Ex-CIA director looks back at it all Bush spent $16.2 million

HOUSTON (AP) - The George Bush campaign consumed two years and $16.2 million and involved hundreds of thousands of miles of travel and countless speeches, rallies and handshakes. And after all that, it barely put a dent in front-runner Ronald Reagan's bandwagon. After a week-long period of reassessment and a "traumatic weekend" of decision, Bush bowed to the realities Monday and said he had too little money and too few delegates to have a real chance of turning the tables now. Bush said the decision went against all his instincts. He said his own inclinations echoed the words on a button worn by his wife: "Stay In And Fight." Indeed, Bush stayed in what started as a crowded Republican field longer than any of the other seven major candidates who dropped out along the way. Bush had presented himself throughout the campaign as a moderate alternative to Reagan and said from the outset his strategy was to narrow the field to the two of them. "I am an optimist," Bush said at the news conference where he announced his withdrawal. "But I also know how to count to 99," he added, referring to the total number of delegates needed to clinch the nomination. A number of major news organization projections say Reagan has already passed that total. The Associated Press delegate count, which is limited to those committed by law or party rule or by public declaration, is 919. Padding around his home in barefeet - serving beer, cheese and crackers to the reporters who had covered his campaign - Bush pronounced the day "gloomy" and wondered aloud about the efforts that took up "two years of my life." He said he doubtless will go on to something else, noting that his career has moved from one step to another: World War II pilot, successful businessman, congressman, candidate for the U.S. Senate, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, U.S. envoy to China, director of the Central Intelligence Agency and Republican national chairman. "I plan no more press conferences for awhile," Bush said. "I plan to go pleasantly about decompressing. I'm not going to be petulant about it. I'm not going to go off on some retreat, at least on one where you can find me."

If not petulant, Bush does retain an edge of bitterness about some aspects of the campaign. He says the high point of his effort came last week in Michigan when he trounced Reagan by a startling 25 percentage points. Bush leaves no doubt he is resentful that instead of hailing his victory as an upset of Reagan, many major news organizations declared that Reagan had won enough delegates that night to lock up the nomination. "As a result," he said, "there is a widespread perception that the campaign is over" and that perception helped dry up contributions. Bush acknowledged that an overly optimistic projection of income for the campaign in April and May left it facing a $300,000 deficit. If Michigan was the high point, Bush says his campaign's low water mark came when he won Massachusetts only to find press coverage focusing on the surprisingly strong showing of Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill. He said he believes Anderson drained away votes from his own campaign overall. Bush started his campaign early. Not being bound to any official job or duties, he was free to travel and organize. In 1979 alone, he was on the road for 328 days and logged 246,000 miles. His first success came in the Iowa caucuses and he proclaimed that "Big Mo" - for big momentum - was on his side. But Bush stumbled in a debate with Reagan in New Hampshire and really did not begin to recover until the closing weeks of his campaign. In all, he won Iowa, Puerto Rico, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Michigan for a total of 255 delegates. Bush said that in the end, "Reagan ground us down." He attributed Reagan's success to the fact that the former Hollywood actor and California governor is a household name who ran an effective campaign after a dozen years seeking the White House for a dozy years. Bush continued to spurn all talk of becoming Reagan's vice presidential running mate. And he said he has given no thought to reneaving his bid for the GOP nomination in 1984. He and his wife, Barbara, joked that Bush, who earned a fortune in the oil business in the 1960s, soon will have to find a paying job.

Ambulance service charges increased Power rate hike suspended

By JAMES WERRELL
The Big Spring City Council voted at today's regular meeting to suspend any decision on electrical rate hikes for 120 days. Hooper Sanders, manager of the local Texas Electric Service Company (TESCO), today made an official request for an increase of 17.7 percent in the base rate for electricity. "I don't like it, but we have to face up to it. For the last few years, this country has gotten into an energy hole of dependence on foreign oil," said Sanders. "I don't want to see our customers pulled into that hole." Sanders cited statistics showing that oil and gas represent only 4 percent of the fuel resources available, but represent 77 percent of the fuel now used. Nuclear power and lignite coal represent 96 percent of the available resources, but are only used in 23 percent of the utility companies' operations. According to Sanders, two nuclear plants will go into operation in 1981 and 1983. Two more lignite plants will go into operation in 1985 and 1987. "The customers will not pay for the construction of these plants. They will pay only for interest and carrying charges," said Sanders. City Manager Don Davis told the council that it had four alternatives in responding to the rate hike request: approval as requested; approval subject to the rulings of the Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC); outright denial; or suspension for 120 days. "I recommend that we suspend the decision for 120 days," said Davis. "Later we can intervene with other West Texas cities before the PUC in Austin. It will also enable us to stay abreast of what's going on, and allow Elliott Mitchell (city attorney) to gain a greater understanding of how these rate requests work," he added. Council members concurred, and voted unanimously to suspend the decision. Another rate hike, however, was approved by the council. Shaffer Ambulance Service will be allowed to increase its transfer charge, its base emergency call rate and its mileage charge for runs outside of Howard County. With increased operating costs, the elimination of funeral home transfers and lease of two new ambulances, Gary Shaffer estimated that his service would have a deficit of $31,000 at the end of next year. In order to help make up the deficit, Shaffer also requested that the city increase its subsidy from $2,000 to $3,000, and the county, its subsidy from $1,000 to $1,500 a month. This request was denied at least until Oct. 1 when the city will revise its budget for the coming fiscal year. "We haven't budgeted that much money for ambulance service this year, and I just don't think we can afford it now," said Councilman Larry Miller. The council did allow the service to increase its transfer charge from $47 to $60; its emergency call charge from $52.50 to $60 with an additional $10 emergency fee; and its mileage charge from 80 cents to $1.50 a mile, one-way. According to Shaffer's estimates, collection on both transfers and emergency calls is only 57 percent. "Shouldn't your transfer collections be a lot higher? Is this an industry problem?" asked Councilman Robert Fuller. "We are trying our best to increase our collection rate, and I am looking at everything at my disposal to increase the collections. That will probably require chewing on my employees and taking a harder line about finances at the scene of the pickup," said Shaffer. "On these transfers, you should be asking for cash in advance. There's no reason why your collections shouldn't be close to 100 percent on that kind of run," said Miller. All decisions by the council in regard to the ambulance service will be contingent on decisions made by the Howard County Commissioners' Court, said Davis. The council also voted to increase the local property assessment ratio from 60 to 100 percent. "This will not affect the actual tax rate paid by customers in and of itself," said Davis. "In all actuality, there will probably be a drop in the tax rate so that it will even out." Continuing a move that was begun in past meetings, the council voted to rezone more blocks along Lancaster Street, from Parking and Multi-Family to Neighborhood Service. In previous meetings, both sides of Lancaster up to 11th were rezoned. On first hearing today, the blocks from 11th to 16th were rezoned. Assistant City Managers Paul Feazelle and Bill Brown and Community Development Director Bill Hall were granted a 200-a-month auto allowance for use of their own cars. The three city employees had previously been driving city cars, but Davis estimated that that system cost the city more, and often required the three men to break city vehicle policies in the line of work. "This new allowance is based on 20 cents per mile as currently paid by the General Services Administration for federal employee travel," said Davis. Councilmen voted on second reading to approve three lease agreements at the Big Spring Industrial Park. Leases will be executed with Lear Siegler, Inc., an airplane painting firm; the Ozarka Drinking Water Company; and Aubrey Nabors. In other business, council members —Issued a proclamation lauding Cosden Oil and Chemical Company for its outstanding safety record. —Presented five-year pins to city employees Ward Booth with the local Fire Department, and Crescencio Ontiveros with the Sanitation Department. —Changed the date for the city auction from June 7 to June 21 due to the illness of the designated auctioneer. —Approved the revised 1979-80 budget on first reading.

Local boy in good condition after almost drowning Monday

A Big Spring boy is reported in good condition at Malone-Hogan Hospital after a near fatal accident at the Municipal Pool Monday. According to reports, Randy Herrera, 13, was diving off the diving board at the pool when someone dove off after him too soon and landed on top of him. A lifeguard saw him lying at the bottom of the overcrowded pool. The boy was pulled out of the pool and given CPR by two police officers and an unidentified woman. "For all practical purposes, he was gone," said Mike Dawson, a patrolman with the Big Spring Police Department. "There was hardly any pulse, he wasn't breathing and he was glassy-eyed. He had started to turn." The seventh grade student at Goliad was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital by Shaffer Ambulance and placed in the intensive care unit.

Action/reaction: Pay for teachers
Q. I notice the Coahoma school system is going to pay its teachers $3,000 above scale starting with the 1980-81 school term. What is the minimum starting salary for a teacher in Texas?
A. Base pay for a starting teacher is $8,970. The estimated average pay of teachers within the state, according to the Texas Outlook, is $14,000. Highest average salary in the United States is being paid in Alaska, $26,173; lowest is Mississippi, $11,900. Texas ranks 33rd on the list. The nation's average estimated average pay is $16,001. The starting pay in Big Spring for teachers with a BA degree is $10,195. The average Big Spring pay for the year just ending is $15,148. Next year, it goes to an estimated $16,133. The latter figure could differ dramatically. The average experience of teachers in the local system covers 15 to 16 years. In school systems where new teachers dominate the faculty, the pay average naturally would be less.

Ad sells homemade macrame in hurry

A properly worded ad will invariably attract the attention of readers, especially if it appears in the Herald. A good example was one which offered handmade macrame for sale, which appeared in the Herald recently. Its purchaser said the ad inspired an abundance of calls. She sold everything she had the first day, taking orders from 15 persons for macrame. The seller also said she was "more than pleased with the results of the Herald's classified advertising." What better way to get a message in front of the public than through a Herald want ad? Call 263-7331 and talk to one of the Herald's friendly sales personnel, if you have a product or a service you are trying to buy or sell.

