Unemployment at 18-month high

WASHINGTON (AP) — A large rise in worker layoffs pushed the nation's unemployment rate to an 18-month high of 6.2 percent in January, a signal that a long-expected recession may have arrived, the government reported today.

Adult men bore the brunt of the higher unemployment, as their jobless rate jumped from 4.2 percent to 4.7 percent, the highest since November 1977.

President Carter predicted this week that the economy would enter a mild recession during the first half of 1980, sending unemployment rising to 7.5 percent by the fall.

Today's monthly report, issued by the Labor Department, bolstered that forecast, although government economists cautioned that it was premature to say with certainty that a recession had begun.

The January figures marked the first time that unemployment has hit 6 percent since July 1978, when the rate was 6.2 percent.

Unemployment stood at 5.9 percent of the work force in December, and had fluctuated between 5.7 percent and 5.9 percent during the prior 16 months.

The large rise in unemployment among men who were laid off reflected downturns in the auto, steel and housing industries, which traditionally are the first to feel the effects of a recession.

The number of unemployed persons increased by 340,000 in January to 6.4 million. The Labor Department said 280,000 of the jobless had been laid off, as opposed to those who might have returned to the status of job-seekers.

The total employment in January was 97.8 million persons, down from the record 97.9 million in December. The number of men with jobs declined by 200,000, while employment among adult women rose by 170,000.

As a result, while the jobless rate for men rose sharply, the rate for women advanced only modestly from 5.7 percent in December to 5.8 percent last month.

The Labor Department also provided the following breakdowns of unemployment rate changes since December for different population groups:

—Teen-agers: 16.3 percent in January, up from 16 percent in December.

—Minority teen-agers: 34.6 percent, up from 34.3 percent.

—Whites: 5.4 percent, up from 5.1 percent.

—Non-whites: 11.8 percent, up from 11.3 percent.

—Full-time workers: 5.7 percent, up from 5.4 percent.

—Part-time workers: 8.7 percent, up from 8.5 percent.

—White collar workers: 3.4 percent, up from 3.3 percent.

—Blue collar workers: 8 percent, up from 7.2 percent.

—Service workers: 6.9 percent, up from 6.6 percent.

During the past year, the jobless total in the country has risen by 610,000. Employment during the same period rose by only 1.7 million, the smallest annual increase in four years, the government reported.

"The report is an indication of a sluggish growth economy," said a department economist, who declined to be named. "I'm not willing to say yet that we've finally entered a recession, based on a one-month change."

FIRE AND ICE — An ice-encrusted New York fire truck stands in the midst of an eerie cityscape in Brooklyn Heights Friday. The scene is the result of attempts to extinguish a five alarm fire at a ten-story hotel being renovated in the waterfront section of the borough. Water sprayed on the fire was whipped by 30-mile-an-hour winds and frozen in place by temperatures in the low teens to cover everything on the street in a ghostly cloud of ice.

SHERRY PAT CURRY

JESSE CURRY

Jesse Curry files divorce papers against young bride

By DON WOODS

Jesse Packard Curry, 18, 2715 Central, has filed divorce proceedings against his wife, Sherry Pat.

Curry was convicted Dec. 19 by an 118th District Court jury of involuntary manslaughter in the shotgun killing of his mother, Wayne Basden, who handled Curry's trial, initiated divorce proceedings.

Curry married Sherry Pat Gillett Oct. 16, four months after shooting his mother, Lillian Curry, 50, with a shotgun June 17. Jesse and Sherry were married by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin on the same day their marriage license was issued.

Sherry testified in the trial that she had been on the phone with Curry when he shot his mother. The slender blonde said, "He was real upset and he was crying and he said, 'I shot my mom.' That's what he said." Sherry will be 17 on Feb. 21.

Curry said in trial testimony he will leave Big Spring. When questioned about his move he said, "I really think that's my business. I'm not supposed to talk to you guys. I'm not trying to be rude."

Chief Adult Probation Officer Guy Talbot was also taciturn about Curry's relocation plans.

Curry's testimony revealed though, that he would be undergoing continued psychological therapy.

No binding decision made during city council session

Several items of business were discussed during an 8 a.m. work session by Big Spring City Council members and city officials.

The agenda for the session included a review of the financial status of the Water and Sewer Fund; a discussion of security at the Big Spring Airport and Industrial Park; and a closed meeting to discuss pay plans and classifications of city employees.

"This was just a work session, and no binding decisions were made on any of those items," explained City Manager Don Davis. "Most of what we discussed today will be formally presented to the council during the Feb. 12 regular meeting."

After a look at the Water and Sewer Fund, those present determined that any rate hikes in the coming year would be unlikely, said Davis.

"It appears that in reviewing the fund we will have some increased expenses for electrical power and from the Colorado River Municipal Water District. But we should be able to absorb those costs without an increase," said the city manager.

Davis preferred not to disclose the results of a discussion of city salaries and classifications. He did say, however, that the discussion centered around the development of a classification plan, job descriptions for employees, and the relationship between the two.

"We had to determine what the scale would be for an equipment operator as opposed to a secretary, for example," said Davis.

The city manager added that no major decisions were made in regard to security at the industrial park.

City manager gives Burson green light

Patrolman John Burson has been given the go-ahead from City Manager Don Davis to run for the office of Howard County Sheriff.

The question had arisen earlier of whether the fact that Burson is a city employee created a conflict of interest in his bid for public office. Davis said today that City Attorney Elliott Mitchell had researched the situation carefully, and that Burson would be allowed to run without resigning his current job.

"From a clear-cut legal standpoint, federal case laws seem to indicate that Burson will be allowed to file for the office. In light of that, it is my concern that his campaigning doesn't interfere with the performance of his job," said Davis.

Burson revealed today he is considering taking a 30-day leave of absence to campaign later this year.

Attorneys clash over Stacy Dam

Role of water agency hot issue

(Special to The Herald)
AUSTIN — Is the Texas Water Commission, the state's bookkeeper, automatically declaring the balance of unappropriated water or is it an agency charged with seeing that waters of the state are not wasted?

This issue appeared Thursday to be at the heart of the oral arguments before Judge Herman Jones of 53rd District Court in the appeal by the Lower Colorado River Authority and others of the permit given to the Colorado River Municipal Water District to impound a reservoir on the Colorado River at Stacy 25 miles southeast of Ballinger.

The river's flow is over-appropriated and the 113,000 acre feet of water to be taken annually at Stacy would impair downstream rights, argued Lawrence Smith, attorney for the LCRA. Present permit holders had the right to develop them to the maximum before any additional permits can be issued, he declared.

This interpretation, contended Tim Brown, assistant attorney general defending the Stacy permit for the state, would guarantee "a waste of water."

The Colorado River has an estimated annual yield of 10.5 million acre feet of water, he said, yet each average year 2.3 million acre feet flow by the Columbus gates not far from the Gulf of Mexico.

Can people up the river — in particular those of West Texas — be denied water simply because some of the face value of all water rights of the estimated yield on the river? Brown said this would constitute a violation of the state constitution conservation amendment. LCRA attorneys claim the Supreme Court half a century ago dictated the simple bookkeeping approach as the basis for making water appropriations. Anything else, said Smith, would produce chaos.

Frank Booth, representing the CRMWD, declared this decision to be "hoary old dicta," that other cases and statutes have decreed that the Texas Water Commission should use broad discretion in granting water permits.

Substantial evidence in the 51 days of hearings which resulted in the CRMWD Stacy permit supported the availability of 113,000 acre feet of water at Stacy without creating any shortages downstream to the year 2030, he said. According to Booth, even after Stacy is in place, present and future needs downstream can be met for the next 50 years with 117,000 acre feet remaining.

LCRA's Smith complains that Stacy could impound water until the Highland Lakes are bone-dry but Brown said that engineering studies showed that if LCRA used its 2 1/2 million acre feet of storage property Stacy would never affect the Highland Lakes levels more than one foot.

The arguments continued through today. A decision is not expected immediately.

Americans favor resuming draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are solidly in favor of resuming the draft, but they are split on whether women should be subject to conscription, an Associated Press-NBC News poll says.

On both issues, those most directly affected by the changes being discussed are the most opposed to such changes.

Young people between age 18 and 24 — who would be the first to go — are the most significant group to oppose a new draft. And women oppose being drafted, while men favor conscripting women.

Talk about reviving the draft has been triggered by the turbulent crises in Iran, Afghanistan and in other world hot spots. President Carter announced in his State of the Union message earlier this month that he wants to register young people in case a draft is needed.

Among other findings, the AP-NBC News poll taken Tuesday and Wednesday found overwhelming backing for such a registration proposal. Seventy-eight percent favored registration and 17 percent opposed it. One percent said they would favor registration if women were not included and four percent were not sure.

On the question of actually resuming the draft — and not just registration — 62 percent favored a new conscription program. Twenty-nine percent opposed one and 9 percent of the 1,600 adults interviewed nationwide by telephone were not sure.

Almost a year ago, in February 1979, public opinion was much more closely divided on the subject of the draft. In the AP-NBC News poll that month, 49 percent favored resumption of the draft and 43 percent were opposed. Eight percent were not sure.

Support for resuming the draft is broad, running through almost every group of Americans. The only significant exception is young people, those 18 to 24 years of age.

Those young people opposed the draft by a 40-55 margin. By contrast, those 25 and over backed the draft by a 66-25 edge. In each case, the remainder were undecided.

Carter indirectly raised the question of drafting women when he used the term "young people" in his State of the Union message in referring to those who will be asked to register.

An even 50 percent of the public favors drafting women. Forty-four percent agreed overall with drafting women, while 6 percent volunteered that they favored drafting women only for non-combat roles.

