AFTER THE MEETING — King Hussein I of Jordan speaks at a news conference, with Secretary of State Edmund Muskie behind, following a meeting between the two at the State Department in Washington Wednesday.

Democracies being tested, Carter says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, leaving on an eight-day European trip aimed at restoring unity to the Western alliance, called today for the allies to present a unified front against Soviet aggression.

"I will be totally frank with you, as I will be" with leaders of the alliance, the president said in his statement for a White House departure ceremony. "The industrial democracies are being tested. We must sustain world opposition to Soviet aggression and not allow the Soviets to derive any permanent benefits from their invasions of a neutral nation."

The Western alliance has been shaken by serious disagreement over how to deal with turmoil in Afghanistan and Iran and the stalled Middle East peace negotiations.

Carter will meet with the leaders of France, Germany, Great Britain, Japan, Canada and Italy in Venice on Sunday and Monday in an economic summit conference that has been expanded to include a broad discussion of major international political issues.

"It will be an opportunity for Western leaders to consult on broad political and strategic issues at the outset of the decade of the 1980s," said a senior White House official who asked not to be identified. He said the summit nations face some of the most "profoundly complex strategic and political issues" of the post-war period.

It will be Carter's first trip abroad since the last economic summit in Tokyo a year ago.

He will go first to Rome, for meetings Friday with Italian Prime Minister Francesco Cossiga and other officials and for an audience with Pope John Paul II at the Vatican on Saturday.

Before returning June 26, Carter will go to Yugoslavia on Tuesday, where he will lay a wreath on the grave of Marshal Tito and meet with that country's new leaders, and then to Spain and Portugal on Wednesday and Thursday, respectively, to show support for those emerging democracies.

Security for the trip is extremely tight because of the wave of terrorism that has shaken Italy in recent years. About 8,000 seaborne police, carabinieri and Alpine troops have been assigned to Venice alone, with frogmen patrolling the city's canals.

Carter, who also will be protected by a large contingent of U.S. Secret Service agents, won't take a gondola tour of Venice because local authorities believe he would be too exposed to sniper fire.

The urban terrorist group known as the Red Brigade has threatened to disrupt the meetings, but Italian officials believe Venice and San Giorgio Island, where the summit sessions will be held, can be easily protected and are safe from attack.

Although administration officials have voiced displeasure at what they consider a recent lack of allied support, Carter sought in an interview with Italian journalists to play down any suggestion of a serious breach in relations.

"In my judgment the alliance is much stronger now than it has been in many years, perhaps even since the alliance was first formed," he said.

Mitchell County man wreck victim

Mitchell County man died in a one-car accident late Thursday night.

Mark Edmondson, 22, of the Buford community was pronounced dead at 11:30 p.m. from an accident where his car rolled over five times on Highway 208 North, Mitchell County Sheriff's office said.

Attempt made to commit woman accused of murder

By STEVE HERSHBERGER

Relatives of a Big Spring woman, charged with murder, attempted Tuesday to get her committed to the Big Spring State Hospital.

"That is the process we are trying to get done," said one relative of Helen Jean Jones, who is charged with murder in connection with the shooting death of her daughter, 12-year-old Christine Byars.

The relative added, "She is really sick. It is not a thing to get her out of punishment."

District Judge Jim Gregg said this morning the Big Spring State Hospital cannot accept any person who has criminal charges pending against him.

He acknowledged that Mrs. Jones' attorney has said he will file documents asking the accused be psychologically examined by personnel at the hospital to determine mental fitness.

Those documents, Judge Gregg said, have not been filed.

Mrs. Jones was arrested about 5 p.m. Sunday by Big Spring Police in connection with the Saturday morning shooting of her daughter.

The accused was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin and bond was set at $30,000.

Initially the shooting of the 12-year-old was ruled to be an accidental death by Heflin. But Sunday Heflin changed his mind.

"It didn't seem logical," Heflin said about the shooting.

Byars was struck in the left eye by a single bullet from a .22 caliber magnum pistol.

"There had been powder burns indicating she had been shot a close range," Big Spring Police Detective Avery Falkner said.

Mrs. Jones told police Sunday afternoon she did not accidentally shoot her daughter and gave a second version of what had happened.

Preliminary reports from the autopsy indicate the bullet that struck the daughter was fired from an extremely close range. Heflin said Wednesday. The peace justice added that powder burns were found on the eye lid and powder was discovered on the iris of the girl's eye.

British embassy attacked in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Three terrorists shot their way into the British Embassy in Baghdad today on the eve of Iraq's first parliamentary election in 22 years, but Iraqi security forces stormed the mission and killed the intruders, the official Iraqi news agency reported.

It said the three men hurled grenades into the embassy and then rushed firing their automatic weapons. Iraqi security forces got permission from the British ambassador to storm the building and killed the intruders in a shootout, the news agency said.

No other casualties were reported in what was believed to have been the first attack on an embassy ever in Iraq.

Embassy press officer David Richmond, reached by telephone by The Associated Press office in Nicosia, Cyprus, confirmed that all members of the embassy staff were safe and none had been hurt.

The identity and motives of the terrorists were not immediately known, but the timing of the attack gave rise to speculation the raiders launched their operation to gain maximum publicity through the unusual presence of so many foreign reporters in the Iraqi capital.

In a rare publicity move the Iraqi government invited more than 200 foreign correspondents to Baghdad to cover the election, the first since the overthrow of the monarchy in 1958. The oil-rich country has been ruled by the Arab Socialist Baath Party since 1968.

Bani-Sadr trying to strengthen his position

By the Associated Press

A major shakeup in the Iranian military was announced today by the official Pars news agency, but it was not immediately clear whether the move further eroded or strengthened President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr's authority against Moslem hardliners seeking to undermine him.

Pars said Bani-Sadr accepted the resignation of the acting military chief of staff, Gen. Mohammad Hadi Shadmehr, and that Gen. Valiollah Fallahi was made the new acting chief of staff. It said Shadmehr became Bani-Sadr's military adviser.

The news agency also said Gen. Ghasemali Zahrnejad has been appointed commander of land forces and of the Islamic republic gendarmerie, and Col. Javad Fakouri was named the air force chief. The news agency did not say who they replaced.

Bani-Sadr, fighting efforts by Islamic fundamentalists to strip him of his dwindling powers, urged the revolutionary guards Wednesday to close ranks behind him after his newspaper reported Moslem hardliners were plotting to oust him as a "tool of America."

Tehran Radio said Bani-Sadr went to a revolutionary guards' barracks to appeal for an end to the feuding that prompted the resignation of his hand-picked guard commander, Abu Sharif. The radio also said Bani-Sadr rejected Sharif's resignation.

The report did not say who was fighting whom in the guards, but the squabbling was presumed to be between Bani-Sadr's moderate supporters and the extreme Moslem fundamentalists who back the clergy-dominated Islamic Republican Party, which controls Iran's Parliament.

A party leader, Dr. Hassan Ayat, was reported Wednesday to be plotting the overthrow of Bani-Sadr and was quoted as labeling him "a tool of America."

The Tehran newspaper Enghlab Eslami, owned by Bani-Sadr, published what it said was the text of a tape recording quoting Ayat as saying the president "will be ousted soon." It did not say who he was talking to.

"I have not been conspiring against anybody," Ayat fired back after the paper hit the stands. He said he would expose "a shameful plot that directors of Enghlab Eslami are involved in against me, against the Islamic Republican Party and against the imam (Iranian Revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini)."

The newspaper report highlighted the growing rift between Bani-Sadr, who has called for a speedy end to the 229-day-old hostage crisis, and the Moslem hardliners of the Islamic Republican Party, many of whom are urging spy trials for the 53 captive Americans.

Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr shuffled Iran's top military command today in what appeared to be an effort to strengthen his hand against Moslem hardliners seeking to undermine him. Less than 24 hours earlier he urged the nation's revolutionary guards to unify behind him.

OH MY ACHING — Rep. John Matijevich (D-Chi.), the prime mover of ERA in Illinois, holds his brow after the Illinois House failed to pass the controversial amendment by five votes. This was the eleventh attempt to pass the ERA bill by the Illinois Legislature. The vote was taken Wednesday.

Special board recommends doubling Texas college tuition

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A special citizens committee wants the 1981 Legislature to at least double tuition at state-financed colleges.

Doubling tuition, which has not been raised since 1957, would raise it from $4 to $8 a semester credit hour or from $60 to $120 for a normal 15-hour semester load.

The committee, which was created by the Legislature to study the financing of higher education, made its recommendation on a 10-0 vote Wednesday.

It also recommended on voice vote that legislators raise annual medical school tuition from $400 to $3,600 and dental tuition from $400 to $2,500. None of the 10 members voting asked to be recorded against the proposals.

To offset doubling tuition costs, the committee proposed setting aside 10 percent of the increased tuition revenue for undergraduate and graduate scholarships.

The committee proposed reserving 20 percent of the increased medical tuition for loans to needy students. If the new physicians practiced in Texas for three years after completing their residencies, they would not have to repay the loans.

Speaker Bill Clayton offered the loan fund amendment, stating, "Texas taxpayers should not have to subsidize doctors who go elsewhere to practice."

A proposal to increase medical and dental school tuition to about half of the recommended rate was presented by former Chairman Frank Erwin of the University of Texas Board of Regents.

"The only way we're going to get doctors and dentists in West Texas and in our cities is to flood the market with them," said Erwin.

Tuition for non-resident and foreign students would be set at "not less than 50 percent of the total cost" of educating the students. Higher Education Commissioner Kenneth Ashworth said this would raise non-resident tuition from $1,300 to about $1,300 a year.

State committeewoman 'mum' Will Jane Ray seek re-election?

By WALT FINLEY
Will the only person from Howard County to ever serve on the State Democratic Executive Committee seek re-election this week?

Jane Ray, state committeewoman of the 30th Senatorial District, is the lone person who can answer that question and she "ain't" saying — just yet.

She will be forced to reveal her intentions at 11 a.m. Friday when district Democrats caucus in the private dining room of the Grand Inn in San Antonio.

Issues expected to come up at the meeting following election of officers include wage and price controls, which Sen. Ted Kennedy favors and President Carter doesn't, nuclear power and how to get out the votes.

Voting trends show that Big Springers and other Texans in the 30th district have not been taking advantage of their right to cast ballots.

It may be due to lack of confidence in government or to just plain laziness. Whatever the reason, voting turnouts have been disappointing, to say the least.

As a result of low turnouts at the county polling places two years ago, the total number of state delegates Howard County Democrats were entitled to elect was slashed from 17 to nine.

Why the low vote two years ago in the 30th District?

"After the general election, all this was discussed," Jane Ray said. There were some sad, some mad, but like State Delegate Bill Wise of Archer City stated: "That's in the past. What are we going to do about it?"

"I was as surprised as any one about the slim turnout in some of the counties in SD 30. Yet others had a large turnout and gained some state delegates, while not working any harder in their county."

"I feel we took too much for granted and looked back to when there was no problem as to electing Democrats."

