

BEST BEHAVED? — Thursday evening was a significant time in the lives of the 294 seniors at Big Spring High School who had qualified for diplomas. They massed together for the last time for graduation exercises in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, where they heard a speech made by State Representative-Elect Larry Don Shaw.

The ceremony attracted an unusually large crowd of well wishers and school officials heaped praise on the class for its demeanor. Assistant Supt. Harold Bentley said this was one of the best behaved groups to sit through a ceremony in years.

House rejects '81 'defense' budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, sending contradictory signals on higher military spending, has rejected a $133.3 billion, defense-oriented 1981 budget while endorsing a record peacetime increase for the Pentagon.

The House action Thursday night instructs House-Senate negotiators to prepare a second budget compromise, but tells them to keep the controversial defense figure that President Carter and House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. opposed.

"I've got two mandates and one headache," complained Rep. Robert N. Giambo, D-Conn., House Budget Committee chairman, as he prepared to take the proposed balanced budget back to conference with the Senate next week.

Earlier Thursday, Carter and O'Neill appeared to have prevailed in their opposition to the budget's $153.7 billion defense figure as the compromise spending plan was voted down, 242-141.

But as the night wore on and many Democrats headed for home, Republicans succeeded in forcing approval of instructions to the negotiators to stick by the $153.7 billion defense amount for fiscal 1981, which starts Oct. 1.

The non-binding instructions were approved on voice vote after the Democratic leadership failed, 165-123, to table — or kill — the GOP motion and then lost, 145-141, an effort to adjourn the House before a final vote.

in the defeat of the budget package they opposed because of its proposed cuts in domestic spending to pay for higher defense.

The instructions, proposed by Rep. Delbert Latta, R-Ohio, also should strengthen the hand of Senate negotiators who have vowed to fight to keep the $153.7 billion defense figure, which is $3.2 billion more than Carter requested.

Giambo said rejection of the budget raised doubt about the future of the 6-year-old congressional budget process and its attempt to bring federal spending under control.

"If the liberals are upset with the budget for one reason and the conservatives for another, then God help the American people," he declared.

After rejection of the budget, Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., Senate Budget Committee chairman, blamed Carter for its defeat and said a revised compromise could "short-change our critical defense needs."

Congress they needed more defense money, not less, than was included in the compromise.

The Democratic split left the fate of the first proposed balanced budget in 12 years largely in the hands of Republicans. But GOP members remained deeply divided over whether to support the spending plan.

House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., said he was voting for the budget "reluctantly" because a new House-Senate conference would likely end up cutting defense.

However, Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., opposed the budget, saying it was "going back to Herbert Hoover" by trying to balance the federal budget by relying on increased tax revenue in the face of an economic downturn.

Absentee voting increases to three

Absentee voting today shows an increase of one over Thursday's total of two.

A total of 67 ballots have been mailed out. Of the mail-out ballots, 64 are federal post card applications from servicemen.

Servicemen living in the election area may request the service. They receive absentee ballots for any election in any election year.

East meets West for agricultural knowledge

By STEVE HERSHBERGER

Yang Lipu came to Big Spring Thursday as a member of a delegation from the People's Republic of China to discover possible methods of preventing soil erosion.

Fryrear told the Chinese that crop strips and shelter belts are ineffective in this area. These conservation modes, he said, compete with the cash crop.

Yang said after Fryrear's talk that shelter belts are used predominantly in the semi-arid lands of China. Dr. Bilbro spoke of experiments alternating planted rows.

Increase yields have resulted from using burrs, Bilbro said. In a study, a 50 percent increase resulted after the third year, a 109 percent increase after the fourth year and a 141 percent increase after the fifth year.

Fryrear and Bilbro also gave the Chinese agricultural specialists a tour of farm implements that are singular to this part of the country.

The Chinese saw a bedder, which is used after harvesting. The bedder throws up ridges and furrows. The furrows are designed to prevent erosion and to hold water.

Geographic, said the delegation visited the Hopi and Navajo Indians to learn of arid land farming.

"They even took part in the planting of Indian corn," Rogers said. Yang said the purpose of the tour was to study American methods of farming in arid lands China.

Yang, associate research fellow at Xinjiang Geographical Institute, Academia Sinica; Cheng Daoyuan, research assistant working on Saline Water Conversion and Soil Chemical Analysis at Institute of Desert Research; Zhu Zhenda, professor and head of the scientific committee, Institute of Desert Research; Li Zhixian, interpreter of ministry of Geology; Huang Zhaohua, professor at Northwestern Agricultural College; Xia Shuncheng, research assistant at the Xinjiang Institute of Biology; Zhao Songqiao, head of the Department of Desert Research at the Institute of Geography; and Wei Chuanying, leading member of the 5th Bureau, Academia Sinica.

Small towns reversing trend

Rural Texas seeing population grow

Rural Texas is experiencing population growth, as people move from urban areas to the smaller towns, Roberta Johnson, District 6 Extension Agent said Thursday at the Texas Agricultural Extension Media Day in Fort Stockton.

white, well-educated people. These demographic factors will characterize the future small town with lower birth rates, rising energy costs, an older citizenry and a demand for finite resources.

These areas include economics, social conditions, energy, marketing and policy, land and water resources and leadership development. "Urban problems have to be addressed by the Extension Service," Siegmund said. "Lifestyles are different."

Siegmund said the extension service will be working to educate the public about wise use of energy and the consumer about economy in meeting his required needs.

Weather Panhandle expected to get severe weather

By the Associated Press

Funnel clouds moved across North Central Texas along the Red River early today as a thunderstorm system moved eastward out of the Texas Panhandle.

Several funnels were sighted around Electra, Iowa Park and Wichita Falls a few hours after a tornado touched down at Wellington in the Texas Panhandle, damaging some homes, tearing up some trees and knocking down some utility lines.

No injuries were reported at Wellington, a town of 3,200. The storm struck about 6 p.m. The sightings in North Central Texas came about 6 hours later.

Wellington was without electricity and telephone service early today, authorities said. Wellington was the third Panhandle town to be struck by a tornado in less than 24 hours. Earlier twisters struck at Tulia and Allison.

Wichita Falls had high winds and heavy rain as the storm passed. There were some reports of brief street flooding. The city got 1.95 inches of rain in a brief period of time.

Forecasts called for more scattered mostly afternoon and evening thunderstorms in West Texas and along the Red River into North Central Texas. Forecasters are warning that some of the activity in eastern sections of the Panhandle may be severe.

Scattered showers were forecast for South Texas. The entire state was to have continued warm, humid weather. Highs were to be mostly in the 90s with extremes ranging from the middle 80s in the Panhandle to near 108 in the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas.

Most of the state had cloudy skies before dawn today. Skies over West Texas, however, were mostly clear. Some fog developed along the lower Texas coast.

Panhandle and extreme southwest to mid 70s extreme south.

EXTENDED

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy with widely scattered mainly afternoon and evening thunderstorms through the early part of next week. Continued very warm afternoons. Highs in the 80s in the north to the 90s in the south and near 108 in the Big Bend valleys. Lows in the 50s in the north to the 70s in the extreme south.

Americans warned to stay out of Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The U.S. Embassy warned Americans to stay out of Kwangju, where South Korean troops crushed an anti-government uprising earlier this week. But the flames of rebellion continued to flicker in the nearby port city of Mokpo.

"We don't think it's a good idea to be in there (Kwangju) just yet," even though conditions have improved, a U.S. Embassy spokesman in Seoul said Thursday. He also asked all Americans in South Korea to register with the embassy by phone, mail or in person.

"We discovered during the Kwangju situation that there were more Americans (in South Korea) than we thought. It must be in the thousands, exclusive of military personnel," said the spokesman, who declined to be identified.

Travelers from Mokpo, a southern port city of 200,000 about 44 miles southwest of Kwangju, reported sporadic demonstrations in the port city Thursday, protesting the martial law rule extended over South Korea by the nation's military-led government.

No violence was reported in Mokpo, despite the presence of South Korean army units. But eyewitness reports were sketchy because telephone lines were cut and martial law authorities barred traffic to and from the city.

Feeling Guilty? Many people do. Reasons range from broken homes to unbroken habits. Whatever the cause, it's an ugly feeling. Guilt is both the fact of having done wrong and the feeling of blame for doing it. It's worst when the way you live leaves you empty, frustrated, and filled with regret. But there is a solution. Face the fact and remember God forgives. Then let Him! Before this ad was placed we started praying for you because we care. Give us a chance to share.

Houston police squabble Administration vs. union

HOUSTON (AP) — Police Chief B.K. Johnson — enraged by an article in the Houston Police Patrolman's Union newsletter — says he will fight the group "down to the last tooth and nail."

He characterized as "trash" the article, which was critical of Houston Police Department policies.

"I don't think there's any place in law enforcement for a union," Johnson said Thursday after the article, entitled "How to Defeat a Bad Policy," appeared in the newsletter.

"If that's the kind of trash they're going to put out, you better believe I'm gonna fight them down to the last tooth and nail," he said.

The story said "ill-conceived and ill-advised" departmental policies were fostered by administrators' failure to listen to patrolmen. ... To do so would require them (administrators) to admit they are not all knowing."

Union president Bob Thomas said parts of the story were "written horribly," but stood by the contents of the unsigned article.

Thomas, whose union is battling the Houston Police Officers Association to represent Houston police, said Johnson's statements show that there is an effort by the HPOA and administrators to destroy the union.

"The administration wants to control the employees," Thomas said. "They're opposed to us because they know they're not gonna control us."

The article advised officers not to reduce response time by violating the response code policy and to tie up more units by calling for a backup unit in situations where one would not normally be needed.

