Carter, Reagan win big in primary

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Edward Kennedy, now a three-time loser, is overhauling his presidential campaign in desperate quest of a comeback against President Carter. And Ronald Reagan, under new management, is back atop the Republican field.

Democrat Carter and Reagan were the big winners in Tuesday's New Hampshire presidential primary elections. Kennedy and former U.N. Ambassador George Bush were the losers.

"This is the first and it sure is the best," said Reagan. In his first outing, last month in Iowa, Reagan was an upset loser to Bush.

Carter, in a victory statement of his own, said his triumph shows voters "support the policies that we've espoused" on foreign crises, inflation and energy.

Carter bested Kennedy by 11 percentage points, 49 percent to 38 percent. California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. earned 10 percent.

Reagan fashioned a Republican landslide, capturing 50 percent of the vote in a seven-way race, and building a margin of better than 2-to-1 over Bush. Sen. Bob Dole ran dead last and said he would enter no more primaries.

Meanwhile, at party caucuses in Minnesota Tuesday night, Carter was the easy winner in a Democratic straw vote, while Reagan held a 33-30 percent edge with about half the Republican balloting counted.

Kennedy didn't attempt a challenge to Carter in Minnesota, but the New England defeat pushed him closer to elimination as an effective opponent for the Democratic nomination.

Yet Kennedy conceded nothing. He said his campaign would take off later, in industrial states like Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania.

His task now is to maintain the credibility and the finances to get there. He meets Carter in his own Massachusetts next Tuesday, and ranks a heavy favorite.

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter would be satisfied with 20 percent of the vote in Massachusetts. He wouldn't, but Carter's strategy is to set targets — and thus expectations — as low as possible.

The New Hampshire balloting ended a brief Bush reign as the leader among Republicans. But Bush said he had succeeded in making the GOP competition a two-man race with Reagan.

Reagan's win came hours after the former California governor ousted campaign manager John P. Sears, his chief strategist in two presidential contests, and replaced him with William J. Casey, former head of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Reagan said he did it because of differences over campaign spending priorities, and because he now wants to emphasize the "people to people" type of campaigning I have been doing here in New Hampshire.

Kennedy's campaign manager and brother-in-law, Stephen Smith, said there will be "a considerable number of changes" in the personnel and strategy of Kennedy's organization.

He would not spell them out.

Though Kennedy was campaigning today in Birmingham and Montgomery Ala., Smith said he will devote little time or money to the South, Carter's home region. Instead, Smith said, Kennedy will concentrate on Massachusetts, and make his next major push in Illinois' primary on March 18.

The vote in New Hampshire's record turnout read this way:

Carter, 53,586 or 49 percent, which won him 10 nominating delegates.
Kennedy, 41,540 or 38 percent, for 9 delegates.

Brown, 10,727 or 10 percent.
Two minor candidates got the balance.

The delegate apportionment was based on showings statewide and in each of New Hampshire's two congressional districts.

The Republican results:
Reagan, 72,940 for 5 percent and 13 delegate votes for the nomination.

Bush, 33,471 for 23 percent and 5 delegate votes.

Sen. Howard Baker Jr., 18,832 for 13 percent and 2 delegates.

Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, 14,706 for 10 percent and 2 delegates.
Rep. Philip Crane of Illinois, 2,628 or 2 percent.

Former Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, 2,241 or 2 percent.
Dole of Kansas, 608.

Former President Gerald R. Ford polled 380 write-in votes.

Minnesota also staged a presidential contest Tuesday, at precinct caucuses that began the process of selecting 75 Democratic and 34 Republican National Convention delegates. Carter backers are certain to dominate delegate selection in the home state of Vice President Walter Mondale. Reagan was comfortably ahead of Bush. Neither the Democratic nor GOP straw poll binds delegates.

In Manchester, Kennedy held what amounted to a celebration of defeat. "Well, we got almost 40 percent of the vote," he told cheering supporters. "Four years ago, Jimmy Carter got 28 percent of the vote and he claimed victory and we're claiming victory tonight." (Carter's 28 percent put him first in a big field).

It was Kennedy's second setback in New England. Carter beat him in Maine caucuses on Feb. 10. The president's margin there was 3.4 percent. Spokesmen for Kennedy said that signaled progress because Carter was the 2-to-1 victor in Iowa caucuses on Jan. 21.

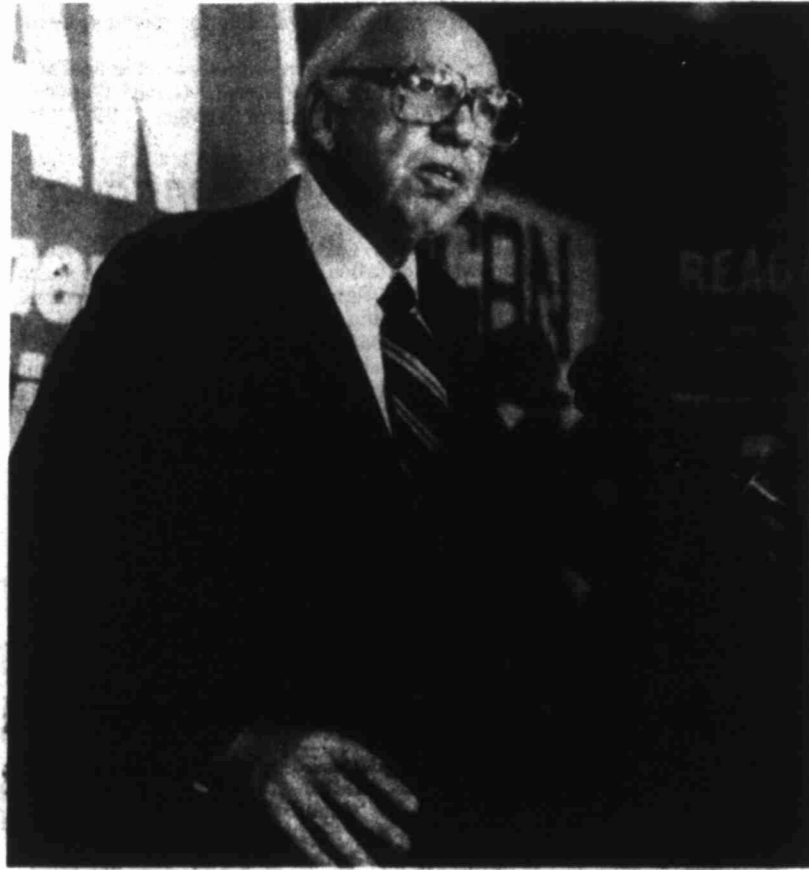

Despite his far-back finish, Brown said he thinks he is in better shape than Kennedy.

Bush said he was disappointed but not down.

Baker said the GOP contest was just beginning. "I believe now that we're into our second set of front-runners, and there will be another one still," he said.

Crane said he would continue campaigning, but added that he might join forces with Reagan later if the New Hampshire winner does well in coming primaries.

And Anderson said he was elated at fourth place. "We've begun to climb," he said. "I can keep going as long as I have clean laundry."

NEW CAMPAIGN DIRECTOR — William Casey named Ronald Reagan's new campaign director Tuesday, addresses a news conference Tuesday night in their campaign headquarters in Manchester, N.H.

Howard County GOP leaders surprised by Reagan's margin

Howard County Republican leaders expressed surprise today at the victory Ronald Reagan scored in Tuesday's New Hampshire Primary.

"I was somewhat surprised," Bill Sheppard, Republican County Chairman, said. "The margin as well as the victory will give his campaign a boost."

Reagan, a former governor of California, won 50 percent of the Republican vote in the first primary of the presidential campaign. This percentage compares to George Bush's 23 percent and Sen. Howard Baker's 13 percent.

In terms of numbers, Reagan had 72,734 votes. Bush had 33,304 and Baker 18,760.

Winston Wrinkle, a Reagan delegate from here to the 1976 Republican National Convention, said, "My initial reaction is that I am very elated. Governor Reagan won by a two-to-one margin."

Wrinkle added that the impressive win will definitely give Reagan momentum and campaign contributions.

"Any time you win an early primary," Wrinkle said, "you gain a lot of campaign funds."

The Bush setback will have an impact on the former UN ambassador's race for the presidency, the Rev. Bill Henning, Chairman of the Howard County Bush Campaign, said.

"I see it as a moderating influence," Henning said. "We were riding a crest of victories from Iowa, Maine and Puerto Rico."

Henning said, "My main reaction is we are going to have to work harder in the future."

Local Democrats, on the other hand, expected President Carter to win decisively. Delano Shaw, a Carter delegate to the 1976 Democratic National Convention, said New Hampshire was a message that the American electorate wants President Carter to serve another four years.

"It more or less proved to the people that he (Carter) should be president," Shaw said.

Shaw added that Sen. Ted Kennedy's defeat in his native New England was a heavy blow.

"I don't know why Kennedy won't step down," Shaw said.

All the Republicans contacted said the Reagan victory will not result in a landslide to the Republican nomination.

"No one candidate has it locked up," Wrinkle said. "Don't count out Bush because he lost, or Connally because he hasn't won, or Phil Crane for that matter."

Sheppard said, "It is a big step for Reagan. It doesn't knock Bush out of the race."
Sheppard and Wrinkle said the next big test for the Reagan campaign will be in South Carolina. The Palmetto State primary will pit former Texas Governor John Connally against Reagan.

Sheppard commented on the South Carolina primary, "Anyone who doesn't come out with at least two or three percent of the vote will be in trouble."

Friday is holiday for local students

Public school teachers will work Friday, but local students will have the day off.

Secondary teachers will be working toward accreditation for the school district. The accreditation is a routine matter that must be done every ten years.

Elementary teachers will have other in-service programs to attend.

Events prior to shooting traced

Gun victim in critical condition

By ANDREA COHEN

The man who was allegedly shot in the head by a Big Spring patrolman has a slightly higher than 50-50 chance of surviving, according to his physician, J.W. Tipton.

"And if he lives, he has months of plastic surgery ahead of him," he said.

Mark Booher, 29, 2205 Main, was shot once in the head early Monday morning by a .38 caliber bullet. Big Spring Police Patrolman Sean Curran, charged in connection with the shooting, was immediately suspended without pay.

Booher is still listed in critical but stable condition at Malone-Hogan Hospital. He will be taken into surgery Thursday for the second time, to have the wound examined and the dressings changed.

He will be kept in the intensive care unit of the hospital for at least another week. Physicians are keeping a watch for meningitis, which can be caused by bullet fragments which may have remained in his head.

According to Tipton, the bullet entered the left side of his face, under his eye. The bullet ripped through his face and discharged near his left ear.

"I think the only thing that saved his life was that the bullet entered his face at a slight angle," he said.

Tipton said Booher's sight in his left eye "might be impaired."

"We still don't know if he's going to live. His chances are a little better than 50-50 that he's going to make it. And if he does, he has months of plastic surgery ahead of him."

According to sources, Booher has lived in Big Spring approximately three weeks. He is employed as the foreman of the box department at Cameo Energy Homes. Katherine Curran, Sean Curran's estranged wife, is also an employee of Cameo.

Curran and his wife separated approximately the beginning of December. Mrs. Curran moved to a new address while her husband stayed at their old residence. Their two-year-old daughter lives with Mrs. Curran.

Curran had worked the night shift Sunday. After work, early Monday morning, he passed his estranged wife's residence where she was scraping her car windows, before departing for work. Upon seeing him, she went inside her residence and closed the front door.

Curran rang the doorbell and his wife answered. Curran allegedly walked in and started searching the house.

Booher was preparing to go to work. When Curran saw him behind a door, he allegedly shot him.

Curran was arrested and charged with aggravated assault in connection with the shooting. He was released on $25,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Bob West.

When contacted by the Big Spring Herald Tuesday morning in connection with the incident, Mrs. Curran declined to comment saying, "The whole thing is going to come out and I don't want to talk about it now."

When she was called a second time Tuesday afternoon and asked to comment on the above information

she said, "It may sound bad, but that's the way it is."

Sean Curran refused comment Tuesday afternoon on the advice of his attorney, Robert Moore III. Contacted by the Herald, Moore also declined comment.

According to reports, Booher does not have any known relatives living in Big Spring. However, it has been reported that some of them have called the hospital. One male friend reportedly has visited him in the hospital.

Distress sale necessary

KWAB may face foreclosure

WASHINGTON — The Texas creditor for four television stations owned by Grayson Enterprises this week told the Federal Communications Commission it will foreclose on the properties April 1 if authorities do not approve a pending sale.

Paul Froyd, an attorney for the FCC, said the Mercantile National Bank at Dallas wants to recoup $3.9 million in debts Grayson owes on television stations KTXS in Abilene, KLBK in Lubbock, KMOM in Monahan and KWAB in Big Spring.

Grayson, meanwhile, has applied to the FCC to sell the stations to two minority-owned companies — Prima Inc., and Permian Basin — for a price that last week was revised down to $14.1 million from $15 million.

Grayson wants to sell KTXS and KLBK to Prima, and KWAB and KMOM to Permian Basin.

The so-called distress sale is necessary because in July 1977 the FCC cited Grayson stations for alleged violations of FCC regulations including fraudulent billing and airing policies. However, federal law allows a station under investigations to opt to sell the property "substantially below market value" to a group of investors, the majority of whom are black financiers.

"The law was made to encourage black participation in the television industry," said Froyd.

The owners of Prima Inc. are Dr. John Robert Lee, an assistant director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, Larry Reed, an assistant basketball coach at the University of Wisconsin and Wayne Embrey, a former professional basketball player with the New York Knicks.

The investors in Permian Basin Television are a group of Hispanic American businessmen and lawyers from Albuquerque. Froyd said Grayson's selling price is clearly below market value, estimated at $18.7 million.

"Since the FCC, in effect, is letting Grayson sell rather than be investigated for possibly violating its regulations, we want to make sure they are selling the television stations below what they could normally get," Froyd said.

Froyd predicted, however, that an appropriate price may be reached "within months."

He said that if the FCC approved a sale before April 1, it is unlikely the Dallas bank would foreclose.

And the bank at any time before that time could change its mind about foreclosure.

"It would be a very anti-community sort of thing to do," said Froyd. "There is little doubt they could get their money out of the properties, but the stations would have to re-apply for licenses that might take up to a year to get."

He said the bank would only be selling the stations real estate, buildings, machinery and towers.

At the same time, former U.S. Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex., who had initially made a bid to buy three of the stations, has asked the FCC not to approve a sale to Prima and Permian.

Midland Telecasting Inc. has also asked the FCC not to approve the sale to the minority-owned investors, claiming the selling price is too high.