"If it would make people feel better and would like to blame one person — let it be me. But you cannot organize and get the vote out by waiting until the last minute to do it. I feel we will have more organization in 1980 and feel I personally learned a lesson — one I will not forget."

"I'm reminded of the low Democratic turnout often. For a while after I was elected and by a "landslide" of two votes I almost asked for a recount, but everyone has to start somewhere."

"If asked: 'What the qualifications are to be a committeewoman?' my first answer would be: 'You gotta have tough skin and be able to handle any criticism and then forget it and go on with your work to represent the wonderful people of the 30th.'"

The tentative schedule of the 30th District caucus follows:

Roll call of counties.
Election of a caucus chairman, a caucus secretary and other officers as may be necessary to conduct the caucus business.

Election of three delegates and one alternate to the national convention in New York City.

Election of one member of each permanent committee of the 1980 convention.

(1) The permanent committee on credentials.

(2) Committee on rules.

(3) Committee on resolutions.

(4) Committee to nominate at-large delegates to the national convention.

(5) Committee to recommend nominees for the national committeeman and national committeewoman.

(6) Committee to nominate presidential electors.

The state convention with its 3,900 delegates and almost as many alternates formally opens Friday night and continues Saturday.

However, pre-convention activities began today with a meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee set for 5 p.m.

Reagan's record: Contrasting themes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — In part, Ronald Reagan is running on his record.

He likes to talk of his accomplishments as governor of California, a post he describes as "the second highest executive job in the country." He punctuates his basic stump speech with examples of his deeds in office from 1967 to 1975.

We stopped the bureaucracy "dead in its tracks," he says. We brought welfare under control. We balanced the budget, even created surpluses.

One piece of his campaign literature describes Reagan as "the greatest tax cutter in the state's history."

Some of Reagan's campaign recollections have become subject to debate and interpretation; some of them, in fact, are wrong. In any event, Reagan's eight-year Statehouse tenure may provide the best indication of what voters can expect if the Republican candidate is elected to the presidency.

Far from a rigid ideologue, he compiled a record of contrasting themes.

He greatly expanded the state's park system, but supported logging in a virgin forest that housed California's magnificent giant redwoods.

He raised welfare payments, but made it more difficult to qualify for them.

He railed against high taxes, but raised them more than any other governor in the state's history.

He more than doubled the state's spending on California's university system, while ridiculing hippies, protesters and liberal professors as undeserving of such support.

He attacked the growth of government spending, but state outlays — fueled by a booming economy — doubled during his years in charge.

In short, his actions, like those of most any political officeholder, often differed from his rhetoric.

As president, Reagan's style would also probably be much like his years as governor. In Sacramento:

Reagan stayed aloof from the details of government, delegating much authority to aides after setting the basic policy. In contrast to the long workday of President Carter, Reagan's White House schedule would more likely resemble Reagan's normal 9-to-5 gubernatorial workday.

Reagan did not appreciate lengthy, complex reports; if he is elected in November, the voluminous briefing papers favored by President Carter would likely be replaced by one-page decision memos, the sort Reagan regularly received from aides in Sacramento.

Once a decision is made, Reagan would cling to it stubbornly, refusing to deal with interest groups seeking a change in the policy.

He once vowed to "cut and squeeze and trim until every ounce of fat is removed" from state government, and in campaign speeches this year, Reagan regularly pledges to freeze federal hiring. He says he'd use the savings to cut taxes.

"I did it in California, and it worked," he says. Reagan's hiring freeze in California was not a complete success, however.

In the first few days after taking the oath of office in 1967, he did freeze state hiring and order 10 percent spending cuts in state agencies. But a flood of exceptions made the freeze almost meaningless; in his first year as governor, the state work force grew by 4,273. By the end of Reagan's reign, the state work force increased by 45,000 workers.

a 28 percent boost during a period in which the California population grew 10 percent.

The trend, at least, was downward. There was a 55 percent increase in the state bureaucracy during the administration of Reagan's predecessor, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, the current governor's father.

Reagan currently embraces a tax-cut and balanced budget strategy for the federal government, and says his experience in California proves both are possible. Again, his Sacramento record is mixed — he did bring the state's budget into balance, but he used tax increases to offset ever-higher spending.

Reagan signed the biggest tax increases in California's 130-year history and presided over an 123 percent increase in spending. He signed legislation raising the sales tax from four to six cents per dollar, the bank and corporation tax from 5.5 percent to 9 percent, and the top bracket of the state personal income tax from 7 percent to 11 percent. He also raised cigarette taxes and extended the sales tax to gasoline.

Texas is now thinking 'tourist'

Think the tourist dollar doesn't mean a lot to Texas? Last year, 24.9 million out-of-state visitors came to Texas and left behind $4.8 billion in totally 'new' money, money earned elsewhere but spent within the borders of the state. The fact that Texas has a strong, vibrant economy can be attributed at least in part to the tourist dollar, according to the Federal Reserve System.

IT HAD REACHED the point now where approximately 135 million Americans take trips each year. They combine to spend over $120 billion. Tourist is the nation's third largest industry and, next to petroleum, the largest single item of international trade. Most states now rank tourism as one of their top three money earners.

Tourism in Texas has grown from a $471 million industry in 1962 to $4.8 billion today, and has the potential for getting even bigger.

The state treasury last year collected $193 million through sales to tourists, lodging, gasoline and excise taxes — taxes the business community of Texas itself does not have to pay.

The food and drink industry alone realized $1.2 billion in sales from out-of-state visitors, the hotel and motel industry another $1.1 billion, the gas, oil and automotive trades another $1.4 billion. In entertainment and recreation alone, the tourists invested $411 million. In addition, another $690 million was spent in retail stores (for clothing, gifts, drugs and other items) by non-residents who spent some of their leisure time here.

The average tourist spent 9.9 days in the state and invested an average of $29.28 per day. If each visitor had spent only one extra day within the state, another $730 million would have been realized here.

The state never made any particular effort to boost tourism until 1962, although the legislature did toss aside the constitutional restriction for promotion of tourism in 1958. The Texas Tourism Council wasn't chartered until four years later. Prior to that time, the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department was the sole promotional voice for Texas but even that agency was limited to issuing travel literature and confined its activities to its state-line tourist bureaus.

An 'anti-carpetbaggers' clause in the 1876 Texas Constitution had prevented Texas from spending money to attract 'immigrants.' For 82 years thereafter, the legislature interpreted 'immigrants' as meaning 'tourists.' For that reason, the legislature did nothing to promote tourism until we were more than halfway through the 20th century. By that time, 40 states were advertising for visitors, luring tourists Texas could have had if this state had had a national promotion program.

THE TEXAS TOURIST Council undertakes a lot of activities to promote tourism. One of its primary purposes is to see that the Texas Tourist Development Agency is adequately financed by the legislature, which it has to be if it is to be competitive with other major states vying for tourist dollars.

The TTDA invites several prominent travel writers each year to tour Texas, purchasing air transportation for them and then helps finance in-state transportation and hosts some functions. The result has been an abundance of favorable articles published by the writers.

The council each year surveys all airlines, bus lines and railroads to determine the number of visitors coming to Texas. The results of the surveys have been important in keeping the Legislature, press and others informed on the economic importance of the visitor industry.

Residents of the state are constantly being reminded that we should live by our motto — The Friendly State. A 'Friendly Texan Week' is proclaimed each year by the Governor just prior to the influx of visitors. The Council also has a program to publicly recognize individuals and firms that contribute greatly to the promotion of tourism in Texas. Slide presentations are regularly offered civic and service clubs, association meetings and Chambers of Commerce, stressing the importance of the tourism industry.

What a difference a few years make.

Thinking ahead

Around the rim

Steve Hershberger

The Robinsons, old friends of my family, recently threw a party for a relative of mine, Dustin Hershberger, who was graduating from college.

There were about 40 persons at their large ranch-style house. Each person was eagerly awaiting the graduate — a man awarded a degree from a prestigious eastern university.

WHEN HE CAME into the door, Dustin had a certain uneasiness, probably from the realization he was leaving the collegiate environs of frat parties, all-night poker games and Saturday afternoon athletic contests for the real world of working eight to five and paying bills.

"What are you going to do, Dustin?" asked a slightly inebriated lady. "Brain surgery?"

"Gee," Dustin said in an Ivy League manner. "I don't know if I have the head for it."

Another man came up to him with good intentions and proclaimed, "Go into real estate! Real estate!"

Dustin replied, "I thought I would try to be employed first." He was obviously showing off with this remark, illustrating his knowledge of the current housing situation.

He was led around the room, being introduced to dozens of people he didn't know. Finally, Dustin came up to a casual, success-oriented looking man.

"One piece of advice, okay," the man said taking Dustin away from the crowd.

Dustin nodded nervously. "Euphorbia lathyrus," the man pronounced.

"Euthanasia," Dustin repeated confusedly.

"Euphorbia lathyrus," he said. "Yesterday, I received a letter from Dustin. In the note, he said he had purchased to the consternation of everybody vast acres of desolate land in West Texas.

"I figure to be a millionaire in a few years and should be rubbing elbows with Rockefeller in about 10 years," Dustin wrote.

The new college graduate has gone into the wholesale growing of euphorbia lathyrus, better known around these parts as the gopherweed.

"Scientists with Diamond Shamrock in Dallas have found that the milky white syrup from the gopherweed can be refined into a synthetic gasoline," Dustin wrote.

HE WENT ON TO write that researchers with the Dallas-based company found that on a large scale an acre of gopherweeds can produce between 20 and 30 barrels of the synthetic fuel. This substance can be used in the place of petroleum products.

Dustin pointed out that Melvin Calvin, a Nobel Prize winner and well-known proponent of exploiting synthetic chemicals, said that in 10 years time the gopherweed could provide almost 10 percent of all the United States' oil needs.

"The advantages are quite obvious," he wrote. "The plant uses little water and can be grown on land not used for food production."

I am quite impressed with Dustin. He and his fellow weed farmers are the hope of our future. They won't solve the energy crisis! But with all those weeds that grow in West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, these weed pioneers could put a dent into the gasoline clouds.

Besides, he will never have to break his back. He does not have to pull weeds like the rest of us trying to grow a lawn.

Now Top Secret

Evans, Novak,

WASHINGTON — The "top secret" Senate Republican staff study of the failed hostage rescue effort, whose leak to the media threatens a full-scale investigation, contains information publicized by the Iranian government after it found the secret documents and plans in an abandoned U.S. helicopter in the Iranian desert.

The report for the Senate Armed Services Committee was stamped "top secret" even though it mainly rehearsed plans captured in the helicopter. This included spy satellite pictures of designated landing places for the rescue teams plus operational plans.

THESE DOCUMENTS were widely published around the world. Yet, leak of the study infuriated Sen. John Stennis, the austere armed services committee chairman. He has ordered a thorough investigation to find the leaker.

BUSH'S BACKPEDALING

Foes of a Reagan-Bush ticket claim that George Bush would have trouble repudiating his ludicrous primary campaign charges that Ronald Reagan's tax cut would cost 30 percent inflation, but Reagan insiders scoff at the notion.