$4.5 million bonds sale given 'green light' by county dads

By DON WOODS
Sale of bonds for Western Container Corporation was approved by Howard County Commissioners Court in a special meeting this morning. Bonds were sold through the non-profit Howard County Industrial Development Corporation. Sale of bonds was approved in the amount of $4.5 million to First City National Bank of Houston. Western Container is expected to begin operations this summer after sale of the bonds in June. A bid for a new mower for the county was awarded to Broughton Implement Company for $5,850. Broughton was the only bidder. A county owned mower with fixed wings was accepted by Broughton as a trade-in. The mower was sold because the mower with fixed wings made it difficult to mow in ditches. In other action, commissioners raised the tax ratio to 100 percent but stressed that taxes would not be raised as a result, unless the individual's taxes were going to be higher anyway. "It won't make anybody's tax change except those whose are changing anyway," said Tax Assessor Collector Zerah Bednar. The tax rate will be lowered to allow for the higher tax ratio mandated by Senate Bill 621. For example, under the new rate taxes will be assessed at a little over 17 cents per $100 value of land. Employment of two jailers for the Howard County Sheriff's Office will bring the county jail up to state standards, said Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard this morning. George Warren Kloss's employment as night jailer was approved at $9,600 annually. Margarito Olague Yanez was also employed as day jailer and cook at $12,000 annually. Yanez is taking the place of former jailer Raymond Bell. Bell is moving to a deputy sheriff's position that has been vacant for three or four months, said Standard. Commissioners waived the usual six month period before the first $50 raise, giving Bell a salary of $1,036 a month. Yanez' salary is $9,600, the same as Kloss, but $2,400 is added because Yanez will cook prisoners' meals. Jailers' quarters on the third floor of the courthouse will not be lived in, but will be used by jailers on duty. State Commission on Jail Standards must certify the new jailers and approve an intercom system currently being installed before jail standards are officially met. When certified, the county jail will be one of the approximately 30 in the state to be certified. Jailers will receive uniforms similar to road and bridge department workers to identify them as jailers. The fire marshal will periodically inspect the jail and locking mechanism to insure it will unlock properly in case of a fire. Standard said there were 600 items to comply with before jail standards can be met. The Howard County jail had 60 items to meet after the jail's first inspection. Two lots including houses were donated to the county. They are lots 4 and 5, block 38, on Scurry Street, across from the Heritage Museum. The lots were donated by Mr. and Mrs. H.G. Cowden for use by the museum. The only cost to the county will be around $200 for update of the abstract. A raise for Helen Doll in the tax office was approved. Employment of Shelly Anne Thomas in the auditor's office was approved. She is a part-time office clerk. Debra Jean Mitchem was employed by the county clerk's office as deputy clerk.

Ex-CIA director looks back at it all

Bush spent $16.2 million

HOUSTON (AP) — The George Bush campaign consumed two years and $16.2 million and involved hundreds of thousands of miles of travel and countless speeches, rallies and handshakes.

And after all that, it barely put a dent in front-runner Ronald Reagan's bandwagon.

After a week-long period of reassessment and a "traumatic weekend" of decision, Bush bowed to the realities Monday and said he had too little money and too few delegates to have a real chance of turning the tables now.

Bush said the decision went against all his instincts.

He said his own inclinations echoed the words on a button worn by his wife: "Stay In And Fight."

Indeed, Bush stayed in what started as a crowded Republican field longer than any of the other seven major candidates who dropped out along the way. Bush had presented himself throughout the campaign as a moderate alternative to Reagan and said from the outset his strategy was to narrow the field to the two of them.

"I am an optimist," Bush said at the news conference where he announced his withdrawal. "But I also know how to count to 998," he added, referring to the total number of delegates needed to clinch the nomination.

A number of major news organization projections say Reagan has already passed that total. The Associated Press delegate count, which is limited to those committed by law or party rule or by public declaration, is 919.

Padding around his home in barefoot — serving beer, cheese and crackers to the reporters who had covered his campaign — Bush pronounced the day "gloomy" and wondered aloud about the efforts that took up "two years of my life."

He said he doubtless will go on to something else, noting that his career has moved from one step to another: World War II pilot, successful businessman, congressman, candidate for the U.S. Senate, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, U.S. envoy to China, director of the Central Intelligence Agency and Republican national chairman.

"I plan no more press conferences for awhile," Bush said. "I plan to go pleasantly about decompressing. I'm not going to be petulant about it. I'm not going to go off on some retreat, at least on one where you can find me."

If not petulant, Bush does retain an edge of bitterness about some aspects of the campaign.

He says the high point of his effort came last week in Michigan when he trounced Reagan by a startling 25 percentage points.

Bush leaves no doubt he is resentful that instead of hailing his victory as an upset of Reagan, many major news organizations declared that Reagan had won enough delegates that night to lock up the nomination.

Bush said that in the end, "Reagan ground us down." He attributed Reagan's success to the fact that the former Hollywood actor and California governor is a household name who ran an effective campaign after actively seeking the White House for a dozen years.

Bush continued to spurn all talk of becoming Reagan's vice presidential running mate. And he said he has given no thought to renewing his bid for the GOP nomination in 1984.

He and his wife, Barbara, joked that Bush, who earned a fortune in the oil business in the 1960s, soon will have to find a paying job.

Power rate hike suspended

President tells Nimitz crew it made history

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter says the 7,000 sailors of the nuclear-powered Nimitz Battle Group were "the major factor in protecting the lives of the 53 hostages still held" in Iran.

Carter flew out to sea Monday to offer his personal thanks to the men of the aircraft carrier Nimitz and its two cruiser escorts as they neared a Memorial Day homecoming in Norfolk, Va., after nearly nine months away from home port.

It was from the deck of the Nimitz that the helicopters which proved fatal to Carter's abortive attempt to rescue the hostages were launched on the night of April 24. But the president made clear he does not hold the ship or its men responsible for the failure of that mission.

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart," he said.

The starting pay in Big Spring for teachers with a BA degree is $10,195. The average Big Spring pay for the year just ending is $15,148. Next year, it goes to an estimated $16,133. The latter figure could differ dramatically. The average experience of teachers in the local system covers 15 to 16 years. In school systems where new teachers dominate the faculty, the pay average naturally would be less.

CIA's link with People's Temple cult investigated

WASHINGTON — The House Intelligence Committee is investigating allegations that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) maintained links with the People's Temple cult in Jonestown, Guyana, and played a role in the colony's gruesome demise in November, 1978.

At this point, the charges amount to unsubstantiated contentions lodged by members of former Rep. Leo Ryan's (D-San Mateo) staff. Ryan was assassinated in a bloody prelude to the mass murder-suicides that took the lives of 917 Americans at Jonestown.

This preliminary intelligence inquiry doesn't constitute a fullscale investigation, according to the panel's staff director, Michael O'Neill. He said a staff working group is now reviewing documents to determine whether the CIA charges merit a complete probe.

"This is a preliminary inquiry to determine if there is anything worth proceeding on," O'Neill said. In this initial probe, the committee will limit its work to existing documents without interviewing witnesses, according to O'Neill.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee — Congress's lead panel on the Jonestown episode — referred the CIA allegations to the Intelligence Committee following public airing of the charges during hearings in February and March. The Intelligence panel most likely will focus on these allegations:

The CIA was involved in covert activities in Guyana to support the government and protect U.S. commercial interests, in violation of the Hughes-Ryan Act which requires reporting of such activities.

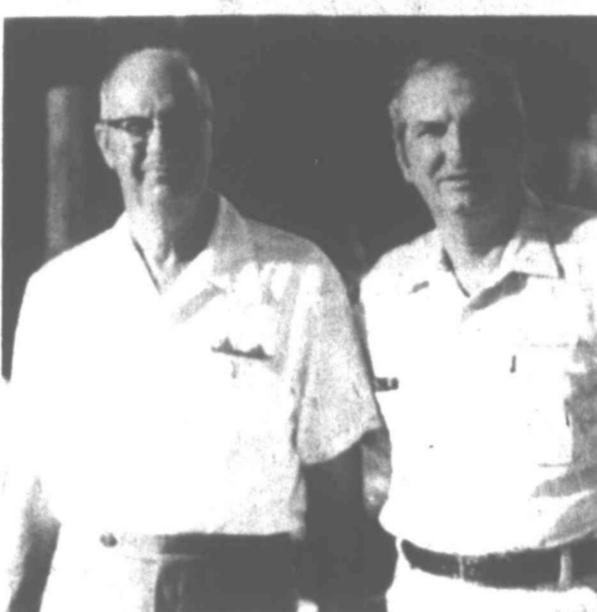

The CIA made a conscious decision to allow the Nov. 18, 1978, events to occur so that its activities would remain secret, and a CIA agent witnessed Rep. Ryan's assassination, that day.

Until now, the House Foreign Affairs Committee was the sole congressional panel to scrutinize the deaths of 917 followers of the Rev. Jim Jones at his People's Temple colony in Jonestown, a jungle outpost on South America's northern coast.

The mysterious cult leader ordered the mass deaths of his followers that day after Ryan was shot dead along with three reporters and a Peoples Temple defector at the nearby Port Kaituma airstrip. Ryan was in Guyana on an official congressional

Local radio newsman lands Louisiana Network position

By STEVE HERSHBERGER
KBST newsman John Brooks resigned Monday from the Big Spring radio station to take a position with the statewide news network in Louisiana.

Brooks, 33, will assume the position of anchorman for the Louisiana Network on June 9.

"They only cover state news," Brooks said. "They deal primarily with the legislature, which is in session." The network, he added, covers the governor's office and the state executive departments.

Brooks has been working over 20 months with KBST, coming here in September, 1978.

"I will never forget my first day on the job," Brooks recalled. "Gerald Ford was here."

The radio newsman had worked previously at the copy desk at the Beaumont Enterprise and the advertising department of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. He is a graduate of Texas Christian University, having been awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree in Journalism. He did his intern work with a radio station in Fort Worth, WPAT.

Brooks came to Big Spring in 1978 to steer his journalism career.

"At the time I wanted out of newspaper work and back into broadcasting," he said. "This was a real opportunity to come up here and get back into it."

Brooks was essentially a one-man news operation and this setup had value.

"I learned a lot," he said, adding that his job demanded planning.

"You couldn't be in two places at one time," he added.

Consideration of his wife's plans and career advancement are the main reasons Brooks took the position with the Louisiana Network.

JOHN BROOKS

The primary reason we are going there is for my wife to go back to school," Brooks said. His wife, Ellen, is presently the director of peripheral vascular studies at the Malone-Hugan Clinic. She wants to earn a master's degree in nursing; and the place the Brookes will be living, Baton Rouge, is in the locale of Louisiana State University.

Brooks will be stepping into a job with several changes from his present newsman position with KBST.

"The hours are better," Brooks smiled. "My work day starts at 10:30 in the morning." At KBST, he had to wake up at 4 a.m. each day to prepare for the first newscast of the day at 6 a.m.

He qualified the remark by saying, "I never really minded getting up that early. It was worth my time."

Brooks also said he will have to write "tighter" news copy and will have to do a newscast precisely.

"It will take some getting used to," he admitted.

But, he added, "I am excited. I like the thought of working at a network. It is a challenge, definitely."

The Louisiana Network has been in existence for five years and the company, Louisiana Network, Inc., has just purchased the statewide networks in Mississippi and Florida.

"They are up and growing," Brooks said, "getting on board now could mean who knows what in the future."

Coffee drinking to drop

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Officials at a Veteran's Administration Hospital here say they expect coffee drinking to drop while they analyze green cleaning crystals found in a surgery unit's brew.

Three nurses at the Forest Hills Division became ill briefly Sunday after drinking the coffee. Dr. James Holsinger Jr. said several observers thought the crystals might be the detergent Spic and Span, but tests were not expected to be completed for several days.

"While a deliberate contamination of the coffee is one of the possibilities being looked into, we are trying to determine who cleaned the coffee pot last and with what cleaner," he said Monday.

Iranians to be refused

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The Louisiana House has approved a resolution telling the state's universities to refuse further enrollment to Iranian students.

The 81-12 vote Monday followed a similar decision by Louisiana State University. The state's 3,000 Iranian students have been regarded with some hostility since militants in Tehran seized American hostages last year.