Thomas said the union was not advocating a work slowdown, but that the article was intended to show how officers who violate "poor and ridiculous" policies by trying to do a good job are subject to disciplinary action.

He also charged that HPOA members are trying to derail a pay raise referendum that would give police officers parity with firefighters.

Dave Collier, HPOA president, called the charges "absolutely absurd," adding that the HPOA had been working toward a referendum since last October.

Halfway House board to meet

The board of directors of the Big Spring Halfway House will hold a 4 p.m. meeting Tuesday, June 3, at the Halfway House, located at 901 W. Third St.

Approval for the payment of old debts will be given during the meeting. The board also will consider persons for appointment to the board. The board is short three members at the present time.

A financial report will be given by Polly Mays, a member of the directorate. Halfway House executive director also will offer a client report.

Among old business, the trustees will review the building lease agreement.

Oscar's last wager

OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP) — For more than 50 years, Oscar Roy Post played the horses at Monmouth Park racetrack, most of the time with uneven results — if measured in dollars won.

But the New Yorker, who died Feb. 9, viewed it differently. Monmouth was kind of a second home. And so Thursday, Oscar Roy Post, 71, came home for good as he wished.

One of his last two requests was that his ashes be scattered across the track, which his son Leroy did Thursday before post time.

The other showed Oscar was a horse player to the end — and beyond.

Still following instructions, Leroy placed a pair of $20 bets on his father's favorite daily double numbers.

But Dame Fortune apparently wasn't amused or sympathetic.

The horses finished third and last.

Musical hair lover?

NEW YORK (AP) — How much do you love music? A West Coast music lover is so enamored of Franz Schubert that he paid $650 for a lock of brown hair cut from the head of the Austrian composer at his death in 1828.

Charles Hamilton, of the Charles Hamilton gallery, said the lock consisted of about 50 strands preserved in plastic.

Before the bidding Thursday night at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, the lock was described as a "somewhat macabre relic of the great classical composer, quite probably the only lock of his hair surviving today."

Hamilton said the item was sold by West German collector who apparently came upon it through Schubert's biographer, Otto Erich Deutsch, who authenticated the origin of the lock.

Schubert died at age 31 and the lock was cut by a close friend, Hamilton said.

Search crews to be stopped soon

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — As the search for Mount St. Helens nears an end, the Cowlitz County coroner will begin issuing "presumptive" death certificates for the 55 persons still missing after the mid-May eruption.

Coroner D.F. Winebremer said Thursday the death certificates will be for those persons proved to be near the volcano when it exploded May 18. Under state law, a coroner can issue a certificate if a body is not recovered and if the official is convinced the missing person has died.

Emergency officials called off the air search Thursday and said an air-supported ground search would continue only for a few days.

Chances of finding any of the missing persons alive were "nil," officials said.

"They (helicopters) have recrossed, regridged and reflown for literally thousands and thousands of miles," said Lewis County Sheriff William Wiester.

"We're not writing off any of the 60-odd people that are still missing," said Wiester, but the chances of finding anyone else alive are nil.

"It is senseless to jeopardize the lives of the military search and rescue personnel," said Wiester.

The death toll rose to 22 after a Mount Angel, Ore., man died in a Portland hospital from burns he suffered in the mountain's eruption. He was identified as Leonty Skorohodoff, a Russian immigrant who was part of a tree-thinning crew working near the mountain.

The mountain itself has been outwardly calm since an ash eruption Sunday. But inside the mile-deep crater, the volcano may have started pushing up a "dome" that could rebuild the summit, scientists said.

The appearance of the dome could signal a "new phase" in the volcano's eruption and an end to the heavy ash falls that have affected parts of eastern Washington, northern Idaho and western Montana.

A radar picture of the crater made by the Oregon National Guard "suggests that a small edifice is being built on the crater floor," said Don Finley, a spokesman for the U.S. Geological Survey.

"The radar can't tell what it is — but it's very suggestive that it might be a lava dome," said USGS scientist Tim Hait.

A volcanic dome is a thick plug of magma pushed up from below. Mount St. Helens was dotted with domes from earlier eruptions before its eruption May 18.

Scientists wearing infrared goggles and flying in a U.S. Forest Service plane over the volcano early Thursday saw two "bright spots" in the crater.

As a freshman I was too scared of flunking to think about what my parents had done to make college possible. As a sophomore trying to decide my major, I was too busy for gratitude. As a junior cramming for mid-years — there wasn't time for sentimental thoughts...

But with my senior year coming to its thrilling climax — there's nothing I want to say more than THANKS DAD. THANKS MOM.

Then during our baccalaureate service an awesome thought gripped me. Not only have my parents given me my education... they have given me my faith as well.

My quest for a college degree began in nursery school and kindergarten. It was just about that time when these same wonderful parents brought me to what would soon become OUR CHURCH.

My quest for a strong, sure faith began where it does so often — in the BEGINNER'S Department.

Rabies no longer border problem only

Animal rabies — at its highest point in 27 years — will threaten the lives of Texans until local governments get tough about controlling animals, state health officials say.

Not since 1953, when local mass immunization clinics had to be established along the Mexican border to cope with rabies carried by dogs, has the situation been so bad.

Dr. Jerome Greenberg of the State Health Department told a House subcommittee Thursday 1,195 cases of animal rabies were confirmed in Texas last year, twice as many as in 1978 and 25 percent of the total number of cases in the United States.

Health department figures submitted to the subcommittee on rabies showed that of the 1,195 animal rabies cases, 857 — or 72 percent — involved skunks.

William Brownlee, a wildlife management expert with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, suggested the upsurge in rabies among skunks may be linked to an increase in the price of coonskins.

He said trappers killed 500,000 raccoons last year as the price of a single pelt went as high as $45 in late December and January. He said skunks and raccoons have similar diets, and when trapping reduces the population of raccoons, skunks "tend to fill the vacuum."

Dr. Foy McCasland, chief of the Bureau of Veterinary Public Health, suggested the Legislature set up a $100,000 fund to lend money to small communities to build animal shelters.

Greenberg said, "Rabies is important not because of the number of cases in man, but because it is almost invariably fatal. In the past three years, there have been only three cases identified in Texas — all fatal."

"Rabies diagnosis and control cost the state at least $528,000 in 1979," Greenberg said. "Had all of the biting (domestic) animals been vaccinated against rabies, that is the amount of money which would have been saved. The better our rabies control program at the community level, the more money will be saved and the fewer children and adults who will need painful rabies injections."

"Until local governments decide they want animal control, we're not going to have much rabies control," said McCasland.

After glancing at county-by-county statistics, Uribe said, "I always thought rabies was a border problem. It's mind-boggling to see it is a statewide problem."

'Windfall profits' tax discourages oil hunts

Taxes and controls are mitigating against incentive for development of additional domestic petroleum supplies, a Midland independent oilman told the downtown Lions Club Wednesday.

Jerry Graham, head of

(AP LASERPHOTO)

Colorio, Inc., an oil and gas producer, said the "windfall profits" tax was in reality an excise on liquid hydrocarbon production. As such, he said, it reduced margins and discouraged exploration for additional reserves.

Moreover, he saw in the Department of Energy a burgeoning bureaucracy with operates on a $12.3 billion budget. This, and other bureaus, he said, induced tremendous amounts of paper work which contributed nothing in the way of production.

What if all controls were removed and the domestic oil commanded the same price as the world spot market? Graham thought gasoline "might go up a little, would level off and then maybe come down a bit." As it is, he said, the United States is dependent upon the whim of OPEC nations, particularly Saudi Arabia, "and if we show a few more 'Death of a Princess' films, no telling what they might do."

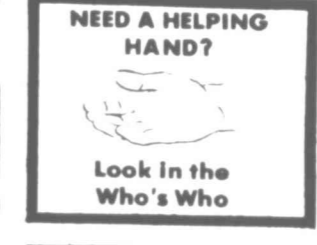

Two new members were inducted into the club, Richard Johnson and Doug Morris. Program chairman was Cleo Carlisle.

Collections in Halfway House campaign totals $13,993

Collections in the drive to keep Big Spring's Halfway House open totaled $13,993.67, according to Polly Mays, one of the facility's directors and a driving force behind the move to salvage the operation.

The total included a $32.04 gift from the Mount Bethel Baptist Church, which had not previously been reported.

The success of the campaign insures the fact that the Halfway House will continue to serve the Big Spring area.

DR. LLOYD HUGHES

Retiring Methodist leader to speak

Dr. Lloyd Hughes, retiring Big Spring District Superintendent of United Methodist Churches, will preach two services Sunday, June 1, 8:30 a.m. and 10:50 a.m.

VBS begins at 14 and Main

The 14th & Main Church of Christ will hold Vacation Bible School beginning Monday, June 2, and continuing through Friday from 9:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

Teachers for this year's school are Big Spring High School students who will be traveling to Montana in July for a mission trip. The teachers have been preparing for two months.

The Bible School will have puppet shows, games, and refreshments along with Bible lessons. Awards will be given to all who bring visitors Monday through Friday. The school is for nursery age through Junior High.

"All the children in Big Spring are invited to attend and transportation can be secured by calling 263-1303," said Doug Morris, V.B.S. Director.

pointment to Big Spring, Dr. Hughes was the pastor of First United Methodist Church of Clovis, New Mexico and had served prior to this appointment as a District Superintendent in the New Mexico Conference.

Dr. and Mrs. Hughes have three children: Robert Hughes and Carolyn Hughes of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Barbara Hughes of Washington, D.C. The Hughes will make their home in Cedar Crest, a small community near Albuquerque, New Mexico.