Action/reaction: Who pays AD?

Q. Will the salary for the new athletic director for the Big Spring Independent School District be paid with state or local funds? Also, how much will that salary be?

A. Harold Bentley, superintendent of instruction and personnel, said, "He receives foundation funds as well as a local increment just like every other employee." Foundation funds come from the state, said Bentley. Athletic Director Ron Logback said he is being paid the same salary he was paid as head coach. A salary for athletic director will be renegotiated at budget time at the end of the summer.

Trials set for five men in 118th District Court

Trials were set for five men who appeared at docket call Tuesday afternoon in 118th District Court. The cases are set for trial Monday but may not come to trial until later, said District Attorney Rick Hamby.

They are Billy Smith, criminal mischief; Curtis Ray Williams, burglary of a motor vehicle; Albert Chavarria, failure to stop and render aid; Johnny Arispe, marijuana possession and Jackie Lynn Lockhart, unlawful possession of a controlled substance.

Smith, 5425 Clinton, was arrested April 10 and released the same day on $3,000 bond set by an Odessa official.

Williams, 1518 Wood, was transferred to county jail March 19. He was released on March 21 on $3,000 bond set by City Judge John Coffee.

Lockhart, 1303 Owens, was arrested July 29. He was released on $25,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Bob West.

Chavarria, 1111 W. Second, was released Oct. 13 on $1,500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

Arispe, 1204 Lamar, was arrested Sept. 18 and released the same day on $15,000 bond set by Heflin.

Coahoma invited to share talent

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Independent School District is one of 15 in the State to be invited to share its Gifted and Talented program with other Texas Educators at the State In-service to be held in San Antonio, March 28 and 29.

Mrs. Alleen Bohannon and Mrs. Marilyn Read are the teachers. Tom Spell, elementary school principal, and Rob Ethridge, junior high principal, are the administrators.

Phillips enters DWI guilty plea

Earnest Howard Phillips, Route 1 Box 714K, entered a plea of guilty in 118th District Court Tuesday to DWI felony. He received a three-year probation sentence.

Phillips was arrested Oct. 16 going east on IS 20. Bond was set by Justice of the Peace Bob West at $1,500.

Police beat — Two pocketbooks vanish

Two pocketbooks were lost or stolen recently.

While Ramona Harris, Route 2, was inside the Horace Garrett Building of Howard College, someone lifted her purse. It had contained $90 in cash, a pair of glasses, two blank checks and various identification papers. Loss was estimated at $110.

Edith Fay Doggett, Fort Worth, reportedly left a billfold on top of her car when she drove away from the Super-Save Drive In Grocery Store, 212 Gregg, noon Sunday. The billfold had contained $300 in cash, a check book, and a variety of credit cards and identification papers. Total loss has not been estimated.

Jesus Mendez, 3215 Auburn, reported that vandals shot pellets through a window in his home, 7:50 p.m. Tuesday. Cost of the damage has not been estimated.

A man in a white truck drove off from the Seven-Eleven Store, 1608 Bluebird, Tuesday night, without paying for $3 worth of regular gas.

Two mishaps were reported Tuesday.

A parked vehicle belonging to Owneta Dennis, 703 E. 16th, was struck by a vehicle that left the scene at the Rip Griffin Truck Stop, 1:16 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Glenda Kennedy, 206 Circle, and Gloria Dominguez, 501 N.W. 10th, collided on the 200 block of N.W. 9th, 8:10 a.m.

Square, Round Dancers confab begins Saturday

This Friday and Saturday the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum will echo with sounds of 'Swing Your Partner' and 'Yellow Rock Your Corner' as 400 square and round dancers gather in Big Spring for the 19th annual Texas State Federation of Square and Round Dancers Conclave.

Dancers will be coming to Big Spring from the 17 districts of Texas to attend the two-day convention. On the Saturday business meeting agenda will be the election of state officers for the coming year.

Spectators will be admitted free to the Friday and Saturday night dances beginning at 7 p.m. with round dancing. There will be seating space in the coliseum for the spectators. There will be over 14 square dance vendors in attendance with booths set up on the main floor of the coliseum.

State officers in attendance will be State President Ed and Mary Barbee, Lubbock, 1st Vice President Curtis and Jo Young, Kingsville; 2nd Vice President Marvin and Helen Matus, Dallas; State Treasurer Lee and Lettie Reed, Houston; and State Secretary Glen and Neva Pittman, San Antonio. The 10 appointed officer couples and the 15 past president couples will also be attending the conclave. There will be three voting delegates couples from the 17 districts in Texas in attendance at the convention. Big Spring has representatives in the past presidents' groups, Frenchie and Erma Steward.

The past presidents' cabinet will have a noon business luncheon at Furr's Cafeteria Saturday under the direction of Russ and Roberta Barton, chairman, Kress, and Frenchie and Erma Steward, secretary of the committee.

Highlight of the two-day conclave will be the colorful grand march Saturday at 7:50 p.m. in the Coliseum. The grand march will be conducted by Randy Phillips, Abilene, and grand march chairman Willis and Bobbie Burchett, Big Spring. The Saturday night opening ceremonies after the grand march will include Jack Abendschan giving the invocation, Westerner President Bruce and Mariann Hergenrader, Abilene, in charge of welcoming the delegates and introductions. Past president of the Chamber of Commerce Johnnie Lou Avery, will welcome the guests to Big Spring.

The Big Spring committee chairmen have been working for a year preparing for this event. Committees include general chairman, Tommy and Nelda Carstensen; general vice chairman, Travis and Frances Brackeen; facilities, Lowell and Vonna Lee Davis; publicity, Frenchie and Erma Steward; registration

Six BSSH employees attend alcohol confab

Six members of the Big Spring State Hospital staff attended the fourth annual conference in Alcoholism, "Alcoholism: A Family Illness," held Feb. 22-23 in El Paso.

The conference, sponsored by Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences, Baylor College of Medicine, Texas Medical Association and Texas Commission on Alcoholism was designed to provide health-care professionals with current knowledge of the family dynamics frequently encountered by professionals in treating the alcoholic and his/her family.

Those attending the two-day session from BSSH were: George C. Brown, M.D., Unit Physician, Adolescent Program; Desmond Powell, Unit Administration, Adolescent Program; Dan Wise, Social Worker; Jesse Hernandez, Activity Supervisor, Adolescent Program; Robert T. Stenberg, M.D., Unit Physician, Alcohol & Drug Abuse Program; and Jean Beck, LVN, Alcohol & Drug Abuse Program.

Five Howard County prisoners on way to Huntsville today

A Texas Department of Corrections bus transported five Howard County prisoners to state prison Tuesday. Other towns transported seven prisoners here for boarding.

Howard County convicts boarding the bus were Robert Lang, revocation of probation; Terry Allen Payne, revocation of probation, five-year sentence and Richard Carrier, aggravated robbery, 40-year sentence.

El Paso transported three, Snyder transported one and Midland transported three to Howard County jail for transfer by bus to Huntsville.

Voice Of The Electorate to register voters Saturday

Due to the success of last weekend's voter registration booth in Highland Mall, with 72 persons registered, the Voice Of The Electorate (V.O.T.E.) will again be at the mall on Saturday.

If you are not registered to vote in Howard County, or have moved or changed your name, either come by V.O.T.E.'s booth at the mall or go to the County Tax Assessor's office in the Courthouse.

You must register before March 5 to be eligible to vote in the April 5 City Council, School Board and Howard College Board elections.

Digest

Flight landing shaky

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — An Eastern Airlines jet carrying 86 persons landed here almost 80 minutes late after a sensor light failed, forcing officials to make visual checks to make sure the aircraft's landing gear was down.

The DC-9, Flight 158, was forced into a holding pattern Tuesday until the pilot was assured the gear was locked and the jet ready for landing, said officials at Newark International Airport. The plane landed without incident.

Nuke leak discovered

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP) — An underground pipe at the Hanford Nuclear Reservation leaked an estimated 500 gallons of radioactive waste into the ground before the line was shut off, officials say.

A small area of contaminated ground was roped off and covered with earth after the leak was detected Tuesday. Officials said the incident forced the shutdown of an evaporator used to turn high-level radioactive waste into a solid mass for disposal.

Officials said no personnel were overexposed and there was no leak into the air. The reservation area includes a nuclear reactor and waste disposal operation.

Mortgage funds tight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's largest thrift lender has joined the largest federally chartered savings and loan institution in raising home mortgage rates to 14 1/2 percent.

The increases Tuesday by Home Savings & Loan Association and California Federal Savings reflected a record-breaking 13.629 percent rate paid for six-month Treasury Bills in Monday's auction, but lenders said funds available for mortgage were still tight.

The increase to 14 1/2 percent followed the lead set Monday by Glendale Federal, Great Western Savings & Loan and American Savings.

Housing construction down

NEW YORK (AP) — Housing construction nationwide has fallen for the first time in five years following credit-tightening moves by the Federal Reserve, according to an industry survey.

The F.W. Dodge Division of McGraw-Hill Information Systems Co. said the 10.5 percent decline in 1979 was felt even in some booming cities in the Southwest.

Dodge said 1,767,905 homes were built in 1979, down from 1,975,640 the year before. In the fourth quarter, when the Fed boosted interest rates in a bid to control inflation, the total was down 19.2 percent from the same period the year before.

Deaths

Cleo Nichols

Mrs. Jim (Cleo) Nichols, 69, of Coahoma died at 9:10 a.m. Tuesday in a local hospital.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with the Rev. Earl Akin, pastor of the College Park Church of God, officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Nichols was born July 16, 1910, in Sylvester. She was married to James M. Nichols Feb. 9, 1934, in Santa Anna. She came to Coahoma in October of 1970 from the Houston area. She was a member of the College Park Church of God.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Le Roy Nichols of Big Spring; one sister, Mrs. Ila Huffman of Roseville, Calif.; two brothers, Clyde Myers of Seabrook and Leon Myers of Orchard; three grandchildren and a number of nephews and nieces. Pallbearers will be Jim Fortune, James Grimley, Sherman Powers, A.F. Wynn, Robert Helms and Charles Kemp.

T.D. Lockhart

Services for Tommy Don Lockhart, 26, who died Saturday in Sierra Leone, West Africa will be 3 p.m. Saturday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Larry Leutwyler of Dallas, officiating.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

He was preceded in death by his father, Tom Lockhart on September 22, 1976. The body will be in state Friday evening.

The family suggests memorials go to the Tom D. Lockhart Memorial Scholarship Fund at Baylor University, c/o Assistant Controller for Gifts, Baylor University, Waco, Texas 76798.

Open House in Coahoma schools slated Tuesday

COAHOMA — Public School Week will be observed with an Open House in Coahoma schools next Tuesday.

The Lions Club will sponsor a chili supper in the High School Cafeteria from 5 to 9 p.m.

A general assembly will be held in the High School Auditorium at 7 p.m., at which time awards will be presented to winners in the Science and Air Fair.

Coahoma officials plan pet vaccination day

COAHOMA — City officials here have planned another pet vaccination day for Saturday.

The decision crystallized after it was learned that a rabid skunk had been killed inside Coahoma's city limits.

A veterinarian will be at City Hall from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., administering shots to pets. The cost will be a nominal $3 per animal.

Officials are reminding pet owners that animal vaccination must be done annually to be effective. Some pet owners think that once they have their animals vaccinated that shots are not required anymore.

The city animal warden has been instructed to pick up all dogs and cats running at large without rabies vaccination tags. They will be picked up and impounded. A fee of $7.50 is charged for the release of the animal.

If no one picks up the pet within 72 hours, it will be destroyed.

After a written complaint has been made against a dog or a cat, its owner will be warned, who, in turn, must confine the animal. Failure of the owner to obey the warning will result in the dog being impounded and the owner fined.

Any dog or cat at large found on school property will be impounded.

WEATHER FORECAST — Snow and snow flurries are expected in the forecast period, today until Thursday morning, from the northern Plains to the Midwest. Snow flurries are expected for the lower Great Lakes, St. Lawrence Valley and northern New England. Rain is forecast for the north and central Rockies. Milder weather is forecast for the Southwest but most areas will be colder.

Minnesota caucus overshadowed

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — President Carter and Ronald Reagan scored victories in Minnesota party caucuses, but the triumphs here were somewhat overshadowed by events in New Hampshire.
 National convention delegates were chosen in the New England state's primary election Tuesday. But the non-binding straw polls in Minnesota were only the first step in selecting that state's contingent.
 Republican returns from about 2,000 of Minnesota's 4,024 precincts showed Reagan with 33 percent, George Bush with 30 percent and Rep. John Anderson of Illinois with 13 percent. They were followed by Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee with 7 percent; John Connally, 6 percent; Rep. Philip Crane of Illinois, 3 percent, and Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas, 1 percent. Six percent were undecided.

 The state Republican organization spent $12,000 for a computer operation to tally results, but the system broke down. A manual count was abandoned early today after tabulators lost track of the total number of precincts tallied.
 An Associated Press 80-precinct sample of Democratic delegates elected to county-unit conventions showed Carter had 54 percent, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts 6 percent and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. 1.7 percent. Another 38 percent were uncommitted.

Vice President Walter F. Mondale was in Washington during the voting in his home state, but a campaign spokesman said he was "very, very happy" with the Minnesota results.
 Mondale had been in Minnesota three times and first lady Rosalynn Carter once in the four weeks prior to the caucuses. Kennedy made one campaign appearance in the state last Nov. 14.

Law Enforcement academy graduation rites Friday

The Permian Basin Law Enforcement Academy has announced completion of the 20th session of basic law enforcement training.

Regional departments represented in this session were: Alpine Police Department, Martin County Sheriff's Department, Ector County Sheriff's Department, Fort Stockton Police Department, Midland Police Department, Midland County Sheriff's Department, Odessa Police Department, Sul Ross State University Police Department, Odessa Fire Department and Stanton Police Department.

Demonstrations to highlight Prospectors Extravaganza

"People Doing Things," the slogan for the Prospectors Extravaganza to be held in the exhibit building on the fair grounds Saturday and Sunday, will be carried out by demonstrators Stanley Tims, silversmithing, Tucson, Ariz.; Gaither Cooke, wire craft, San Antonio; Joe Mitchell, arrowhead maker, Big Spring; Housers, sand painters, Locksburg, Ark.

For the record
 The telephone number for the Colorado City Opera House was incorrectly printed in the Sunday edition of the Herald. The correct number is 728-3491. Tonight's performance, along with the Feb. 29 and March 1 performances are sold out for the Colorado City Playhouse production of "Showboat."