A resolution would not have the force of law but opponents argued that if adopted by the Senate it would be unconstitutional.

Old home may be razed

NILES, Mich. (AP) — The 85-year-old house that retail magnate Montgomery Ward built for his mother will be razed unless the company bearing his name intervenes, a historical associations says.

W. H. Keefe, president of the Niles Historical Association, said Monday he will ask the Chicago-based Montgomery Ward Co. to preserve the house as a local historical museum. Ward, who founded the company in the 1880s, was born and raised in this community of 13,000 and the house is full of decorations advertised in 1890s mail order catalogs.

The house was recently purchased by an optometrist who said he plans to demolish it for an office building.

Helicopters end stage

PRESQUE ISLE, Maine (AP) — Helicopters in northern and eastern Maine have finished spraying nearly a tenth of the 200,000 acres targeted for the first part of this year's anti-spruce budworm campaign.

The spraying of the biological pesticide "Bt" is being conducted as part of a government experiment to determine if such pesticides can be as effective as chemicals in combating the budworm. Spraying of the chemical Sevin-4 Oil begins Sunday on 1 million acres.

The spraying, designed to protect Maine's timber from the budworm, has become the focus of controversy. Threats have prompted tight security and secrecy about the time and location of the operations.

Members of BSHS band tabbed as 'ambassadors of good will'

End-of-school pranks, truancy and other juvenile high jinks — most of which can be attributed to spring fever — ordinarily come in for critical attention this time of year.

Members of the Big Spring High School Band who recently made a trip to the Tri-State Music Festival in Enid, Okla., turned out to be ambassadors of good will, however. Their demeanor was such that it earned praise in the Enid newspaper.

The trip started on an uncertain note when, in making reservations, Band Director Steve Waggoner and Junior High Director Bill Bradley were told by one motel operator that she preferred not to keep the students because of "problems student groups cause."

Waggoner and Bradley ultimately convinced the operators of the Holiday Inn in Enid to keep the Big Spring students.

At the close of the festival, an article appeared in the Enid newspaper from which the following quote was lifted:

"Even those who might have been apprehensive about Tri-State, discovered their fears to be unfounded. Margaret Bentley, Holiday Inn innkeeper, said about 200 youngsters from Big Spring, Texas, stayed at the motel and 'were the most wonderful, well-behaved group I've never seen such well-behaved young people. They ate two meals a day here and were very punctual. I kept thinking that something was going to happen but it didn't. There was no damage. I think a great deal of credit goes to the sponsors. The youngsters are just as good as their sponsors."

With unsolicited praise like that, Waggoner and Bradley are eager to show off the members of the Steer band who, also, happen to garner recognition for their talents wherever they go.

A total of 148 students attended this Festival, stopping off in Dallas for sight-seeing and a trip to Six Flags. Waggoner and Bradley said there wasn't a single "hitch" along the way. They left the school Wednesday at 5:00 a.m. and returned Monday at 8:00 a.m. The five-day trip (3 days of missed classes) was chaperoned by 15 parent sponsors, in addition to Waggoner and Bradley. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Worthan, Mr. and Mrs. Zane Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ringner, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ascand, Betty Shankles, Janell Blalack, Evelyn DeLaTour, Bobbye Deal, Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. M.B. Woodridge, and Mrs. Steve Waggoner.

All along the way, the sponsors received praise for the conduct of these students from restaurant owners, motel managers, entertainment and amusement centers, and other people with whom they came in contact.

Waggoner said, "Our students were noted for their politeness, their friendliness, and their neat appearance." Bradley added, "They made the effort of the trip worthwhile — we're very proud of these youngsters who are definitely a credit to the whole Big Spring community. It's a pleasure to take students like these on trips."

Another group which just returned from its annual trip was the Meistersingers, the elite choir of Big Spring High School under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Dodson. Thirty-eight students were accompanied by Mrs. Dodson and her husband, Tommy, a teacher at Big Spring High, and by Mrs. Carl Small, and Mrs. Forrest Wester.

Their destination was Estes Park, Colo., to sing at the Festival of the Rockies. They were gone five days, traveling in a large bus which covered almost 2,000 miles before it finished the round trip. They spent the first night in Amarillo, after leaving Estes Park, they came back to Raton, N.M., in between performing at the Festival, and around Denver. While in Estes Park they were put up in the YMCA of the Rockies.

Mrs. Dodson said they had many unique experiences that showed the students could readily adapt and "roll with the punches." For instance, she related the students trying ice skating even though most had never ice skated before. Then there was the problem with the ticks...in their beds...at the YMCA. They were moved to other rooms and handled it with good grace and sense of humor just as they did the lack of hot water for baths and the fuses blowing out each time they started to dry their hair.

All four adults accompanying the students were impressed with how considerate and how much fun the students were making it a trip of pure pleasure. Mrs. Dodson's sister who lives in Colorado helped make the arrangements for many of the extra activities the group enjoyed. She said, as a minister's wife, she was accustomed to working with good kids but added the group from Big Spring was exceptional in her estimation.

James Austin, bus driver for the Charter bus, said, "That was the best bunch of people I've ever taken on a trip." He was delighted that he told Jim Owens, operator of the Greyhound Terminal in Big Spring, and Mr. Owens passed his comments on to the high school officials.

The manager of the Pizza Hut in Trinidad, Colo., where the busload of students ate, made a special effort to seek out the sponsors and thank them for stopping because, "we welcome customers like these. They were the happiest, friendliest, best mannered by any bus of students we've served."

The judges at the Festival commented to Mrs. Dodson that they were the most well disciplined group participating in the event and scored high in appearance and demeanor.

Mrs. Dodson said that she expected to come home exhausted but found the trip so exhilarating that she hated to see the trip come to an end. She said, "It was an uplifting experience."

Two different student government trips were made in April and May. The first involved the 1980-81 student government officers going to Austin to participate in State Convention. Assistant Principal Craig Fischer served as sponsor, taking newly elected President Bobby Brasel, Vice President Russell Stukel, Second Vice President Steve Drake, Recording Secretary Debbie Cowan and Corresponding Secretary Tiffany Whiteside. Another student government group went to San Angelo.

In both instances these student leaders also represented Big Spring High School and the community with distinction. After the Austin trip, Fischer received letters from the Marshall, Texas, sponsor complimenting him on having such exemplary conduct. The host principal at San Angelo Central High School also wrote Fischer telling him how pleased he was with the Big Spring delegation and the positive leadership they displayed throughout their visit on the campus.

These and other groups of Big Spring High School students have set good records of accomplishment and conduct for which the parents, teachers, and fellow students are proud.

Fischer summed up his feelings in discussing the situation thusly, "Actions speak louder than words, and the actions of our students away from home certainly have made a great impression."

Munday storms loss placed at $1 million

MUNDAY — Losses from the violent hailstorms that occurred last Sunday are estimated at $1 million in Knox County.

A Munday hair stylist whose business was particularly hard hit says the hail lasted for 2 1/2 hours. She spent much of Monday scraping and sweeping mud from her shop.

The force of the hail caused the roof of the Awall Auto Supply Company to cave in. Nearly all of the east windows of the two-story junior high school building here had to be boarded up after they were broken out by the hail.

Many area roads were impassable and acres of farm land were under water.

The hail in some areas was larger than golf balls.

Munday was without telephone service for about four hours. Many of the Knox County farmers have been hard hit because they do not carry crop insurance.

The rainfall was measured at 4.25 inches. The moisture really wasn't needed, some farmers said. Many newly-planted crops were completely washed out.

Lake Colorado City level up

COLORADO CITY — Lake Colorado City rose by 1.80 feet as the result of recent rains. The catch represents an additional 1,937 acre feet or 630,650,397 gallons.

Lake Champion trapped .95 feet, or 367 acre feet of water.

Colorado City residents get most of their water from Lake Colorado City.

American Petrofina income hike likely

NEW YORK — Production and exploration operating income, which accounted for $59 million of before tax income in 1979, should increase in 1980, R.I. Galland, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, American Petrofina, Inc., said at a meeting of the New York Security Analysts here recently.

Although American Petrofina is thought of primarily as a refiner-marketer and petrochemical company, Galland said operating income from oil and natural gas production increased 83 percent in the first quarter of 1980 compared to the same period last year.

He added that despite the windfall profits tax, operating earnings from this activity are expected to be up 30 percent in 1980 over last year. Capital expenditures for exploration and production, plus expensed exploration work, are planned at a level 10 percent higher than in 1979.

Weather
Large hail reported in South Plains area

For the second straight day West Texans ducked for cover from heavy thunderstorms, high winds and large hail, while North Texans sweltered in muggy, record-breaking heat.

Severe weather was widespread over the Panhandle and northern sections of the South Plains late Monday and early today. Heavy rain and high winds were common, with baseball-sized hail reported by the National Weather Service before midnight.

During the morning, other heavy thunderstorms — dumping torrential rains in some cases — formed around Abilene, Snyder and San Angelo in West Texas, Cotulla and Austin in South Texas as well as the Rio Grande Valley.

Shortly after midnight, heavy thunderstorms washed out parts of rural Maverick County in South Texas, with floodwaters forcing law officers to close U.S. 277 from Eagle Pass to Carrizo Springs.

However, most of the thunderstorms had dissipated by daybreak.

Meanwhile, the heat was relentless in North Texas, with a second straight record high temperature, 99 degrees, reported at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Texas was generally partly cloudy with very high humidities in most sections. Today's early morning temperatures were warm statewide, ranging from the 60s in the Panhandle to the 80s along the Rio Grande Valley.

Forecasters posted a flash flood watch today for the eastern two-thirds of the Panhandle and the northern part of the South Plains, anticipating another round of heavy West Texas rainstorms. Thunderstorms were also in the forecast for the Hill Country and Southeast Texas.

FORECAST
 WEST TEXAS: Scattered thunderstorms likely, most sections today, with a few severe thunderstorms and possible flash flooding mainly in northern sections. Partly cloudy Wednesday. Highs today and Wednesday 84 north to near 104 Big Bend. Lows tonight 60 north to 73, except 55 mountains.

EXTENDED FORECAST
 WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, cooler north Thursday. Chance of thunderstorms, southeast Saturday. Lows 50s north to 70s south. Highs low 80s north to upper 90s Big Bend. Thursday warming to mid 80s north to upper 90s Big Bend Friday and Saturday.

$2.5 million pay increase approved for Lubbock teachers

LUBBOCK — A $2.5 million pay increase has been approved for Lubbock public school teachers.

Along with the salary boosts, the Lubbock school board voted to reduce the schools' employee staff by 147 positions.

Officials said no one will be laid off but that the 147 positions which will normally become vacant will not be filled.

The teachers' salary increases will range from $1,225 to $1,975 annually. Veteran teachers with 27 years of experience will make $20,490 under the new plan, compared to $17,745 last year.

The value speaks for itself in a voice that says Howard Miller.

The solid oak case is over 6 1/2' tall and carved in the elaborate country French manner.

And every hour, it plays your choice of three English cathedral chimes — Westminster, Whittington or Winchester.