'Hallelujah Hands' presents concert

The deaf choir from the First Baptist Church in Midland will present a special program at College Baptist Church Sunday at 7 p.m. The "Hallelujah Hands Choir," a fifteen member deaf choir, was organized in 1978 and is directed by Raymond Painter.

Members of the deaf choir represent a diversity of occupations: a mechanic, draftsman, high school counselor, home-bound teacher, bank clerk, draperies, secretary, and a number of retired persons comprise the choir. Although

Mexican Baptist Convention set

More than 1,000 Hispanics are expected to attend the 70th annual Mexican Baptist Convention, June 23-25, at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

"Since 1960 the Mexican Baptist Convention has been an integral part of the Baptist General Convention of Texas (BGCT), but has continued the annual Mexican Baptist meeting for fellowship and promotion of denominational programs and materials," said Leobardo Estrada, coordinator of the Language Missions Section of the BGCT.

The theme of the three-day meeting will be "I...A Missionary" and will feature several speakers including Carlos McLeod, Omar Pachecano, Manuel Rodriguez, Jimmy Allen, Michael Gonzales, Charles Lee Williamson and Roberto Garcia.

Monday evening, McLeod, Texas Baptist president and pastor of First Baptist Church, Plainview, will bring a missionary challenge about "Mission to Brazil," a project in which Texas Baptists are helping Brazilian Baptists gain a million members by their Centennial in 1982.

McLeod will be followed by Omar H. Pachecano, president of the Mexican Baptist Convention and associate director of missions in the El Paso area.

The annual sermon will be delivered Tuesday evening by Manuel Rodriguez, pastor of South San Antonio Mexican Church, San Antonio. The missionary challenge will be delivered by Jimmy Allen, president of the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission in Fort Worth.

Wednesday participants will hear from Michael Gonzales, foreign missionary to Spain, and Charles Lee Williamson, director of Texas Baptist Missions Division. Roberto Garcia, associate in the Texas Baptist Church Extension Section, will deliver the closing address.

Film exposes cult

A movie depicting the true story of ex-Rev. Moon follower Chris Elkins will be shown at 6 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church.

The movie deals with Elkins, a successful, active follower of Jesus, becoming involved through a series of intriguing events with the Unification Church, which is headed by the Rev. Sun Myung Moon.

Elkins rose quickly in the church to a position close to the top leadership. It was at this point where Elkins discovered the truth about the Unification Church, its goals and methods of operation.

The film was produced by Evangelical Films and took over a year to make.

Trinity hosts VBS

Daily Vacation Bible School will be held June 2-6 at Trinity Baptist Church, 810 11th Place.

The workers will be teaching about "God's Strange Preachers" the lamb, donkey, rooster, lion and ant for exciting and scriptural Bible study. Workbooks and handcraft will be used.

There will be contests, awards and a departmental attendance plaque. The offering will go for missions.

Monday morning the children will assemble in front of the auditorium at 8:30 a.m., then go to classes to register. Tuesday through Friday they will go directly to departments from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Refreshments will be served each day, and buses will be running. Those needing the bus service may call 267-6344. Ages to be taught are toddlers through teens.

Churches taking mission seriously

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Religion is changing its image, according to the presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church.

Bishop John Allin, speaking at El Paso this week, said churches don't want to be thought of as clubs, and church people are worrying less about internal disagreements. He said congregations are thinking more about what can be done for mankind.

Congregations have paid too much attention to creating buildings for themselves, he said during a sermon. "It seems Christians are always dragging a building along."

We spend so much on church buildings, he added. "And it's hard to get people out of them."

During an interview, he said, "We are taking the mission of the church more seriously and ourselves less seriously, and I think that's a good sign."

Allin, the highest ranking Episcopalian in the United States, spent the weekend in this West Texas border city.

Allin said most Episcopal dioceses have voted to join a program and fund drive called Venture in Mission.

Projects, he said, include aiding the elderly, recruiting minority clergy, helping rehabilitate prisoners, food programs, family programs and building and teaching projects in Third World countries.

He said the move represents a renewed spirit among church lay people to get on with an aggressive effort to help others.

"We've got to keep trying to help people who are in desperate need," says Allin.

Plans made for teams

An organizational meeting for volleyball league for church women will be held June 2 at 7 p.m. at Hillcrest

Baptist. All managers and coaches are urged to attend. For further information call 267-5464.

Annual women's party held at Salem Church

The annual Friendship Party sponsored by the Women's Missionary Union of the Salem Baptist Church was held May 16 at the Salem Baptist Church.

Several of the 44 ladies in attendance were over 80 years of age. Stella Walker, 92, and Mrs. W.F. Heckler, 92, were in attendance.

Out-of-state guests included Fannie Bezona, New York, and Mrs. Leighton McQuerry, Illinois.

The program consisted of the singing of favorite hymns, devotional and special music. Hymns were led by Mrs. Ronnie Woods. The devotional was given by Mrs. A.L. Gatewood. Special music was presented by Mrs. Womer Robinson, Mrs. Stella Brooks and Mrs. Lewis McKee.

The song "Precious Memories" was dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Charlie Wolf.

Following the program the group gathered in the church annex for refreshments and fellowship.

Hillcrest starts vacation Bible

Vacation Bible School has been set for June 2-6 at Hillcrest Baptist Church. The school begins at 8:30-11:30. A time of study of God's Word, recreation, and refreshments await you. Friday will close the school with a picnic at Comanche Trail Park. If you need information or a ride just call 263-7127.

Student ceramic sessions slated

Boys and girls completing grades 5 and 6 in the Big Spring Independent School District have the opportunity of participating in a summer ceramics session at Runnels Junior High School.

Enrollment is limited in this tuition-based session, and is on a first-come, first-served basis.

Students may choose to attend one of two sessions. Dates are as follow: Session I — June 9, 11, 13, 17, 19, and 23; Session II — June 10, 12, 16, 18, 20, and 23.

Students from both sessions will attend on June 23.

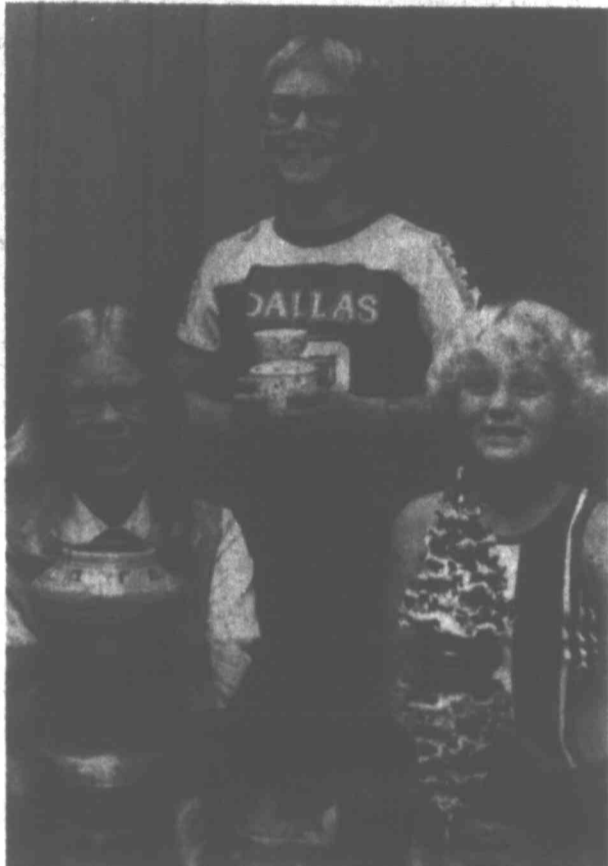

Mrs. Darlene Archer will teach these sessions at Runnels Junior High, first floor, from 1-3 p.m. Projects to be completed include electric Christmas trees, coffee mugs, flower pots, desk pencil holders, and miscellaneous small animals.

Students will experiment with pouring molds, glazing, firing, bisque staining, etc. Tuition is $32.50.

Parents of interested students should send a $15 deposit (check made payable to Big Spring ISD) with child's name, address, telephone number, and session preference to Big Spring ISD, Box 590, Big Spring, Texas.

The balance for the course is due the first day of the session. Due to the limited number of students served in this session, interested students and parents are urged to send in registration information and deposits as soon as possible.

SUMMER CERAMICS — Area fifth and sixth graders will have the opportunity to participate in a summer ceramics session at Runnels. Items to be made, including a flower pot, pencil holder and Christmas tree are being shown by Victoria Logan, Cody Sheppard, and Kirsten Wilkens.

Cookware presented to Michelle Hecker

Michelle Hecker, bride-elect of Billy Joe Darden, was honored recently with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Billy Spears, north of Coahoma.

Yellow and white carnation corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Bob Hecker and grandmother, Mrs. Hobson, Sweetwater. The groom's mother, Mrs. Billy Jack Darden and his grandmothers, Mrs. J.F. Bobo and Mrs. Jack Darden also received corsages.

The hostess served appetizers from an oak table centered with an arrangement of spring flowers in the bride's chosen colors, yellow and white. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The hostess gift to the bride-elect was a set of stainless steel cookware, an electric ice-cream freezer and an electric knife.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Del Roy Buchanan, Mrs. Dwayne Clawson, Mrs. Guy White Jr., Mrs. E.A. Richters, Mrs. Rob Ethridge, Mrs. A.V. Lewis, Mrs. Price Morris, Mrs. O.D. O'Daniel, Mrs. Bill Milliken, Mrs. Tommy Wyrick, Mrs. Bill Fishback, Mrs. Monroe Teeters and Mrs. Richard Souter.

The couple will wed June 28.