Four foreign language students win prizes

Four Big Spring High School foreign language students won prizes at Quaternion in Midland last Saturday.
 Quaternion, a four-language contest held annually in the Permian Basin, is a competition for students of French, German, Latin and Spanish. Tests, speaking events, music and dance and athletic contests are included. Six students represented the local high school in the meet.
 The big winner for Big Spring was Alex Ruiz, a senior who competed in both French and Spanish. Alex won first place in French I listening comprehension and second in Spanish II in dictation and sightreading.
 Paula Harrison won second place in French II extemporaneous speaking while Marianne Burchell was third in French music. Misty Johnson captured a second in Spanish II poetry. Cathy Corson and David Phillips also competed in French II speaking events.
 The students were accompanied by Mrs. Tom Koger, French teacher at the local high school.

Can't see forest for the trees

Some sports aficionados are critical of President Jimmy Carter's stand regarding America's participation in the summer Olympic Games. They complain that Carter is playing politics, that athletes shouldn't be penalized because the U.S. and the Soviets have reverted to the Ice Age.

Maybe they can't see the forest for the trees. The Russians have intended to use the Olympic Games from the start for political thrust. They would not otherwise go to the trouble and the expense of hosting the games.

THE PRESIDENT has no power to say the Americans can't compete as private individuals, if they so desire. The Russians are encouraging the Americans to ignore the president's plea and spend the summer in Moscow. The offer likely is tempting to some of the young Spartans who have trained so long and hard in quest of Olympic gold. It is hoped, however, that they grasp the significance of the world situation and will have the wisdom to reject the invitation.

Nikolai Pavlov, the Soviet minister of sports, was plausible when he outlined the contingency plan rigged for the Americans.

"They will compete in Moscow without the United States flag, on a private basis," Pavlov said. "This is another decision which is up to the U.S. Olympic committee, however."

WE CONCEDE IT is all but impossible for a non-Olympian to understand the bitterness of the disappointment a pullout would occasion for American Olympic hopefuls: The sacrifices that some of these truly dedicated people have made to the end of making that trip to Moscow are literally staggering.

However seductive the Soviet offer may seem, it is basically unacceptable. To breach the boycott would not only be to break faith with the American government; it would be to trivialize what is going on right now in Afghanistan.

That — the brutalization of a small country by a super-power — is really the point. Some things, in the end, are more important than fun and games. This is one of them.

And, who knows, Carter with his decisiveness, may have halted the Russian troops at the Afghan borders. The Russians are not so insensitive as to understand when a man says "nyet" he means "nyet."

Hard to recall

I am well aware of the fact that the subject of television commercials has practically been run through the ground in this select space of the newspaper.

But do you think that bit of info is going to stop me from running it through just a little farther? If so, you underestimate me.

The continuation of time inevitably brings about changes. Television commercials, people and the way they react to the commercials have all been affected.

THOSE WHO WERE once totally abhorred when their favorite television show was interrupted by some strange woman doing the 'chow chow' with her furry friend, now anxiously live from one station break to the next to laugh at, sing with, or make fun of those creative little two-minute sales gimmicks.

Television commercials are obviously becoming more clever each passing day. The cutie ones are becoming more serious, and the dumb ones are definitely becoming more dumb.

But as the producers of the commercials continue in their attempt to make the commercials as much or more popular than the television shows they sponsor, they could be cutting their sponsor's product right out of business.

Naming your favorite television commercial is a never-fail way to get a boring conversation bubbling. Recently, as I was attempting to get an uninteresting, if not dead, conversation to perk up, I and the person I was conversing with somehow stumbled onto the subject of television commercials.

Neither one of us had any trouble acting out and singing our favorite program interruption.

"I JUST LOVE the one where that little school girl dressed in a chicken suit clucks across the stage during a class play," said one of us.

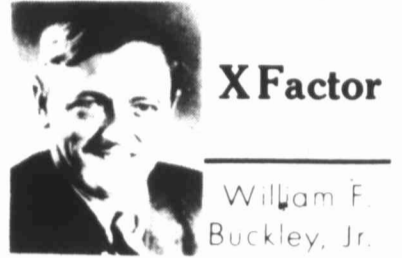

"Oh not me," exclaimed the other person. "I can't wait to see the commercial where this little granny is sitting in her rocking chair talking to a bunch of fruit, then reaches up and plucks one of the grapes."

Through this discussion and comparison of commercials, a most interesting point was revealed.

Neither one of us could remember the products the commercials were attempting to sell.

The cleverly created and perfectly performed advertisements had succeeded in selling the commercials. The products, however, were lost in the catchy music and crazy antics portrayed in the brief sales pitches.

Commercials may continue to get more cute, more witty and even more popular, but somewhere along the way, their purpose—selling products—is going to be defeated by their cleverness.

X Factor

William F. Buckley, Jr.

A great deal of copy is devoted, during presidential campaign years, to analyzing the character of the major participants but never enough, in my judgment, to the strange acceptance by society of the X Factor — that factor is the communicability of pride. We know that pride is listed as among the seven deadly sins. So that it ought no more to surprise us, say, that Mr. Carter is a prideful man than it should have surprised us when, in 1976, he confided (if that is the right word for it) to Playboy that he experienced lust. What is strange isn't that Mr. Carter wants to be president another four years, it is strange that armies of men and women are devoting themselves to keep him in office. It is pride that causes him to wish to stay in the White House. What is the X Factor that makes so many people collude in that venture in pride?

LOYALTY? THERE are two kinds, personal and institutional. The first is very easy to understand, and that in the case of Mr. Carter as in the case of almost everybody probably would amount to a few hundred people at the most who have experienced Mr. Carter at a personal level and have grown so devoted to him as to desire that he should achieve what he wants. To be sure, among these are the job seekers whose own professional futures depend on the success of their prince, but leave that factor out for purposes of this analysis. Institutional loyalty derives from a sense of fidelity to policies with which the prince is identified. In the case of Carter this loyalty, if analyzed, is mostly negative in character. This is to say, the pro-Carterite is, probably, best understood as someone who is anti-Republican and anti-Kennedy. But we have not entirely isolated our X Factor.

Let us attempt it in the matter of Senator Kennedy. As we analyze his situation, it becomes progressively clear that he is a personal liability to his own cause.

WHEN IT TRANSPIRED that Senator Kennedy was not an effective candidate — both because he was mistrusted personally and because he proved maladroit in pressing the advantages of his policies — nevertheless the support for him continued among the substantial legions of his followers. Why? The X Factor. Those who seek primarily to advance certain ideals do well discreetly to pull to one side when they see that their Prince is not going to do an effective job of advancing those ideals. Personal loyalty to the Kennedy family can account for the association with the Kennedy-for-President movement of Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and John Kenneth Galbraith, whatever their private dismay over their Prince's shortcomings. But what are the others, who although they would not so analyze it, find themselves laboring to sustain the pride of Teddy Kennedy? Why? You can still be friends, after all. You don't need to make him president.

Or — a third try — let us take the case of Ronald Reagan. We will know very quickly whether he is the chosen vehicle for those Republicans who desire a vigorous change in policy: A great deal of the Reagan vote is given him for presumptive reasons. I.e., it is he who next to Barry Goldwater has been saying the correct things over the longest period of time to the largest political audiences. Reagan was there in 1964, delivering the most effective anti-Johnson speech. He was there in 1968, backing Nixon after himself losing the nomination. He was there in 1972, delivering the most effective blast against McGovernism at the Miami convention. He served two successful terms in office as governor of California, and he challenged Ford as insufficiently rigorous, very nearly unseating him. He is an accomplished orator and an amusing and likeable man.

Some medical terms just scary

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

(A reader, who prefers not to have her letter printed, has great concern about various terms used in a medical report. I would like to share at least my answer with other readers.)

Some medical terms get so colored that their practical meanings are destroyed. This is true of such words as "cancer" and "malignancy."

Most people associate those words with prolonged illness or death. That is not true in many instances. "Carcinoma in situ" (one phrase that bothered the reader) is an example.

Yes, carcinoma does mean cancer. Yes, it is malignant. No, it does not have to mean incurable; it does not have to mean prolonged illness or death. "Epidermoid carcinoma in situ of the cervix" means that malignant changes have occurred in some of the cells of the cervix (the base of the uterus). It means, too, that the carcinoma is contained in one place. That is what "in situ" means. That implies that complete cure can be obtained with appropriate treatment, such as surgery.

"Dysplasia" is another trouble word. It means there are changes in the nucleus and insides of cells, making them abnormal. These are not cancerous changes. There is a chance that, left alone, they may develop into cancer. This kind of change is often found adjacent to areas of carcinoma in situ. Again, appropriate treatment ends the problem.

Another confusing term is "focal." All this means is that the changes were found in a specific defined area and were not generalized. The writer was also disturbed by the term "decensus," used with regard to the uterus. All that means is that the uterus had dropped. It does not imply malignancy.

Some doctors may in such cases avoid the word "malignancy." It is not to cheat the patient of the "truth," but only to avoid undue anxiety because of the coloring some precise medical words take on in the public mind.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am a regular reader. I was in the hospital recently for a bleeding ulcer. I was in the hospital 12 days, then home eight days and then was right back in. I got septicemia. I have not been able to find out if there is any connection between the first trip and the second or where I got the septicemia. Can you explain? — M.G.

Septicemia is blood poisoning from bacteria. Bacteria or bacterial products (toxins) somehow got from your body into your bloodstream.

The ways this can happen are many. Short-lived "showers" of bacteria often get into the blood, and the body may be able to filter them out on its own. But if bacteria are continuously released into the blood, a potentially serious condition arises that requires treatment with antibiotics.

It is possible for such bacteria to get into the blood circulation by way of an ulcer, but this cannot be said for sure. As you know, many people have ulcers without getting septicemia from them. Any number of other routes exist. Something as commonplace as a boil can provide the gateway to the bloodstream.

In any event, I am sure that attention is being focused on trying to heal up those ulcers to prevent any recurrence. If the ulcer was the entry route, healing it will eliminate the problem. I hope this has happened already.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am interested in time-released aspirin. The contents are double the ordinary aspirin. I am 73 and have arthritis that bothers me at night so that I cannot sleep. I would like to try it. — B.G.

Time-release preparations of drugs are designed to produce slow, gradual, uniform release from the stomach and intestinal tract into the bloodstream. Potential advantages of such preparations are the fewer number of times you have to take them and the stretching out of effects, as overnight. Varying sizes of the components of the medicine (for example, some are prepared in the form of tiny beads) allow the staggered, gradual release. Nothing wrong with this.

Certainly, you could try the preparation you mention to see if it does give you overnight relief. The manufacturer is reputable. The fact that the tablet has twice the amount of medication means you should take only one instead of two, or half of whatever amount you were taking in conventional aspirin over the time period needed.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My daughter began her menstrual periods. She is only nine, and, of course, we are concerned about what this holds for her future. Can you comment? — Mrs. A.F.

It is a bit young, of course, but you could not call it abnormal.

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what kinds of trouble to look for, send for the booklet, "You and Your Gall Bladder." Write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

What are ulcers? How can you help yourself get rid of ulcers and stay rid of them? Read the booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers." For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Why do you think Christians aren't persecuted today? Doesn't the Bible say we should expect persecution? — B.B.

DEAR B.B.: Yes, the Bible warns us that persecution may well be the lot of Christians, and this has often been the case through the centuries. It tells us, "Everyone who wants to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted" (II Timothy 3:12). One reason for this is because an unbelieving world hates God, and therefore hates His people.

This does not mean, of course, that persecution will always be the same in every situation. As he wrote the words I just quoted, Paul was in prison awaiting execution for his faith in Christ. The one to whom he writes (Timothy), however, is freely pursuing his ministry in another part of the Roman Empire. Today there are many parts of the world where it is very difficult to be a Christian because of persecution (either by governments or hostile religions or other sources). In our own nation, physical persecution is not our problem (although we should remember to pray for those in other parts of the world who are physically persecuted for the faith).

But I believe not all persecution is physical. The purpose of persecution, remember, is to stamp out a person's faith. Are there not ways that our modern secular society seeks to stamp out the faith of Christians? For example, our society constantly tells us that financial success is the most important thing in life, and if we come to believe that we have lost our true faith in God just as surely as if we had been tortured in a prison and renounced our faith. Anything which seeks to make us less dependent on God or causes us to doubt His love can be labeled persecution, however subtle it may be.

The Bible tells us to prepare for whatever persecutions may come our way. Whether others ridicule us or physically abuse us, we are to be faithful to Christ, knowing that He also was abused and "No servant is greater than his master. If they persecuted me, they will persecute you also" (John 15:20).

Violence expected

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The death of organized crime's pornography czar, Michael (Mickey) Zaffarano — who dropped dead of a heart attack as FBI agents were closing in on him — will touch off a gangland war among Mafia chiefs seeking control of the multibillion-dollar porno industry, according to knowledgeable law enforcement sources.

Zaffarano, 57, was the owner of the D.C. Playhouse in Washington, D.C., and the Pussy Cat Theater in New York City. But this modest front concealed Zaffarano's real role as the mob's porno king for the entire country. Sources told my associate Gary Cohn that Zaffarano was the Mafia's main man when it came to dealing out distributorships to the various mob families and mediating the frequent disputes among the territorial imperators.

ZAFFARANO WAS a capo (captain) in the Bonanno Mafia family, but he had become trusted by the other underworld families to make sure that everyone got a fair share of the mob's immense take from pornographic films and publications. As part of the FBI's anti-pornography "Miporn" operation, undercover G-men attended conferences at which Zaffarano directed his Mafia colleagues in setting prices and territories.

Secret law enforcement files give additional evidence of Zaffarano's position in the smut trade. According to one such report, Zaffarano boasted to an FBI undercover agent that he was "the main distributor of pornographic films in the United States."

Another report describes Zaffarano's role as mediator between competing elements of the mob in porn matters. "He has been involved in numerous shakedowns and extortions of pornography dealers on the West Coast in an attempt to control various aspects of the pornography business," the report states. "Zaffarano is the link between organized crime figures in the United States and the West Coast pornography industry."

His key role as the arbitrator among the various Mafia families lusting after profits from the porno business makes Zaffarano's unexpected demise a serious concern — not only to the mobsters who depended on him as the smut umpire, but to federal investigators who are trying to keep track of the sordid industry.

HIS DEATH "brings violence back" to the smut business, according to one law enforcement source. While there is no question of the mob's control over the porno business, the source explained, violence is likely to follow the death of the underworld arbiter as local Mafia families try to muscle in on other families' territory.