Forty-five percent opposed drafting women and 5 percent were not sure.

While women overall favor resuming the draft by a 56-33 edge, they oppose being drafted. Thirty-nine percent of the women favor drafting women, but fifty percent opposed it.

Men, on the other hand, narrowly favored having women join them in the armed services. They favor drafting women by a 49-41 edge.

She said, in answer to the second part of the question, that the taxing entities voted to go along with senate bill 621. The senate bill was passed by legislators elected by taxpayers.

Want ad locates 'Sharp individuals'

One purchaser of a Herald want ad, seeking a person to do canvassing and light secretarial work, specified he was looking for a "sharp individual."

Apparently the subscriber to the advertisement found the party he was looking for. He originally inserted an order for the ad to appear four days but called back and ask that it be cancelled after two days.

He told the Herald he had "people running out his ears." Invariably, Herald want ads get results. Call 263-7331 and place an order with one of the newspaper's friendly sales persons. The reaction you get with your ad will likely surprise you.

Worth of Industrial Foundation increases

B. Winston Wrinkle, president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation, said the net worth of the foundation increased a little more than $100,000 to $566,583.67 in a statement issued during the board meeting Thursday.

The annual meeting, held in the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce offices, attracted about 20 stockholders.

The term of John Arrick on the board expired. He was replaced by Jack Redding.

During 1978, the foundation purchased the D.L. Dorland Hangar, a 5,000-square foot building, at Howard County Airport and has been leasing it since to Wes-Tex Board Co. The building, which originally cost $53,000, is only two years old.

During 1979, Medallion Homes purchased the Berkley Homes building and paid off five local financial institutions which were holding the mortgage on the building.

Wrinkle said 1979 proved to be another successful year for the foundation and he was especially grateful to those who made and kept pledges in 1976, 1977 and 1978.

Wrinkle, however, expressed some concern over several local firms which have not paid their pledges for 1978 but had reassured the board they would pay when the board purchased and developed industrial land.

Wrinkle said the board was going to need that money in 1980 because that is the board's top priority — to purchase industrial land and develop it.

"We only have three large buildings left to lease in the Industrial Park (formerly Webb AFB)," said Wrinkle, "and we have prospects for all three of these. I hope we can make an announcement within 30 days of new plant locations and new jobs for our citizens."

In addition to Wrinkle, the industrial foundation's board of directors include Clyde McMahon, Jim Bill Little, Sidney Clark and Redding.

In his written statement, Wrinkle lashed out at people in the community who he said "were always attacking the management of our city, county schools and industrial efforts (but who) have never contributed to the Big Spring Industrial Foundation. People who love Big Spring and believe in its future should invest in the Big Spring Industrial Foundation."

None of the officers or directors of the Industrial Foundation receive any salary or fees. Stockholders include industry, retail business, professionals, business, interested media, utility people and other community-involved citizens.

PRAYING FOR KHOMEINI — An elderly Iranian woman weeps Friday as she prays outside the hospital where the Ayatollah Khomeini is recuperating from a heart ailment at Tehran. Thousands attended the prayer service commemorating the first anniversary of Khomeini's return to Iran from exile.

Iranians pray in streets for Khomeini's recovery

By the Associated Press

Tens of thousands of Iranians marched today to the Tehran hospital where Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini is recuperating from a heart ailment and prayed in the street outside in an emotional celebration of the first anniversary of the revolutionary leader's triumphant return to Iran.

It was the largest gathering in the Iranian capital in weeks. Men and women in the throng wept openly during prayers offered to the 79-year-old Khomeini's health. Revolutionary guardsmen stood by with flowers in the barrels of their guns.

The huge crowd later assembled at Tehran University for a Muslim sabbath sermon urging that the unity of the Islamic revolution inspired by Khomeini not be forsaken.

Two miles away at the U.S. Embassy, some 50 Americans spent their 90th day in captivity. Iran's ambassador to Canada, Mohammad Adeli, told reporters in Ottawa Thursday that agreement on release of the American hostages would be delayed because of anti-American feeling generated in Iran by the recent escape of six U.S. Embassy staff members, which he called a "flagrant violation of international convention."

The six flew out of Iran over the weekend using forged Canadian passports. They had been hidden in the homes of Canadian diplomats in Tehran since Nov. 4, the day militant Iranian students seized the other Americans in the U.S. Embassy, an act blasted by the United Nations as a flagrant violation of international norms.

The six were reunited with their families at an air base in Delaware Thursday and were to hold a news conference in Washington this afternoon. President Carter said he doubted the escape would result in harsher treatment for the embassy hostages, but Iranian Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh said on Wednesday that it "most probably" would.

So far there has been no public comment from the militants.

The Iranian revolutionary government was preoccupied not with the American hostages but with a new flareup in the Kurdish rebellion in northwest Iran.

A rebel spokesman in the Kurdish city of Sanandaj said 50 or more persons were killed and scores more were wounded in two days of fighting between Kurds and the revolutionary guard in Kamyaran, Bijar and Paveh. He said most of the casualties were government men.

Tehran Radio reported 11 killed and 22 wounded in Paveh, 300 miles west of Tehran.

Intermediate grade level students of Immaculate Heart of Mary School made a retreat last Friday at St. Margaret's Church in San Angelo.

Speakers for the retreat included Sr. Rebecca Otter, who spoke on "Being a Child of God — Being Important," and Fr. Jim Chamont, Assistant Pastor of Sacred Heart Cathedral in San Angelo.

The retreat started with a tour of the Diocesan Chancery Office where the children sang "happy birthday" to Bishop Joseph Fiorenza followed by a tour of the Diocesan Cathedral and Sacred Heart School. Chaparones for the retreat included Bob and Rosemary West, Mrs. Lupe Saldivar, Mrs. Ruth Salazar, Sr. Ann Benat and Mrs. Joan Lafond.

Sheriff, deputy attend civil proceedings meet

Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard and Deputy Paul Silva returned Thursday from a conference on civil proceedings in Midland.

The conference was held at the Midland Police Academy Tuesday through Thursday. Texas Standards in Education from Austin supplied the speakers.

The conference dealt with alleviating problems that could stem from civil process. Standard said authorities could mistakenly confiscate the wrong property in some civil cases. Some papers, such as writs of garnishment, have to be served immediately when received.

"You can get courses on the criminal process," said Standard. "The civil code just isn't taught because it's so involved."

Others from the sheriff's office will go to a conference in March on the civil process. Chief Deputy Bill Whitten and another deputy will go. The second deputy hasn't been decided.

Gold Medal winners at all the major Feiseanna throughout Ireland, they are making their American debut in this 1980 Jury's Tour.

Police beat — Bad guys slowed by bad weather

Criminal activity was light in the city Thursday. An employee of the DKT Company lost four cases of beer to a thief while making a delivery at the Shade Western Lounge, 5:30 p.m. Thursday. According to reports, the employee returned to his truck only to see a man drop a case of beer onto the ground.

The thief, thought to be in his mid-30s, then jumped into a white Chevrolet driven by an accomplice and fled the scene. Loss was estimated at $26.40.

Pauline Matthews, Big Spring Courts, was visited by an acquaintance, Thursday night, and when the visitor left, so did Ms. Matthews checkbook. The checks were blank, and its value has not been estimated.

Only one mishap was reported Thursday.

Vehicles driven by Mark D. Murphree, Route 1, and Valiente W. Turney, 1905 Wason, collided in the lot of the Kentucky Fried Chicken Restaurant, 6:56 p.m.

Martin County Sheriff will seek re-election

STANTON — Veteran Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders has announced his intentions to seek re-election. He was first elected in 1952 and took office Jan. 1, 1953. When elected, he was the youngest sheriff serving in the state at that time. For the first 24 years in office he also served as the county's tax assessor-collector.

Both have farmed in Martin County for half a century. Saunders was reared at Lenora, went through the first ten grades of school there and then graduated from Stanton High School. He served in the Army during World War 2 and, afterwards, served three years as a Texas Highway Patrolman before resigning to return home and announce for public office when Sheriff Kyle Shoemaker chose not to run for re-election.

In his announcement, the sheriff made the following statement: "I have spent my entire adult life in law enforcement and have endeavored, every day, to do a better job. I deeply appreciate the support the people have always given me and I have tried to show it in the way I have served them. I have no apologies to make or excuses to offer. I have done the very best that I know how to do and have tried to serve in an honorable and professional way. I have a good loyal staff and we are here for only one purpose — to serve the people. I foresee no changes in my procedures if the voters see fit to return me to office for another term."

The incumbent is married to the former Billye Bouldin of Lenora who also graduated from Stanton High School. They have two sons, David and Sid. David is married to the former Darla Sawyer of Lenora and they have two small boys.

Saunders is very active in peace officer organizations and served as President of the Sheriff's Association of Texas in 1974-75. He was appointed as a member of the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement in January of 1976 by Gov. Dolph Briscoe and now serves as vice-chairman of the seven member commission and is the only sheriff serving.

Grocery prices increases slow

By the Associated Press

A drop in the price of eggs and fewer increases for beef and pork helped hold the overall increase in grocery prices in January to 0.7 percent, a sharp improvement from the 2.6 percent price surge in December, according to an Associated Press market-basket survey.

Chicago supermarket, the total price of the 12 available items rose only a penny, not even a tenth of a percentage point over December.

In the previous month, overall prices had gone up an average of 3.2 percent in 11 cities and down about one percentage point in two.

Egg prices do not usually decline at grocery stores in January, the Agriculture Department's Westcott said. But he added that they have been going down since late December on New York commodity markets, possibly reflecting a fall-off in demand at the end of the holiday baking season.

"After two years of killing freezes, there's quite a large citrus crop, especially the oranges, being harvested now," he said. "That should show up in concentrate prices."