A Currier & Ives period reproduction enhances the moon phase dial, with its raised Arabic numerals and contrasting hour ring of silver.

And all the while, the great brass lyre pendulum gleams dramatically as it swings behind beveled glass.

Value in any language. Ask for Cabernet.

Posing as friend to U.S. can hurt a man

One wonders if Masayoshi Ohira, the deposed prime minister of Japan, would have played it differently had he been able to replay the recent past.

Ohira was rebuffed, mainly (one suspects) because he was bowing to pressure exerted by the United States to boost defense spending.

Ohira got a "no confidence" vote from critics who claimed he was neglecting welfare needs and because he had failed to put a throttle on inflation, too. The rap that he was playing footsy with the United States likely was the thing that did him in, however.

THE LIBERAL Democratic Party, of which Ohira is a member, has carried the biggest stick in Japanese politics since World War II. When the 243-187 vote toppled Ohira's 17-month-old cabinet, Masayoshi became the first prime minister to lose a no-confidence test in the Japanese Parliament in 27 years.

Ohira had only recently returned from a conference with President Jimmy Carter in America when he got the bad news. That meeting could have been the catalyst in Parliament's decision to show him the door — the United States' reputation throughout the world being what it is. Being friends with the Yanks can be dangerous to your political health just about anywhere on the face of the globe in these perilous times.

The U.S. had been pressuring the Nipponese not only to invest a little more money but also to join the Olympic boycott and to help impose economic sanctions against Iran, a country which has been supplying ten percent of Japan's oil.

Ohira reaffirmed his country's decision to follow the lead of the European Common Market countries in applying the sanctions against Iran during his chats with Carter in Washington.

OHIRA, HOWEVER, wasn't about to commit himself on Japan's plans for more military muscle. (After all, the U.S. was on the record in offering military protection to Japan).

The Japanese will hold elections to name a new Parliament next month, at which time the Japanese Socialist party and other opposition groups hope to form a coalition to oust Ohira's Liberal Democrats.

There can be little doubt but that America's failure to deal with and solve international tensions that impact upon Japan will make it difficult for any candidate who openly supports close ties with the U.S.

Other leaders around the world who have relied on the Carter administration to help them remain in power have learned their confidence has been misplaced.

In November, the Carter Administration itself will have to stand or fall on its record in world economics and stability. The president had better hope that something can be worked out with Iran about the hostages before the elections.

Best laid plans

Around the rim

Marie Homeyer

It all started Friday afternoon. I was washing three loads of clothes and sweeping the porch of my apartment. I was in a rush to get everything finished before my family arrived for the holiday weekend — a weekend that had been planned for more than a month.

Then the phone rang. It was my mother. My youngest brother was sick and they wouldn't be coming that day. They would try to make it Saturday if he got better.

He didn't get better. My mother called again Saturday morning as I was preparing for the first game of a softball tournament being held here this past weekend. She said he was finally getting better but was too weak to travel. The weekend would have to be called off.

I WAS VERY disappointed. This would have been the first time that the entire family would have been here at the same time. It also would have been the first time my family would have seen my apartment. It also left me with a refrigerator full of groceries, a large cake baked in honor of my older brother's 25th birthday and a spottless apartment that had taken me three hours to clean the night before they were supposed to come.

So I went out to the softball tournament, disappointed, but determined to play a good game. I was positioned behind home plate, the first time since the first of the season for two days afterwards I could barely walk). But the next time I tried, the girl plowed right into me. I went flying to the ground, my glasses went flying out of my glove.

The girl was safe, I was left with a face that felt like it was about to fall off and glasses that didn't fit right the remainder of the game.

We made the game by one run to Lamesa. I went home to rest my aching muscles and swelling face. We had to play again in three hours.

We also lost that game but by a larger margin than one run. I struck out the only time I got to bat. Saturday, it seemed, was a continuation of the luck I experienced Friday.

Sunday was not as bad as the two previous days. Monday was not terrific.

I HAD TO play softball again. We lost again. And, to make matters worse, while I was lying in bed last night trying to forget all the things that had gone wrong over the weekend, I remembered that I forgot to write my column that day. The perfect end to a not-so-perfect holiday weekend.

So to get this column written, I arrived at work at 6:45 a.m. today so I could get it written and have it on Tommy's desk before he came in this morning.

Sorry it's late Tommy, but the way this weekend went, you're lucky you got one at all!

Garage sale fantasy

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — All over America people are holding garage sales. I don't know about you, but I can't pass one up. What drives people like myself to garage sales is that we all have fantasies that somewhere in the flotsam on display is a treasure that the owner doesn't know he's got.

Here is my favorite garage sale fantasy.

I go to a garage sale at the Kruegers. It's all junk, but, as I'm about to leave, my wife whispers, "You have to buy something or they'll be very insulted."

"There's absolutely nothing here I want to have in the house," I whisper back.

"Why don't you buy that painting?" "It's the ugliest picture I've ever seen."

"Yes, but we can always use the frame."

"But they're asking $15 for it." I protest.

"Offer them $10. It's five o'clock and you can see they're desperate."

I OFFER KRUEGER $10 and he says, stiffly, "$12.50, and all sales are final." I'm about to call him a crook, when my wife nudges me in the ribs, and I pay him the $12.50. "Do you have any newspaper to wrap it in?" I ask.

"We don't wrap," Krueger says. "You bring your own wrapping to a garage sale."

I stick the painting under my arm and say to my wife, "Hurry up or we'll miss the N-2 bus."

We get on the bus, and seated across the aisle is a man in a pin-striped morning suit. I figure he's just been to a wedding.

He looks at me, and then casually at the painting I have leaning against my knees. Suddenly his eyes bug out.

"I beg your pardon, Max I examine that painting?" he says.

"I think he's going to make fun of me and I say, "What for?"

"Forgive me," he says, handing me his card. "I am from Sotheby Park Bernet's, the art auction house, and I could swear that picture is an original Applebaum."

"You are correct," I say. "It's been in my family for years. My Aunt Ada left it to us in her will."

The man from Sotheby's gets on his hands and knees and says, "It's the most magnificent Applebaum I've ever seen. We've known of its existence, but we were unable to trace it after it was sold by the J.P. Morgan estate."

"The Morgans and my aunt were good friends," I say. The Sotheby man takes a magnifying glass out of his pocket. "It's simply fantastic. Do you know the history of Applebaum?"

A little, I reply. "But our family has so many great paintings, we can't keep track of them all."

"APPLEBAUM LIVED in Alaska, and spent 40 years painting nothing but dog sleds. He never painted the dogs — just the sleds. For years he was ignored by the art world. But in 1950 he was rediscovered, and every museum in the world considers its collection incomplete unless it has one Applebaum hanging on its walls. What makes this picture so unique is that the dog sled was painted in the spring, when there was no snow on the ground."

"That's why my Aunt Ada bought it. I say, "She never did like snow."

"What are you planning to do with it?" the man from Sotheby's asks.

"Put it in our playroom with our Cerzanes and Renoirs." I tell him. "You wouldn't consider letting us auction it off, would you?"

Child's day sleeping a concern

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have a seven-year-old granddaughter I take care of after school until her parents come home from work. I have noticed that her temperature drops lower than 98.6 and sometimes goes down to 96.6. She complains she doesn't feel good. She'll lie down and sleep as much as five hours in one stretch. After that she gets up and feels fine. I am worried about her. What can we do for her? Why is her temperature below normal like this? — Mrs. T.M.

It is difficult to set the normal temperature for humans. We do know that if the oral temperature is greater than 99 at bed rest it indicates something amiss. There is a daily fluctuation in temperature from a low of 97 in the early morning to a high of 99 in the evening. But temperature may even be as low as 96.5 in healthy individuals. It is not necessary to be 98.6 at all times of the day or under all circumstances.

I cannot relate your granddaughter's temperature to any particular illness. The sleeping five hours during the day concerns me more than the lower temperature. There are a few other signs to look for with persistent low temperature—underactive thyroid gland, low blood sugar and lowered activity of two other endocrine glands, the pituitary and the adrenal.

I think she should be examined. If the examination proves that nothing is wrong, then do not worry about the lower temperature readings you are getting. It's important to know her nighttime sleep habits, which you do not mention in your letter.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have recently been put on a long-acting nitro medicine for my angina attacks. I used to use the small tablets for taking during pain attacks. Will I still need them? — T.W.

Yes, you should still have a supply of the under-the-tongue tablets. It is hoped that the long-acting nitrates will forestall their need, but you would still need them in the event you do have periodic attacks. (You should consult with your doctor about this matter if you do not have any fast-acting nitro handy.) See the booklet, "How to Handle Angina Pectoris," which you can order by sending 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring

Daily Herald. Dear Dr. Donohue: Please comment on blood-stained sputum (daily and long-term), X-rays and other tests have eliminated TB or tumors. Would arthritis drugs cause this or could a very mild bronchitis? Is this something to be alarmed about? Why does it persist? I've had it for eight months. — Miss H.T.

It is a scary sign, for sure. The possible causes, as you can imagine, are many, but the important thing is to eliminate treatable and serious conditions that can be involved. Perhaps the commonest cause of blood-tinged sputum (hemoptysis) is chronic bronchitis. Even a mild bronchitis might cause irritation of the airways from a persistent cough. That, incidentally, is why TB coughing was associated with the sign. The lining of the airway gets worn away and can bleed slightly.

Cancer is another serious condition that probably has been investigated. If the chest X-ray does not help in diagnosis, it is often necessary to look directly into the airways with a bronchoscope. Other special X-rays may be needed, the kind in which a dye is introduced so the area shows up better. This is a bronchogram. Yet, in about 20 percent of cases no cause for such bleeding can be found.

Your bleeding might be due to both your mild bronchitis and to the aspirin or aspirin-like arthritis drugs, which may cause a slight lessening of the ability of blood to clot.

Since no specific cause seems to be suspected your worry should be over, but not your vigilance. It is essential for you to report or reevaluation at regular intervals and to alert the doctor to any change in symptoms.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My mother was recently hospitalized for appendicitis. When she got back, she said she was fine. I learned that she still has her appendix. Is this normal procedure? Don't they remove it? — Mrs. J.J.

If the appendix were at fault it would have been removed, for sure. However, if one of the tiny out-pouchings of the colon (diverticulum) were involved and it burst, it might have produced the same symptoms as would a burst appendix. You may find that this is what occurred. Often, if the surgeon finds a normal appendix, it will be removed to prevent future appendicitis.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, write to Dr. Donohue, in care of the Big Spring Daily Herald, for his invaluable booklet, "Make Menopause Easier." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am a Christian with a lot of problems. People tell me just to read my Bible and everything will be all right, but somehow that doesn't seem to help. I would appreciate any suggestions. — Mrs. S.C.

DEAR MRS. S.O.: Just reading your Bible is no guarantee that your problems will go away—it is only a first step. You must learn what it means to believe it and trust it, and apply its truths to your life. In other words, there is nothing magical about the action of reading your Bible. But when you come to understand what it says, and believe it—really believe it—I am convinced it will have a profound effect on your life.