One confidential report explains the smut industry's operations: "Pornography is the third largest income maker for La Cosa Nostra in the United States, behind gambling and narcotics. Although La Cosa Nostra does not physically oversee the day-to-day workings of the majority of pornography businesses in the United States, it is the rent they have 'agreements' with those involved in the pornography business, in allowing these people to operate independently by paying off members of organized crime for the privilege of being allowed to operate in certain geographic areas. Information obtained... reflects extortion of pornographic dealers, distributors and processors as presently a lucrative activity of La Cosa Nostra."

An example of the porno industry's lucrative take is the notorious movie "Deep Throat," which grossed $50 million on an initial investment of $25,000. With stakes like that, it's no wonder that organized crime figures are willing to get tough over the profits from pornography.

PLAYING GAMES: The Soviet invasion of Afghanistan — and the Carter administration's Olympic view of it — has given increased support to the idea of a permanent site for the Olympic Games in Greece.

But the International Olympic Committee has shown a certain hostility to the notion of returning the games to their historic site. Though the Greeks have publicly offered a permanent home for the summer games on at least two occasions since the Soviet invasion, not to mention a previous offer after the Montreal games in 1976, the IOC is pretending not to hear.

"We had a report from somebody in Greece that Greece was not interested," an IOC member told my reporter Scott Benarde without saying whether the "somebody in Greece" was a government official or an Athens cab driver. The truth is, the Greek government has never rejected the idea of acting as permanent host to the games.

Big Spring Herald

Dear Editor:

After only 14 months as governor of our great state, I am certain that every citizen of Texas is well aware of the countless number of senseless statements or remarks that Bill Clements has made on various subjects or issues.

I happen to believe, and I am sure that nearly all Americans will agree, that a statement which Mr. Clements made recently before one of his many captive audiences in Dallas was the most absurd, ill timed and senseless statements ever made by man.

His remark was: Now that the American hostages are expendable, if the president doesn't do something I will do it myself.

Well, just what has the governor done? Has anybody heard of him offering himself in exchange for the hostages?

I am sure if this exchange were agreeable with the Iranians it would be met with almost unanimous approval of everyone in the United States, especially the relatives and friends of the hostages.

Since we are on the subject of the governor of Texas, what ever happened to all those "pie in the sky" campaign promises that he was going to give all his fellow Texans?

To date, the only promise that he has kept that I can recall is, that he would do his best to keep the classroom teachers' pay in Texas among the lowest in the nation, and that he has certainly accomplished.

Until Feb. 25, Jimmy Carter was perhaps only a slight favorite to carry Texas in November for re-election but since Mr. Clements, because of his personal hatred for our president, vowed that he would spend millions to try and defeat Carter in Texas. (Of course, those millions would not be his). The money would come from his fellow millionaire oil business buddies.

The latest gesture or promise by the governor, no doubt, has turned a close race into a landslide in favor of Jimmy Carter to carry Texas.

Reagan Brooks to speak prior to steer sale

Reagan Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Brooks of Coahoma, has been invited to speak to the buyers' committee prior to the steer sale at the Houston Livestock Show Saturday morning.

Brooks, who had the reserve grand champion steer last year, will discuss his plans for the future and how he has invested his 1979 winnings.

Reagan's steer earned him a record $45,000 in last year's show. The Howard County delegation won a total of $96,400 in the 1979 Houston show.

Brooks is being accompanied by his parents.

his brother Ron and Andy Vestal, the assistant Howard County Agricultural agent.

Reagan and his brother are showing steers in various shows around the state this year. Ron had the grand champion steer in the Howard County Show this year while Reagan had the reserve grand champion steer.

An estimated 65 Howard County residents traveled to Houston this week to enter steers, lambs, barrows and broilers in the Houston show.

Reagan will speak in the Astro Village Ball Room. Most of the local group are staying at the Astro Village.

RESERVE GRAND BULL — V Bar Ranch, Stanton, and Hubby Griner, Columbia, Miss., were joint owners of the reserve grand champion bull in Register of Merit Hereford competition at the recent Fort Worth's Southwestern Exposition. The winning bull, V Bar L1 Domino 0860 came from the winter bull calf class and was also the calf champion bull. Second fatal shooting in 3 days occurs in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A 29-year-old man in a car reportedly being watched by narcotics officers was shot and killed by police, the second fatal police shooting of an unarmed suspect in three days.

Police said Tuesday that Dan Albert Inman, 29, died in a Houston hospital Tuesday after he had been shot once in the back with a .44 magnum pistol following a chase through city streets.

Officers said Inman was a passenger in a car driven by a 22-year-old man who was taken into custody after the fatal shooting.

The two men apparently tried to elude police Tuesday afternoon as narcotics officers were watching the car. Police said the car crashed after a short chase.

Officer J.E. Chiles said he ordered both of the men from the car and that Inman stepped from the car first.

Chiles said he was watching the driver when he noticed Inman reaching toward the waistband of his pants. He said he ordered Inman to stop, but that Inman continued to reach downward.

Chiles then fired one shot from his .44 caliber service revolver, wounding Inman in the back and right side. Inman died later at a hospital.

Police said they found a .357 caliber pistol inside the car. They said it was later determined the auto had been stolen.

Inman's death was the second in three days an unarmed person has been shot and killed by city police, and was the third shooting involving officers in three days.

Early Sunday, 17-year-old Janice Ray died after she was hit in the head by a shotgun blast as she and a 29-year-old man were fleeing from the scene of an alleged robbery at a miniature car race track.

Police, tipped when an employee triggered a silent alarm, arrived at the scene and found the man and woman still inside the firm along with several employees.

After the employees managed to escape the two suspects, police said the man and woman climbed over a fence and tried to escape

Disco a new category at Grammy Awards

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Disco has its own category — and so does rock'n'roll, again — as some of the biggest stars in the music industry meet for the 22nd Annual Grammy Awards ceremonies tonight.

Country singer Kenny Rogers is host of the two-hour CBS telecast that will include appearances by George Burns, Natalie Cole, Bob Dylan, Deborah Harry of Blondie, Isaac Hayes, Kris Kristofferson, Barbara Mandrell, Chuck Mangione and Sarah Vaughn.

Awards will be made in a record 58 categories, but only 14 winners will be named on the air. The rest will be announced just before the telecast.

In keeping with what has become a virtual Grammy tradition, there were six new categories added this year — one in disco, one in jazz-fusion and four in rock.

The rock categories are more like reincarnations than innovations. In 1961, the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences first acknowledged the rock explosion by introducing a best rock recording award.

Four years later, there were four rock categories, called contemporary (R & R) categories. Soon the "R & R" designation was dropped.

New changes in President Tito's state

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito's doctors said today the 87-year-old Yugoslav leader's grave condition remained unchanged but that there was an increase in bleeding on his lung and heart which had never been previously mentioned.

"In addition to appearances on his lungs and heart mentioned yesterday, tendency for bleeding has been more marked," a bulletin from his doctors said. "Intensive measures of treatment are being further applied."

On Tuesday, doctors issued one of their most pessimistic bulletins on Tito's failing health, saying they were unable to check pneumonia contracted by Tito. They also said his heartbeat had become increasingly erratic.

Medical sources not involved in Tito's treatment said that statement appeared to indicate the president's heart had trouble acting as a pump, which they said may be caused by an imbalance in blood salts.

This imbalance could be brought on either by the dialysis treatment Tito is undergoing because of his weakened kidneys, or by lack of oxygen in the blood, the sources said.

One difficulty complicates the other, the sources explained, and the problem develops into a vicious circle that eventually results in the total breakdown of the body's major organs and death.

The President's doctors revealed only last Saturday that Tito had been suffering several days from pneumonia.

A day earlier, they disclosed that they had been bolstering his weakened kidneys through dialysis, or the use of an artificial kidney to cleanse the blood.

The complications developed after Tito's left leg was amputated Jan. 20 in a last-ditch effort to avoid fatal gangrene poisoning due to a blood circulation blockage. Medication begun earlier that month, as well as minor surgery, had failed to solve the problem.

Gomez posts $5,000 bond

Angel Gomez, 826 W. Seventh, was arrested on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Gomez is free on $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Bob West.

The charge was filed Feb. 21 by Detective George Quintero accusing theft of a 1975 Monte Carlo from Jesse Saiz Jan. 12.

Gomez was arrested in Cordell, Okla., Feb. 18 on a Howard County warrant. Quintero took Gomez into custody Friday. He was transferred to county jail and released Monday.

and by 1971 the term pop was substituted for contemporary. Until last year, the pop category encompassed pop, rock and folk.

Rock was segregated again this year "because of its increased prominence and the New Wave and all."

sacred NARAS spokeswoman Chris Farnon.

Artists can be nominated in more than one category: Donna Summer, for example, is up for best female performance in the rock, pop and rhythm and blues sections.

But the same song cannot be nominated in more than one category. Miss Farnon said special screening committees composed of experts from NARAS, trade magazines and radio stations decide what category a song falls into during the nominating phase.

Award winners are determined by balloting among some 4,500 NARAS members nationwide. All vote in the four general categories: best new artist, record and album of the year — which honor artists and producers — and song of the year, a songwriter's award.

Besides Miss Summer, top nominees this year include the Doobie Brothers, up for album of the year, record of the year and best pop vocal performance by a group. Doobie Brother Michael McDonald also is nominated for two songs he co-authored — "Minute By Minute" and "What a Fool Believes" — and an arranging award. Rogers is eligible for record and album of the year, best pop and country vocal performances by a male and, with sidekick Dottie West, best country vocal performance by a group.

Gold discovered in Alaska again

GLENNALLEN, Alaska (AP) — Some 200 strong they flocked to a section of the windswept Glenn Highway, lured by reports of a major gold find in the snow-covered valley below.

But 6 feet of snow proved to be an unconquerable barrier Tuesday for most of those who tried to reach the mineralized zone some 145 miles northeast of Anchorage discovered by three state geologists last summer in the Nelchina River Basin.

The gold rush started with the release of a state report saying a small amount of gold was found in samples taken from the remote region.

The operator of Eureka Lodge, Hal Fimple, said he felt sorry for some of those who had managed to get into the area to stake claims.

"I know three people who walked in, and I saw them at the claims office this morning. Where they had filed, it's a swamp," he said.

Would-be prospector Bob Persons of Girdwood, Alaska, told of bogging down in deep powder snow when he tried to go in by snowmobile.

The people flocking to the scene hoped to stake out claims that would give them rights to the minerals on the government land.

There had been speculation that a state report on the find would say that samples collected by the geologists indicated a major discovery of gold, silver, copper and lead.

But when the report was issued Tuesday, only one of 10 samples showed a significant amount of gold. One had a small amount of copper and another had lead and silver in promising quantities.

"The sampling does not disclose a mineable ore body, but it does point to a geological structure that is well worth prospecting," said Charles Herbert, a former chief of the state's minerals program and now a minerals exploration consultant for BP-Alaska Exploration.

The richest gold sample contained 14 parts per million, or about 0.4 of an ounce of gold to a ton of ore.

Herbert said while it was a promising sample, he noted the gold in the other nine samples ranged down to little more than a trace.

He said the samples contained no indication of a commercial copper find, but that the one sample containing both lead and silver would be of interest to miners.

Sears faces conspiracy allegations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sears, Roebuck and Co. faces federal grand jury charges of conspiracy and of making false statements to U.S. Customs officials in an alleged nine-year scheme to conceal $1.1 million in rebates from a Japanese television set manufacturer.

The indictment against the nation's largest retailer was issued Tuesday by a federal grand jury sitting in Los Angeles. It was the first of a series of indictments expected out of grand juries in Los Angeles and elsewhere that have been conducting a year-long probe of so-called "dumping" of Japanese television sets on U.S. markets.

Such actions may have resulted in millions of dollars in unpaid customs duties by American retailers.

Dumping is the sale of foreign-made items in the U.S. at prices below those in the producing country. While the practice is not illegal, U.S. Customs requires that the importing retailer pay duties on the difference between the domestic and overseas retail price.

Such laws are designed to protect U.S. manufacturers and laborers from what is seen as unfair competition from cheap foreign imports.

The indictment charges Sears with understating on Customs forms the retail price in Japan of the television sets and of paying kickbacks to Japanese manufacturers.

Thus, the indictment alleges, Sears avoided paying Customs duties by making false declarations that did not disclose "kickbacks, rebates and credits privately arranged between Sears" and others.

A Sears spokesman in Chicago said Tuesday: "We believe the company's conduct was proper and legal. It appears that the government has misinterpreted the process by which Sears negotiated its costs for a line of imported television sets. We will plead not guilty to the charges."

$5,000 bail

posted by Tate

Charles Earl Tate, 406 NE Seventh, was released Monday on $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Bob West. Tate was arrested Sunday morning on suspicion of operating a gambling place.

Tate, T-Club owner, was arrested at his club and transferred to county jail Sunday.

Iranian parliament decision set for May

By the Associated Press
 A top Iranian official said today the fate of the American hostages in Tehran will not be decided by Iran's new Parliament until May at the earliest.
 Mohammed Behesti, first secretary of the ruling Revolutionary Council, said it would be that long — 10 weeks — before the Majlis, or parliament, would be sufficiently organized to deal with the issue. The two rounds of elections for the Parliament will be completed April 3.

 Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini said last weekend it would be up to the Parliament to decide whether to release the approximately 50 hostages at the occupied U.S. Embassy. Behesti, speaking with reporters, conceded that a new ruling by Khomeini could quickly change the situation.
 Even if the hostage crisis became the Parliament's first item of business, it was not likely a decision could be made before the end of April, the council secretary said.

 "How much time ... would be needed (for a decision) I don't know," he said.
 Any delay in the elections for the 270-seat legislature, a possibility because of a dispute now raging over the rules, would push back consideration of the issue even further.
 A State Department official in Washington acknowledged privately Tuesday that the release of the hostages "could take a lot longer than any of us would like."

 Today was the 116th day of captivity for the hostages. The Carter administration had believed that its agreement to a U.N. investigation of the ex-shah's regime would result in their speedy release.
 The U.N. investigative panel met with Foreign Ministry officials today.

 A ministry spokesman refused to disclose details of the meeting. The five-man commission later was scheduled to tour palaces where deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi resided, a tour the Iranians say will demonstrate the ousted monarch's exploitation of his people.
 The Iranian government said Tuesday it is easing its six-week-old ban on American journalists, and those who can convince the Iranian Embassy in Washington that they are impartial can return to Iran.