"Forget it," one of Reagan's oldest advisers told us. "Bush can backpedal better than anybody. His long suit is loyalty, and he can be loyal to the governor (Reagan)." Thus, Bush is probably No. 1 on the Reagan vice presidential list today.

However, some Reagan advisers wonder how many votes Bush will really bring to the ticket. They suspect those votes cannot make up for Reagan not getting on the anti-abortion ticket in New York state if Bush is chosen as vice president. That could cost Reagan New York's 41 electoral votes.

CARTER'S REFUSAL

White House insiders are complaining that the office of Anne Wexler, one of President Carter's senior assistants, put the president in a bad light in his reported refusal to appear before the National Council of Mayors in Seattle the same day as Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

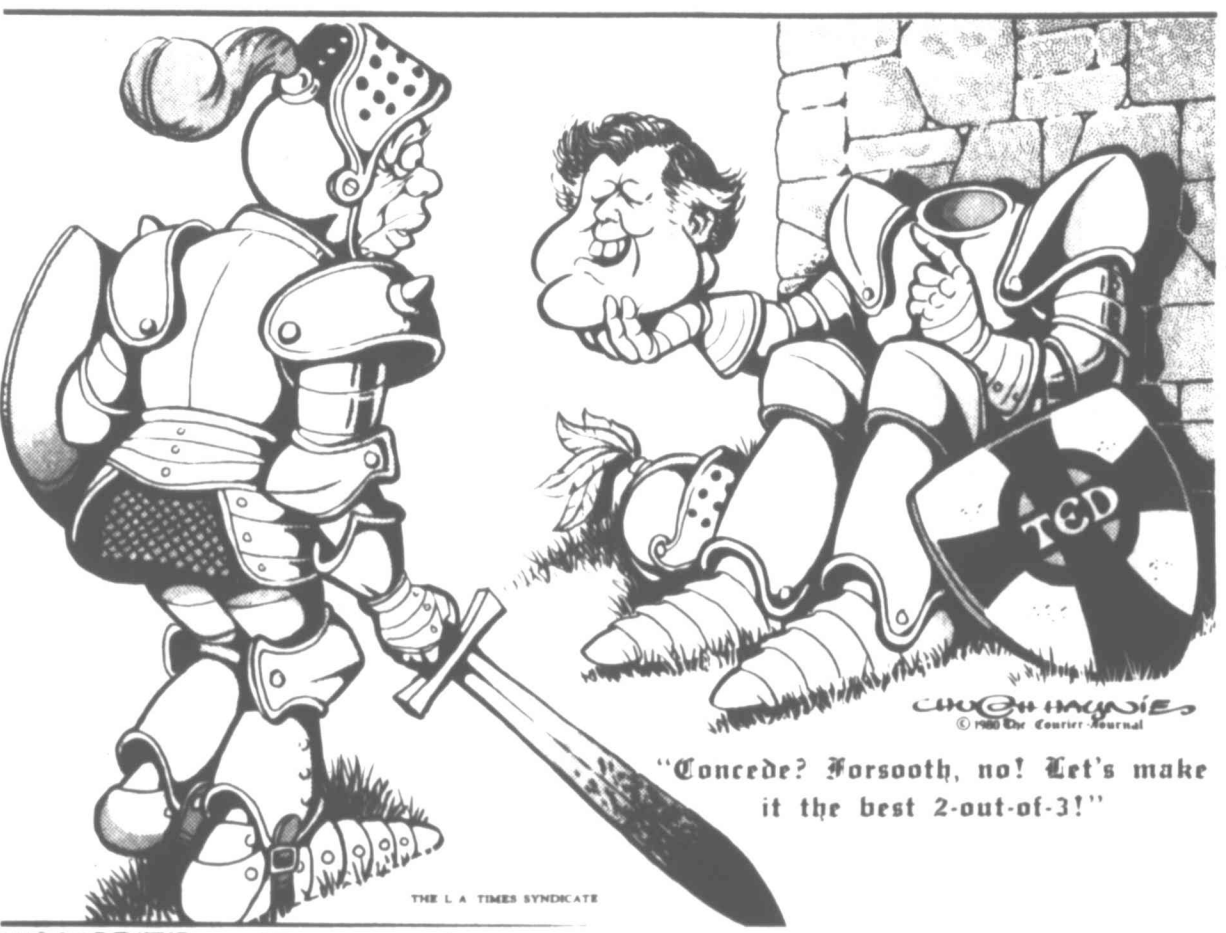

Perhaps reacting to the bad publicity the president got from his dog-in-a-manger attitude, one of Carter's campaign advisers blamed Wexler's office for mishandling the announcement.

What had been planned, this insider told us, was for the mayors to take full responsibility for disinviting Kennedy with Carter playing no role at all in the decision. Instead, the burden was put on the president, making it appear that Carter was afraid of a back-to-back confrontation with Kennedy.

HARMONIZING KEYNOTER

Gov. William Clinton of Arkansas, the early front-runner to be Democratic convention keynoter, lost out to Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona for one reason: The desire by the Carter high command to placate the defeated but bitter Kennedy forces.

THE 34-YEAR-OLD Clinton is an eloquent voice of the future in the party, but has backed President Carter's reelection bid from the beginning.

Early washing is help

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I just got a good case of poison ivy. Would you know where I could get pills to make me immune? A few years ago I got some in a drugstore, but now I cannot find them — A.B.

Poison ivy rash results when oils from that plant come in contact with skin. This produces a rash of tiny blisters on the exposed areas. The usual places are the hands and arms, but if the oil is not removed from the hands it (and its rash) is quickly transferred to other parts of the body.

There is a grace period involved with poison ivy. If the oil is left in contact with the skin for two hours, the rash will appear. Therefore, prompt washing of exposed areas will lessen the chances of getting it. Exposed clothing should be laundered. Incidentally, brush with poison ivy foliage should not be burned openly.

Once you have been unlucky enough to get a full-blown rash, tap water soaks and calamine lotion will reduce the discomfort. Some doctors prescribe antihistamines, more for the sedative effect than for treatment of the rash. In very severe cases steroids are used. I don't know what you were taking before, so I cannot comment on that part of your letter.

The question of desensitization always comes up when talking about poison ivy. An attempt at desensitization should be made if the problem is severe enough to force a person to change jobs because of frequent exposure to the plants. Both injections and desensitization with extracts from the plant, taken by mouth, have been tried. This method is rarely used today. The injections have greater success. There are many fine allergists in your area who can give you sound advice for your particular case.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Is it true that knuckles can be restored by surgery for those with arthritis? — P.P.

Yes, the art of arthroplasty (joint reconstruction) has reached that point where complete knuckle implants can be made. I've recently answered your other questions on arthritis in the column, P.P. Most of them are covered in the booklet you ask for, "How To Control Arthritis." Other readers may obtain a copy by mailing 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Could you tell me what makes my hands shake when I reach for anything or carry something? When I sit, they don't shake. Can anything be done? — Mrs. E.A.B.

The shaking that occurs when a person tries to perform an exact, precise movement, like threading a needle, is called "intention tremor." It is not like the tremor of Parkinson's disease. With that the tremor occurs in the hands when they are at rest, as when lying on your lap.

An intention tremor can indicate some mild disturbance of that part of the nervous system that helps coordinate movements. There are other causes for intention tremors. For instance, some tremors are found in many members of the same family (familial tremor). This kind is made worse when the person is under mental stress.

I give you these examples to let you know that every tremor of this kind need not imply even minor trouble with the nervous system. Many such tremors that appear with movements will be helped by the drug propranolol. Have your doctor evaluate your situation.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My little boy swallows his toothpaste after brushing. It has fluoride in it. Will this harm him? — C.L.

Fluoride toothpastes have ingredients in them that will cause vomiting if a dangerous amount is taken at one time — an ounce, or about the amount you would use in 12 brushings. I cannot find a case of acute poisoning from fluoride toothpastes, however. Your son will not be causing himself trouble in the long run by swallowing a small amount daily, but I cannot even state that with absolute certainty.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My life is a spiritual roller-coaster. How do I establish a consistent relationship with God? — Y.L.

DEAR Y.L.: By this I assume you mean there are times when you sense you are close to God and doing His will, and other times when you seem distant from Him and disobedient to Him. If this is the case, I want you to know first of all that God does not want your relationship with Him to be this way. If you have come to Christ by faith, you are now part of the family of God. As a child of God, you should be experiencing the privileges and joy which God has promised to you.

How can you learn to walk closely with God? First of all, you should pray that God will reveal to you any specific sins which are hindering your walk with Him. Do you have habits which harm your witness with others, or are there relationships which are wrong in God's eyes? Are there attitudes or motives which are unworthy of a child of God? If so, these things must be openly confessed to Him, and you must determine with God's help to turn your back on them. "Put to death, therefore, whatever belongs to your earthly nature: sexual immorality, impurity, lust, evil desires and greed...anger, rage, malice, slander, and filthy language" (Colossians 3:5, 8).

Then direct your attention to Christ. How do you do this? You do it by reading and studying His Word, the Bible. You do it as you turn to Him in prayer — not only bringing your problems to Him, but thanking Him for all He has done for you in Christ and praising Him for all He is. You do it also as you have fellowship with other Christians. Are these things — Bible study, prayer, fellowship — missing from your life? If so, it is easy to understand why you are having problems. But God has given these means to you, and as you make use of them God will bless them and use them to bring you closer to Himself.

Better under Shah

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, glowering fiercely from his shaggy countenance, declaring his hatred for America and all its works, has staged a "Crimes of America" conference. It would serve the Iranian people better to hold a "Crimes of the Ayatollah" conference.

FOR THE AYATOLLAH, whose dark and gloomy presence now dominates Iran, has forced on his people a harsher life than they ever endured under the shah. Khomeini has afflicted them with severe economic hardships and religious restraints. In return, he has offered them rewards in heaven.

Applying the guidelines of the United Nations Human Rights Commission, here is a list of the ayatollah's human rights violations: — He has ordered hundreds of summary executions; the secret death list is known to exceed 1,000. His victims have been political opponents and religious violators, ranging from dissidents to prostitutes to homosexuals. They have been accused at whim and tried before revolutionary councils without regard for due process or defendants' rights.

—Last December, I charged that Khomeini had revived the shah's dreaded SAVAK secret police and that he had kept in power the shah's closest confidant, Hossein Fardoust, who headed the imperial inspectorate with authority over SAVAK. Khomeini has merely changed the name of the secret police to SAVAMA.

This was confirmed by the Washington Post in a front-page story on June 7. SAVAMA, though not yet as cruel as SAVAK, has allegedly tortured its victims. There have been reports of beatings, cigarette burns, suspension by the feet and psychological abuses.

—SAVAMA also arrests and detains political opponents just like SAVAK used to do. Estimates of the number of political prisoners vary from 1,500 to 17,000. Many have been held incommunicado for long periods without formal charges or trials. SAVAMA also taps telephones and intercepts letters.