Rosebud Garden Club helps finance projects

Rosebud Garden Club luncheon meeting was held at Alberto's Crystal Cafe Tuesday. Hostesses were Mrs. W.H. Christensen and Mrs. J.F. Sanders.

Mrs. Neil Spencer installed new officers, including Mrs. O.S. Womack, president; Mrs. H.B. Beck, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Hart, secretary; Mrs. G.P. Morrison, treasurer; and Mrs. Tommy Hubbard, parliamentarian.

Members of the club presented a mini rose bush to Mrs. Hubbard, the outgoing president.

Members also gave a plant to Mrs. Morrison in memory of her sister.

Mrs. Womack reported that the Rosebud Club had helped finance the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs, civic beautification projects. Included were Pfister Juniper shrubs in downtown planters, roses and golden ash trees in Comanche Trail Park.

Rosebud members will help merchants keep planters clean downtown and are asking cooperation from local people.

Next meeting will be Sept. 23.

Dear Abby

20,000 Americans to GI'S: "We Think of You"

DEAR ABBY: A great big thank-you from all the soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines in the U.S. Forces in Korea! You have helped to relieve the loneliness of over 20,000 military personnel stationed in Korea by providing them with a glimpse of home through a stranger's eyes.

It all began when a soldier named Allen wrote to you about the depression many GI's feel as they walk away from mail call empty-handed.

You ran his letter asking your readers to write to those forgotten kids half a world away, and you gave the address: Commanding General; Eighth Army; Seoul, Korea; APO, San Francisco, Calif. 96301.

Letters came in by the thousands, cutting a broad swath through America's heartland. Envelopes bearing postmarks from Canada, Puerto Rico and each of the 50 states came in by the bundles!

There were letters from children. One boy sent his week's allowance ($1) so that a serviceman would be able to buy stamps.

Another youngster sent a letter and enclosed five rare and valuable 3-cent stamps. Obviously someone in his household was a stamp collector. (We returned the stamps.)

There were letters from mothers and grandmothers, opening with "Hello, Son"! They told of their experiences in wars of a different era; some told of their relief when their sons came back from Vietnam — or of their emptiness when no one returned to them.

Many letters carried news from home. They wanted to make sure we knew that the U.S. hockey team had beaten the Russians. They were proud of their country, and proud of us for serving in the military.

School children wrote to express their feelings of loneliness, fear, doubt and hurt — feelings they couldn't share with their parents or friends. But somehow they felt a serviceman would understand.

What a morale-booster those letters were! What happy excitement you created here.

So, Dear Abby, we send our thanks to you and all those generous American people who wrote. Thanks, on behalf of every serviceman who has ever been lonely. Sincerely,

THE U.S. FORCES IN KOREA

DEAR U.S. FORCES: God bless each and every one of you in every corner of the world, working to defend our great country.

DEAR ABBY: I have a job I really like. It pays well, and my boss (whom I'll call Mr. R.) is the greatest. During the daytime he never makes a move toward me, but when I work evenings he gets a little too friendly. Mr. R. is married and I'm not, but I do have a boyfriend. And even if I didn't have one, I wouldn't be interested in Mr. R. because he's old enough to be my father.

Last night while working late, he turned on the stereo and asked me to teach him how to disco. I told him I had a sore toe (not true). Then he said I didn't have to worry about his wife walking in on us because she lives in the suburbs and doesn't drive.

Can you give me a few suggestions on how to keep Mr. R. in his place? I don't want to hurt him — just discourage him.

WORKING GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Tell him you like your job and don't mind working nights, but your boyfriend holds a black belt in karate, doesn't live in the suburbs — and he does drive.

DEAR ABBY: Every year I make a donation to the American Cancer Society in honor of my father. No, he did not die of cancer. He had cancer, but recovered after undergoing surgery and treatment.

If more people would celebrate their loved ones' recoveries in this manner, even more lives might be saved in the future.

THANKFUL

CONFIDENTIAL to those who have sent for Abby's booklets: Please, please be patient. I am literally deluged with orders and am getting them out as quickly as possible.

Hopeful Cinderellas must enter by June 2

Entry deadline for the District II Cinderella Girl Pageant has been set for June 2. No contestants will be accepted after that date.

Scheduled to take place June 6-7, pageant competition between girls ages 3 through 17 will be conducted at the Howard College Auditorium.

Competitive age groups include Cinderella Tot, 3-6; Cinderella Miniature Miss, 7-9; Cinderella Miss, 10-12; and Cinderella Teen, 13-17.

Preliminaries for Cinderella Tot and Cinderella Miniature Miss will begin at 6 p.m. June 6. All other preliminaries will begin at 9 a.m. June 7. The final staging will be held at 7 p.m. June 7.

Crowns, trophies and banners will be awarded to winners of each division. Their entry fee will be paid for the Cinderella Girl State Pageant to be held in Denton.

State winners will advance to the International Finals in Baton Rouge, La. International winners will receive $1,000 college scholarships and $500 personal appearance contract.

Crown and talent winners of previous 1980 Cinderella Girl Pageants are not eligible to enter the district pageant.

A girl wishing to enter the District Cinderella Pageant holding a title from another pageant must submit a letter along with her entry forfeiting her crown in order to be eligible to enter the district competition.

The Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association, a scholarship organization, is sponsoring the event.

For more information contact Nelda Colclazer at 263-6177 after 5:30 p.m. or Gail Earls, 263-1330.

No. 12 Highland Center

Deputy president will visit lodge 153 June 10

The members of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 met at the I.O.O.F. Hall on W. Highway 80. Thirteen members were present. Pauline S. Petty was the presiding officer.

LaVerne Rogers, recording secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. They were approved and accepted.

Sick members and ten visits to the sick were reported.

Juanita Hamlin, lodge deputy, gave a tape recording of the speech by Betty Medford, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas.

A memorial service for deceased members of the past year was conducted by Mrs. Lavelle Hill. She was assisted by Mary Leek and Odelle LaLonde.

The members voted to have Marion Savell, district deputy president of District II, make her official visit on June 10.

Friendship Night will be held at Big Spring Lodge No. 284 Saturday.

Twelve dozen cookies, donated by the members of the lodge, will be delivered to the Big Spring State Hospital by Mrs. LaLonde.

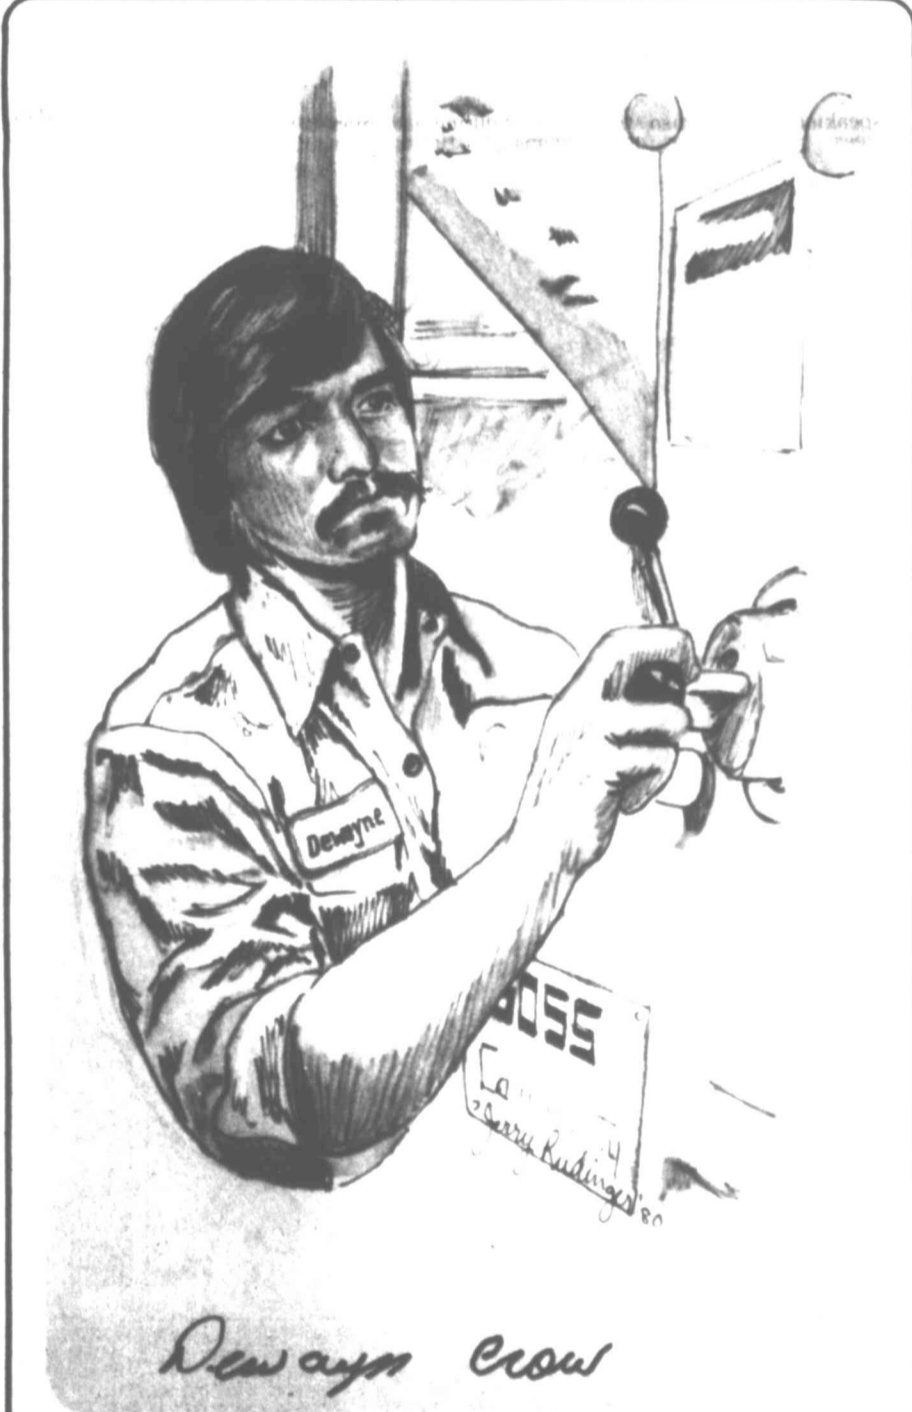

A vote of thanks was given to Charles Leek for mowing the yard at the lodge grounds.