 The ruling Revolutionary Council's spokesman, Hassan Habibi, announced Tuesday night that Iran welcomes all foreign journalists who satisfy the Iranian Embassies in their countries of their competence to report impartially.
 Abolghasem Sadegh, the director of foreign press at the Guidance Ministry in Tehran, confirmed in a telephone conversation with The Associated Press in Cyprus today that this applied to American correspondents.

"We want to take a look at particular experiences and see whether certain groups can be readmitted to Iran," he said. "It will be a few days before we start making decisions."

(AP LASERPHOTO) DISPLAY FOR U.N. COMMISSION — A young boy displays an injury, allegedly the result of a bullet wound during the Iranian revolution, Tuesday in Tehran. The five-member U.N. commission in Tehran investigating the alleged crimes of the Shah met with more than a dozen people claiming to have sustained injuries under the rule of the Shah.

H.P. Lee, state highways veteran, will retire Friday

ABILENE — A longtime veteran of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will retire Friday. H.P. Lee, Engineering Technician, will retire after completing 25 years of service.
 Lee began his highway career March 1, 1955, in Mitchell County. At the time of his employment, construction of the Interstate Highway system was under way throughout the West Texas area. Lee served as chief inspector on many miles of the interstate projects through Howard and Mitchell Counties.
 During his years with the department, Lee has worked in several different counties throughout the Abilene District, serving as a specialist in materials inspection. At retirement, Lee is assigned to the Resident Engineers organization in Big Spring.
 Lee was born in Clairette,

MYSTERY OF THE MOUNTAIN — A team of Japanese climbers are planning a spring ascent of Mount Everest in the hopes of finding the body of a British climber who may have reached the summit in 1924, nearly 30 years before the famous climb of Sir Edmund Hillary.

The mystery camera of Mount Everest

LONDON (AP) — A grisly secret held for almost 60 years by the swirling snows and howling winds on Mount Everest may soon yield to a team of Japanese climbers already planning their spring ascent.

Did British climbers George Leigh Mallory and Andrew Irvine, who perished on Everest's icy slopes in June 1924, actually conquer the summit nearly 30 years before the famous climb of Sir Edmund Hillary and his Sherpa companion, Tenzing Norgay?

The answer hinges on whether the Japanese climbers can find the body of an "Englishman" sighted in 1975 by a Chinese climber — and on whether the body is that of Mallory, with camera and film still intact.

Experts say the film could retain its images — even over 56 years — because of the extreme cold on the world's highest mountain, and might be developed to show Mallory or Irvine triumphantly holding the British flag aloft on the summit of Everest.

Such a photograph would rewrite mountaineering history. Noel Odell, geologist on the Mallory expedition, was the last person to see the climbers, two dark specks on the white snow some 800 feet from the 29,021-foot summit. That was on June 8, 1924.

"I still think it is very likely that they made it," Odell told The Associated Press in a recent interview.

And Lord Hunt, 69, who organized the 1953 British expedition that put New Zealander Hillary at the top, has reacted generously to the prospect of having his greatest achievement dwarfed.

"No one would be happier than I if it were proved they reached the top, and I really mean that," Hunt said from his office at the Royal Geographical Society. "Mallory and Irvine were my childhood heroes, and it was this mystery that set it all off for me when I was 13."

British climber Doug Scott, who scaled Everest in 1975, said: "It's possible. And when you think of Everest, you think of Hillary and Tenzing and Mallory."

In 1924, Mallory — a decorated World War I hero and master at an exclusive British boys' school — was 37. Irvine was 22.

They set out to scale Everest in the same conquering tradition of the British Empire that inspired the doomed Antarctic expedition of Robert Falcon Scott 12 years before.

When asked why climb Everest, Mallory responded with mountaineering's most-quoted phrase: "Because it is there."

Odell, now an 89-year-old professor living in Cambridge, England, has long believed the pair could have reached the summit and perished as they tried to return to the camp set up at 27,000 feet.

Irvine's ice axe was found in 1933 at 27,495 feet. Odell believes that since the pinnacle is rocky, the useless axe could have been jettisoned on the way up.

Odell also raises another possibility.

He said the body sighted in 1975 by Chinese climber Wang Hung Pao — rather than being that of Mallory — could be one of six Russians who are believed to have perished in an avalanche in the 1940s.

The Russians have never admitted their attempt failed. I have questioned Soviet mountaineers, and they deny the whole thing, said Odell.

If the body turns out to be that of Irvine, Everest will keep its secret. Odell said only Mallory was carrying a camera.

Wang was with Japanese climber Yoshinori Hasegawa last October when he told him about sighting the body. Wang, communicating with Hasegawa in Chinese characters common to both languages, said the body was still intact, frozen and half covered with snow, the clothes crumpled and blown off by wind.

Wang said there was a hole in his cheek and his mouth was open. Hasegawa related. And when he touched his clothing, which was already worn to tatters, it flew into pieces and they danced on his breath.

But Wang could not be questioned further. He died in an avalanche on Everest the next day.

Hasegawa's 40-member team left Tokyo for Everest, on the China-Nepal border, on Feb. 22. There they will plan their assault, to start in May.

Hillary's team scaled Everest from Nepal. Hasegawa's team will take the route from the Tibetan side — the route taken by Mallory. The Japanese are the first non-communist climbers to be allowed to use the route, which was closed to the outside world after World War II.

Efforts saved for South

Connally not surprised

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — John Connally, who finished sixth among Republicans in the New Hampshire presidential primary, says his poor showing wasn't really a surprise.

"With the effort we put into it we obviously had to be satisfied with whatever we got," the former Texas governor said late Tuesday after arriving in Florida following a day of campaigning in Chicago.

Connally finished with only 2 percent of the GOP votes in the New Hampshire race for delegates to the presidential nominating conventions.

He said the main thrust of his campaign will begin with South Carolina's primary.

Connally said his organization simply doesn't have enough money to campaign fully in every corner of the nation.

"We don't want any of the states to feel that we're not interested in them. We don't want any of the states to feel that we're not going to make some effort," Connally said.

But at the same time we want to be realistic. Politics have gotten so enormously expensive."

Connally said his campaign will kick into high gear with the South Carolina primary and will continue to run hard in Georgia, Florida and Illinois. "Those are the crucial states," he said. His target will be Ronald Reagan, who swept the New Hampshire primary with more than half the Republican votes cast, Connally said.

"Gov. Reagan is the man that we have to beat. I said that in the beginning," he said. "I repeat it now. And it's not going to be easy because he's got 15 years and probably $30 million of efforts behind him and maybe closer to $50 million."

"We're going to have to go to selected states where we can beat him," Connally told reporters at a Jacksonville motel. "We're going to try to do that beginning in South Carolina."

Asked if he can beat the former California governor in South Carolina, Connally replied:

"I'm going to try. I think I can. I'm kind of like the choo-choo pulling the hill. I think I can. I think I can. I think I can, and I think I can."

No Unity On Reunions

DEAR ABBY: I have no sympathy for the wife who went to her husband's 10th high school reunion, didn't know a soul, and was hurt and miserable because she was ignored. When I wanted to attend my 20th high school reunion, I invited my wife to come along to show my old pals how well I had married. She thanked me for the compliment, but insisted that I go alone so I could reminisce freely without having to spend part of my time looking after her.

AMSTERDAM ALUMNI
DEAR ALUMNI: Read on for a letter from a wife who went, but should have stayed home:

DEAR ABBY: This past summer I attended my husband's high school reunion. He made a gallant effort at introducing me around. I got smart and told him not to worry about me, but to enjoy himself with his chums. After all it was his reunion.

It sure didn't kill me to be less than amused for one night. I'm secure enough to know that I'm no "dog," and adult enough not to get choked up over one night in 10 years.

MICHELLE IN LA PUENTE

DEAR MICHELLE: And here's a letter from a wife who stayed home and wished she had gone:

DEAR ABBY: My husband asked me if I wanted to go back to his hometown for his 25th high school reunion. I didn't know anybody back there, so I told him to go without me. What a dummy I was!

He went alone and met his old high school sweetheart—a blonde bombshell—recently divorced.

Well, they picked up where they had left off, rekindled the old flame, and guess who's without a husband now? That's right. Sign me...

DUMMY IN MUSCATINE, IA.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are in total disagreement about my father-in-law's upcoming marriage. My wife is on the outs with her father, and she doesn't like the woman he is marrying. She has refused to attend the wedding and wants me to stay home, too.

I have no ill feeling against my father-in-law. As a matter of fact, I am rather fond of him.

I want to attend the wedding. My wife says I shouldn't. What do you say?

M.J. ARGUMENT

DEAR M.J.: Your wife can stay home if she wants to, but she has no right to tell you what to do.

DEAR ABBY: ILLINOIS FARMER wrote to say that pigs do not overeat; they eat only enough to satisfy their hunger. And you bought it, saying that more people should eat like pigs!

Sorry, Abby, but that farmer is misinformed. I grew up on a farm in Oklahoma, and we fattened four or five hogs every year to butcher. We used hog lard to fatten our hogs, and we got them so fat they could hardly get their hind quarters off the ground; some could hardly rise to their feet. We could hear their heavy breathing for several yards before we got to the hog pens.

Hogs will literally eat themselves to death if given the opportunity. They will eat almost anything, and in almost unlimited quantity.

Bully must be totally squashed

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Timmy, 12, from Odessa, Texas, is having problems with a bully at school and is asking for teen advice. Beverly Wilson, 14, from Dubuque, Iowa, and Joe Avilla, 15, who lives in Hayward, Calif., will give Timmy their thoughts.

Dr. Wallace: I am having problems with an older boy at school. He is always kicking me and many times he punches me and he even spits on me. Now he is demanding that I give him my lunch money or he will beat me up after school.

I'm 12 years old and I only weigh 85 pounds so I can't fight him. I'm scared.

Please tell me what to do. I'd also like to hear from any teens who read your column. — Timmy, Odessa, Texas

Timmy: No one should put up with this kind of abuse. Have your parents make an appointment with your principal immediately. Principals are very aware of this type problem and after a meeting with the bully and his parents the problem usually ends.

But if it doesn't, the principal should be contacted again.

If for some reason, after talking with the principal twice, the bully is still doing his act, have Mom contact the superintendent of schools. Her next contact would be the board of education.

Don't allow this boy to even make verbal threats. He must be totally "squashed."

Hi Timmy: I deplore bullies and this boy is definitely a bully. My first thought was for your dad to contact his dad, but then I realized that his dad might be a bully, too, so I would have the school handle the problem.

If that doesn't work, have your parents contact the police because the bully is committing a crime and he should be punished. — Beverly, Dubuque, Iowa

Hello, Timmy: I would like to tell you to get a baseball bat and hit a home-run with his head, but too many people would complain, so I won't tell you to do that.

Next, I would like to tell you to get a guy bigger than he is and have this guy punch the bully in the nose, but again, people will complain, so I won't tell you to do that.

But I will tell you to have your parents call the superintendent and let him solve the problem.

Why not go to the top? Too many times school principals are "wishy-washy."

— Joe, Hayward, Calif.

If you would like to be a teen guest writer, please write to me, in care of this newspaper.

Send questions to Dr. Robert Wallace, Tween 12 and 20, in care of this newspaper. For Dr. Wallace's teen booklet, "Happiness or Despair," please send $1 and a 28-cent stamped, large, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Wallace, in care of this newspaper.

DRILLING, BUT NOT FOR OIL. — Dr. Clarence E. Peters, Dental Clinic volunteer since 1969, and his assistant, Clara Cline, drill decayed matter out of Johnny Olivarez's tooth. Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Octavid Olivarez, 1611 Cardinal.

Volunteer dentists promote dental hygiene at clinic

By MICKIE DICKSON
The dental clinic at the City-Council Health Unit, 201 Lancaster, has new equipment.

Eight local dentists further dental hygiene and health by volunteering their time and talent alternately on two Wednesdays each month, except for Dr. John R. Key who schedules his time on a Thursday morning to care for the dental needs of needy school age children.

A new dental chair, dental unit and light replaces the clinic's original equipment which was donated by Dr. W.B. Hardy in January 1969 when he retired.

The late Horace Garrett initiated the dental program for indigent children some years before the clinic opened in 1969 with a $2,300 fund. Mrs. Horace Garrett donated $2,000 to the dental fund and the local dentists boosted it by endorsing the checks they received for their services from the state back in to the fund. Up until three years ago the state paid up to $100 a year or $25 for 2 hours for children's dental care. The City and County then took over and the dentist's time is now donated. The new dental equipment was purchased with the money which the dentists donated back to the clinic.

Helen Walters, public health nurse, solicits the aid of dentists at the beginning of each year and makes a tentative schedule for the approval of those who volunteer to hold three or four clinics during that year. Volunteers for 1980 are Dr. James R. Cave, Dr. Johnny R. (Dickie) Stanley, Dr. Robert P. Patterson, Dr. David Rickey, Dr. Clarence E. Peters, and Dr. Key. Each dentist provides his own dental assistant. Dr. Douglas Smith, orthodontist, is available for consultation. The clinic served about 150 patients in 1979, compared to 50 the first year. About six or seven patients are seen at each clinic.

Each patient is examined by the dentist and X-rays may be taken to determine what work is needed. Extractions or fillings and cleaning are then done. No funds are available for braces or partial plates.

Careful records are maintained and an appointment book keeps the children on a steady schedule of visits until all needed work is complete. The sessions by the doctors are interchangeable so each patient may be served by the same doctor.

Helen Walters and Marie Sonntag, the two public health nurses at the Health Unit, screen children each Tuesday, immunization day, for dental needs. The public school nurses also screen the children they see for cavities or carries and refer needy ones to Public Health.

The nurses also show films to patients and give demonstrations on correct brushing and flossing procedures.

The month of February is dental hygiene month, but every day all year is the time for everyone to practice good dental hygiene with the help of the good dentists in Big Spring area.

Tipping of the Brushgoes to Dalmar and Rupert

Members of the Big Spring Art Association met at 'Kentwood' Center for their February meeting. President Becky Smiley greeted Opal Covington and Joyce Sanford as guests and welcomed Virginia Sweeney as a new member.

The Permian Basin Area Art Show will be held in Odessa March 10 with W. Warren Cullar judging. There will be a watercolor workshop by Cullar at Glenda's Gallery at Post Feb. 29, March 1 and 2, with a charge of $30 for the three days.

Co-chairmen Pat Klotz and Jean Hensley were commended for their work on the recent Miniature Show which had a total of 96 entries. Ten purchase awards were given at this show.

A committee, composed of Linda Rupard, Elsie K. Merrell and Roberta Ross will study club policy for judging area shows and report at the March meeting.