KHOMEINI HAS encouraged religious persecution, which reportedly has become rampant. The religious minorities, such as Jews and Bahais, live in terror. They have been bounded and harassed. Their religious property has been seized and their shrines desecrated.

—He has also curtailed personal freedoms. He has restricted the legal rights of women, authorized searches without warrants often at night and barred freedom of movement.

—He has cracked down on press freedom, closing more than 40 newspapers and magazines he didn't like, expelling foreign correspondents whose reports displeased him, detaining and questioning newsmen, interfering with international telephone, telex and satellite communications.

The ayatollah appears to be oblivious to the contradiction, as he commits the same crimes against humanity that he denounced under the shah. Indeed, Khomeini has a capacity to cultivate unreality, a mysticism that undermines rational government. Yet he has a tenacity and guile, with an inner fire that counters the chill his stern visage casts.

OIL WAR? — The United States, the Soviet Union and the Arab oil powers are maneuvering dangerously near the edge of world war. Here's the ominous scenario:

The oil sheiks are plundering the industrial nations, including the United States, by recklessly holding back production and rigging prices.

Big Spring Mailbag

Dear Editor:

The European Economic Community met in Venice last week and called for the PLO to participate in the Middle East peace talks. A number of Americans seem to have similar opinions. Let me show you the other side. Yasir Arafat was quoted in El Mundo, Caracas, Venezuela on February 11, 1980 as follows:

"We do not mind dying. I have married a woman whose name is Palestine. We want war, victory. Peace for us means the destruction of Israel. "We are preparing for an All-Out war, a war destined to last for generations. Since January 1965, when Al Fatah was born, we have become the most dangerous enemy Israel has. We shall not rest until the day when we can return to our home, and until we have destroyed Israel. The unity of the Arab world will make this possible.

"We want to return home without compromises. Several Arab states are unconditionally with us, others are not. But the risk of fighting Israel alone is a risk we have already foreseen. It is enough to think about the insults directed against us in the beginning: We were so mistreated that we no longer care. Our formation is a miracle: The flame we lit in 1965 shone amid darkest obscurity. But now we are many flames, and we illuminate the entire Arab nation. And even beyond the Arab nation...

"The destruction of Israel is the goal of our struggle, and the (following) guidelines for this struggle were set in 1965 with the creation of Al Fatah:

"1. Revolutionary violence is the only means for the liberation of the land of our fathers.

"2. The goal of that violence is the destruction of Zionism, in all its political, economic, and military forms, and its expulsion from Palestine.

"3. Our revolutionary activity must remain independent of any party or state control.

"4. This action will be of long duration. We know that the intention of some Arab leaders is to resolve this conflict by a peaceful agreement. When that occurs, we shall oppose it."

How can anyone expect the State of Israel to participate with an organization whose avowed goal is Israel's destruction?

A.J. Prager

Alternative help for pregnant girl

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I am responding to the letter from Jenny who resides in San Mateo, Calif., who was pregnant, unwed, confused, but who did not want an abortion.

You told her to tell her mother and that her mother would be the best person to help her. Truly, she should tell her parents, but many times parents will not give the best advice or push for an abortion.

May I please offer another alternative? Catholic Social Services does a great job in helping pregnant girls, and they assist in placing babies with adoptive parents and you don't have to be Catholic to be helped. — Sally, Florence, Ala.

Catholic Social Services is indeed a very helpful organization and will help if a girl is pregnant and single. They will assist in helping the girl about telling her family, obtaining medical care, staying in school, keeping the baby, finding a good home for the baby, and with legal problems. Any Catholic priest can give the necessary information if you can't locate the services in the telephone book.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 17-year-old girl who will be a senior next September. It so happens that I have this heavy crush on a boy who just graduated from high school. My problem is that no matter how I try, I can't get his attention at the several parties we have mutually attended. Help. — Connie, Battle Creek, Mich.

Connie: There are many ways to get his attention, but him asking you for a date might be a tad more difficult. When you see him again, a party would be a good place, be bold enough to introduce yourself to him. Ask him if he is planning to attend college and if so where.

If he is interested in you, he will follow up. Believe me!

Dr. Wallace: My parents both smoke (I don't) and many times our house is completely filled with tobacco smoke and the smell often gags me.

I am constantly reminding them that smoking is bad for their health and in this case, mine too. Just how bad is it for a person to breathe in tobacco smoke clogging up the air? — Alex., London, Ontario.

Alex: Lay this on your parents. Scientific studies have shown that smoke drifting from cigarettes and cigars is just as hazardous as that inhaled by the smokers, and in some cases is more dangerous. In the case where the "breather" is allergic or has breathing difficulties, the smoke exhaled by smokers can be very damaging.

Send questions to Dr. Robert Wallace, TWEEN 12 and 20, in care of this newspaper. For Dr. Wallace's teen booklet, "Happiness or Despair," please send $1 and a 25-cent stamped, large, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Wallace, in care of this newspaper.

Students write way to U.N.

Through an essay contest conducted by Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 and Mullin Odd Fellows Lodge No. 372, Big Spring High School students Misty Johnson and Bobby Brasel have won the opportunity to sit in on United Nations meetings and an expense-paid historical tour of the country.

Misty and Bobby will go as guests of the local lodges on the annual "United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth." Rebekahs throughout the United States have sponsored the event for the past 31 years.

The group, including tour director Robert Wilson, past

Noble Grand of the local Odd Fellows, will leave by bus from Ennis on July 6. They will return July 22.

The 16-day trip will include four days in Washington, D.C., where the students will visit the Smithsonian Institute, the White House and historical monuments.

After visiting Gettysburg and Monticello, they will spend six days at the United Nations after which they will cross the Peace Bridge to Canada.

All 50 states will be represented by students at the U.N. with about eight states of students attending at one time.

Dear Abby

Active Life Possible For MS Sufferers

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to PREPARED FOR THE WORST, the woman with MS (multiple sclerosis) who was told by her doctor that eventually she would be paralyzed and confined to a wheelchair. How right you were to tell her not to accept her doctor's gloomy prognosis. She was debating whether to tell her 13-year-old about her disease in the hope that she might be more cooperative and understanding — yet she didn't want to frighten or upset her younger children.

I think all her children should be told. She should also contact her local MS society. Members will invite her to meetings, put her in touch with other MS victims and provide her with a lot of helpful information. PREPARED FOR THE WORST should also read "The Pursuit of Hope," an excellent and inspiring book by Miriam Ottenberg, a Pulitzer journalist, herself a person with MS.

I know firsthand about MS because I have it, too. My 8-year-old daughter and 11-year-old son were told what I have and how they can help. They are among my greatest assets. Without their help and my husband's constant assurance, I wouldn't be able to do the things I do today. I'm a substitute teacher, Brownie leader, team mom for my son's baseball team and active in my church and PTA.

I manage to keep my home going and keep up a moderately active social life. I realize that someday I could be paralyzed and in a wheelchair. But right now I am not, and I intend to use to the fullest everything I have. Every day I fight to keep my body on its feet and walking. It's a struggle, but it's well worth the effort when I see what I can still accomplish. PAT HERMAN, OXNARD, CALIF.

DEAR PAT: Thank you for a wonderful letter. I received hundreds of letters from those with MS, and all were in complete agreement that no one should expect the worst and resign him/herself to a wheelchair. They also told me that telling the children and asking for their help bring the family closer together. For those who want more information about MS, write to the National MS Society, 205 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

(Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Allergies and bed wetting

BAR HARBOUR, Fla. — Food allergies are the cause of bed wetting for about 5.5 million American children, according to Dr. James C. Breneman of Michigan State University.

As reported in Medical Tribune, at a meeting of the American College of Allergists, Dr. Breneman described a study of 500 children with a history of enuresis (bed wetting).

Cow's milk was the allergen in about 60 percent, with others being allergic to chocolate, eggs, grains and citrus fruits.

"When the offending food is removed from the child's diet, enuresis stops almost at once," Dr. Breneman contends.

Take care

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — "Although eye cosmetics are typically free of contamination when purchased, they often become contaminated with bacteria during normal use," according to Thomas O. Wood, MD, at the University of Tennessee Center for the Health Sciences.

"The eye can be subject to infection, especially if scratched," he told a writer for Infectious Diseases, a publication for physicians.

Dr. Wood described a corneal ulcer that resulted when a woman scratched the right cornea while applying mascara. When the mascara was analyzed various types of bacteria were identified.

Fair Housing Act

'No' votes explained

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Earlier this week the House passed the Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1980, a bill which some have called the most important civil rights legislation of the decade. Despite this claim, I voted against this measure for two reasons: 1) it attacks basic principles of private ownership of property, and 2) it leaves the federal bureaucracy — and not our judicial system — in charge of handling complaints regarding alleged discrimination in housing.

This means that seven Housing and Urban Development (HUD) bureaucrats, administrative law judges, will have to handle approximately 3,000 housing discrimination disputes that arise each year across the United States. Ideally, these cases should be under the jurisdiction of federal courts. During debate on the floor I supported an amendment, the Sensenbrenner-Volkmer Amendment, which would use federal magistrates to expedite handling of housing discrimination disputes. Unfortunately my colleagues rejected this amendment by one vote, making HUD the investigator, prosecutor, judge, and jury in these suits.

By voting down the Sensenbrenner-Volkmer Amendment and subsequently passing the Fair Housing Amendments Act bill, the Congress has created a system where the victims of housing discrimination cannot be compensated for their misfortunes even if their complaint is upheld. This occurs because HUD's administrative law judges do not have the authority to award civil damages to the complainant. These civil servants can only levy civil penalties — up to $10,000 — against the party guilty of discrimination. Any civil damages awarded by the administrative law judges would be unconstitutional. As a result, the discrimination victim receives neither any compensation nor the property which he had originally been denied.

According to the provisions of this bill, as passed by the full House, if the property has been sold to another purchaser in the meantime, that purchaser keeps it regardless of the

Resistance growing in Afghanistan

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — The bodies of five supporters of Afghan President Babrak Karmal were found dismembered in Kabul, the president himself failed in a suicide attempt, and a former Afghan air force commander was shot and wounded, reports from various sources said.

The reports, none of which could be independently confirmed, strengthened speculation that the six-month-old Soviet intervention aimed at crushing the anti-communist Moslem uprising in Afghanistan was running into increasing opposition.

A university student who is a resident of Kabul, the Afghan capital, said the five mutilated bodies were found earlier this month in a Soviet-built housing development where members of the ruling Khalq Party have been assigned apartments.

The report of Karmal's attempted suicide Friday was published by Indian news agencies in New Delhi quoting Radio Pakistan. They said Karmal's security guards prevented the president from killing himself.

There was no independent confirmation of the report, and diplomatic sources in the Indian capital said they had heard nothing about any suicide attempt from their embassies in Kabul.

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm

results of the HUD investigation. This bill, then, only gives discrimination victims the satisfaction of having their complaint upheld. Otherwise, the complainant has not gotten a thing.

