Blood Drive

The semi-annual Blood Drive for Friona will be held on Tuesday, July 7, at the Community Room of Friona State Bank. Time will be 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

A continuing supply of blood from volunteer donors is essential to the health and welfare of our community. More than 400 pints of blood are needed each week by the 21 area hospitals the blood center serves. Blood can not be manufactured, and once donated by civic minded volunteers, the blood lasts only a few weeks.

Please remember, should you or your family members require a transfusion, the necessary blood will be available to you only because a volunteer donor felt that giving blood to help you recover was a worth while contribution.

Farms of Wesley Barnett, Charles Bass, Ed Clark, Travis Stone, Bruce Parr, Tom Lewellen, Bill Carthel, Clyde Hays, Johnny Mars and others sustained heavy crop damage. At the Tom Lewellen place, a building being used to house an airplane and a trailer house was blown down by gale-like wind which accompanied the storm, and extensively damaged the spray plane, owned by Joe Lewellen and the Lewellen's recently acquired trailer house.

We are offering a comic book that stars the same cartoon character that appears on all of our television safety spots. We call him "Sparky the Safety Mouse." This is a light-hearted approach to a very serious subject: safety. We want to give children a safety message they will read, understand and remember. NEW STATE MASCOT.... Mac Fields (right) of Friona was elected as State Mascot for the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas during their State Convention June 13-17 in Amarillo. Jonathan Salter (left) of Brady, is presenting the traveling fire plug ice chest to Mac to use this next year.

Mac Fields Is State Fire Assn. Mascot

The 111th Annual Convention Protection Training Division of and Conference of the State the Texas Engineering Extension Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Service. Association of Texas was held Saturday through Wednesday, June 13-17 at the Convention Center in Amarillo.

Mac Fields, nine-year-old son of Roger and Lou Fields of Friona, was elected State Mascot during the convention. Mac has served as mascot for the Friona Volunteer Fire Department and was mascot for the Panhandle chapter of Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association.

Friona members attending the convention were Ralph and Stella Shirley, John and Sherrie Taylor, Jimmy and Amelia Taylor, Joe and Christeen Mann, Larry and Judy Martin, Randy and Glenda Richards, Steve and Donice Jones, Danny and Holly Campbell, Roger and Lou Fields, Mac and Trevor, Michael Colley and Allen Wood.

The Friona men's pumper team placed eighth out of 22 teams. Members of the team are Jimmy Taylor, Randy Richards, John Taylor, Roger Fields, Danny Campbell and Steve Jones.

The Friona women's pumper team also participated. Team members are Amelia Taylor, Holly Campbell, Donice Jones, Lou Fields, Judy Martin and Glenda Richards.

Some 500 voting delegates and 900 other association members from throughout the state participated in business sessions, viewed state-of-the-art fire fighting equipment on display, and competed in races to determine which drivers and which pumper teams are the best in the state.

Seven workshops were held during the convention to help those fire fighters who wished to add to their professional expertise in several areas of modern fire fighting. Five of the workshops applied toward participants' certification. The SFFMA administers statewide certification program, which not only provides a measurement system for those fire fighters who wish to keep up with the latest developments, but also aids cities in keeping down their insurance key rates.

New association officers were installed during convention with first vice president, Ernest O. Reesing of Alpine, becoming president.

The State Firemen's Association was founded in 1876 and represents all Texas fire fighters, volunteer and career, in the State Legislature and Congress. The Association was instrumental in passage of legislation setting up pension systems for paid and volunteer fire fighters, and was designated by the Legislature as the sponsor of the Annual Municipal Firemen's Training School offered by the Fire

July 4th Program Planned

The Boy Scout Troop 56, together with the American Legion Post 206, and any other organization they can involve, are planning a Flag Burning ceremony for the Fourth of July program.

The proper way to dispose of damaged and used flags is by burning and the official ceremony for this purpose is quite impressive, says Gene Zachary, Scout leader.

In connection with this promotion, the two dry cleaning businesses, Gib's Cleaners and Cleo's Cleaners, are offering to clean any flag that needs cleaning for $2.00 each and all citizens and businesses who have flags in need of cleaning are urged to have this done at this time.

Also, the groups are trying to collect all the unserviceable flags to be used in this ceremony and 11. would appreciate anyone who has a flag that needs to be disposed of, to contact either of the following: Gene Zachary, 247-2212; Ralph Taylor, 247-2872; or Geneva Williams, 247-3249 and they will be glad to pick these flags up or business, says Zachary.