The Association Area Show will be held in the old gymnasium at Howard College on May 2, 3 and 4. Details will be given at a later date.

Tipping of the Brush Award went to Linda Rupard's watercolor of an old house, first and Dalmar (M. Conway's) semi-abstract seascape, second. These will be displayed at Citizen's Credit Union and State National Bank during March.

Oil landscape artist, Bill Zaner of Boerne gave a demonstration for the group. Mr. Zaner is a well-known "naturalistic" artist. For more than 20 years he was a portrait painter, then for the last 20 years he has concentrated on landscapes, which he says fulfills every need of the artist: Variety of subject, mood, color transition, compositional arrangements. He has been represented in most major juried exhibits throughout the state such as TFAA and Texas Watercolor Society. He has gallery affiliations in San Antonio, San Angelo, Austin, Oklahoma City, and has his own Art Haus in Boerne.

Hostesses were Adelle Smith and Becky Smiley. The March meeting will be the quarterly social — a salad supper.

Eagle Forum meeting is scheduled

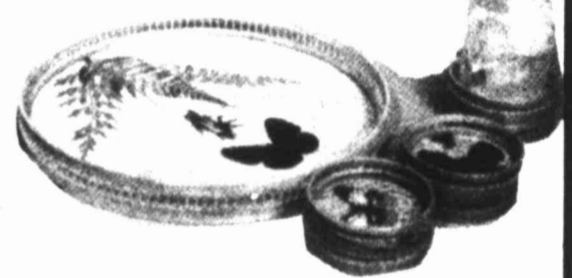

Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room, the Eagle Forum will have a regular monthly meeting.

Guest speakers will be Dan Hanna and Glen Dickerson from Christian Focus on Government Inc. of Lubbock, who will be speaking on how to survey and evaluate candidates. The group will learn how to meet political office seekers and what questions to ask to determine how they will vote. Hanna and Dickerson are also editors of FOCUS magazine and will be coming from Lubbock.

With election time on it becomes difficult to know who to vote for, who will best represent our interests, how they feel about certain issues and how do the people go about finding out where the candidates stand. All this and more will be brought up at the meeting this month.

ANITA BRYANT MISS PIGGY

Anita Bryant may be out

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — More than a year after Florida oranges ended up in the middle of a controversy over homosexual rights, citrus spokeswoman Anita Bryant may be on the way out.

Miss Bryant's contract with the Florida Citrus Commission expires in August and agency marketing director Douglas Hoffer says no more commercials with the singer are planned. Her departure is "probably true if the commission goes along with it," Hoffer said.

The former beauty queen, who has represented citrus growers since 1968, began to lose favor last year after leading the 1978 campaign against homosexual rights in South Florida. Gay activists urged a boycott of Florida products and two industry lawyers, in arguing that Florida identification should not be required on product labels, told the state Supreme Court recently they did not necessarily want their products tied too closely to Miss Bryant.

Miss Piggy not eligible

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — People are people but Miss Piggy, the snout-nosed bombshell of the big and little screens, is only a puppet — and not eligible for a best actress Oscar, say Academy Awards officials.

The starlet and her creators — Frank Oz and Jim Henson — were not immediately available for comment in the case. A few weeks ago, Miss Piggy said she was having a gown designed in case she were nominated — "something daring, yet elegant, something only a pig could wear."

Asked then whether her asking price for a picture could go up, she replied: "I'm just a silly woman, I don't know about big important things like money. All I want is to fulfill myself as an actress and a pig while Bernie (Muppet manager Bernie Brillstein) watches the gross receipts."

Miss Piggy — who starred in "The Muppet Movie" — was not on the list of best actress nominees announced Monday, but a Columbus, Ohio, television station, KTVN, is distributing "Miss Piggy for Best Actress" bumper stickers and fostering a write-in campaign.

Willey Willey Willey admits unauthorized use of vehicle

Willey Willey Willey and William Noel Tucker entered pleas of guilt in 118th District Court Monday to unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

They received five-year probated sentences.

They were arrested in Sierra Blanca Nov. 11 for the theft of a 1974 Peterbilt from Chemical Express on Nov. 10.

Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin issued warrants for their arrest Nov. 10. Chief Deputy Bill Whitton went to Sierra Blanca to pick them up Nov. 13.

Heflin set bond at $2,500. The pair were released Nov. 16.

New Mexico sheriff in standoff with two fugitives

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Two brothers wanted on charges of shooting at a sheriff's deputy remained holed up early today in their trailer home east of Las Cruces with eight other persons. They said the eight were not being held hostage. The brothers have refused to surrender since Monday night when officers surrounded the white mobile home situated behind an adobe wall. Sheriff's investigator Ben Archuleta said he talked with one of the brothers Tuesday night and the man told him the other people inside could leave if they wanted. None did. He said the man told him, "I don't want to go to jail. I'd rather shoot it out."

Asked if the situation was dangerous, the sheriff said, "No, it would be if we were going to storm the place. You can't afford to go in there and get somebody hurt. They haven't fired any shots." DiMatteo described the situation as being at a "standstill." He said the brothers were demanding that warrants issued by his office alleging assault on an officer be dropped. But he said, "We're not going to do that." At one point Tuesday, a young man emerged from the house and yelled, "I'm not getting out of the house. They said I assaulted an officer — that's what they say. I heard some shots, but I don't know who was firing." The sheriff said the incident started Monday night when the brothers allegedly fired shots at two men in a car in downtown Las Cruces. The victims of the alleged attack called police, and officers were patrolling the area near the mobile home when they saw the brothers' car stop for gas.

The garage owner, Robert Hoff, 37, said, "The sheriff's deputy talked to one of the brothers who got out of the car. He got back in, and the policeman came over and reached in the car, and he roared out of here," Hoff said, pointing to deep ruts in a dirt driveway. Hoff said, "After a little while, I heard four shots. They sounded like they were about three blocks away."

The value speaks for itself in a voice that says Howard Miller.

The solid oak case is over 6 1/2' tall and carved in the elaborate country French manner. And every hour, it plays your choice of three English cathedral chimes — Westminster, Whittington or Winchester. A Currier & Ives period reproduction enhances the moon phase dial, with its raised Arabic numerals and contrasting hour ring of silver. And all the while, the great brass lyre pendulum gleams dramatically as it swings behind beveled glass. Value in any language. Ask for Cabernet.

Illegal aliens 'most exploited'

HOUSTON (AP)— Leonel Castillo, the commissioner of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service from 1977 to 1979, says illegal aliens are "the most exploited, most vulnerable group in the United States."

Testifying Tuesday in a federal court trial challenging the constitutionality of a Texas school law, Castillo said, "The exploitation includes everything from low wages to poor working conditions to physical abuse."

"And most illegal aliens will avoid federal or state authorities unless their situation becomes critical," he said.

Castillo, now head of a Houston consulting firm, said the illegal aliens, the great majority of whom are Mexican nationals, "pay more in taxes than they receive in services" while living in the United States.

"All pay property taxes through rent, and all pay sales taxes, 80 percent pay income taxes and contribute to Social Security through payroll deductions," he said.

The trial before U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals is now in its second week and expected to last three more weeks.

A group of Hispanic parents filed lawsuits against several Texas school districts where their children are either forbidden to attend classes or must pay tuition.

Seals ordered the suits held in abeyance until he heard testimony and determined the constitutionality of the 1975 law which prohibits state financial aid for the education of the illegal alien children.

Representatives of the state attorney general's office have argued that if an estimated 110,000 undocumented children are forced upon the school system, the financial load will be too heavy for many districts.

The lawyers for the State of Texas also have questioned whether taxpayers should be required to pay for the education of those who are in the United States illegally and who do not contribute a fair share of the dollars needed to support the school systems.

Several witnesses brought to the stand by the plaintiffs have disputed the cost factors; offered alternatives to meet any shortage of bilingual teachers; and criticized any attempt to stereotype the illegal aliens as poor, illiterates who pay no taxes.

POLICE SAY BUSINESS RIVAL KILLED MAN'S FAMILY — Since May, 1979, when his wife, son and the son's friend were killed by a man who invaded his home, Lloyd Cotsen, president of Neutrogena Corp., has spent his nights in different hotels and been followed by bodyguards.

NBC follows with 'Harper Valley PTA'

ABC wins television ratings poll

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC won the networks' prime-time ratings race for the week ending Feb. 24 with plenty of help from the Winter Olympics, and despite an unexpected rush from NBC, figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co. showed.

The week was NBC's best in the ratings in 15 months, though the network has finished first in the competition twice this season.

ABC, winning for the third time in a month, had four of the 10 highest-rated programs, all prime-time coverage of the Olympics from Lake Placid, N.Y.

NBC's thrust after several weeks in third place included five of the Top 10 shows, including the TV premiere of a theatrical movie, "Harper Valley PTA," in first place and another movie, "The End," in third.

NBC also had "Real People" fourth, "Diff'rent Strokes" sixth and "Little House on the Prairie" eight, and compiled an average rating of 20.8, its highest since October 1978.

ABC's rating for the week was 24, with CBS third at 16.2. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 24 percent of the homes in the country with television were tuned to ABC.

ABC's No. 1 show for the week was Saturday night's Winter Olympics broadcast, with a rating of 28.9 to 29.1 for NBC's "Harper Valley PTA."

Nielsen says that means of all the TV-equipped homes in the country, 29.1 percent saw at least part of the movie, and a slightly smaller portion tuned in for the sports broadcast.

The Saturday night program, including the finals in the women's figure skating competition, attracted the most homes per minute — just over 22 million — for any Olympics broadcast, winter or summer, in history, ABC said.

The Olympics and NBC's movies hurt CBS, which placed only one show, "M-A-S-H," in the first 10.

Here are the week's 10 highest-rated programs:

Movie: "Harper Valley PTA," with a rating of 29.1 representing 22.2 million homes, NBC; Winter Olympics, Saturday, 28.9 or 22.1 million, ABC; Movie: "The End," 27.8 or 21.2 million, and "Real People," 27.5 or 21 million, both NBC; Winter Olympics, Thursday, 27.4 or 20.9 million, ABC; "Diff'rent Strokes," 26.3 or 20.1 million, NBC; Winter Olympics, Wednesday, 25.9 or 19.8 million, ABC; "Little House on the Prairie," 24.5 or 18.7 million, NBC; Winter Olympics, Tuesday, 24.4 or 18.6 million, ABC, and "M-A-S-H," 24.3 or 18.5 million, CBS.

Birdless Sycamores have sudden ending to season

By The Associated Press

What a difference a year — and the absence of a 6-foot-9 superstar named Larry Bird — made for Indiana State University.

Last winter, the Sycamores were unbeaten and rolling toward a berth in the finals of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball Tournament against eventual champion Michigan State.

But Bird, college basketball's Player of the Year in 1979, now plies his trade for the Boston Celtics and Tuesday night his former teammates couldn't even make it past the opening round of the Missouri Valley Conference postseason tournament.

Freshman Cliff Levingston scored 14 of his 24 points in the second half to pace Wichita State over Indiana State 82-70, ending the Sycamores' season with a 16-11 mark, compared to last year's glittering 33-1 log. An 8-0 burst put Wichita on top to stay 50-43 with 13:24 left.

It was 67-62 with 2:35 remaining when Carl Nicks, Indiana State's leading scorer with 22 points, fouled out. Wichita promptly ran off the next 10 points.

The Shockers moved into the semifinals against regular-season champ Bradley, which trounced Tulsa 97-76 as reserve Hasan Houston scored 27 points and David Thirkill added 20.

"I think this team is peaking at the right time," said Bradley Coach Dick Versace. "Some of it was by design, some of it by happenstance. But I don't want people to think I'm some sort of Machiavellian genius or anything. It's just that I've got a group of young guys who want to listen and work and play as they're capable of playing."

The other MVC semifinal will pit Creighton, an 86-80 winner over Drake, against West Texas State, which turned back New Mexico State 98-87. Drake's Lewis Lloyd scored 37 points but was unable to overcome a balanced Creighton attack. Eddie Harris came off the bench to lead West Texas with 20.

It's tournament time these days on several fronts. The only member of The Associated Press Top Twenty in action Tuesday night was No. 11 Missouri, which defeated Oklahoma State 82-69 in the opening round of the Big Eight Tournament. Larry Drew led the Tigers with 20 points on 9-of-12 shooting and added seven assists.

Missouri led 40-38 at halftime but outscored the Cowboys 19-5 in the first seven minutes of the second half.

Supersub Mark Dressler, who replaced the injured Curtis Berry for the third straight game, added 19 points.

"Mark changes our ballclub quite a bit," said Coach Norm Stewart. "He gives us more outside shooting."

Dressler set a Big Eight record during the regular season by hitting 69.9 percent from the field.

"Missouri is the best team in the Big Eight," said O-State Coach Paul Hansen. "In the second half they blew us out. It was like playing the American hockey team out there."

Hayes released from prison

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Bob Hayes, who used to leave behind defending backs on the football field, slipped quietly away from the Texas state prison before dawn today, avoiding the news media.

Hayes walked out the front of the red brick building called "The Walls" by prison inmates. Prison officials had said Hayes would be freed between 8:30 a.m. and 10 a.m. They said today Hayes had made a special request for an earlier release time.

Rick Hartley, the prison's director of public affairs, said, "Bob Hayes told the warden he did not want to talk to the news media and asked if it were possible for him to leave early."

"This was no problem for the warden," Hartley said, "because the release papers were dated for the 27th of February and that means any time after midnight."

Prison officials said they had no idea where Hayes had gone and that he had not mentioned to them on his departure when he would be willing to talk to newsmen.

Teagle named conference MVP

Underclassmen highlight All-SWC honorees

DALLAS (AP) — Baylor's slender sophomore gunner, Terry Teagle, was named the Outstanding Player of the Year and Texas A&M's Shelby Metcalf was voted Coach of the Year on the Associated Press 1979-1980 All-Southwest Conference basketball team.

The 6-foot-5 Teagle, who averaged 22.5 points and 7.9 rebounds per game, did most of his damage inside although he could make a 20-footer with the ease of a layup.

Joining Teagle of Broadus, Texas, inside on the mythical dream team picked by the SWC coaches were junior Rynn Wright, the most consistent of Texas A&M's regular-season SWC champions who averaged 14.2 points and 6.9 rebounds per game and Arkansas' Scott Hastings, who scored at a 17-point per game clip with 7.1 rebounds.

The guards were Houston freshman Rob Williams and Texas senior Ron Baxter, who scored 15.7 and 17.9 points, respectively. Baxter triggered the Texas offense although he did some of his scoring inside.