In spite of these major problems, there was one amendment to this Fair Housing bill that I especially supported, and which was agreed to by the full House. This amendment proposed by Congressman Sam Hall (D-Tex.), provides two exemptions to the Act. The first is for single-family homes sold or rented by the owner, and states that an owner of not more than three single-family homes may sell or rent to anyone he chooses, so long as he does not use a real estate agency or salesman. The Hall Amendment also exempts the rental of rooms in a four-family dwelling in which the owner lives. Without these exemptions, persons renting out a portion of their home for subsistence income and servicemen leasing their homes while on extended tours of duty, for example, would be subject to possible HUD administrative action and Federal Government harassment.

On the light side Pre-school paint off

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The Busy Bees Day Care Center of Nashua got a damage award from the state after a freshly painted but unmarked picnic table left its mark on eight kids.

A class of eight pre-schoolers from the center stopped at a state-operated, roadside rest area in May and sat at a picnic table.

What the class didn't know, but soon found out, was that a state public works crew had just painted the table and apparently had forgotten to post a "wet paint" sign.

The Public Works Department requested payment of $42 from the Executive Council because it said "The children all received paint damage to their clothing."

Who's got the off button?

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — The Rock Island Line hasn't run through Benton in months. But something in its system went berserk — and city officials didn't know where to turn when signals began clanging and blinking at two intersections.

The bankrupt railroad's signals went haywire on Friday. Finally, on Wednesday, city officials located a railroad official in Chicago who promised to get the signal at one of the intersections disconnected, but the noise was not shut off immediately.

The obnoxious noise and blinking lights were silenced at the other intersection Wednesday when someone disconnected it.

"This is crazy," Maurice Bennett, city manager, said. "We've called everybody we can think of and nobody seems to know what agency has the authority to deactivate those things."

Highest unemployment rate predicted for 1981

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor Secretary Ray Marshall has offered the highest unemployment prediction yet from a top Carter administration official, saying the nation's jobless rate may peak at 8 1/2 percent early in 1981.

The unemployment rate last month was 7.8 percent and officially, the administration has said that the rate would peak at 7.2 percent.

Marshall's prediction Wednesday of a rise in the figures was buttressed by statistics from the Labor Department. The figures show that initial claims for state unemployment insurance in the first week of June were 675,000, up 50,000 from the previous week.

The figures mean "unemployment will continue to rise," Marshall told a news conference. "I think it could get to 8 1/2 percent, maybe." He said he would be "terribly surprised" if the figure rose to 9 percent, the peak rate during the 1974-1975 recession.

Marshall said he would be "very surprised" if Carter proposes an across-the-board tax cut next year to stimulate the economy.

Another Cabinet member, Treasury Secretary G. William Miller, said Wednesday that Carter "has made no decision yet on tax proposals which might be considered for implementation after 1980."

On strike at a silver mine

REAL DE MONTE, Mexico (AP) — For five generations, members of Venancio Rosales Estrada's family have crawled through tunnels digging out gold and silver from one of Mexico's richest mines.

But he is now leading a strike against the 450-year-old mine because his $4.80 daily salary is not enough to break the "vicious cycle" he says will force his children into the mines.

"My grandfather and his grandfather suffered in this mine and things are not much different now," said the 36-year-old miner, his raspy voice broken by coughs caused by 20 years in the dust-filled mine. "The work here is the same as our ancestors," said another miner. "Workers die from the gases and we still run through the tunnels like rats."

Rosales said: "I don't even have money to buy clothes. I don't want my children to work in the mines, but to get good jobs you need a high school education. That costs money... money that I don't have. The only legacy I can leave is what my father left me: to become a miner."

The Miners and Metallurgical Workers Union went on strike at the government-owned mine May 12. They are demanding a 50 percent salary increase, a social security program and better working conditions. Some workers have agreed to accept the state corporation's offer of 20 percent plus benefits, but a majority are still holding out.

Real de Monte was founded in the 1540s by Spanish conquistadors. The mine's nearly 2,500 miles of tunnels, which would nearly stretch from New York to San Francisco, once made it the world's largest silver mine. It still produces 1,100 pounds of gold and 80 tons of silver annually, making it about the fourth largest mine in Mexico.

Enrique Ibarra, the director of the company, said the workers deserve more money, but not as much as they are asking. He also said the $4.80 a day can be stretched by an incentive program with bonus payments.

Union Secretary General Napoleon Gomez Sada said that Real de Monte's pay scale is lower than any other major mine in Mexico including Penoles near Guanajuato, which is the world's largest producing silver mine and where wages average $12 a day.

"We are just asking for a just salary," said Jesus Madrid, a 38-year-old miner standing on a picket line. "We are the producers. We sustain all those people making thousands of pesos a week who sit at desks, sign checks and drink coffee while we go down 1500 feet, eat dust and breath venomous gases."

The workers also said they would have to be "supermen" to qualify for bonuses in the company's incentive program. Rosales, who used to be a driller, said "Sure the company says you can earn $675 a month by getting the bonus of 100 pesos ($4.38) for every meter over 20 meters a day. You would have to work 16 hours a day, and that doesn't take into account the heat, the noise and the cramped space."

The miners claim the company is not concerned about the workers' health. They say the mine should be ventilated for six hours after an eight-hour shift, but claim the company works two eight-hour shifts before ventilation. They also claim the six company-supplied doctors for the 4,500 workers often prescribe medicine without an examination.

Ibarra said, "Our health care is not the best in the world, but it is certainly adequate." He said 3,500 workers are treated for upper respiratory infections annually, but added: "We only have 20 cases of black lung." He attributed those cases to workers too stubborn to wear company-supplied masks and breathing equipment.

Real de Monte won Mexico's award for the fewest mine accidents in 1979. There were three deaths in the mine in 1979, but four people died in one accident in February 1980.

"In general, the working conditions of the miners are much, much worse than the United States," said one foreign mining expert.

"We know this is hard work. All we want is a just salary for putting our lives in danger," said Cefejino Mendoza, 42, president of the strike committee.

Ibarra said, "We think it is one of the hardest jobs a man can have. But the workers want more money for less work."

Ibarra did not discuss company profits but at current world prices the mine would produce nearly $50 million dollars of the precious metals each year.

"Business is going up. Prices of gold and silver are high. We are taking it out of the ground and getting paid with paper scraps that don't mean anything anymore," said Madrid.

DPS trooper charged with perjury in case

MADISONVILLE, Texas (AP) — A Department of Public Safety trooper who shot and killed an unarmed motorcyclist has been indicted by a grand jury for allegedly giving conflicting statements about the shooting.

Jose De La Garza, 32, a DPS trooper assigned to Madisonville, was charged Wednesday by the panel with aggravated perjury in connection with the May 22 shooting of Alan Lewis, 24, of Houston.

Lewis was shot once in the head after a lengthy chase in Madison county. Assistant District Attorney Latham Boone said the grand jury will reconvene July 9 to consider possible homicide charges against the officer.

He said a ballistics report on the shooting will be presented to the panel at that time. The same jury had earlier cleared the officer of any charges in connection with the shooting. The perjury charge is a third-degree felony.

De La Garza told DPS investigators he spotted Lewis and an unknown companion riding their motorcycles north on Interstate 45 north of Madisonville and began chasing them after they failed to stop for a speeding violation.

The trooper told investigators he chased Lewis for about 20 miles at speeds in excess of 100 mph. During the chase, Lewis ran a series of roadblocks manned by Madisonville police, according to DPS spokesman Sam Saxon.

The trooper told DPS investigators that he was 50 feet away when he shot Lewis after the chase ended. He said he thought Lewis was pulling a gun.

But Madison County Sheriff Ed Fannin said the trooper later told him he was touching Lewis when he fired the fatal shot. Fannin said De La Garza also said he told DPS investigators the same thing.

The second motorcyclist escaped, authorities said. Jerry Sandel, District Attorney of the 12th District, said the grand jury acted prematurely when it charged the trooper May 27 of any charges in connection with the shooting prior to hearing an autopsy report.

Prolonged recession could make Social Security payments late in 1983, officials warn Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trustees of the Social Security system warned Congress today that a prolonged recession could prevent the system from paying benefits on time in 1983.

In their annual report, the trustees said that under adverse economic conditions, the system still might need more revenues in three years even with the Carter administration's proposal to allow borrowing among the three trust funds — Old Age and Survivors Insurance, Disability Insurance and Hospital Insurance (Medicare).

Without borrowing, the trustees said, Old Age and Survivors Insurance — the biggest trust fund — "will be unable to pay benefits by late 1981 or early 1982."

The report outlined three possible economic scenarios. The most pessimistic view foresees declines in the real Gross National Product of 1.7 percent in 1980 and 1 percent in 1981, before the GNP increases again. It also figures inflation rates no lower than 9.8 percent until 1985 and unemployment between 7 percent and 9.1 percent.

With that projection, "beginning in 1983, the three combined funds would be unable to pay benefits when due," the report said. "Thus, under adverse conditions, interfund borrowing only would postpone but not eliminate the need for additional income."

Under the other two economic scenarios, the trustees said commingling of funds would allow the system to escape its financial crisis.

The trustees — Treasury Secretary G. William Miller, Labor Secretary Ray Marshall and Secretary of Health and Human Services Patricia Roberts Harris — did not make specific proposals for raising revenues. They did, however, repeat previous advice that the big payroll tax increase scheduled for 1981 should not be reduced.

The report cautioned that all their projections "contain some uncertainty" because they depend on economic and demographic factors, including birth and death rates, that are subject to change.

In their report last year, the trustees also said a recession could jeopardize the system's ability to pay retirement benefits on time beginning in 1983. But they described it then as simply a monthly cash-flow problem — not enough in the till at the start of each month to send out the checks — and they said commingling the three trust funds probably would tide the system over during such crunches.

The $128.4 billion Social Security program sent monthly benefit checks to 35 million Americans and collected taxes from 114 million workers and employers in 1979.

Already scheduled tax increases from 1981 to 1990 are expected to rebuild the trust funds and put them on an even keel for 50 years, with the exception of the Medicare fund, the trustees reported. As they have said in the past, they predicted the Medicare fund will be wiped out over the next 25 years.

Chamber tourney features exciting individual events

A total of 28 teams have entered the Second Annual Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Invitational Slow Pitch Tournament, which is scheduled for this weekend at the Johnny Stone Park.

The double elimination affair will begin tomorrow evening, and all games, except the championship in the winners and losers brackets, will be limited to one hour.

Ten Big Spring teams will compete in the three-day affair. They are the Howard County Farmers, Kwiksilver, Alliance: Kings, A's, Money's Enterprises, Casden Engineers, Westside, Fred Pena's and First National Bank Flyers. Coahoma will be represented by the Roughnecks and the Coahoma FCA.

Other towns that will have teams competing include Lamesa, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Snyder, Colorado City, Sterling City, and San Angelo.

Prizes will be awarded to the top three teams. Big Spring Athletics will sponsor the first place trophy, with Spring Country Builders the second place trophy and Walls Industries the third.

On Saturday afternoon, a unique three-event special tournament will be held, and individuals wishing to participate need not be a member of team in the regular double elimination tourney.