While egg prices declined an average of 11.2 percent in the survey cities in January and orange concentrate prices began edging down, the costs of detergent, frankfurters and sugar showed increases in more than half of the cities surveyed.

The Agriculture Department is predicting that food prices will rise between 7 percent and 11 percent this year, compared with the 11 percent seen in official Agriculture statistics last year.

The survey has been taken in supermarkets in 13 cities every month since March 1, 1973. Prices initially were checked for 15 commonly purchased food and non-food items, but one — chocolate chip cookies — was dropped from the list at the end of November 1977 because the manufacturer discontinued the package size used in the survey.

The January analysis showed that the market-basket bill rose an average of 2.5 percent in supermarkets in eight cities and fell an average of 2.75 percent in four others. In a

Rail traffic up to par

ODENTON, Md. (AP) — Rail traffic was back to normal today along the Northeast Corridor where a freight derailment just south of Baltimore closed three tracks.

Lois Morasco, Amtrak public affairs director, said crews had opened two of the three damaged rail lines by 1 p.m. Wednesday. She said traffic had returned to normal and trains were running on schedule.

Sixteen cars of a 118-car Conrail freight train derailed late Wednesday night, blocking all three tracks, she said. Cause of the derailment was not yet determined, she said. The train was headed to Washington from Harrisburg, Pa.

Lance trial recessed

ATLANTA (AP) — The bank fraud trial of former federal budget director Bert Lance was recessed until Monday when ice on north Georgia roads prevented a co-defendant from getting to court.

U.S. District Judge Charles A. Moya Jr. recessed the trial Thursday after learning that an ice storm would prevent Richard Carr from making the 100-mile drive to court from his home in Ringgold, Ga.

Lance, once a close adviser to President Carter, and three co-defendants are charged with conspiracy, misuse of bank funds, false statements to banks and false entries in bank records in connection with $20 million in loans.

AT&T hires most lawyers

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., citing the need for attorneys to work on mounting federal regulation, employs more full-time lawyers than the country's two largest law firms combined, according to the National Law Journal.

The weekly newspaper reports in its current issue that with 863 lawyers on its payroll, AT&T is the largest private employer of full-time lawyers.

The largest private law firms were Chicago's Baker & McKenzie with 512 lawyers and New York's Shearman & Sterling with 288, the newspaper said.

Judge throws out law

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Roxbury Township ordinance regulating the sale of drug paraphernalia has been thrown out by a federal judge on grounds it violated the due process clause of the U.S. Constitution.

The ordinance said that no person could sell or offer for sale drug paraphernalia, such as a syringe or pipe, "if he has reasonable cause to believe that the product sold... will be used in conjunction with" drugs.

U.S. District Judge H. Lee Sarokin said Thursday the ordinance placed an unconstitutional obligation on the merchant to observe and determine the legal intentions of the buyer of the merchandise.

Freezing drizzle forecast for today

Freezing rain or freezing drizzle was forecast today for central and west central portions of Texas today and sleet was mentioned as a possibility in North Texas by evening.

A surface high pressure system over Texas gave North Texas clear skies and provided cold temperatures for all of the state early today.

Forecasts called for mostly cloudy skies over all but northern sections of the state today. Slightly warmer temperatures were expected over most of the state.

Highs were to range from the 40s in the Panhandle to the 50s and 60s in South Texas.

Skies were clear during the pre-dawn hours over the Panhandle and along the Red River into Northeast Texas, causing temperatures to drop into the teens in the Panhandle and the lower 20s across the northern section of the state.

Beware of the fast talking salesman

Apparently you are a lot more susceptible to the con man's pitch than you care to admit, at least some of you are.

Were you numbered among the thousands of Americans who were bilked out of $21 billion last year? Never have the fast-talking wolves, posing as respectable pillars of society, operated with such abandon as they are now doing.

The people who should know better, the middle-aged and the elderly, are the chief pigeons of the con artists. It is a sad indictment of American life that the people who have worked the hardest and merit some peace of mind are the ones the glib talkers work hardest to separate from their savings.

THE $21 BILLION figure may be conservative, since a lot of people who have fallen for such sales pitches take their losses and keep their mouths shut, rather than admit to the world that they have been swindled. That kind is too embarrassed to talk about it.

The President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration makes the rather shocking claim that nine out of ten victims do not report such crimes.

Consider the case of people who claim arthritic cures that are worthless. The government says that $90 million was spent in 1979 alone by desperate people who think there is a medicine that will heal the crippling disease.

Wouldn't you think, too, that most of us would get wise to the fact that choice parcels of real estate in far off places cannot be purchased for virtual peanuts; yet more than 50,000 people plunked down $350 million in 1979 for worthless Arizona land. Those figures come from the U.S. District Court Attorney's office.

The government is forever cautioning people not to invest before they investigate, but many of us surrender big bucks without asking questions. P.T. Barnum, who made his statement, "there's a sucker born every minute" back before the turn of the century, should be alive today.

The thought of miracles entrance us all, but they rarely occur. Usually, claims like "get rich quick," "good health overnight" and "win a lot of money without any investment" aren't worth the paper they're written on. If a deal sounds too good to be true, it invariably is.

Inflationary times bring the smoothies out of the woodwork. In mail fraud alone, more than 62 different types are routinely investigated by the Fraud Division of the U.S. Postal Service.

To help protect yourself against your own impulses and temptations, the following tips could save you from financial ruin and emotional collapse:

—Be suspicious of a deal which promises you something for nothing.

—Don't attach your signature before reading a document from top to bottom, especially the small print.

—Don't discuss finances with strangers and never withdraw money from your account at their request.

—If you think you have been swindled, by all means report the details to the proper authorities.

Or, to put it another way, use common sense.

Too darn cold

Around the rim

James Werrell

I recently read an article by Lisa Alther, an author from Tennessee, who had just moved to New York City. The essence of the article was that she had been fully able to reconfirm her suspicion that Northerners just don't glory in words the way Southerners do.

SHE OFFERED AS proof a typical phone conversation between two Northerners and an equally typical conversation between two Southerners.

The northern conversation went something like:
Northerner 1 — Hello, is Judy there?
Northerner 2 — No, I'm sorry, she's not.

Northerner 1 — When do you expect her to be home?
Northerner 2 — You could try again in about an hour.
Northerner 1 — Goodbye.
Northerner 2 — Goodbye.

The Southerners' conversation would progress quite differently, hypothesized Ms. Alther. It would be more like:

Southerner 1 — Hello, Miz Smith? This is Jimmy Mac Jones, and I sure do need to speak to Judy, if you don't mind, please.

Southerner 2 — Why I'm so sorry, Jimmy, but she can't come to the phone right now. Actually, she's down the street visiting that girl, Elna Sue Jones I believe her name is; that's the Victor Joneses, you know, the side of the family that drinks.

It's easy enough to focus on the Southern gifts of reparations. We are surrounded by them. But what about the northern stinginess with the English language?

I had an American Literature professor in college who claimed that the following exchange actually took place between him and a rockribbed New England farmer somewhere in the wilds of Maine:

"Excuse me, sir, do you have the time?" asked my prof.

"Yup," replied the farmer. It seems that I, having lived in Texas for a few years, have accumulated enough words to get me through bushels of New England winters. Why not take these words up north and market them, like oil, where they seem to be at a premium?

I COULD START a small paper (about two pages would do it) in some town named Pawtucket or Horsehead Bay. I'd call it New England News — In Brief. The paper's motto would be "Less."

I can see the stories rolling out of my typewriter:

Headline — Captives Complain Of Cruelty From Iranian Students
Story — Well, looks like they're still in hot water alright.

Headline — Russians Roll Into Afghanistan
Story — Looks like they're in hot water, too.

Headline — Tito Has Leg Amputated
Story — No skiing for him this season!

I would also have editorials:
Headline — Kennedy Seeks Votes In Own Backyard

Comment — Well, Teddy better buckle down, else when the sap starts to run he might be looking for a job.

It's obvious to see that this could be a real gold mine for the enterprising Texan. But what self-respecting Southerner could stand to live among people who say "yup" and "nope" and "could be" all the time?

What do I really think of making my fortune in the north country? Too darn cold, yup!

King of castle

William F. Buckley, Jr.

GENEVA — The Europe-based ganglion of Cold War information with an unbeatable record for reliability advises what happened when Jacques Chaban-Delmas, president of the French National Assembly, met recently with Brezhnev in the Kremlin. CD ventured to advise Brezhnev, in words of one syllable, that the Soviet armed conquest of Afghanistan was "unacceptable to the West."

BREZHNEV'S REPLY, in several parts, is a locus classicus of Soviet thought-patterns. He began by feigning utter indifference to what he was being told. Then he brushed it all aside, as though bored. When finally he spoke, it was to say: "Why are so many people so upset about this trivial affair? It's a small police action designed to restore order to a country that appealed for our assistance twice before under the provisions of our friendship treaty, a country that was being destabilized by American and other imperialist agents. We have a few soldiers guarding roads and bridges, that's all."

A response of that specific gravity of deceit and disingenuousness leaves even the practiced diplomat with a feeling of utter helplessness. It is as if a representative of the Red Cross, approaching the president of a corporation for a contribution, were told: "Why should I contribute to the Red Cross when all the world knows that it was founded as an organization to practice terrorism in order to promote disease and starvation in the Third World? Besides, why do you need money, when everybody knows you have 75 percent interest in all the oil that comes out of the Persian Gulf?" Sensible Red Cross officials walk softly out of the room in such circumstances; diplomats, who have to put up with the political analogue, have to stay; and try.

CHABAN-DELMAS took the easiest point, and had a go at it. He advised Brezhnev that "five divisions is hardly a small police action with a few soldiers."