Rice's sensational Ricky Pierce, a sophomore from Garland, was named The Newcomer of the Year. He averaged 18.8 points and 8.4 rebounds per game. The 6-6 Pierce headed a second unit inside that included Texas A&M's Vernon Smith (15.9 PPG and 7.3 rebounds), and Texas' LaSalle Thompson, who averaged 13.3 points and led the league in rebounding with 9.8 cars per game.

Arkansas jumping-jack U.S. Reed, who scored 13.6 points a game, and Texas A&M's Dave Britton, who calmed down his clowning antics to direct the Aggie offense and score 11.3 points per game plus 3.2 assists, were the second team guards.

The coaches voted Texas A&M's Wright, who usually drew the opposition's top offensive star, as the Defensive Player of the Year.

Metcalf outdistanced Rice's Mike Schuler in the Coach of the Year balloting.

The coaches voted for an All-Newcomer Team for the first time. It included Williams and Southern Methodist's Dave Piehler and Texas Christian's Darrell Browder — a tie — outside, and Thompson, Pierce, and Texas A&M's Claude Riley inside.

The only seniors among the Top Ten players were Baxter and Britton.

DALLAS (AP) — Here is the 1979-1980 All-Southwest Conference Basketball Team as selected by the league's coaches:

FIRST TEAM
OUTSIDE: Ron Baxter, Texas, Sr., 6-4, 215, Los Angeles, Calif., 17.9 points per game, and Rob Williams, Houston, Fr., 6-7, 175, Houston, Texas, 15.7 ppg.
INSIDE: Terry Teagle, Baylor, Soph., 6-5, 195, Broadus, Texas, 22.5 ppg., Rynn Wright, Texas A&M, Jr., 6-6, 215, Dallas, Texas, 14.2 ppg., and Scott Hastings, Arkansas, 6-10, 210, Soph., Independence, Kan., 17.0 ppg.

SECOND TEAM
OUTSIDE: U.S. Reed, Arkansas, 6-7, 170, Jr., Pine Bluff, Ark., 13.6 ppg. and Dave Britton, Texas A&M, 6-4, 180, Sr., New York City, 11.3.
INSIDE: Ricky Pierce, Rice, 6-5, 205, Soph., Garland, Texas, 18.8, Vernon Smith, Texas A&M, 6-8, 210, Jr., Dallas, Texas, 15.9, and LaSalle Thompson, Texas, 6-10, 235, Fr., Cincinnati, Ohio, 13.4.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR — Teagle.
COACH OF THE YEAR — Shelby Metcalf, Texas A&M.
NEWCOMER OF THE YEAR — Pierce.

DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR — Wright.
ALL-NEWCOMER TEAM
OUTSIDE — Williams, Dave Piehler, SMU, Newton, Kansas, 13.5, and Darrell Browder, TCU, Fort Worth, 10.2 (tie).

White ponders role with Cowboys

"Everyone I run into asks me what I think, like I know something."

DALLAS (AP) — Danny White insists he has no inside information concerning the retirement plans of Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach and is trying not to think about the subject.

What makes White a qualified observer of the situation is his position: backup quarterback for the Cowboys.

"My objectives this off-season will be the same they've always been — to report to training camp in the best shape I possibly can," White said.

"Still, it's impossible to not wonder about it...."

"It" refers to Staubach's admission that he is contemplating retirement, after 11 National Football League seasons and two Super Bowl championships.

Staubach says he has not made up his mind, and will not do so until the off-season training program begins next month. However, the tone of recent Staubach interviews has led to widespread speculation that he has taken his last snap from center as a pro.

"I've talked with Roger quite a bit," White said, "but I'm not sure what he will do. I honestly don't think he's positive about it."

"Everyone I run into asks me what I think, like I know something. I don't. Roger's the only one who can answer the questions people are asking and I'm not sure he knows the answer yet."

White, a star at Arizona State and two-year starter in the old World Football League before he joined Dallas, admits the idea of replacing the NFL's top-rated passer the past two seasons has made his off-season more intense.

"I'd have to admit there's a great deal of anticipation — and a little nervousness about it."

"I don't expect to go in and in one year do the job Roger's been doing. There'll be some adjustment, some bumpy times, but once I get over the hump there'll be nothing but improvement from there on."

As for his off-season physical conditioning program, White said, "Usually I take a break, but this time I just didn't stop working out."

White's boss, Cowboys coach Tom Landry, also is thinking about the possibility of Staubach's departure.

"I'm coming to the end of a long stay," Landry said at an awards banquet recently. "I've been there 20 years and I don't know when I'll say it's enough."

Rote taking soccer vacation

HOUSTON (AP) — Saying he needs time "to regenerate myself," Houston Hurricane soccer star Kyle Rote Jr. has announced he will take a year off from North American Soccer League play.

"I had planned to play two more years of soccer," Rote said Tuesday at a press conference. "Instead of 1980 and 1981, in will now be 1981 and 1982."

Rote's three-year contract with the Hurricane was to have ended in 1981.

Collins, Knight taking Reds management to arbitration

CINCINNATI (AP) — The agent for the first two players to take the Cincinnati Reds to arbitration in salary disputes said that his clients were more interested in principles than in money.

Barry Axelrod, the attorney for Ray Knight and Dave Collins, said "the money became secondary in importance. We all felt that way. It was the principle that really mattered." He said that the players, who both won positions in the starting lineup by batting .318 last season, wanted pay to match their work.

Both made less than $50,000 in 1979. A professional arbitrator found in favor of the players over the Reds, and said that both should be in a salary bracket estimated at $160,000-$180,000. Collins will be paid slightly more, Axelrod said. Neither player wanted his salary figures released.

Arbitrator Rolf Valtin heard their cases a week ago and ruled Monday in favor of the players.

"Each of the players has asked me not to say" how much the arbitrator ruled they should be earning, Axelrod said in a telephone interview from his San Diego office. "In both Dave and Ray's cases, they spent a good deal of time on their own thinking about...what was right and what was not right. We came up with numbers we thought were fair and right."

Reds President Dick Wagner and Vice President Sheldon Bender, who presented the team's case at arbitration, were in Tampa, Fla., and could not be reached for comment.

"I'm just really thrilled," said Knight from his home in Atlanta. "For every guy who makes $300,000 to $400,000, there are three guys who make $30,000 to $40,000. But I wanted to be among the top players on that list."

"Like (the Atlanta Braves') Bob Horner has been in the league only three years and is making $400,000. I spent six years in the minor leagues, that's a total of nine years. I've paid my dues and I'm not making half that much," said Knight.

"Mr. Wagner is a strong man. He'll fight you, but if I think I'm right, I'm not going to change my mind. And if I have as good a year as last year or better, which I plan to have, I'm sure Mr. Wagner won't say a thing," Knight said.

Collins said he increased his asking price shortly before going into arbitration. "I'm still sorry we went to arbitration," said the 27-year-old outfielder.

Snyder whips Weatherford

ABILENE — The Snyder Tigers exploded for a 26-10 lead at the end of the first quarter and then coasted to a lopsided 86-54 win over Weatherford in a AAA bi-district game played on the campus of Abilene Christian University.

The game was a physical mismatch. The Snyder team averages over 6' in height per player, whereas Weatherford's tallest starter was only 5'11".

The win propels the Tigers into the regional finals against Borger, a 73-70 winner over the Andrews Mustangs.

Snyder, who now sports an impressive record of 26-4, was led in scoring by Eric Arnold's 20 points.

Greenwood whips Wink

WINK — The Greenwood Rangers, the number two ranked team in the state in Class B, used Rex Evans' 23 points en route to an 85-31 rout of Wink in a bi-district game here Tuesday night.

Greenwood, now 32-2 on the year, was never threatened in the contest, jumping out to a 27-6 first quarter lead.

Seminole overcomes Ballinger

SNYDER — The Seminole Yellow Jackets overcame an early 10-2 deficit to take a 65-54 win over the Ballinger Bearcats in a Class AA bi-district game here Tuesday night.

After the early Ballinger explosion, Seminole controlled the action, extending their lead to as many as 16 points in the third stanza.

Seminole, led by Starkley's 17 points, now advances to the regional tournament.

Ballinger, the 6-AA chamions who ended their season with a record of 25-8, were led by the impressive performance of Marty Akins, who scored 34 points. But only two other Ballinger players could score in the contest.

Coleman advances

STEPHENVILLE — The state's top ranked Class AA team, Coleman, advanced into the regionals with a 49-43 bi-district win over Jacksboro in a game played here Tuesday night.

It was the 29th win without a loss for Coleman.

Wichita Falls tames Permian Panthers

ABILENE — 6'8" Ricky Cobb scored 32 points to pace the Wichita Falls Coyotes to a 71-66 bi-district win over Odessa Permian in a game played here in Taylor County Coliseum.

The Coyotes, champions of District 6-AAAA, outscored Permian by 14 points in the second stanza to take a 42-27 lead at halftime.

But Cobb drew his fourth personal midway in the third stanza, and Permian scoring ace Brad Kerley took advantage of this score 12 points in the stanza and bring the Panthers back to within three at 48-45 entering the final eight minutes.

But Wichita Falls guard Richard Kramer ended the Permian season by connecting on six free throws in the final minutes to seal the Coyote win.

Wichita Falls will now take a record of 26-8 into this weekend's Region I Tourney, which will also be played at Taylor County Coliseum.

Permian, the 5-AAAA champion that ended with a record of 24-10, was led by Kerley's 24 points.

Wichita Falls will now play El Paso Eastwood at 6:00 p.m. on Friday night in the first round of the regionals.

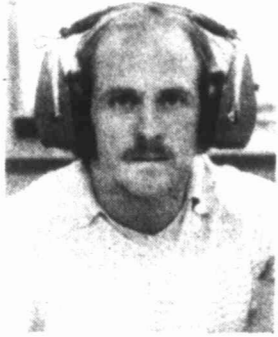

Eastwood took a 45-36 win over El Paso Burges in their bi-district encounter last night.

In the other Region I playoff game Friday, Lubbock Monterey will square off against the always tough Fort Worth Dunbar team at 8:00 p.m. in the same arena.

Monterey advanced with a 52-40 bi-district win over Pampa, while Dunbar took a 61-58 decision over Richland last night.

Tuning In by Nathan Poss

Irony, Follis and big bucks

FOR THOSE OF YOU WHO MISSED last Friday night's 5-AAAA championship between Midland and Odessa Permian, you missed probably the loudest explosion of noise in the short history of basketball in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Permian won, 83-82, but not before both sides had made even a casual observer more than interested.

There were two aspects of irony that were obvious in the emotional contest.

The first concerned Midland's talented 6'9" junior, Herbert Johnson. It is not that often that local fans get the chance to see such a high school specimen that is as versatile as the Midland underclassman, especially when he was playing in such a pressure situation.

After Permian jumped out to an 11-point lead, Johnson put on a nearly unstoppable performance, scoring 26 second-half points, and also dishing out numerous assists and controlling the boards.

But after his magnificent game, he turned out to be a sort of goat, missing the first end of a one-and-one situation with five seconds to go. Of course, without his performance in the game, Midland wouldn't have been that close, anyway.

In this case, it seems to show that one player can only do so much.

THE OTHER IRONY of the 5-AAAA title bout was the fact that approximately 3,000 to 3,500 fans showed up, the largest crowd ever to watch a game at Garrett Coliseum. (The Harlem Globetrotters played to a full house last year, but that has to be considered more of a show than a game.)

Needless to say, at least 90 per cent of the spectators were from Midland or Odessa.

Yet the number one junior college team in the nation, Western Texas, can come to town to play Howard College, offering a much better quality of competition, and only 1,500 locals show up.

The Howard College Hawk Queens played Odessa College for the regular season conference title, and they were lucky to draw 1,000.

Maybe the word's not irony, but local apathy.

Maybe the local fans are waiting for a championship encounter in the form of the Region V Women's Tournament, which will be held at Garrett Coliseum next Wednesday through Saturday.

The Hawk Queens will be a number one seed, and vocal support would definitely be an added boost in their quest for a berth in the national tournament.

O.W. FOLLIS, head basketball coach at Lamesa High School, has made things confusing for sports historians in the past two weeks.

The 1979-80 National High School Sports Record Book, put out by the National Federation of Coaches, had reported that the national record for wins by a coach at a single school was 809.

The Golden Tors set their sights on this goal, and won number 809 against Brownfield on February 12. This supposedly tied the record.

But alas, on the following Tuesday, Lubbock Avalanche Journal sportswriter Russ Parsons reported that Follis actually needed 897 wins at Lamesa to break the national winning mark.

THAT WAS SET BY C.E. "NIG" WOMACK, who in 28 years of coaching the Hawley Bearcat boys (located just north of Abilene, Texas) had accumulated 896 wins, compared to only 147 losses — a winning percentage of .859.

What's even more astonishing is that Womack also coached the Hawley women for 18 years, from 1948 to 1966. His record in his female stint was 673-110.

Nevertheless, some have reported that Follis went ahead and broke the record with his 810th win, a victory over Sweetwater.

Follis, in the meantime, seemed to be unaffected by the confusion, stating: "I wasn't worried about it anyway. There was a lot of talk about it, but I didn't know what the record was. I just went by what the newspaper here and the TV said."

Follis said that his state record of three Class AAA state championships still means more to him than the victory number record.

MANY PARENTS SEEM TO BE TELLING their children that the big money in sports comes from success in golf and tennis. That's not the rest of the story, however.

Thanks to the free agency and multi-million dollar contracts of the past three years, baseball has risen to the top of sports in average salaries.

The average salary of a baseball player in 1979 was a handsome $120,000, compared to merely $48,000 in 1976.

Pro basketball did have the highest average salary in the past two years, but they have been overpassed by the baseball players. The average salary in the NBA is $110,000 per year.

Meanwhile, pro football, just barely behind baseball four years ago at $42,000 per annum, has not increased as rapidly as the national pastime. The average NFL gragger made $68,893 in 1979.

Golf and tennis do have their big money superstars (like Bjorn Borg and Jimmy Connors exceeding one million in 79), but their overall pay structure is one of a dictatorial society.

Of the 279 golfers on the PGA tour, only 35 made over the $100,000 mark, with Tom Watson's $462,636 leading the group.

In tennis, a near totalitarian system prevails. While Borg, McEnroe and Jimbo (Playmate Lover) Connors all made over one million, there were only 32 of 110 professional tennis players on the tour that made over $100,000 in 1979.

ON HER WAY TO OLYMPIC SILVER — Linda Fratianne of Northridge, Calif., skates forward on the ice on her way to win an Olympic silver medal Saturday evening in the ladies' freestyle figure skating event. Anette Poetzsch from East Germany won the gold medal, and West Germany's Dagmar Lurz took the bronze.