Writer's Guild will honor Mrs. Johansen

The Abilene Writers' Guild is honoring Mrs. J.O. (Elizabeth) Johansen Saturday upon the publication of her two new Bible workbooks, The Old Covenant and The New Covenant. A reception will be held from 2-4 p.m. in the United Savings Building and North 12th and Mockingbird Streets in Abilene.

Mrs. Johansen teaches the Bible class at Big Spring High School.

Mrs. Olen Puckett, 1207 Runnels, and Nan Howard, 407 1/2 Johnson, will be attending the reception.

Pressroom foreman Dewayn Crow recently scored a hole-in-one while golfing at the Comanche Trail Golf Course. He has been scoring "holes-in-one" for the Herald for four and a half years.

Dewayn supervises four employees and is responsible for production in the camera room and press rooms. Dewayn oversees the printing of four weekly newspapers and a number of area school papers, in addition to the daily Herald.

He is also in charge of the Herald's Fast Print Shop.

Dewayn is a 1976 graduate of Big Spring High School. At BSHS, Dewayn participated in football and track. He was active in general mechanics class, winning numerous awards at district contests in small engine repair.

He came to the Herald after graduation, working as a pressman. A year ago, Dewayn was promoted to his present position. He hopes to someday earn a job as production manager.

Dewayn is married and his wife, Robbi, is the Herald's Family News editor. Dewayn and Robbi have one child, a daughter age 2 named Shannon. The Crows are members of Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Dewayn's hobbies are motorcycles, renovating old cars, fishing and playing golf.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to make plans that could make your fondest dreams come true. Look over your surroundings and make plans for improvement. Avoid persons with muddled thinking.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You should take time to formulate a plan that could give you added abundance in the future. Avoid one who is a penny pincher.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Work out a better system and schedule for handling finances in the future and get excellent results. Be kind to others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) After handling routine chores, take part in civic affairs that can benefit you and others. Avoid crowds tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A good time to handle those tasks you have put aside all week and get them done efficiently. Express happiness.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be more cooperative with neighbors and gain their goodwill. Expressing a special talent you have is easy now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find out what family members want you to do and then please them in the evening. The evening is fine for entertainment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Study how you want your relationship with associates to be in the future and put new ideas to work. Keep busy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care of a financial problem in the morning and you will be free of worry by evening. Be more thoughtful of close ties.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Think out those difficult decisions in the morning and then carry through in a positive fashion. Be logical.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Follow through with a plan you have in mind so that you can gain your fondest aims. Show that you have poise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Morning is fine for gaining the assistance of your good friends for a project you have in mind. Sidelstep a foe.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Concentrate on handling a civic affair well during the day and reserve the evening for having a good time with congenials.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young persons who will find it easier to get a good education than others. One who loves people and will go out of the way to help them. Be sure to teach how to handle money properly.

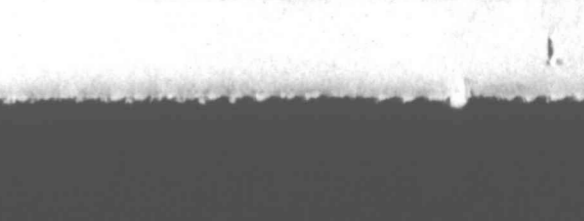

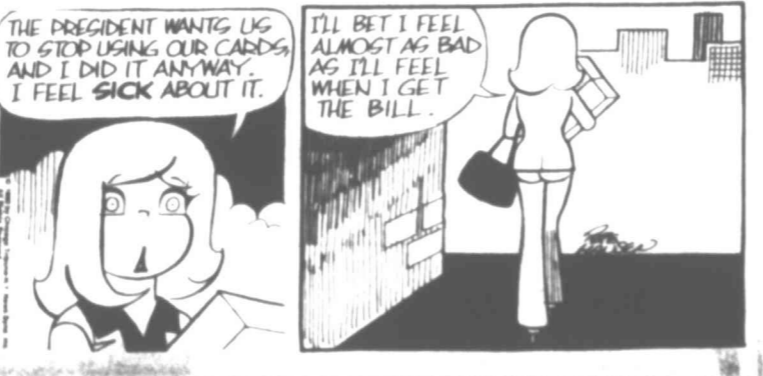

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Resistance move needed

NEW YORK (AP) — Disarmament advocate Alva Myrdal has called for "a resistance movement...against the war propaganda," after becoming the first recipient of the Albert Einstein Peace Prize.

The longtime Swedish delegate to the Geneva Disarmament Conference and the United Nations, Mrs. Myrdal, 78, received the $50,000 award Thursday from Paul Warnke, chief U.S. negotiator to the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks.

At a reception at the Pierre Hotel, Mrs. Myrdal said, "A frightening fact is that there are still in 1980 people who believe...that wars can be won. No, a war of today with our technology for 'megamurder' has no winners," she said. "It is only a competition as to who can bring about the most monstrous destruction."

She proposed an international commission to give "the more or less trigger-happy leaders of the war machines pertinent advice."

"We should realize by now that in order to serve peace, there must be negotiations before fateful steps are taken toward war-fighting."

The award foundation was established last year on the 100th anniversary of Einstein's birth to recognize the efforts of individuals who contribute to avoiding nuclear war.

A singer who can't sing

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Ol' Blue Eyes is speechless.

Laryngitis has forced Frank Sinatra to cancel five weekend shows at the Resorts International Hotel Casino.

The veteran entertainer was scheduled to appear at the Boardwalk hotel Friday through Sunday as part of a long-term contract, casino officials said Thursday.

Sinatra will return here Aug. 25.

Shooting mystery solved?

NEW YORK (AP) — The guessing game over who shot that ornery oilman J.R. Ewing, villain-hero of the "Dallas" television series, probably will continue until the first show of the fall series is broadcast. Meanwhile, the New York Post is saying the triggerman was Dusty, boyfriend of J.R.'s wife Sue Ellen.

Well, as faithful viewers will recall, Dusty is dead, or at least he appeared to die in a plane crash. But the Post reported Thursday that the cowboy, played by Jared Martin, only appeared to die, that the crash was faked and he will be resurrected next season and blamed for shooting the character played by Larry Hagman.

The Post quoted a source at Lorimer Productions in Hollywood as saying, "as of now the killer is definitely Dusty, but nobody around here will admit to it."

A CBS spokesman, asked to comment on the report, said the fall segment of the series won't begin production until late June.

By the way, the Post also said J.R. will recover to swagger through life as nasty as ever.

Farm Scholarship program tops $2 million mark

HOUSTON — Record attendance, record prices and the announcement that the Show's scholarship program had passed the $2 million mark highlighted the 1980 annual meeting of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo held Tuesday in the Astro Village Hotel.

Show President Allen H. Carruth cited the phenomenal success of this year's Show, noting that "it exceeded all expectations." Calling the success "the cornerstone for all our programs benefiting education and the young people of Texas," he said "the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo continues to be the largest donor of agricultural scholarships in the United States."

"With the four-year awards we will make in the next few weeks, our total commitment to the scholarship program will exceed $2.1 million." This fall, the Show will have 389 students on scholarship at Texas colleges and universities. Of these 389 students, 330 will be recipients of four-year, $6,000 awards. Each year the Show awards 100 of these four-year scholarships, with 50 going to FFA members and 50 to 4-H members.

Additionally, the Show has established scholarship endowments, now totalling $1.1 million. "Last fall, 12 Texas colleges and universities shared in $600,000 in funds to be used to provide agricultural scholarships for students not benefiting from the Show's renowned scholarship program," Carruth pointed out. "This year, 82 students will be assisted through this program, making a total of 471 students receiving educational help because of the Show's commitment."

In evaluating the success of the 1980 Show, Carruth praised "the biggest line-up of talent ever to perform in the Astrodome, the improved sound system, large screen video system, outstanding media coverage and the total community involvement of the greater Houston area. With things like these going for you, the 1980 Show could only have been an unprecedented success."

Attendance records were set for both the rodeo and for general attendance. The 1980 rodeo drew 569,019, while general attendance was 903,456. A new all-time indoor rodeo attendance record was set when Kenny Rogers and Dottie West drew 46,513. Five other rodeo performance records were also set.

Auction prices made headlines throughout the country with nine new records set for champion animals at auction. Generous buyers paid more than $2 million for animals raised by youthful 4-H and FFA exhibitors. Carruth announced that the 1981 Livestock Show would open on February 25, the rodeo on February 27 and that all events would run through March 8.

Mayor, member sued entire town

Citizens retaliate against council

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — First the City Council sued everybody in town to challenge a new tax relief measure. Now angry taxpayers are mounting a recall campaign "to throw the bums out."

More than 150 members of the Corpus Christi Taxpayers Association voted overwhelmingly Thursday to seek the removal of Mayor Luther Jones and the six other council members.

"We want to throw the bums out. That, in a nut shell, covers the situation," said Joe O'Brien, co-chairman of the petition drive.