Brezhnev — this is a superb ploy, regularly used by the communist elite — beckoned to a military aide sitting behind him. "Do we have five divisions in Afghanistan?"

"No, sir."

Brezhnev turns to CD with a gesture of disdain for the anti-Soviet fabrication.

But it is not a part of communist theatre to let things go at that point. One takes the offensive, which Brezhnev instantly did. The real threat to world peace, he said, has nothing to do with the little Soviet foray into Afghanistan. It has to do with the decision to deploy Pershing and cruise missiles in West Europe. That's the true act of aggression of our time.

CD replied that the decision had been made as a defensive reaction to Russia's ongoing deployment of her lethal 22-20 mobile missiles, with a range of 2800 miles, which have been targeted against West Europe at a steady gait, even as the two super-powers negotiated the SALT II Treaty during the past seven years.

Brezhnev grew impatient and raised his voice: "We will never permit the Pershings and the cruise missiles in Western Europe!"

CD returned to Paris and reported his conviction that the Soviet leaders believe they have accumulated the strength necessary to prevent Europe from going ahead with deployment.

"If this strategy doesn't work, however... rest assured we'll pursue other avenues of response."

Paget's disease a common ailment

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I was in the hospital for kidney trouble. I was told after X-rays that I had Paget's disease. What is Paget's and is there any cure? Should I be taking medicine for it? — Mrs. G.M.

(This is also for "P.F.")
Paget's disease is a bone illness and the cause is not known. There is another condition called Paget's disease of the breast (nipples). This is entirely different and has nothing to do with bones, as does your kind. The only connection is that both conditions were first recognized by, and named for the same physician, Dr. James Paget.

Now as to your Paget's disease. This may occur in as many as 3 percent of the population more than 40 years old. Generally, there are no symptoms and the illness is found in X-rays taken for other purposes.

In the early stages of Paget's, certain areas of bone lose their mineral content. Later, new bone is laid down in that area. This new bone eventually becomes harder and denser than surrounding bone. That's why it is so easily noted on X-ray pictures.

Most people do not realize they have the illness, and no treatment is required anyway.

In some cases, because of the area of bone affected, symptoms will occur, for example, hip pain if the hip bone is involved. In very few cases, the bone can develop a malignancy. Several drugs are used to relieve symptoms, if there are any. These range from aspirin to calcitonin, a drug that prevents further calcium loss from bones.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am having problems with a gland located just under the jaw between the ear and the chin. The doctor said it was a saliva gland and not to worry about it. I thought saliva glands were located directly under the tongue.

I drank a glass of cranberry juice and the gland swelled up twice its size. Why should it swell? It takes all day for it to recede. — L.D.F.

The smallest salivary gland (the sublingual) is located under the tongue. The largest (the parotid) is located on the side of the face slightly below the ear. The third (the sub-maxillary) is just below the jaw.

Glands swell for a number of reasons. Mumps, for example, produces marked swelling of the parotids. The tartness of the cranberry juice stimulates these glands to produce saliva, so an obstruction of the duct out from a salivary gland leads to swelling after such stimulation. Saliva is being produced without the ability to empty into the mouth.

A common cause of obstruction is a minute stone in the duct.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My doctor sent me to a gynecologist to have a pessary inserted. The new doctor did this. He is trying to talk me into an operation, a hysterectomy, to remove the uterus. My doctor says no to the operation. Should I? And how often should I remove the pessary to clean it? — No Name.

Pessaries are small, often hard rubber devices used to hold up a dropped uterus, especially in women who cannot undergo extensive surgery. The pessary should be removed and cleaned at least weekly. If it causes pain or interferes with urination, report it promptly.

You don't tell me anything about yourself, so I cannot comment on the proposed hysterectomy. My gynecologist advisers tell me they often resort to an alternate operation (non-hysterectomy) in older women who cannot tolerate long surgical procedures. They close the area

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have problems with evil thoughts coming into my mind from time to time. It seems like the more I try to banish them, the more they keep coming. Do you have any suggestions about this? — B.B.

DEAR B.B.: I want you to imagine that you have a large bottle filled with smoke in front of you. How can you get the smoke out of the bottle? The only way I can think of is to replace the smoke with something else — like clean air you blow into the bottle.

Your mind is filled with things which are wrong, just like the smoke-filled bottle. How do you get rid of those things? By filling your mind with what is good! This is not necessarily an easy thing to do, but if you will make this your goal you will find that the evil thoughts begin to fade. How do you do this?

Begin by committing your whole life to Christ, asking Him to be Lord of every area, including your mind. This is what we are urged to do in Romans within the vaginal cavity with sutures. This helps keep the uterus in place and is not a big operation. It would be done in sexually active women.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Do the scars from shingles infection ever disappear? — B.D.S.

The initial discoloration from shingles infection almost always disappears unless the virus infection is especially deep. If there are lingering pigment changes these can be covered with cosmetics.
Shingles can be a painful disease! For a copy of the booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am 90 years young. About three months ago I had a boil on my lower back (rear end). It has an opening in it. It went away once, but has come back again. What can I use to bring it to a head so it will drain? — I.R.

Warm compresses will bring a boil to a head, but a recurring boil in the area you describe ought to be examined. If it is in the upper part of the "rear end" it might be what is called "piloid" (hair) cyst. That requires special attention (surgery).

A recurring boil can mean a deeper infection, and that will require more attention than just drainage. Please have this looked at by a doctor.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

12:1-2: "Therefore... offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God — which is your spiritual worship. Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind."

Then concentrate on God and His Word. Study the Bible diligently. Memorize it to allow it to become part of you. Note what Paul tells us: "Since, then, you have been raised with Christ, set your hearts on things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things" (Colossians 3:1-2). The more you try to banish evil thoughts, the more you find yourself thinking about them.

But if you are thinking about Christ and His truth, there is no room for those old thoughts. "Whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable — if anything is excellent or praiseworthy — think about such things" (Philippians 4:8).

Tenuous comfort

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — For all his perversity, Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev gives Washington policymakers a sense of security. He's an adversary they have come to know. They understand his moods and can anticipate his moves. He is perverse, yes, but predictable.

So despite all the rhetoric and rancor between Washington and Moscow, there is a quiet dread that the Kremlin to unknown forces who may already have portended the future by promoting the aggression against Afghanistan.

An earlier scare rippled through Washington four years ago when secret intelligence reports warned that the ailing Brezhnev might retire. "Brezhnev's long-standing cardiovascular problems and persistent dental troubles have taken a toll," reported a top-secret dispatch on Nov. 29, 1975. "His swings in mood have become more pronounced, perhaps in part because of greater use of stimulants and sedatives."

THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE Agency learned that Brezhnev's younger brother, Yakov, had told "a foreign friend" that "the Soviet party boss will retire at the party congress in February (1976)."

Brezhnev himself dropped a similar hint to a group of visiting U.S. senators. "No one is eternal and life being what it is, there comes a time when a person must leave," he said, "whether for retirement or because of illness."

The Soviet interpreter didn't pass on Brezhnev's remark about "illness," but the escort officer from the American embassy picked it up. The embassy later reported to Washington in a classified account: "The Soviet interpreter did not translate the reference to illness probably because he regarded it as too sensitive..."

About the same time, Brezhnev also met separately with West Germany's Chancellor Helmut Schmidt and France's President Giscard d'Estaing. Afterward, German officials tipped off the CIA that "progress on Berlin-related matters was impaired by (Brezhnev's) extreme weariness."

"On one occasion," they reported, "Brezhnev was upset by a sharp and disagreeable dispute between foreign ministers (Andrei Gromyko and Hans-Dietrich Genscher, but appeared too weak to stop it."

In a separate report to CIA contacts, French officials confirmed that "Brezhnev seemed tired and not a well man." He tended "to read from briefing notes and frequently repeated himself," the French said.

THE CIA WAS NOT convinced, however, that Brezhnev would step down. The talk of retirement, suggested a top-secret report, "may have accurately reflected Brezhnev's outlook as of last fall (1975) — one of his 'down' periods — but later clandestine reporting and Brezhnev's more recent public behavior suggests he now means to stay on."

"Clearly," the report added, "Brezhnev has periods of elation and depression, and his intentions may vary as his mood swings. Thus we can expect more contradictory reporting on his plans..."

Now, four years later, intelligence analysts again are speculating that Brezhnev's grip on the Kremlin may be weakening. As long as Brezhnev is in charge, they believe, the Soviet Union will hold back from a direct confrontation with the United States.

The state of his health, therefore, could affect the state of the world. Those who have seen Brezhnev recently say the mileage is beginning to show on his face. He is a burly, bloated ruin of a once impressive specimen.

His huge gray head hangs forward, the face pallid, the eyebrows still bristling, the eyes small — or perhaps they only seem small, encroached upon as they are by great cheeks. The eyes also give off a cold glint, though they occasionally become glazed over as he lapses into an uncommunicative state.

Like an old grizzly bear, the Kremlin leader has about him an aura of a gory, combative past, but the former ferocity has begun to fade. A top-secret summary, compiled from clandestine evidence by CIA doctors, has this to say about his health:

"Brezhnev's major health problems are cardiovascular. He has both hypertension and arteriosclerosis heart disease and many years ago suffered a heart attack. He probably has a pacemaker..."

"Brezhnev has other but minor medical problems, e.g., occasional attacks of bursitis in the right shoulder and repeated upper respiratory illness...Brezhnev has been diagnosed at times as depressed and at other times as alert, energetic and animated. He has long been prone to substantial mood swings, a disposition that probably has become more pronounced..."

"He sometimes uses stimulants and sedatives in excess of the recommendation of his physicians, and this has probably accentuated his mood swings. There is no indication that his intellectual acuity has been significantly affected by these emotional problems and no sign of a lessening of his judgment or contact with reality."