Focusing on the Future

Clovis High Plains Hospital is a 106-bed general acute care facility. It is a private not-for-profit hospital. A thirteen-member local board of trustees is responsible for its operation. An important commitment of the board of trustees is the return of funds to the community. In keeping with the hospital's notfor-profit status, excess revenues are used for expansion, to upgrade the facility, and to purchase new capital equipment. CHPH is striving continually to provide the most up to date, professional health care available today while looking to our community's future needs.

Clovis High Plains Hospital is the third largest employer in Curry County, and its economic impact on the community is tremendous. The number of employees total 340 and the annual payroll for last year was $6.4 million.

Augmenting the employee work force is a dynamic volunteer group of 100 auxilians and 20 volunteer chaplains who, each year, donate a record number of hours to the hospital and the patients.

Fiscal Year 1987 was an excellent year for Clovis High Plains Hospital. The years of planning, of program and service development, and of physician recruitment, have resulted in CHPH becoming the hub of medical activity for this region.

Patient activity has remained extremely high; the 36-bed medical unit has been full during the year, with census on surgical unit, intensive care unit and emergency department greatly increased.

CHPH also opened the $1.2 million day surgery unit, which provides additional space for cost efficient sameday surgery. Located in the same area is a new phaseone and phase-two recovery area. The expansion also provided a new operating room used for inpatient surgeries. The addition of this large room will allow two present rooms to be used exclusively for day surgeries.

During the last year Clovis High Plains Hospital refurbished the interior of the facility. Everything in the hospital is clean and new and designed to provide the best in patient and visitor comfort. Selections were made for noise control and to assure the best in cleanliness and durability. An added plus for the community was that most of the $450,000 spent were local purchases.

This expands the area from a 40-acre tract of land to 125-acre tract and should foster development of a medical campus adjacent the hospital.

Breast cancer is a disease that afflicts one out of 11 American women. According to the American Cancer Society, 90 percent of breast cancer can be cured when detected early. Clovis High Plains Hospital staff believes that early disease detection is vital. In December of this year, Clovis High Plains Hospital honored that commitment by expanding their services to women and purchasing a state-of-the art mammography unit. According to Mike Luscombe, department manager, the $60,000 unit is used not only for screenings, but for breast localization exams prior to surgery. All breast exams are done in the radiology department by

In conjunction with staff from the women's unit, monthly educational programs will also be offered. Sessions will be designed to help women learn breast self-examination, as well as answer questions.

Purchase of the unit was partially funded by the CHPH Auxiliary through their Christmas greetings advertisement. "We're always glad to ask people for help in purchasing a piece of equipment such as this," commented Helen Simms, Auxiliary founder. "The auxiliary feels that emphasis on early detection of breast cancer is vital, and this is one small way we can do our part to help other women throughout this area."

Those Feet Were Made For Walking!

The High Plains Strutters, sponsored by the Clovis High Plains Hospital and North Plains Mall, have been making tracks since February of this year. Over 75 people have registered as mall walkers, and they can be seen mall-walking at varied paces throughout each day. The mall is open daily Monday-Saturday from 7 am-9 pm and on Sunday from noon until 6 pm for mall walkers.

According to Joe Holland, LPT, the unit is utilized for testing the major joints in the body, as well as the trunk. "The first step in treating a patient is obtaining the history and making a physical assessment of the patient's condition. Then the data is entered into the Kin-Com, based on the physical therapists determination of limitation and patient goals. Once the computer is programmed, we test to compare the strength between involved and un-involved areas. We save that data, develop and implement a patient strengthening program to restore normal function, and then strength."

The Kin-Com is an extremely reliable machine, and is used extensively because of its accuracy. "In fact," commented Holland, "in Europe the same machine, with different software, is being used to determine spasticity for neurologic problems.

a Better Community

Clovis High Plains Hospital received a grant of $10,600 from Association of Western Hospitals to begin a health promotion project in the Clovis area. Grant funding will be used to promote wellness using a three phase model: better nutrition, cessation of tobacco use, and exercise. Focus of the program is on long-term behavior change leading to greater community health.

The model for the project, Health Net, uses a core planning group of community leaders to develop the project, and focuses on worksites as the basis for promotion. Leaders at various worksites in the community are to develop their own customized strategies for implementation.

The first component, which targets creation of a smokefree environment, is to begin in August. Educational programs for the general public, children, and employee groups, as well as smoking cessation clinics, are among the scheduled offerings. In addition employers will be offered assistance in developing smoking policies and employee incentive programs.

Through staff and community education and using the existing resources provided by Health Net, it is planned to make Clovis' project a model for other rural hospitals in New Mexico.