There will be an event in which the fastest hurled softball will win a prize, with a police radar checking the action to determine the champion. A home run hitting contest will also be held, as well as a base running tournament for the swiftest of feet.

BRUCE CARROLL

Bruce Carroll inks golf letter with Midland College Chaps

Big Spring Steer golfer Bruce Carroll, who enjoyed success during his high school career here, has signed a letter-of-intent with the Midland College Chaparrals.

Carroll was the first golfer signed by Midland College Athletic Director-Golf Coach Delnor Poss, although the Chaparral mentor indicated that a few other excellent collegiate prospects have committed to MC.

The newest Chaparral was the Steers top golfer the past year, and finished as the fourth leading medalist in District 5-AAAA, averaging 77 strokes per round. His score would undoubtedly have been higher, but some unfriendly weather conditions would not permit it.

Carroll is a member of a longtime golfing family in Big Spring. His older brother, Jarrell, helped lead the Steers, along with present BSHS golf coach Howard Stewart, to the state tournament in 1970. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Carroll.

He had numerous golfing awards during his career. At age 15, he finished second in the West Texas Tournament, and tied for first in the state qualifying for the International Orange Bowl Classic in Miami, Florida. He also won junior tournaments in Midland, Big Spring and Lubbock during that year.

He also has finished as high as ninth in the state qualifying tournament for the National Junior Tournament, as well as other accomplishments.

Midland College Coach Delnor Poss is hoping that Carroll will continue to improve, and will be a part of a mid rebuilding program aimed toward the Western Conference title. The Chaps won the Western Conference and the Region V title a year ago, but failed to repeat the past season Western Texas replaced them as the kingpin.

"Bruce has a lot of tournament experience, good basic techniques, and a winning attitude," Poss noted. "He should fit into our program very well."

US Open victory will keep Nicklaus going

ILE BIZARD, Quebec (AP) — Jack Nicklaus' record-setting victory in the United States Open represented a turning point in his incomparable career.

There had been speculation — Nicklaus had talked of it — that continued frustration built up by a two-year non-winning string could force him into retirement.

That all changed, he said, with his dramatic triumph last weekend at Baltusrol.

"It gave me confidence that I can go on and play well for several years to come," the 40-year-old Nicklaus said before teeing off today in the first round of the $350,000 Canadian Open, one of the few events remaining on his schedule this year.

"Winning any major tournament is important," said Nicklaus, who has built his golfing life around the world's four major tests of golfing greatness: the U.S. and British Opens, the PGA and the Masters. He's won them a record 16 times.

"But this one, coming as it did after all the things I'd gone through for a year and a half, not winning for so long, was important in that it proved to me that I can still compete, can still win. "It will keep me going for a while. It gives me confidence. All the hard work paid off."

"The last one you win, the one of the moment, always seems to be the best, the most important. But this one was a thrill. As you get older, it's a bigger thrill because it's harder to win."

He has a restricted schedule for the rest of the year: here, the British Open, the PGA and the World Series are the only definite commitments.

Neither he nor his fellow pros would be surprised if he won again.

"He's the man to beat here," defending champion Lee Trevino said. He's coming in riding a high. He's gonna be hard to handle. You'll see some guys win a big tournament, then miss the cut the next week. But this is the Golden Bear we're talking about.

"The Bear is back. "And he really wants to win the Canadian. It's one of the few tournaments he hasn't won."

Nicklaus agreed about the lack of a letdown that is common in the wake of a major triumph.

"I haven't felt any at all," he said. "In fact, I feel so good, I'm enjoying golf so much. That Tuesday I took care of some work in the office, then went out and played nine holes."

He played a practice round in a chilly, drizzling rain Wednesday over the 6,628-yard, par-70 Royal Montreal Golf Club course that is the site of this year's Canadian national championship.

Billy Martin questions system

BALTIMORE (AP) — It's one down and two to go for Manager Billy Martin of the Oakland A's in his latest batch of baseball disputes.

American League President Lee MacPhail said Wednesday that Martin has been fined for "over-aggressive dissent" during an on-field argument with umpire Dale Ford in a game at Oakland on June 8.

"Maybe it's about time the system should be challenged," Martin said after learning of the decision prior to Oakland's game against the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night.

"He (MacPhail) shouldn't be judge and jury," Martin said. "He is my friend, but I think the system is wrong. Somebody other than the boss of the umpires should determine whether somebody should be fined or not, somebody impartial."

The fine does not end the matter. MacPhail has scheduled meetings to investigate an incident following the game, in which Martin said Ford challenged him to a fight in the Oakland Coliseum runway.

And, when the A's reach New York on Friday, Martin is due to appear at a hearing for Oakland player Wayne Gross, who faces possible action for making contact with umpire Jerry Neudecker in yet another confrontation.

On Saturday, when the Yankees Oldtimers' Day, Martin will have to decide whether to participate. He has said he wouldn't but telegram Wednesday asking that he wear the New York pinstripes for the ceremonies.

George Steinbrenner, the Yankees' owner who twice fired Martin, sent him a

Martin had asked MacPhail to investigate Ford's conduct in the June 8 fracas, which started after Ford called Oakland's Tony Armas out on a called third strike.

In a statement released by his New York office Wednesday, MacPhail said he had spoken to both Martin and Ford, read the reports of all the umpires, interviewed other persons at the game and reviewed a television tape.

"The television tape shows over-aggressive dissent on the part of Martin and does not show shoving or pushing by Mr. Ford," the statement said.

"Mr. Martin submitted an audio tape of the argument in the runway after the game," MacPhail said. "It was difficult to judge anything clearly by this tape. Both parties may have been partially at fault, but the tape does not establish Martin's claim that Ford challenged him to a fight."

"I haven't had a hearing," Martin said. "Are we in Russia now? You're guilty first and have to prove yourself innocent. I think that's backwards and it also may be unconstitutional."

"I'm not saying anything against the umpires," Martin said. "But on this one occasion, the umpire was wrong and I have about 20 witnesses to back up what I say. I'm not trying to get an umpire suspended, but if he makes a mistake, it ought to be admitted and he should be reprimanded."

Commercial television couldn't afford lucrative bout

Leonard-Duran too much for TV

By the Associated Press

Friday night's fight between Sugar Ray Leonard and Roberto Duran is too big for the small screen. In fact, it's so big that the commercial television networks couldn't afford it live, although ABC paid big bucks for a taped broadcast an incredible 29 days later.

This eagerly anticipated World Boxing Council welterweight championship bout, which will be held in Montreal's Olympic Stadium, will be seen on closed circuit TV in more than 250 theaters and arenas and on two pay-for-view cable systems in Los Angeles and Columbus, Ohio.

Bigtime boxing has been using primetime TV as its partner in money-making even before the major promoters figured out that people would tune in hoping to see Muhammad Ali eat his words, while sponsors would pay a pretty penny hoping that people would listen to their words between rounds.

But Leonard-Duran has created a new alliance, prompting the bout's promoters, Bob Arum and Don King, to predict major changes in the partnership between network TV and the major fights.

"This is the beginning of a revolution in boxing and television because it means we are moving closer to the day when almost all boxing will be seen, not on network television, but on pay cable," said Arum. "We have seen the last of the big fights on network television. The networks know they have only two years left with boxing."

King agreed that a revolution was brewing but wasn't ready to say the networks had been knocked out yet. "As pay TV grows, we will get to the point, say, where 500,000 subscribers might be willing to pay $3 to see a fight that the networks wouldn't want because it couldn't command a 30 percent share of the audience on commercial television," he said.

King and Arum, of course, will take their business wherever the money is greenest. It's uncertain, however, how much interest there would be on pay TV for less marketable fights. But at least for this one, the well-worn label, "Fight of the Century," really sticks.

It's ironic that the revolution away from the networks is being launched by Leonard, a mere welterweight and as much a creature of TV as any Hollywood star. Leonard, who broke the rule that said that only heavyweights could draw large TV audiences, owes his popularity to his televised Olympic victory on ABC four years ago in Montreal and then the same network's star treatment of him as he fought his way up the pro ladder.

Leonard didn't dump ABC; the network just couldn't afford him. Based on his live gate and closed-circuit percentage deal, it is estimated that Leonard will receive between $8 and $10 million, the best boxing payday ever. Duran will be getting a flat $1.5 million.

Since ABC can't show Leonard-Duran live, it will do the next best thing — televise it on "Wide World of Sports" July 19, which happens to be the day the Moscow Olympics are set to begin and four years after Leonard's Olympic springboard triumph.

Boxers' mouths warming for Friday's title bout

MONTREAL (AP) — It's the calm before the storm for Sugar Ray Leonard and Roberto Duran. But the calm is not necessarily an easy one.

The physical preparation is finished and it's a time of edginess for the fighters, a time to think about their highly-anticipated showdown for Leonard's World Boxing Council welterweight championship defense Friday night at Olympic Stadium.

"I just want to get in there and get it over with," said Leonard.

"Leonard, two more days, two more days. Remember," snarled Duran Wednesday when the fighters showed up at the Place de Jardins to sign some required documents and to be unofficially weighed. Leonard, stripped to his shorts, weighed the class limit of 147 pounds. Duran, wearing pants and shoes, scaled 154. But after a workout Tuesday, he reportedly weighed about 148. The official weigh-in is at noon Friday.

Leonard did not answer Duran's taunts Wednesday. But when Leonard blew a kiss to the former lightweight champion as he was leaving, Duran leaped to his feet and made a slurring remark to Leonard.

Leonard finished his workouts Tuesday but Duran sparred three rounds and skipped rope to conclude his serious training Wednesday.

Both fighters have worked long and hard for getting ready for what shapes up as the richest bout in history.

"We worked harder for Benitez (Leonard won the title by stopping Wilfred Benitez in the 15th round last Nov. 30) because that was his first fight at 15 rounds," said Dave Jacobs, a Leonard trainer. "For this fight we've worked longer."

"He trained as hard for Buchanan but you got to remember that for Buchanan he didn't know anything," said Freddie Brown, a Duran trainer. A 21-year-old Duran won the world lightweight championship by stopping Ken Buchanan in the 13th round June 26, 1972.

The 24-year-old Leonard remembers that Duran. "I respected Duran when I first saw him," said Leonard. "I respected his determination. I respected him, but hold him in awe? — not at all."

"I have no respect for Leonard," said Duran. "He talks too much."

Since 1972 Duran defended the lightweight title 12 times before giving up the 135-pound class title voluntarily last year to campaign as a welterweight.

Leonard became a top amateur, won a gold medal at the 1976 Olympics and went on to earn about four million dollars while winning his first 27 pro fights.

Friday night the president and sole stockholder of Sugar Ray Leonard Inc. could earn twice what he has already fought for.

"No way Leonard is going to make less than $8 million," said Bob Arum, who with Don King is co-promoting the closed circuit telecast. "In my heart I think he could make $10 million." The record purse is the $6.5 million earned by retired heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali when he out-pointed Ken Norton in 1976.