The Bible is not just another book of good advice or practical philosophy. It is God's Word, given to us by Him to help us and encourage us. "Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light for my path (Psalm 119:105). Do you believe that? And do you believe that the Bible therefore contains God's truth, and that He wants us to learn it and live by it? More than that, God wants you to open your heart to Christ and come into a personal relationship with Him by trusting Christ as your Savior. God wants to teach you from His Word, and I suggest that the next time you open your Bible you first ask God to help you understand it by the illumination of the Holy Spirit given.

Then ask God to show you how to apply it to your life. You do not indicate what kind of problems you have. Perhaps your problem is that you feel you are insignificant and unloved, and this image of yourself hurts your relations with others or makes you lacking in self confidence. But when you turn to the Bible, what does God say about you? He says that He loves you very much. He loves you so much He sent His Son to die on the cross to take away your sins. If you really believed that, it would help you with your problem as you learned to trust God and His love more and more.

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Three refugees from the Watergate era — G. Gordon Liddy, John Ehrlichman and Spiro Agnew — have been promoting their latest books on TV talk shows at my discomfort.

The incomprehensible Liddy has cordially confessed that he had plotted my liquidation. He called this "justifiable homicide" because my reporting supposedly had resulted in the Soviet detection and torture of a CIA undercover man.

Ehrlichman allowed that he would not have been a party to anything so base as putting out my lights forever. But he confirmed gravely that my reporting had exposed not a CIA agent in Russia but a CIA informant in India.

AGNEW MERELY implied that my elimination would have been a desideratum that would add to the sum of human happiness. But when he was asked why he had allowed the Food Fair superna ket chain to stock his pantry with free food while he was vice president, he exp ended it on the grounds that I, too, had received free groceries from Food Fair.

May I be permitted a brief response? Ehrlichman alluded to my India-Pakistan stories, detailing the administration's tilt toward Pakistan, which were published before the Christmas of 1971. Yet Nixon waited until the following February to unleash his watchdogs on me. This coincided with my investigation of the ITT scandal, which badly embarrassed Nixon. I published an incriminating memo written by ITT lobbyist Dita Beard. I also reported that Nixon had received two secret cash contributions of $50,000 each from industrialist Howard Hughes.

It was embarrassments such as these, not the exposing of some unnamed CIA informant, that infuriated Nixon. Ex-White House aide Charles Colson has testified that he was asked "many times" by President Nixon to take action "to discredit Jack Anderson."

To this end, the CIA assigned 18 radio cars to keep my operation under surveillance. The Pentagon, according to its former security chief W.

Donald Stewart, conducted at least 11 separate investigations of me, sparing no expense. The FBI secretly grabbed my telephone records, and the Internal Revenue Service conducted a penetrating, year-long audit of my finances.

THIS SHOULD HAVE been intimidation enough that someone in the White House didn't like me, but I never dreamed my popularity had fallen so low that Liddy would seek to do me in. He got his motivation, whether by osmosis or otherwise, from Richard Nixon, who was concerned about his own fate, not some CIA informant's.

As for Spiro Agnew, I have a sporting proposition. If he can prove that I received free food deliveries from Food Fair as he did, I'll keep him supplied with food for a year. But if he can't prove it, then he should pay my grocery bills for a year. Fair enough, Spiro?

MEMO TO THE PENTAGON — Most Americans are willing to spend whatever it takes to keep the United States strong enough to safeguard the national security. They don't begrudge the Pentagon its growing share of the tax dollar — as long as the money is spent efficiently.

But there are too many generals and admirals who act like small boys let loose in a toy store with a rich uncle's credit card. These profligate brass hats lavish the taxpayers' money on fancy gadgets that actually subtract from a weapon's efficiency as they add to its cost.

A typical example is the Army's XM-1 tank. This super-sophisticated, super-expensive battle wagon is equipped with every gimmick the designers could dream up. Unfortunately, such forgotten basics as the turbine engine, hydraulic system and fuel lines keep breaking down.

Recent tests at Fort Knox, for example, showed that the tanks could go only 140 to 160 miles on a tank of gas, instead of the 275 to 375 miles recorded. Air filters, necessary to keep dust from clogging the finicky turbine engines, had to be changed every 75 to 100 miles.

Big Spring Herald

Dear Editor:

On May 13, my Doberman Pinscher died of a terrible disease. It was a very heartbreaking experience as she was only 3 years old and I loved her so much.

I would like to share the following prayer with all the animal lovers in hopes that it will help them as much as it's helped me.

The Dog's Prayer
My Dear Master, to thee I pray, I do not expect more than you can give. Grant me only the comforts you can afford.

This I promise you, my Master and friend; that I will never quarrel or argue with you, never say unkind things nor point out your faults to you and, most of all, never be disloyal or unfaithful to you.

Though others may desert you and the cares of the world weigh heavily upon you; though you may have poverty or prosperity; though there be sickness or health; I shall remain your obedient servant and friend.

When danger is present I wish to be near to protect you, sounding the alarm against unwelcome intruders at your door. And if need be, guard you and your possessions with my life.

Dear Master, because I am a domesticated creature I need to be protected against the harsh elements of weather, and I pray you will always give me a clean sheltered place where I can rest peacefully and feel secure.

Since I am no longer a predator and cannot hurt, I pray you to daily provide enough nutritious food and fresh water to sustain my well being.

Protect me, I pray, from humans who would do cruel and inhuman things to me. I cannot understand why some of your fellow creatures are so unkind, and thus so unlike you. I pray you will take care of me if I am ill or wounded, for I also feel pain and have only you to depend on to see that I am tended by loving and competent hands.

As I grow older and my senses fail me; when the infirmities of my later years become too great to bear, please be kind, and help me gently in my pain or passing for I have served you well.

Here this prayer, My Dear Master. My fate depends on you.

JOHNSTON'S NO-ROACH WORKS FOR MONTHS... whether in spray or brush-on form

Johnston's No-Roach a lasting sales value

Guess how many items are on sale at your favorite store?
 Ever try to count them?
 If you shop in the average supermarket - there are about 6,000 to 8,000 items to choose from - probably even more if you shop in a large department or discount store. Confusing isn't it? You know generally what you need - but which particular brand to buy?
 Selection is important in everything you buy for your home but it is especially important when you choose an insecticide. THE THIEF ON THE CROSS PART I
 BY B.W. BRIGGS
 The letter I received from a reader states that the thief was not baptized; that he never had an opportunity, and that he received Paradise and the Kingdom. The purpose in making such statements are to void the necessity of baptism for salvation. I affirm that baptism "for the remission of sins" is essential for salvation. The Herald reader believes that the thief's faith "alone" saved him. That is to say, the thief was saved without being baptized. Therefore, neither is baptism essential to salvation today! Let's begin to LET THE BIBLE SPEAK! That the thief on the cross was not baptized cannot be proved! If so, reveal the scripture or inference that manifest that "fact"? I cannot prove he was, but I do not need a baptized thief to prove that baptism from Pentecost onward is imperative for salvation! By the way, the thief did not ask to have his sins removed, he asked that Jesus might remember him when He (Jesus) came into His Kingdom. His concept of the Kingdom was like that of the chosen 12 - MATERIAL! And since he did not follow Jesus, as a disciple, I doubt very seriously that he knew more than the apostles of Christ concerning the Kingdom. (Matt. 20:20-28; Acts 1:6). That the thief never had an opportunity to hear John's preaching and baptism is certainly a slim concept. If so, he had to have lived in a distant land, because John's preaching covered the entire Judea area and beyond. (Matt. 3:1-6; Mark 1:4-5). In fact, if a person wanted to deal in conjecture, it would seem that the thief had been baptized! I mean, how did he know anything about the Christ or His Kingdom? Everyone else that embraced this Messiah and His Kingdom heard about it from John or Jesus! Who told the thief? The ones before the cross? The ones before the cross were not believers - they were mockers! They were not peacemakers - they were peacebreakers! By you trying to prove he was not baptized, and by me trying to prove he was, we both present only conjecture - not Bible! However, I'm not trying to prove he was. I don't need a baptized thief to affirm Acts 2:38, 1 Peter 3:20-21, or Acts 22:16! That the thief entered into Paradise, the department of Hades where spirits of men are comforted, there is no doubt! Why? Because Jesus said he would be! However, my friends, that is far more than the thief ask of Jesus! He received much more than he had asked of Jesus! He received much more than he had reader has stated? NO! He did not receive the Kingdom because He had not been established at the time of his death. It had been preached to be at hand, therefore, immediately coming. (Matt. 3:2; 4:17; Mark 9:1). But the Kingdom was still future tense even after Jesus' resurrection. Just before His ascension, He told the disciples to go into Jerusalem and wait to be clothed with power from on high. He also told them that they would preach Jesus' death, burial, and resurrection from Jerusalem first, unto all the nations. In that message contained the formula for the remission of sins. (See Luke 24:44-49; Acts 2:22-47). If you'll notice, every verse concerning the Kingdom prior to Pentecost was future tense. But every verse concerning the Kingdom post-Pentecost is past tense. (Acts 1:2; Isa. 2:1-4; Heb. 12:28; Rev. 1:6; 5:9-10; 1 Pet. 2:9; Col. 1:13; 1 Thess. 2:11-12). Therefore, Pentecost is definitely when and where the Kingdom came into existence. And because the thief died before Pentecost, as did Jesus, he could not have been in or received the Kingdom. However, I do recognize that Jesus is King of kings and Lord of lords (Rev. 17:14), and because of that we must admit that His Kingdom takes in the entire created sphere. However, as God was Ruler and Creator of all, He still had Israel as His "Kingdom" within His whole Kingdom. In other words, Israel was a "special" Kingdom, just as the church is Christ's "special" Kingdom within His universal Kingdom. (See Rev. 17:14 - 1 Cor. 15:23-24). There is no Kingdom to come, else you have some 2,000 year old people living today. (Mark 9:1). But now let's get to the real misunderstanding concerning the thief. He died under the old law as did Jesus. During Jesus' ministry he forgave people of their sins in and for various reasons. In the book of Mark you have a palsied man healed because of the faith his four friends had - nothing is said about the palsied man's faith... just his friends! In Luke 7 a woman's sins are forgiven because she loved much. She didn't tell Jesus that, he perceived it! Yet, she was forgiven because of her love. In Luke 19 a man named Zacchaeus had salvation brought to his home just because he was a son of Abraham (Jew). He did nothing, nor said anything to merit Christ's favor according to the text! He was a Jew, a son of Abraham. In John 8 a woman caught in the act of adultery was uncondemned by Christ, therefore forgiven, without any reason presented by Christ. The point is this, Christ forgave sins any way He wanted to. In this He proved Himself to be the son of God, the Messiah! The thief didn't do anything except ask to be remembered by Christ in what he believed would be a material Kingdom.

Consumers change U. S. economy

NEW YORK (AP) — The American people have cracked down so hard on spending and borrowing that huge sectors of the economy have stalled.

And while they received help from the Federal Reserve Board, the folks who restricted the supply of credit, indications are strong that even if credit had been available consumers would have turned it down.

