

There's one other way the government is inducing energy conservation.

No longer can taxpayers deduct state and local gasoline taxes. That will further increase the cost of driving, on top of record-high gasoline prices.