Solomon takes hard-luck to Pittsburgh

When he was with the Atlanta Braves, Eddie Solomon earned the reputation of a "hard-luck" pitcher.

Now that he's with the Pittsburgh Pirates, nothing's changed.

"It seemed like I was still playing with the Braves," said Solomon after losing a tough 3-2 decision to Atlanta Wednesday night in the opener of a two-night doubleheader.

The Braves also won the nightcap, 5-4.

Solomon sailed into the ninth inning with a neat five-hitter, leading 2-0 when the roof caved in, thanks to faulty fielding by his teammates. Dale Murphy singled and Chris Chambliss then reached base on an error by first baseman Bill Robinson.

After reliever Kent Tekulve entered the game, Gary Matthews reached base on shortstop Tim Foli's throwing error, loading the bases. One out later, Bill Nahorny chanced them all home with a double that fell just fair by inches down the third base line.

Nahorny called his hit a "stroke of luck."

The Pirate fielding was no better in the second game. It was a wild throw by Berra that allowed the Braves to score the winning run in the seventh inning.

Dodgers 8, Expos 7
Bill Russell hit a three-run homer to key a six-run seventh inning as Los Angeles came from behind to edge Montreal.

The Expos built a 7-2 lead after six innings for starter Steve Rogers, who left the game with a tender elbow. Stan Bahnsen took over and, after walking two batters in the seventh, gave up a homer to Russell.

Elias Sosa replaced Bahnsen and gave up a walk and a single to pinch-hitter Jay Johnstone. Rudi Law hit into a forceout as pinch-runner Derrel Thomas scored to get the Dodgers within a run at 7-6. Successive singles by Dave Lopes, Reggie Smith and Steve Garvey produced two more runs.

Charlie Hough, the fourth Los Angeles pitcher, was the winner.

Giants 8, Mets 5
Jack Clark belted four singles and scored three runs to lead San Francisco over New York. The Mets, losing their fourth straight game, committed four errors and had four wild pitches to help the Giants score three unearned runs.

Jose Moreno knocked in three runs for the Mets, one with a homer in the third and two more with a double in the ninth when New York drove John Montefusco, 3-5, from the game.

THAT'S A DOZEN — Philadelphia Phillie pitcher Steve Carlton unwinds while delivering a pitch Wednesday night against the San Diego Padres in San Diego. Carlton, who has not lost since May 10, allowed one run and seven hits on his way to his 12th victory against two losses this season.

Molitor takes lead in All-Star 2B voting

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Molitor, the top hitter in the major leagues, has taken over the lead among second basemen in the American League All-Star voting.

The voting, announced Wednesday by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's office, showed Milwaukee's Molitor, currently hitting .358, holding a lead of almost 34,000 votes over California's Bobby Grich, the starting second baseman in the 1976 All-Star game.

The only infield position where the voting is close also involves a Brewer, shortstop Robin Yount. Yount is trailing Bucky Dent of the New York Yankees by just 24,000 votes in the closest race at any position.

California first baseman Rod Carew leads all the American League votegetters as his total approaches the 1,000,000 mark. Carew, with 979,538 votes is well ahead of Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, who has 521,570 votes. The third base spot belongs to Kansas City's George Brett who holds a comfortable lead of more than 380,000 over Graig Nettles of the Yankees.

The catching chores will probably wind up in the hands of Carlton Fisk of Boston. Fisk has received 828,969 votes to 627,579 for runnerup Jim Sundberg of Texas.

The outfield voting remains the same as last week's. Fred Lynn of Boston, 804,390 votes, his teammate Jim Rice, 649,422, and Reggie Jackson of New York, 638,159 are the top three with California's Don Baylor in fourth place almost 200,000 votes behind.

The balloting, sponsored by Gillette, will continue through June 25.

Niekro led Astros extend home win streak to 11

HOUSTON (AP) — Fellow members of the Houston Astros' potent pitching staff will apparently have to pick on someone other than Joe Niekro.

"At least I no longer have the highest ERA on the team," quipped the veteran knuckleballer after Wednesday night's sixth, 3-0 shutout against the St. Louis Cardinals.

The performance dropped Niekro's earned run average to 3.34 and lowered the team's remarkable ERA to 2.61 as he silenced the sweet swinging Cardinals. Niekro, who had five strikeouts and issued only one walk, is now 7-5.

Enroute to his second shutout of the season, Niekro ended a 12 game hitting streak for Garry Templeton, who leads the National League in hits, and extended the Astros' current home win streak to a club record tying 11 games.

Admittedly "more comfortable pitching in the Astrodome because this team was made for the Astrodome," Niekro surprisingly threw mostly fast balls in the late innings to complete the job after starting off with 3 2-3rd perfect innings before Keith Hernandez lined a sharp single to center for the Cards' first hit.

"The Cardinals are a good hitting team," Niekro acknowledged. "They make contact and strike out very little. I was getting them out on fast balls and curves and threw only one knuckleball in the ninth."

Appreciative of Niekro's performance, Manager Bill Virdon said, "He pitched well when he had to."

Catcher Luis Pujols agreed, adding, "He had great control and threw strikes. You have to challenge the hard-hitting clubs like the (Cincinnati) Reds, Pittsburgh and the Cards."

Niekro even contributed offensively, pushing across the Astros' final run as he grounded into a double play in the fourth.

The hitting was evenly distributed among seven different players with a single by Enos Cabell driving in a run in the first and the second. Cabell also scored on Cesar Cedeño's ground out in the third as the Astros collected two of their seven hits in each of three of the first four innings.

Losing pitcher Jim Kaat, who made his 613th start in a 20-year career, compared the Astros to the 1959 American League champion Chicago White Sox. Kaat is now 1-4.

"They have all the ingredients of the 1959 White Sox," he said. "They take advantage of what they can do (pitch and run) and they don't try to do what they can't."

Cubs 7, Reds 0
Jerry Martin hit a grand slam homer and Dennis

Phillies 5, Padres 1
Pinch-hitter Keith Moreland belted a two-run double in the ninth inning to snap a 1-1 tie and trigger Philadelphia over San Diego as hot-handed Steve Carlton won his 12th victory of the year.

Garry Maddox led off the Phillies' ninth with a single off reliever Bob Shirley, 5-3, and Larry Bowa bunted for a single, his third hit of the night. After Manny Trillo grounded out, advancing the runners, Moreland, batting for Carlton, 12-2, lined his double to the center field wall for two runs.

Despite hot streak, Bosox can't gain on the Yankees collected 11 hits — "We win when our offense carries us," says catcher Carlton Fisk — in defeating the Seattle Mariners 6-2, but more important was the seven-hit pitching of Dennis Eckersley, who has turned in three strong efforts since missing almost a month with a sore back.

"I knew it would come eventually. There's just too many good players on this ballclub," said Fred Lynn.

AL Roundup

Yankees 5, Angels 0
Ron Guidry fired a six-hitter to break a personal two-game losing streak and Bobby Brown and Graig Nettles homered as the Yankees handed the Angels their eighth consecutive setback.

Royals 10, Indians 2
Jamie Quirk drove in three runs and Amos Otis two to back the seventh hit pitching of Larry Gura, who tied New York's Tommy John at nine victories, most in the league. The victory, coupled with Toronto's doubleheader sweep of Chicago, made Kansas City the only team in the AL West above .500 and hiked the Royals' lead to 8½ games over the White Sox.

Orioles 3, A's 2
Pinch hitter Len Sakata drove in the winning run with a one-out single in the ninth inning after Ken Singleton singled and took second on a wild pitch. Singleton also singled to ignite a two-run first inning. Mike Flanagan allowed seven hits in pitching Baltimore to its fourth consecutive victory.

Blue Jays 5-3, White Sox 4-1
Ernie Whitt hit a solo home run, his first of the year, and John Mayberry and Otto Velez delivered RBI singles to help Jack Kucek, just up from the minors, win the nightcap. Mayberry's hit gave him a club record 17 game hitting streak.

The Blue Jays took the opener on Rick Bossett's two-run homer in the seventh inning. Dave Stieb went the distance, scattering eight hits and retiring the final 18 Chicago batters.

Seventh career homer in 14 years

Harrelson's miracle sparks Texas

ARLINGTON, TEXAS (AP) — Bud Harrelson never saw it. But that's not so unusual. He's never seen any of his seven homers in 14 years of major league baseball.

Harrelson smashed a ball to leftfield in the sixth inning of Texas' 8-1 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Wednesday night then dashed around the bases like he was trying to stretch a single into a double.

Much to the shock of Harrelson, his teammates, and the Brewers, including the amazed pitcher, Jerry Augustine, the ball went over the fence. It was Harrelson's first home run since 1977 and only the sixth in his career that has cleared a fence.

"I've never seen one of my homers, said Harrelson. "I was digging like crazy for second base. I don't like to take any chances. There were some shocked looks on faces as I circled the bases."

Brunansky's four homers breaks Texas League mark

Tom Brunansky hit 4 home runs Wednesday night, shattering a modern Texas League record and powering the El Paso Diablos to a 19-9 baseball victory over the Midland Cubs.

In other Texas League action, Amarillo beat San Antonio, 6-2. Arkansas took 14 innings to beat Jackson, 6-3, and Tulsa swept a doubleheader from Shreveport, 2-0, 3-2.

Brunansky's 4 home runs broke a modern Texas League record of 3 homers in a single game held by several players. He got the homers in his first 4 trips to the plate and failed to get another in 3 other trips. He drove in 9 runs with the homers.

Harrelson was greeted by silence in the Ranger dugout. Al Oliver, who hit a three-run homer, was lying flat on his back.

"I flat passed out," said Oliver.

Harrelson walked to his locker on a carpet of towels after the game.

"Good Lord, everybody in the league is going to start going for home runs now," kidded pitcher Gaylord Perry.

Harrelson said "It was a weird feeling. I'm kinda excited."

Asked what kind of pitch he hit, Harrelson quipped "A knuckleball. No, it was a fast ball up in my wheelhouse."

The 36-year-old Harrelson said "My wife is going to be here tomorrow night. I wished she could have seen it. Now, she is going to have to wait another 10 years."

Harrelson said the last homer he hit was off of Jim Kaat of Philadelphia.

"I used to remember 'em all," said Harrelson. "The first one I hit was an inside park deal off Juan Pizarro at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh. It just kind of rolled along the fence. Nobody could catch it."

Doc Medich scattered six hits, allowing only a solo homer by Ben Ogilvie in the seventh inning as he earned his seventh victory in 10 decisions.

Rookie Rickey Keeton suffered his second loss against two victories, lasting only four innings.

Harrelson was hitting only .182 at game time with one extrabase hit, a double.

"Let's see, I ate my first chicken fried steak in about 10 years before the game," Harrelson joked. "I'll eat another one in about 10 years."

As teammate after teammate paraded by to shake his hand, Harrelson said "Boys, miracles do happen."

Menus reflect seasonal abundance

Summertime truly means the "pick of the season" — a time when menus reflect the seasonal abundance of some of America's favorite foods. Fresh vegetables and fruits become featured items at mealtime, either served fresh and crisp or in recipes in combination with other ingredients.