They have slowed their spending on cars, houses, appliances, fancy vacations and the like, and the impact spreads out from there. You can't, for example, sell windshields if people aren't buying cars.

Attitudes have changed. The philosophy of "buy now because things will cost more tomorrow" is being replaced by the view that if you don't forgo things today there will indeed be no tomorrow.

As the once aggressive consumer turns conservator, items that were in fierce demand a short while ago are now shunned.

The consumer was the driving force of the economy. When he changed, the economy did too.

Car sales fell 30 percent in mid-May, even though Ford and Chrysler offered rebates to stimulate action. Prime interest rates are plunging. Price increases are slowing. Lenders again are offering mortgage money.

Rising stock prices reflect the change. One Wall Street after another is saying the same thing: It begins to look as if the country is going to straighten itself out. Wall Street always looks for that.

But while that viewpoint is proclaimed by some, others ask if we're not being premature in the assessment.

They observe that spending slowed only because people were denied the means. They didn't have the money: the typical family of four has lost 6.7 percent of buying power over the past 12 months.

They note as well that much of the new hope is based largely on political promises — promises as meaningless for the future as they were for the past. Promises, for instance, of a balanced budget.

The real test may be ahead, they say. That's when the consumer, taught through the years to accept the good life as his right, might have to accept the reality of a lower standard of living than he once enjoyed.

The road to economic stability, the critics say, may require that people use less of their available funds so their savings might be steered into rebuilding the production facilities of the country.

$20 million crash award

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Survivors of some of the 24 men, including four Texans, killed in the crash of a top-secret reconnaissance plane are entitled to a total of $20 million in damages, a federal court jury has decided.

Given the proper incentives, such as a good yield on those savings, most Americans probably would be willing to save. But, after postponing the purchase of a house, for instance, millions of people might feel they need one more shot at the good life before they settle down.

Just as much discipline might be needed in government spending. While the administration has proclaimed a balanced budget for fiscal 1981, in reality that balance has been achieved only on paper. And, just weeks after it was devised, it might already have been tipped into the red.

Jurors determined that the U.S. government and six LTV Corp. companies were liable for the deaths of the men killed by the crash of the modified Air Force C-130 transport plane nine years ago.

Cannibal Draw Reunion lures record turnout

The third annual Cannibal Draw Reunion, a unique organization composed of men who lived in that particular part of town 50 or more years ago, attracted a record turnout of 49 people here Friday night at the Brandin' Iron Restaurant.

Six members from out of town were present for the meeting. They were Howard Kyle, now of Abilene; Jess Andrews, Irving; Clifford Robinson, Lubbock; Jess Angel, Stanton; Earl Robinson, Midland; and Clifton Sanders, Austin.

Among those attending this year were ten sets of brothers. They included Raymond and Jess Andrews, Grady and J.O. McCrary, Joe and Willard Neel, Blackie and Richard Reagan, Hub and Albert Rutherford, Garland, Dr. Virgil and Clifton Sanders, Robert and Hayes Stripling, Paul and Loran Warren, Earl and Ralph Wilson and the Thomas brothers, Dr. Clyde, George, Richard and Ray.

The youngest member present was Ray Thomas, who is 53. The eldest was A.E. (Preacher) True, 85, who attended despite a long siege of illness.

Members attending for the first time this year include Clyde Angel, who is the mayor of Big Spring, Clifford Robinson, Howard Kyle, Jess Andrews, Clayton Bettle, Arthur Tamplin and Blacky Reagan.

Illness kept several of the members from making good on their intentions to attend the reunion. Many who found it impossible to be on hand wrote the reunion's organizer, Mack Underwood, that they would make every effort to be on hand for the 1981 function.

A vote was taken to include wives, sisters and women friends in a future reunion. The idea was tabled indefinitely.

Underwood said that close to 50 percent of the eligible members were on hand for this year's reunion and he felt that that percentage could increase to 65 or 70 percent in 1981. A newsletter may be composed and sent to all members. However, the members will have to lend cooperation if the publication takes shape, according to Underwood.

Special guests Friday night were members of the local news media, including John Brooks, radio station KBST; Bill Birrell, K-HEM and Jim Baum, KBYG.

Former resident of Big Spring graduates cum laude at UTD

James E. Fuller, a former resident of Big Spring, has been graduated cum laude from The University of Texas at Dallas.

In ceremonies held Saturday, May 17, Fuller and more than 500 other graduates received their degrees in spring commencement exercises with Robert Kirk, chief executive officer of Vought Corporation, as speaker.

Recipient of a B.S. degree in accounting from UTD, Fuller said he plans to take the certified public accountant's examination in November, then enter the field of international finance.

Fuller was a resident of Big Spring from 1968-1977 and was employed by Turner Properties. Currently, he is comptroller for an independent oil operator in Dallas.

Besides being an honors graduate of UTD, Fuller is on the Dean's Honor List and received a cash award from the UTD Center for International Accounting Development in recognition of scholastic achievements. He is a member of the Accounting Honor Society and helped to form the UTD chapter of Phi Theta Kappa Alumni Association, which he served as vice president.

Fuller attended Eastfield College in Dallas before coming to UTD, which has only juniors, seniors and graduate students. While at Eastfield he was treasurer of Phi Theta Kappa, a student honorary society, and was on the Dean's Honor List. He was selected the outstanding chemistry student in 1978 and received an award from CRC Press, publishers of scientific literature, as the outstanding chemistry and physics student selected by the faculty.

Denise Crenwelge awarded scholarship for broadcasting

Denise Crenwelge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Crenwelge, 2905 Apache, was recently named as the first recipient of a $250 faculty scholarship for broadcasting at Texas A&M University.

The faculty scholarship is distinguished as a personal award because all money comes from donations from the faculty members of the communications department.

Determining factors in the award were past journalism performance, grades, attitude and future potential. Each student was required to write a paper on why they felt they were deserving of the scholarship.

Crenwelge is a senior broadcast journalism major and will graduate in December with a bachelor of science degree.

She has been a distinguished student, Moshier Hall secretary, Sigma Delta Chi, Battalion staff reporter, Newman Club and lay minister at St. Mary's Catholic Church in College Station.

DENISE CRENWELGE

Crenwelge earned her associate of arts degree at Howard College in three semesters before transferring to A&M in spring 1979.

This summer she is doing her internship in the news department of KBST radio and is a lifeguard at Comanche Trail Park municipal pool.

Dad May Not Be Legal But He Has Rights

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Your letter to MESSSED UP AT 16 failed to take into account the rights guaranteed to the father of an illegitimate child by the U.S. Supreme Court as decided in the Douglas case. It is generally held by those dealing in adoption matters that the father of an illegitimate child be given notice and the right to be heard as to his position concerning the placement of the child.

The courts have generally held that if the natural mother does not want to keep the baby, the rights of the father are superior to those of any adoptive agency or relative of the natural mother.

It would therefore appear that if the father of the illegitimate child wishes to take custody of said child and the natural mother wants to give up said child, the father would be granted custody of the child.

Usually you consult knowledgeable people concerning medical and legal matters, but evidently you slipped up this time.

ROBERT L. SPEETER, MINNEAPOLIS ATTORNEY

DEAR MR. SPEETER: You're right. I plead guilty as charged. But who besides a lawyer would question the right of an unmarried woman who had been "done wrong" by a married man to deny said man custody of her illegitimate child?

However, I since have learned that frequently when an unmarried mother learns that the father's rights to custody of her child are superior to those of any adoptive agency or relative of the natural mother, she exercises her right and "keeps" the child — but her mother or some other relative raises it. Too bad, because in many cases the father could have provided a far better home.

DEAR ABBY: I have never hit a woman in my life, but I have come mighty close to it a couple of times in the last few months.

My wife uses my razor to shave her legs, and she leaves the used blade in the razor. This gets me hopping mad and she knows it, but she does it anyway.

Don't tell me to buy her a razor exactly like mine because I've done that, but she uses mine anyway. I have also given her an electric shaver designed especially for ladies, but it's still in the original box. Any suggestions before I belt her one?

FIGHTING MAD

DEAR MAD: Either take your razor to work with you, or lock it up when you leave.

DEAR ABBY: The item from WANTS TO HELP regarding her young friend with crossed eyes prompts this letter. If it's a matter of finances, perhaps we can help.

Most Lions Clubs have sight conservation as their top priority project. We have no young people in our city who need glasses, eye surgery or transplants, or any blind who need a Seeing Eye dog. We have taken care of all whose needs have been called to our attention.

So if lack of money is keeping that 15-year-old from doing something about her crossed eyes, please let her know that her local Lions Club may be able to help her.

R.E. MILLER, ANDERSON, IND.

DEAR MR. MILLER: Thanks for reminding my readers that even though it's a "jungle" out there, in nearly every city there is a Lions Club whose top priority is sight conservation. And hooray for Anderson, Indiana!

CONFIDENTIAL to those who have sent for Abby's booklets: Please, please be patient. I am literally deluged with orders and am getting them out as quickly as possible.

G.S. camp registration is scheduled May 31

Girl Scout Day Camp registration for July 14-17 will be held May 31 at Highland South Shopping Center from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Fees for Girl Scouts is $7.50. Fees for Non-scouts is $8. In order to accept Non-scouts there must be adequate adult leadership. There will be a box for donation or items needed.

Activities available at the camp include swimming, hiking, outdoor skills, crafts, badge work, meet new friends, songs, games and more.

Donated items that could be used in Day Camp are: egg cartons, two quart plastic bottles with handles, old candles or wax, felt scraps, carpet, yarn and ribbon scraps, cord or rope, baby food jars, paints, glass, scrap bottles and Leggs hosiery containers.

Windfall Profits tax program presented

The Desk & Derrick Club of Big Spring held their monthly meeting at Alberto's Crystal Cafe on May 19 at noon.

The featured speaker was Drew Mouton, partner in the law firm of Bancroft and Mouton. Mouton is a graduate of Southwest University and University of Houston Law School. He is married to the former Glenna Jones of Big Spring and they have three children. Mouton is active in many civic organizations, among them the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce and Methodist Church.

The Windfall Profits Tax was the subject for the meeting. Mouton explained that the windfall profits tax is an excise tax which will apply to domestic crude oil removed from the property after Feb. 29, 1980.

The rate of tax will be determined by the Crude Oil Classification (Tiers) and by the type of interest ownership. The first purchaser of the domestic crude oil has the primary responsibility for collecting the tax and depositing the tax with the U.S. government.

The windfall profit is the difference between the actual selling price of the oil and the average base price. The average base price differs on each Tier classification. Tier I average is $12.81 and consists generally of oil discovered prior to 1979 and most Alaskan North Slope Oil.

Tier 2 average price is $15.20 and consists of stripper oil and production from the National Petroleum Reserve. Tier 3 average price is $16.55, plus 2 percent per year and for differences in quality and location, and consists of certain heavy oil, newly discovered oil and incremental tertiary oil. The tax is 70 percent of the windfall profit for Tier 1 oil, 60 percent for Tier 2 oil and 30 percent for Tier 3 oil.