"(But) on several occasions..." the CIA summary adds, "he has been described as unable to concentrate, inattentive and fatigued. In addition to reflecting the depletion of his limited physical reserves or the effect of excessive medication, these could be symptoms of depression."

"Periods of depression are likely to lead him to focus on his other health problems, and this could magnify future bouts of depression. In fact, recent reports suggest that Brezhnev may be attempting to reduce his use of mood-affecting medications, as well as to lose weight..."

Deceased Mexican pilot identified

NEWCASTLE, Okla. (AP) — A Mexican pilot, who lost his life in a plane crash near here Wednesday, was identified by investigators Thursday as the probe into the reason for the crash continued.

Dennis Tuck, chief of the Oklahoma City FAA Flight Standards District, said the plane's pilot was identified as Julio Piedras of Mexico City.

Tuck said the twin-engine plane dropped out of radar contact into the Newcastle pasture when freezing weather forced the pilot off his course en route to a downtown Oklahoma City airstrip from Dallas.

Fire station has electricity turned off

HOUSTON (AP) — If you've ever been in the embarrassing situation of having your electricity turned off because you forgot to pay a bill, take heart — the Houston Fire Department knows exactly how you feel. Red-faced department officials said Thursday the power at one of their radio towers was turned off because someone "dropped the ball" and didn't pay a $382.85 power bill. Dwight Spurlock, division manager for Community Public Service, said he had been talking to the city for several months, "trying to get them to pay the bill."

But a dedicated bill collector pulled the meter from the tower, which is also shared by the police department, forcing the fire department to hook up an auxiliary generator and then scramble to find fuel to keep it running.

The power was turned back on a few hours later.

Second migrant worker charged

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — For the second time in six months a migrant farm worker has been convicted on charges relating to child abuse, court records show. A state district court jury Thursday assessed Patrick Brito Olivas a 10-year jail term and a $5,000 fine for his conviction in the beating death of a 3-month-old boy. Olivas had been found guilty of involuntary manslaughter Wednesday afternoon.

He was charged in the Jan. 15, 1977, beating death of Serapio Roman Olivas.

Unafraid of the Future

This is our future!
Ernie has no qualms about growing up in this complex world — he is unafraid of the future.
Know why?
Because he trusts US!
Ernie leaves to Jean and me — his parents — all those vital decisions that will have an indelible effect on his future.
That trust brings our family to church every Sunday. It has made religious faith an important part of our home life.
When you are responsible for the future of a child of God — you need HIS help!

Says Caresses Restored Tresses

DEAR ABBY: I know how GOING BALD feels. I was 38 when my hair started coming out by the handfuls. I went to my doctor and he asked, "How is your sex life?" I told him I hadn't had any lately. (I had been married 20 years and had four kids.)

ST. CHARLES, LA.

DEAR ABBY: Tell GOING BALD not to panic. I started to go bald, too. I was 27, and the more I worried about it the worse it got.

My internist sent me to a dermatologist. The dermatologist sent me to an endocrinologist who sent me to a psychiatrist!

I was told that my hair loss was caused by stress! And, of course, the more I worried about losing my hair, the more stressful I became, so it was a vicious circle.

My psychiatrist got to the root of the trouble (no pun intended) and once I faced my problems, my hair came back. (I had been denying them.)

GOING BALD could save a lot of time and money if she went straight to a psychiatrist. I was literally "tearing the hair out of my head" until I found peace of mind.

HEALTHY AND HAIRY IN PHILA-

DEAR ABBY: If GOING BALD doesn't have any signs of rash, or sores on her head, she should make a mixture of castor oil and sheep dung, and plaster it on her head every night. (Tell her to wear a shower cap so she won't mess up her pillow.)

I started losing my hair after the birth of my child. My grandmother gave me this remedy and it worked. I used it three times (after each baby), and it worked like a charm every time.

My husband didn't mind the smell at all. He said it reminded him of the days when he was a kid growing up on a farm, and it really turned him on.

LIL IN GREAT FALLS, MONT.

DEAR ABBY: No wonder there are so many women going bald today. They torture their hair with curlers, curling irons, blowers, and hours of sitting under a hot hair dryer. Nature never intended for hair to be abused in so many ways. I'm surprised we don't have more bald women.

What ever happened to days when women washed their hair with a pure castile soap, rinsed it with vinegar and towel dried it in the sun?

AUNT ELLA IN AUSTIN

DEAR ABBY: Loss of hair can be a symptom of a nutritional deficiency. My sister had that problem. She ran from doctor to doctor, and not until she went to a nutritionist did she discover the cause. The nutritionist told her she was eating all the wrong things.

When she got herself on a balanced diet, her hair started to grow in. She got careless about her diet once, and went back to her old eating habits—lots of sugar and very little fresh vegetables and fruits. Sure enough, her hair started falling out again. Then she paid attention to nature's warning and went back to a balanced diet. Now she has a beautiful head of thick hair again.

TRUE STORY, ENID, OKLA.

DEAR ABBY: I am a beauty operator, and when a customer's hair starts falling out, I send her to a dermatologist with a sample of everything I use on her hair and scalp. (Hair dyes, bleaches, conditioners, shampoos, waxes, etc.) Some dermatologists will send them to an allergist. After using the same products for years, some people will develop an allergy to them.

MR. WILLIAM IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: If your husband could hardly wait for the hunting season to open, and then took off in the middle of the night for a five-day hunting trip and forgot to take his rifle, what would you think?

WEST TEXAS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I would think that he did not intend to shoot whatever it was that he set out to hunt!

Modern Woman's Forum has FREE program at K-Bobs

The Modern Woman's Forum met at K-Bobs Restaurant Jan. 25 at 3 p.m. with Mrs. Fred Whitaker serving as hostess. Mrs. Bert Affleck, president, presided.

Mrs. Woody Smith, first vice president, introduced Mrs. Cass Hill, the program leader. Mrs. Hill gave the FREE or "Federations Role in our Enterprise Economy" program.

The political and economic structures of our American society are so closely related that each system must be preserved in order for the others to survive. Democracy is a government in which the majority prevails by free elections. In it there is individual freedom, freedom of choice, freedom of thought and speech and freedom of opportunity.

The private enterprise system is the economic counterpart of the political free society and provides economic liberty. Production tools are privately owned and producers are free to offer in a competitive market what they believe consumers want. Consumers are free to buy what they choose.

The survival of our political and economic systems requires an informed and involved electorate.

The FREE program is intended to bring about the widest possible understanding of the private enterprise system. The four pillars of our prosperity, agriculture, manufacture, commerce and navigation are most thriving when left to individual enterprise.

TWEEN 12 and 20 You'll never regret staying pure

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: Please print my letter. I don't want other girls to make the same mistake that I did.

I'm 17 now but started having sex with my boyfriend when I was 15. I had been dating my boyfriend for seven months when he said that if I didn't have sex, he would leave me. Being afraid of losing him, I finally gave in.

After he got what he wanted, he broke up with me. I cried for many days. I felt used, guilty and dirty. Of course I couldn't discuss my feelings with my mother so I had to "sweat it out" alone on whether I was pregnant or not.

My real wish is that I could have remained pure. Girls, don't make the same mistake that I did. If the boy respects you and cares for you, he will understand when you say no.

If he doesn't, let him go. Believe me, I'm talking from experience. — Regretful, Colorado Springs, Colo. Regretful: Please read the next letter from Bill.

Dr. Wallace: I have been reading your column with interest for some time and I would like to comment on the letter from a 14-year-old girl from San Diego, Calif., who was afraid of losing her boyfriend if she didn't have sex with him.

I am an 15-year-old guy who has been going with a 15-year-old girl for eight months. We have never had sex, yet we love each other very much. We realize that making love would be a mistake, that the emotional scars would be too great to overcome. We love each other very much and will continue to do so without having sex.

If the San Diego girl and her boyfriend really have love, he will honor her wishes and abstain. If he breaks up with her over this issue, he might be the kind to leave her if she should become pregnant. — Bill, Tacoma, Wash.

Bill: You are a wise young man and I know many teens can relate to your message.

For Dr. Wallace's teen booklet, "Happiness or Despair," please send $1 and a 28-cent stamped, large, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Wallace in care of this newspaper.

Hawk Queens batter Blinn

TEMPLE — The Howard College Hawk Queens broke open a tight game with an effective man-to-man press in the second half to cruise to an 83-59 victory over Blinn Junior College here Thursday night in a non-conference game.

The Queens, behind 16 points from Susan Martin in the first half, held a 41-35 halftime advantage. Most of Martin's points came on long range bombs.

But Hawk Queens Coach Don Stevens ordered a full court man-to-man press in the second half in order to put more pressure on the ball, and his strategy worked in winning fashion. The Queens had employed a full court zone press in the first half.

Blinn received an outstanding 30-point effort from Jane Dostal, 6'1", 220-pound freshman from Rice Consolidated High School.

Besides Martin, four Queens connected in double figures. Jill Floyd and Joanne Lefridge had 12 points each, with Kelly Lyons adding 11 and Jayne Jones 10.

The Queens, now 18-6 on the year, play the tough Temple JC women's team tonight, and then return home Monday night for an important contest against Western Texas College. The winner of Monday's contest will take the lead in the Western Conference standings.

HOWARD COLLEGE (83) — Floyd 4-12; Martin 11-9-22; Lefridge 6-0-12; Freeman 3-0-4; Lyons 5-1-11; Young 1-6-2; Jones 5-0-10; Moon 6-1-1; Smith 2-3-7; TOTALS 37-9-83.
BLINN (59) — Moorhead 2-0-4; Fritz 2-1-5; Seale 2-2-4; Short 3-0-4; Rab 4-0-8; Dostal 13-4-20; TOTALS 26-7-59.
Halftime score: Howard 41, Blinn 35.