Cheese is a traditional dairy partner with fruits and vegetables, and since dairy products are abundant during the summer, it's a good time for smart shoppers to plan some special dishes around this seasonal plenty. Your "Cheesefest" can begin with delectable dishes that combine the freshest picks of the season with a variety of popular cheeses.

Now is also a good time to team fresh produce with process cheese products. These types of products were developed to provide uniform flavor and texture and superior keeping qualities. Using methods pioneered by J. L. Kraft in the early part of this century, processing consists of blending various natural cheese — mild, sharp, and extra sharp — by heating with the aid of an emulsifier. Because they melt readily and smoothly, process cheese products are ideally suited for cooking. They are an ideal complement to vegetable and fruit dishes also, because of their consistent, mild flavors.

A range of recipes featuring popular process and natural cheese products and summer's plentiful produce has been created by the Kraft Kitchens. Vegetable Patch Casserole is an easy dish with an "instant cheesy sauce" baked with the vegetables. Here the process cheese spread from a jar melts in the casserole to make the sauce. Put it to other versatile uses by heating it on the range and serving as a dip or sauce for raw or cooked vegetables. If a barbecue is on the schedule, mix together a no-fuss potato salad full of fresh vegetables, which are flavored with grated parmesan cheese, cooked in foil over coals, then served while still warm. It's a hearty, savory side dish that goes perfectly with grilled meats or poultry. A vegetable melange and slices of pasteurized process cheese food tucked in pita bread rounds offer a tasty reprieve from the ordinary sandwich. Chopped zucchini, celery, radishes, and shredded carrot are featured in these Garden Fresh Pocket Sandwiches, but other vegetables can be substituted as local produce ripens.

Cheese is a favorite accompaniment to fresh fruit desserts such as apple pie — why not try another fruit dessert recipe using a cheese product as an ingredient? Process cheese spread cut into cubes adds quick, perfectly-melted mild flavor to a peach crisp that's as wholesome as it is delicious. For a festive-looking treat, make Stained Glass Fruit Squares, which feature a layer of neufchatel cheese spread with pineapple, on a crisp "cookie" crust, topped with bright seasonal fruits such as strawberries and green grapes. And coffee break fans will love this fruity, rich-flavored Blueberries 'N Cheese Coffee Cake, made with cubes of cream cheese in the batter.

The combination of summer's best fresh vegetables and fruits with your "Cheesefest" promises a season of delicious eating ahead.

CHEESEY SUMMER vegetable dishes will brighten home menus. Clockwise from top right: Vegetable Patch

Casserole; Garden Fresh Pocket Sandwiches; and Grilled Parm Potato Salad.

Reserves sufficient for synthetic fuel industry

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of Exxon Co. USA says domestic coal and oil shale reserves are sufficient to sustain a new synthetic fuels industry producing 15 million barrels a day for 175 years.

Known recoverable reserves of coal and oil shale, even after deducting coal to be used conventionally and the energy to be consumed in processing, are capable of providing synthetic fuels equivalent to one trillion barrels of oil, Randall Meyer said.

That's three times as much energy as the U.S. Geological Survey estimates can be provided by the country's remaining proved and undiscovered reserves of oil and gas.

Meyer briefed newsmen Wednesday on an Exxon study of the potential for a synthetic fuels industry.

Development on a timetable consistent with national security and economic needs will require cooperation of a degree that may be unprecedented in peacetime, he said.

Meyer said the study indicates a potential 2010 production of eight million barrels a day of synthetics from oil shale and seven million from coal.

Over the span of 30 years or more, the new industry would directly increase the nation's total number of jobs, over current levels, by 60 percent in mining, 55 percent in process industries, 15 percent in construction, and 35 percent in the applicable design engineering specialties, he said.

Backed by R.P. Larkins, manager of Exxon's new synthetics department, Meyer rejected published report Exxon alone has a $800 million synthetics program that includes about $500 million for 150 oil shale plants in just two Colorado counties.

That report involved an industry type plan that somehow got an Exxon label placed on it, Larkins said.

Meyer said someone took potential production and divided it by a 50,000 barrels a day plant capacity estimate and came up with 150 plants.

Rise in taxes for business is proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee is proposing raising taxes by $4.2 billion primarily on large corporations — as its chief contribution to the beleaguered drive to balance the 1981 budget.

Meanwhile, the House seemed to shed its recent rhetoric about budget restraint Wednesday as it expanded from $15 billion to $16.5 billion an emergency spending bill needed to keep some federal programs solvent.

The package includes money for refugee and disaster relief, black lung benefits to disabled coal miners and a special federal unemployment fund that went broke earlier this month.

The House hoped to complete action on the spending bill today and send it to the Senate.

In a change made Wednesday, the House approved $100 million to resettle Cuban and Haitian refugees who have flooded into southern Florida, but the lawmakers barred use of the money to aid convicted felons and prostitutes.

The bill's $1.7 billion disaster relief provides $1 million to rebuild Tampa Bay's Sunshine Skyway bridge, one span of which was destroyed May 9 when it was hit by a ship, and $2 million to repair damage caused by the eruption of Mount St. Helens, Washington state nine days later.

During a day of closed-door meetings, the Ways and Means Committee Wednesday approved the $4.2 billion package of tax changes and agreed to changes in cuts in program under its jurisdiction.

Hunt for Silkwood's roommate ends

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A two-day search by police and relatives ended Wednesday afternoon when Sherri Ellis, Karen Silkwood's former roommate, called friends to say she was safe.

Miss Ellis, 26, of Guthrie, Okla., was reported missing Monday by family members. Police said she was last seen in public about 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

The missing woman reportedly told her friend she needed to get away because she felt she was under a lot of pressure in connection with the recent completion of her book about the Silkwood case.

Linda Ellis said she talked to the friend who was sure it was Sherri Ellis who called. The friend said Sherri Ellis told her she left a note explaining her absence in her pickup truck and asking her sister to feed her farm animals.

Linda Ellis' roommate, who would only identify herself as Glenda, said she and Linda found the note.

But Linda Ellis denied that. "I guess she left the door open to draw my attention to the note," said Linda Ellis. "But I guess the wind must have blown it away."

Sherri Ellis also called Alan Bromley in New York City and left a message on his telephone tape recording machine.

"It sounded like she might have been calling from a public phone booth," said Bromley, a magazine reporter who formerly lived in Oklahoma City.

Late Wednesday night, she still hadn't called back, Bromley said.

He said the call sounded as if it might have come from somewhere in New York.

Miss Ellis was Miss Silkwood's roommate when Miss Silkwood died in 1974 amid controversy over safety at a Kerr-McGee Corp. nuclear fuel plant where they both worked.

Sgt. Tom Mundy said Miss Ellis was last seen with friends at a private club at 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

Miss Ellis didn't testify in the 11-week Silkwood plutonium contamination federal court trial here in 1979.

Jurors awarded the Silkwood estate $10.5 million after determining Kerr-McGee was negligent in the contamination of Miss Silkwood and the Edmond apartment she and Miss Ellis shared. It was the first time a nuclear industry company had been adjudged responsible for off-site contamination.

Miss Silkwood died in an auto accident on Nov. 13, 1974. She allegedly was carrying documentation of unsafe practices at the plant when the wreck occurred while she was en route to meet a New York Times reporter and an Atomic Workers union official. The information never has been found.

Linda Ellis said her sister, who is also known as "Dusty," spent last week with a typist working on a final draft of her book.

Miss Ellis reportedly was scheduled to meet with publishers in New York in July to discuss the work, which hasn't been sold.

She was fired Jan. 20, 1975, from Kerr-McGee and was arrested on July 2, 1975, at the plant after allegedly scaling its fence while carrying an unloaded rifle.

She was given a one-year deferred sentence after pleading guilty to forcible entry and possession of marijuana. In August 1976, both charges were erased from her record.

Sherri Ellis also was a championship rodeo barrel racer. She competed in the 1966 National Finals Rodeo.

Police said Sherri Ellis was a recluse. She has shunned the spotlight since Miss Silkwood's death and repeatedly has refused to talk to reporters.

Mundy said police conducted extensive interviews. "We understand she's left before for a week, two weeks. Let's face it, she's a 26-year-old woman," he said.

Mail running heavily against Cuban influx

WASHINGTON — Buffeted by the waters off Key West and caught in legal limbo, the Cuban refugees aren't faring any better in the choppy seas of American public opinion during a time of deepening recession.

Mail pouring into the Texas delegation's offices runs heavily against the Cuban influx, especially since the Fort Chaffee, Ark., riots last week. An aide to Republican Sen. John Tower reported that the quantity of mail, which had started to fall off, more than quadrupled following the incident.

"It is time we put a stop to the refugee flow. We should allow our immigration laws to be enforced," said a writer to one rural Texas congressman. "Our taxes are too high as it is and taking in the world's rejects and people who are just looking for a better deal will soon ruin this country."

One big question mark is the final status the Cubans will be granted. If the refugees are classified finally as asylum candidates, as they are now, the Cubans will qualify for only a fraction of the social services they would receive under refugee status.

In the Miami area, where more than 50,000 of the 55,000 resettled Cuban refugees, who came across the straits reside, some politicians have anticipated the influx will have a beneficial effect on the local economy in the long run.

What splits political opinion, even in Miami, is the fate awaiting criminals that the Castro regime passed off on the United States during the exodus.

The State Department's task force on Cuban refugees estimated last week that more than 9,000 of the 115,000 refugees have criminal records unrelated to political activities.

Texas politicians pull no punches when they discuss this group. Republican Senator John Tower told a national audience on "Face the Nation" recently "I think we should send the criminal element back to (Castro)."

Pressed further, Tower said, "Our only alternative, if he won't take them back, is to incarcerate them ourselves." Less than 6 percent of the Cubans known to have criminal records are currently detained in criminal facilities, the State Department said. Most of the others are in four rejection camps around the country.

A major problem is identifying the criminals. Many refugees have admitted their records, and others arrived in Key West with shaved heads suggesting incarceration. But as Rep. Sam Hall, D-Marshall, an outspoken critic of the Cuban exodus who serves on the House immigration refugees and international law subcommittee, admitted, "We don't have enough people in Cuba to really get a handle on the people coming over here who are convicts, those who are political prisoners and the like."

If and when deportation proceedings begin, the American Civil Liberties Union is prepared to try blocking government action where civil rights violations have occurred, attorney ACLU Edna Wells said.

Still other refugees with criminal records are expected to hire lawyers to defend their presence here.

Apart from criminals altogether 3,000 to 4,000 Cubans are expected to settle in Texas, representatives of the Cuban-American community in Texas told Gov. Bill Clements.

Gradual assimilation is inevitable, and the benefits of hard-working immigrants, who have lower earning expectations, shouldn't be overlooked, said Lupe Salinas, the Attorney General's special assistant for Hispanic minority affairs.

"We, as a people and as a country, not only from a foreign policy perspective but from our history have a tradition of accepting those rejected by others," Salinas said.