Scholarship recipient honored by Cactus Chapter of ABWA

Scholarship was the topic and graduation was the decorative theme when the Cactus Chapter of American Business Women Association met for its regular meeting on May 19 at K Rob's Restaurant.

Pat Watts, Scholarship Chairman, introduced scholarship recipients who were honored guests including Irma Ross of Malone Hogan X-Ray School and Kathy Lloyd of University of Texas in Austin who is majoring in pharmacology.

Also introduced were Jo Ann Permenter of Malone Hogan X-Ray School and Angie Fulgham of Texas A&M.

Each year from the proceeds of various projects, the Cactus Chapter of ABWA gives a number of local scholarships as well as contributing to the ABWA National Scholarship Fund known as SHAMPE.

Speaker for the occasion was Janice Rossom, Secretary and Curriculum Coordinator.

ter the Big Spring Independent School District. She shared goals and achievements of local schools.

Approximately one fourth of the high school student body are involved in the comprehensive athletic program. Runnels and Goliad Schools are involved with computer assisted instruction which gives students individual advantages.

Seventy-three percent of the students recently polled plan to go into advanced education or training after graduation from high school.

Another unique fact that Mrs. Rossom pointed out is that 70 percent of Big Spring School students are living with their natural parents.

This is well above national average. Since the Big Spring School System believes that the school and the parents should be partners in education, a set of goals were drawn through a combined effort of committees from each segment. Mrs. Rossom then concluded her program with questions from the club and open discussion.

President Margaret Wiles presided at the business meeting. Marshallene Read of Coahoma Insurance Agency was the vocational speaker.

Nelda Colezaker read a letter from TR and Vera Morris who were recently selected as "Honorary Grandparents" in the recent Cinderella Pageant and announced the district Cinderella Girl Pageant would be held June 6-7.

Audit Committee, consisting of Margaret Wise and Claire Conger was appointed. Nominating Committee consisting of Frances Swann, Ruth Manuel and Helen McDonald was also appointed.

Gail Earls made a request for the Cactus Chapter to donate linens for the Hallway House. Anyone wishing to donate should contact her for further details.

Teens OK weeknight dating

By Robert Wallace, Ed D

Sylvia, 17, from Burlington, N.C., would like to occasionally date on a week-night, but her mother refuses to allow this so Sylvia would like to know if the guest teen readers and I agree with her or Mother.

cellent student. My problem is that my mother will never allow me to date on school nights (I can baby-sit though).

Several times my boyfriend has asked me to go somewhere with him on a school night but the answer is always no and my mom and I always start arguing. She makes it appear that I always start the argument, but in reality, it's her.

When my homework is done and my chores are finished, I don't see why I can't occasionally date on weekdays. Please give me your thoughts and if possible the views of your guest teen readers. — Sylvia, Burlington, N.C.

Sylvia: First of all, the arguments with your mother must be placed on your shoulders and not blamed on your mom. She set the rules and you know what they are even if you don't agree with them.

But I do agree that occasionally you should be allowed to date on a school night if your homework and chores are finished and you return home by 10:30 — Dr. Wallace

Hi Sylvia: I don't want to sound like I don't agree that you should date on a week-night once in a while because I think you should, but everything is relative.

I'd love to be in your shoes. I, too, am 17 but I'm not allowed to have a boyfriend and I'm only allowed to go on a date once every two weeks and it must be a double date and my parents must meet the other three kids the night of the date before we go out and I'm never allowed to go to a drive-in movie. Good luck. — Melody, Florence, Ala.

Hello Sylvia: I'm 16 and I date on school nights and everything works out just fine. Many of our dates (my girlfriend is also 16) are to school functions that take place on weeknights. We never stay out later than 10:30 and if we were going to be late for some reason, we always call both her parents and mine. We never abuse the privilege.

So to give you my advice, yes, you should be allowed to date occasionally on weeknights as long as you don't abuse the privilege and get home at a reasonable time. — Mark, San Francisco, Calif.

Owner disagreements cause baseball problems

By the Associated Press

The signal is "go" again on the major league diamonds, and that is both good news and bad news. The good news is that they are playing baseball. The bad news is that the threatened players' strike has been merely placed on hold. Somebody is still going to have to bite the bullet.

If the players and owners were not able to settle their differences in months of haggling, which continued to the dawn of last Friday morning, what makes anybody think that a peace can be hammered out by next spring, when the issue must be faced again?

It's an uneasy truce. Baseball problems run deeper than the free agent compensation issue, which from the very start has been the guts of the management-labor dispute, with all else merely window dressing.

They involve a deep division in the ranks of the owners — a schism that puts moderates on one side of the fence and hard-liners on the other. It's a continuing hassle between the ambitious, free-spending "haves" and the struggling, close-to-the-vest "have-nots." Can they ever see eye-to-eye? It's doubtful. So, as long as the owners cannot reach some basis for concerted action, what reason is there to believe they can ever succeed in achieving their aims?

Unlike the players, who from million-dollar super stars such as Reggie Jackson and Nolan Ryan to the lowliest rookies have rallied behind their executive director, Marvin Miller, the owners were still feuding right through the 11th hour.

According to reports that leaked from behind those closed doors at New York's Doral Hotel, the strike was prevented through the desperate last minute efforts of a small coterie of owners with the belated aid of Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Kuhn is the commissioner of baseball but he would be the last to say that "in the best interests of baseball" he possessed the power to dictate to the players. They all dance to the tune of their own union, the Players Association, astutely managed by Miller.

The commissioner can work only through the owners, as he did in this case. With a quartet of owners applying the pressure, he helped break the obstinacy of the militants and temporarily avoided a midseason shutdown of the national pastime.

It's well known that a large segment of the owners believed that they had to make a stand and make it now or follow a course of financial ruin. They heard Kuhn's "time bomb ticking overhead."

"The owners can never get together," Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg was saying in New York last week. "There's Ray Kroc of San Diego with his hamburger empire, Steinbrenner with his ship yards and Gene Autry with his movie (Chicago White Sox), who has a $3 million debt; Griffith, who doesn't want to spend anything, not to mention Seattle and Oakland."

"Baseball has a lot of problems. There should be a realignment of the teams, standardization of the two leagues, interleague play and umpires put under the control of the commissioner. Also they've got to give the commissioner more clout."

As Rangers take 6-5 victory

Costly sin buries Angels

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — California outfielder Dan Ford minced no words about his costly error that came near the end of a Memorial Day baseball game that more resembled a July 4 fireworks display at Anaheim Stadium.

Ford dropped a fly ball with two outs and the bases loaded in the top of the eighth inning Monday, allowing the Texas Rangers to score three runs and beat the California Angels 6-5 in a game marred by two bench-clearing brawls and the ejection of four players.

The Angels had rallied to take a 5-2 lead in the bottom of the seventh but Texas had scored once in the eighth and had the bases loaded when Pat Putnam lofted a fly ball towards Ford in right.

"It popped out of my glove," said Ford. "I saw it all the way. It got in the sun at the last second but I saw it all the way. I made us lose."

That's been a regular occurrence lately. The defending American League West champion Angels have lost their last five games, have dropped 10 consecutive decisions at Anaheim Stadium and have been defeated 13 times in their last 18 outings.

The Memorial Day fireworks began in the sixth inning. With two outs, California starter Bruce Kison came inside on his first pitch to Buddy Bell.

After Bell flied out on the next pitch to end the inning, the Texas third baseman charged the mound. "It was a spur of the moment thing," said Bell, who was ejected after he and Kison exchanged a few punches. "There have been a lot of balls thrown at us lately."

Kison contended, however, that he did not throw at Bell and home plate umpire Bill Haller tended to agree. "The pitch wasn't really that close," said Haller. "I was surprised Bell had a reaction to it."

In the seventh inning, after the Angels had rallied for four runs, two of them on Carney Lansford's fourth home run of the season, the beanball battle resumed. With two out and Rod Carew at second base, rookie Texas pitcher Bob Babcock was called in to pitch to Ford. His first offering, which turned out to be his last, sailed behind Ford's head.

While Ford made no move towards the mound, Haller did throw the Texas pitcher out of the game. Adrian Devine, 1-1, replaced Babcock and wound up with his first win since May 11, 1979.

In the eighth, Kison gave up a leadoff and then hit pinch hitter Johnny Grubb with a pitch. Grubb limped towards the mound as both benches emptied again.

Haller responded by ejecting Kison and Grubb. "There was nothing automatic, but the way the game was going I felt I had no recourse but to eject them," said Haller.

After Mark Clear replaced Kison, Mickey Rivers singled to load the bases and Bump Wills drew a walk to force in a run. But Clear, 2-4, got Al Oliver to pop out, struck out Dave Roberts, and appeared to be out of trouble when Putnam hit his fly ball to right. But it didn't work out that way as Ford committed his costly error.

California manager Jim Fregosi said the fact that his team has been struggling didn't enter into what transpired on the field.

American League Roundup

Yankees 13, Tigers 5

Rick Cerone drove in six runs with singles in the fifth and seventh innings and his first career grand slam homer in the eighth — all following intentional walks to Graig Nettles. Cerone's first single off Dave Rozema accounted for the final run of a five-run fifth that wiped out a 3-1 Detroit lead and his grand slam off Dave Tobik capped a six-run eighth.

Blue Jays 3, Red Sox 1

Damaso Garcia, Alfredo Griffin and Bob Bailor drove in runs with consecutive two-out singles off Dick Drago in the ninth inning to rally Toronto. Drago came on after Lloyd Moseby singled to start the ninth and was sacrificed to second. One out later, Drago hit Otto Velez with a pitch and then came the three RBI singles.

Orioles 7, Indians 3

Eddie Murray drove in four runs, two with a fifth-inning single off Bob Owhchinko and two more with a seventh-inning homer off Sid Monge, and Lee May added a solo homer to the Baltimore attack. Cleveland Manager Dave Garcia brought in left-handers to face the switch-hitting Murray and both times the strategy backfired.

White Sox 6, Twins 3

Chicago relief ace Ed Farmer's 13th save of the season and three hits apiece by Alan Bannister and Greg Pryor helped Chicago end a four-game losing streak. Bannister collected two singles and a double and drove in two runs while Pryor rapped a double and two singles and scored twice.

Minnesota's Ken Landreaux had two singles and extended his consecutive-game hitting streak to 27, tops in the majors this season.

A's 4, Royals 1

Oakland's Matt Keough pitched a three-hitter, averaging a 16-3 loss to the Royals last week. Dave Revering put the A's ahead 2-1 with a two-run homer, his seventh of the season, in the fourth inning. U.L. Washington homered for Kansas City in the third — and later singled during a two-run sixth inning.

Brewers 11, Mariners 1

Gorman Thomas hit a two-run homer and a pair of RBI singles. Sixto Lezcano and Cecil Cooper added two-run triples and Ben Oglive slammed his 12th homer run, top in the AL, to power Milwaukee to its fourth consecutive triumph. Thomas' homer gave Milwaukee a 2-0 lead in the first inning while Lezcano's triple keyed a five-run third.

For San Diego Padres

Richard plus relief too much

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston pitcher J.R. Richard listens to his own body language and in the seventh inning Monday night, it told him to head for the showers.