Sands bombs Ira

LAMESA — The Sands Mustangs recovered from a very cold first quarter to rally and take a 68-47 win over Ira in a Class B district game here Tuesday night.

The win puts the Mustangs record at 31-3 and boosts them into the regional tournament in Levelland on Friday. The Sands team will play San Elizario in their first game. San Elizario topped Balmorhea 51-35 last night.

minutes, but the Sands team rallied in the second stanza to take the lead for good.

The Mustangs then gradually increased that lead throughout the contest.

Sands was led in scoring by Dennis Martin and Jesse Gomez, who had 16 points each. David Long added 10 for the Mustangs.

Ira, which ended their season with a record of 20-8, was paced by Robert Mitchell's 21 points.

Ira jumped out to a 14-6 lead after the first eight

Fratianne expected to turn pro quickly

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The mother of figure skater Linda Fratianne says a news conference to announce future plans for her daughter has been tentatively scheduled for Thursday.

Virginia Fratianne, would not, however, answer when asked Tuesday night if Linda planned to turn professional and she would make no further statement on her daughter's future.

Earlier in the day, the mother of the 19-year-old figure skater from nearby Northridge said her daughter may not defend her world championship at Dortmund, Germany next month.

"As far as I'm concerned, I wouldn't put her through that again," Mrs. Fratianne said of last week's judging by an international panel in the Winter Olympics at Lake Placid, N.Y.

Linda won a silver medal as she could not overcome a third ranking in the compulsory figures, which count 30 percent of the overall score. She finished second in women's figure skating behind Annette Poetzsch of East Germany.

Fratianne had won the world title in 1977, and lost the world's championship to Poetzsch in 1978. But she won the world championship again in 1979 and was favored to win a gold medal in the Olympics.

Mrs. Fratianne said it appeared to her that the judges were predisposed to give Linda lower marks.

She claimed they were "manipulated" by the views of Carlo Fassi, the Denver-based coach of some other Olympic figure skating competitors, including men's gold medalist Robin Cousins of Great Britain.

Fassi was asked on Monday to comment on Mrs. Fratianne's charge, and he told the Washington Post: "I don't want to comment on anything so silly."

Mrs. Fratianne said Fassi, who also coached 1976 Olympic gold medalist Dorothy Hamill, allegedly expressed the opinion that Fratianne was the second best American woman skater at Lake Placid — behind sixth place finisher Lise-Marie Allen of Garden Grove, Calif.

"If she had done a bad job or succumbed to the pressure I would have understood," Mrs. Fratianne said of judges' marks given her daughter. "But she didn't. She skated very well."

Farm Cotton industry panel questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) - A congressional subcommittee has raised questions of possible obstruction of justice by a federally supported organization created in 1966 to help the cotton industry.

The new charges arose before a House Agriculture subcommittee looking into alleged favoritism, expense account junkets and mismanagement by the quasi-public company, Cotton Inc. They stem from charges originally made last August by the Agriculture Department's inspector general's office.

Officials of Cotton Inc. testified Tuesday that past mistakes were exaggerated by the inspector general and sensationalized in the media.

J. Dukes Wooters, president of Cotton Inc., denied charges by the inspector general that favoritism and favored treatment was accorded certain cotton producers seeking to expand their export trade. The major beneficiary of the alleged favoritism was said to be J.G. Boswell Co. of Los Angeles.

"There's no conflict of interest here," Wooters said. "We try to move cotton."

He said the policy of Cotton Inc. has been to promote exports by "serving as a conduit."

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., a leading critic of Cotton Inc.,

raised the possibility of obstruction of justice by Cotton Inc. officials. Findley said he was concerned that the company tried to conceal information about alleged favoritism from the Agriculture Department's inspector general.

"We should ask the Justice Department to see if it's obstruction of justice," Findley said.

He based his position on testimony by Richard Abes, vice president of operations for Cotton Inc., that officials ordered a review of company files to determine if any information was "privileged on the basis of the attorney-client relationship."

Findley said the testimony made it appear that the company might have tried to conceal information from the inspector general.

Cotton Inc. also was accused by a Washington research organization, Schnitker Associates, of failing to slow the decline of cotton in U.S. markets.

Cotton Inc., with headquarters in New York City and Raleigh, N.C., has spent millions of dollars to accomplish minimal improvement in the industry, said John Schnitker, head of the consulting firm.

Cotton Inc. gets $3 million a year from the Agriculture Department and has collected over $150 million from cotton producers who are assessed a fixed amount per bale of cotton. The farmers can get a refund on the money if they ask for it.

The inspector general's report, which said thousands of excess dollars were spent on salaries and expenses for officials, has been under review by the Justice Department for several months.

Profit margins to continue Cattle prices may edge higher

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farmers and feedlot operators may see cattle prices edge higher, but a new analysis by the Agriculture Department shows profit margins may continue to be elusive, at least through mid-year.

But it added that "it seems unlikely" enough cattle will be placed in feedlots in the second and third quarters to boost beef production in the last half of 1980 above year-earlier levels.

"Lower beef production and an improved general economic situation should serve to give added price strength to beef prices in the second half of 1980," the report said. "However, total red meat (including pork) and poultry supplies will remain large."

In actual practice, the procedures and values can vary widely from the figures in the table, but the table does provide a way to compare changes in the cattle-feeding business from one period to another.

For example, it showed, if a farmer or feedlot operator last June bought a 600-pound steer for about $493 and fed it for six months to a market weight of 1,050 pounds, the total investment would have been about $767.

The table, a regular feature of the report, is based on the costs of buying a feeder steer, feeding it in the Corn Belt for six months and then comparing its selling price with costs of production.

A table in the report showed the cattle feeding business continued to experience losses through December, the fifth straight month expenses outran market prices.

According to USDA livestock economists, prices of fed steers on the Omaha, Neb., market - which is used as a standard - may average $71 to $75 per 100 pounds in the second quarter, up from an estimate of $66 to $68 in the first.

Beef production by packing plants dropped 11.5 percent in 1979 and is expected to decline by another 2 percent to 4 percent this year, reflecting the smaller cattle inventory.

Thus, department experts said Tuesday in a new "livestock and meat situation" report, prices have continued to strengthen a bit following a slide last summer.

"Beef production in the second half of 1980 will increasingly depend on the cattle feeders' expectations," the report said.

China buys additional U.S. wheat for 1981

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department says China has bought an additional 100,000 metric tons of U.S. wheat for delivery in 1980-81.

The new order raised to 500,000 metric tons of wheat the total that China has bought for the wheat marketing year that will begin June 1, officials said Tuesday.

Also, China has bought nearly 1.5 million metric tons of U.S. wheat for delivery in 1979-80, plus 539,900 metric tons of soybeans, 29,800 metric tons of soybean oil and almost 2.1 million bales of cotton.

A metric ton is about 2,205 pounds and is equal to 36.7 bushels of wheat or soybeans.

Work crew sets off gas line blast

WOODWAY, Texas (AP) - City water crews repairing a leak apparently hit an underground gas line, touching off an explosion that blasted a nearby shopping center and injured three persons, gas company officials said.

Damage to four stores was estimated at $50,000.

The crews were working on a parking lot near the Midway Shopping Center when the line was hit, said Lone Star Gas regional manager Cary Cumby.

Three members of the city water crew received slight cuts and burns and were treated by their private doctors or treated and released from Providence Hospital.

An Amazing New Diet Idea!

HOW TO BURN OFF BODY FAT, HOUR-BY-HOUR!

MEDICAL DOCTOR'S NEW DISCOVERY
BURNS AWAY MORE FAT AND FLUID
THAN IF YOU RAN 98 MILES PER WEEK!

Dear Friend,

My name is Don Schwerdtfeger. I am an M.D. and have been practicing medicine here in San Diego for 14 years.

I am reproducing my business card at the bottom of this page and I am writing to ask the people of America a personal favor.

If any of you will do this favor for me you will be helping me with my research and I will gladly pay you for your help.

Here is what it is all about: I am a psychiatrist and in addition to my other patients I have been helping people with alcohol and drug addictions. So far, I have treated more than 2500 various types of drug addicts.

But strangely enough, over the years, my practice has taught me that over eating is even more difficult to deal with than many hard-core drug addictions.

Some time ago I began to realize that any person who is overweight needs much more than just a diet. I now know that every overweight person needs an anti-fat weapon that is both safe and very powerful!

Finally, after years of research, I feel I have developed just such a weapon. What it consists of is a new diet product and a system that actually burns off body fat, hour-by-hour!

Believe it or not, my new diet system burns away more fat and fluid than if you ran 98 miles per week.

Many of the people who have tested my program have lost as much as 2 pounds of fat and fluid every day for the first week. Actually, many people have reported a 6 pound weight loss in just the first 48 hours! After the first week, many people continue to lose as much as 9 pounds every two weeks thereafter. Some people (who were very obese) have used my method to lose 50, 60 and even 100 pounds and more.

When you begin to use this program, you can expect to be able to measure the difference in your waistline in just 24 to 48 hours. You will probably lose more inches each week than even if you faithfully did hundreds of situps every day. You may very well lose as much as 3 to 5 inches off your waistline in the first month. If you are a woman you can lose as much as a full dress size in only 7 days.

Apparently, what happens is that my diet system allows your body to break down your excess body fat and flush it out of your system quite rapidly.

The amazing thing, of course, is the speed at which this system works. It is rather remarkable to throw off as much as 6 pounds of fat and fluid in the very first weekend. Just imagine how it must feel to drop up to 2 pounds a day and shrink your waistline up to 3 inches the first week.

My first concern when I developed this program was safety. Therefore, my anti-fat formula contains absolutely no drugs. It is made up entirely of 100% natural ingredients. I first tested it on myself and I now use it religiously every day. I have found that my program can even help people who have been hopelessly overweight all their lives, including those who need to lose 20 to 30 or 70 pounds or more.

My diet product does not necessarily produce a specific spot reduction, but if you are considerably overweight a significant overall loss of excess pounds could easily mean that you could lose:

- 6 inches off waistline
- 4 inches off stomach
- 4 inches off buttocks
- 3 inches off thighs
- 5 inches off hips

Remember — you don't have to wait weeks for results with my system. It starts instantly! You can actually see the results in just a few days.

The way you use this formula is simple. All you do is mix it with a glass of your favorite beverage and drink it every day the first thing in the morning.

Then, during the rest of the day, you eat a wide selection of tasty foods which are scientifically programmed to maintain a high level of fat burn-off.

That's all there is to it. This may be the most effective fat-burning method ever developed. It is not a drug. It is not a gimmick. It is a formula that I was only able to develop after years of research and, as I said before, I use it myself.

It works. And now I want to spread the word to other doctors so they can use my diet system to help all of their overweight patients. To make a long story short, what I want to do is write an article and have it published in the various medical journals as I sincerely felt this is the best way to convince other doctors of the value of my system.

But I need a lot of proof in order to get my article published and this is where you can help me. And, as I said before, I will be more than happy to repay you for your help.

So therefore, here is what I would like for you to do: if you or any member of your family is overweight I would like for you to go ahead and order a supply of my crash-loss system and test it yourself. It is sold by Millburn Products, Incorporated. As soon as you receive this fantastic diet system — start the program and see if it works for you. Frankly, this or any other diet program will not work for everyone because a very small percentage of people have unusual problems. (By the way, naturally you should check with your doctor before you use this or any other diet plan.) However, Millburn Products is so positive about this diet system

“... The amazing thing, of course, is the speed at which this program works. It is rather remarkable to throw off as much as 6 pounds of fluid and fat in the very first weekend ...”

ABOUT DOCTOR SCHWERDTFEGER

Don Schwerdtfeger, M.D. has been practicing medicine in San Diego for 14 years. During that time he has treated more than 2500 heroin addicts. However, he now believes that over eating is even more difficult to deal with than many hard-core drug addictions. That's why he has developed the super fast diet system he is writing about on this page. He has also just completed a new book titled "The Secret Truth About Fat People." Dr. Schwerdtfeger is available on a limited basis for interviews concerning his new book and the contents of this advertisement and he can be contacted at the address on his business card which is reproduced below.

that they are making the following guarantee:
IF YOU HAVE NOT LOST UP TO 6 POUNDS IN THE FIRST 48 HOURS AND UP TO 12 POUNDS IN THE FIRST WEEK, OR, IF FOR ANY REASON YOU ARE NOT 100% SATISFIED — THEN SEND BACK THE EMPTY PRODUCT CONTAINER AND THE COMPANY WILL RETURN YOUR ENTIRE PAYMENT TO YOU QUIETLY AND WITHOUT QUESTION.

“... Imagine how it must feel to drop up to 2 pounds a day and shrink your waistline up to 3 inches the first week ...”

The price is just $8.45 for a full 10-day supply with complete instructions. A 15-day supply is $11.70. A 20-day supply is $13.95. And finally, a 30-day supply is only $18.95. (This is a 25% discount.)

It is easy to order. First of all, don't send any money. All you have to do is pick up your phone and dial 1-800-523-7635. If you live in Pennsylvania, please call 1-800-662-5180. (These are toll free numbers and it won't cost you a penny.) When the girl answers give her your name and address and tell her how much you want to order. Then tell her the number of either your Mastercharge or Visa credit card and the expiration date. (By the way, for our

VITAL NOTE!
PLEASE FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTIONS BELOW AND
DO NOT SEND ANY MONEY
TO ORDER THIS AMAZING
DIET SYSTEM.

records, please tell her the number of your order is 1510.)

That's all there is to it. Your order will be sent out to you quite promptly. After that, you are the judge. If you are not 100% satisfied (for any reason at all) simply send back the empty product container to Millburn Products and they will send you a complete refund with no questions asked.

However, I am pretty sure you are going to be more than satisfied. Actually, I think you're going to be amazed. In fact, I think you are going to lose your excess weight faster and easier than you ever thought possible.

Anyway, if I am right I want you to write me a letter. Don't send the letter to Millburn Products. Send it to me at the address on my business card. In the letter tell me how much weight you have lost and how you feel about my product, and how much of it you originally ordered.

In return for this favor (as soon as I get your letter) I will immediately send you another supply of my new diet product and I will send it to you absolutely free.

The amount that I will send you will be the same amount that you order now from Millburn Products. This will be my way of thanking you for helping me with my research. Also, in the long run, I honestly feel that with your help and the help of other nice people like yourself that I can do a lot to help people who have been struggling for years with a weight problem.

Sincerely,

Don Schwerdtfeger, M.D.