The 400-member association needs about 9,400 signatures to force the recall election. According to the city secretary's interpretation of the city charter, the taxpayers must do it by June 12.

"It is going to be almost an impossible task," O'Brien told the group.

Later, association president Lewis Lovelace said, "From the enthusiasm of the crowd tonight I think we can get more than 10,000 signatures."

"If they keep up with the demagoguery, they can be successful," said Councilman David Diaz, who attended the heated meeting but did not get the chance to speak.

At the heart of the bitter battle in this scenic coastal city of 240,000 is Proposition 14, a city tax relief amendment approved April 5 by a vote of 10,049 to 7,045.

That measure trimmed the property tax rate from 74 to 68 cents per $100 valuation, set the ceiling at 68 cents rather than the $2.50 allowed by state law, and limited annual increases in property appraisals to 6 percent.

Diaz, an attorney, said Proposition 14 is unconstitutional because of a conflict with state law. He said state law requires that ad valorem taxes be based on true market value, which traditionally appreciates more rapidly than 6 percent.

Diaz said city leaders also fear the new 68 cent ceiling would make it virtually impossible to sell city bonds, because jittery investors shy away from such low ceilings.

Things heated up quickly last week when the city filed a class action suit and named its own residents as defendants, all taxpayers.

Residents, property owners and persons claiming a financial interest in Corpus Christi.

At the same time, taxpayers were receiving their 1980 tax bills, some reflecting 60 percent increases in valuation.

City officials contend the 6 percent limit wouldn't take effect until next January, even if the court challenge fails.

To further stir things up, the suit was filed 240 miles away in Austin, and Diaz acknowledges that it is being done at city expense.

Diaz said the suit was filed in Austin to avoid involving local judges in the volatile issue. O'Brien called it "sneaky."

The crowd displayed its anger Thursday night, shouting down the only association member who counseled restraint.

"We feel it is unethical, morally wrong and a misuse of public funds to be suing every citizen in this city with our own tax dollars," said Tom Hunt, the other petition drive co-chairman.

Lovelace said the association would challenge the suit if it could raise the money.

Diaz said the working of state law forced the city to file the suit against literally everybody in town. "We had no recourse but to phrase it that way," he said.

"We had to go to the state court for a declaratory judgment. There is a conflict between state law and city law," he added.

But the taxpayers perceived the city council suit as a challenge to their constitutional right to vote.

"The ballot box now is really a bigger issue than Proposition 14," said Hunt.

"The issue now is whether or not our vote last April is any good," said O'Brien.

Lord Killanin blasts government boycotts

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The "Olympic Solidarity Fund" may be made available to National Olympic Committees that lose government financing because of decisions to compete in the Summer Games at Moscow.

Lord Killanin, president of the International Olympic Committee, said Thursday the possible use of money from that fund would be discussed at the next IOC meeting in June.

During a news conference, the Olympic official restated his regret that the United States-led boycott of this year's Moscow Games was preventing athletes from competing.

"Governments should fight their battles in some other arena," said Killanin, referring to the U.S. sponsorship of the boycott movement in protest of the Soviet's military intervention in Afghanistan.

"I wish to reiterate a protest on behalf of the athletes that they should be made to make sacrifices," he said. Killanin added it was beyond his scope to comment on political matters, but said Moscow was awarded the Summer Games because of its apparent readiness to organize them. The IOC president said he would not be a party to any breach of the six-year-old contract with the Soviet National Olympic Committee.

Just as binding, he continued, was the agreement to stage the 1984 Summer Games in Los Angeles.

Killanin also confirmed there has been consideration given to staging future Summer Games on an agreed, permanent, politically neutral site.

College World Series has no favorite

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Arizona Coach Jerry Kindall described his team as "a scrappy bunch" and Joe Russo, Kindall's opponent tonight, acknowledged his St. John's team goes into the College World Series as an underdog.

St. John's, 29-9, and the Wildcats, 40-20, open the NCAA double-elimination tournament at Omaha's Rosenblatt Stadium. Arizona has been pegged as a favorite, along with Miami (57-10) and California (41-21).

Florida State (49-9) meets Hawaii (57-16) in the 8:10 p.m. nightcap.

After an elimination game Saturday between the losers of the Friday contests, Clemson (38-19) is matched against Miami and Michigan (35-16) plays California to complete the first round.

Seven of the College World Series teams are ranked in the national top 10. Miami is No. 1, Arizona No. 2, California No. 3, Clemson No. 4, Hawaii No. 5, Florida State No. 6 and Michigan No. 7.

"It's more scrappiness than talent that got us here," Kindall told a news conference Thursday. "Our 1974 team had exceptional talent but didn't make it to Omaha. I would prefer to have a team that's scrappy."

"For us to win the national championship, we would need to play perfect baseball," said Russo.

Frank Viola (9-1) was named to start for St. John's against Craig Lefteris or Jeff Morris, both 5-2.

Florida State Coach Mike Martin announced Rick Hatcher (10-2) would start for the Seminoles. Chuck Krim (16-9) was the mound choice for Hawaii.

Martin said Jim Weaver, Florida State's No. 2 home run hitter with 17, would be 95 percent recovered from an ankle sprain. The Seminole homer leader is Mike Fuentes with 20.

California Coach Bob Milano told the news conference he could not "relate to" the Bears' 9-0 record in previous national championship tournaments. They won the first NCAA tourney in 1949.

UGSA
The Morning Optimists used a balanced hitting attack in taking a 7-8 win over the Kentucky Fried Chicken Chicks in UGSA action last night.
Laura Mauldin and Belinda Herrera shared time on the mound for the Optimists with Mauldin being credited with the win. Janet Anderson was the losing hurler.
Herrera slammed three home runs in the contest, with two of them being grand slams. Tris Clemons had a homer and a triple, with Josey Mate having a double. Also hitting safely for the Optimists were Dolores Booth, Christie Burton, Tonya Carrell, Cindy Garcia, Mauldin and Missie Rios.
Anderson led the Chicks with a grand slam homer.

The Quality Transport QT's went into in scoring a 29-5 triumph over the Graham Business Machines Road runners in UGSA action Thursday night.
L. Iden was the winning pitcher, while J. Cunningham was the victim of the QT attack.
Iden and S. Perry both had two singles and a double for the QT's. L. Guillen had two triples and one single, with P. Williams, S. Franco, M. Bayes and P. Gripp all having two hits. One of Gripp's hits was a home run. D. Shortles and K. Heron had one hit each.
Hale had a home run for the Roadrunners, with M. Thompson, M. Fuller and J. Cunningham all having singles.

GRINDING OUT YARDAGE — Big Spring quarterback candidate George Bancroft (12) struggles for some extra yardage during last week's Black-Gold spring game. Attempting to assist an unidentified tackler is Steer John Hatch (57), while Bancroft's teammate in the background, Steve Hendrix (67) provides some blocking. The Gold team took a 14-12 win in the intrasquad spring finale.

Twins gained talented fruit in Carew trade

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — When the Minnesota Twins dealt Rod Carew to California two years ago, they hoped they were trading one bonafide superstar for a potential one — Ken Landreaux.
Landreaux hit .305 last season with 15 home runs and 83 runs batted in, but the fruits of the trade are now becoming more satisfying to the Twins as Landreaux continues his assault on American League pitchers.

Landreaux singled twice Thursday in the Twins' 5-2 victory over Chicago, extending his hitting streak to 30 game and becoming one of only 27 players in major league history to hit safely in 30 or more consecutive games.

"I've always known how to hit; I've been doing it all my life," said the confident Landreaux, who started the streak April 23 when he broke up Bruce Kison's no-hit bid in the bottom of the ninth inning.

The last player with such a streak was Pete Rose, who tied the National League record by hitting in 44 straight in 1978. But the 25-year-old Landreaux, in just his second year as a full-time player, says he isn't concerned about catching Rose or record-holder Joe DiMaggio, whose 56-game string in 1941 seems all but unreachable in modern baseball.

"I won't even start thinking about those guys until I'm one game away from them," said Landreaux, who leads the A.L. with a .360 batting average. "I just go out there and play baseball because that's what I'm paid to do. I want to satisfy myself. If I do that, I'm sure everyone else will be satisfied."

Twins' Manager Gene Mauch is more than satisfied with his speedy left fielder. Landreaux, who also leads the league with 62 hits, has laced 48 hits — most of them up the middle — in 120 at bats for a .400 mark.

"He knows his stuff," says Mauch, who has watched hitters for the last 20 years while managing in both the American and National Leagues.

"He knows where the head of the bat is and hits every ball right there," Mauch explained, holding his fingers six inches apart. "He never hits them on the handle. All great hitters have that in common."

"What can you say? He's doing everything right," commented Lamar Johnson of the White Sox. "He's hitting what he wants to hit, not what the pitchers want him to hit."

"I'm using the same stroke I used last year," said Landreaux. "Short and quick. I'm just not trying to do too much with the bat. I'm not overswinging."

Major League Roundup

Welch near perfect in facing minimum 27

By the Associated Press
Bob Welch climaxed a classic duel on Oct. 11, 1978, when, as a rookie, he struck out New York Yankees slugger Reggie Jackson to end Game Two of the World Series and give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 4-3 victory.

Thursday night, Welch faced the minimum 27 batters, tossing a one-hitter as the Dodgers stopped the Atlanta Braves 3-0. Between the two high points, however, were some low ones.

Welch strained his arm last year, missing a good part of the season and ending up with a 5-6 record and 4.00 earned run average.

This past January, the young pitcher admitted he was an alcoholic and spent much of the next two months at a clinic in Arizona. He said he came away a new man and, apparently, a new pitcher. Or, perhaps, the old Bob Welch.