"It wasn't a severe pain, just a little ache to tell me that it was there," Richard said after breaking a personal three game losing streak as the Astros defeated San Diego 4-1 in the Astrodome. "It was better to come out and not take a chance. I didn't want to be out for the whole season."

Although not as devastating as earlier in the season, Richard held the Padres to five hits through seven innings before leaving because of a stiffness in his lower back.

"I think I messed it up in batting practice awhile back," said Richard, 5-3. "I'll be all right after a little rest. I can't rest it between starts. It's no problem."

Richard was a problem for the Padres however, despite being off form.

"I don't care if he didn't have his best fast ball, he's still the best pitcher in the league," said Padres first baseman Willie Montanez, who got two of the five hits off Richard.

The Astros staggered Padres starter John Curtis in the second inning with four consecutive hits that netted three runs.

Jose Cruz started the hit parade with an infield single that dribbled unfielded between the pitcher's mound and first base. Cruz stole second base and scored on Enos Cabell's single for the first run.

Jeff Leonard doubled to score Cabell and Art Howe hit a single to score Leonard. The Padres got their only run in the third when Curtis walked, went to second on Luis Pujols' passed ball, was sacrificed to third and scored on a single by Dave Cash.

Houston scored its final run in the eighth off reliever Bob Shirley when Craig Reynolds doubled to rightfield and went to third on right fielder Gene Richards' error and scored on a single by Cruz.

Joe Sanbitto got his fourth save of the season for the Astros, pitching the final two innings.

"I just didn't feel strong tonight," Sanbitto said. "I guess I'm going to have to work harder between times. My fast ball was up around 91 or 92 miles per hour which is good for me but I didn't feel a strong tonight."

Howe also doubled in the fifth inning for his second hit of the game. Howe's two hits marked his first since May 7 when he suffered a broken jaw when hit by Montreal pitcher Scott Sanderson.

Popping UP — Tallant Printing's Susan Martin follows through after lofting a pop fly during her team's game with Mr. Transmission in the "I'm a Pepper" girls slow-pitch tournament at the Roy Anderson Complex. Susan's popfly was caught for an out on this attempt.

Buckeye golfers eye another NCAA title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State, from the cold, rainy north, is threatening to break the southern schools' stranglehold on the National Collegiate Athletic Association golf title.

The Big Ten champions became the first northern team since Purdue in 1961 to win the NCAA team crown a year ago. And this time the Buckeyes have the advantage of playing on their own course when the 1980 tournament begins Wednesday.

Why has Ohio State succeeded in breaking the warm climate schools' domination? "No. 1, our golf course. It's the best college course in the country," Ohio State Coach Jim Brown says of the rolling 7,104-yard Ohio State Scarlet layout that plays to a par of 72.

"And Ohio State — just our name — helps in our recruiting. We have a weight lifting program in the winter we have such courses as Murfield Village and Scioto Country Club that we can play."

"In the fall, we play in North Carolina and Florida. In February, we take a three-day break in Florida. In the spring, we go to such states as Texas and Georgia."

Ohio State gives the allowable five golf scholarships per year but only No. 1 player Joey Sindelar is on a full ride.

"Very few kids get full rides at any school," said Brown. "But to get the really great players, you've got to give them one."

Carter seeking end to Democratic race in today's primaries

By the Associated Press
The Republican battle belongs to Ronald Reagan, and President Carter sought today to foretell the end of the Democratic contest, looking to primary elections in Kentucky, Arkansas and Nevada to widen his runaway lead over Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.
The GOP side of the 1980 presidential ballot was settled on the name of Ronald Reagan, when George Bush, the last, persistent challenger to the former California governor, bowed to the realities of money and delegate counts, and quit the competition Monday.

"We have a Republican nominee," GOP national chairman Bill Brock said when he learned of Bush's withdrawal. "I think we have the prospect of a very substantial win this November."
Brock said he believes Reagan "can beat Jimmy Carter like a drum."
Carter must beat Kennedy before Reagan will get his chance.
The president is 258 votes short of a Democratic nominating majority. He has 1,408 delegates of the 1,666 he needs. Kennedy has 796.

Today's elections were in promising territory for Carter. There were 95 Democratic delegates at stake in the three states, and the president was virtually guaranteed a comfortable majority.
Kennedy maintains that the real test is a week away, in the eight Democratic primary elections that will apportion 696 nominating votes on June 3. After a Memorial Day off at Hyannisport, he returned to the campaign today, hunting votes in New Jersey and Ohio. Those states, along with California, dominate next Tuesday's finale.

Since all the remaining contests award delegates in proportion to the popular vote, it's all but inevitable that Carter will emerge with more than the majority he needs for nomination.
Today's contests are for 50 Democratic delegates in Kentucky, 33 in Arkansas, and 12 in Nevada.
Idaho is holding a presidential preference vote, too, but its Democratic delegates already have been apportioned in party caucuses. Carter won 8 and Kennedy 5. Four went uncommitted.

While Kennedy continued his duel with Carter, Bush said he was bowing to reality in dropping his challenge to Reagan.
In debt and buried under Reagan's delegate landslide, Bush told reporters in Houston, "The No. 1 priority for Republicans in the fall of 1980 is to unite to save our country from four more years of Jimmy Carter's weak, directionless, incompetent leadership."

Protesters preparing blockade

SEABROOK, N.H. (AP) — A depleted band of anti-nuclear protesters plotted an early morning blockade of the Seabrook nuclear power plant today, raising the possibility of a confrontation with construction workers.
Fewer than half of the protesters who began the demonstrations on Saturday remained at the site Monday night. But spokesmen for the organizer of the protest, the Coalition for Direct Action at Seabrook, said they planned a "mass presence and moving picket" today along U.S. 1 in front of the plant.
The first shift of the 2,500 workers at the partially completed plant was to report this morning after the three-day holiday weekend.
Gov. Hugh Gallen said state troopers and National Guardsmen stood ready for the fourth day of demonstrations, "and just as we kept Route 1 open, they will see that gate is kept open."
Construction workers, however, responded less calmly. Bernie Field of Byfield, Mass., said he and most of the workers were in no mood to tolerate a blockade.
He said talk among workers included comments such as, "If I was the lead truck, well, I'll have a bumpy ride going in, that's all."
The demonstrators had a rough three days as they tried in vain to breach the fence surrounding the $3.1 billion plant, the focal point for anti-nuclear activists throughout the country since its construction began in 1976. Their intent was to occupy the 120-acre site and halt construction.
Troopers and guardsmen repulsed them with riot clubs, tear gas, water hoses and dogs, and by Monday night had arrested at least 38. Most of the protesters arrested were charged with trespassing and disorderly conduct.

Another 24 were arrested Monday in a peaceful demonstration 50 miles to the west at the Manchester headquarters of Public Service Company of New Hampshire, builder of the plant.
One state trooper and at least 13 protesters were injured during the weekend, none seriously. The coalition said at least 60 protesters were treated for injuries.
By Monday night, only about 600 weary protesters remained from as many as 1,500 when they made their initial charge at the eight-foot-high chain link fence Saturday.

Prison fight ends in death
TRINITY, Texas (AP) — An apparent fight over a sweatshirt ended when a 31-year-old inmate was stabbed to death with a makeshift knife at the Eastham Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections, prison officials said.
"It appears the person who did it got a piece of scrap steel and had made a very crude homemade knife. The victim was stabbed in the chest and throat," TDC spokesman Rick Hartley said Monday.
David Polley, imprisoned since last June, was identified as the victim. He was serving three years on a forgery conviction from Shelby County.
Hartley said murder charges were being prepared against a 27-year-old inmate who was serving 25 years for burglary from Hale County. Hartley said the murder suspect had been in the prison since 1976.
He said the two men had fought over a sweatshirt before the attack occurred Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in this maximum security prison 13 miles west of Trinity.
Polley's body was taken to Harris County for an autopsy.

Security increased
Refugees escaping relocation centers

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Bill Clinton activated 65 National Guardsmen for additional security at a refugee relocation center here as police combed the Arkansas hills early today for some of the more than 300 Cubans who fled Fort Chaffee following an exuberant race through the base.

Bill McAda, spokesman for the Federal Emergency Management Agency, said almost 300 refugees had been rounded up and officials believed only a few stragglers were still at large.

Clinton said he alerted the state police and the National Guard after he learned of the incidents. He said later he decided to station Guardsmen at the base because of "totally inadequate" security.

Meanwhile, in Florida, an estimated 7 to 12 Cubans scaled a fence at Eglin Air Force Base in the third night of escapes at that refugee center, where six people were injured in a rock-throwing melee earlier in the week.

Six of the latest escapees were captured immediately.

Air Force officials called in U.S. marshals to help keep order.

Clinton said more guardsmen could be sent to the base near this city of 63,000 if security problems persisted.

The Fort Chaffee incident began when military police prepared to enact the nightly curfew. McAda said relatives who were at a Red Cross center near the front gate were asked to leave when "somebody shouted 'liberty'" and a large crowd of refugees began running along the main street of the camp, overturning barriers and shouting.

KNOW YOUR CARRIER

Robert Gilbert

It's a family affair. Subscribers on Route 175 know the Gilbert family. Robert Gilbert, a sixth grader at Goliod, delivers papers to customers on 400-700 Washington, and the 1300-1400 blocks of Birdwell, Virginia, Park, Mt. Vernon, and Princeton.

Robert's mother helps him deliver his route and his father is his trained substitute when he can't be there. If the Gilbert family is out of town, Robert's cousins, John Gilbert and Billy Thompson, make sure his route gets the same careful attention they give their own routes.

Robert is only eleven and has already proven himself as an outstanding businessman. Robert was chosen Carrier of the Month for January. He and his family have been running his carrier business since last August. They reside at 2007 Morrison.

Most parents of Herald carriers feel training teaches their children discipline, how to deal with people, and provides marvelous business experience. Newspaper route work puts their sons or daughters a step up on other youngsters...and starts them on the road to success.

Why not encourage your son or daughter to benefit from a similar opportunity. Call 263-7331 or stop by the Herald circulation department for a route application.

Pick the fuels electricity can be made from:

- coal
- natural gas
- oil
- uranium
- all of the above

"All of the above" is right. But these days two of those fuels — coal and uranium — cost less and are more plentiful than the others.

For many years we built plants to use natural gas and some oil to generate all our electricity. And we still have to use a lot of those fuels. But for over 10 years, we've been building plants that use lignite coal. Today, almost half of your electricity is made at lignite plants. And now, we're building a plant to make electricity with uranium.

That's good. Because at the end of this year our biggest contract for low-cost natural gas expires. The new gas and oil we'll have to buy will be much more expensive.

This means the cost of electricity will go up. But it won't be as high as it would have been if Texas Electric hadn't planned ahead. Our use of lignite coal and our planned use of uranium are ways we're helping minimize the increases in your electric bills.

By conserving, you can help save on your bills. To learn effective conservation measures, attend one of our free Operation Tighten-Up workshops. Call us for information on a workshop in your neighborhood.