Steers host Midland

The Big Spring Steers boys basketball team will open their second half schedule in District 5-AAAA tonight when they host the Midland Bulldogs, co-champions of the first half.

The Big Spring crew will then host Abilene on Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. in a contest that was originally scheduled for last Tuesday.

The Big Spring Steerettes girls basketball team will also be in action tonight, at which time they visit Midland to make up a game originally planned for last night.

The Steers will face a Midland team that will not doubt be steaming due to their loss on Tuesday night to Odessa Permian. Permian and Midland had tied for the first half title, but the Panthers overcame the Purple Pack in overtime to gain a quick advantage in the second half race.

Big Spring Coach Ed Haller will continue to play with his youthful team, as the Steers have only one senior left on the squad, in 6'1" Brocky Jones. The remainder of the team is comprised of seven juniors and two sophomores. Junior James Doss is the Steers leading scorer.

Midland is led by 6'9" junior Herbert Johnson, who the 5-AAAA sophomore of the year last season when the Purple Pack won the district title.

Junior varsity games both tonight and tomorrow night are slated for a 6:15 tipoff.

Holmes defends title against unknown Italian

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Italy's Lorenzo Zanone rates a very small chance of upsetting champion Larry Holmes in their World Boxing Council heavyweight title bout Sunday, but he's done some things to improve the image he had of being a punching bag.

Zanone in 1977 was knocked out by Ken Norton in five rounds and by Jerry Quarry in nine rounds, and then laid off boxing an entire year.

Zanone will earn $125,000 for his 15-round challenge against Holmes at the Sports Pavilion of Caesars Palace on national television.

Holmes reportedly will receive about $600,000.

The biggest purse for Zanone previously was $50,000 for the Norton fight.

Wallace, Akins lead Hawks win

BORGER — The Howard College Hawks used their inside scoring punch of Mike Wallace and Ron Akins to take an important 79-71 win over Frank Phillips here Thursday night in a Western Conference game.

The win puts the Hawks in a tie for fourth place with Frank Phillips, and moves them one-half game ahead of both NMMI and Amarillo. Amarillo lost by three points to Odessa College, and NMMI dropped a 100-88 decision to Western Texas last night.

The Hawks got off to a slow start against Frank Phillips, but caught up midway in the first half. Coach Harold Wilder then ordered a four-corner offense, thus forcing Frank Phillips out of the zone defense.

The play worked as desired, as this allowed the Howard College crew to get the ball inside to Wallace and Akins, who combined for 58 points in the contest. Wallace, who entered the game as the fifth leading juno scorer in the nation, connected for 33 points. Akins added another 25.

The Hawks used their inside muscle to take a 39-27 halftime advantage, and then increased that margin to as many as 17 points in the second half.

WTC battles Howard twice here Monday

Two very important Western Conference battles between Howard College and Western Texas College will take place on Monday, February 4, in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

At 6:00 p.m., the Hawk Queens will face WTC in a battle in which the winner will take the sole lead of the Western Conference. WTC won the first encounter between the two schools on their home court in December.

At 8:00 p.m., the nation's top ranked juco outfit, Western Texas, currently sporting a 22-0 season record, will battle the Howard College Hawks. The Hawks are in a four-team battle with Frank Phillips, Amarillo and NMMI for the fourth and fifth spots in March's Region V Tournament.

An added attraction to the contest is the halftime encounter between radio station KBST and the Big Spring Herald. There will also be six new basketballs given away as door prizes during the halftime activities.

In rout of No. 2 Oregon State UCLA shows old form

This may be an off-year for the UCLA Bruins, but they still pack a pretty good punch.

They proved that by flooring second-ranked Oregon State 93-67 Thursday night.

"If we play like this, we can play with anybody," said UCLA Coach Larry Brown, whose Bruins are off to a relatively slow start this season with a mediocre 11-7 record, including 6-4 in the Pacific-10. Conference and have dropped completely out of their accustomed place in the Top Twenty.

Mike Sanders had a team-high 19 points for the Bruins, who led the Beavers by as much as 26 points at one stage.

"Our pressure defense was the key," said UCLA's Kiki Vandeweghe. "It kept building and building and forced them into errors."

The Beavers were one of three Top Twenty teams upset Thursday night, as sixth-ranked Ohio State lost to Michigan State 74-54 and No. 15 Weber State dropped a 51-45 decision to Idaho.

Jay Vincent scored a game-high 21 points and grabbed 14 rebounds to lead the Spartans to their runaway Big Ten victory over the Buckeyes. Ohio State guard Kelvin Ransey finished with only six points, ending a streak of 80 games in which he had scored in double figures.

"I can't think of one Buckeye that played well," said Ohio State Coach Eldon Miller. "Michigan State beat us any way you could get beat."

Don Newman scored 17 points to lead Idaho past Weber State, breaking the Wildcats' 18-game winning streak. The defeat was only the second of the season in 20 games for Weber State.

Elsewhere in college basketball; No. 7 Louisville defeated Tulane 64-60; No. 16 Clemson routed Georgia Tech 76-52; No. 17 Purdue stopped Iowa 70-56; No. 18 Indiana turned back Illinois, 60-54 and No. 19 Brigham Young beat Texas-El Paso 89-81.

Darrell Griffith led a balanced attack with 17 points as Louisville defeated Tulane.

"We won on the scoreboard but we sure didn't play well," noted Louisville Coach Denny Crum.

The woman called police, who came to the apartment and found Jones asleep in another bedroom, the report said.

Officer Robert Holt said Jones was arrested without incident at 6:10 a.m.

Time said the statement in the offense report "looked ridiculous — there are so many discrepancies. Imagine a girl next door being sound asleep and not hearing a rape."

"We're conducting an investigation now, trying to gather witnesses to determine what happened. The next step would be a decision by police, to determine whether or not they want to tie the case in the district attorney's office."

Was 'Too Tall' too much?

DALLAS (AP) — Professional boxer and former Dallas Cowboy Ed "Too Tall" Jones has denied accusations that he raped a nurse while she slept in her apartment.

"He denies there was a rape," said Jones' attorney Fred Time.

Jones was freed on $2,500 bond after he was arrested and brought before a city judge for a magistrate's warning. He was not formally charged or arraigned.

Prosecutors said Jones had to post the bond because his attorney secured a court order for his release before the police investigation into the case was finished.

The accusations are in a police offense report, in which a 25-year-old nurse claimed she awoke and found the 6-foot-9 Jones assaulting her.

The report said Jones was spending the night with the nurse's roommate in her apartment after a birthday

Ali set for diplomatic mission

By The Associated Press

Former world heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali, at the urging of President Carter, prepared to visit five African countries to seek support for the American stance on the 1980 Summer Olympics.

Ali, in New Dehli Thursday, cancelled the last half of a 12-day tour of India, saying Carter had asked him to tour Africa and explain the U.S. position on the Moscow Games. Carter has called for the movement, postponement or cancellation of the Games if Soviet troops are not withdrawn from Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

"I'm sorry my tour of India had to be cancelled, but the president of the United States comes first," said Ali, adding he was "honored to be considered for this mission."

A U.S. embassy source in New Dehli said Ali would visit Tanzania, Nigeria, Kenya, Liberia and Senegal. The retired champ and eight members of his group were to leave Sunday for Africa, according to Arthur Lefkowitz, a spokesman at the American embassy in New Dehli.

"Multitudes know me — in China, Russia, India and Africa," said Ali. "In India, there's turmoil on the streets; when I go outside, traffic stops."

"Russia has got to be stopped...in whatever way," said Ali, who won the heavyweight gold medal at the 1960 Summer Games in Rome. "If Russia's allowed to keep taking territory, she soon will be taking the oilfields (south of Afghanistan)...Then you're forced to go in militarily."

The Soviet news agency Tass, in a Thursday dispatch from Moscow, said, "The U.S.S.R. Olympic Committee expresses confidence that no forces will be able to undermine the world Olympic movement." The dispatch called on all national Olympic committees and sports federations to "give a resolute rebuff to the sponsors of the present hostile campaign."

Australian Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser gave his own rebuff to that, calling for an "effective boycott."

Australia supports boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — Malcolm Fraser, Australia's prime minister, Thursday called for an effective boycott of the Moscow Olympic Games to bring home to the Soviet Union and the Russian people the opposition to their action in Afghanistan.

impact of an effective boycott of the Olympic Games.

"And they plainly want the Olympic Games to be a major public relations success within the Soviet Union, with the athletes of all countries going to Moscow as if it were paying homage to the Soviet Union through their presence at the Olympic games. It is the strong view of the Australian government that this is not the appropriate time for the athletes of the free world, of the independent world, to be doing that."

"You know," he told a news conference, "it's possible for the Russian government to hide the impact of sanctions from their own people for quite some time, but it's not possible for them to hide the celebration.

Phillips confirms Dante trade

HOUSTON (AP) — Despite denials by Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini, Oiler Coach Bum Phillips says the nine-year veteran had asked to be traded if certain requests could not be fulfilled by the Oilers.

Pastorini was quoted in a copyright story in the Houston Chronicle as saying "I love it here but I want out." Pastorini later denied a request to be traded.

Oiler owner Bud Adams also issued a statement saying Pastorini had assured Oiler management that he did not want to be traded and had not requested to be traded.

Phillips, visiting in the Port Arthur area Wednesday, was contacted by Port Arthur News sports editor Bob West. Phillips confirmed to West that Pastorini had asked to be traded.

When reporters called the Oiler offices yesterday, Phillips was reportedly out of town.