The 23-year-old right-hander whizzed through the first 10 Braves in order before Larvell Blanks singled cleanly to left center in the fourth. But he got Chris Chambliss to ground into a double play and Welch set down the rest of the Braves in order to complete his gem.

"I really didn't mix my pitches that well but I mixed the position on my fastball," said Welch. "This was the best control I ever had. There were only a few situations that I changed speeds and the hit came on one of those. I hung the pitch up high."

Atlanta's Phil Niekro, the loser, said: "That was a no-hit game. I've seen no-hitters pitched that weren't half as good as that. He was in control all night."

Asked about Welch's almost-exclusive use of the fastball, the 41-year-old Niekro said: "It's still the No. 1 pitch in the game. When you get it, you got to go with it."

Welch, 5-1 and a winner of his last five decisions, walked none and struck out seven, including the final two batters in the game.

"I got a few chills when it was over," he said, referring to the standing ovation he received from a small — for Dodger Stadium — crowd of 24,630. Asked if he was more thrilled with his one-hitter than with his World Series strikeout of Jackson, Welch smiled and said: "No. You don't repeat that in lifetime."

In Thursday's other National League games, Cincinnati downed San Diego 5-3 and Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 5-4. In the American League, Cleveland blanked Milwaukee 5-0 and Minnesota defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2.

Los Angeles Manager Tom LaSorda said Welch's victory was one of the better pitched games he has ever seen. "He was just that far from perfection," said LaSorda, holding his thumb and forefinger apart.

Reggie Smith gave Welch all the offense he needed with his ninth home run of the season in the bottom of the first. It was the first of three hits for Smith.

Reds 5, Padres 3
Johnny Bench powered Cincinnati's victory over San Diego.

"I've had my month, now let the other guys do something," Bench joked later.

It was the third time in his career that Bench has hit three homers in a game. And all three came off Padres starter Randy Jones, 4-4.

Bench now has 338 career home runs, leaving him just seven behind Yogi Berra, the top home run-hitting catcher in major league history.

Jerry Turner homered for the Padres.

Pirates 5, Phillies 4
Ed Ott doubled in the go-ahead run, then scored the eventual winning run on Dale Berra's hit to lead Pittsburgh over Philadelphia and send the Pirates back into first place in the NL East.

Pittsburgh took a 3-0 lead in the first inning on run-scoring singles by Dave Parker and Mike Mike Easler, and a bases-loaded walk to Berra.

All four Philadelphia runs were unearned.

Indians 5, Brewers 0
John Denny and Victor Cruz combined for a four-hitter as Cleveland blanked Milwaukee.

"Denny got his breaking ball over all night and then Cruz came in and threw heat," said Milwaukee acting manager Bob Rogers.

Denny, 5-4, yielded four hits, struck out four and walked four, including the first two batters in the eighth, before Cruz came in to shut down the Brewers, who had a six-game winning streak ended.

Home runs by Cliff Johnson and Jorge Orta powered the Cleveland victory.

Twins 5, White Sox 2
Ken Landreaux extended his hitting streak to 30 games with two singles as Minnesota took a rain-delayed victory over Chicago.

Landreaux's single in the fourth inning sent Roy Smalley, who had walked, to third. Smalley then scored on a sacrifice fly.

Jerry Kosman, 4-5, got the victory, giving up five hits and striking out five.

Hangin' Out by NATHAN POSS

Billy Martin warns LL brass; NBA has share of crazies

ANYONE THAT KNOWS ANYTHING about major league baseball has to have the impression that Oakland A's manager BILLY MARTIN is a trite bit competitive.

Martin is known for his quick temper, whether it be on the field or in the bars. While many would love to have his managerial abilities and his competitive desire to win, most would not necessarily consider him to be a prime example of how to teach youngsters proper manners.

By youngsters, I refer to the young athletes of the world, and at this time of the year, it's Little League and UGSA.

LITTLE LEAGUE AND OTHER ORGANIZED PROGRAMS for the pre-teens are directed at developing both the physical and mental abilities of the youth participating, but more importantly, it is a time to enjoy themselves, void from the pressures that will certainly arise as they grow older.

At first glance, one would feel that Martin probably couldn't relate to the Little Leaguers, but this apparently is not so. In a recent appearance in New York, Martin spoke with concern toward the adult community that use Little Leaguers as pawns in their make believe world of big-time managing.

I WOULD LIKE TO SAY TO EVERYONE who runs leagues for kids, the highly successful Martin said recently, "Let the little kids have fun. They don't need to be so competitive when they're young."

I've watched games where little kids were trying to play, while parents were screaming from the stands. "Show some guts," explained Martin. "That made me sick."

IT'S NOT FUN FOR LITTLE KIDS to play the game under pressures like that, Martin continued. "In some towns, they keep batting averages and home runs. I say forget that stuff."

Martin, who has had his ups and downs in professional baseball, but a person who always fights back, doesn't necessarily feel that his battling ways are very healthy for Little Leaguers.

In the kids leagues," says Martin, "coaches and parents sometimes make too hard. Kids are going to be adults for a long time, and there is no place for frustrated coaches and parents putting them at that level too quickly."

She shares New Rochelle LPGA lead

New driver keeps Morse happy

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) - Two weeks ago, a couple of golf club manufacturers invited Cathy Morse - now in her third year on the Ladies Professional Golf Association - to try a new driver.

The two-time New York State Amateur champion was reluctant to make a switch, and told the men to contact her later. When the 24-year-old Morse arrived for the $125,000, 72-hole tournament that started Thursday at the Wykagyl Country Club, the men greeted her again. "I tried the driver in the pro-am (Wednesday) and really liked it," said Morse. "Then they asked me to take two new woods, a three and a four, and use them, too. Again, I was reluctant. But since I liked the driver so much, I said to myself, 'What the heck? Try them too.'"

Morse is not the least bit unhappy about the switch. The native of Albany, N.Y., shot a one-under-par 71 in Thursday's opening round over the 6,410-yard course to share the lead with Amelia Rorer and Alice Miller.

"These clubs have a special shaft," continued the University of Miami, Fla., graduate. "They are designed to help you hit the ball a lot straighter. After the way I played today, I'm going to keep these clubs. I'm really disappointed in my scores the last few weeks. In the last tournament (in Corning, N.Y.) I hit the ball well, yet all I had to show for it was a couple of 77s."

Morse, captain of the Miami golf team that won a national championship in 1977, praised Wykagyl course, saying: "It's tough, and this tournament is not going to be a putting contest. I don't like that kind of a game. I prefer to hit long and I really feel I'm due for a good tourney."

Kemper Open treacherous

BETHSDA, Md. (AP) - Tom Watson, the odds-on favorite to win the Kemper Open golf tournament, said it most simply: "The greens were treacherous."

The Congressional Country Club, site of the Kemper for the first time after 12 years at Quail Hollow in Charlotte, N.C., proved to be as difficult during Thursday's opening round as most of the field of 156 had predicted.

Only seven players shot sub-par rounds over the 7,064-yard par 70 course, site of the 1964 U.S. Open and the 1976 PGA Championship in suburban Washington - and none of them was Watson but he was close with a 71.

John Mahaffey, J.C. Sneed, Jay Haas and Dave Hill all came in with two-under-par 68s while Lee Trevino, Barry Jaeckel and Lindy Miller shot 69s.

"It was like putting on concrete," said Watson, the most outstanding player on the tour. "It was difficult to make a putt."

Trevino, another favorite to take home the $72,000 first prize, said: "They're gonna have to put some water on the greens. They were exceptionally fast, solid slick. You'll see a lot of short putts missed this week."

Sneed said he started off so badly that "it looked like I wasn't going to break 80. I pull-hooked it on the first three holes. I started to come back before I hurt somebody."

Laker center gains record sixth MVP

Jabbar, Celtics earn top honors

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Kareem Abdul-Jabbar feels that at the age of 33, he's not getting older, he's getting better.

"I think I've changed as a person and as a player the last couple of years, and I'm proud of the change," said Abdul-Jabbar, who was named the National Basketball Association's Most Valuable Player for a record sixth time in his brilliant 11-year career.

"I've matured as an adult," he said. "My roots may be in the 1960s, but this is 1980 and I hope I've matured since then."

"I know I've improved as a basketball player. I'm more aware of all facets of the game now than I ever was. And as long as I can maintain the standards I've set for myself, stay in shape and stay healthy, I'm going to keep on playing."

That's good news for the Los Angeles Lakers, who rode the 7-foot-2 Abdul-Jabbar's brilliant pivot play to the championship.

"Kareem means everything to us," said Lakers Coach Paul Westhead. "He is the Manon this team." But Abdul-Jabbar says the team is more important than the man.

"As an individual award, it's wonderful to feel that your contributions were more important than those of any other player," said Abdul-Jabbar. "But this is a team game, and what the Lakers accomplished as a unit overshadows this. We proved we were the best. We got to hang the banner in the Forum that says, 'World Champs,' and that's the big thing."

"We were like the Three Musketeers - one for all and all for one. I wouldn't be here without the help I got from my teammates."

The NBA presented three other awards Thursday at a special luncheon during the annual summer meetings of coaches and general managers, and all three went to members of the Boston Celtics.

Forward Larry Bird was named Rookie of the Year. Bill Fitch was named Coach of the Year and Red Auerbach was named Executive of the Year following the Celtics' turnaround from a 29-53 record in 1979 to a 61-21 mark last season.

The 7-foot-2 Abdul-Jabbar received 147 votes from the 221 cast in the balloting of NBA players, easily outdistancing forward Julius Erving of the Philadelphia 76ers, who was second with 31 1/2. George Gervin of San Antonio was third with 19 and Bird was fourth with 15.

In winning the Maurice Podoloff trophy, Abdul-Jabbar surpassed the five MVP awards won by Bill

Russell of the Boston Celtics. "That's nice, that's beautiful, but that's really hard to appreciate right now," said Abdul-Jabbar. "That's something I will really appreciate when I retire from the game and look back on my career."

Abdul-Jabbar is the 16th consecutive center to win the MVP award. The last non-center to win was guard Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati in 1964. Moses Malone of Houston won the award last season.

"Few people have the ability to dominate a game, offensively and defensively, as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar has throughout his career," said NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien in presenting the award. "And this year he demonstrated the leadership qualities that the Lakers needed to win the championship."

Bird was a lopsided winner of the rookie trophy, which was named this year after Eddie Gottlieb, the league pioneer who died in December at the age of 81. Bird received 63 votes from the panel of three writers from each league city to just three for Earvin "Magic" Johnson of the Los Angeles Lakers.

The voting for Rookie of the Year, as for the other awards, was conducted at the end of the regular season. Thus the brilliant playoff performance of the Lakers in general, and Johnson in particular, did not weigh in the balloting.

Fitch, who spent nine seasons in Cleveland before coming to Boston last summer, is the first man to win Coach of the Year twice, having also taken it in 1976. He received 37 votes to 18 for runnerup Paul Westhead of Los Angeles from a panel of writers.

"My winning this award shows that the media has a conscience," said Fitch. "If I ever deserved the award, it was for the year we were 15-67 that first year in Cleveland. That might have been the best job I've ever done, although the record doesn't show it. But I'm happy to get the award 10 years later."

Auerbach, architect of the Celtics' renaissance, got 10 votes for Executive of the Year to five for General Manager Jerry Colangelo of Phoenix. The voting was done by the league's general managers, who were polled by the Sporting News.

"I guess it all boils down to the bottom line - how many games you win," he said.

Regional Day School Program for Deaf to center on speech

MIDLAND — The Regional Day School Program for the Deaf is sponsoring a pilot program this summer, at which time it will concentrate on Speech and Language.

The program will be conducted at Midland College with children from Howard, Midland and Ector counties enrolled. All of the children eligible for enrollment have some degree of hearing loss, varying from mild to severe.

The course includes some 'fun' activities designed to provide the intensive work these children along with their speech and language.

Enrollees will meet each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m., until noon throughout June and July. A child does not necessarily have to be present every day or every week in order to remain eligible. The program's staff intends to work family vacations and summer camps into the schedule.

Transportation will be furnished by the Regional Program for the Deaf for children who reside in Big Spring and Odessa.

The pilot program is being funded by the Midland Jaycee-Ettes, the Regional Program for the Deaf and individual donations. Some help is coming from the Westside Lions Club of Midland.

Activities will include horseback riding, swimming, an airplane ride, camping, archery, arts and crafts and several field trips. Children three to 12 who are currently enrolled in the Regional Program for the Deaf are eligible.

Art bidding war ends high

NEW YORK (AP) — After a six-minute bidding war between an American millionaire and an anonymous buyer, J.M.W. Turner's painting, "Juliet and her Nurse," was sold for $6.4 million, the highest price ever paid for a single work of art.

The painting by the 19th century British artist was bought at auction Thursday at Sotheby Parke Bernet Inc. by a man said to be a dealer representing Amalia Le Croze, the widow of an Argentine industrialist.

Besides the $6.4 million for the painting, the buyer paid a 10 percent buyer's commission of $640,000 to the auction house.

Plans for attending Cub Scout Day Camp mulled

Plans for attending the Cub Scout Day Camp June 9-14 were discussed at the Pack 306 meeting Tuesday at the First Baptist Activities Building. The event, directed by Janie Reid, will be at the National Guard Armory and will be climaxed June 14 by a trip by Cubs and fathers to the Boy Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains.

Weaver, Sherman Powers Jr. and Mark Reynolds, an arrow point to Rex Tucker. Dale Olson welcomed Jason Faust and Chad Wash as new members of the Webelos den. In June, the pack is being asked to march in the Rodeo Parade.

Sgt. Jim White of the Texas Department of Public Safety, projected a film on bike safety and then distributed bike certificates to boys who had passed their tests.

The pack also said farewell to Mrs. Jeannine Lewis, who has been a den mother and leader in the pack for the past three years and who is moving. Glenn M. Pierce, Cubmaster, presented her with a plaque, and Bill Bradford, on behalf of the sponsors, gave her flowers. Pierce presented Bobcat awards to Quade

THEY WON'T BE LATE — Jackie and Dean both know that the best way to start a marriage off right is to make it to the church on time. Here, Sue Armstrong of Zales, shows the couple a ladies' diamond watch, one of many stunning time pieces available at the jewelry store.

WITH THIS RING... — In only a few short days, Jackie's finger will be decorated for eternity with the lasting elegance of the bridal set she and her future husband have selected. Here, Rick Miller of Zales Jewelers, assists her as she contemplates which set to choose.

JUST PERFECT — Being a bride-to-be is hectic business, as Jackie has had the opportunity to discover. There's the wedding ensemble and going away outfit to buy as well as the accessories to complement them. Jackie can't go wrong if she selects this matching white gold necklace and earrings set as shown by Stacey Hodnett of Zales.

TEA FOR TWO? — For most brides, after the honeymoon, it's into the kitchen. In addition to seeing that her new husband puts on a few pounds, as most do, Jackie's time will be spent entertaining house guests. And who wouldn't enjoy serving from this sterling silver coffee service by Sheldan available at Zales.

THAT PERSONAL TOUCH — Jackie and Dean want their new home together to express their character and lifestyle. Loy Loudamy of Carter's Furniture shows the couple some of the large selection of beautiful furniture available for free delivery within 100 miles of Big Spring. At Carter's they can purchase name brand furniture and accessories at reasonable prices.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY ROOM — The Cherry Orchard offers a fairyland of shopping delights for the bride and groom. Wall decor, a fine selection of brass, something to brighten every room of the place the newlyweds will call home. Whether it's your first home or your final home, let the Cherry Orchard decorate and custom drape.

Dean Swinney reviews one of Citizens Federal Credit Union's computer receipts as Jackie Foresythe talks with credit union teller Terry Gross. The new computer at the credit union will help the Swinney's keep their financial records up to date.

Jackie is receiving assistance in choosing her favorite from all the lamps and fixtures available at Pettitt Lighting Center. Tammy Pettitt is showing Jackie a lovely wall fixture featuring tulip globes.

ONLY A FEW MORE DAYS — As Jackie and Dean were looking over the unique home decors and bridal accessories available at Creative Decors in Highland Mall, they took a moment to relax and realize the closeness of their wedding date. Jackie has found a bridal bouquet at the store created with delicate flowers in soft spring colors. Don't plan your wedding without first checking out all the accessories available at Creative Decorators.

EYE CATCHER — Next to her future husband, Dean, another thing that brightens the eyes of bride-to-be Jackie Foresyth is this yellow gold diamond necklace being shown to the couple by Carl Gresham of Blum's Jewelers. Blum's houses many beautiful pieces of jewelry guaranteed to make the bride sparkle her wedding day.

GOLD NUGGETS — The wedding band is the traditional symbol of love and marriage. Here, Jackie and Dean awe over a pair of matching gold nugget bands as Greg Brooks of Brooks Jewelers assists them.

MR. AND MRS. — An important step made by any couple as they prepare for their life together is opening up a bank account. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Swinney will be the name printed above the couple's personalized checks of their joint account. Nelda Colclazer, also pictured, informed the couple that First National Bank offers traveler's checks for the honeymoon and safety deposit boxes to store their valuables.

The right start for any young couple is taken by Jackie and Dean as they open a savings account at Big Spring Savings Association. Melody Kennedy is pointing out to the pair that Big Spring Savings pays the highest interest rates allowed by law and that on many accounts, interest is compounded daily. Why don't you follow their example and come in and talk with us about opening your account.

Mary Pybus of Dunlaps is assisting Jackie match her bathroom accessories. Mary is showing a Martex towel in plum and a Regal rug in the coordinating shade of blush.

STURDY — With a practical eye to future needs, Dean and Jackie shop at Moffat's Carpet and Furniture, 1009 11th Place, where Loyd McGlaun, manager, shows them the underside of a FLEXSTEEL Pit Group corner chair.

DON'T FORGET YOUR SHOES — Shoes for the wedding and honeymoon are just as important as other items of clothing selected by the groom. After all, it will be his feet that carry him down the aisle. Here, Bobby Beasley shows Dean a pair of new shoes at Pragers. The prospective groom also arranged for his tuxedo rental at the men's and boy's wear store.

Jackie is wearing a beautiful pignoir set of yellow overlay with accents of ecru lace. This set, which is available at the Casual Shoppe, is made by Intime. To complete her ensemble, Jackie is wearing gold leather slides by Jacques Levine.

BRIDAL TREASURES — Dean and Jackie contemplate the beautiful china available at the Accent Shoppe, 119 E. 3rd, their new location, as Toni Choate proudly shows a pattern for them to choose from for future dining pleasures.

SNAZZY! — At least Jackie thinks so as she checks out her husband-to-be in this stylish suit by Hollywood available at Gibbs and Weeks. John Weeks, right, assisted Dean in selecting the going-away outfit just right for him.

HOME FURNISHING — Shopping at Riverside Furniture Gallery, 214 Main, Dean and Jackie are shown a lovely maple bedroom suite by Riverside as Bary McGonagill points out the beauty and sturdiness of the dresser.