"CHURCH OF THE LAND" — A sketch of the Interfaith, "Church of the Land" is to be constructed at Living History Farms, Urbandale, Iowa, is shown on the site where Pope John Paul II celebrated mass last fall. The wooden church will accommodate 150 worshippers and is expected to be completed for the Oct. 4th anniversary of the papal visit.

TCC Seminar set

McALLEN — Concern for people is the bottom line for the Texas Conference of Churches, and representatives to its 11th annual assembly in McAllen will spend an afternoon next month learning how some Rio Grande Valley residents solve their problems.

Six "mobile seminars" will take the approximately 300 representatives and guests up and down the fertile valley to hear expert testimony and make on-site visits. They will, among other things, observe community-initiated health care systems, learn about folk medicine, visit with farmers and farm workers, consider problems of educating children of non-citizens, and see how winter visitors to the area live.

The Texas Conference of Churches Assembly of Representatives will meet Feb. 14-16 to hear reports from program units concerning work done to carry out the decisions of past assemblies, and to order directions for the TCC's future work. Worship, fellowship, and education also have been built into the agenda.

Explaining the mobile seminars or educational tours scheduled for Friday afternoon, Feb. 15, Barbara Holmes of Austin, the United Methodist lay leader who is chairman of the assembly's Agenda Committee, said:

"Because this is the first time we have met in the lower Rio Grande Valley, and because of the multitude of our concerns as persons and as denominations, we wanted to expose our representatives to the experiences that are unique to the life of the Valley.

"We did not want to give the appearance of outsiders stepping in, but felt that if we, as active and concerned persons, could join with them in order to understand the concerns of the Valley, we could be more responsible in our work."

Church presents child's musical

The "King's Kids" of Hillcrest Baptist Church will be performing their children's musical, "Down By the Creek Bank," in the First Baptist Church of Ackerly. The program will be during their evening worship service, Sunday, Feb. 3, which begins at 6:00 p.m. The program is open to the public so anyone interested in attending can do so.

"Down By the Creek Bank" is a children's musical written by Dottie Rambo and Dave Hunter. It's a musical experience for everyone interested in the world of children and shows them in their setting of fishing poles, crickets and tadpoles, little boys, little girls and tomboys.

Even though this program was written to be performed by children, the musical will be presented by a group of adults known as "The King's Kids." It is being presented in this fashion to illustrate God's message and meaning of humbling ourselves before Him in praise.

Everyone is invited to attend the program.

As courtroom attire

Clerical collar is 'in'

NEW YORK (AP) — Because the last five years have shown a shrinking respect for religious leaders, a judge says, it's no longer constitutional to prohibit clergy-lawyers from wearing clerical attire before a courtroom jury.

To do so puts a "substantial burden" on the guaranteed free exercise of religion, ruled New York State Supreme Court Justice Hugh F. McShane in an unusual decision both analyzing trends of the times and upsetting a higher court's previous ruling.

It had held, only about four years ago, that a Roman Catholic priest-lawyer could not wear his clerical collar before a jury because that might influence sentiment in his favor. But the later judicial conclusion is that this is not so.

The outcome marked a victory, at least temporarily, by the Rev. Vincent La Rocca of Brooklyn, in his long fight for the right to wear clerical garb when defending poor clients as a lawyer for the Brooklyn Legal Aid Society.

"What the decision does is to underwrite the continuing validity and vitality of the first amendment," he says. That amendment is two-sided, prohibiting any law for an establishment of religion and also prohibiting any law to limit free exercise of religion.

Although some recent tendencies have been to ban signs of religion from the public sphere, under extensions of the no-establishment clause, McShane discerned a pendulum swing against religion and acted on behalf of the free-exercise clause.

The ruling still faces further challenge, however, as the office of Kings County Brooklyn District Attorney Eugene Gold is appealing it again.

McShane found that respect for the clergy has so declined in the past few years that to ignore evidence of it is to "deny a reality."

Church offers course on Christian Doctrine

Rev. Carroll C. Kohl, pastor of Saint Paul Lutheran Church, will begin another 16 week study course Monday at 7 p.m.

The course offered several times each year, is a refresher course in Christian doctrine based on scripture. It is free to the public as well as members of Saint Paul.

The last course, which was completed Dec. 1979, was well attended by members of Saint Paul and many members of other denominations.

On Feb. 4 a definite time and evening will be set for the remaining group sessions. Interested persons who miss the first meeting should not fail to attend the second meeting.

Each session will run approximately two hours from 7 to 9 p.m. Coffee will be served during a brief intermission.

If you wish to pre register for the course, call the church office between 8 and 12 a.m. at 7-7163 or the parsonage at 3-2764. Call if more information is desired.

Move is on to restore prayer in schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the Southern Baptist Convention has backed the 1962 and 1963 U.S. Supreme Court decisions banning officially sponsored prayer and Bible reading from public schools, the convention president is part of a new movement to reinstate such practices.

The Rev. Adrian P. Rogers of Memphis, Tenn., president of the 13.5-million-member denomination, says his involvement in the effort is as an individual, not as president of the convention.

Several other Southern Baptists and conservatives of other denominations are part of the newly formed group, the Coalition for the First Amendment, which seeks congressional action to remove school devotionals from federal court jurisdiction.

Expressing "dismay" at Rogers' involvement in the effort, the Rev. James E. Wood Jr., director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, says Rogers' stand "completely repudiates" the official resolutions of the convention.

Rogers says he doesn't see himself opposing convention positions since the resolutions reflected only "meetings at those times," and he adds: "I am strongly opposed to any state-supported religion, but I do not believe in separation of God and government and neither did our founding fathers."

He says the court did not ban voluntary prayer in public schools, but many of schools misinterpreted the decision to do so.

The bottom line is that we have come to an almost anti-God and humanistic approach in our school systems because of their misapplication of the Supreme Court ruling.

Four to escort Games' torch

NEW YORK (AP) — Four Americans of Greek ancestry — all of them active in the Greek Orthodox Church — have been named by President Carter to escort the "Olympic Torch" from Olympia, Greece, to Lake Placid, N.Y., for start of the winter Olympic Games.

They are Andrew A. Athens of Chicago, Mike Mantos of Washington, Yorka Linakis of Jamaica, N.Y., and Nick Smyrnia of Indianapolis.

A Farthing's Worth
2 PERCENT CHRISTIANS

I read where the Food and Drug Administration has a law that all chicken soup must be at least 2% chicken! This decision came after a hard-fought battle with the soup industry. They argued to the bitter end and that this percentage was too high.

The same line of thinking seems to be held by many in regard to their Christianity. Many Americans seem to think 2% is quite adequate. They give about 2% of their money, attend about 2% of the services, etc. Maybe 2% will cause soup to be chicken soup, but I find it hard to believe that 2% is acceptable to the Lord when it comes to Christianity.

Farm Criticism focuses on embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criticism may develop over other items in President Carter's proposed budget for the Agriculture Department, but for now most attention is focused on how it deals with the embargo on grain shipments to the Soviet Union.

Department experts say Carter's abrupt decision to halt grain shipments to the Soviets, announced Jan. 4, caught everybody flat-footed and threw the 1981 budget process "all out of whack."

But Carter's proposal includes "enough money to do about anything" necessary to help protect farmers from the suspension of grain sales to the Soviets, says Stephen B. Dewhurst, USDA's budget director.

Spending by USDA next fiscal year is expected to be $20.1 billion, down 15 percent from the current year's projected outlays of $23.6 billion.

Dewhurst and others say it now looks like it will cost around $2.8 billion in various efforts to help farmers regroup in the wake of Carter's grain embargo.

About $2 billion of that will be used in the current fiscal year and the remainder in the 1981 fiscal year, starting Oct. 1. But Dewhurst and others caution that those figures are only estimates and the final tab could differ appreciably.

Part of the money is being used to buy some of the 17 million metric tons of grain that was destined for the Soviet Union, with the remainder going into higher price supports, farm storage benefits and other programs announced by the administration.

Congress is digging into the grain embargo situation and some farm belt members are calling for even greater help to protect farmers. Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, has urged immediate action to pay farmers for idling some of their cropland this year, for example.

And Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., wants Carter and Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland to offer further assurances to other foreign customers that embargoes are not part of a new emerging U.S. policy.

Farm organizations have supported Carter's embargo, ordered in retaliation to the Soviet Union's military move into Afghanistan, but also have been adamant in their opposition to embargoes as a general or recurrent policy.

If it can be said the $2.8 billion earmarked to help farmers was unavoidable as a result of U.S. foreign policy, another big item in Carter's agriculture budget also might be called unavoidable for a different reason: soaring food costs.

A number of federal programs aimed at improving the nutrition of millions of Americans are involved, including the two major ones — food stamps and school feeding programs.

For example, assuming Congress goes along with USDA requests for supplemental appropriations, this year's government package of food programs is expected to cost taxpayers about $13.1 billion, up from $10.5 billion in 1978-79.

Next year, according to the Carter budget, those programs will cost $14.3 billion and will comprise more than 70 percent of Agriculture's total projected spending in the coming fiscal year.

Food stamp operations alone, computed at around $9.62 billion, will jump from an estimated $8.7 billion this year and $6.82 billion in 1978-79.

Part of the reason for the increases is congressional action in 1978 that liberalized food stamp rules, resulting in more and more people getting benefits. The budget estimates that about 20.4 million people will be in the program next year, up from about 20.2 million this year.

Since food stamp benefits are based on retail costs of groceries, the soaring price of food hits the federal food stamp budget just as it does an individual family's pocketbook. Other federal food aid also is costing more for the same reason. "All those programs have been zapped by higher food costs and other kinds of inflation," said Dewhurst.

Yet, the Carter budget does call for some tinkering with food programs that could save some money. Among them: tightening up on federal subsidies to states for school lunches and breakfasts, and a proposal — which would require legislation — to boost the cost of "special" milk servings to those children who could afford it.

The National Milk Producers Federation, a foe of yearly attempts to change the federal milk program, said, "This nation cannot allow its budget-cutting fervor to extend to the child nutrition programs which are so important to the health and well-being of our children."

And the Child Nutrition Coalition, which represents an assortment of education, nutrition and public interest groups, asserted: "We cannot balance the budget with our children's lunch money."

Collision story one of irony

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — When the ill-fated Coast Guard cutter Blackthorn started home after four months in drydock, a Russian ocean liner was right behind.

The Blackthorn's crew soon heard several impatient whistle blasts and moved aside to let the liner pass. Less than a half hour later, the Coast Guard crewmen were scrambling for their lives after colliding with an American oil tanker.

Seaman Apprentice M.C. Gatz, the Blackthorn's lookout Monday night, made the ironic revelation Thursday as he opened testimony at a formal investigation of the accident, in which only 27 of the cutter's 50 crewmen are known to have survived.

Gatz will continue on the stand today. Lt. D.B. Crawford, Ensign J.R. Ryan and the cutter's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. G.J. Sepel, were to be called after Gatz.

Rear Adm. Norman Venzke is heading the board, comprised of four other Coast Guard officials and a National Transportation Safety Board member. The board rejected motions Thursday by attorneys for the tanker Capricorn and for Tampa pilot Harry E. Knight challenging the use of a Coast Guard panel to investigate an accident involving one of the service's own vessels.

Kieron Quinn, attorney for tanker owner

Kingsport Shipping of New York, said that although Venzke insists the board is meeting only for "fact-finding and not assignment of liability," the board's recommendations "will ultimately alter the outcome of the civil action."

Owners and operators of the Capricorn filed a federal lawsuit late Thursday alleging that the Blackthorn was responsible for the accident. The $1.5 million damage suit claims the buoy tender was on the wrong side of the channel when the ships collided.

The suit also alleges that the cutter ignored whistle signals and failed to respond on the radio to calls from the tanker.

Gatz, a baby-faced 23-year-old from St. Louis, spent a nervous three hours recounting the night of the collision. He said visibility was clear and that he had seen several other ships near the channel prior to the collision.

"The Russian ocean liner passed us," he said, noting that the crew heard several blasts first. "We moved to starboard, out of the channel to allow the other ship to pass safely by... You couldn't miss it, it was lit up like a Christmas tree. You could see the lights outside and in the porthole," Gatz said.

However, Gatz said he didn't see the huge tanker until it was nearly on top of the Blackthorn.

Gatz said he was standing on the flying bridge, the highest deck surface in the middle of the ship, and was looking behind the ship at a shipper when someone below asked him to turn to the front and see if he could make out another ship.

"I said, 'Yes. I do see a ship.' The first thing I saw was one of the white lights, I can't say which one. Prior to the collision, I heard a 'prepare for collision.'"

Under questioning, Gatz said the Blackthorn was turning to starboard — away from the tanker — but the tanker appeared to be turning to port — into the Blackthorn.

Gatz, a blush creeping up his neck and across his cheeks, said he radioed the bridge below on his headphones but received no answer as the Blackthorn began to go over.

Suddenly, he said, he found himself in water with the cords of his headset tangled around his neck.

"Fortunately I had my knife with me and cut myself loose," Gatz said. He said he struggled to the surface and found a drifting piece of wood to clutch until he was rescued by a smaller Coast Guard boat sent out by the St. Petersburg base.

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, FEB. 2, 1980

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You start the day well aware how you can make your fondest dreams come true, so waste no time in formulating your ideas. Aspects change later in the day and muddled thinking occurs.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You now have fine ideas and can put them in operation and can put them in operation without delay, so schedule your time wisely.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Attend to those home tasks that will please family members, though they may consume more time than you had figured on.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You should have a plan already in mind through which to gain added abundance in the days ahead. Be kind to others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get right down to the detailed work of a monetary plan you have in mind, and be sure you know what you are doing.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Push through without delay a plan you have for bringing more of the good things of life into your existence. Use care in motion.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study your surroundings and make definite plans for improvement. Advice from an influential person can be helpful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have excellent ideas at this time but make sure they are practical before putting them in operation. Avoid the social tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Do something thoughtful for loyal friends and gain their support in a new plan you have in mind. Show that you have poise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Adopt a more worldly outlook and you get along better with associates. Apply yourself more energetically and gain your aims.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Find a new formula through which you can become more successful in the future. Sidelstep one who is a hypocrite.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have some new plans that are good, but require the advice of an expert to make them work to your advantage.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be sure to meet expectations of associates so that you can advance more quickly in your line of endeavor. Show that you are alert.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who will be very good in handling the most practical matters, so be sure to direct the education along such lines and send to the right schools. Be sure to give ethical and religious training early in life.

Scientists hard at work
Budding scientists will be at work during February preparing for the school science fair which College Heights PTA has scheduled March 6 for its students as a highlight of public school open house.

PTA is sponsoring the science fair in hopes of encouraging more students to enter the Permian Basin Regional Science Fair March 21-22, according to Kay Roberts, science fair chairman.

Mrs. Roberts said that College Heights is the only school thus far slated for a school-wide science fair.

Individual students, groups of students or entire rooms are eligible to enter projects in the College Heights science fair. Certificates will be awarded to all participants.

A program on choosing ideas for science projects and how to get a project started will be presented at the February PTA meeting.

Students and parents wanting more information on the College Heights Science Fair may call Kay Roberts, 7-6645.

Ethics revision for lawyers

CHICAGO (AP) — A sweeping ethics revision that would require lawyers to do public interest work free and allow them to disclose wrongdoing by clients in some instances has been laid before the nation's legal establishment.

The revision, in the works since 1977, follows by only a decade the last major rewriting of legal canons of ethics.

However, lawyers lost face during the 1970s, especially during the Watergate scandals, and leaders of the American Bar Association fear that the government will step in if lawyers don't police themselves.

"It may not be much longer before we lawyers are stripped of our coveted right of self-regulation and become governed by legislatures," ABA President Leonard Janofsky warned in a speech opening the midyear meeting of the association here.

The revision, called the "Model Rules of Professional Conduct," was prepared by a commission headed by lawyer Robert J. Kutak of Omaha, Neb., and released today. It is to be debated in several cities and submitted in final form to the ABA's House of Delegates a year from now.

Kutak said in a telephone interview Thursday the decision was made to draft a major revision of the code because of "the changes that have occurred in the legal profession and the changes that have been recognized in the practice of law since the time the original code was adopted in 1969."

He cited Supreme Court decisions, ethical opinions, laws and regulations, "a host of different needs and a host of different problems that have arisen in the last decade."

It approved, it would serve as a non-binding guide for state legal rules. The current Model Code of Professional Responsibility has been an influential model for state bar associations, whose ethics codes carry the force of state law.

Tanker crewman killed

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — A shipboard accident that has been known to "cut people in half" killed a tanker crewman and critically injured another during heavy weather in the Gulf of Mexico, a Coast Guard officer said.

The accident happened Thursday about 35 miles southeast of Corpus Christi, according to Coast Guard Lt. J.G. Steven Eddy, when a roped snapped between two vessels that were tied together during a "lightening" operation.

"That's when a large vessel, that can't go into port, offloads (its cargo) into a smaller vessel which can," Eddy said.

"Apparently a large rope, a nylon hawser, snapped because there were 6-foot seas out there," said Eddy. "When one of those snaps it's like a huge rubber band and they've been known to cut people in half."

Eddy said officials on the tanker, the "Coastal Houston," notified the Coast Guard of the accident about 2:30 a.m. Thursday.

When the rescue helicopter arrived, said Eddy, crewman Panayotin Karras, 37, a Greek, was dead. The injured crewman, Ernesto Porfiria Flores, 27, of Honduras, had a weak pulse and was bleeding from the ears and nose, Eddy said.

He was airlifted to Corpus Christi and hospitalized in critical condition, said Eddy.

Warning shots fired, 'witch' has testified

PLAINVIEW, Texas (AP) — A self-professed witch testified he fired a warning shot into the air to frighten away teen-agers on Halloween 1977 after being harassed by carloads of jeering youths cruising by his rural home.

Loy Dean Stone, 50, is charged with murder in the Halloween 1977 shotgun killing of Roxanne Casas, 15, who was mortally wounded as she and four friends were sitting in a pickup stopped in the Stones' driveway near Dimmitt.

Defense attorneys rested their case Thursday after four character witnesses completed testimony. The judge then recessed the trial until today to allow lawyers to prepare their final arguments.

Stone's wife, Louise, 49, also is charged with murder. Her trial date has not yet been set.

Stone testified Thursday he fired a single shot into the air while a pickup filled with teen-agers was sitting in his driveway.

Prosecution witnesses previously had said two shots were fired, one striking the bed of the pickup, the other hitting the side of the cab.

Shotgun pellets killed Miss Casas and injured another passenger in the truck.

The Stones had complained of harassment by carloads of teen-agers cruising by their rural home, and on Thursday, Stone testified he and his wife were out in their yard among some trees on the night of the girl's death.

Stone said he saw the silhouette of the truck as it pulled into his driveway, but said it was so dark he and his wife "couldn't see each other without speaking."

Stone testified he yelled "yelled 'Get out of there!' and fired into the air" with his shotgun. He said he could not see the cab of the pickup because his vision was blocked by a pumphouse.

After he fired the warning shot, Stone said, the truck backed out of the driveway and headed toward Dimmitt. He said he was surprised when law officers came to his house later that night.
